Mystic Club Slates Athletes Recognition Dance For April 27

By Joyce Gum

The Mystic Club will inaugurate an Athletics Recognition Semi-Formal Dance Friday, April 27, in the Fine Arts Building. The dance, which will replace the club's annual Sweetheart Ball, will follow a banquet for the athletes sponsored by the Alumni Association.

The Athletic Banquet, in honor of all the MSC athletes, will be held at 6:30 p. m. at the college cafeteria. Tickets, at $2.25 per person, will be available to everyone, students, faculty and townspeople alike. According to John Collins, secretary of the Alumni Association, about 200 people are expected to attend the banquet. Bob Hardy, former TK football star, will be the main speaker. Lt. Governor Harry Lee Waterfield has been invited as a special guest.

At this dance the Mystic Club will recognize all inter-collegiate athletes: baseball, basketball, football, track and field, and cross country. Each team will select its most outstanding player of the year, and the Mystic Club will present each with a certificate. A bronze plaque with each of their names engraved on it will be placed in the new gymnasium.

The Mystic Club will select from these five teams the player who has shown outstanding sportsmanship and he will be presented the Len Miller Sportsmanship Award. Miller was formerly a coach at M. S. C. and the Mystic Club was founded in his honor.

The highlight of the dance will be the presentation of the Athletic Queen and her court. Live music will be provided for the occasion and tickets may be purchased from any Mystic Club member.

Hundredth Birthday Party For Rowan County Next Month

Morehead students and townspeople alike will enter into the largest celebration in the history of the town May 29th. It is centennial year for Rowan County, of which Morehead is the county seat. The county gets its name from Judge Rowan, a former judge and United States Senator. The city is named for James T. Morehead, former governor of Kentucky.

The city's expansion and future are mirrored at the college. Morehead is proud of its college and the college will have its first centennial year on May 29, as the festival ends. That night townspeople will dance at the Centennial Ball.

In costumes of 100 years ago, Morehead, forerunner of Morehead State, was founded in one small building by a young minister. Officials believed better education was one way to stop the 1884-1887 feud.

The town's men and a few scattered students are keeping alive the age-old centennial tradition of beards, clear-shaven citizens must have shaving permits or be tried in "Kangaroo Court."

Twelve girls, to date, have been entered in the "Queen of the Centennial" contest. The winner will receive an expense-paid trip to Bermuda.

John Thompson, left front, came 'home' to MSC from Louisa with 51 seniors last Friday. Thompson, class of '54, and a former Eagle football player, now coaches at Louisa. His was the third largest group to attend High School Senior Day last Friday.

Language Plays Called Successful

By Gayle Lafferty

We can truly say that the Morehead Players have done it again. With an ear given to the language student, we hear the various comments on how the plays gave them a better understanding of the various languages. Even we who aren't language students sense the value that the plays offered. We saw that you don't particularly have to know a language to understand it, through the action and the way the parts were given we could understand and realize the variety of situations presented.

While talking with some of the faculty members we found that the sole purpose of the plays was to correlate a better understanding between the students and the languages.

This isn't the first time the Morehead Players have given a play of this style, we find that last year they gave the production of "Oedipus." Even in years further back we find they gave a science play, in which the purpose was to give the science students a better understanding of science.

The faculty members who had an active part in the language plays given March 28 and 29, felt that the plays were a big success and in the future the students of MSC may look forward to other productions of this type.

Enrollment For Spring Term Is 43

Enrollees are almost exclusively teachers from rural schools which have ended their school year, or who have been granted a leave of absence for the remainder of the year. About 60 persons enrolled for the spring term last year.

Classes began last week for this short term, which will end at the same time as the regular semester.

Oil Springs Commencement Has Mr. Banks

Bu Eugene Hamilton

Mr. Gabriel C. Banks gave the baccalaureate sermon at Old Springs High School, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. This was one of the earliest baccalaureate sermons to be given in this part of the state, and by giving it Mr. Banks started off a long procession of graduation exercises which will keep students and faculties busy through the middle of June.

Oil Springs is located in Johnson County where the foothills are just putting on their spring finery to give a really beautiful background to a really beautiful sermon. Mr. Banks' subject was, "Obedient to the Heavenly Vision."

Campus Club Play Scheduled For Two Nights Next Week

By James C. Czech

Plan now to attend the fabulous production of the Campus Club Minstrel to be presented at the Burton Memorial Auditorium, April 18 and 19 at 7:30 p. m.

For many years the Campus Club has produced an annual play, with the exception of last year when a very successful swimming party was substituted. The name of the minstrel is Sho-O-Nuff. It is an old fashioned, back stage minstrel show. There will be plenty of laughs and exciting moments for everyone. You will roar with laughter when Andy tells of his exciting courtship with Big Mouth Annie. Some feature characters are:

Amps, Moose, Mustard, Mr. Chalkie, Andy, Mr. Kingfish, Mr. Bones, and Rastus. This cast with a chorus line of ducky beauties bring you the highest type of entertainment available.

To top off the show, the Campus Club presents the Kool Kat with their typical Dixieland style straight from Basin Street. This band has years of TV, radio and personal appearance experience. The producer predicts this will be considered one of the many highlights of the show.

Come to one of the two exciting performances, Wednesday or Thursday of next week. Tickets are available from any Campus Club member at 50¢ each.

Campus Club caper will be a blackout affair. Shown here tuning up for the laughs they will evoke are Ken Thompson and "Bear" Adams. The two-night run of the Campus Club play will begin on Wednesday after the KEA holiday.

... highly handsome hirsute adornment. Fred Wing sports probably the most formidable set of whiskers ever seen by most MSC students as his part in the coming Centennial Celebration for Morehead and Rowan County. Many students will have a part in the once-in-a-hundred-years fiesta.

The Importance Of Intramural Sports

What are the values of intramural sports, the face values and the intrinsic values?

One of the more obvious assets of intramural sports is that it gives students something to do, something in which they can participate. It provides students who aren't good enough for intercollegiate athletics but who, nonetheless, enjoy the games, to fulfill their athletic inclinations.

Another value of intramurals is the friendly rivalries it creates. These rivalries encourage friendship which otherwise might not have been formed. It gives students something in common with one another, other than just the fact that they are all students. This is especially valuable in the case of shy or retiring students.

Intramurals create a sense of belonging and a feeling of individual importance to each participant. It creates sportsmanship which is carried over into audience participation in intercollegiate athletics and in many other facts of life.

Intramural athletics forces students to develop a sharing attitude toward their fellow students whether they want to or not. The "one rotten apple will spoil the barrel" is as true in sports, especially intramural athletics, where it is most likely to occur. A poor sport is easy to spot and soon told where he stands. Team sports are an excellent trial for students on getting along harmoniously with others. Any false idea of importance, self, or ability is put to rest and the participant is given the choice of conforming or getting out.

Intramural sports is the quickest and most thorough way of finding just how valuable and indispensable one really is, or isn't.

Mrs. French "Graduates" As School Nurse This Week; Goes To Florida

By Betty Cooper

After four years as college nurse at Morehead, Mrs. Phyllis French will "graduate" during Spring vacation, when she and her six-year-old daughter, Carol Ann, will leave for Florida.

Morehead is a wonderful place, Phyllis says, and she hates to leave it, but Florida has greater attractions—namely, her husband, Herb, who completed his degree work here in January. He is now working in Pensacola as production supervisor with the Chemstrand Co., a nylon manufacturing concern.

Phyllis feels rather like a graduating senior herself; she not only saw Herb through his undergraduate work, but she took a few courses herself from time to time. Eventually she would like to complete requirements for a bachelor-of-science degree in nursing education.

She has functioned at Morehead not only as nurse, but as friend and counselor for many students. Living in Fields Hall, she has been readily accessible at all hours for students with problems ranging from courtship and family problems to the wear on an important first date. Of all aspects of college nursing, she feels that the most rewarding has been the most rewarding to her, Phyllis said.

During her stay at the college, the French family has lived in a Fields Hall apartment arranged for her by the college. The arrangement gave her a unique distinction; he is the only man to have lived in the girls' dormitory. Living next door to her place of work has had its advantages for Phyllis—she has had its disadvantages, too.

"I'm always there, office hours or not," Phyllis, a native of Ashland, heard her nurse's training at Christ Hospital School of Nursing in Cincinnati, after graduation from Ashland Senior High School. She completed her training during World War II in the Cadet Nurse Corps, and was one of 13 students in the United States selected for a six-months training course with a social settlement agency in New York City.

This proved to be one of the high points in Phyllis' nursing experience. She did visiting-nurse work in many of the underprivileged areas of the city, including the "Chinatown." Sometimes it was necessary to work with people who could speak no English, and she developed a knack of diagnosing ill by sign language.

Phyllis' nursing career also included a year at King's Daughters' Hospital in Ashland, where she worked as assistant head nurse in obstetrics and also as evening relief supervisor. Later she was on the staff of the Health Department in Louisville.

During her service at Morehead she has been called on in emergencies ranging from cut fingers to a brain concussion. "We had quite a run on appendectomies in January, with a total of six cases," she recalled. "And one year we had quite a flu epidemic. There are eight beds in the infirmary, and we had to have the least number of beds to make room for new patients who kept coming in."

Carol Ann, who has been in Pensacola, and they are looking forward to a new life in Florida. "I probably won't be the end of Phyllis' nursing career, though, for she believes in the "once a nurse, always a nurse."

"Mine is a wonderful profession," she said, "and the day I passed my state board exam was the third biggest day of my life." It isn't hard to guess that Herb and Carol Ann have something to do with those other two red-letter days.

Mrs. Doran further enthralled the visitors with her inimitable style of organ music. All in all, a good time was had by all, despite a rainy start.

Eagle Nine Loses 2 Close Home Games To Strong Hillsdale

By Billy Joe Hall
The Morehead Eagles baseball team lost its 1956 baseball season last week by dropping two close encounters to the Hillsdale Michigan College nine. Tuesday, in the initial game, the visitors eked out a 9-8 decision in 11 innings. Then in the second game Thursday, the invading Michiganders came from behind to capture a 14-9 decision by sending 5 markers across in the final inning.

In the first game the Hillsdale nine jumped on Dick Spencer for three runs in the first inning on a walk to Al Williams, and back-to-back triples by Jack Rosner and Bob Duncan. The homecoming Eagles, however, came back to tie the count with single runs in each of the first three innings.

Then Hillsdale added three more runs in the fourth only to have the Morehead team tie it once again in the last of the ninth on Ray King's long triple after Bill Skaggs had reached first on an error and Dale Fair had singled to right.

This set the stage for the extra inning victory for the invaders as they tallied three times in the eleventh, capped by pinch-hitter Don Eugene's home run.

The following battle between the same two teams saw Morehead lead 7-2, going into the seventh and there's where the seventh fell in. Hillsdale scored seven times in that frame off Charles Gray and Gerald Yentes.

The Eagles once again came from behind in the bottom of the seventh by pulling even at 9-9 with two runs on three errors and Bill Skaggs' double.

Morehead battles the Bellarmine Knights on the home field Saturday in another prep for their invasion of the OVC crown play. Coach Sonny Allen will be trying to gain his first conference crown and also trying to make the Eagles a four-sport winner in the OVC Cross country and basketball titles are already here; now we want the baseball and track championships.

Horse Hide Handlers Open Season; Allen Cagily Optimistic

The Morehead Eagles opened their baseball season Wednesday afternoon, April 4, against Hillsdale College, at Morehead.

With only seven lettermen back from last year's team Coach John "Sonny" Allen is making no pre-season predictions.

"The infield is shaping up fairly well along with our catching and pitching," he said. "But the outfield will have to be handled entirely by first-year men, so we don't know what kind of club we'll have after we play a couple of games," he explained.

First baseman Dan Swartz and second baseman Bob Fries are the only two regulars returning for infield duty. At this point it looks like the other two positions have been narrowed down to three boys: Fats Tolle, a junior from Mayville; another junior, Don Hester, a service returnee from Louisville; and a freshman Johnny Fannin, from Morehead.

Catching duties will be handled by the veteran Ray King, a senior from Newport, and Charles "Bud" a highly thought-of freshman from Morehead.

Two regulars from last spring's mound corps are back: Steve Hamilton, described by Allen as "the top southpaw in the OVC," and right-hander Dick Spencer, sophomore, from Barboursville, W. Va. Hamilton hails from Charleston, Ind. Of the newcomers, assistant coach Ed Moore, who has charge of the hurlers, has singled out freshman right-hander Gerald Yentes, from Huntington, Ind., as showing a lot of promise.

The outfield positions are still wide open without a solitary letterman back. As a result, the Eagles will probably be forced to rely upon a trio of freshman gamblers.

The schedule:

Football Scrimmage Reveals Strength To End Win-Drought

By Billy Joe Hall

The Morehead Eagles' 1956 football squad showed its wares March 29 at Jayne Stadium as the White team edged the Blues 6-0 in the annual intra-squad game, winding up spring practice.

New Eagle coach, Paul Adams remarked that "he never saw such fierce blocking and tackling." Adams also given much credit from the sidelines were the fast, shifty backs, many of whom just entered Morehead this semester with Coach Adams.

All the White scoring came in the second period as senior Billy Adkins, playing his old quarter back position for the first time since coming to Morehead, skipped into the end zone on a "keep" play for the initial score. Then as the Blues found themselves backed out of the line, fullback Rondal Hart, attempting to run the oval out of the hole, was met behind the line by alert White defenders for the safety. Leading this pack of defensemen was Adkins, who looked equally as good on defense as on offense.

The Blue team got their touchdown in the third quarter as they capped their march by sending freshman halfback, Curt Cissell over for the six-point. Setting up the touchdown was another freshman, quarterback Sims, who ran the ball 35 yards to the 4-yard line. Sims played for Adams at Raceland two years ago.

"Confident that better football fortunes lie ahead for their favorites," Coach Adams said, "the townsmen and others watched the proceedings under the lights in Jayne Stadium."

The crowd included about 100 from Raceland, where Adams—a Morehead alumnus—was coach. The crowd was led by the late, who was named to succeed the late, least Shorley Jamerson as mentor here.

Take 10 Of 15 First Places

By Ken Daugherty

Are you superstitious? Do you believe that 13 is an unlucky number? Members of the University of Kentucky Track and Field team should be to believe that this is true, for Saturday, April 7, a band of 13 determined athletes from Morehead journeyed into the Wildcat Lair and proceeded to hand the University a defeat in their season opener by a score of 74 to 574. This represents the first time a Morehead team has defeated the University varsity in a major sport.

The weather during the meet ranged all the way from sunny skies to snow flurries, but the temperature, somewhere in the low 40's, and the wind, a 30-40 mph blast, never changed. The track remained hot and covered in places with water, was slow; but the Eagles, who know what it means to work out under the most adverse conditions didn't seem to mind as they completely outclassed the University boys, taking 10 of the 15 first places.

The victory was basically a team effort, will all the boys breaking into the scoring column. Outstanding among the head boys was Dick Roberts, freshman from New Albany, Ind., who scored 880 points, by winning the 100, 220, and 440. His time of :10.2 seconds in the 100 yard dash matches the Morehead OVC record. He will not be allowed as a school record because of the strong tail-wind. By winning the 440 yards in :22.5 (run over 200 yards, because of water on one end of the track), Dick defeated Ray Blasingsame, one of the two boys whom the University now has on track.

Taking second in the Morehead scoring was co-captain Carl Deaton with 11 points, winning the mile, 880, and taking a third in the two mile.

The Morehead distance runners, with Deaton showing the way, demonstrated the effectiveness of a strong cross country program, as they finished 1-3-3 in the three mile runs. Due to the adverse weather conditions and the slow track, the Morehead boys ran merely for places and not for times, so that their times in many instances were inferior to previous ones.

In the mile, Deaton, 4:45, Daugherty, 4:54, alternated laps in the lead, in order to break the lead of the other while Jimmie Fletcher, 5:05.8, lying back in third place strode across the finish line ahead 200 yards ahead of the first UK boy. Again in the 880, the Morehead boys demonstrated their knowledge of running by letting the UK boy break the wind for the first lap, then turning on the speed and stepping into the lead.

Eagle sweep—Deaton 2:07; Whiteley 2:12.3; Fletcher 2:16.5. The two-mile run proved to be more far as competition was concerned, as the UK boy dropped further and further behind the lead, while Jimmie Fletcher, 5:05.8, lying back in third place strode across the finish line ahead 200 yards ahead of the first UK boy. Again in the 880, the Morehead boys demonstrated their knowledge of running by letting the UK boy break the wind for the first lap, then turning on the speed and stepping into the lead.

Senior and co-captain Joe Wheeler marked himself as the man to watch at 440 yards in 11:31.6; Deaton 11:31.7.

Senior and co-captain Joe Wheeler marked himself as the man to watch at 440 yards in 11:31.6; Deaton 11:31.7. In the mile relay, Deaton and his teammates ran the mile relay in the mile relay. The UK relay team started fast and picked up the lead in the early stages of the race so that Wheeler was given the baton with a 30-35 yard deficit. Running with the baton, Wheeler led the team to a victory by his winning. Joe did a 3:22 quarter to give Morehead a victory by some 3 yards.

Kenny Thompson and Gene Carroll, both members of the basketball squad, and thus very limited in practice time, demonstrated their possibilities as they snared two firsts and a second between them. Thompson won the high jump with a leap of 6 ft. 6 in. and was second with a second of 10 ft. 10 in. in the pole vault. Carroll with a heave of 157 ft. 9 in. won the javelin.

Rex Chancy added 3 points to the Morehead cause as he took second in the discus with 98 ft. 3 in. He was beaten on the last throw by Ray Blasingsame—113 ft. 8 in.

Harold Falls couldn't get going in the high jump, but picked up a tie for third in the high jump. Quarter miler Jerry Joe Lancaster and Jimmy Reed had a duel in the 440 with Lancaster kicking past Reed and one UK boy for a third, both ran on the winning mile relay team.

All in all a rough day for the University of Kentucky (wildcats?)

Dr. Long Has New Article On The Bard

Dr. John H. Long, of the English Department, has done it again. An article of his is being published in the winter 1896 issue of Shakespeare Quarterly, a national learned journal devoted to Shakespeare studies. Dr. Long is a frequent contributor of reviews and scholarly articles to various national journals, has titled his latest production "Laying the Ghosts in Pericles," in which he believes he has clarified the staging and understanding of an obscure scene in "Pericles," one of Shakespeare's "problem" plays.

Dr. Long is also the author of a book, "Shakespeare's Use of Music," published last summer by the University of Florida Press. The book apparently was quite a success, being favorably reviewed both in this country and in England. Excerpts from the book have been chosen for publication in "Wisdom," a nationally circulated magazine patterned on "Fortune" magazine.

Not content with publishing one book, Dr. Long now has a sequel, the second volume of a projected three, being read by the director of the Florida Press, who is interested in publishing all three volumes. When questioned about his present writing, Dr. Long admitted that he had begun work on the third book and has two articles partially completed, but added, "Grading tests and compositions and preparing classes sure does take up a lot of time." Most of his students would probably be glad for him to spend more time on his writing instead of theirs.

Home Ec Club Feted Senior Girl Visitors

By Lillian Burris
This month begins the busy season for spring social affairs, as is evidenced by the plans underway in the Home Economics Dept.

On Friday, April 6 which is High School Day, the department sponsored a career luncheon and program for the visiting girls that have indicated an interest in home economics.

On April 25, the club and clothing classes cooperatively will present their annual tea and style show. This is usually one of the outstanding home economics events of the year as the clothes modeled are made and the accessories chosen by the students themselves.

Two banquets are also being planned for this month. The date set for the AAUW banquet is April 18, but the date for the Morehead Players Banquet has not yet been decided upon. Both of these banquets will be prepared and served by members of the Home Economics Club.

One April event has already taken place. This was the Pre-Centennial Silver Tea given Tuesday, April 3 from 3:30 to 5 p. m. in the Home Economics Dept. The affair was sponsored by the Rowan County Home Economists assisted by the College Home Economics Club. The proceeds from the tea will be contributed to the scholarship fund for the September, 1936, scholarship for a freshman majoring in home economics.

This is the second year the club has provided a $100 scholarship. Moreover, this year the club hopes to offer two scholarships to deserving freshmen who wish to make home economics their profession.

"Now, therefore, I, A. B. Chandler, Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do hereby especially commend the Morehead State College basketball team and urge all Kentuckians to unite with me in honoring their accomplishments."

"Done at Frankfort, Kentucky, this 2nd day of April in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and fifty-six, and in the year of the Commonwealth, the one hundred and sixty-fourth. (Signed) A. B. Chandler, Governor."
