War Department Gives Silver Star To Former MC Student

Lt. William L. Linkous Wounded In Action In Raid Over Italy

Lt. William L. Linkous, former Morehead State teacher, Kentucky, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action, according to an announcement by the War Department. Notice that Lt. Linkous had been wounded while in action in the Mediterranean area was reported in a previous issue of this paper erroneously under the name of Lt. William L. Kehoe.

Lt. Linkous, who attended Morehead State Teachers College until the spring term of 1940-41, was serving as a navigator on a B-17 when the exploit for which the medal was given occurred. On January 3 his bomber was sent on a mission to bomb railroad yards in Italy, and it was on this mission that he was wounded.

"Before reaching the target," said the citation accompanying the medal, "the formation was intercepted by twenty enemy fighters and was subjected to an accurate and intense barrage of anti-aircraft fire. Lieutenant Linkous was seriously wounded when shrapnel fragments pierced his left arm but despite severe pain, he continued to fire at the attacking fighters. Fearing that morphine might dull his mind, this officer refused medical attention and proceeded to assist the bombardier, so that accurate bombardment of the target could be achieved.

"When his aircraft was forced to leave the formation to make an emergency landing at the nearest Allied air base in order to provide

Morehead Woman's Club To Entertain At USO Saturday

Continuing the tradition of farewell parties for Morehead sailors the Morehead Woman's club will sponsor a St. Patrick's Day party in the USO club rooms on Saturday night, March 11, in honor of the Sixth Division.

The local organization of the USO, directed by Mrs. J. D. Falls, and the junior hostesses, under the supervision of Miss Mary Frank Wiley, will be on hand as usual. These USO parties, under general USO supervision but with the active assistance of various other organizations, have become somewhat of a custom at the local center and have been uniformly successful.

In addition to the usual games and dancing, a committee in charge is planning a variety show. Some prizes will be awarded to sailor guests.

Committee Urges Citizens To Save Wrapping Paper

The committee in charge of salvaging waste paper has announced that in addition to magazines, newspapers, cardboard and corrugated papers, used wrapping paper and paper sacks are also acceptable.

The newspapers flat in bundles 12 inches high, magazines 12 inches high.

Because of the regional basketball tournament, the Girl Scouts will not collect waste paper next Saturday afternoon, but persons who have paper that must be collected this week-end are urged to call Nanette Robinson, Nell Fair, or Peggy Reynolds by Thursday noon.

Republicans To Select Committeemen March 18

On Saturday, March 18, at 2:00 p. m., the Republicans of Rowan County will meet in convention to select precinct committeemen and committeewomen. It was announced this week by Joe McKinney, Rowan County Republican Chairman. The meeting will be held in the Courthouse in Morehead.

This will be the regular four-year organization meeting. All Republicans are urged to be present at that time.

Red Cross Work Is Difficult As Well As Costly

Aiding Prisoners Of War Is One Of Many Humane Services It Renders

One of the most difficult, costly and important foreign services of the American Red Cross is the international agreement. Early in the war the general conditions in German prison camps are reported to be fairly satisfactory and in accord with the terms of the Geneva Convention. Parcels of food shipped by the Red Cross are redistributed to prisoners in these camps.

Japan is not a signer of the Geneva Convention. Early in the war the Japanese Government agreed to abide by the terms of the international agreement, but so far has refused either to permit inspection of prison camps or to admit to Japanese ports any neutral vessels carrying Red Cross goods. Small shipments of prisoner of war packages did reach Japan on the diplomatic exchange vessels and helped to relieve the sufferings of our captured boys. The quantity is far too meager, and the Red Cross is continuing under great difficulties its efforts to obtain from the Japanese government some kind of an agreement whereby prisoners of war in Japanese camps may receive the sort of treatment which is accorded to them by all civilized nations.

Another great work of the Red Cross is in maintaining rest camps and entertainment centers in the forward areas close to the battle front. Miss E. Robinson of Morehead was active in this work through much of the North African campaign and is now believed to be conducting a similar work in Italy. An article by Miss Helen Hall in the Survey Graphic magazine for January gives a detailed description of the kind of work in Australia and New Caledonia. What the USO does at home and in the base camps the Red Cross carries on

American Legion To Hold Dinner Meeting March 15

The American Legion, Coibie Ellington Post 126, cordially invites all veterans of World War I to attend a dinner meeting to be held in the dining room of the Midland Trail Hotel, Wednesday evening, March 15, at 6 o'clock. The meeting is designed to promote better comradeship between the veterans of World War I and veterans of the present conflict.

Warning Issued To Kite Flyers

Kentucky Utilities Warns Against Tragic Accidents

Now that the kite flying season is here, the Kentucky Utilities Company has issued a warning to kite flyers and older would-be kite flyers against flying kites near electric power lines. Some helpful suggestions are offered as follows: "Remember that a kite tangled in the lines or falls across them, immediately call the electric company office, so that men familiar with the trouble as well as instructions can be dispatched at once to do the job."

Ration Stamp For Shoes Good May 1

Another ration stamp will be made good for one pair of shoes beginning May 1. E. Reed Wilson, District Director of the Office of Price Administration, announced this week. The previous coupon, Airplane Stamp 1 in War Ration Book Three, will overlap; the new stamp will continue to be good indefinitely. However, Stamp One in Book One will be terminated on April 30.

No announcement was made as to which new Stamp will be used, but rationing officials said that OPA will designate the valid coupon shortly before May 1. Assurance that there will be a new stamp on this date is being given in advance so that the public and the shoe trade can plan accordingly. Mr. Wilson, telephone

Army-Navy Tests To Be Given Here Wednesday, Mar. 5

Persons Interested Report To Morehead High School At 9:00 O'Clock A. M.

The third nationwide test for candidates who wish to be considered for the Army Specialized Training Program and the Navy College Program V-12 will be held on March 15, at 9:00 a. m., at Morehead high school, room 13. The purpose of this test is to answer questions concerning the nature of the program, eligibility requirements, steps to be taken by eligible candidates in advance of the test, and the nature of the test, including sample questions.

The test may be given at any high school, preparatory school, or college in the United States attended by students who wish to take the test. Any student who is interested and eligible should notify his principal or college official of his desire to take the test. Students who do not meet the eligibility requirements in every respect are not permitted to take the test.

Students who take the qualifying test will be required to indicate on the day of the test their preference for the Army or Navy or both of the Navy. Taking the test does not constitute enlistment in either branch of the armed services; that is, having taken the test, a student is not obligated to enter the program if he is accepted. No change in preference may be made after the day of the test. Therefore, anyone who expects to take the qualifying test should consider carefully in advance (a) the eligibility requirements for each program, and (b) if eligible for both programs, which one is preferred. No instructions have been issued to local Selective Service Boards to defer students on the grounds that they may be chosen for participation in the ASTP or the Navy V-12 Program.

David Kidd Joins Ton-Per-Acre Club

David Kidd raised 2,348 pounds of tobacco in 1.1 acres in 1943. When asked how he raised so much tobacco on that acreage, Kidd said he had a good tobacco ground to start with and that he spread 19 wagon loads of manure on the land. Mr. Kidd broadcast 1,000 pounds of 20 percent phosphate and 1,000 pounds of 3-9-6 on the 1.1 acres. Mr. Kidd placed his rows 4 feet apart and set the plants 1 foot apart. Mr. Kidd stated that one thing that helped him get off on a good start was his tobacco bed which was 9 feet wide and 110 feet long. He had plenty of plants at the first plowing to set his acreage. Like many other good tobacco growers, Mr. Kidd printed the bottom leaves. In 1943 he saved 300 pounds by pruning. The tobacco raised on the 1.1 acres netted $922.00.

Marcus Redwine To Be Guest Speaker At Methodist Church

Hon. Marcus C. Redwine, a prominent lawyer from Winchester, Ky., is to be the speaker at the annual Laymen Day services of the local Methodist Church on Sunday morning, March 12th, and a cordial invitation is being extended to the people of Morehead to come and hear Mr. Redwine who has been the Conference Lay Leader of the Kentucky Methodist Conference for a number of years. The men of the community are especially urged to attend this service.

Forest Chief Asks For More Sawlogs

To Cut More Pulpwood

"Sawlogs, pulpwood, veneer logs and other forest products are urgently needed war materials," states Lyle F. Watts, Chief of the United States Forest Service, in an article received today by K. G. McConnell, Director of the Kentucky Division of Forestry. "This wood," Watts points out, "must be had if we are to supply and transport the men and materials needed to win this war. This winter we are depending heavily on the farm woodland owners of the country for a very substantial share of the production which will be required to back up our men at the fighting fronts. I want to urge every farm woods owner who has ripe farm timber to do two things: first, cut and market as much wood as he can; second, follow good forestry practices in regard to timber management, so that a good stand of timber will be left growing for future crops."

"Besides the wood needed for ships, truck bodies, temporary field huts and other essential military uses, billions of feet of creating and boxing material are needed to ship food and supplies to our Armed Forces overseas," the Chief Forester stated. "In addition there is need for boxing and crating and other essential uses on the home front. This is important to the farmer, himself, as it helps him to get his produce to market in satisfactory condition. There has been a shortage of produce crates and boxes."

Watts also pointed to the need for pulpwood. Pulpwood is a source of cellulose from which explosives, paper, shell cases and

Area Scouting Meeting to Be Held

E. H. Baiken, National Director of Rural Scouting, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting and dinner of the Blue Grass Area Boy Scout Council, according to an announcement from Area Headquarters. The annual affair, one of the most important held by the Council during the year, will occur Thursday, March 16, at the Lafayette Hotel, Lexington.

Rowan County Scouters are expected to join delegates from the thirty four counties served by the Council to take part in the meeting at which the annual report of the year's work will be presented. Officers and board members for the year will be elected, and the awards for distinguished service presented. The meeting will be preceded by a Rural Scouting week held at a meeting of the Area Board of Scouts. The meeting will be held at the Lexington Hotel, Lexington, Ky. The meeting will be held at the Lexington Hotel, Lexington, Ky. The meeting will be held at the Lexington Hotel, Lexington, Ky.

OPA Launches Drive To Control Retail Merchants

6,000 Food Stores Will Be Visited In Lexington District

A drive to mobilize price control forces among retailers and consumers in the 56 counties of the Lexington District of the Office of Price Administration will be launched March 13, under the direction of the Lexington District Office of Price Administration, announced this week.

Approximately 6,000 food stores in the Lexington District will be visited by more than 700 Ration Board employees and price control associates between March 13 and 18, Mr. Wilson said. In this survey, ten popular "Market Basket" foods will be checked for selling and ceiling prices. Subsequent checks will be made during the following three weeks to determine if prices are being kept in line and to report ceiling violations. Mr. Wilson stated, the survey will be carried out entirely by the local boards, he said.

Although the basic purpose of this store survey is to obtain better compliance with price control regulations, Mr. Wilson emphasized that the drive will also serve to protect storekeepers and their customers from Black Market operations. "This is not a get-tough job," he declared. "While the boards recognize the need for enforcement action in some cases, the primary purpose of the survey is to help retailers and consumers to help them get 100 per cent compliance with these regulations which will firm control of prices and living costs in this territory. This joint effort of retailers, consumers and the government is the most important thing that will be done during the year."

C. O. Peratt To Head Crippled Children Rowan Campaign

$100,000 To Be Raised In Kentucky During Drive

To find, treat, help and cure thousands of crippled children in 1944, the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children asks its friends for $100,000 during its Easter Seal Sale and Membership Campaign, March 25-April 9.

Mr. C. O. Peratt of Morehead has accepted chairmanship of the campaign in Rowan County, it was announced by Neil Dalton, Louisville, who again heads the statewide drive.

"When you give to the January March of Dimes for children stricken by polio, you helped about 20 per cent of the boys and girls served by the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission and its private cooperating agency, the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children," explained Mr. Dalton, who in addition to being chairman of the Society's Easter drive is chairman of the Kentucky State Chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Half the money raised in Kentucky during the polio drive will be administered by the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, as an official state agency. The other half goes to New York for research. The Easter drive of The Kentucky Society, which is the right arm of the state Commission, raises funds to help ALL crippled children, including polio cases. The coming Easter campaign is a statewide effort to help restore any crippled child in the state to health and happiness."

Since 1924 Commission and Society have furnished free examination to 15,388 physically handicapped boys and girls and treated 8,762. It is estimated that there are usually between two and three thousand on the waiting list. Treatment centers are in all counties, Lexington, and Louisville.

Campaign methods to be followed include the mailing of Easter Seals, personal solicitation for membership in the Society, and in some areas the sale of Easter seals by school children and a Tag Day on April 8.

Dr. B. R. Lakin To Speak Here April 4

The Rev. Dr. B. R. Lakin, guiding "Family Prayer Period" broadcast from Cade Tabernacle, Indianapolis, will speak at the Morehead State Teachers College Auditorium, Tuesday evening, April 4. The meeting will be an occasion for a great youth rally here, and because of Dr. Lakin's popularity with the youth of this territory, a large audience is anticipated.

Scouting

Area Council were responsible for a total of $18,000 in the Fourth War Loan according to an announcement today when W. H. Vaughan, District Chairman of the Scouts of Morehead, joined more than a thousand other Scouts of the Council and contributed $3,275 in pledges to the Area total which is expected to be in excess of $100,000 when all reports are made.

Taking to the field in twenty three towns, the boys ran a "gleaner-after-the-reaper" campaign in the losing days through the drive asking in territory already solicited by regular bond campaigns. All pledges were turned over to the regular workers to make the actual sales.

Mr. Vaughan stated that the Scouts of Morehead averaged from 10 to 80 calls each in making their intensive door-to-door canvass. The Morehead record, according to Area Scout Executive Edwin Hall was one of the best in the 34 county area served by the Blue Grass Council.

tion," a magazine published by the American Educational Association, a magazine published for the instructors and administrative officers of the colleges, universities, and professional schools in the United States, carries an article by Dr. R. L. Hoke, professor at Morehead State Teachers college, titled "Giving Intellect Emphasis."

Dr. Hoke stresses the importance of an educational system which will provide better and more specialized training for those persons who possess extraordinary mental powers. "In the months ahead," he states, "we may look for tremendous expansion of facilities for training those exceptionally mentally gifted. The primary function of higher institutions of learning ought to be the assimilation and training of this group, involving possible reorganization of administrative machinery, and certainly requiring elimination of viewpoint for participating instructional staffs.

Latin-American Program Success As Lyceum Number

He listed and briefly summarized a number of assumptions underlying such a program, as follows:

1. Greater familiarity is needed with the identifying characteristics of persons with extraordinary mental powers, supplemental to usual conventional tests.
2. Instruction should be directed by persons who hold scholarship in high regard, in the hope that they will communicate scholastic appreciation to students.
3. On entering college the student needs advice from some wise person on how to avoid letting a curricular organization prevent his getting an education.
4. Provisions should be made to enable the student to distinguish between the mass of unimportant details and the relatively few crucial matters that need attention.
5. Invention, individuality, creativity, and independent thinking are to be encouraged by reasonable freedom of action.
6. Intellectual activity may be aroused in the well-known Socratic manner, in which students are led to distinguish between the easy in response to strategically put questions. Good lectures, like good books, are gauged to make one think not by what they tell, but by implication.
7. Teaching ability is more than ability to explain so pupils can understand. Students need to pose problems, not just solve them.
8. Compartmentalism is not synonymous with intelligent integration and is to be avoided. Books or lectures to be most serviceable must have sufficient vertical viewpoint to attack problems on all fronts.
9. Marking may reasonably have for one of its bases the degree of intelligence with which students can disagree with the instructor.
10. Segregation of the gifted is better than miscellaneous grouping, but neither appears to be the equivalent of a conference type of individualized instruction.
11. When drudgery and red tape are removed from scholastic pursuits, the question whether promotion should be based on a "work" or "time" basis becomes largely moot. Perhaps both plans should be made available, as students elect to suit their brains, financial resources, and inclination.
12. Because of the close relationship between extraordinary intellectual capacity and mental and neural disorders, proper health safeguards should include wholesome living and acquaintance with the principles of mental hygiene.

"Society will indubitably flourish," Dr. Hoke concludes, "unless we can, through segregation of some fortunate scheme, reach with our superior mental techniques those who are endowed intellectually for civic responsibility."

Breck Speech Club To Sponsor Contests In Fifth, Sixth Grades

The Breckinridge Speech club will sponsor a speech contest between the fifth and sixth grades in Breckinridge chapel Monday, March 20. It is hoped that by interesting the students of the lower grades a speech department may be perfected for future years. The Speech club officers and sponsors will be judges. They are president, Frances Young Penix; vice president, Peggie Reynolds; secretary, Barbara Ann Hogge.

Emello and Teresita Osta Feature Music and Dancing For Morehead Audience

The lyceum program of Morehead State Teachers college, under the direction of Professor C. O. Peratt, presented as one of its features a program of Spanish and Latin American music and dancing by Emello and Teresita Osta on Tuesday evening, February 29. Emilio Osta, a brilliant concert pianist, and his sister, Teresita, were born in California of Castilian parents and started their music and dancing careers early in their lives. They have traveled extensively in Mexico, Cuba, Argentina and Brazil, giving concerts and gathering material for their performances.

They have appeared in concerts both singly and together, in Brazil, Uruguay, Argentina, Mexico, England, Spain, Cuba, Canada, South Africa and Hong Kong, as well as in almost every large city of the United States. Teresita has done solo dancing performances in the Hollywood productions of "Girl of the Golden West," "Tropical Holiday," and "One Mad Kiss." She has appeared in Spanish ballets in the Hollywood Bowl and at the Municipal Opera in St. Louis, and was presented in an engagement at the famed Rainbow Room in New York City. She has also performed a number of times in New York's Radio City Music Hall.

Mrs. Ella Brown Appointed Director For Eastern Ky.

Mrs. Ella Layne Brown has been appointed Area Director of the Save the Children Federation for Eastern Kentucky, according to an announcement by national headquarters in New York City. She has a wide background of social work, having taken her training at the Missionary Training School and the University of Cincinnati, and done advanced work at both the New York School of Social Work and the University of London, England.

She has come to the Federation from the State Welfare Department of Kentucky, where she was Supervisor of Social Service in the Division of Hospitals and Mental Hygiene. For nearly fifteen years she was with the American Red Cross in Washington, D. C., supervising the Appalachian mountain section, developing a general program, and participating in disaster work in Lorain, Ohio, the tornado at Black Mountain, and other catastrophes such as Northeastern Kentucky and Tennessee floods of 1927 and 1930, and the 1930 drought. At present, aside from her work with the Federation, she is Chairman of the Advisory Committee of Hospital Social Workers of the Division of Hospitals and Mental Hygiene, State Welfare Department of Kentucky, and is a member of many other organizations of a like nature. Mrs. Brown is a member of the American Association of Social Workers.

Tentative candidates for the sixth grade are: Poetry Reading (humorous)—Billy Calvert reading "The First Banjo." Poetry Reading (dramatic)—Jenny Lou White reading "America For Me." Oratorical Declaration—James Lowell Ellington reading "Men of Tomorrow." Oratorical Declaration (division 2)—Evelyn Caudill reading "Madame Curie." Interpretive Reading (dramatic)—Melvin Frank Laughlin reading "The Battle of Bull Run."

Each of Teresita's dances is accompanied by a different costume, and each costume is authentic. Most of them were acquired in the countries in which the dance originated, and others were designed especially for Teresita by outstanding designers. A number of native-made pieces are included in the costumes.

Emello Osta has studied under Godovsky and Josef Lefvianski, and he is a leading interpreter of the Spanish and Latin American music. His program included some of the works of Albeniz, de Falla, Granados, and Lecuona, as well as some arrangements of his own. He has appeared in numbers of individual concerts throughout the country, and has also had performances with other renowned dancers, including Goya, Escudero, and Argentinas.

1, 1944, are eligible to take this test. Those who receive satisfactory scores are instructed to present their qualifying notices to Army authorities after induction. These candidates are then sent to special Army training stations for their thirteen weeks of basic military training. During this basic training period selection is made to fill the vacancies in the ASTP courses. The number of vacancies will vary due to the changing needs of the Army, and can be predicted for only a month or two in advance.

Growers Will Get Price Floor For Many Vegetables

Growers who sell to certified processors under contract will receive price support on eight principal vegetables this year if the Congress approves the War Food Administration's proposed price program, now awaiting action, said Winfred Caudill, State Supervisor of the Office of Distribution, said this week. The WFA's double-barrelled program is designed (1) to assure farmers of receiving prices necessary to produce the needed quantities of vegetables for canning, in line with existing facilities, and (2) to protect canners who pay the support prices to growers against the possibility of inventory losses which might be incurred from maximum packs of the canned vegetables covered by the program. WFA has set support prices for snap beans, sweet corn, peas, tomatoes, beets, carrots, lima beans, and spinach, and canners must agree to pay these prices to growers in order to qualify for protection under the program. Thus, growers to contract with certified canners will have assurance of receiving the support prices. State Agricultural Conservation Committees will certify those canners which agree to contract with producers for at least the specified support level for the raw products.

Winfred Caudill Gets Promotion

W. C. Winfred C. Caudill, 27, son of Mrs. Burchie Caudill and husband of Mrs. Nola Caudill, Morehead, has just received promotion from private first class to technician fifth grade at the Field Artillery Replacement Center, Fort Sill, Okla. Corporal Caudill was employed by the Kentucky Firebrick Company at Haldeman before his induction into the Army October 22, 1942 at Fort Thomas. He is a member of Headquarters Battery of the 17th Training Regiment at the Center.

TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

THIS communication is a reply to the Courier-Journal's editorial of March 2, entitled "No Velvet Glove on this from Hand", based upon its front page news story of March 1, concerning the failure of the Senate to pass the bill increasing the weight of trucks to 40,000 pounds. The purposes of the communication are: (1) to refute the implication in the news item and the editorial that the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company controls the Kentucky Senate, which is in effect an insult to those members who recognized and thus defeated the truck bill by a vote of 21 to 15; and (2) to disprove the claim of the Courier-Journal that the L. & N., by its opposition to this truck bill, was endeavoring to defeat legislation that is in the public interest.

traffic, including farmers, manufacturers, merchants' trucks, the present size limits are large enough. They might even be reduced." In reflection of public opinion in the matter of big trucks, just before the 1936 Legislature, the Louisville Times said on November 6, 1935: "There might even be, eventually, public carrier highways, or one-way roads, as a result of popular protests against conditions the public now suffers too patiently." Surely it will not be contended that the L. & N. then dominated the Courier-Journal and Times, but there would be as much justification for that as there is for the charge that it then dominated or now dominates the Legislature.

Kentucky Highways Are Inadequate for Heavy Traffic But looking to the condition and capacity of Kentucky highways, we refer to testimony of Mr. J. Lyter Donaldson, then Highway Commissioner, at a hearing before a United States Senate Committee in 1942, when the truckers were endeavoring to take the regulation of size and weight of trucks away from the states and leave that entire subject to the Interstate Commerce Commission. His testimony was to the effect that since the Kentucky highway system had not been constructed for loads in excess of 18,000 pounds, only the war emergency justified the State in permitting the use of its highways by heavy trucks. Among other things he said, referring to the State highway system: "... most of our mileage is too narrow for safe accommodation of heavy mixed traffic. ... In the words of our chief highway engineer, we have 'several hundred bridges which are not only inadequate, but dangerous' from the standpoint either of load capacity, width or vertical clearance. ... Even our best roads are not by any means composed of high-type paving."

THE ATTACK ON THE SENATE

We assert that there is no justification, whatever for the reflection upon the integrity and intelligence of the Senate members. The L. & N., in conjunction with the Chesapeake & Ohio, Illinois Central, Southern, and other Kentucky railroads who jointly act through the Kentucky Railroad Association, having been advised by the truckers' own repeated public statements that this bill would be introduced, prepared to meet the issue by presenting the facts to the Legislature and the public. This was done solely by public advertisement through circulars and pamphlets, and argument before the Committee in rebuttal to the like circulars, pamphlets and arguments of the truckers. Thus the Senate reached the same conclusion as that of both houses of the Legislature in 1932, when the original weight limit bill was passed.

A Permanent Increase of Truck Weights Is Not Now Justified

In 1942 an act was passed which increased the limit, but only for the duration. The 40,000-pound limit is in use now, and will be until the end of the emergency. The sole purpose of this bill, advantageous only to the big truckers, is to saddle those increases upon the people after the emergency, regardless of the unpredictable physical condition of the roads at that time and the equally unpredictable funds then available for road construction and maintenance. In view of these unknown factors, permanent legislation as to truck weights and length is, at this time, wholly unjustified.

As to the country roads, constituting 78 per cent of the highways, he said: "... no one could reasonably contend that larger or heavier trucks should be permitted on any of them." As to which he pertinently added: "... as a practical matter, it would be quite impossible to keep them off such roads if they were allowed on State highways."

Public Sentiment Supported the Passage of the 1932 Act

The Courier-Journal seeks to give the impression that the 1932 Act was passed, not as a result of public demand, but through the domination of the L. & N. The fact that public opinion almost unanimously supported the bill is shown by the vote of 34 to 1 in the Senate and in the House by 88 to 5. Its enactment was strongly advocated by the Chairman of the Highway Commission. The Courier-Journal approved this law. In its issue of January 1, 1934, it said: "Legislators should resist vigorously the effort to increase the limitation on weight and size of trucks permitted to operate on State roads."

THE PROPOSED WEIGHT INCREASE IS NOT IN THE PUBLIC INTEREST

In objecting to the bill to increase the weight and size of trucks, we are not opposing the public interest. From the beginning of this controversy we have invariably stated that if we could not show that our view was in the public interest, then we would not ask the public's support.

Kentucky's Road Situation Is Not Comparable to That of Other States

The inadequacy of the State highway system to permit the operation of heavy trucks is a consequence of the State's traditional policy of building its roads out of current funds. Other States, with greater resources, or by the use of borrowed money, have better and higher type roads. The State of Kentucky has no road debt. Compare its condition with that of our neighboring State of Tennessee, with a road debt of $67,000,000 and of the Southern states generally, with a combined road debt of $753,000,000.

Damage to the Roads

Upon the issue stated by the Times there is ample support for the proposition that the damaging effect of heavy trucks is alone sufficient to defeat this bill. Such authorities as Major General Phillip B. Fleming, Administrator of Federal Works Agency; Major General C. P. Gross, Chief of Transportation, Service of Supply, U. S. Army; Mr. Donald Kennedy, former President of the National Association of State Highway Officials; and many other state highway officials, have recently stated that the war-time traffic is destroying the highways of the nation. For example, the Chief Highway Engineer of North Carolina said that, "It will take $50,000,000 and three to four years' work to put North Carolina's highways back into the same shape they were before Pearl Harbor." Surely, no one will contend that Kentucky's highways can stand the heavy truck traffic better than highways of other states.

What is the consideration offered to the public and to the State to justify it in assuming the increased cost of construction and maintenance of highways, which would be incurred if those highways were made adequate for oversize trucks? And what is the consideration for the added inconvenience and danger to the traveling public incident to the operation of such trucks?

And on January 6, 1934, it denounced the effort to increase the limits, as follows: "To increase these dimensions would be an outrage. ... For ordinary commercial

The L. & N. is a citizen of Kentucky and it believes a good citizen. It has invested about $150,000,000 in fixed property and for the expansion of industry and commerce therein. It pays taxes for, the support of the State and local governments, roads and schools. It gives employment to approximately 17,500 persons in Kentucky. Its welfare is inextricably tied to the development and prosperity of the State. Like any other citizen and taxpayer, it has the right to present its views to the public and Legislature on any matters that affect its interest, but it asserts with confidence that it has not taken an attitude on any controversial question which is inconsistent with the ultimate public interest.
