'Equality of Mankind' Is Topic Of Anderson

United Nations Delegate Charles W. Anderson of Louisville told the faculty and student body of Morehead State College last week that "the burning issue of the world today is the equality of all mankind."

The outstanding Negro attorney and former Kentucky Legislator was presented to the Morehead State College assembly by President Adron Doran with whom he served two terms in the House of Representatives.

Anderson further commented, "The little peoples of the world are united in a single effort, and that effort is to make democracy work, not only in America but throughout the entire world."

He continued, "There is one thing that the United States wants, and wants almost above all else, and which is cannot obtain by itself, and that one thing is peace. But not peace at any price. It is not the peace of a graveyard, not the peace of a truce. The peace we seek is peace with freedom and justice in which we can exercise our unequalled rights to the pursuit of happiness and security with freedom from fear of war."

Speaking on the topic "The United Nations and the Challenges of Today's World," Anderson told the 1,500 college students that "we should be thankful that this is the kind of peace which all the world's peoples, as well as most of the governments of the world, desire." He added that the United Nations would continue to serve a purpose to the people if it continued to hold this as its utmost desire.

The Louisville was appointed to the United Nations by President Dwight D. Eisenhower on August 21, 1959. He was first elected to the Kentucky Legislature in 1953, thus becoming the first Negro to be chosen to a seat in that body.

He is a graduate of Kentucky State College, Wilberforce University (AB degree) and Howard University School of Law (LL.B.). He is a practicing attorney and is a member of numerous civic organizations.

A highly recognized and honored man, Anderson was awarded a Lifetime Leadership Certificate for outstanding work in the field of Law by Ebony magazine of Chicago in 1958. In that same year he was made a Kentucky Colonel for distinction in Law and Government and as an outstanding Kentucky citizen.

FSEE Federal Exams Will Be Given Here April 9

The Federal Service Entrance Examination—"FSEE"—will be given on the campus of Morehead State College Tuesday, April 9.

This examination is the principal avenue for entrance into the federal government, and covers a wide variety of positions in more than 60 career fields. One begins at a starting salary of $4,040 or $4,980 a year.

Through accelerated training programs, advancement to the full operating level—which may pay $8,985, a 30¢ a year—is possible in a short time. How high you go after that is up to you.

Throughout the Sixth Civil Service Region there are thousands of openings waiting for FSEE eligibles to fill them. The Federal government needs college-trained young men and women to be groomed for positions of leadership. Why not be one of them?

You must apply by March 25 to take the April 9 exam. Application forms and further information may be secured from Mr. Monroe Wicker, Director of School Services.

The examination will be held in room 210 of the Administration Building.

Ed Beck Will Be Speaking In Thursday's Convocation

By Barbara Ellen Anglin

Ed Beck, one of the outstanding athletes of our time, will return to Morehead State College Thursday to speak at the regular convocation period. Ed may be remembered by the upperclassmen for speaking in Chapel November, 1958.

Beck, a student minister at Ashbury Theological Seminary in Wilmore, Ky., is one of the most outstanding young Christian men of this decade. He was especially known nationally as an All-American basketball player while he attended the University of Kentucky, playing center on the 1956 National Champion Team.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Beck came to Kentucky from Fort Belvoir, Ga., where he spent much of his boyhood life. He dedicated his life to the service of God when he entered the University and continued his preaching engagements in churches and automobiles during his collegiate days.

Ed will be remembered for upholding his religious and athletic endeavors despite the serious illness of his wife, who passed away during his years at the University of Kentucky.

Two years ago Mr. Beck made a summer tour of foreign countries as a member of the Venture for Victory Basketball Team. This group is composed of outstanding religious personalities who travel abroad extolling with basketball and preaching the Gospel at intermissions. During this particular tour over 90 games were played in nine weeks. This in itself is a great accomplishment, but even more significant is the fact that thousands of foreigners heard the Gospel for the first time through this group of men.

Mr. Beck comes to the campus at the invitation of the Methodist Student Union for whom he will speak during special services at the Methodist Student Center.

During convocation last year he talked to the student body on "Destiny comes by choice and not by chance."

Famous Dance Drama Company To Perform In Celebrity Series

The Northeastern Kentucky Celebrity Series will present the Dance Drama Company in Button Auditorium on the Morehead State College campus Tuesday, March 22 at 7:30 p. m.

The Dance Drama Company is the only group of its kind in America today. Each dance work in the repertory has been created and directed by the company and each dancer is a soloist in his own right.

The company was singled out for the International Award for the finest dance program on television in 1956-57, for its performance on the "Folio" program of the Canadian Broadcasting System. Competition included "Omni-bus" and other programs of the major American networks.

The group's presentation will include Still Point, with music from Debussy's "Quartet Opus 10"; Haunted Moments; Childs Play, a solo, danced and choreographed by Emily Frankel; and Portrait of a Summer Sunday, an impression in movement of the Tennessee Williams play "Summer and Smoke". The music for the latter is an original score, specifically commissioned and composed for the ballet.

Miss Frankel, the first soloist and choreographer of the Company, has been acclaimed by dance and theatre critics all over the country.

Dance Drama Company recently completed six week season in New York City and is currently on its fourth transatlantic tour.

The final appearance of the season for the Northeastern Kentucky Celebrity Series will be Monday, April 25 when they present a Woodwind Quintet.

The annual membership campaign will be the week of April 18 and new members will be given admission to the April 25 concert as a bonus.

Student Council Restricts Vets Village Parking

Effective immediately parking in Veterans Village is "off limits" for anyone who is not a resident of the area, the Morehead State College Student Council announced today.

The council agreed that if any car was found parked in the Village, except those belonging to residents of the Village, necessary action will be taken to remove the car.

The council strongly recommended that residents of the Village who own automobiles should not drive their cars to the classes on the campus.

Woody Herman Performs In MSC Council Program

Woody Herman, who brings his award winning orchestra to America's Greatest Entertaining Unit to Morehead State College on March 29 is often called the "youngest old timer in the music business."

Herman, who has recently signed with Capitol records is one of the most popular band leaders in the business. A triple threat performer... he sings, plays the clarinet and the alto saxophone.

Herman will present his orchestra of 17 world famous instrumentalists and a lovely girl vocalist. Coming directly from successful engagements in Chicago, Hollywood and New York, Herman will begin playing at 7:30 in Button Auditorium.

This famed group has appeared on Morehead's College campus previously and has been well received by the faculty and students. Herman has been playing the clarinet professionally for over 30 years. His latest band group has been voted top in the country by the readers of Metronome magazine and has been hailed by TIME, PARADE and other magazines as the "band that brought back dancing."

Herman is the only popular band leader in the world to have a composition written especially for him by Stan Savaryn, the celebrated classical composer. Savaryn wrote "Ebony" Concerto, which Herman played at Carnegie Hall.

With the critics' typewriters on the loose, Herman has the ear of audiences everywhere ringing in his ears. Woody himself says, "I took me about 200 mistakes to find the band was looking for, but now I'm happy at last. This is a fine, great group of guys."

The success of this band with the critics and the public is a tribute to the integrity, courage and perseverance of the leader. When the music business was at an all time low Woody laid the foundation for his re-entry into the big band field.

Realizing the stresses of the post war years were over, Woody foresaw that big bands would come back again once the fans and a chance to really dance. It was a long hard struggle, but it has been worth it to forge a new path.

Tickets for this concert will be $2.00 and may be purchased at the door.

Movie Reviews

By Dave Mayhew
Mobey Dick. Just what does the White Whale really stand for? What was in Captain Ahab's mind to make him search irresistibly for the leviathan that meant certain death? Yet he was driven on, ever hoping to meet Mobey Dick, still retaining as ivory leg the place of one that the whale had destroyed in a former encounter.

Moby Dick is a quite good book and one of the unstable life of a Whaling Vessel—watches, a turn at the wheel, a mast to sight whales, and the dangerous battles with the treacherous sperm whales. But it is more than a book on the whaling life. It is Ahab's quest for immortality, or an escape from the already written fate of the heavens, or just man's attempt to know the Power of God. Whatever it means, or feels the clasp of the Omnipotent Hand, and fashions that Ahab is fighting a losing battle.

After many months at sea, once again Moby Dick and Ahab meet. For three days the White Whale confounds all their fathoms, smashing bows, killing men, and toying with Ahab. Although weak-minded, Ahab seems indomitable. Finally angry and beyond comprehension he turns on the crew and sends it off to the bottom of the sea. Ahab and his boat crew to the whale.

Ahab gets a harpoon in the whale, but on watching the line being drawn under the sea by the crew, he is unexpectedly engaged in it and quickly pulled to the murky depths.

In the book you meet Queequeg, the good natured and religious Pagan, Tajiago the Indian, Ishmael, Starbuck, and Pip. The weak-minded crew of Captain Ahab. You also meet the monomaniac, Ahab who seems the devil personified.

Perhaps of all, Moby Dick is the finest character in the book. The Omnipotent whale that rules the sea.

Dear Editor:
I read the article in the last Trail Blazer and met "T. B. Deeds" Some M.S.C.'ers' who may not like me, but I commend the author is to be commended for the truth, and pitied for the lack of understanding also displayed.

I think it wise and proper to point out a few salient revelations regarding maturity, and its application to the individual. First of all, if you will take the time to find the word mature in any of our leading dictionaries, you will find that the word mature possesses a mature mind; Webster speaks of a mature mind as being fully developed. A fully developed mind is capable of many varied and deceptive as necessary to cope with the varied conflicts and situations that confront us. In the case spoken of by "T. B.," whoever that is, the response was amusement and not an undesirable situation.

Even the most learned and mature man will have signs of immaturity in the cases of fear, hate, prejudice, jealousy, disappointment and many others too long to mention.

I say that immaturity means that that person, mind, or being is not yet fully mature, how can you be mature at the same time? I can't see how a person who is mature can be said to be immature at the same time. He must be either one or the other.

THOUGHT OF THE WEEK
Morehead has had its share of snow in the past months and looks like there will be some more, but it is something to think about the week to think over some future plans for a "picnic" or other outdoor recreation.

Graduate Study Program Shows Marked Increase
Enrollment in the Graduate Studies Program has shown a steady increase over the past few years here at Morehead State College.

While the total enrollment at Morehead State College has increased, the number of students in the Graduate Studies Program has shown a marked increase. In the fall semester, the number of students in the Graduate Studies Program was 108, an increase from 104 in the fall semester of 1954.

The increase from 21 full time graduate students in the fall semester of 1954 to 108 in the fall semester of 1955 represents an even greater proportionate increase in that category. The students may apply for admission that approximately one out of 12 Morehead students this semester is pursuing graduate work.

Last summer's record graduate enrollment of approximately 120 represented about one-fifth of the total college enrollment for next term. The M. S. C. M. A. Education awarded in June and August of 1955 exceeded the total number of such degrees offered by any other college in the state.

Sixty-nine graduate students have been admitted to candidacy for the M. A. degree in Education since September of 1954. Graduate students may apply for candidacy after completing approximately one-fourth of the minimum required work in the program.

An increasing number of graduate students at Morehead State College are pursuing the elementary or secondary teacher's program. This program is designed for a standard elementary or standard secondary certificate. The inclusion of the Graduate Studies Program in the Education Program of Kentucky's School system, and the increased national interest in that field, is reflected in the increasing number of graduate students seeking the M. A. degree with certification in that area. The Supervisor's Program and the Superintendent's Program are also elected by a number of Morehead graduate students.

Graduating are the names of those admitted to candidacy for the M. A. degree in Education: Mr. Al Stewart is preparing a brochure for the Writer's Workshop; preparing for the publication of the Kentucky Writings which will be released April 1; and is receiving material for the Inez F. Humphrey Award. Mr. Ross Anderson attended the Association of Higher Education Officers at March 6 through March 10.

Beta Chi Gamma, the Science Club and the Mystic Club. Majoring in chemistry and biology, he plans to attend medical school following graduation. A native of Olive Hill, he graduated from high school there in 1952 and served in the U.S. Army for three years.

Richard Dale Neal

During his college career, he has been a member of the Newman Club. Richard has also participated in intramural tennis, basketball and ping pong. He graduated from the New Richmond High School in 1953 and is a native of New Richmond, Ohio.

Carroll Davis Moore
Carroll Moore, a native of Lawrenceburg, graduated from Anderson High School in 1952 and transferred to Morehead State College from Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn. Trail Blazer Office Located In Allie
The Trail Blazer staff now has an office all its own! Located in the basement of Allie Young Hall, this office is equipped with typewriters and is available for use by staff members at any time.

The interior decoration work was done by staff members George St. John, for Art and cartoonist Jim Riley. The entire office is painted a soft shade of grey, with caricatures of the editorial staff and advisors painted in the wall. Riley, staff cartoonist, the caricatures and the Trail Blazer emblem on the door leading to the office.

The office is not only attractive but utilitarian, so all you "T. B."s are free to use it at any time.

TRAIL BLAZER SUGGESTS
Trail Blazer has ideas on a couple of good books that should be read by all students. For American students "Only in America" and "For 2¢ Plain".

An excerpt from his book "For 2¢ Plain" is written on eternity and says "Eternity scares me. What would I do without trials and tribulations. Billy Graham says, I once went up to the top of Mount Everest, with nothing to do and it drove me crazy."

Sound interesting?

Letters To The Trail Blazer Ed.
Now if you look at maturity as applied to the case of the student, the showing of the movie "Oedipus Rex" may also take responsibility for the confusion and immaturity, your responsibility depends on maturity.

I don't know if anyone was responsible for the checking of the film or no. If so we can say that the person responsible for the previewing the film for the maturity in his lack of responsibility. This shows that those above us must be mature, and especially in that lack of responsibility. Also, something should be said of the maturity of our English Department's application of maturity.

Being acquainted with drama, particularly Greek Drama. I know that for those who have not been exposed to this type of drama will be quite dismayed upon viewing it. Even to those who know and appreciate Greek plays must eventually admit that it is deep and often uninteresting. Why, then, should the English Department force freshmen, perhaps least acquainted of all, to see a play that most cannot comprehend? Freshmen don't even a study literature, nor do they study Greek.

Even the most learned and mature man will have signs of immaturity in the cases of fear, hate, prejudice, jealousy, disappointment and many others too long to mention.

I say that immaturity means that that person, mind, or being is not yet fully mature, how can you be mature at the same time? I can't see how a person who is mature can be said to be immature at the same time. He must be either one or the other.

Along The Boulevard With

Happy Mayhew

Dr. Roscoe Baker of the MSC History Department is the author of a "different" poem which consists of eleven couplets: Why is "break" not rimerd with "break"? Why is "cow" not "cow" why is "true" not "true" but likewise "few"? And the maker of a verse Cannot cap his "horse" with "worse". "Beard" sounds not the same as "heard". "Cord" is different from "word". "Now" is cow, but "how" is "how". "Shoe" is never rimerd with "foe". "Think" of "horse" and "dise" and "dise". And think of "goose" and yet of "chose". Think of "nose" and "dise" and "bom". We have "hood" and "how" and "some". And since "pay" is rimerd with "say" Why not "paid" with "said" I pray? We have "good" and "word" and "word". "Mould" is not pronounced like "could". Wherefore "done", but "gone" and "one".

Is there any reason known? And, in short, it seems to me SOUNDS AND LETTERS DISAGREE!—Dr. Baker

ED BECK SPEAKS
Ed Beck will speak in conversation this Thursday. He has been participating in a revival this past week at a local church. Many of his friends and acquaintances are attending at a similar program last year in which he held of his travel experiences. His description of the optimism of the Orient and a discussion on marriage seemed especially popular with the audience. Many are looking forward toward another talk along this line.

UNIQUE IDEA — CELLO HOLDER
Mr. Keith Hoffman of the Music Department seems to have eliminated the problem of a scolding cello. He has made a cello holder which the instrument is placed. From the holder, a shaped chain is extended and at the chain's two ends are attached two chairs. The cello is placed between the two front legs of the chair of the performer. This holds the instrument firmly.

In order that a comfortable position for the performer be maintained, the chain is so it could be adjusted so the cello could be moved toward or away from the performer. The selling slogan for the holder is "Not just better, but the BEST we know".

'Do Nothing' Student Council

The Do-Nothing Student Council group. This is a tag which has been given to the Student Council by some students in the past, but we, of the Trail Blazer wish to cast our vote for this group as being one of the most active and seemingly one of the most efficient on campus this year.

It is our belief that this has come about, not from a crusading effort from the organization's President or Sponsor alone, but from the efforts of the group as a whole. This, we believe, is the ideal situation in an efficient group.

Numerous worthwhile achievements of the Student Council could be enumerated, and its recent Talent Show alone would have earned a great deal of recognition for the organization. Next week the Council will sponsor a concert featuring Woody Herman and his orchestra.

Keeping these achievements in mind, let's "Do-Nothing" about the "Do-Nothing" tag and give the organization credit for being among the most active and best organized groups on campus!

Don't Get Excited—About Anything

Last week something happened which annoyed quite a few girls in Allie Young Hall. But they have probably been forgotten by now. We're referring to the episode during which the fire alarm went off and continued to do so for some time.

Now we're not going to write an editorial about the culprit who tried to break into the library. Nor are we going to criticize the fire alarm. We're just going to criticize someone else, but we are going to criticize someone else.

Our problem is that we don't exactly know where the blame should be fixed. As everyone knows there wasn't really a fire, but suppose there had been. We dare say, that the girls in the dorm would have been just as annoyed by an almost forgotten incident. During the whole time the alarm was ringing, fire trucks were coming, and so on and so forth were just standing around asking what had happened.

It seems a little unreasonable to us that in a situation like this people would just stand around. In fact, the more reasonable action would have been to clear the building immediately.

You've all heard that people panic when there is a fire. Not on our campus. They stand around and ask questions. No one panics. In fact, several found it more profitable just to go back to bed.

This attitude of indifference is prevalent on campus, not just in the case mentioned, but in almost every phase of campus life. Students and in many instances faculty members, just aren't aware.

Perhaps spring will do the trick and wake the people on this campus to their responsibilities. We'll wait and see.

Editorial Comments

With pen in hand and a cool head the editor begins his comments for this issue. He has decided to criticize the dramatics department this issue because the home economics girls yelled at me for slandering them and they said it wasn't their fault because the former group had the audiotape tied up so that they couldn't practice and therefore weren't really good performers. Also in all this I said statements that were being thrown around the drama department was accused of hogging the audiotape 18 weeks out of the 36 in the school term.

After analyzing the whole situation, I began to feel sorry for the drama group because, after all, dramatic productions are a major portion of the drama department. In drama design, a major portion of the drama department is drama design. I don't seem to think that someone should be able to work out a more suitable method of arranging these things so that the drama group could use the audiotape and perhaps, the others could use the old gym — or something.

OUTSTANDING COLLECTION

Library Exhibit To Feature Kentucky, Mexican Indian Pottery And Artifacts

Would you like to see a prehistoric Kentucky Indian? Of course this is impossible, but tools, pottery and other items these people made and used possibly are the next best thing to seeing the people who made them. This is the opportunity that all Morehead State College students will have in the near future. An exhibit of numerous items is planned for the first floor of Johnson Camden Library.

The exhibit will include a number of articles representative of Kentucky Indian Cultures about B.C. 5000 to 1000 A.D. In the collection will be numerous "finds," mostly pottery, representative of an extinct, prehistoric Indian tribe in northern Mexico and southern New Mexico.

The items which will be included in this exhibit in the near future are but a few of the significant discoveries made by quite an outstanding authority in the field of anthropology.

This anthropology, has made numerous excavations from Mexico to Egypt to the Orient to the Middle East. This noted man is Dr. Henry Carey, head of the Sociology Department at Morehead State College.

Dr. Carey, considered an authority in his field and an expert on the subject of the Chihuahuas in northern Mexico and southern New Mexico.

Indian culture, is presently serving as expedition consultant for the Joint Casas Grandes Expedition which is currently making excavations in northern Mexico. Dr. Carey worked with the expedition headed by The Amerind Foundation, Inc. this past summer and plans to return again this coming summer.

Throughout the territory of Northern Mexico and southern New Mexico are small knolls and beneath them are hidden the pottery and artifacts of the extinct prehistoric Chihuahuas Indian culture.

When these earthen mounds were excavated, entire sections of a prehistoric community was found. There were complete rooms found in which there were excellent systems of sanitation.

Pottery being one of the leading artistic works of the Chihuahuas Indians, Dr. Carey has accumulated a complete collection of it throughout his many expeditions.

By examining the remains of the culture of these Indians, he has been able to shed new light on the conceptions of the Chihuahuas way of life.

The cultural theory has been stated by Dr. Carey on this civilization in which the leading hypothesis is that the Chihuahuas Indian culture is a hybrid of Mexican and Toltec cultures.

Through the examination of the Chihuahuas pottery and artifacts, a diffusion of these cultures is apparent in their art work, designs engraved upon their pottery.

Shoes: all it asks of you is that you take shoes as seriously as the maker does your feet.

Because the field is such a competitive one, each manufacturer is constantly striving to make his brand the best for the money. He employs experts to scout for better leathers, designers who dream up exciting new ways to shape these leathers and an army of good craftsmen to complete shoes that fit well and wear well.

What you pay for shoes depends on how often you plan to wear them. If you must economize, do so on those specially dyed evening pumps that will leave your closet only a few times a season. But for the shoe you plan to live in, aim for the best you can find. The most sensible way to start a season is with a wardrobe of shoes.

If you wear the same pair of high-heeled pumps all day and every day, you're only deluding yourself about economy. You'll end up buying as many pairs a year as you never did.

Find the shoe that fits you, take care of your feet and your shoe leather.

Paging Dr. Clay... This Is Her Calling

Dr. Clay—Dr. Clay—Dial O please—if Dr. Clay is in the building would she please dial O? Someday, somewhere, and in some hospital, Dr. Clay will be paged, and this Dr. Clay will probably be Jenny Clay, the only senior pre-med student at Morehead State College.

Jenny has been accepted into the Louisville School of Medicine and will enter there this September.

On the Morehead State College campus, Jenny is majoring in Biology and Chemistry, and also holds a steady and above 3.5 average for her work here so far. She also was selected earlier in the year in the Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges from Morehead State College.

Jenny, born Jennifer Gail Clay in Olive Hill, was always interested in medicine and stated that she couldn't remember when her first dreams of being a doctor started.

In beginning our interview, the question concerning woman doctors was cast Jenny's way and she brightly responded, "I really think that it is twice as hard to be a woman doctor, especially getting into medical school." She said that when she went to Louisville to be interviewed on one occasion that the supervisor escorted her into the dissecting room.

presented here with a female corpse and asked her to identify the parts of the human body. She said that it really didn't bother her but that she was glad that the face wasn't uncovered.

Jenny stated that her high school chemistry teacher at Erie High School in Olive Hill, cast the greatest influence upon her life and has had a great deal to do with her continuing in the medical direction.

Jenny is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Clay of Olive Hill. On the Morehead campus, she is a member of Beta Chi Gamma, A. C. S., Open Forum, French Club, Latin Club and has mastered 12 hours in foreign languages.

In concluding the interview Jenny was asked just how extensively she had traveled during her life, and she said, "I have just been around Kentucky, the farthest being to Washington, D. C." I think that the essential of success of every student is to achieve the best in every course, if study is needed, then study should be applied.

Jenny Clay—She will conclude her studies and venture on into the world to become a woman medical doctor.

LOOKING THROUGH

The Eagle Eye

by GEORGE STEVENS
Trail Blazer Sports Editor

Well, the snows of Kila-meen-Morehead are beginning to melt off the wintry campus of M.S.C. and all young men are turning their noses to spring sports.

The Morehead State College baseball season is in the early stages of progress as the diamond enthusiasts are working out daily under the supervision of head coach George Cooke.

Although inclement weather has bogged down the spring sports this season, Cooke has proceeded with baseball practice in the old clubhouse. Over 40 men have turned out for this season's baseball practice sessions.

The team is teeming with activity as baseballs are flung all over the place as the pitchers warm up with the catching staff, the outfielders take batting practice with tennis balls and the infielders practice fielding techniques.

At the same time on the rocky baseball diamond this season, it will take quite a bit of hard work for the baseball coaching staff to get a team by the time the season starts.

Returning to the pitching staff this season are ace hurlers Alby Dawson and Pete Gray. Gray, a southpaw from Flemingsburg, was one of the leading pitchers during his freshman season wearing the Blue and Grey for the Eagles. Senior Alby Dawson, a right hander, saw his last action last season.

With the adding of a number of promising freshmen performers, the staff is growing; their fingers hoping the diamond will be as hot and the Eagles will be ready to fly in this spring.

It seems that a portable battery is an indispensable item for the Eagles in their early spring workouts.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT SCHEDULES

PRELUDE: The Yellowjackets of Prichard High School had their first victory over the Regional Basketball Tournament at the Prichard High School gymnasium on Saturday, March 12.

CONGRATULATIONS WESTERN STATE COLLEGE

The Trail Blazer sports staff would like to extend their congratulations to the Hilltoppers of Western State College for their representation of the Ohio Valley Conference in the NCAA playoffs last week.

We have found that Coach Ed Diddle of Western and the entire Hilltoppers staff to be a group of fine sportsmen and competitors. This season's encounter between Morehead and Western, the Eagles have fostered a fine relationship between the two schools.

During the Western basketball held in Bowling Green, Morehead was represented by the student body and the administration of the school. Although Morehead was defeated by a narrow margin of two points, the athletes and fans of Western were conducted through a manner commendable to all colleges.

Western gave the highly touted Buckeyes of Ohio State a great game during the NCAA playoffs. Morehead has been invited to the OVC in the NCAA tournament and we would like to extend our congratulations to Coach Diddle and the Hilltoppers for their first endeavor in the nationwide inter-collegiate tournament.

Morehead fans will be looking forward to the healthy rivalry which will be resumed at the hardwoods.

SNOW COVERED COURTS

Coach Ed Link, head tennis man, summed up his view of the current weather that is bogging tennis practice down.

When asked what his view were on the 1960 tennis prospects he replied, "Well we have three players, three matches and a snow covered court."

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR FOOTBALL, FAST OR SLOW?

The Morehead State College intramural department is laying plans for a spring football league to be open for participation of all sports leagues. The question has arisen, will it be a fast or slow pitch league? The intramural department has expressed the opinion that two leagues would be formed if there is enough interest in the two different types of football play. Of course everyone has their own personal opinion but we are putting our bets on a fast pitch league. We feel there would be more enthusiasm and interest aroused by a fast pitch league.

LEAVING THE SPORTS SCENE

TEXAS: That's the place where everything grows bigger and better. Even the dust storms. They say that out in the Panhandle, a rancher went to borrow money on his ranch. "Before I can let you have anything," said the banker, shouting above the high wind, "I'll have to go out and take a look at your place." "I won't be necessary," the rancher replied. "The place is here now."

And the Texas Rangers—they grow big, too. Seems there was a fight in one of the towns and the mayor wired for a company of Rangers to come and handle the matter. Pretty soon the Rangers showed up. "Hey," said the mayor, "it's a tough mob—I wired for a company of Rangers, not just one Ranger."

"Well," drawled the Ranger, "you ain't got but one mob, ain't you?"

ANIMALS ROARING FORWARD

The intramural championship Animals squad rolled to a respectable 96-45 victory over a sturdy ARMCQ squad last week. The Animals came from behind 10 points to down the ARMCQ contingent.

Mike Dudley Is Golf Coach and Instructor

Gold has arrived on the Morehead State College campus. Along with the arrival of the new year comes a new coach, Mike Dudley.

The first coach of this kind on the campus, Dudley is well qualified for the position. During his senior year at Clark County High School, he and his brother, Fred, led their golf team to a state championship. This was probably one of the greatest golf teams ever to come out of the State of Kentucky.

Gold was not the only sport in which he excelled. Dudley and his brother, starred on the 1952 basketball team. He also helped push the Cardinals into the finals of the tournament the following year, only to lose the powerful Lafayette in the final.

After graduating in 1954, he joined the Air Force where he served three years. Last year he enrolled at the University of Louisville where he played on the Freshman basketball team. He transferred here last semester.

A sophomore, Dudley hopes to lead the golf team to the top of the MSC started on the right foot as they start their first endeavor as the club and club sport. The 25 year old physical education major plans an impressive schedule for the young Morehead duffers.

After completing the first round of bowling competition the Wholly Rollers are leading the intramural bowling league with a record of 18 wins and 6 losses. The leading team is captained by Bill Day and his teammates are Art Shapland, Pat Slagle, Dave Holton, and Harry Weber.

This semester's league has been a scramble for the top position from the beginning, as the competition has been quite keen. Running close behind in second place are the Poor Boys of Captain Sidney Cure. The Poor Boys are a much improved club and could prove to be the team to watch in the second round.

In third place are, last semester's winners, the Newman Club who have been bowling at quite a torrid pace, only to have the breaks fall against them. Trailing in fourth place, only by total pins, are the Choke-Ups of Captain Roger Shipman. The Choke-Ups derived their name from their consistency to crack under pressure in the late frames of a game.

In fifth place are the Left Wingers of Senior Louis Stacey. Landing solidly in the cellar of the league are the First Timers of Captain Jerry Harlage.

Sport Shots

By Harold Hurdler

Whether it be an Ohio Valley Conference track meet or an all-campus bicycle race you're likely to find trackster Jim Whiteley as one of the top performers of the group.

As the spring ushers in the eventful sport of track, Jim Whiteley is daily working out preparing for the 1960 season.

Last year, Whiteley was one of the top barriers on the Eagle squad as the fleet footed junior participated in the mile and two mile runs for Morehead. Whiteley excels in the distance and endurance tests and is in line as one of the best men in that department as the on coming season approaches.

Whiteley also participated in the grueling sport of cross country during the fall of this year. He was not to be found at the rear of the group as the steady performer consistently placed among the top runners during the cross country season.

Whiteley was a three letter sportsman in high school as the all around athlete excelled in track, basketball and baseball. But sports are just a part of Whiteley's life on the Morehead State College campus. In the extra curricular department, Whiteley is a member of the Baptist Student Union, and the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

Jim Whiteley is also a serious minded student and is currently taking an area of concentration in Social Science.

One of the most interesting endeavors ever staged by a Morehead State College student will be

Intramural All-Stars Down Tigers 64-57

By Ray Allen

The Morehead All Stars journeyed to Georgetown College March 8, and promptly posted a 64-57 victory over the Georgetown cagers.

Morehead's intramural All Stars trailed the whole game but, came from behind in the final 3 minutes to pull the game out of the fire. The Morehead team's comeback was aided by C. Salles who missed 15 points, W. Chapman ripped the cords for 12 markers, T. Willis poured through 10 and G. Dingus tallied for 9.

After their encounter with the Georgetown's team, the Morehead All Stars turned spectators as they attended the second game of the NCAA playoff held at Lexington between Western of Kentucky and Miami of Florida.

Morehead Graduate Is Chemical Official

Albert L. Rhoton, a 1940 graduate of Morehead State College, is currently vice-president of the Dryden Rubber Division of the Sheeler Manufacturing Corporation in Keokuk, Iowa.

Rhoton was named to the administrative position after serving the company for five years as a chemist. Before joining Dryden, he worked for the B. F. Goodrich Company from 1941 to 1953. Rhoton is married to the former Hazel VanCleave and they are the parents of three children, Dr. A. Rhoton, Jr., Dr. R. Rhoton, and Dr. J. Rhoton.

After his graduation from Morehead, he earned a master's degree in chemistry at the University of Kentucky.

John W. Hampton, class of '51, is now serving as station accountant for the Tennessee Gas Transmission's Mercer, Pa. plant. He is married and is the father of two sons, John Ray, age 11, and James Lee, age six. Hampton has held the TGT position for the past nine years.

Gene F. Harper, class of '39, is receiving eight weeks of advanced industrial training at the Air Defense Training Center, Fort Bliss, Tex. He will complete this training program on March 11.

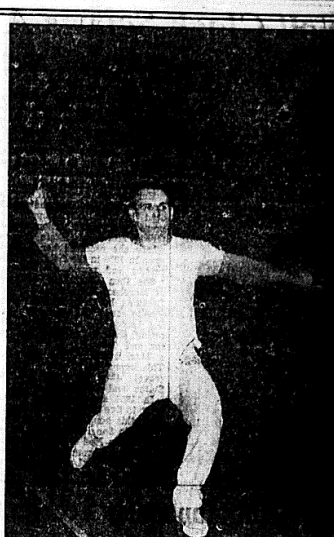

Harper is being trained in the duties of a Nike-Ajax guided missile crewman.

Jo Ann Wesley, a 1940 graduate of Morehead State College, was recently married to Gerald Francis Sorrensen. Jo Ann, who is now Coordinator of Student Activities at Los Angeles State College, received her M.A. degree from Columbia University.

Before going to Los Angeles, she was director of Religious Education at First Methodist Church, Germantown, Pa. for five years.

Mr. Sorrensen is professor of economics at Los Angeles State College.

Baseballers Open 1960 Spring Practice

In the spring, a young man's fancy turns not to love, but to our national pastime, baseball. Living proof of this is Coach George Cooke and his tribe of baseballers in compiling a 31 record, his own loss coming to Western, '53.

Coach Cooke, starting his initial campaign as MSC baseball coach, is optimistic as to the future of the 1960 version of the Eagle baseball team. With returning pitchers Albie Dawson, Jim Hastings and Pete Greig contributing their experience and skill, Cooke is expecting to better the total of wins produced by last year's squad, which totaled exactly three. Hoping to inspire this hope is a crop of new newcomers who look very

Also back from last year's crew are left fielder Les Redmond, catcher Dave Derrick, Richard Randall, and Max Benton. The troop offers much in the way of experience, hitting and fielding.

Said Coach Cooke, "With our added pitching depth and some of the boys shaping up, the future looks brighter than last year."

Nell Clark Serves As Example Of The Future's Leadership

We often suffer from overused generalities that we attempt to make conformity the rule in our lives and not individuality. One point that brings no end of criticism and no end of misrepresentation is the real worth of the coming leaders in our society. Some depict college students from freshmen to graduates as students at large, apathetic and hopeless. However, many present day students will be very capable leaders when their time comes.

Perhaps Nell Fair Clark will serve as an example. Her life has been pointing ever toward success in education and her deep interest has been in the field of mathematics. As far back as the fifth grade she had already decided that she wanted to be a mathematician. Her early education was at Breckinridge where she graduated in 1944. Not stopping for more than contemplation she entered Morehead State College where she received her A.B. degree in 1950 in the field of mathematics and music.

She then taught both subjects at Morehead High during 1950-51. Deciding by then that she would like to see a little of what makes the United States so very interesting, she went to work for Proctor and Gamble as a Market Research Investigator. This important job allowed her to travel throughout the United States and Canada.

In 1954 she was married and went to live in Akron, O. Not long after this her husband was transferred to Sao Paulo, Brazil where once again Nell Fair Clark found herself in a completely different environment and soon became engrossed in learning the delicacies of the Portuguese language. Yet the roots that held her in Morehead were to bring her back in 1957 when her husband died.

She came to the College on an assistantship from Doctor Owsley and received her Master's degree in June. Here she discovered that her teaching preference lay with college students and she plans to enter the University of Kentucky in the fall to receive more training.

As a side note, she applied for a Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship, being recommended by Dr. Rader, and received Honorable Mention which opens to her offers from many outstanding universities throughout the country. The Woodrow Wilson Fellowship is set up for students interested in college teaching in the humanities and social sciences. However, students of the natural sciences, as in Mrs. Clark's case, who show a special aptitude and ability are eligible to take the test. Receiving Honorable Mention in this test is quite an accomplishment and one that Mrs. Clark certainly must be proud to have received.

In her approach to education, in her approach to life, she certainly has all the qualities that could be considered requisites for America's future leaders.

Installation services for the incoming Executive Council will be held at the First Baptist Church this Sunday evening during performance worship service.

New Feature

MC White Way To Bring Back Campus beauty

A summer or so ago with the din of air hammers and the clatter of shovels, the island on the boulevard, the picturesque center piece that added very much to the college's beauty, was torn away. Not because it wasn't liked, but rather because it stood in the way of progress and a need for more parking space it was removed, yet many people miss seeing it there.

Now the college is anticipating a new feature that will return this beauty to the boulevard. Very soon now, the new lighting system along the boulevard will be finished and the college will then have its own Great White Way.

Perhaps this new feature will prove to be a new obstacle to confound the romantic atmosphere of students parking along the boulevard just before taps and lights out in the Women's Dorms, but we have serene faith in the subtle ingenuity of the present college students.

We hope they will not be deterred in exercising their rights to important extra-curricular activities.

WHAT USED TO BE—This picturesque island down the center of the boulevard was removed in order to provide parking spaces in an effort to ease the critical parking space problem on campus. It is hoped that the new mercury lighting system which will extend along the boulevard will compensate for the loss of the lighting down the island pictured above.
