Gateway Says Announcement Concerning Service To Come This Evening At Morehead

An answer to the "ambulance problem" in Rowan, and area counties, may be forthcoming this (Thursday) evening at a meeting in Morehead.

The five county Gateway Area Development Health Planning Conference is scheduled to gather at 7:30 in the "red room" of Doran Student House. There are 25 voting members, based on population, with each county having a minimum of four votes.

A Gateway spokesman advised the Morehead News this morning: "The Emergency Service Committee has completed four months work, surveys and everything else concerning ambulance service. All they'll submit their recommendations at the Morehead conference meeting."

Dr. Norfleet To Preside

The spokesman at Owingsville where Gateway is home-based said he knew the text of the report . . . recommendations . . . and probable action that would be taken this evening . . . but would rather not comment further as everything would be available to the news media and the public after the Doran student building meeting.

Mrs. Morfis Norfleet of Morehead is Chairman.

The circumstances leading up to this

Five Injured, In 2 Accidents

Five Rowan Countians were injured, some seriously, and hospitalized, as the result of two weekend highway accidents, according to the blotter at the district Kentucky State Police barracks.

The State Police record shows that at 11:40 p.m. Friday, a 1969 Chevrolet car, owned by Marland David Crawford, 25, Morehead, and driven by Richard Paul Wheeler, 24, Clearfield, failed to make a curve near the Eugene Lumber Company, three miles east of Morehead on U. S. 60.

Crawford and Wheeler were the only occupants. Both were taken to St. Claire Medical Center, and Crawford, the more seriously injured, is still retained at the University of Kentucky Medical Center, Lexington.

The police report stated that Wheeler apparently lost control and the automobile, headed west, left the highway, crashing into a tree.

Two vehicles, one of them parked, were involved in another serious accident at 12:25 a.m. Sunday, about 3 1/2 miles west of Morehead on U.S. 60.

The police report stated that a 1967 Chevrolet pick-up truck, owned by H.T. Sparks, Olive Hill, ran out of gas and was parked on the north side of the highway. The blotter said that the truck was legally parked off the highway.

A 1966 Pontiac, driven by Orville Little, 15, RFD 4, Morehead, traveling west, rounded a curve, and the driver lost control, the investigating trooper reported, plowing into the rear of the parked truck.

Hospitalized at St. Claire were: Little; his brother, Shelby, 22, near Plank Point, 20, Morehead. This crash was near Bluestone.

94 From Rowan Make University Dean's List

Morehead State University's spring semester Dean's List involved 1,429 students, including 94 from Rowan County. To be eligible for Dean's List recognition at MSU, a full-time student must maintain at least a 3.0 (B) average on a 4.0 scale.

evening's anticipated policy announcement or procedure . . .

About six weeks ago the funeral homes in the five Gateway counties (Bath, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan and Rowan) announced they would not provide ambulance service after June 30. They said they could no longer sustain the losses resulting from ambulance service.

"Two weeks ago the funeral homes in Bath and Montgomery, and those serving Menifee, rescinded this, and said they would continue to operate ambulances until further notice. But, they gave indication of "soon quitting ambulance calls and service."

"Funeral homes in Rowan (Lane and Stucky) and in Morgan reported they had not changed position, and would discontinue all ambulance calls after June 30. (Ferguson, only funeral home in Elliott county, plans to cease the service after July 10.)"

"Bill Mullen, Director of the Daniel Boone Nursing Home at Morehead, announced that effective July 1 he would install and provide ambulance service "for Rowan Countians only" and would have four modern vehicles. Mullen said, however, the charge would be $20 minimum, and 65 cents a mile, one-way, plus the ambulance went out of town. (If a person in Morehead called the ambulance only for transportation to St. Claire Medical Center the charge would be $20; but if the ambulance went to Lexington the cost would be $20, plus $45 mileage for a total of $65). Mullen also said the service would be "cash and carry" with payment guaranteed at time of call.

Gateway, a federally subsidized community-directed agency, has had several meetings with funeral director, county judges and mayors in the five counties.

Holds Solution Probable

The Owingsville spokesman said: "We think the matter can be worked out . . . the announcement will come Thursday in the conference meeting at Morehead."

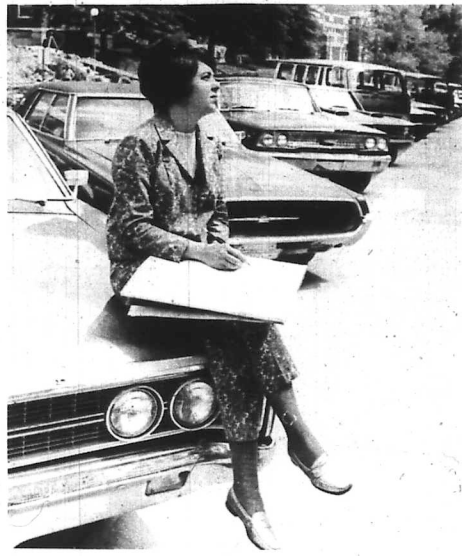

This evening's gathering has another major, although probably non-controversial, decision. This concerns the building of a 50 bed hospital at West Liberty in Morgan County.

The hospital had been approved with Gateway's green light. However, following President Nixon's veto of the Hill-Burton appropriation, the major hospital insurance companies (Blue Cross and Blue Shield) have asked for re-approval and re-certification, the Owingsville office spokesman for Gateway told the Morehead News. "This is sort of like starting over again on the West Liberty hospital," he said.

Didn't Like The Jury . . . Rowan Court Tough

"The whiskey boys didn't like the looks of the jury," was the statement from the office of the sheriff, although probably non-controversial, regular session of Rowan quarterly court presided over by County Judge Ott Caldwell.

Cases disposed of: (1) Goodpastor, transporting alcoholic beverages in local option territory (dry Rowan County), waived jury trial, found guilty, maximum

Main Street Property . . . Sells For $150,000

What is the true market value of business and commercial property in Morehead? With a 100 percent re-assessment underway, the present day fair cash value, as determined by more recent sales, is very much in the picture.

The piece of such commercial real estate (no buildings) has changed ownership, according to a deed deposited for recording in the office of County Clerk Ott Caldwell.

The deed shows that The Citizens Realty Co., Inc., purchased the property as of June 18 from J. Roger and Theresa Caudill, and Claude and Pearl Brown for $150,000.

This is the land west and to the rear of the Citizens Bank, known as the Harlan Blair and Walter Swift estate. Mr. Blair lived in a home since torn down, and Mr. Swift operated the Morehead Lumber Company, also since demolished.

The property fronts 120 feet on Main Street, and runs in an 'L' and 'X' shape on Hargis Avenue. The deepest part on Hargis is 240 feet, but 52 feet runs through to Fairbanks Avenue to the east.

Alpha M. Hutchinson, President of the Citizens Bank, confirmed that Citizens Realty Company is owned by officers and directors of the bank in what is generally referred to as a holding company.

Hutchinson said the bank planned to install additional drive-in facilities, and parking, on the property purchased from Caudill and Brown. He also said the existing bank structure, comparatively new, is being renovated with full lobby carpeting etc.

Hutchinson said the purchase price of $150,000 as listed in the deed is correct. Brown and Caudill acquired the site, along with land in the area of Cowden Manufacturing Company and the Morehead News on West Main and West First Streets from the Blair and Swift estates.

Bob Filson Named Best Of Them Good Rowan Long Rifles

Kentucky Long Rifles, of Morehead, which made a clean sweep (all eight trophies) at the state shoot, and annexed the state championship the second year in a row, have named Bob Filson the outstanding club member of the past year.

The Long Rifles will meet any team in the nation with muzzle loaders . . . and the Morehead club always wins.

Two records were broken at the June shoot on the Rowan County range . . . Tommy Dick with an aggregate of 182; and Bill DeLoesset with a 44 on the 100 and 100 yards.

Dick won the June open with James Mays second.

Commissioner 'Refutes' 'Tough Exam' Reports

Lockett Says It's An Average 8th Grade Test With No Map Interpretation

Kentucky Revenue Commissioner James E. Lockett, in a letter to the Morehead News, said if effect that rumors the examination for County Property Valuation Administrator (Tax Commissioner) is extremely difficult are not true.

The Commissioner also said that the "sectional map" reports, widely circulated at Morehead, are without facts. There is no map reading or interpretation involved in the examination nor has there been for at least the last 20 years," Lockett wrote.

Last month, the Commissioner, by Executive Order, removed authority from Tax Evaluator Mrs. Juanita Wilson, who had just started her 5th consecutive four-year term in office.

Mrs. Wilson Resigns

Lockett charged the tax books were in a mess in Rowan County, and ordered a "100 percent re-assessment of all property." This set off charges and counter charges.

Mrs. Wilson resigned the position, but warned that the people of Rowan County would be taxed much more than at present.

Virgil Phillips, assigned by Lockett to conduct the re-assessment, last week said: "If the assessment goes up, the rate (by law) must be lowered by Fiscal Court to bring the same amount of tax revenue."

County Judge Ott Caldwell, a Republican, and County Attorney James E. Clay, a Democrat, said they, and Fiscal Court, asked for the re-assessment because "if we had waited another year the tax freeze law would be inoperative, and the sky could be the limit."

Phillips said, and Caldwell and Clay concurred, that the only additional taxes (in dollars and cents) would be "new property (buildings) or omitted property."

Looking For Mobile Homes

The "omitted" property is under careful scrutiny. One of the big items appears to be mobile homes trailers. It has been said in the re-assessment that only a fraction of the 600 to 800 trailers in the county are on the tax books. (Rowan has a large number of mobile homes because of Morehead State University, a severe local housing shortage, plus high rent when and if an existing rental home becomes vacant).

Lockett indicated in his letter dated June 22, and addressed to the Morehead News, that the re-assessment would be completed by November 1. Judge Caldwell has said that the two percent discount for early payment would be extended, and also the tax deadline (penalty) if necessary.

Meanwhile, segment or sectional maps of the county are being pored over by the crew headed by Phillips. Also, pictures are being taken of every piece of property, and the records in the County Clerk's office being surveyed to determine the amount properties sold for at recent sales.

Jury verdicts and settlements for land acquired for Cave Run reservoir, 1.4, and the Morehead interstate connector, will undoubtedly enter the picture to "fix fair market value as of today" on similar parcels.

The position of Fiscal Court has emerged in that the members appear certain that more taxpayers will receive a decrease than those who will be increased.

Claim Rate To Be Lower

Rowan County presently has an overall rate of about 75 cents on each $100 assessment. When the re-assessment is finished, Fiscal Court has to fix a new rate to obtain the same amount of tax dollars on the same total properties, according to Phillips, Caldwell and Clay.

The full text of Commissioner Lockett's

Commissioner James E. Lockett answers questions from newspaper reply to an inquiry from the Morehead News reads as follows:

"Your June 12 letter to the Department of Revenue requested certain information relative to the examination for applicants to the office of property valuation administrator.

"The examination is required by law during the month of February of each county election year or whenever there is a vacancy to be filled by appointment or election. (KRS 132.380)

"The specific questions asked in your letter will be answered in the order asked. (1) When and where will the examination be given?

"Due to the nature of appointment of an acting property valuation administrator under the emergency assessment, no vacancy exists until the emergency is concluded; possibly November 1. Immediately following the re-assessment, the department will conduct an examination in Morehead to qualify applicants for appointment.

Burley Use Declines; Production Climbing

By Jack Lewyn

Slimmer cigarettes, with a longer filter, blend adjustments, more imported Oriental tobacco, processed sheet tobacco, bits of stems, and a few other "technological advances" in the manufacturing industry have been steadily whittling away at burley tobacco's domestic market.

For the grower who wonders what has been happening to the burley production industry, it might be said also that conditions were never worse for over-production-and piled-up surpluses to weaken the foundation-stone of the price support program. This seems to be a definite prospect in 1970.

"Demand" is what creates the market for burley, and the weakening in this area is becoming quite realistic.

While figures rarely could be used, in this instance, for anything but a general point, the figures of the 1969 crop do point to the fact that domestic demand is somewhere at a crossroads. In 1969, burley production totaled 591 million pounds, and about 150 million pounds were taken under price supports, leaving 441 bought by the manufacturing and dealer trade. However, about 50 million pounds of the purchased amount should go into the export trade-leaving about 391 million pounds on the domestic scene.

It is assumed that inventories on hand by the manufacturers are being reduced, with actual use of burley in manufacturing at about the 500 million pound level, but another year or so of domestic purchases at the 1969 rate could tighten the squeeze painfully on the tobacco program.

Price support holdings now are at an all-time high of 476 million pounds. The current total supply of burley-leaf in the hands of manufacturers, dealers and the associations, totals 1,907 million pounds.

Per capita use of tobacco, through cigarettes, by Americans 18 years old and over in 1969 was 8.20 pounds, the lowest since 1944. Last year, per capita use of cigarettes totaled 3.993. The highest per-person average for cigarettes was 4.346 in 1963, with 9.70 pounds of tobacco used. But the largest per-capita use of tobacco through cigarettes was the 9.98 pounds-3,685 cigarettes-in the 1950-54 period.

Manufacturing use of burley in 1969 was estimated at 516 million pounds, down 28 million from a year earlier.

appointment until the 1971 general election.

"(2) In this a difficult test, or about an eighth grade examination as mentioned in the enclosed newspaper clipping?

"The test is not a difficult one in respect to the importance and responsibilities of the office. The level of the examination generally does not exceed that of the eighth grade, particularly, the arithmetic section. (See answer to (4))

"There is no map reading or interpretation involved in the examination nor has there been for at least the past twenty years.

"(4) Can you furnish us some of the sample questions, etc.?"

"The department does not and cannot furnish detailed information about the content of the examination. However, the following data is provided any potential applicant or candidate.

"a. The examination is in four parts - written, oral - as required by statute. The written portion accounts for 90 percent of the total possible grade, the oral 10 percent.

"b. Section one of the written examination is a timed general aptitude test of a type that might be required of any applicant for a job in industry. The timing is reasonably liberal and should not pose a burden on the average person. In fact, this portion of the examination is so designed that a passing grade may be achieved without answering all questions presented. This section accounts for 36 points of the total written grade.

"c. Section two of the written examination is of a multiple choice type with questions relating to property tax law and administration. The questions are elementary in nature covering only those facets of the law with which any property owner should be familiar. (The department provides a copy of the ad valorem tax statutes to anyone upon request. A copy is in the mail to you under separate cover.) This section accounts for 18 points of the total written grade.

"d. Section three of the written examination is an arithmetic test phrased in property tax terminology. It is this section that is most often referred to as an eighth grade test as it deals only in addition, multiplication and subtraction. This section accounts for the remaining 36 points of the total written grade.

"e. The oral portion of the examination is designed to judge the applicants attitude, ability to comprehend and ability to present his ideas (logic). Each applicant is interviewed and graded by two persons independently. A review of the results of past examinations reveals that no person who made a passing grade in the written portion of the examination has ever been failed by the oral. This section of the examination accounts for the remaining 10 points of the total examination grade.

"(5) What remuneration does the tax evaluator receive?"

"The remuneration of the Rowan County Property Valuation Administrator, based on the 1969 final assessment is approximately $7,500, however, any increase in the 1970 assessment will increase the compensation.

"In conclusion, no person having the qualifications for performing the duties of this office should be hesitant in taking the examination."

GERMAN HORSEMAN ... A grown man on a bay horse? Yes and who has a better right than the man who made the horse? Chicagoan, Nicholas Krietz learned the art of custom-made quality rocking horses from master craftsmen when he was a youth in Germany. This particular model appears to be one of the rocking variety. Some are equipped with wheels to roll. You might say a customer's preference depends on whether he'd rather rock or roll.

MOST POPULAR FISH
At this time of the year, anglers everywhere are thinking about catching bass. Whether largemouth or smallmouth, old "fish" for fish, pound for pound, the gamest fish that ever swims" is America's most popular game fish species.
And no wonder! For bass are found practically anywhere in the nation, and a certain amount of skill and patience is needed to catch them.
The most popular members of the bass group, according to information from the fishing experts at Mercury outdoors, is the large-mouth black bass. At some bass in stream and lake, the bigger fish are almost always found in impoundments.

Smallmouth black bass, also found in lakes and streams, are distinguished from largemouth by the length of the lower jaw - it never comes beyond the eye when closed.
Bass are actually members of the sunfish family. Like sunfish and bluegills, they make round spawning beds in shallow water. At this point, however, bass differ from many other fish. After the male has prepared the nest by using his tail as a sweep to clean all debris from small gravel, the female lays eggs which are then fertilized. Mama bass then leaves her progeny, and the male bass begins the arduous task of guarding the nest.
The best time to catch bass is early in the season, and again when the cooler weather of autumn has arrived. Both largemouth and smallmouth bass have big appetites. They eat water insects, minnows, crickets, grasshoppers, crayfish, hellgramites, frogs, small mammals, and almost anything within reach.
During summer, bass feed the most in early morning and late evening. Largemouth bass like to feed in shallow water, smallmouth prefer to work gravel bars of swift streams or around underwater banks in northern lakes.

Publisher's Pen...

Day-by-day job-ens-down, and editorial observations, of the publisher of this newspaper.

Two months ago former Circuit Judge and Highway Commissioner John A. Keck died at Grayson.

Last Wednesday former State Auditor, Treasurer and Highway Commissioner Henry Carter of West Liberty passed away.

Since this newspaper editorially supported both of them in every political race... and since the Publisher was a very close and very personal friend of each, we are right certain that if John or Henry were still with us, they would approve the following recitation and recollection, which appeared in this newspaper about 17 years ago.

One morning (we believe in 1953) we received a call from Highway Commissioner Keck to come to Frankfort, he said it was urgent. That afternoon we met with John and Emerson 'Doc' Beauchamp, then rural highway commissioner.

The editor had a lot to discuss, but we were obviously concerned. When the afternoon news came on the radio it was turned on in the apartment that Keck and Beauchamp shared.

The first, and big, news was that Keck had resigned as Highway Commissioner. We could write more.

Anyway, this newspaper printed an editorial the next week dwelling on the circumstances surrounding the resignation with this conclusion: "... (Gov.) Wetherby and Henry Carter have been sucking eggs and they threw the shells under John Keck's desk."

Mr. Carter, a life-long subscriber to the newspaper, received his copy Friday morning and read editorial. He started pulling them galluses, and as everybody knows who knew Henry Carter when he began pulling on the suspenders for which he was so well famous, he was either mad or something big was brewing.

Beating it to Wetherby's office, he told the Governor: "LOOK at what that 'F&T' Crutcher has written about me. Henry called from Wetherby's office, and in substance, and in very heated language, denied the allegation, denounced the allegation, and said that the newspaper had better never again step his foot in Frankfort."

The next day Mr. Carter dispatched a courier to our office. This is what he related: "Henry said to drive up here and tell you that he has a knife with a nice blade... when he sees you again he's going to push it right in your guts... give it this." The courier then made a circular motion sort of like cutting up my bowels.

Time passed, and everybody forgave everybody else. In fact, we later exonerated Mr. Carter, and re-placed the blame. Judge Keck was in our office a short time before he became fatally ill. He recalled, with a chuckle, the incident, and some other "inside" factors that had great bearing on state government and democratic party policies.

The last time we saw Mr. Carter he was ill in bed. As we left he raised up and said: "You know, Crutcher, I never had a better friend than you. Man, I have loved you all my life. But, don't ever think I've forgotten that rotten egg editorial you wrote."

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW HOW ANYBODY RETIRES With our new building complete, and still undergoing changes, and scheduled additional (very expensive) equipment, this getting gray and growing older Publisher has planned semi-retirement.

The problem is that editorial and technical personnel is so scarce to be practically non-existent. Our retirement plan is to write a book, and much of it would be stories like the above.

Once we mentioned asking Joe Creason of the Louisville Courier-Journal, and he would collaborate. His column is the first thing we read every week day morning.

We have a world of first hand and related information and experiences from such fellows as Keck, Carter, Bert Kiser, Earle Clements, Louis Cox, Beauchamp, Joe Leary, A. B. Chandler, Bill May, Clifford Smith, Fred Vinson, and Bob... and many, many others, including some women who have been right prominent in the Commonwealth. A closet in our house contains a large box filled with such memo's. We have more about Congressman Carl D. Perkins than he realizes. Incidentally, Perkins, like Thomas A. Edison, sleeps only 2 1/2 to three hours each night... is the first to read his office, or Chandler in his monthly the last member of the House to leave in the evening's... and drives more than 50,000 miles a year, mostly in the 20 counties of his district.

Timely right now because of that 'Happy Hips Hippie' incident would be the many stories about Chandler. For example: We wrote a speech, or at least the portion, as was to read, for Chandler in his monthly for Governor. In the red sweater and $5 bill faction about which you are acquainted, we had this text: 'I started as boy on a farm in Henderson County setting tobacco plants for 25 cents a day.'

After Chandler read this he stopped and in his usual flamboyant fashion said: "Ladies and gentlemen, up until today I have thought I would win this race worlds without end. Now, I have some doubts. The first thing I intend to do is to get me some new speech writers. No farmer in this courtroom ever heard of setting tobacco plants. You know, and I know, that you don't set tobacco plants. You drop them."

Of course, the fact of the case Chandler needed as the crowd roared, and he got a lot of mileage over his half-acre tobacco base in Woodford County. In THE DAYS GONE BY The wire services this week carried a story that Highway Commissioner Eugene Gosch has ordered a proposed road re-routed in adjoining Lewis County (Vanceburg) so that a pin oak tree, believed to be the world's largest of this type, would not be cut down.

In the old days this would not have been news. They built the roads then to satisfy (and get the votes) of the people who lived on them, rather than to convenience the traveling public. Some at-home instances - Morehead doesn't have a through street, except Main, all others dead-ending. There is evidence that when first roads were laid out, they were stopped or curved so as to not bother some peoples garden, two holer, or a favorite tree or bush.

When the road was built from Wagoner's Corner (Rowan) to Sandy Hook, the said hook, the late Senator Alle W. Young was one of Kentucky's most powerful political figures. A dispute had arisen in Elliott County over the road location, and final decision rested with Senator Young. He visited both areas and partook of the extreme (mostly liquid) hospitality. Senator Young, politically-wise, decided on the eastern route, which is two miles further, and more expensive to build, than by what is known as the 'Y' to the west. So, we now have the two roads, since the 'Y' people, and highway engineers, later won their point.

A prominent Elliott County politician lived on the east route. Naturally, the new road was engineered to suit his house, but this required the cutting of his favorite shade tree, and also covering his water drinking well.

The engineers were ordered to re-design the route so that the road would pass by his house, but leave the tree and the well. That's the reason a big, and expensive, cure exists at the point district highway engineer W. F. 'Monk' Sherrow, now retired and living at Cape Coral, Fla. (a paid up Morehead News subscriber) told us that the highway from the corner to Sandy Hook, and from Flemingburg to Maysville has so many curves because he and other engineers were instructed to "be sure it went by such and such homes, and such and such lawns, gardens, shade trees, and water springs not be destroyed."

Former district highway engineer W. F. 'Monk' Sherrow, now retired and living at Cape Coral, Fla. (a paid up Morehead News subscriber) told us that the highway from the corner to Sandy Hook, and from Flemingburg to Maysville has so many curves because he and other engineers were instructed to "be sure it went by such and such homes, and such and such lawns, gardens, shade trees, and water springs not be destroyed."

LIVE AMMUNITION - The July issue of the mimeographed Kentucky Rifle Rifles, home-based at Morehead, bears this notation: "To show you how much work is involved in a real big shoot like in June: 260 targets were made, shot, scored, recorded, double-checked and filed. That's over 1,500 shots, quite a lot of muzzled-leading." The Long Rifles, as reported elsewhere in this issue, was first place in the state shoot, and have named Bob Filson the outstanding club member for this year. Next shoot will be on the Rowan County range Sept. 20.

GOP JOKE - Concerning the Ted Kennedy incident, the going quip today among Morehead Republicans is: "Nixon and two men to the moon; the democrats could not get even one girl home from a party."

NO MORE - Rowan County, where the 100 percent property re-assessment is underway, has abolished its poll tax, one of the few Kentucky counties to take such action. We attempted to ascertain how long Rowan had collected a poll tax and it looks like maybe since its founding in 1865. Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett who used a drastic section of Kentucky Revised Statutes to force the resignation of Tax Evaluator Juanita Wilson and call for the re-assessment, this week ordered 19 other Kentucky counties to upgrade their assessment procedures. In this case, Commissioner Luckett recites information on the forthcoming examination for Rowan County, Tax Evaluator, a job presently paying $7,500 a year. The remuneration will probably be more in the future.

PREDICTION - The Rowan County Board of Education will, at its July meeting, employ Buford Risner, Sup. of Bath County Schools, as Principal of Rowan County High. This has previously been rumored, but officially refuted, as of then, by Supt. Alfred Cassidy. Mr. Risner will commute from Owsingsville to Morehead until he finds a home here, disposes of his property there. There are reports that the present RCHS Principal, Sherman Arnett, who is also State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the Rowan Board demoted Arnett to a 7th grade teaching job at Tildon High elementary school.

CASE DISPOSED OF - Remember the story of the young man with long hair from Clay City (study in Miami, University) who almost duped parents of Morehead State University students out of $3,000, or more, with their food care during examinations? Letter "I" near? The developments appear to be: 1. The money has been returned to the parents; and 2. No charges will be heard in federal court (federal court) for the same alleged crime. He was tried in City of Morehead court for a fine and 10 day jail sentence. U. S. Attorney says he cannot again be tried (in federal court) for the same alleged crime. The case is apparently ended.

PATTERN - Defense attorneys have adopted a policy of usually having their client plead guilty in the state court; then appeal the maximum sentence; and then appeal to the Circuit Court, for obviously sound reasons: 1. Juries (also Judge and attorney) in county court have been anything but lenient; 2. Circuit Court meets only four times a year; the next session being in November; 3. The Circuit Court docket is so heavy that some cases can't be tried in two years; if they are, and Punishment in the higher court couldn't be any heavier than is being meted (maximum) in the lower court. In most cases, the county court is becoming a "court of all appeals."

WHAT DO YOU SAY? - It has already been learned (in print) that Rowan County's 1970 population will be around 16,500 when the census is finally certified. We asked four "learned" citizens what they thought Morehead's 1970 population figure would be? The answers: 12,500; 11,500; 11,000; and 11,111. Now, we'll come with our forecast - it'll be less than 8,500. Perhaps this Publisher might have a cheating edge in that we maintain a city of Morehead City (Occupant) list. Excluding the University, this list indicates that the within city limits population is around 4,000. Incidentally, one of the affiliates of this newspaper, has the entire mailing list (city delivery, post office boxes, RFD's and star routes) for the entire State of Kentucky, and parts of the adjoining states of Ohio and West Virginia, plus some in Tennessee. We don't make money on this newspaper, but do some other things like 3rd class mailings.

DIVIDED - The northeast rural section of Rowan County is served by the Fleming-Mason Rural Electric Cooperative; the rest of the county is in the Morehead REC. All cooperatives plan their annual meetings, and big celebrations, in July. Rowan is also unusual in that Kentucky Utilities and Kentucky Power both have customers in its confines... and the electric current Moreheadians use is purchased from KU but actually made at the Clearmont plant of Ohio Fuel and Power near Cincinnati.

PROGRESSING - Best news of the week is that the extensive addition at St. Claire Medical Center is far exceeding beyond expectations with the contractor considerably ahead of schedule. With that veto by Nixon of the Hill-Burton appropriation, St. Claire was fortunate to get under the wire. Construction on the vocational school at 2nd, 3rd and Tippett is far ahead of target, and there is an outside chance the doors will open in late fall or early winter.

PREDICTION NO. 2 - The Morehead Municipal Housing Commission will be soon approved for: 1. Sixty more units of low rent housing; and 2. Between 50 and 60 garages. There will be a new building under the operation of Rawdel Heights. We have an "educated guess" where the new units will be erected (two different locations, neither being near Rawdel) but it is unwise to divulge such information prior to final ok of the regional HUD office in Atlanta.

MAYBE - We hear reports from high and usually reliable sources that President Nixon will not fill the federal judgeship vacated by Bert Combs until December of 1971 and then appoint Governor James M. Ray to the Eastern District Federal Court has been recommended for two more Judges to try and clear dockets that are years behind schedule.

H-2-O - Information on the desk is that Daniel Boone National Forest (division of Agriculture) has reached an agreement with the Morehead Utility Plant Board whereby Morehead will furnish PH water from its Licking River (below dam site) pumping station to the three main recreational complexes in the Cave Run reservoir. They are - Scott Creek in Rowan County; at the dam site in Bath County; and Zilpo in Bath County, near the Menifee county line. These are the "major" recreational complexes costing in the millions of dollars. Eight other recreational sites are contemplated, but they will be much smaller, and will provide "tested" well water and not city treated water.

PROPAGATING - Jimmy Hogge says he saw a big wild hen turkey and a whole flock of little turkeys in the Cave Run area. We know he did, because the wild turkeys are increasing faster than had been anticipated when the area was stocked. Ranger Joe Mauk thinks this could well be the best wild turkey hunting in all the United States after have Run dam is completed, probably in 1973.

CONCLUDING - Sieve Hamilton's wife, Shirley, was among the thousands at the Yankee Stadium when Steve received a standing ovation from 35,000 with his folly flipper delivery. It is conclusive that Steve, of Morehead, is the most popular, with his folly players, or any American Leaguer... From an authoritative source at MSU - if you fill out an application etc don't say that you graduated from (or attended) Morehead State Teachers College and will attend Morehead State Teachers College; or Morehead State College. These are all 'discarded' names. Everything now is 'Morehead'. On the 4th of July we first urge you to drive soberly and safely, emphasizing your obituary in the next issue won't help us sell any more papers. End Saturday (the 4th) ceremonies on the courthouse lawn at Morehead (1:30 p.m.) in which a bronze plaque will be unveiled bearing the names of the 76 from this county who lost their lives in World War I and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts. Then (about 2:00 p.m.) trek over to Clearfield (one mile) for the old fashioned Independence Day observance. Fireworks are scheduled for 8:00 p.m.

Congressman Perkins wires today: "Happy to inform the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $2,000,000 grant to the Rowan County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board at Morehead. The '$2,000,000' may be an error in transmission, because it requires around $50,000 a year to operate a mental center serving five area counties... Could it be that Kentucky and Georgia have, for years, been conducting unconstitutional elections? They are the only states where 18 year olds have been eligible to vote. Congress has passed a federal law that 18 year olds are qualified, but the White House and many prominent attorneys believe the Supreme Court will strike this unconstitutional... You have been reading much in the good old Morehead News lately about the breath analyzer for drunken driving tests; and the alarming, and growing, list of license suspensions and revocations. This brings the question of how much do you drink to be drunk. The Commonweath figures you are a drunk driver if blood alcohol concentration is 0.10 percent. Broken down this is, based on body weight of 150 pounds, five standard 1/2 ounce jiggers of gin, bourbon, scotch or vodka... Widely known newspaper columnist, Clay Wade Bailey, says he's a native of Elliott County. But, he's also from Rowan, having lived with his aunt in a home where the Firestone Store on Main Street is now located. It is surprising that the new bridge across the Ohio River at Covington-Cincinnati has been named by Gov. Nun 'The Clay Wade Bailey Bridge'... This newspaper has complained that Harrodsburg stole 'Daniel Boone' from us. We learn now that Owsley County (Booneville) will have a Daniel Boone Day celebration. We don't make money on recent wages; President Nixon asks business and labor to hold the line on prices and wages. This is somewhat comparable to asking a hog to curb his appetite when the feed trough is full... It's a pity that posterity will have to help pay for the good times we're not having... The North Viets and the Viet Congs quite evidently believe in the aphorism, "He who fights and runs away - may live to fight another day!"... In the fight against overpopulation why haven't fertility pills been outlawed?... The reason it's often difficult to try to reason with teenagers is that they're people (They really are people whether you believe it or don't)... The overwhelming majority is silent because the outrageous actions of a variety of little screwball minorities have made it speechless... The hardest money to earn is that which you've already spent... There are gaps and gaps these days. One gap that is worrying a considerable number of people is that between their income and what it costs them to live... Death is not so nearly as well thought of as it should be. It's the only cure for old age. The grocery and the undertaking businesses are sound investments, as all people eat as long as they live, and all of them die eventually or sooner... A survey shows that the young house girls and women are less likely to have accidents than the garter hose females. The survey, of course, concerns itself only with motor vehicle accidents.

Beene Your Town Historian
All of us have our own personal treasury and nostalgic memories of the "good old days" and the "not so good" days.
Every grandparent I know, myself included, enjoys spinning yarns of yesteryear - of one-room schoolhouses, box socials, vaudeville - where their grandchildren are gathered around them.
Why not share memory's wealth with your community? Becoming your town historian is an ideal way.
It takes more than reminiscing on paper and you're not going to do it in one day. You'll want to begin by outlining your thoughts and facts. Make sure the area is one you know well. And give it a new, exciting idea that no one else has already covered. You can hunt libraries for old records, interview historians and old-timers, and dig up bygone lore and traditions.
Then you'd start to study, write, polish your material. Much of what you found may be dull old history in date and dates. Now it's time to open your "re-memory" when "storehouse" - to weave anecdotes into your history. This is what makes history absorbing and colorful. Photographs and illustrations arouse curiosity, too, so use them wherever possible.
Who's interested in such historical society, magazines, clubs, and local newspapers, among others. Try presenting your history for your town's anniversary celebration.

That's how seventy-five-year-old Ralph Rambo became a noted literary figure and local historian. He's captured the imagination of thousands of readers with his own locale, the Santa Clara, Calif. Valley.
Here's how he feels about writing local history: "I stand firm on general truth. After all, when relating memorabilia sixty or more years old, we enjoy a comforting safety factor - so few of the participants at witness are still around to challenge or refute such scribbles as this old timer."
You'll find a personal satisfaction and deep involvement with other people when you compile a local history. In addition you'll enrich the lives of others with an enriching history which shares their appreciation for their community. So why not try being your town's historian?

Your . . . Social Security

By Thomas B. Thompson - Ashland District Mgr. For Social Security Office, 1816 Carter Avenue - Ashland, Ky.; Phone 325-7666.

There is a great deal of misunderstanding about nursing home payments under Medicare in the Ashland District, Thomas B. Thompson, social security district manager, reports.
Only limited coverage for full-time skilled nursing care and other health services provided in the nursing home can be paid for under Medicare. Many people believe that the law lays up to a hundred days of nursing home services under any circumstances.
This is not true.
Congress said that only a certain kind of nursing home care would be paid for under Medicare. This is the type in which the patient's condition, upon release from a hospital, requires him to be in an institution for the primary purpose of receiving skilled nursing services on a continuing basis.
A nursing home that qualifies to give this service is called an "Extended Care Facility." Services in such a facility are really an extension of a kind of service he was receiving in the hospital for his injury or illness.
Some patients who apply for care at skilled nursing homes after hospitalization may find that Medicare will not pay for their care because it is not of a high and skilled level. Thompson says it is important that folks covered by Medicare and their families understand how this part of the law works and invites questions by telephone to his staff, telephone 325-7666.

The Mature Woman

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Experts once warned that the middle years were a time of rising marital and family crisis -- of divorces, ulcers, alcoholism and the "empty nest" blues. But a new study of middle class couples in their 40's and 50's reveals they are in what one wife describes as "a very comfortable rut" and generally happy with their lot.

Professor Marjorie F. Lowenthal, director of the Adult Development program of the Langley Porter Neuropsychiatric Institute, University of California's Medical Center, said preliminary findings indicate "little evidence for the existence of a mid-life crisis."

"There were a few exceptions -- those faced with the problem of serious illness, for example -- but David Chiriboga, research psychologist on the study, reported that 70 to 80 percent of those questioned were "pretty happy" to "very happy" with their lives. He described the couples in the study as typical middle-class, "stable and with relatively conservative attitudes about life. They are sort of average, no extremes are represented."

In the middle years, there were problems and difficulties. The men largely cited occupational and financial problems; the women, difficulties with children. Women more so than men, talked about personal shortcomings such as decline in health or energy, indecisiveness or inefficiency.

When asked what achievements gave them satisfaction, men said they were proud of their marriage, their children and their family. Only five men stressed occupational attainments. Women derived satisfaction from family, children and friends but they weren't necessarily proud of their marriages.

By and large, most of the subjects look back to their 20's and 30's as the best years of their lives. The prospect of the "empty nest" seems to pose no threats for the women. Many women look forward to a happy marriage for their children and freedom to travel in the years ahead.

One woman summed up her attitude this way: "I live in a very comfortable rut and I really don't want to get out of it."

According to David Chiriboga this woman had "no great ups and downs in her life, no great expectations. But she was happy."

Sex and Spats

All of the 50 couples selected for the study had their youngest child in senior year of high school when the study began. The ages of the women average out to 48; that of the men, 51. The study covers their problems, frustrations, expectations and an evaluation of their lives.

One finding is of particular interest to all married men whose home life is relatively free of marital spats and arguments. Many wives volunteered the recipe for marital bliss: they placate their husbands and avoid touchy subjects. When couples do argue, the most frequent area of disagreement is the discipline of their off-spring.

In any issue is clouded, it is marital sex. At a ratio of 3-1, the men said their sex life is about the same or better. But that's not what their wives say. Mostly, their evaluation of their sex life was either negative or their responses were ambiguous.

In evaluating all aspects of their past, present and future lives, the men, on the whole, tended to be more optimistic than their spouses. But psychiatrists say that men tend to handle their problems by "denying" their existence. They pay for this denial with higher rates for suicides, ulcers, heart attacks, alcoholism and mental illness.

The controversy over the hemlines, continif, and many designers are playing both ends of the knee. Although most of their collections are shown in mid length, they can be purchased in shorter lengths. Many go a step further and refrain from even using the word "mini," and "midi," enjoying those extra inches of safety that lie in "cal-length" or a-bove-the-knee.

Bringing back the hoosom is a theme adopted by many designers to soothe the male eye angered over the seemingly inevitable hemline drop. For fall and winter they showed soft, slinky, sexy body clinging evening wear with scooped, scalloped and slashed necklines. But tide and front thigh-high skirt silks also make the scene.

Gauchos pants are riding high into fashion's front ranks for fall and winter. Most are matched with long-sleeved crepe or satie blouses for around-the-clock wear. For daytime, there's wood jewelry, for evening, velvet.

2 Recreational Contracts Let For Cave Run

The Forest Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, has awarded two contracts for recreational development at the Cave Run Reservoir area near Morehead, according to Forest Supervisor Robert F. Collins, Daniel Boone National Forest, Winchester.

The Augsburgs Construction Company of Lexington, has been awarded a $199,692.50 contract to install sewage treatment facilities at the Cogswell Recreation Site in Rowan County. These facilities will serve campgrounds, picnic grounds and a commercial lodge and marina planned for construction.

The firm of Miller, Wighy and Brooks of Louisville will design transportation facilities for the Zippo Recreation Site in Bath County under a contract awarded for $22,290. The firm is also nearing completion of the master plan stage for the Zippo Site and the Caney Creek Recreation Site which is also in Bath County.

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Louisville District is constructing the Cave Run Dam. The Daniel Boone National Forest is responsible for the construction and operation of recreational facilities at the reservoir area.

Including recreation, the U.S. is investing about $40 million at Cave Run. It may be open to the public by Memorial Day of 1973.

The Principles Of... Old Fashion 4th

By Helen Price Stacy

This Fourth of July would be a good time for the countryside to revive some of the best parts of olden times—the old-fashioned Independence Day celebration with its patriotic speeches, its contests, games, picnics, lemonade, watermelon . . . and a temperature in the 90s.

Those were the days when silver-voiced orators stood in a beech tree's shade with solemnity befitting the occasion extolled the virtues of a free country in which each citizen could progress according to his desire, ambition and willingness to work. The history of the community, county and state would be reviewed . . . flags would wave from windows and smaller ones from hands . . . brass bands would lead parades through towns and play rousing, patriotic marches interspersed frequently with stirring renditions of "The Star Spangled Banner, America, and My Old Kentucky Home."

On July 4, 1876, in West Liberty, county seat of Morgan, Col. John Tom Hazelrigg, resident of the county for 47 years and esteemed member of the bar, said: "We are assembled today to celebrate the centennial anniversary of American Independence; to revive the memories of the long ago; to gather up the rubbish and ruins of the past, the brightest era in our history; to recall the names and memories of the great and good men who toiled and struggled for the attainment of the glorious privileges we today enjoy, and to rekindle upon the altars of our hearts the fealty, and reverence our devotion to the grand structure of civil and religious liberty bequeathed to us by the fathers of the Republic."

Colonel Hazelrigg was a descendant of a British General and MP. His words that day almost 100 years ago not only reviewed a county's history from its beginning and even earlier but history of a region, starting at Independence Hall.

"One hundred years have gone to swell the measures of the past, since the bell in the steeple of old Independence Hall, in the city of Philadelphia, rang out upon the midnight air the glad tidings that the original 13 colonies had resolved to be free. That our fathers, that band of illustrious names that were not born to die, in solemn convention had proclaimed the heavenly feat, that man was free. That the Patent to Kings to govern mankind by Divine right had expired; and that henceforth they would assert and maintain all the rights, privileges and immunities which belonged to them as freemen; and to the maintenance of this sublime declaration they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor."

The Colonel's address took most of the afternoon—possibly a great part of the morning—but the large crowd assembled in the shade of the trees on Park Hill listened dutifully, occasionally making its way through croquet wickets to the lemonade churn.

Hazelrigg's historical address that day established the custom in Morgan, that is observed each Fourth of July with one notable difference. The oratory is confined to minutes rather than hours. Maybe towns other than West Liberty—Morehead, Paintsville, Grayson, Prestonsburg—follow the custom.

The crowd begins to gather early, children spanking clean, ready for the relays, sack races, bike and tricycle races, egg tosses, Stars and Stripes line Main Street.

After a brief historical address and certificates of honor awarded outstanding citizens, the crowd moves to the high school athletic field for a ball game. Then back to Main Street for an evening talent contest made up for the most part of fiddlers, banjo pickers, hoodlum dancing and lots of string music.

As dusk settles over the countryside the crowd takes position to view the fireworks display, and after that—the big finale, a square dance on Main Street, roped off from

Nearby Soldier Youth To Attend Lottery On Draft

Larry R. Knipp, of Soldier, and Thomas J. Smith III, of Richmond, will be delegates to the Selective Service System's Youth Advisory Committee's National Conference at Washington June 28-July 2.

Knipp is chairman of the state committee and Smith is a member. The 106 delegates will participate in the July 1 random sequence lottery drawing to determine the order for induction for the calendar year 1971. The drawing will be alphabetically by states.

Selective Service Director Curtis W. Tarr has informed county office that communications is the big theme for this conference," said Col. Taylor L. Davidson, Kentucky Selective Service director.

Davidson said Knipp, a 1970 graduate of Morehead State University, and Smith, a senior at Centre College, should be able to say how young Kentuckians feel about the draft and to offer constructive suggestions on ways to improve communications between the government and young people. The Youth Advisory Committees were established by presidential order last June.

Such an observance clings to principles of freedom and all that they mean. Freedom to form opinions, take sides, work at honest labor, buy a farm, build a house, go to church, get rich or not get rich, stay home or travel, speak or remain silent, vote for men who strive to keep the peace, keep order . . . and keep freedom.

It is a day to reaffirm respect for beliefs and creeds of minorities and of majorities . . . love for country and neighbor, desire to build rather than destroy . . . all for peace of mind.

Mrs. Nixon Notes Feature Article

An illustrated, feature article in the Morehead News has attracted the attention of Patricia Nixon, wife of the President. It concerned the volunteer group, under the direction of Miss Patti Bolin, who worked with Rowan County 4-H members. Several pictures accompanied the article. The program, covering several weeks, was through planning of the Cooperative Extension Service of the University of Kentucky, headed by Mrs. Mildred R. Wightman. On White House stationery, under date of June 17, Mrs. Nixon wrote Mrs. Wightman . . . Concerning the outstanding work which the young women in Miss Bolin's class have done with 4-H groups . . . I am particularly encouraged whenever I learn of college students who are giving of their energy and special skills for the benefit of others." Mrs. Nixon's letter concluded: "Not only are these young ladies offering valuable information and assistance to the 4-Hers, but they are also setting the kind of example which is so important."

NEW YORK (UPI)—To help prevent July 4th weekend auto crashes, the National Coffee Safety Stop Program is offering free coffee to weary travelers.

The program, the National Wake Break Campaign, is sponsored by service groups and restaurant operators across the country who are providing the coffee at their own expense.

"The free coffee these groups offer is an incentive which few drivers can resist," said Ted Bumore, director of the campaign. "Our goal is to get the driver off the roadway. Once he's in a wake break station, he can sleep, get some exercise or just generally reorient himself to the very serious business of operating a motor vehicle."

"Weekend travelers are notoriously careless in their approach to the driving function. Too many push as far, stay as long and cram in as much activity as they possibly can in a relatively short period."

Bumore said the result is irritability, impatience and emotional and physical exhaustion behind the wheel. That's one reason, he said, why the accident rate during the holiday periods is 16 per cent higher than that for normal non-holiday periods.

According to National Safety Council estimates, Americans will drive a total of 11 billion miles during the three-day holiday which begins Friday evening and extends through Monday, July 6, when Independence Day is being observed nationally.

So, if you're planning an auto trip this July 4th weekend, plan to be involved in at least one traffic jam and if you're stuck a coffee wake break or two.

Sponsors of the program in addition to service groups such as the Explorer Division of the Boy Scouts of America, the REACT Citizens Emergency Radio Teams, and the Jaycees, are the International Association of Chiefs of Police, International Bridge, Tunnel & Turnpike Association, American Association of Motor Vehicle Registrations, National Restaurant Association, and the National Coffee Association.

Winning Campaign Against German Measles

FIGHT AGAINST RUBELLA CONTINUES—The Kentucky Rubella Control Program, under the Department of Health, accelerated its immunization program with the recent increased availability of vaccine. Little Darlene Scott, of Edgewood, Kentucky, isn't sure at all that the jet-injector gun used for rubella inoculation

"doesn't hurt a bit." It's bigger than a needle, and looks as though it might carry a sting. But, Darlene's bright smile afterward could assure others that there's really nothing to fear from the awesome instrument.

The "race against rubella" continues. The German measles epidemic predicted for the early '70s hasn't happened yet, and the Kentucky rubella control program, beefed up by the recent availability of enough vaccine to accelerate the immunization program, is looking more like a winner all the time.

When the program was implemented last September—faced with over 228,000 children to be immunized, and a meager 23,000 doses of vaccine—a first-priority group for rubella immunization had to be established.

The first shots went to children in early social-experience groups—day care, Head Start, kindergarten and the first and second grades—children most susceptible to rubella and most likely to spread the disease.

By the end of the school year, additional vaccine had become available, and 79 percent of those children had been immunized.

"This didn't just happen," says Dr. Calixto Hernandez, director of Epidemiology, for the state Health Department.

"Citric groups and local government," he said, "heard our clarion cry for help last fall, and responded wholeheartedly."

"As early as December, with funds raised at the local level, counties were beginning to extend their programs to children from one year of age through the sixth grade."

By the end of the school year, he said, 228,393 children had received the vaccine in mass rubella immunization programs in 119 counties. Many others have been immunized by private physicians throughout the state.

Dr. Hernandez said, "rubella vaccine is now on hand in every county health department for immunization of the total target group—all children from age one through 12 years."

"County health departments are being urged to use this vaccine in regular immunization programs, and to establish ongoing programs whereby all young children will receive rubella vaccine during their second year of life," he said.

"Still a lot remains to be done," Dr. Hernandez said. "Mass programs will continue during the summer for immunization of preschoolers—especially children in Head Start programs, and those scheduled to enter school this fall."

"We plan to go back into the schools this fall," Dr. Hernandez said, "to complete this portion of the immunization program."

"The fight against rubella must continue," he said, "as long as there are groups of children who are susceptible to the disease."

The Augsburger Construction Company of Lexington has been awarded a $199,662.50 contract to install sewage treatment facilities at the Cogswell Recreation Site in Rowan County. These facilities will serve campgrounds, picnic grounds and a commercial lodge and marina planned for construction.

The firm of Miller, Whyte and Brooks of Louisville will design transportation facilities for the Zippo Recreation Site in Bath County under a contract awarded for $23,200. The firm is also nearing completion of the master plan stage for the Zippo Site and the Caney Creek Recreation Site, which is also in Bath County. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Louisville District is constructing the Cave Run Dam. The Daniel Boone National Forest is responsible for the construction and operation of recreational facilities at the reservoir area.

Two southeastern Kentucky residents were convicted recently of setting forest fires on the Redbird Ranger District, Daniel Boone National Forest, according to District Ranger Sam King, Manchester.

The two appeared before U.S. Commissioner Kelly Clore in Pineville. James Robert Rimmer, age 27, of Calloway in Bell County, was arrested on a warrant taken out by Ranger King and Fire Control Technician Robert West, Peabody. Commissioner Clore fined Rimmer $50 and sentenced him to 20 days in jail. Both the fine and jail sentence were suspended.

A 17 year old Leslie County youth was convicted of setting two forest fires on Government land. He received a fine of $100.00. Also two Laurel County youths have been convicted of reckless operation of a motor vehicle in a developed recreation site on the Daniel Boone National Forest. The offense occurred on June 13 in the Bee Rock Recreation Area located on Lake Cumberland on the Somerset Ranger District.

The area is a popular spot for campers, picnickers, fishermen and boaters. The youths were fined $30 each and sentenced to 10 days in jail on June 25, by U.S. Commissioner C.R. Luker, London. Both the fine and sentence were suspended, and they were placed on probation for six months.

Under terms of the probation, the youths must keep up U.S. Forest Service property. Criminal Investigator William G. Dixon, Winchester, assisted Ranger King of Manchester and Ranger Harilee of Somerset, in the investigation and apprehension of the offenders.

Democratic Party Stalwart . . .

Henry Carter Claimed

Henry H. Carter who never failed to carry Rowan and all area counties during his 24 years as a state official in Frankfort, died last Wednesday morning in Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington, following an extended illness.

Carter, recognized as one of the "learned and astute" politicians of the Franklin Roosevelt through John Kennedy era, was known as the "banker's friend" and had many relatives in Morehead, Rowan and adjacent areas.

He was 66 years of age. Carter submitted to surgery June 11 for a hemorrhaging ulcer, and for a time improved gradually. But hemorrhaging started again Tuesday night, and death came early the next morning.

Mr. Carter was born August 30, 1903 at Malone, Morgan County, a son of Bill Carter of West Liberty, and the late Alice Wells Carter.

Long a stalwart Democrat leader, he had been elected four times to state offices after serving as State Banking Commissioner through appointment by Gov. Earle C. Clements.

He was first elected Secretary of State, then State Treasurer, again Secretary of State, and six years ago as State Auditor. He retired from public service at the end of his term as State Auditor two years ago.

Carter started a career in banking, and served for a time as teller in the Commercial Bank in West Liberty. Later he was connected with the Peoples Bank in Winchester, and was serving as cashier of that bank when he was appointed State Banking Commissioner by Gov. Clements in 1944.

Funeral was conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Church in West Liberty, and interment was in Salyer cemetery there.

He married the former Alma Jones of Cannel City, who preceded him in death about two years ago.

He is survived by his father, Bill Carter of West Liberty, by a daughter, Mrs. Alice Carter Middleton of Lexington, and a son, John Scott Carter, formerly of Morehead, now residing at Lexington.

LITSEY PAPERS WILL BE AVAILABLE AT UNIVERSITY

The papers of Edwin Carlisle Litsey, poet laureate of Kentucky—an honor shared with Jesse Stuart of Greenup—have been given to the University of Kentucky.

Several unpublished poems, original manuscripts, letters and personal notes are included in the documents currently being classified by Charles Atcher, University archivist.

Atcher said the papers soon will be made available to researchers and others interested in the former Lebanon banker, his poetry, and the picture of Kentucky they reflect.

Today, nearly 2 out of every 5 American workers are women. Most of these women are married, and half are over 39 years old.

Let's face it, Bank Credit Cards can't do everything.

Bank Credit Cards can't put pie in the sky or chicken in every pot. They can't even make money grow on trees.

Yet there are some people who would try to tell you that credit cards actually cause inflation.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. Because, using the example we're most familiar with, BankAmericard® helps merchants save money by reducing the operating costs of bookkeeping and credit services. The tendency is for merchants to pass this saving along to the customer. So when the increasing costs of labor, materials and services are pushing prices upward, the net effect of credit cards is a stabilizing one.

Bank Credit Cards don't burn holes in peoples' pockets, either.

Based on our experiences with BankAmericard, it appears that most cardholders tend to use a Bank Credit Card as a budgeting tool; a way to both watch and control spending. Each month, cardholders can see on a single, itemized statement exactly how much was spent. If spending has been higher than the budget permits, they spend less.

And, despite what you may have heard, a lost or stolen card can't put you in the poorhouse.

Technically speaking, you are not liable for any unauthorized purchases made with your card if the loss or theft is reported to the bank within forty-eight hours of its occurrence.

However, when we made BankAmericard available to people in the Morehead area, we wanted to make certain that it was a safe, convenient means of credit.

Not a liability.

So, in the many months that Morehead area families have had BankAmericards in their hands issued by the Citizens Bank, not a one of them has had to pay when, or if, their card fell into the wrong hands.

Now let's talk about what Bank Credit Cards can do.

We feel that Bank Credit Cards, especially BankAmericard, have had quite an influence.

We don't call the Citizens BankAmericard the Smart Money+ for nothing. It has brought a new sophistication and accuracy to budgeting for thousands of families.

BankAmericard is used by millions coast to coast. It's honored in many foreign countries for nearly every type of purchase imaginable.

It can be a special help in an emergency when you need cash. And it can even help you save money when there's a good sale and you're low on cash.

BankAmericard provides more convenient spending; less need for cash and checks and a smart way to control spending. Yet, for all that it can do, it costs absolutely nothing to get a BankAmericard.

As we said before, thousands of Morehead Area families are enjoying the benefits, advantages and conveniences of BankAmericard. If you don't have one, it may be because we accidently missed you the first time around. That's no problem, because it's easy to apply for a BankAmericard. Just pick up the simplified application form at any BankAmericard merchant's or at the Citizens Bank. Then complete it and send it in.

Now we know there's been some confusion about Bank Credit Cards. We hope this message has helped clarify the situation. And, above all, we hope that we're satisfying you, the consumer. We encourage you to write, giving us your opinion about BankAmericard. Your letter will be held in confidence.

Burglaries and checks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Double check your checks if your home or office has been burglarized. If they're missing, contact your bank at once. In the past year alone, there has been a fourfold increase in the passing of forged stolen checks, according to John J. Jansen, a Bureau Detective Agency official. Jansen edited the "Protective Bulletin," national monthly publication that alerts police and businessmen to the identities and operations of worthless check passers.

The second story man's newest gimmick is to steal the check book blanks, along with cancelled checks and monthly statements showing the pattern of balances, deposits and withdrawals. The paper is as negotiable with fences, or stolen goods receivers, as other booty. Usually the stolen checks are purchased and passed by professional forgers.

The burglars often tear blank checks from the back of the book, hopeful to delay discovery of the loss. Frovied with the statements and cancelled checks for perfect signature samples, the forgers know just how much they can write checks for with virtual impunity. Some victims don't realize the checks are missing until the next month's bank statement is received, says Jansen. With any where up to a month in which to operate, the thieves can pass the checks and be in another locality long before the forgeries can be traced. Mr. Jansen advises businesses to lock up the checks and statements with other valuables at night and recommends that individuals make them as inaccessible to burglars as possible.

Freezer tip UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — The floor space available is the main consideration in choosing either an upright or a chest-type freezer. Mrs. Ruth J. Buck, extension food and nutrition specialist at the Pennsylvania State University says there is little difference between the two in cost of operation. The size freezer you buy will depend on the size of your family now and whether the number of persons at home will change in the next five to 10 years.
