Eagles Meet Eastern In Homecoming Game Saturday

Game Time At Jayne Stadium Will Be 2 P. M.

The Eagles will go against the Eastern Maroons Saturday in their annual scrap for possession of the "Hawg Rifle." Eastern has won seven of these annual games, which began in 1936, with Morehead taking six and two games ending in a tie. The games are traditionally close, but records are thrown to the winds when these two teams meet.

The Eagles will have their work cut out for them this year. The undefeated Maroons are enjoying their finest season in many years and are the odds-on favorites to take the OVC title this fall, while the Eagles are still winless.

By comparison, the Maroons are the overwhelming favorites. They own a string of ten straight wins including those over John Carroll, Middle Tenn., Murray, TPI, and Youngstown this year. The Eagles haven't won a game since they won over Evansville in the opening game of 1935 and have dropped the straight games this year to UP, Marshall, TPI, Western, and Middle Tennessee.

In Don Daly, Eastern has the best of the homecoming game, but the Eagles have a leading candidate for Little All-American honors.

Eastern will have the advantage in both experience and weight. Eight seniors, one junior, one sophomore, and one freshman will probably start for the Maroons while the Eagles will field a team composed of two seniors, one junior, four sophomores, and four freshmen. Eastern's backfield will average 175 pounds, two pounds heavier than Eastern's, but the Maroons' line outweighs the Eagles' line by an average of 200 to 162 pounds.

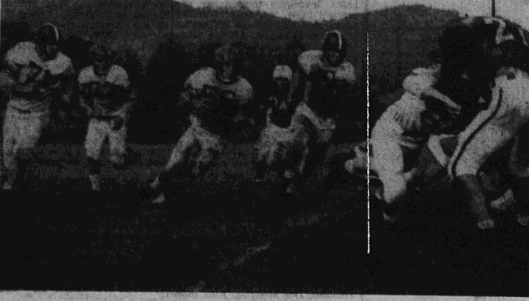

The Eagles have shown their best form of the season in their last two games, nearly pulling upsets in each. Maybe the third time is the charm.

The probable starting lineup:

ACTION APLENTY—Don McKenzie skirts end for a substantial gain as George Brown throuces the key block in the Morehead-Western game. The Eagles led a hard-fought and close 19-13 decision to the Hilltoppers.

Robin Reports

On Women's Sports

By Robin Whitehouse

Round II

Two teams out of eight still remain unbeaten after the second round of the Round Robin volleyball tournament. These teams are coached by Jimmie Scott and Ann Karrek, and Pat Johnson and Bonnie Birchfield. By the time this column is exposed, one of these two squads will have joined the "defeated association" since they will oppose one another at 6:30 Monday, Oct. 18. There are two girls from the Coaching For Women class, who are captains of each team. These coaches and their team numbers are: Ann Karrek, Beverly Taylor, Team II; Peggy Burke, Vicki Meek, Team III; Joyce Cooper, Betty Johnson, Team IV; Shirley Potter, Pat Skaggs, Team V; Moon Mullins, Cookie Lewis, Team VII, and "Slate" Evans and Robin Whitehouse, Team VIII.

It's A Fact

... that the Morehead WRA has nearly three times as many members as the Eastern WRA at Richmond, Ky.

Announcements

There will be a meeting of the K. A. C. W. of which Peggy Burke, a junior at Morehead, is president, on Oct. 23, 1934.

The Morehead Eagles, or girls hockey team, will travel to the University of Kentucky to play their first away game of Field Hockey on Tuesday, Oct. 23. Miss Avert will attend a meeting of the Kentucky Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation during the week-end of Oct. 15, 16, 17, at Kentucky Cumberland Falls. She is the representative of this region.

Reminding You
To be a member of the WRA, it takes skill. By being skilled you can win a letter. To win a letter it takes points. To get points requires work. And so remember, helping with the homecoming float is considered work. So come on over and collect your points for helping with the float.

Did you know that... every Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 there is a group of ambitious girls who meet at the Breck play ground to discuss their knowledge and skill of that difficult, but exciting game—field hockey. Wants join? Be there.

Fun Night Held Fun

Again the crowd was calling "more" as the Fun Night, under the direction of Henrietta Eaton, ended Thursday, October 7, at the college gymnasium.

The highlight of the evening was the drawing for the prize, which was $1.00 worth of merchandise to be purchased at the book store. Also acting as an invitation to excitement was the moon dance—famous name dance, combined. As a person entered the door, he was handed the first or last name of a famous person.

The object was to find the other half of the paper, and ask that person to join him in the moon dance. Another popular dance was the balloon dance, of which the winning couple received a corsage and a bottle of shaving lotion.

To add to the gaiety, Billy Jean Thompson appeared in the floor show with an entertaining act along with the famous Kentucky Colonel, Joe Huffman and Minnie Feltner, who warbled some beautiful songs.

With continuous programs like this one, plus the usual square dancing, social dancing, and the participating student body like the present one, surely the call will keep on being "more" at the end of the Fun nights.

MSC Trounced By Tenn. Tech In OVC Game

In their first Ohio Valley Conference game, the Eagles were soundly trounced by a superior TPI team 32-2.

Morehead started out like a house afire. The first time they got their hands on the ball they marched some sixty yards on the passing arm of tailback Billy Adkins to the Tech twenty before losing the ball on downs. TPI soon put the damper on the Eagles' flame. In the waning minutes of the initial period, Van Hooser passed to Anderson goal for sixty-nine yards and a Tech touchdown.

Tech added two more touchdowns in the second quarter on a nineteen yard sprint by Anderson and a one yard plunge by Ransome. The score at the half read 20-0.

The Tennessee team completed their scoring by registering two more TD's in the third period.

The Eagles averted a complete whitewashing in the final minutes of the game when Billy Adkins kicked a Tech punt in the end zone for a safety. Morehead missed a scoring opportunity at the beginning of the fourth quarter, advancing the ball to the TPI five before being set back by a fifteen yard penalty.

The Eagles were beset by injuries in the contest with six players having to be assisted from the playing field.

Caroline Parker Moore 50
Caroline Parker Moore received her AB with majors in art and English. Caroline married David V. Moore and has one daughter. They are now living at Aberdeen, Maryland.

Luckless Eagles Drop Morehead Game Here; Western Wins 19-13

The Eagles lost their fourth straight game of the season to the Western Hilltoppers, Oct. 9th. The game was marked by miscues on both sides.

In the first quarter Western took advantage of an Eagle fumble on the Morehead 30 and drove to the 15, where fullback Millard Shirley scored on an off-tackle smash. The extra point was kicked by halfback Jim Gunnell.

Morehead recovered a Western early in the second quarter on the Hilltoppers' 30 yard line. They moved the ball to the 25 on two ground plays. From there, fullback Ronald Hart passed to end Paul Ousley for the first Eagle score. Harold Barker kicked the extra point to make the score 7-7.

Western halfback Jim Chamberlain had a mental lapse on the ensuing kickoff and allowed the ball to roll to the Western four yard line where Morehead center Erskine Jenkins pounced on the ball. Hart circled his own left end and for the second time in the game George Brown missed conversion and the Eagles led 12-7.

Western drove 51 yards in eight plays late in the second period to tie the score at the intermission. During the time the Eagles were back up in the hills. The old rifle has quite a history attached to it as it is said to have once belonged to that noted traveler, Daniel Boone. Authorities of both colleges approved the idea, and so the playing for the "Hawg Rifle" was born.

Since then, Morehead has won six of the games with Eastern taking seven. Two have ended in ties. The games are traditionally close and hotly contested. It doesn't seem to matter who is the favorite. In the 15 games played, only 14 points separate the team's total scoring, with the Maroons leading 198-184.

It has been five years since Morehead has had possession of the "Hawg Rifle." Seems to me that it's about time the dust got cleaned out of the trophy case hanging above the auditorium doors.

Concerning school spirit

The Eagles were edged by the Blue Raiders of Middle Tennessee State 20-13 at Murfreesboro last Saturday night. The deciding scores came within three minutes of each other in the second quarter.

With one minute and 20 seconds gone in the second period, Middle Tennessee's Cliff Tribble broke off his own right tackle on a 33-yard touchdown jump, breaking the scoreless tie. Haley added the extra point. Less than three minutes later, the Raiders recovered a Morehead fumble on the Morehead 40-yard line and moved from that point in five plays for the score. A 25-yard pass covered the yardage with Akin going the final nine for the TD. Haley again made his conversion good.

The Eagles struck back in the final minutes of the quarter. Fullback Ronald Hart, standing back in punt formation, received a bad pass from center and was forced to run with the ball. He picked up some good downfield blocking and raced 30-yards down the sideline before being knocked out of bounds on the Raider 19. Billy Adkins gained two yards and then passed 15 yards to end Don Humm. Hart scored from the four on the play. Co-Captain Harold Barker kicked the extra point to make the score 14-7 in favor of the Tennesseans at the half.

Morehead dominated the play in the third quarter and had the ball resting on Middle Tennessee's one foot line as the period came to a close. Eagle quarterback Don McKenzie scored on the first play of the fourth quarter but Barker missed the extra point and the Raiders still led 14-13.

Morehead tried desperately to score again before the gun went off but to no avail.

The Raiders scored their final touchdown on a five-yard run by Tribble with only 25 seconds left in the game.

Outstanding for the Eagles was the running of fullback Ronald Hart and the defensive play of guard Harold Rose and end Paul Ousley. Ousley blocked two Raiders punts during the game.

For only a quarter the Breck kids eat. At a price like that they get a treat.

The Center View

By Bernie Fieker

Perhaps some of you are wondering what the "Hawg Rifle" is and what it means. It hasn't been displayed at MSC for so long that there are probably few people left on the campus that remember what it looks like. Maybe some of the older faculty members do.

I haven't even so much as caught a glimpse of it in the night on to four years I've been in school, but after doing a little research, and writing to Richmond for a picture of it, I believe I've picked up the pertinent details.

Back in 1936 the Campus Club thought that there should be some symbol for the annual Morehead-Eastern football rivalry, something that would create more interest in the games. The club members looked around for a couple weeks and finally came up with an antique "Hawg Rifle" from back up in the hills. The old rifle has quite a history attached to it as it is said to have once belonged to that noted traveler, Daniel Boone. Authorities of both colleges approved the idea, and so the playing for the "Hawg Rifle" was born.

Since then, Morehead has won six of the games with Eastern taking seven. Two have ended in ties. The games are traditionally close and hotly contested. It doesn't seem to matter who is the favorite. ## Welcome To Morehead

The Staff of The Trail Blazer takes great pride in joining with all the students of Morehead State College in welcoming you, our visitors, to this very special week end of activities. We would gladly roll out the welcome mat for you at any time, but we are especially glad that you look the time to come and see Morehead State College in action now. Governor Lawrence (Wherry) will preside over the inauguration ceremony. Dr. Adron Doran will be sworn in as our seventh president here at the College. Because of this presence, there will be a delay in our new Fine Arts Building, which is signed in honor of the late Dr. William Jesse Baird, who was president of our college from 1910 to 1921. This delay will be given over to our annual homecoming. The activities will include a parade (with floats), a football game (in which we hope to beat Eastern Kentucky State College), an alumni banquet, and a homecoming dance.

We want everybody to share in our pride and fellowship during these events. We want Governor Wherry to feel at home in this, a state institution, and to enjoy himself as much as we feel sure so many of his constituents will. We want the official delegates from other colleges to feel as at home and contented as they would at their own college. We want special guests at the inauguration to receive a special welcome at this late throughout the chain of events.

We hope that the Alumni realize that this is all their college, and that they should have a special pride in it all that goes on, and that they will help us, the students, to show everyone around the college who has not been here before. In short, we want you and everyone else to thoroughly enjoy your stay here.

Patronize Our Advertisers

Advertising is good business. The far-sighted businessman recognizes that the unsold product or service remains largely unsold, with a few exceptions. The shortsighted businessman regards advertising as a sort of charity. He usually abuses and grudgingly expects immediate results.

The Trail Blazer wants no charity from advertisers. We feel we have a valuable advertising medium. We carry over 350 new prospective customers were added to our circulation. Over a thousand copies are circulated and read within the city limits of Morehead. Our circulation totals 3,200 copies, nearly all of which go to readers in Eastern Kentucky.

The Trail Blazer staff made a concerted effort for advertising to appear in this issue. They were courteously received by a gratifying number of businessmen.

The staff of Morehead State College will pay dividends to the merchants in the area. What is good for MSC is good for Morehead and vice versa.

The Trail Blazer staff believes that the students should patronize our advertisers. By and large, they are the people who devote time, energy and money in an effort to make MSC a bigger and better institution.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor: What has happened to the Trail Blazer? I know that it costs more to publish than it does to read. I know that it is a place and write a joke column that is at least a little funny. I know that it is a place and write a joke column that is at least a little funny. I know that it is a place and write a joke column that is at least a little funny.

Yours truly, Perplexed Senior

Dear Editor: One of my chief gripes is the fact that some instructors in the Social Science Department insist on getting every possible minute of lecture in. I know of the night class where the student had to get a minute here at the middle of the period, but instead of getting out at the usual time the instructor makes the students make up every minute of the time at the end of the class.

As I understand it, brief breaks are permitted by the dean for a night class where the student had to get a minute here at the middle of the period, but instead of getting out at the usual time the instructor makes the students make up every minute of the time at the end of the class.

Now it seems to me that ten minutes might be easily consumed in taking a roll and various other things that occur in an everyday class that do not in a night class. I think the instructor should get a "Bergain," once in a while, for the benefit of the few minutes break.

George Carrollington

Dear Editor: Why does The Trail Blazer have so much bad news? It seems to me the club members should know what is in the paper. I think it should not belong to the particular club that is written about in it. I think it should be in the hands of a club which is not in it.

The Rantings of A Raving Redhead

Well, finally, that boy asked me to go to a football game. I don't like football games. I don't like football games. I don't like football games. I don't like football games. I don't like football games.

I guess we got there a little late, with me having to pay my make-up and the crowd had already chosen up sides. All my guys just sort of milled around, really successful, trying anything for about half an hour. Then a horn blew and the crowd started milling around. As far as I could see it was a milling contest between those big tough brutes and the crowd.

Pretty soon a lad called Barker, I heard of and kicked the ball. I don't really care for the ball because he was a great big man. I went whipping down the field and right into the stomach of a fellow called Ross. I must have hurt him a lot because he was crying out in pain.

I turned abruptly as I heard a loud pop, where someone had just put a cigar in his mouth. I was crowded together at a side table with Don McKenzie, Jess May, and a crowd of other people.

People were starting to look over and see what was going on. I was crowded together at a side table with Don McKenzie, Jess May, and a crowd of other people.

My husband and I have been married for 15 years. I have decided that we weren't meant to be together. Do you think it's too late for me to find happiness with someone else?

Definitely not. Remember the old adage, "You are only as old as you feel." If you feel young, married life you feel you are definitely not meant for each other. Do you think it's too late for me to find happiness with someone else?

I am in love with a boy that is not in love with me. Should I leave him and ask him to marry me?

Drop him right away! Any man who doesn't like his fiancée to have a little fun once in a while would make a poor husband.

Entering the famous night spot, "Café Club," the head waiter, Ralph Crawford, while I was served table. Smoke gets in my eyes as I struggle to get across the crowded room. All the name players are placed on a revolving platform tucked neatly away between pillars on the edge of the dance floor.

Windy evening was giving a dance exhibition for the newcomers' benefit. At one table I saw a bright sparkle which was a diamond on the left hand of Lee Glier. I gave congratulations and tried to put a smile on my face. I could get to my table. Finally seated, I decided to watch the floor show. Gladie Smith and Craig Francisco were doing a fast jitterbug number, while Jim Ferra and Mary Lou Salisbury clapped loudly.

About this time, some of the younger set put in an appearance but they left early. There was our cheerleader, Claudia, and one of our famous moders, Rose. Also there was the girl who put the last "D" in D-D, Jerry Snouden. Then I happened to glance at Jennifer Arnett—"Miss Short But Sweet of 1939" as she left with her escort Russ Day.

I turned abruptly as I heard a loud pop, where someone had just put a cigar in his mouth. I was crowded together at a side table with Don McKenzie, Jess May, and a crowd of other people.

Noticing that everyone was watching the door, I decided to see what was going on. Entering the night spot, I saw Judy Hickey and date Don Gance, Dean Bowen our strutting male jockey, and a crowd of other people.

MSC Scholarships Have Cash Values

Morehead State College awards four types of scholarships each year to graduating high school students who can qualify under certain conditions. Each one of these scholarships is given for proficiency in the sports of football, basketball, baseball, and track. Athletic scholarships are given for proficiency in the sports of football, basketball, baseball, and track. Athletic scholarships are given for proficiency in the sports of football, basketball, baseball, and track.

The music department awards academic scholarships each year to those high school seniors who have demonstrated a fine aptitude for music. Dr. Leroy Well, head of the music department, receives all applications for this type of scholarship.

The college annually offers 40 academic scholarships that are not restricted to any particular field of activity. Most of these are listed above. These awards are valued at $100 each. They are granted on the basis of: Academic achievement, or one's record in high school, and the amount of need for financial assistance. Academic achievement is only one of the criteria, but the student has less than a "B" average in high school. These scholarships are open to any student who is a resident of Kentucky and who graduates at any time during the 1934-35 school year.

Morehead will grant five scholarships in the field of nursing for the coming academic year. These awards are worth $400 each. In addition to the four types of scholarship listed above, there are also financial awards of scholarship which will require the applicants for nursing aptitude test, a short nursing aptitude test, and a general intelligence examination. The winners in the nursing program will spend a year at Morehead and an equal amount of time at the University of Kentucky at the King's Daughters' Hospital in Louisville. Students who accept one of these scholarships must sign an agreement to complete their course of training at the University of Kentucky.

High school graduates of the 1934-35 school year who live within the following counties in Eastern Kentucky: Bath, Bell, Boyd, Breathitt, Carter, Fleming, Clay, Harlan, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Lawrence, Les, Leslie, Letcher, Lincoln, Logan, Mingo, Monroe, Menifee, Morgan, Owsley, Perry, Pike, Powell, Rowan, and Wolfe. Students who live in these counties will receive a scholarship of $100 each. Applications pertaining to these two types of scholarships is April 1.

Music Books And Records Subject At Conference

Students in the Materials and Methods for the Elementary Teacher Class, practice teachers and teachers from the Training School and Morehead State College, were present when Mr. L. G. Hurst, elementary music consultant from the Ginn Music Company discussed the books and records available in the Ginn Music Series.

Mr. Hurst, who has been with Ginn and Company over a year, received his Bachelor of Music degree from Ashland College, Ashland, O., and his Masters of Music Education from Ohio State University. He served as supervisor of music in the Mt. Gilard High School, Mt. Gilard, O., for four years, but joined the Ginn Music Company because the work was more encompassing than teaching. By serving the teachers, he is serving the students and communities of three states—Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia.

Mr. Hurst discussed the books and methods of presenting and teaching songs. He advised ways in which music could be utilized in the already crowded elementary school program and listed several ways in which the "un-musical" teacher could teach music.

Particularly interesting were the songs and rhythmic activities Mr. Hurst taught to the group present. Many worthwhile ideas were gained from these demonstrations.

After having visited the first and second grades at Breckinridge Training School, Mr. Hurst made everyone proud when he said they were the finest groups he had encountered anywhere. In fact, he said he thought the entire music program was "tops."

Music Groups Ranging From Mozart To Jazz Cited Here

By Phyllis Davis

Are Morehead State College students interested in music? Much more so than in the average school!

Over 15 per cent of the full-time resident students of Morehead State College are now studying music in some form or other. The majority of these students are working toward a major or minor in music, but others are participating in ensembles, taking private lessons, or other music courses. Those studying the required courses for elementary teachers, such as Appreciation of Fine Arts, Rudiments of Music, and Materials and Methods for the Elementary Teacher are not included in this group.

Courses offered by the department of music this term include theory, counterpoint, piano, organ, methods, history, brass, woodwind, percussion, stringed instruments, voice, conducting and accompanying. Ensembles of various kinds and sizes are also a very important part of the program.

Woodwind Quintet

Among the ensembles one of the most active is the Woodwind Quintet. Organized by its director, Mr. Gomer Pound in the spring term of 1933, the Quintet has until this year been unusual in that it has substituted a bass clarinet for the bassoon, which is included in the standard woodwind quintet. This semester Alnora Johnson, bassoonist, is taking the place of Dale Snedeker who played bass clarinet. Alnora is the only one of the group who was not in the original ensemble and is doing an excellent job of fitting into the group. It is interesting to note that the Quintet has always represented five different states: Joyce Standiford, also, is from Ohio, Betty Ewen, flute, from Kentucky; Tony Romano, clarinet, from New Jersey; and Don Holloway, horn, from Indiana. Both Dale Snedeker and Alnora Johnson are from West Virginia. The Quintet includes in its repertoire some of the finest and most difficult music written for the Woodwind Quintet.

The Quintet has appeared before audiences in Kentucky, Ohio, and West Virginia. Some of its more important performances are: Eastern Kentucky Education Association Convention held in Ashland last year; Kentucky Education Association Convention held in Louisville; and the Convention of the Southern Division of the National College Band Directors Association held in Lexington. The activities of the Quintet are mentioned last year in Woodwind, a national magazine devoted to woodwind playing.

Chorus

One of the most popular ensembles is the chorus. Famous for its annual performances of the Messiah (it already has five engagements for 1934) the chorus has appeared in many Eastern Kentucky towns. It also presents an Easter cantata or oratorio each year. Its standard repertoire includes many compositions by the masters and moderns including such works as Mozart's "Figaro" and Wilson's "Upon This Rock."

For the inauguration of Dr. Doran, the 35 voice girls' chorus will sing the famous "Last Ye Shall Be First" and "The Holy City," and the 75 voice mixed chorus will sing "The Holy City." The 75 voice mixed chorus will sing "The Holy City," and the 75 voice mixed chorus will sing "The Holy City."

Singing with the chorus offers many opportunities for soloists and much experience in group singing. Membership is not limited to music majors.

Marching Band

The 70 piece Marching Band is probably best known for its "Hunting" shows at the football games. It is headed this year by Don Holloway, a junior from Huntington, Ind., and is under the direction of Mr. R. Russell Aukerman and the assistant director, Mr. Gomer Pound.

The part of drum major is not new to Don for he held the same position with the Huntington, Ind. High School Band the three years he was in school there. Here at Morehead, Don's name is synonymous with activity in music. In addition to being drum major, he is president of the Wesley Club and active in the Crescendo Club, Music Educators' National Conference, Quintet, Chorus, Band Council and the Morehead Players. Last year, he played the title role in the Morehead Players production of "Hiawatha" and will play the part of the Road Wanderer in "The Land of the Dragons" this year. This past summer Don was French horn instructor at the Cherokee Band camp in Louisville. He also instructed a class of 30 in drum major techniques.

The majorettes this year are headed by the same girl under a different name, Ramona White Blanton, the recent bride of Charles Blanton of Ashland, is from Ashland, where she was head majorette with the famous Tomcat Band three years. Her experience, however, dates back even further, for she was head majorette with the Putnam Junior High School band one year before going to Senior High. Ramona has led the MSC majorettes three years. Although she taught herself baton, she has studied dancing at the Frances Nestor School of Dance, The Junior School of Dance in Ashland, and the Jack Stanley School of

Campus View

This is a scene on the campus of Morehead State College. Morehead has one of the most beautiful plant layouts of any college.

The Dance and The School of American Ballet in New York. Here at MSC, Ramona is active in the Mystic Club, and the Morehead Players. She is a nursing student and is teaching one class in baton at Breckinridge.

The other majorettes, Lucy Huffman from Raceland, Rita Jones from Russell, Jewell Dean Bowen, from Carr Creek, Kay Lockhart, from Stout, O., and Lucille Mayhall from the Morehead Players. She is a nursing student and is teaching one class in baton at Breckinridge.

The band itself has adopted a new system this year in which one person (usually an upperclassman), the squad leader, is in charge of his rank in routine and precision marching. Squad leaders work with their members individually and in groups. The leaders for this season are Don Adams, Walter Mokros, Leslie Pence, Roger Roush, Ronnie Gilmer, Kay Huffman, Tony Romano, Tony Alto, Betty Ewen, and Roland Seconite. The leaders are doing a fine job as can be seen from the fine shows being produced.

This fall, the band has played at the Eastern Kentucky Education Association Convention, Vaneburg, and Morehead, and football games at Marshall and Morehead.

Last year the band was given a half page picture plus a write-up in the Music Educators' National Conference Journal. It has also been mentioned in other nationally known music magazines.

Orchestra

The orchestra, discontinued during World War II, is now being steadily established on a sound basis for future progress. The group regularly provides the music for the Commencement, and a portion of the orchestra accompanies the chorus in the annual presentations of the "Messiah." Other programs are presented from time to time, when need arises.

Girl's Dance Band

The Girls' Dance Band, composed of 12 girls who enjoy playing dance music, is headed by Jean Lee Mendel from Columbia City, Ind. and sponsored by Mr. R. Russell Aukerman, college band director. Ann Felix Boy is vocalist with the group.

The Dance Band has played at many school functions, proms and dances in the tri-state area and was on coast to coast network from Columbia City, Ind. last spring.

Breck Music Program

In addition to classes being offered at the college, the Music Department is actively interested in the music program at Breckinridge Training School. Under the program set up last summer, Dr. Weil, is in charge of all choral activities at the training school. Mr. Pound, the instrumental activities; Mr. Huffman, the orchestra; and Miss Wilson, the elementary school music program. Activities presently being conducted are: a band, a senior mixed chorus, a senior girls' chorus, a senior boys chorus, a junior girls' chorus, classes in practically all band instruments on all levels, beginning piano classes, ensembles of all types, instruction

GRAVES AND SLOAN GO TO HARLAN

On Oct. 5, Mr. Sloan and Mrs. Octavia Graves were in Harlan, County serving as acting consultants in a teacher's meeting. The meeting included Harlan, Lynch, and Glasgow high schools.

There were approximately 500 teachers attending the meeting. There were 100 from the State Department of Education and from the University of Maryland. The theme of the workshop meeting which lasted three days was "Guidance Grouping for Maximum Learning and Teaching of Atypical Children."

Crescendo Club Active This Year

The Crescendo Club, open to students having six hours of music, has been rather active this year.

The members met for a picnic at the home of one of their sponsors, Mr. Keith Huffman, for their first meeting, and not much later met again to begin work on their float for the Homecoming Parade. Work on the float has been begun and officers, Joe Huffman (pres.), Larry Hillman (vice-pres.), Lucille Stittler (sec.) and Joyce Standiford (treas.), predict success for the Crescendo Club.

Dance Tickets

The tickets for the Homecoming dance are available at a special student price of 50¢ plus your student activity ticket. Pick them up before noon, October 22, at the Business Office.

Field Experience

In addition to its activities at the college and the Training School, the Music Department is also providing music for schools in many nearby towns through a course known as Field Experience.

Organized in 1931, the course allows students to operate under actual working conditions two days per week. The students go into the schools and do whatever teaching is wanted—both instrumental and choral—and receive help from Mr. R. Russell Aukerman, college band director and supervisor of the work.

The schools being served by this plan now and the students serving are as follows: West Liberty, Jean Lee Mendel; Hillsboro, Joe Huffman; Owsingville, Larry Hillman and Walter Mokros; Salt Lake, Marilyn Parker; Bethel, Don Adams, and Mt. Sterling County School, Leslie Pence.

Aukerman Was Recipient Of Scholarship

Mr. R. Russell Aukerman, band director, attended the Workshop in Music in Society held at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 1-12. The workshop emphasized intercultural relations in music. Mr. Aukerman was the recipient of a scholarship for this work offered by the National Council of Christians and Jews.

Miss Marie Johnson, instructor in piano and music theory, was director of girls in the Transylvania Music Camp in Brevard, N. C., all summer. Miss Johnson seemed very enthused about the work, saying it was an excellent place for students from 18 to 20 to work in ensembles and to study privately in some of "God's most beautiful country." According to Miss Johnson, the students were there from as far west as Oklahoma, as far north as Connecticut, as far south as Florida, and

M. S. C. Grad Retires From Teaching At 70

George W. Butcher, who received his bachelor of arts degree from Morehead State College at the age of 68, Friday on his 70th birthday. Professor Butcher, who lives at Offutt, Kentucky, started teaching 53 years ago in a one-room school at Whitehouse, Ky.

At the time of retirement, Professor Butcher was teaching American history and government at Meade Memorial High School, where he was honored at a program on the day of his retirement.

The master of ceremonies, G. Mack Ward, president of the Paintsville Chamber of Commerce and a former student of Butcher, praised Professor Butcher as "the greatest teacher I have ever known."

Speakers at the program included Dr. Joe D. Meade, Inez dentist; Russell Williamson, of principal of Inez High School; Verne P. Herne, Johnson County school superintendent; Ernest Meek, Paintsville, a former student; Clyde Conley, Circuit Court Clerk; Russell Boyd, principal of Meade Memorial High School, and Lou Banks, a member, representing the student body.

Most of the several hundred persons attending the meeting in honor of Mr. Butcher were former students of his. At the close of the speaking, Mr. Butcher was presented with a bedroom suite.

Mr. Butcher lives on his 4-acre farm where he raises prize vegetables. Now that he is retired, he plans to put a lot more time to that garden, do a lot more reading, and maybe even write a book.

Vets Corner

By J. Bell

Yes, Vets Corner is on the map again. Drop anchor while we pass the word. The latest word is we may get a Vets Club at last. Many of us have hoped and worked to get one for the last three years, but have never come this close before.

The charter members have met several times and elected temporary officers. Mr. Lowe was chosen as faculty sponsor. Plans have been made for a homecoming float. Now all we need to do is wait for the top brass to cut the red tape. All ex-G. I. students are eligible for membership. See Mr. Ross Lewis for details.

Wall-Sect Nears Completion At Grill

The construction in front of the Allie Young Hall is to be, if you have not heard, a "wall-sect." It will measure 94 feet long and 2 feet high.

The success of the project has been assured by the congregations of students gathered at the skeleton of the structure since its beginning. It is to be completed before Homecoming.

THE INAUGURAL RECEPTION will be held in state John Camden Library immediately following the inauguration of Mr. Adron Doran Friday afternoon. Many dignitaries from Kentucky and other states have accepted invitations to the inauguration and the reception.

Hamsters Learn In Breckinridge Science Study

Science Club members at Breck are engaged in interesting observations and experiments with hamsters. This summer Clyde Alley and Lorella Phillips under the direction of Miss Nollau conducted an experiment to try and find out if hamsters can learn.

In this experiment a maze borrowed from the college science department was used. The first time the hamster was put in the maze she wandered around aimlessly sniffing at corners and going into blind alleys and finally reached the food at the end of the maze. Before she could eat the food, she was started through the maze again. This procedure was repeated many times. Each time the hamster steadily improved and finally was able to go straight through without entering any blind alleys. This same experiment was repeated for several days and each day she went straight to the food the first time.

It was decided that the hamster had learned so several days were allowed to elapse before the hamster was again put in the maze. This time she was still able to go straight to the food with few errors. After these experiments, it was concluded that the hamster can learn by trial and error and also remembers what was learned.

Observations by most of the club members have revealed the feeding habits and other behavior patterns of hamsters. Experiments in breeding the hamsters are now being carried out. Carol McKinney, Martha Jayne Waltz and Janice Green took care of these laboratory animals during the summer vacation.

F. T. A. Chapter Hears Doran

The Future Teachers of America met Monday evening in room 10 of the Administration Building where President Doran spoke to them on "The Importance of Knowing About Professional Education."

The FTA Chapter is affiliated with the National FTA. This organization's main purpose is to promote interest in the teaching profession.

The FTA has set their goal for the coming year which is to organize FTA chapters in high schools in this and surrounding areas. They feel that if interest can be inspired in students while they are in high school that it will carry over to their college careers.

Twenty new members were added to the chapter Monday evening.

Mrs. Elmer Craft '41

Mrs. Elmer Craft was Bernice McClain before her marriage to Elmer P. Craft, who graduated from MSC in 1938. She is now an elementary teacher at Morcan County High School. She has been teaching for 16 years. She and her husband, have one son, E. Pat Craft, Jr., 12.

Mrs. Sloan Valuable Asset To College

By Billie Jean Thompson

The nursing department has gained a valuable asset in the person of Mrs. Pauline Fields Sloan. She has had a number of years experience both in the teaching and nursing field.

She graduated from Carcarens High School in 1931 and entered Caney Junior College, at Pippasburg, Ky., that fall. After she graduated from Caney in '33 she taught in the Letcher County school system for two years. In '35 she entered the Louisville General Hospital of Nursing and graduated with an R.N. in '38. She received her BS from the University of Kentucky in '47.

She taught physiology and biological science at Elkhorn City High School for the school year '47-48, and was instructor at Carcarens Consolidated School for two years previously.

She has served in many nursing capacities such as: Louisville City Health Department in 1938; was a member of the nursing staff at the Methodist Hospital in Pikeville, Ky., from 1939-42; Instructor of Student Welfare at West Baltimore General Hospital, in Pikeville, Ky., from 1939-42; Instructor and Director of Student Welfare at West Baltimore General Hospital, in Baltimore, Md., and has done private duty every summer thereafter.

Mrs. Sloan is the "better half" of the Sloan team. Mrs. Sloan is the mother of one daughter, Frances Ann, now 5 1/2 years old. The "other half" is covered in another story in this issue.

Fourth Decade Of Progress Begins At MSC

Morehead State College was established by an act of the General assembly in 1922, and organized in September 1923. It has been a leader in the field of education since its beginning. For additional information, write for our general catalog.

Morehead State College is fully accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, and the American Association of Colleges and is a member of the American Council on Education and the Kentucky Association of Colleges, Secondary and Elementary Schools.

Training offered at Morehead includes:

- a. Four-year program for elementary teachers.
- b. Four-year programs for high school teachers.
- c. Five-year programs for principals, supervisors, superintendents and teachers.
- d. Four-year program which fully meets all requirements for teaching vocational home economics.
- e. One and two-year programs for stenographers and secretaries.
- f. Four-year program in business administration.
- g. Preliminary training for professional study in medicine, dentistry, law, pharmacy, engineering, etc. Students who have had their pre-professional training in Morehead have made outstanding records in medical and other professional schools.
- h. A three-year program leading to a diploma in nursing.
- i. Five-year program leading to a Master of Arts degree in education.

Opportunities for working are numerous. A large part of the work on the campus is done by students. Any one interested in working to help defray part of his college expenses should write for a workshop application blank. Requirements for admission are the same as for other state-maintained colleges. Graduation from an accredited four-year high school; 15 units from an accredited high school, plus an entrance examination. Special students may be enrolled if above 21 years of age. If interested in being admitted to Morehead, write the Director of Public Relations for application blanks and other information.

Cost per semester is not high. Incidental fee $35 for Kentuckians and $55 for out-of-state students; room rent $45; board approximately $100; books approximately $20; and a few other small items, making a total of approximately $275.

Living accommodations are adequate. Four modern, well-equipped, fire-proof dormitories are on the campus. Each is designed to make the students safe and comfortable. A limited number of furnished apartments for married students. The college operates a cafeteria, where wholesome, well-prepared food may be secured at minimum cost.

An efficient testing and counseling program is a regular part of the program. It is designed to help you to make necessary adjustments for a happy, successful life.

A free Placement Bureau is maintained for all students and alumni. The Morehead Alumni have made good—thereby creating a demand for our graduates by school, boards, professional, and business organizations.

The college owns a 250-acre lake which is stocked with game fish. Bass up to 14 inches long have been caught recently. The college furnishes water for the town and for the college. It is also used by Morehead students for recreational purposes—fishing, boating and as a picnic area.

Other physical activities of the school year tend to relieve the tension of class work are: Homcoming, the Sweetheart Ball and other dances, and the President's Reception. There are also opportunities for everyday enjoyment in the TV Lounge and the Grill, not to mention just sitting around on the campus soaking up the sunshine.

Morehead Runs Second In Quad Meet

Morehead's cross country team stepped out of its class last week-end when it journeyed to Oxford, O., to participate in a quad-rangular meet against Miami, O., and Butler Universities, but, even so, it acquitted itself in a most creditable fashion as it finished second to Miami's powerful Redskins. The scores were Miami 13, Morehead 49, and Ohio 71. Butler did not field a full team so that no score could be compiled for the Indiana school.

Miami, coached by the veteran George Rider, one of the great track mentors of America who has turned out numerous Olympians and National Collegiate stars, is perennially strong in track and cross country, but this year seems to be its brightest of all in cross country. It was learned prior to meet time that the Redskins had trounced Indiana U., second in the National Collegiate last year, one week previously, thus elevating them to the post of favorite for this year's American Collegiate Championships.

Under such circumstances and considering the fact that the Miami boys were familiar with their own course, the achievements of the Moreheadians was of a highly meritorious nature. This was particularly true of the Eagle distance star, Carl Deaton. He finished 7th in a field of 23, but in point of time he was only three-quarters of a minute behind the winners. His unfamiliarity with the course undoubtedly cost him at least one place and several seconds in the race.

The rest of the Morehead squad finished in a compact group with Gene Carroll, Kenny Dauchter, Jack Hedland, Kenny Thompson, Joe Wheeler, and Don Gastineau taking the 8th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, and 15th places, respectively. The greatest surprise in this group was Carroll, freshman basketball star from Huntington, Ind. Fifth among the Golf and Blue runners at the triangular opener in Morehead the previous week, he explained his sudden elevation thus: "I was born and reared in flat country, and I can run there; those Kentucky hills whip me."

The race, a four mile affair, was run over a grass course that was extremely soggy from an all morning rain that did not cease until the race was half over.

Times of Morehead runners: Deaton, 25:49 (winner's time); Carroll, 24:21; Dauchter, 24:25; Hedland, 24:59; Thompson, 24:59; Wheeler, 24:58; Gastineau, 27:43.

Beta Chi Gamma Elects Officers

The first meeting of the Beta Chi Gamma was held October 12 in the Science Building. The Beta Chi Gamma is a science club. The Beta stands for Biology, and the Chi stands for Chemistry, and the Gamma stands for Geology. Any student interested in any of these sciences is welcome to join the group.

The first item on the agenda was the election of officers for the coming year. The election results were as follows: Don Cameron, president; Matt Pryor, vice-president; and Jack Oman, secretary-treasurer. Plans were discussed for a Homecoming float. Refreshments were served by Anne Dickens, Shirley Fannin, and Dr. William B. Oswley. Immediately after the regular meeting was adjourned, the float committee met with representatives from the American Chemical Society, and Mr. Phil to discuss plans for a float representing the combined Science department.

MRS. ADRON DORAN, center, serves tea and talks over ways to promote the college's growth with these two members of the Alumni Association, Mrs. Alice Jayne, left, served for many years as Secretary of the Alumni Association while Mrs. Beulah Williams, right, is President of the grads.

Intimate Views Of New M. S. C. Pilot Given

By Shirley Fannin

Who is this man who is being inaugurated as president of Morehead State College? What qualifications does he have that entitle him to such a position? What are some of his contributions to society? Who and what makes him tick?

These questions are a few that have been posed by the students. Part of them have been answered already in the many features done on Dr. Adron Doran.

Here are some of the pertinent facts of Dr. Doran's biography. Dr. Doran was born in Cuba, Kentucky in 1910. He received a diploma from Graves County High School. While in high school he played on the basketball team.

Dr. Doran entered Murray State College in 1929. While working on his B. A. degree, he met Mignon McClain, and married her. Immediately after receiving his B. A. degree, Dr. Doran moved to Boaz where he accepted the principalship of Boaz High School. In 1935 the Dorans moved to Fulton County where Dr. Doran became principal and basketball coach of Slade High School. A job as principal of Wingo High School in Wingo, Kentucky forced the Dorans to move again in 1938. Dr. Doran remained at Wingo until 1948. In 1948 the Dorans moved to Lexington so that Dr. Doran could complete work on his doctorate.

Throughout the major portion of his life, Dr. Adron Doran has devoted himself to furthering education. He was elected to the Kentucky States Legislature for four consecutive terms. While there he was instrumental in many laws benefiting education.

Besides serving as a member of the legislature of Kentucky, Dr. Doran has been active in education organizations. He is Kentucky's representative on the Educational Television Commission. He has served as a member on numerous committees studying educational problems locally, statewide, and nationwide. In 1947, Dr. Doran was elected president of the Kentucky Education Association. He also served three years on the Board of Directors of this organization.

These performed duties and numerous other ones are his major qualifications for the presidency of Morehead State College.

Another aspect of Dr. Doran's versatile character is revealed by his background of religious activity. He has been a preacher since his early college days. Dr. Doran has pledged his services to the churches of this region and plans to continue to minister the gospel even as he administers educational guidance.

Dr. Doran's life is not solely filled with his religious and political activities. He has led a full social life also. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club, Kappa Delta Pi and Phi Delta Kappa fraternities. He has received honorary titles from the governors of four states. These titles are those of a Kentucky Colonel, an Arkansas Traveler, an Admirship in the Nebraska Navy, and a Commodore in the Oklahoma Navy.

The lists of his accomplishments and contributions are innumerable and could consume much time and space. Many stories have been written praising Adron Doran's contributions to education. Morehead State College is indeed fortunate in having such a vital personality at its head.

Walter Attends FTA Meeting

On Monday, Sept. 27, Dr. Zell S. Walter attended a meeting of the state advisory committee for Future Teachers of America. The meeting was held in the KEA offices at Louisville. The purpose of the meeting was to make plans with leaders of the Future Teachers for their program of action during the present school year.

The FTA was organized in 1940 by the National Education Association for the purpose of stimulating an interest in teaching among college and high school students.

Art Department Activities Show Fast Tempo

The busy season has come once again for the Art Department, with the approach of Homecoming. The Art students are at work designing program covers, and serving on numerous committees.

Mrs. Claypool has an extension class at Mayview each Tuesday night. The class, consisting of business men, business women, housewives and high school students, is unique in the fact that it is being taken without credit, or only the ideal situation in education.

Mr. Tom Young will present a puppet show at the Peabody school in Lexington, Oct. 26. Mr. Young will be assisted by his son, Don Young.

James Williams and Carroll Saunders, art majors, judged children's art in the flower arrangements at the Carter County fair at Grayson, Sept. 26. All entries were given prizes. The art department collaborated with Mrs. Maxine Jaynes, district art director, in an effort to promote children's art in Eastern Kentucky.

College Poets May Enter National Contest

All college students are cordially invited to submit original verse to be considered for possible publication in the annual Anthology of College Poetry.

This is the 12th annual college poetry contest. The recognition afforded by publication will reflect definite credit on the author, as well as on the school. Over a hundred thousand mss. have been submitted to the National Poetry Association in the past 10 years. These, about 4,000 have been accepted for publication. Rules are simple—see follows.

Mss. must be typed or written in ink on one side of a sheet.

Students' home addresses of college and college address must appear on each mss. Closing date for submission is Oct. 15, Nov. 5. Students may submit as many mss. as is desired. Theme and form may be in accordance with the wish of the student contributor. In order to give as many students as possible an opportunity for recognition and because of space limitations—shorter efforts are preferred.

Music Chapter Has Dinner

The Music Educators National Conference, Chapter 221, met Thursday evening, Oct. 10, in the college cafeteria for dinner and a business meeting.

Officers for the year elected at that meeting are as follows: President, Mike Elias; Vice-President, Nancy Howard; Secretary-Treasurer, Joyce Standford; and Reporter, Tony Romano.

A committee consisting of Phyllis Davis, chairman; Don Holloway, and Don Adams were appointed to frame the constitution.

Nancy Howard, vice president, was appointed secretary of the program committee. Other members of the committee were Joe Huffman, Betty Davis, Barbara Johnson, and Monte Carlo Frisby.

Larry Hillman heads the committee to investigate possibilities for increasing the treasury and Joan Humphreys and Tony Romano are the assistants.

Under the leadership of their new sponsor, Miss Marjorie Wilson, the club is looking forward to a great year.

Fine Arts Building, Named For Dr. William Jesse Baird, Will Be Dedicated At 7:30 Friday Evening

FINE ARTS BUILDING—This latest building, newest on the spacious Morehead State College campus, will be formally dedicated at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. It is to be named in memory of the late Dr. William Jesse Baird, the college's fifth President. This building is the expanding Department of Music.

New Building Modernly Designed And Well-Equipped

By Phyllis Davis

The Fine Arts Building of Morehead State College, completed in 1953 and furnished in 1954, is in design and equipment, one of the most modern buildings in the state. One of the newest structures of the building program of the Department of Education of the State of Kentucky, the building was designed specifically for music work and each room in the building was constructed for a specific use.

Of 47 rooms in the building, probably the most interesting is the rehearsal hall. Large enough for the band to use for many of its maneuvers, the room is equipped at one end with permanent risers capable of seating the band, orchestra, or chorus and at the other end with a permanent platform on which the Steinway grand piano and a church model Hammond organ complete with sound chamber are found. The room comfortably seats about 300 people and folding chairs can be placed facing either the platform or the risers. Opening off the rehearsal hall are storage rooms for orchestral and band instruments, the library and the locker room. The rehearsal hall also has two outside exits.

Next in size to the rehearsal hall are two classrooms on the second floor—one used for large classes and the other for Breck activities, piano classes etc. The room used for college classes is equipped with a "hi-fi" type of the latest type and will play, have additional speakers to simulate the stereophonic sound of cinemascope or similar sound systems.

A pride and joy of every teacher is his studio. Partially sound-proofed—at all rooms—it has been equipped with a new desk and chair, wardrobe, and filing cabinet. Especially conducive to private lessons, it is also large enough for small ensembles.

Of considerable convenience for general use are the record library, listening room, and the music library with its proposed study center.

stocked, containing music covering needs from the first grade through the most advanced courses in music. The listening room has up-to-date players, the music library contains band, orchestral and vocal music of all kinds. It also has record players, music tables, books, music and various types of equipment for use in elementary school music.

Practice rooms and the new practice pianos were a relief to all students accustomed to practicing in Field's Hall. Partially sound-proofed, light, and airy, they greatly encourage the much-needed practice.

The lounge has been equipped with tables and chairs, and the better music magazines are always available there. It is really a good place for relaxing and last-minute lesson preparation. The offices, located near the front entrance are quite an improvement over the Fields Hall offices. Although brightened by new pictures and fiber glass curtains, the main office still exhibits the Mexican hat so familiar to the old office. A tremendous aid to the secretary is the communication system from which she has contact with all studios and classrooms. An outer office is available for conferences, study, etc.

Of particular interest to the building and grounds men is the loading platform. It is really quite an asset when pianos and other items are to be moved. Viewing the building from the street one is particularly impressed with the landscaping—an accomplishment of Mr. Henry Hagan of the department of architecture of the college. Noticeable upon entering the building are the terrace floors which are mactulately clean by custodian Charlie Tackett. The walls, too, the half-way up, are white and shine in the main hallway is the Bronze Memorial Plaque—gift of the Alumni Association.

Another eye-catcher is the doors, all four inches thick. They help to keep the music in! To really appreciate the $383,000 building ($400,000 with furniture) you have to see it and work in it. But to really enjoy it you have to have worked in the music department when it was located in the basement of Field's Hall as did we.

The Fine Arts Building of Morehead State College will be dedicated in memory of former president, Dr. William Jesse Baird, Friday evening Oct. 22, at 7:30 p. m. A bronze memorial plaque, gift of the Alumni Association, will be unveiled at the ceremony. The plaque is to be permanently installed in the main hallway of the building.

Rev. Gabriel Banks will read the scripture and offer prayer at the ceremony. Mr. Ted Crothwaite, a Morehead graduate who is now Director of Purchases and Stores in the Louisville public school system will deliver the eulogy. Mr. Crothwaite will be introduced by President Doran who will offer the dedicatory presentation. Dr. Baird's nephew, Mr. William Jesse Baird, Jr., a Pikeville attorney, will accept the presentation in the absence of Dr. Baird's son, David H. Baird, of West Hartford, Conn., who is unable to attend.

Students who received a "superior" rating in the regional music festival held at Morehead last spring will present the dedicatory program which will be as follows:

In whose memory the building is being dedicated, was born in 1881 and died in 1951 while president of the college.

Dr. Baird was graduated from Berea Foundation School and Berea College and received his Masters of Arts from Cornell University. He did graduate work at Columbia University, University of Kentucky, and the University of Wisconsin. He was awarded an honorary Doctorate of Letters by Berea College in 1944.

Dr. Baird served four years as teacher in the public schools of Kentucky and 19 years at Berea College where he at various times held positions of Director of Agriculture, dean of the Faculty, and Director of Teacher Training.

He was president of the Berry School, Mt. Berry, Ga., from 1940 until he came to Morehead in 1944 where he served until his death in 1951.

It was during his term here that the ground work for the construction of the Fine Arts Building was laid.

Walter To Attend Educational Meet In Cincinnati
Dr. Zell Walter, head of the Education Department, will attend the meeting of the Ohio Valley Philosophy of Education Association, to be held at the University of Cincinnati November 5. Dr. Walter will lead the discussion on the subject of "The Effective Role of Educational Philosophy in the Administration and Supervision of Public Schools."

Dr. William Jesse Baird Owsley Returns From Biology Conference

Dr. William Owsley has returned from Gainesville, Fla., where for ten days he took part in the first regional (Southeastern) work conference on the problems of biology teaching, Aug. 28-Sept. 6, 1954.

Nearly 100 outstanding educators from 17 states, the District of Columbia and the Canal Zone participated. The group included research biologists, high school and college teachers of biology and professional educators. A unique feature was that not a speech was made in the ten days but authorities with diverse points of view faced each other across a table and came to conclusions which result in better teaching of the life sciences both in high schools and colleges.

Many of the problems discussed by persons attending the conference were related to the acute shortage of qualified high school biology teachers. The United States Office of Education has recently issued the statement that less than 60 per cent of the high school biology teachers have the equivalent of a college major in biology. In the school enrollment increase, this shortage is becoming more acute. At the same time, an increasing number of high schools are requiring all students to have courses in biology and a decreasing number of college graduates are choosing high school biology teaching as a profession.

The Conference approached this problem from two standpoints: to improve the quality of training for the high school biology teacher and to make his job more attractive after he has gotten into it.

Beta Chi Gamma Elects Officers In Tuesday Meet

The Beta Chi Gamma met Tuesday, October 12, for the purpose of discussing plans for building a homecoming float and electing officers. The following officers were elected: Don Cameron—President; Jack Omer—Secretary-Treasurer. It was decided by the club members that the Beta Chi Gamma, A. C. S. and Mu Phi Epsilon go together in building a homecoming float.

There were 33 present at the meeting. After the business was done care of refreshments were served. The meeting was adjourned until the last Tuesday of the month. All new members are invited to attend the next meeting.

Heart Attack Fatal To John Howard Payne

Funeral services for Dr. John Howard Payne, 48, second president of Morehead State College, were conducted Wednesday morning at 10:30 in the First Methodist Church at Frankfort.

The remains were taken to Newport for interment in the Evergreen cemetery where Dr. Payne's parents are buried.

Official representative of Morehead College at Wednesday's rites was Dr. Warren C. Lippin, dean and a close friend of Dr. Payne's.

Dr. Payne passed away at 5 o'clock Sunday evening of a heart attack while being attended in the offices of a Frankfort physician, Dr. Coleman.

He had been in ill health for more than a year.

Dr. Payne served as president at Morehead for more than six years, elected by the Board of Regents in 1928. He was a dynamic speaker and is credited with spearheading the institution's early growth.

He and the late Judge Allen W. Young secured large capital outlay appropriations from the state for the young college and during Dr. Payne's presidency the institution blossomed with a considerable building program. This included the auditorium-gymnasium, Seiff Gymnasium, Fine Arts Hall, Johnson Camden Library, Jayne Memorial Stadium and Breckinridge Training School.

Dr. Payne was well liked in Eastern Kentucky and personally known by thousands of former students and graduates. He was in demand as a speaker and accepted every possible engagement.

One of his best known customs was to arrive at a town several hours before he was scheduled to deliver an address. He would visit as many stores and other places as possible. It was Dr. Payne's policy to identify himself as president of Morehead, and he possessed the bearing and knack to mingle with any crowd and converse on practically any subject.

Perhaps his best known trait was his friendship for students and his office was always open for them. He often used his high office in diplomatically siding with a student which, at times, exasperated members of his faculty and staff.

Persons closest to the college credit Dr. Payne with a major contribution during its infancy.

The educator, a past president of the Kentucky Education Association, was born in Campbell County on April 27, 1886, the son of the late Edward and Agnes Miles Payne.

He spent his early life in Campbell County, attending public schools of the county. He received his B.S. degree from the University of Kentucky, his masters degree from Columbia University and an honorary doctorate from UK.

His first work in the state's educational forefront was as superintendent of the Bedford school system. Dr. Payne then became superintendent of Richmond schools, after which he went to Maysville as school superintendent.

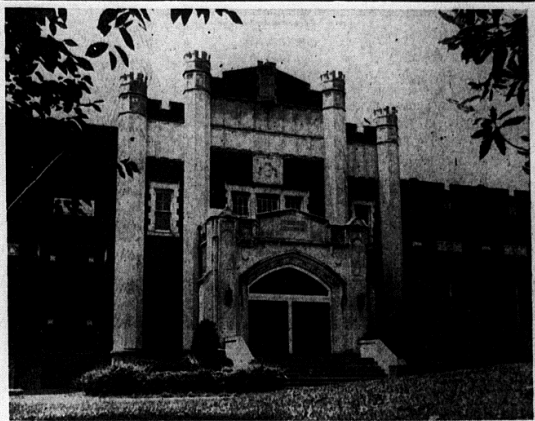

During his three years at Maysville, he obtained financing from the Rosewood fund to erect a modern high school for Negroes. Dr. Payne was one of five national educators selected to represent the National Education Association on a trip to Germany to study the German school system. For a number of years, he was regarded as one of Kentucky's foremost educators.

In recent years, Dr. Payne was a training supervisor in the Department of Economic Security at Breckinridge, retiring from the post last April.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Bedford and the Morehead Methodist Church.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. John E. Jenkins, Frankfort; a son, Duval Payne, Venice, Fla.; a brother, Pryor Clay Payne, Columbus, O., and three grand children, Van Jenkins, Vanderbilt University, and Phillip and Ann Allen Payne, Venice.

Elmer P. Craft '36
Elmer P. Craft of West Liberty, received his B.S. and has done additional work at Morehead. He has been teaching for 15 years. He and his wife, Bernice, Morehead class of '41, have a son, Elmer Jr., 12.

SCENE OF INAUGURATION—Dr. Adron Doran will be sworn in Friday afternoon at impressive inaugural ceremonies in this building, the Auditorium, located at the west end of the beautiful Morehead campus.

Dedication Program To Feature Visiting Musicians From Area High School Departments

Ann Bower and Jane Allen

The Fine Arts Building is principally for students and the future Morehead State College students are the high school students of today. With this thought in mind, students from Eastern Kentucky high schools who received a rating of "superior" in the Regional Music Festival held at Morehead last spring have been invited to appear on the program of dedication.

Bonnie Bradley, a senior at Nicholas County High School in Carlisle, is active in the Glee Club, church choir and band. She has also had the honor of being Queen of the Black Berry Festival.

Antoinette de Benedictis is a sophomore at Holy Family School in Ashland. She has studied piano six and one-half years under Sister Mary Herman. She is now active in the band and is an assistant church organist who will play Paderewski's Menuet in G.

Betty Hillock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hillock, of Millersburg, is a senior in the Bourbon County High School in Paris. She is a member of the Bourbonettes, soloist for the school choir soloist for the Presbyterian Church Choir, and will sing the lead in the school opera this year.

In addition to receiving superior on her own solo, Betty sang with the following groups which were rated superior in the state contest last year: girls' trio, girls' quartet, miscellaneous ensembles, girls' chorus and mixed chorus. She will sing "Love, You Are My Music" by Klen and will be accompanied by her teacher, Mrs. Robert

Roddy Ruby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ray Ruby of 3017 Carter Avenue, Ashland, is a senior at Ashland High School and is well known for his musical accomplishments. He has achieved a "superior" rating at the State Festival both years he has sung. He is a member of the Ashland Male Chorus and the High School Boys Chorus. He was guest soloist at the First Christian Church Central at Portsmouth, O., and is a frequent soloist for the Lions, Rotarians, Kiwanians, and other civic organizations in Ashland. He has also been entertained at various Masonic lodges. He was also the soloist with the singing troupe at the Governor's Ball in Frankfort.

Roddy will sing "Manana-Zucca" of "I Love Life." He will be accompanied by her teacher, Mrs. Robert

HOMEcoming ROYALTY—This is the King and Queen at a Morehead State College Homecoming. The 1954 King and Queen will be crowned at ceremonies during the annual Homecoming dance in the college gymnasium Saturday evening. Identity of this year's winners, chosen by members of the football team, is kept secret until they are officially crowned.

TOP ADVISORS—Dr. Doran has made it plain he expects to spend little more than half his time for a year or so in the field. "I believe I can do more for Morehead at this time in the field... I think we have the academic leaders that I can safely rely on for this part of the year. I am conversing with the two people that supervise the academic program. Center is Dean Warren Lippin, who is also dean (10 years of service) of all college personnel, Dr. Lippin's tenure dates back almost to Morehead's establishment. At right is Dean of Students, Roger Wilson.

MSC Students Are Guests At Kentucky Parks

Seven Morehead students left Friday for an all-expenses-paid "vacation" at Kentucky Lake State Park. The students, accompanied by Jesse Mays, faculty sponsor of the Raconteur, were to serve as models for publicity photographs for the State of Kentucky. They are Jessi Snowden, Robin Goodpastor, Marguerite Eversman, Jean Fair, John Gullett, Calvin Carothers and Harold Sydney.

The trip, first of three such week-end jaunts to various state parks, is the result of a plan worked out by Mr. Mays and Henry Ward of the state Division of Conservation. The pictures which are taken will be used by the State of Kentucky for publications advertising the state parks, and will be available to

The Raconteur staff for use in the college annual. Expenses are being paid by the state.

Next week-end a group of 13 students, still to be selected, will visit Cumberland Falls, Cumberland Gap and Levi Jackson State Park. The following week-end a group will go to Carter Caves and Natural Bridge.

Mark Sisk, director of publicity for the State of Kentucky, will be with the Morehead group to arrange for the photography.

Regents To Be Honored Guests At Inauguration

By Eugene Hamilton
Among the honored guests at the inauguration of President Doran will be the Board of Regents of Morehead State College. The Board of Regents is the governing body of the college, operating in much the same manner as the county school boards do over the county schools.

There are five members on the board. Four are appointed by the governor, and the fifth member is the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, who is, of course, elected by the citizens of the state.

The current members are Wendell P. Butler, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, ex-officio board chairman; M. E. Eilen, vice-chairman; Dr. Elwood Esham; Dr. Lowell Gearhart; and J. T. Norris.

Wendell P. Butler, ex-officio board chairman, has served as state school superintendent since 1952. He attended Western Kentucky State College where he got his A. B. degree in 1926. In 1929, he received his M. A. degree from the University of Kentucky. He married Edna Ford on January 15, 1947, and has two children, Randall and Kendall (twins). He served as teacher in the public schools of Metcalfe County, Kentucky, from 1931-36. He was county superintendent from 1938-42. Butler served in the state senate from 1947-51 and was on the committee on education while there. He served with the Navy during World War II. Butler is a member of N. E. A., K. E. A., Farm Bureau; American Legion; Kappa Delta Psi; Modist Church, and Masonic Lodge.

M. E. Eilen, the vice-chairman of the board, is an attorney at law. He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky. A former mayor of Hazard, he is still active in civic affairs. He belongs to the Methodist Church, Lions Club, and Hazard Bar Association. He has been cited by the Hazard Chamber of Commerce as the outstanding citizen of Hazard.

Dr. Lowell Gearhart is a practicing dentist at Grayson. He was also a teacher, serving as teacher and then principal in Carter County schools. He is a graduate of Morehead State College and the Louisville Dental School. Dr. Elwood Esham also attended Morehead State College, but he graduated from the University of Kentucky. He later received his medical degree from the University of Louisville, and has been a practicing physician at Vanceburg since 1939. Like Butler and Gearhart, he also taught school.

James T. Norris, a native of Bracken county, is editor of the Ashland Daily Independent. He is a graduate of Centre College, and is a past-president of the Centre College Alumni Association. He is also past-president of the Kentucky Press Association. He was recently awarded the D. A. R. award of Merit for a series of editorials on the dangers of the Atlantic Union Plan and opposing the surrender of American sovereignty to a new form of world government. A former Department Commander of the American Legion of Kentucky, he is a veteran of both World Wars, and is a major on the list of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserves.

The members of the board are appointed for four-year terms. Two are appointed each two years, one Democrat and one Republican. Eilen, a Republican, and Norris, a Democrat, were appointed in 1948 and reappointed in 1952. Esham, a Democrat, and Gearhart, a Republican, were both appointed this year.

Alleen Walker '42
Alleen Walker of Troy, Ohio, received her A.B. in elementary education. After graduation she taught three years in Carter County and then went to Troy to accept her present position as first grade teacher at Concord School.

Wild West Safari Details Are Related

Professor and Mrs. Charles Appel, Dr. and Mrs. William Exelbirt spent the five and a half weeks of summer vacation traveling through the middle and western states visiting many historical points and national parks as well as friends and relatives, former colleagues and former students.

They left Morehead on Aug. 7 and returned Sept. 11, a total of 36 days. They spent 16 days visiting and 20 days traveling, covering in all 7,750 miles. The highest price paid for gas was 38 cents a gallon in the California desert and in Cameron, Mo., where a gallon was in progress.

They arrived in Charleston, Ill., where they stayed with friends of the Appels, Dr. and Mrs. Hans C. Olson, over Sunday, Aug. 8. Here they drove around the Amish settlements and the Exelbirts also visited many points of interest in regard to Abraham Lincoln. Monday they left for Tarkio, Mo., where they stayed overnight at the home of a former colleague of Mr. Appel's, Prof. Douby. On the way they passed through Hannibal, Mo. and visited points of interest in regard to Mark Twain and his characters. Tuesday they arrived in Burnwell, and spent the next few days visiting the rodeo, one of the largest in the country. It was here they first saw the Brahman bulls which made things pretty tough for the cowboys.

Friday night they arrived at McGrew, Neb., and visited Mrs. Appel's father and sister. While here short trips were made to Scottsbluff National Monument, where they could see Laramie Peak, which was 120 miles away.

A visit was made to one of the largest cattle ranches in this part of the country at Old Fort Laramie. Thursday morning they passed through Cheyenne, Wyo., later Denver, where they stood on the step which is exactly one mile high in elevation. Arriving at Colorado Springs, they ascended Pike's Peak in the Cog Railroad Train. Here the elevation was over 14,000 feet, which was the highest they had been to that time. From the summit they could see mountain peaks over 300 miles away. This cog railroad is the highest in the world. Next morning they headed for Los Alamos to visit Charles T. Appel a graduate of Morehead, who was working at the Atomic Energy Plant under direction of California Tech. Visits were made to Bandelier National Park, where the ruins of cliff dwellers were viewed, and next day a trip to Painted Desert and Petrified Forest was made after passing through Albuquerque, and Gallup, New Mexico.

Early Tuesday morning they left Flagstaff for the north rim of the Grand Canyon, passing through another painted desert, along one of the most beautiful and interesting highways in the country, in regard to natural color and the Indian trails along the highway. These huts looked like Eskimo igloos and had no windows. After visiting the North Rim, they continued on to Bryce Canyon, hence the next day to Zion National Park. Heading west they passed through Las Vegas, Nev., thence to Boulder City and took a short run over to Hoover Dam which they inspected at night. Next afternoon, they arrived at the home of Oscar Brezina, a former student of Mr. Appel's and spent the night and next day visiting him and his family and his brother. Late that afternoon they drove to Santa Barbara where they stayed over night with another former colleague of Mr. Appel, Professor Duffininger. Next morning they drove to Yosemite Park and drove through the Wawona Big Tree, stopping long enough to get a picture of the car going through the tree. At night they saw the magnificent Firefall. Next day they traveled through Angelo's Camp where they have the famous frog rags, and where the neighborhood is full of Mark Twain places of interest. In late afternoon they arrived at the home of Mr. Appel's niece, Mrs. Baxter Carter, where they visited her and her husband, who was a Korean war prisoner and is now an instructor at Mather Air Field.

Tuesday, they left Carson City, Lake Tahoe (where the water is so blue and green) and Reno, Reaching Elko, Nev., that evening, they left next morning for Salt Lake City passing through the famous Salt Lake Desert and also the famed racing flats after visiting the Tabernacle and looking at the Temple and other points of interest, they headed for Yellowstone Park, arriving there the next afternoon. Here they saw many geysers and hot springs, also Old Faithful, and the famous falls of the Yellowstone and equally famous gorge. Deer, buffalo and bears were seen in many points. Leaving by the Cody entrance, they came back through the Wind River Canyon and stopped off at Hell's Half Acre. Visits were then made to McGrew, Kearney, and a final stop at Ft. Knox to visit Francis Appel now in service of Uncle Sam. They also drove past the largest cattle dam in the world near Ogallala, Neb. It

Denver Sloan Proves Elusive To Reporter

Denver Sloan

This newspaper business is getting more like track every day. Not figuratively, but literally. To get information on one Mr. Denver Sloan, this reporter made 1,001 trips to the Public Relations Office, to be greeted by "He's out of town on business." "He's in Hazard" and on and on. There were 398 mad dashes down the street trying to catch his flying coat tails and to top it all—said reporter came close to crawling into a monstrous machine in his office just to see if he could be pulled from the depths of oil, coils, and levers. Some kind of award should be made because with one hand he thrust a file at her and with the other kept on oiling, coiling and levering.

The material found in the file more than worth of passing on to the great public . . . it sheds some light on this man who is Mr. Busy Bee himself.

First of all, he is a native of Pike County, Ky. He graduated from Cumberland High School at Praise, Ky., in 1934 and proceeded to Pikeville Junior College and then to Eastern State College in '39. He received his A.B. from the University of Kentucky in June 1941. He has a major in mathematics and biological science. In '48 he got his M.S. with majors in anatomy and physiology. He plans to get his doctorate in 1950.

He has had experience in the teaching field as principal of Elkhorn City High School in '47-'48 and served six years in that capacity at Belfry High School, Belfry, Ky., one of the largest consolidated schools in Kentucky. In addition, he has served two years in the Medical Corps of the United States Coast Guard and was discharged Dec. 7, 1945.

Francis Appel Sings In Armored Division Choir

One of the 28 voices of the Fort Knox Youth For Christ Choir belongs to Pvt. Francis E. Appel, assigned to Company B, 29th AIB, Fort Knox, Kentucky. He is the son of Mr. Charles E. Appel of Box 327 M. S. College, Morehead, Ky.

These men do all their rehearsing during after-duty hours and all their appearances are over weekends. They have performed for many of the large churches adjacent to the Armored Center and have made several appearances over religious programs on radio and TV.

The choir is composed of members representing seven Protestant denominations.

Tandy P. Chesnut '36
Tandy P. Chesnut of Mt. Sterling, received his BS at Morehead and his MS in Biology at Texas A. and M. He has 12 years of teaching experience and he now owns and operates a jewelry store in Mt. Sterling. He and his wife, the former Mary Kathleen Shepherd, Morehead class of '36, have two children.

In front of the grill a wall has risen. How fine, it looks like Sing Sing prison.

Wesley Club Roasts Weiners Below Dam

Wesley Club members enjoyed a weiner roast at the dam on Sunday evening, September 23. After games and the meal, Don Holloway gave devotions by the lake.

The club met in the basement of Fields Hall for their October 3rd meeting, where members offered suggestions for coming meetings, discussed plans to visit Erie School and Camp Daniel Boone.

Plans to visit Erie School were carried out on Thursday, October 7th when a group of students traveled to Olive Hill where the school is located.

A tour of the school and the dormitory was arranged and plans were made for exchange of programs, which may include slide pictures of Erie School.

Those students who went to Erie School were: Sara Glen Lane, Don Holloway, Nancy Montgomery and Annette McMullen.

Pauline Johnson Walker '53, Pauline Johnson Walker of Lenore, W. Va., received her AB in elementary education. She is principal of the Lenore Grade School.

HOMEcoming SCENE—This is the winning float at the 1952 Homecoming game in Morehead. The Eagles will again meet Eastern in its 1954 Homecoming game.

The fun nights here are quite a joke. In one square dance three arms got broke.

Myriad Floats Due To Dazzle Onlookers At Homecoming

By Mildred McCann

The floats by the various organizations, clubs and classes will be a part of this 27th annual Homecoming as they have in the past years. The parade will begin at 10 on Saturday, October 23 and all the participants will travel the Morehead streets showing off their artistic taste in designing and skill in constructing floats.

In 1952 the Junior class won the Alumni trophy for the best decorated float and the Sophomores were second. The slogan of the winner was "Eastern's All Washed Out" using huge boxes of Duz, Vel, Tide and Lux that accentuated their slogan with "Duz we do it, Vel, I guess, Tide will turn; Lux with us." Last year's winner was the Senior class with their "Beef" float saying "MTS Gets Stung."

All the secrecy of planning makes it hard to get news of this year's creations.

W. R. A., 'tis rumored will have their feet on the grass but will be looking toward the centerpieces.

The Morehead Players, it is believed, will focus their attention on China, as they are to give a Chinese fantasy soon.

Poinar To Play For Program Series

The Morehead State College Program Series presents George Poinar, violinist and Arthur Reginald, pianist, in a sonata recital.

Poinar is the head of the violin department and conductor of the orchestra of Baldwin-Wallace Conservatory of Music in Berea, O.

Students and faculty will be admitted free to the recital which will be held in the college auditorium, Wednesday, Nov. 10 at 8 p. m. General admission: adults, $1; children, $.50.

Public Invited To Hear Lecture By Philosopher

DR. ROGER HOLMES, philosopher, will lecture on the Morehead College campus November 4 and 5. He will also head student group discussions during his visit here.

Dr. Roger W. Holmes, philosopher, educator and writer, will visit Morehead State College on Nov. 4 and 5. In addition to a formal lecture entitled "What Is Liberal Education," to which the public is cordially invited, he will lead round-table discussions on such subjects as "The Philosopher's Alice in Wonderland," "Democritus: The Forgotten Philosopher," and "Spinoza: The Philosopher's Philosopher."

Dr. Holmes believes there is today a persistent re-examination of the usefulness of non-vocational studies. Will they help a person earn a living? Are they significant in a highly industrial society? "It is the duty of philosophy," states Dr. Holmes, "to answer these questions."

Fincel Finds Felines Fascinating Hobby

A single orange-eyed, white Persian kitty marked the beginning of the interesting and lucrative hobby of Mr. Neville Fincel, assistant professor of economics at MSC.

Mr. Fincel and Mr. John K. Farris, band director at Maysville, bought the kitten and raised it as a pet. Within a short time they discovered three recognized cat associations in the East that sponsored periodic cat shows. Mr. Fincel, having decided that "the breeding and establishing of blood lines would make a good sized hobby," decided to do something about it, and entered a kitten in a cat show at Washington, D. C. in 1950.

The particular kitten entered in this show was a peke-faced red tabby. This breed is called peke-faced since its face resembles closely that of a Pekinese dog. Mr. Fincel stated, "From that placed first, and received best-of-color award in his class. And, that's more, got his picture in the Washington Post. 'From that we became initiated into cat breeding,' remarked Mr. Fincel.

"From that time on we bred and showed cats all over the country and also in Canada," Mr. Fincel said. "We have at the present, six cats and eight kittens."

"The most valuable cat I ever owned was Rudolfo, a peke-faced red tabby. This cat has won all-American and all-Southern for the past four years." This means that Rudolfo is the best of his kind in the United States and Canada. Understandably, he is not for sale.

We do, however, have a Triple-Champ Manx that we would sell for $150.

When asked whether the cats were raised simply as show animals, Mr. Fincel replied that "all the cats are raised as pets. These expensive cats are divided up between Mr. Fincel and Mr. Farris as well as live in the house. The cats are judged by body, head, coat, and eye color. Their names are pedigreed only by cattery names. The cattery names serve as a prefix to the name the owner gives the cat. Mr. Farris and Mr. Fincel have chosen to name their cats after names in opera. Their cattery name is Far-Fin-hence Far Fin's Rudolfo, etc.

Mr. Fincel insists that although the cats have won many prizes he considers his interesting occupation a hobby and not a business.

During the show season, which is during the winter, Rudolfo, for example, will appear in an average of six shows. Mr. Fincel and Mr. Farris do not go to every show that their cats are in. They have a professional cat-handler and Bertin, Dr. Holmes traveled extensively through Palestine, Egypt and Greece. In 1940 he was winner of The Atlantic Monthly prize for an essay on "Citizenship, Its Privileges and Responsibilities." Other articles have appeared in professional journals and American Mercury. Three books: The Idealism of Giovanni Gentile, The Rhythms of Reason, and Exercises in Reasoning were published from 1937 to 1940.

Perhaps Dr. Holmes' most widely known achievement is a "thinking machine" which can solve problems in logic. He started work on the machine in September, 1933, and spent 200 hours of his spare time on its construction. Dr. Holmes says that its use in logic is comparable to the function of an adding machine in solving mathematical problems.

After spending two days here, Dr. Holmes will visit other colleges in Illinois and Tennessee. His tour is sponsored by the Association of American Colleges.

who travels with the cat. Mr. Fincel's ambition, insofar as his cats are concerned, is to have an outside cattery. He keeps the male cats in cages as they often don't get along well with each other but the females he lets run loose in the house. When two mother cats have litter at the same time, Mr. Fincel said it is very common for one of the mother cats to take over both litters as her own.

"Although we sometimes sell our cats as house pets, they are usually bought for the purpose of breeding. We have often refused to sell cats if we didn't think they would get a good home, Mr. Fincel added.

Mr. Fincel said that there are only "two places in the world where they have tail-less cats. These cats are called the Manx variety and found in Tibet and on the Isle of Mann." Hence the name "Manx."

"It is believed," said Mr. Fincel, "that these cats got to the Isle of Mann by way of the Spanish Armada."

Open House Plans Told

Just a few of the many scheduled events for the Home Ec Club in the future include an open house to be held from 9:30 to 1:30 on Homecoming day at the home management house. As a special homecoming activity, all of the past grads of the Home Ec department were sent individual invitations to the open house.

Wearing formal for this formal occasion, 30 gracious Home Ec girls have assumed the responsibility of assisting with the inauguration exercises and the reception to be held on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22 and 23.

Another undertaking for the club, limited to the Freshman members, is the desire to beautify the Little Chapel for various church organizations in the basement of Field's Hall. They have consented to hem the chapel drapes and help any way possible on the project.

With all this to face, for homecoming, the club has also decided to have a small float for the parade. Those who will ride the float are Carolyn Crenshaw, Willa Dean Prater.

A TRIBUTE

To Our College And Schools

We do not know of a town comparable in size to Morehead that has so many fine school buildings which attest to the stability and educational outlook. These buildings have been built and are maintained by people who recognize the importance of educational emphasis.

We are fortunate also, in that our schools have teachers who are capable, conscientious and public-spirited in seeking to guide and build a better, more worthy citizenship and nation thru enlightenment and developing of individual talents.

The progress of any community is most stable when geared to the progress of its churches and schools. We are glad that our store and home are located here where both are very much in evidence.

Breck Betas Hear National Officer Speak

Miss Hannah Leitner from the National Office in Spartanburg, South Carolina visited the two Beta Clubs in Morehead, Tuesday, September 28. At Breckinridge she addressed the sixteen members in the classroom of their sponsor.

Miss Leitner's talk centered around the club's motto, "Beta serves the school." She discussed the many ways that members can serve and the value to the school. She told many anecdotes from her rich experience in the seventeen states which maintain clubs and relative to individual and group progress. She discussed the high standards of conduct to be maintained by the members and the challenge to live by one's ideals. She told of the impact upon the rest of the school when even one group sincerely sets a standard and lives to it.

She also stressed the values which accrue from attendance at state conventions where contacts are made with large groups of high school students who have the same purpose.

She was pleased with the service program of our local group and gave suggestions for expansion of the work. Her talk ended on the note that each should "Be his best at all times."

Magician Does Odd Trick; Banishes Self

By Ina Kay Adams

Magicians have been known to make people disappear, but did you ever hear of the magician himself disappearing?

On Oct. 12, 1954, at 7:30 p. m., Preston, The Magician, visited campus with his Magic Show. A reporter was scheduled to interview the magician and write an article concerning his show. When the reporter arrived at the auditorium ten minutes before eight, she found that the magician and his entire audience had disappeared. By some great act of magic, the Morehead Players were on the stage with Mr. Covington playing the part of the magician. The reporter left disgusted because she had just missed one of the greatest tricks ever performed by a magician. If anyone knows the whereabouts of the magician and his troupe, the reporter would appreciate being informed.

Cotton Crop Fails; Cold Weather Blamed

By Alva Knechtly

Being from the good southern state of Ohio, I had always sort of counted Kentucky as a border state. I sorta guess some people think Kentucky is a southern state. I was very surprised to find, of all things, a garden with cotton growing in it. Just because someone happened to live down south, he must get home and brought some cotton along with him.

Yep! Right here in Morehead, some guy was growing real live cotton. The stuff is ripe now and as soon as the bolts bust open the Morehead farmer will have cotton of his own. Somebody sez they has a faculty feller up their at Morehead College that's from "Georgia." Seems as how this here feller is sponsor of some little college newspaper at Morehead. Dr. Tant, do you ever have trouble with any boll weevils?

Nope! Nary a boll weevil. Cold nights and high humidity, though, keep my cotton unopened.

—N. Tant

Mignon Doran Called Mother Of 910 Students

This September marked the start of a vast and taskful year for President and Mrs. Doran. September also marked the start of a wonderful friendship for the student body with a wonderful lady—Mignon Doran. Mignon is often called the "tick that makes the ticker tick" because of the fact that President Doran attributes his success to her.

Let us now press the button that sets off the sounds of the buzzer on the President's front door. As we step inside, we find we have just placed ourselves in the living room and at once we are surrounded by that wonderful "homelike" feeling. The first obstacle that stuns my line of vision is a big comfortable chair just to the left of the organ. I think that chair was just built or people like the President and me! My chain of administration for the lovely house was suddenly broken by the appearance of Mrs. Doran, and believe me, her description holds very true. A beautiful woman... a gracious lady... a wonderful personality!

Almost instantly the room was filled with melodies of a few selections of popular and old-time tunes. Mignon has a style of her own at the organ. I would say a pleasant form of background and counter-melodies behind the melodic work which is quite playful at times. Also you will notice a fanfarish fill-in every now and then, all of which expresses the personal style of Mrs. Doran. She does a remarkable job at the organ only to have started just three years ago. She studied the organ and has had lessons with organists from Texas to Florida.

We can say we have part in her organ technique, too, because she has taken lessons here in our own Kentucky. I noticed her quality of originality at the organ and commented on the fact. She likes the organ because she can make it original. She likes to express the music as she feels it. At her home, Mrs. Doran has different hobbies that take a part of her leisure time. The breakfast room and the upstairs music room she calls her own. She has her breakfast nook set up in the true Doran style—the oak chairs were bought at Bowling Green in an antique shop and renovated and decorated by the Dorans. She also has an old coffee grinder and dough tray to give the nook a colonial touch. I might add there is no dough in the tray but instead she uses it to keep her latest magazines upright. On the floor we find three beautiful crocheted rugs which are the results of three different fights between Mignon and some frankfurter sacks. And I have a strange feeling that her fourth rug will be from the shirt on my back if I don't keep the "jabbers" out of this!

"During the time Dr. Doran was with the state legislature, Mrs. Doran was acting principal of the Wingo school where she found the hearts of all the students and the basketball team. Mrs. Doran went with the team on their trips and was an ardent fan of basketball. No doubt she gave the team a few tips on the game because she played on the girl's basketball team for Sedalia.

It has been said that one of the disappointments of the Doran team is that they do not have children—well, not as much a disappointment as one might think because the Dorans think of the students as their family. So far, Mignon has won the friendship of many students on the campus and says that in time to come she wants to get to know each of us personally. Mignon loves the campus at MSC and she hopes to find out more about it and the students every day. She also loves her home.

As students, we will not question the statement of our college president about his wife: "What measure of success I might have attained can be attributed to Mignon." Mrs. Doran, your children are behind you all the way—all 910 of us. We believe President Doran, with you, will elevate Morehead State College to the top ranks of higher education.

(Continued From Page 1) paired by Gail Saunders, another Ashland High School student who is accompanist for the girls chorus and assistant organist at the First Christian Church in Ashland. She is also a member of the Saunders Sisters Trio which is now doing professional work in the tri-state area.

Janet Justice from Mt. Sterling is a piano student of Mrs. John Trimble. She is very active in musical activities in Mt. Sterling. She will play "The Little White Donkey" by Ibert.

Ashland's Brass Quartet will conclude the program. This group is a part of the famous Tomcat Band which has appeared at the inauguration of President Truman and Vice-President Barkley, and at the Cherry Blossom Festival the past two years. The band also received a very high rating in the WFW content last summer.

Other students will be appearing, but no biographical material had been obtained when The Trail Blazer went to press.
