By RUTH YOUNGBLOOD HONOLULU (UP) The only royal palace in the United States once the home of Hawaii's soverigns, is being brought back to its original days of beauty and grandedr. The sounds of long roug voices and music will once again echo through the four floors and six towers of Iolani Palace, and Hawaian history will come to life.

Making the 92-year-old pal-ace "live again" is the goal of restoration project director George Moore and his team of co-workers.

"The idea is not to try to gild a box," Moore said, "but to put a heart infô it, bring it to life, and keep it alive."

Drowning Causes Many Deaths

Summertime fun in the sun should be tempered by thoughts of safety. Drowning is the fourth-leading cause of accidental death. Do be careful. Don't be a statistic.

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y.

Overweight and lack of exercise are the problems the woman over 40 should avoid, according to a nationvide health report just released. Called "Progress in Health: A Report to Womer." It start proved by Sone Information Center on the Mature Woman Report to Womec. "It was grey-yeak by the Information Center on the Mature Woman bere. Overweight, which affilicts 60 percent of all Americans, the report notes, is one of the key causes of heart disease. It also tends to citing statistics which show that "wree-weight people just don't live a long as those who can still find their own waislines." Women over 60, it emphasizes, need to cut down their intake of food and drink because "the mature body requires fewer calories than it orace did." Cholesterol-whose fatty deposits can block the coronary arteries and bring on beart attack-is also singled out for attention. According to the report, certain foods in the American diet must be minimized and others maximized to help prevent this condition. It notes that more fish, poultry, fruit and vegetables are recommended, while fatty meast and whole milk dairy products should generally be avoided.

Automated Checkups

Automated Checkups Physical checkups, the report observes, are not what they used to be, disclosing that "sophisticated technology, automation and computers have now entered the picture." OUR MISTAKE — The last issue of the Morehead News carried a page one picture showing William T. Burkett. It was a good picture with perity as a the is; and friend Burkett all business as usual. But, the caption said the check was for $12,000 when it was reall $12,000. Just a little typographical error. Kentucky's largest newspaper would make the retraction: "Beg Your Pardon." OUR MISTAKE - The last issue of the the retraction: "Beg Your Pardon." INEVITABLE — Here's what will soon happen in Morehead, site of deveral recent retail store break ins. Burglars will break been doing all too frequently. And, a minute or so later the store will be surrounded with drawn-gun policemen. Many retail establishments are connected with a system so a light flashes in the police station when a beam inside the store is breken. Norman Tani thought he would try the system out at the store operated by his wife. The police form near put dhem. "Thanks, boys I just, wanted to see if you're on the jok." They dern near put Tani in jail, and he'd called this Publisher to make bail. We would have purposely showed up a couple hours late to go his bond.

TAX'MONEY — Rowan County is not too bad.off for cash money. See the annual financial statement printed elsewhere in this issue. But, Judge Ott Caldwell points out it'll beelong time before the 25 rural road bridges washed away by the July 17 flash flood are registorgd unless a big disaster area check is forthforming from Civil Defense. The county desen't have this kind of money. Nothing is more thwarding than to be on the wrong side of a no-bridge creek.

BIG HEARTED ME — A nice man walked into the Morehead News office Friday with an advertisement. We ended up mining it for free, first time we can real withing like this happening since a good looking girl ataked us into lowing up used looking girl ataked us into lowing up user columns the picture of her engaged many yfaris temaned the Roman County dio not have a the Roman County dio not have a thighty qualified who is locating here — Dr. Samuel K. don't possess any four-legged or two-legged animals, but ran the ad in news form to help you farmers who have your subscription paid up. Besides, we didn't want to scare away the new D.V.M. by telling him that he'd have to treat five or six real side cows for what a quarter-page ad costs in this paper. (Wonder how Dr. Grant is with race horses?)

FOUL AIR - California newspapers don't mention their smog because it hurts business. We think it won't hurt business in Morehead one whit by saying here that we've had the worst summer overcast in years. Maybe those fellows fooling around with the moon really, did foul up the atmosphere atmosphere.

AttremPTED VIOLATIONS — Word keeps reaching this desk that the big boys in the food business — the processors — tried-some fast ones in the Morehead area the day after President Nixon's wage and hour mandate, i.e., bread arrived Monday morning priced three cents a load higher — meat packers advanced prices, drastically so _____, and, many other perisitable were up is percent. It didn't work, and they were forced to the before Nixon spoke prices.

EASY TO CATCH — This price preces. EASY TO CATCH — This price freeze works like this — If the manufacturer (processor) marks it too high; and the wholesaler or food depot follows with a higher price to the stores; and the retail outlets advance the price accordingly, then all three are guilty. So, they obviously must watch each other. And, the housewife is the good spy and informant to get the whole ball of wax rolling.

SHE KNOWS — A food store manager tells us, it's virtually impossible to fool housewives. He says the store might have a slow-moving item that few people know the cost. But, there's always a woman who regularly purchases that item, and she knows what it sold for before Nixon finally got enough guits to do what this newspaper editorially advocated months ago.

POLICED – Elsewhere in this issue is a story about where to call (toll free) to complain on consumer items. And, pretty soon you'll have area centers for protest if you think a retail item is being sold above the price before the freeze. (Some are exempted, like produce).

HARD. ON ORGANIZERS. — The Morchead Rews editorially and after Nixon's wage and price order that the labor unions would blow their top. Well, they have and are even threatening to ite up everything in the nation. What good is a union or a labor organizer if he can't promise a bigger pay check to the members? And, there's a possibility regulated wages could be here for a long time.

PHOTOGENC - Few pictures have appeared in this newspaper attracting as much local comment as the one has been issue of seven year old Anita Buckner, RFD 3, holding her doll. The photographer is right - Anita is photographically beautiful and has the ability to give a wide range of expressions in a short period of time. The picture in the Morehead News was reprinted from the cover of the Wesleyan Advocate, a church publication with five figure circulation.

COULD SAVE LIVES — The Kentucky Traffic Coordinating Committee which complets the driver license revocation for the Morehead News came out this work with a 12 page coloring book. It's free, and we're right certain that if your boy or girl colors: this book he, or she will know a lot more about safety. The coloring book is exceptional we think the book. "Having Fun and Playing Safe" will soon be availabble to you, perhaps as give-aways at your food market.

STREAMLINED - The 1972 model cars STREAMLINED — The 1972 model cars will soon be displayed . . . we have the advance pictures. Best part is they will be priced, on the average, $200 cheaper. Nixon took off the excise tax.

TO THE POINT – Rule of the annual Piug Horse Derby at Lexington on Sept. 4 – "Any horse, not legally declared dead by an Act of Congress which has four lega, can walk and isn't named Majestic Prince, Nashua or Canonero II, or has ever been entered in a thoroughbred race, is eligible."

COMING, NOT SOON — The Kentucky Department of Health sent us a two page story about a state-wide series of advanced courses in emergency medical care, each with 40 students, one of which is to be at Morehead. The Morehead course doesn't Morehead. The Morehead course doesn't start until next Feb. 14 with Dr. Earl Barley as coordinator, We'll print the details when the time gets closer.

SCOREBOARD - Few Morehead News SCOREBOARD - Few Morenead News editorials have been reprinted so much or had the impact as one two issues back saying the University of Kentucky is using the community college network in an effort to control all higher education in the Commonwealth, and to eventually make the VIKING CHEERLEADERS . . . started its (big) fall and winter term. PREDICTION — Everybody seems pessimistic and in disagreement, but we still, hold that fall registration at MSU will loop 6,000. You'll scom know: BALLOT QUESTION — A wants-to-be-friend whispered in our ear the other day that one of the candidate's for Governor would win because he would scom amounce for a real exist but yearworhtion to the elderit would win because he would soon announce for a real estate tax exemption to the elderly. It's a little behind the times. The Nov. 2 ballot will contain a constitutional amendment question (referendum) providing a $6,500 tax exemption on the residential property of a person 65 years of are or older.

They are giving away at all their reservoir shares are bags — large plastic litter bags — to boaters, campers and picnickers. This is an atterm to keep the keep, camp sites, picnic areas, beaches and other recreation facilities clean. We hope the sas bags hold out until Cave Run is open to the public on Memorial Day of 1973. CONCLUDING — If you don't like all the traffic on the streets, and congestion in Nother places. The streets, and congestion in Nother places. Everythin us readjuire in all metry county seats . . One feature of the styles of 0 years ago is being eavied in that the "Rugged look" is again becoming fashionable — . Most people are busily ungaged in trying to find ways and means for insulating themselves from the wage-price freeze . . . We know a person in Morehead who always has something good to say about everybody, but that doesn't help his reputation for veracity . . . Americans have achieved the highest hand-to-mouth standard of ling the work has ever known . . In our book it is perfectly deht to ite to a person who asis a guestion about something that is none of his business.

stresses safety for children playing near streets and roadways, with particular emphasis on crossing and bicycling.

"We have gained the cooperation of the Kentucky State Police," he said, "and they will be distributing the book to all children who go through the State Police Safety Town" exhibit at the State Fair. We expect it to be received with enthusiasm by the parents of these children."

Beard said he hopes the safety-coloring books will teach young children the importance of safe playing while near roadways, "and, it the same time, provide a basis for more advanced levels of highway safety education they will receive when they grow older."

Copies of the coloring book may be obtained by writing the KTSCC at Room 1001, State Office Building; Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

THURSDAY MORNING, AUG. 26, 1971 Doran Addresses

Students want better teaching, parents desire secure campuses and the public is demanding more goods and services for tax-money spent on all levels of education, Morehead State University President Adron Doran told the MSU faculty last. Saturday. Addressing more than 1,000 persons at the annual faculty-staff funcheon, Dr. Doran said Kentucky's univertities and colleges are moving away from the problems of student dissent into the "crucical" area of reassuring their objectives, roles and direction.

Testaining uner opperations of the opperation of the most critical issues which the General Assembly must face in this decade is how higher education will be organized and coordinated and where the educational centers of gravity will be established." he and

Dr. Doran, entering his 18th year as MSU President, said university employees should not expect higher salaries and additional facilities until the system demonstrates greater efficiency and more concern for developing each student's full potential. He predicted faculty members will have heavier teaching loads and larger classes as operating costs continue to climb. The president said MSU's fall semester enrollment is expected to top last year's figure of 6,660.

Every four years there are charges that the incumbent governor is handing out jobs as favors to drum up support for the candidacy of the man that governor would like to succeed him.

The total number of state employes now as compared to four years ago reflects an average increase of 2.5 per cent a year, but the boost over last year's total of 28,774 represents a 6 per cent

The seasonal and other jobs are those most often mentioned as being handed out for political gain since the control over them is not so strict as over permanent full-time jobs under the merit system.

But the 4.272 employes now in such jobs actually number 100 fewer than was the case four years ago.

KILL POVERTY BY WORKING IT TO DEATH

The Editor:

The Editor: Relief may keep body and soul together but it's hard on the soul. If relief were restricted to the truly helpless — if waste and dishonesty were cut out of the program and this money used instead to teach men and women to work and produce for themselves — then we would be on the way the text to the truly hower tormastinnate hemselves — then we would be on the way get last to the truly honest, compassionate plan for which Relief was originally designed. Almost all people can be taught to produce something useful. And they should, because the simplest ability honestly applied can lead to skill, and skill can lead to self-reliance and self-respect— and happiness. And that, after all, is what it's all ill Dalieg Morehead, Ky.

Their offenses range from truancy or being beyond parental control to assault and battery and armed robbery. While many are committed to an institution for the first time, some have been caught and sent a oumber of times to the correctional camps and centers.

correctional camps and centers. John, a 16-year-old, was committed to the department for being incorrigible beyond correction. He said when he was younger he stole toys from another youth who lived on his street. "I hid the toys in the woods behind my houses ol wouldn't get caught." he said during a recent conversation at a Child Welfare boy's camp. "I'd always go out there to play with them."

One day John did get caught stealing. He and his stepmother, whom he declares he hates, argued and he ran away from home.

He's been at the camp for most than six months. His stepmother doesn't want any member of the family to associate with him, he said. "She told me I had embarassed her in front of all her friends because I was caught stealing."

Now the fun has worn off and he says he's ready to settle down. An auto mechanic in his bometown has promiséd him a job when he is released, George said. George said.

A few weeks ago, he said, he received a letter from his father saying the family doesn'twant to see him again. So he will not return to his home, but will live with foster parents or at a YMCA. Like John he will be required to make frequent reports to a social worker.

Fifteen-year-old Mary was sent to one of the department's girls' centers nine months ago after she repeatedly ran away from home and skipped school.

Mary's mother died eight years ago. She said her father might be termed an alcoholic. "It hurt me to see him drink so much so I ran away." she said. Because her father was hurting her by drinking she ran away to hurt him. The last time, to spite her father, she left home with a man more than twice her age. Guided group interaction sessions have helped her face her problem and find ways to cope with it, she said.

May Returns To School

Recently she went home for a three-week trial period, which she feels was a success. Now she feels she is ready to go home and live with her father because she understands him better. She also is ready to return to school. She's taken secretarial training at a nearby girls' center, also operated by Child Welfare, and

The Kentucky State Fair

Line Kentucka By Larry Klashop A ningeral part of any Kentucky Derby is a thorough discussion of the race's history mong all interested parties. In fact, many Kentuckians may remember earlier races caller than more recent once. The fortunately, the Kentucky Sate Pair doesn't seem to generate such possigle based of the second second second second interesting miscolose have courted. The first state fair in Kentucky was held in tifs. It wiss set up by and held on the Georgetown Pike farm of Col. Lewis Sanders mar Lexington. The event featured Sanders' Merino abeep – his hobby – the state fair is to the set up by and a political towing of Dariman cuttle, and the political towing of the political to the political towing the towing of Darima cuttle, and the Dariman cuttle, and the political towing of the cut towing of the political towing of the cut towing of the political towing of the cut towing of the political towing of the permanent toward and over granted the permanent and the permanent and the towing of the permanent and the permanen contrast. The 1917 appointment of J.O. Matlick, the first full-time fair manager, did much to strengthen the fair's wobbly financial legs and restore its former prestige. Construction was begun in 1960 for new facilities and was completed in 1956 at a total cost of $16 million. Today it is valued at more than $38 million. Today it is valued at more than $38 million memorbale are those those that the train locomotives were deliberately crashed head on at full speed. Likewise, few old timers will forget the summer of 1913 when a severe drought almost ruined Keniucky crosp - and any chance of having the event. It was held nonetheless, but as one might guess, it rained every day of the fair.

rained every day of the fair. Despite the changes and differences between early fairs and those of today, striking similarities remain to both the fairs and our times. In 1919 for instance, we were, as now, watching the progress of pasce and worzy the constitutional amendment, out our bury of a constitutional amendment, and worzy ing over an inflationary economy.

Job Opportunities

More than 1 million job training opportunities are expected to be difered to disadvantaged and unemployed persons through the Labor Department's Manpower Administration during fiscal 1971. This is an increase of more than 10 percent over fiscal 1971.
