

With Malice Toward None

By Tom Eshel

After playing their best game of the year against Marshall the football Eagles turned right around and played their worst against the basketball team, losing 75-84. Trailing by 14 points in the third period the sluggish Morehead team suddenly caught fire and overtook the Eagles to lead by a point 63-61 after one minute had gone by in the fourth. For the remaining nine minutes it was all Trinity and the Eagles lost their first contest to a K. Y. A. C. member.

Ed Mobley gathered in 30 points and Don Whitehouse 19 points in the losing Morehead contest.

Coach Hays left the Marshall-Morehead game via the five foot line. He was given a tremendous ovation by the overflow crowd, deserving reward for his good play on offense as well as defense.

Last year Whalen was chosen on the All Tournament team at the O. V. C. in Louisville. He was the only Morehead player to receive this honor.

A good sport on the court as well as off, Eliza has always been a favorite with local fans.

A big sign of malice is always heard from the opposing coach. Whalen took out of a ball game. Many O. V. C. coaches rate him as the best all around player that Coach Johnson has produced in a number of years.

Mr. Fowler invites everyone to his track movies held in the Ad building on Tumblers. Good movies are always shown. Drop in some time to see what exciting pictures.

Inter-school basketball began last Wednesday. The Hustlers defeated the Spartans 21 to 23. Patsy Fry was the high scorer with 16 points. In the second game the Mountaineers led by Ronnie Pitter and Harold Bennett, each with nine points, won a thriller from the Spartans 23 to 25. The Spartans lost all scorers for the game with 20 fouls in the second half.

The O. V. C. Tournament was held Sunday with Coach Johnson's Tennessee Tech. Games start Thursday. Tickets are on sale at the Business Office. A good turnout of spectators is expected at the games. The Eagles are expected to win the "dark horse" in the tournament.

Whenever the O. V. C. goes together for its annual tournament all past records are "banned out of the window" because anyone can win. Whalen seems to be this year's choice. However they were not able to see him last night. Murray outlasted everyone to win the championship.

So we're anxious to see you all in Louisville Thursday for the opening game.

Castle Stops Walt Walowac, Wins 72-62

Point Happy Star Held To 11 Points, Eliza Upset Marshall in Thriller

Lindie Castle taught Walt Walowac a lesson in defense during the Marshall-Morehead basketball game that resulted in point happy Walowac's lowest point production this season, a mere 11 points. Three came from the charity line and one bucket was a Morehead "gift." Both teams thought Marshall center, Slack, was entitled to a 2-1 foul shot and when Slack's first shot missed, Walowac picked up the ball and sunk an easy lay-up.

Dave Harris, Eliza Whalen, Ed Mobley, Lindie Castle and Don Whitehouse played their best game of the year to the delight of the capacity house at Morehead.

Harris and Whitehouse harassed Marshall's guards to such an extent that the visitors could not set up their plays, which are built around Walowac.

Captain Eliza Whalen, playing the best game of his college career, was given a foul shot by a foul out of the ball game in the fourth period.

Eliza was the game's individual high scorer with 22 points.

Whalen followed by Ed Mobley, who contributed 20 points to the victory column.

"Seam & Gusset & Band, Band & Gusset & Seam"

The excerpt from the poem at the head of this article came to mind when the reporter arrived in the basement of Thompson Hall on Wednesday night, February 18. There he found English faculty wives wearing and banding costumes for the "Merry Wives of Windsor."

Why Participate In Track?

by Nolan Fowler

Do you long to travel, to see foreign lands and places, to observe at close range the customs and languages of other people—all at no expense to you? Well, one way to do it is to run, not walk, to the nearest recruiting office, and the nice people there will be most happy to grant your wish in this respect. You may, of course, return from your travels with certain portions of your anatomy missing, or you may not return at all—but that is another matter.

The contrary is with track and field. To begin with, track is held in high regard in other lands than it is in most portions of the U. S. In fact it is the national sport in such countries as Sweden, Finland, and Norway. Crowds of 40,000-80,000 are not uncommon at these meets in these countries, plus those of Great Britain, France, Germany, and others. These countries are very anxious to see our best men in action and are quite willing to foot the bill for visits by our baring country, Canada. The European, Asian and Latin American countries care nothing about American football. Their big team sport is soccer, and they consider it infinitely faster and more exciting than American football.

If you are a very good baseball player—of near major league caliber—you may go on an all-expense paid trip to Japan or to the Caribbean countries, such as Cuba, Venezuela, or Colombia.

The English-speaking countries are large wage earners in the world of baseball. Their great game is cricket. If your sport is basketball, then you may go on a world tour with the Harlem Globetrotters. They have been touring for years a 14 man squad comes to the U. S. take care of all the expenses of the top athletes.

To sum up: If you have athletic ability and desire to see the U. S. and the world free, then engage in track. Your chances of success in your ambition are vastly greater than in any other sport.

Lively Show Is Product Of Acuff Group

By Alva Knechtly
Two performances were given in the college auditorium Tuesday, February 11, by Roy Acuff and his "Smoky Mountain Boys."

A much smaller crowd than was expected attended the matinee performance. The evening performance was much better attended.

Mr. Acuff sang several of his famous mountain songs, including "The Great Speckled Bird" and "Stay All Night." He also sang one of the late Hank Williams' songs, "I Saw the Light."

Jimmy Riddle, the very talented harmonica player helped to make the show really seem like a "Grand Ole Opry" performance. "Brother Oswald" and "Peg" and his jug band helped to add sparkle to the show.

Outstanding old-time fiddling was also a feature of the show. Fanny Fiddling like that done the night of the performance, is hard to find anywhere.

Roy Acuff is one of the oldest entertainers in the business. He has appeared on television stations throughout the country, and is heard every Saturday night on WSM's "Grand Ole Opry."

When Roy ran for governor of Tennessee a few years ago he was earning approximately $500,000 a year. Had he been elected, the governorship would have paid him around $5,000 annually. One cannot help admire a man who has made a man's world for many years. His voice, as heard on Columbia Records, is heard on Columbia Records, is heard on Columbia Records, is heard on Columbia Records.
