Americans Revived For Scrap Drive

Another week, and still the news continues that from the Pacific, where the first offensive action for the boys of the USO is taking place. Most of us may not know just where the Solomon Islands are located. We do know however that American boys are in the thick of battle, and that American sailors with the fleet and American airmen are all doing their utmost to give an account of themselves that will make the Japs pause and wonder, as they did at Corregidor and Bataan whether they had used the best of judgment in their sneak-attack on the IJ's.

Plans are being made under the leadership of Russell Barker and the members of his committee to stage a monster Scrap Rally throughout the county sometime in September, the date to be announced later. In the meantime, Mr. Barker announces that he and the members of his Salvage Committee urge every housewife to save all the kitchen grease in glass cans, take similar attitudes, and that both the veteran and the recruit in winning the war, without reference to themselves or to their own safety, it is that spirit that makes Americans the best fighting men in the world.

While accounts are meagre, and will continue so until the release of information will not aid the enemy, we do learn from reports released that our boys are giving a good account of themselves and the Japs are finding them something they had not bargained for. And we have every confidence that when the full reports are released, it will prove to be our first offensive victory of the war on the starting of better things to come, until at last we have driven the Yellow Devils back not only to the point from which they started but into the sea that matches them in both name and attitude.

From Sgt. Grover Trumbo, Sergeant Editor News, Morehead Kentucky. Dear Jack: I wish I thank you for the newspaper that you send me. It sure is a great little newspaper. I liked the article about "Are We Easy?" I was stationed at an airfield somewhere in Hawaii at the time of the attack on December 7 and our field was the first plane the Japs bombed. I was lucky to be one of the guys that wasn't in the way of one of their bombs. The attack came about 7:30 a. m. and we had just finished eating breakfast. Some of the guys were still in bed but they sure hit the deck. I think that there are a lot of things that I would like to tell you folks back there in good old Morehead but the censor would not let it pass. The Japs are not as good as some of our Morehead boys with their rifles. I wish you would print this as I would like to say "Hello" to all of my friends in Morehead and I do CAN NEVER FIND ANOTHER COUNTRY like our own Uncle DO YOUR PART FOR THIS GREAT COUNTRY OF OURS for boys, you know that, YOU CAN NEVER FIND ANOTHER COUNTRY like our own Uncle Sam. So I'll be looking for some of you to come to Hawaii.

Aloha to all my friends in Morehead, Sergeant Grover Trumbo, 15066th, 4th Fighter Squadron AEF, 15th Fighter Group, Care (Continued On Page Two)

Air Cavalcade To Aid Navy Recruiting

Castling precedent aside, the Louisville Navy Recruiting district has taken to the air, adding a third dimension to recruiting as in collaboration with the Civil Air Patrol the personnel begins a series of flying visits to important Kentucky cities in search of new material to man the ships and planes now being built by the United States Navy.

"It is important that every man between 17 and 50 have full opportunity to investigate the Navy as a war-time career before he is forced to make his choice," said Lieutenant G. E. Kincaannon, Jr. Officer in charge of the Louisville Navy Recruiting Station at the final meeting where plans were laid for the Navy Recruiting Air Cavalcade.

The story of the venture in vertical recruiting relies like one of the state's air routes. Airmen from all over the state, learning of the dire need for more men in the Navy put their heads together and with the assistance of W. L. Lyons, Jr. an ardent Civilian, conceived the idea of transporting the entire Navy Recruiting station by air in the form of a flying cavalcade.

Electric Service Is To Be Curtailed

"If you are planning to move to a new residence or place of business, be sure to check up on the available electric service at the new location before. Other wise, you may find yourself without electric service for the duration of the war." This warning has been issued by F. R. Maxey local manager of Kentucky Utilities Company. Mr. Maxey explained that the war, and resultant shortages and priorities which it forced the War Production Board to impose, have required the company to curtail electric service. "Don't blame us or the W. P. B.," he said, "Blame the Axis. We're only doing our part, along with you, to help win the war."

Mr. Maxey added that it would be wise also for prospective home owners to check up on water and sewer installations at the new location before moving, since all utilities are affected by the war curtailments. "In a number of instances," said Mr. Maxey, "we have had people who have moved to residence with only two wire service. In such cases we have not been permitted, and still are not permitted, to connect the third wire to these customers, even if the distance is less than 250 feet, without obtaining approval of the War Production Board." ## Small Girl Bit By Cat, Saved By Rabies Treatment

"Watch your cats," says Dr. F. A. E. Evans, Rowan county health doctor. Dr. Evans had just completed treatment of a five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamm of Plank precinct for rabies. The child had been bitten by a cat, which was examined and found to be rabid. Dr. Evans urges that every one be particularly careful of cats saying that they are much more dangerous than dogs, as one is more apt to pick them up and fondle them. They are usually family cats and there are much more apt to be about the house than a dog. To much caution Dr. Evans cannot be taken to avoid rabies at this season.

Rowan County Has Many Young Men In U.S. Navy

Rowan county may have over five hundred men in the Army, but Rowan county boys have not been neglecting the opportunities offered by the Navy. If the number of men who have volunteered for Navy service during induction week perhaps it is the hundreds of navy uniforms to be seen in and about Morehead that are influencing the youngsters to join up. At any rate, Mr. Little, recruiting chief who makes a regular call here each week, seldom goes away without at least one recruit and usually more who have signed up to "join the Navy and see the world."

day evening, August 14 at 8:30 p. m. Anyone interested in promoting the above suggested club and work in agriculture along the line of adult education is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

It is hoped that four schools can be set up dealing with repair work on farm machinery. The Government during the emergency has greatly lessened the manufacture of new farm equipment and is asking all farmers and farm operators to do as much repair work as possible. The farmers can bring their equipment to the shops and learn to do their own repair work. The dates of their opening will be announced later. The work will be under the direction of Woodrow Wilson Smith-Hughes agriculture teacher for Rowan county.

From time to time the committee selected to direct the work will publish a list of problems to be promoted in the county. Some suggested problems are as follows:

Communities canneries

Sorghum blending plant

of Kentucky where eggs are most scarce, an advance of 10 cents or more may reasonably be expected between the summer and winter peak prices. Reports received at the Experiment Station indicate that there has already been a sharp advance in prices in some parts of the state.

No cessation has arisen for the application of price ceilings to eggs and poultry. These products were not included in the general price ceiling orders of the OFA issued in April. Prices also will have to rise considerably above present levels before there can be ceiling prices imposed under the provisions of the Emergency Price Control and War Production Board.

Yesterday Is Tomorrow

Life is but a collection of memories that do us much assurance. Not by the swift passages of the years but by intangible, and long-remembered scenes, sounds and scents. The brown depths of a little stream seen from a car window bring back the brown-deeped quiet pools of half-forgotten woodlands long ago.

The great oak towers in the quiet field. Was once another friendly tree that swarmed with happy children. Our memories are of simple things—laughter, peace, the carefree summer days and their lullies (haunting by the roadside, or hullocks straight against a wall. "Since yesterday it is long ago," which are after all the great things of life. Only this time we will cleave closer to the credo that these simple happinesses are the right things of all and at the end we will see that they are the lot of ALL.

It was not the Germans of the old school, steeped in the quite peace of "gemuechlich" living who followed Hitler, but the young whose lives had been warped by war, who grew up without traditions and without

Palmer-Daugherty Weddin Solemnized

The wedding of Miss Katherine Wilton Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Milton Palmer, to Lieutenant John Thomas Daugherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Daugherty, all of Morehead, was solemnized at the residence of the bride's father, relative of the bride, on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Methodist church at Morehead.

KATHERINE PALMER DAUGHERTY

The wedding of Miss Katherine Wilton Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Milton Palmer, to Lieutenant John Thomas Daugherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Daugherty, all of Morehead, was solemnized at the residence of the bride's father, relative of the bride, on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Methodist church at Morehead.

The bride, recently arrived from a four length white satin gown made with boujee waist, bouffant skirt, leg mutton sleeves and Sweetheart neckline, was given in marriage by her father. She carried a snow-er bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis. Her veil of white tulle draped from a tiara of white gossamer ribbon and fell into a long graceful train. At her entrance and during the ceremony an illusion veil covered her face but for the recessional it was thrown back.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. James Sidine Northcutt of Louisville. She was dressed in French Blue satin made on the same lines as one bride's gown and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and delphiniums. Mr. Daugherty's best man was his father, Mr. Carroll Daugherty.

Mrs. C. L. Cooper, the organist, played a delightful program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony. Her selections were "Intermezzo," "At Dawning" and "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi." Wagner's "Lohengrin" was the signal for the entrance of the wedding party and during the ceremony she played softly "Liebestraum," Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used for the recessional.

The church was beautifully decorated with ferns, gladiolus and white hydrangeas. The aisle and wall were banked with ferns and tall cathartes, cannulabara and white tapers formed the background. At the foot of the altar where the ceremony was performed were brass candlesticks, interspersed in the ferns. These candlesticks were family heirlooms of the groom's father and had been used in Daugherty weddings for the past several generations. Clusters of white hydrangeas sprang from the altar and decorated the first pews of the church. The ushers, Messrs. Omar Bantz and Phelps Ratliff of Staunton, Buddy Judd and Hubert Allen of Morehead entered as the bride and they were met at the altar by Lieutenant Daugherty and his father, and Reverend Moss. Mrs. Northcutt preceded the bride down the aisle after which the bride entered on the arm of her father.

Mrs. John Palmer, the bride's mother, was becomingly attired in a white sheer dress, white tulle draped from a tiara of white gossamer ribbon and fell into a long graceful train. The groom's mother, were an aqua dress and hat and her shoulder bouquet was of talliesman roses.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the bride's home on College Street. The house was decorated in summer flowers, and the bride's table in the dining room was complete with wedding cake, a centerpiece of white roses, and tall tapers tied with white tulle. The bride and groom were seated in the center of the table.

Mrs. Daugherty was graduated in June from George Peabody College in Nashville. She also attended Morehead State Teachers College and Transylvania where she was a member of Chi Omega social fraternity. Mr. Daugherty attended North Carolina State University and Centre College, where he was a member of Sigma Chi. He is now a Lieutenant in the Marine Air Corps.

The bride wore for a going-away costume a light brown wool suit with brown accessories. Following a short wedding trip, they will be at home in Pensacola, Florida where the groom will be stationed.

Armed Guard aboard the SS St. Paul, which crossed the Atlantic as war clouds gathered over plots, serum demonstrations and permanent pasture experiments. Visitors will take their lunch and after dinner they will inspect the ocheres, dairy and poultry experiments. If others are interested in attending Field Day they should contact the County Agent at the Court House.

Anybody's guess is good. The enrollment of colleges throughout the country will change and in many cases the government will take over entire campuses and transform them into barracks. Students who should be threatened from the sky, young love can dream and plan the times her regular college carefree hours away; and those who have loved may go on to country by establishing a school for the navy.

The collapse of France came long before the fall of France. The Chinese, however fight on because they have known from birth that what has been will be filled at Pearl Harbor because we had forgotten. But once our memories awoke, not to vanishing thoughts of Yorktown, Trenton, and Manila but to Valley Forge and the Alamo and Gettysburg, then we rallied and stood firm.

All of which we are sure lies in the past. The strong, certain things of living—in these we can build, so that again small children may pick black-eyed Susans in a field free from the threat from the sky, young love can dream and plan the times her regular college carefree hours away; and those who have loved may go on to country by establishing a school for the navy.

What's more important, it has the same main ingredient as BLACK-DRUGHT, its older companion. Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief from the familiar symptoms which show a laxative is needed. Comes in two sizes: 2oz. & 4oz.

Bomb 'em with JUNK

Let's blast Japan—and Germany—and Italy—with the chain lightning of destruction that can be built from the scrap in our cellars, attics and garages, on our farms and in our places of business. Scrap iron and steel, other metals, rubber and waste materials. It will all be used to make tanks, ships, planes and the fighting weapons our boys must have. It is needed at once. Sell it to a Junk dealer—give it to a charity or collection agency—take it yourself to the nearest collection point—or consult the Local Salvage Committee... If you live on a farm, and have found no means of disposing of your Junk, get in touch with the County War Board or your farm implement dealer. Throw YOUR scrap into the fight! OUR OWN AFFAIRS MUST WAIT

FOLKS: Comes the middle of this month and our company will be thirty years old. And because we like birthday parties (who doesn't?) the twelve headed men and women of our organization had planned to celebrate during August the company's growth and solid achievements, and have our customers in the party. But that was before Pearl Harbor. Now everything is changed. Our own affairs must wait. Victory comes first. We Americans know we must win this war. We know we must wipe out the enemies that would destroy our civilization. Life wouldn't be worth living if the barbarian Nazis and the bestial Japs should reduce us to the slavery of conquered lands. And shame would haunt us till the end of time if we failed to avenge the Treachery of December 7, and the Butcheries of Manila, Batan and Corregidor. So—the engineers, electricians, stokers, linemen and maintenance, transformer and meter experts who operate our power houses and transmission systems—and our office forces too—are devoting their energies to one big job of producing more electricity for war needs. And—all our equipment is helping to supply kilowatts for factories making guns, planes and explosives. Yes—we're going to be much too busy for birthday parties until the next Armistice Day. . . . and then we'll join you all in celebrating victory!
