"ONE OF KENTUCKY'S GREATER WEEKLIES"

MOREHEAD, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 19, 1943

VOLUME X

NUMBER THIRTY-THREE

LOUISVILLE
Diary of just another Defense Worker: Some mail plane goes past my window at 5:15 each morning and I am out pronto, grab a towel and a cold shower, brush my teeth, rub the top of my head, but find that it's still just my head, jump into my clothes and meet my ride two blocks from the Keeney Hotel; I always know the set-up, I meet Jesse, he is an awfully good fellow and a good mechanic. He has followed these jobs from coast to coast since they started. Donald Duck, as I call him, is a tall, slender person with a good eye. He never has a worry in the world and I will say that I am the only man on the job that knows him. He has told me many a good story of them hard to believe, most of them I have checked on. I do know that he owns a house in Lexington and that his wife is an invalid, and has been for the past five years. He keeps a nurse with her constantly.

MC Commencement Activities Began Wednesday Night

Dr. A. L. Crabbe To Deliver Commencement Address August 24th

Commencement activities for the August graduates of Morehead State Teachers College began Wednesday night with a Senior banquet, and will be concluded with the graduation program in the college auditorium next Tuesday night, August 24, at which Dr. A. L. Crabbe, author-Professor, will speak.

Rural Schools Opened Monday, August 16th

The rural schools of Rowan County opened Monday, August 16, and early enrollment reports indicate that a high attendance record will be established in the rural schools this year. This is an amazing fact just now, when many people are moving out of the country to areas of war industries and to areas where farm labor shortages exist, but farm officials are inclined to believe that the general public is showing an ever-increasing realization of the need for an education.

Gatrell Will Discuss
Unemployment Problems
At Courthouse, August 25

Sam L. Gatrell, Senior Examiner, Unemployment Compensation Commission, will be at the County Court Room, in Morehead, Wednesday, August 25, from 12:00 Noon to 2:00 p. m.

He will be glad to discuss with anyone regarding their rights under the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Law or any state of the United States.

Due to the gasoline and tire shortage, claims for unemployment compensation from this county will be handled by mail from the Ashland, Kentucky, office for the duration of the war. This trip will be for the purpose of taking new claims and to straighten out some irregularities of present mail claims. Anyone desiring information regarding unemployment compensation is requested to meet Mr. Gatrell at the above place and time. After this visit, anyone desiring information regarding unemployment insurance is to write the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission, 1738 Carter Avenue, Ashland, Kentucky.

THE TUSSEY FAMILY
By C. C. TUSSEY

Now about the history of the Tussey family. In an early day there were two brothers who came to Tennessee from Scotland. They were called Scotch-Irish. I do not know whether one of these brothers was my grandfather or not. Anyway, our grandfather's name was Johnathon, and he was married in Tennessee to Miss Ann Buckner and to their union as well as I remember there were fourteen children, but I know grandmothers Tussey has told me so. I will name all the children that I remember. The boys first: Jacob, John, Johnathon, and Caleb Bail. I never knew what the 2, in father's name was until grandmother Tussey told me after father's death. She said she named him after an old man in Tennessee. She married George Nelson, had a large family of children. I have seen some of the children. They had one son by the name of Jake Nelson lived up the hollow above our house in Floyd County. He was in the Union Army. He died in Greenup County. Sister Ann and Brother R. used to play with Cousin Jake's oldest girl. Her name was Sarah Frances. She is still living, a little older than I am. So I will stop on that. There was one called Mahaley. She married Ben Hackworth and had a large family. I will give a name of two of their children. The oldest was Jerry and next was Annie, and they had a Caleb. I have seen these three next girls. Her name was Hettie. She married Silvester Watkins. He was an old man when she married him. They had several children. The oldest was Johnathon. He used to come to our house when he was living there.

There are a lot of our cousins living in Lewis and Greenup counties. Now another girl's name was Sarah. She married Andrew Dean, that is where you get your name, but I never saw either of them. They went west before I was born. I think they had some children, but I don't remember how many. I do remember father getting letters from them, and they wrote us about one of their little children saying before it died, that it saw his Uncle Cale in Heaven. This child was born after they went to the territory. One other girl's name was Catherine. She married George Brown and they had a large family. I have seen some of Aunt Catherine's children. I guess you have seen cousin Ann. She was married to Sister Bell's father, she is dead now but there are some of her brothers and sisters still living in Greenup County. There are some of the girls that lived and died in Tennessee, they never came to Kentucky. One of their names was Sister Belle. She was married to a white, their names may come to me. There was one in my mind this morning but it left me. I can't remember his name. There must be a lot of them died in infancy. For I do know Grandma has told me there were fourteen.

Now I will tell you more that you may not know. Grandfather was in the War of 1812. She said there were two or three children when he went to the war. I have often thought why she couldn't remember about whether there were three or four children. She could tell all the ages of her grandchildren and there was ten of us, and a lot of Uncle CRAIG's and Nelson's and Brown's and Hackworth's and Watkins'. If I am not mistaken, I have heard her give dates of all their births. Grandmother was buried in Greenup County. Also was her daughter, Catherine Brown. I have been at their graves.

Now I can give you all of Uncle CRAIG Tussey's children. The girls' names were Juritie and Parthena, and Mary Kansas. Mary died when a little girl. The other two girls went west and are dead I guess. The boys' names are William, Solomon, Elias, Jim and Green. Green is the father of little Jim's, Willie Frank's wife, and she was named after her Aunt Parthena, and one other name was Butten. I have been at the graves where Uncle CRAIG and Aunt Polly are buried and some of our cousins just come to my mind. One other name of our Aunts was Polly. She and Rachel are the better she called him, also Green and Sol, and a Peter by the name of Annie. Now this Annie married a Watkins, a brother's son of Uncle Silvester and Annie. I suppose he takes it after me. Ha! Ha!

I see now I am not going to get my letter off in today's mail unless I do like brother Hattie told them at meeting that he was going to cut his sermon short as he wanted to go to the anvil shooting. Frank Phelps, a drunkard, says, "Mr. Tussey, what about a man having such talk." But I will not cut my letter short, will wait until Monday to send it out. Well, the wife of one of my neighbors did, and her funeral is to be preached at two this afternoon. One other neighbor woman not expected to live. She is a widow about seventy years old. Our old neighbor, Phlips, that has been sick so long is better. He is eighty-nine years old. The doctor said last spring he wouldn't be alive two weeks, but they got as many as thirty eggs a day some three or four days after bad weather set in, but didn't get any eggs now; so if all hens do as ours eggs will be more than six cents. Say, Sarah, when I was at Port in September I was in the mountains and he had two sons-in-law. They all looked like children. Poor Allie has his hands full, and he is never well now. They take a good hold on them, they would go as crazy as a loon, as the saying is. Now it is not a thing in the world that got brother Elias in his shape but his family, and getting rid of his little farm. I do live on just one five-cent and I wouldn't give it for the place to live on, but he thinks there is no place like the little farm at the mouth of the Open Fork.

Of course, don't let Masha know how I value it now, Sarah. I don't know whether you know there is no sickness to compare with the sickness of the old. I used to think that a person that was crazy was at ease, but last summer I had a spell and learned better. I am so glad to get brother Elias. One thing that bothers me is I am unable to help him, and I think I ought to get the attention he needs. Now I haven't had money to get stamps and writing material as much as I would like for the past two years, but the children get my clothes and we raise plenty of corn; killed plenty of meat; put up lots of canned stuff; have tons of wood; more than enough to run us. Got a good team and three cows, two with young calves. Got thirty-two head of old sheep and twenty-four lambs and six Sam's address. I will see if I can raise him. I think I got a letter from him last year.

Well, I aimed to write you a lot tonight, but Ella has ordered me to bed, so I will try and write more in the morning, and if I don't I may wait until Sunday. Well, it is Saturday morning and I just got my work done. I am about the only one that is able to do anything and has seen two of my neighbors out. They seem a little

THE BRADLEY FAMILY
By C. C. TUSSEY

Now as to the Bradleys. I don't know much about them. I know Grandpa Bradley had brothers named Jim and Bill, and a sister called Sallie, and another sister I don't remember her name. She was living a few years ago. I met her son at Winchester, he lived in the mountains. He had a half brother, George, father of Bill Bradley and John Wesley and Manford. I guess you remember them. I think I had a brother named Grandpa married Annie Prater. She had some brothers and sisters, but I don't remember about her sisters. I think one of them married Green Sloan. Her brother's name was Peter and the other Carsone. Now, Peter is the father of High, as we call him, also Green and Sol, and a girl by the name of Annie. Now this Annie married a Watkins, a brother's son of Uncle Silvester and Annie. I was at their home when I lived at Ports. The last time she told me that she stayed with Mother when brother Richmond was born and she named him. She said Pa named me after the Capitol of Ohio, and she called brother Riggs after the Capitol of Virginia. I was at Cousin Sol Tussey's last July, 20 year ago and he told me that Annie and her husband went back to Floyd County and died. Sarah, you just ought to have seen her. It was so about eighty and the very picture of Grandma Bradley. She made me feel bad just to think how his brother's child resembled her.

Now, Cousin Green Prater used to visit us lots when we were small. He has cut brother Richmond's hair and he had some were about ten years old. He was in the Union Army, and some years after he joined the Standing Army. Tussey told me he died there about 10 years ago. I wonder if High is still living? I saw him about five years ago. Now I could see this woman and talk with her I could tell whether she was any kin to our Prators.

Well, I aimed to write you a real long letter, but as Ella and Irvin are in bed and Raymond is sick, too, and it keeps me busy I wrote to send this to you and can't tell what I would love to, but it may be that I will write some tonight, but I never got to it. I will write you some more good to write now. There are so many things I want to mention, but first I'll say how you did. I could see this woman and talk with her I could tell whether she was any kin to our Prators.

better this morning. Irvin slept some last night, didn't cough so badly as he has been. He says he is going out by Monday. He is the best boy to work. I have ever seen. And I do know there are thousands not in as good shape but we are in debt, and it seems that if times don't open up we can never get out. The drought is what got us in debt.

Now Sarah, about the fire. I got it in the paper the next day. I got the Lexington Daily, Bill pays for it. I also get the Gazette. He paid for that. We get the Advocate, also the Gospel Trumpet, and I enjoy reading each one. The drought is what got us in debt.

I got a letter from brother Zack Tussey the other day. He said they were well and Annie's health was good, and also that Lizzie had got strong. Now, Sarah, I don't think Zack would like it, but I will have to see to believe it, and I furthermore believe you are of the same opinion.

Well, I see in the paper that they sent Linie Williams for three years. I wonder what Williams that is. I knew the boy that was killed, or knew his father, and know. I want to say we don't know how we will come to our death. That was a sad death. And he was a good man, I always thought. Now, Sarah, I have written more than you care to read, but I want to write and tell you what I have to put up with. Now I will send you the letter I got from Minerva's little girl and let you read it. I let Raymond read it and he just said, she takes her smartness after Charley. That is as good as to leave her mother out. So I then let Ella read it, and just listen to what she said. There is more on that one page than twelve I would write. So you can see I had to write thirteen pages to get a bigger letter, and I will tell you what brother R. told me. Once he said I could write the most to have so little in it. Now just think about all these sayings, but I did write him once a long letter, and he said it was like reading the Cincinnati Enquirer. So you know that was encouraging. Now Sarah, I think you can understand my writing, of course I write lots of words that are not good. Well Annie is almost ready. Raymond's wife is the main cook. Ella is in bed. I just don't know what we would have done if they had got them a place.

AMERICAN HEROES

Just before the orders to commence firing, our radio station on the Midway was blown to bits. Marine Sgt. Harold P. Hazelwood, the operator, was severely wounded by shrapnel. Despite his serious wounds, he assembled parts and sent out the firing orders that saved the day. Your money is needed to "save the day" every pay day. You've done your bit; now do your best—Buy more War Bonds.

Well, Raymond's wife and I went to the funeral, this woman that died. She left three little boys from six to eleven years old, a mother, and three sisters and her husband. It was a pitiful sight to see the children. They seemed to be bad hurt over their mother. Now I want to give you a little more of the Praters. Now there was one named Jim. He was mean and crazy. He used to put a bell on and get in peoples cornfields and have them think it was cows. I can remember when father was gone at night and mother heard a cow bell she would be scared bad. So a little later Jim killed Ad. Prater, his cousin, and there were eight men working the road near Ad's house and Jim Prater came there and had a club and run Ad around the house several times hitting him with the club until he killed him. And these men were afraid, and just watched him kill Ad. There was a little child there, he picked it up and went to the well with it and they thought he would throw it in the well, but he just held it there so he could see its shadow in the well. So the next day Grandpa Bradley and some men went and arrested him and they stopped at a spring to get a drink, and all set down to rest a little while, so one of the men asked for the time of day, so Jim Prater looked up at the sun and said it was about the same time of day it was when I killed Ad.

on their heads. Time changes styles. I will stop, many more things I could write. Hoping you are all better. May the good Lord bless you all,
Your old brother,
C. C. TUSSEY.

THANKS FOR YOUR HELP!

As Kentuckians, we naturally feel about the Brown Hotel in exactly the same way that every true Kentuckian feels about his home—that it should be always ready to offer the most generous hospitality to every friend who comes our way. . . .

That's why it has been particularly distressing to us, on so many days and nights during the past year or so, to have to tell many of our best friends that the Brown is filled up, and that we just can't take care of them. . . .

You probably know our situation. Thousands and thousands of soldiers are stationed within a few miles of Louisville, and almost every night the Brown is "sold out" with every room occupied either by officers, inspectors or business men from distant cities, or by wives and parents who have come for a few hours or a few days to see their boys in uniform. . . .

When that happens we have no alternative but to tell you the conditions, and to ask that you bear with us until better days come back again. We dislike the present situation even more than you do—excepting only that we do feel that despite rationing, shortages of labor, etc., we are contributing something to the War effort. In the meantime, when you plan to come to Louisville, write us as far in advance as possible, and we'll do everything in our power to show you that we appreciate your patience and your friendship.

Harold E. Harter, Manager

Well, it is time to go to bed, so I will leave off the writing until tomorrow, and I may add a little more to my letter.

Well, it is Sunday morning, and I think the folks are a little better. The woman I told you about died last night, and will be buried in sight of our house. Well, I guess I had better stop as they may be as much as you care to read, but I am tolerable sure any one will read my letters because they will be like reading a story. You know you will read on expecting something good until the end.

Now, sister, I often write letters and tell them when they read them to put them in the waste basket, so you can treat this letter as you please. Well, I guess it comes to my mind about what Grandpa Bradley told me, she said father and his father and mother lived together for just three, and grandfather was sick sometimes, and he said to Grandpa, "Annie, there is one thing I want you to promise me, and I will be willing to die." "What is it, Johnathon?" "That you and Cale will stay on here and keep house." She said, "Johnathon, I won't promise that, for it seems to me it will be so lonesome when you are gone, I can't stay here, but I will promise you if I can I will." So father was just fifteen years old, and they stayed on and, father worked in the mill, and he kept house seven years after his death, so he was twenty-two years old. And our mother was just fifteen years old when she married, and Grandpa would live first with one of her children and another after father married. You ought to remember her, and do, I guess, staying with Ma on Christy, Me and brother Richmond went to see her when he was married. She was at Uncle George's house, and I gave her a red handkerchief, and she said "I am going to be buried with it on my head." Old women used to wear red handkerchiefs

KENTUCKY is a Fighting State

—AND GREYHOUND BUSES ARE PART OF ITS FIGHTING POWER

Kentucky is America in cross-section—fighting mad and fighting hard, doing its level best to back up our troops across the seas with the home-front cooperation they must have.

All of us in Kentucky are putting the drive that counts behind the particular jobs that are ours to do—whether it's sending our men to the colors—building their guns and ships and planes—buying bonds—or moving manpower.

Kentucky men and women, loyal Greyhound employees, are busy keeping our buses rolling to help keep our war effort in high gear. They're driving the buses—keeping them mechanically fit—conserving vital materials—giving wartime travel information—handling baggage.

As our share in this state's joint war program, Greyhound is taking our local boys to induction centers—and bringing them back home from training camps on well-earned leaves. We are transporting our Kentucky neighbors to their vital jobs in war plants and on farms. We are keeping essential travel on the move—linking up this state with every other area where the Nation's war activities are centered.

Kentucky is in this fight to win—we didn't start the fight but we're going to finish it!

Commencement

Twenty-five Seniors will be awarded their diplomas next Tuesday night at the commencement program, which is scheduled for 8 p. m. The class is one of the smallest of August groups in the history of the college, and is a decided contrast to the pre-war graduating classes.

Included on the program, besides the principal address by Dr. Crabbe, will be a vocal solo by Miss Louise Antonini, and a special number by the college girls' ensemble under the direction of Miss Mildred Sweet.

Buckeye Ordnance Plant Attains 90% War Bond Record

More than 90 per cent of the Ordnance personnel at the Buckeye Ordnance Works are investing an average of 11.4 per cent of their pay in War Bonds, Major J. E. Fisher, commanding officer announced this week.

Several months ago the Ordnance department personnel were given special recognition by the War Department for attaining the 90-per-cent 10-per-cent goal and since then we have not fallen below it," he said.

Four groups—military, safety, inspection and auditing—have 100 per cent participation in the payroll deduction plan, while one—administration—has but 88 per cent.

Average payroll deduction runs from 15.2 per cent for the military and safety groups to 9.4 per cent for the administration group.

"It is gratifying to find that not a single person in the Ordnance department's offices here has either reduced or cancelled his War Bond pay reservation now that taxes are deductible at the source," the commanding officer said.

"Every one of our employees is investing to his utmost, and not one of them has used the excuse of tax-deductions-at-source to lower his investment."

"I'm proud of them and I know that our per centages will raise even more in the future, rather than decline," he concluded.

"They Even Photograph My Check!"

"Don't tell me about all banks being alike. When I hear others talking about their banks, I'm amazed at the things my bank does for me. Little extra things that count, and make a man feel like the bank's most important customer. Why, they even photograph my checks."

The Citizens Bank photographs by Recordak every check drawn on its checking accounts. The films become a permanent record and may be referred to at any time; or a facsimile may be produced to establish proof of payment of a bill or other obligation.

This is a valuable service, and offers a high degree of protection. It is doubly appreciated by customers of this bank because it is available in Morehead only at The Citizens Bank.

BACK OF OUR COMBAT FORCES

For every Flying Fortress with its heroic crew, there are many people back home who also work for victory. Our greatest weapons are unity of purpose and a firm resolve to win.

The banks have performed many war duties willingly, and mostly without compensation. They have helped to keep a strong front here at home where important battles are also to be won. This bank would not be truly representative of this fine community, if it was not solidly behind the war effort. But we are ever ready to serve in any way which will hasten the day of Victory. New accounts are invited.
