Lyric Soprano To Present Recital At MSTC, August 17th

Miss Laura Castellano Claimed "Find" By New York Music Critics

Miss Laura Castellano, lyric soprano who has compiled a successful record of public appearances in professional singing, will appear at Morehead College for a lyric program on Tuesday night, August 17, it has been announced by the college lyric program committee.

Miss Castellano, possessor of a soprano voice of exceptional quality, stands out as a notable "find" among the newer and younger operatic and concert stars, uniting range, power, brilliance, and appeal in her singing, according to critics.

Born in Rochester, New York, and a favored soloist in operetta and concert in her native city, Miss Castellano captivated her audiences with her unusual vocal gifts, emotional appeal, and radiant youthful personality even before she had ever had a singing lesson. Her first year as a professional, she appeared as soloist with the Rochester Symphony and subsequent appearances on radio and light opera and concert. After a season in Rochester, she moved to New York City for further study and to fulfill contractual engagements.

Despite the relatively short time she has been in New York and singing professionally, she has made an outstanding number of important appearances. Among them may be listed the Berkshire Festival of 1942 in which she sang the role of Mrs. Ford in "The Merry Wives of Windsor", Gretel in "Hansel and Gretel", Blonde in "The Abduction from the Seraglio", Metropolitan Auditions of the Air, a series of solo engagements with orchestras over the N.B.C. network, as well as appearances with the New Opera Company, soloist with the Reading, Pa., Choral Society, and recitals throughout New England.

Her appearance at Morehead will be at 8:15 p. m. August 17. A representative program of Miss Castellano is as follows:

Ordnance Officer Sees Disaster For German Westwall

Says U. S. Has Discovered Weapons Able to Blast Fortifications

The highly publicized Westwall behind which Nazi soldiers maintain a ceaseless vigil for a threatened frontal assault will be reduced to a rubble of broken cement, twisted steel and smashed guns when the pre-attack bombardment ends, Major J. R. Fisher forecast today, as he disclosed that exhaustive tests on a replica of the wall have been conducted by the Army Ordnance Department.

Major Fisher is the commanding officer of the Buckeye Ordnance Works, South Point, Ohio.

The Ordnance Department has built a replica of Germany's anti-invasion wall—even going so far as to duplicate the exact grade of cement and the same types and strengths of reinforcements; the commanding officer pointed out.

In outlining the tests used on the ersatz wall he said that many weapons which in actuality could be transported to the scene of the Westwalls were used.

Through endless experimentation the necessary weapons were discovered, and it was found that they could reduce their target to worthless debris with ease. Chunks of cement were thrown high in the air as though they were chaff blown from a threshing machine.

"Buckeye will probably have a hand in this assault if it comes as it will take high explosive shells to do the trick, and the ammonia we make is a vital part of almost every high explosive.

"The guns and shells," he concluded, "are of the same nature as those used to blast huge rents in thick battleship armor and then to explode inside.

1,229 Votes Cast In Rowan County

Rowan County voters cast a total of 1,229 ballots in last Saturday's primary election for one of the lightest votes in the history of the county. Only 908 Democratic voters showed up to vote in the polls on August 7, bearing mute testimony to the fact that the political "nags" have been greatly depleted by the armed forces, war work in other states and a general lack of interest in warfare.

The vote by precinct in Rowan County follows:

Morehead No. 1, 93, D. 34 R.; Farmers No. 2, 21, 24 R.; Piercy No. 3, 11 D., 10 R.; Hogtown No. 4, 50 D., 23 R.; Pine Grove No. 5, 43 D., 3 R.; Brushy No. 6, 58 D., 7 R.; Morehead No. 7, 42 D., 14 R.; Haldeman No. 8, 41 D., 11 R.; Wagner No. 9, 30 D., 2 R.; Morehead No. 10, 145 D., 41 R.; Farmers No. 11, 54 D., 10 R.; Cranston No. 12, 22 D., 7 R.; McKenzie No. 13, 10 D., 9 R.; Dry Creek No. 14, 10 D., 14 R.; Blank No. 15, 10 D., 11 R.; Hayes No. 16, 46 D., 11 R.; Lewis No. 17, 35 D., 21 R.; Morehead No. 18, 37 D., 6 R.; Morehead No. 19, 91 D., 58 R.; and Brushy No. 20, 6 D., 9 R.

Borden Releases Annual Timber Sales Report

The annual timber sales report for the Cumberland National Forest just prepared by Supervisor H. L. Borden, of Winchester, Ky., reveals that 9,185,000 bdft. was harvested from the Forest during the year ending June 30, 1943. This was 147,000 feet less than the preceding year. However, stumpage values increased about 25 per cent, which increased the income from timber sales to $29,197. 35 per cent of this amount will be distributed to counties containing National Forest Land next spring for roads and schools. The cut would have been substantially more if timber operators had not experienced labor, supply, and equipment shortages.

Supervisor Borden estimated that felling, logging, and sawing of last year's cut had provided 45,200 man-days of labor for residents near the National Forest. All trees on the Forest are cut selectively—removing only the largest trees that have passed their period of fastest growth. This policy insures another crop will be ready in 15 to 20 years on the same area, and maintains a forest canopy to prevent soil erosion.

Because lumber is urgently needed in the War industries, it is hoped to increase the cut 25 per cent this year.

... Our Passengers

We of the Greyhound family hold a firm admiration for our passengers. For when it comes to bearing up, when war travel emergencies and problems are bearing down, they're 100 proof . . . 100 per cent! In fact, as a group they are the most cooperative, most cheerfully indulgent folks it's been our good fortune to know. Fewer conveniences have made no rift in our long and pleasant travel relationship. They accept wartime conditions as they are . . . relinquish their good American prerogative to travel how, when and where they please, all in the cause of Victory. Greyhound passengers are flying their true colors every day that rolls around . . . and they can depend upon Greyhound to do its level best by them, to prove worthy of their continued good will and loyalty.

D. K. Young Urges Growers To Store All Sweet Potatoes

Suggests Converting Vacant Buildings Into Storage Rooms For Crop

Conversion of every possible farm building into storage space for sweet potatoes was urged this week by Daniel K. Young, State Distribution Supervisor of the War Food Administration.

"It is likely that commercial prices will be considerably above the Government support price for the entire season if a large portion of the sweet potato crop is held back," Mr. Young said. "If almost the entire production is dumped on the market during the growing season, there is little chance of the market holding above the floor levels."

The WFA has guaranteed a price of $1.15 per bushel to growers from August through November for U. S. No. 1 potatoes, graded, inspected and loaded on cars in carload lots; $1.30 in December and January, and $1.45 during February, March and April. The spring guarantee is higher, since the 83,000,000 bushel estimated production might swamp the market. Last year production was 65,000,000 bushels.

Proper storage will result in little loss, Mr. Young explained. Potatoes should be sorted and placed in containers in the field prior to storing. For proper curing, the temperature in a sweet potato house must be maintained at above 85 degrees with a relative humidity of 85 to 90 per cent.

Some ventilation is needed, but usually ventilators can be closed at night. Appearance of sprouts is an indication of complete curing, which ordinarily occurs in about ten days.

After curing, the temperature should be lowered over a period of several days to 50 degrees. Only enough ventilation is needed during storage to prevent an excessive rise in temperature or condensation of moisture.

Farmers who have not previously stored sweet potatoes were urged by Mr. Young to consult their county agricultural agents for details.

Sandy Valley Firm Buys Huntington Wholesale Grocery

Eighteen Branches, Affiliates Now Connected With Ashland Firm

In what was regarded by informed sources as one of the largest food distributing house transactions in the business history of this area, the Sandy Valley Grocery Company, headed by H. H. purchase by the Sandy Valley organization of the Tri-State Grocery Company of Kenova, W. Va., which is being currently operated under the name, "Kenova Grocery Company."

These two new acquisitions bring to 18 the total number of branches and affiliate units of the Ashland, Kentucky, organization. Two of these, the Golden Dream Food Corporation of Ashland and the Winchester Milling Company of Winchester, Kentucky, are manufacturing affiliates, while the remaining 16 are distributing outlets. In addition to Hagen-Ratcliff & Company and the Kenova Grocery Company, the branch and affiliate wholesale houses are: Sandy Valley Grocery Company, Ashland; Louisa Grocery Company, Louisa, Ky.; Sandy Valley Grocery Company, Paintsville, Ky.; Merchants Grocery Company, Pikeville, Ky.; Union Grocery Company, Morehead, Ky.; Winchester Grocery Company, Winchester, Ky.; Lexington Grocery Company, Lexington, Ky.; Somerset Grocery Company, Somerset, Ky.; Jefferson Grocery Company, Louisville, Ky.; Portsmouth Grocery Company, Portsmouth, Ohio; Huntington Grocers Company, Huntington, W. Va.; Charleston Grocery Company, Charleston, W. Va.; Wheeler Grocery Company, Williamsburg, W. Va.; and Bayside Grocery Company, Ripley, W. Va.

Hagen-Ratcliff & Company, which currently employs about 50 persons, had operated in Huntington since 1887 and for many years occupied extensive quarters a full block deep, fronting on Third Avenue. The buildings, together with all real estate, merchandise and equipment were included in the purchase, a cash transaction, the amount of which was not disclosed.

Business there will be continued under the corporate name of Hagen-Ratcliff & Company. Mr. Wheeler disclosed, and under the new ownership its policies will remain unchanged.

Social Security Act Allows Beneficiary To Work On Farms

Agriculture Not Classified As Covered Employment

Persons receiving benefits under the old-age and survivors insurance program of the Social Security Act may accept work in agriculture without such employment affecting their benefits, it was pointed out this week by Elbert M. Bohon, manager of the Ashland, Kentucky field office.

"Under the provisions of the Social Security Act and its amendments, agricultural work is not considered covered employment within the scope of the Act," said Mr. Bohon. "Persons who are receiving monthly benefits provided for wage earners who have retired from active work or beneficiaries who are receiving survivorship payments are eligible to accept agricultural work at any time without such employment interfering with their benefit status. Farm work was not covered by the original nor the amended Social Security Act. Benefit payments for persons entitled began January 1, 1940.

"In view of the shortage of help in the labor market, no doubt many persons who had retired from service will return to work during the emergency, as the Government has appealed for those able to accept employment to do all possible in aiding the war effort. Nation-wide figures show that more than 600,000 persons who could have retired at age 65 are continuing to work during the war period.

"Approximately 12,000 persons in Kentucky are now receiving survivorship or retirement benefit payments each month, and unquestionably an appreciable number can devote full or part-time work in agricultural pursuits. We shall be glad to handle any inquiries relating to the Federal old-age and survivorship insurance program at our local office, 118 Second National Bank Building, Ashland, Kentucky," Mr. Bohon said.

Rural Schools Scheduled To Open On August 16th

The rural schools of Rowan County are scheduled to open this year on August 16. A teachers' meeting will be held at the Court House on Friday, August 13, at 10:00 a. m., to make plans for the coming year.

When the schools open, ten rural schools will be without teachers unless the positions are filled before opening date. Enough applications are on file to fill all vacancies, but few applicants are willing to accept outlying rural schools.

The schools are opening about one month later than usual due to a late growing season and the fact that farm help is scarce. The schools were delayed in order to allow rural children to help harvest crops.

Ordnance Works Reports Success

Employees of the Buckeye Ordnance Works at Scioto Point, Ohio, can justly be proud of the success their product is having in the invasion of Sicily. Major J. R. Fisher, commanding officer of the war plant, said today in discussing present trend of the war.

"The bombs which went shrieking down on military objectives in Rome and the shells which are at the minute raining down on Axis armies in Sicily have as an integral component Ammonia," Major Fisher emphasized.

"We can't be there on the fighting front but we can see that those who are have the best that we can possibly give them. Of the work ends when full tank of ammonia goes into the phase cars of ammonia go rolling out of the plant to other points," the Commanding Officer said. "The Ordnance department job still continues."

The only troops which preceded Ordnance combat units onto Italian soil were the assault forces. Right behind them Ordnance maintenance units streaked in to repair the damage wrought by Axis counter-efforts.

"Actually, our job over there started long before the invasion got underway," the Major said. "Every fighting tool from 30 ton tanks to the smallest sidearm was thoroughly overhauled and renovated before it went into action. That process is still continuing in Africa."

Ordnance men spend much of their time in the front lines repairing weapons so tight they could be put back into the battle immediately. These men worked under battle conditions, their Garand rifles lying ready beside them while other men stood guard with machine guns and anti-aircraft guns so that the repair work could go forward unimpeded.

Recalling the battle of Kasserine Pass, the Major noted that a clever trick brought about a short-lived Nazi victory. Ordnance troops were in the pass waiting to check over American tanks as combat forces had been tipped off they rolled back for a rest. The not to fire on these tanks.

Unfortunately, in the dusk a unit of Nazi rolling fortresses got into the line too and before they were discovered, American troops had been surrounded.

According to reports he has received, Major Fisher added, Captured Nazi soldiers have been found to be wearing bedroom slippers.

This is interesting, he said, because a well-equipped army doesn't fight a war in bedroom slippers.

"Incidentally," Major Fisher chuckled, "the experiences of Ordnance soldiers in Sicily conform to those which some had in Africa, the Ordnance Department is going to have to add bakeries to its mobile shops. "In Africa a number of Ordnance men who were invited to dinner by French families usually took a gift with them. One boy baked a loaf of white bread which he presented to the household. It was the first white bread the family had seen in years and their joy was indescribable."

The Agent is a part of the community. He is neighbor, friend and fellow-townsmen. And to the community HE is the Standard Oil Company.

are saving some money. Most all with the war are now over, and all are sick and tired of being frustrated and being hoodwinked by the War Labor Board. Yet these are not my feelings, but it is hard to get the idea over to a bunch of construction workers. It takes all day to check out on a job and all day to check in, and you are never sure what might happen until you pass that board. It's no trouble to get a job, but I'd rather work a day than check in.

My best, and sincere wishes to Helen and Cred. I do wish for you every happiness in the world.

I have always banked to read in the columns of Crackerbarrel. I could spend days in most any grade yard feeding them. As I come from work I pass what looks like a bunch of construction workers and eventually I am going to break down and go in and read some from the stones placed there. I read of a woman that had a plot of five graves and one in the center. On each corner grave there is a marble pedestal with a curved, the index finger pointing to the center grave. On each hand is carved "Our Husband." But I like the one that reads "We were the best of the best when we were young. But we have requested my relatives to put me a little toward life."

"They Even Photograph My Check!"

"Don't tell me about all banks being alike. When I hear others talking about their banks, I'm amazed at the things my bank does for me. Little extra things that count, and make a man feel like the bank's most important customer. Why, they even photograph my checks!"

The Citizens Bank photographs by Recordak every check drawn on its checking accounts. The films become a permanent record and may be referred to at any time; or a facsimile may be reproduced to establish proof of payment of a bill or other obligation.

This is a valuable service, and offers a high degree of protection. It is doubly appreciated by customers of this bank because it is available in Morehead only at The Citizens Bank.
