Harry Ramey, Morehead Board Of Regents Member Dies Suddenly Of Heart Attack

The Honorable H. Ramey, member of the Morehead college board of regents, passed away at his home in Ashland last Wednesday night, January 14, following a heart attack.

Mr. Ramey, a native of Carter county, was forty-seven years of age at the time of his sudden death. In April, 1940, he was appointed to the board of regents to succeed Mr. A. W. Caskey, and held the position until his death. He was chosen for the position because of his keen interest in education and for his general qualities as a fine man. Not only was he interested in a wise administration for the college, but he envisioned Morehead as a center of service to the people of Kentucky.

Mr. Ramey was a brilliant lawyer, a good businessman, and was noted for his philanthropies. He was a power in Republican politics, and twice a candidate for Congress from the Seventh Congressional district. His business interests were varied throughout many counties. His charities included help to churches, civic organizations, and many needy individuals. An outstanding example of his benevolence was his assuming the entire expense of several students, whom he sponsored at Morehead college.

An ardent churchman, Mr. Ramey served as superintendent of the Salvatoris Methodist church for ten years. Mr. Ramey is survived by his wife, Mrs. Iris Armet Ramey, and one son, Harry Jack Ramey, a member of the Morehead student body. A host of friends all mourn his passing.

Funeral services will be held from the Salvatoris Methodist church Saturday afternoon, January 17, at two o'clock.

Night Classes Are To Be Offered At College

This class is being given especially for teachers of high school employed individuals who are unable to attend the regular college classes. If sufficient interest is shown in the evening class the Department of Commerce hopes to inaugurate a regular program of evening classes and to add courses in shorthand, Accounting, Office Machines to the evening schedule.

College Librarian Chairman In Book Drive

Mrs. Alice Palmer Morris, college librarian, was appointed county chairman for the Victory Book Drive on January 12, 1942. The drive began on the same date and is a nation-wide movement sponsored by the American Library Association, American Red Cross and the United Service organization for national defense. The state chairman for this drive is Harold F. Brigham, who has his headquarters at Louisville, Kentucky.

The main object of this drive is to gather books for the soldiers to increase the libraries of the different branches of the U. S. Army, Navy and Marines. The books to be collected are to be carried on and the library facilities are completely lacking or are inadequate and by reference to a table contained in the form.

Income Tax May Be Paid In Installments

Forms for filing returns of income for 1941 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file. Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the office of collectors and deputy collectors of the national revenue in the larger cities and towns. A person should file his return on Form 1040, unless his gross income for 1941 does not exceed $3,000 and consists wholly of salary, wages, or other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities, or royalties, in which event he may elect to file on Form 1040A. Stenographers Are Needed To Work In U. S. Service

Because of the demand for typists and stenographers for government services, MSTC is now offering a one year curriculum to provide training for Civil Service positions and for stenographic work.

It will be possible for students enrolling in February to secure the necessary skill requisite for employment in Washington in one regular term and the summer sessions. The government has approximately 85,000 stenographers, typists and secretaries in the payroll and thousands more are needed according to a recent bulletin issued by the Civil Service commission.

FSA To Finance Machinery For Farmers

With farm machinery becoming increasingly difficult to purchase because of the National Emergency, farmers in Rowan county are being encouraged to consider the FSA joint purchase and ownership of equipment, according to Claude Turner, chairman of the Rowan county FSA. A Defense Board. This plan, it was pointed out, is in line with a suggestion made recently by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, encouraging such joint ownership of farm machinery to insure maximum use and efficiency of operation.

With the demands for metal becoming more pressing since the entry of the United States into the war, such cooperation can aid in the joint production of the war. Moreover, it is likely that preference in deliveries of orders from factories may be given to groups rather than to individuals, Mr. Turner said.

The Farm Security Administration, an agency of the Department of Agriculture, is helping considerable military service organizations and administrator groups of farmers, has been working with the County U. S. D. Board in furthering the present program. "Joint purchase and ownership of expensive machinery, makes it possible for small operators to have the use of the (Continued On Page Three)

Lige Hogge Turns Down Chance To Join F. B. I.

A varied career has been offered our young County Attorney, Lige Hogge, who is making the race for the office he won in November, stated that he would "not hide behind his considerable military service and who ever since that time has been trying to make that promise good.

At last he has succeeded. Last week he was called to the Big Town where he successfully passed the examination that qualified him for the office. And then came the joker. On Saturday he received a message to report to Louisville for induction into the F. B. I. Lige had applied for a position with the F. B. I. so long ago that he had almost forgotten it and they had finally gotten around to act on it. Lige reported and told him (Continued On Page Three)

Farmers Urged To Save In Cream Waste

Farmers of Rowan county have been appealed to to help along the nation's war effort by eliminating food waste and by producing only farm crops of unquestioned quality.

The appeal comes from H. C. Darger, coordinator of the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago. "Mr. Darger" is immediately concerned with the waste involved in that portion of cream produced on farms which, because of a low standard of cleanliness, or care in production or handling or perhaps infrequent milkings, is found on delivery to the creamery to be unfit for manufacturing into butter under the stringent federal food law regulations. Cream thus rejected represents a serious loss to the farmer's production as well as to the farmer's (Continued On Page Two)

Kessler Family Is Patriotic Family

Maybe there are more patriotic families than the Claude Kessler family, but we will require considerable demonstration. (Claude didn't know that we were going to say that, either.) But where proof is required we always try to furnish it.

Claude Dillon Kessler has already existed in the Marines. Kessler has given up a good job to enlist in the Army Air Corps and has been accepted for that branch of the service. Pete the youngster of the family plans on enlisting in the Navy in the near future. Frank

Breck Wins One And Drops To Inez

Breckinridge Training school swamped Washington high on Friday night in a game the proceeds of which were donated to the War Fund of the Red Cross and narrowly missed taking the measure of Inez. 1941 state champions, with Ferguson turning in the Rev. James Ferguson in nine field goals in the Inez enroute. In fact Ferguson's distance shooting featured a game that was notable, as it saw the Breck win almost an hour by the end of trying and three of winning over the highly touted champions. The Washington high game played almost an hour by the end of trying and three of winning over the highly touted champions.

President's Birthday Ball Is Announced

A drive to raise funds on the President's birthday for National infantile paralysis was launched here this week with the start of the March of Dimes campaign, the scheduling of the President's Ball and a basketball game that will pit Ellis Johnson's great Morehead Eagles against Marshall college of Huntington.

The drive will be headed by Postmaster W. E. Crutcher. The March of Dimes will again have as its chairman Mrs. D. C. Walker, who so effectively conducted this campaign last year. She has as her co-workers Miss Anna Bowne, who has charge of Clearfield; Mrs. Russell Becker, in charge at Haldeman; Mrs. A. F. Ellington, in charge of the Consolidated schools; Mrs. Chiles Van Antwerp, in charge of the Breckinridge training school; and Dr. Fred Dudley, who is in charge of the drive at the Morehead State Teachers College and Mrs. Mahel Alfrey, who has charge of the rural school.

The committee felt that in this "time of grave national crisis the people had been asked to donate, much to their sorrow, but no campaign made for large donations, but rather a spirited drive for many small donations. Every school child in the county is asked to bring a dime and turn it in to the fund. Coin containers, attractively displayed, as a wishing well, have been placed in business houses in the county. Persons are urged to deposit as liberally as possible in these containers.

UPWARD LOOK

By Rev. B. H. KATZ

Not long ago I was trying to help a lost person to find peace on our Lord's Salvation. I asked the question which I often ask: "What do you think you should do to be saved?" This person replied: "Well, I've got to pray a lot." I asked another one: "If you know you were to die in the next five minutes, what would you do to save yourself?" She replied: "I'd get to doing some hard praying." At still another time one came forward on our invitation to seek the Lord. While kneeling there I tried to show her how Jesus died to save her. All the while she was praying out loudly. I said: "Do you want to be saved?" "Yes," she replied loudly and went on with her praying. Again I interrupted her and said: "Well, Jesus died to save you and He wants to save you now." "Yes," she cried, "I know, but I've got to pray and until I pray a lot I can't be satisfied."

This is what we call purely emotional religion. It is sincere, and I have never doubted the sincerity of any of the persons mentioned. They earnestly sought the Lord, but were not guided by truth. Jesus said: "I am the way, the truth and the life, no man cometh unto me except by me." If that some believe is necessary is man trying to work of the flesh. It is the flesh trying to convince for anyone who is earnestly seeking God is to listen to Jesus who will tell them the way. Let no one think that I do not believe really in prayer. I believe in that lost people can ask for mercy and receive it. But somehow there is abroad in this country a teaching that if we will pray earnestly enough, and long enough and agonize enough that we can, by pitiful persistence, finally get God in the notion of saving us. On the other hand, God's Word plainly tells us that He died for us to save us, and is waiting for us to yield to what He has already done as our hope and stay, and to believe that according to His promise. He saves us through what He has already done for us. The Gospel is the good news that Jesus died to take away our sin and that if we will believe the Gospel and accept the salvation which He offers, He is now ready to give us His life. There is no injunction in the Scripture for a lost person to pray long prayers and agonize in tears in order to influence the mercy of God. There is, however, abundant injunction for a man to turn away from his sin and his own self-effort in trying to save himself, and to trust in the saving power of God which has already been offered us in Jesus Christ. Certainly anyone ought to approach God with humility and shame because we have been such sinners. Only those who are guided by truth, and who receive mercy. But the long and unceasing mourning and praying which some believe is necessary is man trying to work of the flesh. It is the flesh trying to convince for anyone who is earnestly seeking God is to listen to Jesus who will tell them the way. Let no one think that I do not believe really in prayer. I believe some way, for our sins. And when we can get our agony worked to the point of emotion where we feel that God ought to be satisfied that we have done all we can do and may receive eternal life. As a matter of fact Jesus was waiting at that time to bless us when we believed, and was bidding us trust in His suffering instead of ours.

BOOK GOSSIP

By Seth Malone Cain

This week we are going to continue our discussion of good historical novels that have come out recently and that are being read by many people today. They are as follows:

1. Lancaster, Bruce / For Us The Living / Stokes Publishing Company, $2.75.
The author of "Guns of Burryone" writes a novel of a new Lincoln. Lincoln the boy living in Kentucky along the Ohio, whose people are a picturesque and happy crew.

2. Harrow, Robert S. "Trumpets in the Wilderness" / Millington Publishing Company, $2.50.
A thrilling tale of the Battle of Lake Erie and of Commodore Perry told through the adventures of Jubal Johnson who went into the frontier country of Ohio to edit a newspaper and establish a home, but instead found himself fighting the British troops.

3. Key, Laura, "On The Long Tide," Houghton Mifflin Publishing Company, $2.75.
"And Tell Of Time," the author's first and very successful novel, was laid in Texas during the Reconstruction days. In her new book she goes back to the birth of Texas, to the winning of its independence. During an absorbing love story, full of glorious historical events, she introduces such actual personages as Stephen Austin and Sam Houston.

This material was taken from "The Books of the Month Pamphlet", which is published every month by the R. R. Bowker Publishing Company.

And shooting it was decided that the goal did not count and the game went into an overtime, in which Olive Hill won. Conditions this year could not have been more identical, except that the game was being played at Olive Hill. The score was tied at 18-18. Olive Hill had the ball when the last few seconds came. Harold Holbrook grabbed it and raced to the goal on the opposite end of the court. He shot and the ball swished through the hoop with the winning two points. The score: Morehead 26, Olive Hill 18. The boys went to the dressing room. They began to dress. They were relaxed in the knowledge of a game well played and an victory won.

Then the time-keeper suddenly or was it suddenly? discovered that Harold had shot a second after the whistle blew, or that the whistle blew a second before Harold shot, or something, and a half-hour or so after the game was over they decided that the Vikings had not won after all and that it all had to be over. Result: Olive Hill has another snap at their belt.

Oh, well, it was just another basketball game and if the sign points to anything, it indicates that the Kings will even things in the district tournament.

Cream Waste
Pocketbook. Mr. Darger estimates the loss to American farmers from unit cream, including seizures of shipments of cream and butter and the loss from price differentials between cream and butter that grade less than first quality, at $400,000 annually. Kentucky farmers, of course, are standing their proportionate share of the loss.

According to Mr. Darger, there is no reason why any farm er should produce a poor grade of cream. Everything hinges on the care the cream receives on the farm and the frequency with which it is delivered to the butter-maker. The required sanitary precautions are easy and inexact to carry out. He can readily obtain any desired information from the state agricultural agent or from the cream buyer or creamery with whom he does business. The very little extra trouble involved in producing the best quality of cream not only makes available the maximum of protective food for the consumer but extra dollars as well for the farmer exporting this extra care he said.

Breck Wins, 1 oses

(Continued From Page One) while Breck was accounting for 18, and came back in the second with 15- to 23 for Breck. Powers took scoring honors with 10 tallies, all by the field goal route.

The line game was something else again. One feature was the small crowd in attendance, due no doubt to the reputation of the line Indians and the expectation that the game might be a one-sided encounter with the line boys drawing the side.

Mr. Ingram was something more than their money's worth before the final whistle.

The score as the game ended was Inez 34; Breck 32, and that score was a fair indication of the thrills received.

Stenographers (Continued From Page One) One is prone to think of National defense in terms of soldiers, sailors and marines. But there are many types of defense work behind the lines.

A large army of civilian personnel is now on duty as stenographers in the Government service to take the dictation of the thousands of executives and administrators, and transcribe it into typewritten documents.

Some of this material is of lasting importance and some of it will set in motion Government events of historical consequence.

It is estimated that the Government has approximately 85,000 stenographers, typists and secretaries on the payroll. Many young men and women are responding to the call. Thousands more are needed.

Aside from the present emergency, the opportunities for stenographic work in the Government service are favorable. Good stenographers are always in demand. The positions pay $1440 a year to start, with a good opportunity for advancement to positions of greater responsibility, such as secretarial positions in the case of those who have the ability.

The examination announced by the Civil Service Commission for stenographers is open until further notice. The examination consists solely of a dictation test at 96 words a minute and transcription of notes. All persons places where the examinations who can qualify are urged to be held.

The proper application forms may be obtained from the secretary of the Board of the United States Civil Service Examiners at any of the first- or second-class post offices for greater convenience is planned from the U. S. Civil Service Commission at Washington to increase the number of D. C.

SOUP'S ON!

UNCLE SAM'S paratroopers, going "downstairs" on business, carry three square meals in one small pocket of their uniforms.

It's very special food—powdered, concentrated—calories carefully counted—but complete from soup to coffee. It gives hungry men the reserve power to keep going when other supplies are cut off.

Reserve power is as vital in industrial as in military emergencies. When defense plants begin to eat up more and more electric power, reserve nations were ready.

Reserves built up in advance by the business men who manage America's power companies.

Reserves that met almost every defense demand overnight.

But no power reserves could continue to satisfy hungry machines indefinitely. So the electric companies have been working fast to keep ahead. They put over 2½ million more horsepower into production during 1941.

Here is a basic defense industry, able and willing to do its part—glad to pledge all-out co-operation with government and industry—until the skies and sea around America are free forever.
