Morehead Included In Drug Probe

A special squad of State Police detectives, headed by Capt. Algin S. Roberts, will work closely with federal and local officers in a drive against narcotic violators.

Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman said the goal will be to ferret out and arrest the persons behind the dope traffic.

It has been determined that outside Louisville, the dope rings concentrate in University communities such as Morehead, Bowling Green and Murray.

The maximum of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine was meted out in the May Rowan Circuit Court, first case tried here.

It is also known that special undercover agents are stationed in the "known" drug dispensing centers, including Morehead . . . and there are "known" users; and officers are close to the selling and transporting outlets. Arrests may be forthcoming, an informal source today advised the Morehead News.

The district State Police barracks is located at Morehead and some of the special "drug and dope" detective squad is working out of these barracks.

Governor Nunn and Commissioner Newman recently announced the creation of the Criminal Investigative Command, replacing the Bureau of Investigation, and placing more emphasis on crime fighting.

The governor said the step "recognizes for the first time that State Police troopers have a responsibility in the area of criminal investigations equal to that of their traffic-related activities."

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT SCHEDULES VISIT TO ROWAN COUNTY

The Kentucky mobile chest x-ray unit will be at the Rowan County Health Department, West Sun Street, Morehead, Tuesday, October 6.

Hours of operation will be 10 a.m. until 12 noon and 1 until 3 p.m.

Any citizen is eligible for the x-rays without charge.

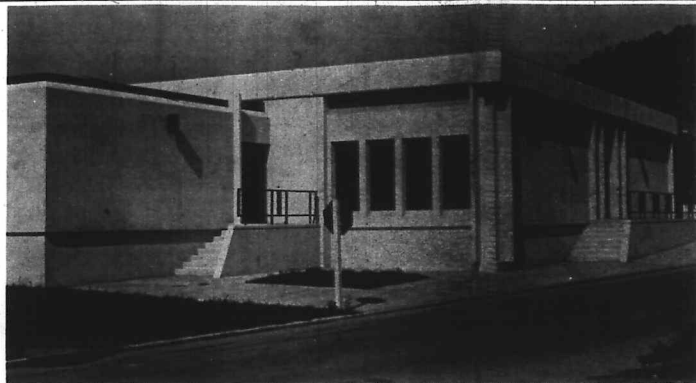

No appointment is necessary . . . all you have to do is show up at the place and time above listed, the Rowan County Department of Health reported.

Propose Changes In Liquor Laws

Following a series of letter writing, conferences, and perhaps some misunderstanding or lack of communication, the Kentucky Alcoholic Beverage Control (ABC) Board this week began hearings on possible changes in the liquor laws.

Proponents said the proposals represent a crackdown on bootlegging, gambling and prostitution.

The hearings center around these points -
+ Limiting each customer's purchase to one case of liquor and three cases of beer during any seven-day period "proposes an arbitrary limitation" on the consumer and would not serve the "professed purpose" of curtailing sales by licensed retailers to bootleggers for resale in dry territories.
+ Eliminating "obscene, lewd, improper

New Rowan Library Construction Almost Complete

This is the new half-million dollar Morehead-Rowan County library soon to be dedicated near the heart of the business district. It became a reality when a sufficient number of citizens signed a petition making it mandatory that Fiscal Court place an additional tax of 4½ cents on each $100 assessment. Federal and state funds supplemented the local effort. This is recognized as one of Kentucky's finest community libraries, and Morehead is expected to become the regional library center for this part of Kentucky. Bookmobiles will also be headquartered at this building.

Losing Their Licenses . . .

Drunk Driving Crackdown

Further evidence of the crackdown on drunken drivers and other traffic violations came during the week as the Traffic Coordinating Council in Frankfort reported five Rowan drivers had their licenses either revoked or suspended. They are - Larry Joe Myhriar, 24, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until Mar. 8, 1971.
Curtis Lee Trent, 27, Elliottville, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until Mar. 3, 1971.
Donald Dee Skaggs, 39, Elliottville, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until Mar. 3, 1971.
Richard Dale Myhriar, 28, RFD 4,

Morehead, driving under influence of alcohol, and operating motor vehicle while license under suspension, revoked until Mar. 3, 1971.

Oral Glenwood Moody, 47, RFD 1, Morehead, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until July 23, 1971.

The Council noted the ages of the drivers; and that all five had been convicted for drunken driving.

One driver lost his license this week in Morgan City: Robert Woodford Howard, 45, making false application, suspended until May 1, 1971.

The license of Eaton Earl Dixon, 67, Trinity, was revoked until Feb. 20, 1971, on conviction of drunk driving.

Losing his license until May 15, 1971 was Harold Thomas Light, Flemingsburg, for driving under the influence of alcohol, and operating vehicle while license had been suspended.

Others in the immediate area on which action was taken during the week -
Roger Luther Davis, 22, Soldier, driving under the influence of alcohol, revoked until Feb. 18, 1971.

Willis Roy Jessie, 26, RFD 4, Olive Hill, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until Feb. 23, 1971.

WILLIS ROY JESSIE, 26, RFD 4, Olive Hill, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until Feb. 23, 1971.

VIKING BOOSTER CLUB MEETS THIS EVENING

The Rowan County Vikings Booster Club will meet this (Thursday), evening at 7:30 at the City Hall.

Plans will be made for a cook-out for the Vikings football team, and committees appointed for the projects scheduled this year.

Unwelcome Christmas Present

Rowan Tax Re-Assessment Being Expedited But Mandatory And Statutory Delays Are Obvious; Fiscal Court Must Adopt The New Rate

'Santa Claus may deliver Rowan Counties a present this year they won't welcome - a tax bill.

Ordinarily, these tax bills are mailed in August with a two percent discount if paid by Nov. 1.

But, all of Rowan County is being re-assessed this year on orders of Kentucky Revenue Commissioner James E. Lockett.

Lockett charged that the elected Tax Evaluator (Commissioner) Mrs. Juanita Wilson, a wheel-chair patient, was not doing an acceptable job, and for the first time employed a section of the Kentucky statute whereby agents from his department took over her office.

Mrs. Wilson later resigned.

Work Being Expedited

Virgil Phillips, appointed by Lockett to head the complete re-assessment of all tangible and intangible property, conceded to the Morehead News this morning: "If everything proceeds on schedule the tax bills may be ready for mailing (and collecting) by the Sheriff by Christmas or before New Years day. (The date is important because taxes can be deducted from federal and state income tax returns only in the year when they were paid).

A veteran crew is assisting Phillips in the re-assessment, he said: "This has been the toughest job in my life . . . the records were in very poor condition." He specifically cited many instances.

Phillips said the assessment of Morehead has been completed and "we have part of the county finished." He thought the entire assessment could be completed by late October or early November.

Delays Are Statutory

But, certain steps, all statutory, must be followed before the job is finished. They include -

+After the assessment is finished an appeal board must be appointed, and any taxpayer has the right to appeal before this group.

+The final assessment is then certified to Fiscal Court.

+After reviewing the certified assessment fiscal court must set a new tax rate which cannot exceed the total amount of money collected on the same property last year. (It is on this point that Lockett and Phillips think there has been the most misunderstanding.)

+The County Court Clerk prepares the tax bills after the rate is set by Fiscal Court and then turns them over to Sheriff Carl Jones for collection.

Many of these mandatory steps have to be advertised in the Morehead News. Also, the law specifies in certain instances, waiting and meeting periods. These are the reasons why the tax bills might not be ready for Christmas although the work is being expedited.

Phillips said it is obvious that many taxpayers will receive a reduction; others will pay more; and the overall rate will be lowered by Fiscal Court.

Rowan Judge Ott Caldwell, Fiscal Court, and County Attorney James E. Clay requested Commissioner Lockett to take the drastic re-assessment step. They said that this year (1970) is the last whereby Fiscal Court cannot legally collect more, in dollars and cents, than last year . . . and, in their petition set out that "if we don't act now, the sky could hereafter be the limit." Lockett and Phillips said this is correct.

Motor Vehicles Omitted

However, Phillips emphasized that more taxes will be collected "because there are many, many omissions." Specifically, he said that when he took over the office, only 300 mobile homes were on the tax lists. "We have already found more than 700 which means over 400 were paying no taxes."

Some property has been located that wasn't on the tax billings. Phillips also said that many automobiles and trucks did not appear on the tax lists. He did not give the number but said, "Considerable, including many large trucks."

With aerial and other maps, plus an on-the-spot photographing of part of the county, particularly Morehead, Phillips said that scores of discrepancies have been uncovered. Many of these comes under "new" taxes.

Also added are many new buildings and improvements during the year which he said Mrs. Wilson had mostly included, but they result in more tax revenue. He cited such examples of a new Holiday Inn, a new Morehead News building, new gasoline service stations, new homes etc.

One of the major tasks faces Fiscal Court in setting the new tax rate which is certain to be lower than that now in existence. Rowan Counties presently pay 77.7 cents on each $100 assessment. This is distributed as follows: schools 56.3 cents; county government 12.4 cents; library 4.5 cents; health 3 cents; and state 15 cents. The health tax was voted by the people.

Races For School Board Developing

Application By Clinic Withdrawn

An application by Cave Run Clinic for construction of a new and modern two-story clinic building at the rear of St. Claire Medical Center was withdrawn Monday afternoon.

The hearing before the Morehead Zoning Adjustment Board of which Randy Wells is Chairman was scheduled Tuesday evening.

The area is zoned Residential One (R-1). Some residents in the Cecil Drive neighborhood complained the clinic would create traffic problems and congestion.

Plans submitted by the doctors called for a two-story building with about 6,000 floor feet on each floor. It also provided parking on property to be purchased from Jack and Peaches Cecil.

Besides the four physicians who made the application, it was anticipated that other specialists in the medical profession would be attracted to Morehead, and adequate office etc. space was provided for them in the submitted architectural plans.

Dr. Warren H. Proudfoot heads Cave Run Clinic, presently housed in two-frame buildings (converted homes) on 2nd street next to the hospital. His associates are Dr. J. Hunter Black, Dr. Richard W. Carpenter, and Dr. Robert D. Schoffstall.

They set out in the petition that the clinic

Fouch, Lake, Proudfoot Have Filed For Posts

Controversy, brewing in the Rowan County school system for months, and particularly since the teachers strike of February, and later ousting of Rowan County High Principal Sherman Arnett, has obviously flared in the open and, in a sense, become a decision of the voters in the November general election.

Allen L. Lake entered the race for one of the Board of Education Posts at 3:30 Monday afternoon, last (five days) already filed in this district are incumbent Sam Litton, Jr., and Dr. Warren H. Proudfoot.

Precincts in this school district are No. 6: Brassy; No. 10: North Morehead; and No. 11: Thomas Addition.

Already filed in another district are incumbent Willard Calvert and Burl Fouch. Precincts in this school division are: No. 1: Courthouse; No. 4: Elliottville; and No. 5: Rouben.

Long-time Supt. Clifford Cassidy is openly supporting the incumbents - Litton and Calvert.

Contests Are Heated

The dissidents, obviously including part of the Rowan County High School Boosters Club, oppose Litton and Calvert.

(The Publishers Pen, elsewhere in this issue, predicts that either Dr. Proudfoot or Mr. Lake will withdraw).

For more than 100 years veteran Kentucky politicians concede the most heated and bitterest races usually develop for the school boards . . . or in the old days for school committees wherever a public school, including the one room type, were located.

The situation in the above listed six Rowan precincts appears to bear out this bitterness and difference of opinion.

Three Are Hold-Over Members

However, even if those opposing Cassidy should win, the Superintendent obviously would retain control, at least until January of 1973.

There are three hold-over members on the Board whose terms do not expire until 1973 and they have supported Supt. Cassidy on every policy issue. The hold-overs are Board Chairman Fred Calvert, James Butler and D. C. Kieley.

Part of the "division of opinion" may have been developing over the past two years centering around University Breckinridge Grade and High School.

University Breckinridge is a part of Morehead State University, and was created, and is operated, to train classroom teachers.

Place It In Fall . . .

Nitrogen On Grass

Now is a splendid time to apply fertilizers if additional fall and winter grazing is needed, according to University of Kentucky College of Agriculture soil expert Dr. Kenneth L. Wells and forage expert Warren C. Thompson.

For straight green pastures which are to be kept in straight grass through 1971 and beyond, the UK experts recommend topdressing with up to 70 pounds actual N per acre in late August or early September. Livestock should then be kept off fescue fields until 3 to 5 days after the first big frost. Why? According to the UK spokesmen, research in Kentucky has shown that sugar content of fescue more than doubles quickly after frost. This increases the nutritional quality of fescue and is the reason farmers have observed that livestock eat fescue better after a frost than before. Sugar content of orchardgrass and bluegrass also increases after frost but not to the extent of fescue.

By increasing growth with the use of fall applied nitrogen, farmers can increase production of a nutritious forage which will provide more days of fall and winter grazing. Farmers should not forget to apply lime, phosphate and potash when soil tests show they are needed.

For pastures where legumes have gone out and renovation is planned this winter, Wells and Thompson recommend topdressing with 25 to 50 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre in the form of mixed fertilizer which will also supply the phosphate and potash for the upcoming renovation with clover.

Catholic hospitals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—

About 5.5 million patients of all races and creeds—more than half of them non-Catholic—were admitted to the nation's 796 Catholic hospitals in 1969, reports the Catholic Hospital Association (CHA).

This was an increase of more than 100,000 admissions over the previous year, according to CHA, whose members account for almost one out of every three beds available in the nation's hospitals.

An important trend was toward more beds in fewer but more efficient hospitals, said CHA, reporting that while mergers and closings during 1969 reduced the number of Catholic hospitals by 19, the total beds available increased by 1,100 to 159,600.

Three Eagle Teams Will Be In Action During The Week

Morehead State University athletic teams will be in action on three fronts this Saturday.

Couch Jake Hallum's football squad heads south to Murfreesboro, Tenn. in search of its first victory. Middle Tennessee is the opposition in the 7:30 p.m. clash which opens the Ohio Valley Conference race for both teams.

The grid Eagles dropped their opener, 17-7, to Marshall last weekend. "We're going to try to bounce back," said Hallum of the upcoming MTSU encounter.

Dr. Mohammed Sabie's soccer team entertains Berea College in a 2 p.m. match at Brecht Sports Center. His Eagles are 2-0 for the year after last Saturday's 4-2 conquest of Murray on the road.

Sophomore fullback John Kurtz scored two goals and single markers were added by sophomore halfback Ray Kopka and freshman wingman Dale Provost.

"We had an excellent, all around team effort at Murray and I'm expecting a good match with Berea," Dr. Sabie said.

Morehead State's cross country team, led by senior three-year letterman Dan Price, opens its season at 10 a.m. Saturday against Ashland College.

The home meet will be staged at the Eagles' new six-mile course at the MSU Experimental Farm on Ky. 377, six miles north of Morehead. It replaced a 4.5-mile circuit at the MSU Golf Course.

Elderly People To Participate In Forum Saturday

A forum meeting for the elderly of Rowan County and this area is scheduled for this Saturday (Sept. 26) at 1:00 p.m. and Rev. John C. Thornberry has been selected as coordinator of this gathering and the local organization. The meeting will be at the Clearfield Elementary School.

Rev. Thornberry said: "Older people will describe their needs at the Clearfield meeting."

"Never before and possibly not again for many years to come will the voices of elderly people be raised to describe the needs, hopes and aspirations of older people. All forum participants will complete a questionnaire asking what they as Older Americans need."

"Not only older people but all adults, professionals serving the aging, government officials, everyone aging or concerned over someone else aging, should be involved in the Forum proceedings."

"The Kentucky Commission on Aging is responsible for coordinating 150 forums across the state, of which the one at Clearfield is included."

Togetherness . . .

The Harris Sisters

When it comes to colleges and summer jobs, the Harris sisters of Olive Hill really believe in togetherness.

Callie, Connie and Cathie Harris all are enrolled at Morehead State University and sister Cindie, a junior at Olive Hill High, plans to attend MSU in 1972.

The four sisters also agree on good places to work in the summer. All were employed by the same restaurant this summer in Petersburg, Va. An uncle's home became their "dormitory" for the summer.

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Harris of Olive Hill.

Callie, 20, is the oldest. She is majoring in special education at MSU. Connie, 18, is studying biology and Cathie, 17, has chosen art. Both are freshmen. Cindie, 16, doesn't yet know what she'll study at MSU.

Each coed is a good student. Cathie has won two academic scholarships. The three now at Morehead State are considered likely candidates for Dean's List honors.

The first of the sisters to work in Petersburg was Callie in 1968. She stayed home in 1969 but sent Connie and Cathie. All three returned this summer and took Cindie with them. They worked as waitresses and apparently made quite a hit with their boss. "They're the politest group of girls I've ever had work here," said Will Nunnally, the restaurant manager. "For their ages, they're really mature."

The sisters have a brother, 15-year-old Tommie, a sophomore at Olive Hill High. "We might take him back with us next summer," said Cathie. "And he's already convinced that Morehead State is the right place," added Callie.

London has theater for youngsters

By GREGORY JENSEN

LONDON (UPI) — It took 115 years for Britain's National Theater to be born. Now, at the age of only seven, the National seems to be taking over the town.

There is the National Theater at the Old Vic, the famous Shakespearean theater which has been the National's home since its first production in 1963.

There is the National Theater at the Cambridge, a downtown theater far larger than the Vic, which the company now occupies full time with productions which play both buildings.

There is the vast hole in the ground at the foot of Waterloo Bridge, proudly bearing "The National Theater" signs. The thrusting foundations of this multi-million dollar building will bear the National's permanent home.

And now comes the latest offshoot — the Young Vic, an ultra-sophisticated theater for children.

The Young Vic was dedicated formally by a cast headed by Dame Sybil Thormike, the Grand Old Lady of the British stage.

The idea of a national theatrical company, for the nation of Shakespeare was first mooted in 1848. Charles Dickens wrote in support of it. Winston Churchill spoke in support of it in 1906. These sites were bought, then sold. Queen Elizabeth, the Queen Mother, laid a foundation stone in 1951. It was later moved.

Not until 1962, after a final government go-ahead, was the National Theater board founded. Its first chairman, Lord Chandos, presided at opening ceremonies for the Young Vic.

Frank Dunlop, the National's administrative director and the guiding spirit behind the Young Vic, spoke of it as "a place where we can stage a sort of fireworks display of the arts in order to provide young people."

The bare-bones building, set up at a cost of only $60,000 ($144,000), seats 450 spectators on three sides of a jutting acting arena. The acting area is extremely variable, but any one of all the seats can be re-moved to make the whole theater the stage.

There are a coffee bar with jukebox, a vast rehearsal room and all the paraphernalia of a much more elaborate theater structure.

In it, the casts from the Old Vic down the street have planned an ambitious program of classics and new plays.

Visiting companies also will use the Young Vic, beginning with an import from Texas as a "multi-media rock musical" called "Stomp."

At the opening under the bare bulbs and exposed lighting scaffolding, Lord Olivier, who as Sir Laurence Olivier has been the National Theater's first and only director, contributed an ode, a bit of doggerel by Lord Byron out of Ogden Nash.

Dame Sybil lectured one and all on how to use an open stage. Lord Eccles, the Paymaster General, Lord Chandos and Dunlop spoke their good wishes for the new project, and the National Theater's spreading tree officially grew another branch.

Commissioner's Sale
The Commonwealth of Kentucky,
Rowan Circuit Court
Oddie Forman and wife,
Sue Forman
Plaintiffs
Paul Forman, et al.
Defendant

NOTICE OF SALE
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rowan Circuit Court rendered at the August 28 Special Term thereof, 1970, in the above cause, and its cost rendered I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in the City of Morehead, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction on the 28th day of September, 1970, at One O'clock P.M., or thereabout, upon a credit of Six (6) months, with privilege to purchaser to pay the following described property, to-wit:

"A certain tract or parcel of land lying in the County of Rowan and State of Kentucky, on the waters of the Lower Lick Fork of the North Fork and bounded as follows: BEGINNING on a small black fence on the East side of the creek; thence a straight line to a set stone a corner to Forman's land; thence a straight line a North course to a set stone; thence north 77° 20' poles to a small white oak; thence north 26° poles on the point; thence running up the point meandering the ridge; thence North 35° W. 10 poles to a black pine; thence North 35° W. 20 poles to a white oak; north 65° west 26 poles to a hickory and spotted oak; North 30° west 32 poles to a white oak; North 16° west 46 poles to a hickory; thence North 74° west to a white oak; thence an East course to an ash in the head of a branch a corner of Forman's; thence an East course to a cedar tree on the top of the cliff; thence south to a hickory and white oak; thence with Forman's line to a walnut on the west side of the County Road; thence a straight line to the beginning, corner containing 40 acres, more or less."

Being the same lands as conveyed by W. S. Utkerback, et al., to Mary Ann Forman, by deed dated December 24, 1967, and recorded in Deed Book 14, at Pages Numbered 58-59, of the Rowan County Records.

Or sufficient thereof to produce the sum of money to be made to be made to the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond, with approved securities, bearing date and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be required to comply promptly with these terms.

Bill Bradley Again
Wins M'head Club
Golf Tournament

Bill Bradley again reigned as club champion at the University Golf Course at Morehead.

A former winner (1966), Bradley easily defeated Rick Collis (the 1968 champion) 4 & 6 in match play to capture the title for the second time.

Bradley had defeated the defending champion, Jim Caudill, 2 & 1, and Ray Wilkerson, 1 up, to reach the championship while Collis had beaten medalist Don Caudill, 1 up, on his way to the final.

In other flights, Sonny Allen ousted Bill Daniel on the 19th hole to capture the first flight; R. Playforth defeated J. Robinson, 5 and 3 in the second flight; and Lee Moore defeated Lewis Barnes, 4 and 3 in the third flight.

The American Hospital Association reports that two early tests of Medicare have been an increase in the average length of hospital stay and an increase in the average hospital occupancy rate.

Thompson explained this way: "A disabling illness or injury which has lasted or is expected to last 12 months or more is the basis of a claim for disability benefits. If the disability occurs before a person reaches age 21, even a relatively short period of time worked under social security may be enough to qualify the young man or woman for monthly payments."

Thompson's advice to young persons: "If you are disabled and have ever worked under social security, call or write your social security office."

The Ashland office is located at 1826 Carter Avenue. The telephone number is 325-7666, and a phone call in advance may save a trip to the office or perhaps a long wait after getting there.

NOTICE

Commissioner's Sale
The Commonwealth of Kentucky,
Rowan Circuit Court

Talmadge Ray Lewis, Jr.
and Deborah V. Lewis versus
Richard E. Lewis, et al.
Plaintiff.
Defendant.

NOTICE OF SALE
By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Rowan Circuit Court rendered at the September 4, Special Term thereof 1970, in the above cause, and its cost therein I shall proceed to offer for sale on the premises one mile, approximately from the Village of Clearfield, to the highest and best bidder, at public auction on the 26th day of September 1970, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., or thereabout, upon a credit of six (6) months, or the purchaser may pay cash in hand if he so desires, the following described property, to-wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land, containing 258.8 acres, in Rowan County, Kentucky, on the Dry Creek road, about one mile from the Village of Clearfield, Kentucky, which has been divided into eight

(8) tracts. Each tract will be sold separately and after the sale price of the eight tracts is combined, said tract will be offered for sale as a whole, and said tract will be sold in the manner it will produce the most money. This being all the land owned by Talmadge Ray Lewis, Sr., and wife at the time of their deaths, and is all the remaining land conveyed to Talmadge Lewis and wife, Jeanie Lewis, by E. D. Cornwell and wife, by deed dated December 26, 1944, recorded in Deed Book 55, page 232, Rowan County records, and also the tract of land conveyed to Talmadge Lewis, Sr., by the Rowan County Board of Education, by deed of dated September 4, 1959, recorded in Deed Book 71, page 239, Rowan County records.

Said eight (8) tracts are described as on the attached sheets.
For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond, with approved securities, bearing legal interest from the date of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Outpatients On Increase

Out patient hospital visits have been increasing at a faster rate than inpatient days, according to a survey by the American Hospital Association. In the decade of the '60's outpatients visits increased by 71 percent while inpatient days increased 48 percent.

FIRST EAGLE PRINT DELIVERED... Morehead State University President Adron Doran (center) and Lexington wildlife artist Gene Gray (left) present the first print of the MSU Bald Eagle to Gov. Louie B. Nunn (right) at the Capitol in Frankfort, Commissioned by the MSU Board of Regents and painted by Gray as the university's official symbol, the Eagle is being offered in a limited edition to friends and alumni. Prints are available from the MSU Bureau of University Affairs at a cost of $25.00, plus $2 for postage. All prints are signed by Gray and President Doran. Proceeds will be used for scholarships.

At The University...

Bald Eagles Arrive

The Morehead State University Bald Eagle is on its way. Prints of the majestic painting by Gene Gray of Lexington have been shipped to MSU and are being prepared for delivery to purchasers. The first print was presented last week to Gov. Louie B. Nunn. Each of the limited edition prints bears the signatures of Gray and MSU President Adron Doran. Other signatures are available on request. Gray, who considers himself "an illustrator of animals and a painter of life," traveled to Florida to observe the near extinct bird in its natural habitat. His painting resulted from hundreds of photographs and sketches.

Animal Graphics of Lexington printed 2,000 copies of the MSU Bald Eagle which are being sold to students, faculty and friends of the university. The original painting is displayed on the Morehead State campus. Delivery of the first prints is expected within 10 days. Individual copies with a colorfully-illustrated cover jacket are $25 plus $2 for mailing. Orders may be placed with the MSU Bureau of University Affairs. Financing of the project is being handled by the MSU Alumni Association and no state funds are involved. Proceeds above costs are to be used for scholarships.

Morehead Wins Tournament

Jack's Morehead Market softball team finished the 1970 softball season in great style Sunday. The team traveled to Peebles, Ohio for their last tournament of the season and came home with first place trophy. Their first opponent was a fine Browns-Ramey team from Waverly, Ohio, who in the 1969-70 season finished second in the state of Ohio.

The Morehead "ten", whose defense was strong throughout the tournament, took the first game and sent the Waverly team into the loser's bracket.

From there the market went undefeated in three straight games defeating West

Portsmouth, Circleville, and Peebles, Ohio to capture the winner's bracket. While Morehead held the upper hand in having to be beaten twice, the Waverly team emerged from the loser's bracket to take the first decision 3-1 in a contest showing good defense by both teams.

Morehead's manager, Don Gallagher, got his team's bats going in the second contest with deciding blows by Jim Roper, Jerry King, and Sam Grayson to pull out a 16-12 victory.

Jack and Lois Winters guided the Market team to a 7-0 and 12 record for the 1970 summer softball season.

EAGLES WITH OLYMPIANS... Members of the Morehead State University judo club underwent an intensive, full-week judo training program at Camp Olympus in Capon Bridge, West Virginia, recently. The camp, sponsored by the United States Judo Association, was directed by the only American ever to win an Olympic medal in the sport, James Bregman, who headed a staff of nationally and internationally-known judo teachers. Posing above are (left to right) George Wooding, Bregman, George Harris, who was on the 1964 Olympic judo team with Bregman, and William Rosenberg. During the camp week, Wooding was promoted to Niky (second degree brown belt).

GRASS ROOTS

by Roy Stevens

Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation

Here I am, almost 30 years old. My 30th birthday, soon to arrive, could, if I took seriously some of the things I've read and heard, be a disastrous experience. After all, Number 30 is supposed to signal the transition from the idealized, all-knowing world of the young to the "reactionary, dreary, uniformed" world of the old.

I have been advised by no less authority than a high school junior that all people under 30 know where it's at. And that all over 30 definitely are not there.

Besides, my 30th birthday may involve burning bridges I can't come back across. It could mean I will not in the future, as I have not in the past, be able to indulge myself in those contemporary, idealistic pursuits of that minority among us called "radical youth."

For example, when I was a child I had the weird idea that parents were to be respected, and looked to for guidance. I didn't know then, as some children seem to know now, that parents are to look to their offspring for guidance.

When I went to college it was for the unheard of purpose of getting an education, and now I find I could have used the campus to influence state, national, and international affairs.

When I got married I started working 40 to 50 hours a week to help pay my college expenses, and for some reason that made me appreciate even more the value of the education I was receiving. Being unphilosophical, it never occurred to me to forego marriage and instead join a coeducational commune where I could live out of garbage dumps and at the same time use my vast knowledge to determine what should be done about pollution of Lake Erie.

When I graduated from college seven years ago, I took the unorthodox step of accepting a regular job, when there was the alternative of using my degree to go forth against the establishment, maybe even fire-bombing it into perfection.

Now I've worked seven years, trying to feed, clothe and raise a family, without even once carrying a sign or burning the flag, or lying in front of a troop train or wearing beads or fighting National Guardsmen or calling policemen "Pigs."

So, here I am, almost 30 years old. Not regretting a thing I haven't done.

Not the least bit worried about crossing that imaginary 30-year-old line between the young and old.

A whole lot smarter than I was at 20. And still anxious to learn.

PLAQUE PROUD... Cindy Carr puts the finishing touch on an artistic decoupage project at University Breckinridge. The plaque was a product of the PEP (Personal Enrichment Program) for junior high students. Rondal Hart, director, explained the PEP as an attempt to offer a broader general education and gives the student an opportunity to select areas of interest. He said students are involved in photography, bridge, chess, crafts, creative writing, weight lifting, and team-individual sports. Guest lectures are used in many cases. Mrs. Jewell Carr supervised the decoupage group which enrolled twelve in the interest group.

Now At Morehead . . .

First UCM Director

By Tim Pollitt

Fran DeJong after eight years as director of Christian Education for the Reformed Church at Wyckoff, N.J. has been appointed as director of the United Campus Ministry at Morehead State University.

She received her B.A. degree at Central College and her M.A. at Macomber Theological Seminary.

Working with Miss DeJong on the U.C.M. Board are members representing students, faculty, administration, and the three sponsoring churches, Presbyterian, Christian, and Lutheran.

Members of the board are: Dr. William Bigham, Dr. Glenn Johnston, the Rev. Roy Roberson, Dr. Jean K. Snyder, Mrs. Margaret Patton, John Williams, Dean Anna Mae Riggie, Dr. Adron Doran, Dean Roger Wilson, the Rev. John Gaus, and the Rev. J.H. Johnston.

The primary purpose of this program is to help and counsel students, faculty, and administration members with any problems, religious or otherwise.

Other goals include:

- +Exploring and expanding opportunities for Christian learning and dialogue.
- +Offering effective and readily available Christian council.
- +Providing a context for supportive human relationships.
- +Encouraging social concern and involvement in the community.
- +Discovering and ministry to human needs of individuals and to the spiritual problems that people are facing.
- +Making resources available which will help to meet the needs and solve the problems in communications between

In 1968, more than 60 percent of the unemployed were people who had voluntarily left their last job or who had been out of the labor force before they began to look for work.

faculty, students, and administrators.

Office of the Director is on the second floor of the Faith Presbyterian Church, phone 784-5638.

Johnson Apple Festival Has Become 'Big Doings'

By Helen Price Stacy

As summer rusts away and country orchards are heavy with the winey scent of apples, small plumes of smoke curling through autumn tell everyone it's Apple Festival time in Johnson County.

On Oct. 2-3 when ladies of the Paintsville Garden Club stir apple butter in a 90-quart black kettle on Paintsville's Main Street, it means the latch string is out for 15,000 to 20,000 visitors who are expected to attend this year's—the county's seventh—apple gala.

It's about the biggest and brightest event in Eastern Kentucky and in years past has offered two days and nights packed with entertainment, delectable foods and family togetherness.

Everywhere there's something to eat. Smelling like Grandma's kitchen, redolent with cinnamon and nutmeg, are street-side booths spanning clean where dried apple stacks, apple cookies and apple pies are lined up like tables of food at a country church dinner "on the ground."

Youths from the county's Future Farmers of American organization have cider presses in operation for those who get thirsty or want to take some home...dairy drive-ins feature apple milkshakes (and they are delicious)...Johnson County women representing many organizations and clubs roll out pie dough, ladle in apple slices, fold the corners neatly into triangles and sprinkle the top with sugar before frying your apple pie before your eyes...an old time cane mill also to be set up on Main Street—will add sweetness to the taste and delight the children...yellow, red, green and russet-in-bushel baskets for sale to the hundreds of people who want to store up apple-goodness for use during winter months.

Friday's activities will include old-fashioned spelling bees and adding matches in an authentic one-room log schoolhouse reassembled on the campus of new and modern Johnson Central High School; apple, prince and princess; apple baby contest; dog show; Grand Ol' Opry; Big Sandy Apple Bowl football; teen dance and apple ball.

On Saturday will be an antique car show, gigantic band festival, merchandise giveaway, square dance, apple queen contest, more Grand Ol' Opry...and it that isn't enough, Miss Teenage America will add her beauty to the scene...a two to three-mile parade will add gaiety and color.

Paintsville is within driving distance of a four-state area, approachable by U. S. 23, U. S. 469 and interconnecting roads with Mountain Parkway reaching within 16 miles of the city (travelers from the west exit at Salsberyville).

See you at the Apple Festival...and...save room in the car for a just cider, a bushel of apples, a gallon of sorghum, and a barrel of fun.

WEIGHT OF RAIN

One inch of rainfall falling on one acre of woodlands weighs just a little under 14 tons, reports the Southern Forest Institute. That's just another benefit made possible by our Southern forests. They help protect our watersheds.

MOREHEAD AREA

Church News

Compiled weekly by the Morehead Ministerial Association. This column is available, without charge, to recognized churches. Copy must be submitted to Editor (name below) for that particular month. Do not submit copy to The Morehead News.

FAITH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—Services will be held, as usual, this Sunday, September 27, at 10:45 a.m., with the Reverend Hubert Johnston, Pastor, leading in worship. A nursery is available for small children, and church school classes for kindergarten and grades 1 and 2 are held at 10:45 a.m. also. Classes for grades 3-5 are scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. A sandwich supper for youth and adults of the church will be held at 6 p.m. on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Maynard, of Richmond, Virginia, will be guests of the congregation.

The Christian service ministry committee will meet at 4:30 p.m. Sunday at the church.

CRUSADE-A youth for Christ Crusade will be held at the Polkville Church of God, Saturday, September 26, 1970 at 7:30. All young people are invited to attend.

ELLIOTTVILLE—The Elliottville Baptist Church will have its homecoming on Sunday, September 27 with an all day meeting. There will be special singing. A week of revival services will then be held from Monday, September 28 through Sunday, October 4. Brother J. C. Raikes, former minister of the Morehead Baptist Church, will be the evangelist. Services will start at 7:30 each evening. Everyone is welcome to come. Bert McBrayer, minister.

EPISCOPAL—The Administration of the Lord's Supper or Holy Communion will be the Order of Service for the 18th Sunday after Trinity at the Church of Saint Alban the Martyr, 145 Fifth Street in Morehead. The service will begin at 11 a.m. and the celebrant and preacher will be the Reverend Jack Meyer, Vicar of St. Alban's Parish.

Sunday School is scheduled at the church from 9:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. A nursery is available at 230 University Street during services.

On Wednesday, at 7:00 p.m., the choir, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Huffman, will have their rehearsal.

On Sunday morning, September 27, beginning at 6:15 a.m., parish supper will be served at the church. All are invited.

Daily Morning and Evening Prayer is read at St. Alban's Church at 9:15 a.m. and 5:45 p.m. except Saturday.

All are invited to the activities and services of St. Alban's Parish.

UNITED PENTECOSTAL—On October 3-4 the Morehead United Pentecostal Church will observe its 11th Homecoming and Anniversary service according to founder and pastor Lloyd Dean. The church was organized in March 1959 by its present pastor. In 1969 the first phase of their building program was completed which consisted of worship area, Sunday School rooms, rest rooms, kitchen and furnace area with four parking areas.

The following are especially invited this year; all who have ever preached in Morehead, all Pastor Dean has baptized in Jesus Name, all he has ever performed marriages for, all who have received the Holy Ghost and all he has dedicated to the Lord, and all who have moved away.

Guest speakers will be Rev. George Cumpton and Rev. Lonzie Wright.

The Sunday School attendance record has been broken in May and 20th September of this year. The public is invited to help us reach our goal of 200.

HAYS CROSSING—The Hays Crossing U. P. C. or Cobblestone Church in the Woods will possible conduct a Homecoming service sometime in the future. Especially invited will be those who have been married in the church, baptized in Jesus Name, dedicated in the church and those who have preached there. Brother Lloyd Dean is founder of the church.

WITNESSES—The Morehead Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are happy to have another couple move to Morehead to aid in their public service program. Mr. and Mrs. Timothy Moore are newly married and they have both been living in New York city.

Mr. Moore has spent the last four years at the World Headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses. There, along with 1,300 other ministers, he helped in the printing of the two official journals of Jehovah's Witnesses, the "Watchtower" and "Awake" magazines.

Weekly Meditation

Youth has visions, especially visions of their life's work ahead. They strive toward that goal through work and sweat, examinations, failure and success, ridicule and praise, hope and despair. But so long as they retain that vision toward which they started out, there is no failure in the end. They will have arrived to the place where the one-time vision has become a reality. They have conquered everything.

But, if, on the other hand they have lost the great vision and have confined their attention merely to examinations, or merely to the scorn and ridicule, or merely to blunder and failure, they have lost their way, and groping about in the darkness, will have missed the vision of the life's work they set out at one time to do.

But, all of us, if we have kept the vision before us and aimed toward it, we have arrived at our goal in our life's work, and we are doing that work today.

As Christians we have a most definite goal, and certainly we ought to have one definite vision, which is mainly to enjoy God and joyfully be his servants in the work of bringing into the world His Kingdom. And that which we shall be a part forever. The Rev. Jack B. Meyer

"P-L-U-S" ... at Lakeview Heights "Prestige Living"

PLANNED—Lakeview Heights was designed and engineered for the future. The developer spent almost $200,000 on improvements before a lot was sold.

LOCATION—Four miles west of Morehead on U. S. 60 about equidistant between Morehead and Cave Run Reservoir.

SEWAGE—Approved sewage treatment plant, approved by the Health Department. This meets every PH and FHA requirement, and is the same type of sewage disposal at Lakewood and every modern city has.

WATER—City of Morehead supply.

ELECTRIC—Kentucky Utilities Company.

NATURAL GAS—Delta Natural Gas Company from TGT lines.

TELEPHONES—General Telephone Company has completed installation of a large cable from the district exchange at Morehead to Lakeview Heights, providing 300 private lines.

GARBAGE—Full garbage collection.

FIRE PROTECTION—City fire plugs, and six-inch cast iron water ridge from the main line of the city of Morehead supply.

SCHOOLS—School bus service.

MAIL—RFD 4 service from Morehead.

STREETS—The right-of-way for streets and sidewalks at Lakeview is a wide 10 foot, meeting all FHA and lending agency requirements. The streets are paved to 22 feet wide and the backstop and base is 10 to 12 inches thick.

RECREATION—Four miles from Cave Run Reservoir, Kentucky's fourth largest water impoundment, soon to be our 40th finest outdoor recreation centers. Adjacent to Daniel Boone National Forest and near Rowan County airport, Lakeview Heights has two lakes of its own. Plans are being drawn for a community swimming pool.

LOTS—Every lot is big, meeting FHA and all standards.

FINANCING—Insurance companies, banks, FHA and other agencies will always lend on Lakeview Heights property. If you own the lot they'll lend 100% to build your home.

SERVICE—A plot has been set aside for a general community store, service station, and laundromat.

YOUR NEIGHBORS—Look at the homes already erected at Lakeview, and you realize what kind of jobs you will be living with in this "prestige community."

Soon to be Rowan County's Second Largest Community

DEVELOPERS—Glen W. Lane, Chairman of Board, The Citizens Bank, Alpha M. Hutchinson, Vice President, The Citizens Bank, Paul Jackson, President, Jackson Builders, W.E. Crutcher, Newspaper Publisher. (All of the developers are listed in the telephone directory and can be addressed at Morehead, Ky. 40351).

THE LOAN FOR PEOPLE WHO DON'T NEED LOANS.

It's easy to "borrow" with revolving charge accounts, credit cards, and by financing purchases... but a good loan may save money.

No matter how you buy, if repayments are in monthly installments there will normally be a finance or "carrying" charge. And, while revolving charges and credit cards are an easy way to buy, they aren't always the lowest cost way to finance the purchase.

Truth in Lending requires a full disclosure of all rates and charges—to help you compare the costs.

We suggest you do it. Here's what our Interest-Saver Loan costs:

Loan Period	Loan Amount	Finance Charge	Monthly Payment	Annual Percentage Rate
12 mos.	$2,000	$44.00	$178.47	13.25%
24 mos.	2,000	40.00	97.79	14.31%
36 mos.	2,000	40.00	60.33	14.31%

If you're paying more, get a loan from us and save the difference. It can be well worth the small amount of trouble.

Figure it out. All the information you need is given on your monthly statements and finance contracts. Or, give us a call and we'll help you with the figuring.

It's not what you owe... it's who you owe.

The Editor:
The State of Kentucky is making a grave mistake, and drawing a misunderstanding barrier by banning out of state students to its colleges and universities.

How many of Kentucky's doctors, lawyers, dentists, etc. were educated in other states, and in schools supported by those states? How many are there falling in this and like categories in Morehead itself?

Why can't my son enroll at Morehead, although we are natives of Lewis County, Kentucky?

It looks like the State of Kentucky, which lays claim (legal or illegal) to all the Ohio River intends to put police boats (like the coast guard) on the Ohio River and tell all the Buckeyes, Hoosiers and Illinoisians not to cross that river into Kentucky.

Yet, hundreds of thousands of people from Kentucky have come to Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and north of the Ohio river to obtain employment, and also enroll in college.

By banning out of state students Kentucky is sort of like the little boy who wouldn't play baseball unless he could be the batter. If Kentucky bans out of state university and college students then the other 49 states should not permit anybody from Kentucky to enroll in their states.

ADULT EDUCATION CLASSES STILL OPEN

The Editor:
The people of Rowan County owe a debt of gratitude to the Morehead News for the full and accurate coverage of classes on adult education.

As a result of this publicity we have some enrollees and many inquiries.

Would it be too much trouble to repeat that there is no cost, and adults can still enroll and qualify for a GED (high school equivalency) diploma.

The further details as you recited are - Classes are held each Wednesday and Tuesday evenings from 6 until 9 p.m. at two places - Morehead Grade and Elliottville Elementary.

The cost - nothing; the federal government foots the bill under its adult education facet funding.

How to enroll - 1. Contact the undersigned during any week day at Elliottville Elementary; phone 784-4006; or 2. Contact me in Morehead in the evening, phone 784-5608.

One requirement is that you must have been out of school for at least one full semester.

May I urge every adult citizen to take advantage of this as a great amount of effort and considerable money is involved in this adult education program. Everybody will gain.

NEW FIREARMS STATUTES GIVEN EXPLANATION

The Editor:
Since the Gun Control Act of 1968 went into effect, sportsmen have been asking questions about the requirements for transporting, purchasing, and out-of-state, purchasing ammunition and shipping guns. With the Fall hunting season coming up soon, we anticipate the questions will again be asked by many sportsmen.

Rev. D. Dav Assistant Regional Commissioner, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, has developed these questions and answers which we feel will be of interest and helpful to you and your readers. Because of the technical nature of the subject, any questions concerning the material should be sent to Mr. Rex D. Davis, Internal Revenue Service, 6512 Federal Office Building, 530 Main Street, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202 or you may call the Firearms Unit on 513 684-3288.

1. Q. Can sportsmen on an out-of-State hunting trip carry his rifles and shotguns with him?

A. The hunter will not encounter any problem in personally transporting his firearms across state lines. However, the Gun Control Act of 1968 and the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968 prohibits convicted felons, fugitives from justice, persons under indictment for a felony, mental incompetents, unlawful users of drugs, persons who have renounced their citizenship, aliens unlawfully in the U.S. and anyone who has been discharged from the Armed Forces under dishonorable conditions from possessing or transporting firearms across state lines, or transporting firearms in or affecting commerce.

2. Q. May a hunter who is not licensed under the Gun Control Act of 1968 purchase ammunition while on an out-of-State hunting trip?

A. Yes, such a person may purchase ammunition provided this person is not one of the designated individuals listed in answer to Question No. 1 above. In addition, the purchaser of ammunition must be at least 18 years of age for shotguns or rifle ammo and at least 21 years of age for handgun ammo.

3. Q. Is a hunter or sportsman who loads ammunition for his personal use required to have a Federal Firearms license?

A. No, as long as it is for himself and he does not sell it.

4. Q. Can a hunter or sportsman ship his personal firearms to a licensed dealer, importer or manufacturer for the purpose of repairing or customizing them?

A. Yes he can, provided he is not one of the prohibited persons listed in the answer to Question No. 1.

5. Q. Are gun clubs required to have a Federal Firearms License?

A. If the gun club does not sell firearms and only furnishes ammunition solely for use on club premises for the purposes of target shooting, gun handling class etc., the club is not required to have a Federal Firearms License.

6. Q. If a hunter or sportsman is on an out-of-State hunting trip or attending an organized rifle or shotgun match or contest, can he obtain another rifle or shotgun if his is stolen, lost or becomes inoperative?

A. Yes, the hunter or sportsman on an out-of-State hunting trip or shooting contest can obtain another rifle or shotgun by presenting to a licensed dealer a sworn statement, in duplicate, (1) stating that his rifle or shotgun was lost or stolen or became inoperative while participating in such a match or contest, or while engaged in hunting, in the State in which the licensed dealer's business premises are located, (2) setting forth the name and address of the organized rifle or shotgun match or contest, or the nature and location of the hunting, and the circumstances surrounding the firearm's loss or theft, or the reason why the firearm has become inoperative, and (3) identifying the chief law enforcement officer (sheriff, chief of police, or police precinct captain) of the locality in which the sportsman or hunter resides.

7. Q. Can a hunter bring into the United States the firearms he previously took out for hunting purposes?

A. Yes, the hunter can bring into the United States firearms previously taken out of the United States by him. The Bureau of Customs is authorized to release the firearms without a permit from the Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, upon a proper showing that the firearms were taken out of the country by the person bringing them in.

This proper showing can be accomplished by registering the firearms with the Bureau of Customs on Customs Form 4457 at the point and time of his departure from the United States. If Customs Form 4457 was not completed prior to departure and the hunter has no evidence other than his word that he previously took the firearms out of the United States, then he must complete Form 4568 before a United States Customs or Visa Officer, Notary Public or any Federal Officer authorized to administer oaths.

8. Q. Are gun clubs considered to be engaged in the business of selling ammunition?

A. A gun club which provides facilities for trap shooting, target shooting, gun handling classes, etc., and furnishes ammunition for use on the club premises is not regarded as being "engaged in the business of selling ammunition at wholesale or retail." The club would be permitted to provide ammunition to persons including those under the age of eighteen (18) who are shooting at the club and which is for consumption on the premises, and the club would not be required to keep records of the disposition of their ammunition. However, the club would not be able to acquire their ammunition from out of State because they would not be licensed. Such clubs may be issued a license as a dealer in ammunition if they desire to be licensed, permitting them to buy ammunition from out of state. However, licensed clubs must follow the recordkeeping provisions of the law. Individual club members who are not prohibited from purchasing ammunition, may buy ammunition in any state and transport it himself into his home state.

9. Q. Are non residents of the United States able to bring firearms into this country for legitimate hunting or lawful sporting purposes?

A. Yes, non residents are able to bring firearms into the country for legitimate hunting or lawful sporting purposes with a permit from the Director, Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. However, these firearms are to be taken out of the territorial limits of the United States by such persons upon conclusion of their shooting activities.

10. Q. Is an application and permit required for importing firearms?

A. Authority to import shotgun parts, other than the frame or receiver, is not required since shotguns and shotgun parts are not included under the Munitions Control Act. Rifles and handguns, and parts for rifles and handguns, are included in the Munitions Control Act and therefore an application to import such items is required.

With Bow And Arrow . . .

Deer Hunting

It was but a few years ago that hunting deer by bow and arrow in Kentucky was unknown. In fact, it wasn't too long ago that deer were a rarity in this state. Actually, there was no legal deer hunting offered, principally because there was nothing to hunt.

But with the building up of the herd through the efforts of the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, sportsmen's clubs and citizens of various counties, it was to be expected that Kentuckians would take up the bow and arrow in quest of the elusive whitetail. One of the best spots will be in the Cave Run reservoir Valley near Morehead. Last year, during the two-month-long season, bow and arrow hunters—numbering 9298 (men and women)—participated in the hunt and bagged 460 deer, which is nothing to write home about, but still represents a lot of work, much skill and many hours of hunting.

This year the season again is of two months duration, being open for the entire months of October and December. And every county in the commonwealth is legal hunting country, too. The hunter will need a valid Kentucky hunting license, a deer tag, a lot of patience as well as the desire that has pushed him into this exclusive clan of hunters.

He may hunt from daylight until dark and if he plays his bow and arrows right, he may be able to bring him a bluegrass fed whitetail, fallow or European Red deer.

Willis' Son Dies 12 Hours Following Birth At Shelby

Bobby Ray, infant son of Billy and Eva Mae Willis died 12 hours after birth Monday at Shelby, O.

The remains were removed to Lane Funeral Home at Morehead, and graveside rites recited Wednesday in Wallace cemetery by Rev. R. A. Reynolds.

Besides the parents, natives of Kentucky, the child leaves a brother, Billy Joe, at home in Shelby; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustin Willis of Irvine, Ky.; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wallace of Irvine; and maternal great grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Wallace, Morehead.

GUIDANCE ASSOCIATION TO MEET AT MOREHEAD

The Eastern Kentucky Guidance Association will conduct its first meeting of the year 25 September at Morehead University according to Lloyd Dean, president. Counselors from approximately 20 counties are expected to attend.

Guest speaker will be Rowan County High Principal Mr. Buford Risner. His speech will concern the growth of Guidance in Kentucky schools.

When I was a child, about fifty years ago, the main money of account was the quarter I remember my mother sending me to the grocery for a quarter's worth of pork chops or round steak or potatoes. One tipped a quarter for most any service. We traveled by train at that time. The sound of the wheels on the tracks and the whistle OOOOOGGEEEEE and the smells. Oh the smells. The stale odor but not unpleasant in an "upper." The discomfort of the mohair upholstery on a little girl's bare legs.

The smell of the Dining car before you reached it and THEN the white tablecloths and the silver and the grace and agility of the waiters. Always a pleasant greeting, a big smile and real service.

The Candy Butchers and their baskets of good things.

People standing on the platform at the stations waved to everyone, not just the ones they knew. Remember the gas meter that you had to put a quarter in? Sure was a shock when someone FORGOT.

What we all miss most in our childhood is our youth.

Time Capsule

When Japan's Expo '70 closed September 13, a time capsule of stainless steel, 39 inches in diameter, was buried in the Sert Hills near Osaka. It contains specimens of refined metals, alloys and ceramics, tapes, and micro books on tiny silicon wafers, as well as that symbol of the age, a credit card.

Please Don't Kiss

The Statue of Liberty came so marked by lipstick in recent years that officials coated it with a special lipstick-resistant paint.

Question What funeral benefits are available to the survivors of a deceased worker who qualifies under Social Security?

Answer

A lump sum death payment based upon the Social Security record of a worker who dies either fully or currently insured may be payable to his survivors. This may be as much as three times the worker's primary insurance amount, but no more than $255. The lump sum may be paid in addition to any monthly survivors' insurance benefits that are due.

If there is no eligible spouse, the lump sum benefit may be paid to the person who paid the funeral expenses, or it may be assigned to us as a credit toward funeral expenses.

Not Soy Beans, But . . .

Meeting Turns To Corn Talk

Most of the talk at the Soybean Field Day in Henderson was devoted to corn and the Southern corn leaf blight that has struck the Kentucky crop so ruthlessly.

The crumbling, brown corn fields surrounding Henderson are a testimony to the destructive power of the disease, and according to Dr. A. S. Williams, plant pathologist for the University of Kentucky

College of Agriculture, the blight "is going to be around for a while."

Dr. Williams told the 300 farmers gathered on the experimental soybean plots that there is some evidence the blight has already wintered over in Kentucky, and in all probability, will be active in that state's corn fields next year.

"The blight has overwintered in some fields south of Henderson, and it's overwintered in Nebraska. It seems the disease has been building up over the past several years," Dr. Williams explained.

"The blight has always been present in Kentucky in some amounts, but this year conditions were ideal for a severe outbreak," he added.

Dr. Williams said predominate southerly winds this summer have helped spread the blight northward from Florida. Hot and humid weather has also aided the spread of the disease.

The only way to control the disease, he said, is through the development of resistance to the blight in the corn plant. This will take possibly two years, and some farmers may be faced with seed shortages next year, Dr. Williams added.

The blight's destruction of Kentucky corn fields has placed increased importance upon soybean and small grain crops. In fact, Dr. Shirley Phillips, Assistant Extension Director for Agriculture at UK, said he expects to see many corn farmers planting soybeans or barley.

We're going to see more double-cropping as a result of the blight," Dr. Phillips said. In fact, he noted that some varieties of barley seed are already becoming scarce throughout the state.

Twenty soybean varieties were exhibited at the research plots, and other speakers on the program included Dr. J. W. Herron, UK weed control specialist, and Dr. D. B. Egli, specialist in physiology and soybeans at UK.

Also featured on the program was Dr. John Drew, corporate economist for Central SOYA, who predicted soybean prices would stabilize between October and December, then begin to decline gradually.

The economist also estimated that the Southern corn leaf blight has trimmed the nation's predicted corn crop by 4.4 billion bushels—or 6½ percent.

$399 Loan Made By Government To Electric Co-op

The Rural Electrification Administration, Department of Agriculture, has approved a $399,000 long term loan to the Clark Rural Electric Cooperative, it was announced in Washington this morning by Senator John Sherman Cooper and Congressman Carl D. Perkins.

The cooperative serves Clark, Bourbon, Fayette, Madison, Montgomery, Powell, Bath, Menifee, Rowan and Exline counties. The money will finance 26 miles additional distribution lines to serve 480 new customers.

The Mature Woman

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 East 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10015.

Grandchildren Wanted

Dear Miss Brookfield: Our daughter is making us very unhappy. She has been married for four years. Both she and her husband don't want to have children because the world, they say, is already over-populated. But if they had two children, that wouldn't be a large family. My husband and I would love to have grandchildren. We think it would be wonderful to be grandparents. Do most young couples feel this way?

R. G., Elkhart, Ind.

Dear R.G.:

We can't answer your question. Although parents can tell a child to turn off TV, get in at a certain hour, and abide by certain rules of behavior, we don't see how they can (and don't believe they should try) convince an adult child to have children. You may want grandchildren badly. But the ones who have to want, love and raise the children are your daughter and her husband. Your daughter is young and may have other interests (such as a career). If and when she wants children, she'll make you grandparents.

Big Eater

Dear Miss Brookfield:

You advised a Boston reader that walking would keep her from overeating. I weigh 190 pounds and I walk two miles every day. But it only increases my appetite. As a result, I overeat. Is there any way I can stop eating so much? I seem to be hungry all the time.

L.A., Eugene, Ore.

Dear L.A.:

It may be your diet, not the walking, that is adding to your weight. A 50-mile hike may make you ravenously hungry but a walk of a mile or two is not supposed to increase the appetite. The Harvard nutritionist and obesity specialist, Dr. Jean Mayer, who has studied overweight in mice and men, says: "If you don't walk at all, you may become a little less hungry if you start walking for an hour a day. If you are already active and increase your activity, your appetite will go up, but not so much that you won't profit from the activity."

Habitual walkers tend on the whole to be moderate eaters. Characteristically, they are not overweight. So keep walking — but also ask your doctor to recommend a sensible diet for you.

Help for Menopause

Dear Miss Brookfield:

Years ago my aunt went through a premature menopause and was given injections by her doctor. Recently, when I visited the doctor to consult him about my

KENTUCKY STILL HAS TUBERCULOSIS PROBLEM

Although Kentucky has made great advances in the last three years in tuberculosis control, the program still is not good enough to eliminate the disease in this state, Health Commissioner William McElwain told the recently created Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission.

However, Dr. McElwain said the program is approaching a level that in time could eradicate TB in Kentucky.

In both your aunt's case and yours, the estrogen was probably given to relieve symptoms caused by hormonal imbalance resulting from menopausal changes.

own menopausal problems, he put me on medication. He said it was the same as injections. Is it?

H.D., Cleveland, O.

Dear H.D.:

Your doctor may be referring to estrogen, which was given mainly by injection in the 1920's. Estrogen tablets had been available now for many years, so it's quite likely that this is what your doctor has prescribed for

Dad shares in childbirth joys

By VICENT LIPARI

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—An international organization wants to make childbirth a family affair, taking Dad out of the waiting room and putting him beside his wife for the birth of their child.

John Haire, president of the group called the International Childbirth Education Association (ICEA), says his organization "is geared to making the childbirth experience the most satisfying to the parents involved."

That means not only helping the expectant mother to enjoy pregnancy and the birth of her child, but also making the father-to-be more than just an interested bystander.

ICEA, a federation of 40 member groups throughout the United States, Canada and Australia, is a non-profit organization with about 3,000 volunteers.

Haire said it educates the expectant mother toward the most satisfying delivery possible — preferably a natural childbirth — through classes and exercises. The husband attends classes with his wife, coaches her during her exercises and they decide together whether the husband will remain at his wife's side during labor and delivery.

Haire and his wife, who shares the presidency of ICEA with her husband, believe the best endorsement of the group's ideas comes from the fathers themselves.

Michael Gettis, a Philadelphia chemical engineer, is a father who witnessed the birth of his three children. He said the "baby was a product of our love. Why should I be kept away from the birth? It is no less important than our wedding day."

Henry Riddle, of Lower Merion, Pa., an electrical engineer, at first was reluctant to attend ICEA classes. "I thought it was kind of silly," he said. "The delivery room was the biggest surprise. It was so orderly and precise. It was exciting to see my child born."

Charles Lindquist, a college professor, said he thought the prenatal classes did much to reduce fear of childbirth and added: "I was moved and very glad that I participated in the birth."

1971. You've changed. We've changed.

Chevrolet

Worth seeing. Worth owning. Worth waiting for.

Vega. Not just another little car, but one little car that does everything well. You get more room, more weight and more power than most little cars give you, yet the gas mileage is right in the same neighborhood with the best of them. Vegas come dressed up, too, not stripped to the bone so you have to add a lot to make them liveable. Drive one. You'll see.

Caprice. There's a double layer of steel in the roof, a steel guard beam in each door, power disc brakes up front, a new power ventilation system inside, a wheelbase two and one-half inches longer. You get the looks and comfort of a six- or seven-thousand-dollar car, but at Chevrolet prices. And that's the kind of change during these tight-money times that all of us can appreciate.

Vanishing tailgate. A big change in our big wagon. The window goes up into the roof, the slide-away tailgate vanishes beneath the floor. Out of sight. Out of your way for loading even in a closed garage or when you have a trailer hooked on.

See what we mean by putting you first? September 29 at your Chevrolet dealer's.

COMMISSIONER MILLER on Kentucky Agriculture

By J. Robert (Bob) Miller

Kentucky's meat inspection program must be "equal to" the Federal Meat Inspection Program by October 1.

This means that following October 1, a Federal survey team will be checking Kentucky's program to see that packing plants and slaughtering houses operating in the Kentucky area meet requirements of the Wholesome Meat Act. By December 15 of this year, all states must have their programs equal to the Federal program.

The Federal survey team will pick some 30 to 35 plants at random from the list of plants operating in Kentucky. The plants selected will be rigidly inspected. If only a single plant fails to measure up to requirements, Kentucky's entire program will be subject to rejection.

Personnel in our Meat Inspection Division have been working hard to see that as many as possible of our plants and slaughtering houses are up to standard. Those which are not have been told what they need to do in order to meet the requirements of the Meat Inspection Act.

In cases where they can't meet the requirements, they have been directed to cease operations until the necessary changes are made. Some plants have been closed due to physical facilities, while others have been closed because of poor sanitation methods.

The purpose of the Meat Inspection Act is to protect the health of the people and for the consuming public. In order to provide clean and wholesome products, we must begin with wholesome animals. This is why carcasses are inspected by personnel trained in this work.

Once a carcass has been found to be wholesome, it then must be processed in a clean plant, a plant where the proper sanitary methods are observed.

With full implementation of the Meat Inspection Act, buyers of meat slaughtered and processed in Kentucky plants can buy with confidence. This confidence is not only good for the consumer, but also for the packer and processor as well.

After the defense forced Lewis to fumble on the Rowan 42, Terry Brown on the Vikings first play from scrimmage scored 36 yards for the first score of the game. On the 5th play following the kick off Jerry O'Dell scampered 60 yards to make the score Rowan - 6, Lewis - 6.

The Vikings started a drive late in the first quarter that took them 62 yards in 7 plays. The touchdown was set up by a 22 yard run by Martin to the 2 yard line. On the next play the Lions scored. Late in the second quarter Martin broke loose and went 27 yards for a touchdown.

Martin opened the second half by taking the Lewis County kick off and running 76 yards for a touchdown. After holding Lewis, the Lions punted and Martin showed his skill again by going 72 yards for his 3rd touchdown of the night.

In the final quarter the Vikings kept rolling as Kenny Adams scored from 5 yards out to run the score to 46-6.

With a 11 left in the game, RCHS punted to Lewis. The Lions decided to return the favor but it cost them 10 points when the punter dropped the ball and it rolled into the endzone where he was tackled by Billy Brown and Teddy Greene for a safety. When Lewis punted to the Vikings following the safety, Martin hauled it in and raced 67 yards for his 4th touchdown.

The defense was led by Roger Keeton a 170 pound Junior, who recovered a fumble and had 23 tackles.

The Vikings next game is this Friday at MMI. Kick-off time is 2 p.m.

After the first 4 games the Vikings look as though they may go undefeated. The Vikings in winning their first four have piled up some amazing totals for a high school team.

The Vikings are leading in rushing by Sophomore fullback, Terry Brown who has 264 yards and is averaging 6.5 yards a carry. Steve Martin is 2nd in rushing with 213 yards, followed by Carlson with 124, Fouch 121, and Kenny Adams 119 yards.

In receiving Adams leads the team with 11 receptions. Martin with 10, Billy Brown with 6, and Steve Carlson with 5. Of Adams' 11 receptions 5 have been for touchdowns.

Fouch on the season has completed 34-64 for 33 percent, 45 yards and 9 touchdowns. Fouch is averaging 12 1/2 yards a completion.

Steve Martin is averaging 36.2 yards a return and has returned 5 for touchdowns.

The defense is led by Walt Cassidy, Roger Keeton, Billy Brown, and Kenny Adams. Cassidy has 44 tackles, 4 for sacks. Brown has 41 tackles, 2 for safeties. Adams besides having 36 tackles has picked off 3 of the opponents passes.

The Vikings are averaging 41.5 points a game, 329.4 yards, 215.3 rushing yards, 114.2 passing, 9-16 punts, 12 first downs, 33 offensive plays and 6.3 yards per play.

The Vikings opposition is averaging 6.5 points, 196.5 total yards, 164 rushing yards, 32.5 passing, 6-12 punts, 9 first downs, 34 offensive plays, and 4 yards a play.

NEW LODGE . . . Dedication of this fraternal building on Green Street in Morehead is scheduled this Saturday at 2:30 p.m., and the ceremony is open to the public. The Farmers IOOF (No. 82) and the Farmers Rebekah's (No. 23) pooled resources to jointly build and use the new building. The old lodge structure was sold.

In Rowan County . . .

Controlled Savings

Residents of Rowan County seem to have their financial affairs under good control. As a whole, they are living well within their incomes, spending much less than they are earning.

Some of the surplus is being used by them to reduce their consumer debt. The remainder, or a considerable part of it, is being put into savings.

The evidence is seen in the rise in their bank deposits, in their savings and loan accounts and in their purchases of U. S. savings bonds.

During the past year, it is estimated, Rowan County families stashed away some $2,849,000 in liquid assets.

As with people in other parts of the country, they have grown cautious. High prices, unemployment, strikes and other economic conditions have led them to postpone some of their big-ticket purchases and wait for a more favorable climate.

Meanwhile, they are accumulating a sizeable nest egg. This pool of purchasing power, when released, could spark a big buying surge.

The figures on savings are based upon national findings reported by the Commerce Department and other agencies and upon income and sales data for each community.

They show, as would be expected, that the amount a family can save depends primarily on how much it has left after paying its bills for necessities.

Those with merely subsistence incomes were not able to save anything, of course. Those at the $5,000 after-tax level put aside 3.0 percent of it, on average, and those at $7,000 about 5.2 percent. In the higher income brackets the rates were considerably larger.

In Rowan County, where the average disposable income per household was $12,125 last year, according to the latest annual report, the overall rate of savings was 8.1 percent. It amounted to $980 per household.

Elsewhere in the United States, it was $720 and, in the State of Kentucky, $580. Implied is that the rate in each community is similar, for each income group, to what it is in the rest of the country.

For the local population as a whole, the savings in the past year reached the imposing total of $2,849,000.

Nationally, such savings are touching $42.8 billion for the year, an increase of $5.2 billion over the previous year.

Sensing The News

Opening of a new academic year at the nation's colleges and universities, once a happy time, today brings worry to parents of students and to the public in general. Fear exists that institutions of higher learning will be plagued again by violence and discord.

Bombing of the mathematics center at the University of Wisconsin in late August was a shocking and ominous development. It is clear that organized terrorists are committed to a program of destruction on American campuses.

Bombers aren't the only menace, however. Equally insidious are nihilists who are committed to wrecking American society and poisoning the minds of the nation's college-age youth. These foes of American values and institutions can be expected to renew and step-up their intellectual assaults in the academic year ahead. They believe they have the power to control college and university campuses and, through this control, to deflect the nation from the course set by its lawful leaders.

In this connection, it is well to note the comments of S.S. Wolin and J.H. Schaar, writing in the leftwing New York Review of Books (September 3). They said that "Cambodia provoked a genuine political uprising on the nation's campuses . . . so intense was the pressure that the President soon had to promise that American troops would be pulled out of Cambodia on a specific date . . . Rarely, if ever in American history has a President reacted so hurriedly to a wave of public sentiment and reversed a policy."

The furor over Cambodia was the work of a highly organized militant minority. This minority, having tasted power, is not likely to abandon its efforts in the year ahead. On the contrary, the effort to gain and exercise power almost certainly will be expanded.

In view of this power drive by a radicalized faction in American society, it is terribly important that the public understand and insist upon fundamental changes in the operation and structure of public colleges and universities. In many cases, faculties have been bent on promoting an alleged student "right" to riot.

The immediate need, if new campus disturbances take place, is prompt police action to deal with law-breakers. It is imperative that society as a whole reject the notion that a college or university is a privileged sanctuary for anarchists and others who seek to destroy American institutions.

Beyond that, there is need in public colleges and universities to assert and maintain the authority of state trustees and

Hamilton Leaves Sadly But With A Smile

New York Newday Staff Writer Joe Donnelly wrote the following about Steve Hamilton as the Moreheadian left New York to join the Minnesota Twins to whom he has been traded. Hamilton, remains the American League Players representative.

He left as he came; with little fanfare. Steve Hamilton was the oldest Yankee in point of continuous service. He came to New York on April 21, 1963, in a deal for pitcher Jim Coates, a notorious head-hunter. Hamilton was a hunter, too; he found a way to people's hearts. And that's why Yankees didn't want to say goodbye to him yesterday.

The few who were in the hotel lobby of the Baltimore Hilton shortly after noon when the tall, bony man passed through and out with two suitcases, did say goodbye. The ex-teammates were uncomfortable. He made it easy for them with a winning word or two for each and a smile. Hamilton was always awkward only in size. It was 7 1/2 years later and he was leaving as he came—quietly and friendly.

Hamilton had been sold to the White Sox for the waiver price of $20,000. It hadn't been planned that way, an exile to a club with the worst record in the majors. "It's no secret that we had a deal for him if he had cleared waivers," Ralph Houk said. "We had to part with Steve to make room for younger players on our 40-man roster. But there was a deal in the works for him."

It would have been with the Mets. They wanted him for the stretch drive, a confident left-handed menace for the likes of Willie Stargell and Billy Williams. That's the things Houk will most remember about Hamilton. "I've always admired the way he could get that left-handed hitter out when you needed him out," the manager said.

Ironically it was a close friend on the Yankees who made Hamilton somewhat bitter. Steve's manager, Lindy McDaniel, the right-hander whose fork ball is so effective to lefty batters, earned call after call. Still, in his small pieces of 35 games-45 and one third the previous year, Hamilton had a 4-3 record, three saves at a 2.78 earned-run average. He has a 37-29 lifetime record with 3.00 ERA.

It was surprising to all that the White Sox, who are trying to rebuild, would claim him. Waivers asked from the last-place club to the first within the league (the 11 other clubs stacked in order of winning percentage) and, if the player is unclaimed, the same policy is followed in the other leagues. A claimed player can be withdrawn from the waiver list but the third time he appears on the list within a one-year period, the waivers are irrevocable. Apparently this was the case with Hamilton, and the first club that had a chance grabbed him.

"Not to knock the White Sox, but there's not much reason to think they'd want me," Hamilton said. "I know something was up but I didn't dream it would be the White Sox. How could I figure in their plans for next year?"

Hamilton, two years older than listed in the Yankee press guide, was the oldest Yankee and will be 36 on November 30. The White Sox, in a state of transition having recently changed their field manager and general manager, seem unconcerned with the age problem.

"We feel that Steve is still a pretty good man," said the White Sox' new general manager Stu Holcomb. "We're not that strong in the pitching department we can't use some age. Many of the kids we hope will make it figure to be at least a year or two away."

Hamilton plans to take Folly Floater with him, along with Folly Flame. "No reason to discard the floater," he said. "It's done well for me. I might even throw it to Killebrew in Minneapolis this weekend." That's where he'll join his new club. It will be a bit strange to see him ride out of the visiting bullpen in Yankee Stadium next season.

"I've been there before," he said. "What is going to be strange is wearing the blue sanitary hose of the White Sox. At least I'll have my name on my uniform. They'll know who I am now."

His Yankee teammates always knew. Mel Stottlemyre, who takes over as the Yankee in longest continuous service (Jake Gibbs

Annual Meeting Of Farm Bureau Set For Friday

Tomorrow is one of the biggest days of the year for the Rowan County Farm Bureau.

Their annual membership meeting will be held Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Rowan County High at Morehead.

The Bureau furnishes the entrées (meat, chicken etc.), bread and drinks. Bureau families bring covered dishes of vegetables, salads and desserts.

regents who represent the citizenry. If faculties are unwilling to insist upon law and order on campus, then the trustees must exercise a larger and more direct measure of control. The trustees of state institutions also owe it to the taxpayers to take a hard look at academic procedures which nowadays prove injurious to the well-being of educational institutions and the surrounding community.

For example, the idea of academic tenure needs reexamination. It is doubtful that the public approves of tenure - permanent action to deal with law-breakers. It is imperative that society as a whole reject the notion that a college or university is a privileged sanctuary for anarchists and others who seek to destroy American institutions.

Beyond that, there is need in public colleges and universities to assert and maintain the authority of state trustees and came before both but not until 1965 to stay), said it best for all of them: "I hated to see him go. He was as close to everybody on the team as anybody was."

Give any man of the 25 on a team a chance and he'd be proud to walk out with the same epitaph. Hamilton was the Yankee the others wished they had the time to be.

Handy Haitians attract tourists

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (UPI) - The people of Haiti, the first black republic in this hemisphere, have many crafts that are of special interest to tourists. The Afro-French heritage shows through in the bold imagination used to develop goods out of their natural products.

Nothing is wasted in Haiti. The scraps from making an iron cross or a wooden scepter are used for hinges; the scraps from the hinges make dolls. Leather is used down to the last scrap—often becomes the thing that makes the doll. Decorated with brightly colored coffee beans, and sold in a Port-Au-Prince boutique.

Shopping in the native market has become almost legendary as one buys woodenware, primitive paintings, and baskets for a fraction of the cost elsewhere in the Caribbean. No other island has a similar art form; experts throughout the world have recognized Haiti's indigenous art as one of the most exciting trends in the field.
