

Fyffe Case Gets To Jury Third Time

Elliott Custodian Is Tried For Murder Of Ida Mason

The sensational Matthew Fyffe case, in which the former Elliott County WPA official, is charged with the slaying of Ida Mason, aircraft worker at the Rodburn crossing near Morehead in February, 1943, is expected to go to the jury Friday evening.

The Commonwealth, introducing more than two score witnesses, claimed that Fyffe and Miss Mason were sweethearts and that Fyffe murdered her for $15,000 insurance.

A hung jury resulted at the first trial. At the second Fyffe was given a life sentence, but the Court of Appeals reversed him on the grounds that the evidence was insufficient.

The Commonwealth gained another trial by claiming they had additional evidence.

A Fleming County jury is hearing the evidence in the case.

Rowan County FFA Club Wins Prize

The Rowan County chapter of the Future Farmers of America has received an award of $82.50 from Montgomery Ward for being the best chapter in the Eastern Kentucky district.

Success of the Rowan County chapter has been due, in a large part to the efforts of Charles Hughes, agriculture teacher at Morehead High School and FFA advisor.

Because of the time that is necessary to play basketball at Morehead High vice-president Richard Cox resigned his office at the last meeting.

Dr. L. A. Wise, who has fitted 2,780 glasses for people in this County will close office here

Dr. L. A. Wise, optometrist, who has been serving Morehead and vicinity for over 10 years, will make his last professional visit here Friday, November 29.

Dr. Wise has fitted 2,780 pairs of glasses for people in this section. He has done much of this work at cost for aged children and people who were unable to afford the proper eye protection.

With Pomp and Ceremony Morehead Crowns Another Beauty

Mary Louise Johnson, petite brown-haired young miss, is the ruler today of Morehead's 10 to 13 age group. She was formally, officially and gloriously crowned as the beauty queen of these just past teen-agers in the city's first beauty contest of its kind.

Held with all the pomp and ceremony attending the crowning of Miss America, the beauty contest first presented to the young lovelies in full evening gowns and then in bathing suits.

Others who survived an earlier elimination to be in the finals were Elsie Goodpastor and Betty Lou Price.

The contest was held on the lawn of the D. H. Tabor home, and the young beauties appeared to the accompaniment of Johann Strauss' Blue Danube. The judges were Betty Jane Wolf and Miss Annette M. Moore.

The sponsors were Mary Jo Mobley, Barbara Tabor, Dorothy Clayton, Evelyn Caudill and Janet Kinney. They plan another "10 to 13 beauty contest" next year.

More Quail Reported In Field This Year Than Last

Although quail are not as plentiful as they were several years ago, local sportsmen reported the supply more numerous this year than last. Many hunters reported getting their limit of 10 the first day of the season Wednesday.

Bath County, which used to be one of the best rabbit-hunting sections of the state, reported a scarcity of the fuzzy-tails, but Nicholas County and that section of the state seemed to have plenty.

A meeting will be held at the Farmers School this evening (Thursday). A survey now being made of what the young beauties appeared to the accompaniment of Johann Strauss' Blue Danube.

6 O'clock This Saturday Night is Last Chance to Get Big "2nd Period" Votes. Home Paper Makes Ideal Xmas Gift

What a race! In fact, that is one of the present leaders showed a big burst of speed they could forge ahead and win the prize of their desire.

And what does victory mean in this great contest? It means the fulfillment of one of the fondest dreams, the immediate gratification of a burning ambition, a record of unusual achievement, and a spot of glory in the new, latest model motor worth $1,720.43 for KEEPS.

Enter Personal Prize A striking feature of the past few days is the personal pride that is becoming so noticeable.

One contestant declared that the contest was "the longest and the most exciting" she has ever participated in, and that she owes it to her friends, who have backed her so faithfully up to the present time, to put forth supreme efforts and draw upon every resource to prove her appreciation of confidence shown in her by another.

So, on a basis of personal pride, the race is being waged zealously and with all the best of our besting competition is the fiercest yet in this contest.

REGARDING EXTENSION SUBSCRIPTIONS Quite a number of people who subscribed for one year during the early part of The Rowan County News' prize contest have asked how they might further help their favorite contestant to win.

Our answer is: Extend your subscription now to the "full limit". Not only will your favorite get a vastly increased number of votes on an extended subscription—but which would be greatly appreciated at this time—but you, as a "full limit" subscriber, receive the benefit of a substantial reduction in the regular subscription price during contest.

Or, if you have already extended your own subscription to the "full limit" permitted us to want to further boost your favorite over the top, what could be a more ideal Christmas present to some relative or friend who might not now be getting "their own home town edition" than a long-term subscription to The Rowan County News—which would long be remembered by the recipient.

Extend your subscription to the "full limit" now! In the "home stretch" now and MAY BE THE BEST CONTESTANT WIN

PAUL IN ATHENS AND CORINTH

LESSON TEXT—Acts 17:16-34; 18:1-11
MEMORY SELECTION—For other lessons which mean less than that of this lesson, which is Jesus Christ—1 Cor. 2:11.

History repeats itself. In spiritual things as well as in secular events. The experiences of Paul at Athens and Corinth are peculiarly applicable to our day. Here he encountered the very problems of our age (and have apparently stopped) the clock today.

The cities were not far apart in miles, and they were both pagan, but they differed widely in their cultural and commercial development.

Athens was the home of a cultured people. Corinth was a prosperous commercial city known throughout the world for grossly licentious living.

What did the gospel accomplish in each city? We shall soon see.

I. Godless Intellectuals Meet the Gospel (Acts 17:16-22a).

Paul was alone in Athens. He had been separated from his companions Silas and Timothy (Acts 17:14), and was to await them at Athens. Here he found a city where he over and found it wholly given to idolatry (v. 16). This was a sad sign when a professing Christian came in the presence of sin and false worship and did not seem moved by it.

Paul called for a bad sign when a professing Christian came in the presence of sin and false worship and did not seem moved by it.

ing the season. These birds are not too plentiful but appear to be on their upward cycle. Therefore, each person who may hunt pheasants is urged to observe the bag limits and give these birds a chance to increase. You will only be robbing yourself if too many are killed. These pheasants cannot be propagated in the Game farm as quail and other type of game. They will not live or produce in captivity.

Columbus Office Will Now Receive NSLI Premiums

Columbus, O.—World War II veterans residing in Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky may now mail premium payments on their National Service Life Insurance to Veterans Administration Branch Office No. 6, 52 South Starling St., Columbus, & Ohio, VA officials announced today.

The correct procedure for all Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky veterans to follow in paying their insurance premiums was outlined by VA officials as follows:

1. World War II Vets: Those holding National Service Life Insurance (for World War II vets) policies use the nearest VA collection office, or mail check or money order to: hiffoolshresh money order to the following address: Collections Division, Veterans Administration, Branch No. 6, 52 South Starling St., Columbus 3, Ohio.

2. World War I Vets: Those holding United States Government Life Insurance policies (for World War I Vets) send premiums to Veterans Administration, Collections Division, Washington 25, D. C.

3. Military Personnel: All military personnel on active duty status, including veterans who have reenlisted, may have insurance premiums deducted through Army Finance channels, or mail premiums to Veterans Administration, Collections Division, 346 Broadway, New York 13, New York.

When paying premiums or in submitting inquiries after Nov. 1, it is of utmost importance that the veteran include complete information, qualification, specifically full name, present mailing address, "N" or "V" insurance certificate numbers, service serial numbers, date of discharge from the service, and date of birth. VA officials declared that by cooperating in this manner, veterans will enable the Branch Office to render the service it desires to do for each policy holder.

CRACKER BARREL COMMENTS
BY WOODY HINTON

Some few years ago I wrote of the local happenings for the Flemingburg Times-Democrat which was owned and operated by Uncle Hiram Dudley, one of the finest men I have ever known. In those days we had only the local paper to give us the news and we didn't miss a line.

If I made a mistake in my correspondence Mr. Dudley would write me a letter in longhand but his criticism was clothed in such language that you couldn't take offense.

I will never forget Editor Dudley's stride as he walked down the street. He wore side-burns that were as long as U. S. Grant's whiskers. One time his son Charlie invited me to a Thanksgiving Dinner and Mr. Dudley carved the turkey in the most impressive manner I have ever seen. I wish I could remember the words of Grace that he said at the table that day.

Now as a former rural correspondent and protégé of Uncle Hiram Dudley I am going to write some of the local happenings in Morehead in much the same manner as I did in the years gone by.

Mrs. C. U. Waltz was shopping in Lexington last week.

Frank Haves was a business visitor in Cincinnati where he bought several items of the latest styles for his numerous stores. Included in the purchases are winter underwear and ladies corsets. He was accompanied by Brother Dwight Pierce who runs one of his subsidiaries known as the Big Dime Store. The money they spent was furnished by a local bank upon protest.

Several local citizens attended the football game at Huntington last Saturday and as usual most of them took a battle along with them. Frank Laughlin's horse ran away and tore his buggy up. Myrtle T. Hinton caught her cowdrift at the Citizens Bank Wednesday morning. However, through a mistake they had it in her husband's name.

The new president of Morehead College missed his bus to Ashland last Monday and had to catch a taxi to catch the bus.

A new chiropractor has taken up residence at the Brammer Hotel.

Marst Boone hasn't been the same man since his operation. John Palmer has engaged the services of Wilford Waltz to point hairs on his head. Laughlin is waiting to see how it comes out.

Marvin Cales has lost his little dog named "Tippy". If found please bring it to his store on Bishop Avenue. It is the favorite pet of his little daughter.

Leonard Grey and his wife have become reconciled after that blonde in Lexington made a tobacco auctioneer.

Murvel Crowley was so afraid his house was sinking that he has jacked it up off the foundation.

The new apartment houses on the campus are o. k. and we ought to all be proud of them.

A move is underway to purchase one of these airplane hangars used during the war to be put at the city school. It will take care of all the horse shows, county fairs and bird weddings and revival meetings for the next 25 years. Let's get it Crosst- wait.

I enjoyed reading Conservation Officer Bebler's column in last week's News. We have a man here who is going to enforce the game laws, and that will mean better hunting in Rowan County for all of us in the long run. So let's cooperate with him to the fullest, and that means observe the game laws, I for me, hope he becomes a regular contributor to the paper, for he writes a most readable article.

Speaking of hunting, I believe this must be an off-year for quail, for I haven't flushed a single covey this fall. Maybe I haven't been where they are. Rabbits seem plentiful enough, however and several hunters have told me they had good luck with squirrels I have seen a number of grouse or pheasants they are sometimes called. That is the game bird we have here and it takes a good shot to kill one. I hope to try my hand when the season of grouse opens in December but not being a particularly good shot, "try" is probably all I can do.

We are also getting an occasional hound fire on the District, had one last week end down in East County. No more here in Rowan County to report, and I hope that holds true for the rest of the year or season.

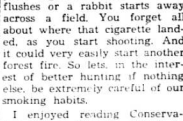

Rowan being my favorite county of the District for more reasons than one, it certainly goes against the grain to have so many fires here.

Another two weeks should see the end of the fall fire season. To date we have had 22 forest fires this biennial year which is four more than we had in 1945 not so good, but I know it could be much worse. Still, it is evident that we want to improve our record, rather than backslide. I want to thank any readers who have contributed, by word or by act, to the prevention of fires here. Their full reward will be measured in better homes for their children and grand children.

Hunters, the rabbit and quail season opens tomorrow (the 20th). Unless there comes a good soaking rain I won't be able to get out with my boy and gun and dog and indulge in my favorite sport, but I know that many of you are all set to go forth and get some fresh meat for your larder, the while you enjoy yourselves. Just do us this favor. Watch your smokes. It is so hummily easy to flip away your cigarette when a covey flushes or a rabbit starts away across a field. You forget all about where that cigarette landed, as you start shooting. And it could very easily start another forest fire. So lets, in the interest of better hunting if nothing else, be extremely careful of our smoking habits.

To The Sportsmen

By ROBERT L. BEBLER

The 1946-47 hunting season is here and with it will come many accidents and unfortunate deaths. Let me urge each hunter to use every precaution to prevent such un-called-for accidents from happening in this county or wherever he may hunt.

When it comes right down to brass tacks, no accident ever just "happens". There is always some cause back of it and if this cause were corrected in time, no accident would occur. The safest thing is to use extreme care in handling firearms.

This year as every year before, there will be many boys, yes, and even men, hunters who have never hunted before. These hunters will cause many accidents but not all of them as more experienced hunters also become careless with guns.

If you have a boy who is beginning his first season of hunting, be sure to instruct him in the proper manner to handle a gun and do not permit him to go out until he has mastered the fundamentals. Impress upon his mind the importance of safety.

Here are a few rules that each hunter should observe:

1. Always be certain that a gun is unloaded before you hand it to someone to examine. It is followed that you should examine a gun to make certain it is not loaded before you examine it.
2. Never shoot at anything until you are absolutely certain it is the bird or animal you wish to kill.

3. Do not point a gun at anything unless you intend to kill it.
4. Always carry the gun with the muzzle pointing either downward or upward away from any other person in the party.
5. Use extreme care in crossing fences. It is safest to unload your gun before attempting to cross a fence.
6. Do not load your gun until you are in the field. Do not carry it loaded in your car.
7. Always be certain that your gun is on safety or uncocked until you are ready to shoot. Never carry a gun cocked or with the safety off.
8. Do not shoot at game unless you know that stray shot will not hit any person or injure any farmer's stock.
9. Understand the mechanism of your gun and do not tamper with it while loaded.
10. Do not shoot high velocity bullets in Damascus or twisted steel barrels.
11. Use the proper ammunition at all times. Do not try to shoot a smaller gauge in a larger gauge gun.
12. Do not load and examine the barrel occasionally to make sure that water, snow or other obstructions are not in it.
13. Maintain your gun in the best possible mechanical condition and do not shoot one that is not in safe condition.

Several sportsmen from Morehead migrated to Ohio to assist in opening the pheasant season in that state. I have not heard all the reports but did observe that Fred Patrick and party had some luck.

I still have a small supply of the State Game Laws and have ordered more. Anyone who wishes a copy of these laws, please ask for one.

This column was started in order that I might pass on to all sportsmen in Rowan County, anyone able to give in regard to hunting and fishing conditions in Rowan County and elsewhere. Any sportsman who may have any information that will be of interest to others are asked to give me this information in order that it may pass on. You may see me on the street or in the field or may reach me by mail, Box 131. Good jokes or anecdotes on other sportsmen will be appreciated.

In answer to many inquiries, the pheasant season in Kentucky will be from December 1 to December 15. The daily bag limit is two birds. Possession limit is four for two days hunting and only tenbirds may be taken during the season.

Liability Insurance Jumps Farm Bureau Membership; McBrayer Wins Corn Derby.

DAN BRAME
The Rowan County Farm Bureau has enrolled 30 members during the last month according to the President D. C. Caudill.

The organization has 171 members at the present time. The President stated that the recent increase of members was caused by the demand of Farm Bureau automobile and truck insurance.

R. A. Decker, Morehead, RFD 2, is the insurance representative and he is helping farmers select insurance that will protect them when the new law goes into effect. The American Farm Bureau now has a million members in 46 states. Rowan County organized this spring and the leaders hope to have over 200 members by next year. The Rowan County Farm Bureau was founded to help farmers in three different ways. First, by its educational program which included the sponsoring of all Agricultural Educational work in the County. Second, its legislative program which is carried on at the state and national level. This program has helped farmers by working for better roads, better schools, parity prices, R. E. A. and floor prices over important crops and livestock. Third: the Farm Bureau has entered the commercial field by sponsoring cooperatives. There are several cooperative livestock markets in the state, a cooperative wool pool, and a tobacco growers cooperative. The R. E. A. is organized as a cooperative. The officers of the Rowan County Farm Bureau are: President, D. C. Caudill; Vice-President, Leland Hall; Secretary-Treasurer, John Caudill; and Insurance Agent, R. A. Decker. The Board of Directors is composed of: Johnnie Adkins, Walter Reeves, Emmitt McClurg, Eddie Perkins, John C. Eldridge, George Ellington, Joe McBrayer, W. A. Caudill, and William Skaggs. McBrayer Wins Corn Derby Harvey McBrayer won the Rowan County Corn Derby of 1946 according to Earn Thompson, Derby chairman and Dan Beane, County Agent. Mr. McBrayer harvested 135.2 bushels per acre. Last year he placed second in the contest with a yield of 111 bushels per acre. Here's how McBrayer won the top prize: First, he limed and phosphated his field eight years ago and seeded clover and grass. He raised several crops of tobacco on the ground and used plenty of manure, phosphate, and mixed fertilizer. During the last eight years this acre has received not less than twenty tons of manure and two tons of 20% phosphate. The field was in red clover last year and McBrayer turned it early this spring so there would be plenty of moisture in the ground. He spread ten loads of manure and 1,000 pounds of 20% on the acre before disking it up. The rows were laid 32 inches apart and U. S. Hybrid corn was planted with a jobber 12 inches apart in the row. When the corn came up it was side dressed with 500 pounds of 68 and 100 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate.

Mr. McBrayer has been testing different kinds of seed corn for several years and he has found that Kentucky grown certified U. S. 13 is the best corn to use on his farm. Mrs. Leslie Netherly has returned to her mother's home from the hospital where she underwent a major operation. Mrs. Netherly is improving nicely.

YOUR FRIENDS

Will Soon Be Asking Where did You Finish in Race?

THEY SAW YOU IN THE "BREAK-AWAY" AT START OF RACE; THEY WATCHED YOU DURING THE PROLONGED "JOCKEYING" AROUND THE TRACK; THEY HELD THEIR BREATH EXPECTANTLY "AT THE TURN", AND THEY STOOD BY LOYALLY AS YOU "CAME DOWN THE STRETCH."

—and now, as the "finish line" looms in sight, hundreds of your friends throughout this area are "rooting" for your success, while literally thousands of others are up on their feet cheering enthusiastically as the final outcome hangs in the balance.

To live up to expectations of these admiring friends and well-wishers, you must do your very best from here on in. Present indications point to a whirlwind finish and it is reasonably sure that the winning votes will run into large figures. It would be better to win the prize of your desire by a long margin than to lose by a mere handful of "fall limit" subscriptions.

BE READY WITH THE ANSWER WHEN THEY ASK—WHERE DID YOU FINISH?

VIGOROUS ACTION NOW WHILE THE BIG "SECOND PERIOD" VOTES are allowed, terminating 6 o'clock this Saturday night, November 23rd, IS BETTER THAN FRANTIC EFFORT LATER

"Blessing On The Day I Found RRU-AID" — Her Rheumatic Pains End!

One lady recently took RRU-AID three days and said afterward that she never would have believed such a "wonder medicine" existed. She says she couldn't raise her left arm more than a few inches. Rheumatic pains afflicted the muscles of her shoulder and arm. She could hardly move the fingers on her left hand. Now the lady's rheumatic pains are gone since she got RRU-AID and she says she can use her left arm as well as her right. In fact, she says she simply blesses the day she got this medicine and she feels like an altogether different woman.

RRU-AID is the new liquid formula containing three valuable medical ingredients. These Three Great Medicines, all blended into one, go right to the very cause of rheumatic and neuritic aches and pains. Miserable people soon feel different and say, "So don't go on suffering! Get RRU-AID. Battson's Drug Store, adv.

Tilling with a Hundred Teams of Steel

More power on the farm means more food... more jobs.

If a farmer had three teams of horses twenty-five years ago he was well equipped. Now, with over two million tractors and thousands of other power producers, most farmers command the equivalent of a HUNDRED TEAMS.

Wide use of their power, which can be packed into a few tons of steel, is enabling U.S. farmers to keep abreast of unprecedented food requirements. It is one of the secrets of national progress.

Steel horsepower does more than produce bigger crops with less labor. It has released, for production of human food, millions of acres once needed to feed horses and mules, and has created thousands of new jobs for town and city people who process and sell the increased harvests.

The benefits of farming with steel are the result of teamwork between farmers and industry. The farmer knows what he needs; industry knows how to supply it at a price he can afford. This teamwork must continue if America is to remain a land of abundance.

Farmers need still more power. The country needs still more food. Uninterrupted industrial production will permit industry to catch up with the pent-up need for more farm power.

Major Legislative Tasks Face GOP Congress; U. S. to Hold Pacific Bases for Defense

By Western Newspaper Union

EDITOR'S NOTE: Where opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of the newspaper.

With the college football season in full swing, student demonstrations are being held in the Princeton undergraduates' foyer onto Franklin Field, Philadelphia, to tear down the goalposts after the Tigers had upset Pennsylvania. Resisting two squadrons of police, the Princetonians tore down the uprights, joyously carried them away.

CONGRESS:

Task Ahead

Women awaiting their turn to vote in Chicago exclaimed belligerently: "This is the last line we're waiting in."

Voters elsewhere seemed to sing the same tune and as they turned out the ins and sent a Republican congress to Washington in what was tantamount to a landslide, the GOP found itself faced with the task of fulfilling campaign promises. Doing away with excise taxes and encouraging production; paring federal expenditures and reducing taxes; balancing the rights of management and labor; and husbanding U. S. resources.

Despite the Republican sweep, political observers looked to no smooth sailing in Washington during the 80th congress, what with GOP majorities on the Capital Hill and a Democratic president in the White House. Armed with the veto power, Mr. Truman was in position to check any conservative approach to the solution of the nation's problems in opposition to his own liberal program, raising the prospect of a tug-of-war between the legislative and executive departments of government.

In possessing control of the legislative machinery, the Republicans bid fair to make maximum political use of their advantage with an eye to the 1948 presidential race. A series of investigations into the activities of government officials during the war along the line of the Gerasimovs and brings into Communist infiltration of federal bureaus were in the offing.

OF GOP presidential aspirants, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Senator-elect John Bricker of Ohio made the most impressive showings. Running strong in the Democratic stronghold of New York City and sweeping the rural regions, Dewey was re-elected with the largest plurality ever given a gubernatorial candidate in the Empire state. Bricker was sever stretched in winning hands down.

PACIFIC:

To Keep Bases

Stepping into a reported dispute between the services and state department over this country's retention of Pacific bases for defense, President Truman reaffirmed his earlier position that the U. S. should exercise sole trusteeship over these outposts as long as necessary.

Coming as the United Nations assembly was to consider the ticklish question of trusteeship of former enemy colonies, Mr. Truman's statement reflected the state department viewpoint. The services, on the other hand, reportedly had called for outright control of such strategic islands as Iwo, Okinawa, Saipan, Truk, the Palau, Kwajalein, Eniwetok, Makuro, Ulithi and Marcus.

Despite the strategic import of

TIRES:

More than 89 per cent of the nation's total passenger tire output is going to American motorists, with export markets receiving less than one per cent of the total output—389,387 of the 41,651,833 passenger car tires produced between January 1 and August 31. Bulk of factory shipments were sold as replacements during the eight-month period, more than in any year since 1931. The automotive industry received 3,887,121 units for equipment through August 31.

U. S. control of Pacific bases, the bitterest bickering in the U. N. over trusteeships is expected to develop in the disposition of Italy's North African colonies. While U. S. and British land and naval forces crushed the axis forces in this area, Russia has sought joint control of these territories situated along Britain's imperial lifeline from the Far East.

RUSSIA:

Rising From Ruins

Looking back on the first year of Russian reconstruction, the Red masters of the Kremlin boasted of the great strides achieved in restoring the gutted economy of the country.

Advances were noted on all industrial fronts. In all sections of the vast Paris conference, the Danube to the Kurile islands in the Pacific. Outstanding accomplishments included:—Operation of five new blast and 21 open hearth furnaces in the metallurgical industry and the restoration of 21 old blast and 50 open hearth furnaces in the ravaged Ukraine.

—Opening of 29 large coal mines in the south, a big mechanized pit in the Urals and 14 properties on Sakhalin island north of Japan.

—Construction of huge power plants in the southern industrial region, Moscow and in the Siberian province of Yakutsk.

—Excavation of a new canal from the White sea to the Baltic and the start of equipping the South Siberian trunk line of 2,500 miles.

FOREIGN MINISTERS:

Polish Treaties

Having taken a short breath after the Paris conference, the U. S., British, Russian and French foreign ministers resumed their deliberations over peace treaties for the axis satellites on the 27th floor of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York.

As in Paris, no easy tasks faced the Big Four as they sought to compromise their differences with Italy, U. S. and Britain seeking to obtain a wedge in the Soviet dominated Danubian basin and the Russians striving to extend their influence to the Adriatic.

Final terms for Italy posed the most ticklish problem, with the Soviet supported Yugoslav government objecting to the strategic Adriatic control of Trieste and calling for self-rule under dominant Communist influence. Meanwhile, Italy professed against partition of the eastern province of Venezia Giulia, claiming that it would place a large Italian population under Yugoslav rule.

Continuing to carry the ball for the U. S., Russia challenged Greece's right to as much reparations from Italy as Yugoslavia. While both countries were scheduled to get 100 million dollars in payments, the U. S. pointed out that the Yugoslavs had acquired over 200 million dollars worth of American equipment in former Italian territory to enhance their take considerably.

Good News for Birds

Indications are that California will provide most of the nation's snowcover seed used mainly as bird feed, this year. Production is estimated at 4,200,000 pounds, which is 85 per cent of the national total.

This is far in excess of output in Missouri with 300,000 pounds, and Illinois with 240,000. Total production for the nation is forecast at 4,740,000 pounds.
