Here Is Indication Of Being A Good? Voting Citizen

This was the scene Monday as groups of 18, 19 and 20 year olds from Rowan County High showed up at the office of County Clerk Ottis W. Elam to register. Mrs. Lew Higgins, head of the civic and government classes, said political interest is the "best ever" at RCHS. The Morehead News received a telephone call about RCHS students registering, and the

RCHS Students Registering: Say They'll Vote This May

The fact that young people don't take the trouble to register and vote has been nationally publicized as the nation approaches suffrage to 18, 19 and 20 year olds in all 50 states. Under statistical scrutiny have been Kentucky and Georgia which have, for years, permitted 18 year olds to vote. Figures indicate that less than 10 percent of the eligible young people, between the ages of 18 and 21, are registered, and only four or five percent of this age bracket voted in Kentucky in the last presidential race. Mrs. Lew Higgins, head of the civic and government classes at Rowan County High School, has long deplored the voting inactivity of the youth group. Her decision to do something about it has attracted strong editorial endorsement from the Morehead News.

Mrs. Higgins spearheaded interest in mock elections at RCHS. The percentage-wise vote at RCHS in the November gubernatorial contest was almost the same as for the county.

The importance of registering and voting is stressed in class, and student panels. It was recognized by Mrs. Higgins from the outset that young people must have a "real interest" to register and vote. It is that interest that is being instilled at RCHS under her guidance.

Her work is bearing fruit: the 18, 19 and 20 year olds at the high school are registering. They could be a considerable factor in local elections.

This Monday two groups of RCHS students went to the office of Rowan County Clerk Ottis Elam and registered.

They showed keen interest in the questions that the County Clerk put to each one. One boy commented, "Now, we're full fledged citizens."

Each answered clearly when asked for name, address, birthdate, how long lived in state, county and precinct; height and weight.

The most clear reply came to the question on party affiliation. The democrats were proud to be democrats; republicans equally proud to be aligned with the G.O.P. A spot check showed that many did not register party affiliation the same as their parents.

Mrs. Higgins heads a drive to have every eligible RCHS student register. And, she thinks interest in politics and government at the school is "better than ever before."

I believe most of them will vote in the next May primary election.

Politicians should note that hereafter they must do well to campaign, and have an organization, at Rowan County High.

Farmers Complain About Weight Of Burley Crop

This is an unusual burley market at Morehead, and throughout Kentucky.

Usually, the first day's sale is one of the highest of the season, and prices drop thereafter.

The market opened Nov. 22 with a record price average of $77.33.

In each of the sales since, through

Cumulative sales for Morehead and all Kentucky markets appears on page 4.

Thursday, buyers paid more and more - an increase each day. Thursday's average was an all-time high of $79.85.

A representative of the Morehead News found buyers at the Morehead market not so happy as one would think because of the record prices. Most say they'll receive fewer dollars for the same amount of work because this year's leaf is extremely light, the kind that cigarette company buyers like and are snapping up with practically no leaf going to the pool.

Market Leveling Off

"I'd rather get less money and more weight," was a familiar refrain at Morehead warehouses. The same thought prevailed through the burley belt.

Through Thursday the Morehead warehouse had sold 3,328,719 pounds for $2,473,452.60, an average of $78.81.

There are indications that the market was finding its level, one that probably will be at least maintained as long as the supply of sound tobacco lasts. The rate of increase was slowing, and Thursday's average was only a penny more than Wednesday's.

But money in the grower's pocket was another story. Tobacco has been coming in slowly because the weather has kept the leaf too dry to prepare for market, and sales have been light.

Thus, at this point in the season, the farmers have taken home substantially less money than they had at this time last year, despite a much higher average price.

The return to Kentucky growers so far this year has been $106,855,904.81, compared with $137,941,591.33 at the same point last season.

Some of the difference may be made up this week, however, since damp weather favorable for stripping tobacco has moved into the state.

Kentucky sales so far have mounted to 133,944,787 pounds, for an average of $79.07. Season sales for the eight-state burley belt stand at 218,187,893 pounds, for a $79.03 average.

ROWAN COUNTY HIGH TO GET NEW FIRE ALARM

A modern fire alarm system will be installed at Rowan County High School in Morehead.

Bids will be opened Dec. 16 for the installation.

Rowan Blood Bank Dangerously Low; More Donors Sought

Another urgent appeal for blood donors went out today from the Rowan County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The bloodmobile will be in Morehead tomorrow (Friday) from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. It will be located at the Military Science (ROTC) building on the campus of Morehead State University, a block north of the courthouse.

Blood Chairman Mrs. C.C. Mayhall pointed to the Rowan bank being alarmingly low, and the increasing requests for blood.

She said that no appointment to donate is necessary, and all a person has to do is show up tomorrow.

Asphalt Oil and Refining Company will give a certificate worth five gallons of gasoline to every donor. This offer was made after the plight of the local blood bank was brought into focus.

Red Cross officials said families that have drawn heavily on the blood bank "are morally obligated to contribute themselves, and secure other donors to help replace what they have taken."

Bids will be opened Dec. 16 for the installation.

Want To Be Kissed?

Kiwanis To Sell Mistletoe In Morehead Tuesday Evening

Mistletoe, the fungus that is an invitation for a girl to be kissed, should be plentiful in Morehead this Christmas season.

The Kiwanis Club announced it would sell mistletoe with all profits going into its community fund.

Club members plan a house-to-house canvass next Tuesday (Dec. 14) from 7 until 10 p.m.

Publicity Chairman Kenneth Shelton said a good buying response is anticipated from males and females.

The Kiwanis sales slogan is: "Kisses For Sale."

Increase In Electric Advertised

The average Morehead homeowner will be paying about $1.80 a month, or around $22 a year, more for electricity if a rate increase petition of Kentucky Utilities is approved by the Kentucky Public Service Commission. KU advertised in this issue of the Morehead News for the rate hike. The complete schedule of the proposed new rates appears on page four. Simultaneously, Kentucky Utilities placed the legal rate increase advertisement throughout the territory it serves.

Commercial and other rates are also higher under the new schedule as appears on page 4.

The proposed residential rate, in condensed form, for Morehead is - $1.00 per month minimum to include 16 KWH used per month.

+5.0 cents per KWH for the next 84 KWH.

+2.2 cents per KWH for the next 500 KWH.

+1.7 cents per KWH for all in excess of 600 KWH.

+1.2 cents per KWH for all off-peak water heating.

The general rate for Morehead, if approved by PSC would be -

+1.50 per month minimum to include 20 KWH used per month.

+5.5 cents per KWH for the next 80 KWH.

+2.2 cents per KWH for the next 500 KWH.

+1.7 cents per KWH for all in excess of 600 KWH.

+1.35 cents per KWH for all off-peak water heating.

Under Kentucky law the Public Service Commission will set a date for hearings on the proposed rate increase. Usually, municipalities object to utility rate hikes. If protest is registered here it would probably be spearheaded by city government, the Council.

KU President W.A. Duncan said the rate increase is necessary "to meet the ever increasing cost of providing electric service."

to all the company to earn a fair return on its $425 million investment."

Duncan also said the company's anticipated construction program for the next six years will cost $430 million.

The President said the average residential customer at Morehead uses 540 kilowatts a month, and would pay six cents a day more.

All other KU rates are being increased.

According to KU figures the proposed rate increase would produce $14 million more a year in revenue.

President Duncan said that KU reduced rates each year from 1962 to 1967. He added:

"Even with this increase our rates will be lower than they were in 1961."

School Principal And Rowan Mother Injured

The Principal of Tilton Hogge Elementary School and a 21 year old, deaf-mute mother were seriously injured last Wednesday morning in a two car collision on the Cranston road (Ky 377) about 4 1/2 miles north of Morehead.

Hospitalized at St. Claire Medical Center and then taken to the UK Medical Center at Lexington are Raymond Elwood White, the school principal; and Mrs. Suzanne Skaggs, 21.

State Police said that while suffering a broken leg; and arm, and possible internal injuries; and Mrs. Skaggs had a broken jaw, many lacerations, and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. White's year old baby, a passenger, was not seriously hurt. The child was treated at St. Claire Medical Center for a long cut on the face, and released after no other injuries were found.

Another passenger in the Skaggs car, Carole Jean Kelsey, 19, RFD 2, sustained multiple bruises and cuts, but has been released from the Morehead hospital.

State trooper Linville Riddle who investigated said the cars hit almost head-on near the middle of the road. He said one of the vehicles appeared to be "more on the wrong side" but did not divulge which one.

The crash happened at 11:50 a.m., about 200 yards from the turn-off at the Morehead State University farm. Both vehicles were demolished, a total loss.

Trooper Riddle said that White's car, a station wagon, was headed north, and the other automobile was coming toward Morehead. He said the accident happened on a slight left hand and a slight curve with visibility clear.

The Rowan Superintendent's office said that Mrs. Thelma Kissick will serve as acting Principal at Tilton Hogge.

GREENFIELD, AND CHANEY MOST IMPROVED GOLFERS

The University Golf Course at Morehead has named it's most improved lady and man golfer of the year.

Head pro Ed Bugnon said the awards are to Pat Greenfield, Hidden Valley; and Rex Chaney, Sun Street.

Annexation Plan Hits Legal Snag

TAKES OVER... Democrat Wendell Ford was sworn in Tuesday as Kentucky's 6th Governor. He plans an almost complete reorganization of state government, which Ford says will save millions of dollars. This picture was taken when the Governor visited Morehead recently.

Opponents Claim Ordinance Was Not Published In Time

The scheduled open-court hearing Friday on the intention of the City of Morehead to incorporate over six square miles was postponed as Judge John J. Winn said he needed more time to study a motion by those opposing the incorporation.

Attorney Lewis White, Mt. Sterling, representing the opposition, contended the City did not follow legal guidelines in its procedure. He claimed that Council passed the annexation ordinance on Aug. 10, but did not publish it in the Morehead News until Sept. 23. White contended that under section 82.210, Kentucky Revised Statutes, all ordinances have to be published within 30 days after passage.

White asked the court to dismiss the entire petition on this legal point.

City Attorney Paul Blair agreed the ordinance was passed Aug. 10 and published Sept. 23, but argued this should not deter, or be cause for dismissal, of the action.

Judge Winn did not fix a date when he would rule on the "time element" motion.

The City seeks to take within boundaries everything south of Divide Hill to the hill between Morehead and Clearfield from below Brady Curve east to Rodburn.

all of Divide Hill, and everything south and east of Interstate 64, including the interstate itself for a distance of about three miles.

Included in the areas planned to be annexed are Sherwood Forest, North Wilson Avenue, Mabry Subdivision, Spoke factory Lane, properties; all of the three Bridge Street section; Hidden Valley; Pine Crest, Forest Hills; and the Holiday Inn area, including about 1 1/2 miles east of the Holiday Inn, and 1 1/2 miles to the west. This would make city limits three times more than they presently are.

Kiwanis To Again Make Christmas Decoration Awards

The Morehead Kiwanis Club announced today it will again make, as it has done for the past 15 years, awards to the best decorated homes during the Christmas season in Morehead and suburbs.

A committee will judge the residences. Kiwanis said that religious and Santa oriented themes will be considered on their own merit.

E.M. Hogge Appointed Head Of Transportation

Elijah M. Hogge, 54, Morehead, Commonwealth Attorney for a four-county district, is Kentucky's new Commissioner of Transportation.

Appointed by Governor Wendell Ford, Hogge took the oath of office Wednesday morning in the Governor's office at the State Capitol. He is the first person from Rowan County to ever be in the Governor's cabinet.

Accepting the policy position, Hogge submitted his resignation as Commonwealth Attorney of Rowan, Bath, Menifee and Montgomery counties.

Governor Ford is expected to soon announce his selection for Commonwealth Attorney Hogge had more than four years to serve on his six-year term, but the person appointed by the Governor is named only until the successor qualifies at next year's November election. Thus, the new Commonwealth Attorney must run for election at the May primary.

(The Publisher's Pen in this issue says that Rowan County Attorney James E. Clay, Morehead, will succeed Hogge. If the Governor picks Clay, a vacancy will then result for Rowan County Attorney. Governor Ford will fill the County Attorney's office by appointment, and there will also be an election next year for this position.)

Hogge's wife Norma and a wide circle of close personal friends and associates were in the Governor's office yesterday morning to witness the swearing in ceremonies.

Policy persons close to Gov. Ford told the Morehead News that the title of the office will be changed from Commissioner of Motor Transportation to Commissioner of Transportation, and Hogge will have added duties, including aircraft and airports, and perhaps boating.

Attorney Hogge was a strong supporter of Ford in this year's primary and general election gubernatorial campaigns. His wife, 78, was district chairwoman for Ford in the May primary, and for the democratic party in the November election.

The Commissioner is a native of Morehead, son of Lester Hogge, and the late Maude Hogge. He practices civil law with his father, in addition to his duties as Commonwealth Attorney.

Hogge was elected Rowan County Attorney in 1942 and served in that capacity until 1953. He was reelected by a landslide while a navy Lieutenant in World War II, most of his service being in the South Pacific.

He practiced law with his father from 1953 until 1958 when he was elected Commonwealth Attorney, a position since held. Mr. Hogge was reelected in 1969 for a six year term without primary or general election opposition. He is Rowan County Commissioner.

Mr. Hogge attended public schools at Morehead, and was a pre-law student at Morehead State University before enrolling at Washington and Lee where he was awarded his degree in law. He and Mrs. Hogge live in Forest Hills.

Draft Continues; Two From Rowan Report For Duty

The draft, heavily debated in Congress, is not over.

The Rowan Selective Service Board today announced that two men are being summoned this week for military duty.

Scheduled to report Tuesday at the regional induction center in Ashland are Larry Frady, Jr., and John Michael Reed.

The Rowan Board also released the names of six men who took their physical examinations this week. They are - Henry Harlan Caudill, Jr., Jack Ray Hogge, Marvin Randall Caudill, Paul Moore, Phillip M. Hippley and Alvin Douglas Newsome.

Morehead Mothers Seek Donner Project Approval

The Kentucky Department of Child Welfare announces that a request has been received from Mrs. Louise Pergam, Regional Supervisor, Department of Child Welfare, for the Donner Project in Rowan County.

The Donner Project is a three year Day Care Program in which 7 southern states are participating. The overall goal of the Project in Kentucky is to upgrade the centers now in existence in Kentucky and through technical assistance create new centers in the area where the need is greatest. It centers around a mobile unit to demonstrate the equipment, toys and material used in the day care program.

Day Care is a program of group child care which stresses the overall developmental needs of children. It strives to meet not only the physical needs of the child but attempts to meet his social, intellectual and emotional needs as well.

Because of the increased number of working mothers, and the inability of many mothers to be with their children in the home, the need for Day Care facilities is becoming more and more evident. In Rowan County there are 283 women employed in industry alone. There are four licensed Day Care Centers in Morehead and all are filled to capacity.

The Donner Project Mobile Unit will arrive in Morehead, Kentucky the 13th of December and will be on display at IGA West the afternoon of the 13th and all day the 14th. A series of meetings will be scheduled in conjunction with the mobile unit.

Anyone interested in the formation of a Day Care Center in Morehead is urged to attend the meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Monday, December 13 at the Public Library.

A training session for social workers will be held at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, December 14, at the Kentucky Utilities Building.

A meeting especially for parents will be held from 1:00 p.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 14, at the Kentucky Utilities Building.

A final session for current and potential Day Care operators will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Kentucky Utilities Building.

Woodrow Richards 58, Is Claimed

Woodrow Richards, 58, of Morehead died Sunday at the St. Claire Medical Center. Mr. Richards was born June 30, 1913, in Boyle County.

Graveside services were conducted Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Danville Cemetery.

Comprehensive Care Center Plans New M'head Building

The Cave Run Comprehensive Care Center gave notice this week of its intent to erect a modern building for its regional headquarters at Morehead.

A hearing is set this (Thursday) evening at city hall (7 p.m.) on the application of the Center to erect the structure on East Main Street, former location of the Morehead News and an adjoining residence.

The application before the zoning board is to build the structure ~~on the east~~ on the west property line.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

By United Press International

To press knits use a steam iron or a clean, damp cloth and dry iron. In either method never let the iron rest on the knitwear. Hold the iron away from the fabric and let the steam do the pressing.

Pills on the surface of a knit garment may be removed by brushing small sections of the knit with a semisoft brush or by using a fine grade sandpaper or a safety razor while holding the garment flat. You also can get results with scissors or with one of the "pill removing cutters" now on the market.

To stretch the meat dollars in your budget plan meat roasts and use some of the meat for sandwiches. Also: pass up shrimps. Cut up a whole bird. If the price picnic is less, use fish more often.

College students, retired couples and many families in between are discovering one of the easiest ways to own a home is to purchase one with wheels. One of the major advantages is price. Mary Dale McGregg, extension housing specialist, University of Nebraska-Lincoln. The home on wheels costs around $8,350 per square foot. The air-built home costs around $16 per square foot.

Pears, like bananas, turn brown if they are allowed to stand after they have been cut or peeled. A quick dip into a citrus fruit juice will help keep the cut surfaces creamy white until served.

Block parents aid children

LINCOLN, Neb. (UPI) - The "block parent" program aims to make it as safe as possible for children to get to and from school.

One of two volunteer parents, usually mothers, are chosen along the routes to school. These volunteers should be at home during the half hour before and after school. It is desirable to have a parent on every block, says Rollin Schneider, extension safety specialist at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln.

Originally the program was developed to help protect against child molestation in the larger cities, says Schneider. The block parent plan has paid off and produced an extra dividend by helping child accident victims.

Posted on the inside of the front window or door is a sign identifying the home of a block parent. The children are told to go there should trouble occur.

The block parent is not supposed to be used to break up fights, furnish rest room facilities or give medical aid other than the washing of a scrape or application of a small bandage - unless it is an emergency and the child's life is at stake.

Mather Winner Of First Adron Doran Speakers Award

Ron Mather, Hodgenville junior at Morehead State University, is the winner of the first annual Adron Doran Speaker Award.

The award was presented to Mather by Dr. Doran, the MSU president, after his selection as the outstanding speaker in the University's Eagle Debate Tournament last weekend.

As the host school, Morehead State was not eligible to win the tournament, but MSU teams were undefeated during the preliminary rounds.

MSU's four-man debate team included Fred Schmidt, Louisville freshman; Joe Fowler, Louisville sophomore; Pam Todd, Madisonville freshman, and Dan Grigson, Maysville sophomore. Mather and Kathy Cruse, Lyndon, Ohio junior, were MSU's switch-sides debaters.

Schmidt was selected second best debater in the four-man debate category, and Fowler, Miss Todd and Grigson finished fourth, sixth and seventh respectively. Miss Cruse was chosen as the second best debater behind Mather in the switch-sides category.

A team from the University of North Carolina captured the four-man debate trophy, and Capital University of Columbus, Ohio finished first in switch-sides competition.

RICHARD PROUDFOOT AGAIN MAKES DEAN LIST

Richard W. Proudfoot of Morehead has been honored at Centre College by being named to the Dean's List for having a high scholastic mere.

Proudfoot, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Proudfoot, 314 Cecil Drive, Morehead, graduated in 1970 from University Breckridge School where he was on the basketball team and a member of the Beta Club. At Centre he is a photographer for the school newspaper, the Cento.

IN KENTUCKY... TOBACCO IS NO. 1

TOBACCO IS NO. 1

Tobacco, as most Kentuckians know, is the state's leading cash crop. Tobacco accounts for 32 percent of farm income in our state, and is worth $300 million annually to Kentucky's farm families. Of equal importance is the fact that tobacco provides jobs and income for thousands of other Kentuckians engaged in its marketing, processing, and retail sale. Tobacco, it is estimated, generates $1.5 billion each year within our economy. Tobacco is, indeed, Kentucky's Number One product. As such, it has a story to tell, and that's why Kentucky's burley tobacco farmers bring you this message. Burley farmers believe it's time to speak up for what's good about tobacco. So they're talking. Are you listening?

1 CENTURY BY THE OLD TIMER

From Mrs. Ruth Collingsham, Berea, Ky.: Remembering my childhood days, which were spent in a relatively small Mid-West town, brings to mind one of my favorite and most cherished recollections: Twilight - that lovely time between day and night. Twilights in the summer were spent quenching the thirst of the lawn and the many flowers. Then my brother and I would chase fireflies, entranced by their tiny and radiant flickers of light. Father would relax on the front porch and light his favorite pipe, while Mother would catch up with her mending or crocheting. The crisp, cool air of an autumn twilight meant the raking and gathering of golden and russet colored leaves from our numerous trees. Twilight is a beautiful time to remember from so many years ago.

Tasty-Topic

Deviled Tongue Melt
2 to 3 cups diced, cooked tongue
2 tablespoons gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
2 cups boiling water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 hard-cooked eggs, finely chopped
1 hour or till pickle, finely chopped
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
Lettuce
Soften gelatin in 1/2 cup cold water. Dissolve softened gelatin in boiling water. Add salt. Combine diced tongue, eggs, pickle, mayonnaise and prepared mustard. Chill. When gelatin liquid begins to stiffen, fold in tongue mixture. Rinse in 1/4 quart cold water. Pour mixture into mold and chill until firm. Serve garnished with lettuce. 4 to 6 servings.

What is the status today of Morehead's plan to annex over six square miles of additional territory?

Circuit Judge John J. Winn decided Thursday that he needed more time to study Morehead before handing down a ruling. And "time" is the paramount question, we are citizens, both in the existing city limits and owning property in the big hunk to be annexed given sufficient notice by legal advertisements in the Morehead News?

Judge Winn could:
→ Throw the entire annexation out of court.
→ Set a date for a hearing with many "pro" and "con" witnesses.
→ Delay a decision until after January when a new Council, some incumbents, are sworn in as Council members.

We have heard the new Council may rescind the annexation ordinance... that some members of the present Council may have been reelected have had a change of heart and opinion on annexation.

In any analysis, it is obvious the City is considerably removed from carrying through with the biggest annexation in history. Opposition is strong, both within the present city limits, and also within the territory to be incorporated.

But if the Circuit Court rules in favor of annexation it won't do opponents much good to appeal. Almost without exception the Kentucky Court of Appeals has upheld municipal annexations.

It is our observation that most citizens are opposed to annexing six square miles, including a three miles stretch of Interstate 64. As they say, you could be attacked by a bear on Divide line. Forest, North Wilson Avenue, and areas around South Fork of Triplett creek.

We also conclude that most people presently in the city limits would not oppose annexation of Forest, North Wilson Avenue, and areas around South Fork of Triplett creek.

In any analysis the financial condition of the City is a governing consideration. The City has no money, and an occupational tax may be in the making if streets are to be repaired and services upgraded. Further, $2.4 million must be spent on the existing sewage treatment plant which overflows raw sewage into Triplett creek.

Council will have bit off a much bigger chunk (over six square miles) than the public will accept, or the courts approve.

COMMONWEALTH ATTORNEY ELECTION NEXT YEAR

The following commentary must necessarily be preceded with one of our educated predictions. It is that Gov. Wendell Ford, who took office Tuesday, will soon name, perhaps within the week, Rowan County Attorney James E. (Jimmy) Clay of Morehead as the new Commonwealth Attorney of the judicial district composed of Rowan, Bath, Menifee and Montgomery counties.

The vacancy was created Tuesday when Commonwealth Attorney E.M. Hogg was appointed by Gov. Ford as Commissioner of Transportation.

This will mean a race in next year's May primary and November general election for Commonwealth Attorney. Although Mr. Hogg's six year term doesn't expire until January 1, 1976, the Governor's appointment will be until a successor qualifies in next year's elections. However, Clay's appointment gives him a big inside track on being elected next year to fill the remainder of the term.

Mr. Clay's appointment undoubtedly caused some deep thinking in democratic circles. It is almost an open secret that Mr. Hogg would like to succeed to the White House in his 70's as Circuit Judge. This could mean that Hogg and Clay are democratic candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney, respectively, in a future election. It is usually not the best politics for a Circuit Judge and the Commonwealth Attorney to be from the same county, and perhaps run as a team. For most effective vote getting, the best set up in the present judicial district is for one of the candidates to be from Rowan and the other from Montgomery, as these are the two most populous counties.

Another "if" is almost a fact. The next General Assembly will judicially re-district the state. This could result in the counties of Rowan, Bath, Menifee and Montgomery no longer being a judicial district.

The present district is heavily democratic, and republicans rarely seek, and never capture, the Circuit Judgeship and the Commonwealth Attorney post. The late Judge D.B. Caudill ran about 35 years back on both the democratic and republican tickets, although he was a democrat. He won in the fall election as a republican when the Court of Appeals removed him from the democratic nomination.

OFFICE WILL BE MADE MORE IMPORTANT

Informed sources close to Ford advised the Morehead News that Hogg will have somewhat of a bigger job than his predecessors.

In his plan for reorganization of state government, Ford expects to re-name the title to Commissioner of Transportation, instead of the present Commissioner of Motor Transportation.

This would bring all forms of transportation under the office, not just highway travel.

Biggest would be aviation. Before leaving office Gov. Louie Nunn issued a press release that Kentucky's airport development needs over the next year will cost $67 million. This financial forecast is based on Spindletop Research, and the plight of the airports at Louisville and in Boone County (Cincinnati) which are not big enough for the demand, and the faster the planes.

It seems that boots and boots might also be regulated by Mr. Hogg's office. This is getting to be a sizeable business.

Mr. Hogg's appointment is the first time in Rowan's 115 year history that our county has had a member of the Governor's cabinet. That is good, because a person on the "inside" and "in the confidence" of the elected powers, has great opportunity to help his own community.

As Mr. Hogg took over his new office a local (Rowan County) problem is on his mind. It is the controversial weight scales on U.S. 60 just east of Morehead.

Rowan may be the only county in Kentucky that the Department of Motor Transportation maintains two sets of highway truck scales, the other being on the Interstate about three miles east of the Morehead connector.

Lumber and pallet mills east of Morehead, and farms throughout this area, simply "hate" that pair of U.S. 60 scales.

The claim is made that the farmer, often with the help of his sons, cuts timber for the scales of Morehead mills, loading it on his farm truck. Hundreds have been arrested at the scales as farm trucks aren't permitted to carry a heavy load. They're really sitting ducks.

The lumber mills claim this is discrimination, and farmers are reluctant to deliver wood to their mills because of arrest, and a heavy fine for being overweight.

It is also clear that some previous county officials have used the scales as a vote getting means by dismissing overweight cases against local and area (voting) farmers.

The farmer and the mills want the Roadburn scales discontinued on the grounds that the law was not meant to molest the wood cutting farmers, but to detect the commercial vehicles that do the big damage when they visit the affected mills in the Roadburn area. These scales are a hot potato.

HELPING PROMOTE THE KENTUCKY CARDINAL

The United States Postal Service which was supposed to stop the post office deficit, and provide better rates, seems to have made as much progress as the American Party.

The cost for mailing a Christmas card will be eight cents. It's not difficult to recall when the postage was a penny.

Greeting card manufacturers have also gotten price hiked. Nice, hand made cards cost a quarter or more, even in quantities. Counting the cost of the cards, addressing and postage, this becomes a sizeable expense item, and we understand fewer and fewer Christmas cards will be mailed this year as if this Publisher doesn't get a card from you we'll know you're hard up for money.

But, if you get one from me here's the reason: the publisher is still an old-fashioned Christmas card sender.

We wrote three years back about the beautiful Kentucky Cardinal that visited each morning. The glass on our patio window was like a mirror, particularly at sunrise, and the Cardinal thought he was seeing another bird. So, he would sit on top of a patio chair admiring his own reflection, often flying against the glass pane to visit with what he believed was another Cardinal.

We set the alarm clock to get up before sunrise to await and admire our Cardinal. That bird helped us start each day in a cheerful mood, and became almost a member of the family. We loved that cardinal, and he became one of the best parts of our life.

The Cardinal came every spring morning for two years. But he didn't come back this spring, although we watched and hoped. A former business associate who now heads one of the big greeting card companies in the United States sent us this summer, as he always does, Christmas card samples. Turning through the sample book we came across a card with Kentucky Cardinals.

Confidentially we buy the cards at half price. We always resist ordering this Kentucky Cardinal Christmas card.

Our cards have been addressed since before Thanksgiving, and this week we announced a special Christmas gift subscription offer (Five for $20) to get enough money for postage.

So, if you receive a Christmas card from this young-at-heart Publisher, you'll realize how much sentiment is in it.

Outside of the "snow" anything prettier than a Kentucky Cardinal, but girls can get year and talk back which a Kentucky cardinal never does except in that melodramatic way.

Our 1971 Christmas cards are sort of a memorial to the Kentucky Cardinal that visited the patio each morning at daybreak and gave us moral strength and the right attitude to cheerfully face each new day.

BLOODMOBILE WILL BE HERE TOMORROW

A boxed head, "Gasoline For Blood" in the last issue of the Morehead News related that Ashland Oil and Refining would give each donor five gallons of gasoline for a bloodmobile.

Well, the Red Cross bloodmobile will be in Morehead tomorrow (Friday) from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. It'll be parked in front of the Military Science Building at MSU, only a block from the courthouse.

We have a report that 201 pints were contributed last week when the bloodmobile visited the Marshall University campus.

Well, the Red Cross can be beat. That here tomorrow, Blood bank custodian Mrs. C.C. Mayhall reports the Rowan supply dangerously low.

We hope you get five gallons of free gas.

INAUGURATING YULE - We were pleased with the turnout on Morehead's Christmas parade. Of course, Santa Claus was the big attraction, but we particularly liked the several high school bands. The promotion and expanding of this parade next year, plus better street lights and decorations, will mean more Christmas cheer in cash registers of local retail stores.

MAYBE - Several Morehead merchants say they are employing legal counsel and will seek Circuit Court injunction against the competitors for staying open on Sundays. Morehead's blue laws went down the drain last year when a city court jury found the defendants not guilty even after they admitted their stores were open for business on the Sabbath.

BIG SHOWING - We doubt if any Kentucky community, including populous Louisville and Lexington, had more to do with the Governor's inauguration Tuesday than did Morehead - at least not on the musical side. The biggest band in the parade was that of Morehead State University - 220 pieces. One of the competitors for staying open on Sundays. Morehead's blue laws went down the drain last year when a city court jury found the defendants not guilty even after they admitted their stores were open for business on the Sabbath.

GIGGLY - The inauguration was a boom to one of Kentucky's biggest businesses that produces a potent liquid made primarily from fermented corn and wheat. This is reminiscent of the late John Cecil who operated for three decades Morehead's Midland Trail Hotel. Mr. Cecil was an avowed and avid drinker. In the fall of 1947, the republicans rented all his hotel for a district rally. Two weeks later the democrats rented the Midland Trail for the state campaign opening of Earle Clements. After the two nightmarish political gatherings Mr. Cecil observed: "I've come to the conclusion that whoever gets elected we'll have a drunk administration in Frankfort." He added that the republicans drank a little less than the democrats "so I guess I'll vote Republican which he always did regardless."

TRANSPORTATION - Reading back we note the comment on Morehead musician group at the inauguration. We forgot to mention it took six Greyhound and three school buses to transport them.

ANOTHER RACE - Further glancing at what we have already typed, the question arises - Who will be County Attorney when Jimmy Clay resigns to become Commonwealth (District) Attorney? Gov. Ford will also have his appointment with a successor to be elected next year. We have a fair idea the office will go to a local democrat lawyer, but we don't know who wants or will accept it.

COURT ENDS - The November term of Rowan Circuit Court ends with few cases tried. We conjecture what happens to all the grand jury true bills, plus the increasing number of civil cases? We do know that the grand jury will be reconstituted in December and the majority of civil actions are settled before getting to a Judge and Jury. Lawyers are doing okay for themselves.

NEW ADDRESS - Starting with the next federal income tax return, or declaration, Rowan Counties will no longer mail them to Louisville. They'll go to the new Internal Revenue Service Center, Memphis, Tenn. 3110. It'll still seem like blood money.

DEADLINE NEAR - We hesitate to disturb your happiness at Christmas, but emphasize as we always do at this time of the year that your city and county taxes become delinquent January 1 with penalty added. After that the tax bills are advertised for sale at the courthouse or city hall, with more penalty, interest and advertising costs. We're working for the government.

INVITATION - Morehead's police department is justifiably a little peeved, following two or more robberies in which the thieves took home money ($2,300 twice) from cash drawers or a desk. Chief Coyle says that stores are justifiably nervous, leaving sums of money in the place overnight; and thieves are smart to soon detect this, or get the information from perhaps an employee.

OBSERVATION - The high cost for cedar, spruce and fir Christmas trees is a bonanza for manufacturers of long-lasting artificial trees. More than half of the people in the U.S. are now using the artificial kind, storing them for re-use.

VISIT HIM - Santa will be at MSU all this week... the big Yule party given by President and Mrs. Doris J. Schuler tomorrow (Friday) evening. Months of preparation go into this one with guests being the several hundred faculty members and University personnel. This Christmas party and the Homecoming Candlelight Dinner highlight the fall social season at MSU.

NEAR - Only 13 more shopping days until Christmas... the most appreciated present of all is a gift subscription to the Morehead News. Bargain offer - five gift subscriptions, anywhere in the world, for twenty bucks which is less than you usually spend on one

Foresters Going Commercial

Rangers in the Daniel Boone National Forest, as well as, all of Kentucky, were perhaps amazed during the week when their heretofore closest allies suggested that many Kentucky foresters, they asserted, are turning to commercial logging for the ecological consequences of many of their current practices.

Spoken for the Sierra Club, the Audubon Society and the League of Kentucky Sportsmen told Kentucky Tennessee section of the Society of trip to the forest.

SPORTS - Our readers like to see in the Morehead News each issue all the past scores, and future schedule, of Morehead teams. You'll find in this edition the basketball scores and schedules of the Morehead State University varsity and freshmen, Rowan County High, and University Breckinridge. We only have trouble each week getting the high school scores when the Morehead team plays.

PREDICTION - The next legislature will place a two cent additional tax on gasoline.

CERTAIN - The General Assembly will remove the tax on carry-home food, but the legislation won't carry an emergency clause, and it won't go off until July 1. Such items as paper goods like towels and tissues, health and beauty aids, brooms and mops and cigarettes will still be taxed.

SMART JAILER - About 30 Morehead businessmen have been developing for the past three years a new type of vacation cottages - Lake Lewman. The Publisher is one of the, and we're now building a nice vacation cottage. Realy, John Bays is at the head of Island Park where Jailer Jesse Anderson has lived his adult life. Jesse called us aside at the entrance to jail the other day and said: "The citizens of Island Ford are proud that a distinguished newspaper Publisher will be their neighbor."

He also related there have been times when moonshine has been knowingly produced in stone's throw of Lake Lewman. One of those pretty girl secretaries at the courthouse said she had heard our vacation cottage has already been named - Publisher's Playhouse Club. Well, there are bumps in the road.

STARTLING - A news release says that 88 percent of the people interviewed at the Richmond school for motorists convicted of drunken driving admitted they operated a car while their license was under revocation. This is an amazing percentage.

BIG BUSINESS - The most turkeys ever sold in Morehead stores was over Thanksgiving. Price was down three cents from last year, about the only food item that cost less. In our boyhood we often heard someone say they were so poor they had to eat bologna. Today turkey is the cheapest meat of all, and only folks with good incomes can afford bologna. We can remember when Vienna sausage was a nickel a can, and most stores threw in the crackers to eat them with.

ALREADY KNEW THIS - A national survey shows conclusively that you pay the highest prices, with usually inferior merchandise, at stores that do not advertise. Their volume is usually so low they have to charge more; and they also are at a disadvantage in dealing with suppliers because their purchases are smaller than those of big volume stores.

APPROPRIATE - The OVC football game between East Tennessee and Austin Peay was billed "The Cellar Bowl."

NOT SO HAPPY - Some of our rural readers question the page one headline in the last issue, "Barley Growers Hit Jackpot." They said the lightness of this year's tobacco more than offsets the record price of about $80 hundred weight. It appears that half of our farmers will market less than their poundage allotment calls for. But, they can make it up next year under the poundage plan to strongly endorsed by the Morehead News. They couldn't make up the difference under the acreage quota plan.

ON ALCOHOL - Writing last issue in the Ranger's column, Joe Mauk repeated a very old statement: "Alcohol and gun powder don't mix." Joe pointed out the very greatest single cause of hunting accidents was hitting the bottle. James D. Sewell, Executive Assistant of the Kentucky Traffic Coordinating Committee, deplors that it has become almost a way of life in some counties for judges and juries to be lenient with drunken drivers, often flagrantly ignoring breathalyzer tests. Sewell thinks these judges and juries are the worst enemies to highway safety.

CONCLUDING - One way to judge cooks: Ye shall know them by their fruitcakes. Why should any taxpayer object to setting aside $1 of his income tax as help finance campaigns of candidates for the Presidency? In no other way could he receive so much entertaining comedy for $1.

Ted Kennedy becomes President we wouldn't be surprised if Morehead's Nell Carr isn't appointed official pie baker at the White House. Kennedy says Nell makes the best apple pie in the world, and she has been known to get some to whom local folks go to Washington. It is assumed that President Nixon didn't send hospitalized Meany a "get well" card. Many a husband who think he's a good cook is usually only a figurehead. What the U.S. stands for with reference to a large number of nations the world over is too much.

American Foresters that foresters have been too involved in meeting the needs of timber and mining interests. This has caused serious and long-range damage to many Kentucky forests, they asserted.

More than 46 percent of Kentucky's land area is in woodlands, much of it held by some 243,000 farmers and other private owners. More than 90 percent of Kentucky's woodlands is in tracts of less than 500 acres.

All three spokesmen criticized the "clear cutting" method of harvesting timber, which the U.S. Forest Service is using in the Daniel Boone National Forest and the Tennessee Valley Authority is using in the Land Between the Lakes area.

John L. Franson, of Owensboro, central Midwestern representative for the National Audubon Society, said the Forest Service abandoned selective tree cutting for the less expensive clear-cutting method "because of pressure from timber interests."

Clear cutting involves harvesting all trees in a given area, regardless of the potential value of each, to get at the area's "cash crop" of trees.

"Bulldozers and tractors are boring into some of the nation's last remnants of pristine wilderness; archaic laws and regulations are allowing choice expanses of forest to be wiped out and scarred by mining operations," Franson said.

Franson said that the Department of Agriculture, it is business-oriented. Carroll Tichenor of Nicholasville, a Sierra Club official, and John Owens of Paducah, past president of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen, said logging operations in Eastern Kentucky have destroyed a million of streams and caused extensive soil erosion.

Tichenor said the state should regulate forestry practices to help eliminate clear cutting and similar problems.

John Alcock, supervisor of the Daniel Boone National Forest, said he is dismayed by the fact that his profession is "under attack from traditional friends (environmental groups)."

He said growing concern about the effects of certain timber harvesting practices requires a more "intensive" forestry that will require more money and manpower.

Joe Kulesza, superintendent of Mammoth Cave National Park, also criticized some forestry practices. "There's too much evidence that foresters have been damaging the soil because of the location of logging roads, destructive removal methods and lack of restoration following logging operations," he said.

Funeral Services Held For Lionel H. Perdue, Sr.

A widely known 67 year old Rowan County citizen, Lionel H. Perdue, Sr. died last Tuesday in Columbus, O. after a heart seizure.

PASTURE RENOVATION - Are you planning renovation of pasture this year? If so, you need to graze them close, fertilize with potash and phosphate time it needed, resulting from the 100 per cent assessment ruling of the state of Kentucky, but allowed two 10 per cent increases in property taxes.

Had the "roll back" law been declared unconstitutional, property taxes could have gone sky high as the present lid on rates would have been lifted and property owners would have found themselves in virtually the same situation as when the Kentucky Court of Appeals first ruled that all property must be assessed at 100 per cent of its value.

The courts' actions in these cases are encouraging, and the future of Kentucky agriculture cannot help but be brighter because of them.

Board Hears Elliottville Without Fire Alarm System

(As reported by SOS)

At a meeting of the Rowan County Board of Education Monday night, it was learned that Elliottville school is without a fire alarm system. When asked by a member of an audience of 75, Superintendent Clifford Cassidy said there is no system at Elliottville.

The matter was revealed when the Board discussed the rewiring of the Rowan County High School. The high school's wiring received an estimated $1,000 worth of damage apparently when lightning struck sometime this past summer. Cassidy said bids were being advertised for the damage at the high school. However, when asked about future plans for the Elliottville matter

Cassidy replied, "The Board of Education has directed me to proceed to ask for another facility survey of Rowan County, which I have done. The last facility survey recommended no additions to Elliottville school. They (the state) will not approve anymore money being spent on Elliottville school."

Dr. Warren Proudfoot, a member of the Board, expressed concern about the Elliottville matter and stated that he had not known about it. He asked the other Board members if they had known about it and received no reply. Proudfoot encouraged more community-school communications and said that school personnel and community leaders would soon be appointed to a committee by the Board to serve in an advisory capacity on matters concerning school improvement.

On other matters, the Board set the minimum teachers' salaries for Rank III (Bachelor degree) and no experience $5,445. At the other end of the scale the salary for a teacher with a Rank I (MA + 30 hours) and 11 years experience was set at $7,560. Kevin Sloan of KEA Uniserv I asked Cassidy whether teachers would receive pay that would have been paid prior to the three month wage-price control. Cassidy answered positively, explaining that retroactive pay for teachers was still in doubt.

Bids were opened and placed under consideration for building insurance in Rowan County schools. Cassidy stated that advertising had already occurred for the bids. The Board passed a motion to recognize Head Football Coach Paul Ousley and his team for going undefeated during this past season. Jim Galter, Band instructor at Rowan County High School, presented a display of instruments that had been bought by the Board of Education. He did so because of questions that had been asked pertaining to expenditures on the Music Department. The Board had spent approximately $8,000 last year and an additional $3,000 this year. Gallaher displayed some of the instruments that had been bought with the money and explained some of the awards the band recently won.

The Elliottville school matter was again brought up from the audience when the amount spent on band instruments was questioned in the light of the absence of a fire system at Elliottville.

The meeting was adjourned by Chairman Delbert Kegley. Those Board members present were Kegley, Proudfoot, Forest May, Clyde White, and David Kidd.

Ferol W. Ward Dead At 73, Had Many Survivors

Funeral services for Mrs. Ferol W. Ward, 73, will be conducted today (Thursday) at the Free Will Baptist Church at 2 p.m. with burial in the Caudill Cemetery.

Mrs. Ward, native and lifelong Rowan County citizen, died Tuesday in the University of Kentucky Medical Center following a long illness.

She was born in Rowan County November 26, 1898, daughter of the late Elijah and Lou (McCallister) Withrow.

She married Leslie Ward May 25, 1921. He preceded her in death.

Mrs. Ward is survived by - Eight daughters: Mrs. Maude Kopack, Downer Grove, Ill.; Mrs. Luella Thomas, Morehead, Ky.; Mrs. Vada Sue Russell, Hazelwood, Mo.; Mrs. Elizabeth Ison, Morehead, Ky.; Mrs. Ruby Knight, Downer Grove, Ill.; Mrs. Barbara Gifford, Harrisville, Mich.; Agnes Patterson, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Mrs. Francis Cassidy, Mason, Ohio. One Son: Finley Ward, Chattanooga, Tenn. One brother, Milford Withrow, Morehead, Ky.; four sisters, Mrs. Myrtle Morris, Caney, Ky.; Mrs. Maude Adkins, Coalton, Ohio; Mrs. Martha Butcher, Morehead, Ky.; Mrs. Dora Thomas, Morehead, Ky.

Also surviving are 36 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

The grandsons served as casket bearers. Lane Funeral Home cared for arrangements.

UNITED PENTECOSTAL

The Morehead United Pentecostal Church conducted the service this past Sunday at the Daniel Boone Rest Home.

On December 5 the Morehead UPC conducted a special service in which the church participated in a Communion and Foot Washing service.

The Morehead UPC is becoming instrumental in starting extensions in Owensville, Flemingsburg, Hays Crossing and Frenchburg.

Used clothing is also being made available to the needy of the area and they are urged to contact the church for further information. The Kentucky Youth Retreat of the UPC in which several hundred young people are expected to attend is scheduled to be held in Morehead in 1972.

HAYS CROSSING

A special program is being planned throughout the nation concerning the Hays Crossing UPC commonly called the "Cobblestone Church in the Wood" in 1972. The church has become widely known because of its setting and construction.

The "I Have Hope" broadcast is the radio voice of the Hays Crossing UPC, Morehead UPC and extensions in Frenchburg, Owensville and Flemingsburg. It is heard every Saturday at 11 a.m. over W.M.O.R.

EPISCOPAL

The Order of Service for "The Third Sunday in Advent" will be the Order of "Holy Communion" or "The Lord's Supper" at the Church of Saint Alban the Martyr, 145 East 5th St. in Morehead. The service will begin at 11:00 a.m. and the celebrant and preacher will be the Reverend Jack Meyer, Vicar of Saint Alban's Parish.

The choir, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Huffman will have their rehearsal at 7:00 p.m., Wednesday and will prepare Christmas music. All are welcome to join the choir.

Wednesday-Canterbury Fellowship held their annual pre-Christmas party at the home of Mr. John Boyd, their advisor. The Reverend and Mrs. Jack Meyer participated and the home of the Boyds was blessed by Father Meyer.

All are invited to the services and activities of Saint Alban's Parish.

WEEKLY MEDITATION

"When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him no warning, no speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood will I require at thine hand." (Ezekiel 3:18)

The manner in which God uses childhood impressions is often amazing. Many times they remain indelibly etched in our minds as support for the truth of His revelation.

My older brother taught me about personal duty. It took him only one statement. He could not know how that remark would haunt my entire life and ministry.

We had been playing in the yard. He had an air gun, and he decided to show me it would kill. We crept behind the lattice-work that framed the under part of our back porch, and we waited for a bird to light on the ground.

My heart was racing. I was at once both anxious and afraid. I wanted to see him kill a bird. I did not want the bird to die.

Opportunity was not long in coming. A sparrow landed barely ten feet from where we were sitting. My brother carefully aimed his rifle.

Something made me want to cry out in warning. I did not. In a matter of seconds the sparrow was dead.

I felt ashamed, and I began to scold my brother. He should not have killed the bird! Firmly he took me by the shoulders and looked directly into my eyes. "If you had really wanted to save the bird's life," he said, "all you had to do was make a noise!"

I was as guilty as he. The blood of that bird was as much upon me as it was upon my brother.

God said to every man through His word to Ezekiel that even though we are not responsible for the guilt of others, we are to be held accountable for their opportunity to be forgiven.

We have learned that all men are lost. Through Christ we know how they may be redeemed.

In the power of the Holy Spirit, all we have to do is make a noise. We cannot escape the duty.

Hugh Brooks

Home briefs

Housing activity
NEW YORK (UPI) — Projected housing activity for the full year 1971 shows the East is expected to lead the nation with a 20 per cent increase over 1970, according to a survey of 100 key metropolitan areas. The poll indicates the Midwest would be a close second with 19 per cent. Experts see housing activity in general chalking up an average 10 per cent gain over 1970, says Allan W. Cox, Owens-Corning market research manager.

Protecting concrete
PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Urban and suburban homeowners can protect concrete sidewalks and driveways from the damaging effects of winter's freeze-thaw cycles and deicing salts with a sealer that is easy to apply and remains effective for up to five years. The concrete sealer, which can be applied with a roller or spray, also can be used to decorate concrete, as it is available in a variety of colors as well as a clear formulation, says PPG Industries.

Costly humidity
NEW YORK (UPI) — Low humidity in your home can be not only uncomfortable but uneconomical.

When the air is too dry you feel colder because of excess moisture evaporation from your body. As a result you need a higher room temperature to feel comfortable. Studies by Honeywell, producer of home comfort controls, indicate that a 40 per cent drop in humidity must be offset by a five-degree increase in room temperature to maintain the body comfort balance.

This temperature increase can raise your fuel bill 10 to 15 per cent.

Gold statistics
NEW YORK (UPI) — Only 2.5 per cent of the homes in the United Kingdom have freeters, compared with 30 per cent in the United States.

This industrialized nation is seen as a good potential frozen food market that should develop rapidly, according to the Bureau of International Commerce.

Sensing The News

A report by the District Committee of the U.S. House of Representatives is notable for an exceptionally candid and truthful assessment of an urban problem. The report expressed proper concern about the swarm of intruders in the District of Columbia. "It is not the Congress or the federal establishment which is the interloper here," as some District spokesmen maintain, "the report said, "but rather the thousands of persons who have swarmed here, most of whom add little or nothing to the day-by-day operations of the federal government, who are 'local' in character and needs, who are the intruders and who are not vital to the federal government's operations."

U.S. Rep. John McMillan, chairman of the District committee, and the other committee members deserve public thanks for authorizing such a forthright statement. Unless American cities obtain some form of influx control, urban problems will remain out of hand.

The nation's capital is a prime example of the difficulties America's big cities face. It is loaded with "intruders" who are responsible for high crime rates and appalling welfare loads. America's capital city is one of the most unsafe cities in the world. It is less dangerous to walk the streets of Saigon at night than to walk a few blocks from the White House after dark.

Unfortunately, the federal courts persist in denying cities and states the authority to restrict the flow of newcomers seeking welfare. For example, a three-judge federal court in Providence, R.I. recently ruled that Rhode Island's one-year residency requirement for welfare recipients was unconstitutional. A requirement of this sort is essential if the welfare population is to be checked.

Scant attention is being paid to the flood of immigrants—many of them illegal immigrants—from the Caribbean area. The New York Times recently reported that there are more than 200,000 Dominicans in the metropolis. Many of them travel from the Dominican Republic to Puerto Rico and then "pass" as Puerto Ricans. Under existing law, Puerto Ricans can move to the continental United States without entry formalities. New York City also is gaining a big population of Haitians and other Caribbean islanders. Many of these people bring to the United States crime, superstition and a penchant for idleness. Unfortunately, middle-class Cubans who have come to this country as refugees from

Morehead Artist's Version Of The Nude

Don Young, Morehead State University art professor, has created a new visual impression of the most used subject in art—the nude.

Using a unique combination of photography and painting, Young has produced a limited edition of prints entitled "Nebulous Nudes." The first edition includes 20 signed and numbered prints in six different colors and 80 signed prints of each color.

The first edition consists of two plates each presented in red, orange, gold, avocado, blue and white. These two plates are the first in a series of six paintings to be produced.

"There is nothing in life more interesting and beautiful than a human being," Young said. "Yet so much of the art I have seen in the past few years seems to be bent on destroying this beauty."

"It portrays the figure in a manner which seems designed to shock or disgust the viewer," he continued. "I certainly do not intend to be Victorian, but I have attempted to present the human figure in a style which shows its grace and beauty by producing compositions of shape and contour. 'The human being is God's greatest work of art,' Young added.

A native Kentuckian, Young is the son of the late Tom Young of Morehead, also a Kentucky artist. He received his bachelor's and master's degrees from MSU and joined the MSU art faculty in 1967.

The prints are available at the MSU University Store and at other art shops throughout the nation.

Castro's tyranny and worked hard—are disliked by Puerto Ricans and Dominicans and other Caribbean peoples who drift into crime and lawlessness.

People Flock To Suburbs

While one can sympathize with the economic plight of the Caribbean peoples, it is imperative that the influx of unskilled newcomers be stopped. The United States cannot continue to absorb a proletarian population of the Caribbean.

The Caribbean newcomers are only one part of the urban problem. Central cities are decaying because white collar and blue collar working people are fleeing to the suburbs. The reason the productive people are moving to the suburbs is because the inner cities are dangerous, public schools have been turned into centers of sociological experimentation, and the enforcement of dependent people has created political regimes that cater to the ignorant, uneducated and lawless.

Tragically, the federal government refuses to acknowledge these realities. Instead, liberals in the Congress and agencies such as HEW and HUD are determined to engage in block-busting on a big scale. They want to force suburban communities to accept federally subsidized low-rent projects that the suburbanites know will become clusters of crime and dissolute behavior. News magazines such as Newsweek and Time endeavor to make suburbanites appear as bigots whereas the suburbanites simply want to maintain decent communities values and a safe environment for the rising generation.

It is time that responsible Americans do some hard thinking about the future of the cities and propose bold solutions. One of the basic needs is to curb every type of welfare and force dependent people to take jobs which are available. Working people also must acquire a new civic discipline. They must turn out to vote against politicians who cater to the dependent and lawless.

Beyond that, the time has come to revise the structure of municipalities in the hands of the dependent, lawless elements. States give charters to cities, and states can take away or amend such charters. It seems likely that the long-range answer to the problem of a city such as New York lies in the area of increasing state control over municipal functions. The ideal solution would be restoration of educational and property requirements for voting. Until that is politically feasible, constructive efforts will have to focus on exercise of state over municipal authority and tightening of welfare laws. Hopefully, a more conservative Supreme Court will give the police greater latitude in arresting on suspicion and in dealing with various forms of disorderly conduct. In summary, the immediate needs are protection for the suburbs and a crackdown on dependent elements in the inner cities. Those are the initial steps toward a decent standard of life and public order in metropolitan areas.

The Editor:

We appreciate the generous publicity that the Morehead News has given Rowan County High School.

We certainly need all the good image we can get, and the best source is your newspaper. As one of the cheerleader sponsors at RCHS I feel that the Morehead News has done our girls justice.

We have a fine group of students, and we are proud of them. They deserve the recognition they get in your newspaper.

SAYS MOREHEAD HAS GOOD POTENTIAL

The Editor:

Tell the Morehead State University basketball team, and their coach, not to despair.

I saw Morehead lose to Duquesne in Pittsburgh. Before the season is over Morehead will be a better team than Duquesne.

Your boys, whom I understand are mostly sophomores, made a lot of mistakes and were obviously nervous. But, the potential is there, and I'll be looking in the paper for scores of other Morehead games.

A NEW FORM OF COLONIALISM

The Editor:

On November 15, Congressman Edward J. Derwinski, the United States representative at the United Nations, delivered a statement concerning the rights of people to self-determination. Derwinski expressed his belief that we should not overlook the new forms of colonialism and denial of self-determination which have been manifested since World War II. He strongly stressed the fact that the once independent Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia have been annexed by the Soviet Union. Derwinski, likewise, emphasized that to this day, the United States accords diplomatic recognition to the representatives of the last legitimate governments of the three Baltic states.

Furthermore, Derwinski exposed and condemned the large-scale deportations, the confiscations of private property, persecution of religion and other crimes against humanity committed by the Russian authorities in the Baltic states. It should be noted that in 1966 Congress passed a resolution to urge the President of the United States to bring the force of world opinion at the U.N. on behalf of the restoration of independence of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia. This resolution also strongly condemned the genocide committed by Soviet Russia in the Baltic states.

Nevertheless, the Johnson administration and our "liberal" newscasters studiously avoided condemning or even mentioning genocide and colonialism in the Soviet Union. President Richard M. Nixon has frequently demonstrated that he is a real friend of the Baltic states. Sen. Robert J. Dole, the national chairman of the Republican party, states recently that the Republican party has always been the standard-bearer of those who champion the freedom of self-determination for oppressed nations.

There is no doubt the Lithuanians, Latvians, Estonians and other self-respecting citizens of Eastern European descent will do their very best to achieve the re-election of their beloved President, Richard M. Nixon, in 1972.

Sincerely,
Dr. Alexander V. Berkis

College Tuition Lower In Kentucky Than Other States

A study by the state Council on Public Higher Education indicates tuitions at Kentucky's state colleges and universities, including Morehead, are below the average for comparable institutions in this region. The disparity is greatest in the area of out-of-state students.

University of Kentucky fees were compared with 11 land grant schools in Indiana, Missouri, North Carolina, Ohio, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia. Kentucky's regional schools were compared with some 32 regional colleges and universities in the same states. The study shows out-of-state students at UK pay $390 less than the median of the 11 mentioned land grant schools.

Out-of-state students at Kentucky's regional schools are paying $328 less than those at the 32 regional schools of the comparison.

The report also notes that while tuition in Kentucky appears to be a bargain, this may be erroneous because six of the eight surrounding states have higher per capita personal income than Kentucky.

The Mature Woman

Have you a problem as a mature woman, or with one? For advice and help, write to Margaret Brookfield, Information Center on the Mature Woman, 3 West 57th Street, New York, N.Y. 10019.

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

Would you have some advice for a retired woman with $5000 to invest, who's interested in a safe return on her money.

K.H., Brooklyn, N.Y.

Dear K.H.:

Unfortunately, we're not in a position to provide financial advice to our readers. We suggest, however, that they never leave hard cash in the mattress. It can only lead to sleepless nights.

Restless and Jump

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I am 48. While I look and feel younger most of the time, it's still traumatic to realize suddenly that you've passed the midpoint of your life. I used to be an even-tempered person, but now find myself irritable, depressed, restless and jump at times. At other times I'm just like my old self. Although I have an appointment for a checkup soon with my doctor, I'm not sure if my problems are physical or psychological.

B.K., Dallas, Tex.

Dear B.K.:

The middle years of a woman's life can be a time of fewer responsibilities and greater freedom if she wants to take advantage of them. And if she takes good care of herself and her health, she can look forward to a productive second life after forty. A physical checkup is therefore always a good idea and having one regularly, an even better one. Should your doctor find an estrogen deficiency at the root of your problems—as is often the case with women in your age group—he might prescribe hormone replacements to restore the necessary balance. And when a woman feels better physically, she generally feels better psychologically too.

Homesick Husband

Dear Margaret Brookfield:

I am 73 and married for just a year to a man of 65. Since then, he has left me four times and gone back home. I married for company, but I'm always alone now anyway. Please advise what I can say to him so he gets some sense in his thick head.

E.L., Newfoundland, Canada

Dear E.L.:

The chances of your husband's settling down at this point don't seem very promising. Perhaps the best thing you can say, under the circumstances, is "Goodbye."

Organizations Seek Liberalization Of Laws On Abortion

The Interim Legislative Committee on Health and Welfare recently heard appeals from two organizations seeking liberalization of Kentucky's abortion law.

Appeals were made by Mrs. Angela Herring, director of the Lexington Planned Parenthood Center, Inc., and Dr. A.S. Holmes, director of the Mountain Health League, Inc.

Mrs. Herring said 1,290 Kentucky women were forced to go to New York for legal abortions when that state legalized the operation. She added the figure represents about one abortion for every 25 live births.

Mrs. Herring also urged more attention be given to the woman who does not want a baby as well as the effect on the unwanted child.

She also asked for a law to allow welfare recipients to be sterilized upon request. No action was taken on the suggestions but committee members said they might give them further consideration at a later meeting.

Christmas spruce-up

NEW YORK (UPI) - Most heavy duty holiday cleaning can be done right now. Work through the house room by room and leave the most used room for last.

The Cleanliness Bureau suggests you follow this routine: Wash curtains, spreads, slipcovers. Shampoo upholstery and do a major, even-the-legs furniture washing and polishing. Clean rugs and wall areas, wash windows, mirrors and picture frames glass.

Sort old toys and clothing, throwing out the useless and arranging to give outworn toys and garments in good condition to a charitable group for distribution to needy families.

Inside job

BALTIMORE (UPI) - When Ronald Dierwa, 12, was hospitalized with sharp pains in his side, doctors thought he probably had a kidney infection or appendicitis.

X-rays showed, however, that the cause of the trouble was a five and one-half inch long probe which had been missing from the boy's laboratory kit for three years.

The probe, which his family theorized the boy swallowed when he fell asleep with it in his mouth, was removed by the surgeons.

"We looked all over for it but then," Ronald said, "All I knew was that it was missing and mother said I had lost it. It turns out I didn't lose it. I had it all the time."

Rice-rulene
When adding fertilizer to increase the yield caused rice plants to become top-heavy and collapse, a hybrid "miracle rice" was bred. These shorter, stronger stalks support the extra grain.

Vampire?
A royal edict protects the "flying fox" of Tonga Islands. The "foxes" actually are cat-size fruit bats that often raid mango groves by night.

Real Treasure . . .

Kentucky Flavor Yule Gifts

By Helen Price Stacy

A season's first snow seldom stays around long, but patches of white that cling to twigs and tree trunks are enough to make something entirely different of the pine or cedar, the hillside, city street or the fire. Overnight the tree has taken on the look of Christmas, a hillside has become a place to sleigh ride, the city street is gala with shops and gifts and the fireplace made to order for long stockings hung from the mantel or a chairback pulled close to the hearthstone.

Already there are those of you who have gifts bought, wrapped and tagged. There too are the rest of us who long learned that Christmas is not complete without that last rush to a store or shop.

There is still time this year to give a bit of Kentucky in the stockings hung by the mantel with care . . . or those dangling from the back of a chair. A husband can give his family a winter weekend in a state resort park, and it bears repeating that as wonderful as the parks are in summer there is nothing so peaceful and beautiful as a park visit during cold months when a wood fire reflects color and hospitality in the massive beams and stones and copper hoods above warm hearthstones.

Continuing the theme of giving Kentucky-made gifts this Christmas, stores and shops throughout the commonwealth and park gift shops abound with locally crafted articles that are satisfying to give and a joy to receive. There are shelves of books by Kentucky authors and editors—books on history, sports, cooking, crafts, music, art and books for all age groups.

Every city, town or village has its people who tool leather, hammer cooper and brass, make jewelry—seamstresses who could provide lengths of patchwork or even a quilt, pincushions, table cover or curtains in this popular motif. You might want to undertake a bit of patchwork yourself and make a gift of velvet patches basted together or a country quilt made of pieces of whatever you can find. In the hills grandmothers continue a generations-old tradition of piecing quilts to give their children and grandchildren at Christmas.

Gifts From Kentucky

For the collector there are artist prints as well as original paintings. Kentucky-made furniture, pottery and bibelots.

I consider it a mark of distinction to display Kentucky arts and crafts. You might find a Kentucky display case to give—an antique china cabinet. My old schoolmaster's desk, for instance, holds apple dolls made by Mrs. Johnny Burgess of Louisville, ceramic birds made by Morehead's Miss Nell Carr, wax candles from the Cane Brakes in Washington, Ky., and other state-made gifts.

In a Louisville home visited recently, Eloise and Benne Elliott used Kentucky sculpture, pottery, yarn hangings and original paintings to lend distinction and create a mood that almost says "Welcome to our home and let's talk awhile."

For something different in Kentucky gifts, call the historical society in your community to find out who does genealogies. Give the genealogist as much family history as you have to get started on a family tree that is sure to be the beginning of an absorbing family hobby. Whatever your ancestry or your family ghosts, whatever your race or color, your gift of a family tree can be an important legacy, a stabilizing factor in linking present and past generations. Among stocking stuffers to be found in state park gift shops are many Kentucky-made articles small enough for the stocking and also for the pocketbook, such as the booklet "By Their Works," to be found at My Old Kentucky Home, Greenbriar Lake State Resort Park and others. Written by Lynn Nickell, West Liberty, the booklet tells much about your ancestors who preserved foods by drying and canning, sulphured apples, how they built their cabins and log bee hives, and country schools. They built a great Kentucky by work of their hands.

Look around you, search for unusual Kentucky foods and products, or make something yourself. This year would be a good time to give gifts with a made-in-Kentucky flavor and look.

GOOD CITIZEN . . . Walking away from her school with one of the schools top honors is Bobbie Manning, University Breckinridge senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Goebel Manning. Bobbie has been selected to receive the schools first Good Citizen Award which is being presented through cooperation of the Daughters of American Revolution.

HIGHEST HONOR . . . Receiving their schools highest honor is Peggy Harrell and Mark Lewis. Peggy and Mark were selected by the student body to regin as Mr. and Miss Breckinridge for the 1971-72 academic year. The two active seniors were recognized during the annual Beta Review sponsored by the Beta Club. Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrell. Marks parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. Roger Lewis.

Eagles Thwarted In First Two Basketball Clashes

The Morehead Eagles, dominated with sophomores, found the going rough in their first two basketball games of the year, and lost both.

Duquesne spoiled the opener for the hopeful Morehead team by beating the Kentuckians 76-63 at Pittsburgh Thursday. The score was tied 59-59 with 4:39 to play but Lyons and Coulter fouled out, and the Ducks made the last nine points.

Oral Roberts University of Tulsa, Okla. edged Morehead 105-103 in overtime at Laughlin Fieldhouse Monday evening. Coulter and Lyons led Morehead at Pittsburgh with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

The game with Oral Roberts was not decided until their All-America candidate

Richard Fuqua connected on a 20 foot jump shot with five seconds left to play to break a 103-103 tie.

Fuqua's basket, which gave him 39 points, came after Oral Roberts had held the ball for about one minute setting up a final shot at victory in the five-minute overtime.

It was a bitter loss of Morehead which fell behind by 91-82 with 6:53 to play in regulation but then rallied gamely and took the lead at 97-96 on Leonard Coulter's jump shot with 2:55 to go.

With 1:26 left in regulation, Eugene Lyons' two free throws gave Morehead a 101-99 lead, but with 1:13 left Fuqua popped in a 20-footer to deadlock the score again. From that point to end of regulation play, both teams blew opportunities to break the tie.

Lyons and Coulter led Morehead with 25 points each.

Both teams shot a hot 48.9 percent from the field. However, Oral Roberts, led by 6-foot-5 Sam McCagney's 16 recoveries led in rebounding 62-42, but this advantage was offset by the visitors' 27 turnovers compared to Morehead's 12.

4 FROM MOREHEAD TO SING MESSIAH FOR MAYSVILLE AUDIENCE

Three Morehead State University students and a faculty member are singing solos from Handel's "Messiah" Dec. 19 at the Christian Church in Maysville.

Featured in the 3 p.m. program will be James Ross Beane of the MSU music faculty, baritone; Anne Beane, Morehead graduate student, soprano; Kenton Cooper, Ashland junior, counter-tenor, and Robert Myers, Dover freshman, tenor.

Choruses from Maysville Christian Church and Mason County High School will perform under the direction of Mrs. Corale Runyon. Jimmy Clark is the organist and Priscilla Browning the pianist.

Beane is directing a Dec. 5 performance of the "Messiah" at MSU.

This Evening . . .

Junior Miss Pageant

The Morehead Jaycees' Ninth Annual Morehead Junior Miss Pageant will unfold this (Thursday) evening, beginning at 8:00 o'clock in Button Auditorium.

Thirteen senior girls from Rowan County High School and University Breckinridge will compete for the title of Morehead's Junior Miss for 1972. In addition to scholarship to Morehead State University and other awards, the winner will receive an expense-paid trip to Louisville in February to compete in the Kentucky Junior Miss Pageant. Morehead's winners have always placed high in the state contest, and this could be our year to win the title.

Representing KCHS, the Pageant are: Brenda Alderman, Lucille Conn, Karen Cooley, Virginia Cornett, Susie Day, Debra Hardin, Sandy Stamper, Joyce Trent, and Karen Woodrow.

From USB are: Peggy Harrell, Linda

Howard, Louise Venetozzi, and Sandy Williams.

Actually, the public will be seeing only half of the contest, as half of the judging will have already been completed before the girls appear on stage at Button Auditorium. The first two categories of judging - Scholastic Achievement (worth 35 percent) - will be finished prior to the appearance on stage of the Poise and Appearance, Youth Fitness, and Talent and Performing Arts categories which, combined, make up the final 50 percent of the judging.

Judges for the Pageant are Sally McClure of Wurtland, Helen Wells of Sandy Hook, and Charles Fraumore of Ashland. Master of Ceremonies will be Ray Bailey. Carl Newman is general chairman of the Pageant.

The Pageant is open to the public, and there is no admission charge. Judy's of Morehead is co-sponsoring the Pageant with the Jaycees.

Vocational Community Day Set

The Future Business Leaders of America and Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, their sponsors and The Rowan County Vocational Extension Center of the Ashland Area Vocational School will sponsor a "Community Day" on Friday, December 17.

An invitation is extended to the public to view the operation of our programs between the hours of 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The Rowan County Vocational School, which opened September 16, 1970, is open to high school juniors and seniors on a half-time basis. The courses are preparatory programs, training individuals for entry into a field in which they have received no previous experience.

Some of the courses offered are Auto Mechanics, Building Trades, Drafting, and Business Office Education.

Adult classes are conducted in our evening program. Plan to visit the school and see our students at work.

Instructors and students will answer questions in regard to the program.

"THE LITTLEST ANGEL" WILL BE GIVEN SATURDAY

"The Littlest Angel," a children's play, is being presented Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Little Theater at Morehead State University. Gordon Black, a sixth grade student at University Breckinridge School, will play the lead role. Other cast members are from the Morehead Players, MSU's student drama club.

The play is sponsored by the MSU Student Government Association. It is free and suggested for children between the ages of five and 13.

SCHOOL PLAY . . . Natural High, a folk musical which emphasizes "getting high" on Jesus, was presented to faculty, parents, and students at University Breckinridge. The production under the direction of Rev. Hugh Brooks, was one of a series of assemblies to be presented in the school that deals with drugs and other stimulates that causes one to have a false feeling about "getting high." This series is being planned by the University Breckinridge Key Club in cooperation with the schools counselor.

Grubbs Says Kentucky Economy At A New High

The outgoing state commerce commissioner, Paul W. Grubbs, told the recent State Trade Conference meeting at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., that he is leaving the office with the knowledge that Kentucky's economy is in the best condition in its history.

"Kentucky's personal income will approximate $10.7 billion, up by more than 7 per cent over 1970," Grubbs said. "During this administration, personal income in Kentucky has increased by $3.1 billion."

"Since 1968, Kentucky recorded a net gain of 42,000 industrial jobs and $1.3 billion in industrial investments in Kentucky's economy," Grubbs said. "New job opportunities increased by 104,000 during this period."

The Trade Conference is under the auspices of the National Assn. of State Development Agencies, of which Grubbs is president. He discussed Kentucky's program of Total Resources Development and suggested that such a program could be adapted for underdeveloped countries.

Grubbs also referred to his efforts to establish a foreign trade zone in Jefferson County and his recommendation that a foreign trade division be established in the Kentucky Department of Commerce, to capitalize on the present effect of reverse investments.

Grubbs pointed out that while the nation's economy has been leveling off, Kentucky's economic progress has surpassed that of neighboring states.

"This is due, in a great degree," he noted, "to our new, innovative, and hard-hitting sales programs, such as industrial refinancing, science and technology applications, and site development activities. The rate of growth in Kentucky's economy has slowed less than the nation as a whole during the economic slowdown. In my opinion, Kentucky should experience a strong 1972."

WINS AGAIN - Rowan County High Junior Jeri North shows the first place poetry trophy she won Saturday at the Henry Clay Invitational in Lexington. She topped all contestants with four superior ratings.

Thought For Food

Good flavor never shouts, just sings. A classic seasoner for beef and lamb stew, for soups and stews is Bouquet Garni. To make place in a small cheesecake bag 2 to 4 parts parsley, 1 medium bay leaf, 1 teaspoon dried thyme leaves and 2 to 3 sprigs celery leaves. Tie together and add to your favorite meat dish as it cooks.

Very hot dog servings. Score franks; cut in strips. Add to salads, casseroles, soups, and beans.

Give a dinner to celebrate the best birthday on your list. Plan the menu around the person's favorite meat. Serve up T-bone steak, Veal Parmesan, or Beef Stroganoff. Be sure to check the recipe carefully in order to select the proper cut of meat for the most delicious present of the year.

To give new life to leftover truss roast, cut slices into strips and beat in gravy or stroganoff sauce mix. Serve over toast triangles or buttered noodles.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Getting Ready
Surely by now you have given some thought to the great holiday that is approaching. This imperfect world will soon pause briefly to observe mankind's most memorable event.

Most of us are preparing for the Christmas. We have a gift list. Company is coming or, perhaps we're going "home" for the holidays. There is much to be done.

We should also get ready for the spiritual observance, for recognition of the real meaning of the Yuletide season. Let it not suffice merely to attend church on Christmas morning. Get into the real spirit of the season. Find the joy and happiness that this holiday commemorates. There is joy in the knowledge that Christ was born. There is happiness in the realization of faith and the pursuit of a good life.

Family SHOPPING BAG

ITEM: Over the past 20 years labor costs have gone up over 65 percent per food unit, just getting food to the market. That's money paid by the food industry to a larger labor force, receiving better wages, to get more food in greater variety, more rapidly, from fewer farms to a larger population.

ITEM: Today, the average consumer spends less than 5 percent of disposable income for meat, leaving more than 95 percent for other purchases. Twenty years ago the amount of disposable income spent for meat was more than 6 percent. What's more, today's consumer gets 40 more pounds of meat per year for this smaller percentage of income spent.

ITEM: The recommended daily allowance for protein is 65 grams for an adult man, 55 for an adult woman, 45 for a 10 to 12-year-old boy and 50 for a young girl. ITEM: Some tips to save at the grocery store: take note of food ads in local media, check menus in advance to avoid waste and extra trips to the store, observe which days are best for shopping, make a list to save steps and time, and be flexible enough to consider quality and available alternatives.

Hurried Yule Shopping May Result In Problems

By Dave Thompson

As Christmas draws closer, shoppers hurriedly select articles for family and friends that will delight each person.

But haste in making such decisions may result in unhappiness for the recipient (or purchaser) of the gift.

The Kentucky Citizens Commission on Consumer Protection has listed several suggestions to save money and help avoid marring the joyful season with unpleasant experiences before and after the festive day.

Each season, fraudulent or deceptive schemes are employed by some unestablished business firms run by fly-by-night operators.

Charitable organizations receive millions of dollars each year through generosity and good will. The good works performed by special charities like the Salvation Army, Volunteers of America or the March of Dimes cannot be overestimated. Yet there are those unscrupulous few who capitalize on the season's spirit of giving to line their own pockets.

Trade At Reputable Stores

Robert L. Caummaris, executive director of the consumer commission, has asked shoppers to restrict their buying to reputable stores, the ones that will be around after Dec. 25. He says fly-by-night operators have been known to open stores shortly before Thanksgiving and close on Christmas Eve. These same operators often cover the market with a mass mailing program promising free gifts and great savings on merchandise. Caummaris said that many times the merchandise is not shipped in time for Christmas, leaving the consumer holding the bag.

Sewing machines and stereos are the major products sold through mass mailing programs, he noted. Customers have lost down payments and lay-away deposits when the dealer skips town. In other cases, consumers have been stuck with overpriced inferior products with no recourse against the disappearing seller.

Even worse than the stores that spring up just in time for Christmas are the street-corner and back-alley peddlers. Besides the strong possibility that the merchandise is stolen, making the buyer an accomplice to crime, there is the possibility that the expensive brand name French perfume will turn out to be mislabeled water or the "diamond" bought will prove to be a cheap imitation, Caummaris said.

Funeral For Mrs. Margaret Lewis, 89, Held At Sandy Hook

Mrs. Margaret Lewis, 89, Louisville, was dead on arrival at St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead Thursday.

Born July 22, 1882, in Elliott County, she was a daughter of the late Howard and Betty Dickerson Gilliam. She was a member of the Beechgrove United Baptist Church. Her husband, Howard E. Lewis, preceded her in death in 1968.

Surviving are four sons, Thurman Lewis of Fairborn, O., Troy Lewis of Columbus, Vern Lewis of Morehead and Erma Lewis of Louisville; four daughters, Mrs. Arla Adkins of Morehead, Mrs. Flora Hutchinson of Crockett, and Mrs. Bessie Patrick and Mrs. Nona Skaggs, both of Louisville; two sisters, Mrs. Laura Mason of Louisville and Mrs. Bessie Conley of Ironton; 81 grandchildren, 100 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at the Beechgrove United Baptist Church by the Rev. Winfred Wolfenbarger, the Rev. Lowell Ferguson and the Rev. Tommy Bailey. Burial will be in the Elliott County Memory Gardens at Sandy Hook. Lewis & Ferguson Funeral Home in Sandy Hook was in charge of arrangements.

Voters May Still Register With American Party

The state attorney general's office has ruled voters still may register under the American Party label even though it lost its minor party status in Kentucky in the last election.

The American Party won its minor party status during the 1968 general election when presidential candidate George Wallace won as estimated 6 percent of the Kentucky vote. State law requires 2 percent of the vote in a general election to win minor party status. However, American Party candidates failed to achieve the 2 percent figure in the Nov. 3 state election, voiding its minor-party standing.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Walter Herdman said voters still could register under the American Party label because "from a technical standpoint" they would be registering as independents.

Drunk Driving Cases ...

Leniency Of Courts, Juries Criticized

By James D. Sewell
Executive Assistant, Kentucky Traffic
Safety Coordinating Committee

Kentucky laws set the presumptive level for legal intoxication at 0.10 percent blood-alcohol content by weight. When an individual has consumed enough alcohol to raise the alcohol content in his blood to this amount, he is presumed under the influence of intoxicants.

Despite the fact, however, that Kentucky's breathalyzer program provides prima facie evidence (and often uncontroverted) in such cases, many of our judges and juries have seen fit to set their own standards, ignoring what is clearly prescribed by law in the interest of the public welfare.

It is not uncommon for an individual whose blood-alcohol content has been shown on the breathalyzer as twice the legal limit or more to be acquitted of the charges of driving while under the influence or to have the charges against him quietly filed away, and in many cases without even receiving a reprimand. In effect, therefore, these courts are setting their own presumptive level much above that fixed by law and found through years of research to be endangering. In fact, many scientists feel the 0.10 percent level is too high, claiming that driving capabilities are significantly impaired at 0.08 percent.

But the argument against the courts is heard repeatedly. The public has become steeped against it and sits apathetically by while the situation does not change. Some courts and governments, however, have refused to do so and have taken the matter of drinking drivers and traffic accidents in all seriousness.

Other Nations Meet Problem

In Bulgaria, for instance, Radio Free Europe reports that second offenders of the drunk driving law are frequently executed by firing squad. An Arabian motorist at fault in an injury accident is sentenced to one year in prison and loses his driving privileges for life, but if he survives a fatal accident in which he was at fault, he is beheaded summarily.

Perhaps more practical, yet still stringent, is Japan's policy. Some convicted drunk drivers are sent to special "prisons," where they work normal hours learning principles of traffic safety and the automotive industry. Sweden, long a world leader in the fight against drinking drivers, has established a 0.05 percent limit for second offenders, and prison terms are not uncommon. Czechoslovakia has a unique law which prohibits any blood-alcohol concentration while driving. In other countries, Iceland has a 0.05 percent limit, while Austria, Canada, France, Northern Ireland, and Great Britain have a 0.08 percent limit. In the United States, only Hawaii, Idaho, and Utah have set a 0.08 percent limit, two points below that prescribed by the Department of Transportation. Twenty-nine states have a .10 percent level, and the remaining states set it at .15 percent. Texas has no presumptive level, while Illinois, with a .10 percent level, has no implied consent law. In the mean time, Kentucky, with its strong statutes and acceptable alcohol limit, continues to let many of its drunk driving offenders back on the highways, unpunished, while it is they who are responsible for at least fifty percent of our highway fatalities annually. This is clearly an injustice to the motoring public, and at the same time is a blight on the face of a supposedly fair and impartial democratic system.

Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman recently quoted two outstanding men of our nation's history, and their statements should apply to these cases, yet too often do not. Over 250 years ago, William Penn said, "Justice is the insurance which we have on our lives and property. Obedience is the premium we pay for it." In an excessive number of drunk driving cases, there is neither justice nor obedience, since many of our elected officials and our juries see fit to disregard the laws prescribed for our own safety and protection. Former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Charles Evans Hughes said in the early part of this century that one may think the Constitution and the government is our security, but it is nothing unless there exists a sound and uncorrupted public opinion to support it. Since our elected officials have passed the laws, it is our duty to obey and support these laws, and to see that those who jeopardize our lives and property through malicious infractions do not go unpunished.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR ROTC SCHOLARSHIPS

Dec. 31 is the deadline for high school seniors to apply for four-year Army ROTC scholarships, according to Col. Arthur L. Kelly, professor of military science at Morehead State University.

Applications may be obtained from Army ROTC, Ft. Meade, Md. 20755.

Fringe Benefits

The typical urban plantworker received a much better fringe benefit package in 1970 than in 1960, a Labor Department area wage survey has reported. He was provided more holiday time, longer paid vacations, and improved health and insurance benefits, although the proportion of workers receiving these benefits did not increase significantly.

Does Your Present Home
Seem Small
Because Your Family Is Growing?

The growing of a family offers the thought of a new and larger home. Let us help you find the home you want. But buying a home is not just finding one you like and making the purchase. It takes careful consideration. Financial arrangements? Does the home fulfill your needs now and in the future? Is the location suitable? Have the best possible materials been used in the construction? Will the heating and cooling system handle the home without hot and cold spots? These are just a few of the many questions and problems you will have when buying a home that Alpha Hutchinson will help solve.

Funds For Deprived Children Put In Bill

Curing Congressional action of a supplemental appropriations bill last week. Representative Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., worked out the basis for restoring $3,376,554 for educationally deprived children in Kentucky.

Allocations of Title I funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act announced last month by the U.S. Office of Education gave Kentucky $3,755,353 nearly $4 million less than was allocated last year.

The Title I funds, directed toward the education of poor children, were cut $32,079,478 nationally. Most of the cuts were directed at Kentucky and other border and southern states.

Perkins, chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor, called on the Congress to restore these funds to meet the critical problems raised in the 15 affected states. He read into the Congressional Record letters and telegrams of Kentucky school superintendents pointing out the serious situation created by the cutbacks in his home state.

The appropriations measure brought to the House floor Thursday night did not include funds to make up the deficiency, and Perkins' effort to amend it was foreclosed by the House rule applying to the situation.

But before debate on the House measure was completed, Perkins had met with Senate Appropriations Committee leaders and arranged for the $32 million to be included in the Senate version.

The measure must still clear a Senate-House conference and the final version approved by both houses. Perkins said he hopes this can be done quickly.

SUNDAY OPENING

We know that it is against the law to open our store on Sunday, but due to the fact that nothing is being done about this we are being gradually forced to open this Sunday afternoon, and the following Sunday afternoons after this because of competitive reasons. Each Sunday the circle becomes a little smaller in the ranks of those that are opposed to the Sunday opening and closing law. More people are joining the 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. circle because of the convenience of shopping as a family.

Although I am against breaking the old tradition of opening on Sunday I can't sit idly by and represent Martin's honorably with the whole town open with the exception of a few stores. WE WILL BE OPEN THIS SUNDAY AT 1 p.m. AND WILL CLOSE AT 6 p.m. along with all the others, this Sunday and each Sunday there after.
