Local Housing For Navy Families Urgently Needed

Married Sailors At N.T.S. Want Living Quarters Here For Families

Married sailors attending the Morehead Naval Training School face an acute problem in finding housing for their families, according to Mrs. J. D. Falls, Director of the local USO.

"These boys know they may never come back," said Mrs. Falls. "They aren't morbid about it, but behind their conversation is always that big unspoken 'If' in being assigned to Morehead they see a chance to have their wives and babies near them for a few months before they leave for the battle front. When living quarters cannot be found, it is heart-breaking."

Besides their regular entertainment duties, the USO tries to furnish housing information for sailors' families. The demand far exceeds the supply, and there is always a waiting list. Hours of telephoning and touring the community frequently fail to locate any vacant quarters.

"People who will open parts of their homes, even at a real sacrifice of convenience, will be showing their patriotism in a splendid way," Mrs. Falls said. "A room or two, with light housekeeping privileges, may make the difference between happiness and despair for a sailor and his family. Places where children will be admitted are especially needed."

Citizens who can make room to shelter one or more of these visitors in our community should telephone Mrs. Falls at the USO rooms, phone 30, or at her residence, phone 105.

MC Scholarships Made Available By Senator Bagby

Will Be Awarded To Deserving Students From Lewis, Greenup, Elliott

State Senator R. M. Bagby, of Grayson, is again making scholarship funds eligible to students entering Morehead State Teachers college from high schools in Lewis, Greenup, and Elliott counties.

The basis for selection for the newer scholarship recipients has been outlined as follows: "The student must have maintained a record of high scholarship in his high school. He or she should be ranked as one of the five of the high school graduating class in scholarship."

The recipient of the Bagby Scholarship should meet financial requirements and complete his college education. The county superintendents of Lewis, Greenup, and Elliott counties should recommend a list of three or four meritorious students, each of whom meets the requirements set forth, and the president and members of the Board of Education should recommend one student from each of the three counties from the lists submitted.

In addition to the $125.00 scholarship, Morehead college offers to furnish some opportunity for the selected students to secure a stipend at money while in college, if such financial help is needed.

WPB Reports Critical Shortage Of Waste Paper

Salvage Efforts Must Be Pushed To The Limit To Relieve The Situation

The War Production Board reports that a critical situation exists in the collection of waste paper. In February, the collection totaled 800,000 tons, which was 122,000 tons below the amount needed. However, it is expected that every day against bad weather, and spending much time in perfecting collection methods in order to meet the quota of 875,000 tons each month.

The most immediate effect of the paper shortage will be that more food will arrive in stores in second hand cartons and crates. Many large companies are now gathering up their cartons and using them for other purposes, or until they wear out. Paper salvage, which might do much to relieve the situation, should be increased immediately.

Future Farmers Announce New Farm Contest

The Kentucky Association of the Future Farmers of America, with over 8,000 farm boys as members in Kentucky, take pleasure in announcing the following contest, said Dr. D. Woods, Director of Vocational Agriculture.

This contest is being offered to encourage better hog production and marketing practices among Kentucky Future Farmers. The Sears, Roebuck Foundation, Chicago, Illinois, is providing $300,000 in awards to Future Farmers who have attained the most outstanding achievement with their supervised farms.

Hogs are one of the foremost sources of income to Kentucky farmers. In 1939, Kentucky farmers received over $15,000,000 from the sale of hogs, which was 12.4 percent of the total cash sales from Kentucky farms.

Deferments For Farm Workers To Be Curtailed

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey told farmers this week their "first duty" is to make available for Army or Navy service every possible draft-deferred man under 28.

Deferments in agriculture cover 350,000 to 400,000 physically fit youths, the nation's "largest group of this type so urgently needed by the Army and the Navy," Hershey said in a radio address.

His declaration of deferments should not be continued except when the young farmers meet the "strict requirements" of the Tydings Amendment to the Selective Service Act, providing for the occupational deferment of men essential to farm production.

The necessity to the production of food must be weighed against the need of men of their age and physical qualifications to reinforce our Army and their brothers who have marched against the enemy," the draft director said.

Following the dinner the entire party attended the AAUW meeting that evening. Mrs. Nolan Fowler, of the Morehead State Teachers college, was the guest speaker, and their gymnasium.

Sheriff Carter Asked To Enforce Dog Law In Rowan

Unlicensed Dogs Will Be Put To Death

Sheriff Peter Carter has requested that the Morehead Independent use its columns to warn dog owners that lately the problem of stray dogs has become a hazard to the health of the community and the safety of its citizens, and that he has been requested by county and city officials to enforce the state law requiring that stray, unlicensed dogs be put to death.

Dog owners will be regarded as having been duly notified by this published warning that all unlicensed dogs, wandering off the premises of the owner between sunset and sunrise will be killed by the sheriff or one of his deputies.

The state law provides that "Any unlicensed dog found off owners premises between sunset and sunrise may be killed by the sheriff or one of his deputies."

Here's Where They Are

Ivo Johnson, 18, husband of Mrs. Freda Johnson, Rural Route 3, Morehead, is receiving his initial and final indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Illinois.

His "boot" training consists of instruction in semiofficial military drill, and general naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the trainee to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School or to immediate active duty at sea.

Private First Class Ervin S. Waltz, son of Mrs. Bertha Thompson of Route 2, Morehead, is a member of a Fifth Army Anti-aircraft unit on the Allied Anzio beachhead in Italy which has been highly praised for shooting down 150 enemy aircraft with an additional 99 listed as probably destroyed.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Murray talked on "Scouting" at the Breckinridge Training School. The council had a luncheon at the Eagles Nest on Tuesday at 12:00 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Murray. Those present were Mrs. M. Clayton, Mrs. E. L. Shannon, Mrs. G. C. Banks, Mrs. C. B. Lane, Mrs. G. B. Pennabaker, Mrs. W. R. Shafter, Mrs. Carl Oseland and Mrs. Chiles VanAntwerp.

Sugar Rations For Servicemen on Furlough To Be In One Pound Units

Servicemen on furlough will get their sugar rations in units of one pound, rather than the previous basis of one-fourth pound for nine meals eaten at home, the Lexington District OPA Office has announced.

The OPA said the reason for the change is that servicemen are finding it difficult to buy sugar in smaller amounts than one pound. In addition the handling of certificates for quarter pounds of sugar creates needless bookkeeping and handling problems. In the future, a serviceman on furlough will get one pound of sugar for each 38 meals or less he eats at home.

Youths Needed During Summer For Farm Work

Victory Farm Volunteers Organized To Assist In Food Production

The farmer has one of the nation's most important jobs. Uncle Sam has called on him to raise food for our fighting men, our war workers, and our allies. His sons and hired hands will be called on to work in the Armed Forces or working in War plants. More food than ever must be produced with fewer people to do it and a civilian who can must help.

Be a Victory Farm Volunteer. This is the title given boys and girls who work on farms during this summer. The volunteers are part of the U. S. Crop Corps. The best estimate is that half a million boys and girls will be needed. All schools may organize a VFF group. The County Agricultural Agent and the Emergency Farm Labor Assistant will be in charge of recruiting and placing the Victory Farm Volunteers.

The farmer for whom they work will have a special VFF group on his farm. He will be able to place them on his farm for 4 to 6 months. (2) living at home, being transported daily to and from the farm, for special jobs. Young people working on this basis will sign up for various lengths of time; (3) living in a supervised camp, helping to harvest vegetables, fruits, and other crops. Work camps will generally run from 1 to 2 months.

The type of farming, the labor involved, and the factors will determine where the Victory Farm Volunteers will be placed.

Mrs. Alta Parker Recommended As Acting Co. Judge

Fiscal Court Asks Willita To Appoint Widow Of County Judge Dan Parker

The Rowan Fiscal Court, meeting in special session Monday morning, recommended to Governor Simon Willita that Mrs. Alta Parker, widow of the late Judge Dan Parker, be appointed and serve as his successor as County Judge of Rowan County until a judge can be elected at the next general election this fall to fill out the unexpired term.

"WHEREAS, the Honorable Dan Parker's death occurred on the 13th day of April, 1944, and

"WHEREAS, he was a life-long citizen of Rowan County, Kentucky, and had been prominent in civic and governmental affairs, as well as having been a prominent business man of this county and a former Sheriff of Rowan County, and

"WHEREAS, at the time of his death he was the regularly elected and acting County Judge of Rowan County, and in all the phases of his life, both as a citizen and a civic worker and officer he was energetic, honest, upright and held the respect and confidence of all the citizens of Rowan County.

"THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Fiscal Court of Rowan County, as a mark of the respect and as an expression of the great confidence of this county in the manner he was conducting his office and as an expression of our respect for him as a citizen and as a public officer, be directed that a resolution be passed for the foregoing resolution be spread at large upon the Order Book of the Fiscal Court of Rowan County and that a copy of them be published in the papers of Rowan County."

THE GARDEN

THE EARLY INSECTS

By John S. Gardner, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

The weather as this is being written notwithstanding, spring is here and gardens are being started. And, as is the custom, soon the insects will start returning from where they spent their winters. The first likely will be plant lice on "frostproof" cabbage, but some of these may have come with the plants. This suggests that before any "frostproofs" are set in the garden, their tops be dusted thoroughly with rotenone or dipped in tobacco "tea" or in Black Leaf 40 solution, to choke off this invasion.

There are, however, Kentucky-bred lice to come later. At the first sign of leaf-curling, either of the materials just named should be applied through a sprayer or a duster, to hit the insects, killing them by contact. Killing should result in 30 minutes, easily; if not, try again. Arsenicals, inward poisons are of no avail against plant lice, as they do not eat foliage, but merely puncture the leaves.

Speaking of dusters and sprayers, these are being made again, and gardeners who have been struggling with broken equipment or with makeshifts may see to their needs now. Another insect soon to come is the green worm on cabbage. A local product, it hatches from eggs laid by the "butterflies" that will presently be seen bobbing about in the garden. Because it eats leaves, it can be poisoned. Arsenate of lead and lime, 1 part to 3, may be used as a dust, or, as a spray, arsenate of lead, 2 table-spoons in 1 gallon of water. Arsenate should be used only when the heads begin hardening, after which only rotenone, as this is not poisonous to humans in the amount usually used. All of these control materials stay potent easily a week, but if a weekly treatment is given, the cabbage worm will have been whipped.

This worm and several other general feeders sometimes attack early greens, but on these use only and always, rotenone; never an arsenical.

Ceiling Prices Now Effective On Used Ranges

Sale of all used domestic cooking ranges are brought under price control through a new regulation which becomes effective April 19, 1944. S. J. Yearry, price specialist of the Lexington District OPA Office announced this week.

The regulation covers sales at all levels, including sales from one individual to another. It divides all ranges, accessories and equipment into two major groups—designated reconditioned and "as-is"—and establishes dollar-and-cents maximum prices for each group.

Mr. Yearry pointed out that all sales of reconditioned used ranges must carry a 90-day period guarantee. This requirement may be satisfied in the case of a sale to a consumer by a written agreement on the part of the seller to pay for all repairs needed to fulfill the guarantee. There are two provisions for pricing special used ranges and for consumer-to-consumer sales of late models.

It is mandatory that every dealer tag and mark each stove with a ceiling price and classification. "Each individual making a sale of a used gas range should consult the Price Clerk of the local War Price and Rationing Board and establish the ceiling price before the sale is made," Mr. Yearry said.

This Week On The Home Front

Farm workers who plan to work in industry should contact the United States Employment Service representative at the Court House at Morehead on the second and fourth Thursday afternoons.

Ray Lytle and the County Agent attended a War Food Administration Egg meeting at Mt. Sterling Thursday, April 6.

According to a recent announcement from the County Agents office an Emergency War Food Conservation Assistant will be employed to assist Rowan County farmers and homemakers with conservation problems during the summer.

Rowan County tobacco farmers are cautioned to treat their tobacco beds with Bordeaux mixture in order to help prevent the development of wild fire and rust.

of water and stir vigorously. While stirring add the bluestone solution slowly; (5) add enough water to make 30 gallons; (6) stir the mixture...

An extract essential to the tanning of good shoe leather is taken from dead chestnut wood. The chestnut is prepared for sale in about the same way that pulp wood is and brings approximately the same price per cord.

Rowan County farmers are taking advantage of the contour planting program being offered in the county. Elmer Kinder, Claude Curtis, and Alldie Barker have an egg dealer to pay the support price and prices paid to farmers went up immediately in Morehead.

land out contour lines and will plant their corn and tobacco on the contour. Contour means level. These men will plant their crops on the level around the hill.

Contour cultivation helps prevent soil losses, helps hold moisture for the crop, and increases yields about 10%, according to University of Kentucky soil specialist. Additional labor and equipment are not necessary to farm on the contour.

According to a recent release from the AAA, any farmer planting row crops on the contour will receive $1.50 per acre over and above his regular soil building payment for planting on the contour. This is the only way this payment can be earned.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh How Dan Is Helping The Victory

I don't know anybody that gets more out of his Victory Garden than Dan O'Neill. Works hard in the shop all day, then tends his garden till sundown.

Stopped in to see him, one evening last week and found him laying off more rows than ever. "Looks like you're gettin' into this Victory Garden business in a big way, Dan!"

"Well," he says, a little proud, "Uncle Sam has asked for 25 per cent more home-grown vegetables this year, and I'm goin' to do all I can to see he gets it!"

He looked pretty tuckered out and when it was so dark he couldn't work any longer, we both went into the house and the Mrs. gave us each a refreshing glass of beer.

From where I sit, that's the real American spirit—doing what you ought to and doing what you want to. That's freedom, and that's America.

doing the same kind and amount of work.

Expenses will be paid by the volunteers out of what they earn, except when the farmer agrees to pay transportation and furnish room and board as part of the pay. In camps, young people will usually be charged a specified weekly rate for their living expenses at the farm.

Farmers who employ these volunteers will not expect them to be seasoned skilled farm workers from the start. The Extension Service will encourage farmers to start the volunteers on the simpler jobs first until their muscles are hardened to do the more difficult tasks.

Farms will be selected according to standards set up by local farm placement committees, generally in accordance with Guides to Successful Employment of Non-farm Youth in Wartime Agriculture, published by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

work in farm homes or for cooking for other workers. No boys or girls are needed at present, and there have been no provisions made for taking children.

Minimum pay will be about $25.00 per week with room and board, and transportation will be provided to the job. Men will be expected to be able to handle teams or tractors and trucks, and able to do general farm work. Workers now employed in mines or forests will not be considered and cannot be accepted.

Those interested in this work are asked to make application now to the county agent's office in the Court House in Morehead by April 27.

WPP Reports

lieve the situation, has been declining thus far.

Congressman Calvin D. Johnson, of Illinois, has introduced in the House of Representatives a resolution stating that the "willful destruction of waste paper is an unpatriotic and seriously interfering with the war effort," and asking Congress to recommend to the several states "an enactment of legislation which will make unlawful the willful destruction of waste paper."

The greater situation requires a more active effort on the part of all communities to get their cans to a shipping center will do so. It is our request that the salvage committees, the heads of Civil Defense, mayors, city councils and county judges review the salvage situation in their county and see if it is not possible to secure larger results.

War Bonds and Stamps aren't a gift to the government. They are an investment that brings good returns to the purchaser.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends for their assistance and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved husband, father and brother, Dan Parker.

We especially wish to thank the Rev. Ramah Johnson and the Rev. Ray White for their consoling words; the Lane Funeral Home and the pallbearers for their kind services; all the donors of flowers and the quartet that sang at the services.

NICELY - JACKSON

Miss Barbara Nicely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nicely, of Maywood, became the bride of Corporal George O. Jackson at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 1, in a chapel at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

The single-ring service was read by Chaplain James R. Smallwood before a background of ivory tables on which were three white with white carnations on either side of the high altar. The organist played soft bridal music preceding the ceremony and during the exchange of vows.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of white crepe, fashioned with side drapes and three-quarter length sleeves. A white faille Dutch bonnet and white elbow-length gloves completed the ensemble. She wore a jeweled necklace of her mother's and a corsage of pink carnations.

The matron of honor, the bride's only attendant, Mrs. Shirley Meyerson, New York City, was dressed in a pastel floral-printed afternoon frock with black accessories and a crown of gardenias. George Meyerson was best man.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon in New York City. For traveling the bride wore a gray sheer wool cardigan suit trimmed in white, with a gray faille hat. Her sandals and bag were of black doekoin.

Mrs. Jackson attended the School of Journalism there until the end

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I was just tellin' my brother Fred this morning, Judge... there's never been a time in our lives when we got to live up to that old sayin' 'United we stand, divided we fall' more than we have to today."

"How true that is, Herb. And for the life of me, I can't figure out why, at a time like this, some folks insist on raising a question like prohibition. I can't imagine anything that would tickle our consciences more than to get us folks over here taking sides against each other, arguing about an issue like that. We've got a he-man's job on our hands to win this war and we can't be wasting our minds, our money and our strength fighting about something we've tried for nearly 14 years and found couldn't work."

"I say there's a time and a place for everything, and this is no time or place to be doing any fighting except the kind that's going to win the war."
