Rain Gauge Put On Campus

The department of agriculture and W. H. Rice, superintendent of buildings and grounds, have agreed to operate a rain gauge for the Soil Conservation department of the United States Department of Agriculture in the study of the patterns of precipitation in this area in relation to erosion, flood control, and forestry development. The gauge automatically registers the amount of rainfall as well as the time of day when the rain falls. It is a revolving cylinder by an ink needle and turned by a time clock. The record sheet on the revolving cylinder records the precipitation hourly. From this it will be possible to determine the time of day or night when most of the precipitation falls. The instrument is located near the office of the superintendent of buildings and grounds. Observers are requested not to push down on the top of the enclosed bucket in which the precipitation is collected as this vibrates the recording needle and blots the record sheet on which it is operating. If an accurate record is kept over a period of years, it will be possible to register what is considered the "average rainfall" for this area. At Lexington, the average rainfall for the year is 43.26 inches. The rainfall average in western Kentucky is said to be slightly lower than in eastern Kentucky. Future records on the campus should give a record that will be useful in class room teaching in the departments of agriculture and geography.

Be Not Afraid
Too many of us are in the grip of fear today. It is a fear that is blind, unreasoning, devastating in its effect. We are afraid not so much of what we are afraid of, but of the consequences. One thing is certain—it is not a purely physical fear. It is a fear of the changes that the war will bring, of the new hardships, of the old land marks, of certain securities that were dear to us because they were familiar. It is a fear of being afraid.
There is no need to be ashamed of fear. Fear actually signifies a form of foresight—an ability to see ahead—to imagine a possible evil. But it is lacking the vision which enables us to see beyond the ultimate good. The half-versed traveller looking up at the towering cloud sees the bad weather—the trained pilot thinks beyond the cloud to the upper sky and a clear passage above them.
What is important about fear is the power to conquer it. It is this ability to be afraid, and not

President's Ball Will Help Cripples

On Thursday, January 29, the Rowan county celebration of the Diamond Jubilee Birthday of night and day to commemorate the President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, will be held. It will take the form of a Birthday dance to be held in the College gymnasium from 9 to 1:30. Tickets will be 50 cents per couple, and entertainment will be furnished for old as well as young. Every man, woman and child from eight to 90 is urged to come. One ticket will admit one couple. Remember it is a two-fold celebration, the birthday of the president and the fight against infantile paralysis. Nothing more need be said. However, here is a story which will illustrate the need for a continuation of the fight against this dread disease.
"For the second time in a succession of three heavy epidemics here the number of reported infantile paralysis cases in the county has topped the 3,000 mark."
The figures for the 25 weeks of 1941, compiled by the United States Public Health Service, were released today through the office of Keith Morgan, National Chairman of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday, for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which committee conducts the annual "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.
They disclose a total of 9,056 cases for the 25 weeks of 1941 and reveal that Nevada was the only one of the 48 states which was left untouched by the recent infantile paralysis epidemics.
Despite the fact that severe epidemics swept more than a dozen states including those in the southland with their heavy concentrations of soldiers in training, the disease was kept from spreading to the army camps. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis worked with health authorities with local health officials and, due to this work a serious situation was prevented, Mr. Morgan said.

The reported cases in 1941 were 7,258 and, in 1940 the count was 9,768. These, with the figures for the past year, show that during the three years more were invaded by the mysterious and body-maiming virus of the disease.
And the 1941 record is the most significant because it presents the first time in the history of the disease in this country in which heavy infantile paralysis epidemics have continued without a break for three consecutive years. Always before there has been a definite lull in the attacks every two or three years.
Kentucky had 217 cases of infantile paralysis in 1941, a ratio of 7.6 to one hundred thousand of population and stood 11th in the list of states. Alabama had the highest rate with 31.1.

National Forest Sells Large Amount Of Timber

Uncle Sam earns another $12,638,750 percent of which is allocated for the War effort. Kentucky Cumberland National Forest increased its receipts by 75 percent from the sale of timber to private industry during the past six months as compared to the same period last year, Mr. H. L. Bowden, supervisor of the National Forest, announced today at his headquarters, Winchester, Ky. Receipts from this source totaled $12,638,750 for the past six months representing a cut of 5,054,000 feet.
This boost in timber sales results from an impetus in the lumber industry taking part in the National Defense program and in the increased facilities of the Forest to handle more business. The total cut for the year ending on June 30, 1942 is estimated at 10,000,000 feet, which, Mr. Bowden said, would be the biggest year in the history of the forest.
This likely increase in timber sales will result in higher returns to the sixteen counties within the National Forest as a result of their being entitled to 25 percent of the gross receipts for roads and schools.

Repair Farm Machinery For Victory

Repair farm machinery and put more guns in the hands of our soldiers.
This is the suggestion made to farmers by C. B. Turner, chairman of the Rowan county C. S. D. War Board, who points out that every piece of old machinery that can be reconditioned and put to use in 1942 means extra materials saved for a new implement of war.
The Office of Production Management recognized the vital importance of farm production in the war effort by allocating for farm machinery and repair part as much as possible of the materials needed for guns, tanks, planes and ships, Mr. Turner said.
But every farmer who equips an old machine, instead of buying a new one to replace it as he might do in normal times, is giving a two-fold aid to the fighting forces by releasing essential materials for war use as well as producing food for the war effort, Mr. Turner explained.
In the campaign now under way for the repair of old farm machinery in Rowan county, time is the essential element, Mr. Turner said. Farmers can be sure of getting repair parts for planting and harvesting this year's crops only by checking all machinery now and ordering repair parts immediately, he said.

Save Scrap Metal For Steel Mills

The following letter to His Honor, N. E. Kennard, mayor of the city, is of vital interest to all citizens of this community and is published for that reason.

Mr. N. E. Kennard, Mayor, Morehead, Kentucky.

My Dear Mr. Kennard:

The acute situation which has resulted in lack of scrap steel is seriously affecting mill production in our war for VICTORY many mills throughout Ohio are curtailed. In Cleveland several were forced to close down.

We are appealing to you as the chief executive of your community to immediately take steps to help in alleviating this situation. Here is what you can do:

1. Have a thorough canvass made in all plants, manufacturing establishments, factories, etc.
  2. Release every pound of possible scrap that may be in your service yard. This would include worn out machinery, old automobiles, etc.
  3. Make every effort possible to encourage all householders to gather up this material at once.
  4. Check all possibilities of salvaging rails and other heavy scrap from dilapidated buildings.
  5. The salvage value of this material is possibly more than sufficient to compensate for the cost of the labor.
  6. Call at every auto wrecker concern and junk yard and urge faster wrecking and shipping service.
  7. Use every means at your command to emphasize through publicity and other media the stringent necessity of immediate action.
- You are doing your country a real service by acting at once. Please call this office if further information is desired.
- Very truly yours,
Samuel Slotky, Region-Information Consultant.

Division of Information, Office of Emergency Management, Washington, D. C.

Mr. Kennard in response to the above letter, has made plans to have a committee appointed to take charge of the work of investigating and gathering all surplus material of this type. He will announce further plans to carry out the work in a later issue of the News.

News office and it will be given to the Legion officers. The Adjutant is C. E. Nickell. Morehead, Ky., and the Commander is Jack Ceel, Morehead, Ky. You will be doing both your boy and the Legion a service by giving us your son's address without delay.

Help to make this list complete by giving the location from which your son may obtain mail without delay.

Please Read and Act!

Members of the Kentucky legislature at Frankfort are talking about passing a SPECIAL PRIVILEGE law for the sole benefit of the Tennessee Valley Authority. This Company has not at any time opposed the coming TVA into our State, but has vigorously opposed the manner of its coming. The Company has always cooperated with TVA and other federal agencies in the sale and distribution of Electric energy in order that the users would benefit most. To continue such co-operation we ask only that TVA operate under the same laws as we do.

The Company is legally advised that the TVA does not need a SPECIAL PRIVILEGE law permitting it to come into Kentucky. The barrier that keeps the Authority out is its own operating rules—These rules are in conflict with our State laws. Why not change the rules instead of the law?

With many other citizens, the Company believes that no special law should be passed that gives a federal agency, or any group, rights and privileges not given to others in the same business.

As a taxpayer Kentucky business, the Company with many other taxpayers earnestly believes there should be no such discrimination. It is unfair, undemocratic and destructive.

A deep basic principle of states rights and self government is involved in this question.

You every citizen and taxpayer in the State will be vitally affected by the passage of this SPECIAL PRIVILEGE bill. You should do everything possible to convince your senator and representative that they should get all the facts about the bill before drawing their conclusions. ACT TODAY!

What Do You Know About Beer? . . . No. 4 of a Series

WHAT HAPPENS TO BEER TAX MONEY?

- A—State taxes and license fees paid by Kentucky's legal brewing industry go into the State's General Fund.
  - Q—Where does the money go from there?
  - A—Revenue from beer in 1941 was used for education in public schools, colleges, normal schools, etc.; for public welfare, including old age assistance, aid to dependent children, confederate pensions, health service, and penal and eleemosynary institutions; and for expenses of State government.
  - Q—What would happen if this revenue from beer were not available to the State?
  - A—Kentuckians would have to dig down deeper into their own pockets to provide the money.
- YOU CAN HELP preserve these benefits from legal beer in two ways—(1) Buy your beer only in wholesome, law-abiding places; (2) Report any law violations you may see to the authorities or to this Committee.

which you may have books to read.

Almost any type of book that would appeal to men will be acceptable. Among these are: men are books of applied psychology, current affairs, English grammar, mathematics books from this war, and books on technical books, accounting, short-hand, business and salesmanship books, photography and sports, geography travel, fiction too is wanted, particularly adventure stories, historical novels, humorous, mystery and western stories. Until the collection boxes are sent out, any books you may have to give may be brought to the library—telephone number 276—and we will be glad to call for them.

suffered from the change, other than that he has had to root up his family and start over in another place. Actually he has a better position in his new location.

The News, together with Prof. H. C. Huggins was largely responsible for Rowan county's having a county agent in the first place, and it is nature that it should have a warm spot in its hearts for Mr. Goff, with whom we have worked since that distant time when he first came to this county. He has made good as ever nine hundred farmers whom he has helped to be better farmers will testify. We sincerely regret his leaving.

We feel equally certain that the farmers of the county will give his successor, Mr. Kermitt Mills, a good reception and will cooperate with him as wholeheartedly as they have with Mr. Goff, and will make the stay of Mr. Mills as successful and helpful to themselves and to the county as was Mr. Goff's long term of service.

routed the Hilltoppers from the Western State Teachers College a team rated the best in the entire KMAC. It took the Eagles an overtime period to administer the drubbing but it was a real drubbing none the less. In fact the Eagles with their subs are taking the places of the regulars. Duncan, Penix and Cooper, went on after the final whistle in the overtime, to pile up 9 points, 2 for Western, and the margin was 7 points.

It was the first time the Eagles had ever won any kind of athletic contest from the Westerners, and the first time they have been defeated by a
