Superlatives Are Announced After Student Election

By Joyce Giam

The Reuniter staff has announced Sara Glenn Lane, Gus Stergeon, Steve Hamilton, Shirley Potter, Rex Chaney and Peggy Burke as its 1955-56 Morehead favorites.

Sara Glenn Lane has been selected for the second year, as the Most Beautiful Girl on the Campus.

Sara Glenn, a senior, is an elementary education major from Morehead. She was 1954 Homecoming Queen and a Homecoming Assistant this year. She was also 1954 Mt. Laurel Queen candidate.

"Sara Glenn is a member of the Mystic Club, Kappa Delta, Pi, Wesley Club, chorus and band. She lists her hobbies as 'music and working with children.'

Gus Stergeon, a junior from Mayville, was voted Most Handsome Boy on the Campus. He is a member and also treasurer of the Campus Club. He is an active member of the Mystic Club.

Gus, who considers sports his hobby, is an ardent player on the Campus Club basketball team. He is majoring in physical education and commerce.

The Most Popular Girl on the Campus is Shirley Potter, a senior physical education major from Hazledale.

Shirley holds this honor for the second year. She was a Homecoming Queen candidate in 1954-55 and has been a member of the cheerleading squad for three years. Shirley is state secretary of the Kentucky Athletic Federation of College Women, treasurer of the junior class, and secretary of the Student Council.

The Most Popular Boy on the Campus is Steve Hamilton. Steve was chosen last year as the Most Versatile Boy in the Morehead Favorites.

Steve is president of the junior class and of the Student Council. He was selected for the all-K. I. T. basketball tournament team this year and for last year's Q. V. C. team. He has been OVC champion in pole vault twice.

Steve is a member of the Campus Club, Mystic Club and Newman Club. He has been member of the track basketball

Music Festival Here March 30-31

By Carolyn Centers

A regional music festival will be held on the campus of Morehead State College, March 30-31. Indications are that it will be the largest ever held here. Students from more than 30 schools will participate.

The festival is under the general direction of Denver Sloan, in cooperation with the staff of the Music Department. The members of the Crescendo Club will be assisting in many of the (4) acts in operation of the program.

Reserve Unit Is Activated On Campus

By K. Daugherty

Morehead now has a unit in the United States Army Reserve program. Company A 364 Engineers Aviation Bn. was activated as of Feb. 21, 1956. The unit is commanded by Captain Donald F. Damron. The other company officer is Lt. Chester H. Walters. The unit is at present composed of 18 enlisted men and the two officers named above.

There is space within the unit for expansion to 150 enlisted men.

The members of the unit enjoy many benefits by their participation in this program. Some of the most prominent of these are:

1. They are completing their reserve obligations.
2. They receive a full day's pay for each meeting.
3. They are completing "good" years toward retirement benefits.

The unit will have training in the use of Engineering equipment such as: surveying, drafting, machinery for road and airfield construction, etc.

An extensive recruiting campaign has been started by Major Kenneth E. Schneider, Area Advisor, Ashland Reserve Area, who hopes to make this the largest and best Army Reserve unit in Kentucky.

The regular meeting date is on Thursday 7:30 to 8:40. If you desire further information on how you too may become a member of this unit, come to a meeting. Someone will gladly explain the whole program to you.

Veterans Club Slates Dance

By Joyce Giam

The Veterans Club members made plans at a meeting last night for a semi-formal dance, which is scheduled for March 24. The Veterans Club dance last year was highly commended in assembly by President Doran. This dance was conducted in such a way that the students and faculty are looking forward to the dance this year.

Juke Box Dance Held By FTA

The grill-lounge was the scene of a juke box dance Thursday, March 1, from 7:00 to 9:30. The dance was sponsored by the Future Teachers of America. Admission was 25 cents per person.

Dr. Tant To Have Part In Nat'l Confab

Dr. Norman Tant, Director of Audio-Visual Education at Morehead State College, will attend the national convention of the Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, N.E.A., in Detroit, March 12-17. He is scheduled to appear on the program. Laboratory techniques will be the topic which will be discussed by him.

The convention, an annual affair, is to be held in the Cadillac Sheraton Hotel. Ordinarily, about 2,000 attend the week-long affair. Public school and college teachers and administrators who are directly or indirectly responsible for audio-visual programs attend to hear lectures, attend panels and catch up on the latest developments in equipment and materials. The displays of equipment and materials are usually immense. All major and many of the minor producers go all out to display their wares and demonstrate new equipment and techniques.

Dr. Tant stated that he expects to gain many new ideas about new equipment and materials which may be put to work improving the audio-visual program here.

Les Courants Reveal Plans For Fine Arts Award This Spring

The Les Courants have announced their intentions of presenting the Les Courants Fine Arts Award this year. The award is to be $25 and is intended to stimulate interest and recognition in the field of art. One faculty member from each of the departments of art, literature, drama and music, along with the club sponsor, shall judge the entries. Every student with work in fine arts is eligible for entry.

It is intended that the faculty representatives composing the judging committee should nominate any one worthy student from their particular department.

Then, after considering all other manuscripts and works which might be submitted, they shall choose one outstanding student for the award. The award is to be presented in the spring.

Anyone wishing to compete for this award and who has heretofore been unable to display his work, may submit their manuscript, painting, or the like, to Box 568, College Post Office.

It is the hope of the club that this award should continue with encouraging response and become an annual occurrence here on campus.

Religious Emphasis Week Stated Under Owsley's Leadership

Next week will be Religious Emphasis Week at Morehead State College, with meetings and conferences scheduled Tuesday through Friday. It was announced by a student-faculty planning committee under the chairmanship of Dr. William Owsley.

Waiting consultants will be F. Robert Steiger and Dorothy Jean Kerr, staff members of the American Youth Foundation. They will meet with campus religious organizations, college classes, and individuals at various times throughout the week.

Mr. Steiger will also speak at the college chapel program which will be held on Tuesday instead of Thursday morning.

College clubs or classes which wish to have Mr. Steiger or Miss Kerr meet with them should contact Dr. Owsley as soon as possible, the committee indicated. Individuals who would like to meet with either consultant for personal counseling may sign up at any time before or during Religious Emphasis Week.

Theme for the week, chosen by the student-faculty committee, is "What Are You Thinking?" Tuesday evening there will be a basis for discussions at daily vesper services Tuesday through Friday at 5 p. m. in the Little Chapel.

Prayer groups led by students will meet daily this week and suggest the Wesley Foundation Chapel. Prayer services will be held at 5 p. m. each day this week and next Monday. Tuesday evening there will be a reunion for persons who have attended or will attend the Camp Minawana. This will be held at 7 p. m. at the home of Sara Glenn Lane on Wilson Avenue in Morehead.

A Monday evening reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Adron Doran will precede the official opening of the week's observances. On Tuesday there will be a luncheon for Miss Kerr and Mr. Steiger and representatives of religious organizations on campus. Other activities will be announced later, Dr. Owsley said.

Among the college organizations which are helping to plan the week's program are the Baptist Student Union, the Wesley Foundation, Disciple Student Fellowship, Warner Fellowship and the YWCA.

Covington Has Theatre Panel Topic

W. P. Covington, III, assistant professor of drama here, will take part in the program of the Southeastern Theatre Conference March 24 and 25 at Abingdon, Va. He will be a member of a panel which will discuss university, college and high school theatre.

A number of students in the Morehead Players may also attend the meeting, Covington said. They will try out for parts in various summer stock shows.

Hosts for the annual meeting are Barta Theatre and its director, Robert Porterfield.

Color Guard Has Been Active At Athletic Contests

The color guard at Morehead State College consists of four men who present the American Legion and American flags at all home football and basketball games.

The men who have participated in this are: Lester Breeding, Danny Anderson, John Bill Potter, Gary Cox, and Larry Looney.

Lester Breeding served in the Air Force for 3 1/2 years. Lester, a junior, majoring in Elementary Education, is from McDowell, W. Va.

Danny Anderson served in the Air Force for four years. Danny, a sophomore, majoring in Commerce, is from Winchester.

Ray King served in the Army for two years. He is a senior, majoring in Industrial Arts and Geography and is from Newport.

John Bill Potter served in the Navy for five years. He is a sophomore majoring in History and Physical Education and is from Worthington, Ky.

Gary Cox served in the Army for two years. He is a junior majoring in Social Science and is from Baltimore, Md.

Larry Looney served in the Navy for two years. He is a junior, majoring in Commerce and is from Williams, W. Va.

The color guard is chosen from Veteran Club members. To be eligible to be in the Color Guard, they have to have at least 90 days in service and an honorable discharge.

Favored To Win NCAA Tourney

Thursday night, March 8, is the most important date in the history of Morehead State College—sportswise, that is—as the Eagles meet the winner of the Western-Tennessee Tech game in the OVC playoffs in the Louisville Armory for an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament.

The playoff was brought about by a three-way tie for the OVC crown with Morehead, Western, and TPT, winding up conference play with identical 7-3 records.

Drawings were made Saturday night, in Bowling Green, immediately following the Hillsoper's win over Middle Tennessee. Morehead surprisingly drew the bye leaving Western and TPT to play with identical 7-3 records.

All three teams split with each other during regular season play. The Eagles defeated Tech, 80-65, at Morehead but got lost, 101-80, at Cookeville, losing, 86-80, to the Toppers at Bowling Green. Morehead evened up the score here with a 73-72 victory. TPT blasted Western, 101-79, at Cookeville, but dropped to a 48-73 decision at Bowling Green.

The playoff victor will meet Marshall College, the Mid-American champion, in a first round game of the NCAA championship at Fort Wayne, Ind., March 12. The winner of that tourney moves on to Iowa City, Iowa, to face the Big Ten representative, which in all probability will be the University of Iowa.

Should Bob Laughlin's charges take the conference playoff, they will be meeting in Marshall a team they have already defeated twice this season, 100-60 at Morehead, and 103-103, in overtime, at Huntington, W. Va.

It was at first thought that the Eagles would be without the services of Captain Donnie Gaunce and Bob Richards who have played four years of varsity ball, which usually makes a player ineligible for post-season play in the NCAA. However, this rule does not apply to schools with a male enrollment of less than 750, thereby making both Morehead boys eligible for play. Western, also, will be at full strength, but Tech will lose the services of center forward Bruce Harris.

SOCIAL EVENTS

BSU VALENTINE PARTY. The BSU Valentine Party was held at the home of Joyce Brown (304 West Sun St.) on Feb. 14. The serving table was decorated with red roses. Pink lemonade, sandwiches, and cookies were served for refreshments. Games were played with Carolyn Hallow, BSU Social chairman in charge of them. Entertainment was provided by a quartet composed of the following: Keri Brockman, Howard Jordan and Glen Baker. Marian Feltner sang a solo. The party was closed with a devotion presented by Miss Cheatham.

MRS. MCHING CAST PARTY. On Feb. 23, after the last performance of the Morehead Players' Mrs. Mching, a party was given for the cast of the play at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Long and son, Donald. Delicious refreshments were served. The time took had discussion of the play and singing around the piano.

FRESHMAN PARTY

Feb. 20th the AAUW gave a party for the freshmen. The party was a gay event with the serving table decorated in honor of George Washington. There were about 50 freshmen and quite a few faculty members who attended the party. Gerald "Rube" Gentes served as master of ceremonies. We were entertained by Greta Bo Lewis and her ballet dancing and Linda Christian's beautiful singing. There was also dancing. The party ended with the freshmen trying to learn how to do the fold dance, Oh! Johnny Oh.

OPEN FORUM DANCE

After such an exciting ball game between Western and Morehead, the students were out for a dance. About 200 students assembled in the gymnasium for a "sock hop" from 10 until 12 o'clock. The college band furnished the music. Every one reported an enjoyable evening. We should have more of these dances!

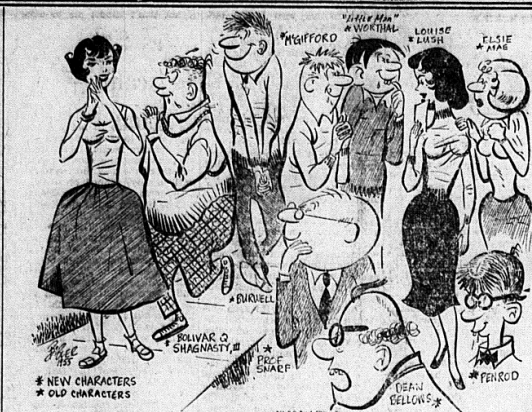

B. S. U. News

By Putzy Taylor

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary was the site of the Mission Emphasis Conference the week-end of Feb. 17 and 18. Those representing the Morehead State College Baptist Student Union included Marian Feltner, John Davis, Pauline Fride, Shirley Green and Barbara Hensley. They heard several foreign missionaries who were home on furlough, and all said they wouldn't have missed hearing these speakers for anything.

Jim Coleman, president of the BSU attended the State Advisory Council meeting, which was also held in Louisville. The conference was composed of presidents of different BSU organizations from campuses all over the state. They discussed plans for the Spring and Fall Retreats at Cedarvale Baptist Assembly and BSU Week at Ridgecrest. For the Kentucky delegation to Ridgecrest, they decided on a group of 275 students from Kentucky. Morehead State, let's do our part!

The BSU had its Valentine Party on Feb. 14 at 7:00 at Joyce Brown's home. The devotion was given by Miss Cheatham, and a musical program including the BSU quartet singing "Coney Island Baby" and Marian Feltner singing "You Gotta Have Heart" was presented. The group enjoyed refreshments of cookies, punch and sandwiches. We all had a good time, and sure missed the rest of you. If you all have noticed a new

Creator Of Snarf Is Cartoonist In A Professor's Robe

By Bob Doolittle
(Wisconsin State College)

There is a certain little man who is known as the creator of the American campus scene. Buck-toothed, rumple-haired, down-trodden, he is flunking biology, continually late for classes, and appears to be headed for graduation by the process of osmosis. His name is "Worthal," his creator is cartoonist Dick Bibler. They both have a funny sense of humor.

Nine years ago Bibler answered an ad for a college cartoonist as a student at Kansas University. He had worked for some service newspapers and YANK during the war. He got the job and "Little Man on Campus" became his by-line. "Worthal" has his main character.

Bibler had come by his flair for wicked humor quite naturally. He had his first cartoon published at the age of 12. A sandy-haired chap thinning on the head with tired eyes, Bibler's lightning fast with an artist's brush. His brainchild is not quite as fast but looks just as good. No one could look more desperate than this little man Worthal, as he tips his coin during the true and false examination or gets ground into the sidewalk during the 12:00 o'clock walk by the campus wheels. But he continually bogs up again, each time with a wicked gleam in his eyes to ogle the girls, poke fun at ancient Latin Professors, college administrators, and college athletes, or smooth with his girl in the library archives before Robinsom Cruose and Pat-terns of Culture.

No one on campus is immune to Bibler's pen. From his admittance board he uses a two-edged blade, cutting at both college students and faculty with sarcasm and his sadistic nemesis, Professor Snarf. There is something about their undulating struggle, something touching about Snarf's willingness to suffer in order to make others suffer.

In creating "Worthal" Bibler drew 14 faces. He selected the most stupid looking characteristics of each and combined them. The name "Worthal," he com-

With the authority of his years of practical experience, Dr. Judd projects his plan in a concise, penetrating scrutiny of factors which affect achievement, the relationship of reading ability to general health, vision, speech hearing, emotional stability, sex differences, social backgrounds, and experiences.

Moving away from rigid, single-approach rules, he utilizes the best techniques in his field in presenting his positive program. Although he acknowledges the contribution of phonic drilling and even skillfully employs it in his guide, Dr. Judd emphasizes the point that to stress phonic drill without sight-reading lessons for speed and comprehension "will defeat the immediate object of reading"—which is, of course, to get the thought from the printed page.

Dr. Judd's earlier publications included "Essentials of Reading for Teachers," "Principals and Aims in Arithmetic," "Principles and Problems of Arithmetic," and "A Philosophy of Education." Setting the Stage for Johnny To Read was undoubtedly added to his not inconsiderable name.

Academic honors conferred by his native state include Director of KEA; member of Planning Board of KEA; President of Church-Related Colleges in Kentucky; and member of the Advisory Council on Higher Education.

THINK ABOUT THIS

By Jim Rouland

This observation of the presidential season which will bring to our American scene the snap, crackle and pop of highly charged political allegations. Our very air will be tinged with red hue of sinister implications, the various browns and tans which create dissonance in the family of man, and the green tumb of agriculture. The occasion which sets the stage for this plebeian panorama is our presidential election, the most important of all functions in which we as citizens exercise our right to vote. This is the election which will test the strength of cracker barrels, the length and breadth of the land, while shaggy gods of pregnant mud are reduced to dust, cussed and disused—every "Worthal" bearing its foal in fertile minds, concerned minds, each ready to nurture and coax the individual parties into nature, or immature as the case may be, opinion.

Yes, many a good pie will be lit, and many votes will be shined and cast through vowels of long-green smoke, as we the people consider the pros and cons of each candidate and his respective platform. All this is the American way. Your ballot is the only thing that will be propelling with discretion and after long deliberation. If you are a young man, your ballot will be propelling with discretion and after long deliberation. If you are a young woman, your ballot will be propelling with discretion and after long deliberation. If you are a young man, your ballot will be propelling with discretion and after long deliberation. If you are a young woman, your ballot will be propelling with discretion and after long deliberation.

When I was 12 years old, I owned a rifle. It was a pretty good little rifle, and after I learned which end the bullet came out of, I proceeded to plug every unfortunate chicken that happened to wander into my range. Nothing but a waste of my rifle. I was a fairly good shot and I'm sure I'd have made a pretty good soldier, if I could have met the physical requirements. My favorite movie stars were "Rocky" Lane, "Sunset" Carson, and "Hop" Gibson. I was avidly interested in any literature that bore even a hint of sex, and I thought my old man was a complete idiot. When I was 19, I was wearing sergeant's stripes that were the real McCoy. The service taught me many skilled trades, very useful when I returned to civilian life. I am now a qualified dishwasher, boot-black, floor sweeper and girl waiter. They even taught me how to cook. My wife asks me

Although Bibler's hobby is cartooning, it is far from becoming a livelihood. At the price that colleges can afford to pay for cartoons and the limited number they are willing to purchase, Bibler in cigarettes and the baby in new shoes. But, he says as long as he can think of ideas and as long as colleges want to run the cartoon—he'll keep drawing. Bibler's present job has his assistant professor in the art department at Humboldt State College, Arcata, Calif. Of vital statistics, Bibler is usually vague for a newspaperman. He admits to a "beautiful blonde wife" two daughters and a son. The boy, he notices proudly, is already scribbling cartoons about guys flunking biology. "Like father, like son," they say.

State's Display "Stole The Show" In Chicago Fete

People are standing in line to come to Kentucky!

This observation was made Feb. 20 by Robert Beasley, director of Kentucky's display at the Sport and Outdoor Show in Chicago. "People would stand in line for 15 to 20 minutes just to pick up one of our literature and ask a couple of questions about Kentucky," Beasley said. The show which ran from Feb. 17 through the 28th attracted approximately 300,000 people and had displays from 33 states and several provinces of Canada. Kentucky's display booth rated among the outstanding in the show.

"Miss Kentucky of 1955," Ann Shirley Gilcock, of Carrollton, participated in the two daily shows at the booth. In addition, she was on five television and five radio shows. She also was selected "Miss Travel, USA," by the National Association of Travel Organizations. "We stole the show," Beasley said. "We gave out 35,000 copies of Kentucky maps, fishing guides, fishing regulations and various types of general information. It was the state. It all the people come to Kentucky that said they would, the state will be (stolen) this summer." He added.

The next show for the Kentucky display are in Milwaukee, March 17-28, Minneapolis, March 27-April 8 and Louisville for the Kentucky State Fair.

Economic Statistics Book Is Revised

A revised edition of the Deskbook of Kentucky Economic Statistics has been released by the Agricultural and Industrial Development Board. It was announced by George W. Hubley, executive director.

The 75 page booklet contains 24 tables and charts which reflect Kentucky's income, employment, agricultural, business and industrial growth with emphasis placed on the county level. Hubley said.

Copies of the booklet can be obtained from the Board in the Capitol Annex Building. Fifty copies should be enclosed for each county request. Schools may obtain copies for 20 cents each.

1955 PHILANTHROPY

Gifts and bequests for philanthropic purposes in the United States reached a new high in 1955 according to a study of publicly announced donations in large cities. The combined total of gifts and bequests last year was $222,447,338, an increase of 32 per cent over the $693,047,281 of 1954. The largest portion of gifts and bequests went to higher education.

Morehead Edges Western 73-72 In Hectic OV Battle

In as wild and hectic basketball game as ever seen at Morehead the Eagles of Bob Laughlin squeaked out a 73-72 victory over Western Hillslopers Feb. 25.

The victory put the Eagles in the OV playoffs. Western topped Tennessee Tech Tuesday to send the conference into a probable three-way tie.

This was Morehead's final game of the regular season. Their record is 15 victories against nine defeats.

It was little Gaunce, who broke Western's back by scoring 12 of Morehead's last 12 points in driving layups and free throws. He made two free throws with 36 seconds to go.

The tip-and-tuck affair was tied 14-14; the lead changed hands 11 times.

With Gaunce and big Dan Swartz hitting the bucket, the Eagles built up a nine-point advantage at 10-11 with 13:10 remaining in the first half. Then Western began hitting with Forrest Able, who wound up high marks for the night with 20 points, doing most of the work.

The lead was shaved after Western had led 14-13 at the end of the game.

Midway through the 30-second Western opened up a seven-point lead—its longest of the game.

The win gave Morehead, which closed out its season, an overall record of 15-9 and tied it in the league, good for second place.

"Dangerous" Dan Swartz, the nation's leading scorer, had the honor of breaking the tie with a 3-point shot.

Morehead cashed in on the free throw line, making 31 of 42 attempts. They also made 11 of 16 attempts on field goals. Western got 24 of their 32 field goal attempts while on the free throw line they tagged 24 out of 34.

All-American candidate Dan Swartz was the main spring in the Morehead attack all season with a total of 710 points, averaging 28.6, ranking the 6-4 senior as the third highest scorer in the nation.

But Swartz isn't the only point scorer on the Morehead squad. Senior guard Donnie Gaunce, who also serves as captain and playmaker of the team, came on with a truck toward the

Georgetown U. Defeats Morehead

The Eagles scored 20 points below their average as Georgetown University defeated them 84-79 before a Washington, D. C. crowd.

Morehead, playing without their star center Dan Swartz during most of the first half, trailed 49-33 at the half.

The Eagles took over the lead going into the second half only to lose it and the game in the final minutes of play.

Dan Swartz, who was suffering from a severe case of flu, played only five minutes of the first period and scored five points. White stole the ball and made a layup and free throw. Morehead never regained Georgetown was led by White who scored 24 points while Swartz paced Morehead with 19. Fourteen of these came in the second half.

seniors' swan song. The Morehead Boosters Club presented engraved gold watches to the three seniors of the basketball team at a brief ceremony before the Western game February 25. This was their last game before a home crowd. Fittingly enough, it was also probably the last varsity game to be played in the old gym as the new $55,000 field house is supposed to be completed before the first home game next season. Left to right: J. Eger, Cassidy, President of the Morehead Boosters Club; W. E. Crutcher (with mike); Dan Swartz; Bob Richards and Donnie Gaunce.

Morehead Boosters Honor Three Seniors Before Western Tilt

The Morehead Boosters Club honored three Eagles who played before the "home crowd" for the last time at a brief ceremony in pre-game ceremonies.

Mr. W. E. Crutcher, local publisher, introduced Mr. Roger Cassidy, local banker and president of the Boosters Club who presented the gifts and commended the three for their outstanding contributions to Morehead State College.

Donnie Gaunce, guard and captain of the team, came to the fore in the thank end of the season with a slashing, high-scoring style of play. He scored 419 points during the regular season to post a 17.5 game average. His best game probably was in the Memorial Field House in Huntington against Marshall when he operated like a demon to hawk the ball all over the floor and scored 40 points. The Many papers characterized him as probably the best guard ever to appear in a game against the University of Miami.

"Dangerous Dan" has been a prolific scorer during each of the three seasons he has played at Morehead, ending each year as the player in Kentucky with the highest game average. This year he has earned a niche in national records as being the third top scorer among the nation's major basketball teams. His prolific scoring has earned him a spot among the half dozen all-time high scorers in the sport. Characteristically, Dan rarely seemed to dominate the scene in a game as he swung under the basket to net the sphere. Almost all ways, however, he was high-point man in the game.

Alumni Give Adams Vote Of Confidence

Paul Adams, Morehead's new head football coach, got an official "vote of confidence" from the Executive Council of the Alumni Association at its February 10 meeting.

The Council passed a resolution expressing approval of the appointment of Adams, and commending the Board of Regents for their selection. Adams gave a short address earlier in the meeting.

The Council also voted to issue certificates and bidboards to cards to list members of the Alumni Association. Dean Crawford was appointed to design the certificate and arrange for printing.

Date for the Spring meeting of the Alumni Association was set for Sunday, May 27, when the college holds its Baccalaureate service. A luncheon and an afternoon business meeting are to be arranged. It was decided to prepare special tables for the graduating classes of 1956, 1957 and 1958, and to invite the officers of the 1956 class as special guests.

Other business included a decision to grant an immediate academic scholarship worth $50 a semester.

Folsa Hayes, Alumni Association head, presided at the meeting.

College Was Host To Drama Students

Morehead State College was host to high school drama students from this area for the annual regional drama festival Saturday.

Each of the schools presented a one-act play and was judged by George Williams, Transylvania College drama professor. Those voted "superior" are eligible for the state drama festival March 20 and 21 at the University of Kentucky.

The local festival was arranged by W. P. Covington III, drama professor, and Denver Sloan, director of school relations.

Karp Recital Set Here For March 8

A recital by Howard Karp, pianist, will be presented by the Morehead State College Program Series Thursday evening, March 8, at 8 p.m. (CST) in Button Auditorium.

Mr. Karp, a member of the music faculty at the University of Kentucky, appeared here last year on a Program Series conducted by six UK musicians.

He holds a post-graduate diploma in piano from the Juilliard School of Music, where he was a scholarship student of Madame Rose Lhevinne and won the Morris Loeb Memorial Prize for outstanding achievement. His undergraduate degree in piano is from Oberlin Conservatory. He has been at UK since 1954 and has appeared in numerous concerts in Lexington and Louisville since that time.

Mr. Karp's program will include: Partita No. 4 in D Major, Bach (Overture, Allemande, Courante, Air, Sarabande, Minuet, Three Impromptus, Op. 142 (Allegro moderato, allegretto, allegro scherzando), Sonata in B Minor (in one movement) Liszt

Mr. Karp appeared here last year with the University of Kentucky faculty quartet. His play made such an impression that arrangements were made to have him here as soloist this year.

The next series presentation will be April 4, when Sydney Harb, concert master of the Louisville Symphony, will be presented in a violin recital.

National Scoring Record Is Broken By Morehead Quint

Dangerous Dan Swartz dropped in a free throw with 11 minutes and 11 seconds to play in a basketball game Saturday evening and the scorekeeper flashed 49 on the board.

This brought a great ovation from a packed audience on hand to see the important OV clash between Morehead and Western. Ordinarily the making of a free throw is a minor matter, but this one bore a mark of distinction and achievement.

The Council passed a resolution expressing approval of the appointment of Adams, and commending the Board of Regents for their selection. Adams gave a short address earlier in the meeting.

Eagles Calm Hurricanes In Miami, Fla.

Dan Swartz, third Morehead senior in the nation, paced Morehead's Eagles to a 102-89 victory over the University of Miami, Fla., Feb. 20. Swartz poured in 30 points to gain a firmer grip on national scoring honors.

The winning Eagles and the Hurricanes were tied 13 times before Morehead could open up its winning margin.

Early in the second half, the Eagles made it 70-55 before the Hurricanes could start a rally which narrowed the gap to seven points.

Then Swartz and Jim Jewell broke loose for 10 points in a row while Miami was scoreless.

Dr. Pogue Of Murray Is Slated As Chapel Speaker March 22

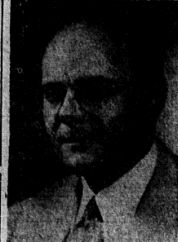

Dr. Forrest C. Pogue, historian, specialist in international relations and diplomacy, and professor of history at Murray State College, will be speaker of the March 22 chapel program here.

Dr. Pogue has received wide recognition for his history of General Eisenhower's World War II command in northwest Europe. The volume, "The Supreme Command," was published in 1954 by Combat Forces Journal as one of the year's ten best books on military history.

Just completed is "The Meaning of Yalta," which was written by Dr. Pogue in collaboration with three other historians. The book is to be published next month.

First-hand knowledge of foreign relations has been acquired by Dr. Pogue through extensive travel, mainly in Europe, at various times since 1937, and through his work with the U. S. Army. He served as combat historian with the First U. S. Army, from Omaha Beach to Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, in 1945; as historian with the U. S. Theater Headquarters in Germany, in 1946; and as liaison officer, Department of the Army from 1946-54. Dr. Pogue was also attached to the U. S. Army Theater Headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany.

In preparation for the book on Eisenhower, Dr. Pogue interviewed more than 50 top military and political leaders, including General de Gaulle, Marshall Juin-

General de Lattre de Tassigny, Lord Mountbatten, Lord Leahy, General Bradley, Admiral Nimitz, Admiral King and others.

Dr. Pogue received his A. B. degree from Murray State College, his M. A. from the University of Kentucky and his Ph. D. from Clark University. He was an American Exchange Fellow at the University of Paris in 1938-39. He has taught at Western Kentucky State College as well as at Murray, and at various times was professional lecturer in international relations and diplomacy at George Washington University.

Doran Named Consultant By Education Group

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, will serve as consultant at a special conference of the Southern Regional Education Board March 1 and 2 in Atlanta.

Purpose of the conference is to review the Board's regional education programs developed since its organization eight years ago, and to make recommendations for increasing their effectiveness. These programs provide for voluntary pooling of specialized educational facilities by the 14 southern states which comprise the Southern Regional Education Council.

Results of the conference will become the basis of recommendations to be submitted to the next annual Board meeting. Dr. Doran is one of 21 consultants invited to participate in the conference.

Miss Moore Was At National Meet

Miss Mary Irene Moore spent the past week in Chicago attending meetings of the American Association for Student Teaching and three days with the National Executive Committee of which she is a member. On Friday evening a joint meeting was held with the A.A.T.E. at which many former members of the Morehead College faculty were present.

Miss Thelma Evans came on Thursday to participate in some committee work and to attend the general meetings.

Student Council Talent Show Called A "Big Success"

By Joyce Brown

The annual Talent Show sponsored by the Student Council was presented Feb. 29 in the Auditorium. It was termed a "big success." One of the largest groups of students ever to view a show of this nature was present. A group of half of entertainment was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

W. P. Covington III served as master of ceremonies. He did a fine job of entertaining and keeping the show rolling.

First on the program was a girls' trio composed of Dale Walton, Carol Hillis and Dorothy Waddell. They performed "These 'Gals' Opened the Show in a great way with their Rock and Roll Blues and The Man Upstairs." Quite an experienced threesome. During the first semester of this year, they entertained the new station WMOR here at Morehead.

Many of you probably wonder who was underneath that clown outfit that was always popping up on the stage. It was none other than Bill Riggan. Quite an entertainer.

Second on the program was a real live piano solo by Glen (Librarian) Chandler. Glen's quite a fine job of entertaining, as those who were present at the Breckinridge Show and the George T. Young.

Lucille Mayhall, head majorette here at MSC, presented a very good baton twirling act. We found out what a good teacher Lucy is, also, because her baton twirling class from Breckinridge performed very well.

One of the most comic acts of the entire show was presented

Home Ec Club News

By Lillian Burris

Since our club agenda has not been too crowded lately, we shall talk about our department instructors who are always working and planning.

For Thursday, March 1, Miss Pat Bolin is scheduled to meet with the State Home Economics Program Planning Committee at U. K. This committee has as its duties determining needs of the program and setting up goals to be worked toward by all services in Home Economics Education in the state during the year.

Then, Friday and Saturday the annual Home Economics Teacher Education Conference is to be held at the Student Union building, the University of Kentucky. The main topics to be taken up at this conference are Home Economics Curriculum and Recruitment. This group will be composed of heads of departments and teacher trainers from all colleges in the state offering degrees in Vocational Home Ec.

At this conference Miss Bolin, our department head, will be on a panel discussing "Problems in a Functional Recruitment Program for Home Economics." Mrs. W. H. Rice, our teacher trainer at Breckinridge, is also on a panel which will discuss "Judging Our College Home Economics Programs by Approved Criteria."

These meetings are important in the Home Economics field as they will help determine what we will be teaching when we become part of a school staff.

Our club accomplished another of its goals last week when we bought an Argus C-3 Camera. The camera will be used to make slides of Home Economics Club projects and functions as well as purchased with funds raised by the club. One member is prepared to teach the group the fundamentals of camera use.

At our last meeting, held on February 23, Dr. Gabriel C. Banks, our guest speaker, spoke on "What is Expected of Women Today." Some of the traits he mentioned were charm, sympathy and tidiness.

by the Mystic Club. This was a skit entitled Drama County. This was quite an act, as I won't even attempt to describe it, but I will tell you the characters. They were: Joe Wheeler, Bill Riggan, Vic Ramsey, Terry McBrayer, Russ Spaulding, Bill Pierce, Johnny Duncan, Danny Pierce and Phil McBrayer. Yes, it was quite an act.

Three members of the freshman class were quite outstanding with their vocal solos. They were Phyllis Lawson, Doug Smith, and Paul Carpenter. MSC certainly won't be lacking in good vocalists with these three around.

Representing the Campus Club was Jack Waddell with his black-face act. Jack and his unrecognizable friend in the balcony were real "george" comedians.

Two "hilarity" acts entertaining the hillbilly present. (That's all of us.) Skip Jamerson with "that jar thug" and them that freckles and overalls," was a scream. Teddy Christy and his partner kept that "ball rollin'" with them that guitars.

A Breckinridge junior, Great Ann Brown, showed her vocal talent in a great way. Greta can always be counted on to do a fine job of entertaining, as those who were present at the Breckinridge Show and the George T. Young.

Last but certainly not least was Greta Bo Lewis who did a ballet act showing again her superb dancing ability. Bo has danced in many programs since she came to MSC in September. After this evening of fine entertainment, I'm sure all of us will be looking forward to next year's Student Council Talent Show.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

by Dick Bisher

"I HELPED HIM WITH HIS HOMEWORK—DIDN'T KNOW HE WAS ADEPT AT STUDIES"

Et Tu? Or Et Vous? What's The Question

Salve! Salutations! Greetings!

Don't be alarmed if you are greeted anywhere on the campus during the next few weeks by strange "Possessed" or foreign-tongued people. It isn't a sign of illness or low-mentality, or even the "love" language of the early signs of spring's arrival. . . .

According to Mr. Covington, Mrs. Ethel Moore, and Mr. Lacey, you must give these ambitious students your best comfort and mostly friendly support, for their talents have been selected by the Morehead Players and the Language division of the English Department to appear in an unusual dramatic feat to be presented March 28 and 29 in Button Auditorium. Never before in Kentucky has such a production been attempted.

"The Rope" by Plautus, an outstanding playwright of Roman Comedy, will be presented in Latin and then in English translation. "The Afflicted Young Ladies" by Moliere, French Comedy writer, will be presented first in French and then in English.

Working with the plays as directors and cast members are the following: Catherine Covington, Carol Brooks, Billie Jean Thompson, Marty Lynn, Patricia Burgess, Joyce Brown, Ray Heah, Glenn Chandler, Fred Cowgell, Clinton Fugate. . . .

Casting for "The Ridiculous Young Ladies" by Moliere is as follows:

Bill Bailey, Dick Roberts, Lamar Damsby, Shirley Fannin, Robert Eallet, Robert Love, Fred Wing, Eleanor Anderson, Bill Joe Layne, Charles Ellis, Marietta Caudill, Greta Bo Lewis, Don Holloway, Larry Dales, Larry Monholton, Gertrude Reynolds.

Joe Bradley will direct the French language version of the play and Carolyn Brooks will direct the English language version.

Prof. Arch Lacey will supervise the French plays. Prof. Ethel Moore will supervise the Latin plays, with Catherine Covington directing the Latin language version and Billie Jean Thompson directing the English version.

W. P. Covington, in production director of the entire bill.

Kentucky Methodist Student Movement To Hold Conclave

The Kentucky Methodist Student Movement will hold its 24th annual conference at Morehead, March 16-18. There are expected to be well over 100 delegates from 15 colleges and the University of Kentucky in attendance.

The theme of the state conference will be "Awaken, To Witness." The conference will come at the end of the Religious Emphasis Week on the campus of Morehead State. Rev. James Jones, who was once active in the Kentucky Youth work, will be the speaker. Rev. Jones was at one time president of the organization and is now with the Department of College and University Religious Life, General Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Jones will deliver three addresses to the group. They are entitled, "A Message For Man-kind," "A Tussle With Time" and "A World To Win."

The group will have a banquet in the college cafeteria Saturday, March 17. Kenneth Harper, U. S. Missionary to Africa, will be the after-dinner speaker. There will be international students hosting at each table.

In their business sessions, the Methodist students will elect officers. Two of last year's officers were Morehead students. Annelle McMullen was the Kentucky Conference student member of the Inter-Conference Commission on Student Work, and Don Holloway was president of the group. They will also complete plans for a Work Camp at Camp Latham, near Owensboro, and for a Drama Institute to be held the second week-end in May at Kentucky Wesleyan.
