REVIVING ROWAN TROUBLES.

The Legislature at II Now and Will Send a Committee to Investigate the Death Proceedings.

For months past Marshall has been about as quite, as peaceful and as prosperous a place as any town of her size in the State. Her constituents have been doing a good business, there has been a steady advance in the value of her real estate, and confidence has been restored to her officers. Hon. Larry Teller and his gang were so extremely dealt with, the general opinion has prevailed that the Roman Catholicism, which had been a decided influence in the State, was for ever at an end. Everything had served to strengthen this opinion.

The Tellerites are nearly two hundred and the families of Marshall have gone out of their way to support the plant, and to that they are looking with success, if all reports are true. The people of the State have been in hopes that the Roman Catholicism would be banished to no more, but the Legislature has brought the matter to trial. The following resolution was introduced to the house last Tuesday:

"Resolved, That a committee of three members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker be authorized to inquire into the circumstances of the death of Judge C. V. C., who was murdered last week at Marshall, and report the result of their investigation to the House, and the house does hereby order the said committee to proceed accordingly."
