News Editor Plans To Collect Salary From Independent

Last week we picked up a groceries are the stock in trade copy of the Morehead Independent. In fact we had been glancing over it casually for several weeks. But last week in particular we made a discovery. We found that we were serving as editor of the Independent, when we had supposed that we were exclusively the editor and publisher of the Rowan County News.

In the last issue of the Independent we had eight stories on their front page. Three stories were lifted word for word from the Rowan County News. Not by so much as a syllable did they vary from the stories that were published in the News of the day before and the week before.

It was the most flagrant violation of newspaper ethics we have ever seen. Ordinarily we do not object to a newspaper using a story from our columns. However, when the gross of changing ethical paper will give the proper credit. But when our competitor deliberately lifts almost an entire front page, we believe it is time to expose him.

In this instance, we invite our readers and his to look back at their copies of the News of the past week and the week previous and compare. The News was issued on Wednesday morning, Thursday evening the Independent made its appearance, with eight stories taken from the Rowan County News, with not even the gross of changing the style, much less the content.

The stock in trade of a newspaper is unquestionably news content. The stories published in a newspaper are naturally Morehead Independent not only exclusively the property of the News, but also as the brain as well.

Democratic Meet Planned For Monday

The opening salvo in the Rowan county presidential campaign will be fired on Monday evening of next week, September 2, when the Young Democrats of the county will hold their first meeting of the campaign at the court house in Morehead, according to a news item published this week by Claude Clayton, president of the organization. The meeting is called for 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Clayton stated that although the meeting is being called by the Young Democrats Club of Rowan County, an invitation is extended to all Democrats whatever their age and that he hoped that many of them would (Continued On Page Two)

Haldeman F. F. A. Getting Early Start On Work

Shop Being Built For Use Of Boys Taking Vocational Agriculture

BY CARL WADE

The Haldeman Future Farmers to be, are getting an early start on their shop work this year. At a recent Board of Education meeting it was voted to give the old school building at Farmers to be used in building a shop at Haldeman. The boys from the Haldeman School have been working with Mr. Wade in getting the building away from Farmers before school begins. Eight boys have been putting in some hard hours of labor, not in moving the building. The shop will be built by the boys taking the Vocational Agriculture offered at Haldeman this year. The people that have not been looking can begin to watch for the Haldeman FFA, when organized, will give the local FFA some keen competition in their work.

Teddie Hamm Remains Seriously Ill From Injuries

Doctors Still Hold Out No Hope Of Recovery As Boy Lingers In Hospital

In spite of the fact that doctors in Lexington have stated repeatedly that Teddie Hamm has no chance of recovery from injuries sustained two weeks ago, the fifteen year old boy is still alive, according to last report from that city.

The boy who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hamm is suffering from a broken neck and has developed pneumonia. In spite of his injuries, Mr. Hamm stated, he has been conscious at all times, although he has an apparently complete paralysis of his body.

He has no hopes of the boys recovery, believing that his death will be only a matter of time.

W. P. A. Plans School Lunch Project Here

On Thursday of last week, Miss Vandell Price, State Superintendent of School Lunch Project for W. P. A. met at the Homekeeping Aids center with a group of interested citizens to discuss the possibilities of starting school lunch projects in the consolidated and rural schools of Rowan county.

John Bailey Receives M. A. Degree

Local Boy Makes Own Way To High Degree; Was Former News Boy

Morehead friends of John H. Bailey will be glad to learn that Mr. Bailey received his Master's degree from the University of Kentucky at the commencement exercises held last Friday in Lexington, Kentucky.

Mr. Bailey is a Morehead boy who has literally made his own way. He began his schooling in the Masonic Widows and Orphans home at Louisville, returned to Morehead where he most of his home with his aunt, Mrs. Mollie White. He attended high school here, at the same time working at his trade learned in the Home. He was a member of the Rowan County News for several years during this period. He continued his education at the University of Kentucky. (Continued On Page Four)

Text Of City Ordinance Is Published

Occupational Tax Ordinance Is Released For Publication This Week

In this issue of the Rowan County News, the new and rather widely discussed Occupational Tax Ordinance passed at a recent meeting of the city council is published. The ordinance, designed primarily as a protection for local merchants, peddlers and truckers and business located elsewhere, fixes a tax on each local business and professional man, and a considerably higher tax on transient and itinerant merchants, peddlers and truckers.

The Ordinance should be closely studied by every business man, all of whom are directly affected by its passage. Discussion has already been widespread, and most of those discussing its application are not familiar with its contents. These discussions have been rather varied. Some opposition to its passage has been heard, some on the other hand heartily endorse both its purpose and its content.

It is admittedly possible that there are some inequalities that only time and experience will (Continued On Page Four)

Mother Of Local Woman Died Friday

Mrs. Agnes King Conroy Dies After Suffering Following Long Illness

Funeral Of Claude Wilson Held Monday

World War Veteran Returned To Old Home From Calif. For Burial

Funeral services were held at the Church of God on Monday afternoon for Claude Wilson, former resident of this community, who for the past twenty years has resided in San Francisco, Calif., where he spent the greater part of his time in the Veterans Hospital. Mr. Wilson died at the Veterans Hospital in San Fernando, Calif., on Tuesday August 20. The remains were brought to Morehead for burial. Funeral services were in charge of Rev. T. F. Lyons, pastor of the Church of God. Burial was made in Lee Cemetery.

Bishop Drug Store Gets New Improvements

The Bishop Drug Store is being redecorated and finished in fibre board, both walls and ceiling, and will present a considerably more improved appearance when the work is being done under the supervision of E. E. Maggard, owner of the building occupied by the Bishop Drug Company.

Dr. Homer L. Wilson, Morehead Dentist, Dies Of Heart Failure In Mt. Sterling Hotel Last Wednesday Night; Discovered Thursday

It was a sad shock to this community when the news came on last Thursday that Dr. Homer L. Wilson, one of Morehead's most respected and best loved citizens, had died in Mt. Sterling suddenly from heart failure. Dr. Wilson was seen at the street here last, on Wednesday afternoon about four o'clock when he left the office and went home, and also as he drove through the town later. Mr. Sterling, He looked around for some friend to accompany him, but finding nobody that he sought, he went on alone. He had business in Mt. Sterling and later visited with some friends. He mentioned to these friends that he had a headache, and about 10 o'clock he telephoned his wife that he was unable to get away from the Montgomery Hotel and rest. When he did not return home in time to open his office on Monday morning, his wife tried to reach him by telephone, but received no response. She requested the Hotel Clerk to inquire about his room and feared he might be ill. The room was entered and he was found lying prostrate on the floor in the night. While making preparations to retire for the night he had suffered a heart attack. He had turned the bed down and undressed, and was reading the Bible when she came. He fell with the Book in his hand, open at the place where he was reading. He was brought to this city by ambulance and the body rested in the Lane Funeral Home while being prepared for interment, and was buried in the cemetery on Tuesday, August 27, at 10 o'clock, in the Second Street, where a throng of friends and relatives came to pay their sympathy and view the remains.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday at 10 o'clock in the Morehead Christian Church by Rev. Arthur Landolt, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Charles H. Gorman, pastor of the Mayville Christian Church, and present Instructor in the English Department of the Morehead State Teachers College. A Quartette composed of Lester Blair, Miss Lottie Powers, Warren Lappin and Mrs. Howard Blair, sang in his honor the hymns, "I Need You Every Hour," and "Jesus Keep Me True to the Cross."

The facts of Dr. Wilson's life and his possessions. Those who experienced his unselfish sharing anxiously attest this virtue. He lived by the side of his wife and was a friend to all. He was religious. The spiritual virtues and realities which Dr. Wilson had in his heart of religion. For many years he served the congregation of the Morehead Christian Church in an official capacity. He lent his mature wisdom to the wise and capable leadership of his church. This was but one manifestation of his profound godliness. He was discovered—lifeless—had rested upon the open Bible. His last moments were spent in the presence of the teachings of God. One who had felt that the Bible is his motionless hand is a coincidental symbol of Dr. Wilson's entire life. He had been reading the superb passages of the ancient book of Job, that portion in the 40th and 41st chapters, where God talks to Job, and says, "Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? Who was it that shut the doors of the deep? Who was it that hid the compasses of the earth? Who was it that measured the distance of the sea? Who was it that fastened the clouds? Who was it that bound the winds? Who was it that said, 'Gird I am with gold?'"

Dr. Wilson was a member of the Eastern Star and served for several terms as Worthy Patron. He was President of the Kiwanis Club in Morehead for two years. He was chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter in 1928 and served on the Board from that time until 1933. After he had retired from office, his interest and assistance continued. He was a liberal donor to the Red Cross work and was free with his counsel as to the conduct of its affairs.

Surviving him are his wife, and his daughter, Mrs. Everett D. Blair, his sisters and brothers: Mrs. E. B. McClure, Mrs. J. B. Peers, of Pine Bluff, Ark., Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart of Washington, D. C., Dr. B. C. Wilson of Clarksville, Ky., Glenn Wilson of Garland, Texas, and Marvin Olive Hill, Ky., and Mrs. Wilson of Morehead.

One cannot describe beauty. We can see it. We can experience it as we live from day to day. We can tell about it. But cold and uncomprehending words never seem to justify "describe" real beauty.

Words do not add to the beauty of Dr. Wilson's life. What we will not alter the fact of a life so warm with day and night, so good, weak and inadequate eulogizing is insignificant along side a life of noble achievement and virtuous striving already come and gone. Yet, we can remember and we have experienced the touch of his tender life. Our hearts have been happier and his having lived among us. Words serve to call to memory the beauty that was so deeply imprinted in the gracious hearts of our neighbor, friend and leader.

He was civic minded. No one has ever shown so much interest in community welfare. An official of our city, his achievements were many. He was most met in all his accomplishments. He was a man of high character and his community passed by unnoticed.

When his summons came, he went, ready and willing, into the presence of the God who meant so much to him, and he was as much there. May the blessings of God be upon his loved ones as they strive to carry on the task of life where he left it. May they find the peace and comfort of faith—a faith as strong as his—be they in this hour of sorrow. May they find the peace and comfort of faith as strong as his—be they in this hour of sorrow. May they find the peace and comfort of faith as strong as his—be they in this hour of sorrow. May they find the peace and comfort of faith as strong as his—be they in this hour of sorrow.

FFA Holds Monthly Meeting On Saturday

Practice Programs were pointed out in the discussion. For a boy to become a Kentucky Farmer he must have been a Future Farmer the year before, applying for the degree, earned and investing productively $2000 from supervised farm practice.

The Future Farmers will have a display card in their exhibit at the County fair in October for men that are interested in organizing a Purebred Livestock Club in the county. Those that are interested will be asked to plug their names on the card and for further information needed. In the near future, more information will be given in this paper about the livestock club and livestock in Rowan County. It won't be long until the Fair, and we are reminding you now, to visit our FFA display at the fair. The scope of the program will be displayed, say to how far it reaches in the county the scope of projects outlined by the department for the coming year.

Mr. Wade, the Adviser, has indicated that the officers for the year shown in the card and the Club, and they have the interest of the organization at heart. Football Is Again King Of Local Campus

Football practice opens in earnest at the Morehead State Teachers College on Monday of next week, according to Coach Ellis Johnson, when the entire squad for the 1940 edition for the Eagles reports for their first practice.

Coach Johnson, who for several seasons has developed into more or less of a gloomy Gloom personality, is unusually optimistic for him, at this stage of the proceedings. Johnson, thinking perhaps of the unusual number of quality reserves that will be on hand, and counting his comparatively light losses in the 1939 season, is looking forward to an exceptionally good year on the gridiron. Of course he qualifies that statement by saying each would be no going all the way out at this point. There are still a number of yards and buzz, before the season is over.

One of the biggest of these is Farrell, 165, Jr., Louisville; Jim Caudill, 165, Soph., Newport; Duerson Barnes, 170, Jr., Mt. Vernon; Steve Spegely, 175, Jr., Gary, Va.; Edmond Taskies, Charles-Smith, Redding, 215, Soph., Newport; Addison Marshall, 225, Jr. Marion, Ind.; Richard Dougherty 190, Soph., 185, Soph., Va.; Vincent Zachary, 185, Soph., Ashland.

Guarner Columbus Norris, 170, Soph., Pikeville; Joe Ruchinks, 180, Soph., Whitesburg; Dewey Cornejo, 190, Soph., Whitesburg; Conrad Varney, 165, Soph., Williamsport; Bill Mack, 190, Soph., New Britain, Conn.; Centers: Paul Adams, 165, Jr., Coal Grove, Ohio; Hayes Tate, 175, Jr., Lexington; Charles Bevely-Adams, 175, Sr., Williamson; Bruce Walker, 180, Sr., Newport; Harry Warrings, 170, Sr., Morehead; Benny Vazellis, 170, Jr., New Britain, Conn.; Harry Hatfield, 155, Jr., Williamson; Ralph Musman, 165, 1er of Triplett, were vice captains of the team. Mr. Tom Caskey and son from Wiggins, 140, Soph., Pikeville; sister Mrs. George Ann Caskey Ray Justice, 180 Soph., Louisville; Bratton Branch.

Following Marshall the Eagles meet one of their Kentucky rivals for football honors, a rival that Morehead has thus far failed to conquer in football, when they meet Murray State Teachers at Ashland on the night of October 5 in a night encounter. Then comes Richmond, and Western and Transylvania. The schedule follows:

Sept. 21—Marshall, Huntington

Sept. 28—Open

Oct. 5—Murray, Ashland, night

Oct. 12—Open

Oct. 19—Hubrook, Morehead

Oct. 26—Eastern, Morehead

Nov. 2—Concorn, Morehead

Nov. 9—Western Morehead

Nov. 16—Franky, Morehead

(Homecoming)

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our gratitude to the citizens of Morehead who so kindly assisted us in the burial of our son and nephew, Claude Luther Wilson. We particularly wish to thank Rev. T. F. Lyons, the quartet which furnished the music, members of the Legion and those who sent flowers.
