Arthur Hogge, Political Head In Rowan, Dies

Funeral Services Conducted Today From Residence

Funeral rites for Arthur Hogge, 63, who was a leading political figure in Rowan County for 35 years, were conducted this afternoon (Thursday) from the home on Second street. Burial was in the Lee cemetery.

Judge Hogge died Tuesday in a Lexington hospital, after being in poor health for some time. He became seriously ill last Friday evening and was rushed to the hospital, where he remained in a coma most of the time until he died.

Since 1910 there is perhaps no Rowan County man who took as active a part in politics as did Judge Hogge. He was a leader in the Democratic party, and it was often said of him that he could call every person in Rowan County by name. He was prominent on every road and possibly in every house in the county, but as his health failed him the last few years he became less active, but none the less interested in politics. At the time of his death he was Master Commissioner, having held that appointive office for the last five years.

His first public office was that of deputy sheriff from 1909 to 1913. Following the knock of a political campaign, and with a good record as a deputy, he was elected sheriff in 1913, when he was 34 years old. He held that office for four years, then ran for County Judge and was elected, serving until 1922.

From this he turned to a job as Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds in the State Teachers College, and later served that school in other capacities. He was active, however, in practically every political party and was recognized as a powerful "vote-getter."

Judge Hogge, the son of Squire and Marion Arnold Hogge, was born at Elizabethtown in this county on September 2, 1879. On December 31, 1902, he married Mary Caudill.

Three children survive. They are Carl Hogge of Oklahoma City, who is now in the Coast Guard, being stationed at Long Beach, California; Sadie Fidelity Flood of Morehead; and Mrs. Arthur DeAtley of Denver, Colorado.

Three children preceded him in death. They were Murvel, who died in 1937; Marjorie, who died in 1934; and Raymond who died in 1917.

He also leaves for brothers, J. W. Hogge, Lester Hogge, Van Hogge; a sister, Mrs. D. M. Holbrook of Morehead, and eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. James Wade, Pastor of the Church of God, and Rev. Charles E. Dietz, Pastor of the Christian Church. Arrangements were handled by the Lane Funeral Home.

Active casket bearers at the funeral were: Glenn Lane, Claude Clayton, Bill Sample, Lindsay Caudill, Robert Day and Dave H. Goodwin.

Honorary bearers included: Fred Caudill, H. C. Hagan, Roy Corneille, Harlan Blair, William Johnson, Marshall Martin, Robert Bishop, B. F. Penix, Alvin Caudill, Cecil Fraley, Frank Havens, Russell Becker, S. M. Caudill, Dr. O. M. Lyon, Harlan Powers, W. C. Lappin, John W. Holbrook, Hartley Batson and Marvin Wilson.

Many Dogs Are Carrying Rabies, Physician States

A further warning order that mad dogs are running at large in Rowan County was issued today by Dr. T. A. E. Evans, County Health Doctor.

Dr. Evans said that his office was treating several people bitten by dogs which showed positive signs of rabies. Three dogs were killed in Clearfield last week.

The Health Department has issued an order that stray dogs should be shot.

Lights Go On Again As Blackout Restrictions Lifted

Neon signs flashed on and show windows in Morehead stores resumed their old brilliance Tuesday evening as the Kentucky Utilities Company notified all customers that the brown-out was officially lifted on V-E day.

Many merchants had had their outside lights and signs off for so long that they said it seemed unnatural to again turn them on. In fact, many neon signs in Morehead are still off.

Frank R. Maxey, local manager of The Kentucky Utilities, announced that there was not a violation of the "brown-out" in Morehead and that everyone accepted it in a "good spirit of cooperation."

Actually, the "brown-out" in Morehead did not help the war effort, since Kentucky Utilities does not use coal in manufacturing power, all of the local current coming from the Dix River Dam. The company had an ample supply of current, but complied with the Federal order. There was an isolated case in the nation.

War Manpower Commissioner Francis V. Young, announced that the horse-racing ban would be lifted effective at midnight Wednesday, and told reporters that the midnight curfew was now over. He indicated there might be more gasoline for civilian motorists within a short time, but said the food situation would not lighten any. The transportation ban will remain in force indefinitely.

The lifting of the horse-racing restriction comes at a time when A. B. ("Happy") Chandler, newly appointed baseball czar is receiving nationwide publicity and considerable criticism over his announcement that baseball players would be banned from tracks. Chandler's statement came as a surprise to many who have known him as a friend of the horseman, and while Governor, occupied a box at the Kentucky track almost daily.

The Kentucky Derby will likely be run on either June 2 or June 3.

Brown-Out Brought Unthought Publicity To Morehead

Morehead received nationwide publicity because of the brown-out.

It all happened when the major news services carried a story that Warren Shafer was planning on hanging kerossene lanterns in front of his two theaters here—The Trail and Mills—to provide more light than the 40 watts he was allowed, would give.

The story was prominently headed in all newspapers, and was widely overdone. It brought a new decision from the OPA in Washington that they wouldn't allow any coupons for the kerossene, and set a order from the state fire marshal that he would stop anyone from hanging lanterns.

Mr. Shafer didn't see the lanterns, but he gained publicity that a public relations executive in Hollywood would have given 10 years of his life for.

Light Docket Scheduled In Circuit Court

Gastineau, Johnson Slated To Be Tried In Murder Cases

A light docket, with the exception of two murder cases, both carried over from the March term, is scheduled for the May term of Rowan Circuit Court which convenes here Monday, May 21.

On the third day of the term Ed Johnson is slated to face trial for the alleged slaying of a neighbor, Harvey Weikert. The murder happened near the Elliott County line. This trial was being held during the last term when W. C. H. Hamilton, the defense counsel, suffered a stroke and died.

Ray Gastineau is scheduled to be tried on the seventh day of the New Year's slaying of Delmore Curtis in West Morehead. Curtis was allegedly killed after the Gastineaus and their companions had been on an all-night New Year's celebration party.

Frank Gibson is charged in an indictment with shooting and wounding Sherman Shumate. This is to be tried the fifth day.

No cases of major importance, have developed since the March term.

Rev. Murphy To Preach Sunday At Hayes Crossing

Reverend Merlin Murphy will deliver the sermon at the services to be held Sunday, May 12, at the Church of the Nazarene at Hayes Crossing. Sunday Day prayers will be offered in accordance with the proclamation of President Truman.

Harry Caudill Gets Furlough After Almost Five Years In Service

Harry Caudill, who holds a T/5 rating, returned Tuesday to Morehead for his first furlough in four years and eight months service in the army.

He entered the service in September, 1941, and has spent over two years in Iceland. From December, 1943, until January, 1945, he has been in Europe participating in the invasions of France, Belgium and Germany.

It is thought that Caudill's record of not having a furlough, and not being in his home town for nearly five years sets a record for Rowan County.

He will be in Morehead for 45 days after which he will report to Aterbury, Indiana, for further assignment.

4 Democrats Announce For County Offices

Although Republican candidates for office in Rowan County continue scarce this week there was no let-up in Democratic announcements as four members of that party pitched their hats in the ring.

Bill McClain of Farmers and Morehead, announced that he would be a candidate for County Clerk.

Henry Cox has officially declared his intention of seeking the County Judge's office. Tom Hogge entered the battle for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff, which is to date the most hotly contested race in the county, and B. Blank became a candidate for the Democratic nod to be Representative from the Rowan and Bath County districts.

Under long standing agreement among Democratic leaders in Bath and Rowan Counties, each takes about in electing a Representative. However, the Republicans upset their apple cart two years ago by electing their man.

SHORT CIRCUIT CAUSES SOUNDING OF FIRE ALARM

A short circuit in the fire alarm closed the city hall in Morehead and caused it to sound for several minutes at 11:00 o'clock Thursday morning. Intermittent alarms from the siren sounded throughout the day as electricians repaired the fault.

The program opened with a band prelude under the direction of Marvin E. George. The audience then sang the first and fourth stanzas of the Star Spangled Banner.

The program was followed with a devotional period with scripture reading by Reverend Charles E. Dietz, and Paul Peiffer, who has been discharged after service with the Navy in World War 2. They spoke briefly. Moreheadians then sang "America" and Reverend Gabriel Banks delivered an address in which he urged that we receive the good news in a spirit of thankfulness and not relax in our efforts toward our ultimate victory over the World's tyrants.

Perhaps the most dramatic part of the program was a minute of silent prayer for these Rowan Countians who would never return, ending with the sounding of "Taps." The benediction was pronounced by Reverend James G. Wade, pastor of the Church of God.

Methodists Plan V-E Observance This Sunday

The President of the United States has proclaimed Sunday, May 13, as a day of prayer in all of the churches of the country. In accordance with that proclamation the evening service of the Methodist Church will be devoted to thanksgiving and prayer. Fighting has ceased in one area of the world, but much remains to be done. For proper perspective and for power we need the guidance of God's Spirit. Let us all unite with our President in praying on May 13 for high and noble purposes to guide us in the days that lie ahead. Everyone is cordially invited to worship in the Methodist Church. The service will be held at 7:30 p.m.

Two City Youths Hurt Slightly In Accident

Buddy Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Kenney and Randy Bertram, son of Mrs. Corrine Dugan, suffered bruises Sunday afternoon when the bicyclists they were riding crashed into the rear end of an automobile, driven by Denny McKinney. The accident happened near the Semf Natatorium.

Young Kenney lost two teeth in the accident.

Fighting Ends in Europe—Power Wins

NAZI OVERLORDS AT HEIGHT OF THEIR POWER

Hitler and his "supremen" with all their stuffed-shirt pomp and acrobatics. Their promise to rule the world has ended in defeat and annihilation. Arrogant and ruthless, here, at the height of their power, they have brought only misery and suffering to the German people, as well as to those they sought to conquer and destroy.

NAZI "SUPERMEN" AS THEY ARE TODAY

FRANCE — Lucky to be prisoners, Hitler's fanatics met their masters when they ran up against well-trained, well-equipped American and Allied troops. Two youngsters in the foreground gave their age as eighteen but were judged to be about 14 years old. Grizzled German veterans, behind them, had been in the war for many years. Many scraped the bottom of mustard barrel. Nazi equipment, too, deteriorated — proved no match for American power.

1918 ARMISTICE CELEBRATION

NEW YORK—Flags, people and cars filled Fifth Avenue that November day and similar scenes were repeated throughout the nation at the announcement of the end of fighting in Europe. But this celebration was tinged with anxious thoughts of the boys and the battles-to-come in the Pacific—until the day of total victory.

TANKS HELP WIN PLANES—IMPORTANT FACTOR

As Germany's power decreased, the Allied Nations' increased. Power to win came from well-trained, strong men and from America's mighty fleet of tanks and other motorized equipment. Much of it powered with D-500 engines, serving agriculture and industry as well as our armed forces.

Our superiority of Aerial observation directed the attacks of our victorious armies. These planes, as well as trainers and many fighters,

The ablest men in all the walks of modern life are men of faith. Most of them have much more faith than they themselves realize.

The mounting casualty lists and the inconceivable size of our national debt are tragic tokens of the cost to America of our custom of getting ready for war only after hostilities commence. Our national armed forces, though it did, by holding its military, naval forces to bare skeletons during the peace years between 1919 and 1941. Funds for training purposes were so strictly limited that even the tiny Army and Navy had to count the number of bullets allotted for target practice.

INSURANCE AGAINST WAR

The American Legion protested against such national folly from the very beginning. It is now spending $1,000,000 in Congress legislation to avoid repetition of our mistakes by establishing a system of peacetime universal military training.

Enactment of this legislation will provide America with effective and low cost insurance both against war itself and against the unconscionable costs imposed by our traditional armament of the enemy at the gates.

With this law on the books, the United States can approach the peace table with assurance that the American viewpoint will be our shoulder to the arm of the Versailles. The universal military training law will be proof of American intentions to continue as an active and responsible participant in world affairs.

The American Legion legislation is known as the Carney-May Bill. It has the wholehearted endorsement of the local post of the American Legion, of the department organization, and the national American Legion.

IN THE SPIRIT OF UNITY

to which we call attention. More head people may, in the future, point with pride that there was not a single violation of the brown-out regulations in our community. Just as you have been so generous and unselfish in the past in supporting every war effort, you accepted war "brown out" without complaint, and in the spirit of good and freedom-loving Americans.

These are nice words, and are not idly spoken, because Morehead and Rowan County has never been found wanting since this war started. You accepted war "brown out" without complaint, and in the spirit of good and freedom-loving Americans.

The real praise, however, is this instance, should go to Kentucky Utilities. They met the brown-out regulations with good and patriotic cooperation, when, unlike much of the electrical producing plants of the nation, they had excess current to sell. The brown-out cost them revenue, and actually resulted in no extra diversion of current to war production plants.

FARMER MEMBERS NEEDED

If you believe in the conservation and propagation of the wild-life in this section of Kentucky, if you are a good sportsman—we urge you to join the rejuvenated Licking Valley Fish and Game Club.

THE NEED FOR ACTION NOW

America's 2,400,000 miles of secondary or farm-to-market roads have long been the Cinderella of our federal highway support. While her handsome sisters, the broad trunk lines that span the continent and the state highways that link the great centers of population, have had their respective government funds for their improvement and extension, the country road has waited in the dust and mud for a Prince Charming to come along.

Now as in the nursery tale, things are going to be different, and the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1944 is in the role of the Fairy Godmother. For the first time in history, Congress takes cognizance of the roads which serve 6,000,000 farms and out of the $500,000,000 a year authorized for the first three post-war years, it allocates $150,000,000 for secondary highways.

It is provided in this act that the funds authorized are to be matched dollar-for-dollar by the states and their political subdivisions which means of course, the counties. At long last, the long-neglected country roads in the picture, but it does not follow that everything is smooth sailing from this point on.

Kentucky must match money for participation in the federal grant. As has been pointed out, the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1944 makes it the duty of the farmer that any previous legislation had undertaken in the farm-to-market roads, including municipalities and allowing funds for the purchase of rights-of-way. It is almost unthinkable that any state would neglect this opportunity, but Kentucky has been known to err through delay, stagnation or opposition. What will Kentucky do about it? The answer lies with Governor Willis and our State Legislature.

Kentucky elects all its members of the House of Representatives and one-third of its Senators this year. The farmer who has been unable to drive his automobile or truck into town without danger of being bogged down, should make a strong demand that his candidate support legislation that will provide for such funds under the Federal Highway Act.

WHAT ABOUT PROSPERITY?

Can we have prosperity when peace comes? Are we planning for the impossible? What will be the outcome? Will peoples of nations revert to selfish ambitions when the guns finally cease? A warning note was sounded from the State Department recently in these lines: "Peace does not become impossible if it is not dragged down by its twin, economic isolationism."

If we remember that the recovery and the welfare of our neighbors is a necessary factor in rebuilding our own prosperity, then we may get our sights on one of the targets of the Atlantic Charter. We may see freedom from want gradually spreading over widening social and national groups. To achieve that is both the duty and the desire of all of us, but none of us can achieve it alone. As President Truman said in his first speech in office: "We have learned to fight with our nations for our mutual good." With divine guidance and help, we will see the world become a better world, a kindly and friendly world, with just and lasting peace.

to have to concede—to concede, mind you, not to appease—to work together. We can have prosperity but we will have to want it and work for it—as wholeheartedly and with the selfless devotion to its cause that we have demonstrated in

IT HAPPENED IN MOREHEAD

A Good Public Servant: Steven C. Rice, a genial, likeable and efficient Collector of Internal Revenue, who has been stationed in Morehead for fourteen months, has resigned to enter the office of the Circuit Judge of the 23rd Judicial District. Mr. Rice's address hereafter will be Irvine, Kentucky.

Mr. Rice made friends in Rowan County, and his resignation is a loss to the community. He was a conscientious public servant and a good neighbor and helpful friend.

Politics Won't Be the Same: Rowan County politics just won't be the same for Democrats and Republicans now that Arthur Hogge has passed on. Judge Hogge was never too busy to engage in a political campaign.

Another Real Estate Deal: One of Morehead's most valuable pieces of property was sold last week on July 1.

It Happened This Way: As most of you know, the Main Street, Morehead and all U. S. Highways running through cities of this class, are maintained by the state, rather than the municipalities.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION: Recently there has appeared in various sources a considerable amount of material advocating additional emphasis on vocational education in our high schools.

time of war. The majority of men, it is complained, have developed a stooping posture. But stooping over a bench or desk regularly helps one to support his family.

The responsibility of the school is these instances is to develop the proper work attitudes and the abilities necessary to conduct one's self as a worthwhile contributing member of society. This position does not reduce the task of the school. Neither does it argue that major changes are not needed in the high school program.

Education Of Returned Vets Planned

Maladjustment Idea Is 'Poppycock': (Associated Collegen Press) NEW YORK, (ACP)—The belief that the American fighting men will return to the civilian world with warped values and a neurotic personality is "pretentious poppycock," Frank H. Bowles, director of admissions of Columbia University, asserts in a report to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of the University.

Such of the current planning for returning veterans appears to be based on theories that the returning servicemen will have attitudes which will require special treatment. Mr. Bowles points out: "We are told," he continues, "that we must plan to deal with millions of men whose values have been completely altered and that we must make radical adjustments if we are to be able to offer anything which will be of educational interest to the war veterans." We have received somber warnings of the tremendous numbers of men who by reason of the war have become neurotic personalities.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION: Recently there has appeared in various sources a considerable amount of material advocating additional emphasis on vocational education in our high schools. Much of what has been said has been good, but does not follow that the solution is to be found in making them distinctly vocational schools now.

Certain factors operate to support the position. Pre-employment programs, to be effective, should be so organized that the individual taking the training is employable at the close of the training period.

Again, many pre-employment programs are so specialized that the practical way of presenting them is through training in the field. This work is of the short, intensive type which is best given by the industry concerned.

High schools are concerned to do this work and the industries involved would rather train their own employees.

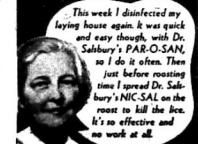

We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands, ONE NATION, indivisible with liberty and justice for all.

MRS. VENCIL RECEIVES LETTER FROM SON'S COMMANDING OFFICER

The following letter is one received by Mrs. Roy Vencil from the commanding officer of the ship on which her son, Glenn W.

This week I disinfect my living house again. It was quick and easy though, with Dr. Salisbury's PAR-O-SAN, so I do it often. Then just before receiving news I spread Dr. Salisbury's NIC-SAL on the roof to kill the lice. It's so effective and no work at all.

SANITATION COMES FIRST IN POULTRY CARE. C. E. BISHOP DRUG CO. ESTABLISHED 1896

Vencil is serving. April 19, 1945 Dear Mrs. Vencil: I have the good fortune to be the commanding officer of the ship on which your son serves as First Lieutenant. He has been doing such exceptionally fine work and contributing so much to the proper operation of the ship, that I asked him if I couldn't let some member of his family know what he was doing so that they might take the pride in it which they justly should. He told me that you would be pleased to receive such a letter. Let me say that on the basis of the work he has done on this ship he should certainly go far in his naval career. One particular piece of work he accomplished in connection with the subject of a complimentary dispatch from our group commander. He is in good health and I am sure from the kind of work he likes the navy. Sincerely yours, Eban A. Hitchcock, Lt.-Comdr. U. S. N. R.

Lt. Vencil has served in the Navy for the past seven years. He has been on the L. S. F. (Landing Ship Tank) since last October, before assigned shortly after a leave spent with his parents. He is the only man on the ship who has ever seen sea duty. Mrs. Vencil was not aware of her son's promotion to lieutenant, until she received the letter from his superior officer. He has written her that he expects to get another promotion soon and will then be sent back to the states and will probably be assigned to a ship of his own.

He entered the Stark General Hospital at Charleston, South Carolina, prior to being transferred to another army hospital for definite treatment. Staff Sergeant Butcher has served in the European theater of operations for the past seven months.

In the initial stage of the bridgehead across the Mosell River near Toul, France, on September 7, 1944, the ammunition supply became critical because all bridges had been destroyed. T/Sgt. Gulley, a member of the battalion ammunition and pioneer platoon, voluntarily loaded his vehicle with ammunition and, despite heavy enemy fire on the crossing sight, replaced the truck on pontoons and crossed the river to supply the embattled troops. His courage and initiative prevented the loss of the position and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the armed forces of the United States.

"We were on the banks of the Plum River when I got in the way of a piece of shrapnel," said Pvt. Tackett. "It was almost midnight and we were attacking. LT. BOGESS GRADUATES AFTER RECONDITIONING

Among the graduates of the Educational and Physical Reconditioning courses at the School for Personal Services, Lexington, Virginia, this week was First Lieutenant Mary Olive Bogess. The term "Reconditioning" as used by the Supreme General, denotes those activities beyond the scope of the usual medical and surgical treatment carried on in Army Service Forces station, regional, general and convalescent hospitals to prepare our sick and wounded soldiers for return to duty or to civilian life.

Through Physical Reconditioning, the patient is given exercises to bring about a speedy recovery of the injured parts of his body. The next step is occupational therapy, which provides work for muscles grown flabby through inactivity and at the same time, shows him that he is able to do a lot of things he didn't expect he could. Educational Reconditioning seeks to stimulate the mind of the patient to an aggressive acceptance of his own responsibilities toward his convalescence. The mental deterioration that accompanies hospitalization is compensated for by a planned program of guidance, orientation, military education, elective education and recreation in the form of handicrafts and entertainment. Every attempt is made to restore his self-confidence by practice in the business of living.

Lt. Bogess, by virtue of her graduation, is qualified to fill a key position in the Reconditioning Program in one of the many army hospitals. She has already been assigned to a ship and had started on her first trip overseas. Lt. Bogess is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bogess of Olive Hill and the sister of Mrs. Paul Combs of this city.

"I'm particular who I do business with"

"I KNOW there are a few merchants who think it's smart and profitable to buy things as cheap as possible and ask no questions. Just as there are individuals who jump at the bait when some slicker says: 'I can get it for you wholesale.' Well, I'm different, I guess. I'm particular who I do business with. "For one thing, I aim to stay in business a long time. When I get too old, I want the business to be there for Sam, Jr., to take over. He's pretty busy right now killing Japs. Mother and I can only hope our prayers that he comes back alive will be answered — just like millions of other American parents. "Bargain Rates" Are Phony "I like to do business with reputable firms and sell advertised products. Not just so my friend Bill can keep giving us a good home town newspaper, but also because that way both my customers and my store are protected. That's what I call honest merchandising. "The other day a fellow came into the store and remarked: 'You merchants in Jonesville ought to tie this town in with the TVA and get your light bills cut. It doesn't mean much to the average home owner, of course, but you business men get a ride on the gravy train. After all, you don't care whether TVA pays taxes, do you?' "I guess I surprised him when I told him what I thought about government in business. I don't like it. I happen to know that TVA's bargain rates are phony, whatever the politicians who run it claim. And I know how I would feel if some tax-dodging outfit set up in my line of business across the street and started to undersell me. If the government can run the power companies out of business that way, it can run anybody out of business. No Hand-Outs, Please "Maybe it's hard for some people to turn down a bargain, regardless of whether it's a product of fair competition or a government subsidy. When it comes to electricity, I'll stick with business management just as I would in buying any other commodity. Maybe we can stop some of this monkey business with the taxpayers' funds if we let the spending crowd know how we feel about it. "Anyway, just like I said in the beginning, I'm particular who I do business with. And I don't want any handouts from TVA or any other government agency, whether they're rebates or special rates or whatever. Regulation, sure. But no government competition, if you please, with my tax dollars making up the losses."

WAR ENDS IN EUROPE
GERMANY COLLAPSES

ONE DOWN... ONE TO GO!

So—let's not let up until FULL Victory

Who can blame Americans for going half mad with joy as Hitler's cruel war machine is smashed into the dust! For all who have fought and worked and suffered grievous loss, this hour of triumph is deserved.

But our men are still fighting and dying out there in the Pacific. If we let down now, we'll be letting them down!

Let's stick to our war jobs until Uncle Sam says, "Well done—you can relax!"

Let's buy extra War Bonds—they will be needed now, more than ever.

Let's use trans-ortation wisely. Greyhound would like to offer unlimited pleasure travel right away—today—but carrying war manpower is still its most urgent task. You may be sure that Greyhound will lead the field with fine new equipment, new comfort features, new carefree tours just as soon as war requirements will permit.

But now—let's finish the job!

Haldeman Seniors To Present Play Friday, May 13

The seniors of Haldeman High School will present Spooky Tavern on Friday evening, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. "Spooky Tavern" is a mystery farce, in three acts by Jay Tobies. When Joyce Wingate brings her younger sister, Florabel, and her colored mammy, Bedelia, out to a gloomy old Mill Tavern on a stormy evening with a view of buying it and rechristening it "Spooky Tavern," she starts something. She is followed by two college mates who are rivals for her affections and by a timorous and stuttering freshman, who has been sent here to spend the night as a part of his fraternity initiation. Here the hard-faced master of the tavern and his crafty sister do all they can to scare the young people away, from scattering bloody hatchets about the premises to binding and gagging Joyce and the terrified freshman. Here a ghost woman, presumably the spirit of a murderer, prowls about, uttering blood-curdling screams. Here occurs the rendezvous of two leaders of a narcotics-stealing gang and a dope-peddling college student, with a detective from a federal narcotic service on their trail. Excitement is piled upon excitement with a lavish sprinkling of laughs evoked by the nervous tremors of the superstitious Bedelia and the ghost-ridden freshman. The grand climax of this breathless melodrama is a masterpiece in surprise, bound to delight any audience that likes its mystery snappy and funny. The cast of characters follow: Lon Hacker, the owner of Spooky Tavern, Clarence Caudill, Ghost Woman, who haunts the tavern, Juanita Brown; Lucy Hacker, a spiritualistic medium; Beatrice Hall; Joyce Wingate, a resourceful college student; Aileen Gregory; Florabel Wingate, her younger sister; Martellia Hall; Bedelia, the two-colored colored mammy; Dell Hall; Ralph Channing, a senior in love with Joyce; Ralph Roberts, Terry Tanner.

Hoop Fishing Nets Legalized

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 10.—The Advisory Commission of the Division of Game and Fish has voted to legalize commercial fishing with legal hoop nets and legal seines and trawl lines during the month of May in the navigable streams but not above the last lock and dam up the stream. All navigable streams were already opened to pole and line fishing, but not above the last lock and dam up the stream. Among the "navigable" streams in the state are the Kentucky, the Ohio, the Green, and its two tributaries—the Barren and the Rough; the Cumberland; the Tennessee; the Big Sandy and its two tributaries—the Levisa Fork and the Tug Fork. The four tributaries that are mentioned above are open to fishing below the locks and dams that have been placed some distance from where they flow into the larger streams.

Select Chairman Of Cancer Drive

(CONTINUED FROM FRONT PAGE) erculosis, malaria, scarlet fever and other 165,000 Americans. If the present cancer death rate is not checked, 17,000,000 Americans—many of them now walking the streets of our own community—are going to die of this disease. Mrs. Alfrey pointed out that eminent doctors are agreed that with present-day medical knowledge it is possible to save at least one-third, maybe one-half, of those people doomed to die of cancer. "We can save the lives of millions of Americans now dying needlessly," by giving our active support to the drive of the American Cancer Society. Our contributors will mean more information centers and detection clinics, better care for cancer patients, forward its program of research and education. A gift to the cancer campaign helps to save millions of lives, now and in the future." If you would like to give a donation to the cause get in touch with Mabel Alfrey.

Mauk Pledges Support For Tax Decrease

A reduction in real estate taxes, which is considered unnecessary to operate the state on a sound financial basis, is one of the principal planks in the platform of John B. Mauk, chairman of the state fish and game commission. Mauk, who has his hat in the ring for State Representative from Bath and Rowan Counties. Mr. Mauk is a Democrat.

Mr. Mauk said that the state administration is levying taxes on property without rhyme or reason, when the money is not actually needed, and new taxes are being raised through a more equitable and just tax.

Other features in Mr. Mauk's platform are: to increase in old school teachers, who he termed as grossly discriminated against; a sound plan for improvement of roads, principally secondary and farm-to-market roads; and permission for each farmer to own a dog, for which he is responsible, tax free.

Mr. Mauk has been a resident of Rowan County 24 years. He was born and reared in Elliott County. "I have always been a staunch Democrat, and have voted that ticket all my life," Mr. Mauk said. "Mr. Mauk stated that if nominated and elected he will serve the people of Rowan and Bath Counties to the best of his ability, and will render a sober and honest service to his constituents."

Yard Goods Prices Changed

To replenish dwindling stocks of yard goods in the small retail stores of the country, the OPA has increased the prices that converters may charge in selling these goods to wholesalers.

Many retailers, particularly in small towns, rely almost entirely upon wholesalers to supply them with yard goods. Wholesalers have been unable to obtain enough of these goods to meet retailers and consumer demand, OPA explained, because other purchasers have been permitted to pay converters higher prices.

The action, effective May 7, 1945, removes this obstacle and helps to return yard goods through wholesale channels to the counters of small retail stores.

Fishing Luck In Kentucky Reported Good

FRANKFORT, Ky., May 10.—"Fishin' Luck" seems to be good in every section of the state, it reports received by officials of the Division of Game and Fish can be true.

Anglers who have tried the waters of Herington Lake and Dale Hollow report nice catches of bluegills and of large-mouth bass. This success is particularly true of Dale Hollow fishing where many "Kentucky fish" have been taken on artificial bait.

Dale Hollow Lake has been formed by the construction of a dam in Tennessee and backs water up to Kentucky. It was built by the U. S. Engineers and is said to be four times larger than Norris Lake. There is a total of 85 miles of shoreline in Kentucky. The lake can be reached from Albany—Clinton County. It is only five miles from the town of the lake.

One point in Kentucky, the lake is 3 miles wide. "With most of the public waters being closed to fishing during the month of May, fishermen are reminded that they can fish in the "Navigable" streams and in Herington Lake and the Dale Hollow Lake.

"AT YOUR SERVICE"

INFORMATION ON G-I MATTERS

Below are Questions and Answers on G-I Matters furnishing such information many desire.

Question: I had served six months and was given an honorable discharge under the "over-age" ruling to accept employment in an essential industry. Do I have the privilege of requesting medical service at any time the need arises?

Answer: Yes, but you will have to have prior approval of the Veterans' Administration before you will be accepted. You can not just go to a government hospital and demand that they accept you.

Question: My son in the South Pacific wishes to make an allotment to me. What is the procedure in a case like this?

Answer: If by allotment you refer to a family allowance, your son simply requests the Finance Officer at his post, camp or station overseas to deduct $22 each month from his service pay as his contribution towards your family allowance. Soon thereafter you would receive an application form which you must fill out to attest that you are dependent upon your son at least for substantial support. If approved, you would get the family allowance as long as he consents to the pay deduction and you remain otherwise eligible. If you refer to a voluntary Class E allotment of pay, your son need only request the Finance Officer to send you each month a specific sum, through the Office of Dependency Benefits.

Question: Can a parent of a serviceman serving overseas and now receiving a Class B family allowance have it changed to a Class B-1 without his knowledge?

Answer: Yes, the parent need only file "Change of Status" forms with the appropriate authority and if the claim is substantiated by acceptable proof, it will be granted without any notice to the serviceman.

Question: What army is my son with? He is A. T. Co. 331st Infantry Regiment.

Answer: The 83rd division commanded by Maj.-Gen. Robert C. Macon which is part of the Ninth Army under command of Lieutenant-General William H. Simpson.

Question: I am expecting a baby in June and have made all the arrangements for government care. How long am I entitled to stay in the hospital?

Answer: Whatever period of time is necessary. The hospital will doubtless have a policy regarding this. In hospitals in crowded areas patients are discharged, if recovery is normal, in a shorter period of time than usual.

Question: May a serviceman who has been in the service for a year file for a family allowance to be paid to a person who is not dependent upon him? If so, can he file for more than one person?

Answer: Only the wife and children need not be dependent upon him to be eligible for the family allowance. Parents, brothers and sisters may be dependent upon the serviceman at least for substantial support to be eligible. The man can, of course, make a Class E voluntary allotment of pay (as distinguished from a family allowance), to be paid to persons or institutions—such as banks, insurance companies, etc.—but only the family allowance can be entirely from the serviceman's pay.

Question: What does the following mean on an honorable discharge Sec VIII AR 615-360 and 1st Ind. Hq. 48222 unit, Eighth? I have heard that the man could not adapt himself to military life, but his character and conduct were very good while in the service.

Answer: The man was discharged for one of the following reasons: inaptness, lack of required degree of adaptability, or enuresis. There is nothing wrong with the discharge. It is honorable and entitles the serviceman to the benefits of the GI Bill of Rights. It could be that the man could not adapt himself to military life, but his character and conduct were very good while in the service.

Question: If a soldier has his insurance made out to his mother as the beneficiary and later has it changed to his wife after the marriage, does the wife receive the policy?

Answer: No policies are being written up and sent to servicemen or their families during time of war. If the serviceman requests that the beneficiary be notified that she (he) is the beneficiary then the Veterans' Administration will forward a certificate of insurance to the person designated. They will not send the certificate unless a request is made by the insured in writing.

Question: A friend wrote me just before going into combat on two Jim, but I have heard nothing from him or about him since. My return address is in all the letters. Is there any way I can find out if he is all right? I don't know any of his relatives or friends.

Answer: If mail is for any reason nondeliverable, it will be returned to the sender with the reason. A non-delivery stamped envelope. You may contact the local Red Cross chapter and ask them to request their national headquarters to check on the serviceman's status.

Question: I'm waiting my call for the marine corps reserve. I have completed ten years. In school, is there any chance of receiving a high school education, and if so, would I receive a diploma or certificate?

Answer: The marine corps participates in the navy college training program as a component part of the navy. The curriculum for medical students follows that of the navy for the first two sixteen weeks' semesters of college work. Thereafter it allows a wide choice of subject to be studied in preparation for further training in marine corps officer candidate school. The marine corps institute of correspondence courses is open to all marines who desire to enroll for high school courses. Through in-service academic educational program, planned in co-operation with civilian schools and the military services, it is possible for any serviceman or woman to receive a high school diploma or certificate, while on active duty.

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION

(From the Office of the U. S. Employment Service)

Basic provisions of the Vocational Rehabilitation program of the Veterans' Administration:

Eligibility for vocational rehabilitation is restricted to those veterans who can meet the following three requirements:

- 1. Active service in the armed forces on or after September 16, 1940 and prior to the termination of this war.
2. Discharged from the armed forces under conditions other than dishonorable.
3. Have a disability incurred in or aggravated by such service for which pension is payable under laws administered by the Veterans' Administration, or would be but for the receipt of retirement pay, and be in need of vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of such disability.

The purpose of vocational rehabilitation is to restore the employability which has been lost by virtue of a handicap due to a disability incurred in or aggravated by service.

Maintenance and support during training. During training and for two months after employability has been established or determined, maintenance and support will be provided through increased pension. A single person will receive a pension at the rate of $92 per month, a married person at the rate of $103.50 per month, with $8.75 a month for each dependent child and an additional allotment in the amount of $11.50 a month for each dependent parent.

The filing of application for pension, when Veterans' Administration Form No. 228 is filled out and submitted to the Veterans Administration, Lexington, Kentucky, the presence or absence of a pensionable disability producing a vocational handicap will be determined. If a vocational handicap is found to be present, the veteran may be made for vocational training.

The handicapped veteran who qualifies under this law has the opportunity to overcome his handicap. For your own happiness and your adjustment to civilian life you cannot afford to overlook this opportunity to do so without only jeopardize your future, but the welfare of your family and your community. The man who is employed in the job he can and wants to perform is the man who writes his own ticket to personal satisfaction and the realization of our democratic ideals.

COOKED A FINE DINNER. THEN THE NEW HIT TO DOG. One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of blood, had headaches, felt worn-out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels "some other woman" since taking this New Compound.

MC Chapter Of F.T.A. On 'V' Honor Roll

Has Had Five Years Of Existence At Morehead

The Morehead chapter of the Future Teachers of America was organized by Dr. Frank B. Miller, who has been the sponsor during its five years of continued existence. Shortly after its organization in October, 1940, a National Chapter was granted the Morehead Chapter.

The Morehead chapter was the largest of six in the State of Kentucky in the school year 1940-1941. This year it has been placed on the F.T.A. Victory Honor Roll again. This is the third time the Morehead chapter has been placed on the Victory Honor Roll.

All members of the members of F.T.A. in addition to the year of expected graduation are carried in an annual yearbook. These yearbooks are valuable additions to professional libraries. Certificates of Merit are earned in various projects affording training in the arts of leadership. These certificates are granted during the month of May to graduating seniors who have earned the requisite merit points. This year Doris Guley, V. Alcedo Walter, and Resvie Wheeler have earned Merit Certificates.

The Morehead chapter has been an enthusiastic and determined organization from its very inception. An F.T.A. pledge is required of every newly initiated member. "The F.T.A. groups are practice schools voluntarily established by the students themselves as training grounds for professional and civic action. Their purpose is to give to every prospective teacher the power that comes from experience in working with other on significant professional and civic projects, looking toward active participation in the great state and national education associations that give leadership to the causes of education in America."

Projects carried on by the Morehead chapter this year as well as in the past are: (1) Studying higher ethical standards for administrators; (2) Selling American Citizens' Hand-Books; (3) Conservation Programs; (4) Christmas and patriotic programs; (5) Personal Growth Leaflets. This year F.T.A. members have received the N.E.A. Journal, the Kentucky School Journal, ten Personal Growth Leaflets, and the F.T.A. Yearbook.

F.T.A. has reached a new all-time high this year in spite of wartime conditions which have held teachers college enrollment to 47 percent of normal. This year, 1944-45, there were 140 active chapters in the United States with 3,501 members. The Morehead chapter is the only Kentucky chapter that has enjoyed an uninterrupted five year existence. F.T.A.'s and the Agriculture Club will have their Annual Spring Outing Thursday, May 10.

Students Say Hitler's Death Just Too Good To Be True!

By VIRGINIA GAYBEART

If time had permitted it, we think the students of M.S.T.C. would have taken it very hard to celebrate the death of Adolf Hitler, but since that might have irritated their various instructors, they were content to discuss and to offer their opinions on the matter. On the day that his death was announced the chief topic for discussion on the campus was "Do you think it's really true?"

The question asked by your "inquiring reporter" was: "What is your opinion or reaction to the announcement of Hitler's death?" The answers ran all the way from "I don't believe it's true" to "It's a good thing and I'm sorry that it didn't happen a long, long time ago."

A sort of round table discussion was going on in the lobby of Fields Hall on the day of the announcement so we listened in. Guy Durham flatly stated, "I just don't believe it's true; I think it is just another trick to try to fool somebody." Bill Bentley piped up in argument: "I don't believe it either!" Violet Jones, Edna Johnson, Edna Crane and Doris Cook all agreed with Guy and Bill. (If the report were designed to fool anyone, the Germans would find that the M.S.T.C. students are not among the gullible, we conclude!)

On the other side, there were those that did believe that the report was true and made no bones about expressing their jubilation: Doris Darnell was among the believers and stated: "I wish it had happened a long time ago—about ten years ago!" (Don't be so kind, Doris!) "Same here," added Jean Click, "The world would have been a much better place for it!" "Yeah, I'm glad they finally got him if he was killed in a battle!" said Ruby K. Lew Turner was among those who expressed a wish that President Roosevelt could be alive to hear the news. "Well, it's good riddance, anyway you take it," added Maxine Evans. "I hope that it is true." Dulcie Amburgey breezed by, but stopped to yell, "Hallelujah!"

After the report of the suicide of Hitler, Grace Roe remarked, "I think he cheated the Allies of murdering him." But still, it is sort of doubtful that the person is really Hitler; I believe someone is posing for him." "Yes, it just saved the Allies of prosecuting him." Alene Hopkins believes the Germans should procure the body as final and definite proof before we accepted his death as a reality. (There's a sleuth for you, kids, she's persistent!)

After studying the results of our "baby" symposium, we'd say that about 48 percent of the students are dubious as to the truth of the announcement, some 45 percent accept it as truth, and the other seven percent of indefinite opinion. One hundred percent however, say they hope that it is "very, very true." (Are there degrees of truth?)

Some of the more vehement believers added that they would enjoy being at Hitler's funeral and loudly singing that old tune: "I'll Be Glad When You're Dead, You Rascal, You!" "F. S.: And we'll all join in the chorus!"

For transport overseas, Blanton estimated that the B-17-ton salvage total realized at Slag during the past six months represented the replacement of sufficient paperboard for the manufacture of 10,087,000 Army "K" rations packages.

The plant program is under the direct supervision of Emmett Williams.

Subsidy Of 17 Cents Set For Milk Producers

Announcement by the War Food Administration that a feed subsidy of 17 cents a pound will be paid to farmers for butterfat produced in April is good news to cream producers of Rowan County and is expected to stimulate cream production. A subsidy of ten cents a pound was paid for butterfat produced in the first three months of this year.

The payment of the April subsidy is in accordance with the provisions of an amendment to Senate Bill No. 298 extending the life of the Commodity Credit Corporation for two years. This bill, which is intended to stimulate butter production, was last signed by President Roosevelt and was subscribed by him a few moments before he died.

Under the provisions of the amendment the subsidy paid to producers of butterfat will now be based on the weighted average national subsidy on whole milk for each month. That is, the per pound subsidy on butterfat paid to the cream producers will be one-fourth of the production payments on 100 pounds of whole milk produced in the various regions throughout the nation.

Officials of the National Cream Quality Program, which is the fund that the anticipated average monthly subsidy to be paid to cream producers in 1945 will average about 12 cents per pound on the butterfat that they produce. Figuring conservatively that the average annual butterfat production of cows is 175 pounds, this means that the cream producer will receive a subsidy payment of about $21.00 per cow. A producer with a herd of six cows will receive a total $126.00. This sum is increased, of course, when the cows produce more than 175 pounds of butterfat per year.

Government reports indicate that 1,810,000,000 pounds of butter were produced in the United States last year. It took 1,448,000 pounds of butterfat to produce this amount of butter. To produce this amount of butterfat, 38,200,000,000 pounds of 4 percent milk was required. This was equivalent to 31 and two-thirds percent of the 120 billion pounds of milk produced in the United States during 1944.

Salvage Paper

FRANKFORT, KY., May 10.—More than 1,834,000 pounds of war-scarce paperboard shipping containers were salvaged by Geo. F. Slagg Co., in a six-month period ending the first of April, according to Col. A. B. Blanton, general manager of the local war alcohol plant. An additional 2,461,000 pounds found unusable in the reclamation department of the Schenley Distillers Corporation affords during the same period was routed to scrap dealers and paper mills, he said, as part of the corporation's nationwide conservation drive, which last year resulted in a saving of nearly 21,000,000 pounds of cartons.
