The Psychology Class

Conducted by Rex Hoke

Good morning, class! Take the subject of psychology for the next lesson.

Just as every man is a king, so I believe every man is a psychologist. He may not know and he is not to be blamed for it. He is just the same. He could be a psychologist and not a philosopher, for that is something else.

Now, psychology is a deep subject, but you'll never amount to anything until you get to the bottom. It is misty with occasional vapors, but if you have the gall you can digest the misty vapors. Wavering and faltering won't get you anywhere.

Now as it is spring, we will talk about the hounds of spring, the scientific, the phantom hound of spring.

Every one with any experience in woods running at all has heard the hounds running at the coming of the first general thaw in late winter as the freeze goes out of the timber.

You take your stand and the pack comes round the mountain in full cry, you look for varmint and you see nothing at all. Just when the hounds come in sight you hear the chase going over your heads through the tops of the trees. It is all very strange and weird. But it is a common observation, and not to be explained too simply as just the coming of spring.

One of our psychologists cracked the problem after painstaking researches, the late Dr. Van Zan's. His theory is that when hounds run a hot trail in cold weather, the bark of the dog freezes to the bark of the tree, and when the timber thaws the sound is released like from a phonograph record. What part static electricity may play in this is not yet developed, but it is certainly in the area of friction.

To test out this interesting theory I staged a demonstration fox chase years ago on a cold December morning. The hounds brought the fox around the mountain, to my stand, and I shot the varmint with my own gun at one hundred paces standing.

A few weeks later we came a Christmas thaw and a party of us visited the spot, heard all over again the spirited chase around

Girl Scout Activities

Martha Lee Pennebaker Troop Scribe

The Girl Scout Council will meet this Friday at 3 p. m., at the home of Mrs. G. W. Pennebaker.

The Browne Pack met last Saturday at Breckinridge Training School, with their leader, Miss Peggy Reynolds, and their new assistant leader, Miss Nannette Robinson. They planned a hike for next Saturday afternoon. All Brownies are advised to meet in front of Breck on Saturday at 1:30 if the weather permits.

March Of Dimes Gets More Money

Delayed contributions recently turned in to Glenn W. Lane, Rowan County treasurer for the March of Dimes, amounted to $13,010 from the Haldeman school and $7 from a coin collector at the Clearfield Supply Co. Added to the 175,044 previously remitted to state headquarters in Louisville are 506 items bring Rowan County's contribution to the 1943 infantile paralysis drive to $189,921.

During this month of the War Fund drive, radio listeners will be kept alert for the wants and needs of the Red Cross.

Rowan County Red Cross War Fund Drive Under Way

"Give Double" Will Have To Be Our Motto To Raise $50,000

The Red Cross War Fund planning committee for Rowan County held its second meeting last Thursday night, with all but one member present and Professor Gabriel C. Banks presiding. Details of the plans discussed, with special attention to the choosing of neighborhood solicitation leaders.

For this nation, the whole month of March has been set aside for Red Cross fund. In Rowan, door-to-door asking will be delayed until about the middle of the month. But anyone who will make his contribution early is invited to make a check in advance in order to "Rowan County Chapter, American Red Cross," and hand or mail it to Mr. Banks, chairman of the War Fund drive, or to Mr. H. C. Haggan, chairman of the chapter.

The national goal of 125 million dollars—50 million for war work and 45 million for home service—is far more than last year's, and many of the men who gave last year are in uniform now and perhaps needing help themselves.

500 Attend Navy Dance Saturday

The Navy Dance, sponsored by the Morehead Board of Trade, and held last Saturday night, February 27, at the College Gymnasium, was attended by approximately 500 guests.

Approximately 10,000 persons were issued War Ration Book Two during the past few days for rationed canned goods and later for meat, at the six registration centers in Rowan County, last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, February 24, 25, 26.

Forty-one Rowan County teachers and a number of volunteer registrars handled the gigantic task smoothly throughout the entire county, issuing books at Morehead, Haldeman, Elliottville, Farmington, Clearfield and Coopersville.

Teachers' Pay---

Whereas, The public schools are the foundations of democracy, and we must educate our youth in order to preserve and protect our democracy, and if we let our schools fall then our democracy is gone; and,

Whereas, According to the newspapers of our state, adequate funds may be made available through legislative action to provide additional money for teachers' salaries, without increasing the tax burden of the people of Kentucky, since a surplus now exists and the state is out of debt; now,

Therefore, In order to provide sufficient funds to pay decent salaries to keep qualified teachers in the school rooms of Kentucky during the school year 1943-1944, we the Directors of the Eastern Kentucky Education Association assembled in special session at Ashland, Kentucky, on this the 15th day of February, 1943, by unanimous vote, do hereby request that the Honorable Keen Johnson, Governor of Kentucky, convene the General Assembly into extraordinary session, at as early date as possible, for the purpose of considering emergency legislation to be effective for the school year 1943-1944. Be it further,

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Honorable Keen Johnson, Governor of Kentucky, the Honorable John W. Brooker, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, to the President and Secretary of the Kentucky Education Association, the President and Secretary of each Education Association affiliated with the Kentucky Education Association, the superintendents of all Kentucky school districts, and the leading newspapers of Kentucky.

The President of the United States in a recent message called on all rural boys and girls to enlist in the 4-H Club and help win the war by producing more food. The job at home of feeding and clothing the nation and in furnishing food for our Allies and Armed Services is just as important as fighting. Boys and girls can be soldiers on the home front by helping to produce more food. All boys and girls that want to help lick the Axis should fill out their enlistment card and mail it to the county agent at Morehead. Our country asked us to produce more pork, more beef, chickens and eggs, hemp, corn, and vegetables. Select the project that you can do the best and mail your enlistment now if you are not already a 4-H Club member.

Regents Select George Head of Music Department

Named to Position Left by Horton's Resignation

Professor Marvin E. George, acting head of the Morehead College department of music for the past several months, was named permanent head of the department by the Board of Regents at a meeting held on the campus last Friday. Professor George succeeds Professor Lewis H. Horton, who resigned his position here last December to join the music staff at the University of Kentucky.

Professor George has been an instructor in the local music department since 1931, and has directed the band and other instrumental groups of the college and choral groups of Breckinridge Training School. In 1937 and 1938 he served as acting head of the department during the leave of Professor Horton, and was in charge of college choruses and vocal instruction.

Directed New York Group: As a graduate student at Teachers College of Columbia University, New York, where he received his master's degree in 1931, Professor George was student director of the mixed chorus and directed preparation for the Percy Grange concert which was presented in New York that year. At Columbia he also belonged to Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, a national music fraternity, and to Phi Delta Kappa, an honor graduate educational fraternity for students above bachelor work level.

Prior to studying at Teachers College of Columbia, Professor George was a student at Bowling Green State University, in Ohio, and received his bachelor's degree from that college in 1930. At Bowling Green, he was particularly active in music circles, and had vocal leads in a number of college opera productions. He was a member of the honorary scholastic fraternity, and was president of Phi Sigma Mu, honorary music fraternity of which he later became national auditor.

Trained State Contest Winners: During his twelve years on the Morehead staff, Professor George has developed a number of outstanding bands and ensembles on the campus. Especially successful in his work with vocal groups of Breckinridge Training School, he has earned an enviable record of having taken eleven choruses to state competition, and having won eleven first-place awards with them. The winning groups included choruses of boys, girls, and mixed voices.

Professor George is active in Morehead civic organizations, and is also music director of the local Methodist church.

serve their country may find out now whether they qualify for the WAAC.

The need for more women to put their patriotic ideas into action by enrolling in the WAAC and thus releasing more men for combat duty is urgent, as the Corps is now authorized to expand its enrollment to 150,000 women, a strength six times that originally contemplated. Thousands more officers are needed and well qualified women face great opportunity for promotion. Women can be trained at the four WAAC Training Centers as fast as their voluntary enrollment can be secured.

To qualify for enrollment in the WAAC a woman must be an American citizen, between the ages of 21 and 44 years inclusive, of good moral character, in good physical health and mentally alert. She may be married but may have no children under the age of 14 years and no financial dependents. Women are eligible regardless of race, color or creed. Wives of men in any of the armed forces may continue to receive their government allotments while serving in the WAAC.

Mrs. Marie Turner Addresses MSTC Faculty Monday

is MSTC Graduate and County Superintendent Of Breathitt County

Mrs. Marie R. Turner, superintendent of Breathitt county schools and nationally known educator, appeared at a regular meeting of the Morehead State Teachers College faculty last Monday night and talked on her ideas of proper preparation in college of prospective teachers for rural communities.

Mrs. Turner, who has recently received attention from the press for her advocated plan for relieving teacher shortages, said in her talk Monday night that the teacher should take more practice teaching in preparation for that career, and that some of the practical work should be in the rural communities similar to the communities in which she will work.

The teacher should also be a good social worker, Mrs. Turner specified, and she should be prepared to make a survey of the social and economic conditions in the community where she teaches. She should know the social and economic background and life history of each child in the classroom.

Mrs. Turner mentioned that ordinarily the teacher who has been a good student in college makes the necessary adjustments more readily than the teacher who has not been a good student.

In her speech before the Morehead faculty, Mrs. Turner out-help wherever they are needed. Some of the recent volunteers include Columbus Terrell at Pelfrey, or Robert Biddle at Sligh Camp, Mr. and Mrs. Wallin in the Pottsville Addition, John Jones and Delmar Padgett at Binesdale.

George Ellington from Upper Licking River was elected chairman of the Itowan County Poultry Program for 1943. Mr. Ellington keeps 2000 layers and is one of the most consistent poultrymen in the county. Leland Hall from Pine Grove was elected secretary. Mr. Hall is brooding 400 baby chicks which he plans to sell on the early broiler market and then brood another bunch of chicks from which he will select the layers for next fall. In answer to the question as to whether a poultryman could make money with the present high feed prices, both Mr. Ellington and Mr. Hall stated that there has never been a time when a good poultryman did not make money. Mr. Hall made a report on his poultry for 1942. His 125 hens averaged 135 eggs for 12 months and his feed cost was $1.12 per hen or a total of $235.57. Mr. Hall's income from eggs and chickens was $475.29. Mr. Hall received $238.82 for his labor with his chickens.

Mr. C. E. Harris reported that a number of chicks over the state had developed a curled-toe paralysis which is caused by vitamin deficiency. Whenever baby chicks show symptom of this trouble they should be fed milk.

Q. Is the registration of War Savings Bonds a matter of public record?

A. No. Records of ownership of War Savings Bonds are confidential and information is given only to those persons whose right to it is fully established.

Q. Where can I buy a War Savings Bond?

By Gil Crockett.

A. At United States post offices of the first, second, and third classes, and at selected post offices of the fourth class; and generally at classified stations and branches; at Federal Reserve Banks and branches; at most commercial banks, savings associations, credit unions; other financial institutions; many retail stores, theaters, and other official sales agencies; or through a Pay-Roll Savings Plan. You may also buy them by mail direct from any Federal Reserve Bank or branch, or from the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C.

Q. What is the limit of ownership of War Savings Bonds?

A. There is an annual limit of $5,000, maturity value, a $3,750 cost price for each calendar year, of bonds originally issued during that year to any one person.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.

YOU CAN CONTROL—YOU CAN'T PROHIBIT

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Y'know, Judge, I was thinkin'. It just don't seem fair, some counties having these Local Option elections while our boys are not here to vote for what they want."

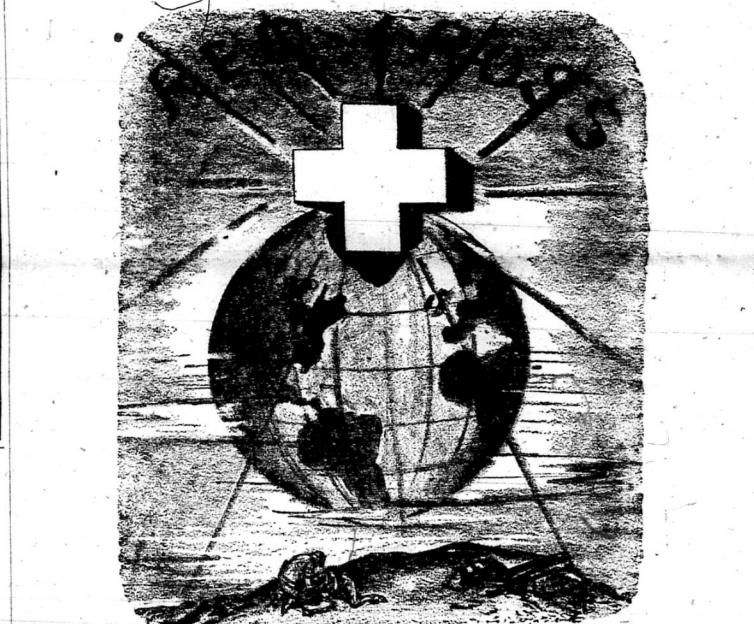

"I think you're right, Sam. It's worse than unfair. It's the same kind of thing we fought our Revolutionary War to prevent. Legislation without representation." Yet here they're voting whether or not to have legal control and sale of alcoholic beverages—when just about ten percent of our male population can't protest about it, because they're away in the Service."

"Judge, I'm against that sort of thing, and against the kind of people who try to put that sort of thing over on us. To me it seems just plain un-American to dictate to people—and most specially to do it behind people's backs, when they can't say even a word against it."

Now your Johnny is somewhere on many of the war-shattered fields where countless thousands of Johnnies are fighting—fighting for Mom and Dad and The Girl—against the forces of evil. He may be pouring out his lifeblood. And you—Mom and Dad—can't be there to take his hand and make everything all right again.

But the American Red Cross, "The Greatest Mother," is there and will continue to be there if we—all the Moms

Kentucky Distillers' Association
Whose Members Are 100% Actively Engaged in War Production.

Remember when Johnny was just a little boy?

IT SEEMS only yesterday that Johnny was romping through his childhood. Remember? As if you ever could forget! Even in those days, he had his troubles, and they seemed great and unbearable until he brought them to you. After all, Mom or Dad could make the world right again with a word or a kiss.

and Dads and Girls—give a little of our plenty to pay the cost.

If Johnny was among the wounded today, a blood transfusion may be required to save his life—blood contributed to the American Red Cross by Americans back home. Contributed? Yes, but it costs money to store and transport the precious plasma which may save Johnny's life. Back at the Army hospital, Johnny's wounds will be dressed by Army nurses, recruited by the Red Cross. Sympathetic Red Cross workers will advise you of his progress, and, as he gets better, other Red Cross workers will be with him to speed his recovery by furnishing him cheerful company and the other little comforts a convalescent requires.

Maybe Johnny hasn't been wounded. But the chances are he's lonely and heart-sick for home. He can't come home, but he can go to the American Red Cross Club. True, that isn't as good as home, but he will find a warm welcome, a good meal and amusements.

Perhaps Johnny is in an enemy prison camp. The Red Cross will help him there, too—help him to get mail from home and some of the comforts which will help to keep his morale up. Or suppose you are in trouble at home, and Johnny can't come back to help straighten things out... There are thousands of Red Cross workers throughout the country, and millions of volunteers, ready to do it for him.

The American Red Cross needs $125,000,000 to carry its many tasks in 1943. It must depend upon your contributions to continue its great work. Don't fail "The Greatest Mother!"

"This was a 20 per cent increase over their 1941 production, compared to a three per cent increase made by all farmers," according to the Department report.

"Significant increases by Farm Security borrowers also were shown for other war-needed food crops. In terms of their own production the year before, these 1942 increases ranged from 20 to 106 per cent. In terms of the nation's total increase, they also contributed 27 per cent of the nation's increase in dry beans and 10 per cent of the total increase in eggs, chickens and peanuts.

"These families were from the small farm group unable to get adequate credit from other sources. They operated with Farm Security Administration credit and supervision. Early in 1942, following January revision for the nation's war food goals as a result of the attack on Pearl Harbor, the families revised their farm plans to provide greater increases of the foods called for. Many of them planned substantial production of war-needed crops, such as dairy products and poultry, of which they had previously produced little or none."

the mountain, and the report of my gun. We recognized the sound of the gun and the individual mounts of the bounds.

To the trained ear, the reproduction was not what could be called exact; perfect, as a hollow tree would send off its booming bass a little ahead of its turn, while a cross grained stick would come in just a mite behind its turn at the chorus. The timing, too, was a bit too fast, as was a ground thaw and the freeze went out of the timber in a hurry. If the thaw had come out everywhere at the same time the chorus would have been perfect.

Anyway the phantom chase came round the mountain like the wind, but this phantom hunt business has been a kind of both or neither whenever I would let my mind ponder on the psychological. So, I am gratified to know this phantasmagoria has been clearly demonstrated to have a scientific basis in fact.

increase over their 1941 production compared to a three per cent increase made by all farmers," according to the Department report.

"Significant increases by Farm Security borrowers also were shown for other war-needed food crops. In terms of their own production the year before, these 1942 increases ranged from 20 to 106 per cent. In terms of the nation's total increase, they also contributed 27 per cent of the nation's increase in dry beans and 10 per cent of the total increase in eggs, chickens and peanuts.

"These families were from the small farm group unable to get adequate credit from other sources. They operated with Farm Security Administration credit and supervision. Early in 1942, following January revision for the nation's war food goals as a result of the attack on Pearl Harbor, the families revised their farm plans to provide greater increases of the foods called for. Many of them planned substantial production of war-needed crops, such as dairy products and poultry, of which they had previously produced little or none."

She proposed twelve months pay, under a system in which the teacher would teach three days a week in one school, three days in another. Her plan also provides that the period of teaching should be preceded by five weeks of training in a workshop designed primarily for women.

Her attendants were both attired in blue; Miss Adkins' flowers were yellow roses, and Miss Fannin's were red carnations. Mrs. Luther Blair, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress for the wedding, with shoulder corsage of red carnations.

The house was decorated with gladioli, daffodils, and carnations. Following the ceremony, a reception for the fifty guests was held.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Salvato are popular Morehead College students. The bride, who entered service here in 1941 after receiving preliminary schooling at Berea College and Academy and one year of training at the Kessler School of Nursing at Rochester, Minnesota, is a senior at Morehead with a major in home economics.
