County Quota On 'E' Bond Sales Upped

Hard Drive To Meet Goal Predicted By Rowan Chairman

Although the next War Bond drive in Rowan County will not officially get underway until May 14, an intensification of activity toward the sale of E series bonds will start immediately, Dr. William A. Vaughan, chairman said today.

Dr. Vaughan pointed out that all series E, F and G bonds and Series C savings notes processed through the Federal Reserve Bank between April 9 and July 7 will be credited to the drive.

Rowan County's goal in the forthcoming drive will be $115,000. This is considerably smaller than previous goals, but will be much easier to meet, Dr. Vaughan pointed out, because of this amount $100,000 is the E quota.

Kentucky has been assigned a quota of 113 million dollars. State Chairman Ben Williams Jr. wrote Dr. Vaughan as follows concerning the drive:

"It is readily apparent that your quota for E bonds and for sales to individuals has been materially increased as compared with the Sixth War Loan Drive, whereas the quota for corporations has been decreased. However, you will recall that three campaigns were conducted in 1944 while only two are contemplated for 1945. Hereafter the period of time covered by the sale of E bonds and other sales to individuals was normally a period of sixty days instead of approximately ninety days covered by this drive."

"Kentucky has always done a good job over-all on bond sales. Washington has reminded us that the results among the states are as follows: $100 million per capita sold in 1944, $100 million per capita in 1945. Only through increased sales of E bonds and other sales to individuals, can this situation be corrected."

Fish And Game Association Holds Meeting

The Licking Valley Fish and Game Protective Association will hold its second meeting Tuesday evening, April 17th, in the Agricultural room of the Science Building, at 7:30 o'clock. New applications for membership are being received every day, and all who wish to join are asked to be present at that meeting to be recognized.

The Board of Directors held a meeting last Tuesday evening and revised the Constitution and By-Laws, subject to the action of the club. Standing committees were set up and the agenda for the year will be appointed at this meeting. Other items of interest will be brought up for consideration at that time. Application cards for membership are now available, and it is hoped that a large number of sportsmen who have joined are joining the association today. All members and those who wish to join are urged to be present at the next meeting. Those in charge are expected to show some wild life films.

Scouting and Cubbing

NEW BOY SCOUT TROOP FORMED AT ELLIOTTVILLE

A new troop was started this week. This troop was sponsored by the Elliottville Consolidated School. Members of the troop committee are Mr. I. C. Pelfrey, Curt Lewis and Charles Roe. This committee met and selected Clayton Turner as Scoutmaster for this troop. The first troop meeting was held Thursday night at the school house with fifteen (15) boys present. A number will be assigned to this troop as soon as it is registered. A great deal of enthusiasm is being displayed by the community and under the leadership of the above men has a very bright future.

THINGS WE SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SCOUTING

Cubbing is a program for boys from nine to twelve years old. Scouting starts at twelve years of age and generally regarded as running through 16 years of age. There is no record in the United States of any boy who went through the Cubbing and Scouting program, having ever served time in any of our penal institutions.

Gastric Cancer Problem Is Still Unsolved

Comprises One Third Of All Cancer Cases

EVANSTON, Ill. (ACP)—Gastric cancer is considered one of the most important of medicines unsolved problems by Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, professor of physiology in the Medical School of Northwestern University.

"Gastric cancer, in persons over forty, causes more deaths in males than cancer of any other organ," said Dr. Ivy recently. "It is also the second largest cause of death from cancer among females, and comprises one-third of all cases of cancer."

Dr. Ivy, who was recently appointed to the National Advisory Cancer Council, stressed the importance of educational programs for early diagnosis of danger signs for cancer of the breast, uterus, skin, and stomach, and pointed out that the mortality rate can be materially reduced through this means.

"But such an educational program is much more difficult in cases of gastric cancer," he said, "to persuade one who is devoid of marked dyspeptic symptoms to be examined."

Unfortunately, according to some clinical observations, a gastric cancer will extend beyond the stomach in probably fifty percent of the cases before the occurrence of pain and repeated vomiting, the most common dyspeptic symptom.

"It will be relatively easy to persuade a person who has a visible lesion or tumor to be examined by a physician, but it is not so easy to persuade a person to consult a physician."

"It will be difficult for even a vigorous and persistent educational program over a period of years to counteract the almost innate tendency of people to treat and palliate their minor digestive complaints. For example, witness the current tremendous sales of laxatives and vitamins, which mean self-diagnosis and treatment."

Dr. Ivy also pointed out that gastric cancer sometimes occurs in persons over fifty who have no reason to suspect the disease, a fact that emphasizes the importance of educational and cancer-detection programs.

He advocates a large increase in basic research as a means to the solution of the cancer problem. "What we need more than anything else," he said, "is more money to permit us to study the cause

HIS BUD DIES UNDERSTOOD No one objected when Seabee John Price nailed his company's name on the Navy's power plants in the South Pacific... Because it was a touch of home, a reminder of his native state, a link with the loved ones left behind. It was his way of showing his pride in the kind of backing his fellow K. U. employees have given the men and women on the fighting fronts by supplying war industries with uninterrupted electric power. WHEN THE call to colors came, John P. Price was chief clerk in the Franklin office of Kentucky Utilities Company. As a chief petty officer with the Seabees John has been in service on Guadalcanal, New Hebrides, Rendova, New Georgia and the Russell Islands. Each time he visited one of the electric generating plants which the Navy has set up on the hard-won isles of the Pacific, he tacked up a sign with the name of his company back home. It was done jokingly, of course—the way our boys name rutted jeep trails "Broadway," and give familiar names to tanks and planes. But there is a deep significance in his action. John will be coming home one of these days, coming home by way of Tokyo like millions of his comrades in arms. His old job or a better one is waiting for him, just as other employers will welcome back their employes in uniform. That's not just the law of the land. It's a sacred obligation. They Can Go For Great opportunities lie ahead for these returning heroes of ours. Under the American system of free enterprise, they can go just as far as their abilities and initiative will take them. They have only one thing to fear. It is the dead hand of bureaucracy, the threat of political control of all business and industry. There are those who have used the war emergency to promote this doctrine of state socialism. They will have to answer to thirteen million American fighting men when the war has ended. And we at home will have to answer too, if we permit our free America to become corrupted with the taint of alien philosophies. JOHNSON BOYS WRITE FROM FRANCE, MARIANAS

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Johnson of Farmers have recently received letters from their sons, Pfc. Nickola is somewhere in France, Morris Keith is in the Marianas.

Dear Mom. How are you and all? O.K., I hope I'm feeling fine. I've been off the front about a month and a half. I'm working in a hospital now. I like it pretty well. Our living quarters are better than any I've seen since I left the states and at this job I only have a twelve-hour shift instead of twenty-four which you know everyone has on the front. Although you know that you are not awake all the time up on the front, but most of the time its a case of do or die. While I was up there, I slept with all my clothes on for over four months. How is the weather there? What's dad and all the rest doing these days? When have you heard from Keith? Has he gone overseas yet? I haven't gotten any mail for over six weeks but its because I was transferred and came through different places that my mail hasn't caught up with me yet. Send me Keith's address when you write. Say what's the predictions on the war situation back there? Well, I'd better close for now. Love to all. Your Son, "Nick."

Dear Mom: I just started getting my mail this week. I mean the first I've got since I left my outfit which was over two months ago. Today I got three letters and two Christmas cards. The Christmas cards were the first I've gotten. Well, I'm feeling fine, getting plenty to eat and warm clothes to wear. We had a big show and dance every Thursday night—we have movies, there is one going on now. The hospital has its own band here. It's big crack at front just here. You asked about the packages you sent. I got the two Christmas packages you sent in November, but I've never gotten any more. The reason for that is I wasn't assigned to any outfit for over a month. About stationary—we can get plenty at the Post Exchange which is just downstairs under my quarters. I can get plenty of air mail stamps at the Post Office. The weather over here is about like April back here. Mrs. Howard was right about the army I was in. I left the front December 16th. I expect I'm more than a hundred miles from the front now. Did I ever tell you I was a scout with my old outfit? About the work I do now. I work in a ward with four other enlisted men. Two officers (doctors) and three or four nurses work there too. We have two French women who help serve chow and wash the trays but the chow is cooked by G.I.'s in one big kitchen and brought to the kitchen of each ward. Two French women help clean the halls and two more are nursemaids. In all there are about seventeen working in a ward. In our ward we have about ninety patients. I got a letter from Ruth yesterday and a picture of J. B. He's really cute. That one makes four I have of him. How is A. D. making it these days? What do Lowell and Labe do most of the time? I bet Lee is a grown-up gal now. How are you and dad? Well, I'd better close for now. Love to all. Your Son, Nick. March 9, '45 have a little time off. I am supposed to be sleeping, but have had enough sleep so have time left to write and clean up a few of my things. Here is a money order for sixty dollars. I don't spend much over here. Has Elwood been inducted yet? I just went to the branch of the army he will be put in. There is not much to write about here—nothing much over happens to write about. You might be able to give me some ideas. There was a big raid from here a short while back and of course there will be more raids on Japan. There may be more from here or I would think so anyway. It's nice to know that our own bombs are causing Japan a lot of trouble. I don't think I could stand the cold weather back there now but I guess I could get used to it. I am not bothered with cold here. Have you heard from Tom lately? I never hear from them. What is dad doing now? I never hear from him. It isn't long until time for chow. I wonder what's cooking? Our chow hasn't been bad at all—at least it isn't as bad as we had in Utah. I don't mind it and most of the boys seem to get along ok. Well, I guess I had better stop. Let me know all the news. Lots of love to all. Your Son, Keith

GETS PROMOTION WHILE SERVING IN PACIFIC

WITH THE U. S. FORCES IN NEW CALEDONIA—Marvin A. Masters, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Masters, of Route 2, Morehead, and husband of Mrs. Winona Masters, living on that same route, has been promoted from private first class to technician grade five while serving with a Transportation Corps unit at this South Pacific base. Before entering the army in August, 1942, he was employed by the Vincent Mining Company. In March, 1943, after completing his basic training at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming, he left the United States for overseas duty in the South Pacific. On arriving at this sub-tropical base he was assigned to the port battalion with which he is now serving.

"AT YOUR SERVICE" INFORMATION ON G-I MATTERS

Below are Questions, and Answers on G-I Matters furnishing such information many desire.

Question: I have a son who has met and married a girl and has notified me that he is changing the insurance to her and instead of me. Can he do this? Answer: The insured serviceman can change the beneficiary at any time without the knowledge or consent of the beneficiary.

Question: My husband was wounded in France and has been returned to this country for hospitalization. He expects to be discharged from the army in June and would like to go to school after that. Will you please tell me if I will still get my allotment of $50 a month and will he get the same pay as he did in the army plus a pension while going to school? Answer: Your allotment will stop when your husband is discharged. If your husband goes to school under the GI Bill of Rights he will receive $75 a month, since he has dependents. He may be eligible for a disability pension which will be determined by the Veteran's Administration.

Question: What is the nature of a discharge given under 10 U. S. Code Sec. 1398? Is it considered honorable or dishonorable? And would such a person be entitled to the benefits of the GI Bill? Answer: Section 1398, Title 10 of the U. S. Code concerns the protection of the uniform and is unlawful for any person—not an officer or enlisted man of the United States Army, Navy or Marine Corps, to wear the duty prescribed uniform of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or any distinctive part of such uniform, or a uniform or part of which is similar to a distinctive part of the duty prescribed uniform of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard.

Question: I have a regular Navy man who was in service before Pearl Harbor qualify for mustering-out pay? If not, why? Answer: He does, provided he is discharged under honorable conditions, has service of at least 90 days, and is not retired or placed in a status in which he draws retirement pay.

Question: If a soldier is being sent back to the states to a hospital, how long is it before he gets here, and when he does get here how long will it be before I will know and he notifies me, the serviceman or the hospital? Answer: It is not possible to predict how long the serviceman will be in transit. You will be notified by hospital when the man arrives.

Question: My husband and I have a legal separation but no divorce. He is in the service. I am receiving an allotment for my son and myself; I get $80. He is living with another woman and has children by her. In case of his death, who will receive his insurance? Can a wife lay claim, or does any named beneficiary? Answer: The beneficiary of the serviceman's insurance will receive the monthly installments. He has a right to name any person within the following permitted classes: wife, child, parent, brothers, or sisters of the insured, or heirs of his estate.

Question: I have a brother who was drafted for the army in November, 1944. He had never done any other work than farming. Why does the government ask for more people to go on farms if the farmers are drafted? He is 28 years old this month and was unable to get a deferment.

Answer: The government is trying to get older men, 4-Fs, women and boys and girls to take the place of the younger men, who must be called from the farms for active service in the armed forces. The army is built up by young men and all that can possibly be spared must serve. Naturally if these men go replacements on the farms are needed.

He is living with another woman and has children by her. In case of his death, who will receive his insurance? Can a wife lay claim, or does any named beneficiary? Answer: The beneficiary of the serviceman's insurance will receive the monthly installments. He has a right to name any person within the following permitted classes: wife, child, parent, brothers, or sisters of the insured, or heirs of his estate.

Question: I have a son who has met and married a girl and has notified me that he is changing the insurance to her and instead of me. Can he do this? Answer: The insured serviceman can change the beneficiary at any time without the knowledge or consent of the beneficiary.
