DIED ALONE.

Sudden End of Judge Z. T. Young, at Mt. Sterling.

Two of Eastern Kentucky's Best Known Characters.

HE PLAYS CONSPICUOUS PARTS.

Death! the happy thought art terrible. Death! the thought makes the heart shudder. O true companion, the friend of all.

Judge Z. T. Young, one of the best known men in Eastern Kentucky, died suddenly at Mt. Sterling, this morning. His wife was visiting at Mt. Sterling, and, with the exception of his servant, Judge Young was alone. From his last earthly breath, he called on his servants to put some coal on the fire. He was overcome by the fumes. Within an hour he passed away. Neighbors were called in, but before they could get to him he had fallen into a trance. His death was always a mystery, and it was surmised that there had been several months past that the health of the young man had been better than usual.

Judge Z. T. Young was a man of the most widely known men in the county. He had served as a member of the legislature for many years, and was one of the most respected and influential men in the county. His death was a great loss to the county and the state.

Zachary Taylor Young was one of the most widely known men in the county. He had served as a member of the legislature for many years, and was one of the most respected and influential men in the county. His death was a great loss to the county and the state.

Until a few years ago Mr. Young lived at Mount Sterling, Rowan County. He was a man of the most widely known men in the county. He had served as a member of the legislature for many years, and was one of the most respected and influential men in the county. His death was a great loss to the county and the state.

Developments in the case of Mr. Young are expected to be made known in the near future. The investigation of the case is expected to be made known in the near future. The investigation of the case is expected to be made known in the near future.

Valuation of Property in Lee County.

A valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584. The valuation of property in Lee County, according to the recent session of the legislature, is $3,781,584.