Local Red Cross Will Discontinue "Civilian Relief"

Shortage Of Funds Forces Chapter To Abandon This "Sideline"

Due to the National Emergency and the demands made on the funds of the local chapter of the Red Cross, it becomes necessary that the local organization cut down on the funds heretofore used for "Civilian Relief." The setup of the American Red Cross the men in the armed forces have first priority on funds raised and local "Civilian Relief" is only an adjunct or side line in handling Red Cross funds. A letter from the National headquarters of the American Red Cross to the local chapter to the following during national emergency: "The American Red Cross is not a relief agency except in times of emergencies brought about in times of disaster and what is known as "Civilian Relief" is no longer encouraged by National headquarters." Heretofore in Rowan county most of the funds raised went for Civilian Relief and the demands for same became much greater than the funds raised would allow. Many have to be turned down. It will not be possible for the local chapter in the future during the national emergency to allow funds for Civilian Relief for several reasons. In the same letter as above the following statement occurred: "Hospitalization in one of the National Relief. Very few chapters ever attempt to meet this type of need except in cases of disaster. It can depend all out of proportion the chapter's ability to finance it." That is exactly the case as has happened in Rowan county. The chief of instruction to the local chapter closes by saying: "Our services to the armed forces are the only ones which we are all prepared to devote every effort to meeting these requirements and it is not possible to get contents to dissipate their funds in other ways when so many calls will be made on those funds for the type of service that we are required by our chapter to be prepared to give."

U. S. Starts Loans To Students For Technical Training To Be Made Through College And Universities

The Government opened its purse this week for loans to more than 10,000 college students, men and women—seeking technical or professional degrees in six fields. The program is the first of its kind and is the shortest time possible and applied to the war effort. The program provided $5,000,000 for this means of obtaining urgently needed persons trained in engineering, physics, chemistry, medicine (including veterinary), dentistry and pharmacy. The United States Office of Education said loans would be made to students, needing assistance who are registered in accelerated programs of degree-granting colleges and universities and whose technical or professional education can be completed within two years. Students obtaining loans must agree in writing to participate, and otherwise directed by the chairman of the War Manpower Commission at 1145 East Main street, of study in any of the authorized fields "to engage for duration of the war in the production of war materiel or in the service of the war as now engaged in such employment or service as may be assigned by officers or agencies designated by the chairman of the War Manpower Commission."

New Credit Law To Curb Charge Accounts Now In Effect

You must pay today for what you bought in May. Under the new charge account law will be frozen under a recent federal regulation requiring payment for purchases dating back to May 1, 1942. But not everybody will pay. As a result, from twenty to twenty-five percent of the charge accounts in the city will be frozen after today, it is estimated. And all of those customers who have "charge" accounts will have to pay up as soon as possible. Federal Reserve Board regulations give the stores authority to allow customers, and payments to managers to be deserving of help, to pay off the over due balance in monthly installments and still retain an active charge account. The back payments may not be extended over a period longer than six months and payments may be less than $5.00 a month. The extension is discretionary with creditors. The regulations, which became effective May 6, provide purchases be paid for not later than the tenth of the second calendar month after the sale. They include all charge accounts in which an intention to pay in installments is expressed and one in which payment made at the time of purchase.

Article By Miller Published In National Journal

The recent number of Educational Administration and Supervision, National Education Journal, contains an article by Dr. Frank B. Miller, Professor of Education, in "Direction in Education." The magazine is published in Baltimore, Maryland. The article gives pointed direction in our educational work. Dr. Miller writes: "What a person is, we know by the way he acts. Ideals make up the self. Unless our thoughts, which should be our best company, are reflective and retrospective, and unless education offers direction for future generations, America may suffer the fate of other civilizations." "The test of democracy is the direction in which things are going where we find the spirit in which we are moving."

Rest, price and rationing matters will be handled extensively. Large piles of scrap rubber in the gas station yard are not being used. The dealer is just awaiting shipping instructions and the reclamation plants are very busy. The Navy is grateful-but longed for the great war glasses as a help to it. What it asked for was 6 x 30 and 7 x 50 binoculars. These cost from $75.00 to $118.00 as a rule.

The OPA's Consumer Division has been reorganized and several new appointments made. A Consumer Requirements Branch has been set up and other changes made. Manufacturers' and wholesalers' prices for men's and boys' tailored clothing were "traced back" many instances last week by the OPA to enable consumers to come to pay by items at March (42) prices.

The soybean is another agricultural product that has been mobilized for the Axis. Large quantities of synthetic resins and dyes, synthetic rubber, and solvents requisite for war manufacture are being produced in this country. The soybean is a source of many of these products. The 1942 soybean crop is estimated at 175,000,000 bushels, grown chiefly in the Middle West, with Indiana and Ohio among the leaders.

relative to absentee voting will be taken care of. It is interesting that Kentucky does not have an "Absentee Voting Law." However, we take pride in the fact that those brave and patriotic Kentuckians, who help make up the American Armed Forces in the great war of Liberty and Freedom, are still citizens of the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Yet, we have no law that permits our men, those entitled to vote, who are in the Armed Service, are, in effect, deprived of the first privilege of citizenship—the right of suffrage, the right to vote, if absent from their voting precincts on election day.

Provision laws have not been enacted in Kentucky providing for absentee voting, by civilians or service men. The Court of Appeals of the Commonwealth of Kentucky has held that casting a vote by other than personally voting at the polls is violative of Section 147 of the Constitution of Kentucky. This was decided in the case of Clark versus Nash and Lewis (See 192 Kentucky 594; 234 S. W. 1).

A voter must register in person and of proper address to qualify to vote. The requirements for registration before the County Court Clerks of Kentucky is shown in Section 2, Chapter 59, passed by the 1942 Acts of the General Assembly of Kentucky. Sub-section 1, Section 2, of the 1942 Acts, provides for registration of voters. Books shall be closed 59 days before a Primary or General Election, and shall not again be reopened for registration or alteration or changing of party affiliation until ten days after any Primary or General Election. However, the County Clerk, under Chapter 59, of the 1942 Acts provides for changing of party affiliation for registration of voters in Military Service, or in Defense Plants, is that true the election laws of any State are in themselves an important function of our Government. Proper suffrage legislation, its interpretation, application, and administration is vital to our Democracy.

In view of the lack of an absentee voting law in Kentucky, I believe that, when possible, an effort should be made to afford those in Military Service, or in Defense Plants, an opportunity to come home and vote. For the sake of patriotism, and the organizations of our Democracy, it can, doubtless, be made in many cases.

A concerted effort should be made so long as it does not hamper the war program. Patriotic organizations and everyone interested in good government, it would sponsor plans, at least, eliminate part of this ridiculous situation, which robs our Service Men of their right to cast a vote. Many are possible for Military authorities, transportation lines, and patriotic organizations have had many inquiries from officials and members of our armed forces for information concerning elections and voting requirements for absentee voters. Therefore, in answer to these numerous requests, I make the following statement:

At 67, Herdman Cannery Get Extra Continues To Give Sugar Allotment Reams Of Advice For 1942 Season

Legal Opinions Ranging Will Permit Manufacturers To Purchase Bumper Crop Of Tomatoes

Increased allotments of sugar to permit vegetable canners and processors to increase production to, or beyond, 1941 levels and thus prevent spoilage of bumper crops were announced by the Office of Price Administration in Washington Monday.

The order permits additional allotments of forty percent of 1941 base on top of the current seventy percent allotment for use in production of tomato catsup to bring total production up to 119 percent of the 1941 rate, a reflection of the government's large requirement of catsup for army and lend-lease use.

I will be away from home at election time. The expenses of the elections will be about the same, whether they do or do not vote. The number of ballots is made from paper based on the total registration of qualified voters. The same number of election tickets will serve. The expenses in the office and local county and other governmental agencies will be about the same, regardless of the number who vote.

Many a soldier, sailor, and defense worker, who are qualified voters, cannot leave their posts of duty. But, let's be patriotic and help those, who can get "leaves," to come and vote.

Many states have simple methods for absentees to vote by mail. It is then the duty of us all, in the absence of an absentee voting law, to afford the defenders of Liberty and Democracy, in as many instances as possible, an opportunity to give service men the rights of citizenship by casting their vote in Kentucky.

The newspapers, radio stations, parents, relatives, friends, and organizations can surely work out a plan to cooperate with military and transportation authorities for Kentucky to take the lead in a progressive, statewide action to bring absent citizens in service home to vote.

Expressions Of Support Sent To Sen. A. B. Chandler

Many Feel That Now Is No Time To Make A Change

Telegrams, telephone calls, and letters, pledging support to Senator A. B. Chandler in his race for re-election are pouring into his State Headquarters at Frankfort from every section of Kentucky. It was reported today by Robert Humphreys, Campaign Chairman. In addition to hundreds of messages being received from Chandler supporters of long standing, many voters who have not heretofore been in the Chandler column are pledging their aid and assistance.

The general theme expressed in these pledges is appreciation of the fine record of Senator Chandler in Washington and regret that his opponent, as one letter puts it, has "precipitated Kentucky into a political fight at a time when every energy would be better directed toward prosecution of the war."

"Typical of these expressions is the following letter from a jurist in Eastern Kentucky, who says: "I am happy to report that I feel that Senator Chandler will have no trouble in our county this year. Mr. Brown carried this county by a large majority in 1939, but several of his friends are not for him this time, believing that it is not the proper thing for him to run. "I am going to be for Chandler. In the past I have supported John Y. but I feel that it is no time for us to make a change. I am not only satisfied with Senator Chandler's record in the Senate, but I am pleased with it. I like John Y. but this is not a time to vote for someone that you only like. We must protect our boys at the front and we must protect our homes and our system of Government. We can best do this by sending our present Senator and Democratic Congressmen back to Washington. If I can help in this campaign, I will be at your service."

It's A Fact--

Total equities of American families in savings accounts and life insurance are today $35,459,000,000 which is three and one-half times the total in 1917, or $39,442,000,000 more than existed at the beginning of World War No. 1.

Purchase of U. S. Government Bonds by the three hundred American life insurance companies since January 1 have been greater than the net increase in total assets of these companies, representing not only all new funds available, but part of old funds being reinvested.

Life insurance death benefits paid to American families in the first five months of this year a year. Mr. Brown carried this county by a large majority in 1939, but several of his friends are not for him this time, believing that it is not the proper thing for him

The above map of Kentucky shows the War Bond quotas, by counties, for the month of July, 1942. Total War Bond quota for the state is $9,504,000. While the National total placed at a billion dollars, the nation goes into high gear in its support of the War financing and to give our fighting forces adequate implements of war which will bring ultimate Victory. American Soldiers, Let's Go, America.

FOLKS: The 1,138 men and women who operate our power plants, keep the electric lines repaired, read your meters, run our offices, etc., are actually the Kentucky Utilities Company. The president used to string wires on poles in Bell County. Eight out of ten were born in the State. All but a handful work in small towns today.

They are your neighbors, lodge brothers, fellow Rotarians, Kiwanis, church members, Legionnaires. Over 500 have been with us more than ten years; over 250 more than five years; over 190 more than two years. They make up a dependable organization—always on the job day and night, trying to give the best service possible. And they're giving you better service at lower cost every year.

Politicians who want to put themselves in business are trying to break up this organization and wreck the company. They want to replace business management with political management. Politics in business destroys private enterprise. It fosters un-American social-ism. It is dangerous.

There can be none other so imperative! After that, comes Mr. and Mrs. Civilian. We urge civilians to limit travel to necessary trips—and then during the early days of the week, to leave more week-end accommodations for those who can travel only at that time.

We are expending every possible effort to adequately serve the public's needs for transportation. Some of the time we can accomplish our aims... bus service as you were accustomed to in days of peace. Road Material Ban Effective July 22

To Be Supplemented By Blanket Patching And Surfacing Program

The state, counties and municipalities will continue to treat or repair roads with bituminous materials until July 22. Logan, state director of road construction, said this week.

Use of these materials, such as asphalt and road oils, will be restricted thereafter for the duration under a Public Roads Administration Order issued July 2. Logan said the order gave governmental and private agencies until July 12 to bring in ordered shipments of these materials and until July 22 to use them unrestrictedly.

After that date, Logan said, the State Highway Department will submit to the Public Roads Administration a blanket patching and surface treatment program for the State and thirty-five percent of the program automatically will be approved. The Department must negotiate for approval of the remaining sixty-five percent.

When the restriction order takes full effect, cities, desiring to use bituminous materials for road treatment, must apply to the Highway Department for permission to use the materials. The department in turn will attempt to obtain a certificate of necessity for the city from Washington to enable the city to carry out its repair plan.

State repair work also would require Federal approval, Logan said. Work that Washington probably would not require necessary maintenance work.
