Dick Clay Gets Scar When Arm Becomes Infected

Poison Ivy Cure Worse Than Disease, Says County Attorney

Dick Clay returned from the hospital in Lexington Monday after a more or less harrowing experience in which the infection of his arm was almost a reality.

It all came about when our plump and genial County Attorney contracted poisoning from poison ivy. He took a shot in the arm to counteract the poison, and the poison from the shot effected his entire arm. On the advice of his doctors, he entered the hospital for treatment and, fortunately for him, obtained relief. Doctors told him later that if he had not obtained relief at the time he did, it would have been necessary to amputate his arm.

Mort May Makes A Statement

MORT MAY, World War Veteran, Eighteen Months Overseas

Mort May, World War Veteran, Eighteen Months Overseas

For several weeks my announcement for Sheriff of Rowan County has been printed in the proper space in the Rowan County News.

Now that the election is drawing near, I ask that each and all of you give me a chance to serve you as your Sheriff. I was honored by your faith and confidence in me when you elected me as your Sheriff in 1933, and I have at all times endeavored to so live that nothing would cause you to lose that confidence in me.

As I told you in my formal announcement, I wish to stand upon my past record as a conscientious, honest, sober, moral public servant, and if I am nominated and elected again to this office, I pledge you an efficient and capable administration of the duties of the office of Sheriff. My past experience in this field will enable me to give you even better service as an officer, and upon this platform I ask your serious consideration of my candidacy, subject to the action of the Democratic Party at the Primary to be held on Saturday, August Second, 1941.

Sincerely yours,
MORT MAY.

Rattler, Copperhead United To Obstruct Defense Program

Ray Falcy came to the News office on Monday of this week and set a Bee Flag, but the thing that would amount to the same thing had it been that must have been the grand puppy of all rattle snakes.

The rattler gave up nineteen rattles and a button. According to Ray who is not given to telling snake stories, he was mowing night-owls on the forest trail, when he felt something squaring under his feet. He was standing on Grandfather Rattler. Fortunately his feet were planted near the head. Net 200 yards away, William Drake located a copperhead at him and caught his overall leg, missing Drake by inches. Needless say there was one copperhead less in the world, and it wasn't Lindberg.

Bundles For Britain Are Nessecary Help

The War still goes on in Britain, and still whether we want to or try to mind ourselves it gets closer and ever closer to these United States. There are still a few who say to themselves and to others that this is not our war, that we are not in it, and that we won't get in it. Those people are blind, or ignorant or both. We are in this war, now, up to our necks and over our heads. What happens in England is as much our concern and our worry as if it had happened on our own doorstep in our own back yards. It is as vital to us here in the United States as if we were actually in embattled England. And only those who do not wish to see it are so blinded.

And so it is the real work that the Red Cross Production committee is doing is of vital importance to us in America as well as in England. For the women of America are by their help stretching out their hands and their hearts to the women and children in the British Isles. If you extending to them aid of a practical sort that is doing more than merely clothe their bodies, and hourly, that America is on the fight, that America is on

Ellis Johnson Is Star Of Home Team In Slag Of Visitors

The Clearfield baseball team while it has not necessarily been setting the world on fire with victories lately, piled up enough scores Sunday at Clearfield, to offset any losses they may have sustained, to defeat Sharpburg by a top-heavy score of 24 to 10. Ellis Johnson was the Joe DiMaggio of the game, slugging out hits as fast as he came to bat. Clearfield has won four games and lost six in the season. The game was played under protest from the visitors. As Johnson was a recent addition to the Clearfield lineup and the visitors objected, however, Clearfield intends to continue using him as Continued On Page Three

QUESTION—I agree with you that man is saved through faith in Christ, but is it not true that in order to be secure, he must complete his obedience by baptism? ANSWER—You say in your question, "I agree with you that man is saved through faith in Christ, but is it not true that in order to be secure, he must complete his obedience by baptism?"

ordinances which set forth the same truth, namely, the death and resurrection of our Lord. They are for the purpose of presenting this truth through symbol, and not for the purpose of saving anyone. Baptism sets forth the legal status of the believer with God, namely, that he has been judged by God to be as justified from all sin, and that Jesus, our substitute, has borne all our sin for us. That God no longer charges sin against us, for we have been freed from it by the death and resurrection of our Lord. When a man gives with faith against himself, thus God holds nothing against the justified man. Since it represents our legal state with God, it is not for the believer only, but for all who believe in our Lord Jesus Christ.

The Lord's supper sets forth in preschment, the same truth of death and resurrection of our Lord. It is repeated again and again, because it teaches that whereas, we are legally dead to sin as set forth in baptism, we are dying in the old life and living in the new life every day in our practical experiences.

Our participation in these symbols is our declaration to the world that we have been judged legally dead in God's sight, and are no longer responsible for sin, since Jesus died to set them aside, and that we are through the Spirit of our Lord, being put to death daily and made alive daily in the Spirit of God. All of this is ours by the Word of God, through the work of Christ on the Cross, and made alive daily in the Spirit of God in our experience, through the Spirit of Christ which works in us daily.

To Avoid Lightning.
Lightning is dangerous. Every wise farm boy or girl considers it so, and does not needlessly make himself or herself a target for it. Here are some rules to remember:
1. Indoors is a safer place than outdoors.
2. If caught outdoors don't seek shelter under a tree especially if it stands alone.
3. Oak, pines, and rough bark trees are most often hit.
4. Don't wade water. Water is a good conductor of electricity and increases the chances of advantage of dry places. You are safer in shoes if not water soaked, than when barefooted. Don't swim during a thunder storm.
5. Avoid wire fences and other metal objects.
6. Don't plow or hoe, or play

NOW A 5-DAY WEEK FOR A&P EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT THE NATION

Stores Will Be Open Six Days A Week As Usual But No Employee Will Work More Than Five Days

Two months ago this company tried the experiment in a few eastern states of a five-day work week for our retail store employees. Now we are able to announce that we have adopted the five-day week as our national policy.

- This, we believe, constitutes the shortest general working hours of any major retail food establishment.
- This shorter work week will be in effect before Labor Day in A&P food stores in thousands of communities throughout the country. It will be extended as far as possible. Frankly, however, we must recognize that in a few states and a number of cities the introduction of this policy may be delayed or even prevented by state or local labor regulations or local agreements.
- A&P food store employees affected by this policy will work only five days a week although stores will be open six days a week as usual. Their weekly salaries will not be reduced by their shorter work week. Our policy is to continually improve working conditions and salaries as evidenced by the fact that during the past year alone we have been able to make actual wage increases and to pay added compensation to our employees in an amount totaling more than $4,000,000.
- Many people are utterly astounded at the new low prices for quality foods in A&P Super Markets. They are getting so much more and better food for the same money, that they wonder how we can do it. Frankly, it is simply because A&P Super Markets represent a new, more efficient, more economical way of distributing food to the public.
- This new, shorter week is still further evidence that the tremendous savings you can now make in buying groceries, meats and fresh fruits and vegetables in the great, new A&P Super Markets are made possible by savings through efficiency and that no part of these savings comes out of the wages of our employees.

For many years it has been a source of pride to us that we have been able generally to maintain the highest average wage scale and the shortest general working hours in a field where long hours have been traditional. Since we first cut the work week eight hours in 1916, there has been a long record of further reduction in hours, increases in wages and vacation schedules.

Because our new low prices have resulted in increased patronage, we have been able to further reduce our operating costs and increase our efficiency and still further improve the working conditions of our employees.

At the same time thousands of families will testify that they buy their foods today at lower average prices in A&P Super Markets than in any group of stores in the highly competitive retail food field. Today, when you spend a dollar in one of our stores, more of that dollar actually purchases food and less of it goes to cover distribution costs and profits than ever before in the history of the food business.

There is no conflict between low prices and good working conditions. We have achieved both by constantly improving methods of bringing food from producer to consumer, cutting out waste and unnecessary handling operations along the distribution route.

The new A&P Super Markets have made possible savings so astounding that we would not have believed them possible five years ago. This year we are paying the highest wages for the shortest work week in the history of the food business and yet our customers throughout the country will save more than $50,000,000 on the food they buy as compared to the lowest prices we could charge on the basis of our own operating expense only five years ago.

We are more than ever conscious, in these unusual times, of an obligation to make every possible contribution to the American standard of living. We know that we are making it possible for the average family to buy more good food for the same money, or to buy the same quantity of food for less money.

We are happy to tell you that you can enjoy these savings with the knowledge that the people who serve you in our retail stores are sharing more than ever before in these good things. This means a better standard of living for you and for those who serve you.

This plan will necessitate slight adjustments in store hours which will be announced locally. We respectfully ask our customers for their cooperation and assistance in making this new schedule a success.
