

"Case For Scholarship" Is Theme

Dr. Chamberlain Discusses Real Value Of Grades

Dr. Leo Chamberlain, vice-president of the University of Kentucky, was the speaker in the Special Scholarship Day program on Thursday, April 1.

The theme of Dr. Chamberlain's speech was "The Case for Scholarship." In opening his address Dr. Chamberlain said, "In view of the fact that this is the first day of the fourth month another title might have been: 'Don't Fool Yourself!'"

Throughout his talk, Dr. Chamberlain emphasized the reason why scholarship should be the first concern of anyone in college. "The chief purpose of the institution of higher learning is the promotion of the intellectual powers of those in attendance," Dr. Chamberlain said. "Scarcely, you can afford to take from college any less than your capacities will permit you to acquire, because there is conclusive evidence that a good education, as reflected by a well selected course of study and good marks, pay dividends."

Dr. Chamberlain named and outlined seven possessions that everyone should have as a result of a college education. Special emphasis was placed on the fact that every college student should have some insight into the major types of knowledge that a college education has real breadth and depth. "Don't take the easy way," Dr. Chamberlain also pointed out the importance of a possession of a social intelligence and a firm belief in the improbability of mankind, including tolerance and a desire to provide equal opportunity for all. "We should possess the conviction that we can make the world whatever we want it to be. We should be able to control anything we create. War and other disasters are the result of our lack of a wishful God. They are of our own making."

In conclusion, Dr. Chamberlain said, "You are now in the most important period of your life. It is short; once gone and you cannot bring it back. Cherish these years that each will come and that together they may provide the basis for a life blessed by peace of mind and happiness."

Dr. Chamberlain's speech was of great interest to both faculty and students, and very appropriate for the scholarship day program.

During the program Dean Lepin read the names of the following honor students who stood and were recognized.

Try-Outs To Be Held For "Arsenic And Old Lace"

Mrs. Schmidt, director of the Dramatics Club, announced last week that the three act mello-drama, "Arsenic and Old Lace," had been selected for the spring production. She also stated that tryouts are being held Monday evening, April 12. All interested in a good play should try it!

Largest Number Since Spring '46 Enrolled Here

Morehead State College boasts an enrollment of 860 students this quarter. This is the largest number of students to be enrolled in Morehead since the spring quarter of 1946. Men students enrolled outnumber the women considerably; there being 498 men to 362 women. Ten states east of the Mississippi River running north and south from Michigan to Florida are represented. Thirty nine of Kentucky's 120 counties have students at Morehead.

From the personal interest that the faculty shows in the students and the rustling of books in the library, we are sure that with cooperation and understanding, are building a bigger and better Morehead.

Two Thoughts

By Bill Hays, Jr.

Easter Sunday is probably one of the first visions that comes to focus in my mind when someone begins to speak of Easter. This religious aspect I seem to be more carefree, and seem to expect the mere presence of the spirit atmosphere to solve all the problems of the world as well as those of my own. However, it isn't long before the spring quarter begins at college. I realize the folly of my expectation, for the assignments in English, psychology and algebra are piling up faster than memoranda in a federal government office—the Alcohol Tax Unit decries. There is a certain freshness feeling that I have at Easter time vanishes and perspiration from sweating out lines on registration day, hand concerts, and from the vain attempt to catch up on previous assignments appears and settles the place of that holy feeling. Consequently, spring means increasing my number of showers from one to one every other day. Just think what summer means to me!

Prestons Gives Bigger And Better Show

Review Written By Student Of Morehead College

Preston, the famous magician, stopped in Morehead Thursday to make his second appearance before the students of Morehead College and the public.

This show proved that every magician has more tricks in the bag than he ever uses. Of course, he uses some which cost at least three of your favorite cereal box tops. But this performance showed much improvement over the show which he gave here last year.

And the people seemed to enjoy the part which pertained to hypnotism more than the mere magic.

Mothers of the volunteer guinea pigs actually laughed when they cried and the entire audience kept on tiptoe as the intense power of suggestion put students of the college through antics peculiar only to a clown. Needless to say, he did not perform the act of anything of an embarrassing nature.

He is one of the most polished artists of hypnotism ever to visit Morehead, and, too, Mr. Preston was a hypnotist's assistant while in the service.

Of course, it was through the good judgment of the Student Club and Mr. Mays that the magician was brought here. Such entertainment would be well worth the while of the students and public.

Jean Thomas To Speak At Morehead High May 22

Miss Jean Thomas, who is the founder of the American Folk Song Society and a noted writer, will speak in Chapel at the Morehead High School, April 22.

Miss Thomas will portray the beauty culture and sacredness of mountain ballads and tell why they should be preserved.

The Folk Song Festival will be held at Miss Thomas' log cabin on the Mayo Trail the second Sunday in June. A group of Rowan County people will take part in the Festival.

Holbrook, Mr. Whittaker, Clayton Shad.

Mr. Bixley, Kenneth Hamm and several more who have not been assigned.

Prexy Speaks To Mason Co. Teachers

"Education For What?" Is Theme

President William Jesse Baird and thirty teachers of the Mason Teachers Association at a regular meeting in the First Presbyterian Church at Mayville.

Under the theme "Education for What?" Dr. Baird discussed the right health habits of the man, the knowledge and understanding of men, the four things which man can do (work, beg, steal, starve) and the exercise of judgment. In this he emphasized the fact that man had the ability to collect evidence and weigh it and to reason against prejudice and emotion.

Later Dr. Baird discussed the development of appreciation for the things which are fine and beautiful. He included architecture, art, music and literature in this summary. He emphasized heavily the importance of a goal or purpose in life and the right of self-guidance. Ours are the laws to observe and to respect, even when they are for the opponent.

Under the development of appreciation he expressed that "One who has the right sense that all which goes into culture makes the culture."

Many Honored In Convocation Thursday

Meet Climaxed By Dr. Warrinham

Dr. Orbert Warrinham, Associate Director of the American Youth Foundation, was on the campus this week in two convocations and in numerous classroom discussions.

He was born in India and lived there the first 21 years of his life. Later he studied at many colleges and universities in America.

Men such as Dr. Warrinham are today working all over the world for peace rather than a dying feeling for the self consciousness that is necessary to peace.

In Tuesday's speech he pointed out that men would have to leave the idea that all things came about without the work of man and assume the position of being an active part in the affairs of the world before they could ever hope for peace.

His background in the study of the Bible and philosophy has widened his view to the point that it is a rare privilege to have one who has such rich ideas on the campus. His life is rich in the things which go to make everyone aware of the fact that there exists a Supernal Being.

Dr. Warrinham delivered a message also to the students on Wednesday. He said that peace was not available at present. His stay at Morehead is one of the most looked forward to events of the year. During the next months he is with youth groups.

Beaux Arts Ball Next Week, April 9

It's just around the corner! We are speaking of the Beaux Arts dancing ball which comes April 9th. This is the third annual affair to be sponsored by the Morehead College Art Club, and we are sure that this year it is going to be bigger and better.

This hall will be one of the funniest you've ever attended. In fact we're going to step right in to the "funny" world from 9:00 to 12:00. Tom Polyn and his orchestra will be right there giving out with music that is both sweet and hot.

The costumes are being made to represent comic strip characters. As usual, the Art Club members will be dressing in their favorite funny costumes, and others on or off the campus, are invited to dress in costume too.

Prizes will be given for the best costumes to both members and non-members of the club. Art Club dancing starts at 9:00 sharp. Admission is $1 and $1.50 for couples.

Come on out! You'll Al Abners and Daisy Mays and join the fun.

225 Attend FHA Meet On MSC Campus

Many Short Speeches Heard By Members Of Ashland District

The spring meeting of the Ashland District of the Future Home-makers of America was held on the college campus, Saturday, with 225 high school girls from 11 chapters present. The group was welcomed by Dr. William Jesse Baird, president of the college. Greetings were extended by Monroe Wicker, director of the Training School; Walter Price, minister of Morehead High; Mrs. Fannie Porter, assistant State Supervisor, Home Economics Education, Frankfort; Miss Mary Clay, head of the college home economics department; Mrs. C. U. Waltz, Morehead; Mrs. E. C. Clevinger, Heller, Ky., on behalf of chapter mothers; and Virginia Ellington, past president of the district.

Miss Mary Sue May, president, called the meeting to order at 10 a. m. The program included: A symposium, "Values of the Degree Program," followed by a talk by Mrs. Zella B. Caldwell, Ashland, on "What Value is the Degree Program to the Individual and to the FHA." This was followed by a music rest period program on degrees conducted by Janet Lou Clivinger, Heller High. A talk was given by Mrs. E. C. Clevinger, Heller High, on "Personal Improvement." Amateur hour was held during lunch.

Prizes for the best performance were awarded to Betty Lane, Sandy Hook and Wurtland Chapter scrap books that received the award of excellent work. Morehead, Boyd County, Salyersville and Morgan County. The award of good was given to Ashland, Heller and Sandy Hook.

New officers elected for 1948 are: president, Pauline Fanning; vice-president, Melvin Sparks, Sandy Hook; 2nd vice-president, Bonnie Fairchild, Salyersville; Harlan, Ashland; 3rd vice-president, Naomi McKinnin, Morehead; secretary, Marjorie Ann Traynor, Morgan Co.; Treasurer, Geraldine Adams, Salyersville; Song leader, Susie Thompson, Morehead.

Sewing Machine Clinic Set For Next Tuesday

An all-day sewing machine clinic for adults and children will be conducted by the Singer Sewing Machine Company next Tuesday in the high school home economics department.

This clinic is one of the lessons planned for the Adult Clothing Class that was organized in March and is being taught by Mrs. Barbara Hunt and Mrs. W. H. Rice. Anyone who wishes to learn to use all the sewing machine attachments, have their machines checked and adjusted or need parts for their machines should attend. Instruction will be given and adjustments made on all types of machines.

The clinic will begin at 8 a. m. and continue until 5 p. m. The day's program will include, lessons given by Mrs. Curtis Turner, the sewing instructor in the Winchester shop, on the use of sewing machine attachments. Machines in the home economics department will be available for the women to use. J. W. Hise, assistant department manager, who is in charge of repair and maintenance will clean, oil and adjust all machines brought in by adults. The machines do not have to be Singer models. For instruction on how to remove the heads of machines, call on Mrs. W. H. Rice.

F. A. Cobb, manager of the shop will be available for consultations. A small group of persons interviewed Mr. Ralph Ramsey, field agent of rural extension, the University of Kentucky, who is in charge of the Agriculture and Home Economics at the University of Kentucky. Last week Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Horton, helping teachers in Carter County, along with Miss Rice, a couple of students and a small group of persons interviewed Mr. Ralph Ramsey, field agent of rural extension, the University of Kentucky, who is in charge of the Agriculture and Home Economics at the University of Kentucky.

Further information may be obtained from Miss Hunt or Mrs. Rice.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Any student who received an incomplete grade last quarter will have a chance to make it up by doing so within 30 days from registration.

SPECIAL NOTICE

It is still a definite ruling of the college to penalize for each immediately following vacation. Any absence which cannot be avoided should be explained to the Dean before vacation, or as soon as returning as possible. Each absence means a reduction of credit by one hour. THIS IS IMPORTANT!

By Dr. H. M. Shafer

On Wednesday night, April 7, Miss Evelyn Rice, teacher of the Cedar Point one room school, was the speaker at the Cedar Point stage a dramatic production to reflect the work of the Morehead College, W. H. Rice, and the Cedar Point school towards building wholesome rural school and community life. The production is part of a 21-lesson program being sponsored by the College of Agriculture and Home Economics at the University of Kentucky.

Last week Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Horton, helping teachers in Carter County, along with Miss Rice, a couple of students and a small group of persons interviewed Mr. Ralph Ramsey, field agent of rural extension, the University of Kentucky, who is in charge of the Agriculture and Home Economics at the University of Kentucky.

Further information may be obtained from Miss Hunt or Mrs. Rice.

Any student who received an incomplete grade last quarter will have a chance to make it up by doing so within 30 days from registration.

Light weight motion picture projectors are now appearing on campus. (Continued on last page)

Wesley Reviews Points In Convention

Many Personnel Officers Speak At National Meet

W. M. Wesley, Chief of the Morehead VA Guidance Center has reviewed the workings of the National Convention which he attended in Chicago last week. Mr. Wesley's statement follows:

"The convention for council of guidance and personnel association has its theme 'Personnel Work as a Profession.' President Gilbert Wrenn of the University of Minnesota discussed the essentials of a student personnel program, at the opening meeting."

Later in the program the various officials of the meet association spoke on items of general interest. Much was said to the extent of opening new centers of personnel work and continuing older organizations for the work."

Other phases of youth work were discussed and were treated in counseling and guidance."

SPRING VACATION

Ah! Takes a deep breath. Can't you smell the fragrant peach and crab-apple blossoms? The school is in the air once more. Now we can forget cold winter moves and hope that spring goes on forever. Perhaps.

Take a vacation, forget dull books and enjoy the sunshine and flowers. Believe it or not that's just what we are going to do. Our vacation begins on Wednesday, April 14, at 4 p. m. So Thursday and Friday, April 15 and 16, we will have full length in the warm sunshine so that we will be fresh as a daisy for class work which will be resumed Monday, April 19.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

All Seniors who plan to graduate in June or August should make the registration office immediately.

The act of politics seems to be the practice of saying two things at the same time without meaning either of them.

FATHER AND SON AND THEIR DERBY HOPES . . . Father and son, who are both trainers, pose in Miami, Fla., with the thoroughbreds on which their hopes are pinned for the forthcoming Kentucky derby. 6 medium sized carrots
1-2 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Wash and scrape carrots, cook in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain. Melt butter, add lemon juice and parsley. Put carrots on a hot platter, pour sauce over them and serve.

Eggplant Pudding
2 eggplants
4 hard boiled eggs chopped
1 teaspoon minced onion
4 teaspoons minced parsley
1 beaten egg
4 tablespoons margarine
Salt and pepper
Buttered bread crumbs
Cut eggplant in halves and soak in cold water for two hours. Cook in boiling salted water until tender but not soft. Press out all water. Remove pulp from shells, chop fine, mix with the hard boiled eggs. Add the onion and parsley. Mix well, add the raw egg, margarine, salt and pepper. Put in a baking dish, cover with buttered crumbs and bake in an oven 350 degrees until crumbs are browned.

Creamed Onions and Green Peppers
1 1-2 cups small onions
2 green peppers sliced
1 teaspoon sugar
Well seasoned light cream sauce
Paprika
Peel the onions, boil them in salted water with 1 teaspoon of sugar. Don't let them fall to pieces. When almost done add the sliced green peppers. Drain well. Put them in the sauce and dust with paprika.

Cauliflower Fritters
Batter
Wash cauliflower and separate in flowerets; cook 15 minutes in boiling salted water. Drain. Dip in batter and fry in 1 inch of fat hot enough to brown bread cube in 40 to 50 seconds. Drain in absorbent paper.

In Fashion Now
The plateau shape hat is one of the newest designs this season. This rather flat looking creation can be worn straight on the head or tilted forward. It is rather fetching when worn with bangs and adorned with flowers and veiling.

The bonnet shape hat is also good and is often trimmed with coq feathers or chiffon.

Lem Tolliver
The shadows of night are falling fast,
On the gray Kentucky hills,
And the gay song birds have ceased to sing.
Among the murmuring rills;
And I sit, unable to move about,
I can only sit and stare.
For the life in me is almost out,
And I'll soon be planted there
Beneath the roots of the stately

oak,
Where she is resting now
On yon steep hill in the soil I broke
With the ox and the cutter plow.
Once I was young and full of life;
I faced the rain and the sun,
I cut the trees and I fenced my land
Where the river Shannon run.
I sowed my crops 'gainst the rains of spring.
When birds flew north once more,
And the honeysuckle bloomed again,
By the pine log farm house door.
Now the birds are flying north again
And the rains of spring are here,
And when the trees put out green leaves,

I go to rest with her.

So I Am Told

By Alonzo F. Varney
It has always been the policy of this column to give a summary of the highlights following both the football and basketball seasons. On the basketball front, the greatest game played in the opinion of the writer was Bill Murray's play in the Eastern and Murray games. In both he demonstrated that he is one of the better centers in the KIAC. His rebounding against Eastern was really and truly a great performance.

Another performance was that of Frank Friley against Marshall. His 28 points are still the talk of the "We Will City."
The greatest player to show his wares during the season by an opposing player was that of Andy Tonkovich of Marshall. Most of the experts vote him one of the best guards in the business.
The honor of being the best dressed boy at all home games went to Fenton T. Morris of Williamson, W. Va. He also won this same distinction during the 1947 football season.

For the opposite sex, the honor of being the best dressed went to Helen Patrick and Juanita Baird—both ended in a tie. This will come as a surprise to the student body because most everybody thought Baird would win in a walk.

We repeat again the best cheerleaders in Kentucky were "Barb" Tolliver, Betty Creech and for the show position, Jack Malone. There are those who still think Malone should be nearer the top. Yes, he is good, but I think most will agree he lacks the experience of Miss Creech.
Mr. Gabriel Banks again led the faculty in games attended. We often wonder if he misses any kind of a sporting event. Second in this department went to Morehead's ace education, Dean Walter Jackson.

The Pigskin Parade
Don't be surprised if Ed Madd develops into one of the top notch ends in the KIAC. According to most of the experts who have covered the spring drills, they say he is just about ready for the big time.

Another boy who has looked good is none other than Matt Pryor. This speed merchant from Lafayette is running harder than ever. Here will be Morehead's next title All-American, one of the finest players since the "era of Jug Varyer." Notice Stanley Radjuna's smile every time you mention his name.

Milan Perpish, the boy from Gary, W. Va., is another beautiful prospect. They say he hits with the power of a Sherman M-4. This is the boy that will tip the scales in many a game next fall. In the opinion of the writer he is one of the greatest producers in West Virginia. Cal Lyons, in the event anyone is interested, is still playing his usual game at the tackle position. 1948 may be his greatest season.

The same goes for Frank Moricle, the all-state from Williamson. Frank, by the way, entered Morehead with the greatest reputation of any of the line-men. Here again we find another W. Va. all-state performer.
In the meantime, don't forget the Marshall-Morehead spring game which is to be played April 16th.

Vegetables are rich in vitamins and minerals, they contribute a big share in the well balanced diet. They are the most colorful and fragrant source of organic matter. There are many ways of serving vegetables, creaming, scalloping, frying, au gratin, glazing. Take your pick of the following recipes.

Tomato Souffle
1-4 cup margarine or butter
1-4 cup flour
1 cup tomato juice
1-2 teaspoon salt
Celery salt

Eggs
Make a thick sauce of the margarine, flour, tomato juice and salt. Remove from heat and add the well beaten egg yolks. Cool slightly and fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a buttered casserole and bake in oven 300 to 350 degrees for about 30 minutes.

"BEST SELLERS" are printed on Trees

That's right! Today's popular novels, up-to-date histories and technical handbooks, once were trees in our forests. It was the magic of wood chemistry which converted them to paper and started them on the way to your library.

Books are only one of the many things for which we depend on our forests. Daily, we use hundreds of articles made from trees.

If our children—and their children, too—are to enjoy the blessings of abundant wood supplies, we must protect our tree-growing lands. If our forests are to produce continuing crops of trees, they must be kept free of fire. Fire is the most dangerous enemy of our forest future. Do your share to KEEP AMERICA GREEN!
