Plant Manager Is Accident Victim

Ernest Dehart, 47, Dies Instantly As Truck Wrecks

Ernest Dehart, 47, manager of the Standard Oil bulk plant at Morehead was killed instantly at 11:40 Saturday night when a truck, which he owned but was being driven by another person, crashed into a large sycamore tree 6.7 miles east of Morehead on U.S. 60.

The crash happened in Rowan County about a fourth of a mile from the Carter County line, near the Bill Bailey store. The truck was headed east toward Olive Hill.

The blotter at the district State Police Office in Morehead showed that the accident was on a straight stretch of road and there were no skid marks.

The 1970 Chevrolet truck, Dehart's personal property and not a company vehicle, was driven, according to State Police, by James A. Butler, 30, RFD 3, Morehead.

Driver Slightly Injured

Dehart, who lived in eastern Kentucky, particularly Rowan and Carter counties, came to Morehead about nine years ago as manager of the Standard bulk distribution outlet. He had previously been a truck driver for Standard Oil.

Butler was hospitalized, and then released, at St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead. He was not seriously injured, but the truck was badly damaged.

Mr. Dehart's remains were taken to Oney Funeral Home in Olive Hill where final services were held yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon by Reverends Dennis Sammons and Bill Hartung. Burial was in the Dehart cemetery on Bends Run, about two miles from Olive Hill. The

$800,000 Is Allocated To Dam Recreation

The House Appropriations Committee has approved $800,000 for recreation development at Cave Run Reservoir in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Announcement of the decision was made by Representative William H. Natcher, a member of the appropriations group. Perkins and Watts appeared before the house group on April 15 to ask for an increase in the funds for the Forest Service to carry out the recreation development work. The President's budget for Fiscal 1971 had sought only $100,000 for the work.

The Kentucky Congressman sought the additional funds to permit installation of facilities that must be in place before the reservoir is filled in December 1972.

The additional funds approved by the Appropriations Committee will provide for one 6-lane boat launching ramp, three fishing piers, 400 lineal feet of beach, underwater lines for water and sewage facilities, design of 10 major recreation sites, and related facilities.

Morehead Mayor William H. Layne and Montgomery County Judge Casswell P. Lane, who heads the Gateway Area Development Association, testified before the committee urging the $800,000 appropriation.

CONSERVATION MEETING WILL BE HELD FRIDAY EVENING

The annual meeting of the Rowan County Soil Conservation District will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening at 7:30 at Tilden Hogge School.

This will be a dinner gathering with an admission price of $1.50.

New Rowan Highway Headquarters

For more than two decades the State Highway division serving Rowan County has been housed in a "dumpy like" building on Christy Creek (Ky. 32) about two miles south of Morehead. Housed in this new, modern, structure just north of the I-64 interchange or about three miles from Morehead. Adequate space has been provided for offices, equipment, materials etc.

This Is The Year Of Locust

By Nevyle Schackelford
 Staff Writer

Early one spring morning in the year 1633, Pilgrims at Plymouth, Massachusetts awoke from their slumbers to behold a "numerous company of flies" which were like for bigness unto Wasps and Bumblebees.

As the chronicle of this long ago event continued, "They came out of little holes in the grounds, and did eat up the green things, and made such a constant yelling noise as made all the woods ring of them, and ready to deaf the hearer."

To the Pilgrims, this was an awesome phenomenon. Having no previous experience with this great host of "Flies," they jumped to the conclusion that they were the "locusts" told about in their Bibles which devastated Egypt during the time of Moses.

The Pilgrims were even more convinced they were being beset by this biblical plague when these insects started making the woodlands ring with their interminable, long drawl-out wail which, in imagination, sounds like "Pharaoh... Pharaoh... roah!"

But the insects that swarmed and astonished the Pilgrims were not the terrible locusts that humiliated the proud and oppressive Pharaoh of the Bible. They were, instead, the 17-year cicadas which, according to University of Kentucky entomologists, Wesley Gregory and Rudolph Scheibner, are scheduled to reappear this year over much of the United States east of the Mississippi.

In response to the ticking of that inscrutable and mysterious biological clock, these periodical cicadas will crawl from their underground burrows as nymphs, moult, and then set up a din that indeed, is one of the most overpowering sounds in nature.

Although ferocious in appearance, these nymphs are harmless. About an inch in length and looking somewhat like a young scorpion, they emerge from their holes, scale the first available tree, lock their forelegs in the bark, and begin their moult.

Within a few minutes the brown carapaces hang empty, and off somewhere nearby are the young adults, drying their wings and getting ready for a repetition of yet another strange life cycle.

Only the males sing and they do this according to entomologists, to attract females. The noisy din is caused by vibrating drumlike plates on their sides. After mating, the females crawl out on limbs and twigs and start saving holes with an egg-laying tool tooled like a Number 9 hand saw.

Each female deposits around 600 eggs into dozens of holes. In about six weeks the larvae hatch out, fall to the ground, and begin another 17 years of subterranean wandering and growth before emerging again.

The tiny holes ripped into branches and small twigs often cause them to die and break off during light windstorms. This can sometimes be damaging to young orchards, but, despite their tremendous numbers, there's really little to fear from the periodical cicada.

In older times superstitious countryfolk, as did some American Indians, considered the cicadas' astonishing appearance a bad omen. The black "W" on their wings was supposed to presage war. Their immense swarms brought fears of famine to some Indians, but to other tribes "locust year" meant anything else but starvation. These tribes feasted upon the cicada with relish. There are about 30 broods of periodical

Licenses Of Seven Drivers Are Suspended

The licenses of seven Rowan, and immediate area, drivers have been suspended or revoked, the Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee at Frankfort reported this morning.

They are: Kenneth Douglas Robinson, 18, 337 N. Wilson Ave., Morehead, suspended until July 21 for speeding.

William Rollie Goodpaster, 23, Morgan Fork Road, Clearfield, revoked until Oct. 18 for driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages.

Archie Dean Adams, 29, General Delivery, Morehead, revoked until Oct. 19 for driving under the influence of alcohol.

Paul Arnold Henderson, 23, Tollerboro, suspended until June 21 for speeding.

James Dallas Paris, 34, Wallingford, revoked until Oct. 21 for driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages.

Charles Callis Olson, 37, Isonville, revoked until Dec. 5 for operating a motor vehicle under such high blood alcohol.

Donald Ray Porter, 18, RFD 1, Ison Creek, Sandy Hook, revoked until Oct. 18 for driving while under the influence of alcohol.

705 Students At Morehead Get Grants

More than 1,000 young Eastern Kentuckians will be able to attend college, some at Morehead, under grants to four seventh district colleges announced today by the U.S. Office of Education.

The agency advised Representative Carl D. Perkins, D-Hindman, that the grants were made to the four colleges under the Educational Opportunity Grants Program. The program is conducted under the Higher Education Act of 1965 of which Perkins was a sponsor.

The colleges, amounts of grant, and number of student awards are: Alice Lloyd College, Pippa Passes, $88,600, 161 awards; Lees Junior College, Jackson, $70,000, 12 awards; Morehead State University, Morehead, $38,000, 705 awards; and Pikeville College, Pikeville, $25,500, 46 awards.

The Educational Opportunity Grants range from $200 to $1,000 for each academic year of study, and are awarded by participating colleges to students of exceptional financial need.

General And AFL Union Are In Agreement

General Telephone Company of Kentucky and Communications Workers of America (CWA) reached full agreement today for a new two-year contract which will run from April 26, 1970 to April 28, 1972. The agreement will be submitted to the members for ratification.

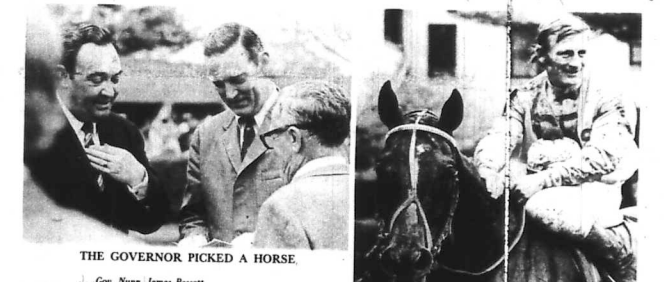

According to Margaret A. Stanton, CWA Eastern Kentucky Director, the contract which covers members in Locals 3371 and 3372 is the "best wage package ever negotiated between the CWA and General Telephone Company."

The new agreement also includes improvements in basic and major medical coverage, pensions, and other fringe benefits.

Earl A. Goode, the company's Morehead District Manager, noted that the agreement contained other changes which were necessary to the operations of the company to meet continuing customer demands for quality telephone service."

CWA Locals 3371 and 3372 cover over 1100 employees in the company's Ashland, Hazard, Morehead, Lexington and Lancaster Districts, serving 32 of the company's 53 exchanges.

one of the 22 Morehead News handicappers selected Dust Commander - County Court Clerk Ottis W. Elam. But a Morehead banker (also Publisher's Pen) may have "cleaned up" on Dust Commander's last three races, all major upsets.

Food Stamps . . . Number Of Recipients Continues To Grow

The number of food stamp recipients in Rowan County is climbing . . . in fact, seems skyrocketing.

During March a total of 1,366 received food stamps in Rowan County, compared to 1226 in February.

And, the (approved) applicants has continued to grow sharply every month during the past year.

However, the number of recipients (percentage-wise) in Rowan is below area counties.

During the month of March food stamp recipients in area counties were - Bath 1,900;

Breathitt 6,585; Carter 3,073; Elliott 1,366; Floyd 6,754; Johnson 4,165; Knott 6,299; Magoffin 4,897; Menifee 818; Montgomery 1,749; Perry 7,479; Pike 5,771; Powell 1,529; Wolfe 1,082; and Morgan 2,786. Some Kentucky counties have not adopted the food

Some Receive Commodities

Some Kentucky counties have not adopted the food stamp plan, but are continuing to receive (welfare) commodities. In this part of the State the commodity recipients were -

Boyd 4,694; Greenup 1,856; Lawrence 2,188; Lewis 1,841; and Fleming 1,505.

Food stamps have become "big business" for retail food stores, and most have extended their advertising programs into the homes of stamp recipients.

The Atlanta office of the Food and Nutrition Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture today released the following statement about the program -

More needy families in Kentucky are benefiting from U.S. Department of Agriculture food assistance programs, with latest reports showing that 261,461 persons got such help in March.

This is a 5 percent increase over the 249,000 persons receiving aid in February, and a 24 percent increase over those getting food help in January.

Requirements Eased

The significant increase in participation, officials of USDA's Food and Nutrition Service report, has been due largely to the inauguration of changes in the food stamp program. The changes included reduced purchase requirement and increased bonus allotments for many eligible families.

During March, a total of 193,640 million worth of USDA food stamp coupons. This was an increase of 14,000 over the number taken part in the program during February.

The FNS Southeast regional office here reports that another 6,346 persons in 56 counties received around 2.2 million pounds of USDA donated foods through the family food distribution program during March. This was 2,283 less than the number receiving USDA donated foods in February.

The foods had a retail value of over $887,000 and included dairy products, canned and dried fruits and vegetables, canned meat or poultry, grain and cereal products, as well as other items such as peanut butter and scrambled egg mix.

USDA food assistance programs are administered by the Food and Nutrition Service through state agencies. In Kentucky, the State Department of Economic Security supervises the food stamp program, while the family food distribution program is supervised by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture.

Hospital Week

Claire Medical Center said, "Hospitals are meeting the challenge of the variety of new methods which also help in planning for the future." St. Claire's Medical Center expansion as well as the implementation of new programs at St. Claire illustrated well in the theme of "Your Hospital Cares." National Hospital Week is an annual observance sponsored by the American Hospital Association to give people an opportunity to learn more about hospitals in their community.

Letters . . . to the editor

This newspaper welcomes letters, particularly on subjects of general local, or area, interest. Right is reserved to condense. No letters will be printed without author's signature and address.

The Editor:

A problem has arisen in Rowan County that reflects upon the good name of citizens and county government. It is one that never should have happened, but it did. Now it should be corrected and we should act so that it will rarely happen again.

Through no fault of their own, citizens have not been notified that taxes were being assessed against them on their automobiles. Due notice is a recognized part of rights guaranteed to citizens under due process of law. It's almost impossible to prove that you didn't receive notice of something you didn't know was coming. Who could keep a record to cover such a situation?

The fault lies in insufficient address. It should be corrected at the start. A full address should be required at the time of registration of the vehicle. If it is not done there, it should be corrected in the assessor's office for by the time the bill reaches the sheriff's office it is too late. The damage is done for the bill is overdue.

If for any reason this lack of address cannot be corrected in any of the public offices for lack of funds, personnel, time or otherwise, I would like to offer my services to meet this need without public expense. I can be of service to the citizens of Rowan County and various public spirited citizens and organizations for the project. It would be worth it to protect the good name of Rowan County citizens and of Rowan County itself. We pay taxes not just for government, but good government. But as citizens we have the obligation to do our part, and if the finding of these addresses should be done on a voluntary basis, I am willing to help do it.

Everything Brighter For MSU Football Eagles

With a fourth of spring practice behind him, Morehead State University Head Football Coach Jake Hallum hasn't found all the answers to his offense problems but things are improving.

"Some of our experiments are starting to work but it is still far too early to tell if we can fill the holes," the third-year coach said after the first five days of spring drills.

The Eagles hope to finish the 20 practice sessions in time to stage the annual Blue-Gold intrasquad game Tuesday, May 19.

The search for a quarterback has narrowed to four candidates with junior Buck Donley in front. The lanky Ohsion has recovered from off-season knee surgery and is throwing the ball with zip and accuracy.

Along with Donley are sophomore Ed Halline, last year's chief sub; freshman Lou Main, a promising red shirt; and sophomore Steve Hale, who has returned to school after sitting out a year for academic reasons.

Hallum is looking primarily for a passer to put the ball into the hands of his experienced receivers, the strongest part of the returning offense unit. Back from 1969's 6-4 season are flankers John High, Dennis Crowley, Jim Gardner and Mo Hollingsworth plus ends Gary Shirk and Doug Henwood.

Hallum's major experiment in the offensive line has John Slaughter, a 250-pound tackle, converting from defense, and Tom Lehman, a former linebacker, working as a guard for the second spring. Slaughter has been impressive thus far and Lehman is fighting an ankle injury.

Veterans in the interior line are center Steve Ward, tackle Ed Mignery and guard Buddy Harrison.

The Eagle running attack is down to five men after the switch of fullback Clint Walker back to defensive end and the spring suspension of two-time All-OVC tailback Louis Rogan for disciplinary reasons.

First string performers at present are fullback Doug Moore and tailback John Coning. Also competing are Bill Cason, last season's No. 2 runner behind Rogan; Mike Martin, a strong sophomore; and swift Jeff Perkins, the team's return specialist.

Rogan's status for the fall is uncertain, Hallum reported. The power running senior has rushed for 15 touchdowns and more than 1,800 yards in less than two seasons.

"Overall, we have more offensive depth than last year," Hallum added. "But we're thin in some vital areas."

ACHIEVEMENT . . . These Rowan County 4-H leaders and supporters receive 4-H certificates for outstanding 4-H work during the past year. Mr. Raymond White, Principal; Mrs. Elva Mink, 5th grade teacher and 4-H leader; Linda Kleis, 4-H Foods and Clothing Leader; Mrs. Jodie Offutt, Clothing Leader; Mr. Harold Ellington, 7th and 8th grade teacher and leader. Not pictured but received awards were Mrs. Bonnie Witcher, 6th grade 4-H leader and teacher and Mrs. John Hardin, 7th and 8th grade 4-H leader and teacher.

Lindsey Wilson Picks Voight As Basketball Coach

Morehead State University Graduate Assistant Coach Jim Voight has been named head basketball coach at Lindsey Wilson Junior College.

The 34-year-old Paducah native succeeds Don Green at the Columbia, Ky. school. His appointment is effective Sept. 1.

Voight, who is receiving his master's degree from MSU this summer, had two years as head coach at Bryan College, Dayton, Tenn. He came to Morehead last summer from Hickman County High School.

"I've had a profitable year at Morehead State and this opportunity to return as a head coach is a wonderful opportunity," said Voight, who served as a graduate assistant to MSU Head Coach Bill D. Harrell.

"Coach Voight is a fine basketball man," Harrell said. "We wish him success at Lindsey Wilson."

Voight is married to the former Keitha Burgess of Arlington, Ky. They have three children.

APPRENTICESHIP TRAINING

The Department of Labor estimates that about a quarter-million apprentices entered training during the period July 1, 1968 through June 30, 1969. All of these people were registered in formal apprenticeship courses.

In one respect, ignorance is particularly basic these days, in that the less a person knows about what's happening in the world now, the less he worries.

Here's one you can believe in. Everybody is looking for a bargain.

What makes the Buick LeSabre so well such bargains?

We're dealing, for one thing, Spring is here and we're making up for lost time during these cold winter months when everybody stayed home for the fire.

We're going to make it real easy for you to get into the Buick LeSabre this Spring. But that's only part of what makes a bargain a bargain.

What about the car? Can you believe it?

Every Buick is built with integrity. You get things like a cooling system that should never overheat, even with air conditioning.

You get Buick's unique suspension system—Arc-A-Die— that makes this LeSabre one of the best handling Buicks ever.

You can even order a 350 cubic-inch V-8. With four-barrel carburetion. That delivers 265 horsepower. Yet runs on regular gas.

So, let's put it this way. If you want a bargain, we've got the ingredients. The car. And the deal.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Publisher's Pen...

Day-by-day jot-ten-downs, and editorial observations, of the publisher of this newspaper.

Another Kentucky Derby.
Another sad story.

The Morehead News had 22 "self-anointed expert" handicappers and their selections (including ours) appeared last week.

Only one picked Dust Commander, the winner.

She is County Court Clerk Ottis W. Elam. It looks like Ottis is not only the most unbeatable politician in these parts, always winning by a landslide when she (seldom) has primary or general election opposition, but also the best, or luckiest, race horse picker.

An additional year has been added to Mrs. Elam's subscription. (She has been a paid subscriber for over two decades.)

Of the 22 Morehead News handicappers Arnold Pack selected Dust Commander to run second; and Dr. N. C. Marsh and postal clerk Dub Williams chose the horse third.

In retrospect, it does seem that the Morehead News panel would have done better because 1. Dust Commander won the Bluegrass Stakes at nearby, popular Keeneland; and 2. One of the two breeders of Dust Commander is W. Paul Little who married Lucille Caudill, a real pretty Morehead girl.

Our staff has a way of finding out just about anything that goes on, moral or immoral, in this neighborhood, and we learn that + Bernie Evers sent $10 to win the track by Commonwealth Attorney Elijah M. Hogge on Dust Commander and got back around $165.

+ Mrs. Elam attended the Derby and her tickets (across the board) returned around $70. Ottis was in the infield and got in the $5 win line to wager more on Dust Commander, but the line was so long that she finally dropped out in disgust and desperation.

+ Wathen Armstrong, former Circuit Court Clerk, had the winner, but we don't know how much he laid on the line. One of his close friends said it was "sizeable," but there is a considerable variance in what different people classify as "sizeable."

+ The big winner from Morehead was banker J. Roger Caudill. We have a right fair idea that his wager was "sizeable" because Mr. Caudill isn't just a poor fellow. Further, Roger bet on Dust Commander in his first outing at Keeneland and the horse won at odds of about 16 to 1. Then, he again wagered on Dust Commander in the Blue Grass Stakes as the horse paid upwards of $70. If a person had bet $20 on Dust Commander in the Bluegrass, and then parlayed the money in the Kentucky Derby he would have won close to $11,000. And if a $20 parlay was made on Dust Commander in the last three winning efforts the net return on the $20 would amount to around $200,000. Of course, Mr. Caudill didn't make such a bet but when this unlikely, unhealthy but plenty wise Publisher talked with the Morehead banker he had a "real big smile" on his face.

And we have an "educated guess" that his winnings amounted to plenty. We hasten to add that Mr. Caudill is not an avid, and only an occasional race horse bettor, but somehow he had the right "info" or "hunch" on Dust Commander. Oh, well, as we've often written the rich get richer and the poor have more babies and get more food stamps and bigger welfare checks.

BARDSTOWN STORY. The day after the Derby this lady loving Publisher was in Bardstown. We learned that the Bardstown newspaper (The Kentucky Standard) one of Kentucky's best community publications, printed a "local handicapping panel" sort of like the Morehead News has for 12 years. The consensus in the Bardstown newspaper was that Dust Commander would be the winner. The talk of the town Sunday, especially at the country club, went like this: there is a certain Bardstown construction contractor who each year books the local bets on the Kentucky Derby. And he has been "cleaning up" for more than a decade. But, they really took him this time. It seems that just about everybody in Nelson County had selected Dust Commander... and most wagered through this "once a year" bookmaker. After the race was over, they clamored for their money. He started paying off and ran out of funds. The banks were off and he had several hundred dollars worth of travelers cheques and began paying off with them. But, that wasn't enough, so he started calling business places and friends to cash his personal checks. This particular contractor, whose name is known throughout Kentucky, could well stand the loss and has one of those high Dun and Bradstreet ratings. But, his "Derby Day clients" refused to wait until Monday for the banks to open, or to accept his check because this was the first time over a period of years they "took" him.

CAUSE FOR CONCERN. It is somewhat amazing to this author the increase in the number of people receiving food stamps. (See story on page one). If this, and other welfare programs, continue to progress, it will be virtually impossible to find anybody who will work.

ALARMING. There have been some "incidents" on the campus of Morehead State University the past month... but nothing is on the official record. It is our confirmed belief that MSU is "better off" in this respect than any University in the Commonwealth. But, there is strong reason for concern, even at Morehead.

RETIRING. Ernie Thompson has sold his interest (control) in Union Wholesale. We expect to do a feature story on Mr.

Thompson and his many community and civic contributions.

COMING. More "guest editorials" by local citizens in the Morehead News. The first two will be by County Judge Ott Caldwell and Chief of Police Callis Coyle. They're both doing real good jobs in their official positions.

TRAGIC. We have just learned that Jim Noe, formerly of Morehead and one of the greatest and most effective boosters of "our" University has died in Washington. Jim was one of our school mates in college and held a "policy" position in organized labor. Jim was 55 years old.

GOOD. Best news of the week - General Telephone Company and employees (union) have reached an agreement that apparently meets with favor on both sides. Even the voices of the operators sound most pleasant and courteous. As you probably know, the strike (or walk out) partially centered at Morehead where General has more than 100 on the payroll, which being a district office serving area counties.

IN MEMORIAM. Several hundred students at Morehead State University held a lighted candle march this week in memory of the four Kent (Ohio) students who were killed. President Adron Doran participated in the memorial (candlelight procession) tribute.

OPENING. The Rowan County Public Library is accepting applications for a qualified librarian.

OUTPOURING. More than 1,200 students, representing 40 high schools, were Morehead Saturday for the fourth annual music festival. About 30 choruses and 125 vocal solo and ensemble events were heard.

COMMENDABLE. Rowan County girl scouts will join in Morehead's Clean-Up Saturday. Troops of Brownie, Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts will gather at various locations on Main Street at 9:30 to start the "litter pick-up." After the morning "all over town" clean-up the troops will go to Rodburn Park for a 12:30 picnic lunch. Girls, we're real proud of you.

IN CONCLUSION. Dr. F. Douglas Scutfield (M.D.) has been named Coordinator in Rowan County for National Hospital Week, which starts Sunday.

We endorse Senator Marlow Cook's bill which would amend the Uniform Time Act of 1966 so that daylight saving time would only be in effect from Memorial Day through Labor Day. We have previously editorially advocated exactly the same thing, even the same dates... One of the most difficult tasks of the average American is sorting out the state of identification numbers assigned to him by government, insurance companies, banks, department stores and credit card operations. What with the unisex dress, young people find it difficult to tell the boys from the girls - and some of them don't try to... The feeling of this column is that daylight saving time is for the birds - they like to get up at dawn... We have some doubts that Jane Fonda hates anything like as much as she loves publicity. (Here's another clipping for your scrapbook, Janie)... Our observation is that many men hope for an attempt by designers to make longer skirts the prevailing style will fail, and that miniskirts will become more mini and many more... A pediatrician says the best time to feed a baby is when he is hungry. This sounds entirely plausible, but terribly unprofessional... A preacher asks what a man should be called who habitually petitions calling for a halt to new taxes, coupled with "immediate spending reform."

BARSTOWN STORY. The day after the Derby this lady loving Publisher was in Bardstown. And he has been "cleaning up" for more than a decade. But, they really took him this time. It seems that just about everybody in Nelson County had selected Dust Commander... and most wagered through this "once a year" bookmaker. After the race was over, they clamored for their money. He started paying off and ran out of funds. The banks were off and he had several hundred dollars worth of travelers cheques and began paying off with them. But, that wasn't enough, so he started calling business places and friends to cash his personal checks. This particular contractor, whose name is known throughout Kentucky, could well stand the loss and has one of those high Dun and Bradstreet ratings. But, his "Derby Day clients" refused to wait until Monday for the banks to open, or to accept his check because this was the first time over a period of years they "took" him.

CAUSE FOR CONCERN. It is somewhat amazing to this author the increase in the number of people receiving food stamps. (See story on page one). If this, and other welfare programs, continue to progress, it will be virtually impossible to find anybody who will work.

ALARMING. There have been some "incidents" on the campus of Morehead State University the past month... but nothing is on the official record. It is our confirmed belief that MSU is "better off" in this respect than any University in the Commonwealth. But, there is strong reason for concern, even at Morehead.

RETIRING. Ernie Thompson has sold his interest (control) in Union Wholesale. We expect to do a feature story on Mr.

IN LAUREL FESTIVAL. Barbara Gallenstein, Maysville junior and current Homecoming Queen at Morehead State University, is representing MSU in the annual Mountain Laurel Festival in Pineville, May 28-31. Mrs. Gallenstein is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Gallenstein, 313 W. 3rd St., Maysville. The 20-year-old coed is a member of Chi Omega Sorority and hopes to become a model.

CUE PICK. Barbara Gallenstein was named by Cue magazine as "Entertainer of the Year" and became the first girl to win two Cue awards. The latest was for her outstanding contributions to all the performing arts.

Politicians: Watch Out!

MIDDELTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—Mrs. Theresa Keefe says she has a good memory for how Pennsylvania lawmakers vote when it comes to state spending.

The 25-year-old mother of four is head of a group called the Citizens' Association of Voters. It is affiliated with the state level with the Pennsylvania Association of Tax Leagues and nationally with the Voice of the People.

"Let me tell you, any legislator who promotes or votes for an income tax after the election this fall will not be forgotten when his name comes up the next time," Mrs. Keefe vowed.

"If legislators knew what our membership was their hair would stand on end," she continued.

Members of the group, now three years old, are circulating petitions calling for a halt to new taxes, coupled with "immediate spending reform."

Every smart bride delegates chores

DES PLAINES, Ill. (UPI)—If he's escorted to their seats," the next bride-to-be you meet doesn't seem to have a fully developed case of butterflies in the stomach, don't bug her.

She's perfectly normal not having a case of "nerves" as brides are supposed to have.

One survey shows that the brides increasingly farm out some of the fretsome chores. They hire professional photographers, caterers, florists and bridal consultants to work details.

There is a good reason behind this trend, reports Kermit Buntrock, chairman of the Portrait Division of the American Professional Photographers of America (PP of A).

"Speaking for one group of professionals," says Buntrock, "we save the bride and her family countless hours and dollars, trying to track down the best prices, and interviewing the various services involved with wedding arrangements."

"Photographers are used to working hand in hand with the florist and the bride consultant. They coordinate their efforts and the result is total harmony - visually and physically - for the wedding party."

One specialist in bridal photography, Joseph Matthews, of Joliet, says that "Most photographers are used to handling the emergencies that crop up at weddings. I feel it's part of my job to instruct the bride on how the guests should be used."

"A Korean airline will have a karate expert aboard on every flight to guard against hijacking." Press report. He had better pack a gun and be as quick on the draw as he is on the chep.

"What's more important than raising children?" asks Julie Eisenhower. Possibly for a decade or so, because of the threat of overpopulation, not raising children would be.

Returning crippled Apollo 12 to a successful splash-down shows man's ingenuity in getting out of tight places, many of which he shouldn't have got into in the first place.

What with the styles of the 20s featuring low waists and lack of fashies, the "Roaring Twenties" might also be appropriately referred to as the "Sagging Twenties."

An ecologist suggests that the Government pay women ages 14-44 $100 each year they don't have a baby. This would doubtless help solve the problem of overpopulation, as $100 would be an excellent return on an investment of a year's supply of "the pill."

It's a misuse of the word "sery" in describing a car, as one company is doing. Many years ago it might have been appropriate to use this word in reference to cars that had rumble seats.

Cruises now geared for bringing the kids

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An ocean cruise used to be envisioned as the setting for a honeymoon (first or second), a great spot to land a husband, a get-away-from-it-all chance to kick up your heels without the kids along.

It still is. But cruise directors are making prices and diversions for children so appealing that luxury ships now are swarming throughout the Port of Los Angeles compared to approximately 52,000 three years ago.

The word "swarming" is not exactly right because, except at meal times and around the ship pools, the youngsters are usually out of sight if not out of mind.

On a recent Easter vacation cruise of the 200-ton Mexican Costa for a week-down the California coast to Puerto Vallarta, there were 148 passengers no more than 18 years old out of the total of 601 aboard.

The "new generation" was organized the first day out. The little ones had cartoons, a handicraft and game room and a story-telling time familiar on morning television shows.

There were four teenagers who led that group into non-square activities, including a nightly discotheque with strobe lights and electric guitars that went on from after dinner until 1 a.m. The cost for a week for a child under 18 in a room with two adults was $100.

INFORMALITY

The cruises out of West Coast cities generally are more informal than the sailings from the Atlantic ports to the Caribbean and the Mediterranean although there are formal nights and chic clothes on the sun deck.

Well over 420,000 Americans went on cruises in 1969 with an estimated 125,000 passing through the Port of Los Angeles compared to approximately 52,000 three years ago.

The Princess Lines are newcomers to a field which formerly was restricted mainly to sailings to Hawaii and the Orient.

Ships now sail down the long Mexican coast with stops including Acapulco, Mazatlan, Manzanillo and the little village of Puerto Vallarta which sprang into a tourist attraction after Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor filmed "The Night of the Iguana" there.

There are longer cruises through the Panama Canal to the Caribbean islands with most passengers flying back from Florida. Summer cruises go through the Inside Passage to Alaska, stopping at Vancouver, Ketchikan, Juneau and Skagway.

The food is a blessing of a menace, depending on whether you hate to gain weight. There are seven "meals" available during 24 hours and conveniently located on the promenade deck is a Finnish sauna to take it off.

ONE MORE. Some observers, but not many, might note they had seen plenty of Florida mermaids in summer newscasters. Most can appreciate this photo of Elaine Wyrnske (probably saluting achievement of astronauts in putting a flag on the moon) as she salutes Old Glory at the bottom of Florida's Weeki Wachee springs.

Average fatal bike accident

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—A composite of the victim killed and the circumstances of an accident involving a motorcycle, according to cycle safety expert from Rocky Rockwood:

Male youth 16-20 years of age. Borrowed vehicle with no formal instruction and little experience. Not exceeding the speed limit. Happens between noon and 6 p.m. on Saturday. Victim killed when automobile makes left turn in front of him at intersection.

JUBILEE MONTH. Morehead Mayor William H. Layne is shown proclaiming May as "Diamond Jubilee Month" in Morehead to commemorate the 75th birthday of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. At left is Mrs. Billy Nail, president of the Morehead Woman's Club and at right is Mrs. R.W. Wells, president of the University Younger Woman's Club. Unable to attend were Mrs. Norman Roberts, president of the Rowan County Woman's Club, and Mrs. Adron Doran, a past president of the KFWC and a member of the group's Diamond Jubilee Committee. She is honorary president of the University club and an honorary member of the Morehead club.

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE MAYOR TO REGULATE THE CONDUCT OF PERSONS AND BUSINESSES DURING CIVIL EMERGENCY

WHEREAS, KRS 86.200 provides that the Mayor shall be head of the City Police Department and that at a time of public danger and emergency the Mayor shall take command of the police, preserve the peace, maintain order and enforce the laws, save life or property, quell riots and mobs, and to summon into service civil or military personnel; and

WHEREAS, KRS Chapter 43 defines and provides penalties for certain civil disobedience, disturbances, disorderly assemblages and practices, and for annoying to persons and property; and

WHEREAS, the Board of City Council of the City of Morehead deems it advisable for the protection of life and property and for the preservation of public peace and safety to prevent certain executive powers to the Mayor during the existence of a civil emergency;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF MOREHEAD AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Whenever there occurs within the City of Morehead, the Mayor shall have the power to proclaim the existence of a civil emergency. The proclamation shall be in writing.

Section 2. After proclamation of a civil emergency by the Mayor he may order a general curfew of the City or to the City as a whole, as he deems advisable and applicable during such hours of the day or night as he deems necessary in the interest of the public safety and welfare.

Section 3. After proclamation of a civil emergency, the Mayor may make any and all of the following orders:

a. Order the closing of all stores, clubs or premises or portions thereof wherein consumption or use of intoxicants are consumed or permitted.

b. Order the discontinuance of selling, distributing or furnishing of any flammable or combustible products in any container other than a gasoline tank properly affixed to a motor vehicle.

c. Order the closing of gasoline stations and other establishments, the chief activity of which is the sale, distribution or furnishing of liquid flammable or combustible products.

d. Order the discontinuance of selling, distributing, dispensing or furnishing of any flammable or combustible products as are a fire hazard or an ammunition.

e. Order the closing of any and all establishments or portions thereof, the chief activity of which is the sale, distribution or furnishing of any flammable or combustible products.

f. Issue such other orders as are immediately necessary for the protection of life and property.

Section 4. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public safety and welfare. It shall take effect and be in force immediately.

Section 5. Any person who violates any order or directive of a civil emergency proclamation issued by the Mayor hereunder shall, upon conviction, be fined a sum not less than $25.00 nor more than $100.00 or confined in jail for not more than 30 days or by both fine and jail sentence.

Section 6. If any portion of this Ordinance be adjudged invalid then such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions of this Ordinance.

This Ordinance was duly adopted at a special meeting of Board of City Council on the 23rd day of April, 1970.

ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING PURCHASE OF REAL ESTATE FOR INDUSTRIAL SITE USE OR OTHER MUNICIPAL PURPOSES

WHEREAS, it is deemed necessary and requisite for the orderly growth and economic development and in and to the best interest and general welfare of the City of Morehead that industries locate within and near the City and

WHEREAS, the City has been seeking and negotiating with industrial representatives relative to locating an industry, and

WHEREAS, it is deemed necessary and requisite that the City acquire suitable property to be utilized for industrial sites and/or other municipal purposes, now;

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of City Council of the City of Morehead, Kentucky, that the Mayor be and is hereby authorized and directed to purchase from C. Roger Lewis and Betty Lewis, for and on behalf of the City of Morehead, the following described real estate which is now deemed suitable for the purposes stated:

"A certain tract of land briefly described as located and lying on Kentucky Highway No. 32, approximately 4.0 miles northwest of corporate limits of City, fronting on Kentucky Highway No. 32, bounded on the north by the Commonwealth of Kentucky, used as maintenance garage for the Department of Highways; on the northeast by lands of L. G. Bishop; on the south east by the Triple Creek and on the southwest by Kentucky Highway No. 32, and containing 18.77 acres and being a part of the same lands as conveyed to C. Roger Lewis by deed from Mae Neidigh et al., dated July

1, 1969, recorded in Deed Book 89 Page 245 of Rowan County Clerk's Office."

And the Board of City Council hereby approves, directs and ratifies the purchase of said lands for the consideration of $29,491.00 and hereby authorizes and directs the Mayor to borrow said sum from Peoples Bank of Morehead on behalf of said City and upon such terms and conditions as required by said Bank and further authorized to sign and execute on behalf of the City all notes, mortgages or other instruments required to effect the loan of said sum, and to pay out such sum to seller and receive Deed of Conveyance to said lands.

Passed and adopted by Board of City Council of City of Morehead, Kentucky, this 23rd day of April, 1970.

William H. Layne Mayor

The envelope must plainly state: "Bids for Limestone Lease on 32.70 acres, EDT, June 1, 1970; and must specify that the bid is for limestone lease. The $500.00 deposit will be credited toward the first year's delay rental, and will be credited toward the annual royalties due first year. Before the issuance of a lease, the bonus payment must be made, and an acceptable surety bond in the sum of $250.00 must be supplied by the successful bidder. Operations under the lease must commence within eighteen (18) months from date of lease. Royalty will be $0.06 per short ton (2,000 lb.) of limestone. After the first year, minimum annual royalties will be $500.00. The deposits of unsuccessful bidders will be returned upon acceptance of the successful bid. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. The lease will be subject to the Equal Employment Opportunity provisions of Executive Order No. 11246, and other terms and conditions, including rehabilitation of lands. Detailed information of the terms and conditions of the lease and other information may be obtained from the District Ranger, Morehead, Kentucky, or the Forest Supervisor, U.S. Forest Service, Winchester, Kentucky. c-19

LOCKING OUT LOCKJAW Although lockjaw should be totally obsolete, tetanus takes a larger toll than measles and is "a serious health problem," according to an article in the New England Journal of Medicine.

Federal investigators headed by Dr. Francis LaForce report 535 cases and 363 deaths a recent two-year period, despite the fact that lockjaw is one of the few diseases for which there is an almost infallible preventive vaccine.

Tetanus is particularly dangerous for the elderly and the newborn. Babies usually get infected via the umbilical cord, adults from puncture wounds or scrapes or from such unexpected sources as infected tumors, burns, frostbite and dental abscesses.

The disease can be very simply prevented: four injections of the toxoid will last a lifetime. But the medical publication cautions, "according to the statistics. Too many boosters tend to induce allergic reactions.

Is it possible that romantic kissing may be on the way out?

Anthropologist Marvin K. Opler, of the State University of New York School of Medicine, considers this a real possibility although the kiss may hang on as a "relatively incidental" accompaniment to "more direct sexual behavior."

Americans and Western Europeans are incorrect, Dr. Opler maintains in assuming that kissing inevitably accompanies serious courtship. Everyone knows that Eskimos only rub noses. And, he points out, a similar version of kissing has been reported among Indian, African and Melanesian peoples. The Japanese, until recently little given to mouth-to-mouth contact, still regard kissing as "bad form."

Kissing has assumed undue importance, the anthropologist suggests, because of Victorian attitudes toward sexuality, a further attitude exaggerated by the glorious final climax of Hollywood movies and television.

However, Dr. Opler, who also trained in psychoanalysis, believes that young people, now confining sexuality more openly and directly, may be developing "the more realistic values of so-called primitive peoples."

"The kiss, both as a major symbolization of sexual interest and as a possible carrier of mononucleosis, may become a mere sexual accompaniment."

VACCINATION AGAINST PREGNANCY Two weeks after their babies are born, unwed teenagers participating in a program, directed by Dr. Helen O. Dickens are examined for their return to school - and "inoculated" against another pregnancy.

Soil Stewardship Week Now Under Observance

The week of May 3 - 10, was proclaimed Soil Stewardship Week. When you hear a reference to soil stewardship, what passes through your mind, what do you think of? Would it be soil and water, air and forest, fish and wildlife.

They are as vast as the world, but they are not limitless. They represent the purity of nature, but they are being polluted. They are the gifts of God, for your use, but they are being misused. They are foundations of your past, realities of your present, and essentials of your future. They are the excitement of the seashores, the composure of the midlands, and the spectacle of the Rockies. They have been called renewable, but the decision is yours.

How do you value a breath of clean, fresh air - the sight and taste of pure, sparkling water - or the inspiration of fertile fields and soaring forests? In Dollars? Where's your soul?

These resources are indispensable. They demand your attention and thrive on your care. They help mold your life, condition what it is and will be. Everyday they serve you, surround you, sustain you.

Consider these resources. Consider them well.

PLANNING . . . Plotting their course is members of an experimental Geography class at University Breckinridge. The course, under the supervision of Charley Jones, is non-graded using a simple pass/fail system and students do not use a text book but work on individual projects, plan field trips and study the geography of the state by exploring and using guest lecturers. Students shown planning their hike at Natural Bridge are (l-r) Tommy Brown, Aleson Lake, John Holbrook, Gary Gartin, and Mr. Jones.

Ranger's Column

By Joe Mack
U. S. Forest Service - Morehead, Ky.

The last two or three weeks the writer of this column has been on and off the District so much that he missed a column or two in some of the local papers. In fact, for a couple of weeks I was like the railroad engineer Flannagan, who made a lengthy report to his superiors when his engine got off the track and he got it back on the tracks. He made a detailed report of the time off and on, quite a detailed report of the time off and on. The train master suggested that he make his report more brief and to the point in future reports. Within a few days the train master received a report which read off again, on again, gone again, Flannagan. For the last couple of weeks I have been off again, on again, gone again. For the present, while I am on again, I will try to bring you up to date on some of the goings on here on the Morehead District of the Daniel Boone National Forest.

Our National Forest camping and picnic areas have been opened for the summer season. The Rodburn Hollow area, which has been a charge use area where the users paid a fee for the last several seasons, is open. The law covering the fee system expired the last of March.

Until legislation now in progress becomes law, the Rodburn area will not have a user fee. In other words, there will be no charges of fees at Rodburn for the present time. The picnic area at Morehead Triangle Tower and the Clear Creek Furnace camping and picnic area remains free as in the past. Invitations to bid on the construction of a sewage disposal plant and construction of a number of water transmission lines for the site area on Cave Run have gone to contractors. Bids will be opened next month on this work with contracts to be let before June 30. During the past week, Wayne Cloward, and Warren Bacon of the regional office in Atlanta, Bill Newkirk and Ray Housey of the Chief's office in Washington, along with Forest Supervisor R.F. Collins of Winchester and his recreation staff assistant Dave Rosenthal, were on the District to go over development of recreation facilities on Cave Run area.

Last weekend, the Morehead District of the Daniel Boone National Forest, was host to the members of Kentucky Long Rifle Association. Most of the group camped over the weekend at Clear Creek campground. While there, they participated in rifle matches at the Clear Creek firing range and some wild turkey hunting.

According to information available, the modern day Daniel Boones killed about three turkeys. I might also remind you that Croney Creek was stocked with trout again last week. Several reports of good catches by local fishermen have been coming in. Speaking of fish and wildlife activities, last week, Robert Gossel, who is assistant Regional Forester in charge of wildlife management activities for the 14 southeastern states, was on the District to observe first hand the techniques being employed by District personnel to increase fish and wildlife population by improving their habitat.

Illness Covering 6 Years Fatal To Jeff Brown

Jeff Brown, 78, passed away at his Morehead Route 4 residence Friday. He had been ill for about six years.

He was born July 25, 1891 in Rowan County the son of Bud and Phyllis Brown. He married Laura Swiney, Aug. 11, 1911.

Besides his wife he is survived by two sons Hollie Brown, Shelby, Ohio, and Opal Brown, Morehead; five daughters - Mrs. Denton Gregory and Mrs. Verna Gregory both of Morehead, Mrs. Denzil Foster, Morehead, Mrs. Cecil Gregory, Morehead and Mrs. James Law, Fire Creek, Ky.

Also surviving are 38 grandchildren and 70 great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted Monday at 10 a.m. at his home by Rev. R. A. Reynolds. Burial was in the Clearfield cemetery.

He was a member of the Church of God. Grandsons served as casket bearers. Lane Funeral Home cared for arrangements.

Morehead Horse Show Offering Special Class

By Arvie Caudill

An extra class has been added to the Morehead State University Annual Horse Show, which is being held Sunday, May 10, 1970 at the University Farm. This class was not listed on the Morehead State University Horse Show Programs. The extra class is for riders of the Caudill and Skaggs Horseback Riding Trail. Any person, from any place, and any age can ride any type of animal in this class. Riding for this class will begin at 12:45.

There is no charge for entering this class and no prizes will be awarded. All riders of the Caudill and Skaggs Horseback Riding Trail are urged to come and ride in this class.

The Caudill and Skaggs Horseback Riding Trail is a public trail, and there is no charge for riding on it. Any one of any age, from any place may ride any kind of animal on this trail. It is also used for hiking. The trail extends from Highway 173 near the A.L. Wilson farm to Highway 519 near the Harlan Perry residence. The trail follows old abandoned county roads and passes through one of the most beautiful sections of the Daniel Boone National Forest.

All people who have ridden on this trail are invited to come and ride in this special class at the Morehead State University Horse Show.

Ceremony Planned By The Oldest MSU Sorority

Alpha Sigma Rho, the oldest local sorority on campus, is being installed this weekend as Delta Omicron Chapter of Delta Gamma national sorority.

The formal installation banquet is set for 5:30 p.m. Saturday in the Adron Doran University Center.

Mrs. Adron Doran, wife of the MSU president, was instrumental in forming Alpha Sigma Rho, also known as Capa Tridents, as the university's first social sorority.

Delta Gamma is one of the oldest national sororities and celebrates its 100th birthday next year. The Columbus, Ohio-based sorority was a charter member of the National Panhellenic Council.

Local advisors and patronesses of the new national sorority chapter at MSU are Mrs. Bill Mahoney, Mrs. James Gotsick, Mrs. John Stetler, Mrs. Paul Blair, Miss Jean Wiggins, Mrs. James Chaplin, Mrs. Glen Buckner, Mrs. Paul Ousley and Mrs. John Phuley.

Debbie Williams, MSU sophomore and daughter of Mrs. Agnes Williams of Morehead, will be initiated as a charter member of Delta Omicron Chapter.

OFFICERS . . . Recently elected officers of the Morehead Business and Professional Women's Club for the 1970-71 club year, from left are: Mrs. Clara Conn, treasurer; Mrs. June Jamison, recording secretary; Mrs. Martha Auxier, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Helen Lewis, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Ovada Messer, 1st vice president; and Miss Barbara White, president.

Roy R. Duncan, 68, Claimed At Cleveland, O.

Roy R. Duncan, 68, Olive Hill, Ky. passed away Saturday in Cleveland, Ohio.

He was born Aug. 30, 1901 in Carter County the son of J. R. and Cora (Erwin) Duncan.

He is survived by his wife and by his father.

He is also survived by five sisters - Mrs. Ollie Rogers, Mrs. Ruby Mabry, and Mrs. Blanche Mabry all of Olive Hill and Mrs. Yorkie Ison, Ashland, Ky.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Garvin Ridge Pilgrim Holiness Church followed by burial in the J. O. U. A. M. Cemetery in Olive Hill. The Reverends John Maggard, Walter Duncan and Dennis Sammons officiated.

He was a member of the Olive Hill Masonic Lodge and a former draft board clerk.

A businessman and farmer he resided in Olive Hill.

Members of the Olive Hill Masonic Lodge served as casket bearers.

Stucky Funeral Home cared for arrangements.

15, 16 Year Old Youths Are The Major Car Thieves

Motor vehicles belonging to others appear mostly irresistible to 15 and 16 year olds in Kentucky, according to 1969 auto-theft figures compiled by Kentucky State Police.

Col. Charles B. Crutchfield, director of State Police said these two age groups come just before and just after one is eligible at 16 to obtain a driver's license.

It may be the 15 year old can't wait until he is 16 and gets a driver's license, and it may be the 16 year old with a license can't wait until he gets a car, he said.

Crutchfield said stolen cars accounted for nearly half the $4.2 million in property losses reported to State police in Kentucky in 1969. More than half the passengers arrested for auto thefts during 1969 - 318 - were 15 or 16. Equal number - 319 - came from each age group.

Of the 500 persons arrested during the year, 16 were girls. Three of these were 15, six were 16, three were 17, two were 18 and two were 19.

A scientist says the Apollo 13 flight was an "extremely successful failure." Yes, indeed it was - cynicismally speaking!

This is Oldsmobile's year at Indy.

Isn't it your year for an Olds?

The knowing folks at Indy just named Olds 4-4-2 official race car for this year's 500. For good reason. Olds is not only an excellent performer, it's a winner in looks and ride as well.

The fact is, every 1970 Olds is a performer. And it goes far deeper than performance.

You find it in great engineering in exceptional comfort in ride and handling that are outstanding. And in the solid quality and dependability you've come to expect from Oldsmobile.

In fact, it's this quality that leads many people to believe that Olds is priced out of their reach. A mistaken notion that might keep you in an ordinary car instead of an Olds.

The truth of the matter is that many Olds models are priced right down with the low-price names. Now that you have the facts, isn't this your year to go Oldsmobile? You can probably do so for no more than what you've been paying. See what Olds is priced out of.

Escape from the ordinary.

Gives Diet, Heart Theory

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—Manipulating the traditional American diet as a means of avoiding heart disease could deteriorate the body's resistance to other deadly ailments, warns Dr. David Kritchevsky of Philadelphia's Wistar Institute of Anatomy and Biology.

If you come from a coronary prone family it's only prudent to take precautions in diet and otherwise, he said, but noted that no causal relationship between diet, cholesterol and heart disease has been established. Kritchevsky said that if cholesterol were a foreign substance positively known to contribute to heart disease, the solution would be simple: eliminate the foreign substance, but he stressed, cholesterol is an essential part of the body.

Referring to the many low-cholesterol diets that are popular today, Kritchevsky said, "If you follow everything they say, you'll die of malnutrition with perfect arteries."

British police problem solved

POOLE, England (UPI)—Local police have won their fight on an appeal to the Police Federation, to brew their own tea instead of using a tea machine.

Family police boxes

TOKYO (UPI)—There are 1,290 police boxes in Tokyo, a city of 11.4 million residents. About 250 police boxes are manned by one officer whose family lives in the box. The wife is expected to answer questions from neighbors when her husband is off duty.

Morehead Receives Another Adult Education Grant

Morehead State University's Appalachian Adult Basic Education Demonstration Center has received a second federal grant to conduct a teacher-training workshop. The $52,000 allocation will be used to train 32 teachers from the 13 Appalachian states in the fundamentals of teaching reading to adults.

Morehead State received $78,000 last year from the Office of Education to conduct a summer workshop for adult basic education teachers.

The reading workshop, scheduled June 15-July 3, was developed because adult basic education teachers in Appalachia don't have sufficient training in reading.

It is designed to develop four-man training teams from each of the participating states. Such reading teams would then go back to their home states to conduct reading clinics for adult basic education teachers.

Workshop Director Ann Hayes said the three-phase session would be divided into three phases.

Husain Qazilbash, assistant professor of education at MSU, recently completed an exhaustive study on dialect throughout the Appalachian region. Data compiled in his study will be used to provide the teacher-trainees with insight in the unique speech patterns they encounter.

The workshop sponsor, the Appalachian Adult Basic Education Demonstration Center, located since 1967 on the MSU campus, was created to improve adult basic education in Appalachia.

Besides summer workshops, the AABEDC also operates 14 demonstration projects in 11 Appalachian states.

Winter Damage To Kentucky Roads Extra Heavy

State Highway Commissioner Eugene Goss believes damage to state roads by last winter's severe weather was "the worst in recorded history."

This was the reason, he said, the highway department was forced to raise its budget for primary-road resurfacing this summer to $4,176,000 from an estimated $2.2 million.

Another record, of a different kind, was also set when the highway department opened bids April 24 for a one-day total of about $33.5 million in road projects.

The previous record high in openings on a single day, Goss said, was $22 million on Feb. 16, 1968.

Be Sure You Were Counted In The Census

Were you counted in Census '70?

With the 1970 Census of Population and Housing virtually completed locally, the District Manager at Ashland announced the beginning of a "Were You Counted?" campaign to insure that no resident of the area has been overlooked.

If you think you or your family might have been missed, you are urged to notify the census district office by means of a "Were You Counted?" form. Area newspapers are printing these forms in their current editions as a public service. Prompt mailing of the "Were You Counted?" forms will speed up the compilation of preliminary population figures for the area.

Preliminary figures giving the total population of incorporated places of 10,000 or more population, and for counties, will be issued as soon as the District Manager is convinced that a complete count has been made. Final, detailed population figures will be issued from Washington later this year after returns have been tabulated by the Census Bureau's electronic computers.

The importance of a complete count was stressed by the District Manager. He pointed out that the population figures compiled in the current census must stand as official until the next Federal census.

"Representation in the U.S. Congress and the State Legislature is determined by the population count as ascertained in the census. Federal funds are allotted to States and State funds, in turn, are allotted to counties and municipalities on a per capita basis. So a short count means under representation in the Federal and State law-making bodies and under allotment in government funds. Thus, it is imperative that we have a complete count. The help of every resident of the area is needed to reach this goal," he said.

In Rowan County Alone ...

$563,000 For Fags

What has been the effect of the anti-smoking campaign on cigarette smoking in Rowan County? How much are local people smoking these days compared with those in other areas?

Judging from the latest regional figures on cigarette sales, a growing number of local residents have cut down on their consumption. Many have given up the habit completely. Sales are falling from cigarette vending machines at Morehead State University.

Organizations and individuals who are active in the crusade against smoking believe that this decline, now in its third year in most sections of the country, is the real thing.

This is seen in nationwide surveys made by the Department of Agriculture, the Tobacco Tax Council and others on the rate of consumption in the past year. In Rowan County, according to a breakdown of these figures, an estimated 1,900,000 packs of cigarettes were smoked in the year.

Related to the local population over age 18, this was equivalent to 234 packs per person.

In some parts of the country, the rate of consumption was considerably greater than this, and in other areas, smaller.

The national average, among persons over 18, was 207 packs. In the East South Central States it was 174 packs.

According to a recent estimate by the National Center for Health Statistics, about 1,400,000 Americans gave up cigarette smoking in a period of one year.

It feels, as a result, that the situation is quite different than it was in 1964, when cigarette sales dropped for the first time in many years following the surgeon general's report linking smoking with lung cancer and heart disease.

That drop was short-lived, however. Within a few months people were puffing away at their usual rate and sales were back to normal.

More recently, the public has been taking to heart the warnings from health officials and has been making a serious effort to cut down on its consumption.

As to the cost of smoking, approximately $9.7 billion was spent for cigarettes in the United States in the year.

Rowan County's share of the bill was $563,000, or about $66 per smoker.

UNION RE-NEGOTIATIONS

Major collective bargaining agreements covering about 5 million workers are subject to renegotiation in 1970. This is an increase of two-thirds over the number of workers involved in contract expirations in 1969.

Prize Money In Morehead Horse Show $1,500

Almost $1,500 in prize money will be awarded Sunday, May 10, in the fifth annual MSU Agriculture Club Horse Show.

More than 300 horses and exhibitors are expected for the 1 p.m. show at the Morehead State University Experimental Farm on Ky. 377, three miles north of I-64. Trophies, ribbons and cash prizes are set for winners in each of 14 classes.

Professional judges will consider both walking and gaited horses. Roger L. Wilson, MSU's Vice President for Student Affairs, is ringmaster and Jimmy Richardson of Owingsville is PA announcer.

The show's rain date is May 17. Admission is one dollar. Proceeds are used to finance agriculture scholarships at Morehead State.

For additional information, contact Robert Wolfe, assistant professor of agriculture, at Morehead State University, Morehead, Ky. 40351.

Sumatrans leave home by droves

By ISA ISMAIL

PADANG, Indonesia (UPI)—
More Sumatran people live on other islands than live in the capital of Sumatra.

"We are geographically all pledged," Governor Harun, Zein of West Sumatra said. "We are facing the wrong direction.
While cities in eastern Sumatra lie along the commercial route, we are facing toward the Arab countries."

Sumatra is the westernmost island in the Indonesian archipelago strung along the equator.
Padang, capital of Governor Zein's West Sumatra, is situated on Sumatra's west coast facing the Indian Ocean and Africa.
Eastern Sumatra lies on the trade routes which connect the better developed Indonesian islands and the Southeast Asian mainland.

Because of their geographic isolation, thousands of West Sumatrans are migrating to the more prosperous islands of Java, where Jakarta the capital is located, and to Kalimantan (Borneo) and Sulawesi (Celebes).
An estimated 400,000 West Sumatrans live in Jakarta. But the population of Padang, seat of the West Sumatran government, is only 100,000 people.

Tide weakens

Migrations out of Sumatra are weakening the Minangkabau tribe and eroding its patriarchal customs. Under the old rules, the Minangkabau passed their inheritance on the mother's side.
A son was reared and educated by his mother's brother and fathers were allowed little say in family affairs.

But during the past 20 years, hundreds of young people from the Minangkabau tribe have left their ancestral homes for better islands, and tribal patterns and families are decaying.

Children who complete primary and secondary school look east to crowded, populous Java for better job opportunities.
Parents with the money send their sons to Java for advanced study, then the girls follow looking for husbands.

In the days when the Dutch ran the Indonesian islands, about 30 large rubber, tea, coffee, quinine and coconut plantations were located in West Sumatra and earned millions of dollars in export sales. Now the plantations are deserted and overgrown with jungle.

West Sumatrans who earn their fortunes on other islands are reluctant to return home, in part because of bad transportation.

Landladies have destroyed more than 800 bridges and washed out thousands of roads.

JOINT EFFORT FOR ELDERLY

Morehead Mayor William Layne (seated) signs a proclamation for Morehead's participation in Senior Citizens Month.
Looking on, from left, are Harry Hitch, director of MSU's Institute on the Aging;
Mrs. Ellie Holloway of the Daniel Boone

Convalescent Center; and Miss Bonnie Seale, Mr. Hitch's secretary. The Institute, the Convalescent Center and another agency have launched a handicrafts project for the elderly of Rowan County.

Morehead To Host Tournament

University Breckinridge School and Morehead State University will host the 1970 61st District Baseball Tournament, May 7-8.
Ted Sanford, Kentucky High School Athletic Association Commissioner, announced that Dennis Dennis will serve as tournament manager and all games will be played on the University's baseball complex. Dennis is athletic director and coach at University Breckinridge.

On Thursday, May 7, three games will be played with the opening game winners between Olive Hill and Rowan County seeing action later that same day. Rowan County is considered the tournament favorite.

Grayson is picked to advance to the finals from the lower bracket.

The pairings

First round - Olive Hill vs. Rowan County High, Thursday, 10 a.m.; Hitches, Grayson and University Breckinridge drew first round byes.

Semi-finals - winner Olive Hill-RCHS vs.
Hitches, Thursday, 3 p.m.; Grayson vs.
Breck 12:30 p.m.

The finals will be Friday afternoon.

PREVALENCE OF HEART DISEASE AND HYPERTENSION IN ADULTS

YOUR HEART FUND DOLLARS fight heart and circulatory diseases which afflict an blood pressure) or the heart disease it causes.

"You're getting too old to run around

The average mother, we've been told, walks more than 8 miles every day. Why not give her feet a break this Mother's Day: make sure she's got a phone within answering distance.
An extension (in the kitchen or bedroom or laundry room) costs just a few cents a day.
There's no faster relief for aching feet.

The Busy, Busy Bee

Long ago in a philippic against idleness, the famous 17th-century English hymn writer, Isaac Watts, asked the question:
"How doth the little busy bee improve each shining hour?"

Well, right now she is working overtime
"doing her thing" for farmers, gardeners and the plant world in general. And a good thing too. Without bees, especially the busy honeybee, many flowers, farm crops, and orchards would fail in production, and some valuable plants might even disappear from the face of the earth. For, according to Extension Specialist in Horticulture, Robert L. Shepherd, at least 50 cultivated plants normally grown on farms and gardens require insect pollination to survive. These crops include watermelons, apples, forcibly, cucumbers, alfalfa, and sweet clover.

Wild bees help out in this pollination chore, of course, but the honeybee is of most importance to the farmer. An energetic collector of nectar, it will visit hundreds of flowers a day, pollinating each one as it visits.

A great benefactor of mankind, the honeybee (Apis mellifera) is also a creature of tremendous interest. An aerodynamic marvel, it can lift a payload weighing almost as much as itself, and its body is a tiny laboratory that converts flower nectar into a delicious, wholesome food.

In the case of the honeybee, it is the sterile female that does all the work for the hive and for the farmer. After a harsh apprenticeship as a housemaid, nurse, guard, and builder, she is then given foraging assignments to provide food for the burgeoning colony.

In contrast, the fertile male drone lives a life of luxury. Fed and pampered by his hard-working sister, he ventures from the hive only on sunny days to laze around the entrance and to take a practice flight or two.
The drone acquires strength and flying skill, he may soar far above the trees, hoping to find a queen on her mating flight. If unsuccessful, he returns to the hive to eat and rest until the next day.

But woe betide the lazy, luckless drone after the queen has mated. From then on, he is no longer a pampered pet. Nipped, abused, and starved by his former nursemaids, he either hauled through the door of the hive and slain without mercy or forced to leave the colony where he is either snapped up by a bird or succumbs to starvation.

Beekeepers say that worker bees normally make about a fifth of the cells in a hive large enough for drones. Used as storage bins in winter, these cells are emptied and cleaned in spring. The queen gradually fills them with unfertilized drone eggs and the life-death cycle starts all over again.

Another strange thing about bee life is that the difference between a queen bee and an ordinary bee is largely a matter of diet. For the first two or three days, all newly hatched larvae are fed royal jelly—a sour-sweet nutrient administered by nurse bees. After three days on this diet, commoners are switched to a honey and pollen formula. The queen, however, dines on the royal fare for the rest of her life.

A concerted effort is being made to encourage more beekeeping in Kentucky.
Indeed, the state could use more bees. It needs them for more honey and a greater crop production. Bees are wonderful creatures because as another fine poet, George Herbert, wrote:

"Bees work for man, and yet they never bruise. Their Master's flower, but leave it having done. As fair as ever and as fit to use;
So both the flower doth stay and honey run."

Social Security

By: Thomas B. Thompson - Ashland
District Mgr. For Social Security information, write: District Social Security Office, 1116 Carter Avenue
Ashland, Ky. 40005, 325-7666.

Your social security office is as close as your telephone. In Ashland the telephone number is 325-7666.

Thus Thomas B. Thompson, social security district manager in Ashland, described the latest technique developed by his office to provide more convenient service to residents of the Ashland district.

"We are now equipped to handle most social security 'business' by telephone," Thompson explained. "We can help fill out your application for benefits in many instances over the phone and then mail the form to you for signature; we can accept change of address information from beneficiaries; and of course, we can answer specific questions about the social security program, including Medicare, over the telephone."

Thompson suggested that people who have business with the social security office take advantage of this telephone service. "Call first," he urged. "It may save you a trip to the office."

GOOD AND EVIL

Today, it is not easy always to be a proper Christian. Much that is popular, that is accepted and tolerated, is contrary to the teachings of Christianity. This does not mean, perhaps, that a Christian must be a crusader, must take up a sign and walk in the streets. But the proper Christian will reject actions and ideas which are wrong and which offend God.

The true Christian should stand up for "right" and not, by silence, give support to something which is "wrong." Evil may not be destroyed, yet growth will be severely hindered if men of good will offer undified resistance.

The problems which beset the world today are not new. They have been around for a long time. Christianity has had to contend with them for centuries. If Christianity is to deal with them effectively, there must be a strengthening of unity for good. It must begin within our individual hearts, in our community, between neighbors. It must reach out and establish a stronger brotherhood between men of all races and creeds.

COMMISSIONER MILLER

on Kentucky
Agriculture

By J. Miller (Bob) Miller

Farmers and property owners wanting to paint their homes or other buildings should be careful as to who they get to do the job.

Spring and early summer bring an influx of traveling operators offering fast service and bargain rates. Too often their paint jobs last only until the first hard rain.

After June 18, custom paint sprayers will be regulated through a licensing act administered by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture. While the holding of a license will be no guarantee of quality work, the property owner will have more of a record if he needs to seek recourse for poor workmanship.

To issue words of caution in regard to custom paint spray operators is not to say that there are no legitimate operators available. Most every city or community will have operators who will do a good job and will offer references.

The licensing act was designed to protect these sincere and reputable operators as well as the customers. A farmer or property owner wanting buildings painted should first of all seek the services of a reputable operator. If a farmer or home owner is approached by a custom operator, they should ask for references and proof of responsibility in the event the job later proves unsatisfactory.

In other words, there are enough reputable operators around without someone being taken in by a "fly-by-nighter" who does a poor job and then moves on to his next poor job. When this happens, not only does the owner lose his money, but he loses dollars that could have gone to a local operator who pays taxes to support his local schools and government.

While spring is the season of the itinerant custom painters, similar caution is to be used when a home owner is approached by an itinerant termite control operator. Here again, there are legitimate, licensed operators who will give references. If the home owner does not know the operator personally, he should investigate before signing a contract or entering into an agreement for a control job.

In this time of high living costs, consumers want to make their dollars go just as far as they will. One way to do this is to always deal with individuals or firms having established reputations for quality service.

Canoe Race Plans Set

By Helen Price Stacy

Spring green is that brilliant chartreuse that is a perfect complement to darker green of pine woods and a blue sky with scudding white clouds.

The several thousand people who lined the banks of Red River in Powell County Sunday for the fourth annual Red River Canoe Race not only had an exciting 37-team race to watch along the 20-mile course, but a countryside beautiful with green fields edging the river, patches of wildflowers and meadows bright yellow with wild mustard, hills and valleys bathed with redbud and dogwood in full bloom.

When timekeepers for the race at their station on the river bank at Lions Club Park near Stanton clocked the last canoe coming down Red River, they found that boating skill plus high water from recent rains broke last year's record run by some 45 minutes. Winning the 1970 championship trophy was the team of Dave Landewitch and Roland Muhlen of Cincinnati who made the race from Nada Bridge to the Stanton park in 17:43.

The canoe race is one of many events held each year in this section of the Commonwealth to show off beauty of Eastern Kentucky to thousands of tourists. Mountain Parkway provides quick and easy access to Natural Bridge State Park, Hidden Valley Resort and other privately owned accommodations for travelers who wish to enjoy the canoe race, Red River Gorge, Daniel Boone National Forest, Red River Historical Museum at Clay City and other places and activities in Powell, Wolfe and Menifee Counties and nearby counties.

What started out as a one-day race down the historic river that once was sacred by tribes of Shawnees who frequented the area, has turned into a four-day gala. On Thursday night preceding Sunday's race, lovely Karen McCarty, 18, of Mt. Sterling was crowned queen of the race and pretty Josie Elkins, 17, of Stanton was adjudged first runnerup.

On Friday canoeists began gathering at Koomer Ridge camping area near Pine Ridge in Daniel Boone National Forest for briefing on Saturday's scouting and sight-seeing canoe trip down the rapids of Red River-through the rugged Roughs of the Red-a stretch of the river not included in the Sunday race. Taylor Booth of Campton was chairman for the trip through the Roughs, assisted by others of his committee.

The same Koomer Ridge camp area was location for Saturday night's briefing of team registering for racing competition. Both Saturday and Sunday's river trips are not without thrills and spills and the Koomer Ridge briefings are necessary even for experienced canoeists.

Grand finale for the weekend was a fish fry at Lions Club Park where a few thousand people had gathered Sunday to enjoy the food, watch the finish of the race and view the presentation of handsome wood and brass trophies to first, second and third place winners in five classes and a handsome defenders trophy to grand champions.

Other winners included Tim and Iva

Rapid recovery electric water heating means full time hot water service for shower after shower, wash after wash. It's hot for Dad's shave. It's hot for Mom's shampoo. Flameless! Safe, too—no fire, pilot, vent or long pipe runs needed. An electric water heater installs most anywhere. See your dealer and go modern the flameless carefree way—electrically.

Up to $35 on your wiring bill if you buy an electric water heater now! If you change from 2-wire to 3-wire 100-ampere service and install an electric water heater any time in 1970, we'll pay $35 on your wiring bill. Until June 30, if you have 2-wire service and install an electric water heater, we'll pay $15 toward additional wiring needed. See your KU or ODP manager for eligibility.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES COMPANY

Six rate reductions since 1962

The Morehead News has, for the past two years, printed editorials about the impact that the Interstate Highway would have on this community. Representatives of this newspaper held several conferences with former Highway Commissioner Henry Ward, and his Executive Assistant, Billy Joe Hall, which resulted in the Interstate 2.6 mile connector for four lanes... one of the very few four lane connectors of the entire interstate system in Kentucky. Among other editorial observations it was stressed that Morehead should provide attractions that would attract tourists "off the interstate" into our city. In many editorials and news copy the advantage of west bound traffic to Cave Run reservoir being routed through West Morehead (at Ky. 32) has been recited.

The following story in Monday's issue of the Louisville Courier-Journal, authored by Kyle Vance is re-printed here as the theme is, in part, the same as much of the material that has previously been printed in this newspaper.

LONDON, Ky.—The "Carnival Strip" down U.S. 25—with its Indiana snakes, bears, rides and the gaudiest bedcovers in all creation—is no more.

The tourist season is here, and the connoisseurs now know that the tourist patrons aren't about to leave the new, high-speed I-75, the villain that put them out of business.

Renfro Valley, home of the nationally famous barn dance and Sunday morning gathering, is a prospering survivor, but from there south, through Mount Vernon, Lexington, Dog Patch and down to London, of 25 is a "ghost road."

Cafes, service stations, motels and the roadside structures are closed. Some are boarded up. A permanent-type wire fence encircles Dog Patch. Pumps have been removed from the service stations.

And where once the traffic moved bumper to bumper at times, U.S. 25 now offers a care-free ride—no slow poles to follow and no heavy trucks to trail to the passing lanes.

Few of the operators are around to beam their fate, except that Alan Disney, Corbin service-station operator, speaks with authority for all.

Disney said his fate, and that of other operators, is not with the progress "driven" by a modern highway. He is "frankly red," he said, over what he terms "the Lady Bird Johnson Law."

Gas Pumps Pumping Less

This is the one that bans poster advertising within 600 feet of an interstate highway. It was enacted with encouragement from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, wife of the former president.

With advertising privileges, Disney believes, the business people might have averted disaster.

"The tourist has no way of knowing the services available off of the interstate," he said. "The little man can't afford $1,000 for one of the big signs you see way back from the highway."

Disney said his own station, although in a busy business area and situated one mile from an I-75 interchange, lost 70 percent of its business when the interstate route opened.

"We were pumping 40,000 to 50,000 gallons of gasoline a month, and it went down to 10,000 gallons in a hurry," he said.

Alpha Smith, co-operator of the Renfro Valley complex, said his business has improved substantially, especially on weekends, since the interstate was opened.

"Of course, we have our name and reputation to go on, and the coast-to-coast advertising we get from the Renfro Valley radio broadcasts," he said.

Indiana Valley Closed

"It helps, too, that we are sitting close to an interchange," he said. "It's easier now to get to us for those people who drive down from Detroit, and Indiana, and Canada, and so forth, just to visit with us and see the show."

Two miles down U.S. 25, just beyond Mount Vernon, Mrs. Mary Hasty has decided to "give it a try" this summer with her roadside shop featuring the brightly colored breads, throw-rugs, drapery, yard ornaments and such.

In the past, much about the highway, showing their wares mostly on clothes lines. For 40 miles south of Mrs. Hasty, all the way to Corbin, no others were operating on a recent day.

Closed, too, was the Fort Sequoyah Indiana Village, with its teepees and live Cherokee Indians in tribal garb. Some items remained inside the locked gift shop, but no one was around to say whether the place will open later.

Laurel Lodge, one of the nicer motels along the strip, was closed but had a sign in a window indicating it would reopen July 1, after a nearby interchange is completed.

Dog Patch was the big show of the strip. It had the wild animal zoo, the snake pits, the merry-go-round, the bargain barn and the cafe. Now the wire fence surrounds the closed complex.

Canyon Park's restaurant and gift store were closed with no indication of any planned reopening.

Traffic through once-clogged London remains unclogged, and there is a semblance of normalcy down U.S. 25 to Corbin.

Near the first Corbin interchange, the original home of Col. Harland Sanders and his Kentucky Fried Chicken, was doing a brisk business during the lunch hour.

"Quite a few people from Canada, Michigan, Ohio and around drop off (of $5) to eat, with us," manager Jack Cover said. "I'd have to say that our business is somewhat better."

How to avoid duplication of wedding gifts

NEW YORK (UPI) — The jeweler's bride registry is the straightforward way a bride can make known her preferences in silver, china and crystal.

She puts down her choices and friends and relatives to go the registry to get ideas about gifts for the newlyweds.

Some ideas:

—Silver holloware. For the table there are trays, color lined bowls and covered dishes, goblets, bread and butter plates, salt and pepper shakers, butter tins, candlesticks, crystal salad bowl with sterling trim, trivets, water pitcher.

For hosting there are chip 'n' dip server, three-tier buffet server, nut dishes, bon bon dishes, cocktail trays, glasses with sterling trim, compotes, and silver coffee or tea service. Silver also can shine through the new house as picture frames of various sizes, as dresser accessories, pearl weight, a silver trimmed mirror that can be hung on the wall or used as centerpiece.

—China and crystal. Besides the china and crystal pieces the bride wants in her chosen patterns, there are gift possibilities in china figurines, crystal vases, china serving pieces, crystal centerpieces, decorative china boxes and a charming, crystal candlelight cocktail set for two.

—Clocks. These range from chiming grandfather clocks to brass boudoir clocks with everything in between. The everything included's battery-powered desk clocks, decor-matching area clocks, a brass boudoir clock with twin picture frames, a clock-barometer-thermometer combo.

—Dreamy gifts. For pure romance, there are butane candles that look like wax and have their own candlesticks, that stand alone as towering wooden centerpieces, or as an indoor-outdoor decorative light that provides the necessary lamp for any setting.

The U.S. National Health Survey estimates that 22.2 million Americans are partially or totally disabled.

GOING AND GROWING

Bluegrass meets Appalachia in the foothills of the Daniel Boone National Forest.

Dr. Adron Doran, who has guided the school's growth from a state college to an outstanding, ever-expanding university, is the seventh president of the University. He has served since 1951.

The University is composed of five Schools—Applied Sciences and Technology, Education, Humanities, Sciences and Mathematics and Social Sciences.

Undergraduate, graduate and two-year associate degrees are offered. Additional credit may be earned beyond the master's degree.

There are more than 50 major structures on the campus with a total value of more than $55 million. Recently completed were a 19-story, 512-bed residence tower for men and a 10-story, 400-bed residence hall for women, which has been named Beula C. Nunn Hall in honor of the wife of Gov. Louis B. Nunn.

A $2.8 million renovation and expansion of the Adron Doran University Center, formerly the Doran Student House, was completed last fall.

New underway is a $18 million expansion and modernization of Rader Hall, home of the School of Social Sciences. The project will be completed late this year.

All athletes on scholarship at Morehead State may live in the 132-man Dinning Hall, located on the hillside north of Rowan Sports Center. It was completed in 1967 at a cost of $425,000. There are 33 air-conditioned suites, housing four men each. The building was named in honor of George Downing, the university's first coach and athletic director.

More than 6,500 students attend the University and numerous extension programs are available. More than 10,000 persons are alumni of Morehead and the University has in excess of 350 faculty members.

Morehead State University is a member in good standing of the Ohio Valley Conference and the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

OUTLOOK

*FROM THE CELLAR

"When you're in the cellar, there is no place to go but up and that's where we're heading." Morehead State University Track Coach Fred Newcomb is optimistic about his first Eagle year despite the fact he has only seven lettermen returning and just one of them is older than a sophomore.

The MSU third-lad finished in a tie with Austin Peay at the bottom of the Ohio Valley Conference last spring and the hoop's coaches have forecast another cellar deadlock between the same two squads this season.

"We may surprise someone before the conference meet in May," Newcomb said. The former MSU assistant, who turned in a winner in his first cross country effort last fall, is starting to rebuild and his roster reflects the youth movement. Nine of the 17 squad members are freshmen and seven others are sophomores.

The Eagles' lack of depth, especially in sprints, was aggravated by the loss of three promising freshmen before practice started this year. A standout in field events, freshman Steve

THE CHAMPS REBUILD

If MSU Baseball Coach Sonny Allen had hitters to match his pitchers, he wouldn't be worried about the 1970 season.

The Eagles are defending Ohio Valley Conference champions and have been picked by OVC coaches to repeat as Eastern Division winners.

Last year's squad finished 22-6 and swept the conference playoffs from Western Kentucky with a combination of clutch pitching and fence-busting hitting. Allen likes to talk of returning hurlers but the hitting department causes a frown.

Five proven left-handers are the pride of the pitching staff. They had a combined record of 12-2 last spring. Junior John Lyson was the squad's top hurler with a 5-1 mark. Also returning is sophomore Mike Hasselbach (3-0), junior Dave Stultz (2-0), junior Dan Dennis (1-0) and sophomore Tom Miller (1-1). Freshman Butch Dunaway is expected to help in relief.

All new faces comprise the right-handed picture with fireballing freshman Glen McDaniell as the top prospect. Other "righties" are freshman Mike Gresham, Fred Fiebigler and Jerry Weir. Gone are last season's top right-handers, AIOVC Jim Martin (5-2) and Dave Churchman (4-0).

Batterymates for the Eagle hurlers include freshmen Bob Richards and John Marsilio. Highly-regarded transfer Gary Cress is getting a shot at third base but he may wind up behind the plate as Allen seeks a replacement for AIOVC Steve Dunker.

The infield has only one regular back—first baseman Reese Stephenson— but he's professional caliber, according to Allen, who has seen a dozen of his MSU players sign pro contracts in seven years of baseball coaching.

However, Stephenson's misdeed junior who hit .382 and drove in 15 runs last year, has been troubled by back trouble and may not be at full strength until late in the campaign.

Junior Sam Daugherty saw part-time duty at shortstop last year but is the front runner this spring. Freshman Bobby Isom, a two-time All-Star at Ashland Paul Blazer, also has been impressive. Junior Bruce Gentry, the nation's most successful base thief last year, will open at second base. He should last year for AIOVC Al Frazier, now an assistant coach. Cress and freshman Bill Fensie are after the third base spot vacated by AIOVC Mike Panko who is now in the Yankee system.

The outfield is the squad's biggest uncertainty. Missing are last season's OVC "Player of the Year" Eddie Wallingford and slugger John Keiffner, who drove home 27 runs.

Centerfielder Wallingford, who hit .462 last spring, would have been a junior this year but was killed in a hunting accident during the summer.

Allen hopes to fashion a new outfield from returnees Tim Duxson and Steve Gerrard and freshmen Val Falcione, Mark Dille and Danny Hall. Falcione and Hall have slugging potential.

The 1970 baseball Eagles shape up as a young team with only one longtime regular—Stephenson—returning from the championship squad.

Coach Allen figures to use several different lineups before finding the right combination in time for the conference games which start in mid-April.

"Reese Stephenson is our most serious question mark," Allen said a week before the season opened. "His back problem could hold the key to our season."

Allen, a former professional baseballer, was happy with the team's attitude and hustle in pre-season practice.

"They should be a very interesting team to watch," he said with a crafty smile.

Gerhardt, is being held out of action for a knee operation to get ready for football.

Newcomb expects to make his strongest showings in middle and long distances, hurdles, high jump and triple jump. Key returnees are high jumper Dave Newk, miler Dan Price, hurdler Jim Hayes and long jumper Terry Beckham.

His generally inexperienced trackmen are entered in three tough relay's early in the season—UK, Ohio University and Ohio State—and Newcomb is hopeful the heat of battle will help them develop in time for OVC competition.

The OVC championships are set for May 15 and 16 at Middle Tennessee. Dual meet opponents include West Virginia State, Louisville, Ball State and Berea. Booked for triangular meets in Morehead are Cincinnati, Ohio University, Marshall, Cumberland, Eastern Kentucky and Kentucky State.

All home meets are held at Breathitt Sports Center which features an eight-lane Grassie track.

"I don't expect any real great things this year, but we will be competitive in several events," Newcomb added. "Better days definitely are ahead for our program."

Two of the new names on major league rosters this year and one of the most recent signees have Morehead State University connections.

DENNIS DOYLE, starting second baseman for the Philadelphia Phillies, and RON KLIMKOWSKI, a New York Yankee relief pitcher, played on Dr. Rex Chaney's Ohio Valley Conference championship club in 1963.

MIKE PANKO, now assigned to the Yankees' farm system, was a standout third baseman on last year's OVC champs coached by Sonny Allen. The New Jersey slugger batted .355 and crashed seven home runs.

Klimkowski found another former MSU star when he walked into the Yankee bullpen. The ace of the relief corps is STEVE HAMILTON, who helped pitch the Eagles to the OVC title in 1957 during Allen's first stint as coach. Hamilton, also a basketball standout at MSU, is the dean of the Yankee staff. He teaches physical education at his alma mater during the winter.

For Doyle and Klimkowski, the MSU years made the difference between stardom and obscurity. Doyle came to the Eagles as a pitcher but Chaney converted him to take advantage of his strong bat. Klimkowski reported to MSU as an outfielder but his weak bat and strong arm made him ideal for the pitcher's mound.

Charlie Sessa, a catcher who was on the Yankees' spring training roster, is a student at Morehead State in the off-season.

C - Captain

for fifth place this year. The 1969 MSU linkmen played third in the OVC and were undefeated in dual competition.

Bignon, a 26-year-old golf professional, directed the Eagles to their highest golf finish in the OVC last season as a rookie coach. Previously, MSU had never been out of the second division.

Five places are set on this season's six-man starting team with captain Gary Arnold of Clearwater, Fla., a former junior college All-American and the only senior, dominating the returning lineups. However, the lanky Floridian has been troubled by hand injuries and his status is uncertain.

Bill Spanuth, a flashy sophomore from Anderson, Ind., may emerge as the top Eagle golfer. He finished eighth out of a field of 240 in the prestigious Cape Cod Invitational last season and went on to capture medalist honors in the Indiana Amateur. He also won the MSU Invitational last summer on the Eagles' home course.

OUTLOOK

THREE YEARS AWAY

The Eagle netters have been picked by the Ohio Valley Conference's coaches to repeat last year's seventh place finish.

The signing of only one new player this season capped a trying experience for Sadler, starting his second year at the MSU helm.

"We had 25 prospects last year and almost all of them decided to stay in the South where they have better tennis weather," he said. "This time our recruiting will be concentrated in the North where the kids are used to our weather."

Despite the dreary predictions this year, Sadler can see a ray of hope for the future.

Sadler lost his No. 1 player, Jim Miller, from last season's 8-7 team and also the fifth member, Rick Ewert, both through graduation. He hopes to replace them with a promising freshman, Kenny Hiser, of Piqua, Ohio and junior Mel Pleasant of Louisville, who saw limited action last year.

From John S. Alley, Leesburg, Ohio: Back in the days of horse-drawn, bicycles, passenger trains and street-cars travel... In 1896 I started to kindergarten, carrying my rocking chair, which I still have. It was made in Kentucky... I also have an old one room schoolhouse stove, single barrel cider mill, large apple-butter making kettle, buttering equipment, and other items we used in bygone days.

I have given old restored furniture to our children that belonged to my great-grandparents. In 1923 before our marriage my wife taught a one room country school with all eight grades, where later Roy Rogers started to school. We were married Dec. 31, 1915.

In 1917 we purchased a hill farm in Scioto County, Ohio with an old, part log house, hand rymed clapboard mose covered roof and two big stone fireplaces. Here four of our five children were born. We lived there long after we built a new house in 1928. During those first years we modernized with a pitcher pump, sink and an ice-refrigerator in the kitchen. Car-bide lights, farmers owned mag-neto-telephone. Model T Ford engine operating feed mill, washing machine, wood sawing for cooking and heating fuel. Our farming was done by horse power, steam threshing, and hand power.

Our children are college graduates, 12 grand-children, 9 are boys.

My wife, Clara, was a 4 H Club leader for more than 15 years and our home was quite a community center. Many of our friends are still living there.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Question Answered by the Health Insurance Institute, 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. Several years ago, our son, now 8, had a complicated operation. Medical care was expensive but our health insurance protection covered most of our costs. With medical costs going up, I feel I need more protection but I'm not sure how much. Should I stick with the present major medical coverage I have at work, or take out a separate policy?

A. It's true that health care costs are rising... and with little let-up in sight. The health care field is working to alleviate some of the problems... too few doctors, rising labor costs, the expenses of technological advances and duplication of services... but solutions take time.

In light of rising costs, many people are taking out major medical expense policies, the most rapidly growing form of health insurance. At the end of 1969, an estimated 72 million persons were covered under major medical plans.

Maximum benefits payable under major medical policies are high - $15,000, $25,000 or even more. And the policies help pay for virtually all types of care prescribed by a physician - whether provided in or out of hospital. This includes special nursing care, X-rays, prescriptions medical appliances, nursing home care, and many other health care needs.

In your particular case, a good place to start evaluation is by looking at your present major medical coverage to see how it applies to your family. Is each family member covered individually? Do the benefits apply to each illness, or to the family as a whole? Depending on your particular situation, you may find it advantageous to increase your individual coverage.

Increasing your group coverage at work, however, is probably not possible, since this type of policy is arranged for the entire group and coverage can only be changed on a group basis.

Talk with your insurance agent. He knows your program and what your needs will be.

Remember When? During a railroad rate war in the mid-1880's, the fare from Kansas City to Los Angeles dropped to just one dollar.

Ink Stains The history of inks can be traced back at least four thousand years. It is known that the Egyptians of that time wrote on papyrus with a substance that was made by adding powdered coloring matter to a solution of gum or glue in water or oil.

Sunday, May 10th, is Mother's Day! We at IGA believe this to be one of the most significant holidays of the year. There just are not words enough to relate all that our Mothers do for us, or to express the gratitude we all feel for them. Their tasks are legion and their responsibilities and problems complex and never ending. (Like their patience and understanding.) In our own small way, at IGA we strive to assist the Mothers of America, in any way we can, but particularly in solving the increasingly important problem of feeding their families better for less.
