

Rowan Man Slain, Wife Is Charged

A Rowan County woman has been charged with willful murder in connection with the shooting death Friday night of her husband, Ivan V. Via, 56, Rt. 2, Morehead.
Mrs. Via, wife of 47, was arrested Saturday, Feb. 28, after she was arrested shortly after the incident which occurred sometime between 10 and 11 a.m. at the couple's residence, 15 miles north of Morehead on Ky. 377.
The victim was killed with a single shot to the head from a .22-caliber pistol, according to a spokesman for the Morehead Post Office of Kentucky State Police.
The officer said neighbors called police after hearing a shot. Mrs. Via was arrested at the scene by Sgt. Jack Evans, Det. Alonzo Henaley and Trooper Marvin Jennings. The weapon was confiscated at the scene.
State Police said the incident apparently stemmed from a family dispute, but said Mrs. Via did not make a statement to arresting officers. The KSP spokesman said the victim was killed immediately and that no one other than Via and his wife were at the residence at the time of the shooting.
Mrs. Via was lodged in Bath County Jail April Monday at which time she appeared before Rowan County Judge Ott Caldwell, and again was advised of her rights and an attorney appointed for her by the court.
After appearing before Judge Caldwell, Mrs. Via was taken to Eastern State Hospital in Lexington where she is undergoing treatment. No hearing has been set.
Mr. Via was born Dec. 1, 1913, at Union, Herdshell David Via of Norwalk, Ohio, a step-daughter. Mrs. Nell Hollough of McConnellsville, Ohio; two sisters, Mrs. Ruby Uther of Norwalk, Ohio and Bessie Smith of Milan, Ohio; and three grandchildren.
Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Potter Funeral Home at West Liberty by Rev. Jimmy Adkins. Burial was in Smith Cemetery, Rt. 2, West Liberty. The body was taken from Lane Funeral Home in Morehead to the funeral home at West Liberty on Saturday.

Funds Owed By Judge Not Excess Fees

A story in last week's issue of the Morehead News in connection with funds claimed due Rowan County from former Sheriff Carl Jones and Rowan County Judge Ott Caldwell referred to Judge Caldwell's amount owed as excess fees. The amount should have been referred to as gasoline allowance money.
According to the 1970 and 1971 state audits of Rowan County officers, Judge Caldwell owes no excess fees. In fact, his net income for 1970 was $7,605.75 and for 1971 was $7,988.07, nearly $5,000 below the statutory maximum of $12,600 for each year audited.
The money claimed due the county by Judge Caldwell for the two years is in the amount of $1,200 per year or a total of $2,400. The audit report noted that $100 a month for mileage, gas and oil for the County Judge was voted by fiscal court on July 28, 1966, and the order renewed accordingly, but Caldwell failed to furnish satisfactory documentation on how the $100 a month was spent in his official capacity in 1970 and 1971.
The audit further noted that the payments to the Judge were in violation of KRS 64.710.

Jail Consultant Explains Needs

Rowan County's new fiscal court appears anxious to get construction of a new jail underway, and remodeling the present facility to meet health and security standards.
The Court met last Thursday morning with J. C. Barbee, Kentucky's Chief Jail Consultant, Department of Corrections; Charles Gabe of the Department of Corrections; Bert Pennington of Gateway Area Development; and a number of local building contractors. The discussion centered around the pros and cons of remodeling as compared to construction of a new jail.

Barbee told Fiscal Court members it would be up to them to obtain information from contractors and architects to determine if the present facility can be made adequate through remodeling. He explained that as Chief Jail Consultant for the State he would work closely with Fiscal Court, contractors and architects in achieving a plan that would meet the local needs.

Stabbing Critical To Local Man

A Morehead man remains in critical condition in the intensive care section of St. Claire Medical Center where he was admitted late Saturday night with a stab wound in connection with the fracas in which another Rowan Countyman, Gene Caskey of the North Park Section, also in his late 20s, sustained a blow to the head. Caskey was taken to the hospital where he was treated and later released. He suffered a concussion.
Assistant Chief Alderman reported that Caskey and Kidd were parked in an alley way behind the Dairy Mart when a white Pontiac in which three men were riding, stopped near their vehicle. Alderman said words apparently were exchanged among the five after which the three unidentified men "jumped" Kidd and Caskey.
Caskey was struck on the head with heavy instrument believed to possibly have been a car tool. Kidd was stabbed in the lower chest with a long knife, which Alderman said may have been a butcher or hunting knife. He also sustained a deep cut on the arm.
The two were taken to the hospital by Alderman and Patrolman Bob Wright. Patrolman Carl Muller assisted with the initial investigation of the incident.

Plan For Future
The jail consultant stressed the importance of building with the future in mind. He noted that the present jail is about 25 years old and said, "There is no reason to think we're not going to build for another 25 to 50 years." Barbee said there is no real need for a large jail or for 100 per cent maximum security facilities.
He explained that from Sept. 1, 1970, to Sept. 1, 1973, only 171 inmates were housed in the Rowan County Jail, or an average of eight per day.
Barbee stressed the importance of security construction of any type of offenders, with a small portion for maximum security adult males, and areas for medium and minimum security.

Steel Not Necessary
The jail consultant explained that a lot of steel would not be necessary. He suggested that in constructing walls poured walls for concrete block with re-inforcement steel. Barbee favors interior block walls covered with epoxy paint which would be washed to keep down disease. He noted that metal will cause corrosion problems.
The jail consultant suggested that the facility:—
• Be a dorm type situation with eight-bed cells for medium security and up to 15 beds for minimum security or persons jailed for low misdemeanors.
• One temporary holding room about 6 by 8 feet with plumbing.
• Two latrine, toilet or drunk tanks.
• Must meet Kentucky plumbing and wiring codes.
Barbee told the court he did not know the value of the four walls of the present facility, but noted "This is all you have to begin with and you should weigh out the cost of remodeling as compared with building a new jail." He concluded, "I don't know what the value of the walls are — you must determine that yourself."

Term Opens March 11 . . .

Rowan Circuit Court Jurors Are Summoned

The March term of Rowan Circuit Court will convene at 9 a.m. Monday, March 11 at Circuit Judge Caswell P. Lane in Mt. Sterling.
The jury list for the March term is comprised of 60 Rowan Countyans whose names were drawn from the jury drum in open court on Dec. 4, 1973.
Those who have been summoned to serve as jurors are Fred Collins, Bill Tom Wells, Horton Alley, J. H. Black Sr., John Vinson Bulcher, Simon Edridge, Woodrow W. Barber, Eugene F. White, Cecil Johnson, Norman Waltz, Wilbert Cooper, Mrs. Maxine Cassidy, Paul S. Cain, Arnold King, Mrs. Cecil Landreth, A. D. Coleman, James O. Lambert, Earl J. Bentley, Dorothy Deborad Howard K Shackelford, Anna Lee M. Bays, Will Williams, Curt Hutchinson, Orville Howard, Ward Rice, Jim Tom Caudill, C. W. Caskey, Dolph Day Jr., Jesse Dehart, Harlan Pultz, Shade B. Kincaid, Eulas Caudill, Arlie Gilkinson, Henry M. Glover, Humphrey Barker, Burt M. Crosthwaite, Leslie Thompson, Jack L. McBrayer and Boone Helan Jr.
Jerry Neal Collins, Ray Hogge, Mrs. Juanita Brown, Carrie White, James Bramminger Jr., Pink Charles, Virgil Thompson, Walter L. Gilkison, Wilburn Smalley, D. R. Perry, Nelson Byron, Cassie Adkins, Maude L. Clay, Lloyd L. Kinder, Cecil F. Cooper, James D. Templeton, Frank H. Lewis (Rt. 1) and Claud Glover.
Three other persons whose names were drawn from the jury drum in December are deceased. They were Charles B. Adkins, Henry C. Hagan and Clyde Estep.

Referendum On Burley In Progress

Burley tobacco farmers in Kentucky and the other seven states in the Burley Belt began five days of balloting Monday on a burley poundage control referendum.
It marks the second poundage control referendum since the first one was approved by over 70 per cent of those voting three years ago.
State Agriculture Commissioner Wendell Butler said of the burley, "I consider it essential to Kentucky burley farmers and urge that all growers give an affirmative vote in the 1974 referendum."
Butler also noted, "The poundage system is working and it is vital that we retain it in burley production."
State Department of Agriculture officials predict renewed approval of the poundage-only controls by more than 90 per cent of burley farmers in the eight-state Burley Belt. A two-thirds majority is required to approve the referendum.
The U.S. Department of Agriculture has already announced a support price prop of $8.52 cents per pound for the 1974 crop if the poundage controls are approved by tobacco raisers. Should an apoc occur in the voting, there would be no controls and no price supports for the 1974 crop.

Separate Juror's Apartment
The jail consultant also explained, "You may want to consider putting the juror's apartment in a new structure."
Barbee said a jail should be a clean and safe place for the prisoners and designed for the future. He suggested that the court have diagrams prepared of the present building, showing planned use of space if remodeled or have a drawing prepared of a proposed new facility. He said he would work with the person who draws the plans in order to assure that the facility would meet the local needs adequately.
The Department of Corrections currently has no plans to build a new jail. He said jail programs and renovation of some present facilities. He advised that his department could save the county considerable money in regard to obtaining new barbed wire, plumbing fixtures and security light fixtures.
He concluded in telling the Court he would work closely with the local project for the decision has been made as to whether a new facility will be constructed or the present building remodeled. This decision has not been made by Fiscal Court to date.

Former Restaurateur, J.M. 'Chin' Clayton, Dies

James Morgan Clayton of Morehead, owner for many years of the Eagle's Nest restaurant on Main Street and widely known throughout the area, died Friday at St. Claire Medical Center. He was 75.
Mr. Clayton suffered a stroke in 1970, but recovered and was stricken again in March 1972. Since July 1973 he had been cared for at his residence, and was admitted to St. Claire Medical Center about two weeks prior to the end.
The late Clayton, as he was known affectionately by his many friends and acquaintances, was born Aug. 5, 1898, at Salt Lick, the son of the late George Clayton and Laura King Clayton. He had resided all of his lifetime in Morehead and was a member of First Christian Church. He married Lucile Moore of Bath County on Feb. 23, 1928.
Other survivors, in addition to his wife, are a son, James Morgan Clayton Jr. of Dallas, Texas, two daughters, Mrs. Daniel (Lida Lou) Pato of Malone, N.Y., and Mrs. Amaraury (Laura Jane) DeSouza of Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, and five grandchildren.
Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Monday at First Christian Church by Rev. Hoy Robinson. Interment was in Lee Cemetery. Pallbearers were Joe Hodge, Luther Jayne, Austin Riddle, Aubrey Kautz, Ernest Jayne, Robert Bishop, David Appleby, Glenn Terrell and Joe Harvey. Lane Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.
The family requests that gifts of remembrance be sent to St. Claire Medical

Three Pled Guilty To Stealing Trees In National Forest

Two Rowan Countyans and a resident of Carter County, Jimmie Pickett, 26, and Edger Sparks, 44, both of Haldeman, were charged in connection with cutting two black walnut trees growing on the Morehead Range Districts. Logs from the two trees were removed and sold in Winchester.
The men appeared before U.S. Magistrate David Irwin in Lexington on Feb. 22. They pleaded guilty to the theft and each was fined $100, given 60 day jail sentences which were suspended, and placed on probation for one year.
The three also have been billed by the U.S. Forest Service for the value of the timber cut.
Investigation of the case was made by Forestry Technician James D. Hogge, Morehead Range District; and Criminal Investigator William S. Dixon, Forest Supervisor's Office, Winchester.

Bill Approved Authorizing Zilpo Road Project Study

A federal bill authorizing certain public works projects across the country, including eight in Kentucky and one in the Morehead area, has gone to President Nixon for consideration.
Senator Marlow Cook advised the Morehead News today that the bill for construction, repair and preservation of certain projects needed for flood control and navigation passed the Senate by a 78 to 7 vote on last Thursday.
Among the projects in the Commonwealth which received the go-ahead for either studies or funding levels included:—
• Cave Run Lake — Agreement that construction of an access road to the Zilpo Recreation Area in Bath County will await full public review and comment on an environmental impact study.
• Big Sandy River — $1,290,000 toward repairing fixed structure dam No. 3 in Pike County's Tug Fork Valley.
• Kehoe Lake — Feasibility study of acquiring approximately 4,000 acres in Carter and Greenup Counties to preserve the area in its natural state for environmental studies.

The bill represents a compromise between one adopted by the House of Representatives last October and a measure the Senate approved Jan. 22.
Cook said the action by the Congress merely authorizes the specific funding or work for the individual projects. If the bill is signed into law by the President, actual funds to perform the approved work there have to be appropriated in separate legislation.
The bill sponsored by Senator Cook on the Zilpo Road project provides that there will be no construction of a road to the Zilpo Recreation Area on Cave Run Lake, except one that would generally skirt the Pioneer Weapons Hunting Area of the Daniel Boone National Forest.

DEAR EDITOR:
The Constitution says that all men are born free and have equal rights.
My friend Timothy Tugatum, known throughout our neighborhood as an every day imbiber of a product from Kentucky's 'apple and cherry' distilleries, says the wording of the Constitution is good, but we don't have equal rights and privileges.
He points out these examples —
It is illegal to enter or buy alcoholic spirits in our country but you can go a few miles to Maysville, Mt. Sterling, Vanceburg, Huntington, Portsmouth or Ironton and it is legal. In fact, they solicit our business while our preacher screams out at each anvil.
Timothy says the preachers at Maysville, Mt. Sterling, Vanceburg, Huntington, Portsmouth and Ironton may have a different attitude or their collection plates would be empty.
The Kentucky Legislature has a bill before it to legalize abortions. Our preacher had the darndest sermon you ever heard fall from the lips of a Godly man against legalizing abortions.

Timothy says that he favors passage of the bill, and points out that abortions are legal in four other states. "If it were going to do anything about pregnant women," Timothy shrewdly calculates, "then we should do it here at home where the fact of the crime occurred, and let our Kentucky doctors make this extra money."
Many of Timothy's thoughts these days come from Widow Marybelle P'Smiger. They really have a late in night party going on over on her place. He has a television at her house because she has the only color television set in this hollow.
Timothy turned red in the face when I asked him if he was thinking of Maysville when he spoke out so strongly for a legalized abortion law in Kentucky.

Ashland Woman Was First Female Legislator In State

Five women are currently serving in the Kentucky Legislature. All reside in Jefferson County. They are Mae Street Kidd, Charlotte McGill, and Dottie Priddle in the House of Representatives and Georgia Davis Powers and Daisy Taylor in the Senate.

In Files in the State Government Reference Service Division of the State Library show that the first woman legislator was Mrs. Mary Elliott Flannery, of Ashland, who served in the House from 1822 to 1894. While feminist movements were not unknown prior to the Civil War, it was in the Post Civil War period that women slowly gained equal rights with men.

The leaders of the women's suffrage movement on the national scene were Susan B. Anthony and Elizabeth Cady Stanton. In Kentucky, its champions were Miss Laura Breckinridge and Mrs. Madeline McDowell Breckinridge.

Miss Clay was elected president of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association in 1887 despite the opposition of her father, old "Cash" Clay of White Hall.

He later predicted the fall of women, like Icarus of old, contending that the road to women's suffrage led to atheism.

Mrs. Breckinridge, a great-granddaughter of Henry Clay, was an indefatigable leader in the movement. Among her many friends and captains was Mrs. Flannery, an editorial writer for the Ashland Daily Independent and a prominent clubwoman in Eastern Kentucky.

The Nineteenth Amendment, ratified in 1920, had given women the right to vote. Mrs. Flannery was now concentrated on the election of one of their number to the State Legislature.

Probably no one was more surprised than Mrs. Flannery when she drew first blood running as the Democratic candidate in Republican Boyd County, she ousted the incumbent by 250 votes in the 1922 election for the House of Representatives.

She served the one term and, in 1924, Mrs. Flannery was appointed as a delegate from Ashland to the Democratic National Convention which selected John W. Davis as the standard bearer against Calvin Coolidge.

Stay Lean On A Lean Meatless Diet

You might think vegetarians dieters have it easy in these days of soaring meat costs. Isn't it simpler to cut calories and save pennies on meatless diets? Not necessarily, and what's more you'd be surprised how difficult it is to meet nutritional requirements on a low-calorie vegetarian diet. You can solve both the calorie and budget problems if you first learn a few tricks in the balancing act.

tion for yourself, allow others to have seconds if they wish.

- Save up your own calories during the day but still get balanced nutrition by switching to a diet meal in a glass for breakfast, lunch and a late afternoon meal.

Place zucchini, onion, water and 1/2 teaspoon salt in saucepan. Heat to boiling. Reduce heat and simmer 8 minutes or until just tender. Do not overcook. Drain 5 minutes. Heat eggs, milk, remaining 1/2 teaspoon salt and pepper in large bowl. Stir in cheese and crackers. Add drained zucchini and onion and mix gently. Pour into 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake moderate oven (350°F) 40 minutes or until set. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

When in season 3/4 cup sliced raw zucchini may be used in place of frozen.

- Plan your entire day's food combinations in advance. Start with a meatless main dish, followed by a vegetable, fruit and grains to complete its nutritional balance.
- Concentrate on baked or broiled main dishes, adding vegetables directly to the fish or cheese for a new trick.
- If you plan a casserole use cheese or evaporated milk instead of a thick cream sauce.
- Plan to take a single fiber

- Here are meatless dinners to choose from:
 - 1 Green Salad with Cider Dressing
 - Canned peaches (water-packed)
 - Sole or red snapper baked with sliced mushrooms, sliced green onions and soy sauce
 - Green salad
 - Carrots
 - Local-style gelatin dessert
- Open faced melted Jack cheese sandwich on whole wheat bread, topped with broccoli spears and sprinkled with sesame seeds. 1/2 cup ice milk for dessert.
- 'Cheery Zucchini Bake' (Makes 3 to 4 main dish servings)
 - 2 10-ounce packages frozen sliced zucchini*
 - 1 cup sliced onion
 - 1 cup water
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 3 eggs
 - 1/2 cup liquid Cheddar cheese
 - 1/2 cup Nonfat Dry Milk
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 cups (8 ounces) shredded Jack cheese
 - 1 cup (about 1/2) crumbled salted crackers

University Debaters Win Six Trophies

Morehead State University's debaters won six trophies and won three of the top five varsity positions last weekend at the Citadel in Charleston, S.C.

Susan Washburn, East Monroe, Ohio, senior and Kathy Justice, Ashland sophomore, placed second in the varsity division and posted a 6-3 record. Miss Washburn was named third best speaker and Miss Justice won the fifth-place award.

A team of Debbie Poore, Hodgenville sophomore, and Steve Homan, Lexington sophomore, reached the quarterfinals and finished with a 6-1 record. Homan received the fourth speaker award.

Carl Snider, Moreheadville junior, and Gary Padgett, Louisville junior, and closed with a 5-2 mark.

The six trophies raises the season total to 47. MSU closes its regular season this weekend at Eastern Kentucky University.

PVT. SPARKS COMPLETES EIGHT WEEKS OF BASIC

Army Pvt. Rex A. Sparks, 17, son of Mrs. Dottie F. Barker, Rt. 6, Morehead, has completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, ARMOR, Ft. Knox.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

BRAD FORD DEED BILL ADVANCES - HB 9, requiring more experienced operators to obtain consent to mine from surface-owners has been approved by the House on a vote of 86 to nine.

The bill, virtually negating the effects of the controversial broad-form deeds, went through a great deal of debate in both the committee and House before being adopted. A surface-owner consent bill has been introduced the last two legislative sessions by Rep. Raymond Overstreet, R-Liberty, who also sponsored HB 9.

ANTI-ABORTION RESOLUTION PASSED - Senate Joint Resolution 9 passed the House giving final legislative approval to a measure designed to counter the U.S. Supreme Court's decision on abortions. In addition to calling for a constitutional amendment to protect the unborn, the resolution calls for "no denial of protection of life or life on account of age, sickness, stage of development, or dependency."

The resolution was passed by a vote of 81 to 12 and will be sent to Gov. Ford for final approval.

CHILD SUPPORT PAYMENTS - The Department of Human Resources is drafting a bill to be presented to the state General Assembly that would route a father's child support payments to welfare families through the Department of Human Resources.

Under present law, welfare mothers receive most payments through circuit courts and the payments are deducted in computing welfare grants. But, if a father skips his payment, the state underpays, until corrective paperwork is done, and the family is short of funds.

Requiring that support payments be routed through the Department for Human Resources would reduce the possibility of underpaying or overpaying Aid to Families with Dependent Children programs.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING - EPITA? - Publicly bargaining for public employees could have been dealt a death blow when the House voted $2 to 43 to recommit HB 50 to committee. The bill had been reported favorably from the House Labor and Industry Committee, but some lawmakers feel that sending the measure to Appropriations and Revenue will kill it.

GIRLS BASKETBALL - The Senate passed on a vote of 17 to zero a bill requiring that girls' basketball be offered at all high schools having boys' varsity basketball teams.

LANDFILL CONTROLS APPROVED - HB 72, establishing stricter controls of landfills, operations, was passed in the Senate and will go to the governor for final approval.

HH 72, which passed the House 75-16, would require public notice before construction of a landfill operation and would also require a Department of Natural Resources and Environmental Protection permit.

NEW BAND MEMBERS... James Hale, band director at University Breckinridge School, announced this week 16 newcomers to the band. The sixth-grade students began their music program in December. They have two concerts planned in the near future. The beginners, front row from left, are Bob Mahaney, John David Payne, Lee Clough, Laurie Patton, Jolie Best, Debbie Cox and Diane Wilson. Back row, same order, are Brian Huanu, John Mahaney, Douglas Norflet, Darold Bailey, Derek Flaxar, Jeff Wells, Eric Payne and Tom Mills. Other members not pictured are Herb Joiners and Cindy Phillips.

DOCTOR JOINS STAFF - The Kentucky State Penitentiary at Edwille recently acquired a full-time physician, Dr. Larry Frank Bogart, to serve its 1,000 inmates. The institution has not had a full-time doctor since early 1972, which has resulted in higher outside medical expenses, said Penitentiary Supt. Henry Cowan. Bogart, 35 previously served as a chief medical officer and hospital superintendent for overseas missionary organizations.

For the State Capitol Agree Or Not I Say What I Think by S. C. VanCuren

The tempo of the legislature is quickening past the half-way point as controversial bills come up for committee action and debate on the floor once they reach there.

The Appropriations and Revenue Committee ended its public hearings on Governor Ford's $4.4 billion budget last week, but the latest has been heard from Rep. Joe Clark. D-Danville, about limiting the governor's power between sessions for shifting money.

There is some discontent with the budget and plenty of criticism in some circles, but it won't be surprising if some changes aren't made before its final passage.

The governor's sweeping government reorganization bill slipped through the Senate last week without debate and probably will do the same in the House. The reorganization is so sweeping that some government employees are still bewildered about where they work or whose boss is.

A Controversial bill consuming time now is the interest rate bill for savings and loan associations that would lift the ceiling on home loan rates above $15,000.

Another is the deep well drilling bill that passed the House without much debate but underwent several amendments in the Senate. The House is yet to concur in these amendments.

You never know what is likely to be controversial. A simple little bill in the Senate requiring schools having boys' basketball teams to also sponsor girls' basketball. They debated more than 30 minutes on this bill and called many technical fouls. One newsmen commented, "they've dribbled that ball all over the Senate chamber, and some got caught walking."

Another bill that has caused some concern is the one that would prohibit private power production from transmitting RECC produced power to municipally owned distribution systems.

Consumer bills aren't faring very well this session. A bill to eliminate the doctrine of "holder in due course" or time-bar purchases. Another that struck a snag in the Senate is a bill that would establish a small claims court in counties for handling claims of $200 or less.

Another consumer bill finding hard sledding is the "lemon car" bill.

House Bill 9, known as the "broad form deed" measure passed the House last week with surprising strength, but with considerable debate. It is now up to the Senate where it may encounter more trouble. The bill would require getting the landowner's consent before land can be stripped under the broad form deed.

Through last Wednesday the governor had signed two Senate bills and 10 House bills into law. House Bill 26, permitting sale of alcoholic beverages in restaurants above street level, became law without the governor's signature.

As of last Thursday, 95 bills have been passed by the House and sent to the Senate for final action and 58 Senate bills had been sent to the House, and 26 bills were on the governor's desk awaiting his signature.

MSU Department Of Nursing Sets Special Event

Morehead State University's Department of Nursing and Allied Health is sponsoring a "Career Opportunities Day" on Thursday, March 7.

More than 30 health-care agencies will conduct information sessions and demonstrations.

Registration is scheduled from 8 a.m. to 9 a.m. in the Coe Building. Information sessions go from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. A tour of nursing and other health facilities begins at 2:30 p.m.

More information is available from Mrs. Doris McDowell, Chairman, Department of Nursing and Allied Health, MSU, Morehead, Ky. 40351.

Breck Student Is Member Of All-State Chorus

A University Breckinridge Student has been accepted as a member of the 1974 Kentucky All-State Chorus, it was announced by David L. Davies, choral vice-president of Kentucky Music Educators Association.

Susan Calhoun, a choral student of Mrs. Oval B. Hall at Breck, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Calhoun of Morehead. A sophomore at Breck, Susan is a junior varsity cheerleader and an active member of the Theopian Club. She also is a member of the Beta Club and First Baptist Church Youth Choir.

She attended the Choral Clinic this fall on the campus of Morehead State University and will be singing in a trio and ensemble group, and also will present a solo performance at the Music Festival to be held on the campus of MSU in March.

Susan will perform in the All-State Chorus at 2 p.m. March 2 at the Ramada Inn - Bluegrass Convention Center in Louisville. The chorus will perform "Messe Solennelle" (St. Cecilia) by Charles Gounod.

The director of the 1974 chorus will be Dr. Morris Beachy, professor of music and administrative director of choral organizations at the University of Texas.

Dr. Beachy's reputation as an outstanding choral conductor has received national recognition through his successful tours, performances at major conventions, as an author with his articles appearing frequently in the professional choral journals, and as a clinician and lecturer throughout the country.

Letters... to the editor

This newspaper welcomes letters, particularly on subjects of general, local, or area interest. Right is reserved to condense. No letters will be printed without author's signature and address.

The Editor: You know it's really a shame to go to an OVC game where the home team is playing out of desperation for a tie and the home crowd has to be asked by the coach to show a little enthusiasm and support. That was the story in Wetherby Fieldhouse Monday night, February 25, as Morehead State University defeated East Tennessee.

The first half began with a few faithful students, parents and wives (of the players), standing as the school song was being played. However, before the Eagles dropped from first place to 2nd place in the OVC the entire playing floor was made up of yelling and screaming fans in full support of the team. OVC coaches, Bill Harrell and Jack Black. Ever at this time a few Administrative, Faculty and Staff showed a bit of favorable expression toward their Eagles.

Enthusiasm along with support has died ever since the "missing six" controversy. We feel, regardless of the coaching situation that support should be given to the men on the Beta Club. Of the top six players four of these men are seniors and will be leaving at the end of this school year. For four hard years these guys have worked their "butts" off to win an OVC title. As sophomores they tied for the championship and came in 2nd in their junior year. Their goal for 1974 is the OVC championship. Unfortunately several opponents have the same goal. So it's been a battle from the beginning and still not over as far as the coaches and team members are concerned. However the "fans" may have another opinion.

As a team the Eagles have accomplished more than any other team before here at MSU. But for WHAT? A Faculty and Staff sitting in the stands analyzing the coaching job, then criticizing the men whether the game was won or lost? Maybe some of you that are criticizing need to apply for the coaching position and we'll see if you can recruit men who have broken in with records as these guys have.

Environmentally Speaking

Your Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection's Division of Forestry is now preparing to package and sell more than 10 million tree seedlings from its three nurseries.

These seedlings are primarily for reforestation of idle, eroded and cutover lands. In an effort to better serve the prospective buyer, the foresters have changed the bundle sizes to include a smaller packet with 250 seedlings.

The forestry division is also working with the Department of Fish and Wildlife in compiling a special wildlife packet. This contains an assortment of 13 different species and is designed to increase or improve wildlife cover.

I would urge all Kentuckians who have land suitable for tree planting to take advantage of the availability of the seedlings and order now while the supply lasts.

EVALUATES TREE GROWTH

Emory Fouch evaluates the rapid annual growth on a white pine tree in a planting he made four years ago on his Christy Creek farm. Fouch, a coordinator with the Rowan County Conservation District, plans to set an additional two acres of trees this year. The district is encouraging landowners in Rowan to set adapted trees this spring, planting season for timber production, erosion control and beautification.

Rep. May Of 71st District Is 'Man For The People'

By Helen Price Stacy
The name of Woodford P. "Woody" May, D-Morgan County, came up in a meeting in Rowan County recently and a post graduate student at Morehead State University said, "I believe May is a man for the people."

The Morgan County businessman lives on a farm at Woodsboro, and like many legislators, is from a family steeped in politics. "My dad never held office except as member and chairman of the Morgan County Board of Education," said Rep. May referring to his late father, John Burns May, "but he worked hand-in-hand to get Uncle Clifford in Frankfort."

The representative's uncle, the late Clifford May, served in the legislature for 22 years, most of the time as a state representative but also one term as a state senator.

Even when he isn't in Frankfort, Rep. May spends most of his time listening to people with problems. "Today I had three people come to me wanting help. I think I can help all of them with their needs and told them so. At times all it takes is a phone call or a letter to get things straightened out for them. I never think of these things as help but to the person needing a boost, it is highly important."

Rep. May said he has sponsored or co-sponsored about 10 bills this year. "Terry McBrayer, Bill Kenton and I were sponsors of a bill to reestablish the death penalty in Kentucky."

Other bills included one to give Vietnam veterans free college tuition. Rep. May also co-sponsored a bill to strengthen Kentucky's abortion laws.

Another bill supported by the representative would allow school employees, such as lunchroom cooks and bus drivers, to pay into a retirement fund.

One of his personal concerns is the recycling of old automobiles, stoves, refrigerators and the like. "Drive anywhere in Eastern Kentucky and you'll see cars dumped in a hollow or old stoves rusting away in a creek. What we need to do is reclaim these castoffs while they still have good materials in them. Many of the materials could be recycled."

Rep. May said he enjoys politics. He served first in the House in 1968, skipped a term, served again starting in 1971 and was reelected in 1973. "And I guess I'll run again."

He sized up his interest in politics with, "You feel like you're able to do something, or people. You try to console yourself sometimes when you're disappointed that you can't help more."

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Pink Anniversary
Are you ready right this minute to face God and give an account of your life? "Too many of us refuse to face this stark reality - we never know the time or the place when our lives here on earth will end. We'd like to think that it will be some time in the distant future, but we can never really be sure that we will even survive this day. But putting this stark reality of death away in the deep corners of our minds, we also constantly postpone doing something worthwhile and positive with our lives."

Instead, we continue to do what we have always been doing, whether it is right or wrong. We always get tomorrow or the next day as the day when we will change our self-centered lives to God-centered lives. But for far too many of us, those tomorrows are just a carbon copy of our sins from the past. There is no better time or place than here and now to dedicate our lives to God. Do it now, before another minute ticks by.

Your... Social Security

By Thomas B. Thompson - Ashland District Manager For Social Security Information Write: District Social Security Office, 1816 Carter Avenue - Ashland, Ky. Phone 325-7666.

Some aged, blind, and disabled residents of Rowan County are receiving a new kind of check from the Social Security Administration this year. The checks are paid under the supplemental security income program that started January 1.

Bankers, retailers, and others who cash checks as part of their normal business activity can call the social security office at 325-7666 if they have any questions about cashing supplemental security income checks, according to Thomas B. Thompson, manager of the Ashland social security office.

The new checks are in two forms and can be easily identified, Thompson said. They are:

- + Gold-colored checks for recipients of supplemental security income.
- + Green-colored checks issued by the social security office as a special advance payment until monthly payments start.

"The advance check is the familiar green U.S. Government check, but there's one difference," Thompson said. "It's made out in the face to several employees of the social security office, rather than the recipient. We endorse it over to him on the back."

The checks are made out that way so the Treasury Department can make them available to social security offices ahead of time, he explained.

Social security may give a recipient more than one advance check to make sure he gets the right amount of money.

Each aged, blind, or disabled person who gets an advance check also gets a printed explanation for him to present at the place where he cashes his check, Thompson said.

"I hope that the notice, along with this explanation, helps eliminate any confusion in the minds of people who are asked to cash the checks," he said.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Peril At The Bank

Henrietta was waiting to cash a check at the neighborhood bank when a man in the next line began firing a pistol. One of the bullets struck her in the leg. Later, after getting more facts, she decided she was entitled to collect damages from a bank.

"It was a holdup," Henrietta explained in a court hearing, "and the man ordered the teller not to move. Instead of obeying, the teller dived down behind the counter. That is when the holdup man started to shoot. If the teller had not panicked, I would not have been injured. And a bank is legally liable for the negligent acts of its employees."

But the court turned down her claim, refusing to condemn the teller for his inoperative reaction.

"His life was in jeopardy," said the court. "He cannot be held to perfect judgment under the circumstances."

Although a bank does owe extraordinary care for the safety of your money, it owes only ordinary care for the safety of your person. If you get hurt on the bank's premises, you cannot collect damages unless you can prove negligence.

Thus, in a more everyday situation, a bank was held not liable to a man who slipped on its front step. The slip, although somewhat worn, was no more hazardous than you might encounter almost anywhere.

Of course, reasonable precautions must be taken. In another holdup case, a man with a bomb-sold bank officials he would hand the place up if he did not hand over $10,000.

They managed to stall him for almost 20 minutes. They, they neglected to warn an unsuspecting customer to get out of harm's way. Finally the bomb did go off, injuring the customer. In due course, a court held the bank liable. The court said even though the bank was not to blame for the bombing, it was indeed to blame for not giving the customer fair warning of his peril.

Army Men On U. S. Biathlon Team

BURKE, Vt. (ANP)—After a hasty move from Underhill to Burke, Vt., due to lack of snow, the 1974 U.S. Biathlon Championships have been concluded with two active duty Army personnel qualifying among the top six finishers.

The top qualifier in four days of races was Dennis Donahue of Worcester, Vt., a former U.S. Army and U.S. Olympic Biathlon team member.

The Army qualifiers were First Lt. Lyle Nelson, a member of the 1st Battalion, 61st Infantry, and Second Lt. Peter Dasoullas, assigned to the 2nd Battalion, 8th Infantry.

Both units are part of the 4th Infantry Division, located at Fort Carson, Colo. Nelson, of McCall, Idaho, and Dasoullas, of Tillon, N.H., are two of six active Army personnel that entered the competition.

The demanding biathlon combines long distance cross-country skiing with rifle competition. Participants carry their rifles and ammunition during the race and must stop to fire for record at pre-selected sites.

The U.S. Biathlon team is now in Norway for training and competition prior to participating in the World Biathlon Championship at Minsk, Russia, in March.

LINDA HALE, 27, DAUGHTER OF FLOYD COUNTY JAILER, DIES

Miss Linda Sue Hale, 27, Sidney, Ohio, formerly of Prestonsburg, and sister of Mrs. Debra Martin of Morehead, died last Monday in Sidney following a sudden illness.

Miss Hale was born Aug. 25, 1946, in Floyd County, a daughter of Floyd County Jailor Lawrence Hale and Mrs. Ila Prater Hale, both of Prestonsburg. She also is survived by a brother, Ward Boescher Hale of Lexington. Miss Hale was a 1972 graduate of Morehead State University and was teaching elementary school in Sidney.

Funeral services were conducted Friday morning at Wilson Creek Regular Baptist Church at Langley with burial in Davidson Memorial Gardens at level.

SNOW FORCES SCHOOL CLOSINGS IN ROWAN MONDAY, TUESDAY

Temperatures in the low teens accompanied the snowfall that blanketed Morehead and other portions of the state Monday and Tuesday, forcing the closing of schools in Rowan County on both days.

Motorists in both the city and county took to the streets and roadways like veterans of the inclement conditions. Police officials described the only traffic accidents as "fender benders" with no personal injuries resulting.

Supermarket Goddess?

Who is the American home-maker? She's not the affluent, vibrant, supermarket goddess most color ads and TV commercials depict. More realistically, the "average" homemaker is over 35 years old; her husband's income is between $7,000 and $10,000 annually, and according to one study, she's apt to be bored, lonely and frustrated, feeling trapped by home and family. She may not be married; there are more than 11 million widowed or divorced American women.

PONY POWER... Richard F. Johnston of North Reading, Mass., does his part to ease the energy crisis as he gives Betty Conner (L) and Doris Laird of Wakefield, a pony cart ride to the Lynfield restaurant where all three are employed. Johnston keeps about a dozen horses and ponies — this one by the name of Jill — uses the cart when weather permits. The ride to the restaurant takes about a half-hour.

I want her to live in a world without cancer.

My dream is shared by all people, I'm certain. And it is not impossible. Much has already been learned through research.

This year I understand over 200,000 Americans will be saved from cancer by earlier detection and treatment.

Soon perhaps all Americans. All the world. That is the aim of a powerful organization that supports cancer research. "We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime" they say.

But they need mothers and fathers—and everyone—to help them do it.

Help them. Give to the American Cancer Society

We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime.

Camping Rates In State Will Remain Unchanged

By Ken W. Snyder
 Good news for Kentucky campers! Kentucky Department of Parks Commissioner Ewart W. Johnson reports that registration fees in the camping areas of state parks will not increase this year.

For the recreation-minded, bad news reports about the energy crisis have been a lot like untipped grapes. They've come in bunches and the word "sour" doesn't come close to describing the taste. For Kentuckians, particularly those with large recreational vehicles, this year's harvest wouldn't even make good vinegar.

However, unbelievable as it may sound, this should be the ideal year for Kentucky campers to take to the highways for a Kentucky state park. The same registration fee as last year will admit campers to more improved and expanded facilities and, most incredible of all, campers will actually be conserving energy by locking up the homeplace and going camping.

Improvements Made
 Easier accessibility to campgrounds and greater speed in getting settled in the camping areas have been accomplished by construction of new registration stations in three state parks campgrounds and the paving of roads and campsites in two other parks.

Improvements within the camping areas have included construction of a new central service building or shower-restroom facility in one park, and the doubling in capacity of two service buildings in two other parks. Enlarging of trailer pullpuffs has also been accomplished in two parks.

Along with these improvements, the Parks Department has constructed a miniature golf course at one park campsite and expanded a multi-purpose court at another.

New developments either completed or under way in state park camping areas have been the renovation of the Mill Creek camping area at Natural Bridge State CONCERNED STUDENTS - Showing concern for energy crisis, Tom Hoodry of the University Breckridge Key Club places bumper sticker reminder on Coach Daugherty's car. Hoodry said the bumper stickers are being applied with owner's permission to demonstrate the club's concern for conserving energy and call attention to other motorists. Key Club Sweetheart Margie Cornett, daughter of Morehead Mayor and Mrs. C. B. Cornett watches Hoodry. He serves the Key Club as vice-president and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hoodry.

Senator Joe Stacy Is Grass Roots Politician

By Helen Price Stacy
 "Martha is one of the best women campaigners I ever saw," remarked Sen. Joe Stacy, D-West Liberty. "She never says anything wrong."

Mrs. Stacy, the former Martha Caudill, said her husband is the natural-born politician, meaning that he is not one man during a campaign and another when the campaign is over. "Joe loves to drive out in his counties and sit on a farmer's porch or in a store and talk to people. That's how he knows how they feel."

Stacy said he thinks his contributions as a senator have benefited his people. His recent efforts have included the introduction of a no-fault insurance bill.

As a freshman senator in 1968, Stacy introduced a bill to remove the sales tax from farm machinery. During his second term in 1972, he introduced a bill to completely revise the insurance code and another to revise workmen's compensation laws, which increased benefits of injured workers from $52 a week for 425 weeks to $81 a week for life.

"I have a pretty good background in politics," the 49-year-old senator said. "Persons on both sides of my family have held office. My granddad Will Stacy was high sheriff of Morgan County as was my granddad John Carter." Stacy's first cousin, the late Henry Carter of West Liberty and Frankfort, served as state banking commissioner, state treasurer, secretary of state and auditor of public accounts.

Stacy's father, the late Curtis K. Stacy of West Liberty, served two terms in the state Senate during the 1940s. "My father and Wendell Ford's father served together in the legislature. Some of the legislators I'm serving with now are sons of men who served at about the time Dad was in Frankfort."

His father was president of Commercial Bank in West Liberty for many years, and last year the senator established Bank of the Mountains in West Liberty and is serving as president.

Stacy is also a farmer and landowner in Morgan and Fleming Counties. Along with Mrs. Stacy, he owns and manages Stacy Insurance Company in West Liberty.

The Stacys have three children, Mrs. Alan (Pat) Peck of Mt. Sterling, C.K. Stacy II, vice president of Bank of the Mountains, and John Will Stacy, a political science major at Morehead State University.

Stacy said he is pleased that his younger son John Will displays an interest in politics. "For us it is a way of life," he noted. "Never a meal goes by that we don't talk politics."

DEDICATION SET - The 12,000 square foot brick veneer structure that will house the permanent archives and activities of the Kentucky Democratic Party stands near completion on I-64 at the U.S. 60 interchange, just outside Frankfort. Official dedication ceremonies will be held Feb. 22 at 2:30 p.m. CDT.

Question of Gasoline
 Of course, the next question is: what about the gasoline consumed while driving or towing a camping vehicle? It's true that this takes more gasoline, but that's partially counterbalanced by the speed limit for towed or large vehicles, which is 10 miles per hour slower. It also has to be taken into consideration that, on camping expeditions, only one vehicle is used and it is parked throughout most of the trip while the average family back home has two cars in continuous use.

Energy consumption can be even further reduced if Kentucky campers visit their own state parks rather than undertaking long journeys to other states. Already recognized as having the nation's finest parks, as Kentuckians will find even better camping facilities than they have in the past. The Parks people feel that it is possible to improve on the best, and they are doing their best to prove it.

FUND PROGRAM REACHES QUOTA OF PARTICIPANTS
 The Women, Infants and Children's (WIC) supplemental food program has reached its quota of participants; however, persons still may apply at the Rowan County Health Department and will be enrolled as vacancies occur.

The program is geared toward pregnant women, infants and children who are considered to be at low nutritional levels. Persons desiring information about the program should visit the Health Department on Sun Street any Monday.

Finding Security In Retirement

What are the middle-aged home buyers buying and why? "For middle-aged buyers between 35 and 50, the single-family detached home is still the top choice," observes Jackson W. Goss, president and chief executive officer of Investors Mortgage Insurance Company.

"Approximately 50 percent of the record 2.38 million housing starts last year were single-family dwellings," Goss notes. "Further, the vast majority of these homes were purchased by families in the 35-50 age bracket."

"The attraction of the suburbs with larger homes, more expansive lawns and room for a growing family, is extremely strong for this age group."

A family's income is generally at its highest point during these years also so consequently, they can afford to buy larger, more expensive homes.

"Of course, the number of youngsters in a family, pretty much determines how much room is needed. Children, as well as adults, need space for entertaining friends a welcome feature offered by larger detached homes," Goss concludes.

The average detached home shopping list includes:
 Minimum of three to four bedrooms
 At least two baths and preferably 2 1/2
 A family recreation room
 A location convenient to schools, churches and shopping facilities
 "Patio"
 Ample closet and other storage space
 One ingredient has been added in the form of flexible financing programs to make it easier to become a real homeowner.
 "Most buyers are having no trouble at all obtaining 90 and 95 percent mortgage loans. The low cash down payment requirement means leave them with more money for appliances, furnishings and other items for their new home."

"The single-family home is a staple item on the housing scene. As long as there are middle-aged families in the marketplace, detached homes will continue to dominate the housing market," Goss concludes.

RITZ CYCLER - Maybe it was the warm weather, or he left his shirt in a Reno casino, but this young cyclist doesn't seem concerned as he tries to hitch hike for himself and his bike near Lake Tahoe. He was picked up by motorist driving small pickup truck.

Question

I am a peacetime veteran; do I have entitlement to any veterans' burial benefits?

Answer

As an honorably discharged peacetime veteran your entitlements are limited to a grave-space in a national cemetery, a grave marker and a burial flag unless you qualify for a death benefit.

The $250.00 statutory death benefit is payable to those peacetime veterans who:

1. Were discharged or retired for a service-connected disability.
2. Were receiving or entitled to receive disability compensation.
3. Were eligible for a disability discharge.
4. Die of a service-connected disability.
5. Die in a Veterans Hospital or extended care facility.

The Now Washbasket
By Bobbie Hill

The necessity of a perfect diaper wash for baby's health and comfort prompts many queries from concerned mothers. Here are some of them:

What causes the tiny granules that I sometimes find in pre-folded diapers after I've washed them a number of times?

They are the result of oil rubbed on your baby. Their purpose means you are not washing the diapers in hot enough water. Possibly too, you are not using enough soap or detergent.

What causes diaper pail odors?

Ammonia is the major odor. It is created when the waste in certain types of bacteria which can exist in diapers.

How can I combat this odor? One of your best weapons is Borax. Plus, a borax-based product that softens and conditions.

What pre-wash steps should I take before washing diapers?

Rinse off soiled diapers with cool water. Soak them in a soapy pail using one-half cup of the borax product per gallon of warm water. Before starting the wash cycle, pour dry the diapers. Always wash diapers separately in the hottest water available.

The Boston Tea Party

The Bicentennial has started! Many activities leading up to July 4, 1776 have already seen their 200th anniversaries come and go. One of the most famous events prior to the drafting of the Declaration of Independence. The Boston Tea Party occurred in December of 1773, and Boston 200, the city's Bicentennial, organizes and conducts a series of Tea Party related activities throughout this Fall, which will culminate during Tea Party Weekend, December 14-15. This will be the first major event of America's Bicentennial celebration, and a full schedule of commemorative festivities and activities is planned.

Speaking of the Tea Party and its relevance in this modern era, Boston Mayor Kevin H. White said: "A prime purpose in commemorating the event is to remind people of the principles about government that were enormously important to Bostonians of the 18th century. Although times have changed, these same issues of the role of government and the rights of man still continue on to today."

Boston 200, the Office of the Boston Bicentennial, has sought to stimulate an active reconsideration of these issues through a series of forums, lectures and literary and artistic competitions - just as meetings and forums in 1773 kindled the spirit for the original Tea Party.

In mid-Fall, the Brig Beaver II, a 75' x 22' two-masted wooden brig, will sail into Boston Harbor from England and be located close to the original mooring area of the Tea Party ships. The Brig is a replica of the smallest of the three ships involved in the original Tea Party. Privately developed and financed as an educational and historical exhibit, Beaver II is the first Bicentennial exhibit to be recognized by Boston 200. The total exhibit will include a museum (privately sponsored) and a gift shop, which will be located in a former bricklayer's house adjacent to the mooring site.

Tea Party Weekend in mid-December will be filled with celebrations and activities which will bring together the functions which took place throughout the preceding months. The Tea Party posters, prize winners from two contests, one citywide and one national, wide, will be exhibited. The U.S. Custom House at Boston will be dedicated as an historic building. At historic Faneuil Hall, a forum will be held on the significance of the Boston Tea Party, followed by a reception for forum speakers and winners of a Tea Party Essay Contest held in the Fall for Boston area junior and senior high school students.

Saturday events will include an all-day Tea Party Tea Festival and an 18th century music concert at the Old South Meeting House. A Tea Party Ball to be held at the Boston Center for the Arts, will benefit Boston 200 and create a 18th century evening for Bostonians and visitors. Guests will participate in 18th century and contemporary dancing; there will be a display of 18th century crafts, a life and drum corps will perform. Attendees will also see the world premiere of "The Boston Tea Party," a new play in development. Themes brought out in the forums. A reception will be held in the afternoon for invited guests from the Council of the American Revolution and other representatives of other cities that had Tea Parties. These were Charleston, South Carolina; Annapolis, Maryland; New York and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Army Marksmen Continue Winning Ways

FORT BENNING, Ga. (ANF)—National Pistol Champion, Sgt. Hershel Anderson, Tracy City, Tenn., and the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit, started the 1974 marksmanship season on target as he won two handgun championships last month.

Two of Anderson's companion marksmen, Sgt. Barbara Hill, Laverne, Mich., and S/Sgt. Marvin Black, Laverne, Okla., also came into the limelight as they established new national records during the matches.

Sergeant Hill, National Women's Pistol Champion, established six new national records. She topped the women national competitors in the Three Gun Short Course Aggregate, the 22 Caliber Pistol slow fire, the 22 Caliber Pistol four match aggregate and record fires in three 45 Caliber Pistol events.

Sergeant Black, the All-Army Pistol Champion, set his new record when he slamed a perfect 90 shots into the bullseye of the 22 Caliber Pistol national match course target for 300 points.

CONTROL MINING EFFECTS - HB 389, a bill to control the surface effects of underground coal mining, has received a favorable report from the House Committee on Agriculture and Natural Resources. The bill would require underground operators to post bonds that would be forfeited if they did not reclaim land damaged by mining activity.

The theme of Boston 200 is "The City" - highlighting landmarks and events in Boston's history, and the outstanding cultural, educational, and recreational resources available today.

GHJ views the Bicentennial as a catalyst for bringing about changes to the city through environmental improvements, development of cultural resources, expansion of the existing tourist industry, and the expansion of residential areas and appreciation of the city.

The final day of the weekend will see an economic survey at the Old South Church, with a seminar in development. Themes brought out in the forums. A reception will be held in the afternoon for invited guests from the Council of the American Revolution and other representatives of other cities that had Tea Parties. These were Charleston, South Carolina; Annapolis, Maryland; New York and Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

THIEVES ENTER OLIVE HILL LAUNDRY. $65 REPORTED STOLEN

The second break-in in two days was reported to Olive Hill police last Wednesday morning by Everett Houston, owner and operator of the Olive Hill Coin Laundry and Dry Cleaning, Inc.

Houston reported that about $65 in change was taken from the establishment as well as several keys to machines in the building.

Olive Hill Police Chief Virgil Gee said police are investigating the incident, along with continued investigation of a break-in at the NKADC cafeteria earlier last week.

CARTER COUNTY RESIDENCE COMPLETELY LEVELLED BY FIRE

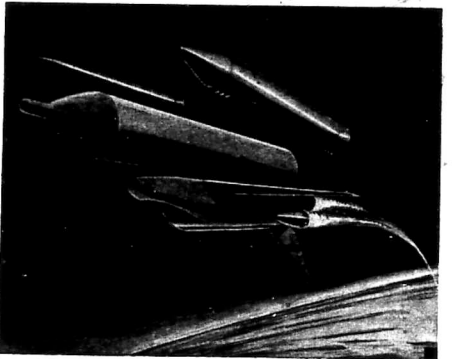

A Henderson Branch home, near Olive Hill, was completely destroyed by fire early Thursday morning, according to Olive Hill Fire Chief Bob DuVall.

DuVall said the home of Leroy Henderson was engulfed in flames when eight members of the department arrived on the scene at 2 a.m. He said firemen battled the blaze for about three hours in order to keep the fire from spreading.

There were no injuries and the cause of the fire has not been determined.

Is This Picture Upside Down?

NO, says the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. This artist's concept of NASA's Space Shuttle shows how the vehicle will actually fly the first leg of its journey into space. It will be flown upside down so that the airplane-like orbiter spacecraft on the bottom and its flight crew will be protected from high wind forces in the earth's atmosphere by the shuttle's big liquid-fuel tank as well as its two large solid booster rockets. The orbiter is now being designed by Rockwell International Corporation and the giant fuel tank by Martin Marietta Corporation. Huge solid-propellant rockets in the power range of those being jet-propelled are already in production at United Technology Center, a division of United Aircraft Corporation. After the solid rockets burn out and fall away, the rest of the space ship is turned rightside up for the remainder of its flight.

Time Limits Off For Overseas Duty

WASHINGTON (ANF)—There are no longer limits on the time soldiers can spend on overseas duty tours.

The new Department of Defense policy is that members who are acceptable will be encouraged to voluntarily extend their tour of overseas duty.

Voluntary requests for such extensions will be considered to be in the interests of the individual and the Army will be encouraged.

Requests for extension will be forwarded to Headquarters, Department of the Army, or to MILPERCEN for approval.

One of the primary reasons for encouraging overseas assignments is to relieve the space imbalance problem that occurs when Military Occupational Specialties (MOS) requirements exceed available slots in the continental United States.

Special efforts will also be made to encourage extensions in the following categories: MOSs 221B, 221B, 223C, 223D, 211F, 212A, 201A and 202A.

MOSs, special efforts will be made to encourage extensions in the following enlisted MOSs: 05D, 05K, 12D, 12K, 15B, 16C, 16E, 16F, 16G, 16H, 16I, 16J, 16K, 16L, 16M, 16N, 16O, 16P, 16Q, 16R, 16S, 16T, 16U, 16V, 16W, 16X, 16Y, 16Z, 21B, 21C, 21D, 21E, 21F, 21G, 21H, 21I, 21J, 21K, 21L, 21M, 21N, 21O, 21P, 21Q, 21R, 21S, 21T, 21U, 21V, 21W, 21X, 21Y, 21Z, 31B, 31C, 31D, 31E, 31F, 31G, 31H, 31I, 31J, 31K, 31L, 31M, 31N, 31O, 31P, 31Q, 31R, 31S, 31T, 31U, 31V, 31W, 31X, 31Y, 31Z, 41B, 41C, 41D, 41E, 41F, 41G, 41H, 41I, 41J, 41K, 41L, 41M, 41N, 41O, 41P, 41Q, 41R, 41S, 41T, 41U, 41V, 41W, 41X, 41Y, 41Z, 51B, 51C, 51D, 51E, 51F, 51G, 51H, 51I, 51J, 51K, 51L, 51M, 51N, 51O, 51P, 51Q, 51R, 51S, 51T, 51U, 51V, 51W, 51X, 51Y, 51Z, 61B, 61C, 61D, 61E, 61F, 61G, 61H, 61I, 61J, 61K, 61L, 61M, 61N, 61O, 61P, 61Q, 61R, 61S, 61T, 61U, 61V, 61W, 61X, 61Y, 61Z, 71B, 71C, 71D, 71E, 71F, 71G, 71H, 71I, 71J, 71K, 71L, 71M, 71N, 71O, 71P, 71Q, 71R, 71S, 71T, 71U, 71V, 71W, 71X, 71Y, 71Z, 81B, 81C, 81D, 81E, 81F, 81G, 81H, 81I, 81J, 81K, 81L, 81M, 81N, 81O, 81P, 81Q, 81R, 81S, 81T, 81U, 81V, 81W, 81X, 81Y, 81Z, 91B, 91C, 91D, 91E, 91F, 91G, 91H, 91I, 91J, 91K, 91L, 91M, 91N, 91O, 91P, 91Q, 91R, 91S, 91T, 91U, 91V, 91W, 91X, 91Y, 91Z.

Eaglets EKC Champs For Fifth Straight Year

The University Breckinridge Eaglets finished the regular basketball season with a 16-14 record. This is the fifth straight year for the team to finish with a winning season. This is also the fifth year a row that they have been Eastern Kentucky Conference champions and this week will find the Eaglets shooting for their fifth straight District Title and a trip to the Regional play-off.

Breck was 16-10 going into the last two weeks of the season, but lost their last four games by a total of 19 points. After falling to Ed Carter and Russell by 7 and 6 points, the Eaglets dropped their last two this week by 2 points to Fairview and 2 points to Mt. Sterling.

The Fairview game ended with the visitors on top 70-68 after the Eaglets led most of the way. Breck had balanced scoring with four boys in double figures. John Back led the way with 22, followed by Jimmy Morrison with 19, and Skipper Holley and Bud Lucke with 12 each.

John Back had another good game with 20 points and 13 rebounds. Bud Lucke took game rebounding honors with 15 and tied Skipper Holley with 13 points each. Keith Raines with 5 and Eddie Jones with 2 rounded out the scoring.

U.S. will next take to the hardwood on Friday night at 7:00 p.m. in the semi-finals of the 61st District Tournament against Ezel. This game will be followed by Morgan County and the winner of Thursday's game between Rowan County and Menifee County. Friday nights two winners will meet on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. to determine the 61st District Champion.

Rowan-Menifee Open Play In District Tourney

The 61st District Basketball Tournament opens tonight (Thursday) at Morehead State University's Wetherby Gymnasium. This game will be followed by Morgan County and the winner of Thursday's game between Rowan County and Menifee County. Friday nights two winners will meet on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. to determine the 61st District Champion.

In Triple Overtime . . . Young Eagles Edge E. Tennessee 102-101

A free throw by J.J. Farris and a layup by Mike Kelley gave Morehead State's Young Eagles a 102-101 triple overtime basketball victory over the East Tennessee junior varsity Monday night. Farris, a 6-2 junior college transfer, made the first shot of a one-and-bonus situation and Kelley, a 5-10 freshman from Cincinnati, hit the game-winning bucket with nine left seconds remaining in the third extra period. The Young Eagles held a 55-49 halftime lead but could not stop ETSU's Martin and Nidiffer who combined for 38 points. Kelley and Ron Frederick were high for MSU with 18 each. Larry Hudson added 17. The Buccaneers won the battle of the boards, 72-54. MSU's Frederick had a game-high 15 rebounds. The Young Eagles are 9-3 on the year. They hosted the Marshall University junior varsity last night (Wednesday). Their season ends Saturday night at Eastern Kentucky.

Football Spring Practice Opens Monday At M'head

Morehead State University Head Football Coach Roy Terry is expecting more than 70 players to report Monday for the opening of spring practice.

Terry, entering his third season at the Eagle helm, will be looking for several key replacements during the 20 workouts. MSU lost 17 seniors, including two quarterbacks, a majority of its starting offensive and defensive linemen and the entire wide-receiving corps from last year's team which finished 6-5.

"We need new people at several strategic positions," said Terry. "It is critically important that we find linemen and wide receivers." The Eagles also need a replacement for quarterback Dave Schaefer, a four-year starter and three-time All-OVC. Senior Alex Branner, a part-time starter last season, will have the nod at quarterback as spring drills open. Sophomores Jay Ackert, Terry Flowers and David Pugh also will be closely watched.

In conjunction with spring practice, the MSU coaching staff is conducting a clinic Mar. 2 and 23. The clinic is open to all high school coaches.

Wrestlers Romp Over Eastern

Morehead State University's wrestling team closed the dual meet portion of its schedule last weekend with a 30-11 romp over Eastern Kentucky.

Dr. David Beaver's grapplers captured six weight classes en route to their sixth win of the season. They have lost twice. Claiming victories for MSU were Jim Hamilton at 118, Tim Dench at 126, Stuart Hunter at 138, Bob Shaver at 167, Al Jordan at 180, and Gerry Anthony at heavyweight. Anthony and Shaver recorded pins. "It was a good win for our young people," said Beaver. "Now we must focus our attention on the NCAA." MSU's next action is this weekend in the NCAA Regionals at Cincinnati.

Winners Of Basketball Skills Contest Announced

Twenty-five Rowan County Cub Scouts, with Dennis Karwata as Cubmaster, held their first annual Basketball Skills Contest on Saturday at Wetherby Gymnasium on the campus of Morehead State University.

Included in the contest were free throw shooting, accuracy passing, obstacle course and time and long shooting. The results of the events were: Long Shooting - Bobby Hamilton, first place; and Bobby Jones, Tim Dillon and Grant Wilson, three-way tie for second. Distance Dribble - Terry Mann, first; Jeffrey Brant, second; Grant Wilson, third. Lay-Up Shooting - Grant Wilson, first.

Free Throw Shooting - Tim Dillon and Grant Wilson, two-way tie for first; Paul Roberts, Charles Gill and Sam Holbrook, three-way tie for second. Each participant was given a red, white and blue tri-colored ribbon signifying his participation in the event. The next event for the Scouts will be a water carnival held on the MSU campus during March.

Kentucky Afield

By Hope Carleton, Dept. of Fish and Wildlife

The first book on bass fishing, aptly titled "The Book of the Black Bass," was written by a Kentuckian, Dr. James A. Henshall of Cynthiana in the late 19th century. In it, Dr. Henshall quite naturally concentrated on stream fishing. Major impoundments were unknown then. In fact, the only man-made lake open to the public fishing in Kentucky at the turn of the century was Old Kingfisher Lake in Daviess County, whose 14 acre surface area must have seemed like a sizeable body of water to anglers used to stream fishing. Dr. Henshall died in 1925, one year after the impounding of the Dix River by the Kentucky Utilities Company to form the 3,000 surface acres of Herrington Lake. It's doubtful that Henshall could foresee in Herrington the first step in a process that would in a relatively short period transform the entire fishing picture in Kentucky. Dale Hollow, with 4,300 surface acres in this state was next, in 1943. Since then, the amount of fishing water in Kentucky has increased steadily with Kentucky Lake (48,100 acres in Kentucky) in 1944 and Lake Cumberland (150,250 acres) in 1952, the largest completely within Kentucky) in 1956. The next year Dewey Lake, the first in the eastern portion of the state, was impounded, creating 1,150 additional surface acres of water. The 1960's were the years when most of Kentucky's lakes were built. Buckhorn (1,200 acres) was finished in 1960, and 1961 saw the impounding of Rough River, creating an additional 4,839 surface acres. Nolin, completed in 1963, added 5,795 acres. Barron (1964), 10,050 acres, and Barkley (1965), 45,600 acres in Kentucky (57,920 total). Fishtrap (1,131 acres) and Grayson (11,500 acres) were both completed in 1968, with Rough River Lake adding another 8,360 acres in 1969. Now, in 1974, two more lakes have been added: Cave Run, near Morehead, and Laurel River Lake, south of London, are presently filling. Laurel will add 6,000 and Cave Run 8,270 surface acres to the water area in Kentucky, bringing the total for these 5 largest lakes to 197,996 surface acres of water in the state. Adding the forty some smaller state-owned or managed impoundments gives a total of 204,000 surface acres of water in Kentucky. That's over 317 square miles of water which did not exist when Dr. Henshall was studying and catching bass in the Licking River and Elkhorn Creek. Include the tens of thousands of farm ponds and over 1,400 miles of rivers and creeks in Kentucky and it's clear that there is ample fishing opportunity within easy reach of everyone in the state, whether his preference is for a quiet stream or farm pond or the big waters of a major lake. The change in facts and techniques has been enormous since Dr. Henshall's time but perhaps the biggest change has been in the increase, both in the amount of water and in the types of angling afforded by Kentucky's lakes. Next week this column will feature information about the new Cave Run and Laurel River Lakes, what's being done in these areas, what fish will be available, and information on launching ramps and camp sites.

The Morehead News Sports

ALERT . . . Center Ron Frederick of Morehead State intently watches the action as teammate Howard Wallen (10) prepares to shoot Monday in MSU's 85-76 win over East Tennessee. Frederick, a 6-8 freshman, scored eight points and grabbed three rebounds in a reserve role.

Morehead Wins Three In Week

Morehead State University's basketball Eagles upped their season record to 15-9 with three wins last week and kept their Ohio Valley Conference title hopes alive. MSU posted wins over Southern Mississippi, Tennessee Tech and East Tennessee to remain in second place in the league. MSU ripped Southern Mississippi 96-91 last Wednesday behind the 24 points of Leonard Coulter. Coulter and freshman center Ted Hunderley each pulled down 13 rebounds. Tennessee Tech led almost the entire game Saturday in Cookeville before the Eagles took charge in the final minutes to pull away to a 91-90 win. Coulter again led MSU in scoring with 30 points and George Williams packed off 10 rebounds. Williams also blocked eight shots to establish a new school record for blocked shots in a season with 111. East Tennessee controlled the tempo of Monday night's game but the Eagles broke away in the second half to take an 85-76 win at Wetherby Gymnasium. Arch Johnson scored 21 points and garnered 11 rebounds to lead the Eagles in both categories. Senior guard Eugene Lyons scored 20. ETSU held scoring ace Leonard Coulter to a career-low of 11 points. Morehead State hosted Marshall University last night (Wednesday) at Wetherby Gym in the final home game. The Eagles dropped the first meeting between the two schools, 94-80 in overtime at Huntington in December.

Breck Placed Third . . . Maysville Junior High Wins Junior High Tourney Title

Maysville Junior High School proved too much for 23 other junior high school basketball teams as they won the Morehead American Legion's second annual invitational basketball tournament played at Morehead and Farmers during the past two weeks. Maysville defeated Flemingsburg Junior High in the finals by a score of 60-42. University Breckinridge placed third by defeating a stubborn Bethel Junior High 47-46. Bethel was the defending champion. Awards were presented by American Legion Commander Bobby Lyons and Mayor C.B. Cornett. Maysville, Flemingsburg, Breck and Bethel received team awards.

The sportsmanship award went to Bethel and the Breck cheerleaders were judged the outstanding cheerleading squad. The most valuable player award went to Ralph Little of Bethel. Don Hardin served as tournament manager.

Watch out, Bowie Kuhn...Steve Hamilton's ready

John Hesse, staff sports writer for the Chicago Tribune, spent several days in Morehead writing a series of articles about MSU last week. In his first article, "White Sox...White in Morehead," he talked about the town and the "White Sox." In his second article, "Steve Hamilton, it was pointed out in the Tribune, one of the world's largest newspapers, with a banner (right column, 72) printed in it."

Our man in motion By John Husar

STEVE HAMILTON, that stringing ex-pro baseball player who briefly graced the mounds of Comiskey Park and Wrigley Field a couple of years ago, is on his way toward becoming another Bowie Kuhn. "But I have more authority than Bowie Kuhn," he said. "I can make a decision." Steve is a graying insurance man in his old hometown of Morehead, Ky., but he keeps an eye on organized baseball. Last year he managed Johnson City, Tenn., in the Appalachian Rookie League and now he's starting a league of his own. It will be called the Mountain States League, with teams in Lexington and Paintsville, Ky., and Portsmouth, Ohio, and Huntington, W. Va. And guess who is president? Why, none other than that red-hot ex-player roped with the New York Yankees who helped Marvin Miller get his start. "Yep, now that I'm on the other side, I take back everything I said," Steve said with a lecherous grin. But he was only kidding. He still has that same old comfortable aversion to management. "I DON'T EXPECT to be doing very much. League president never do. Why, we need to see around the majors thinking of what kind of job we'd really like to have when our playing days were over. And I always figured the best job you could have would be a major league president.

"You get a hundred grand or whatever it is for just going around and making motions. And no decisions. Never any decisions." Steve's two sojourns in Chicago were not what one would call the high points of a career that included two years with the baseball Lakers before he broke into baseball with Cleveland in 1961. He now should have come to the White Sox's first place. He was in Baltimore with the Yankees in September, 1970, where a deal had been made to ship him to the Mets, who needed a spot reliever for the final weeks of the pennant race. He never got there. The Sox took him on irrevocable waivers in the last official act of General Manager Eddie Shore. "I couldn't believe it," Steve said. "Here I am, old, a specialist, the White Sox are on their way to losing 100 games, they just fired Don Gutteridge. I had to call Stu Holcomb, who'd just taken over. 'Stu, what do you want with me?' I said. He thought a while and said, 'I don't know.'" the South Side, then spent a year in San Francisco. He came back to Chicago with the Cubs in 1972, just in time to watch the stretch from Leo Durocher to Whitley Lockman. "That was another great experience," he said. "I never talked to Leo but three times all year. Never saw him around the clubhouse at all. He was a tough guy to play for. He never talked to his pitchers, not even before the games. I think he thought pitchers were a necessary evil." Hamilton lasted until Aug. 18 when Lockman called him in and said, since he was not planning to come back the next year, he might as well make room on the roster for Juan Pizarro. "I was hard to leave that way. All of a sudden, here I was, back in Morehead, my friends wondering what I was doing. I guess I'd really have liked to go out in a blaze of glory, you know? But I'd gone 63 days without pitching for Leo and, for somebody who's older, that's tough to do." Besides, Steve really was two years younger than the baseball people knew. "Yeah, I cheated on my age," he signed. "When I was getting out of college I was 23, but the scout who signed me said I'd have a better chance if I said I was 21. So now I'm surprised 30, not 37. Old enough, anyway."

on the Cubs—they were scared to get close, scared to win. Whitley had to get rid of them." He had two memorable times on the Sox. One was juggling the outfield with Wilmer Wood, who then was considered "if they made him late, start it, it would be the worst thing that could ever happen. There he was, holding out for something like $200,000. New look at him." The other was working with Johnny Sain, the god of pitching coaches. "What makes John so great is that he can make every one of his pitchers think he's another Steve Koufax," Steve said. "When he has to take you out, you walk off the mound thinking that the other team was really lucky. There's nobody like Johnny Sain."

Headquarters Eliminated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has announced plans to phase out six headquarters in the coming months. Five of the headquarters are outside the continental United States. The six headquarters are U.S. Army, Pacific Theater Forces, Southern Command; U.S. Army, Pacific Theater Army Support Command, Europe; Engineer Command, Europe; and U.S. Army Intelligence Command (Fort Meade, Md.). The U.S. Army Intelligence Command will be phased out by June 30, 1974 with the rest of the headquarters to follow during Fiscal Year 1975.

Two Moreheadians Vying For Miss Morehead State

Susan Allen and Peggy Harrell of Morehead are among 32 contestants vying April 3 and 4 for the title of "Miss Morehead State University" in the seventh annual pageant.

Miss Allen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. (Sonny) Allen and Miss Harrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harrell. Both girls are graduates of University Breckinridge School.

Half of the contestants will present their talent on the first night while the others are judged in swimsuit and evening gown competition.

The five judges, considering beauty, talent and poise, will choose a successor to the current Miss MSU, Marsia Griffith of Greensburg.

The Miss MSU Pageant is a preliminary of the Miss Kentucky Scholarship Pageant which sends its winner to the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City.

Miss Allen is a junior art major, is a member of Delta Gamma sorority.

Natural Resources Receives Grant For Mines Study

The Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection will receive $103,907 in federal funds to conduct a feasibility study of modified block cutting using sediment control — a strip mining method now being used in other coal producing states of Appalachia.

The Kentucky environmental protection agency recently was notified by U.S. Sen. Walter "Dee" Huddleston that the grant had been approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in Washington.

The feasibility study is the first phase of a total project, and must be approved by the federal EPA office before a demonstration of block cutting using sediment control can be implemented by Kentucky. Total cost of the project, including the study, will be $276,200.

The demonstration project will be located in the strip mining areas of Eastern Kentucky at sites yet to be selected.

The objective of the feasibility study will be to determine if block cutting provides more effective means for controlling sedimentation without using silt or debris basins. The use of block cutting by other states will be surveyed during the study.

ESSAY WINNER . . . Belinda Beryl Barker, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Barker of Morehead, has been named the third place winner in the 30th annual state-wide Conservation Essay Contest sponsored by The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times. Belinda is a Junior at Rowan County High where she is active in a number of clubs. She received a $100 U.S. Savings Bond for her winning essay.

FOUR MOREHEADIANS ADDED TO FALL DEAN'S LIST

Morehead State University has released a supplement to the fall semester Dean's List, which includes Joseph Kaelin, Lexie Butcher, Sister Mary Schuler and Richard Gorton of Morehead.

Students Learn Firsthand Workings Of Government

By Charles R. Sizemore

A group of 37 students representing the Political Science Department of Morehead State University visited the State Capitol recently to learn firsthand the workings of the Kentucky state government.

The group, accompanied by Dr. Jack Bizzell, head of the Political Science Department and George Young, a faculty member, first met with Gene Peters, an administrative assistant to Gov. Wendell Ford, who explained the Governor's reorganization plan.

The group then went to a conference room in the Capitol where they met Courtney Walker, a member of the Legislative Research Commission, and legislators of the House and Senate.

Walker briefly explained to the group the path that a piece of legislation follows after it is introduced in the House or the Senate.

The students then listened to Sen. Joe Stacy, D-West Liberty, the Majority Caucus Chairman of the state Senate, Rep. Larry Hopkins, R-Lexington, the representative of the district which contains Morehead State University.

Sen. Stacy discussed the possibility of his "No-Fault Insurance Bill" succeeding in the Senate. Sen. Stacy said, "I feel that we have the better No-Fault Insurance Bill" of the two introduced in the Senate, also stating that most of the opposition was coming from lawyers who think they will be hurt by no-fault insurance.

Rep. Larry Hopkins, Minority Caucus Chairman in the state House of Representatives, answered questions concerning the "Collective Bargaining Bill" which was recommended to the House Appropriations and Revenue Committee virtually killing its chances of passage during this session of the General Assembly.

Rep. Hopkins stated, "I am a strong supporter of collective bargaining organizations, but I do not support forcing public employees to join collective bargaining organizations."

The visit to the Capitol ended in the Rotunda where the students had a picture taken in front of the statue of Abraham Lincoln with Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll.

March 6, 1475, was the date of Michelangelo's birth. Alexander Graham Bell patented his invention of the telephone on March 7, 1876.

Rehabilitation Program Benefits Rowan Residents

"Ability, not disability, counts," expresses the philosophy of the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services, the Department of Education. The Bureau provides a combination of services that are needed to develop or improve the skills and abilities of the handicapped to become self-supporting workers.

Approximately $1.7 million has been recommended by the Governor in his budget to continue the program for the 1974-75 fiscal year.

So far a total of 286 handicapped individuals in Rowan County benefited from the services rendered by the Vocational Rehabilitation program. A total of 85 of the 286 disabled individuals in the county completed the rehabilitation program in 1973. The remaining 201 are presently in various stages of the program.

The Bureau of Rehabilitation Services provides diagnostic and evaluative services to each handicapped individual in order to determine eligibility for services under vocational rehabilitation.

Training and education services, including pre-vocational, vocational, academic training, personal adjustment, work adjustment, use of artificial appliances, speech and hearing ability training, and the purchase of books and supplies are furnished to students.

Training and education reviews are obtained through approved rehabilitation centers, workshops, colleges and universities, vocational schools, and on-the-job training experiences.

Vocational Rehabilitation services are provided through 21 hospitals and rehabilitation centers scattered throughout the state. District offices located in Ashland, Bowling Green, Covington, Harlan, Lexington, Louisville, Madisonville, Owensboro, Paducah, Paintsville and Somerset act as information centers for services offered by the Bureau.

A total of 9,645 disabled persons were restored to useful employment in 1973 through the programs offered by the Bureau of Rehabilitation Services. Altogether 24,340 disabled individuals in all the counties received rehabilitation services during that year through the Bureau.

Currently, over thirty-three hundred handicapped individuals are receiving training in college and universities while 2,489 students are in vocational training.

According to Ben Coffman, assistant superintendent, the Rehabilitation Program is a program that more than pays for itself. The cost of rehabilitation for each person in 1973 was $1,485. When the disabled rehabilitated individual joined the working force, his average earning increased 6.6 times.

Ben Coffman added that the 9,654 rehabilitants will pay back in State and Federal taxes the full cost of their rehabilitation in 8.4 years.

5 Area Drivers Lose Licenses

Five area drivers were included on the list of suspensions and revocations released by the Traffic Safety Coordinating Committee at Frankfort for the week ending Feb. 15.

Those whose licenses were revoked, the reason for revocation and date through which it is effective were —

- Rowan County — Ralph Royce, 44, Elliottville, driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, Aug. 1, 1973.
- Carter County — Norman Elbert Davis, 41, Russel, refusal to submit to a chemical test, July 20.
- Holt County — Ellis Henson, 49, Sandy Hook, driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants, July 16.
- Fleming County — Phillip W. Conrad, 18, Flemingburg, refusal to submit to a chemical test, Aug. 6.
- The list of revocations and suspensions is compiled for the eight-county area comprised of Rowan, Carter, Lewis, Fleming, Bath, Menifee, Morgan and Elliott.

Police Dispatcher Training Program Planned At EKU

By Leonard N. Kimball

"There's good news tonight!" Unless you are at least 45, that probably doesn't stir up any old memories. To those who grew up during the "Big War," however, the radio voice of newscaster/commentator Gabriel Heatter, the perennial optimist of the airwaves, was as easy on the ear as the sight of Miss Veronica Lake with her once-popular peek-a-boo hairdo was on the eye.

Hut, fat, 45, worried about your last cholesterol count or not, something's never change. Voice, diction and pronunciation still separate the employed newscasters from the unemployed ones. And, if they happen to be a police radio dispatcher, they save lives, warn motorists of ice storms and, on infrequent occasions, lead rescuers to treed cats as well.

Which explains, at least in part, why all three of those subjects already have been penciled into a proposed 40-hour police radio communications training curriculum that will be offered to state and local police dispatchers, technical personnel and other officers in the police communications field beginning later this year.

The curriculum is being drawn up by the Justice Department's Bureau of Training at Eastern Kentucky University (EKU) which will also supervise the training program.

Once underway, the program is expected to provide training for some 600 personnel annually.

In addition to being the first such program ever offered to law enforcement communications personnel on a statewide basis in Kentucky, training officials anticipate that the new program also will win nationwide recognition for Kentucky as "a leader among other states in offering this type of training."

The first class is scheduled to start sometime in late June with an initial enrollment of about 30 students.

A spokesman for the Bureau of Training said that an earlier opening date had to be cancelled because manufacturing slowdowns and shipping problems delayed delivery of some technical equipment needed to finish outfitting a special classroom on the EKU campus where the training sessions will be held.

Although still in the planning stages, the curriculum is expected to cover such subjects as mobile and base station communications, inter- and intra-state police signals and codes, microphone usage, teletypewriter systems, message relaying and the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Crime Information Center (NCIC) at Washington, D.C.

The NCIC system, a computerized, high-speed communications net linking law enforcement agencies nationwide, receives and transmits data on fugitives and stolen property.

Students attending the course will also record and critique one another's radio techniques.

Teaching procedures used will include lectures, classroom demonstrations, problem-solving critiques and actual practice with some of the latest communications equipment.

Training officials said that patrolmen from first and second class cities, and patrolmen and sergeants from third through sixth class cities, will be permitted — if assigned to communications duties with their departments — to use the training to qualify for the 15 percent pay incentive passed by the 1972 General Assembly to encourage increased training for local police.

Police officers not working in the communications field must seek special permission to attend for pay incentive purposes, training officials said.

Costs of tuition, meals, lodging and other departments for all qualified personnel will be paid out of grant money being made available through the State Crime Commission.

Day-Long Career Info Program Stated At MSU

Hundreds of high school students are expected to explore the "World of Business" on Wednesday, March 6, at Morehead State University.

Registration for the day-long career information program begins at 9 a.m. in the Commons Building and the Adron Doran University Center.

Exhibits, tours and demonstrations are scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. MSU President Adron Doran will welcome the group at an 11:30 a.m. luncheon. The "Temple Combo," directed by Larry Kennan, will provide musical entertainment.

Mrs. Mignon Doran, director of MSU's Personal Development Institute, will coordinate a program on "Fashions and Etiquette for the '70's," at 12:45 p.m. in B F Reed Hall.

Ann Landers

Copyright - Field Enterprises, Inc.

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what to do. I couldn't look anyone in the face and ask this question.

A very lovely couple moved in across the hall. I have had some nice, friendly coffee klatches with the woman and my husband has had a few short visits with her husband, in the corridor and elevator. We would like to invite them to our next dinner party, but I don't know how to say this delicately: the man is so fat I don't think our dining room chair could hold him.

Would it be insulting to ask her to please bring the chair he sits in at home? My husband says I simply can't do such a thing. Any other suggestions? — Blank Wall

Dear Blank: If your dining chairs are dainty, why not use two of your sturdiest living room chairs (even if they're upholstered) at the head and the foot of the dining table. Your husband could sit in one and the neighbor in the other. It would be less obvious to the guests that there was a "problem."

Dear Ann Landers: I am an epileptic, and I'm fed up with people being afraid to go anywhere with me for fear I will get an attack. Teen-age years are hard, even when you aren't an epileptic, so please, Ann, print my letter.

Most epileptics have seen a doctor and are taking medication that controls their attacks. I am not saying it is impossible for an epileptic on medication to have an attack, but it's unlikely.

If an attack should occur, tell people not to panic. It isn't necessary to call a doctor unless the attack lasts more than three minutes.

See that the victim is placed on the floor, flat, and make sure there are no objects nearby he can knock against. Put a wad of paper the size of a tennis ball between his jaws so he won't swallow his tongue. Open a window and make sure he has plenty of air. Wait for him to regain consciousness and let him rest awhile.

The most important thing to remember is that you are dealing with a person, not an animal — Human Tho' Epileptic

Dear Friend: Thank you for a letter that will surely educate a great many people.

Dear Ann Landers: It's obvious you don't have a son or you could never have printed such a stupid answer to "Daughter-in-Law." I'd like to respond to that self-righteous little witch, since you didn't do one thing to put her in her place.

Dear Daughter-in-Law: You seem to have a lot to say about what a rotten job I did raising my son. Why didn't you write "Dear Mom AND Dad"? The boy did have a father, you know. Or do you think the stork brought him?

Girls like you make me sick. You have quite a head of anger for "lousy mothers." Do you honestly believe there are no "lousy children"?

Since you've made it clear that I did such a

Mrs. Cullis, 89, Noted Organist, Taken By Death

Mrs. Lela Williams Cullis, 89, Morehead, died Saturday at St. Claire Medical Center following an extended illness.

A native of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Cullis was born March 25, 1884, and was the daughter of the late William W. and Irene Wilt Williams. Her husband, Arthur M. Cullis, died in 1915. Mrs. Cullis was a member of the Episcopal Church and was an organist and leader in musical affairs.

In 1954 she retired as an organ instructor from the University of Kentucky where she had served in that capacity for 25 years. She was organist for Central Christian Church in Lexington for 22 years and was widely known as a musician.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Roger Wilson and Miss Irene Cullis, both of Morehead; a brother, Victor Williams of Columbus, Ohio, and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 9:30 a.m. Monday at St. Albans Episcopal Church in Morehead by Father Jacob Hurst. Burial was in Lexington Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Buford Cramer, Larry Stephenson, Elmer Anderson, Sherman Arnett, William Ewers and Charlie Fraisher. Lane Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

FARM AUCTION
Saturday, March 2nd
 At 1:00 p.m.
Dan Ridge, Menifee County
 Big Woods Country

We have been authorized by the heirs of Charley Bair to offer for sale at auction their 181-acre farm, located on State Highway 1693, 15 miles east of Frenchburg.

This farm offers a fine opportunity for income, a home and recreation. Part of the land borders on U.S. government property that encompasses the Cave Run Reservoir.

The farm will be offered in three tracts and then sold as a group if a price higher than the total of the three separate tracts is bid.

TRACT No. 1 of approximately 85 acres has a six-room house (needs repair), two good barns, other outbuildings, a pond and good road frontage.

TRACT No. 2 of approximately 46 acres has no buildings but has excellent road frontage and ideal sites for a home or other buildings. Water is furnished by a spring and branch.

TRACT No. 3 of approximately 50 acres has a six-ben' barn (needs repair), a pond and many vantage points of scenic beauty overlooking the Cave Run-area.

ALL OF THESE TRACTS HAVE MARKETABLE STANDS OF HARDWOOD TIMBER WITH THE BALANCE IN GRASS.

The basic tobacco base for 1974 is 4911 pounds but because of underselling in 1973 an effective base for 1974 will be 5774 pounds. Final determination of the tobacco base for each tract will be set by the Menifee County ASC office.

We will also sell approximately 2500 tobacco sticks, a tobacco setter, and one lot of clean, 1" oak lumber in 10' and 12' lengths.

DIRECTIONS - FROM FRENCHBURG PROCEED EAST ON U.S. 440 FOR 9 MILES, THEN TURN LEFT ON STATE HIGHWAY 1693 FOR 4 MILES.

For inspection prior to sale, call Stanley Bair, 768-2172, Odus Brown, 768-4618, or the selling agent.

ARTICLE ON MATHEMATICS
BY DR. FLORA PUBLISHED

Dr. Ben V. Flora Jr., associate professor of mathematics at Morehead State University, is the author of an article appearing in the January issue of the "American Mathematical Monthly."

His work is "First Hand Experience with Independent Study of Mathematics for Prospective Secondary Mathematics Teachers." He was recently appointed to the publications committee of the School Science and Mathematics Association.

Kentucky Correctional Industries A Multi-Million Dollar Business

By Sue Anne Salmon
There's at least one multi-million dollar business in Kentucky that has raised its workers' wages, lowered its customers' prices and still managed to make a profit of $300,000.
From delicately scented hand soap, wool socks and upholstered easy chairs to license plates, school lockers and automated records processing, the tally sheet of products and services offered is almost as startling to the eye as the locations which crank them out.

Almost, but not quite. For all the factories and offices are located inside the walls and wire which surround Kentucky's largest correctional institutions — the State Penitentiary at Eddyville, the State Reformatory at LaGrange, and the State Correctional Institution for Women at Pewee Valley.

When Kentucky Correctional Industries' Director, Philip Veno, a former military man who served several tours in Vietnam, first tackled the task of reorganizing the business in 1972, it was $44,000 in the red.

Customers Driven Away

Although sales for the previous year totaled $11 million, mismanagement, bad quality goods and high prices drove customers away, Veno said.

"Two years ago, one case of our hand soap cost $3.60. Now we sell the same case for $5.80," he said.

Under KRS 197.210, when buying merchandise, state agencies are required to purchase prison-made products. Exceptions to the law include instances where prices are too high or manufactured articles cannot be adapted to the particular office's needs.

Today, five large prison industries' trucks, bought with part of an annual $2 million in sales, carry manufactured goods from factory to customers. From directors to inmates, salaries are paid entirely out of industry profits.

The State Division of Purchasing must okay bids from companies offering raw materials to KCI, but KCI pays for them.

Plagued By Shortages

And like most industries using raw materials, KCI is plagued by shortages. For instance, Veno has not been able to obtain steel or aluminum to manufacture license plates for 1975.

Denim for the clothing factory at Eddyville had to be purchased in Mexico, Veno said since the cloth wasn't available in the United States.

Prison industries is the only division of the Bureau of Correction which pays working inmates on an hourly basis, Veno said. Inmates working on farm details or prison maintenance jobs such as kitchen or janitorial details earn from 25 cents to 50 cents per day. Prison industries' past salaries of six to 15 cents per hour recently were raised to eight to 20 cents per hour. Also, workers are paid bonuses when they go over the monthly production quota.

Permitted To Save Earnings

Inmates are free to save their earnings, send the money home or buy items ranging from candy bars to stereo type players at the prison canteen.

One inmate-employee at Eddyville uses his wages to make payments on a house trailer.

Veno described the mission of KCI as two-fold. "Our purpose is to rehabilitate offenders and to manufacture top quality merchandise at a low cost to meet the needs of Kentucky," he said.

All the products are guaranteed for quality. And Veno boasts that last year the recidivism rate for KCI worker-inmates was better than that for the general prison population.

Recommendations for parole and outside jobs are written by KCI supervisors when inmates request them.

Similar To Other Industry

A working similarity with outside industry is strongly stressed by supervisors — from workers punching a time clock to the on-job training at factory equipment like mangle, metal punch presses and knitting mills.

But KCI has its differences, too. Employees are "frisked" before entering or leaving the work area. They must bring their own coffee to work at LaGrange and Eddyville, since, as one inmate explained, a gathering of inmates around a coffee pot might instigate trouble during the break periods.

Minimum wages and workmen's compensation are not paid, although medical bills for injuries are covered.

Labe McKinney, Former Rowan Resident, Claimed

Labe Franklin McKinney, 78, Dayton, Ohio, formerly of Rowan County, died Sunday in Dayton following a short illness.

A retired farmer and life-long resident of Rowan County and Dayton, he was born July 17, 1895, in Bath County. He was the son of the late Edward and Sarah (Fannin) McKinney. His first wife, Mollie Crosthwaite, preceded him in death.

Surviving are his second wife, Mrs. Emma (Hall) McKinney, two sons, W.D. (Dick) McKinney of Morehead, and Labe F. McKinney Jr. of Charleston, W. Va.; three daughters, Hazel McKinney and Mrs. Almida Harris of Muncie, Ind., and Mrs. Phyllis Schreiber of Crestline, Ohio; one step-son, Gilbert Quesenberry of Morehead; 11 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren, one great-great-grandchild, and one step-grandchild.

Funeral services were conducted at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Stucky Funeral Home by Rev. Russell Reynolds. Burial was in Mount Hope Cemetery. Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Publisher's Pen...

Day-by-day jot-downs, and editorial observations of the publisher of this newspaper.

The Publisher is in Florida on "business". This column "It's a Joke, Son!" was composed before his departure in collaboration with Year Mann, Editor of The Scraper, a Kentucky trade magazine.

The coed daughter insisted that she needed an automobile.
For her birthday she got it. On the windshield was this card: "With love, Mamma and Pauper."

A new diet food has been introduced. It is a can with nothing in it.

He had fished all day without luck. On the way home, he stopped at the fish market and told the clerk: "Throw me six nice trout."

"What do you mean, throw them?"
"So I can tell my wife I caught them," said the unlucky one. "I'm a poor fisherman, but I'm not a liar."

It is much more fun to play poker with a poor loser than with a regular winner.

Mother: "Well, Johnny, how did you like the trip to the zoo with your father?"
Johnny: "Great, Mom. One animal paid $20 across the board."

Will Rogers said he did not make jokes; he merely watched the government in action and reported the facts.

The other day a class of 3-year-olds was discussing brothers and sisters. One girl said wistfully: "I don't have any sisters. Just two brothers and the baby — and he's turning into a boy too."

Secretariat is back home in Kentucky now, an outstanding credit to his race.

Mother: "What are you jumping up and down for, Bobby?"
Bobby: "I took my medicine and forgot to shake the bottle."

My wife has been driving for some time now and before she started we had a garage. It is now a carport.

A dusty, shrewd-looking man descended from his wagon outside the farmer's house. "Fine piece of land out here," he exclaimed.
"You're right, there," replied the farmer eagerly. "It's the best to be found in the country."

"But too high a figure for a poor man, I reckon?" asked the stranger.
"It's worth every penny of $500 an acre," answered the farmer, with an eye to business. "You thinking of buying and settling in these parts?"

"Hardly," said the stranger, as he made some notes in a book. "I'm the new tax assessor."

One advantage of small cars is that you can squeeze twice as many of them into a traffic jam.

Bert: "Your wife used to be nervous. Now she doesn't seem to show a sign of it. What did you do for her?"

Nert: "That was easy. The doctor simply told her nervousness was a sign of old age."

Now there's a new gasoline with boron in it. It still gives off exhaust fumes, but who cares?

A newly elected Congressman finally consented to putting his wife's brother on his staff payroll.

"Now just what will my position be?" asked the brother-in-law. "Important, I hope."

"Yes, it is important," the Congressman answered. "I'm giving you a public relations job — but don't make a public that you and I are relations!"

Some days the only thing that comes off an axle is a tight button.

A census clerk in scanning over the form to see if it had been properly filled up, noticed the figures 120 and 112 under the headings, "Age of Father, if living," and "Age of Mother, if living."

"But your parents were never so old, were they?" asked the astonished clerk.
"No," was the reply, "but they would have been, if living."

A little flattery soon and then makes husband's out of single men.

Pauline: "I dreamed about you last night, big boy."
Sam: (Intensely interested) "Did I have any luck, baby?"

She walked onto the dance floor wearing a very low cut and during gown. In fact, it dated every man in the room.

"Lady, you have two very beautiful legs."

"How would you know?"
"I counted 'em."

A good turn is one that gets the blankets back on your side of the bed.

First little bird: "Who's the guy sitting on the bench below us?"
Second little bird: "He's the guy who fired buckshot at us yesterday."

First little bird: "Well, what are we waiting for?"

Sea legs: What many yachtsmen tie their binoculars for.

Gal: "I wonder what came over that nice looking boy I was with here on the terrace? He kissed me, turned pale, and just walked away."

Sal: "Maybe he saw me come out. I'm his wife."

BACK HOME... One of the Army's largest and most unusual vessels, the LST (Landing Ship, Tank) Page returns to Fort Rucker, Va., after more than seven years in Southeast Asia. Conceived by the Navy, but turned over to the Army for completion, the LST Page is termed a Beach discharge lighter and was designed for stern to stern marriages with special Navy ships and to transport cargo to unimproved beach sites.

Your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: March 5 to March 9

ARIES Mar. 21 - Apr. 19
Look for trouble, this week, and you'll be certain to find it. To begin with, your objective and someone else's will meet head on. In other words, stand by for a highly competitive period.

TAURUS Apr. 20 - May 20
Given a fair set of circumstances, most members of your sign will come out on top. Actually, you should be in the mood to succeed in all departments of life.

GEMINI May 21 - June 20
Apparently, a member of the opposite sex will yield to your whim. It's likely, very likely, that you'll be successful in affairs of the heart.

MEANWILE June 21 - July 21
Your hand rests on a lever. All you need do is — pull — and it's the jackpot! Meaning? You need only take advantage of a known opportunity.

LEO July 22 - Aug. 22
Watch it, Leo! You're centering everything around your ego; can't you see beyond your own existence. A member of the opposite sex is cooling for a staggering blow.

VIRGO Aug. 23 - Sept. 22
Self-deception seems to be in the general scheme of things. Actually, you're inclined to lie to yourself in order to justify your actions with the opposite sex.

LIBRA Sept. 23 - Oct. 22
Don't avoid your own personal problems by forgetting if this week, more than any other — it's simply impossible to do. Wanderlust could be a problem, this cosmic cycle.

SCORPIO Oct. 23 - Nov. 21
You might not be aware of it. But it's possible for you to terminate a friendship. How? Through an unguarded word or gesture.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 22 - Dec. 21
This week you nestled in a big chunk of luck. Actually, you can, and will, take chances which you would not dare, in the past.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22 - Jan. 19
Planning on mixing business with pleasure? Forget it! This week, more than any other — it's simply impossible to do. Wanderlust could be a problem, this cosmic cycle.

AQUARIUS Jan. 20 - Feb. 18
Don't rely on your, or someone else's, memory. Your chart shows a demand for facts and accurate data. So, tie up loose ends; straighten your records.

PISCES Feb. 19 - Mar. 20
Your chart, complicated and fuzzy, indicates that a trip, in one form or another, will improve your popularity incidentally, your financial status will improve.

For And About Teenagers

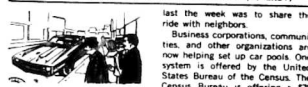

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I can truthfully say I've never written anyone about a problem I had. Well, I guess there's a first time for everything. I'm 17 years old, going on 18 soon. There's a guy who lives next door to me who is just a little shorter than me. I like him very much. When we get together to talk we always argue and never get anything done. All that happens is I get mad, which I think he likes. I think I made a mistake with this guy once. He asked me to come over 3 times and I refused for no reason at all. I guess I just wanted to be cool. I can't think of a way in which he might talk to me and eventually result in a date or a worthwhile relationship. Please tell me what to do.

OUR REPLY: Next time, try not to be so cool when he asks you to come over. Next time you talk to him, give in a little and don't let him get you into an argument. If you do get into an argument, take it light-heartedly and play along with his little games. Things just might start working out.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, write to FOR AND ABOUT TEEN, P.O. Box 1000, 1000 Main Street, Franklin, Ky. 40501.

The Era to 2,000 A.D.

last week used to share the ride with neighbors. Business corporations, communities, and other organizations are now helping set up car pools. One system is offered by the United States Bureau of the Census. The Census Bureau is offering a $70 programming tape to tell all kinds of computers in offices across the country how to sort out fellow riders into car pools. Each computer programmer the computer travelers have only to feed in where they live, where they work, and when they want to ride back and forth. Computer programmer is presented a read-out list of about 10 neighbors to telephone and work out car-pooling arrangements. "If only half the drivers now going to work by themselves would join car pools," says Virginia Krauer, director of the United States Office of Consumer Affairs. "We would have no gasoline or oil shortages."

Shrimp-Stuffed Mushrooms
Blanch, pat dry and remove stems from 1 1/2 pounds fresh mushrooms (save the stems for use in soups, stews, etc.). In a large skillet heat 4 tablespoons butter or margarine. Add mushroom caps and saute 5 minutes, turning occasionally. Remove mushrooms to baking pan, cap side up, set aside. In the same skillet saute 1/2 cup chopped onion or scallions. Add 1/2 cup (2 1/2 oz.) tiny shrimp, drained and diced, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1 hard cooked egg, finely chopped, 1 tablespoon prepared hot mustard, 1/4 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 1/8 teaspoon ground red pepper, mix well. Fill sauted mushroom caps with shrimp mixture. Bake in a preheated hot oven (450°F) 8 to 8 minutes. Serve hot. Yields approximately 30 stuffed mushrooms.

TO THIS PHONE... Mrs. Adron Doran, wife of the president of Morehead State University, helps end the world's longest continuous telephone call in this room in Nunn Hall on the MSU campus. On the other end of the line in Carmel Hall was President Duran. The call lasted 724 hours and was conducted for charity by members of Sigma Nu fraternity and Kappa Delta sorority. President and Mrs. Doran were asked to end the call because they had started it on Jan. 21.

Marathon Phone Call Concluded

The world's longest continuous telephone conversation has ended. Mrs. Adron Doran told his wife, Wignone, "I love you, too" at 4:07 p.m. on Wednesday to end a 724-hour conversation between Sigma Nu fraternity and Kappa Delta sorority. The Dorans started the marathon call at 12:07 p.m. on Jan. 21. The "Greek connection" broke the former world record of 691 hours and six minutes set in 1969 at Western Michigan University. Sixty-six students talked in one-hour shifts around the clock in the hook-up between Carmel Hall, a men's residence hall, and Nunn Hall, a women's residence hall. Proceeds collected from the "Phone-a-thon" will go to the Ruth Lyons Christmas Fund in Cincinnati which supplies toys and other items to children's wards in hospitals in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana.

From Wilma Silver, Marion N. C.: I remember when we walked over three miles to school and it was so cold our nostrils would freeze and our feet would feel frozen. Our feet would be so cold we were sure we could hardly walk.

We wore brogans, carried our dinner in a tin bucket with a light lid. We ate a baked sweet potato or cup of dried beans in the bottom, several big homemade biscuits filled with fried ham, sausage, scrambled eggs, jelly and butter. On top, tea cakes, fritters and dried apple or peach tarts.

The big boys would bring in bags to fill the bell-bottom slacks. Smaller boys went to the spring for buckets of water. The girls had certain days to sweep the floors during noon hours. Others played ball, steel sticks, hop skotch, tag and leap frog.

I also remember several strong switches stood in a corner — and teacher used them when necessary. Those were days to remember.

Microwave Ovens

Fast cooking microwave ovens are changing their way into more and more home kitchens. Although it's doubtful they will ever completely replace the standard oven, microwave ovens are useful if quick cooking is a must.

One disadvantage of some microwave ovens is that the food doesn't look "cooked"; the ovens don't brown foods. However, several manufacturers have brought out new models that have a browning element, so this problem may soon disappear.

A second disadvantage is that metal pans cannot be used; food must be cooked on paper, glass or earthenware so that electronic waves can pass through.

If you buy a microwave oven you will have to follow the manufacturer's instruction manual exactly to have satisfactory results. And always have it serviced by a qualified technician.

A microwave oven should not be operated when it is empty. And it's a good practice to size at least an arm's length from the front of the oven when it is in operation. This means that children should not be allowed to use the viewport to watch food cooking.

4-H Speech Event

The Annual 4-H Speech Event will be held Friday, March 1, at the Rowan County Public Library beginning at 7 p.m. All 4-Hers are urged to take part by giving a speech. County winners in the various age groups will represent Rowan County on the area level later this Spring. Public is invited.

Small Engines

The fifth meeting of the Small Engines Program will get underway Saturday, March 2, 10 a.m. Twenty members are enrolled in the program. Parents of members are welcome to visit the sessions.

Lesson On Spring Fashion Tips

Training for the Homemakers March lesson on "Spring Fashion Tips" and "Which Line for You?" will be given Friday, March 1, 1:30-3:30 p.m. in Kentucky Utilities Auditorium.

The lesson will be taught by Mrs. Lillian H. Rice, Extension Agent specializing in Clothing from Mason County.

Pepper Meeting

There will be a sign up meeting for those planning to grow peppers on Wednesday, March 13 at 7:30 p.m. at the Farm Bureau Building. Several acres are needed in order to have a receiving station in Morehead.

Gardens

A supply of the garden packets containing garden information still is on hand at the Extension Office in the courthouse.

Cattle Number Increase

According to the USDA report the nation's farmers and ranchers had 127.5 million cattle and calves in their herds on Jan. 1, 1974, up 5 percent from a year early. The inventory is the highest on record and is the 7th consecutive year of increase.

Tobacco Plant Beds

It will soon be time to seed tobacco beds and many farmers will be making a decision as to what variety to use. If you are using a variety that is doing a good job for you, stay with it. However, if there is a disease problem, you should use a disease resistant variety. Two of the most common and destructive diseases are Black Shank and Black Root Rot. If you suspect either of these, come in and we will discuss these problems with you.

Plant beds should be seeded about 60 days before they are ready to transplant. For a bed 9 feet wide and 100 feet long use two leveled off teaspoons full of seed; for 12 feet wide and 100 feet long use 2 1/2 teaspoons full of seed. Fertilize with 30 to 50 pounds of a complete fertilizer at seeding time. Half of LTD: A solid, well-made family car that delivers family car gas mileage.

18.8 miles per gallon average.

Gas mileage is a big consideration today. That's why it's nice to know the family-size Ford LTD gives you surprising gas mileage. Independent, strictly on the up-and-up test results show Ford LTD averaged 18.8 miles per gallon. Check the facts on the quiet LTD:

Professional Driver #1	20.3
Professional Driver #2	17.4
Housewife #1	20.2
Housewife #2	16.3
Hugh Downs	18.7

On December 28, 1973, low production line Ford LTD 4-door piloted hardtops equipped with 351 CID V-8 engines were driven from Phoenix to Los Angeles. The Fords were driven by three non-professional and two professional drivers at speeds not exceeding 50 mph.

The five-car gas mileage average: 18.8 mpg. One experienced economy driver averaged 20.3 mpg, and a housewife from Scottsdale, Arizona, averaged 20.2 mpg.

Of course, you may not get the same results because mileage depends on lots of things... maintenance, driving habits, total weight, road and driving conditions.

Stop by your local Ford Dealer! Reason: He'll show you a wide selection of family-size Fords that are right for the times and your family.
