October Draft Call Is Biggest Of Year

State's Quota Is 40 Percent Larger Than August

Kentucky's October draft quota is the biggest of the year, with at least 75 per cent of it to be made up of men who are in the service. Monday headquarters announced Monday, Major General Lewis B. Hershey, disclosed in Washington that it may be necessary to induct 446,000 pre-World War I men by January to meet quotas. The October draft quota is 15 per cent larger than September's, which was 40 per cent above that of August, officials said. The quota is an early date to be able to see you at a meeting of county chairmen about which you will be notified just as soon as definite plans are formulated.

Local boards throughout the state are now engaged in reclassifying fathers, and those in non-drafting occupations will be the first to go, officials said. The October call will have its largest proportion of Negro selectees. The number of Negroes registered and classified for the August and September calls was insufficient to meet the quota.

Seven out of every 100 men in the hiterto draft-proof pool of local boards may expect to make a trip from their local boards to induction centers, he added, but many are likely to be rejected as ineligible for service.

Hershey's figures were contained in a letter sent to the 6,500 local boards explaining why the ban on drafting pre-World War I men on drafting pre-World War I men, except those in non-draftable work and therefore subject to induction at any time, had been lifted effectively October 1.

The Dental Clinic is made possible here through the combined efforts of the Morehead Board of Trade, The Morehead Woman's Club, The Rowan County Woman's Club, the American Legion and the P.T.A. organization in the county.

Dental Clinic To Begin Here, Sept. 6th

A committee of local citizens will begin soon to raise Rowan County's quota of $226,500 in the Third War Loan Drive, according to William H. Vaughan, chairman of the county committee. Names of the committee members will be released soon, and the group will organize to begin a county-wide canvass for pledges during the national drive September 9-30, he said.

Third War Loan Drive To Get Under Way September 9th

In a letter from Mr. Ben Williams, state chairman of the drive, it was urged that the Third War Loan Drive organize for continuous sales as well as for the drive itself, and Mr. Vaughan said that in the Rowan County effort every resident of the county will be contacted in an effort to keep its record at its present commendable status. A representative from the county attended a district meeting in Ashland last Friday night, to receive instructions in the conduct of the new drive. The Third War Loan Drive has been launched by the national government in its district, Camp Dix, Sibbie Caskey, and in the state, by the American Legion, Ohio; North Coleman, Olive Hill; Mary Glascock, Morningsburg; Edna Meade, Collietta; Beulah Smith, Somers; Madeline, Westport; Ashland; Mae Ward, Rush; Pauline Butcher, Morehead; Marie Rowland, Morehead; Hazel Corcoran, Morehead; Mary Jane, Newport; Thelma Dunn, Campton; Nellie Fisher; Falcon; Virginia Cooper, Vanceburg; Virginia Gant, Union City; Pennsylvania; Keith Huffman, Marion, Indiana; Gertrude Ison, Pippasippa; Grace Lewis, Morehead.

Mail Christmas Parcels For Overseas Sept. 15 to Oct. 15

Rules for Christmas mailings to the fighting forces overseas were published by the War Relocation Authority. Those who have relatives or friends in the service should remember that we have fighting men in Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, England, Sicily, and other regions of Africa, the Near Eastern countries, Australia, many of the South Pacific islands, India, China, South America, and other areas. Weeks are required for a ship to reach many of these stations. Mail of all kinds is vital to the spirit of fighting men. Every officer who has inspected our Army and Navy postal facilities overseas has reported that thousands of fighting men disregard mess call when it conflicts with mail call, and get their letters first. Officers at our large military and naval stations report that the spirit and efficiency of their men receive a distinct lift when mail is distributed, and that a delay in mail delivery caused a decided decline in spirit with a consequent letdown in efficiency. A disconsolate soldier or sailor who thinks he has been forgotten at Christmas obviously is not at his best. So the gifts MUST be mailed on time so that they can arrive on time.

Collector of Internal Revenue S. R. Glenn announces that a special income tax preparer will be in Morehead August 30 through 31, and September 1 through 2, 1943, for the purpose of assisting individuals in preparing and filing their declaration returns. Mr. Glenn says that the new Revenue Act is in many particulars different from the act previously in effect. Special attention is called to the groups of taxpayers who will be required to file their declarations by September 15.

Mr. Glenn says that many changes made cannot be explained in a short notice, but that his deputy is familiar with the law and is being sent here to be of real service to the taxpaying public. The service is absolutely free. Collector Glenn urges the taxpayers of this county to see the deputy and let him help them with their returns by September 15.

More than half of the money to be raised in the National campaign for $125,000,000 will go for service to the armed forces... Dr. McVey pointed out the drive will clear the way for the United States Treasury bond sales and reduce the philanthropic appeal to the county generally to two principal campaigns...

Americans at home must help their fighters and their allies to maintain a will to win, Dr. McVey said. Included in the drive are United Service Organizations, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners Aid, Russian, Chinese and British War Relief, Greek, Polish, Yugoslav, French, Belgian, Czechoslovak, Dutch, Norwegian, and Luxembourg War Relief and aid to the Refugees and to homeless children cared for by the U. S. Committee for the care of European Children.

State's "War Fund" Goal Is $1,419,000

Drive to Open in Kentucky October 15th

The Kentucky War Fund announced this week a goal of $1,419,000 to be reached October 15 to '39. The money will go for service to men and women in the armed forces and merchant marine, recreational, spiritual and educational aid to prisoners of war, medical supplies, clothing and food for the peoples of the United Nations and to refugees.

Dr. Frank L. McVey, campaign chairman for Kentucky, stated that the drive will give every Kentuckian an opportunity to share his material goods with those risking their lives on the military and United Nations' fronts.

"A thousand services—a million kindnesses—are wrapped up in a single gift to the United War Fund," Dr. McVey said. "It will cover a federation of agencies stretching around the world

Bus Lines Carrying 50% of Passengers

Demand for Public Transport Increased Immensely

Despite war-time restrictions, bus lines are now carrying more than half of all inter-city passengers and could assume an even greater burden of essential travel if road speed limitations were eased, according to the National Association of Motor Bus Operators.

The extent of the restrictions which hampered the bus operator industry have been partially overcome by the industry could make a greater contribution if the industry speed limit for the intercity routes was raised.

The association's report shows that the reduction in maximum speed to 25 miles per hour has failed to produce appreciable savings in either rubber or motor fuel so far as the intercity bus industry is concerned. On the other hand, the slower speeds have interfered with the efficiency of bus operation by lengthening schedules 30 per cent, reducing carrying capacity, requiring more manpower in driver and mechanic personnel, and causing undue wear upon engines, transmissions, and clutches.

Leaders of the industry contend that if intercity buses were allowed to operate at a maximum of 45 miles per hour on the open highway, a substantially increased number of passengers could be carried without additional equipment or personnel.

The extent of the industry's contribution to war-time transportation needs is reported in a survey of current operating conditions that was made for the association by impartial investigators. The findings have been presented to government agencies and fact-finding organizations to acquaint them with the vital part the bus industry is playing in the war effort and to indicate how the easing of certain restrictions would enable the highway passenger carriers to assume even greater trucks. "The demand for public transportation has grown to gigantic proportions," said Arthur H. Hill, president of the bus operators' organization. "This is because of the increased number of men and women in the armed forces and the unprecedented employment in war industries, coupled with the fact that strict rationing has so drastically curtailed the use of privately-owned automobiles. In 1942, the intercity buses carried 682,000,000 passengers and this all-time record will be greatly surpassed this year."

Naval Aviation Plans To Enlist 17 Year Old Youths

High School Seniors Are Eligible Under Plan

Plans for enlisting 17-year-old Naval Aviation recruits were announced this week by Commander W. H. Gardner, Officer-in-Charge of the St. Louis Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, Ninth Floor, New Federal Building. Seniors in an accredited high school, who have a reasonable expectation of graduation, and who are not yet eighteen, will be eligible under the plan.

Commander Gardner pointed out that quotas for entry are limited and plans are being completed for procuring 17-year-olds on an equitable basis from throughout the Board's five-state territory. He will be subject to the same physical and medical examination as that of Naval Flight training as those in effect under the former plan which closed June 30, 1943. Students who apply under the new program must be recommended by the head of the school or college attended and three members of its faculty. High school students who apply must rank in the upper one-half of their class, and college students in the upper two-thirds.

The channels through which applicants will be accepted by the board will be the Selection Board under the new program, will in all cases be the high school superintendent, principal, or other school or college authority. They will not be permitted to apply directly to the Board.

The 17-year-old men who are enlisted under the new procurement program, will be selected as Apprentice Seamen, V-5. Such men must then complete their high school training and await their eighteenth birthday before they are transferred to "Aviation Cadet V-5."

Those applicants who are recommended by their high school or college will be furnished transportation by the Navy to St. Louis, and of those found physically and mentally qualified, a sufficient number will be enlisted in the 1943-44 fiscal year.

4-H Club Members In Kentucky To Pay For Bomber

$250,000 Worth of War Bonds And Stamps Is Goal

The 102,000 members of 4-H clubs in Kentucky have set up for themselves a goal to purchase this year at least 250,000 worth of war bonds and stamps or enough for a bomber, J. W. Whitehouse, state club leader, has announced.

The 4-H boys and girls have been buying stamps and bonds all year, he said, and already have invested many thousands of dollars. A check-up on their purchases will be made about October 1, or just before achievement programs are held throughout the state. At that time Mr. Whitehouse expects the total to be well over the quarter-million dollar mark.

In addition to buying stamps and bonds, Kentucky 4-H club boys and girls have been working all season in fields, helping to plant, cultivate and harvest crops; have grown thousands of Victory gardens, and have canned and dried vast quantities of foods, it was explained at the state office. They also have helped in the collection of rubber and metal and in bond-selling campaigns.

An official report of the United States Department of Agriculture ranked Kentucky fourth among the states in numbers of boys and girls enrolled in 4-H clubs. However, when the size of the arm population is considered, Kentucky ranks second.

The Washington figures gave Alabama an enrollment of 125,000; Georgia, 110,000; Texas, 103,000; and Kentucky, 102,000. Total enrollment in 4-H clubs in the United States is 1,700,000 farm boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 20.

goods to Britain. "I've made three cruises as an Armed Guardsman," May said, "and this was the quietest voyage I've experienced."

Things always haven't been peaceful for the sailors who man the guns of the merchantman, however. May recalled plenty of action on two convoy trips to North Africa during the Tunisian campaign.

"German planes attacked our convoy in Casablanca and we had to fire like mad to 'get' them off," he related. "Another time in Oran we were attacked by torpedo planes, but we managed to drive them off with the loss of only one ship out of the entire convoy."

The ship on which Mya serves also has narrowly escaped being "hit" by enemy submarines. Out of Gibraltar a few months ago a U-boat surfaced within range of their guns and his crew laid down a barrage which drove off the undersea vessel. On another occasion a lookout spotted a torpedo churning towards his ship. The skipper managed to maneuver the vessel out of its path and the "fish" struck another freighter to the starboard.

When his crew goes into action, May operates a 20 mm. rapid-fire cannon, which is particularly effective against aircraft. May became an active duty in July, 1942, and was assigned to the Armed Guard in August, after completing a course in gunnery. He now is a seaman, first class.

He is the son of Mrs. Donna B. May, Main Street, Farmers, Ky.

Out of every dollar taken in by the railroads in 1924, 16.1 cents went to pay taxes, against 10.2 cents in 1941, 9.2 cents in 1940 and 8.3 cents in 1939.

Uncle Sam Collects: In 1942, for the first time in history, railway taxes exceeded a billion dollars. The United States Government collected more in taxes from the railroads in 1942 than it collected from all sources (except postal revenues) in any year prior to 1917. Largest United States Government income from all sources (except postal revenues) prior to 1917 was $782,335,000 in 1916. Last year the Federal Government collected approximately $277,000,000 from the railroads in taxes. The remaining $225,000,000 in the railway tax bill went to state, county and local governments.

As Kentuckians, we naturally feel about the Brown Hotel in exactly the same way that every true Kentuckian feels about his home—that it should be always ready to offer the most generous hospitality to every friend who comes our way. . . .

That's why it has been particularly distressing to us, on so many days and nights during the past year or so, to have to tell many of our best friends that the Brown is filled up, and that we just can't take care of them. . . .

You probably know our situation. Thousands and thousands of soldiers are stationed within a few miles of Louisville, and almost every night the Brown is "sold out", with every room occupied either by officers, inspectors or business men from distant cities, or by wives and parents who have come for a few hours or a few days to see their boys in uniform. . . .

When that happens we have no alternative but to tell you the conditions, and to ask that you bear with us until better days come back again. We dislike the present situation even more than you do—excepting only that we do feel that despite rationing, shortages of labor, etc., we are contributing something to the War effort. In the meantime, when you plan to come to Louisville, write us as far in advance as possible, and we'll do everything in our power to show you that we appreciate your patience and your friendship.

New York Singer Presents "Songs of United Nations"

Miss Miriam Miller Gives Recital On Local Lyceum

Miss Miriam Miller, soprano from New York City, presented a recital, "Songs of the United Nations," in the college auditorium last Tuesday night.

The program included native songs from Russia, China, Free France, Brazil, Peru, Great Britain, Mexico, and the United States. While singing each group of songs, Miss Miller was dressed in costume characteristic of the countries represented, and she sang the songs in the native tongues, giving an English interpretation of the story told before singing. The songs were chosen to portray the characteristics of as many sections of each country as possible, and most of them were folk songs.

Miss Miller has had wide experience in opera and radio, as well as on the concert stage. Her singing career began at the age of seven when she sang one of the leads in "Babes in Toyland" in grammar school. She made her radio debut on station WEAZ in New York and later was a featured artist on WMAAC. She has traveled with two leading operatic societies and sang prominent roles in "Aida," "Cavalleria," and "Il Trovatore" and other important operas. She has given many concerts all over the United States, singing popular, classical, and semi-classical music.

She has been giving her "Songs of the United Nations" concert only since May and the groups which appeared on the program here were sung for the first time on the Morehead stage. The idea for such a recital came from her interest in people, and her knowledge that music brings out much of the spirit of the people who sing them. She reads and writes every language in which she sang except Chinese, of which she knows enough to sing easily. Some of her most interesting numbers were the Chinese martial airs, which are sung by Chinese fighters as they go into battle.

Miss Miller has had all of her training in New York. Earlier studies were with Samuel Margolis, and she was later coached by Enzo Del'Orefica, an outstanding Italian musician in New York circles.

She helped design her own costumes, which were tailored by Baron Maximilian Waldeck, prominent New York designer. Each costume fits into the mood of the songs sung.

Miss Mildred Sweet, piano instructor of the Morehead faculty, was the accompanist for the program.

Morehead Graduate Wins Nomination

Lawrence Carter, Morehead graduate and former star on the Morehead Eagle football squad, was nominated for State Senator from Harlan county in the Republican primaries held last week. Carter holds his bachelor's degree from this school with a major in economics and sociology and a second major in industrial arts.

A graduate of Harlan High school, Carter entered Morehead College in 1934 and graduated in 1938. Prominent in activities on the campus, he was president of the Campus Club and later secretary-treasurer of that organization, sergeant-at-arms of the sophomore class, secretary-treasurer of the Y.M.C.A., and a member of both the varsity football and basketball squads.

Two other former Morehead College students who won nominations in last week's race were Harry Lowman, who was nominated for representative from the Boyd county area, and Tom Phillips, who won the Democratic nomination for state commissioner of agriculture.

State Committee Selects Lappin's Work To Publish In Education Bulletin

A part of Dr. W. C. Lappin's doctor's dissertation has been selected by a committee to be published for the September bulletin of the state department of education. Dr. Lappin, department head at State Teachers College, wrote the material, which is called "Securing Trained Administrators for the Public Schools in Kentucky" in 1940-41, when he was a candidate for his doctor's degree from Indiana State University.

"For the state department's bulletin, a part of it will be published which will attempt to make some suggestions concerning the general provisions followed by the state in getting the heads of the school systems, and which will try to bring the plan more in line with what is thought to be the best practice right now," Dean Lappin said in comment.

Dr. Falls To Take Over As Training School Director

Will Retain Duties As Extension Dept. Head

Dr. J. D. Falls, of the educational department, will take over the duties as director of Breckinridge Training School this fall. Since coming to Morehead in January, 1934, he has been associate professor of education and for the past seven years has been director of the extension department.

Dr. Falls attended Bowling Green and the University of Kentucky and received his bachelor of arts degree from Ogden College in 1920. He received his bachelor of science degree in 1922, master's degree in 1923 and his doctor's degree in 1926 from Peabody College. He has done his chief teaching in administration and supervision and psychology. His special interest is improving classroom instruction.

In addition to his new duties, he will continue as director of the exension department and will organize study centers in the various counties of the Morehead territory. One will be organized at Paintsville for 75 Johnson county teachers during the morning of September 4. Dr. Falls said. In the afternoon, he will meet the teachers of McCoin county at Salersville. Other study centers may be organized in Bath, Montgomery, Fleming and Mason counties, according to Dr. Falls.

Dr. Falls also stated that Miss Mildred Morris, former secretary of the extension department, will return this fall to resume her regular duties. She has been serving in the WAACS since last January.

Can It! You'll do just that if you want a plentiful supply of your favorite vegetables this winter. And if you've taken advantage of nature and a few packets of seeds, in the production of a Victory Garden, you need not worry about where you'll get the beans and tomatoes and beets to put ahead for the lean months ahead. However, there are the markets for those who have not gone in for gardening, where one may buy everything from apples to asparagus, and from corn to cauliflower. To put up food for the future is not the laborious task it seems—by following a few simple rules, by budgeting time periods with quantities of foods to be processed, it's easy to "can it!"

By all means, let 'em eat cake . . . and candy, too

Nature has her own way of telling us that there is energy in sweets. Today, corn syrup, rich in dextrose, is playing a more important role than ever before in supplying active America with the sugar that gives power to the body and keeps wits sharp.

Candy is part of the field ration and sweets are served generously to our armed forces everywhere. Sweets served in war plants have greatly stepped up human energy and production.

Tremendous quantities of corn syrup are used to make ices, cookies, cakes, candies and pies so temptingly good—and good for you!

Immense amounts of corn syrup for the army as well as for civilian consumption are produced by the Home of Budweiser. Our Corn Products Division—working entirely apart from the brewery—grew out of the experience that developed from years of laboratory research. The quest for better methods and facilities for brewing the world's most popular beer never ceases.

EVERY MISSION URGENT

ALMOST overnight the familiar tank-truck became a vital part of the nation's war machine—essential to the very life of the nation.

Every railroad tank-car is needed to haul petroleum products to the eastern seaboard. Therefore, the oil industry's own transportation system—the tank-truck—has taken over the short trips which were formerly made by many railroad tank-cars.

When you see the Standard Oil Company tank-truck on the road today, you will know that it is running against time to get needed stocks of petroleum products to military camps and fields, to war industries, to other trucks engaged in the transportation of a thousand war necessities, to farmers for their tractors used in food production, and to countless other places where petroleum is indispensable.

Round the clock faithful drivers operate these hard-pressed tank-trucks. Without the tank-truck war effort would lag—or stop! Every mission is urgent—many are vital.

Draft Call

last July 1 to October 1 would total 966,000, making the aggregate of induction for the last half of this year 1,873,000.

From the 1,566,000 non-fathers in the 2-A and 2-B classifications should be qualified for induction and another 64,000 can be obtained among the non-fathers who have been shipped, covered by invoices, or acknowledgements, or have been cancelled.

The shortage of 446,000 must be made up with fathers, Hershey says. "We have 2,976,000 fathers working in the building of ships, tanks, guns and planes. Many are highly skilled and irreplaceable in the present tight labor market. Even if we took all of them it is doubtful whether more than 685,000 would be actually available for military service after physical examination. This number would do little more than complete the call through January 1, 1944.

"It therefore appears that the only large deferred pool remaining from which men can be numbering 6,559,000. The fundamental issue is not whether we are to draft fathers but whether in the consideration of the war effort we will call those men least valuable to the war effort.

"It is clear that if a pre-Pearl Harbor father now becomes employed in a war plant he may be considered for occupational deferment, in view of the work that replaceability has become extremely important in tight labor areas; local boards will undoubtedly give thorough consideration to the occupational deferment of fathers making a substantial contribution to the war effort.

"We have but one alternative: To complete our calls by taking fathers as they may be needed after other available men have been exhausted.

"Occupational deferment problems are going to be troublesome but the system will meet its responsibilities in providing the necessary deferments so as to insure the food, ships, guns, tanks and planes that are so necessary to the millions of men already in the armed forces.

"Our responsibility is first to those we have sent to war and we must not fail them. . . . Our decisions will be difficult and many times unpleasant, but we can bear the burden, knowing that these decisions will bring the war to a speedy end.

"I shall never forget the fourth of July. We had a big parade and I fairly 'busted' with pride as I watched Old Glory waving from every building, and our men so strong and fine-looking passing in review, tears of pride and joy streamed down my face. In spite of strikes and the many saying it could not be done—to see and realize what a magnificent and expert job had been done was something to 'crow' over. But when the band played 'Dixie' I tingled from head to toe and 'My Old Kentucky Home' almost brought me to my knees. I have never been so emotionally moved. We are proud of the work and the cheerful sacrifices made by you people back home. We have a great country with the finest, bravest and most generous people of any world living in it. The American men over here are remarkable. It is a privilege to work for them and I never grow tired of doing things for them. . . . The Red Cross clubs are popular and the men find them a real home. Our big job is to keep them from contributing more to them than they should.

A LETTER FROM AFRICA

(Following is part of a letter recently received by faculty members from Miss Exer Robinson, former student of Allegheny College and director of public relations, who is serving overseas with the Red Cross. It is printed here in the interest of Miss Robinson's friends who will be interested in her activities.)

Dear friends: It would be impossible for you to realize just what a good news letter could do to help keep up the high spirits of one serving overseas. As much as I love to get letters that simply isn't in my time schedule to write many letters since I landed over here. I see so much every day I want to write home, but time gets away and other things happen.

"I have always had a general idea that anything could happen in Africa, and I have not been disappointed.

"This city is (I am told) the most beautiful city in North Africa. The weather is very lovely. We are on the ocean, within five minutes walking distance and the breeze is a lifesaver in this hot climate. The flowers, shrubs, and palms remind me much of Florida or California. You find the most people here to be found any place under the sun.

"I have met many Kentucky people here. I have had many interesting experiences—one which I shall tell you. One morning I was driving out a little distance where I had to pass a number of men on guard. I stopped to say my best 'Good-morning' each time, and soon I came to a little fellow who looked rather lonely. I stopped the car near him and said, 'Good-morning, can you tell me the way to Kentucky?' He looked startled and for a minute he opened his mouth and just stared at me. Then in a quavering voice he said, 'Good-morning, I wish I knew; I'm from Harlan County myself. He sure was glad to see me and especially since I know some Morehead students he has recognized with. The highways leading into this city have been marked 60 and 31-W Kentucky—I get a bit thrill every time I see them.

"I was in another city while a few weeks ago and visiting standing in a Red Cross club two Morehead students came up to me at the same time. They did not know each other, but both knew me. One was a Combs boy and the other was Bell. They are both off here.

"I shall never forget the fourth of July. We had a big parade and I fairly 'busted' with pride as I watched Old Glory waving from every building, and our men so strong and fine-looking passing in review, tears of pride and joy streamed down my face. In spite of strikes and the many saying it could not be done—to see and realize what a magnificent and expert job had been done was something to 'crow' over. But when the band played 'Dixie' I tingled from head to toe and 'My Old Kentucky Home' almost brought me to my knees. I have never been so emotionally moved. Our big job is to keep them from contributing more to them than they should.

"Last week I attended an Arab wedding. It lasted for seven days, and it was just like a page out of a story book that begins 'Once upon a time'—I could not believe that what I saw was real. This Arab family, I have practically adopted me. They center ever honor on me. They can think of and anything I want from them I have but to ask for. They have many strange customs they have been clinging to since the beginning of time, or since the beginning of Arabia. They are a very talented race of people with very limited opportunities. They have no school system of their own and only the very wealthy are admitted to French schools. I feel it is a deplorable situation. They all work great and beautiful work with their hands. It is no uncommon sight to see children six or seven years of age working all day weaving things. I go often to the Arab section of the city and never miss an opportunity of learning more about these people. They have great possibilities, but are given very little opportunity for education. They are bound by traditions and strange religious customs.

"My life here is strange and exciting. Something new happens every day. I meet lovely people from every part of the world. I know you are all busy, but a long, newsey letter will help me keep up the morale in this part of the world.

"With best wishes to you all, I am—

The Citizens Bank photographs by Recordak every check drawn on its checking accounts. This becomes a permanent record and may be referred to at any time; or a facsimile may be reproduced to establish proof of payment of a bill or other obligation.
