They Compiled The Best Record In Rowan County High History

The Green and White clad football players of Rowan County High ended the season with nine victories and a lone defeat, a 14-12 upset by Montgomery County. This picture was taken at the annual Boosters Club banquet when the Viking team and

Beating, Stab Wounds, Drug Cases Continued Prove Fatal 4 Given Jail Sentences;

State Police Detective-Sergeant Paul Hicks said today that investigation is continuing into the murder of a former Moreheadian, Winifred Clay "Idaho" Snedegar, 26, with the probe centering on Mt. Sterling and its associates.

The body of Snedegar was found last Tuesday, Nov. 24 morning at 9:30 by a Montgomery County negro, probably hunting rabbits.

The body was in a grass field, about 75 yards off the Stepstone road, a mile and a half from Mt. Sterling.

Detective Hicks said that Snedegar had been beaten and stabbed several times. The remains were so mutilated that he was not identified until several hours later.

Funeral services were conducted Thanksgiving Day at Mitchell Funeral Home in Mt. Sterling with burial in the Jones cemetery, eastern Bath County. Mr. Snedegar married the former Donna K. Fitzgerald of Morehead. She died of lung cancer.

Before migrating to Mt. Sterling, Snedegar lived at Morehead and at Midland.

Drugs and alcoholic beverage violations highlighted Rowan Circuit Court during the week.

Four local option fines and jail sentences were meted out, and the drug charges, mostly against students or former students at Morehead State University, were continued with all defendants, represented by legal counsel, appearing in open court.

Roy "Tots" Day appealed a jury verdict in which he received a fine of $100 and 60 days in jail for illegal possession of alcoholic beverages. The trial resulted after several raids at "The Clock," about two miles west of Morehead on U.S. 60 that officers charged was owned by Day.

Day claimed the premises did not belong to him.

After the jury returned the $100 and 60 days verdict, attorneys for Day announced they would appeal. Day is charged in Federal Court (Cattlettsburg) with operating a large gun sales outlet at the same site in violation of recently enacted by Congress statutes.

Three persons charged with violating local option laws were tried in absentia, after Judge John J. Winn heard they had "jumped bail." In each case their bond of $250, on appeal from lower court, was ordered forfeited.

Tried before juries and in their absence were:

Ernie Lee Roberts, illegal traffic in alcoholic beverages, $100 and 60 days.

Dan Haines, illegal sale, $100 and 60 days.

William Raleigh Goodpaster, illegal transporting, $100 and 60 days.

In each of the "tried in absentia" cases the Commonwealth introduced witnesses, usually arresting officers.

Five of the six persons arrested October 3 on a raid of a frame residence at 1045 Christian Avenue (Tolliver Addition) on "drug" charges appeared before the court and their cases were continued to the March term. Their appearance followed true bills returned by the grand jury on referrals from the county or city courts.

Those charged, all with possession of

Grand Jury Says City Should Take Action

The City of Morehead was issued a "warning" by the grand jury in Circuit Court this week, and urged to correct two conditions.

The grand jury said, in substance, City Fathers should:

- Take action to alleviate a condition on East Main Street, adjacent to Morehead State University, in that Parnell Martindale has not torn down a burned building . . . and has permitted to be abandoned refrigerators next to the University campus and Lee cemetery.
- Correct a sewage disposal problem . . . with the present sewage treatment plant in West Morehead is operating above capacity.
- The Martindale burned building and refrigerator junkyard allegations are not new. Council has had this before it several times, but no action has been taken. A perusal of past incidents indicates that Council thinks the Rowan County Health Department should first act . . . and the Health Department has not answered an official written complaint to the city.

J. Roger Caudill, Chairman of the Utility Plant Board, said that an emergency exists and sewage disposal, Caudill said the treatment plant is overloaded and between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. when MSU is in session that fully one-third of all sewage is not treated and spills (raw form) into Triplett Creek. Cost of bringing the plant up to standard

Blue Laws . . . Four Retail Stores Refuse To Close On Sunday

Enforcement of Kentucky blue laws in Morehead is nearing a climax this week as four stores remained open Sunday for the second consecutive Sabbath.

Police Chief Callis Coyle said that citations were issued Sunday for:

- Convenient Foods - East Main; Herb Elam, co-owner; Elam's daughter, Mary Jo, and clerks Paul Mynaher and Don Nichols.
- Maloney's Discount - West Main; Herbert Baker, Lloyd Hagis, Diana Mays, Wendel White and Rosella May, all employees.
- Elam's Grocery - Main, across from courthouse; Julia Elam, wife of Herb Elam, the owner.
- Morehead Market - East Main; owner Jack Winters.

The same people were cited the previous Sunday (Nov. 21) except for Mary Jo Elam. The previous list of citations included Hershel Barber, co-owner of Convenient, but Chief Coyle said he was not in the store when police officers made their tour Sunday.

Trial of the 11 defendants in the Nov. 21 citations was scheduled for yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon in the court of City

Judge Austin Alfrey.

If present is followed the defendants will plead not guilty; and if they are convicted and fined ($50 or less) an appeal is made to Circuit Court.

All Have Legal Counsel

However, last Sunday's (second time) violations could result in another turn of open court events. In some municipalities of the Commonwealth, the presiding Judge has added the more severe charge of contempt of court after the second citation.

Most of the store owners and clerks are represented by Morehead Attorney George I. Cline.

A spokesman for the stores said previous reports that a violator can be fined half of the day's gross receipts is not correct, at least thus far, at Morehead. He pointed out that this Court of Appeals ruling came far violation, or failure to comply with, a Circuit Court order. No such order has been issued, as of now, in Rowan Circuit Court. Noticeable for the second straight Sunday at Morehead was the closing of drug stores, first time in modern history. Druggists had signs on their doors listing the telephone number to call for prescription service. All food supermarkets and department stores were closed Sunday.

Of about 30 retail establishments fronting the city square—the hub of downtown Bowling Green—12 were open Sunday. These included everything from small clothing stores to several large chain outlets.

Sunday sales have long provoked controversy in Bowling Green. The latest chapter came early this month when the Warren County grand jury—acting on complaints and testimony from a group of downtown merchants—indicted 33 stores, almost all located outside the immediate downtown area.

One of those who helped gather the information presented to the grand jury manages a downtown jewelry store, which opened Sunday for the first time on the Sabbath.

"If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

Poor Pictures News Reiterates Its Policy In Rejecting Inferior Quality

The Morehead News reiterated today that pictures of inferior quality will not appear in print.

Publisher W. E. Crutcher said: "When a picture is published, the 20,000 readers don't recognize that this is not a staff photo. If it's poor the newspaper is blamed.

"Low quality pictures downgrade any publication with a resultant loss in readership and advertising revenue.

"Each week we receive many inferior pictures, mostly taken with a polaroid camera. Some polaroid pictures can be satisfactorily reproduced. We have concluded the quality rests with the picture-taking talents of the individual rather than the camera.

"It has come to our attention that some groups and organizations purchase an instant picture camera . . . use an unqualified photographer . . . and expect this newspaper to print, for free, their pictures.

"The reproduction camera in the plant of the Morehead Publishing Co. cost $16,000. It is designed for highest quality . . . but, it is difficult to improve on a poor picture.

"This policy has been stated before, but the number of unacceptable pictures continues to flow . . . unfortunately, some groups or individuals deliver inferior pictures with the mistaken belief or hope they will appear in print."

The Publisher added that dim, out of focus, or over-enlarged pictures, usually portray the individuals and scenes . . . and portray Morehead, the county, and area in bush-league fashion.

"Sometimes, we conjecture," the Publisher added, "if the groups or individuals who submit such pictures are so much interested in their community or in their newspaper as they are in themselves, or the personal organization."

Crutcher added that the News had reached an all-time high in circulation with 90 percent family coverage of the county and immediate trade area. In addition to mail subscriptions, over 2,000 copies are sold on newsstands.

Rowan's Problem Is 'Ready Cash'

ONE OF BEST . . . Dr. Robert Hawkins, director of bands at Morehead State University, reads of his selection as one of the 10 most outstanding music directors in education in the United States and Canada. ## Re-Assessment Delays Tax Bill Funds

"I've come in for my check for being an election officer," a woman requesting the office of the Rowan County Clerk. She didn't get paid.

Rowan County is almost broke, that is temporarily.

About the only bills being paid are for officers salaries and utilities . . . first time the county has been delinquent since depression days. Fact is, Rowan County had a good credit rating with no indebtedness, all bills paid, and money in the bank - that is until the last month or so.

"We're no worse off than before . . . in fact, we're better off," Clerk Otis W. Elam explained. She's right, except there's no spending money in the bank.

This temporary NSF (non sufficient funds) status resulted because of the 100 percent re-assessment of all Rowan County property, ordered by Revenue Commissioner James E. Luckett, and resulting in the resignation of Property Evaluator (Tax Commissioner) Juanita Wilson.

The re-assessment started six months ago, being conducted by a Department of Revenue team, headed by Virgil Phillips.

BLOODMOBILE VISIT SET FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Morehead Wednesday, Dec. 9, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the lobby of Laughlin Fieldhouse. Fifteen percent of all units collected are given to the armed forces.

The American Legion Post of Morehead is sponsoring this visit.

Hearings End Today

The assessment time table bogged down last month when more than 500 protested and appealed.

The Board of Tax Appeals has been hearing the 500 cases for a month, but announced it would conclude this morning. The bills must then be sent to Frankfurt for a re-cap. This is necessary because the amount of taxes collected on the same property cannot be greater than last year.

Thus, if the assessment is higher, which it is certain to be, the tax rate must be lower under revised statutes. This is exclusive of

Santa To Head Parade

Eight high school bands will lead Santa Claus through Morehead's business district Saturday morning to herald the Yule season.

Merchants are sponsoring the parade which starts at 10 a.m. at the C&O passenger station on First Street.

Santa will arrive at the C&O station via a diesel engine of the Morehead and North Fork railroad. Saint Nick will occupy a special and expensive car in the parade which will proceed from First Street to the corner of West Main and Flemingsburg Road (1-64) and then turn east on Main, ending at the courthouse lawn.

Girl scouts and other organizations have been invited to build floats for the parade. Morehead's outside street decorations were turned on at Thanksgiving.

The bands accepting invitation for Saturday's Christmas parade are - Rowan County High, the host; Olive Hill, Fleming County, Bath County, Sandy Hook, Morgan County, Lewis County and Mt. Sterling. Free children movies will be a part of the day's program.

AUXILIARY WILL SELL ITEMS FOR CHRISTMAS

The St. Claire Medical Center Auxiliary will have its annual Christmas Bazaar Saturday, December 5 in the basement of the First Christian Church starting at 9 a.m. Sales items include lovely gifts, stocking stuffers and foods, including pastries.

The money received will be used for hospital equipment.

Morehead Leaf Avg. Is $72.40

Notes of satisfaction and also discord were heard throughout Kentucky's burley belt following the first week's burley markets.

The industry itself, including warehouse owners, were particularly happy that only eight percent of the leaf went into the government pool. They had viewed with alarm the tremendous amount of tobacco purchased last year by the government under the quota and price support plan.

Farmers were not so jubilant as the first week state-wide average was $72.85 per hundred pounds. This was up only $1.60 from last year's first week average. Growers had expected an increase of five to 10 percent, basing this optimistic forecast on prices paid at the flue cured markets, primarily in the Carolinas.

Some farmers were outspoken that government growers are placing a lower grade on burley this year than last, although the crop on the floors this season is of higher quality than in 1969.

The three burley floors at Morehead sold 2,634,045 pounds the first four days of auctions for $1,899,710.30, an average of $72.40. Morehead's market is expected to handle between 8 1/2 and nine million pounds this selling season.

'Ready Cash'

new property or tangibles and intangibles heretofore omitted.

After the re-cap is finalized, the lists must be computerized. Then, Fiscal Court sets a new tax rate, taking into consideration the requested rate of the Board of Education.

This all takes time. Then comes the considerable task of making out the tax bills on computers, and mailing them.

Phillips thinks the tax bills will come with, but is pessimistic. He says they are not ready by Dec. 21, they cannot be paid and property owners cannot deduct this from their 1970 federal and state income taxes.

Getting back to payment of election officers - they make only $10 for a 24 hour day or less than 70 cents an hour. They also receive $5 by attending the school of instruction on election eve night. But, election officers who make less than half of the federal minimum wage won't have their money to spend for Christmas.

Seventy cents an hour - Uncle Sam won't permit private business to pay so low... yet, the last election was a federal ballot - for Congress.

MOREHEAD SPEAKER... Charles Evers, brother of slain civil rights leader Medgar Evers and the first black mayor in the South, is appearing Tuesday, Dec. 8, at Morehead State University to launch a black lectureship series. Mayors of Fayette, Miss., since July, 1969, Evers was instrumental in voter registration drives which increased black registration in Mississippi from 20,000 in 1965 to more than 275,000 by early 1969. The 10:20 convocation is open to the public.

Grand Jury

Continued From Preceding Page would run more than two million dollars. This, plus garbage, has been the major headache of Council, operating on a tight budget. Correction of the sewage problem might be the trigger to a one percent occupational tax, according to most members of Council.

The grand jury, in its final report, signed by Foreman Ray Hornback, said the Rowan County jail is in as good a condition as can be expected. The jury urged Fiscal Court to make extensive repairs and renovations to the jail.

Law enforcement officers were commended by the grand jury for the manner in which they have handled, almost eradicated, major local option violations in Rowan County. Powers of the grand jury are inviolate; and they could issue true bills (indictments) against the City on the Martindale and sewage plant complaints.

The residence, according to police, was rented by a teacher at the University, who had in turn permitted its use by students and former students.

In an unrelated case, David Roberts has been charged with possession of dangerous drugs.

Eaglets Finish Third In E.K.C. Round Ball Meet

The Eaglets of University Breckinridge came in third for the second year in a row at the annual Eastern Kentucky Conference basketball tournament. A coaches nightmare came true in the opening round when first seeded Breck could no nothing right. The Eaglets stood flat-footed all night. They could only shoot 34 percent from the floor while missing eleven free throws and threw the ball away fifteen times. Only two boys hit double-figures as Cunningham collected fifteen and Miller eighteen. This is thirteen below their combined average for the year. Mark Lewis was the only double figure rebounder with eleven, eight below his season average. He also added nine points to the losing effort, as Breck fell to Grayson 61-52.

The consolation game Saturday night found the Eaglets bouncing back as they played for pride and 3rd place trophy. The Eaglets' opponents in the Consolation game was the small team from Hitchens, who lost out to eventual champion, Salysville in the semi-finals. With the Tigers playing without a six footer in the line-up, Coach Dennis decided to go with his taller combination, including 6' 8" Mark Lewis and 6' 3" Paul Stokes at forward along with 6' 4" sophomore Allen Lake at center. Six foot three inch Donnie Miller and 5' 10" Ken Cunningham rounded out the starting unit at guard.

While controlling both back boards and shooting at a 46 percent accuracy from the floor and 70 percent from the foul line, the boys had no trouble disposing of the visitors by a 37-49 score. Cunningham paced the winners with 34 points while Miller was contributing 23 more. Lewis had probably the best night of his career as he pitched in with 18 points and 19 rebounds. Lake and Stokes collected six and ten rebounds while making seven and five points respectively. The big three front line constantly kept Hitchens off balance trying to shoot over them and also baited away numerous enemy shots. Corbett and Stokes pitched three points each as Gartin and Brown contributed two apiece to round out the scoring.

COMMISSIONER MILLER on Kentucky Agriculture

By J. Robert (Bob) Miller

Payday for Kentucky's burley growers is underway with many pleased with prices and weights.

While the 1970 sales season is just getting started, some of the prices being paid for the quality grades look good. Farmers always look with anticipation at an opening burley market, with all hoping that it will be a good one. For the past few years, there has been a greater degree of concern, for a bad sales season would add to the woes of burley growers.

Increased production on the part of growers has brought about a surplus in the stocks of burley tobacco. The government likes to have about a 2 1/2 years supply on hand. According to recent reports, the current burley on hand is about 3.5 years supply.

The 10 percent acreage cut taken this year by growers will not help the oversupply situation. Starting January 1, the federal government ban of cigarette advertising goes into effect. Just what effect this will have on cigarette consumption cannot be estimated at this time.

So, as each grower gets his check this year—whether it be pleasing or disappointing—he must wonder what another season will bring. Action is already underway to seek a new control program. The Kentucky and Tennessee Farm Bureaus has endorsed a proposed plan—this one calling for poundage allotments rather than the present acreage program. An acreage-poundage plan has been defeated in two previous referendums.

Supporters of this plan hope that enabling legislation can be passed by Congress so that the plan can go into effect before the 1971 planting season. If Congress approves and allows a referendum on poundage rather than acreage, acceptance is important, because failure to pass would mean an end to price supports.

On the other hand, if Congress does not approve a referendum, and growers vote to keep acreage controls, many observers foresee allotment cuts of from 25 to 50 percent.

Change Of Address

People who get social security checks should let the social security office know when they change their mailing address.

RANGE OF SCORES... These may be unusual bowling forms, but to the special education class at Morehead it's a learning experience. The students were under the tutorage of Mr. Jack Wilson. They are offered the opportunity to grow socially and develop eye-hand coordination. The class was assisted by students enrolled in special education curriculum at Morehead State University. Students identified at bowling lanes are: (L-R) Dianna Wages, Mary Arden Hackney, and Jessie McClotho. Scores of the entire class ranged from a high of 120 to a low of 13.

Joint Effort Will Produce Messiah

A cooperative musical venture between Morehead State University and the township of Morehead is resulting in a Dec. 13 production of Handel's "Messiah."

The 3 p.m. performance at the 1st Christian Church includes the MSU Women's Chorus and Men's Glee Club and the Community Chorus.

Mrs. Vasilie Venetozzi of the MSU music faculty is conducting the joint choral group. Jay Filippis is organist. Solists are Rebecca Cooke, soprano; Bonita Hopwood, mezzo; Richard Cooke, tenor; and James Ross Beane, baritone.

The program is free and open to the public.

Kentucky Retains 7 House Seats

For the first time in 20 years Kentucky will not lose a seat in the House of Representatives, according to official 1970 U.S. census figures released today.

The head count showed Kentucky has a population of 3,246,481, an increase of 86,169 over 1960.

Kentucky will continue with seven members of the House. The State lost a Representative in 1960, and also one in 1960. The census revealed that for the first time in history, New York is not the nation's largest state. California is now number one with 20,098,863. New York's population is 18,287,529.

States gaining representation in the House area - California, 5 more seats; Arizona 1; Texas 1; and Florida 3.

Losing House seats are - North Dakota 1; Iowa 1; Wisconsin 1; Tennessee 1; Alabama 1; Ohio 1; West Virginia 1; Pennsylvania 1; and New York 1.

Membership in the House is set by law at 435 seats. The Bureau of the Census advised the Morehead News that the head count by cities and counties would not be available until the third week in December. However, it is known that Rowan County's population will be around 16,300, up about 3,500; and Morehead's 1970 head count is 7,065, an increase of around 3,000.

Morehead Big Gainer

Because of the growth of Morehead State University, Rowan County and Morehead may be the biggest gainers, percentage-wise, in Kentucky. Morehead will become the third largest municipality in the 7th congressional district, exceeded only by Ashland in Boyd County, and Flatwoods in Gretna.

Thus, when the city and county census is released, Morehead will have passed in population such county seats as Hazard, Pikeville and Paintsville.

Winter Weather Brings Additional Air Pollution

By Mirva Gay Winter brings the windows down and air pollution complaints go down along with them.

According to David Gravely, chief of field operations of the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission (KAPCC), during the winter, people close their windows... they don't see or smell the pollution. Add to that the winter closings of some companies and of the asphalt and rock operations, and decline in the complaint department results.

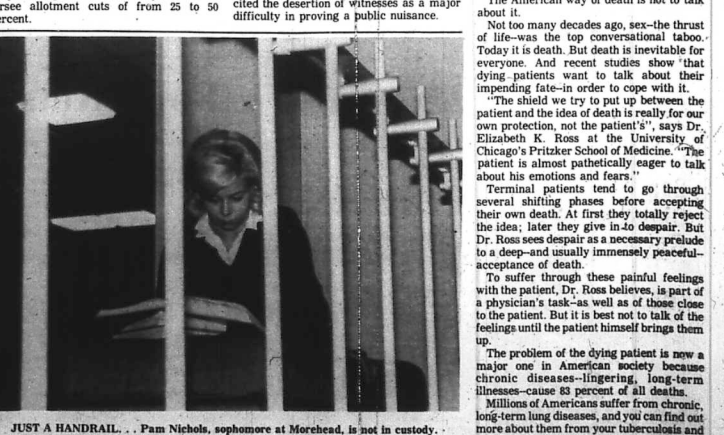

Most complaints involve visible particulate dust and smell. However, Gravely said the staff has to initiate its own investigations because much air pollution remains colorless, odorless and deadly. Hydrogen cyanide from metal treatment is one.

During the past month, the five investigators have initiated more investigations than complaints received. Gravely said ignorance is the main problem in handling complaints. "Unless the complainants see it, turned off, they will complain we haven't done anything. If only ten percent of the pollution shows and that part remains to be seen, the complaint remains."

The slowness of the corrective process also can present problems. Gravely said, contrary to popular opinion, do not write your congressman. "Complaints should come directly to the commission staff."

Gravely keeps the complainants' names confidential, unless they agree to serve as witnesses. He even drives an unmarked car when visiting complainants.

Gravely noted it is discouraging that few complainants will serve as witnesses. He cited the desertion of witnesses as a major difficulty in proving a public nuisance.

JUST A HANDRAIL... Pam Nichols, sophomore at Morehead, is not in custody. She's studying at the Adron Doran University Center and the camera caught her through a stairway handrail.

Health... for all

The American way of death is not to talk about it.

Not too many decades ago, sex—the thrust of life—was the top conversational taboo. Today it is death. But death is inevitable for everyone. And recent studies show that dying patients want to talk about their impending fate—in order to cope with it.

The shield we try to put up between the patient and the idea of death is really for our own protection, not the patient's, says Dr. Elizabeth K. Ross at the University of Chicago's Pritzker School of Medicine. The patient is almost pathetically eager to talk about his emotions and fears.

Terminal patients tend to go through several shifting phases before accepting their own death. At first they totally reject the idea; later they give in and despair. But Dr. Ross sees despair as a necessary prelude to a deep—and usually immensely peaceful—acceptance of death.

To suffer through these painful feelings with the patient, Dr. Ross believes, is part of a physician's task—as well as of those close to the patient. But it is best not to talk of the feelings until the patient himself brings them up.

The problem of the dying patient is now a major one in American society because chronic diseases—lingering, long-term illnesses—cause 83 percent of all deaths. Millions of Americans suffer from chronic, long-term lung diseases, and you can find out more about them from your tuberculosis and respiratory disease association. There are effective treatments for many of them.

By JACK WOLSTON
HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (UPI)—A half-dozen years ago we pounded through the wind-whipped waters of Lake Okechobee in Florida in a 21-foot aluminum cruiser and the noise of water-slapping against metal was deafening.

A few weeks ago we piloted a similar cruiser through even more turbulent waters at Green's Ferry Lake on the Little Red River near here. The noise wasn't any worse than you'd hear on a similar boat constructed of any other conventional material.

This improved hull insulation is but one of many improvements that have emerged in recent years in the construction of aluminum boats.

Flotation has been increased and improved to make most aluminum-constructed boats unsinkable. fittings are improved, interiors are more luxuriously finished.

The growth of aluminum boat sales was outlined to the nation's boating writers at the 5th Marine Aluminum Derby here by C.R. Petry, chairman of the Recreational and Marine Aluminum Committee of The Aluminum Association.

Ging Coast Guard boating statistics, Petry told a news conference that at the end of last year 40 per cent of all registered boats in the United States under 16 feet in length were aluminum, compared with 31.1 per cent for fiberglass and 27.1 per cent for wood.

"The Coast Guard figures show that in 1969 there were 1,221,821 aluminum boats of total Class A (under 16 feet in length) registration of 3,057,490 in all 50 states," Petry said.

He added that the statistics also showed that in 19 states aluminum was the leader in outboard boat registrations—regardless of size—in 1969. These states were Alabama, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Tennessee, Vermont and Wisconsin.

"Five years ago, we led in registrations in only seven states," Petry said.

He also noted that in the past five years aluminum has climbed from 21.94 per cent of all registered boats in the nation to 29.30 per cent.

"In the same period," he said, "fiberglass registrations have increased from 24.10 per cent to 33.41 per cent—comparable growth rates—while wood has declined from 46.6 per cent to 31.38 per cent."

In the past decade, Petry said, aluminum sheet and plate sales, largely for boat hulls, rose from 13 million pounds in 1960 to 43 million pounds in 1969.

"In the same period," he said, "shipments of aluminum ingot, used in boating principally by outboard and stern drive motor manufacturers for castings, increased from 46 million pounds in 1960 to 64 million pounds last year—up 39 per cent."

During his years of one-hour weekly shows on CBS, I always felt that this was a bit too long for Red Skelton. Now that he's on NBC at 30 minutes weekly, that seems too short a time. Well, at least he's on, which has to be a plus.

1040 u.s. individual income tax return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

- Q) How do I go about having taxes taken out of my company pension? I just read a retired person could now do that and avoid making estimated tax payments.
- A) A special form has been prepared which retired persons may use to request that federal income tax be withheld from a pension or annuity. This is Form W-4P, Annuitant's Request for Federal Tax Withholding, and is now available at IRS offices. The withholding cannot begin before next January but a form authorizing withholding should be filed now with the company that pays your pension or annuity.
- Q) Our oldest daughter is getting married in December. Will this mean we will lose our exemption for her even though we supported her practically all year?
- A) Your daughter's marriage will not automatically disqualify her as your dependent this year. If your daughter does not file a joint return with her husband you may claim her exemption as long as the other dependency tests are met.
- Q) I never took out citizenship papers and now plan to go back to my own country. To get my sailing permit do I have to pay tax on this year's income?
- A) Yes, aliens generally have to show they have satisfied all their U.S. tax liabilities before they can leave the country.
- Q) Do I declare as income the property I inherited from my father?
- A) No, the value of an inheritance does not have to be reported for income tax purposes. However, if you make any profit on the sale of the property at a later date, this gain will be taxable. Be sure to keep good records so that any profit can be accurately reported.

Q) Can I deduct losses on my farm operations this year from my other income? I have a part-time job.

A) Yes, farm losses can be deducted from other income if you are engaged in farming for profit. However, special rules apply if you are a cash basis farmer with nonfarm adjusted gross income over $50,000 and a farm net loss in excess of $25,000.

Q) I need to look out citizenship papers and now plan to go back to my own country. To get my sailing permit do I have to pay tax on this year's income?

A) Yes, aliens generally have to show they have satisfied all their U.S. tax liabilities before they can leave the country.

To obtain information on what forms must be completed before you leave the country contact your IRS district office. They can explain the things you have to do and will help you settle your tax obligations.

New Grid Marks...

Eagles Set Records

Morehead State University's football team established five records and tied three others this season en route to a 6-4 overall record and 4-3 Ohio Valley Conference slate. Two new marks and all three ties occurred in last week's season-ending 16-13 upset of Eastern Kentucky. The loss knocked EKU out of the OVC title and a bowl bid.

Sophomore placekicker Kirk Andrews won the Eastern game with a 22-yard field goal, his third of the campaign, to tie the MSU record for three-pointers in a season. He kicked an extra point earlier in the game to match the record for kicked conversions, 19. The field goal and extra point gave him 28 points by kicking for the season, eclipsing the old standard of 25.

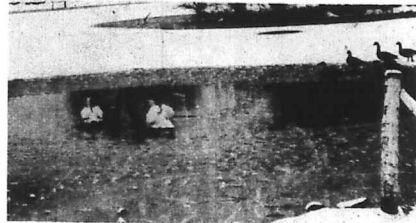

Senior safety Larry Baldridge snared his seventh interception of the year late in the Eastern game to help preserve the Eagle victory. The stolen pass broke the previous record of six set last season by Ron Gathright.

Baldridge also wrote the single game interception record with three against Murray State and the team grabbed five in the same tilt for another new mark. The Eagle defense held Kentucky State to 74 yards total offense for a new team record. The best effort beforehand was 86 yards allowed Memphis Navy in 1961.

Coach Jake Hallum's three-year record at MSU is 15-14-1 after his second straight 6-4 record. His 1968 squad was 3-6-1.

The Eagles played to more than 76,000 fans in 10 games this season. The largest turnout was 21,000 at Eastern.

"Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." —Hebrews 11:1

Faith is not acceptance of things the eye may behold. Anyone who approaches religion with a "show me" attitude lacks sincerity and is unlikely to find the real purpose in life.

Faith is a positive belief in God. Faith is the strength needed to meet the challenges of life and the source of courage in the moment of greatest need.

Faith is a reservoir that never runs dry.

Sensing The News

The sign outside the college campus read "Help US Advance Zero Growth For America." It was a shocker for a traveler who had grown up in the 1930's and remembered a time when the growth of the American economy was virtually zero. The traveler thought: what innocents are the collegiate sign-painters, insulated from reality by present-day affluence.

Zero growth in the 1930's meant breadlines and unsuccessful searches for work. It meant fine, old-line companies that went under almost overnight. It meant desperation for fathers and mothers with sick or hungry children.

Now, in the 1970's, spoiled darlings in universities say that the nation must turn away from technological development. They demand a halt to construction of nuclear and fossil fuel power plants and express horror at the expansion of steel mills and other basic industrial operations. Some of the back-to-nature types urge a return to wilderness conditions and establish primitive communes in remote areas of the Southwest.

There's an air of unreality about these demands and moves. Certainly, thoughtful citizens are aware of the problems of pollution and want public agencies to take steps to abate smoke and fumes and to clean up industrial wastes before they enter rivers and streams. But that's a very different proposition from supporting "Zero Growth."

Industrial development can't be halted without depriving the American people of necessities and comforts, without turning the United States into a backward nation. The people who want to ban the automobile because of pollution forget that not much more than a generation ago many Americans were tragically lacking in mobility. They couldn't get to jobs outside their localities. The automobile and the highway, especially the interstate highway system, created jobs and opportunities and people gained new perspective.

The electric power generating plants are a favorite target of the "Zero Growth" exponents. But the American way of life would be impossible without steady increases in power generating capacity. While a handful of commune-dwellers may be willing to return to the use of candles and kerosene lamps, it is ludicrous to expect the American people to do without electric lights or air-conditioners. Those who crusade against new power plants could bring on a real tragedy for entire communities—critical power shortages.

One wonders: would the proponents of "Zero Growth" extend this concept to medical science and health care? If so, how would they divorce this form of technological development from other forms? Progress in chemistry, for example, has made possible the survival of countless youngsters in the last quarter-century. It's bowing up before the era of "wonder drugs" meant experiencing terrible dangers from infection and communicable disease. Medical technology has made possible open-heart surgery and progress in the treatment of cancer. These advances are directly linked to overall progress in other forms of science and engineering and to the success of industrial operations.

Mrs. McKenzie, 74, Lifelong Rowan Citizen, Claimed

A 74 year old native and lifelong Rowan County woman, Mrs. Nellie McKenzie, died last Sunday at St. Claire Medical Center. The end was not unexpected as Mrs. McKenzie had been long ill.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at Midland Church of God by Reverends Scott Griffith and Hollie Crosthwait. Burial was in Alfrey cemetery.

Mrs. McKenzie was born Mar. 9, 1896, daughter of the late Allen and Annie (Argo) Alfrey.

She married Wayne W. McKenzie, and was a housewife all her adult life. Her husband preceded Mrs. McKenzie in death. She was a devout and active member of the Church of God.

She leaves a son, Coleman McKenzie of Farmers; a daughter, Mrs. Maxine Poston, Morehead; two sisters - Mrs. Johnnie Smith of Ft. Thomas, and Mrs. Hester Robinson, Ashland; five grandchildren; and a great grandchild.

Stucky Funeral Home cared for arrangements.

The bearers - Mitchell Armstrong, John Couche, Pat Carpenter, Darrell McKenzie, James McKenzie, Guy McKenzie and F. E. Moorefield.

Death Comes To Dixon Shouse, 62, Civil Engineer

Dixon Shouse, 62, an engineer, and one of Morehead's best known citizens, died on Saturday of last week at St. Claire Medical Center.

Mr. Shouse had been in failing health since semi-retirement two years ago, but his condition was not deemed critical until a short time before the end.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at Stucky Funeral Home with interment in McPelah cemetery, Mt. Sterling, Rev. C.O. Leach officiated at the funeral with masonic rites at graveside.

Mr. Shouse, who never married, was born at nearby Salt Lick Oct. 3, 1908, but lived his adult life at Morehead. His occupation was civil engineer, and he planned many real estate developments and highways in the Rowan County area.

He was the son of the late Dewitt and Nell (Howell) Shouse.

Immediate survivors are two uncles - Leggett Howell of Middletown, O., and Earle Howell, Portsmouth, O.; and two aunts - Mrs. Orville Smith of Fort Pierce, Fla., and Mrs. Bertha Lyttton, Cleveland, O.

The bearers - Tom Queen, Richard Reeves, Pete Brown, Adrian Razor, Clyde Litton and W. H. Rice. Stucky Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Publisher's Pen...

Day-by-day jot-tem-down, and editorial observations of the publisher of this newspaper.

If Morehead soon has a local option election, which appears probable with a circulation of a petition, one of the issues will be cases tried and convictions in city court.

Dry forces will point to the considerable decrease in Morehead police court fines since State police started a crackdown on bootlegging two years ago which has closed all the "known" places of operation.

You could probably win and win in marriage a Catholic Nurse as easily as buying a pint in Morehead today. Even this Publisher wouldn't know where to tell you to go for a bottle, and we're generally knowledgeable about this.

The wet forces, on the other hand, will contend that there is a great difference in bootleg communities and one where sales are legal.

The court fines have dropped so much that Council may have to revise its budget. One thing certain - the day is near when Morehead will have a one percent occupational tax, same as almost every fourth class city in the Commonwealth.

There's just not enough money for all the services people demand - and, our streets are going to pot.

JOLLY GOOD BUNCH - Every mail brings letters from Kentucky Mayors extolling the good time they had at the hospital party given by the Morehead News preceding the annual meeting (in Morehead) of the Kentucky Bowling League. We conjecture if they'll remember if this never likes winter weather Publisher gets a parking ticket in their town, or asks some such favor. These politicians are often fair weather friends.

POOR TIMING - In 1969 we gave you Arts and Letters as the winner of the Kentucky Derby. You know how that turned out. The horse dwelt and lost. In December of last year, Arts and Letters was voted the best three year old and also the horse of the year. This year we told you to bet on Personality. The nag shied at a mud puddle on the stretch turn, and finished out of the money. Triangle Publications (Racing Form and Telegraph) advises this morning that Personality has been voted the best three year old of 1970. The Kentucky Derby winner, Dust Commander, has since won only one race, and didn't receive a vote. Conclusion - We're so fast that we outrun ourselves.

TOUGH - MSU sports publicist Keith Kappas writes: "Coach Bill Harrell expects a stronger varsity team this season and our frosh may be the best MSU's baseball history. The yearlings have All-State status including two high school All-Americans." We must say, after seeing the varsity-frosh game, that friend Kappas is a mite modest. In our opinion this is far and away the best freshman team ever at MSU, and if Western falters the varsity could take it all in the OVC. Incidentally, the Associated Press rankings are out today, and Western is listed as the 9th best in the nation.

TIMES - Freshmen home games start at 5:30 p.m., followed by the varsity at 7:30 p.m.

UNTAINTED NEWS - Both Rowan County Grade and University Breckinridge have school (mimeographed) papers. We hope to often quote from them, particularly some of the riddles. Each has a love-love column with items like this from the Vikings: "What does one do when you like one person and the other person won't leave you alone?" - Bothered. Answer: If the person that likes you you don't like keep bothering you, tell them politely you're not interested. To get the person you like to notice you, find out what his interests are and start conversations in the hall with him, about his interests."

NUNN NOT TAPPED - We didn't know it until the other day, but it seems that several G.O.P. Governors have "hot lines" direct to the White House. It has been found that six were vulnerable to tap-ins - Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Arkansas and Utah. But, a check revealed the line to the office of Kentucky Governor, Leslie B. Nunn, was not vulnerable. What would them Governors and Nixon talk about anyway unless it is getting more federal tax dollars for their state? ... or maybe how to beat the democrats?

TOUGH TO DECIDE - Some of the most important cases in Kentucky came before Franklin Circuit Court, presided over by an able jurist, Henry Meigs. But, the good judge is stumped on a decision of how much, or many, clothes a girl should wear to be decent. The case is an outgrowth of Louisville's unsuccessful crackdown on go-go girls. Judge Meigs said: "At first blush it appears that the attire and actions of go-go girls cannot be regulated." We know, from experience, that trying to regulate the "actions" would be like trying to pick up jello with the fingers.

THEIR COLORS - Kentucky Long Rifles, Inc., home-based at Morehead, who meet and beat every challenger, have followed the example of the Morehead News, erecting a pole and Old Glory flies at their Rowan County shooting range. Incidentally, Dec. 12 has been declared a "Work Day." Now, if you don't know what a "Work Day" is it is the time when every member shows up, with tools, prepared to work on the clubhouse, lawn, shooting range etc. These work days is the big reason the Long Rifles own their premises and have money in the bank.

ADVICE - A reader writes: "Why don't you print an article about Kentucky 31 Rescue - and that it was discovered in Menifee county?" We have printed that many times. It was found growing wild on a steep bank near Frenchburg.

HEAVY DAMAGE - While on fescue and farming, Extension Agent Adrian Razoner advised that 25 percent or 16,750 bushels of corn in Rowan County was destroyed by the blight. Damage in nearby counties - Morgan 20 percent, 29,200 bushels; Menifee 40 percent, 24,000 bushels; Lewis 10 percent, 29,700 bushels; Bath 22 percent, 73,700 bushels; and Fleming 10 percent, 69,700 bushels. Major concern is that the blight will return next year.

REFRAIN - The Post Office Department wants you to mail early for Christmas. Former Postmaster Benjamin Franklin advocated the same thing.

CLOSER - Only 17 more shopping days until Christmas. The most appreciated present of all is a gift subscription to the Morehead News. The recipient will remember you for it every week of the coming year. We'll send a nice gift card for the tree at no extra cost. Biggest bargain since Ed McElhottin of Morehead charged 25 cents a week to haul away your garbage in his one horse day.

APPROPRIATE - A picture in the Oct. 22 issue of the Morehead News will be nationally used by UNICEF. It showed two members of Lambda Chi Alpha with two Morehead girls ready to kick-off the annual fund drive in Morehead. The girls are Cub scout Doug Spears, and Brownie Scout Jennifer Chaney.

ALL IN DAY'S WORK - Newspapers are compiled on such a time schedule that errors, particularly in figures, crop up. Last week the headline in the Morehead News said the Eagles beat Eastern 13-11. The story below the headline was correct in stating the score was 16-13.

ON FRIDAY - Christmas falls this year on Friday, and New Year's is also on Friday. That is good because a long weekend follows each, enabling our associates to get back in condition.

VACANCY, MAYBE - The best paying job that the City of Morehead has may be vacant come January 1. Usually, reliable sources impart that Tom Burns will resign as City Attorney. Reason probably is that Mr. Burns, already overworked and in demand, will spend full time in private practice. The City Attorney position is a better one than you might think. But, the hours are night and day, and it takes a considerable and uninteresting time to prosecute.

CONCLUDING - Morehead Publishing Company is installing mailing equipment that addresses 25,000 pieces an hour. That should enable the Publisher to keep up with the mail including gift orders.

It's strange that even yet there are a few cooks who haven't learned that the best pumpkin pies are made mostly of sweet potatoes. With reference to "body language" probably the movement that is smallest and quickest is the most expressive, namely the wink. ... It may be an old fashioned idea but we still strongly believe that the cause of crime is criminals.

How many years have passed since you could buy something for a nickel in a five and ten cent store? ... If you need to borrow money you should take the matter up with a person who has either an optimistic or a pessimist as an optimist has no money and a pessimist won't lend you any. ... One hobby that many a retired man engages in is that of sitting around with other retirees who have the same hobby: that of trying to achieve status by being the biggest liar in the bunch. ... Losses causes a great deal of noise pollution. Reference is made to tongues that are loose at both ends. ... When December arrives it is 11 months too late or one month too early to secure bargains in Christmas goods.

GRE scores are required in graduate programs at most U.S. colleges and universities.

Mrs. Whitaker said MSU would administer the National Teacher Examination Jan. 30, April 3 and July 17.

Information may be obtained from the MSU Testing Center. The phone is 666-783-3313.

Speech Team At Breck Competes In Two Tournaments

The University Breckinridge School's Speech Team returned winners from two different speech trips this last weekend.

Teams were sent to the Thomas More College's One-Act Play Festival and to the Campbellsville Speech Tournament.

The U.S. team going to Thomas More College won Second Place. Nathan Coates won the trophy for Best Actor and Nancy Coates was Runner-Up for Best Actress.

The team which went to Campbellsville walked off winning the First Place Sweepstakes Trophy. Individuals winning were: Virginia Landreth-2nd in Prose Reading; Peter Nanrahan and Rachel Fubright-1st in Duet Acting; Tim Peter and Marshall McNeely-2nd in Duet Acting; Joan Raines-2nd in Storytelling; Susan Burns-2nd in Humorous Interpretation and Jamie Luske-2nd in Girls Extemp.

These victories set this year's speech team as being the team that "set a record" for the number of trophies won. The team has been undefeated for the past five tournaments and has returned to Morehead with 45 trophies during this school year.

Christmas Values at...

Day, Huseman Only Sure Starters For Morehead

Except for guard and center, the Morehead State University starting lineup appears set this season. The starting line-up among 6-2 Junior Jerry King, 6-4 Junior Eddie Conley, 5-10 Junior Ray Wilkerson, 6-1 sophomore Vic Wharton and 6-0 sophomore Bubba Abell.

King, now nursing an ankle injury, is recovering from off-season knee surgery. Wilkerson, a junior college transfer, was recruited as a playmaker but has yet to win the job vacated last year by Bobby Hiles.

Wharton and Abell were among the top frosh scorers last year but both have been spotty. Conley is troubled by shooting woes.

The center spot rests between 6-8 sophomore Alonzo Cole and 6-11 sophomore Royce Woolver. Cole sparked in the second varsity-frosh game while Woolver, who turned in a fine first game, sat on the sidelines with a virus infection.

Harrell announced that 6-5 junior forward Mike Guiler has sustained a shoulder separation in practice and would be out at least six weeks. "We had been counting on him for relief inside," he added.

Holiday loans for people who don't borrow money.

You shop with credit cards and charge accounts. No need to carry cash. And you can defer installment payments 30 days.

Just one thing... Holiday shopping can cost more than planned. No problem—with credit cards and charge accounts you can spread out payments in monthly installments. If that happens you should at least consider a personal loan—because a loan from Commercial Credit could cost less.

Find out. Truth in lending requires a full disclosure of all rates and charges. You'll find them on your bills or separate statement forms. Compare these costs to the costs of our Interest-Saver Loan—we can help you do this—and if you're paying more, get a loan from us and save the difference.

Loan Period	Amount Financed	Monthly Payment	Annual Percentage Rate	Total of Payments
12 mos.	$200.32	$181.00	15.20%	$2172.00
24 mos.	2015.20	97.00	14.25%	2328.00
36 mos.	2011.40	69.00	14.25%	2484.00

It's not what you owe... it's who you owe.

WEEKLY MEDITATION

It is better to be heaven-born than high-born. For only he who is heaven-born is heaven-bound.

The heavenly census taker underscores it in Psalm 87:6, "The Lord shall count, when

From An Old Timer, New Milford, Conn.: I am now eighty years old. I remember, as a small child, I attended a small church in New York State. Two nights before Christmas, we had our Christmas tree and entertainment in the church. All members were asked to buy a pair of stockings, long black ones in those days and to fill them with apples, hickory nuts, homemade popcorn balls, and a toy for a guy or girl on the top. My mother dressed a doll, a far cry from the lovely ones of today.

After the minister spoke, much too long, and one or two little girls had to go to the rest room, to the embarrassment of their mother, Santa Claus arrived. We each marched up and hung our stockings on a line stretched across the church. Next day, the stockings were taken to an orphanage, where otherwise the children would have not enjoyed Christmas gifts.

Each of the children, of course, received a gift at church. Going home in the cold, frosty night we were so happy. We had learned a lesson in giving as well as receiving.

Rev. Johnson, 78, Ex-Moreheadian, Dies In Indiana

The Rev. Martin Luther Johnson, 78, native Moreheadian, passed away at Methodist Hospital in Gary, Ind., following a lingering illness.

Johnson, retired assistant pastor at the Brunswick Church of God, had been a Gary resident for 15 years. He came to Gary from Morehead.

In Kentucky he was a Mason, served as a Kentucky state chaplain and was a Kentucky Colonel. He was a member of American Legion Post 17 and a veteran of World War I Barracks 118.

He leaves two sons; a daughter; four brothers, including Hallie Johnson of Haldeman; two sisters; nine grandchildren; and three great grandchildren.

The funeral was at Gary with interment in Chapel Lawn cemetery, Schererville, Ind.

He wrote up the people, that this man was born there, where's from above.

After dark one night a religious leader named Nicodemus came to Jesus. Earnestly, the Lord said to him, "You must be born again." And to be born again means to be born the second time, or from above and therefore from God.

When one is born the first time, he is born into a family relationship. He becomes the child of his father. He is born into a political relationship. He becomes the citizen of his country. He is born into a social relationship. He becomes a social being with its responsibilities. And he is born with a sinful nature.

When one is born again he becomes a child of God, a citizen of the kingdom of God, and he enters into a social relationship of the "redemption" with its responsibilities. He becomes a sharer of the divine nature.

No one can generate his spiritual birth anymore than he can arrange his physical birth. It is something God does for the man who receives Christ.

Discovered By Rhonda . . .

New World Of Hope

By Helen Price Stacy

At a meeting a few evenings ago, I was allowed to hold little Rhonda McKenzie of West Liberty while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McKenzie were presented two checks totaling $1675, the first disbursement of the Rhonda McKenzie fund.

Rhonda waved her arms, jumped around on my lap and made childish sounds that tingled like tiny bells. She is 16 months old, with a shock of dark hair, exquisite hands and soft skin. She has one clubfoot, man-made slits for eyes and a man-made opening for a nose, beneath which is a most perfectly formed, beautiful mouth. Just holding her made you love this small bundle of girl that might some day have a face normal enough and lovely enough to meet her world.

Last April 30, in John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., Dr. Milton Edgerton and a team of skilled surgeons performed the first of five operations on Rhonda to begin reconstructing facial features. She then was nine months old and the youngest patient in medical records to undergo such surgery and survive.

"Her age represents something of a breakthrough for medicine," said Edgerton, pioneering specialist in rebuilding facial features for children.

Mrs. Bonnie Lewis McKenzie, 26, attractive mother of Rhonda and another daughter, Robin, who soon will be nine and an excellent student at West Liberty Elementary School, can be credited for the beginning of a long, heart-breaking program that hopefully will prevent normal facial features for her daughter as well as correctional surgery for her feet.

When Rhonda was born with severe abnormalities, the young mother was not content to leave the child as was and shut her away forever from the world.

"I had just about given up hope of ever being able to help Rhonda," said the mother. "I had tried to think of ways—and what would allow her to grow up like other children; if not like other children, at least more normal. I was about to despair and glancing down at a daily paper I saw an article about a little girl in Tennessee. I read it through. Debbie Fox had been born with much the same lack of a face as had Rhonda. I immediately wrote Mrs. Edward Fox of Soddy, Tenn. and asked her names of doctors and people who might help Rhonda."

Returns To Johns Hopkins

That was how the McKenzies learned about Dr. Edgerton. Arrangements were made for an examination and the subsequent surgery that required more than 10 hours. Rhonda is one in about 1,000 children to be born without a nose, with eyes set so far on the sides of her head that she could not possibly focus them, with one clubfoot and too many toes on her feet. Muscles to control eye movement were defective. The surgical team went into the skull for bone grafts, skin grafts and other critical rearranging of tissue and bone related to eyes and brain. The grafts allowed Rhonda's eyes to be reset in a more normal position and also shaped her face. A tooth bud was removed near the eye location and using forehead skin, surgeons built nose passages.

Rhonda will return to Johns Hopkins for surgery scheduled Dec. 1.

This second surgical effort will build the bottom portion of a nose over the opening made last April. (Bridge for the nose will be done later.) On Dec. 1, surgeons also will attach eyelids to Rhonda's eyes so she can open them.

As I held her, I knew why she tried to throw her head back; it was her determined effort to get her eyes back so by peering beneath the lidless skin she could see what was going on around her in a strange room.

The room was the REA building in West Liberty where officers and advisory board of the Rhonda McKenzie fund could review progress on a goal of $10,000 needed to help finance family expense during the trips to Baltimore. Though Dr. Edgerton, Dr. Edward Dalton, Dr. David Knox, Dr. George Udvarkely, Dr. Ed Laws and Dr. Hugh Robinson and their associates performed their work without charge, there are many other expenses, including travel costs to the parents and days missed from work. (McKenzie is assistant manager of a West Liberty grocery) that have to be considered.

Goal Is $10,000

Townpeople, knowing the hardships of the next few years for Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, and admiring their courage and efforts to help their young daughter, got together and set up the Rhonda McKenzie Fund, West Liberty, Ky. 41472. They set the $10,000 goal and to date $3100 has been contributed to the fund, making it possible to present the parents a check to help cover expenses of last April's operation and also a check to help cover expenses of the Dec. 1 surgery.

The executive committee is made up of Mrs. Garry Elam, chairman; Stephen Bliffin, vice chairman; Mrs. Boyd Blair, secretary and Mrs. Clay Walton, treasurer. Members of the advisory board are Ray Mitchell, chairman, Judge Gene Allen, Mayor Charles Black, Miss Naomi Finch, Miss Mary Ann Foudry, Bert Holbrook, Earl Kinner Jr., Dr. Alec Spencer, James R. Perry, Mrs. H.B. Murray and Helen Price Stacy.

Contributions to the fund are welcomed, not only for young Rhonda McKenzie but as hope to all parents and especially to all babies who like Rhonda are born with seemingly hopeless abnormalities.

I can sincerely say that while holding Rhonda she was not "unpretty" in any sense. She was soft hair and skin, perfect hands, a sweet mouth and bell-like voice. She truly was beautiful . . . maybe in a sense, I was seeing her as she will look 10 years from now and eager to show her new and pretty face to the world of school, church and community.

New Law Won't Affect All Ky. Farm Assessments

The new law to take effect Jan. 1, designed to correct over-assessment of agricultural land, will not give a tax break to all farmers, State Revenue Commissioner James Luckett predicted.

Farmland located "in a general farming area" probably will not be affected, Luckett said. Taxes may be lowered for farms directly affected by urban or commercial influences, he told the Kentucky Farm Bureau.

To qualify for agricultural valuation, property generally must be at least 10 acres, in farming use for five years and producing at least $1000 annually for two years.

Grade School Tourney

The annual "everybody has fun" Rowan County grade school basketball tournament got underway yesterday (Wednesday) evening in the Rowan County High gymnasium with Salt Lick meeting Farmers, and Haldeman playing Clearfield.

The eight graders and below are expected, as usual, to go it at tooth and nail in the Lions Club sponsored event. They will have, as usual, vocal support and heart throbs from loving parents, relatives and friends.

Each team has a full complement of players . . . along with petite cheerleaders, and All-American youngsters, including about to be "teens".

Determined opponents this (Thursday) evening are Elliottville vs. Tildon Hogge; and University Breckinridge vs. Morehead Grade. The session starts at 6:30 p.m.

The semi-finals are set Friday evening with the Salt-Lick-Farmers winner meeting the Haldeman-Clearfield winner; and the Elliottville-Tildon Hogge winner playing the winner of the Breck-Morehead Grade game.

A consolation is scheduled at 6:30 Saturday evening, followed by the championship fracas at 7:30.

At stake is: "We're the champs"; plus attractive Lions Club trophies; plus parental pleasure; and esteem among fellow grade school students.

All profits go to Lions Club charities.

the hardest fought . . . tongue in cheek basketball tournament of them all.

Letters . . . to the editor

This newspaper welcomes letters, particularly on subjects of general local, or area, interest. Right is reserved to condense. No letters will be printed without author's signature and address.

The Editor:
In the Publisher's Pen on Thursday, Nov. 19, it was stated the winner of the $100 first prize (Jaycees Clean-Up Contest) was a fraternal organization, mostly headed by women of Farmers. You spoke of The Rebekah Lodge, formerly of Farmers, but recently moved to Morehead.

It was related that the Mayor said, "Little, if any, garbage or refuse was picked up in Morehead."

The women who worked long hours to "make everything beautiful" cleaned up behind filling stations, garages, restaurants and several business places in Morehead; along U.S. 50 between Farmers and Morehead; along Flemingsburg road, Christy Creek road; and Highway 801. We cleaned several back yards; cemeteries; and after the train wreck at Farmers along the railroad tracks.

The "trash" referred to in the newspaper article consisted of nothing but bottles and cans which we counted and placed in plastic bags. I am sure that if the bags had burst the trash would have fallen out.

The Rebekah Lodge has members in Morehead, Clearfield, Bluestone, Haldeman, Farmers and many other places in Rowan County. So, the work wasn't done by just the women of Farmers.

(Editor's Note: Mayor William H. Layne said this week that the City would hereafter oppose any garbage collection campaign as the one referred to).

PLAN TO ENROLL AT

I am looking forward to becoming a member of your community, and attending this great University.

PESSIMISTIC ABOUT THE WHOLE WORLD

The Editor:
As a former Rowan Countian and now used to city ways of life, I have the highest regard but sympathize with the Editor of the Morehead News.

Your newspaper is waging a losing battle against community and Morehead University drug abuse; filthy movies; bootlegging; and morals in general, including good and dedicated churches and hospitals.

I have concluded the world has forgot Christ, and young people have no regard or true love for their parents who have struggled to give them everything.

Keep fighting, Mister Editor. You'll go down in defeat but honorably so as did our forefathers at Valley Forge.

I do know when I turn the pages of the good Morehead News, I'm not reading a communist publication. I can't say the same thing for many others.

FOOD AND LEARNING - The First Grade Thanksgiving Dinner at University Breckinridge is a production when you involve parents, students, teachers, and related classes. This annual event offers the students an opportunity to work with high school home economics classes for study in food preparation and manners. Parents assist in preparing the food. Fathers become meat carvers and "bus boys." Education classes at the University use the production filmed by Department of Instructional Media for observation purposes and last, but not least—a good nourishing turkey dinner was served. Special guests included President and Mrs. Adron Doran, Dr. Mary Northcutt, and Dean James Powell. After lunch remarks were made by President Doran with Ronald D. Hart, the school's director, serving as toastmaster. Miss Thelma Evans, Mrs. Shirley Blair, and Mrs. Wayne Thurman were in charge of arrangements and planning with opening remarks by Marjorie Wentz, district officer of Future Homemakers of America and a senior Breckinridge home economics student.

Dollars And Sense
Look At Tetanus

By Fran Salyers

Imagine for a moment that you're outside on a frosty winter day, walking on snow-covered pavement. Suddenly you hit a patch of ice. You lose your balance. You fall. No broken bones, you assure yourself. Just a little rip in your glove. You jump up before you attract a crowd. You hardly notice the little cut on your hand. But if you're one of many persons who have never been immunized against tetanus, you may notice that cut in a week or so. It could cost you thousands of dollars. It could cost you your life.

Eight cases of tetanus were reported in Kentucky during 1969. Only two cases have been reported through November of 1970. In addition to the usual medical data, the state

Conduct Rites For Leroy Parker, 35,
Veteran Of Korea

Funeral services for Leroy Parker, 35, victim of gun play, were conducted Thursday morning at Stucky Funeral Home in Morehead, followed by burial in the OUM cemetery near Olive Hill.

Mr. Parker, widely known in Morehead and this area of Kentucky, met instant death Monday night when five bullets, any of which could have been fatal, struck him in the chest. The shooting happened at the Bridge Drive-Around in Bath County at Licking River, just west of the Rowan county line. Zane Wages of Morehead has been charged with homicide.

Mr. Parker was born in Rowan County April 29, 1935, son of the late Lovel Parker; and Connie (Cornette) Parker, who survives.

He married Jean Thompson who survives along with a daughter, Sherry Parker, at home.

He also leaves four brothers - Kenneth Parker, Mansfield, O.; Glenn Parker, Morehead; Richard Parker, S. Charleston, O.; and Larry Parker, U.S. Army.

Mr. Parker served with the armed forces in the Korean conflict.

The bearers - Lowell Bowman, Jack Winters, Bobby Morrison, Roy Reynolds, Paul Reynolds, Jr., and Lee Casper. Arrangements were cared for by Stucky Funeral Home.

Department of Health's Division of Epidemiology collected information for 1969 concerning the cost of hospitalization for each of the first six cases. The findings are surprising and revealing. Tetanus cost one patient as little as $704.75. Another patient's hospital fees were over $11,000.

In one case, an auto accident victim was hospitalized on the day of injury. Nine days later she developed tetanus. She was moved to another hospital the following day but died after 61 days of intensive care. Her $8,741.01 bill not include the first nine days of hospital fees associated exclusively with her original injuries. In another case, a man suffered third degree burns over 10 to 20 percent of his body, but was not hospitalized until the onset of tetanus eight days later. The major portion of his $11,335.34 bill was the result of treatment for tetanus, not burns.

Add to those figures the physicians' fees, lost wages and other expenses and the total is high. There can be no price tag placed on a lost life.

Kentucky Has Statute

What does it cost to prevent such cases of tetanus? Three or four doses of tetanus toxoid are required for complete initial immunization. That means three or four visits to a private physician for the injections. Tetanus immunization also is available free of charge at local health departments. It would have cost only pennies to prevent all of the above tetanus cases.

Kentucky law requires that all children be immunized against tetanus before entering public school. However, according to a report of the Division of Epidemiology, Kentucky Department of Health a significant number of children and adults have never received initial tetanus immunization.

Initial tetanus immunization should begin in infancy, with a DPT (diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis) injection around two months of age. After the DPT series, boosters are recommended at ages six and 12, plus a booster every 10 years thereafter. Additional boosters are required after injury.

"Every parent should make sure his child is protected against tetanus," states J.W. Skaggs, DVM, of the Division of Epidemiology. "And every adult should maintain his immunity with a booster every 10 years."

When it comes to lives and dollars, it makes a lot of sense to protect against the disease.

The Mature Woman

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

The husband and wife who enter into a business relationship should put their understanding in writing—no matter how much they trust each other. So says Harriet F. Pipel, a noted legal authority and writer on the rights of women.

It's always a good idea, Mrs. Pipel asserts, "to have any business transaction clearly reflected in writing, even if it is between husband and wife." If they anticipate working together and reaping the financial benefits of the business, they should definitely put their agreement down on paper, she suggests. While both parties are "alive, friendly and competent," such a document may not be needed, Mrs. Pipel acknowledges, but "if one should die, then it becomes a question of what their understanding was." Or should there be a serious dispute between them, she adds, "the understanding they thought they had might suddenly turn out to be different."

Grave Injustice

Harriet Pipel notes there are often situations of "grave injustice" in which many a wife has gladly and willingly invested all her efforts in her husband's business, only to find at his death, "that she has nothing in her own name with which to maintain herself." Illustrating this with a hypothetical case, Mrs. Pipel notes that "if a wife has worked for 35 years with her husband who acquired a million-dollar estate all in his name, and if—when he dies—he leaves it to someone else, the wife's rights are very limited."

A Woman's Share

In that kind of situation, Mrs. Pipel declares, the law "does try to protect women to a limited extent." In some states, she says, it will step in to give the woman a share of her husband's property. But since the law varies considerably from state to state, she adds, the widow may have no rights at all, or only the right to the income of one-third of her husband's estate for as long as she lives. "If that wife had had the forethought," concludes lawyer Pipel, "she might have done better than that." It is only fair, she adds, that a woman should share in the property where she has, "in fact, helped to acquire that property."

Harriet Pipel, a partner in a New York law firm, is co-author of "Your Marriage and Will," published by Collier Books, and the pamphlet "Know Your Rights," issued by the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor. She has also served on various Presidential Commissions concerned with the status of women.

Baldrige Picked As Defensive Player Of Week

Morehead State University defensive back Larry Baldrige has been named "Defensive Player of the Week" in the Ohio Valley Conference.

The 6-1, 190-pound senior free safety was selected on the basis of his performance against Eastern Kentucky University last Saturday. Baldrige, who was captain of the MSU secondary, had five tackles, five assists, recovered an EKU fumble and intercepted a pass to break the school record for season interceptions as the Eagles pulled off a stunning 16-13 upset of the favored Colonels.

"Larry turned in a magnificent game," said MSU Head Coach Jake Hallum. "We're really going to miss him back there next season."

Baldrige, a senior from Shelby, Ohio, became the third defensive pick of the OVC from Morehead State. Named twice this season was junior linebacker Harry (Sugar Bear) Lyles.

Motor Vehicles Not Only Highway Pollution Source

Most of the attention to the air pollution problem on our nation's highways is focused on motor vehicles.

Frank P. Partee, technical director of the Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission (KAPCC), told an audience at the annual Kentucky Highway Conference that more attention could be focused on the planning and design aspects of highway construction.

The conference was sponsored by the UK College of Engineering, the University Extension program, the Department of Highways, the Kentucky Municipal League, the Kentucky County Judges Assn. and the Kentucky Assn. of Highway Contractors.

Of current projects involving the U.S. Department of Transportation and the National Air Pollution Control Administration (NAPCA), Partee said one deals with the potential adverse effects of building a submerged expressway in Lower Manhattan.

Air Pollution Menace

Production of roadbuilding materials, actual highway construction and motor vehicles receive most attention regarding highway pollution.

"Adequate control technology to eliminate 97-99 percent of the problem is available and ready for application," Partee said.

Motor vehicles are responsible for more air pollution than any other single group of sources. Partee added factory installed controls have not lived up to expectations. Partee foresees a mandatory inspection program within the next two to six years to determine if individual cars meet federal emission standards.

The Kentucky Air Pollution Control Commission has issued a high air pollution potential advisory to warn areas of possible episodes, according to Delance Martin, staff meteorologist.

Meteorological conditions favorable to the accumulation of air pollution will trigger the advisory to alert areas. This forecast will last at least 36 hours.

Eastern Kentucky is under such alerts for eight to nine days a year while Western Kentucky has only two or three days of alert conditions.

Favorable conditions usually include both low wind speed and an inversion.

Rowan Families Are Earning More Money

Thanks to the fact that most local residents are earning more than they did in other years, many Rowan County families have progressed into new and higher income brackets.

Some, who had been in the $5,000 to $8,000 level, are now in the $8,000 to $10,000 category. Their former spots have been taken over, in turn, by families whose earnings had been below $5,000.

The upward shift has been noticeable all along the line, with the result that the proportion of local families remaining in the very low income groups is smaller than ever.

The changes are recorded in a special study, released by Sales Management, the marketing publication. Its copyrighted report, which covers all sections of the country, gives the makeup of each community in terms of income groupings.

Most Earn Over $5,000

In Rowan County, the figures show, a full 51.9 percent of the households had net cash incomes of $5,000 or more in the past year after payment of their personal taxes.

Compared with the proportion at that level three years ago, this was high. Only 36.6 percent were in the "over $5,000" brackets then.

The increase, 15.3 percent, was greater than that in percent of the households are in the $5,000 to $8,000 bracket, it finds. In the $8,000 to $10,000 category are 9.8 percent and, above the $10,000 mark, 20.3 percent. The remainder are below $5,000.

Hard to hammer with the general improvement in family earnings, locally and elsewhere, has been the steady rise in the cost of living, which has greatly diminished the gains.

Following is some advice given by John Wills, Agronomist, in his latest agronomy notes. Recommendations for selecting your seed corn variety to plant in 1971 - in order of priority:

1st Choice - Select a normal cytoplasm hybrid. This will be labeled N on the seed bag.

2nd Choice - Select a hybrid that is a blend of normal and Texas male sterile cytoplasm.

3rd Choice - Plant F2 seed from a normal cytoplasm hybrid. This means saving your own seed corn from stalks that stayed green until harvest time.

4th Choice - Select an old fashioned or "open Pollinated" corn variety.

Keep in mind the different varieties produced this year. Those that did well this year should be at least as good next year. Let's keep in mind some seed companies intend to change the blend percentage of normal and Texas male sterile seeds in many of their varieties. This means that some varieties that did poorly this year could do much better in 1971. Read the label on the seed corn bag. If it isn't labeled be careful.

An official document of agreement was signed by Commissioner David Dominick, Federal Water Quality Administration and Mr. Ralph Pickard for the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission.

Settlement School . . .

A Mountain Tradition

By Lois Campbell

help his people.

Nestled in a small valley, where the two forks of Troublesome Creek join in the Cumberland Mountain foothills, lies the little village of Hindman, seat of Knott County. At first glance, Hindman appears to be an ordinary mountain village, at closer inspection, it is unique in many ways. The people who came into the mountains over a century ago to settle in Knott County were of pure English stock. Words, phrases and even the native music date back to the Anglo-Saxons of England. Also, there hasn't been any great influx of foreign blood into that mountain section. Consequently, the culture of the Anglo-Saxons has been preserved to an amazing degree.

Even more unusual is the growth of the community's educational system, from a one-room school to the famed Hindman Settlement School.

In 1900, Hindman was sixteen years old. The small town consisted of several residences. There was one hotel, a post office, blacksmith's shop, a water mill, the court house, jailhouse and two general stores. Also standing was a school, situated on the north side of Hindman's only street.

From the time of the inception of Hindman and Knott County, education had been an uphill struggle. In 1899, rumors began to seep into Hindman about the doings of two "fetched-on" women who were said to be carrying on some unique work with the people in and around Hazard.

Uncle Solomon Everidge, a citizen of Hindman who had seen eighty winters, had always nourished a great desire for more and better education for the youth of Hindman and Knott County. He worked twenty-two miles barefoot to Hazard to learn first-hand of the activities of these gentle women.

There he found Miss May Stone and Miss Katherine Pettit teaching sewing, cooking, doing kindergarten work and helping to plan better systems for the public school teachers. He talked with them and watched them for a day, and then requested that they come to Hindman the following summer to

Academic and Vocational

The next year the trip to Hindman was made possible for the two women. Out of a number of likely places in other mountain counties, Hindman was chosen as a location for a school. With a gift of two acres of land from citizens, combined with the purchase of one extra acre and the original school house, on August 4, 1902, the Hindman Settlement School came into being under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

It boasted enrollment of 162 pupils and offered to the students academic work in addition to cooking, sewing, housekeeping and music. Community activities were begun; and to encourage the native arts of basketmaking, spinning and weaving, as well as to provide a market for such goods, the Fireside Industries Department was organized.

The next few years brought change and development to the Settlement. By August, 1906, four new buildings were ready for use. Included were a Settlement House, school house, weaving cabin, work shop and a power house.

The power house was used to provide the first artificial lighting to the people of Hindman. It was a steam system, controlled from the Settlement House. Every night at the designated time, the lights would blink all over town, and several minutes later, Hindman was plunged into darkness. Any citizen, desiring light after the power house curfew, found it necessary to bring out candles and coal-oil lamps.

Tragedy struck often in the form of fire during the early years of the Settlement; but as early as 1918, the progress of the school was notable. The school plant then consisted of 225 acres of land, including a coal mine and 20 buildings, including cottages, a hospital, the power house, school buildings and barns.

The entire school enrollment numbered 341 in the various departments which consisted of kindergarten, intermediate, high school, music and agriculture. The industrial departments offered hand work, woodwork home nursing, sewing, weaving and basketry. Services were included library, social meetings, glee club, camp fire, play grounds, military drill, mid-winter extension courses and the Fireside Industries.

The Hindman Settlement School was admitted to the Southern Assn. of Secondary Schools and Colleges in 1928. That admission gave the school a Grade A standing—a "standard" classification which the school has retained to this day.

Following that milestone, a high school and modern library were erected. A Recreation House followed. In the 1950's, the May Stone Memorial Building for Girls and the Elizabeth Watts Building for Home Economics and Industrial Arts were finished. The Katherine Pettit Building for Boys is presently under construction.

Outsiders have always wondered about the relations of the Settlement to the county. Raymond K. McLain, executive director, says, "The Settlement and the Board of Education have always cooperated in a unique way. From the beginning the two worked together, and the Settlement people always say that they "supplement the county."

The county supports the Hindman High School and Elementary School. The high school, with two additions, has approximately 700 students, as does the elementary. About 40 high school boys and girls stay at the Settlement, since they live too far from roads where buses can pick them up.

Assisting Adults

With the county supporting the local school, the Settlement has increased their assistance to the small rural schools and established extension work of various kinds. The policy has always been to begin new ventures and to release them to the community when it is ready to take over while the Settlement then turns to other projects.

The extension workers travel rough roads and creek beds in jeeps and pickup trucks to reach the more isolated centers.

Work with adults also has increased. The Settlement works with several hundred young adults who have dropped out of school and are now being given another opportunity. This is a four-county project, with classes held once a week in each county for those who range all the way from being almost illiterate to those who are nearly ready to take the high school equivalency tests to obtain high school diplomas.

In looking back over the 68 years that the Hindman Settlement School has been in existence, one can see that the development of modern means of transportation has brought great changes.

With good roads and easier means of travel, school buses can bring many of the students to the Hindman Schools who could not have come there in 1902. However, there are still as many students as the settlement can accommodate—students who, for one reason or another, want or need to live in the Settlement dormitories.

The Hindman Settlement School may well be proud of its record for the past 68 years. It has sent many students on to higher education and into the professions, confident that their academic background was more than ample to see them through further studies.

Few mountain schools have set their sights so high and raised their standards to compare to those of the unique Hindman Settlement School.

Christian Critical About Kentucky Education Groups

State Finance Commissioner Albert Christen said the Kentucky Education Assn. and the National Education Assn. "are insulting the children and parents by calling teacher strikes and holding kangaroo court system."

Christen spoke in Frankfort at a meeting of the Bluegrass chapter of the American Society of Women Accountants. The commissioner stressed that his remarks reflected his own opinion, and not necessarily that of the State administration.

Kentucky public school teachers are now paid 2.3 times the average that prevailed in 1956-57, he said, and the total State expenditure for education has quadrupled in the past decade—from about $90 million in 1960 to about $360 million.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

A smile is something unusual. It is difficult to give a smile, even to a total stranger, without getting it right back in return. You can't light up a room with a smile. It's a genuine, it usually works. It's easy, of course, to smile when you're happy. It isn't difficult to be generous with the world when the sun shines on everything you do.
The smile comes harder when you're down and out, when you've lost the game or the race. But you can turn it on if you try, and you'll feel much better. If you make the effort.
It takes courage to make the smile a permanent part of your personality. You can't always be happy. You will not always win. People are certain to disappoint you from time to time. But, if you can force that smile, if you can make it real, you're bouncing back for another look at the sunshine.

GLASS HISTORY
In 1901, for the first time, a machine was invented that could blow glass automatically and, in 1907, a further development enabled the manufacturer to turn out class tumblers entirely by machine.

ACCURACY
More accurate than a sextant, a computer on the bridge of a ship today can receive signals from orbiting satellites and compute the vessel's position to within 200 feet.
