Morehead Organization
Become Official Members Tuesday Evening

In an impressive ceremony the Morehead Kiwanis club officially became a member of the International organization at a special charter night ceremony Tuesday in the cafeteria of the Morehead State Teachers College.

The Morehead Kiwanis became number "2400" of the organization. The local organization meets every Friday at noon at the Midland Trail Hotel.

Twyman Humphrey, Governor of the Kentucky-Tennessee district, presented the charter to President George Cline with the statement that "I have no doubt but that the Morehead club will be one of the most active in the entire district."

Special programs and brief speeches were heard from presidents of Kiwanis clubs from Eastern and Central Kentucky. Each club presented the Morehead chapter with a gift.

The Morehead Kiwanis club, which has 48 charter members was organized by the Winchester club, which has sent representatives here for several weeks to perfect the organization.

Stewart Active In Raids On Liquor Violators

R. Lee Stewart, who is rapidly becoming the nemesis to violators of the liquor laws, has been active in different parts of the state during the last two weeks. In company with other agents Mr. Stewart stopped two trucks containing 25,000 bottles of beer which was being transported illegally. At Lancaster they seized two moonshine outfits and a considerable amount of whiskey and beer. Six arrests were made. Agent Stewart found two stills last week, one of them small and the other a 100 gallon copper outfit complete. Besides the still he confiscated a copper still cap, copper worm, copper thumper, six 50-gallon fermenters, 100 gallons of still beer, five gallons of sorghum, case of syrup and miscellaneous paraphernalia. This is the type of outfit that generally turns out the better grade of moonshine, but to use Agent Stewart's words: "All of it is rotten."

Observe 53rd Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. S. M. CAUDILL ON THEIR 53rd ANNIVERSARY

More than a hundred friends and relatives gathered at the S. M. Caudill home on Fleming Avenue Sunday to observe the 53rd wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Caudill. Their lovely home was beautifully decorated with roses and cut flowers and Mr. and Mrs. Caudill proved perfect host and hostess. They both admitted the day was a bit trying, but that it was one of the "happiest times of their life."

Mrs. Caudill remembers her wedding day 53 years ago very vividly, even to the smallest details. They were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Blair at Blair's Mill, Morgan County on May 26, 1893.

Their attendants, Mrs. Caudill recalls, were Mr. and Mrs. Blair, who are still living.

ing. Rev. Buddy Hall performed the ceremony in the presence of many friends.

The bride and the attendant wore the traditional white of that period, with hundreds of ruffles and tucks in the bridal gown.

In observance of the 53rd anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Caudill served a dinner to the immediate family at noon Sunday. The guests included the bride's mother, Mrs. Caudill and family; and their daughters, Mrs. O. B. Elam, Mrs. John Barker and Mrs. Robert Beckwith and their husbands, and another daughter, Mrs. James Clay.

Besides the five surviving children Mr. and Mrs. Caudill have 12 grandchildren and five great grand-children.

Open house was held at the Caudill home from two to five o'clock Sunday afternoon at which punch and wafers were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Caudill are among the real pioneers of Morehead and Rowan County. They came here when Morehead was only a wide prairie in the road and they have contributed liberally of their time and money in the building of this progressive community.

Mr. Caudill has served on the City Council several times, and has held other civic offices. He has been eminently successful in everything that he has ever undertaken. Mrs. Caudill has also been active in the community. They are known by practically everyone in the county and are counted among Morehead's most progressive citizens. Both are in good health, and they have enjoyed life.

VFW Will Officially Name Post Friday

The Veterans of Foreign Wars organization in Rowan County will officially name their post at a meeting in the courthouse Friday evening at 7:30.

Officers will also be elected at this meeting and there will be a discussion on bills now pending that concern the veteran.

Illness of two of our grand jurors who were unable to serve this week and it being impossible to replace them so as to give us a complete panel, we have been unable to make any indictments this week although there are several violations of the law that we have found. We are filing with this report the minutes that were taken this week and we suggest that these minutes be turned over to the next grand jury in this county and that the said witnesses be called before them so that indictments can be made where justified.

"We have found that there is no positive evidence that much bootlegging is going on."

"We have investigated all the county offices and officers and believe them to be doing their best to properly perform their duties. We inspected all the county buildings and found them to be in good and sanitary condition. The county jail is clean and sanitary. We visited the City Hall and the City Jail very dirty."

H. H. Wheeler Sponsors Main Sweepstake

William H. May To Give Prize In 3-
Gated Sweepstakes

The feature prize of $500 in the 5-Gated Sweepstakes at the Morehead Horse Show on July 11, will be donated by Harrison H. Wheeler, President of the Sandy-Valley Grocery Company, a committee in charge of arrangements announced today. The Morehead show is being sponsored by the Board of Trade.

This stake, which is expected to attract some of the finest horses in the country, will be known as the "Harrison Wheeler 5-Gated Sweepstakes." Mr. Wheeler said that he expected to be here the night of July 10 to make the official presentation. A trophy will also go to the winner of this class.

The 3-Gated Sweepstakes with $300 in prize money, will be known as the William H. May Stake. Mr. May, contractor, and former Commissioner of Agriculture, notified the committee yesterday that would sponsor this event. Mr. May is also making other contributions toward the success of the show.

One of the largest crowds to ever be in Morehead is expected for the afternoon and evening shows which will be held at Jayne Stadium. Although football floodlights will not be installed for the show, the committee has been assured of ample lighting.

Many prominent owners and breeders from Kentucky and other states, have announced they would ship to Morehead. The Morehead, Winchester and Paris shows fall a week before the Junior League show at Lexington, and many of the best horses that will be at Lexington are expected to appear here first.

Baptist Bible School Will Start Monday

The annual Vacation Bible School of the Morehead Baptist Church will begin next Monday morning, June 3rd, at 8:30 o'clock. Pastor B. H. Kazez will be in charge with his wife and helpers in the various departments. The list includes Mrs. Erna Thompson, Jean Thompson, Mrs. O. F. Patrick, Mrs. Curt Pennington, Mary Denney, Dorothy Turner, Edith Smith, and perhaps others.

Buses, Cars To Trans- port Children From Rural Sections

As usual, buses and cars will go out on the routes covered last year, and children will be transported to and from the school each day.

The program branches around the Bible and includes song, Bible study, Bible drill, memory work, and notebook and hand work. Organized play is a part of the program. The program will open each morning at 8:30, with all departments attending in the church auditorium. After a brief exercise, primaries and beginners will go to the City School building, while Juniors and Intermediates will remain at the church. An hour of religious instruction will be a special feature for the upper grades.

JOE HAMM DIES AT HOME ON TRIPLET

Joe Hamm, 79, passed away Sunday at his home on the North Fork of Triplet. Burial was in the Masters Cemetery in Rowan County Tuesday.

Jury Hearing Evidence In 'The Perfect Murder' Case

Acting Circuit Judge John Adair Richards recessed court at noon today until Friday morning. He overruled a motion from the defense that the Hinton murder trial that preempts instructions of acquittal be given the jury.

Richards is serving in the place of Judge Bridges White who is ill.

The man who committed "the perfect murder" went on trial today in Rowan Circuit Court for crime because "my conscience made me tell."

The man is Harlan Riley, inmate of Pendleton State Reformatory, who was brought here Tuesday by prison guards and is now in the Rowan County jail. So perfect was Riley's crime that even after he confessed to it, officials at Pendleton said he couldn't have done it because he was in the Reformatory that day, and escaped two days after he was committed. It later developed that this was probably an error on the part of prison officials.

Riley is charged with the murder of Clester Hinton, 32, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hinton of Rock Fork, whose mangled body was found on the tracks of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway in Morehead the night of March 18. The body was discovered while nearly everyone in Morehead had their radios tuned to the broadcast of Breckinridge Training School winning the state champlionship. It was believed at the time that Hinton had met his death accidentally. A few days later Riley confessed to the slaying to a Pendleton guard. Sheriff Sam Green and Chief of Police Ed Hall went to the Indiana Reformatory to question Riley and he readily admitted the slaying. The officers said.

Prison officials told the Morehead officers that there must be some mistake as Riley did not escape from the prison until the 18th, or two days later. Evidence was then gathered showing that Riley was in Mt. Sterling on March 18, and was captured at Jackson, Ky., on the 19th. The confession in the prison records evidently resulted because of a mix-up on the date he escaped and the date he was recaptured.

Riley told the officers that he aughted from a freight train, around dark, at Morehead. He said he met Hinton on the railroad tracks, and asked him for money to get something to eat. Riley claimed that Hinton cursed him and then grappled with him. Riley said he threw Hinton down and Hinton's head hit the tracks. A crack passenger train of the road came along a few minutes later, and Riley said he saw the train run over Hinton. After the grand jury brought the murder indictment against Riley, Judge Bridges White set the case down for trial and appointed Attorneys George Cline and Tommy Burns to defend him.

Over $100 Raised At Poppy Sale

A total of $102.52 was raised by the American Legion Auxiliary at the poppy sale Saturday, according to Mrs. E. P. Hall, chairman.

Wilma Goodpastor won a $1 prize given by Russell Barker for selling the most poppies. An Allen News Company was used as headquarters for the sale.

Money from the sale will go to veterans.

Morehead Boys Get Try-Out With Dodgers

Sonny Allen and Dicky Scroggin, members of the Breckinridge Baseball team, will be given a try-out by the Brooklyn Dodgers at Crosley Field, Cincinnati, Saturday.

The two Morehead boys, who were also members of this year's champion All-State basketball team will be guests of the Dodgers over the weekend. They will practice on the Cincinnati field prior to the Reds-Dodger game.

The United States is the only country in the world that has enough of the important minerals used in industry to care for its needs.

Cassiday Says Line Must Be Held On Prices

OPA Executive Tells Morehead Audiences Speculators Ready For Kill

Price controls must be kept up until pent-up demands balance with supply, L. M. Cassiday, OPA Information Executive, told several audiences in speeches here last week.

"I don't think anyone can mark a date on the calendar when price controls will end," Mr. Cassiday declared. He pointed out that hundreds of items have been decontrolled lately, while others are being taken from the list almost daily. Mr. Cassiday said that it will probably be months before some items are released.

"Above the hue and cry of the self-interest groups, looking for a clean and quick getaway, the American people are watching to see whether their government really means to protect them from runaway inflation," Mr. Cassiday declared. "There must be business men are watching to see if a

Grand Jury Criticizes City Jail; Return 14 True Bills

Illness of two members caused the grand jury to recess this week, with instructions that their findings be turned over to the panel at the next session of Circuit Court. The jury pointed out that they would have made several more indictments if it had not been that the two members were unable to serve. Mort Roberts was foreman.

In keeping with the same report from grand juries for several years, they set out that conditions at the city jail were very unsanitary.

"We, the grand jury, empaneled for the regular May term, 1946 of the Rowan Circuit Court, do report as follows:

"We have been in session five (5) days and have returned in open court 14 indictments. All these 14 indictments were made during the first three days we were in session."

"We have diligently inquired into all parts of the county and examined witnesses from all parts of the county and feel that there are many more indictments that should be made, however, due to the

Millions of Starving People

People all over the world—800,000,000 of them we are told—are under-nourished and ill-fed. Many of them are slowly DYING because of extreme HUNGER. In our own country, our own state, and our own neighborhood people will be hungry unless we ACT NOW. We are asking . . .

VICTORY GARDENERS to

1. Plant during May, June and July cabbage, beets, carrots, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, snap beans, lima beans, tomatoes, sweet corn, summer squash, winter squash, Chinese cabbage turnip greens, pumpkin. Wake Up Kentucky

By Erving Galloway

If all the rest of its work for general betterment of the state were overlooked, the Committee for Kentucky's part in getting the rural school tax law revised upward from 75 cents on the $100 worth of assessed property to $1.50 would justify a dozen times the organization's existence. A salute to the 1946 Kentucky legislature!

The Committee, in its recommendations in Dr. Maurice F. Seay's sensational booklet on Kentucky's educational system, set a nine-months term as a goal for all the rural schools in the state.

A 9 months term in all of the remote rural counties is a little too much to expect for the 1946-47 school year, but progress to date indicates that more than half the counties will achieve what all friends of better schools for country children have been hoping for these many years.

Just before sitting down to a typewriter to do this weekly column I called up Carl Vincent, Henderson county superintendent, and asked him what had been done by the school board.

"The term for rural grade schools has been increased from 75 to 90 cents," Vincent replied. "Grade schools will have the same term the rural high schools have. The board lifted the tax rate from 75 cents to $1.25."

Hopkins is another county down our way that has increased the term of rural grade schools to nine months.

In the near future I'll get a complete check-up on the state from State Superintendent J. Fred Williams.

In their book, "Unfinished Business in American Education," Drs. J. K. Barton and Eugene S.

Lewis, of Columbia and Northwestern University, respectively say there are 3,000,000 adults in this country who have never gone to school a day in their lives. Kentucky has been second only to Arkansas in producing illiterates. As I have reported before, 22 per cent of the children from 6 to 17 in Kentucky are not enrolled in any school. And this shocking condition is not limited to rural schools in remote sections of the state. Towns and cities are failing to enforce the compulsory attendance law.

With the taxpayers putting up more money for education in the next fiscal year better work on the part of superintendents and teachers will be demanded. And demanding better school for their money means they will get them. This will be a result of the general awakening in Kentucky.

In the past public interest in elementary education has been even lower than the general average of our schools, if there is a difference.

Maybe the helpful organization that everybody knows about in Kentucky education may be changed to Parent-Taxpayer-Teacher Association.

From a recent check of approximately 2/3 of Kentucky papers at least 76 are running the Wake Up Kentucky column which is an indication that Kentucky editors and Kentuckians are truly interested in the movement for the improvement of the general welfare of all of Kentucky. I congratulate Kentucky's editors for the part they are doing in helping to achieve this goal.

Memorial Day—1946
The guns are silent — now! Another period of peace has been purchased with the blood and sacrifice of the finest flower of our youth.

Again, as in past decades, we will march to the cemeteries and lay the sweet blossoms of memory on the last resting places of our hero dead.

While we at home are doing the little that we can, on this one annual day of memorial, to honor those who have saved a free America for us who remain, similar ceremonies will be taking place in far places beyond the seas where lie those who have not come home, but who rest on that far frontier of war where duty required that they go.

Again we will parade. We will place flags and flowers over those who fell. We will listen to speeches, hear the rifle salute to the dead—and as the notes of "Taps" are echoed from a distance we may ask ourselves: "Why did this have to be? What can we do to prevent its re-occurrence?"

We note with fresh amazement how the harvest of death has grown since these days when last we observed a peacetime Memorial Day. How fat have become the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial plots in the four long years our nation was engaged in this last bitter struggle.

Not only will The American Legion remember our dead on this Memorial Day, but it will recall the years and years during which our people were told: "Unless this nation takes the steps to prevent another war—it could happen again."

The steps were not taken. It did happen again. And again

The American Legion tells the story that the United States must be strong—strong enough to insure the peace we pray for; strong enough to guarantee the peace we love so dearly despite our historic reluctance to pay what it costs in time and interest and money to maintain it.

This Memorial Day again points to the eternal truth—we will pay for peace in one way or another, at one time or another! Either with the effort, time, and money now, or with the lives of our youth when the war toxin is heard.

These things the American Legion believes will preserve the peace so dearly won: Full cooperation with other countries to make the United States a practical and operating agency; an intelligent effort to understand other nations as we hope they will understand us; The American Legion plan for national security through universal military training.

The first tariff act passed by the U. S. Congress was enacted in 1789. It was signed by George Washington.

Invite Your Friends to Visit Kentucky
this Summer

INVITE your friends to come to Kentucky this summer. It's a fair land, where old-fashioned country and the art of gracious living have not been forgotten.

Let them meet Kentucky's neighborly people. Let them feast their eyes on Kentucky's glorious vistas . . . its wooded mountains, rolling meadows, sparkling streams . . . from the Penyrile to the Big Sandy, from Cumberland Gap to the Ohio. Invite them to visit Kentucky's historic places . . . its Lincoln and Davis Memorials, Fort Harrod, its state and national parks . . . its Mammoth Cave and Cumberland Falls and famous stock farms.

Review for them the work of Kentucky's pioneer men and women who shaped a commonwealth out of a wilderness, and cite the deeds of its leaders who helped to make this nation great.

Then, point out to them the evidence of the forward looking spirit that pervades post-war Kentucky. Show them our new schools and churches, our new parks and playgrounds, our new plants and factories.

There is no finer advertiser for a state than the satisfied visitor who looks forward to coming again—who perhaps plans his next visit even before he leaves. Whether he goes home with the feeling that a vacant lot is an eyesore or a good site for some progressive business is largely up to you. Much of what he sees will be through your eyes.

Cooperate with your community planning committee. Help it make your city a garden spot for visiting eyes by beautifying the town approaches, by making yours the cleanest and prettiest in the whole state.

It is thus that we shall spread goodwill and show our desire to grow. We must all work together to bring to Kentucky more and more job-making, tax-paying industries, and to build up the tourist business. Kentucky HAS what it takes. Let's all do our part in developing a greater state.

Kentucky and its people can depend on our Company, our Industrial Department and our entire organization of 1100 men and women to help in every practical way.

Byrnes Signals U.S. Offensive To Win the Peace; Congressional Chiefs Oppose Service Merger.

Revised by Western Newspaper Union

Secretary of Agriculture (left) discusses world food situation with FAO Director Sir John Boyd (center) and UNRRA head La Guardia at meeting of United Nations food and agriculture organization at Washington, D. C.

FOREIGN POLICY:

Byrnes Reports

Back from the foreign ministers' parley in Paris, Secretary of State Byrnes took to the radio to air this country's position on the important question left at issue and reaffirm its determination to press firmly but patiently ahead for world understanding despite all obstacles.

While the U. S. may be tempted to pull out of Europe because of the difficulties encountered in drawing a peace without sacrifice of our principles, to do so would be to risk the possibility of another world war in which we would again have to participate, Byrnes said. Therefore, we must take the offensive to assure adoption of U. S. principles, he said. Bluntly attributing existing differences to Russian jockeying for advantage, Byrnes declared that the crying need was for a European peace paving the way for orderly production and distribution. If the Soviets continued to block the making of peace and the convening of a peace party, the U. S. will feel obliged to ask the United Nations to enforce article 14 of the charter to recommend terms of a settlement. In reporting on the Paris parley, Byrnes outlined three differences between the U. S. and Russia:

Reparations—While Russia demanded the payment of $20 billion in reparations from Italy out of production, the U. S. balked because the financial help we gave Italy to get back on her feet would thus be diverted for the benefit of another country.

Venezia-Giulia—U. S. resistance to Russian demands that this strategic province embracing Trieste be handed over to Yugoslavia was based on the fact that 500,000 Italians presently living there would be placed under foreign rule. Instead, the U. S. recommended drawing a boundary along racial lines.

Balkans—Settlement of Balkan treaties was obstructed by Russia's unwillingness to free the Danube river for international commerce.

LABOR:

Uncle Sam to Work

The effect of government seizure of the mines and railroads was to permit continuation of operations while affording additional time to work out the contract differences which had kept the unions and companies apart.

Seizure of the mines portended settlement of the health and welfare fund which had been the prime issue of the soft coal dispute. With President Truman favoring joint mine-owner administration of the fund, it was reported that the government worked out a compromise proposal along these lines, with employer contributions considerably below the 7 per cent of payroll asked by John L. Lewis, United Mine Worker chairman.

As in the case of government negotiations with the miners in 1943, the owners were expected to be fully consulted by U. S. officials in the discussion of terms. In bowing to government operation of their properties, the companies told President Truman that they expected to obtain price relief for higher costs resulting from any agreement.

At the same time, government conciliators worked on a settlement of the wage dispute between the Brotherhood of Trainmen and Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the railroads involving the unions' demands for an additional 10 per cent.

SPEEDSTERS:

Having passed qualifying tests, 33 speedsters were entered in the first renewal 500 mile automobile race at Indianapolis since 1935 with $100,000 prize money at stake.

With drivers required to average 115 miles an hour or better in four runs on the 2½ mile track in order to qualify for the Memorial Day event, the veteran Cliff Berggren chalked up the fastest speed in the early trials at 126.47 miles per hour. (See picture at right.)

equipment rolling. In addition, he has his men and himself ready to call during these fine seasons. Picnicking season is with us again, and our picnic grounds at Pine Ridge and Sky Bridge are getting plenty of visitors from all over Kentucky and from neighboring states on weekends. The trip through the Red River gorge to the scenic spots makes a fine Sunday drive from Morehead. If anyone is interested I'll be glad to give directions as to how to get there.

I saw an unusual sight yesterday along the Licking River. Happened to glance out into midstream and in the swift current there was a mallard duck mother leading her seven ducklings toward the opposite shore. It was news to me that mallards nested this far north.

Speaking of birds, I notice with sorrow there has been an "epidemic" of sling shots and air rifles in my neighborhood since school closed. There have been no calls in the section in almost a year, and the bird population has increased remarkably; a number of relatively rare species, among them the white-crowned sparrow, have begun to frequent the shrubbery. Sling shots and air rifles in the hands of thoughtless boys can be almost as destructive of bird life, however, as vagrant cats.

Well, the good President Vaughan will be removed from his post at Morehead State College this summer. The council that removed him apparently had no fault to find except his political complexion. The affair somewhat reminds me of medieval English history—the supreme Council would draw up a Bill of Attainder and the prosecuted party went to the Tower of London. He "had no trial at all" to present his defense, and it was a foregone conclusion that he would leave minus his head. Of course, here a head isn't involved, only a job. But somehow, the principle seems the same. Those old English cases, incidentally, were always political cases.

We hope that the next president will be as capable as Dr. Vaughan. I noticed in Sunday's Courier-Journal a statement by Republican State Senator Carter to the effect that Morehead College might quite conceivably be converted into a sanatorium or industrial school in the near future. If the Senator knows where he speaks, I predict some local politicians will rue the day they stirred up this trouble.

A Message To Housewives

Here are the facts about the supply and demand for sugar this year.

The total supply of sugar is very short. World production during the 1945-46 season was 18 per cent less than before the war. And the amount of sugar available to American civilians is also less. Yet this year the average American is getting much more sugar than the average person in nearly all other countries of the world. The total demand for sugar is very great. Americans want and have the money to buy much more sugar than they can with their sugar stamps. The peoples of war-devastated areas in Europe and Asia are desperately in need of sugar and other food. That is why the world supply of sugar must be shared among all the nations.

Here Are Suggestions to Home Canners

1. Spare Stamp No. 9 is now good for 5 pounds of sugar for home canning. This stamp is good through October 31, 1946.
2. Keep this stamp until you really need the sugar for home canning. Don't spend it until fresh fruits are ready for canning. That will help you, make sure that you use this sugar for canning—for table, baking, or other purposes.
3. You may live in a place where canning is done time after time in the summer—not in the spring. When your canning season comes around, your grocer will have enough sugar to "cash" these canning sugar stamps.
4. Later in the canning season, OPA will probably make another stamp good for canning sugar. This second stamp is expected to be made good for only up to five pounds. This means that the most you'll get is 10 pounds of canning sugar for every member of your family.
5. Use one pound of canning sugar for at least four quarts of fruit.
6. The next sugar stamp for regular home use becomes good May 1, for five pounds. This must last you four months.
7. Play fair and square with your friends and neighbors—and with the hungry peoples abroad. Don't buy sugar for canning without giving up the required sugar stamps. Pay no more than the ceiling price on sugar. Help stop black marketing.

Johnson, former Governor of Kentucky, has been grappling with the problem for a number of weeks and has now decided that his entry into the race would only strengthen John Young Brown's chances and split his opposition with Philip P.
