

Award Bid For Road To New Factory

The Kentucky Department of Highways Tuesday let a 'firm' contract for construction of a road, built to modern standards from U.S. 60 west of Morehead to the Browning (division of Emerson Electric) plant.

The circumstances — + The 3 miles of road was advertised for April letting, but no bids were opened.

+ It was re-advertised for a bid opening last Friday, May 15. + Three bids were received and opened Friday (they were — Kentucky Road Oiling Co. $155,716.53; Raymond Construction Company $159,983.75; and D.L. Brocker Construction Co. $165,315.65. But, Secretary of Transportation John C. Roberts did not award the contract Friday because the lowest bid exceeded the estimates of state engineers by more than 20 per cent.

Six Persons Indicted By Rowan Grand Jury

Empaneled as members of the grand jury were: James L. Ellington, foreman; Betty Lou Sparks, Carlos Lewis, Earl Kidd, Billy J. Barnes, Goebel Manning, John B. Calvert Jr., Berna Davis, Pearl Patton, Roy Anderson, Clifford Richardson and Margaret Ferguson.

Four persons comprise the petit jury. They are: Ival D. Bryant, Denver Mabry, Avery Adkins, Zane E. Collins, Cecil Edgar Roby, Harold Guiley, Joanne Needham, Allen Thurman Adams, Stephen W. Barker, Jack Parker, David W. Brumage, Horton L. Alley, Ralph C. Cassidy, Duard E. Bayless, George Paul Bowman, Rufus Uiterback, Charles M. Derrickson, Arnold Davis, Thealm L. Bumgardner, Glenn Bradt, Charles Chumley.

Darlene Adams, county attorney's secretary — $450 from $400 + Homer Goodman, chief deputy sheriff — $550 from $500. + Lyda Carter, chief clerk for sheriff's.

Six Persons Indicted — Those indicted by the grand jury and the charge against each are — + Darrell Hite, arson in the second degree

Tuesday's Vote Factual Information About Primary Election

Polls open: 6 a.m. Anticipated Rowan vote: 2,000 Democrats; 400 republicans (light).

Results: Rowan and all Kentucky counties are 100 per cent equipped with voting machines. The outcome of the Rowan primary should be available by 7 p.m.; and in the state by 9 p.m. except in close races. Democratic nominees to be decided with number of candidates for each in parenthesis — Governor (4); Lt. Governor (1); Secretary of State (5); Attorney General (5); Auditor of Public Accounts (5); State Treasurer (3); Supt. of Public Instruction (5); Commissioner of Agriculture (6); Clerk of Court of Appeals (1); Railroad Commissioner (4); State Senator (3); Commonwealth Attorney (2); Republican candidates — Governor (4); Lt. Governor (2); Republicans have a full slate of candidates for November, but most are unopposed in the primary.

Elected without primary or general election opposition — Circuit Judge Caswell P. Lane, six year term; Circuit Court Clerk Wathan Armstrong, six year term; State Representative Woody Mays, two year term

Light Vote Next Tuesday Probable

Tuesday is primary election day in Rowan County and all of Kentucky. The democratic ballot almost covers the election machines with 58 candidates. But, the vote will probably be light.

Republicans have contests only for Governor and Lt. Governor and a minimal GOP turnout is expected. G.O.P. leaders apparently are backing Robert E. Bobb.

The sample ballot is printed on pages 6 and 7, section two of this issue of the Morehead News.

Gable of Stearns for Governor — He is running against three other aspirants, Gable's nomination is a virtual certainty according to state party leaders.

Gov. Julian Carroll, who is serving the one year remaining of Wendell Ford's term as Governor, following Ford's election last fall to the U.S. Senate, has been the front runner for the democratic nomination for Governor from the outset.

Carroll's principal opponent in the four person race is Jefferson County Judge Todd Hollenbach of Louisville. A hard battle between Carroll and Hollenbach has been forecast by all polls in Jefferson County, but the same polls show Carroll far in front.

2,000 Democrats May Vote — Based on past elections, and lack of interest, the Morehead News has predicted that 2,000 Rowan democrats will go to the polls Tuesday. This is considered a light vote. However, the 2,000 in Rowan may be an of the heaviest votes, percentage-wise, in this area of the state. Hollenbach last week named a Rowan organization one of the few counties in the state for which the Hollenbach state headquarters has released the names of chairman and local organization.

Democrats seeking the Governorship besides Carroll and Hollenbach are State Auditor Mary Louise Foigt and Robert McCreary Johnson of Louisville.

The vote may be increased some in Rowan and all other counties because of a hard fought battle between 11 persons for the democratic nomination for Lt. Governor. The democratic candidates for this office have done more advertising and been over the state more than the aspirants for the governorship. Political observers at the state capitol report there has been more "maneuvering" and "alignments" in the democratic battle for Lt. Governor than in all the other counties, but a check showed that many are from professors and personnel at Morehead State University who will not be here election day.

Absentee voters had until May 20 to submit their application, and the ballot is counted if received by election day. The absentees will be counted by the election commission Tuesday afternoon.

Since each precinct tabulates its votes and verifies them with the Election Commission, the results in Rowan County should be known by 7 p.m.

Besides the contests for state offices, Rowan has two district fights. Earle Burch of Gassaway, Wilbur Cheever of Sandy Hook, and Woodrow Stamper of West Liberty are seeking the democratic nomination for State Senator. The incumbent, West Liberty Barney Menzies and Montgomery, the winner will be elected for a six year term as no republican filed for the office. Clay and Anderson are both from Morehead.

As of Tuesday afternoon Rowan County Clerk Ottis W. Elam reported she had received absentee ballot applications from 11 democrats and six republicans. This is considered a fairly high number of democratic absentee voters, but a check showed that many are from professors and personnel at Morehead State University who will not be here election day.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM — Students at Rowan County High are pictured in the food line at the school cafeteria last Wednesday, the first day of operation of the new smorgasbord. James O. Botts, principal, reported yesterday, "The students think it's wonderful and the percentage of students eating the cafeteria is much greater than before." Botts also noted that the waste of food is not a fifth what it was with the old method. The smorgasbord offers a variety of meats, vegetables, salads and desserts, as well as home made yeast rolls. The price is 50 cents for teachers and 40 cents for students. All teachers of the school system have been invited to go through the line the final day of school.

Fiscal Court Denies Employe Pay Raises

Rowan Fiscal Court last Thursday took no action on a resolution regarding salaries and wages of secretaries, deputies and assistants of the Rowan County fee officials.

Salaries of non-elected county personnel are set each year in May and usually reflect increases in pay for the employees.

County Attorney Harvey Pennington presented to Fiscal Court on Thursday the proposed salaries requested by the fee officials for their secretaries, deputies and assistants.

After hearing the proposed resolution, Magistrate Calvin Ray Lytle replied, "We want to leave the salaries as they are at this time." Magistrate Ray Martin said he also felt they should be left unchanged at present Arthur Mabry, the other magistrate on hand, made no comment. Magistrate Eddie Thomas was absent.

The resolution, as read by the County Attorney, on which no motion was made requested that —

• The base or starting salary for a full-time secretary, deputy or assistant of any county fee official be $400 per month, however the base or starting salary for the Rowan County Sheriff's chief deputy is $600.

• On or before the first Monday in May of each year, the fee officials shall present to Fiscal Court, for its consideration, recommendations regarding the salaries of those who are working in said officials' offices.

The resolution, had it been adopted, would have raised the salaries of nine county employees and would have prohibited any overtime to those nine persons. Currently some of the monthly salaried employees are receiving additional pay for overtime hours.

The proposed monthly pay scheduled for the nine employees listing the salary requested and the present salary, respectively.

• Darlene Adkins, county attorney's secretary — $450 from $400 + Homer Goodman, chief deputy sheriff — $550 from $500.

• Lyda Carter, chief clerk for sheriff's.

News Reduces Some Mail Rates; Newsstand Price Remains At 15c

With the newspaper shortage apparently over, the Morehead News today dropped its rates for Kentucky subscribers outside the immediate eight-county Morehead trade area.

• Due to the paper shortage, skyrocketing prices for newspaper, and higher postage rates, the News last year adopted a policy of: 1. Keeping the subscription price as low as possible in Rowan, Bath, Menifee, Morgan, Elliott, Carter, Lewis and Fleming counties, considered the "Morehead trade area". Mail subscriptions at these eight counties were set at a "loss" price because these subscribers do business in Morehead and Rowan County, and the other local advertisers. This rate will remain low (as detailed below). Publisher W. E. Crutcher said.

• Editor Betty Caudill and Business Manager Ruth Schaal said several mail complaints over the rate charged in other Kentucky counties had been received, although very few discontinued their subscriptions on expiration.

"These subscribers," said Mrs. Schaal, "thought it unfair that the subscription charge be low in eight Kentucky counties, and higher in the other 112 counties of the Commonwealth."

Publisher Crutcher said: "We are lowering the subscription price, effective today, in those other 112 Kentucky counties so that the mail subscription price will be more equitable throughout Kentucky."

One subscriber, residing just outside the eight counties, complained: "I drive to Morehead for much of my shopping and you charge me more for the paper which I have been subscribing to for over 20 years."

Crutcher said, "this one letter, plus other facts at hand, brought us to the realization (a pleasant one) that the Morehead trade area has grown and now consists of more than Rowan and the seven counties that adjoin Rowan."

The new rate schedule grants special discounts for subscriptions of two or five years. (No mail subscriptions are accepted for less than one year.)

General Manager R.J. Caudill said: "Advertisements have already been prepared to be run in late November and early December for a special gift subscription reduction this Christmas." The Morehead News stopped the special gift subscription offer last year due to newspaper shortages, high cost of paper, and ever-increasing postal rates.

Caudill, who is in charge of the advertising department, summed the revised planning in these words: "We might as well face the fact that the Morehead News loses money on every mail subscription. But, it is our solid conviction that we must bring as much business to the advertisers as we possibly can because they are the financial backbone of the newspaper."

The annual circulation report, required by law to be filed the first of each October, will show that the Morehead News has increased its circulation this year, and every year for the past decade, Caudill emphasized. "But, we're greedy on circulation even though we lose money on mail subscriptions," he says. "We mean by which our local and area merchants contact their customers; and as Morehead and its retail businesses grow, so does the Morehead News grow in advertising revenue."

Caudill added: "We feel it's good business to price our mail circulation as a 'loss leader, because in so doing we are helping every advertiser." He concluded that a large number of the Morehead News has over 20,000 readers, with almost complete saturation of Rowan and Rowan County.

Community newspapers in many Kentucky counties have raised their newsstand prices to 20 cents a copy. The Morehead News will keep the price of newsstands to 15 cents, the same as it has been for several years. This is being kept at 15 cents to aid advertisers.

The new mail subscription rates, in effect today, which include Kentucky sales tax, are:

Table with 2 columns: Subscription type and Price. Includes rates for One year in Rowan Bath, Menifee, Morgan, Elliott, Carter, Lewis and Fleming counties ($20.00), Two years in above counties ($30.00), Five years in above counties ($50.00), One year in any Kentucky county, except above named eight counties ($8.00), Two years in any Kentucky county, except above named eight counties ($14.00), Five years in any Kentucky county, except above named eight counties ($30.00), One year in any state, except Kentucky, including overseas ($10.00), Two years in any state, except Kentucky, including overseas ($18.00), Five years in any state, except Kentucky, including overseas ($35.00).

and criminal mischief in the third degree, four separate counts.

+ Robert (Bob) Johnson, assault in the first degree.

+ Joe Eugene Netherly Jr. and Kenneth Earl Gardner, burglary in the first and third degree and theft by unlawful taking or disposition, four separate counts.

Glyce Walker Jr., arson and endangerment of the first degree, possession of burglar's tools, resisting arrest and receiving stolen property, four separate counts.

No cases were to be heard in court this week. Cases docketed for next week are —

+ Tuesday Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Walter Littleton; the Rowan County Air Board, et al vs. Luma et al (a civil suit); Ernest Gilbert Jr. vs. Fleming-Mason Rural Electric Cooperative Corp. vs. General Telephone Company of Kentucky, Inc. (a civil action).

+ Wednesday Commonwealth of Kentucky vs. Harlan "Gabby" Johnson.

MSU Board Of Regents Has First Female Student

Debbie Poore of Hodgenville is unique at Morehead State University.

The 21-year-old junior has become the first female student elected to membership on the MSU Board of Regents. She defeated six male students to the campus-wide balloting.

"I'm thrilled to be the student regent," she says. "I feel my victory enhances the status of all women on the campus."

A 1972 graduate of LaFayette County High School, Debbie is majoring in English and political science and hopes to become an attorney. She has been active on the MSU debate team for three years and feels this experience will help her on the board.

"It's extremely important that the student body has a representative who can sincerely and congenitally reflect student views," the blonde coed added.

MSU President Adron Doran is among her strongest boosters on the campus.

"She is a very intelligent, articulate and capable young woman," Dr. Doran said. "We look forward to her service on the board."

The new board member is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Poore, Rt. 1, Hodgenville. She assumes her board seat this summer.

Besides debating and maintaining a 3.7 grade point average, Debbie also is active in Cardinal Key Honor Society, Chi Omega social sorority and Student Government Association.

News Offices, Other Businesses Adjust For Memorial Day

Jail Plans Abandoned

During a special called session last Wednesday, Rowan Fiscal Court abandoned plans for a new Rowan County Jail and contracting with an architectural firm to renovate the existing jail with added saving money and hopefully having enough revenue sharing funds left to build a new courthouse.

The Court authorized Rowan Judge Ott Caldwell to enter into a contract on behalf of the County with Martin J. Lide Associates, Architects for Architectural Services, for the alterations and additions to the present jail.

The contract will be executed upon the standard form of agreement between owner and architect published by the American Institute of Architects. The payment of the architect for full architectural services will be seven per cent of the project, when completed, will not exceed $150,000 including all architectural fees. The agreement regarding price will be incorporated in the contract when the contract is signed.

Plans for a new county jail were completed last year and Fiscal Court had authorized County Attorney Harvey Pennington to proceed with arrangements necessary for public bidding on the property. After deep consideration and talking with various informed sources, the County decided the best move from an economics standpoint would be to renovate the old jail and bring it up to standards.

County officials also have expressed the dire need for a new courthouse, but revenue sharing funds for a courthouse and a new jail are not sufficient.

DEAR EDITOR: Timothy Tugmott dropped by to bring me a sample ballot which he picked up at the Clerk's office in the county seat.

Timothy observed: 1. The republicans are violating the Sherman anti-trust laws. They got together and colluded so that only five republicans are on that big ballot; and most GOP nominations are unopposed in the primary.

2. Gov. Julian Carroll will be nominated by a big majority; but Todd Hollenbach will have accomplished his purpose by getting his name better known outside Louisville.

3. The candidates for the democratic nomination for Governor are so numerous (11) and they have spent millions of dollars during the campaign because each thinks he will later become Governor if he gets elected Lt. Governor. (I'd rather have the money they've spent than be Lt. Governor or Governor.)

4. Watergate has convinced people there's lots of money to be made in government — under the table deals etc. — also there wouldn't be so many seeking democratic nominations for almost all offices.

5. The vote will be moderately light. People are all the time complaining about taxes, dishonesty in government and widespread corruption, but the biggest complainers don't vote. If they do vote, they are probably people who won't run for office because the job classification of "politician" has an unenviable odor.

7. Too many people vote against something (negative); instead of voting for (affirmative). Timothy says, and I believe him, that nowadays most people are voting "for what I can personally get out of it" instead of "for the best qualified candidate."

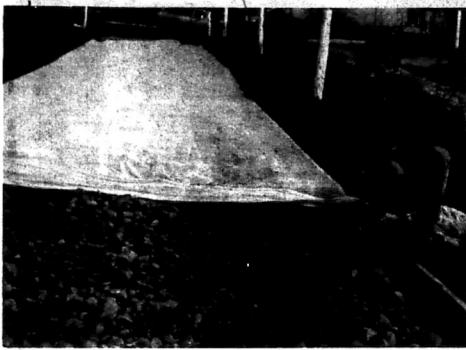

Timothy said that one time he announced for Candidate, and the next day all the parties and friends in the community were after him for free liquor and favors. So, he withdrew.

He and Timothy do urge everybody to go to the polls and vote Tuesday.

According to the Rowan County Extension office, it was one of the best beds in the county at the time it was visited by Extension workers who reported that plants were pushing the canvas.

Revenue Sharing Allocations Cut

Federal revenue sharing allocations to Rowan County and the City of Morehead have both drastically reduced for the coming fiscal year. Efforts are being made, however, by City Council and Fiscal Court to get the allocations increased.

The County is scheduled to receive $140,832 for the fiscal year beginning July 1, as compared to $286,640 received during the present fiscal year.

The City of Morehead has been allocated $146,194 for the coming fiscal year. During the present fiscal year, the City received $282,531.

Both governing bodies have expressed concern about the reduced allocations and have contacted John Hickman of the Gateway Area Development District who will work with officials in Washington in an effort to get the funds increased.

County Treasurer Pruda Shay said the federal government apparently has changed the formula for allocations. Corene Castle, City Clerk, said the City's notice regarding the coming year's revenue sharing monies did not explain the reason for the reduction. The revenue sharing money is allocated on the basis of population, per capita income and local tax structures.

Payments are made quarterly to Fiscal Court and Council. The revenue sharing act expires Dec. 31, 1976, and a considerable effort has been seen in the Congress to do away with the program. Opponents claim that local officials in many counties and cities of the nation have abused or misused the money which comes from federal taxes.

Kentucky Senator Wendell Ford is working toward passage of legislation which would extend the program five years. Sen. Ford co-sponsored legislation which was introduced in early May to continue the program.

Sen. Ford said hearings are expected on the bill in the immediate future. He said, "The program is significant because it returns federal tax dollars to the people, where decisions are made for the use of these funds at local levels rather than in Washington." He continued, "I have repeatedly said that government closest to the people, where there is local input, is the best type of government."

Sen. Ford also noted that early renewal of the program is imperative so that local governments will be able to plan their budgets for fiscal year 1977.

There has been discussion of reducing local authority's role by funneling a greater percentage of the revenue sharing money through states and then into city and county governments.

Ford noted that the proposed legislation would contain language requiring recipient decision-making for uses of the money through a hearing or other appropriate means. Current law provides no assurances to guarantee public participation in the way funds are spent. Federal revenue sharing funds enabled the Morehead-Rowan County Industrial Foundation, Inc. to purchase the industrial site on which the new Browning Manufacturing plant is being constructed on U.S. 60 west of Morehead. The City and County each contributed $45,000 toward purchase of the site.

The County (Fiscal Court) has earmarked $200,000 for a new jail or improvements to the present jail and is considering using additional revenue sharing funds for a new court house. Until last week the county had planned to construct a new jail. It now has abandoned those plans and proposes to renovate the old jail instead.

The revenue sharing plan originated in 1972, and proponents say it is the best program originated in Washington to get the money back to the grass roots level.

The Treasury Department announced last week the amounts allocated for Rowan County and the City of Morehead. Amounts allocated in area counties: Boyd County $34,274, Ashland $75,402, Catlettsburg $8,966.

Carter County $257,716, Grayson $38,709, Olive Hill $33,765, Elkhart County $126,628, Sandy Hook $6,176.

Greenup County $239,318, Bellefonte $5,883, Flatwoods $72,520, Greenup $8,602, Raceland $10,643, Russell $32,183, Worthington $14,234, South Shore $14,778, Wurtland $4,176.

Lawrence County $236,298, Louisa $46,135, Lewis County $118,362, Concord not listed, Vanceburg $26,113.

Morgan County $140,997, West Liberty $41,622.

Fiscal Court

Claudia Caldwell, county judge secretary $450 from $400
+ Jean Bailey, chief deputy county clerk $794 from $666.66

Robertta Easley, junior deputy county clerk $589 from $500
+ Beverly Adkins, deputy county clerk $471 from $400
+ Brenda Christian, deputy county clerk $454 from $400
+ Ed Elam, deputy county clerk $471 from $400

No other employees' salaries were discussed at the meeting last Thursday. During other action, Fiscal Court authorized the County Judge to invest $200,000 of federal revenue sharing funds into U.S. treasury bonds, notes or bills (whichever pays the highest rate of interest) for 60 days. The Court also authorized payment of road fund bills.

For the State Capitol

Agree Or Not

I Say What I Think
by S. C. VanCuren

The campaign for nomination for state offices began to heat up last week with the election only a few days away.

Gov. Julian Carroll took to the hustings last week as his chief opponent, Jefferson County Judge Todd Hollenbach, intensified his campaign for the Democrat nomination for governor. Carroll is seeking a full-four year term after being advanced to Governor when U.S. Senator Wendell Ford resigned to take the federal office in December.

More political heat is being generated in the race for the Democrat nomination for lieutenant governor where 11 candidates are seeking the bid. William L. Sullivan, president pro-tem of the Kentucky Senate, began his advertising campaign last week in state newspapers, radio and television.

Edward Johnson, former state parks commissioner, intensified his speaking campaign last week by criticizing Secretary of State Thelma Stovall and Pike County Judge Wayne Rutherford as well as Sullivan. State Senator Tom Ward of Versailles also poked on Rutherford over his campaign financing and asked Rutherford to quit the race.

Meanwhile Rutherford, the man who is spending the most money advertising and campaigning, said that his campaign headquarters would be glad to work with the Kentucky Registry of Election Finance to work out some discrepancies in reporting contributions. His headquarters claim the errors are unintentional. Rutherford's headquarters has reported collecting more campaign contributions than his 10 opponents combined. His headquarters had reported spending $289,000 in his strong bid for the nomination.

Other Democrat candidates in this race are Alty Gen Ed Hancock, Lyle Willis, James O. Day, Richard E. Butler, the Rev. Charles Sweeney Sr. and Louis S. Grace.

Butler said he would confine most of his campaigning in Western Kentucky where the strong Democrat vote is. He claims he is best known in this, his native, section of the state.

Meanwhile, the candidates for the post of attorney general also became more active in this five-man contest for the nomination. Seeking this spot are Jimmy Don Robinson, David Van Horn, Anthony M. Willard, Robert Stephens and Arthur Samuels.

There really haven't been many issues raised or debated in either the governor or lieutenant governor's race. Julian Carroll has refused to debate Hollenbach. The governor has stayed close to his office in Frankfort earlier, but the campaign trail last week. He had confirmed his speaking to public functions and civic clubs before that.

Hollenbach had been trying his hardest to put Carroll on the defensive in the campaign

Road Bid

20,000 yards of land had to be transported from another site, perhaps a considerable haul by truck.

— Governor Wendell Ford had committed the road to the Browning plant, constructed to modern standards, and fully at state expense. And, Monday Gov. Julian Carroll followed through with Ford's commitment urged Roberts to award the contract although the lowest bid was more than 20 per cent above estimates. Secretary Roberts then awarded the contract Tuesday to Kentucky Road Oiling Co.

Another factor is that the bid calls for completion of the job within 55 days. Kentucky Road Oiling Co. (Ruth Brothers) assured Secretary Roberts they could meet his deadline.

The Browning Company has been pushing for the road by July 20 as August 1 is the target date for completion of the 80,000 floor feet plant.

The road, already under the county system, is known as the Buldridge Road and extends from U.S. 60 to the North Fork of Triplett creek. It is immediately east of the Browning plant site.

Most of the heat has been in the race for the second spot with all of candidates jumping on Rutherford. A spokesman for his campaign said, "It looks like Wayne is getting in the lead. Everybody is jumping on him." That could be right, but this race is so split up and tangled with candidates from every section of the state that political forecasters aren't venturing any strong opinion as to the winner at this date.

We keep hearing that "Mrs. Stovall is the one to beat in this race," but many who are saying this aren't going to vote for her. This sort of forecast comes from the fact that Mrs. Stovall has served 26 years in state government and the name recognition was the strongest at the beginning of the campaign. She has a loyal following among county officials and bankers since she served as Secretary of State as State Treasurer.

Rutherford's strong advertising campaign has brought him name recognition, but it's hard to interpret this into votes either for him or Mrs. Stovall.

Many are projecting this is going to be a tight vote, and that possibly 100,000 votes will win for someone in this congested race.

Owners May Inspect Tax Assessment

Rowan County property owners who are dissatisfied or have any questions about their assessment or taxes will have a chance to be heard, and their contentions evaluated.

William C. Porter, Property Valuation Administrator, said the property tax roll will be open for inspection at his office in the courthouse from June 2 through June 6.

Porter said, "I, or one of my deputies, will be present, and any property owner may inspect the tax roll to check the assessment of his property to determine if it is equitably assessed."

Porter said this is the Jan. 1, 1975 assessment on which state, county and school taxes for 1975 will be due this coming Sept. 15.

Drowning Victim's Body Recovered

The body of a 21-year-old Morehead State University student who drowned April 22 at Cave Run Lake was found about 4 p.m. Friday by two fishermen.

Deputy Rowan Coroner W.C. Lane ruled the death an accidental drowning. Lane said the body is believed to have surfaced only a day prior to being discovered.

Don Woodall, patrolman in the Division of Water Enforcement and assigned to Cave Run Lake, reported that Magnuson's body had washed to shore at the Mouth of Big Cave Run Branch about one mile south of the original site where the canoe in which he was riding capsized April 22.

The fishermen who discovered the body were identified as James Albert Zaring of Anchorage and Charles Harvey Edwards of Middletown.

Magnuson was majoring in radio and television communications and had a 3.7 academic standing. He was born March 16, 1954, in Norwalk, Ohio, son of Mrs. Merian Schaffer Magnuson of Norwalk, and the late Edmund Magnuson. He was a Catholic.

Surviving, in addition to his mother, are two brothers, John and Erick Magnuson, both of Norwalk, and a sister, Mrs. Ann Langhals of Huron, Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted at 12 noon Monday at the graveside in St. Paul Cemetery in Norwalk by Father Richard Buckmeyer with burial following.

Lane Funeral Home in Morehead was in charge of arrangements.

Gunshot Wounds Prove Fatal To Austin Saunders

A charge of shooting with intent to kill is expected to be changed to manslaughter in Fleming County following the death last Wednesday of Austin Bailey Saunders, 61.

Saunders died in the Fleming County hospital two weeks after he was allegedly shot by Kenneth Muse, 23, Flemingsburg. The shooting followed an argument at Saunders' home.

Saunders was first taken to a Lexington hospital and later returned to the Fleming hospital where he died.

Saunders was a night watchman for the highway department. Muse had been dating Saunders' daughter.

Muse has been in jail since the shooting.

Post Office To Get New Heat System

A contract in the amount of $38,350 has been awarded to an Illinois firm for installation of a complete new heating system at the Morehead Post Office.

Postmaster Norman Gross advised today.

Gross said Sim-Aire of Peoria, Ill., was awarded the contract.

The present heating system was installed in 1936 when the building was constructed.

Air-conditioning was installed at the local Post Office about three years ago.

Education Board Hears Of Disciplinary Problems

By Paula Alexander

During a recent special meeting of the state Board of Education, eight counselors from across Kentucky told the gathering that disciplinary problems must be shared by parents and teachers alike.

In discussing a growing lack of respect for educators and effective measures to prevent high school dropouts, Dorothy Bottoms, a counselor at Henry Clay High School in Lexington, said most students respect consistent discipline. She added that she often leaves her windowless office to chat with pupils in the halls or around the football field. This lets them know that she is accessible and interested in what they have to say.

Also, the counselors said that students who repeatedly meet failure in the classroom will leave school as soon as possible.

"Many kids don't wait until they are 16 to drop out, they just 'drop in' until they reach that age," Ms. Bottoms suggested.

A recent survey conducted by the state Department of Education and the Department for Human Resources illustrates that students often are suspended for truancy. Noting these statistics, Pat Guthrie, a Bowling Green counselor, said, "Come on, folks, we've got to have more sense than that."

Roy Woodward, an Owensboro counselor, said his school has instituted a peer counseling system to prevent dropping out, a program that has met "with great success."

More phase-selective courses and additional elementary school counselors also were recommended as preventive measures to correct the drop out rate.

The board also reviewed accreditation of Kentucky's elementary and secondary schools and approved a "comprehensive" rating for seven additional high schools, bringing to 102 the total facilities in the Commonwealth achieving that highest ranking.

Those schools are Marshall County, Franklin-Simpson, Carroll County, Mayfield, Murray, Ft. Campbell and Trigg County.

The latter school is in one of four districts in the state given a superior rating since all facilities managed top grading. The other three are the Middleboro, Paris and Bowling Green independent school districts.

Remaining levels of full accreditation are standard and then basic. Nineteen high schools moved up a notch from basic to standard level, including four Graves County facilities - Lowes, Symsonia, Wingo and Cedral-and four Muhlenberg County high schools - Bremen, Drakesboro (consolidated), Graham and Hughes Kirks.

Independent schools receiving the standard rating were Burgin High School in Mercer County, Dawson Springs, Pineville, Providence, Silver Grove in Campbell County and Williamsburg.

St. Mary High School, Paducah, was the one private school given a standard classification in the group.

The board also voted to request that representatives from several substandard schools attend a regular June meeting of the board to explain their ratings.

In related action, the board "reaffirmed" a previous position on not allowing schools to claim calamity days if such absences would give them less than 175 classroom days per year. Members also voted to request the assistance to repeal a measure permitting five calamity days each year, since many schools thought this excused them from a full instruction term.

Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, state superintendent of public instruction, noted that loss of accreditation could result if systems met on less than 175 days. He said Kentucky was below the national average in required attendance.

The board also approved the appointment of three new members to the state Textbook Commission, an eight-member agency that adopts reading materials for Kentucky classrooms. New members are Robert Baldwin, a state science teacher at Paintsville High School, Margaret Clayton, a supervisor in the Louisville school system, and Dr. Claude Frady, a member of Western Kentucky's College of Education, Bowling Green.

State plans also were approved for the Kentucky Bureau for Vocational Education and the administration of Title IV, a new provision that consolidates several federal categorical programs into one unit.

The organizational chart for the recently formed Bureau for Exceptional Children also was approved by the board. The Kentucky School for the Deaf, Danville, and the Kentucky School for the Blind, Louisville are grouped under one division.

Other new divisions have been created for the emotionally disturbed, mentally handicapped, physically handicapped and intellectually gifted, for those with communicative disorders and learning disabilities, and for supporting services.

Dr. Ginger presented the board with a report on extra fees levied on Kentucky's students and estimated that $3.5 million per year is spent on such items as art or lab expenses. The department study deserves additional consideration, Dr. Ginger said, and will be discussed during the June 17-18 board meeting.

Civilian Corpsmen Work On Cave Run Projects

Corpsemen from the Pine Knot Civilian Conservation Center, Daniel Boone National Forest, have made a substantial contribution to the development of recreational facilities at Cave Run Lake, according to Morehead District Ranger Richard J. Bonята.

Assistant Work Program Officer Brenton Hale, Somerset, brought a carpentry crew under training instructor Raymond Hayes, Somerset, and a cement masonry crew under training instructor Don West, Oneida, Tenn., to the Lake during the first part of May to work on two projects.

concrete and wood tables, concrete wheel stops for parking lots, metal gates and lifeguard stands.

One involved the construction of sidewalks at the Twin Knobs swimming beach and the other involved the construction of wooden screens for toilets to be installed at the Bangor and Leatherwood boat ramps.

Morehead District personnel who worked with the corpsmen and their instructors included George Archer, James Hogge, Bobby Johnson, Dave Murphy and Joe Mauk.

The Pine Knot Civilian Conservation Center is located in McCreary County. It is the largest conservation center in the nation and has a capacity of 224 corpsmen. It is operated jointly by the U.S. Department of Labor and the Forest Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture. Enrollees, ages 16 through 21, come from low income families and about 85 per cent of them are high school dropouts. While at the Center, they have the opportunity to learn a trade and further their classroom education.

According to Center Director Danny Hille, work training is being offered in auto mechanics, bricklaying, cement masonry, cooking, custodial maintenance, heavy equipment operation and welding.

Upon their departure from the Morehead District, Ranger Bonoya remarked that "These young men, through their on-the-job training, are providing facilities that will be enjoyed by visitors to Cave Run Lake. When they complete their program at the Pine Knot Center, they will return to civilian life better equipped to become knowledgeable and productive citizens."

Facilities previously provided by the corpsmen include fire grates, lantern posts,

Dollars & Good Sense

Winter is just about the worst time of year for car trouble. By taking a few simple precautions, you can insure that your car won't let you down.

In many parts of the country, winter means you may need snow tires. If your standard tires are of the radial variety, make sure that your snow tires are radials too. "Studded" tires offer only one advantage: better traction on glare ice. Under most other circumstances they present some disadvantages. They can increase your stopping distance on pavement and may actually harm road surfaces, including your driveway.

Keep your battery in top condition. The terminals should be corrosion free. Have your service station check it each time each cell is producing. If efficiency is down in a two or three year old battery, consider replacing it before it fails. This gives you the opportunity to shop for the best buy and not be forced to buy under pressure.

Also, make sure you are using the right engine oil for your climate. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations.
Be sure you always have a spare tire, jack and lug wrench. Always carry a supply of three or four of jumper cables and a spare set of fuses. And don't forget a first aid kit.
Reader's questions are welcome and should be sent to P.O. Box 2219, Newport Beach, CA 92663.

Dr. Williams is a former faculty member of Morehead State University.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wentz were in Louisville last week end attending the 73rd annual Congress of Kentucky Optometric Association. Continuing education courses dealt with Hypertension, External Diseases of the Eye, and Practical Solutions to Spectacle Lens Problems. Keynote speaker at the Congress's Presidential Luncheon was Senator "Dee" Huddleston. His topic dealt primarily with legislation before the Congress concerning Medicare and Medicaid laws as they relate to the visual welfare benefits of these program recipients.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Malone and family left Tuesday for their home in Bowling Springs, N.C. after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin McGarry.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Morpue of Lexington spent the Mother's Day weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cassity.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cassity, Mrs. Nell Collins, and Mr. and Mrs. Danny James visited at the funeral home in Salsversly last Sunday due to the death of Mr. Raleigh Salyer, father of Mrs. Fred Cassity and Mrs. Dave Carlson.

election will receive $25 for their services, deeded.

Eight didn't show for the "School of Instruction" Monday evening, so they'll be docked $10, and their pay for serving as an election officer is $15.

The 56 who attended the instructional school will be paid $25 as the fiscal court order of two years ago provides $15 for serving on election day and $10 for attending the School of Instruction.

Most of those named as election officers at the 16 polling places next Tuesday are the same people who served in the November general election. They are:

- 1. Courthouse: Lottie Powers, Ada Bruce, Frances Laughlin and Janice Ellis.
  - 2. Lower Farmers: Geneva Moore, J.C. Caudill, Delmar Padgett, and Delmore Cox.
  - 3. Upper Farmers: Myrtle Alley, Diane Stevens, Kate Dennis and Geneva McCull.

Beauty Beat

Ingredients needed for a great Suntan Lotion:
2 Tablespoons P.P.T. "S-77"
4 oz. Strong Tea

..Make tea as follows: Boil 6 oz. water; While still boiling; Place 6 tea bags in water and continue to boil for 5 minutes; Remove from fire and stop for 5 minutes; Remove tea bags and let cool.

..To 4 oz. tea add 2 tablespoons P.P.T. "S-77" and blend well; This mixture makes the most effective suntan lotion imaginable; The skin takes on a deep golden tan; skin dryness that usually accompanies sun-tanning rarely occurs when this lotion is used.

..Apply to skin generously with spray just before exposure to sun; Repeat application every 30 minutes - Even those that tan slowly will be amazed at the results when this lotion is used.

..Keep in refrigerator when not in use.

Note: A few drops of your favorite perfume or cologne will give the formula a more pleasant fragrance.

your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period: May 25 to May 31

ARIES Mar. 21-Apr. 19
Your emotional reaction to a romantic situation should be highly favorable. You might be tempted to put a few bad habits under control. However affairs of the heart, look good!

TAURUS Apr. 20-May 20
It's possible that you'll exchange a few secrets. Be certain that what you hear, say, or do not manipulate you to fit into someone else's scheme of things.

GEMINI May 21-June 20
Avoid poor communications with a member of the opposite sex. On the brighter side? A long term sacrifice will begin to pay off, this week.

MOONCHILD June 21-July 22
You will have to step out of character for a few days. Stellar patterns advise that you please a settler for half instead of the whole.

LEO July 23-Aug. 22
It's during this cosmic cycle that smoldering animosity could break into open warfare. So, curb the urge to provoke a routine associate; pumper the opposite sex.

VIRGO Aug. 23-Sept. 22
It's soft lights and sweet music; for most unattached members of your sign. Obviously, things should go well in affairs of the heart. Look for an across the board improvement!

SCORPIO Sept. 23-Oct. 22
Someone is sidetracking will give you good advice. Also, like that sword out of your belt... getting along with your associates is very important.

SAGITTARIUS Nov. 23-Dec. 21
This week, boredom might hit you as a fist. It seems as though you'll undergo a period of much, much less successful optimism.

CAPRICORN Dec. 22-Jan. 19
Listen, closely, to your mate of similar alliance. According to prevailing stellar patterns, you'll receive excellent financial advice. One more thing, nostalgia is in the air.

AQUARIUS
An associate, so it seems, will bring you out of a rut. Be sure to take your spring coat - A hint to the wise is sufficient.

PISCES Feb. 20-Mar. 20
One or more of your passions will be rekindled. It's week you'll want to keep your thoughts and opinions to yourself, at least, this week.

News Report From...

Rowan County Extension Office

Adrian M. Razor Karen Hill Paul W. Mills County Extension Agents

BEEF CATTLE

According to the Livestock and Meat Report the April 1 inventory of cattle in feed lots stood at 8.5 million head down 31 per cent from last year and fewer for that date since 1963. This probably can help account for the increase in cattle prices.

FOUR CLOVER CUTTINGS POSSIBLE

By cutting clover hay crops early you can not only get improvement in quality of hay but you may get four cuttings instead of two or three. If summer rainfall is adequate, red clover stands that are a year or more old should be cut four times at 32-42 day intervals between early May and September. A fifth harvest can be made or the crop can be grazed after "freeze down" about November 1.

FORESTRY PRACTICE

At the program planning meeting at the ASCS Office last week they told us that the woodland improvement practice is being encouraged this year. Payments are liberal, 75 per cent of actual cost up to $35 per acre for timber stand improvement, thinning, pruning, fire break or fire line construction, erosion control measure on fire lines, logging roads and other wooded trails; and protective fencing.

Site preparation for tree planting this summer and fall will have a cost sharing rate of 85 per cent and tree planting has a rate of 50 per 1000 planted. Stop in and see Chennault James or contact Clayton Prater, Elbert Curtis or Emery Fouch, county board members.

BE READY FOR SEEDING

Chennault James, local ASCS Office manager, says that farmers planning fall seeding, fertilizing and liming practices should have their soil tested before they sign up. Since all pasture practices will require test, he says now is a good time to do this.

TOBACCO DISEASES

The excessive amount of rainfall and extreme humid conditions are causing a number of tobacco pests in the county to suffer disease troubles. One of these which involves the plants rotting off at the top of the ground, turning yellow and dying is called "damping off". For cure, remove canvas and let plants dry out. Dust with Fernate, Zineb or Maneb.

Another disease trouble showing up is anthracnose. Treatment for anthracnose is the same as above Zineb, Maneb or Fernate. Also since anthracnose is carried by water, so be sure that surface water can not move over your bed. This means doing a good job ditching around your bed. Blue Mold has been reported in the south. But so far we have not found it in this area. Treatment for it is the same as above. Keep and eye "peeled" for it.

Some folks have reported algae in their beds and as a matter of fact, there have been a few beds that were infected. The treatment for it is the mixture that we have used for years - three pounds of Bluestone, four pounds of fresh hydrated lime and 50 gallons of water. This will treat about 150 feet of bed. If you have any questions on mixing this material call me at 784-5457.

Hattie Christian, Formerly Of Rowan County, Claimed

Hattie Christian, 78, Dayton, Ohio, formerly of Rowan County, died Monday in Dayton following a long illness. A native of Rowan County, she was born Nov. 23, 1896, the daughter of the late Andrew and Sallie Day Christian. She was a Baptist and had resided all of her lifetime in Rowan County and Dayton, Ohio.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Henry Rose of Dayton, three grandchildren, one brother, Herb Christian of Morehead, and a sister, Mrs. Jesse Stinson of Morehead.

Funeral services were conducted at 10:30 a. Wednesday at Hayes Branch Baptist Church. Burial was in Caudill Cemetery in Morehead.

Pallbearers were Alford Caskey, L.J. Caskey, Russell Gulley, Harry Shroat, Junior Stinson and Edward Stinson. Lane Funeral Home cared for arrangements.

POTPOURRI

The average American home generates 4 1/2 pounds of trash per day. More than 300 varieties of almonds have been developed in California since 1873. The pig is one of the most primitive forms of domestic mammals, dating back nearly 40 million years.

MONEY-SAVING IDEAS

WARDROBE TIPS

You can outfit the family for less and still look like a million by exercising a little savvy, say fashion experts at Sears, Roebuck and Co. Before you buy, have each family member try everything on. Discard the worn-out, pass down the accessories where possible, and repair items in need of it.

Next make a list of the items you intend to buy for each person. Stay with a few basic colors that are flattering and compatible with what they already have. To save on the number of accessories you'll have to buy.

When you shop, stick to the list. Avoid impulsive buying. Skim the newspapers and magazines ahead of time to get an idea of available styles and prices. Pick up a mail order catalog for the week-end family; summer clothes clearances generally begin in July. Many stores have regular weekly sections offering good values all year 'round. Shop these sections first. And when you come across a good buy, stock up - buying several pairs of socks, a dozen T-shirts or jeans.

Don't sweat quality for low price, however, says the fashion experts at Sears. Quality appears to cost a little more, but it is more durable and longer-lasting. Read all clothing labels for size before you buy. Is the item washable - wear to save on dry cleaning bills and ironing time? Are seams and hems generous? Is stitching straight and fabric look-look? A bargain sweater that shrinks after the first washing costs much more than a moderate one worn year after year.

NO-TILL CORN... Claude Anderson, Lloyd Anderson, Virgil Dowdy, Dr. Morris Blixer, Extension Specialist in Grain at the University of Kentucky and Tom Anderson look at a no-till corn planter used in putting on a demonstration of the Anderson farm. Nine hybrid varieties will be tested on which different rates of nitrogen will be used. The demonstration will be seen on the Field Day on Aug. 23.

Firm Soliciting Advertising Not Endorsed By Agencies

The Kentucky State Police are advising local businessmen to be on the lookout for mail from an out-of-state firm attempting to sell advertising space in a publication called "The State Police and Sheriff's Manual". In a statement released here, a state police spokesman said, "This publication is not endorsed by the Kentucky State Police, the Kentucky Sheriff's Association or the Fraternal Order of Police."

The statement was made after one Kentucky businessman told state police that a firm identifying itself as the Liberty Publishing Company, using a Jackson, Miss post office box address, contacted him by mail in an attempt to solicit his business as an advertiser in the publication.

According to Detective Capt. Don Powers, head of the Organized Crime Unit here, the man was asked for a copy of his business letterhead to be used for advertising purposes. Along with the letter he also received an invoice billing him $119.50, which was represented as the cost for carrying that advertisement in the publication.

Powers, who issued the statement, went on to say, "It is my understanding that the Liberty Publishing Company's 'State Police and Sheriff's Manual' is now under investigation by the Consumer Protection Section of the Attorney General's Office. Powers suggested that any one receiving mail from the company may either contact him or consumer protection officials in the State Attorney General's Office here at Frankfort. Consumer protection authorities in Mississippi also are looking into both the company and the publication, he added.

Development To Receive Federal Aid

Kentucky's statewide developmental efforts will be aided by at least $794,000 in Economic Development Administration funds for fiscal year 1975. Development Cabinet Secretary Dee Ashby Akers told Area Development District (ADD) leaders recently. When combined with nearly $265,000 in state matching funds, a total of $1,059,000 will be available for economic development efforts, Dr. Akers said. The two-section grant will allocate $200,000 to coordinate the Commonwealth's planning activities for economic growth. The balance of $859,000 is "project money," he added. Dr. Akers, speaking at the ADD directors monthly meeting, told the group that the governor had designated his office to serve as liaison for statewide planning and support programs for the Economic Development Administration (EDA) program. EDA monies, distributed by the United States Department of Commerce, provide funds on a matching basis for comprehensive planning and community economic development programs. The funds are made available to localities on the basis of income and employment needs.

Gallaher Earns Doctoral Degree

Christopher S. Gallaher, assistant professor of music at Morehead State University, recently earned a doctoral degree in music. The degree was awarded by Indiana University. He also holds a master's from IU and a bachelor's from Morehead State. Before joining the MSU faculty in 1972, Dr. Gallaher served as an assistant professor of music at Frostburg State College in Maryland. The 34-year-old professor is a 1958 graduate of Ashland High School and has performed professionally with several artists and is touring this summer with Henry Mancini, Dionne Warwick and Johnny Mathis. His doctoral dissertation concerned "Density in 20th Century Music." The degree includes a major in music theory with minors in composition and trumpet. Dr. Gallaher is married to the former Linda Swearingen of West Union, Ohio. They have two children. Mrs. Gallaher also is an MSU graduate.

Grayson Hit By Series Of Store Robberies

Grayson, county seat of Carter, was hit Thursday morning by three robberies. The thieves took tools, ammunition, television set and around 12 guns from Western Auto Store on Main Street, several pairs of shoes and $30 from Salyers' Shoe Store, and three riding mowers from Riffe Brothers Co. Also entered was Burtin's Used Car Lot. All of these robberies occurred between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Thursday. On Thursday night an attempt was made to break in the Somerset Oil Co. RECIPIENT OF SCHOLARSHIP HAS PERFECT STANDING AT MSU Mike Maybew of Morehead, who has a 4.0 (perfect) standing at Morehead State University, has received the WHAS Crusade for Children scholarship for studies in Special Education. He will complete work on his master's degree in August.

UBS Students Take Educational Trip

Forty-four sixth grade students from University Breckinridge School are pictured prior to leaving recently for an educational trip to enrich their classroom experiences in English, science, social studies and mathematics. The group, under the direction of Mrs. Drena Price and Mrs. Lois Huang, their teachers, visited the Neil Armstrong Space Museum at Wapakoneta, Ohio, and Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, Mich.

HDA Opposes Proposed Health Systems Agencies

The Board of Directors of the Health Development Association of Northeastern Kentucky, Inc. is requesting reconsideration of the Governor of Kentucky's recommendations to the Secretary of HEW to divide the state into two health service areas. As presently recommended, one area would serve the eastern part of the state and would revolve around the University of Kentucky Medical Center; the other would serve the western part of the state and would revolve around the University of Louisville Medical Center. The designation of health service areas was mandated by the new Health Planning and Resource Development Act of 1974, signed by President Ford on January 4, 1975. According to the law, state governments were given the authority to divide their state into areas which seemed appropriate for health planning and development activities. Each area will be served by a Health System Agency (HSA). The proposed agencies would be formed through restructuring of Comprehensive Health Planning Agencies (CHPAs), Regional Medical Programs (RMPs, Hill-Burton), and Experimental Health Services Delivery Systems (HDA), into the new planning bodies called Health Systems Agencies. The HDA board feels that the Governor's recommendation of two agencies to serve the needs of the state is not in the best interest of the rural areas in northeastern Kentucky. To assure local community autonomy and active participation from all segments of the community in the planning and decision making process, the HDA board strongly supports the concept of at least five smaller regions where an adequate voice in planning and development to meet regional needs can be effected. In addition to the importance of people participation, local financial support by local government will be needed and cooperation and participation financially will be more willing in programs in which the local community has a stronger voice, according to HDA officials. The legislation specified the legal structure, staff governing body, and functioning of the health systems agencies. They would generally be responsible for preparing and implementing plans to improve the health of the residents, to increase the accessibility, acceptability, continuity and quality of health services, to restrain costs and to prevent unnecessary duplication of health resources. Probably most important, the agency will review and approve or disapprove applications for federal funds for health programs and recommend projects for the modernization, construction, and conversion of medical facilities in the area. In a concerted effort to reverse the Governor's decision, HDA and other health interests have sent telegrams to the regional office of HEW in Atlanta to urge reconsideration of the two area designation.

$2,000 Donated In Walk-A-Thon

Pledges and donations in the second annual March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon sponsored by the Morehead-Rowan County Jaycees total about $2,000 Dale Hamilton, Walk-A-Thon chairman, reported today. The event has been termed a success despite being postponed from Saturday to Sunday due to rain. Approximately 100 walkers participated in the Walk-A-Thon which took about five hours to complete. Two awards were presented at the conclusion of the 15 mile walk. Jonathan Gotsick was honored as the youngest walker and Gene Barnes as the oldest walker. Another award will be presented when all monies are turned in and figures are calculated. Pledged money and other contributions should be turned into Bud Stuten, c/o Davis Messer, Dale Hamilton or any Jaycee.

20 Months On Weapons Count

The severity of the federal gun law was seen this week in Caledonia federal court. Judge H. David Hermansdorfer sentenced Lawrence Helton, route 1, Cannel City, to 20 months in prison after he pled guilty to a charge of possessing a firearm after being convicted of a felony. A charge against Helton for transporting explosives was dismissed. Judge Hermansdorfer tempered the sentence by invoking a provision that allows the parole board to release Helton from prison at their discretion.

Luncheon Honors RCHS Ball Club

Junior guard Steve Hodges carried home most of the honors from an awards luncheon Friday honoring the 1975 District Championship basketball team of Rowan County High School. The luncheon was sponsored by Dan Murray, local restaurant manager.

Hodges, who was named to the Eastern Kentucky Conference's all-star team for the third straight year, was elected by his teammates as Most Valuable Player, won the Warren Cooper award for being the team's leading rebounder and received a trophy for handing out the Most Assists (203 — a new school record). Center Daryl Thompson was named the Outstanding Senior and also garnered the Tedford Goodwin Award for being the team's leading rebounder. Thompson, too, was named to the All-EKC Team.

Senior forward Randy Barker received the Roy "Pappy" Holbrook Award as the Vikings' leading free throw shooter, and senior Jim Kerns earned the Academic Award.

Chuck Gilley received the Sportsmanship Award, Keith Skillern won the Field Goal Percentage Award, and Don Haney was honored with the 100 per cent Award. All of the preceding are Juniors.

Sophomore reserve forward Gerald Conn received the Outstanding Play Award for his game-winning shot against Morgan County in the district tournament semi-finals.

RCHS coach Zane Collins also presented awards to student manager Steve Sturgill, for his hard work with the team; to Dan Murray, as the team's leading booster merchant; and to Mrs. Gladys Jennings, for being the team's "No. 1 Fan."

The Vikings, who have more than 20 games left in their first eight plays and should be contenders for the district crown against again next year.

Kentucky Afield

By Hope Carlston
Dept. of Fish and Wildlife

When most fishermen are coming back to the dock after a day on the water, there is another group waiting for the sun to set so they can begin pursuing their favorite fish, the white bass.

After the spawning runs are complete, the whites return to the lakes and go on a heavy feeding spree. One of the best ways of catching them at this time is by night fishing with live minnows.

Fishing at night gives the angler an advantage because he does not have to hunt for the fish—he lets them find him. By anchoring his boat along a deep bank, point or hogback and casting the beams of a lantern or other artificial light into the water, the night fisherman attracts schools of bait fish, which in turn attract the bands of roving and hungry white bass.

The experienced fisherman plan to make their trip an all-night affair, knowing that most of the activity takes place from midnight to dawn. However, many like to be on the lake before dark in order to find a suitable location, anchor the boat from both stern and bow so it won't swing around and generally get organized.

White and silver pond minnows about three inches long are the preferred bait, and they are fished at various depths until the anglers establish at what level the whites are feeding. Usually the minnows are hooked through both lips, lewared to the bottom, then retrieved slowly back toward the surface until a fish is hooked. The angler counts the number of turns of the reel handle to get an indication of the proper depth to fish.

Some recommended equipment for a night-fishing expedition is two anchors with plenty of line, warm clothing, rain gear, and extra light or two and an ample supply of coffee. Either spinning or bait casting tackle can be used, and most experienced fishermen choose a number four or five Aberdeen-style hook.

With the spawning runs now almost completed in Kentucky's lakes, the night fishermen are starting to get their gear together in anticipation of the whites returning to the lake. Already there have been reports from Herrington Lake of good night fishing, and the activity should soon start at most of the other major lakes as well.

The daily and possession limit on white bass is the same—40 per person—and when conditions are right, limit or near limit strings are not unusual for the night fisherman.

Besides the action, which at times can be furious indeed, there is a special appeal about being out on the water on a warm spring night, watching the sun both set and rise over the lake. If you've never tried night fishing for white bass, now is the time to plan a trip to your favorite lake.

You'll probably decide that it's a kind of fishing worth losing sleep over.

University Track Team Claims Second In OVC

With freshmen and sophomores leading the way, Morehead State University's track team claimed second last weekend in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Coach Buck Dawson's thincats finished with 97 points, a gain of 82 points from last season's last place showing.

Western Kentucky won its 12th consecutive title with 173 points. MSU outdistanced Austin Peay for the second spot.

"They say finishing second is like kissing your sister," said Dawson. "But this time I'll be glad to take it."

MSU finished last in 1973 and 1974 and the second place finish is the best since 1957.

Thirteen athletes were responsible for MSU's scoring and all return next year. Seven sophomores, five freshmen and one junior comprise the MSU nucleus for the future.

Freshman Bobby Jones and sophomore Oscar Jones earned positions on the All-OVC team by virtue of winning individual events. Bobby leaped 25 feet, 2 1/4 inches to take the long jump and Oscar won the 220-yard dash in 21 seconds. Bobby's effort qualified him for the NCAA Outdoor Meet in Provo, Utah on June 5-7.

The Eagles established five new school marks during the two-day meet at Eastern Kentucky. Junior Glier Ostlin finished second

Eaglet Soccer Team Wins 10th Of Season

Last Thursday night, University Breckinridge Soccer team defeated Lexington Tates Creek High School 2-0 in Morehead. The victory was the tenth of the year for the team. It was the second win over Tates Creek this season for the Eagles.

USC center forward Kevin Dillon opened the scoring in the first period with a goal his 15th of the year. Captain Dillon played one of his finest games of the season as he continually spearheaded offensive drives for the Eagles. The Eagles lead at halftime 1-0.

Forward Eddie Cox passed to wing Tony Bentley who scored on a strong kick. Bentley's goal was his fifth of the year. Forwards, John Sadler, Bentley and Dillon were impressive as they continually applied

University Has Its First OVC Tennis Champs

Freshman Robert Vigar and Dave Chambers have become Morehead State University's first Ohio Valley Conference tennis champions.

The Englishmen share the No. 2 doubles title with Middle Tennessee's Lasse Durchman and Doug Baxter. The tie resulted from two days of rain at the OVC finals.

Vigar and Chambers defeated Western Kentucky's Bjorn Odengren and Jerry Nixon, 6-4, 6-4, in the first round of doubles. They beat Tom Lie and Del Purcell of Murray State, 6-1, 6-1, in the semi-finals.

MSU finished sixth in the overall tennis standings, an improvement of two positions over 1974.

MSU lost five of six first-round singles matches with Steve Erickson picking up the only win. He beat Jim Lukeman of Murray State 6-0, 6-2, to reach the semi-finals.

Basketball Recruiting Continues

Morehead State University Head Basketball Coach Jack Schalow has announced the signing of a junior college forward as MSU's fifth recruit.

Andre Jones, a 6-5 product of Broward North Community College in Pompano Beach, Fla., has signed to play for the Eagles.

He averaged 18 points and 12 rebounds as a freshman at BNCC last season and will have three seasons of eligibility at MSU.

Jones was named a high school All-American in both football and basketball at Pahokee, Fla. High School and was selected three years on the All-Area Academic team. He participated in the annual Florida High School All-Star Game in 1973.

"He is the type forward we need," said Schalow. "He has excellent quickness, good leaping ability and a terrific attitude."

Jones joins 6-9 Steve Sable of Springfield, Ohio, 6-5 Herbie Stamper of Kott County Central, 6-2 Brad LeMaster of Johnson Central and 6-5 Craig Morris, a transfer from Indiana, on the MSU recruit list.

$50,000 Fishing Tournaments Scheduled At Ky. Lakes

Would you believe $50 a pound for fish? No, it's not the latest price hike to plague the consumer but just part of the prize money in a $50,000 fishing tournament, May 28-30, at Kentucky's Lake Barkley State Resort Park. The occasion is the Kentucky State Open sponsored by the American Bass Fisherman Association.

The tourney will open on Wednesday, May 28, with a banquet at Barkley Lodge. All contestants are required to attend for registration and drawing of pairings for the first day's fishing.

Both Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley will be open waters for the contestants. Angling starts at daybreak, May 29, and continues until 8 p.m. Competition on the 30th will be from daylight until 3 p.m., followed by an award banquet at Barkley Lodge to close the meet.

The competition will be intense as the tournament offers the most prize money ever awarded in a fishing tournament in

And You're Casting Your Ballot For Your Own Best Interests, And Future Progress In Rowan County

JULIAN CARROLL KNOWS THE PEOPLE OF ROWAN COUNTY, AND IS FULLY INFORMED OF OUR NEEDS AND PROBLEMS...

While serving as Lt-Governor, Julian Carroll visited Morehead countless of times so often, in fact, it is difficult to compile them all.

Since becoming Governor this year, Julian Carroll has made three, or more, personal visits to Morehead and Rowan County... and has met in Frankfort, discussed by telephone with Rowan Countians, many of our problems and their solutions.

Gov. Carroll's opponent from Louisville is urban oriented — and knows little about the best of Kentucky — his interests have never been, or will they ever be, for the best interests of counties like Rowan.

ROWAN COUNTY NEEDS JULIAN CARROLL TO SUPPORT THE PLANNED IMPROVEMENT IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOL SYSTEM...

Standing on the courthouse steps at Morehead on Saturday, May 10, Julian Carroll said: "The biggest task I face during the next four years in the upgrading of elementary, secondary (and vocational) education. I pledge to you that Kentucky will no longer rank 48th in the nation... the money will be budgeted for education... upgrading our public schools is the major task I, and the next Legislature, must successfully resolve."

This, and similar statements on education made by Julian Carroll throughout this campaign are particularly significant, inasmuch as the Rowan County Board of Education is embarking on a feasible, and progressive long range program to make this county school system among the very best in the Commonwealth. (Ask the Chairman or any member of the Rowan County Board of Education).

THE CONSTRUCTION OF A MODERN HIGHWAY OF WHICH KY. 519 IN ROWAN COUNTY IS A PART...

The Eastern Kentucky Regional Planning Commission proposed in 1959 that a highway be built to modern standards from the Mountain Parkway via Ky. 519 in Rowan County, connecting with the Cave Run road network, and via Clearfield to Interstate 64 in Morehead. The Commission, composed of non-partisan and outstanding volunteer citizens, stressed that such a highway would connect two main arteries of traffic, permit hundreds of Morgan County and area students to commute to Morehead State University, and open up a heretofore neglected section. It would also provide fast access to St. Claire Medical Center at Morehead.

Answering a reporter's question on May 10, Governor Carroll said: "I have long been cognizant of the need for this highway, although you must recognize that it will be expensive. I am also aware that the proposed highway is past the planning stage in the Department of Highways; and that bridges have been built and are being erected on Ky. 519 wide enough and to meet engineering standards, to meet the quality standards for the Mountain Parkway-Interstate 64 connector that should be built. When you look at a road map this section looks like a desert. You can quote me as saying that this highway bears priority with me and also with the Department of Highways. But, I do not want to be misunderstood on the matter. The construction of such a highway depends, in greatest measure, on the extent of matching federal highway dollars. I understand that federal engineers are also aware of the benefits of such a highway as weighed against the cost, and I believe that matching federal dollars will be available. I can best sum it up by saying that this highway bears highest priority and state dollars will be available to match federal funds."

THE MOREHEAD BRIDGE AT TRIPLETT CREEK AND ROWAN RURAL ROADS...

While Wendell Ford was Governor and Julian Carroll the Lt-Governor, the commitment was made to erect a modern bridge of two lanes, plus a pedestrian walkway and bicycle lane, across Triplett Creek at Morehead's Bridge Street. This bridge connects Morehead with the Recreational Center and the new low rent, family-type housing project.

The bridge has proved to be more expensive than anticipated, but it is being expedited. Julian Carroll said: "You can depend on it, this bridge will be built without one dollar cost to Morehead or to Rowan County."

Examine Julian Carroll's long record of public service and you will find that he has been a proponent and a leader in rural and farm-to-market roads... and, just as importantly, he recognizes the farm-to-market road problems in counties like Rowan.

Early this year, Governor Carroll stressed that Ky. 32 (Christy Creek and Flemingsburg roads) must, based on travel count and importance, be improved and widened. The Highway Office at Flemingsburg has this classified as a priority project.

AS MOREHEAD STATE UNIVERSITY GROWS, THE COMMUNITY AND AREA PROGRESSES...

Several surveys have been made on the economic value to Morehead and the immediate region of Morehead State University. These studies show that MSU contributes from $12 million to $20 million each year to the local economy.

Governor Carroll said: "I will include in the Executive Budget an appropriation for Morehead State University which will provide adequacy and equity comparable to the other colleges and universities in the Commonwealth."

It is almost a foregone conclusion that Gov. Carroll's opponent will be more interested in seeing that higher education dollars go to Louisville instead of to schools like Morehead State University.

GOV. CARROLL: "MOREHEAD CAN BE PROUD THAT YOUR CITY IS KNOWN AS A LITTLE MAYO"

You are aware of the tremendous growth of St. Claire Medical Center, the 25 specialists plus General Practitioners, and all the other facets of health care at Morehead.

Plans and approvals have already passed the advanced stage, and are virtually in the proceed with construction phase, for even further expansion of St. Claire Medical Center. But, this will be possible only through considerable federal funds, administered and allocated by state health agencies.

Governor Carroll said: "As you scrutinize the past 15 years of achievements in the Commonwealth, the health care services and the hospital at Morehead must stand right at the top of the list. Everywhere I travel I hear Morehead referred to as "a little Mayo". As your Governor I intend to work closely with St. Claire Medical Center, assist the Sisters of Notre Dame in any possible and feasible manner because this is an area health care center, serving many counties and countless thousands of our citizens."

This is so important because, in any analysis, state agencies will make the decision on allocation of health and hospital grants.

THE PROBLEMS OF THE FARMERS OF KENTUCKY ARE AT AN ALL-TIME HIGH...

During this gubernatorial campaign not much has been said about farm programs, probably because most are administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

However, it is important to have a Governor who will work with our U. S. Senators and Representatives... and correlated state agencies, to insure equitable treatment for our tobacco growers, our cattle producers and all phases of agriculture.

Julian Carroll was born and reared on a farm. Examine his long public record and you will find Julian Carroll's vote and influence has always been on behalf of the average farmer like we have in Rowan County. When you discuss the farmer's future it can be summed up with: "Julian Carroll was a farm boy and knows what it's all about."

GOVERNOR CARROLL'S EXPRESSED CONCERN ABOUT INDUSTRY

Speaking at Morehead, Julian Carroll said: "Many do not understand how effective a Governor can be in attracting industry to Kentucky and to your county. For example, I know that the Browning Company (Division of Emerson Electric) would not now be under construction and soon to open at Morehead, without our aid from Frankfort. We have so broadened our thinking that we're looking not only for domestic industry, but also industry created with foreign nation dollars. I have directed the Commissioner of Commerce to give you full cooperation and state support in locating new industry in Rowan County. The Governor's office and the Governor's home in Frankfort is open 24 hours a day if the subject matter is a new industry providing employment for our people."

Governor Julian Carroll for Governor!

Because you care

...about building a stronger economy for Kentucky. Governor Julian Carroll has already begun an aggressive campaign to bring new jobs to Kentucky. He is working to make certain that people employed now maintain their jobs, that those not working get their jobs back, and that new jobs will be available for our constantly expanding work force. Overall, Governor Julian Carroll will use all of his resources as governor to provide every Kentuckian who wants to work the opportunity to earn a decent living.

...about providing quality education for all Kentuckians. In addition to improving Kentucky's elementary and secondary educational systems in the next four years, Governor Julian Carroll will see that our Commonwealth's vocational education needs are met. Seven new vocational centers will be built throughout Kentucky, using funds previously allocated for three more state office buildings in Frankfort. These centers will give every Kentuckian the opportunity to learn a professional trade and to earn a worthwhile wage. With a better trained, well-educated work force, all Kentuckians will benefit... from better products, better services, and better paychecks.

...about establishing a secure, healthy lifestyle for Kentucky's Senior Citizens. Too often in the past, our Commonwealth's Senior Citizens have been forced to depend on an ill-funded, poorly administered government agency for assistance. Governor Julian Carroll has put an end to that. He has already funded programs that will enable Kentucky's Senior Citizens to enjoy all the benefits of the Older Americans Act not fully enjoyed thus far. And should Washington reduce the proposed 8.7% increase in Social Security Income scheduled for July 1, Julian Carroll will make up the difference with state funds. Kentucky's Senior Citizens will find Julian Carroll responsive to their needs.

...about being governed by an administration that is frugal, efficient, and totally honest. Governor Julian Carroll believes that each tax dollar collected forms a bond of trust... requiring each state employee to spend that money as if it were his or her own. And Governor Carroll has already taken steps to reduce state spending. He makes appointments based on professionalism, not politics. His young, dedicated staff firmly believes that "Good Government is Good Politics." And finally, throughout his fourteen years of state public service, Governor Julian Carroll has always been an outspoken advocate of openness in government.

He believes that each tax dollar you pay is still your money. That each program initiated is your program. That in every instance, state government is accountable to you. Because Governor Julian Carroll knows that you are the state!

Vol. 92 THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 22, 1975 No. 21

MSU Looks To Gym, Library Expansion

Administrative officials at Morehead State University said this week that a story in the last issue of the Morehead News, bearing a quotation from Gov. Julian Carroll, "is misleading" and "Didn't go far enough."

A representative of the Morehead News interviewed Carroll when he was in Morehead Saturday, May 16 for a pancake breakfast on the courthouse lawn, and quoted him as saying that the operating budget of Morehead State University will be increased; MSU is assured of equitable treatment during his administration, but capital construction money will be curtailed in higher education and the money put in programs.

President Dr. Adron Doran said that MSU need catch up on some capital construction facets and that he, the Board of Regents and the Governor were in agreement on these needs.

The Board of Regents, meeting May 9, authorized the President "to approve and present to the Commissioner of Finance through the Council on Public Higher Education to be included in the Governor's Executive Budget the following two projects:

+ Renovation and expansion of Johnson Camden Library at an estimated cost of $2 1/2 million

+ Expansion of the Wetherby gymnasium to include additional space and facilities for women's athletics, classroom and laboratory activities, and a standard size swimming pool at an estimated cost of $5 1/2 million."

The minutes of the May 9 Regents meeting reveal the construction or renovation status on the following at Morehead State University:

Adron Doran University Center — The Center is being repaired to correct the mistakes of the architect, the general contractor, the subcontractors, and the Division of Engineering as a result of a court order at a cost of $625,000. The project is scheduled to be completed by February 25, 1976.

Veterinary Technology Field Laboratory — The Vet Tech Laboratory is being completed at the University Farm at a total cost of $314,623.

Power Plant — To correct the smoke pollution caused by the use of coal in the Power Plant, it will cost approximately $138,000.

Allie Young Hall — Leon Browning and Associates, Architects, are completing final plans for the renovation and reconstruction of Allie Young Hall. The 1974 Session of the General Assembly appropriated $750,000 for the project and the President has requested the Commissioner of Finance to allocate an additional $825,000 which the architect has estimated will be required for a total of $1,575,000.

Livestock Arena — MSU has completed the steel roof structure and erected concrete and panel walls. Louis Hugg, Architect, is completing final plans for a seating capacity of 2,500 people including a sprinkler system required by the Fire Marshall. The Commissioner of Finance will allocate funds to build the seats, toilets, and concession stands and the sprinkler system will be paid for out of the "Fire Fund."

Tennis Courts — The Commissioner of Finance has authorized Gene West of Gregg and Associates, Lexington, to prepare final plans for the construction of four more tennis courts and the lighting of the other courts. These improvements are badly needed and will be made at an approximate cost of $85,000.

Rice Building Annex — One of the greatest needs on campus is for storage space. The Commissioner of Finance has agreed to allocate the necessary funds to construct an annex to the W.H. Rice Maintenance Building. The plans are completed and bids will be advertised at once. The Annex will be 75 x 57' and will cost approximately $70,000.

Development Cabinet Rep Is Appointed

Gov. Julian M. Carroll has appointed James P. Pruitt Jr. as executive assistant for community and regional relations in the Kentucky Development Cabinet.

Pruitt, a Pikeville, native, will aid Development secretary Dee Ashley Akers in coordinating the state's economic development activities with community needs and interests.

He will serve as the cabinet's direct liaison to local governments and regional planning agencies, Carroll said, and meet with local officials and civic leaders.

A 1974 graduate of the University of Louisville School of Law, Pruitt, 28, formerly worked as a local government advisor in the Office for Local Government and as a research assistant to the Pike County Attorney.

"I'm confident that Jim will strengthen the lines of communication among state and local officials," the governor said, "and that throughout Kentucky he will encourage local initiative and innovation in community development."

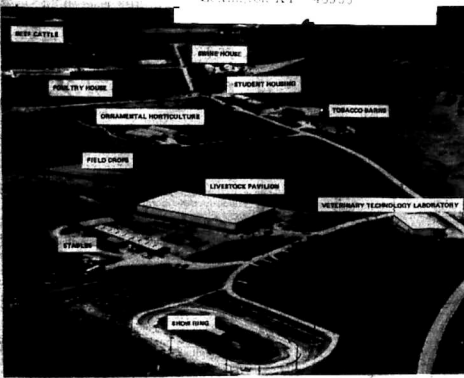

Pruitt's appointment, Akers said, "represents a response to the recognized need for broader participation in the cabinet's policy-making decisions. I'm counting on him to maintain awareness of community development activities and provide a great deal of input into the efforts of this cabinet."

His other responsibilities, he added, will be to outline to the communities specific opportunities of the state's development programs and to relay the availability of any federal or state development funds.

Pruitt received an undergraduate degree in economics from Morehead State University, where he served on the student government, the undergraduate curriculum committee and the Kentucky Young Democrats Executive Committee. He received an MSU pacesetter award and was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

He did graduate work in economic development, public affairs and public speaking at the University of Kentucky.

Pruitt and his wife, the former Cynthia Jane Price, live in Frankfort.

NAMED FOR DERRICKSON . . . Morehead State University's farm on Ky. 377, three miles north of Morehead, has been renamed the Charles M. Derrickson Agriculture Complex in honor of the man who has headed the University's Department of Agriculture since 1965. The Breathitt County native recently was presented the Distinguished Faculty Award by the MSU Alumni Association and named acting dean of the School of Applied Sciences and Technology. In recommending the name change to the Board of Regents, MSU President Adron Doran said Dr. Derrickson had developed "a strong and diversified program in agriculture to serve the needs of students in the region served by the University."

Carroll Issues Executive Order On Beef Purchasing

Gov. Julian Carroll is ordering that all state government purchases of beef shall hereafter specifically be made up of domestic beef.

The governor's order points out that agriculture is the basic industry on which life depends and a mainstay of the Kentucky economy, and that beef cattle are a large part of the state's agricultural industry and because of it, the state has a vested interest in the success of the beef cattle farmer.

So, hereafter, all state purchase orders processed through and by the authority of the Executive Department for Finance and Administration shall specify domestic beef when beef is ordered.

Highway Funds Being Obligated

Kentucky ranks eighth among the 50 states in obligating its share of the $2 billion in impounded federal aid highway funds released by President Ford on Feb. 11 of this year.

According to the most recent report of the Kentucky Secretary of Transportation John C. Roberts, "because Gov. Carroll acted quickly in making $15 million in state matching funds available and because many of this department's employees worked hard getting the project proposals ready."

"We could proceed rapidly in submitting projects for federal approval," said Kentucky Secretary of Transportation John C. Roberts, "because Gov. Carroll acted quickly in making $15 million in state matching funds available and because many of this department's employees worked hard getting the project proposals ready."

Kentucky complied with federal guidelines that came with the release of $2 billion in impounded funds. The guidelines require that 80 per cent of the money released be assigned to construction projects and that bids be taken or work started within 45 days from the date when funds are obligated. Special attention also has been paid to areas of high unemployment. Inter-state projects and to safety projects.

The early submission of Kentucky's highway construction plans and approval by the Federal Highway Administration has already resulted in many projects being let to contract.

Some of the major projects which have already been let to contract in the state as a result of the obligation of funds are located in the following counties: Boone, Carroll, Fayette, Gallatin, Harlan, Jefferson, Johnson, Kenton, Letcher, Metchie, Menard, Mingo, Morgan, Powell, Rowan, Wayne and Washington.

Additional projects which we are submitting to the Federal Highway Administration are currently being processed, said Roberts, and it is anticipated they will be approved and result in several more million dollars being obligated to Kentucky highway construction projects before June 30, 1975.

Voiceprint Machine New Weapon Against Crimes

By Herb Brock

Tucked away in a back room of the state police photo lab is a rare instrument which some day may serve as the key weapon in Kentucky's battle against such crimes as kidnapping, bomb threats, murder and extortion.

It's called the voice identification automatic sound analysis spectrograph or, more simply, the "voiceprint machine."

Already used as an investigative aid in a limited number of cases, voiceprint translates the human voice into lines on a graph, much like an electro-cardiogram (EKG) measures heart beat.

But unlike the EKG, voiceprint is being used more and more by police as a mechanical means of identifying voices of suspects. For example, Voiceprint can make life miserable for an obscene phone caller.

Only One In State

"Our goal in using the machine is to make crime over the telephone no longer anonymous, even if the scene of the crime is a phone booth 500 miles away from the victim's receiver," said Sgt. Bill Kline, operator of the only voiceprint machine in Kentucky.

Kline said the machine, which consists of two large metal cabinets covered with gauges and buttons, essentially is a modified version of the same instrument used in speech rehabilitation of the deaf and hard of hearing.

Tapes of a human voice usually recorded over the telephone, are fed into the machine, which, within seconds spits out a sheet, or spectrogram, with markings indicating voice frequency levels that may then be compared with spectrograms of voices belonging to known suspects or on file.

The accuracy of the spectrogram depends on the quality of tapes submitted by victims of criminally related phone calls or by police handing their cases.

Advises Victims And Police

Kline does not actually assist in taping phone calls, but he does advise both victims and police of simple guidelines to follow, such as using the highest quality monaural taping gear and making sure known suspects repeat verbatim words spoken in the unknown tape.

"I also try to remind police to follow established rules pertaining to the regular submission of evidence," even though voiceprint spectrograms are not admissible in Kentucky courts as evidence, he said.

Currently, 21 states permit spectrograms to be used as evidence, and Kline envisions the day when Kentucky courts will be added to that list. In the meantime, he sees the machine's role as an investigative aid becoming increasingly important to law enforcement officials.

According to Capt. Jerry Mullins, chief legal officer for the state police, voiceprint is viewed in much the same light as polygraph or "lie detector" tests, although polygraph has been around longer and has gained wider acceptance.

"Perhaps as voiceprint grows in practice and more operators establish their credentials," Mullins said, "more judges will permit spectrograms as evidence."

Only Nine Experts

Kline has spent the last 10 months establishing his credentials, but still lacks the necessary study and experience to join the nation's now exclusive club of only nine voiceprint "experts."

Kline added that the real possibilities of voiceprint were pointed out during the 1967 Six Day War between the Arabs and Israelis. Using a voiceprint machine, the Israelis were able to prove that Egyptian President Nasser ordered the tank offensive across the Sinai which started the conflict.

The machine's use as an investigative tool, which has been limited thus far in Kentucky to only 12 cases since June, 1974—all of which are still pending—is not restricted to criminal cases. It could be broadened to include such things as probes of airplane crashes, Kline said.

An 11-year veteran of the Kentucky state police, Kline first was approached about the possibility of developing voiceprint capabilities by former State Police Commissioner Ron Johnson over two years ago. At that time, Kline had no training in the voiceprinting field.

Now a student at UK majoring in speech and hearing sciences, the 32-year-old Kline has studied with leaders in the research and development of voiceprinting. Although he is ranked, only as a trainee with the International Association of Voice Identification, Kline can join the elite group of experts if he passes a test given by the association and receives the approval of the current members. That will be at least another two years, he says.

Ann Landers

Copyright - Field Enterprises, Inc.

Dear Ann Landers: I was fascinated by the letter about the "Professional Virgin." My best friend is one and I think it's lousy. She's a wonderful gal in many ways, but when it comes to sex she's a real rooker. I believe the girl is a sadist. She loves to lead guys on - giving them every reason to think they'll score. When things get to the boiling point, she lowers the boom, feigns indignation and announces, "I'm not that kind of a girl!"

Although a medical examination would prove she has everything she was born with, I'd say her behavior is far from virginal. When she describes how far she goes, I find it difficult to understand what she thinks she's saving by not completing the act.

Comment, please I'd love for her and others who behave this way to see it in print - Out With The Teasers.

Dear Ann: Your friend, and other "professional virgins" who make such a big issue over a little tissue, are kidding themselves. Although they might be clinically "intact" they really haven't saved much in the way of personal integrity, reputation or anything else. I agree with you - they ARE sadistic.

Dear Ann Landers: I have been married to this wonderful man for four months. It is my first marriage (I'm in my late 20s) and Jack's second. He was widowed after having been married for 18 years - so you see he is several years my senior.

It seems whenever Jack introduces me to anyone he says, "Meet my new wife." This bothers me. I don't feel it's necessary that I be introduced as "new." I've mentioned this to Jack at least three times but he seems to forget. What can I do to get the idea across?

Antics With Semantics.
Dear Ann: Forget it. It's no big deal. Jack will probably "drop that irritating word within the year. In the meantime I can't see that any harm is being done.

When he begins to introduce you as his OLD wife, then you'll have something to complain about.

Dear Ann Landers: I have to laugh at the way people who write to you have divided themselves into two camps - cat lovers, who are invulnerable dog haters, and dog lovers, who can't stand cats.

Actually, I don't mind either cats or dogs. Little children I find intolerable. Why has so little been written on this subject - considering our society has become completely child-dominated?

More and more I meet people who share my disgust at the way our nation's little monsters are let loose to ruin rugs, furniture, lawns, parks, public buildings, and even marriages.

I've been in homes where parents have allowed their children to take over the conversation, argue with adult guests, and use language which I consider insolent. And have you noticed how many children are permitted to answer the phone and ask, "Who is this?"

You might consider me an oddball, but there are more of us around than you think. I hope the parents who read your column give this matter some thought. - Upstate N.Y.

Dear Ann: Well!! I'm glad you radioed your position. Dad, I'll keep my grandchildren away from YOUR neck of the woods.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Slovenly Neighbors

Morgan not only didn't clean his neighbors, he hated them. They were so unkind that debris of all kinds littered their yard. Finally he asked a court to order a clean-up.

"That place is an eyesore," he told the judge. Besides disturbing me personally, it also reduces the value of my real estate."

However, the judge refused to issue an order. He said that generally speaking, a property owner has no right to impose his standards of neatness upon the neighbors.

This has long been the prevailing rule of law. It applies not only to standards of neatness but also to standards of beauty. Consider another case:

A suburban family was felled by the rough, unpainted wooden fence erected by the people next door. But in a court trial, the neighbors pointed out that their fence had been put up for the legitimate purpose of protecting their garden.

Again declining to interfere, the court said:

"The defendants were not compelled to curtail the taste of their neighbors, nor to limit the color of their paint or the color of their own lawn."

On the other hand, plaintiffs need not carry at least some weight if there are other grounds for complaint as well. Another court faced the question of whether an auto wrecking yard could operate in an unimproved residential district.

"Usually things are not to be carried solely on that account. Many of them are necessary or lawful on the activities of legitimate business."

"But such things should be properly placed, not so located as to be unduly offensive to the neighbors, and the public. A yard should should not be located in a community of unimproved residential character."

Rowan Library Receives KSP Source Materials

Gov. Julian Carroll's description of Kentucky's libraries as the "citizens' free universities" is particularly appropriate for libraries in 16 Commonwealth counties, including Rowan County.

Shelved at these 16 libraries are books that state police officers may use to earn promotions. Each library has 17 different sources materials, including a state police manual, a copy of the Kentucky Penal Code, and textbooks on subjects such as constitutional law, criminal investigation, human relations and personnel management.

The state police book collections are located in cities with state police posts and a library belonging to the state system. Eastern Kentucky, including Rowan County Public Library, the books may be found at Pikeville Free Public Library, Laurel County Public Library in London, Harlan Public Library, Ashland Public Library, and Perry County Public Library in Hazard.

The books were purchased by the state Department of Library and Archives in cooperation with the Kentucky State Police. The purpose of the book collections, according to State Police Commissioner Truitt A. Pickett, is to provide as fair a promotion system for state police officers as possible.

When officers seek promotions they must take a written examination on the materials in these books. The results of this test count as 40 per cent of an officer's rating.

A performance rating by a supervisor and an interview with a rating board count 30 per cent.

"Making the study materials available free at a nearby library gives the officer an alternative to buying books and taking university courses while working toward promotion," Commissioner Ricks said.

But Police officers are not the only people who will benefit from the new book collections, according to Charles Hinds, director of the Department of Library and Archives.

"We felt the purchase of these books was a good investment because the materials will receive maximum use by citizens," Hinds said. "Most of the material is of interest to the general public, especially the books on management and supervision, the Kentucky Penal Code and the law books."

Near the test dates the books will be on reserve for police use only. At other times, anyone may check out the books.

The Department of Library and Archives purchased more than 900 books, with a reserve set housed at the State Library in Frankfort. About 650 officers are expected to use the materials according to Commissioner Ricks, and that the figure should reach 950 by July.

Day-by-day job-downs, and editorial observations of the publisher of this newspaper.

Tuesday is election day? Good citizens will vote.

Those who care little about their government, their community, state and county will not take the time to go to their precinct polling places. This is apathy and complacency at its worst in our democratic form of government. This newspaper has editorially stated for several years that apathy and complacency... let the other fellow do it... is the major problem of this community and the nation.

Be a participating and concerned citizen — vote next Tuesday!

EDITORIAL SPEAKING — The important race Tuesday is that for Governor, and no community in Kentucky is more vitally affected by the office than is Morehead and Rowan County. This is because we are the site of Morehead State University, and the regional base for multiple federal and federal-state programs, all administered by Commonwealth agencies and segments. Further, Morehead is a highway artery for this part of Kentucky.

This newspaper endorses, strongly so, Julian Carroll for Governor. The endorsement is made emphatically so, because we know that Julian Carroll understands our problems and will be a conscientious friend to Morehead State University and to Morehead and Rowan County. Julian Carroll has visited our community so many times that we know how many Rowan (contains personally, that the door to the powerful Governor's office will be open.

It was our intention to detail the issues, particularly those that vitally affect the economy, progress, and the well-being of our citizens here at home. However, the Rowan County (Carroll committee has placed a page advertisement in the Morehead State News, and said just about the same things we had intended writing in this column.

One statement in the advertisement is significant — that Julian (Carroll's opponent is Louisville-oriented and has little or no interest in communities such as Morehead and Rowan County. In the same true vein the budget for Morehead State University would be of little concern to him, although much in the thinking of many of our citizens. It's not difficult to write glowing phrases and glittering generalities, but the heart of any proposition lies in the exacting details. With no personal axes to grind, or any expectation of personal remuneration, we endorse — and repeat, emphatically so — Julian (Carroll because —

1. He has proved his integrity, ability and leadership through the many years. Nobody knows Kentucky and its people better than he, and Julian (Carroll has always been a concerned and hard working public servant. We have a fair idea that his opponent didn't know the names of many counties and the county seats before entering this race, and had to look them up on a map.

2. Kentucky can no longer remain 19th in the nation in elementary and secondary education. Julian (Carroll is the best Governor in several years with a genuine interest in our public schools and our children. The Rowan County Board of Education is moving in the right direction, a path that will make our school system among Kentucky's best. But the Board will be stymied from the outset without state funds. Julian (Carroll is the one "great hope" for the children and the teachers.

3. There necessarily can be only so much money in the budget for higher education. We are interested, vitally so, that Morehead State University receives its fair share. We know MSU will when Julian (Carroll is re-elected, and would be confused and uncertain of equitable treatment if he is not the Governor for the following four years. Surveys indicate that MSU adds from $12 million to $20 million each year to the economy of this community.

4. For more than 15 years the Morehead News has been a strong proponent of a modern highway from the Mountain Parkway, via West Liberty, Ky. 519, Cave Run reservoir, and Clearfield to connect with Interstate 64 at Morehead. Julian (Carroll has assured us of the priority this most important road bears in his mind and his administration.

5. Over the years Julian (Carroll has associated with and been in contact with thinking Rowan County citizens. Rowan County will be able to get through the door to the Governor, and his ear will be attuned to our problems and our needs.

6. As this newspaper predicted 15 years ago Morehead has become the health care center of northeastern Kentucky... and St. Claire Medical Center is referred to as a Little Morehead. Further expansion is imminent at St. Claire. But, this advanced planning, embodying faces and programs, will be possible only through state and federal grants, administered through state agencies. Julian (Carroll is pledged to the programs of St. Claire Medical Center "because Morehead is a regional health care center serving thousands of people in many counties."

7. Julian (Carroll has a spotless record of support for rural and farm-to-market highways.

The foregoing are "grass roots" or "here at home" reasons why we feel so strongly in our support for Carroll.

In any analysis, including all polls, Julian (Carroll will be nominated Tuesday by a landslide. The important factor, in our thinking, is that when the votes are all certified to the Secretary of State, the results from each county will be scanned and screened. That's why the size of Rowan County's majority for Carroll in this primary is so important.

It is a foregone conclusion by everybody who knows anything about local elections, that Carroll will carry Rowan County, and substantially so. But, the size of that majority is important because it is reflected by the polls that Carroll will carry 119 of the Commonwealth's 120 counties, and perhaps all 120. Rowan can be a banner or a so-called county in Carroll's final majority.

REGARDLESS of whether you agree with the foregoing gubernatorial endorsement, we do urge you to take the time to go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. The sample ballot (big and difficult to vote) appears elsewhere in this issue of the Morehead News.

THE PERFECT SYMBOL of today's gracious living is a lady in a sheath dress trying to sit down in a contemporary design chair with a buffet dinner in her hands.

HAVE YOU HEARD about the two engaged nudists who decided to break it up because they had been seeing too much of each other?

FROGGING SEASON is in. Reports are that the frogs are slow in emerging from hibernation this year, probably because of so much rain and cool spring days.

This ever-growing-old: Publisher notes that most froggers these days depend almost entirely on a jig. When we were a frogging lot we always caught the frog on the left hand while holding a strong light in the right hand, and giggered only the frogs that were sitting high on the bank, under a log, or on a pile of driftwood.

We were often told in the old days that handling frogs caused warts. This, of course, is not true.

The frogs that propagate in Rowan County and this part of the nation are among the biggest and have the best eating legs. They are smaller in the deep south, although more plentiful.

REPRINTED from the Punch — There was an old owl by the name of Morehead. The more he heard, the more he spoke. The less he spoke, the more he heard. O, if men were like that bird.

Larry Stone says there was a Central City man who went to his doctor and complained of a pain in his leg. After one glance at the leg the doctor asked the patient, "How long has your leg been walking around in this condition?"

The man answered: "Two weeks."

Doctor: "For heaven's sake, man, you have a broken leg! Why didn't you come to see me sooner?"

"Well, doc, I would have, but everytime I saw something is wrong with my wife says I have to give up drinking."

THE DEPARTMENT of Revenue has classified Rowan County as having one of the most equitable tax assessments in all of Kentucky. This newspaper has editorially stated that Bill Porter, Rowan County's best Property Valuation Administrator (Tax Assessor) in all of the Commonwealth.

If you think your property is unfairly assessed, this is to advise that the Rowan tax rolls will be open for inspection from June 2 through June 6. We're right certain that if there is a discrepancy, Bill Porter will correct it for you.

"DO YOU ACT toward your wife as you did before you married her?"

"Exactly. I remember how I used to act when I first fell in love. I used to stand in front and look at her house, almost afraid to go in. Now I do the same thing."

ROWAN COUNTY'S tabulated vote (by precincts) will appear in the next issue of the Morehead News. Unlike most newspapers we always hear ours like this: Rowan County Vote By Precincts — Primary Election, May 27, 1975. Note that the year (1975) is included. The reason the Morehead News does this is because we have scores of readers who clip this and save it for years. We believe banker Glenn Lane has the tabulated vote clipped from the Morehead News since he first came to Morehead in the mid-30's... and, we have visited many rural homes where he is the head of the household (man) can produce the record of how his precinct voted in every election for 40 or 50 years.

NEXT MONDAY (May 26) is Memorial Day observance, and the offices of the Morehead News will be closed. The following day is election day. This will foul up production at the News office, but we anticipate the paper will be printed on time Wednesday afternoon, just as it has been produced for over 30 years under the existing ownership.

THE RAIN and bad spell of weather last week was classified by senior citizen readers as "snowball winter."

All our life we have heard that shortly after the white flowering plant, known as snowballs, come to full bloom that this will be followed by a few days of bad weather. That certainly proved true this year.

Older-timers weather signs — If cattle cavort all over the field there'll be foul weather the next day... If horses stand at slunk with their heads toward the south and their ears to the north you can expect cold weather that night.

WE UNDERSTAND that a considerable number of food stamp recipients were train at the Morehead post office on a recent Friday afternoon. They were in line for their stamps when the window closed at 3 p.m., as scheduled.

CONSUMER organizations are gaining ground in having almost everything in a supermarket or food store labeled as to when the product was canned, last day it can be sold etc.

Bakeries have mostly resorted to a certain color of the piece of plastic with which the outside wrapper is tied at the top. If the tie is red the bread is baked Sunday night for Monday sales; white for Tuesday; blue for Wednesday; but most bakeries don't bake for that day of the week; yellow Thursday; green for Friday; and orange is Saturday's bread.

Incidentally, two day old bread is supposed to be more digestible and better for you. We'd rather have the "fresh out of the oven" kind, except for toast.

MANY OF OUR associates have received their federal income tax rebates.

We know, our luck being what it is, that we'll be the last to receive the rebate if we ever do. The way the government is spending money they might run out before they get to our tax return.

Repeating an observation some issues back in this column — the government may be printing money without keeping any record of the amount printed.

SHE: "I'm telling you for the last time that I won't let you kiss me!"

HE: "I knew you'd weaken."

THE BARTENDERS union is gravely concerned because many tavern owners are hiring only women.

POLICEMEN in London, Eng. have sent up shrill blasts because whistles are no longer a part of their equipment. Use of whistles dates back to Victorian times. Most policemen kept their old whistles by paying 25 cents to the police department.

MORE PEOPLE are going broke. Bankruptcy petitions in the nation have risen 35 per cent over the previous high. In March 24,970 filed in bankruptcy, highest one month since the law was passed.

ALSO ON THE increase is crime by women. Cases of homicide by females has tripled, and embezzlement and business theft by women has risen astronomically.

Arrest records show that men still commit more crimes, but the females are catching up fast. Women have always been number one among the sexes in shop lifting, and they're increasing the margin.

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

TRUST FUND FOR MINORS — who are most likely in a lower bracket.

A special trust fund for minors may be an answer for those wishing to provide potential financial security for their children — and at the same time cutting down on income taxes.

A trust involves an agreement among three parties in which the owner of a property transfers legal title to an intermediary to hold and manage for the child as a result of such an arrangement include:

- Since property is removed from your estate to go into the trust, your estate taxes may be lower when you die.
- Income from the trust fund each year is taxable to the child.

— A parent may give each child $3,000 annually, up to adult age without having to pay gift taxes on it. Plus there is a lifetime gift tax exemption of $30,000.

The tax benefits apply only if the income from the trust fund is paid to the minor child either immediately or upon his reaching the age of majority at which time the trust must terminate. The income could be paid to the child for use as a premium on an insurance policy owned by the child or the trust on the life of the parent. There are many ways to take advantage of the trust vehicle and for many people who may not have thought about it they are well worth exploring.

Accreditation Commission Recognizes Medical Center

St. Claire Medical Center has been honored with a certificate of recognition by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) during National Hospital Week.

The accreditation indicates that the medical facility has chosen to perform within professionally developed standards of the JCAH and that it has substantially complied with these standards. The standards, published as the "Accreditation Manual for Hospitals" set forth optimal achievable goals of excellence against which a facility can measure itself and be measured in turn by the Joint Commission's survey.

The certificate to St. Claire, signed by John D. Porterfield, M.D., director of the Joint Commission, reads as follows —

"During this National Hospital Week, May 11-17, the Joint Commission takes special pleasure in recognizing your continuing commitment to the quality of patient care.

Mass. says burglars who raided his home added insult to injury when they helped themselves to bacon and eggs and stacked the dirty dishes in the sink before making off with more than $10,000 worth of goods. The crooks, who struck while the judge was on vacation, also stole a porcelain coin bank in the shape of a monk, emblazoned with the words "Thou Shalt Not Steal."

IT WAS OUR good intention this issue to write about Kentucky's new no-fault insurance law. The more we read about it the more confusing everything becomes. A little knowledge can be more dangerous than none and that's the position we're in on no-fault. The insurance companies are sadly lacking in providing any answers.

WE ATTENDED a party the other evening and a friend complained (privately to me) that his wife "kissed everybody present once and is going around for seconds." He asked our advice and we told him he should take her home and give her a good love!

A CAR bearing a Kentucky dealers license, parked Monday on University Boulevard, had bumper sticker reading — Moving, Marrying of Multiplying? — Call Welcome Wagon.

FINAL REMINDER: Be a good citizen and VOTE next Tuesday.

through voluntary accreditation. We proudly salute you as one of nearly 4,800 accredited hospitals in the nation who have chosen to strive to deliver the optimum in health service to the community."

The JCAH's accreditation surveys are voluntary. Facilities seek accreditation in furtherance of their pursuit of excellence and a higher quality of care.

The Joint Commission began in 1918 under the auspices of the American College of Surgeons. It was incorporated in 1951 with the support of its present member organizations — the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association, and the American Medical Association.

JCAH is a Chicago-based, non-governmental, non-profit organization. In addition to hospitals, it has programs for the accreditation of long term care facilities, psychiatric facilities, and facilities for the mentally retarded.

Unemployment Increase Down

Although unemployment in Kentucky continues to rise, the rate of increase is not as large as it has been in previous months.

April's unemployment rate was 7.6 percent of the labor force, compared to 7.4 percent in March. There are 106,800 unemployed Kentuckians, according to Bob MacDonald, chief statistician for the Bureau for Manpower Services, Department for Human Resources (DHR).

Compared with April of last year, unemployment has increased by 52,000 and the rate of unemployment has grown from 4.4 percent in April of 1974 to 7.6 this year.

April's rate of 7.6 percent compares to the national, non-seasonally adjusted rate of 8.6 percent, leaving Kentucky one percent below the national rate.

MacDonald attributed the continued increase in unemployment to an increase in the number of people being laid off, especially in manufacturing, and to the fact that those laid off in the past are not going back to work. He was, however, encouraged by the fact that the April increase was less than that of previous months.

I REMEMBER THE GOOD OLD DAYS

From Elaine Matlocks, El Monte, California:
A good dose of nostalgia is helpful medicine for many an ailment. A happy memory brings a chuckle, a sigh.
I recall the clippity-clop of horses hoofs echoing through the silence in the wee hours of the morning as the milk wagons busily went about the task of delivering their wares.
"Rags" old man" believed the junk man as he slowly passed down the alleys in search of valuable cast offs.
The produce man canted in a sung song voice. "Sweetcorn, watermelon, cucumbers" as he unrolled his way along the streets, hoping to sell his entire wares.
The ice man also meandered through the city streets calling out his product. He would treat the children with splinters or cracked ice. These cooling treats made the blistering summer days a bit more tolerable.

Commemoration Of First Public Worship Planned

When people gather at Fort Boonesborough State Park near Richmond May 25 at 2 p.m. to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the first public worship in the Commonwealth, the service will also pay homage to all pioneers in religious efforts in Kentucky. Gov. Julian Carroll plans to place permanent highway markers at many sites throughout the state to honor these crusaders.

One of these persons was not a pioneer in the 1775 tradition, but she was a pioneer in establishing a school that brought both education and religious training to a then-remote section of the Kentucky mountains. A marker in Breathitt County would have to honor Dr. Lela G. McConnell, who came from Pennsylvania. She graduated from Asbury College at Wilmore in 1924 and headed for a mountaintop, where she immediately began work to establish Mt. Carmel High School.

The trip to the mountaintop was a hard, bresome one. Once, fellow workers who had traveled long hours to reach the site for a scheduled revival, stopped to ask a woman how much farther it was. She pointed into the distance and answered, "Away the tether side of yander."

"For six generations past they had been passed by in the march of time by both the church and the state," commented Dr. McConnell in her book, "The Pauline Ministry."

She needed land on which to start her school (and church). The J. G. Lawson family donated 12 acres. Dr. F. H. Larabee named it Mt. Carmel and Mrs. Sam S. Noble gave land for a cemetery on a nearby knoll and lived to be 101 before she was buried on the grounds.

When money was needed, it was only a prayer away. The first donation was 50 cents earned by a local girl who picked up coal that had fallen from freight cars. The first building was dedicated in September, 1920.

The rooms were all filled when classwork began. One of the first disciplinary acts was to forbid students to attend a drinking dancing party two miles away. Students at Mt. Carmel were not allowed to drink, dance or smoke. They could go to the party, they were told, but if they went they could not return to Mt. Carmel. They didn't go.

Prayers Answered

When outsiders came around drinking and carrying guns, fully intending to "shoot up the place," those in charge simply prayed about it, and all was calm.

Dr. McConnell, an ordained minister in the Methodist Church, tells about her early years at Mt. Carmel and the trials that fell upon her and those who worked with her in founding Mt. Carmel and later the Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute located on a nearby mountain.

In debt once for $25,000, Dr. McConnell wrote in the "Pauline" book that every time a note was due, the countryside and everyone in Jackson knew about it. "We were the talk of the country and everyone was watching us."

At these times no one went out asking for money of contributions, they got down and prayed about it. "One time we fasted and prayed for ten days." Money arrived at once to pay the indebtedness.

Prayer was a constant thing and so successful that an expression was coined that everyone "keep well prayed up."

Prayer For Everything

Prayer was used to get shoes, coats and equipment and even mention in wills. Sometimes only $5 was needed to keep a worker from going hungry for a month. Always the money came by direct mail or by person. When Dr. McConnell learned a cousin could not recover, she and the faculty went to pray that the cousin would leave the founder $500 for a necessary expense. The check arrived and was more than twice what had been prayed for. "I bought a dress for $4," wrote Dr. McConnell, "and shoes for $1 and gave the rest to the work of the Lord and felt powerfully blessed." The founder died in 1970 at age 85. Her faith had been rewarded, her work accomplished. Mt. Carmel was bringing education and spiritual needs to families in 14 counties, for as children were converted, they took the message into their homes. Said because she could not build more churches, she once lamented that "I have seen two churches in America that cost a million dollars each. This much money would build exactly 500 churches and 500 parsonages in the long-neglected parts of the Kentucky mountains."

Credits Good AlMSU

Mt. Carmel is a grade A accredited high school at Lawson, Ky. and Martha Archer, who came to Mt. Carmel at about the same time as the founder and now is director at Kentucky Mountain Bible Institution, speaks proudly of the institute. "Morehead State University has never turned down a credit from us."

"Keeping well prayed up" has brought architects when needed, a coal mine when needed and even a gas well. The driller came from West Liberty to try to reach gas in an old well. After much labor and no gas, he was told to try one more time, that they would pray about it right there. The next time down, the drill struck the gas pocket.

When the governor's plan to mark these Kentucky shrines reaches Mt. Carmel, it will not be found "away the tether side of yander," for Dr. McConnell and workers not only "have prayed up" a sturdy, new swinging bridge, but also a low water bridge across the river and a road that can take visitors to "The Blue-bird Trail" for a walk to the school or will take them all the way to the mountaintop.

Dr. McConnell's favorite scripture was in Joshua, where even before coming to Mt. Carmel she read: "The mountain shall be thine."

By Dr. Jerry Howell
Director of Environmental Studies
Morehead State University

Insecticides, the most common group of pesticides, are in widespread use today. Most insecticides used since 1945 fall into two groups, the chlorinated hydrocarbons and the organophosphates.

Some common organophosphates are parathion, malathion, tepp and dichlorovos. These compounds have several properties which make them efficient insect killers, but they are also very poisonous to mammals, including man, and to birds. Until organophosphate toxicity was completely realized and suitable precautions taken, a substantial number of human deaths occurred and a few are still reported because of improper use or storage.

Despite their toxicity, organophosphates are broken down quickly in nature and the residual damage to wildlife is much less than originally feared. Birds and mammals wet by the chemical spray have little chance of survival but if they enter the area a few hours after spraying, they usually survive. Parathion has brought ecological havoc to some areas despite its short life because it has been widely sprayed. Not being selective, the chemical has killed many birds, mammals and other animals.

The other major pesticide group is the chlorinated hydrocarbons, the most controversial member being DDT. DDT was synthesized in 1944 but at that time no thought was given its potential economic value.

Its insecticide properties were discovered in 1939 and it saved countless lives during World War II. This "miracle chemical" killed lice and mosquitoes readily and effectively stopped the spread of typhus, trench fever, relapsing fever and malaria diseases carried by these insects. After the war, DDT continued to be a lifesaver, doing battle with malarial mosquitoes in many countries. It was also used in agriculture to increase crop production.

The miracle chemical was not without its detractors. Until 1954, few complaints were heard regarding DDT's undesirable side effects. Thinking DDT to be a cure-all, we began using it indiscriminately. We sprayed crops before insects appeared, we used it in water to control non-malarial mosquitoes, we sprayed it to control lawn and ornamental insects. Complainers began pouring in about undesirable side effects, such as massive wildlife kills. Laboratory experiments showed DDT was toxic to birds and mammals. The chemical was building up in human tissue and in the milk of nursing mothers in unacceptable amounts.

The mere presence of DDT in body tissues is not necessarily harmful. Laboratory experiments have shown that the chemical has about the same toxicity as aspirin but aspirin can be deadly if taken in abnormal amounts.

Major differences do exist. Aspirin is readily assimilated and excreted but DDT is stored in tissues. Aspirin is easily broken down to harmless materials. Some DDT is reduced to less harmful derivatives but much of it remains intact.

Next. More on the chlorinated hydrocarbon controversy.

Former RCH Student Model In New York

Allison Maher, 25-year-old daughter of Mrs. Ruby Thomas of Cranston, a former Rowan County High School student, has become a top-paid New York model whose current model's pay rate per hour is $75, or $500 per day.

Miss Maher is the sister of Donald Eugene Maher, 60, a student of Rowan County High School who lives in Akron, Ohio. Their father is James Maher of Massville.

The model attended Rowan County High School for two years in the mid-1960s. She graduated from Madison High School in Mansfield, Ohio, in 1968. She later attended Ohio State University for two years. While in Mansfield, she was a contestant in the 1969 Miss Mansfield pageant.

The hazel-eyed model, who is 5'8" tall, is quick to talk about what it takes to make it to the top of the modeling profession.

She is employed by Wilhelmina Agency in New York City which represents over 200 top-quality models. Wilhelmina herself is an internationally-known model whose face has appeared on more than 250 magazine covers.

To date, Allison's most exciting and promising modeling assignment is the upcoming cover on the "How-To-Guide For Singles," a special issue of Cosmopolitan magazine to be on newsstands this month. She can also be seen in the April Cosmopolitan's article, "I married for Money," and in a promotion ad on page 123 of the May issue.

"I believe you can achieve whatever you wish if you apply the drive and initiative. Never listen to the people who say you can't do it," she advised.

The former Rowan Countian recently appeared in the Avon cosmetic catalogue and has just completed a modeling assignment for the Sears fall and winter catalogue. She will be seen in that catalogue modeling coats.

About a year and half ago when Allison was working as a lab aid at Mansfield General Hospital, she read an article about Wilhelmina in The News Journal. She said she decided to start at the top and wrote a letter to the agency, enclosing photos taken by a Mansfield-OSU classmate. Miss Maher received a positive response to go to New York for an interview.

Allison explained that she went to New York, returned home to tie up loose ends and set of again for the big city with less than $100.

The model said she does not believe in expensive modeling schools which charge a girl the $2,000 she has been saving for five years and often promise more than they can give.

"Your agency helps you make all kinds of contacts, but it's up to you to make the interviews and sell your portfolio and yourself to land your jobs," Allison said.

Allison explained that getting established as a model so that income is steady is difficult. She noted that she took part-time secretarial, waitress and lab jobs to tide her over. "It's just been in the last months that I've been able to rely solely on my modeling income," the model explained.

The New York model says she would like to use her modeling to break into the film industry, with her goal to be a film director. Allison resides in Brooklyn Heights where her boyfriend, an undercover agent for the New York City Police Department, also resides.

KET To Air Program On Penal Code

The sixth in a series of 30-minute color television programs on Kentucky's new code of criminal laws will be aired Monday, May 26, at 9 p.m. (EDT) on the Kentucky Educational Network (KET).

The program deals with disorderly conduct, loitering, public drunkenness, and influence - Crimes included under the general heading of "Offenses against Public Order." Carrying a concealed weapon and eavesdropping also are included.

Penalties for these crimes range from a 90-day jail sentence for public intoxication to five years in prison for eavesdropping. Henri L. Mangot, secretary of the Department of Justice (DOJ), describes the television series as part of a comprehensive, statewide effort to acquaint citizens with the new criminal code and other justice issues.

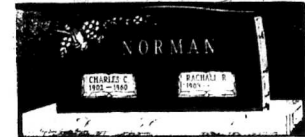

A total of 20 programs - 14 on the penal code - will make up the series, which is funded by DOJ and produced by KET.

The half-hour programs are scheduled for airing on the evening of the fourth Monday of every month throughout the year.

John L. Grenough, executive program coordinator for the television series, said that 69 per cent of all police arrests in Kentucky are for three crimes within the general category of "Offenses against Public Order." They are: drunkenness, driving under the influence of alcohol and disorderly conduct.

Other crimes covered in this program include disrupting meetings, harassing communications (such as obscene phone calls), possessing or installing eavesdropping devices. In Kentucky, according to the new penal code, a person who has been convicted of a felony may not possess a handgun. The penalty would be five years imprisonment for the offense.

High Blood Pressure A Silent Killer

The "silent killer" has no prejudices. It kills both men and women, black or white, the elderly and even small children. This year 250,000 Americans will die because of the "silent disease," hypertension—five times the number killed in automobile accidents or one out of eight people who died from any cause.

Hypertension, or high blood pressure, is called the "silent killer" because it strikes both relaxed and tense people, who look and feel well and usually experience no symptoms. Almost 11 million people in this country have high blood pressure and are not aware of it. A blood pressure reading can be taken in half a minute, costs nothing at local health departments and can save lives. Uncontrolled high blood pressure can cause strokes, heart failure, kidney disease and other serious illnesses.

May is Hypertension Month in Kentucky, Kentuckians are urged by the Department for Human Resources (DHR) to have periodic blood pressure checks. Last year DHR's Bureau for Health Services received reports from 11 local health departments that 83,286 blood pressures were taken, an increase of 54,280 from the previous year.

- + Have regular blood pressure checks and know what the numbers mean;
- + If high blood pressure is discovered, team up with a physician to get it under control;
- + If you know you have high blood pressure and have stopped following the physician's directions, seek help and resume treatment.

MSU PROF TO TAKE PART IN CIVIL RELIGION SEMINAR

Dr. Mont Whitson, professor of sociology at Morehead State University, has been selected to participate in a special summer seminar dealing with civil religion.

He joins 12 faculty members from across the United States for the eight-week session starting June 23 in Berkeley, Calif.

The seminar is headed by Robert N. Bellah, professor of sociology at the University of California at Berkeley. It is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Rowan Democratic Vote May Not Exceed 2,000

The Morehead News has received several inquiries the past two weeks, mostly from people directly interested in Tuesday's primary election, as to the probably vote that will be cast in Rowan County.

It is understandable that most have an "idea" that the total democratic vote Tuesday will be 3,500 to 4,000 because Rowan casts about 6,000 in a general election.

Based on past records the best estimate is that around 2,000 Rowan County democrats will cast ballots next Tuesday in the democratic primary.

The Governor's race is far less interesting than it was four years ago, probably because the nomination of Gov. Julian Carroll has been taken for granted, and every poll has shown him far in the lead.

democratic primary was -
Bert Combs	1336
Wendell Ford	1203
6 other candidates	316
Total	2665

That was a hard fought primary with the Combs and Ford forces hiring every available car hauler, and each side had many workers at the polls.

Considering that there is less interest in the democratic primary this May than existed in 1971, it seems safe to assume that the Rowan vote will drop by 20 to 25 per cent. That means about 2,000 ballots will be cast next Tuesday.

Republicans will again have a token primary with only five G.O.P. names on the ballot. However, the G.O.P. will have a full slate of nominees in the general election, most of them being without primary opposition.

In May, 1971 a state-wide battle developed between Wendell Ford and Bert Combs. That race was bitterly contested in Rowan as well as the Commonwealth's other 119 counties.

Combs carried Rowan County, but Ford captured the democratic nomination and won in November to become Governor.

The Rowan County total vote for Governor, as tabulated, in the May, 1971

ECAR & KIP

26 UTILITIES ARE HELPING EACH OTHER TO HELP YOU.

From coast to coast, 15 regional reliability networks across the U.S. protect millions of electric customers from critical widespread service interruptions. So interconnected are the electric utilities within each network, and the networks themselves, that problems which might be insurmountable to a single, isolated electric system are solved in seconds by network equipment.

We are part of ECAR—East Central Area Reliability ECAR is made up of the electric companies serving an 8-state area that have joined together to safeguard the reliability of your electric service. Through ECAR each system coordinates its planning, construction and operation to assure this reliability. And through ECAR interconnections all of us can obtain and transmit power to help solve problems anywhere in the ECAR network. ECAR has as its only objective the most reliable network of electric service that engineers and computers can devise.

We are part of KIP—the Kentucky-Indiana Pool KIP is made up of electric utilities in the two states who have pooled resources to build larger and more efficient generating and transmission facilities to achieve economies of size. Their interconnected systems and coordinated operations produce and deliver electricity to you for less than any one of them could singly.

ECAR for reliability. KIP for economy. They work.

For And About Teenagers

THIS WEEK'S LETTER: I'm writing to ask what to do when you're 17, pregnant, in love, but unwed. I'm engaged to a very nice guy who is the father of the child I'm carrying. I have one big problem: I don't know how to tell him I'm pregnant. I'm afraid of losing him, but I'm afraid he'll want me to have an abortion. I don't believe in abortion. That's killing a helpless person. What do you think I should do?

OUR REPLY: It sounds as if you've already made up your mind. If you don't believe in abortion, don't have one. Have your child. The only way you can find out how the father feels is to communicate to him that you're pregnant. He has a right to know so don't keep it from him. He also has a right to his own views on the issue of abortion. Until you're certain what those views are don't assume anything. Once you've found out then the two of you can share the responsibility of making the decision that works.

'June Baby' Will Enter In Frog Jumping Contest

On the third weekend in May, a frog named "June Baby" will be jumping his heart out for Kentucky.

Each year, governors from various states select a name for a frog, which becomes an official entry in the Jumping Frog Jubilee at the Calaveras County Fair in Angels Camp, Calif.

The frogs are allowed three leaps and the one covering the greatest distance is declared the contest winner. A trophy is sent to the governor backing the winning frog. Gov. Julian Carroll chose to name his frog, "June Baby," in honor of his fourth child, expected in June.

Calaveras County was a mining camp during the gold rush era in California. In the summer of 1863, the miners assembled in Angels Camp, the county's most thriving city, and held frog jumping contests as a means of entertainment.

The event became so popular that it was not unusual to see a miner with his own pond, training frogs for competition. When the events were held, large sums of money was staked on the respective frogs.

Jim Smiley, a local gambler, bragged that his "Dan Webster" was the best jumping frog in the county. The attention that centered around "Dan" provided the inspiration for Mark Twain's famous short story, "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."
