Kentuckians Go To Polls Next Tuesday

Brown-Cooper Race Considered Toss-Up; Bates Apparently Safe

Kentucky will go to the polls Tuesday and for the first time in more than a decade a Republican candidate for United States Senator will rule an even choice.

Most political prognosticators believe that the race between John Sherman Cooper, GOP standard bearer and John Young Brown, the Democratic nominee, is a toss-up. In some quarters Cooper is given the edge because of the expected 30,000 to 40,000 majority he is expected to run up in the 7th district.

Congressman Joe B. Bates is expected to win without too much trouble over Republican Ray Schuchman, Democratic however, are fearful that a state-wide trend for Cooper might make this race close.

Although admitting the Republicans will score heavily in the 7th the John Young Brown headquarters are claiming all the Congressional districts and claim their candidate will win easily.

A close battle is anticipated in Louisville where both sides are claiming victory. The Republicans are given a chance to add a Congressman from this district, and hope to unseat Jack May, who has been the center of fire in Congressional war contract investigations, in the 7th.

Brown has the support of organized labor.

In Rowan County a normal vote is expected. Democrats claim if they can put out their vote in equal proportions to the Republicans, they will carry the county.

Longhorns are claiming Rowan County around 500 votes.

Rowan County has two on its board, but the candidates have no opposition.

Polls will open at 8 o'clock and close at 4. The vote count here is expected to be completed by 10 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Rev. McCoy To Fill Methodist Pulpit Sunday

The Rev. L. M. McCoy, who is under appointment as a Missionary to China Tuesday, and the Board of Missions, will fill the pulpit of Morehead Methodist Church Sunday morning, November 3.

Mr. McCoy is a native Kentuckian, a graduate of Kentucky Wesleyan College and of Duke University School of Religion, and has been taking advanced mission training at Yale University and Kennedy School of Missions in Hartford, Conn.

Of local interest will be Mr. McCoy's relationship with the Rev. L. E. Mattingly, former pastor of the Morehead Methodist congregation, who is an uncle of the missionary speaker.

David Siggeser, present pastor of the Church, left Friday for a tour of the state capital campuses where he is representing the Methodist Student Movement.

No evening worship service will be held at the Methodist Church this Sunday.

Brother Of Reed Morrison Claimed

Jesse Franklin Morrison, 50, brother of Dennis Reed Morrison of Morehead, died October 28 at Jenkins, Ky. He was a native of West Virginia.

Reed Morrison attended the funeral which was held at Jenkins. Other survivors are his wife, Berta; two sons, Ray Bernard and Billy Reed; two sisters, Frances Moore of Charleston and Madge Steele, Diamond, W. Va.

Republicans Lead In Absentees

If absentee voters cast their ballot according to the registration the Republicans will have a 10 majority in Rowan County when the polls open Tuesday morning. A total of 26 Republicans and 16 Democrats were mailed absentee votes by County Clerk Bernard Day.

Plan Pep Rally On MC Campus Friday Evening

Morehead College students have extended a special invitation to townpeople to join them in a huge pep rally in front of the Science Hall on College Boulevard Friday evening at 7 o'clock. The students plan a bonfire and parade headed by the college band.

In the meantime Coach Ellis Johnson announced that his Eagles are in good shape for the battle with their traditional foe, the Eastern Maroons, at Jayne Stadium Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Morehead holds a 4-2 edge in the traditional battle for the "hawg rife" currently in the Eagle's possession. Morehead leads a slight advantage Saturday by virtue of their overwhelming 55-6 homecoming victory here last Saturday over Union University.

Johnson said he was "pleased Saturday with the performance of both his first string and substitute backs." The Morehead mentor said they had more drive at any time during the season.

John Bays Studying Proper Erection Of Factory-Built Homes

John Bays is in Detroit studying the erection of factory-built homes. He represents the company owned by Kenneth Bays, Bill Allen, Clifford Blevins and himself, which will sell factory homes in many Eastern Kentucky Counties.

One of the homes will be placed in Morehead shortly for display purposes.

ROWAN CORN DERBY NEARS FINISH LINE

The Rowan County corn derby is nearing the finish with five crops already checked. Earnie Thompson and Ray Lytle, who have charge of the judging, hope to finish next week if the weather permits.

The average weekly earning of factory workers has attained the new high of $56.88.

Two Moreheadians have been named to the top positions on the staff of the Trail Blazer, student publication at Morehead College. Earl R. Bradley will edit the paper for the next year, while Jean Thompson is the business manager.

The editorial staff which has been chosen for the quarter includes a new editor, Earl R. Bradley and Jean Thompson as Business Manager.

Earl R. Bradley, the new editor, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bradley of Morehead. He was recently released from active duty with the Army Air Force where he held the rank of Captain. Mr. Bradley was a student here in 1939 at which time he was a member of the Beta Zeta Club.

He is taking a pre-dental course. Miss Jean Thompson has been chosen Editor of the Trail Blazer. Miss Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erna Thompson, of Morehead, served at Business Manager for the Trail Blazer in both summer terms of 1946. She has recently been elected President of the Beta Zeta Club. She is an active member of the Crescendo Club. Miss Thompson is classified as a junior and is working for an A. B. degree. She has double major in art.

The other members of the staff are as follows: Alonzo Varney, sports writer; James Tickle, feature writer; Mary Wilburn and Glenna Day, society editors. The columnists include Ed Mikalowski, Margaret Stratton, John M. Pender, for which the Trail Blazer. The news reporters are Emory Littleton, Betty Thompson, as well as Neil Fair, Garland Beyerle, and Marvin Wilson.

The dairies said they were forced to make this increase because of the necessity of paying higher prices to the farmers for raw milk.

They're 'Off In Bunch' For News' Prize Hudson Super-6

LEADS RACE TODAY

MRS. BILL CARTER

Pretty and vivacious, ambitious and a real "go getter," she is setting the pace in the race for the News' prize Hudson super-six automobile, now worth $1,720.43.

Farmers Get Instructions On Tobacco

Six Demonstrations Are Held In Various Parts Of Rowan County

One hundred Rowan County farmers attended the six meetings on tobacco demonstrations last week. They were conducted by County Agent Dan Braine and George Reed, tobacco grader with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Reed recommended that the flyers or buzzard trash be stripped separate from the sound trash and that all of the sound trash be put in one grade and the bright leaf stripped separate from the lugs.

In addition to the stripping and grading work, Mr. Reed demonstrated the proper method to build a new tobacco press and how to lower cured tobacco from the barn to the ground.

The County Agent demonstrated the use of a long pole, which was furnished by Crale Fraley of Cranston. The pole was about six feet long and had a piece of hollow pipe in the end of it. The pole is pushed on to the end of a tobacco stick and the tobacco raised from a slide or wagon up in the barn. Mr. Fraley stated that the pole would save one man's work in housing tobacco in the center of the barn.

Tobacco variety demonstrations were conducted by Joe McBrayer and Roy Eldridge.

HOW TO GAIN A MILLION VOTES QUICKLY AND EASILY

Here's an example how quickly and easily votes pile up in The Rowan County News' big automobile prize subscription contest, now in progress:

Twenty-five thousand votes are issued on each 6-year subscription to The Rowan County News, providing same is received at this office while the MAXIMUM number of votes are allowed this and next week. Just twenty such subscriptions (amounting to only $200 in business) would entitle a contestant to 500,000 REGULAR votes; and, as 50,000 EXTRA votes are issued on every "club" of $20 turned in, that many subscriptions would constitute exactly ten "clubs" on which 500,000 EXTRA votes are given.

Then, too, if these "full limit" subscriptions are received before 6 o'clock this Saturday night—while the 12,500 "Booster Week" votes are allowed—they would mean an extra 250,000 SPECIAL votes.

Therefore, just twenty such subscriptions NOW would add up to 1,250,000 votes—a number sufficient to help "bridge the gap" that might exist between today's issues and those thereafter down the list and enough to place any contestant well up in the running for highest honors and attendant major awards.

Have you got twenty good friends who would contribute their support to the extent of a "full limit" subscriptions now (which, incidentally, offers them considerable reduction in price while the special rates are in effect during contest) toward helping you win that beautiful new 1946 Hudson Super-Six automobile, worth $1,720.43?

Surely you have! Try it and see!

The race is on! The bars are up, the track is clear and every one of the enterprising contestants in The Rowan County News' Big "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest has right of way.

The preliminaries are over and the race for rich prizes—headed by that beautiful new two-tone blue 1946 Hudson Super-Six automobile, now on exhibition and worth exactly $1,720.43—has started.

On this page will be found the first tabulated vote standing of contestants, showing number cast for publication up to time of going to press. Hereafter, however, the published standings will reflect individual results obtained by each contestant up to 6 o'clock of the previous Wednesday evening.

By glancing at the list of contestants below and the huge vote totals credited each up to this time, it will show conclusively that there are some real "go-getters" in this section who do not stand back on formalities but pitch right into the fray and get what is coming to them. All indications point to an exciting race and keen competition for those exceptionally attractive and highly desirable prizes offered.

No Quitters Here

Contestants, you're "off in a bunch" now and the pace is growing hot. High types of contestants who are competing in this race are anything but quitters. Surely the winners will be entitled to admiration for defying such a field and as certainly will commendations be the due of those who "go down fighting."

But if you have won for a single day, or overlook any opportunities to better your chances to win during the remaining thirty days of this contest, you are simply of cut and dried type, taking unnecessary risks of losing the prize you most desire—already partially won—and to appointment upon yourself as well as your friends.

Vote discreetly; hustle swiftly, and battle persistently from now until the finish; and if you don't win by so doing, it will be for no other reason than that your competitor possesses a wider circle of friends and acquaintances or otherwise can muster greater strength than you for this special occasion.

"Booster Week" Now On

Remember, the ONE and ONLY special vote offer of entire contest will end at 6 o'clock this Saturday night, November 2nd. During "Booster Week" contestants are given Special Ballots good for 12,500 EXTRA votes on each 6-year subscription (for extension from previous payment to the full 6-year limit) in addition to the regular votes allowed on each subscription; and it affords a never-to-be-repeated opportunity for aggressive contestants to pile up an almost insurmountable reserve vote.

Then, too, bear in mind the fact that considerably more regular votes are issued on all subscriptions this and next week, while the following week less are allowed; and, during the last week of contest, the schedule of votes is cut drastically.

WORK NOW IF YOU WISH TO WIN!

Fred Caudill, Walter Price Rowan Delegates To EKEA Convention

Rowan County Teachers have named Fred Caudill and Walter Price as their delegates to the Eastern Kentucky Educational Association which convenes in Ashland November 7 and 8. Alternates are John Caudill and Lydia Messer Caudill.

All schools in the county will be dismissed Thursday night for teachers desiring to attend.

Dairies Announce Another Increase In Milk Prices

The price of milk will take another jump tomorrow in Morehead, the second increase in the last month.

The Spring Rose Dairy and the Red Rose Dairy, who supply all of Morehead's pasteurized milk, announced today that effective November 1, milk will be 20 cents a quart retail, home delivery.

The dairies said they were forced to make this increase because of the necessity of paying higher prices to the farmers for raw milk.

USO Drive Over $450; Children Pace Campaign

A total of $450.64 were raised by Rowan County school children during the USO drive which ended Saturday. This is slightly short of the goal, but Sup't. of Schools Ted Croswait, in charge of the campaign, termed it "very satisfactory."

Mr. Croswait pointed out that many citizens did not have the opportunity to contribute but still make their donation at Morehead High School, Breckinridge Training School or with the High Shuler at the Superintendent's office.

"I want to thank all the school children who helped in the drive. Their spirit of cooperation has been magnificent," Mr. Croswait said.

More Paved Streets Needed

Now that there appears a possibility of procuring street and paved building materials within the next year, thought should be given to some of Morehead's unpaved streets. We could point out a long list of streets that are not paved, but have been built on almost to capacity.

For more than 15 years Morehead has grown steadily—its population more than doubled. Building lots on paved streets became nearly extinct, and it was mandatory that new streets be created, and unpaved ones built on. In many cases very beautiful homes are on these streets, and the residents have alleviated matters some by securing gravel coatings.

To point out two specific such streets we mention Lyons Avenue and Fleming Avenue. Both are very desirable locations, and both have many nice homes that are a credit to this community. But, their streets are eyesores to the city, and a source of concern to every resident.

It is true that there are some people who would oppose paved streets on Fleming Avenue and Lyons Avenue, because of the high cost of construction. It is true that, in these two particular cases, the proposals for paving before the war met with some opposition from property owners. However, the increased value in lots and property, should overcome the cost of construction.

What if every property owner in Morehead had fought and obstructed paved streets? And, to those people, who would oppose construction of streets where they are needed and justified, we ask: is it right and proper for you to walk along, and drive along, the other paved streets of Morehead, which were paid for by the property owners, when you don't pave your street so that they can have the same privilege when they pass your property?

Fleming Avenue and Lyons Avenue are pointed to here as examples. There are many others. To continue our efforts, and to enhance the beauty and wellbeing of Morehead, it appears mandatory that considerable street paving must be undertaken as soon as the materials are available and labor supply sufficient.

Farmers Set New Records

The farmers of the United States produced the greatest crops in the nation's history, according to the Department of Agriculture, which says that production will be 2.5 per cent more than the previous record of 1942 and 28.4 per cent above the 1922-32 average.

With record crops of corn and wheat, the Department reports that feed grains will run four per cent above the 1942 record and that food grain production likewise topped any previous year.

In addition to corn and wheat, record crops are already assured for potatoes, tobacco, peaches, plum and tree crops. New records are already set for oats, rice and peanuts and probably grapes, cherries and sugar-cane. Cotton production, on the other hand, has dropped to the lowest level in twenty-five years. Other below-average crops are rye, broom corn, dried beans and pecans.

The mammoth production has been accomplished by the farmers of the nation under severe handicaps. The lure, of course, has been prevailing high prices, which after all, are the spur of producers, whether one is thinking about crops, products or machines.

Many prominent men have asserted that agriculture is the backbone of the nation's prosperity and, if this is correct, it behooves responsible Americans to attempt to provide a permanent price situation that will encourage all-out production by our farmers. Naturally, the growers will have to switch their crops and use good judgment in selecting what to plant, basing their conclusions upon statistical positions, the probable price and the possible need for what they intend to produce.

The Kiwanis Are Builders

The Morehead Kiwanis Club, although in its infancy, is to be commended for the community-building spirit they manifest, and the worthwhile plans they are carrying through. The Kiwanis sponsored the Poster Contest in the Rowan County Schools during the "File the Handicapped Week." They sent two delegations to Kentucky's Boy Week and they are now sponsoring the "Go to Church" program.

As the club grows stronger and older we may reasonably expect bigger things from this "building" organization. They are a very worthy addition to Morehead's civic clubs.

Never look to an exclusively political paper for good reading for the family. You might as well try to get wool by shearing a hydraulic ram.

When a man tells his wife all that's new, it's a sure sign they are newlyweds.

Hollywood isn't worrying any over the meat shortage. They have more ham than there's whiskers in Russia.

If dirt was trumps, what a hand some politicians would have!

Differing Is Not Disunity

Strangers to our shores are often confused by the apparent lack of unity, by the vehement expression of differences of opinion, by the heated arguments over everything and nothing, and by what they think must be undemocratic tendencies in our social life.

"How can such things happen in a democracy?" they say. "If a democracy makes all men equal, then why does everyone criticize everyone else?" What they fail to realize is that it is the right to have and express a veritable opinion of the very essence of democracy. It is a free expression and interchange of ideas.

The difference of opinion is not that of enmity, but rather that of an exchange of views in a large family, diametrically opposed to each other in their choice of desserts or movie stars, but basically in harmony when anything of importance comes up, and ready to act as a family once there is a decision made that affects the good of any or all.

The points of difference in America are far less important than the points of agreement. We may seem to devote more time to them and to grow more articulate over them, but as a people we speak more of non-essentials than of those more serious things to which we give allegiance. We still have the shyness of the idealist.

It should be remembered that the people who settled this country all wanted one thing—freedom to live their own lives and to gain for themselves and their descendants a better life than they had known. One thing that has kept America growing rather than static has been that for every man there has been the hope that his children would go farther and fare better than he had, both economically and socially. Our greatest unifying force is the ideal of religious, social, political and economic opportunity which in the last analysis motivates the majority of our citizens.

Because we have this inheritance of freedom, we can be intelligently a united nation—not in slavish obedience to orders, but because in times of emergency we choose to act as one people without ever abdicating our rights to differ or to express that difference. Hence we are one because we are free to know the truth and to speak it. We do not have to be kept in ignorance, to be protected from the truth. In every time of crisis we have proven that we can stand together. We will not fail now in days of peace.

Good Election Plan

The cross-filing system in California permits candidates to file in the primaries of both major political parties and, if both parties nominate the same man, there will be no contest in the general election.

This happened in ten of California's twenty-three Congressional Districts and also in the case of Governor Earl Warren, who is currently running as the Democratic as well as the Republican nominee.

Despite the disaffection of some politicians with cross-filing, we see little objection to the practice. If a Governor of a State, or a Congressman, can do well enough to win the approval of the voters of both parties, he ought to be kept in office. Certainly, in the case of Governor Warren, if the opposing party is satisfied with the man in office and prefers him to its own aspirants, the fact is evidence of duty well done.

After all, the purpose of an election in a free country is not to guarantee a dog-fight between parties. The system is designed to give the voters an opportunity to select the man, or woman, of their choice for public office. If the voting members of two parties coincide in the election of a candidate, he becomes practically assured of re-election, the purpose of elections has been adequately served.

They say love is like the measles and, no doubt, all the worse if it comes late in life.

It doesn't take long for a golfer to learn that holes in one are few and far between.

A Texas editor boasts that he has made something of his party in that section. He must be a relative of the woman who made a pound of butter from the cream of a joke.

This will, no doubt, go down as the toughest war in history. Even Paul Revere didn't have to eat his horse afterwards.

Hunters are numerous these days. Those that aren't out looking for ducks that aren't there, are hunting steaks that aren't there either.

Franklin's picture is on a $100 bill, and the Treasury Department reports a shortage of them. We've noticed it, too.

A fellow seeks a divorce because his wife kicked him down while he was intoxicated. When a man comes home tight as a drum he can expect to be beaten.

With the lifting of price controls on meat, steaks are easier to get but tougher to pay for.

They put 21 stitches in a speeder's head recently. Putting common sense in it would help too.—Bill Noonan.

Election is coming, when men get hot under the collar and cold shoulder each other.

Nazi war criminals, who tied their county in a knot, have reached the end of their rope.

"There are more cows on American farms now than at any time since 1934," says a report from Washington. And where else would they expect to find them?

One thing we have to be thankful for is that butter wasn't a dollar a pound during corn-on-the-cob season.

Out of every 10 dresses bought in this country, four are returned for exchange or refund, the American Standards Assn. reports. From what we have seen the average is entirely too small.

This is the last opportunity that I will have to tell my readers (if any) how to vote Tuesday. I have already secured a ticket and my ticket always wins. Further, the men I propose are all ways of high calibre and they are strictly honest. The fact is I am a modern Socrates.

I have made it a point to hear Brown and Cooper tell their side of their campaign for the Senate. I have heard Joe Bates and Joe Louis. John Lewis and Judge Winn express their opinions on how the Congressmen's office should be operated.

Everyone is so messed up that am coming out this time for a write-in ticket. I want all my good friends to take a pencil along with them to the polls and write the name of my candidate on the ballot then make an 'X' very plainly in the square opposite.

My ticket believes we should have more laws; they will have a substitute for the OPA that will cut two-by-fours in half in one inch board into two. We will have a new law that will hang all lumber dealers before they commit suicide. My ticket will change the black-market into a green-market because I am sick of the color black. Besides, green will match my wife's new coat.

We will pass a law that will force pigs to be grown hogs and calves to be cattle when they are born.

It gives me great pleasure to announce that honary Lee Cochran is our candidate for United States Senator and with your support will be duly elected come Tuesday. He has already made reservation at the Willard Hotel in Washington.

The next Congressman from this district will be Hon. Ernest Manning Flannery, and besides representing the people in Congress, he will see to it that a new million dollar postoffice will be built at Morehead and Allie Mann will have offices in it that will be better than Henry Ford has.

The Courier-Press is behind Flannery and put his picture on the first page of the second section Tuesday. Mike Flood and Ralph Miller have declared for Flannery and with their support Rockwell Holler is reported to be 100 percent behind him. Flannery places his faith in you common people and promises to wear no man's collar. He proposes that sorghum molasses be made thicker and preservers will be banned from eating chicken.

If Flood and Miller will speak on the radio before election—and I am advised they will—Flannery will win in a gallop. Miller and Flood aren't New Dealers—they're honest dealers. They both owe their notes at the bank and have my sympathy.

SPORT FLASH: The game at Jayne Stadium last week was one of the most abhorable things

I have ever witnessed. At one time Morehead gave the ball to Union University and then all down while Union scored a touchdown. To you Coaches Johnson, Laughlin and Radjans I have my eyes on you and you do better get that team in better shape.

Saturday was a tough game on me. I walked 55 miles from one end of the stadium to the other trying to follow the plays and I am getting too old to run so fast. I thought I would never make that last touchdown.

Another thing I don't like is that brown Homborg the President wears. He should wear a black, wide-brim Stetson with a white band on it.

Good luck to you Gordon Pennebaker. We will all miss you because you and your family have always been among our finest citizens.

By JACK HICKS

October's bright blue weather has brought us forest fires. This past week we had three here in Rowan County. Our Morehead-North Fork Railroad caused the first one, but it was taken care of in short order by Foreman Jess Williams and his crew working nearby.

The next one broke on Burton Branch of Holly Fork. I picked up Leslie Pendland and Luther Plank on North Fork, swung by the Evans brothers' sawmill and they shut down their mill and joined us, and with Burtons, father and son made a crew that put the fire under control before sundown.

I don't want to appear in the light of condemning all hunters. Hunting is a favorite sport with me when I can find the time. Most hunters and all true sportsmen are anxious to prevent woods fires. In my private opinion all hunter fires involve a little lax vigilance, too; irresponsible fellows with a gun but without a hunting license.

On the very next day at almost the same hour smoke was reported farther up Holly in Poplar Hollow above Charlie White's store. This time Leland Hall responded to the fire call, shut down his threshing machine and with Everett Eblevins and Charley Hall reached the fire shortly after I had arrived with Estill Thompson and Chester Logan. Ever Glover whose land was close to the fire, came along and with this small crew we fought fire till well after dark. A logging operation in the area several years ago had left an accumulation of dry tree tops and slash which made the fire difficult to control.

One of the very bright spots in this picture was the willingness of Jim and Milt Evans to halt their sawing and Leland Hall his threshing to pitch in and help us fight fire. We call that real cooperation.

Investigation of these fires indicates both were caused by careless smokers, presumably hunting. Hunters and dogs were heard in the vicinity, and no one but hunters would have had any known business there. We are working toward getting their identity and in the meantime are looking with a jaundiced eye on hunting in general. Anyone who has fought fire on these steep ridges will know why.

I can think of some good reasons why a hunter should try to prevent fires. Not only can causing a fire get him in trouble; it spoils his hunting ground. Yet apparently when the dog starts after a squirrel there are hunters who will drop cigarette or live match and start on the chase. Or that's the way I have it figured.

It is becoming increasingly evident, too, that fighting a forest fire is more of a job today than it was five or ten years ago. These forests have been under protection long enough now to build up a substantial leaf litter on the forest floor. Yet enough time hasn't elapsed for the canopy overhead to close the forest in perpetual shade and keep it damp. Until the timber reaches that stage of maturity the risk of a deep layer of dry leaves remains with us.

I don't want to appear in the light of condemning all hunters. Hunting is a favorite sport with me when I can find the time. Most hunters and all true sportsmen are anxious to prevent woods fires. In my private opinion all hunter fires involve a little lax vigilance, too; irresponsible fellows with a gun but without a hunting license.

Here's The Record of John Young Brown, The Democratic Nominee

While a member of Congress in 1934, Mr. Brown was the only Kentuckian who voted against a bill providing for immediate payment to veterans of World War I of the face value of their adjusted service certificates, in cash.

Mr. Brown told the House that after missing the C. & O. train in Lexington he drove 200 miles by auto in an effort to catch it, ran out of gas near Ashland and then walked five miles in time to board the train to reach Washington in time to vote against the veterans' bill. In his speech, Mr. Brown blamed the bill on a "noisy minority among ex-service men who make a big fuss about this matter." (See Congressional Record, Vol. 78, Part 4, Pages 4313-4337, passim.)

Vote On Nov. 5th For Yourself Your Children & Your Grandchildren

Do you want Barkley and Brown to help ratify the peace treaties, or Taft and Cooper? You know the Democratic Party will assume responsibility of leadership.

Do you want a deadlock between the President and Congress? You know that condition would be bad for the United States and the United Nations.

Do you remember what the Republicans did to Woodrow Wilson's peace plan? You know Taft is an isolationist and he is the Republican leader in the Senate.

"LET'S TAKE A LOOK AT THE RECORD," and vote an intelligent ballot. Certainly we do not want our children, or our grandchildren, going to war.

Let the world know that we, the American people are behind the plan of the United Nations for world peace and that we are willing to vote and work for its accomplishment.

The record of the Republican Party in the past as to the League of Nations is well known. We must not take that chance again.

Morehead College Undergoes Major Changes In Faculty

New Department Heads Named In Physics, Chemistry, English And Business By Administration

According to an announcement made by President William Jesse Baird there have been a number of important additions and changes in the faculty and staff of the college here this fall. The additions and changes include:

Dr. J. Frederick Doering, head of the Department of English, received his Ph. D. degree from the University of Ottawa, and he has done post doctoral research at Columbia University. He also has done graduate study at the University of West Ontario and Indiana University. He is the author of some thirty articles which have been published in various scholarly journals. At present, Dr. Doering is working on a book, which is a correlation of art, music and literature, started as a Carnegie project.

Dr. W. H. Billhartz, head of the Department of Mathematics and Physics, was formerly head of the Mathematics and Physics Department of Franklin College in Indiana. He received his Ph. D. degree in 1938 from the University of Pittsburgh. He has written several scientific papers, and is a member of the Society for Promotion of Engineering Education.

A MESSAGE OF INTEREST to all who await deliveries of new Chevrolets

We want you to know that everything possible is being done to speed deliveries to you; but production still lags far behind schedule—even though Chevrolet has built more cars and trucks than any other manufacturer from January through September 1946

WE REALIZE how eagerly you are awaiting delivery of the new Chevrolet you have ordered from us, and we want to pass on to you the latest information received from the Chevrolet Motor Division, even though that information isn't too encouraging at this time.

It is true that Chevrolet leads all other manufacturers in total production of passenger cars and trucks from January through September 1946, despite the fact that Chevrolet was out of production entirely during the first three months of this year. It is also true that Chevrolet has continued to maintain its lead in total production during the third quarter of 1946. And yet production is still running far below desired levels, with the result that Chevrolet's output of cars and trucks through September 1946 was only 38.7% of the number produced during the corresponding period of 1945.

This means it may take many months for the Chevrolet Motor Division to reach peak production of new Chevrolets—even longer to fill the unprecedented demand for this product of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST COST—and, for the present at least, "there just aren't enough Chevrolets to go around," much as we wish there were.

However, we want you to know that new Chevrolets are leaving the plants in the largest numbers possible today. The Chevrolet Motor Division tells us it is doing everything it can, in the face of continued suppliers' strikes, material shortages and manpower problems, to step up shipments to us and to all dealers, in accordance with a predetermined distribution plan assuring each dealer of his fair allotment, based on 1941 passenger car sales. And we, in turn, are doing our best to deliver new Chevrolets to our customers as rapidly as they are received and in the fairest possible way. We are too appreciative of your loyalty and goodwill—to do anything less than continue understanding—to do anything less than continue to serve you to the very best of our ability.

KEEP YOUR PRESENT CAR RUNNING

Remember, the most important car of all to you is the car you are driving now. May we suggest that you keep it in top running condition until you secure delivery of your new Chevrolet, by bringing it to us for skilled service now and at regular intervals—a cold weather is hardest on old cars. Please see us for a complete check-up today. . . . And, again, thank you!
