Sofball Is Attraction Of Summer

The soft ball league with teams from the college, the navy and the town got rolling in good form this week in the opening game, when the Navy defeated the Faculty by a score of 2 to 1. It was one of the coldest and the most exciting game of the season, with the Navy holding the hard hitting Faculty to less scattered hits and the Whizz banged doing the same thing to the Navy, only more so.

Hale, hurling for the Navy, proved himself a strikout king and drove two runs in between the first and second base. But in that inning came the pay off and the Faculty banged out two singles and a double to strike out. That was just enough to win the game as the Sailors were able to drive in but one score. The Navy failed to hit when his meant runs but otherwise played errorless ball.

As the league stands at present not counting games Tuesday and Wednesday, Allie Young Hall with one win and no losses lead the league. He trails with two losses and one win and the Faculty and Down Towners are tied with a (Continued On Page Four)

Will There Be Chaos?

Even though we are in the midst of war, even though we are fighting with each ounce of our strength and every atom of our security, we are all thinking ahead. There is a dread of the aftermath of war.

There are those who still paint rosy pictures of the time when the trumpets shall cease and the lion and the lamb lie down together. There are those who talk of revenge and the utter annihilation of the enemy for all time. There are those who anticipate a socialistic regenerated life with enthusiasm.

There are individuals who shrink from our responsibilities, lay down on our jobs, neglect our part in our community life, join in groups to demand special privileges for ourselves, start or fan bold claims of interests under the camouflage of smoke screens, ignore our duty as voters or back out candidates because of what they might do for us instead of the nation as a whole. In short, if we work for ourselves alone, the end is chaos, for the power will pass into the hands of those who are most fanatical and selfish in their demands.

Now is the time to prove the worth of the democratic way of life. Now is the time to fight for the present and prepare for the future—not in an exhaustive and in practical every day demonstration that we can put aside selfish work together.

This nation after the war, will be just what we make it. We will get out of it just what we put into it. Each day we are learning how great is the stature of the average man, and how much he will be criticized for the right. It is our duty to stand up so gloriously. As we to the people have answered the challenge of war, so must we be prepared to answer the challenge of peace.

If we, the ordinary men and women of this country, do our job and take our share of the burden of citizenship, there will be no chaos when the war is won—or we are the majority rulers of the democracy.

What the future holds is up to us. In September 1924 he was ordered to duty on the USS GOLD STAR which was then fitted out for duty as station ship at Guam. In December, 1925 he was ordered to shore duty at the Naval Station at Guam as communication officer. From there he went to the Navy Yard Puget Sound, Washington for two years. That was followed by a three year cruise as communication officer on the USS MELVILLE. In 1932 he was on duty as communication officer at the Naval Air Station Pensacola, Florida; this was followed by a year as company commander with the CCC stationed at Chicago, Indiana.

In 1934 he was ordered to duty as navigator on the USS ANTARES. This cruise was interrupted by a short stay in the Naval Hospital in Washington, D. C. when he returned to the USS MELVILLE. In 1937 he was on duty at the receiving ship in San Francisco and in the 12th Naval District. In 1938 he was ordered to duty on the USS Langley, going with her to Norfolk Virginia and her berth to Pearl Harbor and Cavite, Philippines. In 1940 he was transferred to duty as First Lieutenant of the USS WHITNEY.

In 1941 he was detached from the USS WHITNEY and ordered to duty in the Ninth Naval District on June 30, he was placed on the retired list with the rank of Lieutenant Commander having completed over thirty one years service.

Since his arrival in the Naval District he has had short periods of duty at Great Lakes, Illinois; then eight months at the Naval Training School at Toledo, Ohio. He has been in Morehead since May 1942.

Lieut. Com. Saunders (Continued From Page One) He has served variously as vice president of the Illinois State Medical Society, two years as secretary of the Chicago Medical Society, and is the president of that organization at the present time. He is a member of the American College of Surgeons, American Medical Association, Illinois State Medical Society, and Chicago Medical Society, and of the North Shore Country Club in Chicago, Ill.

He served as member of the surgical staff of the Naval Hospital here being transferred to the U. S. Naval Training Station, Morehead State Teachers College Morehead.

Training for Victory By Rufus T. Strohm Dean, International Correspondence Schools

WITHOUT machine tools there would be no war of the present type. Without skilled men to build and operate machine tools there could be no war like the one that engulfs the world.

The American workman of his own volition and free will must provide the answer. He can be drafted into labor, but he must have the ambition and the energy to train himself. Management can offer all the inducements known to mankind, but it is the worker who must make the final decision.

Hilda Veteran Is Hero of Rescue Drowning Man

Here's a story about a local Rowan county man that will interest his neighbors. Clarence Thompson is the man. He is from Hilda and is in the CCC veterans camp at Stearns, Ky.

Here's the story. Saturday, June 20, several of the veterans of the camp Roy W. Alley, Willie Gilbert, John W. Millard Pifrey Clarence Thompson and Evert Williams visited the south shore of the mill pond owned and operated by the Stearns Coal and Lumber Company at Stearns, Ky. Later that evening five children of Mr. and Mrs. Silas P. Boyer Newtown were wading in the shallow water near the shore when the enrollees were sitting. None of the children could swim. Madeline stepped into a deep hole and went under. Her father with heavy clothing on and tried to catch her by the hair.

If you're planning a TRAIN TRIP ... here are some hints that will help you — and also help your country's war effort. 1. Travel during mid-week, rather than on congested week-ends. 2. Plan your trip in advance; purchase your railroad and Pullman tickets in advance. 3. If your trip is postponed, immediate cancellation of your reservation will make room for someone else. 4. When your customary Pullman space is not available, accept other accommodation or use coach service. 5. Take your vacation either before or after the heavily traveled summer months. 6. Travel "light"; there's no room on crowded trains for superfluous luggage. 7. Buy round-trip tickets — save time for yourself and the ticket seller. 8. Skip your convention. Special troop trains are more important than special convention trains. 9. Avoid unnecessary travel — buy War Bonds instead. Rail travel in wartime is definitely not "as usual." Like all railroads, Chesapeake and Ohio Lines are engaged in the biggest double-barrelled job in their history... handling increased civilian travel at the same time they carry the military traffic of total war. People in war industries are traveling more... on necessary business. More folks are riding trains since war denied them new cars and taxis. Troops are moving in greater and greater numbers. Increased war tempo demands increased essential travel. So, sometimes you won't find a railroad journey as simple and comfortable as it used to be... or as we should like it to be, as war needs come first. By following these suggestions, you'll be making travel easier for yourself... and, at the same time, you'll be serving your Uncle Sam. CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO LINES
