2,115 Rowan Counties Get Food Stamps

During April, 2,115 low-income persons in Rowan County received food stamps valued at $54,712. Economic Security's Commissioner Gall S. Huecker announced today.

This compares to 2,083 low-income persons who received food stamps valued at $54,472 during the month of March.

Other area counties had the following number of persons receiving food stamps during April - Bath 1,975; Carter, 4,207; Elliott 1,683; Menifee 991; Morgan 3,300. In Kentucky, the food stamp program is administered jointly by the Department of Economic Security's Bureau of Public Assistance and the Food and Nutrition Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Commissioner Huecker pointed out that the program attempts to safeguard the health of the nation's low-income families through better nutrition.

Needy families in the program exchange an amount of their own money, usually spent on food, to purchase coupons. In addition, families receive bonus coupons to boost their buying power.

Kentucky's food stamp program has expanded during the past year. During April 1972, 298,154 low-income Kentuckians received food stamps valued at $7,819,066. In April 1971, 290,991 persons received food stamps with a total coupon value of $7,206,558.

At present, 73 counties are participating in the department's food stamp program. According to Rick Crawford, assistant supervisor of the program, this figure will increase to 88 by December.

The banquet will start at 6:30 P.M.

INTENSIVE CARE . . . The new six bed intensive care-coronary unit at St. Claire Medical Center was opened Sunday. From the nurses station shown above, patients in the new care unit can be monitored. The unit has three beds for coronary care and three beds to be used for patients needing intensive nursing care. Staffing will consist of personnel specially trained for the type of nursing care needed. Visiting will be limited to one member of the immediate family for five minutes every hour providing that the patient is awake or treatment is not in progress. A special waiting room has been designated for the families of patients in this unit. Flowers, candy or other gifts should not be sent to patients in the intensive care unit due to limited facilities according to a spokesman for the hospital.

U.S. Spending Costs Rowan $32,000 A Day

What portion of the government's new multi-billion spending program will be financed by taxpayers in Rowan County?

How much will local residents be contributing, via direct and indirect taxes, to meet their share of the outlays that are budgeted for national defense, education, health, interest on the national debt, social welfare and the multitude of other programs?

The budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1st calls for the expenditure of a record $246 billion. It will be felt in one way or another by nearly everyone in the country. The figure $246 billion, nearly a quarter of a trillion, is too enormous an amount for most people to comprehend. It becomes somewhat more understandable when it is shown that it is equivalent to a spending rate of $7,800 a second.

Rowan County's share of the cost is estimated at $32,000 a day, based upon the proportion of the national revenue that the government normally receives from the local regional area.

From a per capita standpoint, it comes to $1.82 per day per local resident.

As for the cost burden that each community will be bearing, it was figured on the basis of a state by state allocation made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization, as well as upon local income data.

Because incomes in Rowan County, and therefore the Federal taxes paid, are greater than in some localities across the country, the per capita share of the cost is larger locally.

Just how the government will be spending the $246 billion during the next 12 months and what programs will be emphasized, is indicated in the Administration's budget.

Out of every $1,000 in taxes collected from residents of Rowan County, $568 is to be allocated for national defense.

Another $327 is for unemployment, welfare and social security. Other major dispositions include $89 for interest on the national debt, $55 for Medicare and other health programs, $55 for aid to veterans and $54 for public assistance, family allowances and food stamps.

Draft To Reach No. 75 In August

Selective Service announced Tuesday that men with lottery numbers through No. 75 will be drafted in August.

Officials at draft headquarters said this might be the highest number for the year and, if not, that the ceiling for 1972 would almost surely stay below No. 100. The pool of eligible men began to swell in September as men who lose their student deferments become liable for induction.

Most of the men drafted in the last four months of the year will be former students with numbers below 75. Men born in 1952 and before with numbers above the ceiling will be free from the draft forever unless there is a national mobilization on the scale of that in World War II.

In August, 8,900 men are scheduled for induction, the highest monthly call in more than a year. By the end of August, 31,100 men will have been drafted this year. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has promised that no more than 50,000 men will be drafted this year.

Selective Service officials are unable to say precisely what the top lottery number for the year will be because of the new policy that allows men to enlist in the reserves and National Guard after they receive their Army induction order.

This policy was proposed last month by Byron Pepton, the acting director of Selective Service. It is expected to go into effect next month.

In the past, once a man received an induction order he could no longer go into the reserves or National Guard.

August induction orders will be mailed beginning July 3. Men must be given 30 days' notice of their induction date.

Some also directed that men with numbers below 100 in this year's pool and men born in 1953 with numbers below 50 be called for pre-induction physical examinations. Men born in 1953 cannot be drafted until next year.

Those in next year's pool with numbers above 100 will be classified I-H, placing them in an administrative holding category. "This action assures these registrants that their names will not be actively processed for induction and there is a major change in expected military manpower needs," Selective Service said.

Legion Team Wins Two, Boasts 12-3 Record

The Morehead American Legion baseball team set a new season record to win and 3 losses by sweeping a doubleheader from South Shore and splitting a doubleheader with South Lexington this past weekend.

The games with South Shore were won by scores of 18 to 1 and 5 to 0, while the games with South Lexington went to each team by scores of 5 to 3 in each game.

In the doubleheader with South Shore, Bill Fouch and John Lemaster led a powerful Morehead attack that outscored the opposition by a 23 to 1 margin. Both of these two hitters have been "hot" all of the young season.

Coulter Named One Of Top Ten Sophomores

All-American basketballer Leonard Coulter of Morehead State University has added another honor to his highly successful sophomore season.

The 6-5 forward from Danville has been named one of the country's top 10 sophomores by "The Basketball News," a national publication based in Pleasantville, N.Y.

It marked the second such selection for Coulter, the "sophomore of the year" in the Ohio Valley Conference and a member of the All-OVC squad.

Earlier, he was named to the 15-man sophomore All-American team of "Basketball Weekly."

Coulter, who paced MSU to a 16-11 record and a share of the OVC title, led the league in rebounding with 14.2 per game and was second in scoring at 24.1.

Over $8 Million Set For Cave Run

MSU Junior Among Top 10 In Miss Kentucky Pageant

Senate Approval Expected With No Problems

Two recent Morehead State University graduates and an MSU junior finished among the top 10 in the "Miss Kentucky Scholarship Pageant" which closed Saturday in Louisville.

Lynia Lewis, a 1970 graduate from Maysville, was selected as first runner-up and winner of the swimsuit competition. A former MSU Homecoming Queen, she was competing as "Miss Jefferson town."

Marsha Griffith, a Greenup junior, was selected as fourth runner-up. She is "Miss Heart of Kentucky." Nancy Chandler, who was graduated at MSU's spring commencement, was among the 10 finalists. She is the current "Miss MSU."

GOP CAMPAIGN LEADERS PICKED FOR NOVEMBER

Rowan County Republicans at a meeting held last week picked campaign leaders for the November election.

Elected as campaign chairman and chairwoman were A. D. Coleman and Virginia Wheeler.

Other county leaders named for the November election are -

Junior Hollan, finance officer-treasurer.

Rosella Ball, secretary.

Douglas Jones, coordinator young Republicans.

Elsie Lee Corritte, coordinator women's groups and activities.

The way was paved this week for the final big congressional appropriation for Cave Run Reservoir as the House Appropriations Committee approved $8,800,000 to be used during fiscal 1973-July 1, 1972 thru June 30, 1973.

The office of Congressman Carl D. Perkins advised the Morehead News there should be no problem in the Cave Run appropriation being approved by the Senate and signed by President Nixon.

This is the full amount that the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Louisville District, sought for fiscal 1972-73.

The massive dam, measuring over three-fourths of a mile across the top, located ten miles southwest of Morehead on Licking River, is scheduled for completion by next summer. Total cost of the project including planning money will be between $55 million and $50 million. It is Kentucky's fourth largest man-made lake exceeded only by Kentucky Dam, Barkley Dam and Cumberland Reservoir.

All the recreation on the lake and adjacent thereto will be under the supervision of the Daniel Boone National Forest, a division of the Department of Agriculture.

It is the longest time in history that the Department of Agriculture has operated such a large scale recreation facility. The Corps of Engineers has not announced when the 8,270 acre lake (seasonal pool) will be opened to the public.

Over one million visitors are expected the first year with this number steadily increasing.

The Daniel Boone National Forest has already spent many millions of dollars on recreational facilities, including beaches, boat docks, etc.

Perkins also said that the House Appropriations Committee votes $100,000 as planning money for the dam at Palmouth, 7.2 miles downstream on the Licking. This is a highly controversial project because thousands of acres of productive bluegrass land would be inundated.

The Cave Run Dam became a reality when the President Kennedy advised the Corps of Engineers to proceed with the project.

It's completion successfully culminates a thirty year fight by a group of Morehead leaders headed by W.E. Crutcher.

Perkins' office also said the $150,000 was recommended for advance engineering on Kehoe Reservoir, near the Greenup-Carter confluence about thirty miles northeast of Morehead.

Appliances In Rowan Homes Greatly Increased

There is more good-living today in Rowan County than there was ten years ago.

Despite inflation, higher taxes, unemployment and the other economic pressures and uncertainties of recent years, most families in the local area have managed to upgrade their standard of living.

Evidence of it is to be seen in the greater number of cars owned by local residents as well as in the array of air conditioners, dishwashers, clothes dryers, blenders and other household gadgets and conveniences that are to be found in homes in the area.

The number of local households that are equipped with such appliances has increased considerably since 1960.

The findings are based upon a survey of household ownership of durables, conducted in each section of the country by the Department of Commerce, and upon data from other sources.

One indicator of the more expansive living is the rise in the number of two-car families. The figures indicate that approximately 20.1 percent of the households in Rowan County now have two or more cars, as compared with 13.4 percent in 1960.

The proportion of homes in the regional area equipped with food freezers or refrigerators is also at a high level. Some 85.9 percent of the families now own them, it is estimated.

Similarly, television sets have become standard equipment in the majority of homes. Many of them have color sets as well as black and white units.

As of last year, 89.0 percent of Rowan County households had television sets as compared with 88.4 percent in 1960.

Marked increases are also reported in the number of dishwashers, clothes dryers and hi-fi units that have been acquired by the public in recent years.

Rising incomes, over and above the heavy carrying load caused by the increased cost of living, have brought these and other conveniences within the grasp of a growing number of local families.

Although there has been a slowdown in the purchase of big-ticket items in the last two years, the indications are that the consumer is about ready to resume buying.

Residents Get $193,000 Monthly In Social Security

Senator Marlow Cook has released the most recently completed figures on Social Security benefits and beneficiaries for Kentucky which included a Rowan County breakdown.

Senator Cook's figures showed that the number of beneficiaries in Rowan County receiving monthly benefits totalled 2,222.

The County breakdown was - 891 retired workers, 141 disabled workers, 392 dependents of retired workers, 222 dependents of disabled workers, 55 survivors, and 16 special age 72 beneficiaries.

These 2,222 persons in the County, according to the latest figures are getting benefits estimated at $183,000.

Senator Cook said that at the end of 1971 there was a total of 27.3 million men, women and children on the nation's Social Security rolls receiving nearly 23 billion monthly in benefits. Kentucky recipients numbering 484,970, received an estimated $46.6 million in monthly benefits during that period.

The Senator stated that 140,504 of those Kentuckians are under age 60 and 344,466 are 60 or older. Retired workers number 214,354; 69,846 are dependents of retired workers; 34,171 are disabled workers; 39,011 are dependents of disabled workers; 121,419 are survivors, and the balance of 6,169 are special age 72 beneficiaries.

He stated that by type of beneficiary, the figures are: $25,010,000 paid to retired workers, $4,776,000 paid to disabled workers, and $18,885,000 paid to all other beneficiaries on a monthly basis.

School Slated For July 1 Second Alcohol Studies

By Jim Parman

Professional and lay persons interested in learning more about the problems of alcohol abuse and addition are being urged to attend Kentucky's second annual School of Alcohol Studies at the University of Kentucky, July 9-14.

The training sessions are sponsored by the Kentucky Department of Mental Health and the University of Kentucky Committee on Drug Abuse, in cooperation with the state Interagency Council on Alcohol Problems. Mental Health Commissioner Dr. Dale H. Farabee, in announcing this year's school, said, "Alcoholism has been described as the most untreated treatable disease in America. It is therefore imperative that all persons, both lay and professional, with responsibility for combating alcohol-related problems, develop the insight, knowledge and ability to lead a coordinated attack at the community level."

The school offers presentations by leading authorities in the field of alcohol problems, and discussion groups with experienced leaders.

Subjects to be discussed include: "The Role of Alcohol in American Society," "Social Aspects of Drinking and Non-drinking," and "Comprehensive Approaches to Alcohol Problems in the Community."

Faculty members, recruited from across the nation, include Dr. Stanley Gilroy, of the New York Medical Center; Vincent D. Pisani, Ph. D., chief of Mental Health Services at the Chicago Alcoholic Treatment Center; and Lara E. Root, M.S.W., director of the National Alcohol Training Program for Professionals at Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri.

Representatives from the courts, law enforcement agencies, state departments and agencies, industry, churches and other disciplines and occupations having an interest in alcohol abuse and addition are expected to attend, in addition to staff members from each state Comprehensive Care Center and psychiatric hospital.

Kentucky's first School of Alcohol Studies was held at Murray State University last year, attracting almost 200 participants. Anyone desiring to attend this year's school should contact the Office of Alcoholism, Kentucky Department of Mental Health, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Enrollment will be limited to 300 persons.

State Detective Shuts Down Morgan Movie

Offended by alleged obscenity, Det. Alonzo Hensley of West Liberty closed down the West Liberty Drive-In Theater Wednesday night, June 14.

When theater management in Chicago objected to the action, Det. Hensley told them he guessed Eastern Kentucky was the last stronghold of old-fashioned morality.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Chicago offices had objected that the film, "Pretty Maids All In A Row," had been shown all over the country without any problems.

The officer had taken his daughter, 11, and son and nephew, both 14, to see the show. He did not remain but left after 10 minutes and secured a warrant for the arrest of manager Edward Benton. He also took out a warrant for O.G. Roading of Loyall, owner of the theater, charging both with exhibiting or distributing an obscene picture.

Benton made bond of $500 and was released shortly after the incident. His hearing has been set for July 6 in Morgan County Court.

Roading, fined $500 and costs, told county officers that the theater would post film ratings hereafter and that any film the officers found "objectionable," would not be shown.

Computer To Monitor State Toll Road Plazas

The first in a network of computers to monitor and administer Kentucky's parkway system is now under development. The Commonwealth dollars and others promise to save even more in the future.

Charles Pryor, Jr., State Highways Commissioner, said, "After analyzing the results of a joint Commonwealth of Kentucky-IBM developmental project at a Blue Grass Parkway toll plaza, we decided to automate nine other parkways. All toll plazas will be computer-monitored by 1976.

While attendants will handle toll booth collections and other activities, a computer in the background will insure accurate counts of vehicles and money, fast billing of credit card customers and constant surveillance of plaza equipment.

Initial Computer Tasks Described

A small, fast IBM System 7 at the Lawrenceburg, Ky., plaza is programmed to perform these tasks:

+ Vehicle and toll accounting. The computer monitors the flow of traffic and money. Daily it reports to the Highway Department's large-scale System 370 Model 165 computer in Frankfort headquarters the numbers and kinds of vehicles passing through the plaza, as well as collections.

+ Credit card reporting. Heavy-volume users of the toll system "charge" their tolls using a Toll Facilities-developed credit card system. In the computerized system, users receive specially designed credit cards which attendants slip into readers attached to the computer. The attendants then key in vehicle classification data and the System 7 relays name, address and charge data to the System 370.

+ Engineering services. The computer can monitor weight-and-length-sensing devices in and alongside the roadway as such information is required. It can compile appropriate engineering and maintenance reports to insure equipment is kept operational. It allows parkway design and expansion planning to rely on actual use data.

Lawrenceburg Test

Charles E. Brown, Executive Director of Toll Facilities, in the Department of Highways, said the Lawrenceburg test began in December and ended in March. Engineers from our staff and IBM analyzed the result to determine how best to use existing toll collection equipment and procedures. Now the computer not only eliminates costly clerical processes, but also provides thorough accounting and auditing information."

In one case, Mr. Brown said, clerks took from four to eight hours preparing and transmitting a daily vehicle classification and revenue report. The computer compiles the report automatically, entering each transaction as it occurs. Then, once a day, it automatically relays its summary in seconds to the larger computer.

The larger computer then updates revenue and budgetary accounts, giving state financial and planning personnel up to the minute information on which management decisions can be based.

Cuts Credit Billing Time

"In credit card accounting," Mr. Brown noted, "automatic billing through the System 7 can slash the four to six week lag between charge and billing of the 100,000 transactions a month charged by patrons of the toll system."

He said that speeding the $90,000 plus credit charges handled each month is expected to gain the Commonwealth $135,000 in "float money," now due but delayed in the slowness of the manual system.

"The $135,000 'float' actually has been growing and threatens to swell beyond $200,000 shortly," Mr. Brown said. "With the Parkway system only two-thirds completed, we could be forestalling growing bubble of delayed collections until all 690 miles are finally in service late next year."

Parkways as Economic Tool

Commissioner Pryor said the Kentucky tollway system continues to fulfill its promise as an economic development tool.

"Studies have shown," he said, "that, although revenues now are insufficient to pay off principal and interest on our toll roads, the growth of personal income and manufacturing employment in the areas they serve produce secondary economic benefits that will more than pay for the roads."

"For example, it has been determined that economic indexes in Parkway-served areas were significantly higher than in areas not served by modern highways. As personal income benefits, the State Tax Revenues increase. Welfare expenditures are reduced as Kentucky develops."

"Toll roads have been good for Kentucky. We expect automated data collection to be good for Kentucky's toll roads."

Truck Tax Compliance Program Launched

The launching of a program to insure that owners of large trucks, truck-tractors and buses are complying with Federal Highway Use Tax Laws was announced today by Robert J. Dath, District Director of Internal Revenue for Kentucky.

Lists of registered truck and bus owners will be compared with Federal Highway Use Tax returns to assure that returns are being filed and that all taxable vehicles are being correctly reported, Mr. Dath said. Revenue collected by the Federal government from the highway use tax is returned to Kentucky and other states to help pay the costs of the interstate highway system now under construction.

The tax is imposed on certain trucks, truck-tractors, and buses that use the public highways. The amount of tax depends on a combination of the number of axles and weights of the vehicles. Generally, the tax applies to single unit trucks weighing 13,000 pounds or more and truck-tractors weighing 5,500 pounds or more, according to Mr. Dath. The highway use tax year runs from July 1 through the following June 30. Owners of trucks in use on public highways during July, the IRS said, have to file a return by August 31. Returns also are required for vehicles first used on public highways after July.

Mr. Dath said that increasing numbers of farmers are becoming subject to the tax because of the growing use of larger vehicles in the agricultural industry.

IRS Publication 349 "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors and Buses," furnishes detailed information and may be obtained by mail or in person from IRS offices in Kentucky.

Productivity in the Federal Government rose more than 8 percent between fiscal 1967 and 1971. This represents an annual rate of gain of approximately 2 percent, compared with a rise of approximately 1.5 percent in the private non-farm sector over the same period.

SUNDAY'S SERMON
Summer
Another season is officially here - summer. It represents many things to many different people. Ask a child what his favorite season is, and he'll usually say summer. School is out, but that's only one of the reasons children and most people love summer. Summer is a time when we are close to nature and when we should be closer to God. In the summer, somehow, it is easier to break down the barriers between people. Life isn't as formal as it seems during the colder winter months. We are more open to exciting events. But are we as open with God as we are with our neighbors? God is easy to approach, even in summer. He asks so little of us, yet gives abundantly to us.
Summertime means picnics and fun to many people. It should also give us time to say a word of thanks for these wonders of God's creation that we so freely use and enjoy. A prayer of thanks takes but a few moments. Why not try it right now?

Unemployment Troubles Many Counties

Almost 60 percent of Kentucky's 120 counties have unemployment severe enough for the federal government to designate them as areas with "substantial" or "persistent" joblessness.

Nineteen counties have an unemployment rate classified as "substantial," meaning a current rate of 6 percent or higher, discounting seasonal or temporary factors and with the high rate expected to continue for at least two months.

"Persistent" unemployment basically is joblessness that hasn't gone away. Fifty counties have "persistent" unemployment rates, which means they have an annual jobless rate of 6 percent or higher the last year and a rate at least 50 percent above the national rate for the last four years.

Two changes in Kentucky's pattern were announced last month by the U.S. Department of Labor, which provides information on which the Department of Commerce makes the designations. But neither change reflected a lessening of the unemployment problem.

Carroll County, which includes Carrollton, was added to the "substantial" category. It thus has become one of the few counties of significant unemployment in or near Northern Kentucky. An official of the state Department of Economic Security said the change was largely due to the loss of a major manufacturer in Carroll County.

Todd County, in the southwestern part of the state, was changed from "substantial" to "persistent." Elton is the Todd County seat.

Robert MacDonald, assistant director of employment service research for the department of Economic Security, said the actual unemployment rates in the most depressed counties reach into the middle-20-percent range. The highest average annual rate for 1971, he said, were in Elliott County, with 26.3 percent; Magoffin, 22.4 percent; Estill, 20.6 percent; Rockcastle, 20.1 percent; and Leslie, 20.0 percent.

Many counties have remained on the list since the federal government began designating areas of high joblessness in 1954, MacDonald said.

The major factor contributing to the unemployment, he said, is simply "not enough job opportunities." He added that unbalanced economies in many counties also contribute.

The stigma of being classified as having high unemployment is somewhat offset by some compensation from the federal government. In areas of "persistent" or "substantial" unemployment, companies that hire disadvantaged employees are eligible for bidding preference on some federal contracts.

Further, areas of "persistent" joblessness can qualify for federal assistance under the Public Works and Economic Development Act.

Kentucky Federal Tax Returns Go To Memphis

Kentucky businessmen and corporations will soon begin mailing their Federal tax returns to the new Internal Revenue Service Center, Memphis, Tennessee 38110, instead of the Cincinnati Service Center where they formerly filed, Robert J. Dath, District Director for Kentucky, announced today.

responsive service to taxpayers in those states.

According to Dath, Memphis processing of the special and business Federal tax returns filed by Kentucky residents will be phased-in on the following schedule:

Starting July 1 - U.S. special taxes on liquor and gaming devices; U.S. estate, gift and wagering taxes; Federal use taxes on highway motor vehicles; and applications for occupational (wagering) stamps.

Starting July 1 - all business returns, including quarterly and annual Federal income taxes on corporations, small business corporations, partnerships and fiduciaries; excise taxes; and all employer's quarterly and annual returns for social security, railroad retirement and income tax withholding.

The change in Service Centers from Cincinnati to Memphis was necessary to equalize the returns processing workload which increased nationally from 94 million in the early 1960's to 113 million in 1971. IRS projections indicate 131 million returns will be filed in 1980—a national 17 percent increase during the decade. The number of Kentucky taxpayers is expected to equal or exceed the national percentage of increase by 1980.

Business returns from the area served by Memphis will be up almost 26 percent during the same period.

CONSUMERS' CORNER

Right remover for floor wax
Removing accumulated floor wax can be a big chore for most homemakers. To remove accumulated self-polishing waxes, use one of the commercial wax removers on the market that requires mixing with hot water. These cleaners are to be used on hard surface floor coverings, such as printed or inlaid linoleum or vinyl plastic. They are not recommended for wood floors.

To prevent an accumulation of wax, use a remover about twice a year. Clean only small areas of the floor at a time. The cleaning solution should not dry on the floor or be wiped up with the floor finish.

Also, it is not necessary to apply wax all the way to the baseboards with each waxing. Since there is tile wear along the wall, application of wax to within 1/2 inches of the wall usually is quite sufficient. One should, however, wax to the baseboards if there is furniture or cabinet locations.

JAMES R. LEWIS PROMOTED TO TECHNICAL SERGEANT
The changeover of business and special taxes will come to the attention of Memphis of all Federal tax returns from Kentucky. Dath said, "The Memphis Service Center began operations last January, processing individual Federal income tax returns filed by Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia residents. The Service Center has resulted in more efficient operations and quicker, more

State Resort Parks Introduce . . .

The Lakeside Singers

By Marianne Kohler
Three western Kentucky state resort parks feel a song coming on, and the songsters are 10 students from Murray State University. They will sing against a lakeside backdrop at Kentucky Dam Village, Lake Barkley and Kenlake state resort parks, and their concerts will be free park guests.

The newly formed Lakeside Singers will open June 20 at Kentucky Dam Village. Their musical entertainments will run all summer, alternating performances at the parks — three shows at Kentucky Dam Village, two at Lake Barkley and one at Kenlake each week.

Imitation Dairy Products Still Under Control

Beginning Friday, June 16, the State Department of Health's Grade A Milk Program will no longer issue permits to nor collect fees from manufacturers of totally imitation dairy products.

Senate Bill 338, passed this spring, repealed sections of KRS 217 that required: - A permit to manufacture totally non-dairy imitation milk products, such as liquid and powder non-dairy, creamers.

- A fee for the permit, - Regular submission of samples of the non-dairy products for testing, and - Laboratory fees for such testing.

Stopping such operations doesn't mean that control over safety, sanitation and labeling of such products will end, says Dudley Conner, director of the Division of Environmental Services' Grade A Milk Program.

Rather, he says labels on such products still must meet the requirements of the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. A State Board of Health regulation further coincides with the federal Fair Packaging and Labeling Act in that all food and cosmetic product containers are required to include the name of the product, its manufacturer, packer or distributor, ingredients and net weight of contents on a principal display panel.

During the four years the repealed sections of KRS 217 were in effect no problems with laboratory analyses of non-dairy products occurred, Conner said, although there were "two or three problems with sanitation." Sanitarians will continue to check manufacturing plants to make sure they meet state standards.

I REMEMBER
By the Old Timer
From Veronica Osburn, Fairmount, N.D.: I remember living in the town of Hankinson, North Dakota until I was 10½ years old. Then we moved to Fairmount, North Dakota, just 10 miles away. I visit Hankinson frequently, but I must say that my native city has changed very little, except that it has become more beautiful and progressive than in the early era. One no longer hears German spoken in the streets, nor on the streets. It is not spoken by any of the young people. There are no longer hitching posts along Main Street, and the lamplighter, too, is gone, but the character of the town remains.
I remember keeping a cow in town, but a meadow was just across the street from our house, and the "country" began just 2 blocks away.
My sister and I would clean lamp chimneys and trim the wicks. Every Saturday we bathed in a tin tub in the kitchen — two would use the same water. We were then and it is now a proud town. During World War I, we watched our soldiers marching down Main Street. We were all so sad when they left for France.
I had memories of the soldiers in the Old Town, Hankinson, North Dakota.

Day-by-day let-me-downs, and editorial observations, of the publisher of this newspaper.

W. E. Crutcher, author of this column, and Publisher of the Morehead News, and other newspapers, suffered a heart attack April 23 and is now Convalescing. In the meantime, this column will be written by Olin Miller, syndicated columnist, and a friend of the Publisher of the Morehead News. Mr. Miller's observations follow -

Food Programs Reach Record High Levels

Participation in food programs of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reached record high levels in the month of March. USDA's Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) reports 15 million persons took part in its two family food assistance programs during March, a record high for total participation in the two types of family programs. Of these, 11.5 million persons took part in the food stamp program—a record high for this 12-year-old program. The other 3.5 million persons received USDA donated foods through the food distribution program. About 25.2 million children took part in USDA's national school lunch program during March, another record high. Of these, 8.3 million children received their lunches free or at reduced prices, another new record high.

The 15 million person participation in the combined family food assistance programs is up 400,000 from the same month a year ago. It is up 5.9 million from March of 1970, and up 8 million persons from March of 1969. The 25.2 million children taking part in the national school lunch program was a gain of 624,000 from a year earlier, 2.6 million from March 1970, and 4.0 million from March 1969.

The 8.3 million children receiving free or reduced-price school lunches was up 1.2 million from a year earlier, 5.3 million from March 1970, and 4.8 million from March 1969.

USDA food programs are administered by FNS in cooperation with state and local governments.

Feeder Calf Prices Well Above Last Year

Feeder calves averaged $38.21 per hundred weight at the series of spring roundup sales conducted throughout the state this spring by the Kentucky Feeder Calf Association. The average price was $5.47 more than a year ago, according to Everett Mackey, Extension economist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

The spring roundup consists of eleven special graded feeder calf sales conducted through the cooperation of local auction markets, the Kentucky Feeder Calf Association, and the Cooperative Extension Service.

The Paris sale took top honors this spring with an average price of $40.06 per hundred weight. The Winchester sale, which was the first of the series, had the second highest price with an average of $39.78 per hundredweight. Third was Lancaster, with a $38.94 average. Mackey said price spreads at all sales generally ranged some $5.00 per hundredweight on both sides of the average. Danville-Stanford took top honors for most dollars per head, as 1,714 graded calves sold there for $209.26 per head. Springfield was second with an average price of $201.88 and Campbellsville was third with a price of $192.29. The overall price per head increased by $31.48 over last year. A total of 9,800 head of calves were marketed in this year's spring roundup. Mackey said the sales were attended by many out-of-state buyers representing grazing and cattlefeeding areas of the West. He said some representatives of the Kentucky Feeder Calf Association are planning a trip to the Texas-Oklahoma area to check on the progress of Kentucky cattle sold to that area in last fall's sales. Mackey said the eleven special spring sales are the result of cooperation and planning among farmers. The spring sales serve farmers who have calves ready for sale during the spring. Ten calves is the average number brought in by an individual farmer. The calves are graded and are sold in large groups of uniform grade, sex and weight. This history of special sales results shows large pens bring about $2.00 per hundredweight more than small pens, and small pens bring some $2.00 per hundredweight more than singles, according to Mackey. He said farmers interested in organizing a graded and grouped feeder calf sales should contact their local county Extension agent to learn the advantages of group selling. The series of special feeder calf sales for the fall season will begin August 3. A total of 45 sales will be conducted this fall, running through November 14.

Weekly Meditation
Henry Smith Leiper once voiced the following revealing comparison. Assuming that the population of the world, in exact proportion, could be reduced to one town of 1,000 people, there would be 60 American residents. Yet these 60 would receive half of the income of the entire community, with its other 940 citizens dividing the other half. Some 330 in the town would be Christians, with fewer than 100 of them Protestants; 670 would not be Christians. Half of the population would never have heard of Jesus Christ, while more than half would be hearing about 'Kaz' Marx.

Something is seriously out of balance here... Do Christians really believe that Jesus is the hope of the world? Then, why don't they spend their time telling others about Him? — Hugh Brooks

Morgan County Baby Electrocuted By Television Set

A two-year-old Morgan County girl was electrocuted at 6 p.m. Monday when she stuck her foot in a television set at her home near here.

Sandra Lee Burkes, daughter of James and Ruby Burkes of Rt. 3, West Liberty, was killed when her foot slipped down into the phonograph-radio-television combination set.

Morgan County Deputy Coroner Glen Conley said the set was short-circuited and that the girl was standing on the edge of the set's stand when the accident occurred.

TEST — Kentucky's new financial-disclosure law seems headed for its first court test. K.P. Vinzel, executive director of the state Registry of Election Finance, said his agency's attorney, William Burbank, will submit the law for a court test "in the near future."

Edward Weston won $10,000 for walking from Portland, Maine to Chicago in 1967. He made it in 26 days.

Thought For Food

For a speedy, yet satisfying dinner, turn two cans of beef stew into a casserole and stir in a package of cooked frozen or drained canned vegetables. Top with biscuits from a refrigerator package and bake in a hot oven (425° F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until biscuits are done.

Now the promises of garden catalogues are coming true, it's time to reap the goodness of fresh vegetables and bring more salads to the table. To make salads into satisfying meals, add meat, Jerusalem strips of any one of a variety of ready-to-use sausages and other cold cuts give substance to a salad. So, too, do strips of leftover roasts.

A large canned ham in the refrigerator is especially valuable company dinner insurance in the summer when parties are often spontaneous and relatives or friends may drop in unexpectedly. A ham can be kept unopened in the refrigerator for several months. What if company doesn't materialize? No problem — that ham will make a fine family meal with leftovers for satisfying salads and hearty sandwiches.

Black Lung Claims Are Reviewed

All black lung claims that have not been approved are being reviewed to see if benefits are payable under the new black lung law recently signed by the President, according to Thomas B. Thompson, social security district manager in Ashland. He said that some coal miners and their families who didn't qualify before may now be eligible for monthly payments under the new Federal law.

Benefits are paid to eligible coal miners and their dependents if the miner is totally disabled from black lung disease caused by his work in any U.S. coal mine. Benefits to eligible survivors can also be paid if the miner was totally disabled by black lung when he died, or his death was due to black lung disease.

"All claims that are pending or which were turned down before are being reviewed because eligibility rules have been changed by the new black lung law," Thompson said, "but nothing is required at this time of the miners or their survivors who have already applied. They will be notified how their application is affected," he said.

It will take some time to review all prior claims, but notification of the new decisions will be sent to these applicants as soon as possible, he said.

About 375,000 applications for black lung payments have been received since the law was first enacted in 1969. About half have been approved, according to Thompson. "Previously, payments to miners were not approved if an X-ray of a coal miner's lungs showed no indication of black lung," Thompson said. "Under the new law, other evidence also will be used in determining eligibility for benefits."

A coal miner is considered totally disabled if because of black lung disease, he cannot do work comparable to the work he regularly did in the mines.

More than two of every five homes in Kentucky now have some type of air conditioning, according to market researchers at a major air conditioning company. Either room air conditioners or central systems were added to 49,000 homes in the state last year alone.

Carter Countian Killed By Train

A C&O spokesman said this morning that apparently the train engineer, E.W. Thompson, blew the train whistle at the car on the crossing, but to no avail. It was not known if the car was stalled on the crossing or if it was moving.

The train, which started from Russell this morning en route to Louisville with 36 loaded cars and 33 empties, continued after the wreckage was cleared and authorities investigated the collision.

Mandatory Retirement Age Set By State

By Dave Thompson
The state Personnel Board has adopted rules on retirement age and maximum hiring age which will apply to the majority of state employees or applicants for state positions.

At its June 9 meeting in Frankfort, the board set as the "normal" retirement age and "normal" maximum hiring age for employees, and established 70 as the mandatory age for retirement and maximum age for employment.

Employees over 65 may retain their jobs on a year-to-year basis to age 70, and applicants for state jobs who are over 65 may be employed year-to-year to age 70.

An employee or applicant over 65 can be retained or employed only if such action is justified in writing by the appointing agency and if the agency's request is approved by the Commissioner of Personnel as being in the public interest.

Personnel Board rules apply to about 80 percent of the state's work force, including all employees covered by the state Merit System, as well as unskilled laborers, truck drivers and light-equipment operators.

The rules on retirement and maximum hiring age became effective immediately on approval by the board. Prior to the adoption of the rules, which have the effect of law, the state had no official position with regard to retirement age or maximum hiring age.

Antique Cars To Roll Into Lexington

By Shanna Columbus
Pity the modern motorist in his dis-braked, power-steered, air-conditioned marvel, insulated from wind and rain, heat and cold, sound and smell and all the real pleasures of driving as it once was. He will never know the satisfaction of shifting through a four-speed Stutz transmission without clashing a single unsynchronized gear, or the scream of a supercharged Mercedes SSK on a country road, or the view from the driver's seat of a towering Blower Bentley, or the exhilaration found only at the wheel of a Mercer Raceabout. The "Golden Age of the Automobile" is long past.

But the clocks here will be turned back when the Bluegrass Region of the Antique Automobile Club of America (AACA) holds its 13th annual Rally and Swap Meet at the Red Mile, July 1-3.

Participating in the rally will be owners of some 125 antique cars, some actually driven, others trailered in, from across Kentucky, and from neighboring states and as far as Mobile, Ala.

"Everything from horse-drawn carriages to a 1928 Rolls Royce—and possibly Greta Garbo's car worth $75,000—will be on display," said James A. Tilley, president of the Bluegrass Region AACA.

The cars will be exhibited Saturday, July 1, and Monday, July 3. Tilley explained, and they will be judged on originality, authenticity and workmanship in restoration.

An added attraction, and a first for the '72 meet, will be an antique automobile auction on Monday, 10 a.m., at Tattersalls Auction Barn. Anyone can bid and walk away the owner of an antique car.

"There'll be all ranges of cars available," Tilley said, "from restored to unrestored antiques. We hope to provide something for everyone... many people want to become antique car owners, but don't know how to find a car. Our auction will make it easier."

A Swap Meet also will be held the first and last days of the rally. Described by Tilley as "a big part of the rally," the meet will consist of 30-35 vendors from across the country with supplies of parts for antique and classic cars.

An owner of a '24 model T, a '28 Rolls Royce and a '31 Cadillac, Tilley said he purchased his first antique car when he was 14 years old.

"A lot of people get started with old cars, however, by coming to rallies like ours," he said.

On Labor Day, 1971, club members say, a banker came to the Blue Grass Rally just to back a friend in the purchase of a car. Instead, he ended up taking home a '31 Cadillac worth $25,000, himself.

But Tilley and Bob Hamilton, activities chairman for the club, insist that owning an antique car is "not a rich man's hobby."

"You can buy a car pretty reasonably or work your way into it as I did," Hamilton said. "Now an owner of no less than 15 antique cars, Hamilton said the first became interested in the hobby seven years ago when he saw "an old piece of a model T on a neighbor's farm."

"My neighbor said he would give it to me and I went out right away looking for parts."

According to Tilley, anyone owning an antique car is eligible to participate in the rally. Pre-registration fee, prior to June 26, is $3.00, and it's $4.00 the gate.

The rally will be open to the public Saturday, 10 a.m. - 6 p.m.; Sunday, noon - 6 p.m.; and Monday, from 10 a.m. on. Admission fee is $3.00 per person.

For further details the contact is James Tilley, 404 Chinese Rd., Lexington, Ky. 40502.

Girls State Governor Elected At MSU Meet

Myrtle Oates, a 17-year-old from Cadiz, has been elected governor of the 1972 Kentucky Girls State meeting at Morehead State University.

A senior at Trigg County High School, the new governor of the mythical 300-member 51st state is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Oates of Cadiz. She is president of the Beta Club and a member of the National Forensic League and the high school band.

Other newly elected state officials are: Bettie Parrish of Bowling Green, lieutenant governor; Gussie Hayes of Elizabethtown, secretary of state; Cindy Violet of Adairville, attorney general; Carol Sherwood of Lexington, auditor of public accounts.

Jeanie Adkins of Greensburg, superintendent of public instruction; Joan Weingarth of Lexington, commissioner of agriculture; Nancy Rue of Bowling Green, clerk of the Court of Appeals; and Donna Wells of Cynthiana, treasurer.

Commenting on the women's liberation movement, MSU President Adron Doran told the group that it will take "time, patience and understanding to bring about the equality, justice and opportunity which you seek."

Dr. Doran reminded the girls that additional rights and responsibilities go together. The Girls State House and Senate met Thursday. The entire group traveled to Frankfort Friday to hold sessions of their General Assembly.

Gov. Wendell H. Ford was scheduled to address the group Friday on the Capitol Veranda.

After a number of delays, caused by everything from labor strife to a malfunctioning air conditioning system, state agencies began moving in earnest into the 28-story tower on June 1.

The Commission on Aging, Council on Public Higher Education and Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission were the first to move in, and at least one agency a day is scheduled to move for the next several weeks.

Coleman said those agencies working out of leased buildings will be the first to move. He added that all agencies will keep their old telephone numbers.

The new office tower will eventually house 1100 state workers. Officials hope to achieve total occupancy by this fall.

At present, 10 floors in the tower are completely and fully furnished. Construction on the remaining floors should be finished this summer and occupancy will proceed on a floor-by-floor basis as work is completed.

The tower's new occupants will be faced with a few minor inconveniences for a while. Much of the underground parking area is not yet ready and the cafeteria will not be operational until the first of August.

Forms must be mailed to District Commissioner, Claud C. Hightfield, Route 4, Box 5, Maysville, Ky. 41056 no later than July 24. The membership forms may also be returned to the restaurant where they will be picked up.

All teams wanting to participate in this tournament should pick up official membership forms at Thackers Restaurant at the I-64 interchange.

BEEF CATTLE — Are some of these undings limiting your profits? Uncharged backrubbers or butt-bags do not control flies. Unvaccinated calves are susceptible to contagious diseases. Unimplanted steers do not gain weight faster. Uncastrated commercial do sell for less. Uncontrolled grazing will make for poorer pasture utilization. Is your business cows? The manager who does not know what his business is will not long have a business. (Dr. Russ Bre Dahl, University of Kentucky Beef Cattle Specialist)

PASTURE — From now until late June most of us will have more pasture than we need. The secret of good management is to use all we need and to save the rest for storage as hay. Have you tried rotating your cattle on pasture? Confine your cattle to an area that they can graze down in about 10 days and then move them to another area about the same size. About four such areas makes a good set up — as you take off one area clip it. If your pasture area is kept in a high state of fertility you will be surprised the grazing you will get from your fields. It will mean some temporary fences — electric fences are ideal.

FERTILIZING — If you haven't top dressed your pastures yet it can still be done. If your stand is more than 25 percent legumes you won't need nitrogen — just phosphate and potash. If the legume is less than 25 percent include nitrogen. How much to use? A soil test is a good guide. If you don't have a soil test put on 400 to 500 lbs. of 5-20-20 or 0-20-20. Use 5-20-20 if your legume is scarce. Use 0-20-20 if you have 25 percent or more legume. Someone said the other day that proper fertilization could double production on a farm which would be equal to buying another farm of the same size.

CATTLEMEN'S ASSOCIATION MEETING — Those attending the meeting of the Rowan County Cattlemen's Association last Thursday night had a chance to see some good bulls. Roger Eckstein brought out the hereford bull from Morehead State University Farm and Roger Lewis brought his Charolais herd bull. These were in addition to the performance tested angus bull that Bob Bishop was using as herd bull.

FROM THE "CALIFORNIA CATTLEMAN" — Prices of 100 lbs. of Beef: On the ranch — 1951, $35.34; 1960, $25.92; 1970, $29.64; 1971, $32.35. At the packing plant — 1951, $56.88; 1960, $44.50; 1970, $48.42; 1971, $53.64. At the supermarket — 1951, $78.50; 1960, $69.70; 1970, $98.80; 1971, $104.36.

Continued Upswing Seen For Kentucky Economy

By Judi Ledford
With the country in an economic upswing, "Kentucky personal income will continue to rise at a slightly faster pace than in the nation" during 1972, according to the University of Kentucky's Dean of Business and Economics, Charles F. Haywood added that "as the population growth will be slower in Kentucky than in the nation, further relative improvement in Kentucky's per capita personal income is implied. Our 1973 projection is that per capita personal income in Kentucky will be $3880, which will be 80.6

percent of the national average." Speaking at the state Commerce Department's recent Industrial Development Institute, Haywood estimated that total civilian employment in Kentucky during 1972 will be "about 3.5 percent above 1971—a gain of roughly 40,000 jobs. The gain in 1973 is projected to be about the same."

"The unemployment ratio (in Kentucky) is projected at 5.3 percent for 1972 and 4.4 percent for 1973, slightly more favorable than the U.S. average," he added.

Haywood said, national industrial production has been rising at an annual rate of seven percent since August, 1971, while employment has expanded at a rate of about 3.5 percent per annum. National income has grown at an annual rate close to 10 percent, he added.

However, he noted that unemployment has shown only modest improvement, dropping from 6 percent to 5.3 percent.

"The single most comprehensive measure we have of the economy's performance," he said, "is the Gross National Product (GNP)—the total of spending by households, businesses and governments on goods and services."

In 1971 the GNP was $1,047 billion, a 7.5 percent gain over 1970. The projected GNP for 1972 is $1,149 billion, a $201 billion or 9.8 percent increase over 1971.

Haywood attributed the anticipated GNP increase to $52 billion in personal consumption expenditures, $28 billion in federal, state and local government purchases of goods and services and $25 billion from expansion in gross private domestic investment—housing, plant and equipment expenditures, and inventory building.

A $115 billion increase in the GNP is foreseen for 1973, with a projected $68 billion for consumption spending, $22 billion in government purchases, 24 billion in gross private domestic investment and a slight gain of $1 billion in net exports.

If, as projections for 1973 suggest, there is a resurgence in consumer spending "investment spending and government spending should be damped down," Haywood said.

He concluded that federal spending in particular should be brought under sharp restraint, as this is the key to the removal of wage and price controls and the restoration of a reasonably stable economy.

GRANTING MAGISTRATES EXCESS FUNDS CALLED ILLEGAL

State Auditor Mary Louise Foust says a 1972 law, which grants county magistrates excess funds as expense allowances, violates the Kentucky budget law.

She referred to House Bill 346, which became effective June 16. It gives each magistrate an expense allowance if the county possesses sufficient excess funds.

"Payment of excess funds to the magistrates would of necessity be an after-the-fact operation because it is not known what funds may be excess until the year is

New Rule Allows Licensing Of Epileptics

Epileptics now may obtain Kentucky driver's licenses under a new regulation of the state Department of Public Safety.

Before obtaining a license, an applicant must provide the department with certification from a physician that the epileptic condition is controllable by drugs, details of the drugs and dosages required and a statement that the applicant has been free of epileptic seizures for one year.

The new regulation, announced recently by acting Public Safety Commissioner William O. Newman, relaxes statutory restrictions which prohibit licensing epileptics.

Two bills were introduced during the 1972 General Assembly to remove the restriction against epileptics, but both measures died in committee.

Newman also announced another new regulation which gives the department broader authority in requiring drivers to submit to medical examinations.

Old rules required such examinations only if a driver had been involved in three or more accidents in a two-year period, or when he reported "blacking out" at the wheel, or after a doctor or two or more citizens made affidavits alleging such infirmities.

"Also, the tax rate is set to cover anticipated expenditures and is not supposed to be set above the needed amount. There should, therefore, be no excess funds."

She said one statute is "very explicit" concerning diversion of funds which may result of a tax levy ends up with an excess of funds.

The law, KRS 68.110, prohibits an expenditure in excess of revenue and also prohibits any diversion of funds.
