

When you boost Morehead College You're Boosting Your Interests.

Let Us All Pull Together

Without Morehead State College the city of Morehead would be but a village and the remarkable progress that this community has achieved in the last twenty years would not have been accomplished if this great state institution had not been located in our midst.

But, it has been accurately said in the metropolitan press that Morehead College's greatest troubles seem to always emanate from the townpeople of Morehead. It is unfortunate, but nevertheless true, that the citizens of Morehead have failed to lend their support to the college in a persistent effort at all times. We have been too prone to criticize; too quick to try to inject politics into the institution; too apt to let petty and personal grievances and interests sway us.

Morehead has been called the graveyard of college presidents and has received more unfavorable publicity than all the other institutions of higher learning in the state. Despite this the college has continued to grow, but the prosperity that it has shown would be enhanced many times if the institution had not been sullied with political maneuvering from both Democrats and Republicans and a by-word of criticism on the streets of Morehead.

As a newspaper that supported Dr. William H. Vaughan and thought that his dismissal was uncalled for, we now lend our full support, be it large or small, to Dr. William James Baird, the new President of Morehead. It shall be our aim to offer Dr. Baird our complete cooperation, and we call upon all Moreheadians, all Eastern Kentuckians and all Kentuckians and friends of Morehead College to join with us in helping the new President build a greater school here in the mountains of Kentucky.

Let us remember that each new President at Morehead has received a like inauguration. When each assumed the leadership of the school Moreheadians were ready with their unqualified support. But in Morehead—unlike all other colleges in Kentucky—dark storm clouds soon gathered and Morehead College and Morehead itself were caught in the deluge that has come down to wrecking us. So, let our support be not only momentary. Let it go through the years against a recurrence of this disaster.

Dr. Baird is scholastically qualified, amply experienced and has the dignity, integrity and wide experience to make Morehead a great college. We believe he can build here at Morehead one of Kentucky's greatest colleges. We will help him in any and every way possible. We can help him by helping to meddle in the college's affairs. We can help by keeping politics out of the institution.

Let us remember that one more upheaval like Morehead has had may be a death blow. Believing that all will benefit through their mistakes of the past, we face the future of Morehead College with confidence and believe that the time is finally at hand when the institution can grow and render greater service unhampered and unthwarted. We believe that Dr. Baird faces a great future at Morehead and that the field for service to Eastern Kentucky bears no limits.

Justice To All

There are alarming similarities between the current deliberations over peace treaties and the Versailles agreements which followed World War I—and did so much to sow the seeds of World War II.

Again, the great powers are fighting for spheres of influence. Again the dark shadow of "balance of power" politics hangs over the meetings. Again, the work of the delegates is hampered by secret commitments made during the war. This has been an especially difficult problem for Mr. Byrnes. And again, many of the smaller powers are living in fear of being sold out by the Big Four. The vehement protests registered by Dr. Ewart of Australia are an indication of this.

What seems to have been largely lost is that conception of "One World" which was so brilliantly argued by Wendell Willkie and which, in all its essentials, was once supposed to be the guiding policy of all the Allies. It was a conception based solidly and practically upon the conditions of the times. Today, space is of small importance to a nation's security—a bombing plane can fly anywhere in the world in a matter of hours, and a stratosphere missile can do it in minutes. A fragile peace, based upon force and fear, will be only a breathing space between the last war and the next.

The tremendous problem before the world is to establish a peace which will be fair to all nations to live together in the world without need of resort to arms. That kind of peace cannot come from deals between the great powers which use the small powers as trading material. It can only be built upon the sound foundation of justice to all.

Would Double Teacher Salaries

A campaign to double the salaries of teachers is being conducted in various parts of the United States. The argument is advanced that the "grand total of income for all groups has more than doubled since 1940" and that it is up to teachers to put up a stiff fight for more money.

The Professor is all set to give the teachers of the country an idea of what they should receive. He says that, whereas $3,500 may have been considered a top salary for teachers in terms of $5,000, $6,000 or $7,000 for this group. He insists that teachers are worse off than in 1940, when they were not overpaid, because of the rise in living costs and the increase in taxes.

On Prejudice

By RUTH TAYLOR Do you know the story of the Southern judge who said he could always tell the way a jury would vote, provided he knew where lay the preponderance of prejudice.

He knew his people. Too often we make up our minds not according to the facts, even as we know them, but according to our prejudices, our instinctive likes and dislikes.

I once knew a man who always used to say—generally in the midst of my most hectic argument—that a woman's intuitions were usually her best. I resented that. Naturally, but I have to admit that, if the wording is changed to "intuitions are usually suspicious," the fact is correct.

We just don't use our heads after we get to arguing. We talk in generalities, rather than on specific cases. We say it is because "the specific is too rude." It isn't. If you see something of which you disapprove do so by an individual, say so, but keep it to the individual and don't damn the group from which he comes as well. Don't lump people into one category. You wouldn't like it yourself.

Doesn't it annoy you when anyone picks one man out of your group and says the whole group or party or sect is crooked because this or that one isn't a plaster saint? You instinctively come to his defense, in order to defend your group. (And you usually make matters worse by so doing, because you make up in heat what you lack in facts.)

And yet—don't you often do the same thing? Don't let us be swayed by our prejudices. Let us keep our own thoughts clear and above such reprehensible practices. And let's not coin phrases. It isn't any better than coining money—usually the product is just as false.

Now when, in the heat of political campaigns there is a sense of feeling, let us be especially careful. We want to be true to the facts, and not allow prejudice—which in reality is lack of knowledge—to rear its ugly head among us. No man—no real American—has a right to vote his prejudices. We must be for an ideal not against an idea.

LETTERS To The Editor

Editor, The News: As a citizen of Rowan County and a member of the United States Army now serving overseas, I would like to point out to our home people a problem which they should face squarely. It concerns Rowan County's School system.

I heard a Prisoner of War ask an assistant Army clerk the other day: "What kind of schools do you have where you're from?" That question from P. W. started me thinking about our schools back in Rowan County.

I realize that Morehead has a fine college, and there is a good school in town and three other Consolidated Schools of which we are not to be ashamed. But, let's stop and think of the hundreds of children in other parts of the county. They don't have any transportation to a better school. Their opportunity is very limited and their chance of a great success in life are not very great.

It's up to the citizens of Rowan County to realize just how much is being done for the people up and down the county without a better school. Their opportunity is very limited and their chance of a great success in life are not very great.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

GOOD SELECTION AT MOREHEAD Nobody has been heard to dispute the suggestion that interesting politics lay behind the administrative troubles of Morehead State Teachers College. And there have been plenty of these troubles, even before Dr. W. H. Vaughan was summarily dismissed.

Now, however, the school politicians, if indeed it is they who had been at fault, have fairly burned their bridges behind them. The board of regents has chosen as president a man with an unusually impressive and proven record as educator, scholar and college administrator.

Dr. Vaughan's successor is Dr. William Baird, native of Rowan County and a Kentuckian and possessor of degrees ranging from the bachelor's to the doctorate obtained by a scholar's labors over 28 years. THE RANGERS COLUMN

By JACK HICKS

The other day business took me out on one of the dirt roads of the County. This time of the year the ridge roads are passable when it is dry, but as you travel them, even in dry weather, you scan the hills for rain clouds and feverently hope there won't be a rain before you get back on safe ground. There are a great many of good Rowan County farmers on these little ridge roads, and they are to be admired for their perseverance and progress under the handicap of bad roads.

I was informed by the local residents that this particular road will not be graded this year because of insufficient funds, but there may be enough money to brush it out a bit. The school teacher must travel it, and he, therefore, has attracted a winter navigation, has about decided to accept employment at a less isolated location. There you have your sequence—Poor roads hampering education.

All-weather roads are Rowan County's crying need, and I know of no better way for the fact to be impressed upon its more fortunately-situated residents than for them to travel some of these forgotten by-ways. County officials know these conditions exist, but as the Judge brought out in the paper, I think, there is just so much money available for improvement work, and it is spread too thin already. Pressure must be exerted by the County as a whole, not just by those unfortunate enough to have to use the bad roads.

One of the things I mark the opening of the squirrel season in Kentucky. Squirrel hunting has attracted a great many from all walks of life than any other kind of hunting. I make an urgent plea to all of you who enjoy this sport. Bear in mind that forests damaged by fire make poor hunting grounds. Most fires are man-caused and are the product of somebody's carelessness. So sit down when you smoke and put out your cigarette or pipe heel before you move on in the woods. If you must have a warming fire, get a campfire permit and never leave your fire till it's dead, or out. The squirrel out of a hollow tree, it not only violates a game law, but it will almost surely cause a forest fire. The squirrel is poor sportsmanship. If the squirrel has been clever enough to escape your shooting, give him another chance.

Let's all cooperate toward the elimination of all hunter-caused forest fires this fall.

NO TROUBLE HUNTER

Dr. William Jesse Baird as president of Morehead State Teachers College will bring to the position an educator's equipment and a thorough knowledge of the people of Eastern Kentucky, one of whom he is.

He graduated from all of the schools on the campus shows that he sought education and should be advantageous to him at Morehead. Dr. Baird is no trouble hunter, but should trouble come his way as it came to his predecessor, the board and the public will find in him a Laertes who headed and headed Tolon's advice as to quarrels. —Louisville Times.

Improved Uniform SUNDAY INTERNATIONAL SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LYNDQUIST, D. D. Of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for August 18

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education, used by permission.

JESUS AND THE SACREDNESS OF HUMAN LIFE

LESSON TEXT - Exodus 20:12; Matthew 15:12; Hebrews 12:18. MEMORY SELECTION - But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment. - Matthew 5:21.

Human life is sacred, and that is not primarily because of any law of man, but because God created man in his own likeness and image. Since that is true, no man has any right to take the life of another for any cause except at the direct command of God. Only by the orderly process of law for the protection of society and in accordance with the Word of God may there be any such action by man toward man.

Both of these truths are declared in Scripture in God's covenant with Noah (Gen. 9:3, 6), which was made possibly a thousand years before the Ten Commandments were given to Moses.

I. The Prohibition of Murder (Exod. 20:13). The word "kill" in this commandment is one which means a violent and unauthorized taking of life, and is therefore more properly translated "murder."

Not all killing is murder. A man may kill another entirely accidentally, or he may be the duly constituted legal officer carrying out the law of the land in taking the life of one who has forfeited his right to live because he has slain another. There is also the right of self-defense, be it individual or collective as in war. But these are the only exceptions; let us not attempt to justify any other.

Murder is more prevalent than most of us suppose. In 1944 there was a murder every fifty minutes in our land.

Do not forget the deaths, the destruction of life, by avoidable automobile accidents. Some of these were really murder, because the one responsible drove with defective brakes, dangerous tires, or was drunk or intoxicated. It is in these deaths in industry caused by failure to provide proper safeguards or healthy working conditions, and by the exploitation of child labor, and we say that we should cry aloud, "Thou shalt do no murder."

II. The Provocation to Murder (Matt. 5:21, 22).

Murder finds its provoking cause in the heart of man. Our Lord was concerned about correcting the desires rather than apprehending the offender after the act had been committed. It is the better way, and the more effective one.

In this matter of murder, Jesus cut right through the outward aspects of the matter and pointed out that any hatred in the heart is the root of all murder. If we hate, we have murdered in our hearts. Circumstances may hinder its fulfillment, but the danger is always there until we remove the cause.

May God help those of us who have strong feelings that we may not yield them to the devil in such anger against our brother!

III. The Prevention of Murder (Matt. 5:23, 24; 10:28-31; 18:10-14).

Prevention with God means more than putting up a barrier to try to keep men from killing one another. He deals with the heart of man, and when that is right the whole life will be right. There must be

1. A Right View of Self (Matt. 5:23, 24). We must learn by prayer and humility of heart to suffer at the hands of others, to keep peace, to seek our brother's welfare.

Note that it is not even a question of how we may feel against our brother. If he has sinned against us we are to do all we can to win him. We who believe in Christ are to be in deed as well as word the children of our heavenly Father (Matt. 5:45), loving not only those who are kind to us but also our enemies.

2. A Right View of God (Matt. 10:28-31). He who knows when a sparrow falls to the ground is concerned about the smallest detail of our lives. No man can lay hands of violence on another man without having to reckon with God about his misdeeds.

Our God is not afar off and too concerned with eternal affairs to be interested in the sufferings of the individual. He is here now, and we should count him into every relationship of life.

3. A Right View of Man (Matt. 18:10-14). Even the little ones, apparently defenseless and at the mercy of a cruel world, have guardian angels who have access to the throne of God. He has a special interest in the lost and rejoices in the rescue of the one who has strayed, so we see that even those whom the world regards as weak and unimportant are in the mind of God for good. He watches over them.

The man who sees himself for what he is, and who realizes what God thinks of man, will find that he agrees with the command of God, "Thou shalt not kill."

There was a pie supper at the Clearfield School, Saturday, at seven thirty. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the various activities. The pies, soft drinks, pop corn, peanuts, candy, country store, fish pond, fortune telling, and beauty contest brought in a total of $240.26.

We wish to thank the auctioneers, Willie Jennings and Johnnie Adkins for their work. Also we thank the boys and girls who did so much to make our pie supper a success.

Goldie's Dept. Store donated a beautiful pair of nylon hose for which we were very grateful. We plan to use the money to buy playground equipment and for books and materials needed in the school room.

The Third Grade at the Clearfield School has been doing some clay modeling. Some of the boys made two seals and one bench for their reading table. The girls have been decorating the room with new curtains.

IT HAPPENED IN MOREHEAD

(FROM THE EDITOR'S PEN)

New Refutations

Woody Hinton, Rowan County News' Cracker Barrel columnist, is not only about the witliest man in forty counties, but he is one of the most sought after as auctioneer at pie suppers and box socials. Woody's fame for extracting the last dollar from the jeans of a young man when his friend's pie is up for sale, has been so great that he has imposed certain limitations on his services.

Woody agrees that he will hereafter conduct such auctions free of charge on the following conditions:

1. He gets to eat at least one piece of the best looking pie or box.
2. He gets an invitation later for a chicken dinner or country ham dinner to be prepared by the best cook in the neighborhood.
3. He gets to kiss the best looking girl present. (Warning girls: Woody has a slurry and syrupy technique in kissing.)

More on Consolidation

Two very interesting items appear in this issue of the News concerning Rowan County's schools. One is a letter from a veteran overseas in which he asks the people to wake up and offer good schools where one-room schools are now in operation. The other is an announcement from the Board of Education that the Pine Grove school has been discontinued and the children will be transported by bus to a consolidated district.

The soldiers letter is very timely, but we might add to it that both those in charge of the educational program for this county and the people themselves are beginning to come out from the lethargy that has retarded Rowan County's school system. The fact that three-fourths of the patrons of the Pine Grove school district asked that their school be discontinued and consolidated so that their children might be given a better opportunity is a far cry from what would have happened eight or ten years ago. To discontinue a rural school then meant that the community went up in arms in opposition.

More Business
With merchandise becoming slightly more plentiful and the production future brighter, Morehead stands to have several additional businesses.

Within the last two weeks announcement has been made of six new businesses for the city. Frank Havess and Dwight Pierce are establishing a new five and ten cent store in the Havens Building on Railroad Street; Arthur Blair, known to most Rowan Countians, plans to open a new department store in the Masonic Building; Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Anderson have established a new Funeral Home in the Caudill Home next to the Methodist Church; Harry Goldberg, of Golde's Department Store, will install a men's store in the location of the Burns Grocery; and Earl Leighow of the Southern Belle, announces the opening of a men's haberdashery in the room formerly occupied by the ration board; and Thomas Duggan has established a wholesale and retail business in Morehead. All that is holding up the formal opening of most of these new Morehead businesses is the remodeling of the rooms. Some are already open for business.

Men Judges
All seven of the judges in the Rowan County Beauty Contest will be men. They were selected by the Rowan County News not because we believe that a woman makes a poor judge of another woman's beauty but because men judges will officiate when the winning girl here appears at the state fair.

Tom Young, one of the judges, of another beauty contest in which he was supposed to help pick the winner. In this contest there were six judges, three men and three women. From the group of aspirants the contest finally narrowed down to two girls. A ballot was taken and all three women voted for one girl and the three men voted for the other.

The judges then went into consultation and the men refused to give in and so did the women. After more voting and considerable discussion the winner was finally decided in the usual manner — the men finally admitted defeat and the women had their way.

Picked Up Around Town

Chin Clayton, Dr. D. Day and Allie Mannin are among the several Morehead sportsmen planning to go to South Dakota pheasant hunting this fall. Rowan County farmers report many covets of quail this year. . . that is always a case until hunting season. . . More oil and gas leases have been recorded in Rowan County this year than in all its previous history. . . Perhaps you've wondered why May is such a popular place for local couples to elope to—the reason: they can get their blood test made there and be married in an hour or so. . . no facilities are provided in Rowan County for testing the blood. . . we'll bet you that you'd get May married unless you have an old one to trade in. . . Morehead will regret losing Mrs. Clara Anita Bradley and family. The Bradley's have been real pioneers in the building of this community. . . hotels and tourist camps and tourist trade is much heavier now than before the war. . . you don't hear much about Morehead's water situation because we've had plenty of rain this year and there is no danger of a shortage. . . most local restaurant prices are up about 10 percent.

BOLLY

Thursday at noon the children in the lower grades at Holly were served a cold lunch. Each child was served two and one-half sandwiches. They thoroughly enjoyed this. Mrs. Lydia Messer Caudill is the lower grades teacher. Mrs. Maud Holtzclaw the teacher of the upper grades. Mrs. Holtzclaw has her classes in the Church Building. The children have been making salt maps and doing many other interesting projects are in progress. These two teachers will be teaching at the Holy School only this week, as they are substituting for the regular teachers.

Pie Suppers

This is the pie supper season. Some of the schools that have had pie suppers and the amount made are:
Clearfield ..... $250.00
Slab Camp ..... 154.00
Cranston ..... 192.50
Little Brushy ..... 66.20

With Rowan

Attendance Contest

Every school in the county is now interested in a Contest which it is hoped will stimulate interest of the children, teachers and parents. Route 60 has been selected as a dividing line. On the committee which planned the contest were John Caudill, Chairman, Allie Porter, Myrl Kinder, Minnie Gastineau, Keyser Lowely, and Ernest Ferguson.

Points of the contest are:

1. It will close at the end of the fifth month.
2. A Banquet will be held at noon December 6th at which time the losing side will pay for the dinner.
3. The Contest will be figured on the same basis as the Equalization Fund.

Achievement Chart

An Achievement Chart is being used in the schools this year. The chart committee was composed of Dorothy Ellis, Chairman, Katherine Caudill, Oleta Lewis, Carma Jones and Gaiusa Butcher. A possible 240 points can be made and a possible bonus of $24.00. Among the main points on this chart are:

1. Health and sanitation.
2. Citizenship.
3. Teacher.
4. Teaching aids.
5. Building and grounds.
6. Miscellaneous.

MOORE

Miss Galsda Higinis, substitute teacher at Moore, takes great pride in showing the school library boys. The books were bought with pie supper money last year. Among the books purchased for the various grades were a Bible with the name of the school in gold on it, and a large dictionary. Pie suppers enable schools to have many things that they could not have otherwise.

MOORE

Saturday, the Adams Davis School will have a pie supper on Saturday, August 17. Big Brushy and Bratton Branch will have their pie supper Friday, August 16. Everybody is invited. Support the pie suppers in your districts. Your support will return to you through better school facilities.

BULL FORK

Bull Fork is probably the nicest little school in the county to be in such an out of the way place. Cars cannot get within a mile of the school, but the teacher, Mrs. Mary Leedy Hobbie walks up and down a mountain every day and thinks nothing of it. The children are loyal to their school, eager to learn and most interested in Art. They are planning to practically make their building over.

Old House Creek

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Butcher and son, Gordon, of Goshen, O. were guests of his sister, Mrs. Allie H. Parker on Monday and Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Roma Mayse and son, Billy Joe, were guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Fanny Mayse, last week.

Stassen Regains Limelight thru Thy Victory in Minnesota; Russ Make Germans Grow Big Crops

Released by Western Newspaper Union. EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the newspaper's Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of its writers.

DEPENDENT... First and only American husband in Germany as a dependent in George H. Madole of Warren, Ohio, a discharged vet who got back to Germany on application of his wife, the former Sadie Jo Carroll of Houston, Texas, who works for the state department in Berlin. They plan to return to the U. S. about August 1.

MINNESOTA: Stassen and Thyse Gov. Edward J. Thyse, hand-picked candidate of Harold E. Stassen, filed up an impressive margin over Sen. Henrik Shipstead for the Republican senatorial nomination and thence on the argument about Stassen's political power and chance to become the GOP candidate for President of the U. S. in 1948.

WIND: "Demomorphs earned his stature by speaking against the sea, but I hate to speak against the wind." Thus spoke Representative Eaton of New Jersey to the house of representatives when he tried to speak on the proposed loan to Britain in a noisy house. He continued, saying that he had another complaint, that of "arguing against empty seats. I used to do it in church, but I'm not going to do it here."

REP. MAY: I Accused Picturing himself as "the victim of a conspiracy of falsehood and malice," Rep. Andrew J. May of Kentucky has set out to defend himself against a multitude of charges of profiting from war contracts. He denounced the senate war investigation committee as an "inquisition."

VETS WORK: 10 of 12 on Job Ten out of every 12 veterans discharged during the war are working in school, according to the U. S. unemployment service. "For the third straight month the backlog of World War II veterans not at work has been reduced, notwithstanding continued discharges of servicemen from the armed forces," said Robert C. Goodwin, USDS director.

PRO-NAZIS: Abolition of the five-year-old blacklist, applied by the United States and 26 other countries to pro-Axis business firms, has been ended despite this country's threat two years ago to continue it indefinitely into the postwar era.

GEOGRAPHY: War Changes While forces of arms were making changes in the map of Europe and Asia, as well as portions of Africa and the Pacific area, the postwar maps of the United States will carry many revisions too. Castle mountain in Wyoming is gone, replaced by Mount Eisenhower. Likewise, in the same state, Shoshone reservoir has given way to Buffalo Bill reservoir. Two cities are on the map for the first time—Oak Ridge, Tenn., which catapulted into a city of 75,000 where only 75 lived before, and Richland, Wash., which jumped from 700 to 15,000. Both of these cities were atom-bomb and played important parts in the development of the atomic bomb.

ATOMIC RAYS MAY SAVE BOY'S LIFE The marvel of nuclear fission is to be used to fight one of mankind's deadliest diseases, leukemia. No recovery from the disease has ever been recorded. Always the white blood cells, which multiply many thousands of times, have brought death. Perhaps atomic energy, or nuclear fission, is powerful enough to arrest the growth of these white blood cells. At least, that is what the physicians are hoping in the case of Alan James Habermeyer, eight, of Aurora, Ill., who has been flown to the West coast where atomic energy will be used in an attempt to save his life. Authorities at the American Medical association center said they believed it to be the first time that nuclear fission had ever been used to fight leukemia.

Most Accidents Occur In The Home Kitchen

Almost one out of every five home accidents, causing injuries serious enough to require hospital care, occurs in the kitchen.

"The kitchen is the busiest room in the American home, especially during the canning season, and families participating in the Farm Security Administration program are being urged to find ways to make their kitchens safer," says Mr. William E. Rouse, FSA Supervisor for Rowan, Carter and Elliott counties. The Farm Security Administration office here is sponsoring at least two canning demonstrations in the near future in Rowan County, one has been scheduled so far for Elliott County and perhaps one will be given in Carter County and meetings in regard to safety precautions in the kitchen will be stressed during these sessions. Mrs. W. H. Rice, Home Economics teacher at Morehead High School, will give the demonstrations in Rowan County and Mrs. C. W. Vansant of Sandy Hook will demonstrate for the Elliott County women.

The National Safety Council estimates that falls, burns, and scalds, collisions and bumps, cuts, bruises and poisoning are the most common accidents, the local FSA office points out. Burns and scalds account for more than a fourth of the mishaps, with steam and hot liquids the most frequent. Carelessness is the cause of burns most often than poor kitchen equipment. Precautions such as lifting the lids of kettles so that steam escapes away from rather than toward the worker, turning pot handles so they do not extend over the edge of the stove, and using pot holders that are thick and dry, are stressed by this office.

Children as well as housewives are among the chief sufferers from kitchen scalds and burns. Safety advisers agree that the kitchen is not a safe place for young children to play unless a far corner, away from the stove is fenced off for them.

Hazards causing falls in kitchens account for about one out of every ten falls that cause death or injury. Mr. Rouse said he urges families on the FSA program to prevent causes such as highly polished linoleum, or floors made slippery by spilled grease, water or fruit peelings. The use of chairs, stools or tables instead of safe kitchen ladders for reaching high shelves cause many falls. Avoid much waxing of kitchen floors, wipe up anything spilled, arrange adequate and orderly storage space so that no articles are left on the floor to trip over, and keep knives and matches stored away from children.

Electricity works for peanuts!

AND if you aren't up on today's expressive slang, peanuts means a very small amount of money. Like your electric bill. It really is peanuts, isn't it, compared to most other items in your family budget.

While the cost of most things climbed during the years, the price of electricity kept right on coming down. Even in wartime, and afterwards, when practically all prices spiraled up and up, electricity actually became a few peanuts cheaper. As a matter of fact, our average home customer gets twice as much electricity for his money as he got 10 to 12 years ago. That's because his rates have been cut about in half in that time.

How?

Well, for one thing, there's sound business management. We have men who had the wit and foresight to make use of new equipment and new methods to get lower cost electricity for our customers, and who planned and built for the future. For another thing you, the customer, have used more and more electricity, thus helping, through your own increased usage, to lower your unit cost. And as your use of electricity becomes wider, we plan to continue that downward cost trend.

During the next few years, we expect the use of electricity to grow immensely. We are looking forward to new and larger industries, larger and finer stores and office buildings, vastly increased farm usage as electric service is made available to more and more farms and as new farm equipment comes on the market. Finally, we expect electricity to be used more and more in the home, to make home work easier, and to make home life brighter, healthier and more enjoyable.

We are offering our "all out" help to make these improvements possible. Our trained personnel will work with each of these groups to make the most economical use of electricity. And sound business management will endeavor to lower the cost of electricity in the future as it has in the past.

Remember, despite the increased cost of nearly everything you buy, electricity is cheaper than ever before. Your electricity does work for peanuts.

Plans Nearly Complete For Ky. State Fair

Editors To Have Special Headquarters; Women's Associations To Help

Kentucky newspaper editors will have their own special headquarters at the Kentucky State Fair, Elliott Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture and President of the Fair Board announced this week. The state press has been allocated the state forestry log cabin and Edw. M. Brooks, Assistant Manager of the Fair, has already started work getting the building into shape to receive the press. Telephones will be installed and the building will be comfortably furnished. All newspaper men are invited to make the log cabin their headquarters when they visit the fair.

All the women's associations of the state will cooperate in making the women's departments of the fair a success this year. This was assured last week when representatives of the various religious, civic and political clubs gathered at a luncheon and pledged their assistance and support to Mrs. W. E. MacGregor and Mrs. G. B. Herr, co-chairmen of the women's committee.

The women's committee will have charge of the governor's reception on August 29.

All the streets of the fair grounds have been re-paved and a staff of more than fifty painters are busy putting a new coat of paint on all the buildings.

The new horse show ring has been completed and 300 new boxes have been built around the ring. These, with the grandstand, will provide seating space for more than 6,000. Entries for the horse show have been pouring in and already more than twenty states are represented among the field entries.

THANK YOU
for waiting for delivery of your
NEW CHEVROLET

We are doing our best to see that you get your new car as quickly as possible

We want to thank our customers and prospective customers for your friendly patience while awaiting your new Chevrolet.

We know it is a hardship to wait for needed transportation; but we believe you will understand that we, and Chevrolet, are as eager to deliver cars as you are to obtain them. Unfortunately, production so far this year is far under expectations. Chevrolet Motor Division sums up the situation thus:

"Even though our rate of production normally exceeds that of any other manufacturer, we have been able to build, up to July 1, only 12.4 per cent as many cars as we had built up to that date in 1941. Production is still far below normal, because of frequent shortages of essential materials and parts. Strikes after strike at the plants of our suppliers has seriously impeded our progress toward full production, and the cumulative effect severely hampers every manufacturing and assembly plant. In June we were able to build only 29.2 per cent as many cars as we produced in the same month in 1941."

While production is restricted, so in proportion are shipments of cars to us. As production increases, we are assured of getting our proportionate share of the total—and as quickly as cars are received, we will speed deliveries to our customers.

Remember—Our CAR-SERVICE is your best CAR-SAVER. Keep your present car "alive" until you get delivery of your new Chevrolet by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals.

First Anniversary of
 V-J
 Day

On August 14th, a year ago, the great load was lifted from our hearts and our shoulders. Japan had surrendered. World War II was ended. We could breathe again and hope again.

Now let's look at the speedometer of our progress, one year later. How far have we gone? No formal peace treaty has as yet been signed. Prices are high. Food, clothing, housing, and innumerable other problems are acute.

But the big fact is that our future is still in our own hands. Today is ours, and Tomorrow. That happiness we have. We can take care of the rest.
