FIRST ISSUE OF THE MSU FACULTY NEWSLETTER OFF THE PRESS; OBJECTIVE IS TO PROVIDE CAMPUS-WIDE COMMUNICATION CHANNEL

By William Randolph Wurst

This first, historic issue of the MSU Faculty Newsletter is admittedly a hodge podge of information which was assembled by the so-called editors in an attempt to provide what some folks feel is a much-needed publication on the Morehead State University campus. We sincerely hope that succeeding issues will improve in both quality and size.

Great planning has gone into the production of this first issue (17 minutes) and the editors are aiming for an issue every two weeks. That is, of course, if your response is favorable and you supply us with the necessary ingredients.

We do not wish to structure the publication too greatly, but do feel that this newsletter should be for and about the faculty and we would welcome any hints which you might have to offer. We do plan to have brief, concise reports on what individual faculty members are doing. And hopefully, this publication can report on committee doings and announcements which you feel are pertinent.

Since one of the so-called editors has been known to deal in the absurd and comical from time to time, some irreverent happenings may also find their way into the MSU Faculty Newsletter. But at any rate, we hope to make this an informative, informal, and enjoyable publication which will make your days a bit brighter.

The success of this undertaking will depend entirely upon you. If you wish to see it succeed, you will have to supply the information. If not, the newsletter will die a young death. Any information of interest to your peers should be given to either Paul F. Davis or Ray Hornback, and such information should be placed in the hands of these erstwhile journalists a week or so before the next publication date. Distribution of this scandal sheet will hopefully be at the first of the week, every other week.

If this is not enough to confuse you, let us know and we'll continue our policy statement in the next issue!

EXPERIMENTAL FOODS LAB OPEN TO FACULTY, STAFF, SECRETARIES, VISITORS, ETC.

Nelson Grote reports that not a single faculty member has bit the dust as a result of eating in the experimental foods lab in Room 128 of the Lappin Science Hall addition. Large numbers of faculty have been utilizing the facility but Nelson reports that the heaviest use has been made between 12:00 and 1:00 and the 11:00 to 12:00 hour could stand a few more customers. If you haven't tried this fine facility, please do so. And if you have guests, give the lab a call and they will reserve you a spot.

SPECTATOR ONE MOMENT, OLYMPIC COACH THE NEXT FOR MO SABIE

A funny thing happened to Morehead State University Professor Mohammed Sabie while he was in Mexico City for the Olympic Games last month. He went as a spectator and ended up coaching three athletes from his native country of Iraq.

When the Iraqi coaches did not show up, the three-man delegation pleaded with Sabie to serve as their coach—for without a coach they would have been disqualified under Olympic rules. Morehead's man on the spot consented and all was well as the three were permitted to compete with the wrestler finishing sixth, the weightlifter 11th and the cyclist 36th.

Now Mo is looking toward the 1972 Olympics in Munich, Germany, where he would like to compete in the handball competition. But if he doesn't make it as a participant, he can always coach!

The current exhibit in the Claypool Young Art Gallery consists of early woodcuts, an exhibit from the George Binet Print Collection. The 40 prints, done in the years from 1450 to 1625, will remain on display until Nov. 25.

MUELLER COMMISSIONED TO COMPOSE WORK FOR KY. MUSIC TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

KENTUCKY PUBLICATION FEATURES STORY ON JAMES STILL

The Spring 1968 Bulletin of the Kentucky Association of School Librarians had as its featured story a 10-page piece entitled "James Still: His Life and Literature." The article was written by Katherine L. Craf, English teacher at Barret Junior High School in Louisville and was based on her master's degree thesis done at the University of Louisville.

Speaking of Still, have you heard about the mountain man who was jilted by the moonshiner's daughter but loves her still

GROTE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY OF NATIONAL ORGANIZATION

C. Nelson Grouchy, Dean of the School of Applied Sciences and Technology, will be placed in nomination for the presidency of the American Vocational Association. Grote, known better by many as Grouchy, observed the techniques of the candidates in the recent election with great interest and told the editors that he plans to adopt the best of all. This won't take long and he'll soon be asking for your advice. Good luck Nelson.

THIRD ISSUE OF MSU FACULTY NEWSLETTER ROLLS OFF THE PRESS

By William Randolph Wurst

Surprisingly to many, the third issue of the MSU Faculty Newsletter hit the newsstands today. The fledgling publication, met in some corners with total disregard and in others with wild jubilation, has caught on sufficiently to warrant a third issue.

News is beginning to flow in at a greater pace and for those of you who would like to contribute, you may do so by sending your news items, announcements, or what have you, to either Paul Ford Davis or Ray Hornback. These two cub reporters will turn the information over to yours truly, William Randolph Wurst, for the professional touch.

The editor would like to apologize to the faculty member (or members) who was (or were) offended at the reference in the last issue to C. Nelson Grote. After reviewing what was said, we decided that we were a bit harsh on Nelson. So we would like to publicly apologize for calling him C. Nelson Grouchy. Because he's not grouchy. . . . maybe a little grumpy, but not grouchy!

DATES OF SEVERAL FACULTY GATHERINGS ANNOUNCED

The next total faculty meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 17, in the auditorium of University Breckinridge, at 4:10.

The next meeting of the committee which is studying the possible organization of a university senate will be held on Thursday, December 12, at 4:10, in the seminar rooms off the faculty lounge in the Education Building. Charles Pelfrey was elected chairman of the group at its first meeting.

A meeting of the Advisory Task Force to the President will be held in the seminar rooms of the Education Building just off the faculty lounge on Monday, Dec. 9, at 4:10. Ray Hornback is chairman.

BARNES BOOK RECEIVES SPLENDID REVIEW IN HERALD-LEADER

"Wesley Barnes, professor of English at Morehead State University, has accomplished a fantastic feat. He has successfully and succinctly synthesized the philosophy of existentialism for readers from the layman to the scholar." So said the Nov. 24 edition of the Lexington Herald-Leader. Blithe Rundsorf, who reviewed the book, added, the book "is a tour-de-force of the review book world and should be acclaimed by professors and students of philosophy as a basic guide to unraveling the new and informal philosophy of our times."

FLASH — Randy Miller, distinguished treasurer of the MSU Education Association, announced today that he is accepting membership dues ($1.00). He promises that other officers of the MSUEA are keeping a close eye on him such that the funds will not find their way into the Miller Xmas fund.

MSU Faculty Newsletter

Published every other week, give or take a few days, by University Affairs.

All information should be sent to either Paul F. Davis or Ray Hornback.

Distributed at no cost to all members of the MSU faculty and staff.

Entered at the Morehead State University post office as low class mail.

Short Shift. . . .

William Keller has been named chairman of the EKEA Department of Business Teachers. A spring conference of the business teachers is planned on the MSU campus on April 25.
