Regional Garbage Sites Held The Best Solution

The problem that almost every Kentucky municipality and county is faced with in garbage treatment was brought into focus at Morehead Friday when the Kentucky Municipal League conducted an open forum on Solid Waste Disposal.

Samuel Johnson, director of the solid waste program for Kentucky, told about 100 Mayors, City Managers and City Fathers. "The only acceptable method with existing funds is the land fill plan."

Johnson recited that the problem is now acute and is becoming worse every day. League President, Charles Gartrell, Mayor of Ashland, and Executive Director Glenn Lovern, Frankfort, said the Morehead gathering "was the best attended, and attracted the most interest of any held on the garbage disposal problems."

Lifetime Membership Bestowed

The meeting was held at the Morehead News building which hosted a hospitality hour. The dinner was given by the City of Morehead with wives of the Mayor and Council serving as hostesses.

The Municipal League conveyed, for the first time in its long history, a lifetime honorary membership. The honor went to Publisher W. E. Crutcher, Morehead, cited by Lovern as "one of the greatest and most effective friends the Kentucky Municipal League has ever had." Lovern said the honor was unanimously voted last week by the Board of Directors.

Morehead Mayor William H. Layne cited the garbage problem locally, and other Mayors chimed "Me too" or "Us too." Johnson said it had been concluded that the best approach to the expensive garbage disposal problem was through acquisition and operation of a regional land-fill dump. (Morehead, Olive Hill, Rowan County, and Morehead State University have been conferring about this plan using the recently acquired Christy Creek, abandoned clay mines, site.)

The speaker said that most cities of the 3rd, 4th, and 5th classes could not afford their own separate, or individual, land-fill disposal site. He set out the bulldozer and other costs. Johnson also said that federal funds would be available, with regional operations given the priority for these grants.

The entire Morehead Council attended the

THIS ISSUE LACKING ANY LOCAL OBITUARIES

This is an unusual issue of the Morehead News - pleasantly so. This (Nov. 19, 1970) edition does not contain one local obituary.

Publishers cannot recall when the Morehead News did not carry one, or more, deaths.

Morticians could have taken a long holiday.

DISPOSAL CONCERN . . . Apparently the major problem in Kentucky municipalities these days is garbage disposal. About 100 Mayors, City Managers, members of Council etc were in Morehead Friday evening for an open forum on solid waste disposal. Taking time out from the business discussion at the Morehead News building were the above, standing from left - Lexington Mayor Charlie Wiley; Glenn Lovern, Frankfort, Executive Director of the Kentucky Municipal League; Dr. Adron Duran, President of Morehead State University, which also has garbage disposal problems; Flemingsburg Mayor Jack Thomas and two members of the Flemingsburg Council; Mayor Charles Gartrell of Ashland (white shirt and white lapel button) who is President of the Kentucky Municipal League; W. E. Crutcher, Morehead, host for a hospitality hour before the program started; and Owsingsville Mayor Robert Gillmore. Seated - Chester Wolfe, Mayor of Middleboro and President-elect of the League; and Host Mayor William H. Layne, Morehead. Crutcher, a newspaper Publisher, was later honored by the KML as the Board of Directors voted him a lifetime honorary membership first time in history this has been conveyed.

County And City Join In Planning

Rowan Tax Exam Is Commission Of 8 Members To Be Named TODAY!

The date and time for the examination for Rowan County Property Valuation Administrator (Tax Assessor) is today (Thursday, Nov. 19) at 10:00 a.m. in the Home Economics Building, Rooms 214-216, at Morehead State University.

Due to a mix-up in signals, the Morehead News reported last issue (page one) that the examination was scheduled for last Thursday. The error was due to the fact that the Revenue Department at Frankfort which gives the exam had originally scheduled it for Nov. 12, but moved the test up one week to meet advertising deadlines.

Several showed up Thursday for the exam. They were advised to report a week later - this Thursday, November 19.

The salient points about this morning's exam:

+Any Rowan County citizen is eligible if he is 24 years of age, and has resided in the State for two years and in the county one year prior to the May, 1971 primary election.

+Those who pass will be eligible to run as candidates for the office in the May primary. It is probable that no other examination will be called.

+The term of office will be from the date of qualification, probably immediately after the November, 1971 general election, until Jan. 1, 1974.

+The office presently pays $7,200, plus (last year) $1,300 from Fiscal Court. This is expected to be increased, probably between $9,000 to $10,000 a year.

+State Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett called today's exam after Juanita

Rowan County and the City of Morehead today joined forces for future planning, probably including zoning and other far reaching "with teeth" regulations.

Fiscal Court and County adopted a resolution headed: "Joint Planning Commission."

The Commission was established under Chapter 100 of Kentucky Revised Statutes. This is an all-inclusive law, and the Commission will be operative under the by-laws it adopts. Zoning is one of the "key" by-laws wherever this city-county unit is created.

the county does not, and property owners can erect any type of building they desire. Also, there is no existing statute, unless it be under Health laws, that prohibits one property owner from building a stable, or outhouse, near the home of a neighbor.

Eight Appointive Members

Garbage collection could come under this Commission. They will also be advisors to Council and Fiscal Court.

The resolution provides for eight members on the Commission: The County Judge and Mayor, with approval of Fiscal Court and Council, will appoint at least five to be known as "Citizen-Members." However, they can, by agreement, appoint all eight. Terms of office will be four years, but the first appointments will be staggered terms of one, two, three and four years.

This means that two will be named for one year terms; two for two year terms; two for three year terms; and two for four year terms. But, commencing in 1974 all will be

Sunday Closing Laws

Test In Morehead Will Come This Week; Court Of Appeals Rules Violators Can Be Fined Half Of Gross Receipts

Sporadic complaints, mostly from competing merchants, against lack of enforcement in Morehead of the blue laws (Sunday closing) may tell Sunday as every indication today is that violators will be called into court.

In the meantime the Kentucky Court of Appeals has rendered a decision which would inflict a heavy fine on business places illegally operating on the Sabbath.

Mayor William H. Layne said this morning it was his understanding that Chief of Police Callis Coyle had been advised by the city police court to issue the citations starting Sunday.

It could be an all-out clamp down, according to information received by the Morehead News.

Last week the city police delivered a copy of the statute to each merchant with an obvious warning.

All Treated The Same

Primarily affected are food stores, discount houses, drug and sundry establishments, and department and soft goods retail outlets.

Chief Coyle, according to the Mayor, has instructed officers to issue the citations for all stores if a warrant goes out for one. In other words, all merchants are to receive the same treatment.

The situation at Morehead is akin to that at Bowling Green, Louisville and Frankfort where the blue laws are being enforced, and have received wide publicity.

The Kentucky Court of Appeals has released a ruling which holds several Jefferson County (Louisville) stores guilty of contempt for operating on Sunday in violation of a circuit court injunction. The court first reversed Jefferson Circuit Judge Marvin Sternberg, and then recommended stiff fines - "in no event to be less than an amount equal to 50 percent of the gross sales of merchandise made by each store during the day of violation."

This is the stiffest penalty ever recommended, or accorded, in the Commonwealth.

Reports from over the state indicated that such food chain stores as Kroger, A&P, Winn-Dixie etc had ordered all their Kentucky stores to close on Sunday. Discount houses are also, with some exceptions, closed over the Sabbath.

Mayor Layne said that Morehead, itself, has no ordinance against business as usual on Sunday, and if they do have it has been lost a long time ago. However, police will act on the state statute, the practice of other cities in the Commonwealth.

Also in the limelight is the charge that outside the city limits (rural) stores are being allowed to operate on Sunday. These have generally been overlooked as their volume is small, and most operate gasoline pumps. Service stations have been permitted to remain open over the state, as have theatres, restaurants etc.

Will Stores Take Chance?

The situation at Morehead was spotlighted last week when some merchants complained that competitors are doing business on Sunday in violation of the law. They say but demanded that city police issue citations. Instead, police delivered the warning, but it is apparent that citations or warrants will be forthcoming this coming Sunday if certain classes of retail businesses are open.

Whether any Morehead store will attempt to buck the "at least 50 percent of gross sales" instruction is not known.

This may be the first real test of the blue laws in Morehead, although mild complaints have been expressed over the years. Nobody could recall when drug stores in Morehead were closed on Sunday - that is until last Sunday when they locked their doors after police served the warning.

Morehead's two largest retail food stores - Ray's Sawevay and IGA Foodliner - started staying open on Sunday about a month ago. They were open last Sunday, but this may be the last Sunday for a long time they will do business.

Mayors, in Morehead Friday for a meeting of the Kentucky Municipal League, were agreed that enforcement of the blue laws had gross receipts on Sunday.

Early Edition

Next Issue Of Morehead News Will Be On Streets Tuesday

Due to Thanksgiving on Thursday, Nov. 26, the next issue of the Morehead News will go to press a day early.

Copies will be on Morehead newsstands Tuesday afternoon; and delivered by mail in the Rowan County area Wednesday morning.

Deadline for advertising and news (except late or spot news) will be either noon, or 5 p.m., next Monday.

Dr. Perez: "I Intended To Start Detective Agency In Morehead"

Lawrence Edward Brown, alias Dr. Robert Perez, charged with defrauding 10 Morehead merchants through cold checks, refuted the Morehead News Monday with the mild complaint that he was incorrectly quoted in a page one story in the November 5 issue.

Dr. Perez said the next to last paragraph might convey the wrong impression and jeopardize his trial in circuit court.

This paragraph reads - "Morehead has some fine, accommodating people," Brown, alias Perez told the Sheriff (Carl Jones).

Dr. Perez (that's the name he said he prefers to be called) said in his telephone call that he did not use the word "accommodating" in his conversation with the Sheriff.

"This may leave the impression with the many thousands readers of your fine and well edited newspaper that I took the business men of Morehead to be easy marks . . . perhaps gullible is the correct word," Dr. Perez said.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," the debonair Dr. Perez continued. "As a matter of fact the people of Morehead ought to be real proud of their retail merchants because you don't find men and women of such high stature in other communities. They are accommodating, but they're also alert and operate good, sound businesses."

Really, the quality of your town (Morehead) and the high integrity of your businessmen is probably the reason I stopped here in the first place."

Visioned Detective Agency

Dr. Perez then told a Morehead News representative -

"I have operated private detective agencies at Ashland, Ky., in Ohio and West Virginia. You can check on me and you will find that I helped retail business men."

"I had always heard what a fine town Morehead is, and decided to visit it. My first impressions were overwhelming. I saw all those great buildings at the University . . . your churches . . . your genteel people . . . and above all the clear look and courtesy of your merchants."

"So, I decided I would do something for Morehead, particularly the business places."

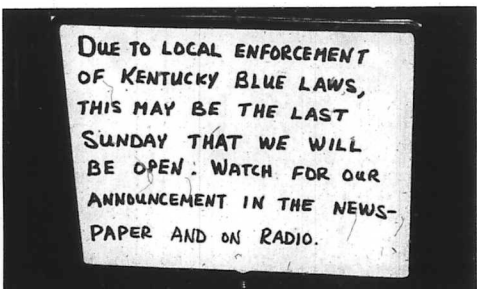

"That's the reason I cashed all those small amount checks. That was in keeping with my plan to help the merchants through establishment of a detective agency in Morehead . . . I liked the town so well that I made up my mind to set up business (detective agency) and move to Morehead because it is such a wonderful place. "It was my intention to cash the checks and return the next day and pay all of them off. That's the way my detective agency operates.

"As I paid each merchant in full, I would then explain to him that he needed security and protection against being defrauded by cold checks or in other ways by 'con' artists."

ADVANCE NOTICE . . . A Morehead supermarket displayed this sign last Monday, advising customers this may be the last day they would be open on Sunday, as a crackdown appeared imminent for enforcement of blue laws. Indication was strong today that citations will be issued to any store open this coming Sunday.

ONE NUMERAL CHANGED . . . Until today the numeral "6" at lower left of this retail store window sign in Morehead was a "7". Following a warning from Police Chief Callis Coyle, the owner decided to hereafter close on Sunday. Violators could be fined in city court, presided over by Judge Austin Alfrey, as much as half their gross receipts on Sunday.

READY FOR MARKET . . . A Rowan County farmer unloaded his burley crop at the Morehead Tobacco Warehouses. First sale will be Monday, and about nine million pounds are expected to be auctioned on the three Morehead floors. The Department of Agriculture estimates the burley belt production will be off seven percent this year, but warehousemen expect a 10 percent price increase, based on fire cured sales in the Carolinas. Owners of Morehead warehouses welcome visitors for tours and to hear the chant of the auctioneer.

four and a half hour gathering. Solid-waste means all decomposed and non-decomposed refuse in solid form, Johnson set out. He added:

"This includes garbage, incinerator residue, dead animals, demolition and construction wastes, solid commercial and industrial wastes and special wastes including explosives and radioactive materials."

"Through the cooperation of state officials and local and regional representatives in the development of a Solid Waste Management Program, Kentucky is taking positive action to avoid an environmental crisis."

"The program establishes a clear-cut management system for local communities to improve their environment, it encourages regional consolidation of financial resources, provides a channel for more effective delivery of the state's technical assistance to local governments, and it will enable Kentucky communities to qualify for increased federal funding of their efforts to establish modern, effective solid waste disposal systems," Johnson said.

Recognizing the need to find solutions toward this problem, Gov. Nunn asked the state legislature about three years ago to pass the Kentucky Solid Waste Act.

"This act has enabled the establishment of a separate arm of government, the Division of Environmental Health, in order to combine and coordinate the state's human and financial resources and bring them to bear against this growing challenge," Johnson said.

Recovery Act Funds

Kentucky has already qualified for federal funding prior to the release of funds for the program.

Funds will be made available through the Resource Recovery Act of 1970 recently signed into law by President Nixon.

"Kentucky can be proud it is the third state in the nation and the first state in the Southeast to have completed this stage of the solid waste management effort and gained federal approval," Johnson said.

Johnson also outlined the broad goal of the Solid Waste Management Program which is "to provide the disposal of solid waste in a manner that will protect the public health and welfare, prevent the spread of disease and creation of nuisances, conserve our natural resources and enhance the beauty and quality of our environment."

TIME FOR THANKS . . . Five year old Timmy Malory is eager for November 26 and Thanksgiving Day festivities, but he seems a little sad as he thinks of the future of his newly found feathered friends. This picture was taken at the Berryman Turkey Farm, near Winchester, about 50 miles west of Morehead. Berryman will market 21,000 Thanksgiving turkeys. They had planned for 40,000 but eggs were not available.

Based On Records . . .

It's Snow Time

Now that some Kentuckians in the Eastern part of the state have seen snowflakes flutter to the ground this month, residents in other parts of the state are beginning to wonder about the possibility of an early snow. The meteorologists at the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station have been wondering about it too. They've dug back into the record books and determined the odds on having snows of 1 inch or more in specific areas of the state. The greatest snow of this century to occur this early in the season was in November 2-3 of 1866 when central Kentucky was buried in depths up to 17 inches in some areas. This snowfall made Kentucky old-timers forget about the October snow of 1923 which dumped between 3 and 7 inches of snow in the north - half of the state and from 1 to 3 inches in the southern counties.

Last winter the earliest 1-inch snowfalls were recorded November 14 and 19. On the 14th, snows of one inch or more were observed in the east and part of the Bluegrass; extreme west and south portions of the state. The heaviest snows on this date were recorded in the southeast, where from 3 1/2 to 10 inches fell. On the 19th, from 1 to 3 inches of snow fell chiefly on parts of the western half of Kentucky.

For the Morehead area the chances are five percent for a one inch snow by Nov. 3; 10 percent by Nov. 12; 30 percent by Dec. 2; 50 percent by Dec. 15; and 90 percent by Jan. 19. These figures are based on the study commencing with the first recording of weather charts.

Diet and teeth

NEW YORK (UPI) — A dental disease that results in the loss of teeth for millions of adults may be caused by bad nutrition rather than a build-up of dental plaque that cuts off the blood supply to the gums. Joint research studies with animals at Cornell University Medical College and the University of Goteborg in Sweden, found that the cause of periodontal disease could be either too little calcium in the diet or too much phosphate.

... this is a grave danger because there's more crooked schemes going around than ever before in history."

"My fee for protection by my detective agency is $50 membership, and $25 a month. It really is a fine service to retail merchants, and I wanted to provide this service to Morehead."

"But, you know how this world is full of temptation. After cashing the checks, and returning the car with thanks to one of your gracious dealers, I found I had business in Ohio. That was when I made the mistake by spending the money I received from the checks on things that are sinful. So, I found myself without funds to pay off the checks as I had intended."

Convicted In Ohio

While Dr. Perez was talking the Morehead News representative procured the file, and related to Dr. Perez: "But, this happened in 1968. If you wanted to pay off the checks you had two years to do it, but you didn't."

"You're a fine reporter and get to the facts like a good newspaperman should," Dr. Perez replied. "I was incarcerated and couldn't return to Morehead and pay back the merchants."

Further questioning elicited the information from Dr. Perez, who speaks with a slight foreign accent, that he was convicted in Ohio on cold check charges, the incident being much like that at Morehead and he had spent almost the last two years in the Ohio State penitentiary.

"I hope you will clear up this matter in your good newspaper," Dr. Perez said. "I still intend to pay off those checks, and maybe I can still use my talents to be helpful to the people of Morehead, and in particular render a significant service to your good merchants."

Dr. Perez was in Morehead Monday as he was scheduled for trial at the November term of Rowan Circuit Court. The case was continued until the March term.

The story about Dr. Perez which appeared in the Nov. 5 issue, reads as follows:

He was pretty darn smart, just about the slickest takedown I've dressed, self-term gentleman to ever visit the town of Morehead.

He fooled 10 Morehead business places, and made a graceful withdrawal.

Today he's in the Rowan County jail. His name is Lawrence Edward Brown of Chillicothe, O. But, he was distinguished Dr. Robert Perez, and had a slight foreign accent during his 24 hour 'con' game in Morehead.

Two years ago, Sheriff Carl Jones and Jailor Jesse Anderson says he's plenty smart . . . in a dumb sort of way.

On the morning of Nov. 8, 1968, the graceful and maneuvered Dr. Perez called on Dr. Fannin who operates a used car lot, and a Garage.

His story was pat. He was moving to Morehead and joining the staff of St. Claire Medical Center. It made good sense, because a few days prior the Morehead News had related on its front page that more specialists were coming to the hospital, and a doctor's clinic (group practice) appeared probable as Morehead had fast become the medical center of northeastern Kentucky.

Mr. Fannin furnished the groomed Dr. Perez one of his expensive automobiles, a new one, to "try it out."

Dr. Perez visited two business places that

Leaders In Health Care Will Meet At Noon Today

The first step toward activating the nurses training and allied health services program at Morehead State University will come this (Thursday) as the citizens advisory committee meets in Alumni Towers.

Members are hand-picked leading citizens who are engaged in, or have demonstrated an active interest and leadership in public health, St. Claire Medical Center, and MSU. The University announced it would resume the health training programs after St. Claire Medical Center awarded a $2 1/2 million contract expanding the hospital at Morehead to 100 beds, plus an even greater expansion in the out-patient division.

Citizens of Morehead and the immediate area contributed around $250,000 in the addition. More than $1 million was put up by Sisters of Notre Dames, with the balance coming from Hill-Burton and Appalachia federal grants.

Today's meeting of the advisory-group will be at 12 noon.

Driver Licenses Taken Away From Seven Motorists

Seven from the "Morehead area" lost their driver licenses during the week, according to the Traffic Coordinating Council at Frankfort. They are:

- Ersel Dee Henderson, 29, RFD 2, Morehead, engaging in racing or speeding contest, suspended 90 days.
- Charles Colin Bloomfield, 17, RFD 1, Vanceburg, speeding, suspended until Jan. 24.

Erna Glenn Roseberry, 30, Wells Creek Road, driving while under influence of alcohol, revoked until Mar. 26.

James Herbert Hay, 19, RFD 4, Grayson, violation probation by conviction, suspended six months.

Gregory Allen Riley, 22, Salt Lick, operating vehicle while license under suspension, revoked until April 16.

Omer Stanley Troy, 29, RFD 1, Ovingvillage, driving under influence of alcohol, and operating vehicle while license under suspension, revoked until October 12, 1971.

Willie J. Hatton, 47, RFD 1, Salt Lick, driving under influence of alcohol, revoked until April 26.

afternoon. He took pains to explain he was joining the Morehead medical staff; made small purchases; and cashed a somewhat larger personal check, saying: "I am a little short on cash."

The following morning (Nov. 9) the polished Dr. Perez followed the same routine at other Morehead retail stores.

A 'Slick' Gentleman

He was so persuasive that one store owner carried the mattress and hoe he had purchased "for a little gardening" to his car, telling the good and capable Dr. Perez that Morehead is a wonderful place in which to live. Of course, Dr. Perez wrote the check for $21.50, or considerably more than the cost of the mattress and rake.

The Doctor was so convincing that he visited Allen's I-C-A Supermarket and Ray's Sawway Supermarket twice on the same day of Nov. 9, 1968. Each time he made small purchases. At the IGA he left checks in the amounts of $85 and $49. Ray's Sawway was checked for $85 and $50.

Others who cashed checks for Dr. Perez included - Malone's Discount $31.58; Harvey's Auto Parts $37.96; Nick Lytle $23.99; Joyce Johnson's; Morehead Home and Auto $104.89; Western Auto $32.28; Martin's $75; and Style Shoppe $75. There may be others whose haven't admitted they were deceived.

On the afternoon of Nov. 9, the well dressed Dr. Perez returned the new car to Fannin's with the comment: "I like that car; but you know how I want the little woman to see and drive it."

That was the last time Dr. Perez was seen in Morehead. The last time, that is, until this week.

Sheriff Carl Jones, probably on a tip, arrested Dr. Perez, who is really Lawrence Edward Brown, this week at Fairborn, O. He waived extradition, and is now under custody of the Rowan County jailer. The grand jury returned 10 true bills for altering a check with no bank account.

"Morehead is really a home of fine accommodating people," Brown, alias Perez, told the sheriff.

The Sheriff advised the folks at LaGrange were even more accommodating. (The Kentucky Reformatory is at LaGrange) elect to serve four years. The Commission will choose its own Chairman and all officers. They may also employ a staff or enter into contracts with professional planners etc.

County Zoning Problem

A spokesman for the City said facets that influenced the decision for a joint commission are: 1. Many subdivisions have been created during the past several years, now, these property owners, most with modern homes, have no protection against somebody erecting an inferior structure on an outhouse, next to their residence; 2. The county has a major garbage disposal problem. This was accentuated after the City moved its garbage dumping site from Divide Hill to Christy Creek; 3. The trend is toward the city and regional garbage disposal facilities; and 4. Poor coordination between the county seat and rural areas is desirable because of fire protection etc.

Council has dabbled with the proposal to amend city and county zoning ordinance limits. This would be on the north side of Divide Hill, south of I-64, and running east-west from opposite Roburn Park to below Brady curve. However, such wide annexation is almost certain to meet strong resistance both from residents of Morehead and some to be annexed. Divide Hill would provide a natural barrier, with the only crossing point being the interstate connector at Divide Hill.

In a broad sense, the Commission would have the limitation in that their policy recommendations need Fiscal Court and Council approval.

Sunday Closing —

become a priority matter, and serious business. Mayor John Chandler of Paintsville: "No business will be spared if City Council decides the enforce the state's Sunday closing laws which will be discussed at a meeting this week. I have even looked into the possibility of forcing Paintsville radio station WSP1 to halt its operations on Sunday, but was advised by the attorney general's office that broadcasting is governed by federal rules."

Kentucky Attorney General John Breckinridge, also in Morehead Friday for the gathering of Mayors, City Managers and Council members said, "Almost all wanted to opt out on the blue laws." He advised City Fathers they should write him, emphasizing that several past opinions are available. Breckinridge said there's no question but Kentucky has Sunday closing (blue) laws.

The situation today in Morehead is sort of "wait and see." The salient factors are: 1. Some competing merchants who do not stay open on Sunday are demanding enforcement of the state law. 2. Police Judge Austin Alfrey apparently has heard the complaint and issued an order that the blue laws, and all other statutes, be enforced: 3. No court action is foreseen against retail stores who have had their doors been open on Sunday; and 4. The deadline is Sunday - if any do remain open this coming Sabbath they will be cited into court.

Revenue questions locally are: Will any business places decide to take the risk and remain open this Sunday?; If any are cited into city court will heavy fines such as one-half of the gross business that day be inflicted? It's definitely status quo of "wait until this Sunday and see what happens."

Rowan Tax Bills May Not Be Ready Before Christmas

The Department of Revenue, which has completed re-assessment of all Rowan County property, is in a race with Santa Claus.

Revenue officials hope to have the tax bills in the mail by Dec. 25 so that property owners can pay the county and school levies and deduct this from their 1970 federal and state income tax reports.

More than 900 Rowan taxpayers appealed the new and higher assessments, and a three-man appeal board is conducting hearings daily today, however, they may be unable to hear the more than 500 unhappy taxpayers before Dec. 1. After that, the complete schedule must be mailed to Morehead and Fiscal Court set a new, and lower, rate on each $10 assessment, and the tax bills made out and mailed. All of these steps require considerable time.

The three citizens, appointed by County Judge Ottis W. Elam to the Board of Equalizers are Jess McDaniel, Orville Howard and Watkins Martindale.

They have speeded up procedures and are now scheduling 25 to 30 taxpayers, who appealed, each day. The hearings were delayed last week when telephones at the courthouse became inoperative. County Clerk Ottis W. Elam hurriedly started making the 2500 appeals which specify the date and time each complaining taxpayer may appear before the Board.

The re-assessment was ordered by Revenue Commissioner James Luckett who said the new bills will speed the tax rate, and lower rate, in a mass. Later, the Property Evaluator, Juanita Wilson, resigned. An examination to qualify applicants for the position is scheduled this (Thursday) morning at Morehead.

Business briefs

Productive California
 SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's gross state product reached $110 billion during August, matching the all-time high recorded in April, 1969. However, the state's economy was only 2.51 per cent ahead of one year ago, indicating a decline of nearly three per cent in real production. Inflation accounts for the difference.

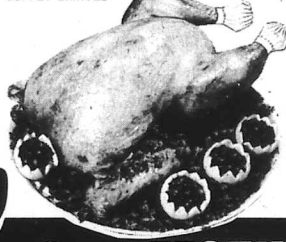

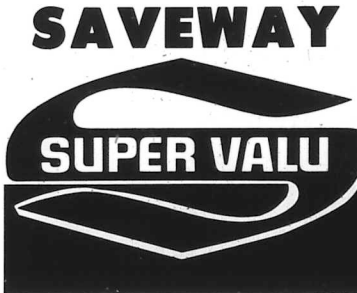

Middle incomes growing
 NEW YORK (UPI)—Does your family have an annual income of $15,000 to $25,000? If so, you're in the fastest-growing family income bracket says a 10-year survey by Meinhart-Commercial Corp a factoring and financing company. The firm's analysis of government figures shows this income group grew from 2.8 per cent of all families in 1960 to 15.6 per cent in 1969—an increase of 528 per cent. It now embraces more than 7.9 million families.

U.S. plastics plant planned for Belgium
 ANTWERP (UPI)—American chemical giant Monsanto is planning a multi-million dollar plastics plant at Antwerp. Completion of the plant by 1972 will triple the company's European production of a tough plastic used in manufacture of car dashboards, vacuum cleaner casings and suitcases.

Rubber consumption
 AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—The automotive industry alone now consumes more rubber than the entire nation did just a decade ago, according to The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. The company estimates that 5.8 billion pounds of rubber are being used in the United States in 1970, 3.6 billion pounds of it in motor vehicles. Ten years ago consumption was 3.5 billion pounds with 2.25 billion going into vehicles.

Best customer
 HONG KONG (UPI)—The United States is Hong Kong's largest market. In April, it bought $67 million worth, or 41 per cent of Hong Kong's exports.

Coal speedup
 PITTSBURGH (UPI)—With coal being burned in record quantities by power plants to generate electrical energy, mine operators are turning more and more to fine-spring and cost-cutting machinery. One continuous mining machine recently developed by Joy Manufacturing Company is capable of cutting and collecting up to 12 tons of coal a minute, a quantity equal to the per man output for three full working days in the industry's pick and shovel era. The machine is operated by one man.

The Mature Woman

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Dear Miss Brookfield:
After 27 wonderful years of marriage, I was widowed 14 months ago. Recently I accepted a date because the man looked "safe" and I thought it would be a wonderful evening. But before the night was over I felt like a lawyer trying to win my first case. My companion felt I should not have accepted the date in the first place if I didn't expect sex. Other men I've met at work have also asked me out and suggested the same thing. Why is it when you mention the word "widow" or "divorcee," the first thing that comes to a man's mind is free sex? There must be men on this earth in my age group I am 48 but look much younger! Who are looking for a decent woman. Do you think the way I feel is wrong?
F.B.S., Paterson, N.J.

Dear F.B.S.:
Not at all. But the world is changing and so are attitudes about sex. People today tend to be much more open about these things. Why not accept those dates, while at the same time making the men aware as subtly and indirectly as you can that you're not going to fall into bed immediately just because someone buys you a dinner or takes you to a movie. Stick to your guns and your standards. You'll find someone who appreciates them.
Skin Deep

Dear Miss Brookfield:
I am 54 years old and have always taken good care of myself. Lately I notice my skin is very dry and tender. I wonder if there are some special cosmetics I should be using for this condition. What would you suggest?
M.E., Oklahoma City

Dear M.E.:
Your problem might be skin-deep - or then again, it might not. Doctors tell us that after menopause the character of the skin changes when the level of estrogen (which helps keep it soft) begins to diminish. At that point (if a woman's life the skin becomes drier and less elastic. Some physicians also point out that with estrogen replacement therapy striking regenerative changes are possible, and the characteristic aging of the skin can sometimes be slowed down. Why not make an appointment to see your own doctor about this?

The Right Job

Dear Miss Brookfield:
Before I was married I was a stenographer, and later did some office work part-time. Now, after many years, I'm thinking about going back to work - but I feel that stenography is for young girls. I'm trying to decide what other kinds of work I might do. I am now 49. Do you have any suggestions?
K.A., Tacoma, Wash.

Dear K.A.:
Why put up a tent when you've already built a house? Stenographic skills and maturity are a combination that many employers look for today. Stick with what you know and build from that. If your skills are a bit rusty, you can always take a refresher course to re-ool them. You'll be surprised how much you remember and how quickly you can get back in the groove.

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

SURVEY PRESENTED-Gov. Louie B. Nunn was presented with a copy of an 1819 survey of the Ohio River by Kenneth F. Harper, Commissioner of Public Information. The historic document is composed of 427 pages of manuscript and 103 sketches, displaying various points in the river between Pittsburg and Louisville. The 151-year-old survey was found in a file cabinet in the Kentucky secretary of state's office. (Gary Robinson Photo)

Publisher's en... Day-by-day jostle-down, and editorial observations, of the publisher of this newspaper.

"No more clean up drives like this." That was the expression today of an obviously perturbed Morehead Mayor William H. Layne...

This is what happened. Last month Morehead's active Jaycees announced a clean-up campaign with several hundred dollars in prizes...

According to the Mayor, little if any garbage or refuse was picked up by Morehead... the groups, or clubs, in the contest, immediately found that their best source of supply was garbage heaps found in every rural section...

"What they did," Mayor Layne said, "was to collect all kinds of filth from out in the country and bring it into town... dumping it right in the heart of Morehead... a pitiful mess."

"How many truck loads were there?" the Mayor re-answered. "When they had hauled off 60 full trucks the pile was just dented good. It cost us several hundred dollars..."

"So ends an intended civic undertaking. Jaycees could, and should, confine the campaign next year to the country which would be especially welcome to County Judge O.H. Caldwell and Fiscal Court who are plagued with roadside and rural dumping problems..."

"We were sure the goat of this one," Layne emphasized. "Oh, well, you learn by experience..."

A BIG SPORTS EVENT MONDAY - IT'S ALL FREE. Have an early evening meal this coming Monday (Nov. 23) and rush, probably by 6 o'clock, to the Laughlin Fieldhouse at Morehead State University...

5. This Publisher was sitting in a Morehead restaurant last week when to and fro he should side down on our site... Coach Harrell in sort of dog killing or have you been fashon. Harrell confided that he was sure nobody will 'steal my boys' and then announced plans to distribute merchandise for all to see...

Clock running, regular referees and the like.

Now, don't start getting ideas that the Eagle varsity team has a claim that could win the OVC title. The varsity is big, has middling experience and depth, and is perhaps the best Harrell has coached here...

PREDICTION - The Morehead Eagle football team will defeat Eastern at Richmond Stadium and thereby cost the Colonels the OVC title and a shot at the Grant Rice Bowl. This upset will give Western the conference championship...

SELL OUT - The thousand advance sale tickets sent Morehead for Saturday's game at Richmond were snapped up. A $RO crowd is certain.

BIG QUESTION - It will be interesting to see if any Morehead retail store will open Sunday morning face a stiff fine. (Story on page one). This thing has become so controversial that some merchants aren't speaking to their competitors...

NOTE PROBABLE - Widely circulated in Morehead is the rumor that a petition for a city local option election, Morehead and Rowan County have been dry since 1947...

CAMPAIGNS - If a local option vote is called by Council in this 4th class city, the proponents (MSU) are certain to claim that enrollment at MSU dropped because most graduates prefer to domicile elsewhere...

HE'S SMOOTH - Perhaps you read about that slick Frenchman who sold all those hats in the Louisville market. The owner said he would make a highly successful legitimate salesman. And, the Manager (a woman) related she didn't know what kind of car he used, because she didn't know how to drive...

BUILDING OUR EGO - We should charge you doubting for this newspaper and the privilege of reading this column. The vest buttons are popping. The young at heart man, a perfect and polished gentleman, who is peeking out this column on a ribbon needs changing underwear, is the only person in all history who is a lifetime honorary member of the Kentucky Municipal League...

SETTING RECORD STRAIGHT - A state-wide agricultural news release says that Kentucky farmers can make up to $2,000 an acre by growing corn. The extension agent Adrian Ratz says that $1,000 an acre is a more realistic figure...

EXAM IS TODAY - Boy, was that ever a mix-up about the Property Valuator (Tax Assessor) exam being last Thursday at Morehead? That started the telephone ringing with late applicants. The error resulted when the dates were changed. The exam will be THIS (THURSDAY) at 10 a.m. (See page one correction. This can't run for the office unless you pass this test which is the equivalent of a first grade exam, mostly figures and arithmetic.)

WAIT AND SEE? - It is noticeable that Rowan County's Fiscal Court has been tight with their dollars. They're waiting for the new 50 percent tax. They're waiting for one thing certain - revenue for county government and schools will increase considerably because of heretofore missing property, motor vehicles, and mobile homes.

SNAIL PACE - Our conclusion after dropping in on Circuit Court this week - nothing moves slower than the wheels of justice. We have an adequate guess that lawyers are a breed unto themselves and want it that way. They're really not lazy but proceed carefully and damn slow.

SOME HURT - A smattering of the owners of real estate along Morehead's Triplett Creek are unhappy that the county has taken most of their property. Some have contacted legal counsel to find they didn't read the fine print. Better than 90 percent of the acreage are undeveloped...

SOLEMN TRIBUTE - Almost every Morehead church will either speak or silent prayer Monday morning for the 75 people, including the entire Marshall University football team, lost in Saturday night's plane crash. Marshall has always outrun attendance any team on MSU's schedule. Records show that in previous years Marshall had an average of 10 Kentuckians on its football squad.

SENSING DANGER - This Publisher who is "fast" in everything he does, particularly when it comes to women or having a good time, has been in just about every airport east about the Rocky Mountains. Through the years our observation has been like this: "We keep hearing about Charleston and Cincinnati being dangerous airports. Charleston is bad. Cincinnati is not even close. It was the airport we have ever flown into or out of in Kenova, Va. Nothing but hills and you can't see the runways until you're on them. We've never understood why they live in a city of over 500,000 people when the Tri-State region didn't build its airport across the river at Chesapeake where there is a two mile wide valley..."

NO CREDIT - The Morehead News editorially observed that when Morehead's new official census (7,005) is released Dec. 1, we'll be ineligible for FHA home loans. Rules of the Farmers Home Administration prohibit loans in a municipality with over 5,500 population. Now, we learn that the same applies for any subdivision if 50 percent or more of the residents earn their living in a city of over 5,500 people.

MAYBE - Sentiment is growing that our Legislative (Representative) district should be Rowan, Bath and Menifee counties. Presently, it is Rowan, Fleming and Robertson counties. The House is having a special session of the Legislature for re-districting. A legislative district should have a total population of about 31,000. Rowan, Bath and Menifee show around 28,000 people. Why then, do you think you should have a district composed of Rowan, Menifee and Bath counties, and also including the City of Morehead and the area around Clearfield and Upper Farmers west of the Leisure road? That would round off to about 31,000. The advantage is that Rowan would be represented by two Representatives. That would be good for Morehead State University, even though both members came from counties other than Rowan. The more we think on this one the better we like it. Problem is, will the General Assembly, suspicious as a bride when her new husband stays out to midnight, see it like we do?

FORECAST - Following a personal inspection of the burley at Morehead's three tobacco warehouses this Publisher, who is at heart a dirt farmer, is convinced that tobacco will bring 10 to 15 percent more per hundredweight this season than last. Auctions start Monday in Morehead and throughout the burley belt. A 10 percent price hike would add about seven percent profit in pounds. But, the grower's net profit will still be lower because of ever increasing farm costs.

PRICE FIXING - This country ought to have a law requiring that when the price is increased on a national product such as automobiles and gasoline, that the manufacturer be required to swear to, and publicize, why the increase is needed. How much is profit; and 3. Did representatives of corporations involved meet (usually on a park bench where there's no recording device) and mutually decide to violate the anti-trust laws? If these companies aren't in unlawful collusion why is it that all gasoline prices go up the same amount and on the same day?

MUM'S THE WORD - The talk of the town this week concerns the blue laws and Sunday closing. Our staff is covering everything real good, including the Court of Appeals ruling that you can't sue a city for an statement from City Judge Austin Alfrey whom we didn't contact although he is the "key" person. Reason is that the Judge won't make a statement on any case, particularly when he or she is the trial judge.

CONCLUDING - Orchids this week to the contractor for the I-64 connector at Morehead. They got that paving down almost on the eve of November 15 which is the day that the highway is to be dedicated. Attorney General John Breckinridge imparted that his office renders over 7,000 opinions each year, the number having doubled since he took office in 1968.

Sportsmen and farmer friends are perhaps a good rabbit, quail and grouse season, particularly the latter. Rowan is perhaps Kentucky's best grouse county. And, we'll make a tidy wager that Morehead's Randy Williams is the best grouse hunter in the Commonwealth, and prove it if anybody wants to bet a few bucks, maybe a hundred...

To University Breckinridge and Rowan County High - Our staff needs your schedules, game and results of games already played. The Morehead News intends to print these schedules and scores, along with MSU varsity and freshmen, in every issue same as we did in football... Civil Defense is to be our course in trying to provide ambulance service in Rowan County starting on a shoe string. Well, this Publisher was once only a little very baby and look what a man we grew up to be. Word is that part of the structure housing a place known for its beverages just across the Licking River bridge in Bath County has burned. One of their customers says the principal (west) building was saved but the east annex was lost in the fire.

The hand-picked Citizens Health Advisory Committee which meets at noon this Thursday at MSU can make a more significant contribution to our common and eastern Kentucky than perhaps they realize... If we ever ran for a district or state-wide office there's one fellow we want on our side. He's Congressman Carl D. Perkins who knows what airports we have ever flown into or out of since we've been on this planet. Look for Morehead's local option election to be scheduled in February or March. A paid up subscriber offered to bring us some permissions. We told him that because there's always a bad apple in every barrel... We'll tell you in a recipe widely used in Morehead homes. First, get a gallon jug of better quality than Coca Cola. The Coca Cola uses. Place in this jug two medium cans or one large can of a good brand grape juice. Add four cups of white sugar. Fill the jug with a half-inch of the top. Purse the cork in (use the kin best) and attach over the mouth of the jug. Let set for several days or until fully fermented. You'll have some of the finest amber liquid you ever saw or tasted.

Wonderful for Thanksgiving or guests. Still better for yourself. Whoopee!... A variation of this recipe is to use apricots instead of grape juice. Incidentally, the balloon blows up real pretty. Money Making Opportunity In Real Estate
Mr. C. Z. Bruce, former Morehead businessman, wrote the following letter to the Publisher of the Morehead News. He is interested in publishing, advertising and buy-out. Mr. Bruce's letter is run, as is becoming this is an accurate description of the property and its potential.

I have a farm located on the east side of Kentucky 32 and on the south side of the Smiley road, which I bought from Claude Brown in the spring before we moved down here and I have decided that I may as well sell it. Therefore, I would like for you to advertise it for me in your good paper for two to four weeks.
I will give you the following information about this property and you can take the needed information from it in having the advertisement worked up. There is in my opinion forty five to fifty acres; however the deed calls for sixty acres more or less. I would estimate that there is forty acres which is real desirable for a fine subdivision. In fact that is what I had in mind when I bought it. I have thought for the past four years that I would spend a summer up there and develop it, but the more I have thought about it, I believe I should go ahead and sell, so that someone else could get on with the job. Call me at small tobacco base and the balance of the crop land is in grass. There is a small part on the west side of 32, but this is mostly steep and rough, which I would not like to be of much value. I have always thought that it is one of the most desirable locations around Morehead, available for development and I believe it can bring someone quite a pile of money, if properly handled.
 Clyde Linton has been taking care of the hay and tobacco, therefore, I am sure he would be so kind to show the lines and etc. to interested parties.
Signed - C. Z. Bruce

Woodsbend Open House

By Helen Price Stacy

A gentle rain was falling and there was a hint of woodsmoke in the air. From the top of a hill overlooking the broad fields below, the view of Woodsbend in the Eastern Kentucky hills could have been the Bluegrass. Autumn rains had nourished the meadow grasses and tree-dotted hills into a brilliant deep green. White-painted fences made squares and oblongs of verdant color and led the eye into the distance to the handsome new quarters of Woodsbend State Boys Camp, about 25 miles south of Morehead.

The road turned right, past the Morgan County Tree Nursery, then left to the state facility established in 1964 as a treatment center for delinquent youths.

It was obvious that boys and weather go together. About a dozen youths clad in hooded rain jackets and boots were loading fireplace-length logs onto a pickup truck. They laughed, talked and worked in the rain. After having felled trees marked specifically for cutting, sawing them into short logs, then stacking them neatly in a field, they were about to receive pay for a completed project.

Had it not been for bright new buildings, it could have been a scene in rural America, the boys on a Thanksgiving visit to the grandparents and gathering stovepots for roasting the turkey.

Although that was not the case, there is a particular home atmosphere at Woodsbend, and strange as it might seem youths who spend several weeks here (the usual stay is four months) receiving therapy and training get a "home" feeling.

"I had a call a week or so ago from a boy who had been released," said Superintendent Jack Lewis. "He told me he was doing all right and wasn't in any trouble but asked if he could come back."

Guided Group Interaction-therapy used at the facility is the main factor contributing to a youth's adjustment to his former home and community, but life and environment at the camp give a youth companionship, individual attention and a sense of belonging that he misses when he returns home.

Work In Groups

At Woodsbend where there is a full house of 50 youths ages 15-18, each boy is screened when he arrives and placed in a group with nine other boys with similar background and problems. The 50 youths are incorporated into five groups of 10 each.

"After each new boy is screened he is assigned to a group. One boy from the group spends a day with the newcomers. They hike together, work at the tree nursery and attend school together. During the day each boy tells the other his complete life history. Next day another boy from the same group spends the day with the new one and they go through the same procedure until each of the 10 boys knows all there is to know about one another."

Supervisor Lewis explained that after this "sharing" of problems, the newcomers asks for a group meeting in which all boys at the facility and personnel discuss problems in general and in particular. A boy has no hesitancy in confessing a wrong, said Lewis, and no one holds back.

"Delinquency is an emotional abcess," said Lewis. "Group therapy helps a boy drain himself of factors contributing to the abcess."

While personnel at Woodsbend and other similar facilities administered by the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare can change a boy, they cannot make a drastic change in conditions at the boys' former home. "We cannot make an alcoholic father, a prostitute mother or a wealthy but unfeeling parent change their ways," said Lewis. "We do have social workers and counselors who keep in touch with a boy when he leaves here. But we need more."

"Our greatest need is a corps of volunteers who will work with a boy after he gets home. He knows people here at camp are concerned and care. At home he faces the old problems, conditions, indifference and begins to lose that quality of belonging. Volunteers, possibly someone connected with the courts, church or civic clubs, could help fill this gap."

If everyone "at home" was as concerned as one county official each youth would have someone who cares. In Estill County, Judge William Brandenburg always tells a boy he needs to be committed to a facility that he will visit there regularly, and he does.

"Judge Brandenburg brings news of home and has a long visit with the boy. The boy loves it. Most boys get mail from home and visits from family, but some do not."

Burned During Christmas

Lewis, native of Pineville, is a honor graduate of the University of Louisville, Kent School of Social Work. He received his B.A. degree cum laude from Union College, Barbourville, in 1959, has a Master of Science in social work and has completed almost four years of medical college. Referring to his medical school training Lewis said, "I'm committed to working with youths like the boys here at Woodsbend. I get more gratification from helping rehabilitate a boy than anything else I could do."

Lewis is married to the former Margaret Rose Dennis, also of Pineville. They have a son Jack Jr., 6, and a daughter Susan, 4, and live in the superintendent's residence adjacent to the camp building.

In 1968 while all youths and personnel were away for Christmas with relatives, the original camp building caught fire and burned. When the boys returned, it was to temporary quarters in West Liberty, about seven miles east. A new $275,000 facility was to be built on the original site where the $25,000 superintendent's home and a $150,000 sewage disposal and water filtration system were unharmed by the fire. The new facility was completed two months ago.

In a recent staff meeting it was voted that youths would remain at camp this Christmas, mainly because too much therapy time is lost.

A new building and separate maintenance and storage structure were built by Frederick & May Lumber and Supply Company, West Liberty. There are classrooms for both elementary and secondary education, a gleaming kitchen, a dormitory made colorful with individual group colors and a large lobby-dining area that boasts a stone fireplace and adjacent reading room. There is a "store" where boys can buy at cost various personal articles with money they earn selling firewood and doing other work. Boys can attend the church of their choice.

George Perkins, commissioner of the Department of Child Welfare, is enthusiastic about the camp and work at Woodsbend and together with personnel is planning an open house at the facility. During open house the public will have opportunity to see why Kentucky is a leader in youth rehabilitation and serves as a model for other states.

In commenting on the facility, a local woman remarked that she believed the 50 boys at camp were much less trouble than would be six teenage boys in a regular family.

"One of the promises each boy makes when he arrives is that he won't run away. He goes often when it is time for him to leave. Most somewhat reluctantly and finds later that he would like to come back. Occasionally he does return, not as a "new arrival" but to visit."

It is hoped that many people will attend open house at Woodsbend State Boys Camp in Morgan County and observe a program in a facility where doors are not locked; where money and personal belongings are in each youth's unlocked locker and where fences are low, decorated and white-painted.

Your Social Security

Hi folks! Our Teleservice is booming! My boss, Thomas B. Thompson, manager of the Ashland social security office, is pleased. And when he's pleased, the fourteen other people in his office, including me, lead happier lives!

The formula for pleasing Mr. Thompson is this: "Every person entitled to a social security check should have that check, and should have that check as soon as possible."

With our Teleservice, we're accomplishing this. Maybe you can't get into the office until next week. Maybe our representative won't be in Morehead until next week. Maybe you don't want to take off from work to file for Medicare. Maybe you're going on vacation tomorrow and are too busy to come in. Maybe you have company, and can't leave them. Maybe you have no transportation, and have to wait to "hitch" a ride. Maybe you just plain don't have the time to come to our office.

These "maybes" can unnecessarily delay your social security check, or Medicare entitlement. We don't want that - you don't want that. One little instrument can solve all the "maybe" problems - the telephone. Call Sadie at 325-7666. Ashland, then forget about when our representative will be in Morehead; forget about taking off from work; while you're on vacation, we'll start your checks; enjoy your company, stay home with them; and forget about "hitchhiking." We'll do the rest.

Fur Bound To Fly At Richmond Saturday

Morehead State's football Eagles snapped a two-game losing streak last Saturday with a 28-6 lacing of Kentucky State as a tuneup for this week's battle with arch-rival Jastern Kentucky.

Coach Jake Hallum's gridgers upped their season mark to 5-4 with the muddly triumph over KSC's Thorobreds who closed the 1970 campaign at 3-6, their best since 1967.

Morehead State holds fifth place in the Ohio Valley Conference with a 3-3 overall record and first place EKV is 8-1 overall and 5-1 in the league. Eastern conquered Indiana State, 9-0, last Saturday. The Colonels have lost only to Western Kentucky.

Freshman quarterback Dave Schaetzke sparkled despite the wind, rain and mud last weekend as the blond speedster rushed for one touchdown, and passed for another. He directed MSU to 266 yards in total offense, 158 rushing and 108 passing. The Eagle defense held KSC to 36 yards passing and 33 yards rushing, intercepted three passes and recovered an enemy fumble.

Senior free safety Larry Baldridge grabbed his sixth interception of the year to tie a school record set last season by teammate Ron Gathright. Also stealing Thorobred passes were sophomore cornerback Ernie Triplett and freshman linebacker Dan Hennigan. The fumble was retrieved by freshman linebacker John Howland.

Morehead State's touchdowns came on an eight-yard run by junior fullback Doug Moore, a 14-yard scamper by Schaezke, a 10-yard pass from Schaezke to junior split end John High and a three-yard plunge by senior tailback Louis Rogan. Sophomore Kirk Andrews kicked all four extra points.

Kentucky State's only touchdown resulted from a 14-yard pass from reserve quarterback Mike Jackson to tight end Ken McKee.

Sophomore fullback Bill Cason, the top Eagle rusher with 511 yards in 93 carries, sat out the KSC game with an old foot injury. He is doubtful for the Eastern try, Hallum reported.

Saturday's 1:30 p.m. tussle at Richmond will be the last college game for nine MSU seniors. Closing their Eagle careers will be Baldridge, Gathright, Rogan, defensive end and Clint Walker, center Steve Ward, offensive guard Buddy Harrison, offensive tackles Ed Mignery and Dwain Hollingsworth and placekicker John Clark.

"Our kids would rather beat Eastern than anyone and we know they feel the same about us," said Hallum. "It should be another battle."

HORNBACK SERVING AS GRAND JURY FOREMAN

The Rowan County grand jury, impaneled Monday, may face a longer than usual session.

No circuit court has been conducted in the county since the May term, and an increased number of referrals to the jury from lower courts is apparent.

Circuit Judge John J. Winn named Dr. Ray Hornback, assistant to the President at Morehead State University, as grand jury foreman.

Family SHOPPING BAG

Dark stained wood, to be covered with light-colored paint, must first be sealed with a recommended primer sealer, with aluminum paint, or with shellac.

Colors for men this season are in heather, funky or dusty tones. Mixed colors with a softer, natural look prevail. Grays and browns tone predominant.

Every woman can wear the Longette helmet, but everyone doesn't have to wear it the same. The sliding scale of helmets may vary from mid-knee to two inches below the knee, to mid length.

Only 60 to 60 percent of American households have diets which meet recommended nutritional standards. In fact, low income is not the only country, but malnutrition results simply because food choices are determined by personal preferences on dislikes and because people do not know what kinds of food they should eat to maintain good health.

Two All-Americans . . .

Frosh, Varsity To Meet

Morehead State University Basketball Coach Bill D. Harrell won't be on the bench next Monday when his varsity and freshman teams collide in a benefit game. The second-year head coach will be in the stands "taking a long, hard look at everyone on the floor" when the varsity Eagles meet the freshmen at 8 p.m. in Laughlin Fieldhouse. Admission is free and donations will be taken at halftime to finance MSU scholarships. The Eagles don't start regular season play until Dec. 2 and Harrell is anxious to see his personnel under game conditions. He is considering nine players for five starting positions and needs to narrow the field. "We rate the varsity-freshman game as a tossup," he said. "Our freshmen should provide a distinct test." Assistant Coach Jack Black is tutoring the varsity Eagles in the "Dollars for Scholars" contest. Graduate Assistant Bobby Hiles is handling the freshmen, described in recent weeks as possibly the best crop of yearlings in MSU's cage history. The varsity, a surprising 13-11 last year in Harrell's first season, return two seniors—All-OVC forward Jim Day and part-time starter Jerry Huseman (6-6). Also up for a center or forward slot is sophomore Alonzo Cole (6-8). Sophomore Royce Woolever (6-11) is the tallest player ever to wear the Blue and Gold and may be the regular center. He did not compete last year as a freshman. The guard spots involve juniors Jerry King (6-2) Ray Wilkerson (5-10) and Eddie Coney (6-2) and sophomores Vic Wharton (6-1) and Bubba Abell (6-4). Other squad members are juniors Mike Guiler (6-5), Gary Cress (6-3) and Ron Abernathy (6-3). Hiles, last year's frosh general, will send five "blue chippers" against the varsity. Included are high school All-Americans Howard Wallen (6-1) of Johnson Central at guard and Leonard Couzler (6-5) of Danville at forward. Other frosh starters are 11-Staters Eugene Lyons (6-4) of Johns Creek at forward and John Stacy (6-8) of Breathitt County at center. Bill Dotson (6-3) of Hazel Green, a standout in last year's state tournament, is the other guard. In reserve are Lowell Ashby (6-2) of Shelby County, Mark Wening (6-7) of Greensburg, Ind. and Joe Stallworth (6-1) of Danville. Also on the team are Skip Vencil (6-1) and Halah Derricksen (5-11), both of MSU's Breckinridge School. "It should be an outstanding game," says Harrell. "Besides helping a good cause, this game gives our fans a good preview of the coming season. I'm expecting a big turnout."

Account - More and more people are beginning to recognize that it means a great deal in terms of human dignity and self respect to have just a little money which can be spent for personal items, selected by the individual patient. Canteen Coupon Books may be purchased in denominations of $2, $5, and $10 each. These coupons can only be used by the patient for his own needs and not for anyone else. + Send Holiday and Season's Greetings and Gifts throughout the year. As people everywhere are getting into the holiday mood, colorful picture-postcards and gifts for St. Valentine's Day, Easter, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and other special days as they arrive, all offer opportunities to remind the patient that there is a world outside of the hospital; and that there are people in it who care. + Send Birthday Cards and Gifts. For many patients the gift, birthday cake, or treat sent by his "Secret Pal" may be the only one he receives! It makes him a person of some importance on his ward, and in his own mind. Gifts may be as simple or as elaborate as the donor's taste and pocketbook indicate. The simple fact that the patient is remembered is the warm glowing gift that helps heal and makes happy. to the editor

This newspaper welcomes letters, particularly on subjects of general local, or area, interest. Right is reserved to condense No letters will be printed without author's signature and address.

The Editor: The Louisville Corps of Engineers has advised me by letter that the bid for Kentucky Highways 1274 (part 2) and 1240, plus the 106A Morgan county road have been let to Holloway and Son Construction Co., of Middletown, Ky., on their bid of $3,356,606.91.

They further state that if funds are available the clearing of the pool area for Cave Run reservoir will be done in calendar year 1972. This means, as your newspaper has surmised editorially, the reservoir would be open to the public by Memorial Day, 1973.

The Corps of Engineers says the following schedule, subject to revision, has been adopted for moving cemeteries - Rowan County, Mar. 1, 1971; Bath County, June 15, 1971; Morgan County, Mar. 1, 1971; and Menifee County, Sept. 15, 1971.

All of this is contingent on funds from Congress as assumed.

HAS LITTLE USE FOR DOPE USERS

The Editor: A truck driver who was a friend to our family used to tell (and fool) me that bennies were not a drug; only something to take and keep awake.

I read in the Morehead News that a survey shows bennies can lead to all kinds of health problems, including loss of mind. It is my firm belief that any and all drugs destroy the human body, and every drug peddler, or one who entices others to take drugs, should be incarcerated for life . . . or have his head blown off as they did in China. Good riddance!

PLANNING PROGRAM AVAILABLE IN ROWAN

The Editor: The Rowan County Health Department is now providing a Family Planning Program. F. Douglas Scutchfield, M.D. is the Clinical Director of the program, which is held the fourth Tuesday of each month at 1 p.m. in the County Health Center 555 W. Sun Street, Morehead.

The purpose of the Program is to provide an opportunity for families to determine the number and spacing of their children, to promote general health of mothers and children and to reduce maternal and infant deaths.

During a woman's first visit to the Family Planning Program, a detailed medical, family and genetic history is taken and she is given a complete physical examination. She will have an opportunity to privately discuss with the nurse and the doctor any questions she may have concerning family planning. Based on medical findings and on the patient's preference, the clinic physician prescribes and provides the type and method of contraception and gives the necessary instruction and guidance to the patient.

All services are free of charge. The next Family Planning clinic will be held on Tuesday November 24, 1970 at 1 p.m. If anyone has any questions concerning the Family Planning Program, they may contact the Rowan County Health Department.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A SECRET PAL?

The Editor: The "Secret Pal" program at Eastern State Hospital is aimed to provide the patients who seldom receive mail, money, or visitors, some individual attention from people in the community.

Interested persons who wish to participate in this program are sent the name, birthdate, and several gift suggestions for one or more patients who have been forgotten. The donor is advised of changes in the patient's status, discharge, placement, etc.

Whenever a name is given out, it is understood that this patient will be receiving the attention indicated by the applicant. If this does not happen, the patient will be the loser; so again we emphasize that names should be requested only if there is a genuine desire and intent to follow through. Please notify the Volunteer Office promptly of any change of inability to continue this relationship. Only in this way can we distribute names fairly to assure each patient in our files a share in the "Secret Pal Program."

Participants are asked to do one or more of the following: + Send Money For the Patient's Canteen

'I REMEMBER'
BY THE OLD TIMER

From Pauline Busby, Alamogordo, New Mexico: I am 51 years old and my mother's father, Thomas Harris, served in the Confederate Army under Gen. Bedford Forrest. My mother, Milie (Harris) Wright, was born Sept. 25, 1865. She is still living in Satellite Beach, Fla. She was born near Adamsville, Tenn., where one of my sisters, Marie Raters, still lives. Adamsville is also where my two sisters and I finished high school.

My grandfather Harris died in 1862, therefore I never knew him. My grandmother, Elizabeth Jane Harris, better known as Aunt Betty, lived until 1940, dying at the age of 94. I remember many things she told us of the days of the Civil War. Her father's name was Lilly and he owned the only cotton gin for miles around. She worked at the gin as a young girl.

I remember my grandmother telling that salt was so scarce during the war that they would dig up the dirt from the floor of smokehouses and boil it in order to get salt to season their food. Adamsville is located some twenty miles from Shiloh, or Pittsburg Landing, where the dead from the Confederate and Union armies are buried. It is now a national park.

Thought For Food

Fancy shaped macaroni dishes may add variety to plates, but they are usually more expensive than the more commonplace shapes.

If cold appears on Cheddar cheese you are storing, you can safely scrape off the mold and enjoy the rest of the cheese.

These popcorn is a good cold weather snack. Place 2 quarts freshly popped unshelled popcorn in a slow oven, 300 degrees F. Cook 12 to 15 minutes. Toss well. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Substituting milk for water when preparing cooked cereal lends a delicious flavor as well as extra nourishment. Follow the package directions using milk as the liquid.

Buy leaves, once used to crown Greek herbs, are now prized as a seasoning for steaks, soups, meats, pickles, saucers and fish.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

THE NEED

What the world needs now is more love and compassion. The world needs the power of faith that brings an individual courage, that promotes outward attention to the business or rightness.

The world needs a positive faith of goodness, a marching to the front of men and women who will stand up and speak out against the "wrongs" of the community and the world, who will seek change through positive action rather through some form of sentiment and destructive "rip-tear."

The world needs an end to indifference, a complete end to the concept that one must be involved to be concerned. The world needs a resurgence of Christianity, a new attention to religion and a new awareness of the golden rule and the Ten Commandments to the business or rightness.

The world needs to come awake and remember that God is.

Tobacco Study

A ray of sunshine broke through the overcast surrounding the tobacco-health question in Lexington this week as State Senator Thomas O. Harris declared a full-scale attack on the controversy and appointed two medical research scientists as consultants to the Kentucky Tobacco Research Board.

Dr. Arthur A. Stein of Albany, N.Y., was named technical advisor to the research board and Dr. Leon O. Jacobson, of Chicago was named to the board's advisory committee.

Dr. Harold L. Stewart, recently retired chief of the Laboratory of Pathology, National Cancer Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland, attended the 2-day meeting as a consultant to the board.

The Board approved a $750,000 appropriation to the University of Kentucky Tobacco and Health Research Institute which makes it possible for research under the supervision of the Kentucky Tobacco Research Board to start immediately.

Harris, chairman of the 13-member board, said, "No other research effort in this disputed area has access to every segment of scientific expertise as we do."

Harris told the board that, "We have experts in every phase of tobacco from plant scientists to medical men, and we will reach the truth through objective research."

"If there's nothing harmful to human health in tobacco, then let us prove it and back it with scientific facts. If there is something harmful in tobacco, then let us find it and remove it so once again tobacco can take its rightful place in the economy of Kentucky and those who find satisfaction in smoking can continue to do so without any reason for fear of the consequences."

The forklift truck hoisted the two and three-ton animals onto tracks which took them to the nearby Etosha Game Reserve.

Kentucky Hunting Season Opens Today

By Harry Towles

Kentucky hunters will swing into the hunting season today (Nov. 19) with rabbits, quail, ruffed grouse and furbearers being legal game after almost a year of protection.

The Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources has decreed, along with the Fish and Wildlife Commission, that hunters will have as much time this season as last to hunt their favorite species and that they may take as many per day as they have in the past. That leaves it strictly up to the hunter and the cooperating species.

Seasons for rabbits, quail and furbearers will continue right on through January 31 while the ruffed grouse hunter may seek his quarry through February 28. The limits are: quail, six daily, 12 in possession; quail, 10 daily, 20 in possession; ruffed grouse, four daily, eight in possession. There is no limit on the number of furbearers that may be taken for their pelts by traps, guns or dogs.

A valid hunting license is required to hunt any of the above named animals or birds. If a person has not been a resident of Kentucky for six months or more, he will need a non-resident license, even though living in this state now, as will all persons residing in other states but who hunt in the Commonwealth. Licenses are available from every county clerk and from as many deputies as he may designate.

The daily limit may consist of game taken in one day of hunting and the possession

Minimum Wages

More than 200,000 workers were due $29 million as a result of minimum wage underpayment during fiscal 1970. Minimum wage underpayments showed an 8 percent increase during that period. During the same period, 284,000 employees were due $54 million as a result of overtime violations.

limits would be the accumulation of wildlife killed in two or more days of hunting.

Nimrods will not be confined to the above named species during this period since the statewide grouse hunting season opened on November 24. The daily and possession limit of game is five.

32 Counties Have Grouse

Biologists of the Department, who should have a better insight into the game populations statewide than anyone else, believe that the "jabbit" population this season will be about equal to last year's, when it was described as "spotty." That means good numbers of rabbits may be found in a given area, while nearby very few will be found. The report as compiled by rural mail carriers indicates that the best rabbit section may be the outer Bluegrass region while the western Kentucky counties are expected to offer the best quail hunting. However, there are plenty of sections in the Bluegrass region where both species will be available in good numbers.

Grouse are found in 32 Eastern Kentucky counties almost exclusively and hunters in that area may be expected to find as good a crop as was present last season. Furbearers may be as plentiful as last year, but a trapper must have in his possession a trapper's license, which may be obtained from county clerks. Also, the trapper must obtain permission of the landowner before setting his trap line and he must notify his conservation officer of the setting of the line. Each trap must be identified with tags that are available from the Department of Fish and Wildlife offices in Frankfort.

Two admonitions—Hunting is a privilege and the landowner should be asked before going onto his place, and hunting can be only as safe as the hunter, so be careful.

About The I-A Draft

By Gary G. Huddleston

The state Selective Service System recently announced a new policy whereby deferred registrants with a Random Sequence Number of 171 or higher can give up their deferments and be re-classified I-A.

But, who in his right mind would do a thing like that? I mean, that would be almost like volunteering for military service, wouldn't it?

Not at all, according to Col. M.A. Sanders, Chief of Staff for the state Selective Service office, who said no Kentuckian in the 1970 priority selection group (born between 1944 and 1950), whose number is 171 or above, will be inducted involuntarily this year.

And this "reached" number may be even lower for some local boards, as 170 is the statewide ceiling.

Sanders explained the advantage involved when a deferred registrant with a number over 170 is re-classified as I-A by the end of the current year, with a guarantee that his number will not be reached.

"Exposure to the I-A pool for even one day of the year now counts for the entire year of vulnerability," he said.

"If a man ends the year in a I-A status without his number being reached, he is moved into a less vulnerable category, behind the priority group for the coming year."

In effect, according to Sanders, with a number of 171 or higher, the registrant having a classification of I-A by January 31, 1970, can plan his future, free of the threat of interruption by military service.

On Thanksgiving Show

Oral Roberts Hosts Jerry Lewis, Kay Starr

Guest Star Jerry Lewis chats with host Oral Roberts during the Thanksgiving Special scheduled for airing nationally Nov. 22-23. Also scheduled for appearance are Singer Kay Starr, Robert I. Clarke and Jay Silverheels.

Country, traditional music, and a bit of nostalgia best describe Oral Roberts' upcoming Thanksgiving Special.

Already signed as guest stars for this special are Comedian Producer Jerry Lewis, Singer Kay Starr, Robert I. Clarke and Jay Silverheels. The show is Oral Roberts' second quarterly prime time special of the new season.

The millions of Jerry Lewis' fans can look for another side of the famous comedian. Lewis, who has also built a reputation as a producer-director, is scheduled for serious discussion with Oral Roberts on the Thanksgiving Show. Since the "CONTACT" series began over a year ago, Oral Roberts has arched in on relevant issues and subjects. His planned discussion with Lewis will follow this pattern. Lewis has never been used to dodge current issues and has been a leader in the entertainment field in donating his time to charities. He is best known for his work with the Mepac for Dyspraxia Association of America.

Kay Starr has bettered out many a hit song since her first smash, "Wheel of Fortune." The little lady with the big voice has been busily recording for Capitol Records and making the rounds as guest on many of the TV variety shows. She will provide the music on the Thanksgiving Special along with Richard and Patti Roberts and the World Action Singers.

Scheduled for two cameo appearances are Clarke and Silverheels. Clarke will portray Lincoln in a dramatic reading describing the events leading to the Thanksgiving Proclamation. Best known for his 8 years as the Lone Ranger's sidekick, Tronto, Silverheels will join Oral Roberts, representing the Indian nations, for the traditional dinner. Oral Roberts, Miss Starr, and Silverheels all have Indian an-country. Rounding out the Thanksgiving lineup will be "CONTRACT," regulars Soloski, Rich and wife Patti, the World Action Singers from Oral Roberts University, and the music of Ralph Carmichael and his orchestra.

The Thanksgiving Show, like its predecessors, will be syndicated nationwide. The Special is scheduled to be aired during the week of November 22-29. Now seen on almost 200 stations, the "CONTACT" series has a larger station distribution than any other single prime time show.

The use of campaign buttons in elections has a tradition dating back to the age of Pericles when ancient Greeks painted their fingernails bright colors to attract followers to their camp.

So say researchers at the small Manufacturing Co., which makes the P-shaped pin found in every campaign button. The buttons were first used in America by Andrew Jackson—followers in the 1828 election, the researchers say.

Civil Defense Plan For...

Emergency Ambulance Service

Rowan County's Civil Defense today came up with what they termed a solution, or at least a partial remedy, to the ambulance service problem.

The Civil Defense proposed that their organization, through volunteers, operate ambulances.

Boiled down the plan would be for Civil Defense to acquire the vehicles at small cost from federal or state surplus... emergency ambulance calls would clear through State Police... once the district police barracks at Morehead receives the emergency call, they would contact the designated Civil Defense volunteer and he would be responsible, along with volunteer helpers, to answer the summons.

Civil Defense, headed by Don Young and Jerry Caudill, has some problems, including: 1. Local contributions to get the service underway; 2. Training in ambulance care, such as handling a patient; and 3. Volunteer workers.

Rowan County was left without emergency ambulance service when the funeral homes sold their vehicles because they claimed sizeable financial losses; and Fiscal Court and City Council deferred underwriting ambulance service to Bill Mullen, and later to Jimmy Caskey.

Answering Emergency Calls

Caskey continues to operate a service for transporting patients to or from a hospital, but will not answer emergency calls such as highway wrecks.

Civil Defense today released a somewhat editorial-wise statement about what they said would be at least a partial solution to the "no ambulances" problem. The statement reads -

"Civil Defense is an organization designed to coordinate existing agencies to provide for the safety and welfare of the citizens of a county or city in the event of man-made or natural disasters. Public Law 920 and the State Civil Defense Acts of 1952 both give this responsibility to county and city governments. They cannot evade this responsibility but they can delegate the execution of them to others.

"Last year a group of high school boys, ages 14-17, were organizing at Morehead an Explorer Post, a division of the Boy Scouts of America. As an Explorer Post they are committed to provide a service for the area in which they live. Their concern was that this area did not have a rescue service.

"In most areas search and receive falls under the authority of local Civil Defense units. The question arose - Who is the Civil Defense director?"

"Jerry Caudill, a ham operator and local tire dealer, was concerned about his obligation to the Civil Defense as a radio operator and began to look for the co-director.

"After talking to several people who be director, the search ended at the office of the County Judge and the Mayor's office in Morehead.

"Mr. Caudill became the Rowan County Civil Defense Director; and Mr. Don Young, Explorer Advisor, became his Deputy Civil Defense Director.

"Mr. Caudill and Mr. Young were discussing the needs and procedures for the organization when the train wrecked in Farmers, with no equipment, organization, personnel or procedures, the local Civil Defense was limited.

"The next week brought up the lack of an emergency ambulance service.

"The priorities were set - a rescue squad was vital. Working through the Regional Director for Civil Defense, a county-wide volunteer rescue service is being organized.

"The Rowan Fiscal Court passed the order establishing the Civil Defense organization and approving the appointments, thus making the local group eligible for equipment and training.

"Equipment can be obtained through the Division of Surplus Properties at Frankfort. The cost to the county organization is for the transfer and shipping costs.

"A rescue organization must think to the future. Cave Run Lake will not only increase the economy of the area but also the number of children lost and the people drowned. When you add this to plane crashes, fires, explosions, wrecks and natural disasters such as floods and tornadoes, the equipment must function for every type of disaster.

"We are requesting a four-wheel drive ambulance and a four-wheel drive emergency vehicle and radio equipment as a beginning.

"Generous donations from individuals and businesses in the area are getting the program started. Volunteers to take the training are needed. Additional financial contributions will add life saving equipment.

"County-wide help and interest are vital to provide any community service. Everyone is busy. Are you too busy to save a life? Both men and women are needed. If you will help, contact Jerry Caudill or Don Young. We cannot wait for Uncle to do this for us."

ASK LEGISLATURE FOR MONEY TO PAY POLICE

A recommendation that the 1972 General Assembly vote state funds to increase local police salaries was made by a group of police chiefs who serve as advisors to the Kentucky Crime Commission.

The chiefs also endorsed a proposal that more local police offices install terminals which would be hooked up with the Kentucky State Police computer system that supplies almost instant information on stolen property and/or criminal records.

Poor Get Back Pay

Members of the working poor - earning less than the lowest of the family income budgets established by the Bureau of Labor Statistics - were found to comprise 86 percent of the 124,000 workers due back wages of $27 million in the first quarter of fiscal 1971, according to the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division.

PAVED BEFORE DEADLINE... The Bizzeck Construction Company, prime contractor for the 2.8 mile I-64 connector at Morehead, raced the clock last week to ready the stretch for winter travel. Deadline for laying blacktop in Kentucky is November 15. Now, all lanes are open to travel. However, what you see is not the completed job. Come spring this surface will receive another thick coat of blacktop, and the contractor has until July to completely finish the job, including curbing, the median, shoulders etc. Morehead is one of the few places in Kentucky to be approved for a four-lane connector instead of the conventional two paved lanes.

Tobacco And Corn Crops Down

Kentucky's 1970 corn crop is estimated at 52,400,000 bushels - a 4 percent less than October 1, and 32 percent below the 1969 crop of 76,846,000 bushels. Yield is forecast at 50 bushels per acre, on July acres intended for grain, - down 2 bushels from last month and 27 bushels below a year ago. As farmers harvested their corn, losses from blight infection were even greater than feared earlier - especially in the important Western corn growing areas.
Harvest started early and was well ahead of recent years until rain and wet fields slowed activity the last three weeks of October. On November 1 about 75 percent of the corn was harvested compared to 80 percent last year. Blight caused soft and rotted ears in many fields, and the wet conditions increased damage and loss in unripened fields.
Total U.S. corn production is forecast at 4,104 million bushels with an average yield of 70.8 bushels per acre. The production estimate is down 81 million bushels from the October 1 forecast.

Burley Production Unchanged

Kentucky's 1970 burley tobacco production as of November 1 is forecast at 376.3 million pounds, unchanged from October 1, but 7 percent below the 1969 crop of 406.4 million pounds. For the Burley Belt (Kentucky and seven nearby states) production is expected to total 552.9 million pounds, up slightly from last month. An average yield of 2523 pounds is forecast for the belt.
The Kentucky crop is expected to yield a record high 2,650 pounds per acre, 45 pounds above the 1969 record high yield. Stripping has been active and was 25 percent complete as of November 1, well ahead of last year and normal. Some growers are finding a little more moisture than anticipated, but weight and quality are generally good. A large supply is expected to be ready for opening auctions on November 23.

Regional Meeting On Garbage Disposal To Be At Morehead

Morehead's new land-fill garbage disposal site at 80 acres of abandoned clay mine property on Christy Creek will be the scene of a regional meeting of Mayors, Councilmen, and city officials next Tuesday. They will tour the site, starting at 10:30 a.m. This will be followed by a reception and discussion at the Morehead Holiday Inn.
State officials, and machinery representatives, will be present for the tour. Tentative planning is that this site be a "regional" dumping place, meeting public health standards. Rowan County, nearby Olive Hill, and Morehead State University have expressed interest in dumping their refuse at the Christy Creek location on a pro rata cost basis.

Rowan Counties Have More Home Appliances

County households have one or more sets at the present time. This compares with 64.4 percent in 1960.
As to washing machines, despite the fact that there are more of them in use than there were in 1960, the individual ownership of them is lower.
This seeming contradiction is explained by the Commerce Department as being due to the increase in the number of families living in rented dwelling units, where washing machines are often provided for the tenants.
Locally, it is estimated from the survey, 68.0 percent of the families in the regional area are the owners of washing machines. Others have them available.
The report shows that the acquisition of household appliances is directly related to income and that as income rises, as it has been locally, ownership also rises.

Many Have Two Cars

The figures indicate that approximately 18.2 percent of the families in Rowan County now have two or more cars, as against 13.4 percent in 1960.
Similarly, television sets in the local area are more numerous, according to the figures. The increase in the past few years has been mainly in color TV.
All in all, some 85.0 percent of Rowan

Tobacco THIEVES ARE OPERATING IN COUNTY

Rowan County tobacco farmers were warned today to maintain a careful watch on their "in barn" tobacco.
Sheriff Carl Jones said his office was receiving reports of burley thefts, usually 10 to 30 sticks from a barn. The thieves can add small amounts of stolen tobacco to their own crops without "quota" detection on the auction floor.

Chant Of The Auctioneer

By Jack Clowes - There's an exotic, added tang to the customary wine-rich autumn air in Kentucky these days.

As much as 500 lbs heavier or lighter per acre than the previous year's. Wind damage can clobber the lower, high priced leaves.

making signs that the auctioneer knows, like pointing up with a finger, pulling an ear, a nod, a wink.

From late November into February, some half a billion pounds of fragrant tobacco leaves are hauled from the farms to the auction warehouses and there sold for cash.

The tobacco farmer, then, never knows for sure what sort of a crop he has raised until it is weighed on the warehouse floor.

The sales in 1970 are scheduled for 3-1/2 hours a day, Monday through Thursdays until the Christmas recess, at which time they will be re-scheduled for the New Year.

Tobacco, indeed, is highly important all over the world. Some countries maintain a rigid monopoly on the leaf, buying and selling all tobacco products within their borders.

Before leaving the farm the tobacco plant is stripped of its leaves. The leaves are separated into basic grades: "tips" high on the stalk, "leaf" lower down, "lugs" still lower and "flyings" lowest of all.

There are 106 variations of the grower's four basic grades. They involve quality, kind of leaf and color. Each grade has a government support price.

Herbed meat loaf blend starts with 2 cups of dry unflavored bread crumbs. Mix well with 1/4 cup of grated romano or parmesan cheese, 4 teaspoons of salt, 4 teaspoons of dried parsley, 2 teaspoons of basil leaves, 1 teaspoon of onion leaves and 1/2 teaspoon of ground red pepper.

There the sticks are removed and the hands are piled fan-wise onto big flat baskets. Filled, they are about five feet high and weigh around 500 lbs.

Let's go, someone says, and the starter looks at the bidder's tag. It might read "3-3/4," meaning a good quality "flying" with a buff color.

Health... for all

Poverty and disease are a deadly combination. The killer diseases of the poor are tuberculosis, pneumonia, and influenza. Diseases of the lungs.

Being poor does not necessarily mean being black and living in city ghettos. There are 32 million poor people in America.

BAPTIST - Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect, the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover, and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place.

This begins "His Land," the thrilling story of Israel from ancient to modern times. "His Land," a one-hour color feature motion picture, takes you on a journey through space, time and current events. You see graphically, the fact that Israel today is a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world.

"His Land," rich in color and authentic sights and sounds, with a popular musical score composed and arranged by Ralph Carmichael has been called a musical journey into the soul of a nation, and will be shown on November 22 at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church in Morehead.

FAITH PRESBYTERIAN - A discussion of "The Changing Presidency - Implications of Church Union" will open a new series of Sunday evening discussions at Faith Presbyterian Church this Sunday night at 6 p.m. The Reverend Charles M. Hanna, Jr., executive secretary of Guernant, will be present this Sunday to lead the discussion, which will include consideration of how the coming merger of presbyteries of the Presbyterian Church, U.S., and the United Presbyterian Church will affect the local congregation. Sunday worship at the Presbyterian Church is held weekly at 10:45 a.m. The Reverend Hubert Johnston is pastor of the congregation, which meets at 354 University street.

WITNESSES - The Morehead Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses is pleased that another family has moved to Morehead to help in the Congregation's public service program.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Uwe Giese will really be an asset to the Congregation. Mr. Giese was an assistant minister in Canton, Maine before moving here. His wife Ute has been very active in the "Home Bible Study program," and four of the older Giese children are in the Congregation's ministry improvement school.

Mr. Giese anticipates that he will make a living here in the same way he did in Maine. He was a building contractor and kept up a farm. "With eight children at home," Mr. Giese said, "you almost have to have a farm to feed the family."

The Church of God Crusade will be at the Tabernacle Saturday, Nov. 28 at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Bruce Roller, an 18 year old blind boy from Gravel Switch, will be the Minister for this special. One highlight will be the Youth Choir with special trumpet, clarinet, flute and piano songs.

WEEKLY MEDITATION
DOING NOTHING
(A Thought for Thursday)

When the Son of Man comes in his glory and all the angels with him, he will sit in state on his throne with all the nations gathered before him. He will separate men into two groups. Then he will say to those on his right hand, "You have my Father's blessing, come, enter and possess the kingdom that has been ready for you since the world was made. For when I was hungry, you gave me food; when thirsty, you gave me drink; when I was a stranger you took me into your home, when naked you clothed me; when I was ill you came to my help, when in prison you visited me." Then the righteous will reply, "Lord, when was it that we saw you hungry and fed you, or thirsty and gave you drink, a stranger and took you home, or naked and clothed you? When did we see you ill or in prison, and come to visit you?" And the king will answer, "I tell you this: anything you did for one of my brothers here, however humble, you did for me."

Then he will say to those on his left hand, "The curse is upon you; go from my sight to the eternal fire that is ready. For when I was hungry you gave me nothing to eat, when thirsty nothing to drink, when I was a stranger you gave me no home, when naked you did not clothe me; when I was ill and in prison you did not come to my help." And they too will reply, "Lord, when was it that we saw you hungry or thirsty or a stranger, or naked or ill or in prison, and did nothing for you?" And he will answer, "I tell you this: anything you did not do for one of these, however humble, you did not do for me. And they will go away to eternal punishment, but the righteous will enter eternal life.

They looked for Jesus, but they did not see him in the face of the hungry and thirsty old man trying to exist on $67 per month social security, or the student from an African nation who was a stranger in Morehead, or the near-naked child whose mother tried her best to survive on public assistance, or the sick invalid at the Daniel Boone Home, or the drunk in the Rowan County jail on Sunday. They looked for Jesus, but couldn't see him. So they did nothing. - John E. Gaus

HONORS - Kenneth Back, executive assistant in the State Revenue Department in 1923-53 and now chief finance officer for the District of Columbia, was elected president of the National Tax Assn. He is the third Kentuckian to receive this honor in 24 years.

NEW-CAR FREEZE - The State rejected all bids submitted on invitations to dealers to supply 394 new cars, chiefly for the State Police and the Highway Department. Finance Commissioner Albert Christen, saying the bids were $300,000 over budgeted funds, ordered a freeze on all except emergency car buying.

WATER - A Legislative Research Commission report requested by the 1970 Assembly advised enactment of a law compelling the fluoridation of all public drinking water in Kentucky.

CRIME - A group of police chiefs who serve as advisors to the Kentucky Crime Commission recommended that the Assembly vote State funds to supplement local salaries. Local police departments were advised to install terminals hooked up with the State Police computerized crime-information system.

HEALTH PLANNING - The State Health Department offered to supply all communities with a manual that can be used for self-evaluation of environmental problems.

Holiday loans for people who don't borrow money.

You shop with credit cards and charge accounts. No need to carry cash. And you can defer installment payments 30 days. Just one thing . . .
Holiday shopping can cost more than planned. No problem - with credit cards and charge accounts you can spread out payments in monthly installments. If that happens you should at least consider a personal loan - because a loan from Commercial Credit could cost less.
Find out. Truth in lending requires a full disclosure of all rates and charges. You'll find them on your bills or separate statement forms. Compare these costs to the costs of your Interest-Saver Loan - we can help you do this - and if you're paying more, get it all from us and save the difference.

Loan #	Period	Amount Financed	Monthly Payment	Annual Percentage Rate	Total of Payments

Wringing the wash

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) - A lot of American homemakers still like to keep their hand in the family wash. Studying the market for the appliance drive belts, The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company found that washing machine manufacturers turned out 360,000 wringer-type models last year, or 20 per cent of all washers produced.

Seoul housing

SEOUL (UPI) - About 40 per cent of Seoul's 8 million residents do not own homes. Each year about 80,000 families move to the capital from the provinces, aggravating the housing shortage.
