Harius Catron Injured While Working

Loses Both Arms in Accident in Charleston; Is in Serious Condition

Harius Catron, Morehead railway brakeman, working in Charleston, W. Va., was seriously injured early Tuesday morning in an accident which crushed both his arms, necessitating removal of both members.

According to reports, Mr. Catron was switching cars in the South Charleston yards, when the accident occurred. No details of just how it occurred are available.

Mr. Catron stated last night, from the bedside of his husband, that he was in an extremely serious condition, but that he was at that time resting fairly well, following some indication of slight improvement. She was hopeful of his recovery.

Other relatives here are Mrs. Melvin Hamm. Mrs. Catron said that from what she could gather, the accident occurred while she was coupling cars and that his arms were caught and crushed between two cars.

Mrs. Catron has been employed in C. and O. for a number of years. During the height of the depression he was laid off and built up locally a large business plumbing and in the past year he returned to his work as C. and O. brakeman.

Friends of the family here are hoping for a speedy recovery for Mr. Catron.

Clearfield Baseball Team Wins Four Straight

Defeat Mt. Sterling, Ida Mae, Salt Well And Campion In Series

Marking up their fourth straight win against no defeats, the Clearfield baseball team went out in front in this section, with the only team that can boast of a clean slate.

Clearfield's most recent victory came at Campion, Kentucky last Sunday when the Clearfield boys took the game 4 to 2, behind the sterling pitching of Eltman who let Campion down with four hits, while striking out 11 men to add considerably to their record.

Thus far Clearfield has defeated Mt. Sterling, 7 to 2; Ida Mae, 7 to 6 and Salt Well, 8 to 5, in addition to Campion.

Left Lamber, catching for Clearfield led the batting attack Sunday with a clean sweep, making four hits and getting a walk in five times at bat.

Jim Ed Rose accompanied the team to Campion, where he thought he had landed in a Rose paradise.

Volvo Moore Killed In Gun Fight At Hilda

Five Shots Cause Death Of Local Man, Following An Argument

Dr. Hollis Teaching In Illinois University

E. V. Hollis, Jr., arrived here this week for a visit with friends. Mr. Hollis is a student in Wesleyan University in Connecticut. He stated that his father, Dr. E. V. Hollis, former head of the Education Department of the Morehead State Teachers College, now a professor in the College of the City of New York, is teaching this summer in the University of Illinois where the family is located for the summer.

Dr. Hollis has gone far up the educational ladder since leaving Morehead in 1935. He has become recognized as one of the leading educators of the day, and his services are in demand in universities and colleges in all parts of the United States.

He and his family expect to visit friends in Morehead after the close of his work in Urbana, Illinois.

What Morehead Thinks About War

One peculiarity of this content is the fact that the man in the street discusses with intelligence the fate of the French fleet. This is peculiar because here we are living at least a thousand miles from the sea coast and most of us have been closer to a battleship than to have seen a picture. Yet we discuss armament, guns, values, and importance as intelligently as salt sea sailors. And we hope as intelligently that the British ship means and method of obtaining control of the fleet and of the armies in the French colonies to continue the war to ultimate victory.

At the same time, we hope, or the majority hope that the aid to the British will continue to ever increasing amounts, so that our material may in the end prove the deciding factor in their favor. Most of them cry now, since the surrender of the French, become the British.

The complete capitulation of France has brought the war closer than ever to the minds of citizens here. Most of them cry now, since the surrender of the French, become the British.

Ernest Hogge Given Position In Georgia University

Is Son Of Mr. And Mrs. J. W. Hogge, And A Graduate Of Morehead

This may be justly called a story of a Morehead boy who made good. Word has been received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hogge, here that Ernest has accepted a position as assistant instructor in Chemistry in the University of Georgia.

Mr. Hogge is an honor graduate of the Morehead State Teachers College. He taught for two years in the Morehead High School where he was in the science department. Later he obtained his Master's degree at State University, Lexington, Kentucky. Returning to Morehead he was elected to the Chemistry department, his Alma Mater. Obtaining a leave of absence, he entered Ohio State University to complete the work on his Ph.D. which he has now been granted. Dr. Hogge is one of the outstanding graduates of the local institution, and his friends here are glad to hear of his success in his chosen field of work.

Social Security Bureau Advise To Carry Cards

Temporary Workers Should Submit Security Numbers To Employer

Workers who find temporary employment in commerce or industry during the vacation period should show their social security numbers to their employers at the time of beginning service in such lines of business. This is the recommendation of James A. Chaney, manager of the Social Security Board office in Ashland, Ky., commenting on the need for such action. Mr. Chaney said: "I will save time and trouble for all concerned if the worker will show his number when he takes a new job in any employment covered by the Social Security Act. Then his employer will be able to report the worker's number when the old-age and survivors insurance card is made up. The card should be kept by the worker but shown to the employer to make sure he copies on his records the same card number exactly as they appear on the card."

Masonic Lodge To Initiate Six Candidates

Many Lodges To Be Represented With The Hazard Team Initiating

Between 30 and 50 lodges in Kentucky will be represented here Saturday afternoon and evening when the Morehead Masonic Lodge will give the third degree to six candidates at impressive ceremonies.

The work will be put on in the Practical High School gymnasium. C. P. Duley, immediate past grand master announced today. Mr. Duley said there had been some controversy as to where the ceremonies would take place and stressed that the high school gymnasium had been definitely decided on.

The famed Hazard lodge degree team will put on most of the work, which is expected to last about eight hours. This degree team has been in demand all over the state, and the Morehead lodge, according to Mr. Duley, is very fortunate in being able to secure their services.

Another highlight will be the appearance of the majority of the grand officers of the lodge, but he had already been informed of many of them coming, while invitations had been extended to all.

Practically every lodge in eastern Kentucky and many in central and western Kentucky will be represented. The Louisville office is sending a large delegation.

GIVING FIRE THE GATE
trol and prevent fire. Every resource of the great fire prevention organization of insurance companies is at the service of American industry—and and provide it, at the lowest possible cost, with essential protection against the menace of fire and related hazards.

From the fire insurance experts point of view, no two districts are exactly alike. Each has its own special risks. Each of these must be studied and analyzed of fire. And that is a great and with immense care. Each is a separate job. And unless that job is done with maximum success, any new industry's development will be retarded.

The fire insurance industry has done a fine work in meeting that obligation to American industry. As Colonel Layton of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, recently pointed out, fire insurance has never failed, when called upon, to swiftly meet the needs of new industries for vital protection against the ever present danger of fire. And fire insurance doesn't work on the theory of getting the largest possible premium for each dollar of insurance written. It works on the opposite principle—to provide the lowest possible rate consistent with the safe and sound operation of its business.

And the lazier of fire insurance doesn't stop when the policy goes into force. Each new industry—and old industries as well—are constantly studied with a view to reducing hazards. Experts make surveys to show managements better ways to con-rol and prevent fire. Every resource of the great fire prevention organization of insurance companies is at the service of American industry—and and provide it, at the lowest possible cost, with essential protection against the menace of fire and related hazards.

From the standpoint of national health, every month should be dairy month. Our children, for both child and young adults, is far below the levels held advisable by dietitians. In every home, milk should be a staple part of the daily diet.

So keep the slogan "drink more milk" in mind. It is sound medical advice. And, from the economic standpoint, substantially increased consumption of dairy products would be a boon to farmers in all the states—and would create a wealth of purchasing power which would help in urban no less than rural areas.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS
The surrender of Paris, which was followed almost at once by the collapse of French military resistance, was more than a disaster for the French Republic, more than a great victory for Hitler's incredible war machine. It was a symbol of the cataclysmic changes that are taking place at a bewildering speed in the world we live in. For Paris, with London, has long been associated in men's minds with freedom—all that democracy means. And democracy is what Hitler, as he said and wrote time and again, is out to destroy.

Paris is—or was to be—a living example of all that Nazism abhors. Little by little we are coming to realize that this is not a war in the traditional sense. It is, instead, a revolution with the most far-reaching purposes imaginable. There have always been wars in which one nation has attacked another. But, once the peace treaties were drawn, the world went on much as if it had before.

Men who have had contact with high German circles have lately been describing what they believe a Hitler victory would mean to Europe, and to the balance of the world. They correspond. The second the Fuehrer envisions pines won by conquest in a Germanic Europe in which past have invariably collapsed the master sooner or later of their own from bright.

(6) We wish to compliment the City Council on their refusal to grant beer license to any place that has women of questionable character around their place.

(7) We have investigated the killing of the Whitt boy on Christy Creek but have failed to discover enough evidence to return an indictment in that case. Therefore we recommend that this be submitted to the next Grand Jury and that they be allowed to make another investigation of the matter.

The Grand Jury found a matter that needed adjustment and they called the Fiscal Court to gether and the court in conjunction reviewed the order in question. We recommend that the court seek the advice of the Judge, Commonwealth's Attorney and County Attorney in the future.

We find that as a whole the county is now in good shape as far as law enforcement and the officers have helped us in every investigation and we appreciate their whole-hearted cooperation.

We thank the Court for his instructions and we especially commend him upon his stand against him violations in this county.

AT THE END OF WHAT RAINBOW?
SOME FOLKS make such hard work of trying to be happy! They scheme, they sacrifice, they struggle—only to find that what they thought was happiness... was only an imaginary pot of gold... at the end of a fading rainbow.
There are lots of rainbows. And they are all alike in one respect. They all fade. No one will find happiness at the end of a rainbow. Happiness is much nearer than that. And much more real. Happiness is the sum-total of your pleasant, cheerful, daily experiences.
If you want to be happy—do CHERFUL things. It's just as simple as that. It's just as easy as relaxing, now and then, to enjoy the cheerful refreshment of Certels '92 Beer.
And that, by the way, is one of the most cheerful things you can do. To relax and refresh yourself with a foaming, sparkling glass of cheerful Certels '92 is one of life's most pleasant experiences. Try it—and see!
