Fire Damages MSU Library

An early morning fire damaged Morehead State University's Johnson Camden Library on Tuesday but no one was injured. MSU President Adron Doran said the blaze was confined to ground floor workroom and lobby. However, other sections of the building sustained smoke, heat and water damage. Dr. Doran said the loss, which has not been estimated, is covered by insurance and that the library is expected to remain open. The fire was discovered shortly before 5 a.m. by a custodian reporting for work. The alarm was answered by the Morehead Fire Department. Dr. Jack Ellis, MSU's director of libraries, said the building was unoccupied at the time of the fire and that the lost material can be replaced. Dr. Doran credited the volunteer firemen with "a real professional job" in preventing the blaze from reaching upper floors of the library where more than 300,000 volumes are stored. Morehead Fire Chief Joe Mauk said the cause of the fire has not been determined. The library was built in 1931 and expanded in 1965.

Mayhew Files, Making 8 Council Aspirants

The last issue of the Morehead News stated, in a page one article: "Six winners and only one loser." You can't get those odds at Las Vegas or anywhere. The story was headed "7 Seek 6 Posts on Council." It was written at 2:30 Wednesday afternoon, shortly before the News went to press. The filing deadline was midnight last Wednesday (Sept. 10). The odds changed between 2:30 last Wednesday afternoon and midnight. One other person submitted a last-hour filing petition, so there will be eight seeking the six (two year term) council posts. Mike Mayhew was the 8th to file. He entered the race under the non-partisan status of "Citizens Ticket" bearing the emblem of an eagle and olive branch. The other seven aspirants are—Democratic ticket: Marvin Moore, Lee Casper, Roy Anderson, Keith Koppes and He Ja McDaniel; Progressive Ticket (hasp hands emblem) JoAnn Needham; and Good Government Ticket (lighted torch emblem) George Blankenship. Mayhew, who makes his home on Wilson Avenue, is a graduate student at Morehead State University, and a former President of MSU Student Government. Moore, Casper and Anderson are incumbents. Three of the present members of Council did not seek reelection. They are—Dr. John R.

Duncan, Ellie Holloway and Philip Lewis. Mayor C. B. Cornett has three more years to go in his term. The Mayor is elected every four years while Council members are elected for two year terms.

Scott Creek Boat Ramp Is Temporarily Closed

The Scott Creek boat ramp on Cave Run Lake is closed temporarily for repairs according to District Ranger Richard L. Boynton, Morehead Ranger District, Daniel Boone National Forest. Personnel from the Forest's road crew started working last week with a road grader to prepare the ramp area for the needed repairs. A crew of 10 carpenters and two work leaders from the Pine Knot Civilian Conservation Corps in McCroarty County arrived in Morehead on Monday to do concrete work at the ramp. Through the cooperation of Morehead State University officials, they are being

DEAR EDITOR: Although Timothy Tugnum often gets on a big drunk and is his girl friend, Widow P'Simer sobers him up on butter milk, home canned tomato juice and the like, it is generally recognized in this community that Timothy reads more than anybody else and is better informed. Last Christmas the Widow gave Timothy a gift subscription to your newspaper, and also a gift subscription to the Reader's Digest. Timothy reads every word in both, often re-reading the parts he likes several times. Then, Timothy brings his Reader's Digest, plus sometimes a copy of Playboy he has bought without the Widow's knowledge, to me. This week he brought me the April issue of Reader's Digest. Turning through the magazine I noted that Timothy had underlined phrases and sentences. The April issue contained an article, "Big Government and Far Economic Woes" written by Will in E. Simon, Secretary of the Treasury. Following are some of the sentences (Mr. Simon's words) that Timothy had underlined: "Just before the New Deal, government spending took 12 percent of our gross national product. Today it takes a third. If present trends continue, it will take 60 percent by the year 2000. "It required 186 years for the federal budget to reach the $100 billion figure, a line crossed in 1962. Only nine more years were needed to reach the $200 billion mark, and then only four more years to reach $300 billion. If $400,000 had been spent every day since Christ was born, the total would still not come to $200 billion. "One out of every six working Americans are employed by federal, state or local governments. "Big government has become Bad government because of what it has done to our economy and to our personal freedoms. "If we were willing to cut the umbilical cord, we might provide better services in the delivery of mail (like the privately operated United Parcel Service). "Economic wastage from government regulatory processes ranges into the tens of billions of dollars. "For more than a decade the productivity of American workers has been just over half as large as in France and Germany, and less than one-third as large as Japan. "Some people argue that the answer lies in the current trend to give us more government control. Looking at what Big Government has done to our economy, I believe the time has come to say 'No.' "The nation has now reached a crossroads. In a very basic sense, we must choose either to restore a more competitive, more open society or to commit ourselves—perhaps irrevocably—to a society in which large decisions about our economic and personal welfare are made by a central government. "Recent history shows that government, despite its splendid intentions, is incapable of making the vitality, the wisdom and the ingenuity of free men. "Dear Editor, I again call to your attention that the above quotations are from the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. If anybody knows how bad the economy is should be Mr. Simon. He has the responsibility of making all this "free" money he printing; and keeps the "red ink" books. YOURS TRULY, CLAI G SPROUT

Governmental Complex Committee Now Active

The Morehead-Rowan County Fiscal Improvement Corporation, an organization formed about three years ago, was reactivated last Wednesday at a joint meeting of the proposed City Council and Rowan Fiscal Court. The corporation was formed in late 1972 and its members served as a committee to chart the proposed construction of a City-County Building. After plans for the proposed new building were abandoned in 1973, the Fiscal Improvement Corporation became inactive. Realizing the need for both city and county facilities, the two governing bodies have decided a joint venture will probably be the best method for accommodating the needs of Morehead and Rowan County. A meeting of Council and Fiscal Court was held Wednesday night at which time the Fiscal Improvement Corporation was reactivated. Original members of the corporation were former Mayor William Layne and City Council member Mrs. JoAnn Needham and Councilman John R. Duncan, who represented the City; County Judge Ott Caldwell, Mayor C. B. Cornett, Larry Breeze and Virgil Richardson, who represented the County; Bill Dillon, Randy Wells and Mrs. Paul Ford Davis, citizens appointed by the Mayor and former mayor Paul Blair and Harvey Pennington, city and county attorneys, respectively, served as legal advisors to the corporation.

stated those agencies which have historically served on a continuing day-to-day basis, the citizens of the area in the greatest numbers. Those four components being City Court Clerk, Circuit Clerk, City Clerk and Utility Plant Board.

Central Gathering Point

The intent of the architects was to eliminate some of the inefficiencies of a double loaded corridor situation and at the same time create a central gathering space important to the character of a City Hall or a Courthouse. The same feature was repeated to a limited extent at the second level where the central space became a focal point for entrance to the Courtroom and to the major administrative offices of the City and the County.

In those same original plans, the facilities which render 24-hour services such as the Police and Fire departments, would have been assigned to the area facing Second Street. The jail, in those same plans, was located on the second level directly above the Police and Fire facilities. The jail would be away from the major pedestrian traffic. This, the architects felt, was desirable both from the aspect of security and of environmental impact.

Parking a Problem

In an effort, under what the architects called "extreme limitations" to provide the maximum amount of parking spaces, it was proposed to place Normal Avenue, designate it one-way and provide angled parking on both sides of the street. This was proposed by the architects in 1973 that the City dedicate all parking on Main Street and University Boulevard on the square to the reserved use of occupants or users of the building. These two actions,

Members Replaced

During the meeting last Wednesday night, Magistrates Calvin Ray Lytle and Ray Martin were appointed to replace former Magistrates Virgil Richardson and Larry Breeze. Mayor C. B. Cornett replaces former Mayor William Layne, Judge Caldwell remains a member. Stephen R. Duncan remains a member of the corporation, and Councilman Lee Casper was named to replace former Council member JoAnn Needham. Bill Litterer, Randy Wells and Mrs. Paul Ford Davis, who were original members, remain.

Attorneys Blair and Pennington are again serving as legal advisors to the corporation. Thus, the corporation now is comprised of Mayor C. B. Cornett, Judge Ott Caldwell, Magistrates Calvin Lytle and Ray Martin, Council members John R. Duncan and Lee Casper, Bill Litton, Randy Wells and Mrs. Paul Ford Davis, with legal advisors Paul Blair and Harvey Pennington.

The first meeting of the reactivated Fiscal Improvement Corporation was scheduled for last night (Wednesday). Attorney Blair said he anticipated the corporation would take a look at the old plans for the proposed City-County building which were completed in early 1973.

To Discuss Old Plans

He explained that the corporation would probably try to make a determination as to whether the same architect will be employed and if the former plans could still be utilized. Breeze and Associates, architects of Lexington, was the firm employed in 1972.

The plans which were formulated in 1972 for a combined governmental complex called for a building on the present courthouse lawn. The plans were for a structure containing 40,183 gross square feet. On March 29, 1973, architects estimated the cost of the building at $1,365,000. The plan included site improvements such as walks and steps, demolition of the present courthouse, jail equipment, parking spaces, landscaping and lighting itself. No moneys were included in the estimate for movable furnishings, or integral during construction, bond or legal fees should there be any.

The architects designed the proposed three-story structure so that the primary access to the building would have been oriented on University Boulevard, directing the majority of users of the services into a first level central hall off which deliberately were

THREE M'HEAD RESIDENTS IN MSU MARCHING BAND

Three residents of Morehead are members of the 1975-76 Morehead State University Marching Band known as "The Big Band" from Daniel Boone. Included are Sam Gullett, Rt. 5; Clarence Wilson, 613 Knapp Ave.; and Chandra Kildick, 622 West Main. Under the direction of Dr. Robert Hawkins since 1967, the band has become the finest marching band and has performed three times on national television in recent years.

MONEY RETURNED . . . County Treasurer Pruda Shay was handed a $50,000 check last Friday, which represented the return of the Morehead Treatment Center (formerly Pinescrest Children's Home). Presenting the check to Mrs. Shay is Delbert Standing, from left, are Rowan Judge Ott Caldwell, Magistrate Calvin Ray Lytle, County Attorney Harvey Pennington, Burchett, and Larry Breeze. Mr. Standing said the check written on the Larry C. Breeze Real Estate Agency account should be returned to the County not follow through with the purchase, however, Burchett decided to refund the money.

Department Heads Named For Rowan County High

Meeting in regular session Saturday, the Rowan County Board of Education appointed Department Heads for Rowan County High School, with those persons to receive a $200 per year pay increase. Those appointed as department heads were: English—Linda Pennington. Math—Patty Hardin. Science—Neva White. Health and Physical Education—Walter Gorman. Social Studies—Margaret Morris. The Board voted in favor of placing vending machines at Rowan County High with those machines to include potato chips, salsa, candy and soft drinks. There will be no sandwich machines.

to continue the suspension of Thurman, pending the results of an examination by the Cave Run Comprehensive Care Center.

In other action, the Board— Granted permission for two students, Douglas Utterback and Raymond Mitchell Terrell, to leave school to work. Increased travel allowance from 12 cents to 14 cents effective Oct. 1, in accordance with the State Department of Education. Raised substitute teachers' pay from the substitute salary schedule to the regular rate when they are placed in a position of substituting for a continuous period of the month (20 teaching days) or more in the same day. Approved cheerleader sponsors and they are Patricia Hardin, $300; Nadine Griffin, $100; Neva White, $100; and Patricia White, $150. Filled as substitute coaches down Joanna Susore, Linda Collins, Dorothy Day, Jeanette Fannin, Sara Hurry, Patricia Skaggs Montgomery, Cynthia Peters, Elizabeth Scott, Phelps, Kenneth Ratcliff, John Lee Sharp, Patricia Moore Sharp and Thelma Sldam.

The resignation of Paul Osaley, as teacher at Rowan County High, was accepted. Carolyn Pennington was employed as a teacher at the high school. Superintendent Bill Francis was authorized to spend up to $2,500 for the purchase of buildings. The Board met in closed session for a hearing on Tommy Thurman. Following the hearing, the board voted

Bill Would Hike Forest Rebate To Rowan County

Four Congressmen—two from Kentucky and two from Indiana are co-sponsoring a bill that would give counties like Daniel Boone National Forest (considerably more money).

The bill is sponsored by Congressmen Carl D. Perkins and Tim Lee Carter of Kentucky, and Paul Simon and Phil Hayes of Indiana.

The Daniel Boone National Forest lies in the counties of Boone, Boone, Boone and the Shawnee National Forest in districts represented by Simon and Hayes.

The proposal, which has been sort of silently building up over the years, equives around the government acquiring land and removing it from the county and school tax rolls.

Federal law requires that 25 percent of the money received by forest areas as Daniel Boone, be returned to the counties in lieu of taxes. This is revenue from timbering, mining, grazing, recreation, and other land usage.

Last year Kentucky received $102,977 which is distributed to the 24 counties in the Daniel Boone Forest. The bill, introduced by Simon and co-sponsored by Perkins, Carter, and Hayes, would increase this to an estimated $223,997, or more than 300 percent.

For fiscal 1975 Rowan is scheduled to receive $9,785. The amounts for other areas are: Boone, $2,250; Menifee, $6,374; and Morgan, $1,513.

The complaint stems from claims that the counties would collect much more in taxes than they are being paid by the federal government. A national organization opposes further land acquisition by the federal government.

If the bill introduced by Simon becomes law every county in the Daniel Boone National Forest would receive $9,785.

Boone National Forest would be assured of receiving at least 50 cents an acre and counties receiving more would not be cut back. Daniel Boone National Forest now rebates, on the average, 17 cents an acre.

The proposal would also earmark 80 percent of the money for roads and schools; and 20 percent to be spent as voted by Fiscal Court.

It has been made plain throughout that there is no complaint against the manner in which Daniel Boone Forest is operated. However, Congressman Perkins has had several disagreements of policy as did former U. S. Senator John Sherman Cooper.

Regional Police Officers Meeting Scheduled Here

Officials of law enforcement agencies in the 15-county Northeast regional crime council district will attend an organizational meeting on crime prevention slated for 10 a.m. Friday (tomorrow) at the Holiday Inn in Morehead.

The meeting, which is sponsored by the state Justice Department's Office of Crime Prevention, is being held in advance of a major statewide crime prevention conference scheduled for early next month at which Gov. Julian Carr will officially launch Operation Identification.

Police officers from this region, and those attending similar planning meetings in several other areas of the state, will be given literature, films and other materials for use during the identification campaign which will include citizens to mark their personal belongings.

Our Fragile Earth

By Dr. Jerry Howard, Director of Environmental Studies, Morehead State University.

This article is the first in a series on the causes of air pollution and its effects on plants, animals and man.

Air pollution has been a problem much longer than most of us realize. Early English authors often vividly described a London which was an industrialized product. In the 13th century an English air pollution law was passed and in 1306 a London law banned the use of certain fuels during Parliament sessions. A man was actually executed for violating this ordinance.

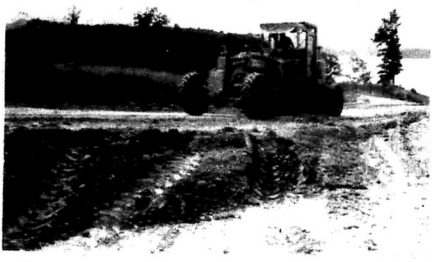

Nature is also an air polluter. Volcanoes, forest fires and dust have always been with us and have been very damaging locally. Of course there is little we can do about this part of the problem, but there is much we can do about our contribution to air pollution.

An incident in Donora, Pa., in 1948 helped us understand the effects of polluted air. A fog blanketed this small industrial area for four days in late October and the still air held pollutants close to the ground. Some older and younger members of the population developed respiratory problems, while eye, nose and throat irritation complaints were commonplace. Before the still air was broken, nearly one half the inhabitants of Donora had become ill, hundreds were evacuated and 20 died. According to 1966 Public Health Service publication, the effects were felt for years. Death and sickness were much higher ten years later for people who had become sick from the fog than for those who had not.

Other dramatic incidents have fired public concern. The most widely cited disasters happened in London in 1952, 1956, and 1962. Blamed on the burning of coal, these tragedies were all aided by an inversion layer, a weather phenomenon occurring when a warm air layer becomes sandwiched between cold air layers. A typical inversion layer happens during the early morning hours in winter and is usually aided by mountains on at least two sides. The warm middle layer acts as a dam, and the bottom cooler layer and prevents pollutants from escaping to the upper atmosphere. Donora's problems were also triggered by an inversion layer.

In 1962, the thick smog over London caused at least 4,000 deaths. In 1966 approximately 1,000 died and 200,000 died from the smog. Sulfur dioxide, released from the coal, was the major culprit. As a result, London authorities have outlawed coal for home heating and air pollution incidents have been dramatically lowered.

Several cities have had air pollution alerts recently. People with respiratory ailments, the very young and the very old are advised to stay indoors during these periods when human ailments are aggravated by chemicals, particulate matter and gases.

Time Element Kept M'head From Having Federal Judge

During the administrations of Presidents John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson, the proposal was often revived for creation of another federal judgeship in the eastern Kentucky district.

Congressman Carl D. Perkins and John Waits pointed out that the district has one of the heaviest, and most crowded, dockets in the nation. Perkins and Waits indicated several times to the foreclosed hearing that if such an additional judgeship was approved there is a Moreheadian, George I. Cline, then United States Attorney, would receive the appointment.

But, other states also wanted additional federal judges and the Kentucky request was often pulled out and then re-filed in the Justice Department.

This week the U.S. Senate passed a bill providing for 40 additional federal judges in the nation, including one in Kentucky's eastern district. Congressman Perkins said he expected the bill to pass the House without trouble and to be signed by President Ford.

Federal judges are appointed by the President. And, when the new Judgeship is available, probably by January, Morehead's George Cline, a democrat, will not be in the running. The lifetime appointment, with an annual salary of $40,000 a year plus full pay retirement, will likely go to Eugene E. Siler, Jr., of Williamsburg, Whitley County. Siler, a republican, succeeded Cline as United States Attorney, when Richard Nixon, a republican, assumed the presidency.

Thus, an untimely political development or delay, probably kept a Morehead attorney from becoming a federal judge.

The eastern Kentucky district will have three full time judges. Another, to succeed the late Judge Mac Swinford, especially in view of the current eastern and western Kentucky districts. Judges presently sitting in the eastern district are Bernard T. Monahan and H. David Hermansdorfer.

Heart Fund Drive More Successful Than Last Year

Rowan County residents contributed $2,540 to the Heart Fund drive in 1975, an increase of $476 over the 1974 total of $2,064, according to County Chairman Mrs. John Kittle.

Audited figures for the statewide drive, as reported at the end of the fiscal year on June 30, showed a total of $726,476 given in 1975 as compared to $660,751 donated last year. State Campaign Chairman Jesse Stuart of Greenup said, "We are proud of this sizeable increase of 11 per cent, especially in view of the current business situation and the generally unfavorable weather we had on Heart Sunday, Feb. 23, during our house-to-house solicitation."

A heart victim himself, Stuart pointed out that "54 per cent of all deaths from all causes in this country — more than all of the others combined — are due to heart and blood vessel diseases." He urged "continuing and increased support" for the three-point program of research, health education and community service being conducted by the Kentucky Heart Association.

Governor Files Suit Over Forced Busing

Gov. Julian Carroll took action Monday designed to cause the President of the United States and the U. S. Congress to propose and pass a Constitutional Amendment against forced busing.

Gov. Carroll filed suit in U. S. District Court in Louisville seeking a declaratory judgment finding that: "First, neither state nor federal law required additional state payments to the Jefferson County Board of Education to fund the increased costs of forced busing."

"And that the increased costs of transporting students as a result of forced busing is properly the obligation of the United States American and not the Commonwealth of Kentucky."

"And that in the event that the Commonwealth of Kentucky is required to appropriate state funds to pay the increased expenses that result from forced busing, the money should come from federal funds regardless of federal law that specifies to the contrary."

Gov. Carroll pointed out that his action could not be filed until Judge James Gordon had issued his busing order because the question of financing busing did not exist until then.

"While only the federal courts, the President and the Congress can stop forced busing," Gov. Carroll said, "the terrible consequences of forced busing require every official in Kentucky to do what they can legally do to stop it. That is exactly what I have been doing and that is what I intend to continue doing."

"Gov. Carroll took this quick action following the federal court busing order because he feels that this financing could be the subject of further orders from the federal judge."

"I am unalterably opposed to forced busing," Gov. Carroll continued, "I will not recommend to the Kentucky General Assembly that it pay for forced busing and I do not think the General Assembly will readily accept the burden of paying for federally-ordered busing."

Gov. Carroll said that he additionally is opposed to the premise that the federal courts can order forced busing and that he required only the states to pay for it. He said that the busing is apparently based on a federal court interpretation of the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution and that it is not a state responsibility required by Kentucky's constitutional mandate to provide a system of public education.

"Therefore," says Gov. Carroll, "taxpayers of Kentucky should not be required to pay the bill."

The governor said that it is hard to believe that the Congress has passed a law which prohibits federal financing of forced busing but does not prohibit forced busing itself.

"The federal Congress refuses to even consider a constitutional amendment which would relieve the states of federal court-ordered forced busing," the governor said.

"I have no intention of permitting the inaction of the President and the Congress to go unchallenged."

Gov. Carroll says he believes that the federal court will at least be receptive to his complaint to the degree that it will strike down the federal law that does not allow federal money to be used to pay for forced busing.

If the federal court in Louisville should so hold, he added, he will file a second action in the federal court for the District of Columbia and will ask that Congress be ordered to pay for forced busing in Louisville and Jefferson County.

"My purpose is simply this," concludes Gov. Carroll, "I don't believe the U. S. Congress will want to pay the bill for forced busing. That burden is so great, the price will be too high for them."

"Thus, they will have to turn to the other alternative and pass a constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing."

"This is the quickest and best way I know to really get the attention of the President and the U. S. Congress."

SOUND ADVICE

Student Hearing Vital

As the opening of a new school year approaches, parents should insure their school-age children will not be penalized by attending class while suffering from undetected hearing loss.

This is the advice of the Belmont Crusade for Hearing Conservation. The crusade is sponsored by Chicago-based Bellone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments. A stream of building public awareness is the need for hearing conservation.

The hard-of-hearing child frequently is not aware of his handicap, and tragically, teachers and parents tend to make the child is not hearing properly.

Often the hearing impaired child is inattentive, early preoccupied, disobedient or withdrawn from classroom activities. If activities, and sometimes are considered "trouble-makers."

Fortunately, a properly administered pure-tone audiometer test is virtually painless and uncovers any existing case of hearing impairment. The majority of students will receive the simple, brief and accurate screening.

However, those who fail should be given the threshold test to determine whether they actually have a hearing loss of certain frequencies, or if their hearing will improve. Read the instructions for the screening test.

Postal Rate Decreases In Effect

Decreases in two postal rates went into effect here Sunday, according to Norman Gross, Postmaster.

Gross said the two classes of mail affected are:

- First Class—The postage will be 10 cents for the first ounce and 9 cents for each additional ounce. This replaces the current rate of 10 and 10.
- Post Cards—The rate for cards will be 7 cents, down from the current eight cents.

Postmaster Gross said that persons having eight-cent post cards return them for exchange of seven-cent cards or for stamps.

Second- and fourth Class rates are up slightly and the users of those two types of postal services are being informed of the changes.

Third Class advertising mail remains unchanged, the Postmaster noted.

Gross said the new permanent rates are expected to remain in effect at least until after Christmas.

Letters . . . to the editor

This newspaper welcomes letters, particularly on subject of general, local, or area interest. Right is reserved to condense. No letters will be printed without author's signature and address.

The Editor:
As Chairman of the Citizens Committee for the Courthouse, I wish to express thanks to The Morehead News for the comprehensive coverage you have given to the recent problem centering upon the courthouse. We wish also to thank WMOE for the unstinting publicity given to the two public meetings called in connection with the problem. I believe we have seen the democratic process at work.
We wish also to extend congratulations to the two local governing bodies, namely the Rowan County Fiscal Court and County Judge and the Morehead City Council and Mayor, for their responsible actions in tune with the expressed will of the people. It is an ill wind which blows no good. We have a greater degree of unity right now. I am convinced that we have had in many years in Rowan County.

Most responsible citizens of both rural Rowan County and the City of Morehead recognize that what is good for Rowan County is good for Morehead, and vice versa. We need to share as never before. We all pay the same tax rate to support our Rowan County school system. The same water purification system serves both county residents and city dwellers. A central building designed to serve all local governmental needs is not an unreasonable dream. Rowan County taxpayers who I happen to reside in the City of Morehead should not have to supply facilities to both governments separately if they can be supplied and used jointly for less cost.

Both governing bodies need far better quarters if the citizens are to be served. Off-street parking needs to be found and put into use. We can no longer allow petty jealousies and private employe bias to prevail. We all have the right to demand that the people who, ex officio, are on boards and committees to plan the building and facilities proceed with all deliberate speed to do so. We have the right to call them to an accounting if reasonable progress is not made.

The Citizens Committee, which consists of all contributors of record to the Fighting Fund, will remain as an organization until a solution has been reached to the problem at hand. The Executive Committee of the Citizens Committee will meet periodically to evaluate progress. We shall consult legal counsel if it appears to be needed. We stand ready to make positive contributions at any time. The Executive Committee consists of Norman Tant, Chairman, Lindeell (Mrs. Steve) Eldridge, Treasurer, Pearl (Mrs. Claude) Brown, Jewell (Mrs. Walter) Carr, Roy Caudill, Steve Goldberg, and Alpha Hutchison. Mr. Norman Wells is the Honorary Chairman of the Citizens Committee for the courthouse.

Yours truly,

Fiscal Court Has Special Session

Rowan Fiscal Court met in special session last Friday at which time it authorized the County Attorney to advertise for bids for purchase of two heavy-duty dump trucks (chassis and cabs only).

The bids are to include the trade-in allowance on two 1973 Ford dump trucks, cabs and chassis.

Fiscal Court also ordered that Check No. 46 from Larry C. Breeze Real Estate Agency dated Sept. 12 in the amount of $30,000 be accepted and deposited into the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund of the County. The check was the return of the down payment the county made on Aug. 12 when it entered into a contract to purchase the Morehead Treatment Center (formerly Pincrest Children's Home).

The court also authorized the County Treasurer to pay a bill to KenMore Stone in the amount of $2,093.40, with the money to be taken from the Road Fund account.

Reimbursed For Trees
A forestry incentives program allows landowners who follow specified procedures to be reimbursed for 50 to 75 per cent of the cost of planting trees or of the cost of timber stand improvement. Reimbursement will not exceed approximately $50 an acre for tree planting or about $30 an acre for timber stand improvement.

United Way Personal Volunteers At Work

The United Way plans a more thorough personal campaign for the 1975 pledge period. Don Holloway, campaign chairman, said, "This is necessary because a goal $5,000 larger than last year is a great challenge. We can't make the goal if we fail to contact a single home or business."

The business campaign reported in last week's paper is in progress and more than thirty workers are contacting local businesses.

The personal campaign is divided into several areas of the city with a captain or co-captain for each area. The west portion of the city is being planned by Bonnie Razor and Edith Conyers. Sherwood Forest and Wilson Avenue has Mildred Wightman and Irene Callis as co-captains. Glenn Fulbright is captain for the area from Wilson avenue to the stadium. Dot Stanley will arrange for workers in Tolliver Addition and Eastern part of the City. During September, workers on each street will be contacted and asked to list the home in his or her area. It is the goal of the captains to have the name and address of each home in the city on the worker's sheets.

On October 2, the captains, campaign chairman, and United Way bookkeeper will meet to review the street lists at which time a note will be made of those who contributed last year. Those who have already given through their employer will be noted and a home contact will not be made. All others will be contacted and asked to contribute to the combined campaign for the 18 agencies served by the United Way.

Coal Mine Tourists

Hundreds of groups tour Kentucky's coal mining operations each year as guests of the division of reclamation in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. The coal mine tourists range from students to teachers, from legislators to Federal Environmental Protection Agency employees to citizens concerned with coal mining.

APPOINTED . . . Dr. Donald F. Flatt, associate professor of history at Morehead State University, has been appointed by Gov. WITHOUT ELECTRICITY, A QUIET NIGHT AT HOME WOULD BE A QUIET NIGHT AT HOME.

Forget about watching TV or listening to the radio. Want to read a book or sew a fine seam? Better do it before dark.
Nobody has to tell you electricity is an important part of your life. Tomorrow it will be even more important . . . for your children, their families, and their jobs. That's why we must build new generating plants today. So you and your children won't be faced with a power shortage tomorrow.
To meet your needs takes money to pay the inflated costs of materials, fuel, labor and environmental controls. We can't pay today's and tomorrow's prices on yesterday's income. We need your understanding that your electric bill must be higher than it was a couple of years ago. This is the only way we can continue to provide the electric service you're used to.

Electricity is something people take for granted and that's the way it should be. In fact you don't even think about it unless things get real quiet at your home. And we're working to keep that from happening.

KENTUCKY UTILITIES
ELECTRICITY...USE IT, BUT USE IT WISELY.

Like a Log
Why did the girl put her bed in the fireplace? She wanted to sleep like a log. Of course there were three boys sharing the same bed. It was so crowded one got out and tried to sleep on the floor. After an hour or so one of his friends told him he might as well come back. "There's lots more room now," he said.

Knight Like This
There was the brave knight who preferred to ride a Great Dane rather than a horse. One night he was caught in a violent rain-storm. The innkeeper naturally hated knights, and at first refused to give him a room. When the innkeeper saw the Great Dane standing there shaking water, he said, "I couldn't turn a knight out on a dog like this."

Restraining Order Issued Against Laurel Coal Firm

A Laurel County coal firm has been issued a restraining order by Franklin Circuit Court Judge Henry Meigs as a result of action taken by the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

B & H Coal Co. was charged with strip mining without a permit about seven miles from East Bernstadt on Twin Branch Road.

The state division of reclamation issued B & H Coal Co. a notice of non-compliance for strip mining coal without a permit on April 3. An administrative hearing on the charge was held before the environmental department on May 29. As a result of that hearing, on July 22, John S. Hoffman, secretary of the department, ordered B & H Coal Co. to stop strip mining and reclaim the affected area.

The suit filed in Franklin Circuit Court by the environmental department Sept. 9, says Hoffman's orders were not obeyed and the coal company has created a situation constituting a great, immediate and irreparable threat of harm to the surface lands of the state. The state also seeks penalties.

Four State Firms Agree To Pollution Settlements

Gov. Julian Carroll announced Monday that four Kentucky firms have agreed to pay a total of $46,000 for violating state pollution laws, bringing the total of such settlements to $284,420 since last January.

Penalties collected for all of 1974 were $157,980.

All the firms also agreed to take corrective action to bring their operations up to state standards. It also will take steps to prevent future blackwater spills.

AgriCo Chemical Co. of Henderson will pay $15,000 for violating state air pollution standards.

Calgon Corp. of Boyd County will pay $10,000 for violating water quality standards.

Cumberland Strip and Auger, Inc., of Williamsburg will pay $2,000 in permit in Leslie County. The company also has agreed to reclaim the area affected.

Timothy Porter Recognized In Speech Contest

Timothy Porter, son of William C. Porter, Rt. 1, Morehead, was one of three Ohio University students who placed within top five positions in the finals of the National Peace Speech Contest in late August.

Winning the state championship in May, Porter went on to place fourth in persuasive speaking in the national contest. All speeches had to be concerned with the problem of peace in the world.

The contest is sponsored by the Intercollegiate Peace Speech Association and funded by the Monroite Church. The national finalists receive cash awards.

According to Dr. Raymond Beatty, OU's director of forensics, it was the first time in the contest's history that a university has had three students rank so highly in one year.

Ohio University's forensic program, which has placed either first or second in the nation during the past five years, is sponsored by the School of Interpersonal Communication.

Faculty Members At University Co-Author Map

The map is the fourth in a series prepared by faculty members in MSU's Department of Physical Sciences. Previous maps were the Bangor, Cranston and Morehead quadrangles. Copies of all four are available from the Kentucky Geological Survey in Lexington.

Two members of the Morehead State University faculty, Dr. John Plattner and David Hybert, have co-authored a map entitled "The Geologic Map of Soldier Quadrangle, Northeastern Kentucky."

The map area covers about 50 square miles in parts of Rowan, Carter and Lewis Counties. It was published by the U. S. Geological Survey.

Senator Ed J. Kelly, 71, Supporter of MSU, Dies

Former State Senator Edward J. Kelly, one of the staunchest and most effective supporters that Morehead State University ever had, died last Wednesday at St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington.

Senator Kelly, 71, became ill in June, which necessitating an artery operation. He failed to rally and had been mostly bedfast since. He suffered a massive stroke Monday and passed away two days later.

Senator Kelly, who represented the Mason, Fleming, Robertson and Rowan counties senatorial district for three terms (1957-69), was perhaps best known as the strong proponent who succeeded in having Morehead, Eastern, Western and Murray classified as universities instead of colleges.

He was one of Kentucky's staunchest supporters of higher education; and worked effectively for Morehead State University which was in his district.

Senator Kelly possessed the fine trait of always "getting along with people" even though they might disagree with him. He liked people and politics.

In 1950 he was elected Mayor of Flemingsburg.

Kelly was born in Covington Feb. 27, 1904. He first worked for the Kentucky Highway Department, emigrating to Flemingsburg as a young man.

He married a Flemingsburg girl, Winder Dudley, in 1929; and in 1930 became part owner and manager of the N. S. Dudley Coal Company, a corporation founded by his father-in-law.

The Kentucky Education Association recognized Senator Kelly as one of its best friends. He claimed throughout his Senatorship that teachers pay in Kentucky was inadequate.

A member of the Maysville Country Club and the Flemingsburg Country Club, he was an avid golfer. But,

Senator Kelly perhaps most enjoyed visiting and talking with friends throughout Fleming County and his senatorial district. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lake Kelly, said: "Ed was one of those persons who loved people and never met a person he didn't like." The funeral mass was recited at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at St. Charles Church in Flemingsburg with interment in Flemingsburg cemetery.

Immediate survivors are his widow; a son, Lake Kelly, head basketball coach at Austin Peay University, Clarksville, Tenn.; a sister, Sister Mary Frederick, Louisville; and five grandchildren.

Help Heal Your Headache You may be giving yourself a pain in the neck... and the head. One of the most common kinds of headaches is caused by tension... When a person is confronted with a difficult situation, his natural reaction is to tense up the muscles in his neck and head... as if to fight. This tension caused by tension can lead to pain, which causes more tension, more tightening and more pain. Pretty soon, you have a full blown tension headache.

Head and Shoulders Above the Rest... Peoples Bank Sandy Hook, Kentucky the Complete Bank Today, with prices sky-high, you have to stretch your dollars more than ever! That's where WE come in. To get rid of it, there are generally two things you can do. One is to relax, getting rid of the tension and so the pain. For faster relief, you can take a pain killer, but you have to be careful what you take. The wrong pill can lead to more troubles. Even something usually considered harmless, such as aspirin, can carry certain risks. For people with allergies, asthma, stomach troubles, or those taking anticoagulant drugs for gout aspirin can cause unwanted effects. Another source of relief, Tylenol's analgesic products comes in regular tablets, plus a chewable and two liquid forms for children. Fortunately no matter what you take for it, you don't have to worry about your headache craving you crazy. It has been found that headaches are virtually non-existent among mental hospital patients.

Inflation Fighting Ideas

A new plant to be built south of the border will help to fight inflation on both sides of the border. The efficient new hydro-fluoric acid plant, which will be one of the largest in the world, will make a chemical used in producing stainless steel and in removing certain deposits on steels before they are processed.

The new plant, which will be built by DuPont at Matamoros, Tamaulipas state, will supply both domestic and international markets. When it is in full production it will generate foreign sales of $25 million annually. DuPont, which has had operations in Mexico for 50 years, currently has investments there totaling $216 million and employs 5,000 persons. Its investments in Mexico will increase by 25 percent over the next few years, according to Irving S. Shapiro, chairman of the board.

Inflation Fighter Shapiro Shapiro says that a study by economists indicates Mexico's gross national product will increase at an average annual rate of six to ten percent over the next decade. Shapiro says: "Our history is an example of the way in which mutually satisfactory cooperation can exist between a government concerned about national development and a company concerned about the development of the country. It is our intention to continue this cooperation with Mexico's economic progress."

Former Vietnam Prisoner Of War To Lecture Here

Air Force Col. Robert B. Purcell of Louisville, a former Vietnam prisoner of war, is appearing Thursday, Sept. 25, at Morehead State University.

Col. Purcell will be featured in a 10:20 a.m. lecture at Burton Auditorium as part of the National Security Series sponsored by MSU's Department of Military Science. The program is free and open to the public.

The Louisville native spent nearly eight years in a prison camp in North Vietnam after his fighter plane was shot down in July, 1965. He now is assigned to the Strategic Air Command headquarters at Offutt Air Force Base, Nebraska.

His topic will be "Vietnam in Retrospect."

"I Refuse To Testify"

Grocery neighbor Jones, sitting on his front porch, sees a reckless driver plough into your parked car. Later, trying to collect damages, you need Jones to be a witness for you in court. But he balks. "I refuse to testify," he says. "The whole thing is none of my business."

Can you force him to take the stand? Indeed you can. Testifying in court is not a matter of choice but a matter of civic duty. The citizen who has useful information in a lawsuit must tell what he knows, willingly or not, because justice is entitied to his assistance.

"Perseverer" is the court's power to hold him in contempt. But beyond that, if one's refusal choice but a matter of civic duty. The citizen who has useful information in a lawsuit must tell what he knows, willingly or not, because justice is entitied to his assistance.

On the other hand, a witness need not submit to embarrassment or hardship beyond the legitimate needs of justice. For example: A woman witness in a homicide case was asked whether she had been quarreling with her husband—a question that had no connection at all with the trial. The court threw the question out as improper.

"Witnesses have a right to be protected from abuse" by improper questioning and gross attacks on their character."

Garbage-to-Energy
More than 50 garbage-to-energy programs are currently operating, or are in the construction or planning stages throughout the United States. Almost all of these systems call for the recovery of steel cans, since steel's magnetic properties make it the easiest material to remove on a large scale for recycling. Also the removal of the metal increases the efficiency of the remaining refuse as fuel and reduces the amount of material that must be land-filled.

"The Big Green Machine Rolls On" is a part of a Rowan County High School sideline cheer, and it certainly was indicative of the Vikings' performance last Friday night as they "rolled" over visiting Lewis County 39-6.

Doing most of the "rolling" was senior running back Steve Hodges who scored three touchdowns, set up two others with a punt return and a long gainer, and had another nullified by a penalty. Hodges finished the game with 141 yards rushing in 11 carries and over 100 yards on punt and kickoff returns.

The Vikings scored first on a 3-yard plunge by fullback Deweyne Carter at the 6:37 mark, capping a 43-yard drive, and took a 6-0 lead as the conversion failed. But the Lions struck back by air with quarterback Tony McGilone firing 10-yard TD passes to flanker Jim Bloomfield near the end of the first quarter to tie the score. After their conversion attempt also failed, the Lions successfully recovered an onside kick at the Viking 40 yard line. But the Rowan County defense held on downs, and the Vikings took over and were in control from that point on.

Donnie Skaggs dived into the endzone from three yards out in the second quarter, after a 27-yard run by Hodges, to give the Vikings a 12-6 lead. Three minutes later Hodges broke loose for a 56-yard TD run, and RCCH led 18-6 at halftime.

Early in the second half Hodges scored from the 11-yard line after his 50-yard punt return had been called back due to an RCCH clipping penalty. Skaggs ran the conversion, making it 26-6. Less than three minutes later, Hodges rambled for a 25-yard score after Jimmy Markwell had intercepted a pass for the Vikings, giving RCCH a 32-6 lead entering the last period.

Midway through the fourth quarter, senior back Paul Kidd took a handoff 78 yards for the longest Viking TD run from scrimmage this season. Chuck Gilley's kick was true to give the Vikings their final 39-6 margin.

Rowan County's defense, sparked by tackles Chuck Adams and Mike Howard, linebacker Deweyne Carter, and defensive back Jimmy Markwell (who had three interceptions), turned in their fourth consecutive strong effort.

The Vikings now 4-0 travel to Prestonsburg tomorrow night for a crucial District 2 matchup with the Blackcats. Prestonsburg defeated Johnson Central 8-0 last week and will pit their tough defense against the potent offense of the Vikings. The next home game for Coach Ken Howard's charges is October 16 against EKC for West Carter in the annual Homecoming Game.

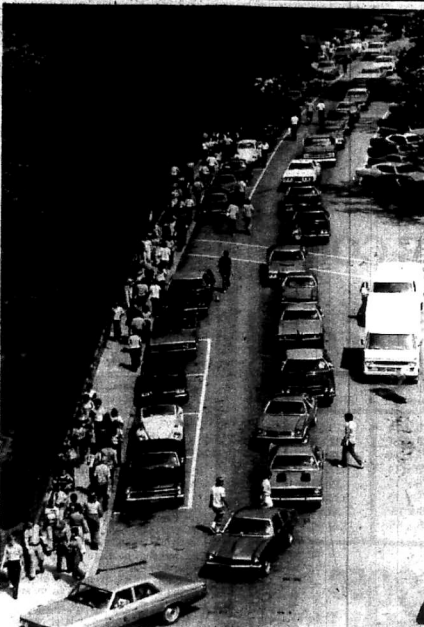

Tickets For Game At Marshall Now Available At MSU

Tickets for Morehead State University's season-opening football game at Marshall next Saturday are on sale at the University Business Office.

The tickets are available daily from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Adult tickets are priced at $5 and student admission are $3. MSU students with ID cards may purchase seats for $2.

The Eagles and the Herd meet Saturday at Fairfield Stadium at 7:30 p.m.

CROWDED CAMPUS - The Morehead State University campus is jammed with people and automobiles during the fall semester. An increase in the number of full-time students helped create this scene looking east on University Boulevard.

Football Eagles Play Saturday

The time is drawing near for Morehead State University's football Eagles to exchange their practice gear for game uniforms.

After five weeks of pre-season practice, the Eagles open the season Saturday night against Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

"Our practices have gone very well," said Head Coach Roy Terry. "I hope we are ready to peak for a maximum effort this weekend."

Freshman Phil Simms has earned the starting quarterback's job. Simms, a product of Louisville Southern High School, was described by Terry as "our most consistent quarterback during the fall drills." Junior Terry Flowers, a part-time starter last year, is the backup main ball team.

Junior Ron Mosley has nailed down the tailback slot and sophomore Eddie Bishop will start at wingback. Mosley played at flanker last season. Bishop, a Pineville product, has been impressive.

"Our strong suit should be experience on defense," said Terry. "Wide receivers and quarterback will be our only new faces."

Marshall carries an 0-2 record into the game but Terry doesn't believe The Herd is as bad as its record indicates. "They made a lot of costly errors against Akron and Miami and stopped themselves," he said. "If they can avoid those mistakes they could be a good football team."

MSU will be making its third appearance in Huntington in Terry's four years at the Eagle helm.

RCHS Band To Compete In Contest

The Rowan County High School Band will leave Saturday morning for Alexandria in Campbell County where it will compete with 14 other bands in the Northern Kentucky Marching Band Contest.

The 40-member band, under the direction of Steve Rigby of Clearfield, will be in dress uniform for the competition. Also taking the trip will be the RCCHS Flag Color Guard team.

The bands will be competing for the Governor's Cup trophy which will be given for the first time. The Band Boosters Club of RCCHS met Monday night to discuss projects for the band during the year. School Superintendent Bill Frances was on hand for the meeting.

Fraternity Planning Horse Show

Morehead State University's Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity has announced plans for a quarter horse show to be held Sunday, Oct. 19, at MSU's Derricksion Agricultural Complex.

The show is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and features 40 classes in three divisions—halter, utility activity and performance. Admission is $1 for adults. Children under 12 are admitted free.

The show begins at 9:30 a.m. An entry fee of $3 will be charged in the halter and utility divisions. The fee is $5 in the performance division. No stalls will be available.

The show judge will be Cliff Keese of Bluff City, Tenn., and the ring steward is Asa Whitt of Morehead. The announcer will be Jim Caskin of Irvine. Bruce Reynolds is an AGR member, is the show chairman and the show secretary is Tom Galbreath of AGR.

Additional information is available from Tom Galbreath, 203 W. Second St., Morehead, Ky. 40351.

Soccer Team Posts Win; Cross Country Defeated

There was good news and bad news last weekend for Morehead State University's fall sports teams.

On the good side, MSU's soccer team pulled from a 2-1 halftime deficit to beat Kentucky, 3-2 on Saturday night. Dr. Mohammed Sabie's team tied the score early in the second half and picked up the winning goal with less than two minutes remaining on a shot by sophomore Elvis Ngolie.

The soccer Eagles are 2-0 and visit Georgia Peabody College Friday in Nashville and play at Vanderbilt on Saturday. The next home game is Sept. 24 against Georgetown.

And now, the bad news. The cross country team opened the season with a loss to Marshall. MSU freshman Mike Beraft took individual honors but Marshall took the next three places to take the win.

Coach Buck Dawson's runners open their home season Saturday against Eastern Kentucky at 10:30 a.m. at the MSU Golf Course.

MSU's women's tennis team's opening match at Northern Kentucky was postponed because of rain. It has been rescheduled for Oct. 13.

MAYOR CORNETT DESIGNATES CONSTITUTION WEEK HERE

Mayor Corbett Mayor C. B. Cornett has designated the week of Sept. 17-23 as Constitution Week and is urging all citizens pay special attention during that time to the Federal Constitution, and the advantages of American Citizenship.

Mayor Cornett pointed out that the Constitution of the United States was adopted Sept. 17, 1787, ratified June 21, 1788, and became effective March 4, 1789. Sept. 17 marks the 188th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the U. S. by the Constitutional Convention.

Largest Water User

Louisville uses more water than any other municipality in the state. It takes between 120 and 130 million gallons of water from the Ohio River every day. Lexington takes 32 million gallons a day for the Kentucky River.

STEVE GOLDBERG WINNER IN BASS TOURNAMENT

Steve Goldberg won the "Tackle Busters" bass tournament Sunday, Sept. 7. Jeff Adams finished second and Billy Hook took third place honors.

Trophies are awarded to the top three fishermen in all bass tournaments held by the club.

All 8 OVC Teams To Be In Tournament

The Ohio Valley Conference of which Morehead State University is a member, voted yesterday that all eight member basketball teams participate in the annual tournament to be held at the E. A. Diddle Arena on the Western Kentucky campus on March 1, 4 and 5. Heretofore, only the top four teams participated in the tourney. The winner is the OVC's representative in the NCAA eliminations.

The vote that all eight schools participate was 5-3. The ballots were cast by the Presidents. It is not known how Morehead or any other school cast their ballots.

The first four opening games will be played March 1. The semi-finals are scheduled March 4 and the championship game on March 5.

Expecting a later tournament date almost all OVC schools had scheduled games for March 1. All of these had to be changed. East Tennessee had been scheduled at Morehead March 1, but the date of this game was moved back to Thursday, Feb. 26.

The annual basketball tournament has always been controversial since the team winning the regular season title can be eliminated from NCAA district play. However, presidents of the eight universities stressed that the tournament earns about $50,000 for the conference. The Diddle Arena seats over 13,000.

Fall Fishing Weekends Set At 2 State Parks

Fishing is great the year round in Kentucky. But it's especially good in autumn, when the air is crisp and the cooler water brings feeding fish to the surface.

[This fall, some of the best fishing bargains in the state can be found at two state resort parks. Barren River Lake and Lake Cumberland State Resort Parks will offer fall weekends for the fishing enthusiast.

Dates for the weekends are September 26 through 28 at Barren River Lake and October 1 through 3 at Lake Cumberland. Registration deadlines are September 12 and October 10, respectively.

Each weekend includes a "Fishing Unlimited" contest starting at noon on Friday and continuing till noon Saturday. Trophies will be awarded in several categories including largest black bass, largest bass string and oldest and youngest fishermen entering a catch. Displays by fishing equipment manufacturers will be exhibited at each lodge throughout the weekend, and evening programs will be highlighted by a presentation on fishing techniques by Hope Carlson of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources.

A special rate of $37.00 per person includes two nights' lodging, double occupancy, in a lodge room or cottage, six meals, entrance in the fishing contest and admission to all programs and displays. Bait and slugs may be rented at the boat docks in both parks.

Reservations should be made by contacting Reservations Manager, Barren River Lake State Resort Park, Lucas, Ky. 42156, or Reservations Manager, Lake Cumberland State Resort Park, Jamestown, Ky. 42929. Further information may be obtained by contacting Bryan K. James, Kentucky Department of Parks, Capital Plaza Tower, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Efforts To Reduce Errors In Food Stamps Working

The state's efforts to reduce errors in the food stamp program are working, according to C. Earl Dawson, secretary of the Department for Human Resources (DHR).

DHR's error rates are well below the national averages for June through December, 1974.

Quality control efforts affect the number of clients and the amount of federal money involved in overpayments, underpayments and payments to ineligible food stamp recipients.

Some 130,000 families in Kentucky receive food stamps. This group includes the 101,559 families who are receiving no other form of public assistance. Only non-assistance food stamp families are undergoing quality control.

In terms of individual cases, the number receiving overpayments was below the national average of 26 per cent. "The dollars paid to these people went down because our errors, on the average, were less serious," said Dawson.

Formerly, 24.1 per cent of all federal monies allocated for Kentucky's food stamp program were issued as overpayments to recipients. This has been reduced to eight per cent.

The number of ineligible cases dropped from 22.7 per cent to 15.4 per cent, compared to the national average of 17.2 per cent. Dollars paid to ineligible persons also remained below the national average of 17.5 per cent. Dawson stressed that ineligibility is not determined by income alone. An ineligible classification can mean that clients don't sign the proper forms or do not register for work and can be due to errors in classifying family members.

Thousands of Pesticides More than 4,000 brands of pesticides are registered for sale in the state according to the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Release of these figures corresponds with an announcement by Earl S. Butz, secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, of nationwide quality control data for this time period. State quality control figures for January through June, 1975 will be released sometime next month.

Kentucky's food stamp clients who are receiving no other public assistance received about $64 million in bonus food stamp coupons between June and December, 1974.

"The staff of the department has made a commendable effort to reduce errors and review cases in the face of existing economic problems and a surge in the number of Kentuckians applying for stamps," said Dawson. "We will continue our efforts to lower rates in the food stamp program, as well as in all of our public assistance programs."

Carroll Announces Opposition To Proposed Red River Dam

Gov. Julian Carroll announced his opposition Thursday to the construction of the proposed Red River Dam.

During a press conference in his office, the governor said he had reached his decision after receiving additional information in a report from the U. S. General Accounting Office and the results of an archaeological investigation of Red River Gorge announced last week.

"After months of study, consideration of a multitude of information, numerous conferences and personal observations, based on the information available to me, I find no compelling reason to build the Red River Dam," said Gov. Carroll reading from a 22-page statement.

The governor said he has informed Col. James N. Ellis, district engineer of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, of his decision, and telephoned Rep. Carl Perkins and U. S. Senators Walter Huddleston, and Wendell Ford.

Carroll said that based on previous statements from the Army Corps of Engineers and the Secretary of the Army, he believed his official opposition "is sufficient to stop" construction of the proposed dam.

Corps May Agree

While not bound by law to do so, the Corps of Engineers, which proposes to build the dam, traditionally has dropped projects that have been opposed by "host governors."

Gov. Carroll said he would not anticipate any further involvement by him even in the event the Corps of Engineers decides to proceed with the construction despite his opposition.

Further involvement by him, Carroll said, "would just be a simple matter of placing my statement of today in federal court."

Last week Federal Judge Rhodes Bratcher issued a preliminary injunction preventing the Corps of Engineers from allocating money for the project or attempting to buy land for construction.

The dam construction, authorized in 1962 by the U. S. Flood Control Act, has been proposed for a site on Red River about four miles northeast of Slade, Ky. in Menifee, Powell and Wolfe Counties. The $34 million project has drawn criticism from environmentalists interested in protecting scenic Red River Gorge, which is partially located in the proposed construction area.

The Corps of Engineers has said that the dam and the 1,500 acre lake that would also be part of the project would provide the three-county area and counties north of it with needed flood control, a contingency water supply to contend with future shortages, and recreational benefits.

Weighted Objectives

In making his decision, Gov. Carroll said he weighed the objectives of the project against its impact on the natural surroundings, and whether any acceptable alternatives to the construction of the dam were available.

Carroll said plans for the dam thus far, in his opinion, have "precluded any consideration of possible alternatives" in realizing the objectives of the project.

Carroll said that, while a dam on the Red River would provide flood protection, other sites are greatly preferable to the present flooding problems there. "If this is true, structural measures consisting of levees, or a combination of levees and channel diversions would possibly provide even greater flood protection."

On the subject of the lake providing a future water supply, Carroll said: "While there have been numerous estimates of water needs there is a definite future need for a greater water supply for Lexington."

"The differences," he said "come when you try to compare the questions of how much and when will an increased need exist. While a sufficient supply of water for our future should be a matter of continued concern to us, water supply represents only 5.8 per cent of the multi-purpose benefit percentage of the project."

To Support Other Efforts

Now that he has made his decision, Carroll said he will support alternative efforts to relieve flooding problems caused by the Red River.

"Our concern for the welfare and needs of all our citizens demands we monitor the water needs of central Kentucky and support whatever effort is required to secure for that urban center a sufficient supply of water for the future."

Carroll said he initially assumed that the project would create recreational benefits that would have "a substantial economic impact on the surrounding area.

Restricted Lake

"However, later when I learned that the dam would provide only a 1,500 acre lake, I soon realized that the benefit would be much less than I had expected."

Then upon further investigation, it came to light that no gasoline-powered motorboats would be allowed on the lake. I am well aware of similarly restricted lakes in Kentucky and the only value, of course, is fishing. Water skiing is thus prohibited."

The governor added that since most of the lake and dam would be located in the Daniel Boone National Forest, development of lake homes and other "compatible commercial establishments" would be minimized.

Carroll said his chief concern in evaluating the project was the full protection of the Red River Gorge and all its values.

"Now that the gorge has received vast amounts of national publicity, it appears reasonable to assume that upon preservation of existing scenic and recreational values, an even greater economic impact in the area can be realized," Carroll said.

Carroll also cited the survey conducted by the Kentucky Historical Commission which revealed that 76 prehistoric sites exist in the Red River Gorge, which would qualify the area as an archaeological district on the National Register of Historic Places.

MOREHEADIAN'S SON ENDS 20-YEAR AIR FORCE CAREER

Master Sergeant Philip P. Dice, son of Mrs. Florence Dice of 122 Maggard Pl., Morehead, has retired from the U. S. Air Force after more than 20 years service.

Sergeant Dice was assigned at Shaw AFB, S. C., as an air traffic control technician with a unit of the Air Force Communications Service.

The sergeant, a 1955 graduate of Fleming County High School, Morehead, plans to attend the University of Maryland.

His wife, Mary, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Colgan of 149 Water St., Flemingsburg.

ACT Tests Scheduled At RCHS

Students at Rowan County High who are planning to go on to school after graduation will have five opportunities to take the Test Section of the ACT Assessment Program during the 1975-76 school year.

The first of five national test dates on which the ACT Assessment tests will be offered is Saturday morning, Oct. 18. Students planning to take the exam on that date must have registered by Sept. 22, it was announced by Lloyd Dean, Counselor.

Announced also was the complete schedule of 1975-76 national test dates for the ACT Assessment Program. The dates (with registration periods in parentheses) are:

Oct. 18, 1975 (Aug. 18-Sept. 22); Dec. 12, 1975 (Oct. 20-Nov. 17); Feb. 14, 1976 (Dec. 15-Jan. 19); April 10, 1976 (Feb. 16-March 15); June 12, 1976 (April 12-May 17).

On those national test dates it takes students about three hours to complete the four standardized exams that make up the Test Section. Another important section of the ACT Assessment Program is a two-part questionnaire that is completed by students at home as part of the registration process.

Information reports resulting from the test and questionnaire sections are sent to the students and their high school counselors, as well as to colleges designated by the students.

Information reported from the Test Section (math, English, social studies, and natural sciences) provides an indication of the respective students' general educational development. The Questionnaire Section (Student Profile and Interest Inventory) provides information about students' academic and nonacademic accomplishments, anticipated needs, and interests.

Nearly one million students last year used the ACT Assessment Program, which is required or recommended for applications at more than 2,400 colleges and other postsecondary schools and scholarship agencies.

It is recommended that students use the ACT Assessment Program in their junior year or early senior year of high school in order that the resulting information can be of maximum value and assistance in the students' educational planning. The basic student fee for the program is $7.50.

The ACT Assessment Program is one of several guidance-oriented services provided for students and educational institutions by ACT (American College Testing Program). The ACT National Office is located in Iowa City, Iowa.

Work On State Highways Hits All-Time High In July

More than $31 million in contracted work, an all-time high, was performed during July, according to a report made recently to Gov. Julian Carroll by State Secretary of Transportation John C. Roberts.

The total amount of $31,331,933.06 exceeded the previous high of $25.5 million in October, 1974.

"This increased activity is a reflection of our insistence on doing as much as we possibly can to keep Kentuckians working and to see to it that more Kentuckians get work during this period of high unemployment," Gov. Carroll said.

"This figure is the amount of work performed by contractors, not the amount of bids let," Roberts emphasized.

"The additional $6 million over the previous high figure is a result of industrial haul road activities," Roberts added, "combined with the efforts of the Department of Transportation toward progress in some of the more difficult areas."

The pay estimates due contractors for work completed during July in each highway district and their headquarters are:

- + District 1 (Paducah) — $1,696,499.09
- + District 2 (Madisonville) — $1,672,372.50
- + District 3 (Bowling Green) — $1,086,657.25
- + District 4 (Elizabethtown) — $1,604,167.97
- + District 5 (Louisville) — $2,779,223.70
- + District 6 (Covington) — $4,840,140.94
- + District 7 (Lexington) — $1,972,458.79

- + District 8 (Somerset) — $2,174,090.86
 - + District 9 (Flemingsburg) — $1,999,093.26
 - + District 10 (Jackson) — $4,381,941.43
 - + District 11 (Manchester) — $4,126,565.36
 - + District 12 (Pikeville) — $2,998,721.46
- Of the three districts with the most work accomplished, District 6 is the site of construction on I-41 and I-275 near Covington; District 10's main project is the Appalachian Development Program centered near Hazard, and a large number of industrial haul roads are currently being upgraded in District 11.

AMERICA'S PEACEKEEPERS
 WHO WEARS MARINE CORPS RESERVE HELMETS

SOME OF THE FINEST

The face under a Marine Reserve helmet could be that of a lawyer, a mechanic, a college student, accountant or school teacher. It is the face of a man committed to his own life, his job, his dreams. He is a perfectly solid citizen who likes his golf game or Friday night bowling and who could easily have found something else to do during the two weeks of Annual Training Duty. Why is he trooping up and down hills under a full battle pack? Why did he choose the Marine Corps and its hard-working Reserve?

There are thousands of answers to the question—but the common denominator of them all would probably go like this: There's something bigger I feel I have to do, for myself, my family—for everything that means something to me. And if I'm going to do it, I'll do it well!

For details about the range of enlistment programs and opportunities in the Marine Corps Reserve, and for the name and location of the nearest Marine Corps Reserve unit to you, where the toll free number call (toll free) 800-423-2600 or 800-252-0241.

Paintsville Apple Fest Will Be Held Oct. 2-4

If you've ever been to the Kentucky Apple Festival in Paintsville, then you know what I'm writing about; and if you've never been, then this is the year to show up in Paintsville Oct. 2-4. You will walk along city streets (always roped off for this event) and delight in the aroma of apples, cinnamon and sweet cider.

"I smelled those good apples before I got to the pie booths," commented a Lawrence County woman at last year's festival. "By the time I got my pie—still warm from the pan, I was drooling."

Small pies, warm and sweet-smelling and sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar; black cakes made from dried apples and exuding the scent of wine; red and gold apples sparkling with a candied coating; jugs of amber-gold cider; candies and cookies—even ice cream—all are part of this annual festival that will highlight this year's county Bicentennial activities.

You can take you pie with you and eat it as you go along stopping at the various concession stands and viewing the antiques displays in store windows. You can stop at the famous apple-butter kettle, and if you have not had your pie yet, the sight of this golden butter bubbling in the big kettle will whet your appetite to the point that you want to hunt a pan of hot biscuits immediately.

Growers are expecting their biggest apple harvest this year," said acting extension agent Prichard King. "We toured some apple orchards last week and noted that more than 130 acres are in orchards."

The festival already has a new king, for Ken DeBoard of Thelma, who last January was selected Kentucky's State Police Trooper of the Year, recently was named to succeed Cecil Meek of Meally.

A new apple queen will reign over this year's festival when Andrea Bridgett (Blair) Timbo will crown her successor in Paintsville High School gym Sept. 13. The new queen also will represent Kentucky in competition for Miss Apple Queen USA in Biglersville, Pa. the weekend after the Johnson County festival.

In addition to palate-pleasing foods offered from dozens of booths, visitors will be provided constant entertainment throughout the event with special performances by celebrities.

On Friday night Conway Twitty and Twitty Birds with Karen Wheeler and Johnny Russell will perform; and Saturday night at Johnson Central High School, Jim Ed Brown, the Cates Sisters and Bobby Bare will present concerts. Various musical and singing groups will play on downtown streets.

Kentucky craftsmen will be on hand to sell their wares and thousands of flea market items will be offered near the grade school gym.

Also features of the program are a giant parade, square dance, apple baby contests, band festival, antique car show, kiddie rides and numerous school athletic and other activities.

If you want to wear your calico dresses and bonnets and your jeans overalls complete with bib and bandana you'll be right in style. If you don't own a calico dress, don't let that stop you from attending the apple festival.

If you aren't there you'll miss out on apples to take home, apple butter, a pie or two and a cake and maybe a gallon or two of cider.

"I save up for the apple festival," said the Lawrence County woman. "Everything is so tasty. I can make apple pies at home but they don't taste like the ones at the festival."

4-H, FFA Beef Show Scheduled

The 1975 Bluegrass 4-H and FFA District Beef Show is scheduled to begin with an on-foot show at Clay-Wachs Stockyards in Lexington on Monday, Sept. 22, according to Kentucky Commissioner of Agriculture Wendell P. Butler.

Butler said weighing of entries will begin at 9:30 a.m. on the day of the show, and that all entries must be placed on the grounds by 11:00 a.m. Weighing of entries should be completed by 12:00 noon, with the on-foot show scheduled to begin at 1:00 p.m.

A pre-sale dinner has been set for 5:30 p.m., and the sale starts at 7:00 p.m.

In addition to the on-foot show, which is to be judged by Carl Ragdale, Manager of Sutherland Farm, Prospect, Kentucky, all steers competing in the on-foot show are eligible for carcass evaluation. Dr. York Varney will serve as carcass judge, and he will report on the results of the carcass contest at the Bluegrass Steer Show Banquet, which will be held Saturday evening, September 27, 1975, beginning at 7:00 p.m. in the E. S. Good Barn on the campus of the University of Kentucky.

Ann Landers

Copyright - Field Enterprises, Inc.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year-old girl with a problem I need to do something about but I don't know where to begin.

Whenever I laugh really hard I wet my pants. This doesn't happen EVERY time I laugh, of course. Only when something hilarious happens do I get out of control.

Do you think maybe something is wrong with my kidneys? Or is it strictly emotional? What can I do about it? Do you know of any medication of treatment that might help? I have had some very embarrassing moments and I don't want to go through life afraid to laugh - Slightly Freaky

Dear S.F.: The problem you describe has nothing to do with the kidneys. You should see a gynecologist or a urologist. It's possible that a minor surgical procedure can fix you up so you'll be able to laugh as hard as you want and not worry.

Dear Ann Landers: While looking over a pile of back papers I ran across a letter printed on April 13. I hope it's not too late to comment. It was from a professed atheist who listed among her more illustrious fellows Clarence Darrow, Albert Einstein, Thomas Paine and Thomas Jefferson.

You correctly pointed out that neither Einstein nor Jefferson were atheists. I'd like to comment on Clarence Darrow. He was an agnostic, not an atheist. During the Leopold-Loeb trial when Darrow was asked if he believed in God, he replied, "After half a century of doubting and speculating I haven't come to any definite decision."

Your atheist correspondent, however, could have correctly cited Sinclair Lewis. Then there was H. L. Mencken, whose writing were filled with hate. She could have also added Lenin and Stalin, two of the world's most vicious purveyors of terror and oppression.—San Gabriel Valley

Dear Gabe: Thank you for the goodie on Darrow. As for H. L. Mencken, his writings were loaded with sarcasm (which may be a watered-down form of hate) but few writers could match him for trenchant humor and barbed wit.

Dear Ann Landers: This is an emergency. A man I met recently and have become very fond of is tormented by sleeplessness and arthritis pain. He also has a nervous tic. At the moment he is involved in a nasty divorce which is not helping matters any.

He claims he gets mysterious phone calls night and day. We can't be seen in public together because he insists he is being followed by detectives. He speaks in a sleepiness when we are alone because he's afraid the room is bugged—even my own apartment. He refuses to eat anything unless I taste it first.

I think this dear one needs to see a psychiatrist even though he insists he's perfectly sane. He says I'm "naive" and insists I'm the one who needs help. What can I do?—Worried in Vancouver

Dear Worried: You can stop seeing him—and the sooner the better. First, he's married and he has many classic symptoms of mental illness. Third, his refusal to seek help and his projection of his illness onto you bode ill for the future.

Affidavits Mailed To Plumbers

Plumbers who applied for licenses under the grandfather clause" of a 1974 state law and have not yet received their licenses must now sign affidavits with the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Affidavits were recently mailed by the environmental department to about 1,250 applicants in 44 counties not covered by the state plumbing law until 1974. Each applicant must sign an affidavit that states he was actively engaged as a plumber for three years before passage of the 1974 law.

Upon return of an affidavit, the environmental department will issue a plumbing license if the applicant fulfills all the requirements. However, department officials caution that no person will be issued a plumbers license under the grandfather clause if that person did not file for a license within 90 days after the grandfather statute became law. That was in late June, 1974.

According to John S. Hoffman, secretary of the environmental department, some licenses had been issued under the grandfather clause before the new procedure was initiated.

Hoffman said under the old procedure there was no method by which a person could appeal the department's decision on the issuance of a license. Under the new procedure, anyone who objects to the denial of a license will be given a hearing before the department.

Hoffman said licensing under the grandfather clause will be completed by December.

Former Strip Mine Continues Productive

Harvesting and stumping time have come and gone for the grapes that were grown on a reclaimed Kentucky strip mine. Now it's time to sit back and wait until the grapes ferment. Although the question now is what kind of wine the grape juices will produce, it won't be answered until its quality is determined after the aging process. According to Larry Springle, who is in charge of revegetation for the division of reclamation in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection, the grape vines were grown on a Falcon Coal Co. strip mine in Breathitt County on an experimental basis. He said, "This summer was the third growing season for the grapes. In early August, men from the company's reclamation section picked more than two tons of grapes." "About two years ago," said Springle, "Bill Oliver, who's a native of Hazard, came up with the idea of growing grapes on the top of an Eastern Kentucky mountain which had been strip-mined. Oliver, who owns a winery in Bloomington, Ind. suggested the idea to officials of Falcon Coal Co., which chiefly uses the mountain top removal method of mining."

When Falcon decided to cultivate the unique form of reclamation in 1973, 2 1/2 acres of vines were planted and 2 1/2 more were planted last year. After being cut back the first year, the vines were allowed to grow last year and this year, producing a small harvest at the end of the season. The reclaimed mountain strip mine is a good area for a prospective vineyard for various reasons, including soil content and location. When the land was being reclaimed, 100 feet of material was put between bedrock and the surface. Because the land has been mined, the soil—containing shale and sandstone that is broken and crushed—allows the roots to penetrate into the ground. The southeastern Kentucky mountain climate and location suits the growing of grapes. The location high above the frost line protects the grapes from frost damage occurring in the low spots. A lack of humidity is another advantage of the elevation. The resulting free air movement keeps the grapes dry and protects them from disease. "Our regulations—which call for grasses, legumes and, in some cases, trees—don't designate other types of vegetation, such as grapes," Springle continued, "but the division encourages coal companies to experiment with different kinds of approved plants. Our objective is to establish vegetative cover as soon as possible to prevent erosion and to stabilize the area. However, at the same time we're interested in making the highest land use possible." Another coal firm which has initiated vegetation not usually approved by regulations is Peabody Coal Co. in Western Kentucky. The company's reclamation section there has seeded continuous wheat on a selected area rather than permanent grasses to determine if it would be economically feasible for strip mined areas. Springle added, "Since these are the exceptions rather than the rule, we usually approve the project on an individual basis. It's not only to the division's benefit, but also the coal operator's benefit for him to write and request approval on experimental vegetation. With these advancements and enforcement of revegetation requirements, surface-mined land could have tremendous potential for future land use."

Your Social Security

By David Bryan - Ashland District Mgr. For Social Security Information write: District Social Security Offices, 1816 Carter Avenue - Ashland, Ky.; Phone 325-7666.

Students 18 and over getting social security checks should report changes in their earnings, school enrollment, and marital status to social security, according to David Bryan, social security district manager in Ashland. Over 680,000 students 18 and over get monthly social security payments because a parent has a disability or retirement benefit or has died. Students can continue to get payments to age 22—or slightly beyond for undergraduates—as long as they remain in full-time students and unmarried. "Students getting checks should notify social security immediately if they leave school, or start attending on a part-time basis so we can stop their monthly payments as required by law," Bryan said. Changes in total yearly earnings from part-time or temporary jobs can also affect social security payments to students, he said. If a student getting payments and expect your earnings for 1975 will be over $2,500, you should report that to social security," he said. "Otherwise, you might get benefits you'll have to pay back later." Social Security payments are reduced by $1 for every $2 earned over $2,500 in a year. No matter how much they earn for the year, people can get their full social security payment for any month in which they neither earn, call, write, or visit any social security office," he said. The number to call is 325-7666.

Carroll Favors National Unified Transportation

In a recent letter to each member of Kentucky's Congressional delegation, Governor Julian Carroll has the urgent support of the Congressmen and Senators for the creation of a National Unified Transportation Fund. In the letter to the Commonwealth's delegation in Washington, Gov. Carroll explained, "As proposed and implemented almost 20 years ago, the Federal Highway Trust Fund was designed to address specific highway transportation objectives as they were recognized in the early 1950's." The Governor's letter continued, "With the passage of time and the near completion of a National Interstate Highway System, it has become clear that the transportation needs of the late 1970's and 1980's are, and will be, vastly different from those of the 1950's and early 1960's." The concept of a National Transportation Fund was adopted at the National Governor's Conference held in June in New Orleans, in which Gov. Carroll was an active participant. Gov. Carroll believes that the fund could be initially accomplished by the transfer and consolidation of existing transportation programs, such as the Federal Highway Program, the Airport and Airways Development Program, and the Urban Mass Transportation Program. The creation of the Fund would, Gov. Carroll said, "insure the continued development of a total transportation system which is fully integrated, which would effectively meet the transportation needs of all, and which considers and accommodates the many other areas of critical national, state and local concern."

Publisher's Pen.

GOOD OLD generous Uncle Sam! The city of Morehead, the most municipalities, large and small, has turned to benevolent Washington in an effort to correct a sewage disposal problem that has tormented the condemned Rowan County jail.

Some six years ago the Kentucky Department of Health ordered the city to expand and correct its sewage treatment facilities. Raw sewage spills into Triplett Creek during peak hours of the day when the West Morehead plant overflows. This is particularly true when Morehead State University is in session.

The city agreed to expand the plant, somewhat.

They then agreed to six square miles; and there are no sewers or sewage treatment north of Divide Hill. Further, the Utility Plant Board has since extended sewer lines into north Knapp Avenue, north Wilson Avenue and perhaps elsewhere.

The situation six years ago was intolerable. Today it is abhorrent. Howard K. Bell Engineers of Lexington was employed to survey and evaluate the problem.

The engineering firm has recommended:

1. A new sewage treatment plant be built in the Bluestone-Farmers area and the existing West Morehead plant discontinued when the new one is in operation. The new treatment plant would be near the conflux of the north and south forks of the Triplett Creek.

2. Sewer lines be laid in the populated areas north of Divide Hill. This includes two shopping centers under construction, the Pinescrest-Holiday Inn vicinity etc.

3. A large sewer main laid to the new treatment plant near Bluestone from what is becoming known as the "old Morehead." This would be an extension of the line that carries the sewage running into and running over, the existing West Morehead treatment plant. It would parallel U.S. 60 and the South fork of Triplett.

4. Another line be laid from Bluestone to accommodate the area north of Divide Hill, recently referred to as the new "Morehead." This line would follow the north fork of Triplett.

Thus, the one "big" sewage treatment plant near Bluestone would accommodate, the "old" city limits; and also the "new" part incorporated three years ago.

All of these plans have been submitted to the "government" as Clennie Holian would say.

Of course, the government has thousands upon thousands of like proposals for grant money from cities both large and small. It's a rat race. The cost:

Latest estimate we have seen is $15 million; and that could be accelerated at this time.

The proposal is for the City of Morehead to issue revenue bonds, to be repaid from a sewerage tax, in the amount of $2 1/2 million. The municipal tax free annual rate would be $1.14 million as Uncle Sam's part. And, therein lies the catch. Good old Uncle Sam is busted and bankrupt as everybody knows, and getting further in debt every day.

We are hopeful that the federal government will approve the $1 1/2 million; but doubt necessarily exist in view of the insolvency of our government which is always in deficit spending.

We came to Morehead in the late '60's and the census shows we were a town, having just emerged from the status of a village. Since that time Morehead has become a small city, and we're still growing, maybe faster than any 4th class city in the Commonwealth.

Former United States Attorney George I. Cline, who heads the News office last week and predicted Morehead's population would be 29,000 by 1985. This is not far out of line with the 1971 computations of Spindletop Research.

We had a talk with banker J. Roger Casdill about this sewage (or sewerage) problem a few weeks before Mr. Casdill, then Chairman of the Morehead Utility Plant Board, became suddenly ill and passed away.

Mr. Casdill had a sewage disposal plan and treatment is the number one problem in our community, using about the same words he had before so many city council meetings.

When one thinks of all the millions the federal government is spending at Pikeville to change the course of the Letcher Fork of the Big Sandy river... the vast sums for urban renewal... all these millions upon millions... a grant of $1 1/2 million to Morehead seems fair and feasible. This is further enhanced when the actuality that a University with a student body of 7,000 is at Morehead, and one city has a sewage disposal system that has made a "Little Mayo" Health Care Center.

The plain and absolute truth of the matter is that Morehead can't grow or progress much farther without an acceptable and adequate sewer system and treatment plant. That was the thinking of the late Roger Casdill, and it is the positive conclusion of this newspaper.

It is timely that we stress that former Mayor William H. Layne and the Council that served with him, Mayor C. B. Cornett and the present Council, and the Utility Plant Board have pushed and are pushing for the federal funds. Nobody can be blamed for apathy or laziness.

Morehead can't proceed without $1 1/2 million free and unencumbered federal funds. And every city and municipality in the nation is seeking what federal funds are available, if any.

THIS NEWSPAPER has editorially stated, often and emphatically, so, that the only sound solution to a growing pains problem of adequate a modern physical facilities for the jail, city hall and fire station lies in multi-city-county building. Our orcl id this week are conveyed to the Mayor, Council, the County Judge and Circuit Court, for their rejuvenated a proach for such a building. And we particularly approve the procedure in physical facilities to be funded, and nothing will be done in secret. This is the people's business, and the public, particularly taxpayers, have t e right to know!

IT'S A SAD thought that the days are getting shorter and the nights longer. The physical facilities that we have in this country, along with rainbow tree foliage, is marred only by the realization that winter approaches.

Generally, we go to eastern Kentucky (how slower) time on Sunday, October 26, and return to daylight (fast) time the last Sunday in April.

CENTRAL CITY Publisher Larry Stone has four definitions for a born loser: 1. A guy who pays $500 for a cemetery lot and then drowns at sea; 2. A stoppage on a Kamakazi airplane; 3. A piano player in a marching band; 4. A flagpole sitter with a kidney condition.

ONE OF OUR friends when we first came to Morehead (so many years ago we weather not mention dates) was Bill Early. We always reckoned that Bill was sharp with figures and had a good business head. So, we're really not surprised that Bill has become the rental and motor enterpriser at Ashland. Last week he purchased (price over $500,000) the Henry Clay Mustang from Delbert Burchett of Grayson. This is the same Delbert Burchett who has made millions during the coal boom and sold the Pinescrest Morehead Treatment Center) to Rowan County, a transaction concluded last week. In addition to the Henry Clay Motel, Mr. Early owns Early's Motel, Avon Apartments, Log Cabin Motel and several other extensive properties, all in Ashland. Early moved from Morehead to Ashland in 1947 and started acquiring property on a small scale. He now owns more rental properties than anybody in Ashland.

A CONY artist always uses bait to attract the suckers. That's the way we feel today about the United States Postal Service which is under strong nationwide criticism.

New postal rates went into effect this week, but the U. S. Postal Service plans to seek a fresh round of increases soon. Under the "permanent" rates that became effective this week, the cost of mailing a first-class letter that weighs less than an ounce stays at 10 cents. But each additional ounce costs 9 cents, instead of the old fee of 10 cents.

Postage for postcards costs 7 cents, down from 8 cents. But sending a parcel is up by 6 per cent.

The Postal Service is expected to initiate moves that will result in an increase in the cost of mailing a one-ounce, first-class letter to 13 cents sometime after Christmas.

Postal officials say the increase will come under a provision of the law permitting "temporary" rate increases for 90 days after a "permanent" rate schedule goes into effect.

Other mail rates will go up by as much as 33 percent when those temporary rates take effect.

The Postal Service, which is mounting a deficit of about $200 million a month, waited and fed; and plan to use Rainbow as a cover crop on your vegetable plot. Turn it under for green manure.

IF YOU don't fully understand the maneuver of the postal service, as recited above, it's nothing but a slick scheme to circumvent the intent of Congress and keep the money private about New Year's day. They have fed you problems — 1. The people are fed up with poor service at higher cost; 2. Members of Congress are getting electorated; and 3. The United States Postal System could well be pricing itself out of business, particularly if he is telephoning a business number. This tells the business executive, or other person on the job if he should allow himself to be interrupted from his occupation, or to return the call at another time of day, more at his convenience.

Of course, this doesn't go for families where voices are easily recognizable, or for close friends, who talk on the phone with each other frequently.

"It burns some people up to have a receptionist or secretary answer the phone and ask, 'Who's calling, please?' But it's a necessity sometimes in offices to hold off interruptions, particularly when you're trying to meet a deadline and every minute counts. If by talking on the phone you make the customer or client you are serving wait. Everyone must surely know that taking a telephone call is not always convenient, and if the person making the call will just give his name at the beginning to whomever answers, he could be spared the irritation of being asked 'Who's calling, please?'"

"A fellow we heard of who hates to be asked, 'Who's calling?' when he places a telephone call, also complains having his calls answered with a phone number. And he figured out a way for everything to fall into place."

"21-412" answered the secretary who was guarding her day's supply of good morning greetings.

"May I speak to Mr. Smith?" asked the man, slightly annoyed.

"May I tell him who's calling?" asked the secretary.

"219-3587" was the remarkably controlled reply.

A FORMER MANAGER of the district office of General Telephone Company at Morehead said that a check showed on an eight-party line that one family used the phone over 40 percent of the time it was in use; and another family 25 percent of the time.

STARTING THIS Sunday (Sept. 21) airlines will refuse to check your baggage unless it has your name on the outside. Passengers who do not already have their name on their luggage will be furnished with free identification labels when they check in for departure. We don't know how long the free labels will be available, but advise that you be sure each piece of your luggage has your name and address tag. Lost and misplaced luggage has been the major complaint against airlines.

A POLL shows that French women treasure chauffeur driven cars as symbols of prestige over such luxuries as jewels, cruises and fur coats. We agree.

SIR JOHN Waller, 58, of London, has a $1.05 million inheritance waiting for him on condition he produces a male heir. Waller gave up the bachelor life to marry 20-year-old Anne Milheam, who also dined at the Ritz. Sir John says he was somewhat disappointed but remains confident of earning his inheritance. "Of course we will have another go," he said.

TEN YEARS ago this column conjectured why everybody who ran for Mayor or Council in Morehead always filed under a non-partisan ticket, questioning why nobody ever filed on the democratic or republican tickets. That all changed two years ago. We think it really makes no difference in a community as closely knit as Morehead, but it is a certainty that democrats will control city government for the next two years. Five of the eight who filed for Council are running as democrats; and Mayor C. B. Cornett is also a democrat and was elected on that ticket.

REPORTS are that dove hunting is better than when Daniel Boone roved these parts. Everybody is getting his limit. We should also mention that the deer bow hunting season in the Pioneer Weapons area on the west side of Cave Run reservoir has been split-off, through Nov. 16; and Dec. 17 through Dec. 31. It is emphasized that these open deer seasons are for bow hunters only.

"I hope you don't think me too young for marriage with your daughter," said the young man.

"That's all right, my boy," was the cheerful reply. "You'll age fast enough."

your week ahead by DR. A.W. DAMIS

Forecast Period:
September 21 to September 27

ARIES Mar 21-Apr 19: Curb the urge to give advice on affairs of the heart. The romantic mischief of an associate has little to do with you.

TAURUS Apr 20-May 20: By way of letter, phone call or third party you'll learn about the deeds of an old companion whose motives and actions you never could comprehend.

GEMINI May 21-June 20: Someone nearby has done a little mind reading. Apparently, you have topped your hand by word or gesture. In other words, one of your deepest secrets will be exposed.

MOONCHILD June 21-July 22: Your present circumstances will not permit self pity. Whether or not you are aware of it, your in better material position than most people. Think about it.

LEO July 23-Aug 22: There's danger in the belief that soft lights and sweet music works miracles with the opposite sex. There's a mysterious malfunction that is truly the determining factor.

VIRGO Aug 23-Sept 22: You won't be in the mood to accept criticism constructive or otherwise. Anyway, stand by for an unsolicited opinion that comes from an evanescent source.

LIBRA Sept 23-Oct 22: This week, the proper handling of money won't be one of your stronger points. Obviously, you must not make a major purchase, especially on a long term basis.

SCORPIO Oct 23-Nov 21: You'll be in contact with someone who will not reveal their hidden past. Bluntly, it's not the time to make new friends. Keep to yourself as much as possible.

SAGITTARIUS Nov 22-Dec 21: Misinformation and half truths about a member of the opposite sex, seems to be in the scheme of things. Meaning? Don't become involved by listening to, or repeating what you hear.

CAPRICORN Dec 22-Jan 19: Things should go smoothly at your job. Task or project. As a matter of fact, you can expect help and encouragement from unexpected sources.

AQUARIUS Jan 20-Feb 18: Hiding your shortcomings from others is one thing, try to kid yourself about your ability is something else. Don't attempt a project you cannot handle.

PISCES Feb 19-Mar 20: Someone you have associated with, will take a sudden disliking to you. Why? You'll never know! Anyway, don't worry about it!

Forestry Officials Take Three Days Of Training

About 200 foresters and fire fighters went back to school recently.

Almost all the field personnel of the division of forestry in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection gathered at Kentucky Dam Village for three days of training designed to prepare them for the upcoming fall forest fire season.

Divided into groups of 50, the students studied the problems of fire behavior, safety on fire lines and first aid, as well as reviewed forest management and utilization. Said Harry Nadler, director of the forestry division. "We hope we never have to use some of the things taught here, but our people must be trained in case there is an accident during the fighting of a forest fire."

Nadler said the three-day session is the only training session which brings together at one time personnel from all nine district offices plus Frankfort. "This statewide meeting," said Nadler, "gives our personnel from the various districts an opportunity to discuss mutual problems."

Districts conduct their own periodic training sessions during the year and foresters receive individual training. The district offices are in Morehead, Prestonsburg, Hazard, Pineville, Stamping Ground, Elizabethtown, Campbellsville, Madisonville and Mayfield. A few fire fighters remained in each district office during the recent school.

Awards for outstanding work were presented during the school by Nadler. Andrew Addott of Route 4 Monticello received an award for the best job in fire control, prevention and suppression. Addott is a unit ranger responsible for supervising fire control activities in Wayne, Clinton and Cumberland counties. Charles R. Skaggs of Putney received an award for the best overall job during the spring tree sale campaign. Skaggs is a county ranger in Harland County, which is part of the southeastern district.

The central district, based in Elizabethtown, was cited for outstanding work during the spring tree planting season. A plaque was presented to A. E. Sturdivant, the district forester over the central district.

About 20 service awards were presented to persons who have worked for the forestry division for 10, 15, or 20 years.

Mrs. Lucy Blair Collins, 86, Dies In Nursing Home

A Morehead woman, Mrs. Lucy Blair Collins, 86, died Wednesday in Daniel Boone Convalescent Center.

Mrs. Collins was a native of Morgan County being born July 13, 1889, near West Liberty.

The funeral was conducted Friday at West Liberty with burial at Blair Mill.

Survivors include three daughters - Mrs. Norma Fairchild of New Castle, Ind., Mrs. Jane Fairchild of Eminence, Ind., Mrs. Madeline Fouch of Morehead; two sons - Glenn and Leewood Collins, both of Dayton, O.; 23 grandchildren; and 18 great grandchildren.

Rev. Henry Howard conducted the funeral.

NEWS OF ENERGY

Drilling has begun on the first of 15 wildcat wells to test oil and gas production possibilities in the Paradox Basin of the Rocky Mountains near the Utah border. Gulf Oil Company-U.S. and Jack Grynberg & Associates, Denver independent oil producers, have jointly strapped up their exploration programs in the Rocky Mountains in an effort to increase domestic supplies of oil and gas.

To help find new domestic energy sources and provide a partial solution to the nation's energy problems, 10 new oil wells will be drilled on 140,000 promising acres of land in southwestern Colorado. While they will be wildcat wells, with no guarantee that they will produce any oil or natural gas, geologists are hopeful that the exploration will be successful. The gas and oil leases on the acreage being tested in Mesa, Montrose, San Miguel and Dolores counties are held by independent oil producers of Denver, which will be the operator of the wildcat program. Calvert Western Drilling Company of Fort Worth will use a single rig to begin the drilling. Should oil or gas be found, Gulf Oil will take over development drilling and has the option to participate in a second 15 wells on an adjacent 130,000 acre block.

The venture will test production possibilities in the Paradox basin adjacent to a number of major salt anticlines. More than 600 miles of seismic data has been used to select the drilling sites. Presently, the Andy mesa gas field is the only production in the area.

The project is the second major wildcat program undertaken by Gulf and partners in the Rocky Mountains this year. Previously, Gulf, with Norak Hydro Petroleum Company as operator, began a 60-well wildcat program on some 500,000 acres leased by Gulf in a 3,500 square-mile area southwest of Denver.

Gulf, which also has wildcats underway in South Dakota and Wyoming, more than doubled its lease acquisition in the Rocky Mountain States in 1974 and spent about $20 million last year to explore for new sources of oil and gas in that area. Jack Grynberg & Associates recently drilled 20 wildcat wells on a similar project in the Greater Green River Basin of southwestern Wyoming, resulting in 6 gas wells. A deep 15,000 foot Weber test is currently being drilled 10 miles south of the prolific Brady Unit as part of this program. In addition to an apparent significant wildcat oil discovery in the Powder River Basin of Wyoming nearing the completion stage, the firm is also the operator of several other exploration programs in the Rocky Mountain area, Texas and the Midwest.

Funds To Help Fight Encephalitis Granted

Gov. Julian Carroll has issued a $15,000 grant from his contingency fund to the Kentucky Department of Agriculture for mosquito-spraying operations in Western Kentucky.

The aerial spraying operations are to prevent further outbreaks of suspected viral encephalitis ("sleeping sickness") in that area. Riggins Flying Service of Adairville has been awarded a $10,000 personal service contract to carry out the spraying operations and an additional $5,000 was appropriated for the purchase of chemicals.

According to Wendell P. Butler, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Agriculture, there is an outbreak of encephalitis in Union, McCracken and Ballard counties.

The disease is spread by the Culex mosquito and their extermination is the only known method of control.

Gov. Carroll noted that more than 40 cases of suspected encephalitis have been reported in the Commonwealth so far this year. "Unless we take immediate action to control the mosquito population," he said, "we could be facing an epidemic of encephalitis in Jefferson County and in parts of Western Kentucky." Encephalitis causes inflammation of the brain, spinal cord and the tissues covering them. Its symptoms may include mild headaches, vision and speech impairments, drowsiness and coma. No specific treatment has been developed for the disease, which has a fatality rate of less than 10 per cent. Cases of encephalitis have been reported in Union, McCracken, Ballard, Henderson, Fayette, Hopkins, Jefferson and Henderson counties. Nine other states have reported similar outbreaks, with Mississippi reporting the largest number of suspected cases.

Commissioner Butler pointed out that his department has no funds for this type of spraying and since this is an emergency, Gov. Carroll has agreed to use his contingency fund to finance the project.

This is the first time since 1964 that the disease has been reported in the Commonwealth.
