Board Asks City To Incur Heavy Debt

Plan Made That Gas, Water And Sewage Systems Inadequate

A plea that the city of Morehead go to debt—even if it means contracting a limit obligation—has been voiced by the Morehead Board of Trade.

The board, consisting of local business men brought out at its monthly meeting that the municipally owned water and gas systems are inadequate and obsolete and that the sewerage system is unsatisfactory.

Severe droughts in the past have found Morehead forced to haul water by tank car and tank consumers to a few gallons a day, while the city is annually caught with a low gas supply during severe winters.

Experts who were employed last year by Morehead College which pumps water from Triplett Creek and leads it to the city under an agreement, said that the only way the water situation can be remedied is to run a line to Licking River.

Owners of the "Little Inch" natural gas line which is seven miles from the city, have expressed willingness to sell to the city. The present gas supply comes from wells on the North Fork of Triplett.

End Of KIAC Seen Because Circuit Is Unbalanced; New Conference Planned

By W. E. Crutcher
This is the last KIAC tournament that will ever be played—three coaches made this statement to the writer at Louisville last week-end.

They went on to explain that the KIAC would disintegrate before the season, possibly within the next few weeks, and that the four teachers colleges and the University of Louisville, which are the five king-bees of the organization, would become members of a new and stronger conference, which already is in the formative stage.

One coach put it like this: "The four teachers colleges and the University of Louisville are stronger in basketball and football than the other six teams . . . so much stronger that it leaves an unbalanced league. Take this year's tournament which is a great financial success. The smaller schools are not contributing to the crowds or to its success in any great measure, but they will receive equal remuneration."

Won't Attract Crowds
Another teachers college coach said that a great financial success, the smaller schools are not contributing to the crowds or to its success in any great measure, but they will receive equal remuneration."

The new conference would embrace Eastern, Western, Morehead, Murray, Louisville, St.

One of the radio stations will be located in Morehead.

"With the completion of our installations, we will need three men for eight-hour shifts at each of eight stations," Mr. Watkins said. "Preference will naturally be given to veterans located in or near the towns where the stations are to be erected. Some 25 men are used to handle the desk work necessary to our new radio organization."

Twenty-four hour units are to be operated at the agency at Hazard, Bowling Green, Madisonville, Morehead, Elizabethtown, Mayfield and Frankfort. Other stations are under consideration and will be added if they are required for complete coverage.

Xavier of Cincinnati, Marshall of Hamilton, Tennessee Polytechnic of Cookeville, Tenn., and possibly Evansville, Indiana, and Miami University of Ohio.

City Kati
This would give the conference a close-knit organization where traveling expenses would not be too great, but competition as fast as can be found anywhere in the state.

The district tournament pairings will be found on page 2. On page 2 it is predicted that Morehead will be the site of the 1948 regional tournament this year.

United States. It is likely that all of the above teams would not be members, but all have been approached in an off-the-record manner and a meeting will be held here on Friday.

If a new circuit is formed Tommy Fitzgerald, popular sports editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal would be the head of the organization, and "Leczar" so to speak, one coach predicted. He would assist with schedules, appoint the officials and perform the many other behind-the-scenes tasks that go make a successful conference.

Financial Success
The KIAC met this year was the greatest financial success in its history, with the Friday night session, which featured the Western-Louisville game, attracting the largest crowd that has ever been in the Army.

As expected, Western breezed through the tourney, with Eastern the runner-up. There was not an upset during the meet. Morehead won from Wesleyan 54-51, but in the semi-final played one of their worst games in dropping a 60-35 decision to Eastern. This ended the season for the Eagles, and they lost 16 of 30 games, for their poorest showing in history. However, they played a tougher schedule than any club in Kentucky—including the University of Kentucky.

Morehead Faces Its Biggest Financial Problem

The city of Morehead, which has always been grudgingly "in the black" in its financial set-up, faces a heavy indebtedness or a break-down in its municipally owned utilities and the sewage system.

Thinking citizens have been giving the matter considerable thought, and the city council is well aware of the task ahead which must entail the most forward thinking and carefully planned move that the city has made since its incorporation.

The water system is inadequate, obsolete and fails whenever there is a drought. The present natural gas supply is insufficient and unsatisfactory. The sewage system is outmoded and needs replacing. To progress, the city must rectify these shortcomings.

The municipally owned utilities have always made a substantial profit, and the city tax assessment has been low and the tax rate moderate. But, Morehead has grown from a village to a small city and the city-owned systems were not designed to care for the increased load.

Most of the water pipe is laid under Morehead's streets has deteriorated almost past the usable stage. But, even worse than this, capable engineers brought here by Morehead College, which is gravely concerned, have advised the city that the only permanent salvation lies in laying pipes to Licking River, eight miles distant. The Triplett Creek source is simply inadequate.

The gas supply has never been satisfactory during cold weather, and the city knows that the pipes that carry this fuel are about "rotted out." Fortunately the "little inch" line from Texas has about seven miles distant and the owners have said they will supply Morehead. The city must run the pipe to the main line and that means several hundred thousand dollars.

If these two utilities are to be replaced, with an eye to meeting consumer demands thirty or more years from now, Morehead will probably have to build a much larger city, it is reasonable that it would be wise to install a new sewage system at the same time.

There is one bright note in the picture. Some 400 to 500 homes on the outskirts of Morehead are clamoring for water and city water. This would give the city this many more customers, and hasten the time when the debt could be repaid. As it is now, the city does not have sufficient water during a dry spell or enough gas in cold weather to supply present consumers. There has also been some talk that Chandler residents would become customers if the city could supply them.

The problem entails many legal ramifications, since there is a question of how much the city can go into debt for further, construction would have to be at a much higher cost than the work could have been done for before the war. Then there is a conservative element that would, no doubt, oppose such a heavy city debt.

However, the city is caught in about the same predicament as it was in 1918, when it was in operation, but didn't have the money to get it done. The city will either have to go in debt or see its publicly owned utility system collapse because of inability to serve the people. If Morehead is to remain in the utility business the people can reasonably expect that the city will be run as good as a private concern would furnish and are entitled to the same recourse as if the system were privately owned.

Marriage Is Not A Sexual-Convenience

Newspapers throughout the nation are headlining the news about deplorable moral conditions in England, principally in London.

Conditions there must be bad, but we doubt if their divorce rate is any higher than we have right here in Rowan County. The docket in our own court is cluttered with these suits, and for the first time in history the Circuit Judge had to appoint a divorce commissioner because there were so many in the district that he lacked time to review them.

It seems that people now take very lightly the marriage vows "until death do us part" and become wedded with the idea that if it doesn't work out "we can always get a divorce."

The divorce rate in Hollywood is so high among screen stars and celebrities that one is led to believe that the film colony is "morally rotten." Unfortunately the movies have a great influence with young people. The public spotlight of unfavorable publicity should be directed to portray them as cheap and morally loose instead of glamorous.

Marriage is one of the greatest and gravest obligations that an individual takes during his lifetime, but any more it appears to be, in many cases, a "sexual convenience."

Do not worry; eat that square meal; a day; say your prayers; be courteous to your creditors; keep your digestion good; exercise; go slow; and easy. Maybe there are other things that your special case requires to make you happy, but, my friend, these I reckon will give you a good lift—Abraham Lincoln.

Living War Memorials

Americans have long been accustomed to giving recognition to their heroes and to historic events by the erection of handsome granite or marble memorials. Now we have passed again through a world war, and once more the weapons of destruction and the deprivations of war conditions have taken their toll of our sons and daughters.

It is probably the desire of every citizen to recognize the sacrifices of those who gave so much, by the creation of fitting memorials. Many communities have already erected statues or shafts, beautiful in themselves and expressive tributes to valor and patriotism. This type of memorial is commendable, but why stop there? Memorials to American war heroes should be far more than mute symbols of remembrance, and in communities throughout the United States leaders are considering and projecting the living, or useful, type of memorial to commemorate the valiant deeds of their heroic fighting men. There is a growing realization that recreational facilities offer one of the best and most eloquent means of perpetuating honor to the dead, for then, truly, the tribute attains warmth and vital meaning. It becomes a living memorial.

We were shocked by the Selective Service physical examination figures which found 4,200,000 unfit for the rigorous duties of the military forces. Would not a well planned recreation program in their communities have helped greatly to alleviate the conditions which contributed to such appalling figures?

What could be more fitting than a playground and recreation area, marked by appropriate dedicatory plaque or flagpole and supervised by trained personnel? The center might well include one or all of the following: A community recreation building with auditorium, class and craft room; city park with picnic areas, an amphitheatre, seating facilities, shelter houses, shelter houses; a gymnasium and/or a stadium; swimming pool, indoor and out. The list is long, and all are excellent for memorial projects.

The shouts and cheers and the friendly competition on the field of sports echo the spirit of the youngsters who gave their lives that other Americans could live in freedom and happiness. Living Memorials keep alive the memory of their heroic deeds and inspire American communities with the unified thinking and action that build soundly and strongly for the future.

Planned Parenthood

The planned Parenthood Federation of America reports that a survey of 15,000 physicians throughout the country showed 97.8 per cent approved of birth control measures for health reasons.

The survey, conducted by Dr. Alan P. Guttmacher, of the Johns Hopkins Medical School, also showed that 79.4 per cent of the physicians recorded themselves in favor of birth control for economic reasons.

The same said that the West represented the most favorable attitude with 98.5 per cent. The Central States were third in position, with the Northeast cast the least number of votes in approval.

In connection with the campaign for planned parenthood, Dr. Guttmacher stressed four "positive" ideas to encourage American women to have children with young and large families for those who can endow their offspring with normal heredity and the ordinary expectancy of freedom from want. He would also encourage the infertile to overcome their illness, for this is what he called "inability to beget children, and he would encourage marriage counselors to help keep families together and curb the mounting divorce rate.

Proves Some Were Wrong

Between 1897 and 1939, there were many men, prominent in the political and economic life of the United States, who maintained that there was no danger whatever of a war in Europe. Some of these brethren maintained their position until the Nazis began barking in Poland. How far they were from being right is revealed in the six volumes of the evidence collected by the American and British prosecuting staff at Nuremberg.

According to these documents, Adolf Hitler was a man of aggression at least as early as November, 1931, when he made a speech to top generals and politicians, in conference with intention to attack Poland at the first opportunity, declaring that in war right is not what matters, but victory.

The series of books, released by the War Department, present, in the words of Justice Robert H. Jackson, "unanswerable proof" of the true and criminal nature" of the Hitler regime. The facts that have come to light, says the War Department, "leave no grounds for skepticism of 'strotty propaganda' such as developed after the fact."

The weakness and barbarism of National Socialism is revealed in the records which the Nazis kept for themselves.

A Successful Organization

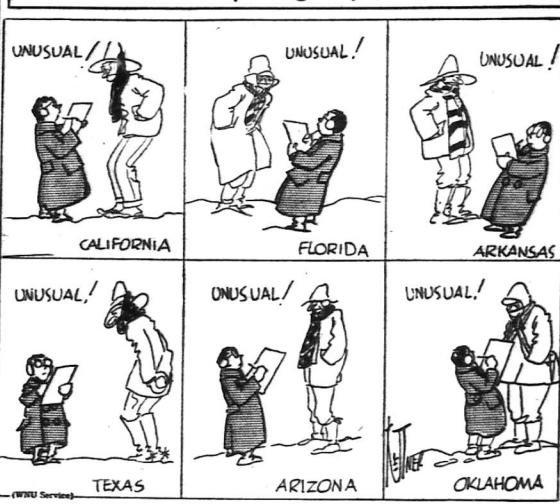

It is noted that the Rowan County Farmers Bureau now has 335 members and is one of the most active clubs in the county. The organization, primarily concerned with economic advancement for the farmers, has assumed the lead in getting roads, supported the floor price raise on tobacco, and sponsored an annual field day in addition to other accomplishments.

It is group organizations like this, which if kept alive and active, will mean more money in the pockets of Rowan County farmers and better living conditions throughout the rural sections.

Most people contact calls on Monday, says an article. Probably from drinking out of damp glasses over the week-end.

A woman who seeks a divorce admits that her husband has never said an unkind word to her in 25 years. As a matter of fact, he hasn't talked to her for 25 years.

'Round Rowan County

Not Dry Yet Whiskey and beer dealers in Bath County—the last wet spot in this section of Kentucky—expected to close Saturday, but there was word of a Court of Appeals proceeding.

It seems there is some controversy over whether the proper order were signed at the Owensville courthouse. It is now indefinite when the county will officially go dry, but it could happen any day.

Tax Payments Friday is the last day that a city or town can be paid before a six percent penalty is added. Sheriff Sam Green says there are approximately 500 who have not paid their taxes. Practically all of the biggest taxpayers have paid up however, most of them in November in order to get a 2 percent discount.

Heated Politics Politics in Kentucky, particularly in Rowan County, are expected to reach the most heated stage this year than they have at any time since the Chandler-Barkley senatorial battle.

Not only are the Republicans and Democrats expected to have knock-down, drag-out battles in the Governor's race, but this district will also see a Circuit Judge, a Senatorial and a House of Representative fight. A city council is also to be elected.

Disappointed Fans After their sensational showing against Loyola, the many Morehead fans who went to the K-1AC tournament were greatly disappointed when the Eagles played one of their worst games of the year—against Eastern.

President Burt has seen on a front row, behind the press box, at every session.

A bright note for Morehead is that Sonny Allen was named "player of the week" by the Louisville Times because of his remarkable performance against Loyola. He is the only player that the Times has so honored twice.

Regional Tourney

The 16th Annual basketball tournament will probably return to Morehead after a two year lapse. The district winners and runners-up will compete this year.

The two votes in this district will probably go to Morehead, the winners in Carter County will likely favor the college, while one vote from the Ashland district is anticipated. The college is not seeking the tourney, but will be glad to accept it if the high school coaches want to play it here. Morehead is the logical site since it lies almost in the middle of the region.

Things To Look For

Construction to start on the almost eight miles of highway between Morehead and Farmington this spring... Elijah Hodge to announce shortly for Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor... C. B. Daugherty or Dr. O. M. Lyons to run for state senator... Morehead to play night football here this year, and have a new seating arrangement in the college gym next fall... twice the attendance at this year's horse show at Jayne Stadium than saw the first show last season... The Trail theatre will have new and comfortable seats throughout in the next 60 days... they've been on order for more than a year but are among the scarce items.

Spiritual Tonic

One hour of prayer each day, this is to soften the heart. One pinch of faith the size of a grain of mustard seed, this is to purify the heart, and bring to pass whatever you have need of. One ounce of temperance, this is to guide you from the world. One ounce of charity, this is to cure a hatred that might be set up. One ounce of virtue, this is to keep you unspotted from the world. One ounce of forgiveness, this will keep you from being an extremist. One pint of Godliness, this is to guide your daily walk. One pint of patience, this is a nerve stimulant to assist you during long sermons. Assist you breaking and such like. Take a little cheerfulness, this will drive away any blues that come. One pint of understanding, add one good resolution, this will help you stay for preaching. One pint to add love for the prayer meeting, this is where you get a burning for the most part. Mix this with a little zeal, and this will give you slothfulness, and help you get to church on time. Use a little gentleness, and you are inclined to be touchy. Add enough meekness to keep you from being exalted, as it might keep you from a great fall. Use enough knowledge to get the bridge on your shoulders, after you have used this according to directions. Take enough thankfulness for nourishment until you grow into a perfect man, in Christ Jesus. This is to be shaken together by the power of the Holy Spirit, and rubbed together with one suffering until it penetrates ever fiber of your soul.

JACK HECKS

One good thing about it—this cold snap will probably delay that premature February budding of the fruit trees, and maybe we'll have a crop of fruit this summer. Joe and I witnessed something the other day I hadn't seen since I left Virginia. We were marking timber north of here, and felled a flock of six grouse (pheasants to some of you). The local boy with us said he knew they were there last fall and managed to successfully to steer all hunters in other directions, said he wanted the flock to grow even larger. I said he had the right idea and promised to keep his secret. A flock that size was not uncommon in coves of the Blue Ridge in Virginia, but here it is something of a rarity.

We have been hitting the brush this past week despite the slightly rugged weather, trying hard to catch up on timber sale applications before the fire weather sets in. Leonard Plank, Mitchell Hiett, and Andy Smedley can vouch that climbing these steep slippery Rowan County slopes with snow on the ground and more up in the trees to dump down your collar when you no picnic in the woods. In my opinion, but it sure makes you appreciate the warm hearthside and a hot meal when you come back in.

INCOME

Sales and incomes set new records in the United States in the final quarter of 1946 according to Commerce Department estimates. Fourth quarter income payments estimated at an annual rate of $173,000,000. Estimates indicated consumer spending for goods and services totaled an estimated $126,000,000, after seasonal adjustments.

PAFIS SHORTAGE

Even the government is feeling the pinch of the newspaper shortage, which threatens its output of paper work, including the daily Congressional Record, the Federal Register and thousands of miscellaneous forms and sheets. While a sufficient stock is on hand for the first three months of the year, the Government Printing Office is seriously concerned about obtaining supplies for the following three months.

THE RANGERS COLUMN

By Jack Hicks

Winter's grip is still strong on the land, but the calendar says February 27, so we know spring can't be too far off. Nature has a way of establishing balance, in the matter of weather as in its law of "survival of the fittest."

It's like Andy Smedley said this morning, that when his neighbors told him in a while back that they wasn't going to be any winter, he advised them to wait. If it would come in the spring, about it—this cold snap will probably delay that premature February budding of the fruit trees, and maybe we'll have a crop of fruit this summer.

ing in this section; someone of his acquaintance plans to plant up some old fields. My recommendation was white and short-leg (yellow) pine, both species are native here and grow well. Orders should be placed with the Division of Forestry at Frankfort before the end of March.

The best suggestions I have ever run across for organizing and running community councils are contained in a booklet from Kenneth S. Bean's, "A Guide to Community Coordination." Mr. Bean is executive secretary of Coordinating Councils, Inc., with headquarters in Los Angeles. Here goes:

"Start with a small group, then increase by inviting representatives from other organizations in the community, until all are represented."

"Sell the idea to three people who will devote their time and efforts to the cause."

"Get young people on the committees."

"Secure the broad, inclusive participation of all interests and agencies."

"Secure an active and discriminating membership chairman."

"Study the community, find actual needs; then select one need to attack."

"Start work immediately on one problem, however small which can show tangible results."

"Begin with a community meeting, attacking a definite project, one that can be completed in a reasonable time, so that interest can be maintained."

"Expand as resources and understanding permit."

"The chairman should not be known as an extremist in any field, political, religious or professional. He should be one who does not try to capitalize on his own position but rather on his personal gain."

"Never allow politics to enter."

"Be cautious lest you have publicity seekers."

"The importance of good leadership is emphasized by Ordway Tead in his 'The Art of Leadership.'"

"This opportunity to lead fairly should be used for its chance in every organization and institution which brings the citizens of a democratic community together. For in every area of action people are seeking to fulfill themselves. They want deeply to rise above a normal level, to express an assertion of their own intrinsic superiorities of capacity and achievement. But to do this, they must be led. They have to be brought into effective group relationships which are certainly not spontaneous, but the creation of which is the responsibility of leadership."

"Since I am letting distinguished writers do this week's column, I'll conclude with this fine quote from a leadership book by an American poet, James Russell Lowell:

"I honor a man who is willing to lead, and I honor a man who is willing to follow."

Half his present regard for the freedom to think.

And, when he has thought, be his will strong or weak.

Will risk and lose, for the freedom to speak."

Morehead Graduate Meets Queen Elizabeth Of England

(Editor's Note: Following is a story taken from the Magazine section of the Courier-Journal of Feb. 16, Miss Fisher, who is one of 74 American exchange teachers now in England, is a graduate of Morehead State Teachers College. She graduated from Morehead in August, 1941 and taught in Ashland before going to England for a period of one year.)

We 74 American exchange teachers have been in Britain four months now. The English Speaking Union in London has truly been our "home away from home." They have done so many nice things for us—given teas, dinners, tours and ironed out all our problems.

A few days ago each of our American teachers received an invitation from the English Speaking Union in London stating that Lady Astor was having an "At Home" reception tea for us at the Union and that we were to meet Queen Elizabeth. Of course, this was the highest social honor that could have been conferred upon us.

We were all quite thrilled and excited and started trying to find out how to act when one meets royalty. We had been told to wear a simple afternoon dress, a hat and white gloves.

When we reached the English Speaking Union, Lady Astor was at the door of the ballroom to greet us. She asked where we were from in the U. S. A. I am from Ashland, Ky. The girls who were from the South were told "Come in and welcome, but I don't see how you can really bear to associate with these Yankees."

To the Yankee girls she said, "Yes, I know you're a Yankee, but I'll try to forgive you." (Lady Astor was born in Virginia.)

THE BATTLEFRONT TO THE HOME

Yes, the war is over ---

But the Red Cross war against misery and suffering never ends. In peace, as in war, the Red Cross keeps on fighting—fighting for human happiness and welfare.

Ask the Victims of Disaster . . .

Hurricanes, epidemics and floods (such as the disastrous 1939 flood in Rowan County) strike at thousands of American families every year. This year, as always, the Red Cross will be there—with emergency medical aid for the injured . . . food, shelter and clothing for the homeless . . . rehabilitation for the needy. War against human suffering never ends!

Ask Our Wounded Veterans . . .

They know at firsthand how the Red Cross helps them through their suffering, and makes their days less drab. Right now, the Red Cross is providing thousands with guidance in personal and family problems . . . furnishing representation for their claims . . . aiding readjustment to civilian life. Concern for our veteran's welfare never ends!

Ask Our GIs . . .

The Red Cross is a link with home. It helps maintain the GI's morale with recreational programs and many personal services. The need for this touch of home continues!

Ask the Victims of Accidents . . .

Every year, 100,000 are killed and 10,000,000 injured by accidents in the U. S. Red Cross first aid, water safety and accident prevention programs help reduce this tragic toll. The war on accidents never ends!

. . . So The Red Cross Asks You to Give!

For this vital humanitarian work, the Red Cross needs your help. Your contributions will help thousands of our fellow Americans—many of them in our own community.

So, won't you give to the Rowan Red Cross drive? It depends on you . . . just as countless Americans will depend on it. We know you won't let them down!

Lustic, Adams Sign Pro Contracts

To Play For Pittsburgh Steelers This Fall

Joe Lustic and Paul Adams, back and center respectively, of the 1946 Morehead football squad, announced last week that they have signed contracts with the Pittsburgh Steelers' professional football team for the 1947 season. Terms of the contracts were not disclosed.

Both men will report to the Steelers training camp at Hershey, Pa., on August 1 for try-outs. They will try out for their respective positions.

Adams, who made All-KIAC and honorable mention Little All-America, completed his college work in December, and will receive his A.B. degree in June. Lustic placed on the All-KIAC team, and made the Little All-America second team. He is presently coaching basketball at Salt Lick High School and will complete his college work in March, receiving his A.B. degree on 60.07 to 72.88 cents.

Soon after returning from his good-will mission to Mexico City, set for early March, President Truman plans to view the spring maneuvers of the Atlantic Fleet in the Caribbean from the navigation bridge of a battleship or heavy cruiser.

ARMY FOOD

The Army has discovered, like Mrs. America, that it costs more money these days to keep the kitchen cupboard full. The average cost now is 79.88 cents a day, a 72 per cent increase over the average for January, 1946, to provide the garrison ration. According to the Quartermaster Corps, the cost of the field ration increased 21 per cent from 60.07 to 72.88 cents.

Weather Bureau Has Rain Gauge On Campus

The metallic object, having the appearance of a milk can, which is near the Buildings and Ground building measures the amount of rain and snow that fall on the Morehead College campus. It is one of many placed and kept in repair by the United States Weather Bureau.

Mr. Henry Haggan of the agriculture department sends a rain chart in once a week or after each rain. The chart is removed at 9 A.M. because it rains less at that time of day, and sent to the Hydroclimate Unit, Weather Bureau, Chicago, Ill.

The U. S. Geological Survey Office, Louisville, Kentucky is notified if there is a rain of one inch or more. Three times in January they were notified. This information is used in studying floods, erosion and water level in rivers and streams.

As little as ten inches of snow to equal one inch of rain, the snow during the first part of February was only about 2 of an inch. In January the rainfall was 6.58 inches which is 2.5 inches above normal.

One hundred and thirty-one forest fires burned 2,499 acres in and near the Cumberland National Forest in 1946. U. S. Forest Service Supervisor H. L. Borden of Winchester said today. This is a tremendous increase over the 55 fires that burned 824 acres in 1945. Borden said the serious lumber shortage today was in part directly attributable to these and other forest fires throughout the nation. The Cumberland fires alone killed several

Improved SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNNQUIST, D. D. of The World's Bible Institute. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

LESSON FOR MARCH 2

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts are hereby copyrighted by International Council of Christian Education.

JESUS SUMS UP HIS CLAIMS

LESSON TEXT: John 12:12-16, 20-22. MEMORY VERSE: John 12:20-22. And if I be lifted up from the earth, I will draw all men unto me.—John 12:32.

The last week of our Lord's ministry on earth comes before us today as we consider two events—of which occurred on Sunday and the other on Tuesday. One sees here the attitude of men towards Jesus of God toward men, of the Father toward the Son, and the majestic display of power of the Saviour.

L. Belling Men Honor Christ (vv. 12-16). God says, "Him that offereth praise glorifieth me" (Ps. 50:23), and the believer recognizes that "praise is comely for the upright" (Ps. 33:1). Jesus is entirely worthy of the praise of every heart and voice.

Presenting himself as their Messiah, Jesus received the enthusiastic acclaim of his disciples and friends, who were probably joined by others drawn by the excitement. The Jews did not join in (see Luke 19:38, 40), nor did the city, not even knowing who he was (Matt. 21:10, 11). So it is today; some love and praise him, some hate him, others just ignore him. Of which class are you?

He gave Jerusalem and the nation a final opportunity to receive him. It was not yet too late, but it was their last chance. Such a time comes in the life of every one of us. They rejected him. Do we? But even though some did reject, let us not forget that there were those who shouted, "Hosanna!" who cast their garments down before him and waved palms of victory and joy. Thank God for their holy enthusiasm. Pray God that we may have a little more of it.

II. God Honors Men Who Serve Christ (vv. 20-22). It is good to note that whatever prompted the coming of the Greeks, they wanted to see Jesus. A man has progressed far on the road to blessing when he makes known his desire to see Jesus. Coming to him means coming to the One who has the words of eternal life.

Note that the disciples were wise enough to bring the men to Jesus. The true function of every Christian worker is to bring men to him. The reply of our Lord to the Greeks, and to the disciples who brought them to him, seems a bit singular at first glance. Did he not wish to receive them? They had probably come to see the great religious leader, the King of the Jews—why did he talk about death? The words of our Lord are clear. Men do not need an example, a leader, a teacher; they need a Saviour. It is as a sacrifice for sin that Christ will draw all men unto himself.

III. The Father Glorifies the Son (vv. 27-30). The awful blackness of the burden of the world's sins which he was to bear pressed down upon our Lord in an agony of soul beyond our ability to understand. But even his troubled soul did not turn from the hour of death for us. The question of verse 27 is essentially this: "Should I ask the Father to deliver me from this hour? No, I came to be man's Saviour." He did not look away, nor wish to turn back. He knew why he had come, and he was faithful even to death (Phil. 2:8; Heb. 2:9).

He had only one desire—that the name of God the Father should be glorified (v. 29). Do we who bear his holy name follow in his foot steps? Do we have an eye single to his glory—or do we seek our own? Then came the voice from heaven, the Father had glorified his own name in the Son, and would do it again—yes, again and again.

Jesus knew the Father would do it, he did not need any assurance (v. 30), but for the sake of the people the witness was given. Notice the reaction of the listeners—some recognized that a heavenly message had been given; others had only heard some thunder.

May God give us grace to hear his voice when he speaks, and not consider it merely the rolling of some deaf voice thunder.

IV. The Son Draws All Men to Himself (vv. 31, 32). Because Christ was lifted up on the cross and died, there is victory over sin and death, declared by his resurrection and ascension to the Father.

Satan is still at liberty in the world, but he is defeated (John 16:11). Death still comes, but the sting is gone for the Christian (1 Cor. 15:55-57). The world is still fighting our Lord, but he is drawing men to himself here and there throughout the world. One day he will come as King of kings and Lord of lords, to declare in us finally the victory which has already been won.

We should be reminded anew that it is Christ the Saviour who will draw men if we will only exalt him in our preaching and teaching. Let us to it!

Holtzclaw Predicts New Constitution For Kentucky

Explains Procedure For Calling Convention

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of three interviews on the question of a new Constitution for Kentucky. These interviews were with Dr. J. B. Holtzclaw. Since this series was started Dr. Holtzclaw has resigned from the faculty at Morehead College to accept a position as professor of political science at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa.)

The present Kentucky Constitution provides that the delegates to a constitutional convention be elected at a general election and that they stay in session at the state capitol until their work is completed," Dr. J. B. Holtzclaw said here last week.

In explaining the procedure for the calling of a constitutional convention Dr. Holtzclaw pointed out that, as required by law, the 1944 and the 1946 sessions of the General Assembly passed resolutions asking that the question of a new Constitution be placed before the people of Kentucky.

"This will be done in November, 1947," he declared. "If the calling of a convention is approved by the people this year, the 1948 General Assembly will pass an act calling for a convention and the delegates will be elected at the next general election, he explained.

"Ninety days thereafter the delegates will meet at the state capitol and begin work on the new Constitution," he elaborated. The qualifications for delegates will be the same as for members of the State House of Representatives, he said.

"They will be elected from the same districts as the members of the House," Dr. Holtzclaw stated. "It is the custom in electing the members of a constitutional convention that they be non-partisan."

Operating under the theory that a majority of the people of Kentucky approve the calling of a convention it will be at least February, 1949 before the convention can convene, he opined.

"The present Constitution does not provide for submitting a new Constitution to the people for approval but undoubtedly the next session of the General Assembly will provide by law for this action. If this is done the people would not vote on the adoption of a new Constitution until at least November, 1950."

In a concluding statement Dr. Holtzclaw said: "I do believe that it is time that the people of the state of Kentucky had a new Constitution and I believe that the vote calling for a convention will be in a substantial majority."

MOTOR TRAVEL

Motor travel in 1946 set a new record with a total of 170,000,000 miles, according to spokesmen for the Public Roads Administration, who declared that this was some 200,000,000 more miles than the previous record chalked up in 1941 on the country's highways outside of the cities.

MEAT EXPORTS

Since the production of meat has become normal, the Department of Agriculture has announced the resumption of meat supplies exports, discontinued during the last quarter of 1946 due to the pre-election shortage. A total of 115,000,000 pounds of meat have been allocated for January, February and March shipment.

It is indeed a pleasure to live in a town that does things. Morehead and Rowan County has always been on the beam. When we have a flood we have a good one. When we have a shootin', it always comes out right. When we have a still captured it is always a good rig.

We have a first class post-office, but we are short on post-masters. All our present one can do is chew tobacco, vote the Democrat ticket and beat his wife.

We will soon have a department store here that will be the finest thing in Eastern Kentucky. They will have concentrated carpet on the floor. It will be known as the A. B. McKinney Department Store and William Q. Lane will be the general manager. They will handle everything from soup to nuts and brassieres.

However across the street Harry Goldberg has one of the nicest stores in town. It has a new kind of light and the greatest stock of merchandise I have ever seen. He has as much merchandise as the Ben Snyder Store in Louisville.

We have the best bus system of any town of our size in Kentucky; approximately 35 buses clear in and out of our Greyhound terminal here daily. We have the best restaurants of any town in the state. You can eat in a street car on the corner of Fairbanks and Railroad street that serves delicious foods. You can get a good meal at The Dixie Grill that is operated by Esther Grey who has had over 50 years experience in fixing plate lunches, hamburgers and chili (Mexican style).

The Greyhound is ever on the alert for planning meals. They import their foods from different sections of the country. I think they get their milk from Red Rose Dairy and their meat from Swift's.

The Eagles Nest, owned by The Peoples Bank and operated by Messon (Chin) Clayton, still holds the celebrity trade dealing in the most famous foods and mostly to the Derby goers. It is known from coast to coast, and some of the most famous of our U. S. citizens have stopped there—such as Noah Kennard, Mayor; John L. Lewis, the man that lost his finger; William J. Sample, the lumber king; C. B. Daugherty, banker and millionaire playboy, and many others.

The Kentucky Restaurant is operated by Tea-Pot Pappy and they keep it clean as a hounds tooth. It is noted for its steaks and good service. It also has one of the best neon signs in town.

Keep up the good work John Palmer, and don't forget, folks, we need those old glasses that you have discarded. They will never do you any more good, so why not turn them in and help some one to see that cannot afford new glasses.

Thank you, Mrs. Walter Mitchell, for turning in two pair, and thank you, Mrs. Hogge, for the pair you gave us. Later we will publish the names of the folks in a group that have been so kind in their efforts for humanity.

It is everyone to their own notion as the old woman said who kissed the cow. However I think it is a false rumor that Rev. Kazee, C. Caudill, Ray White, Judge Bradley and Sam Green are trying to buy the nine-passenger station wagon from J. C. Wells to go to Maryville in after Friday. I have never known these gentlemen to take a drink and I think I have been misinformed.

A mother takes 20 years to make a man of her boy, and another woman makes a fool of him in 20 minutes.

Strange Words

A minister told his flock that he had a "call" to go to another church. One of the deacons asked how much more he was offered.

"Three hundred dollars," was the reply.

"Well, I don't blame you for going," remarked the deacon, "but you should be more exact in your language, parson. That isn't a 'call,' that's a 'raise.'"

Burley Quota Cut 19.6 Pct.

Reduction Ordered Because Of Record Crop Last Year

A general reduction of 19.6 per cent in 1947 burley-tobacco acreage allotments of more than one acre was announced this week by Mr. D. Royse, Kentucky director of the Production and Marketing Administration.

After the Secretary of Agriculture proclaimed a 1947 burley-marketing quota of 490,000,000 pounds October 2, the P.M.A. Kentucky director informed the growers that reduction probably would be between 18 and 20 per cent.

Stocks Exceed Demand The reduction was ordered because of the record 1946 crop of more than 600,000,000 pounds. That crop, added to burley held from previous years, has provided stocks well in excess of the amount considered necessary to meet demand. The acreage reduction announced today is expected to result in a crop more nearly in line with demand.

No general reduction will be made in allotments of less than one acre. Royse said in excess allotments of one acre generally will not be reduced below nine-tenths of an acre.

The only farms on which acreage allotments are to be reduced more than 19.6 per cent are a few on which the acreage grown in each of the last three years has been less than 75 per cent of the farm allotment, Royse said.

Growers To Be Notified County offices will notify each burley grower in the state within the next few days of the allotment established on his farm, the P.M.A. director said.

Growers voted overwhelmingly last October to retain marketing quotas on the 1947, 1948, and 1949 crops, with 95.9 per cent of those voting favoring quotas.

With quotas in effect, any tobacco marketed in excess of a farm's marketing quota is subject to a penalty of 40 per cent of the average market price of the preceding crop. The penalty on 1947 excess tobacco will be 40 per cent of the 1946 crop's average price.

CHILD

It's a big world! And it never seems bigger to anyone, than it does to the child who is lost.
 Some instinct compels her to go on . . . but she does not know where she is, or where she is going.
 Millions of American children are lost. They are growing up to face life without the sense of direction that makes all the difference between hoppiness and hopelessness.
 The simple religious truths that a child learns in Church—though they seem so elementary to parents—are the foundation of fruitful living. Faith in God, a knowledge of right and wrong, a sense of purpose in living . . . with these no one can be lost.
 What are you doing to help the Church to show your child the Way?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.

Rowan Farm Bureau To Elect Officers Saturday

By Dan Brane

Leland S. Hall, vice-president of the Rowan County Farm Bureau, announced that this organization will hold its first annual meeting and election of officers at the courthouse Saturday afternoon, March 1, at 1:30. R. H. Proctor, of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation, plans to attend the meeting and discuss the members. Every member of the Farm Bureau is invited to attend and take part in the election of officers and directors.

The Rowan County Farm Bureau has grown rapidly since it was first organized in March, 1946. At the present time there are more than 435 members. During the past year the organization helped get the floor price raised on Burley tobacco. This affected every tobacco grower in the State of Kentucky and it was reflected in higher Burley tobacco prices.

The local Farm Bureau sponsored a movement which resulted in approval of construction of an extension of the North Fork highway. The Rowan County Farm Bureau also cooperated in all steps toward better agriculture in the county. During the past year they sponsored the Field Day program and the Farm Labor show at Morehead. Recently they sponsored an agreement which resulted in the organization of Cooperative Farm Supply store in Morehead. Farm Bureau members are eligible for Farm Bureau automobile insurance, Blue Cross hospitalization insurance, and life insurance.

During the past year D. C. Caudill, president, Leland Hall, vice-president, and John Caudill, secretary, have met once each month with the directors and their work is beginning to show results. All Farm Bureau members are invited to attend the directors meeting the first Saturday of each month at 1:30 in the courthouse.

Hold Achievement Day
Seays Branch 4-H Club held its Community Achievement Day program Wednesday. The girls modeled their costumes which they made under the leadership of Mrs. Phoebe Butcher. Virginia Merritt won first prize on her apron, towel, and pot holder. Wanjette Mae Bretta, second prize and Deteris Fultz, third. Mrs. Evelyn Shanks will meet with the club on the fourth Monday in each month.

Time Now To Burn Farm Debris, Forest Head Says

"Now is the time of year to burn brush, weeds or other farm trash," says H. L. Borden, Winchester, Ky., supervisor, U. S. Forest Service. It is much better to burn now when woods are wet from which all leaves and other combustible material has been removed by raking, hoeing or shovelling. If a team is available, furrows can be plowed around the area. The important thing is to prevent sparks from burning or blowing across.

It is also necessary to get neighbors to help with the burning, and have plenty of hoses, rakes, shovels and pails of water handy. If brush piles are to be burned, burn one or two at a time and keep them small. For brush piles on new grounds, burning should commence at the top or upper side if on a slope.

After all the brush or area is burned, the chunks, logs and stumps should be completely watered out. Next day the area needs careful watching and those sparks that have kept alive over night must be again watered out. Sparks have been known to keep alive and dangerous for 4 or 5 days.

Borden states that best farming practices eliminate the need for burning most farm debris. He points out that brush and weeds can be used to fill gullies and stop erosion. This material decays in a few years and adds fertilizer to the soil. State and Federal laws provide fines and imprisonment for either carelessly allowing fires to escape control or the malicious intentional setting of fires.

QUITE COOL, INDEED

A hotel was on fire and the guests, gathered out in front, were watching the flames.

"Nothing to get excited about," one traveling man was boasting. "I took my time about dressing. Lighted a cigaret. Didn't like the knot in my necktie and retied it. That's how cool I was."
"Fine," remarked a bystander. "But why didn't you put your pants on?"

Jefferson Standard's 40 years service to Policyholders and Beneficiaries has provided

THOUSANDS OF POLICYHOLDERS, representing a cross-section of foresighted men and women in 28 States, the District of Columbia; and Puerto Rico, are now sheltered by the protective cover of Jefferson Standard life insurance. During the year 1946 more new life insurance was purchased, both by old and new policyholders, than in any other year in the company's history. Such rapid growth is striking testimony to the helpful service rendered policyholders and to the integrity and qualifications of the men and women who comprise the company's field organization. Entering its 40th Anniversary Year, Jefferson Standard is on the threshold of $700,000,000 life insurance in force, with intensified plans for expanding the company's service to many new communities.

EXCELLENT EARNINGS ON INVESTMENTS

Jefferson Standard again led all major life insurance companies in rate of interest earned on invested assets—the result of an alert and sound investment policy.

Again in 1946 5% interest was paid on funds held in trust for policyholders and beneficiaries, thus continuing a rate that has been maintained for 40 years—since the company was organized in 1907.

STRONG FINANCIAL POSITION

(a) Contingency Reserve, Surplus, and Capital total $20,000,000, an unusually high rate of additional funds for policyholders' protection.

(b) Total assets $179,000,000, an increase of $18,000,000 for 1946. For every $100 of liabilities there are $112.12 of assets.

NEW RECORD GAIN IN INSURANCE IN FORCE

Insurance in force increased $83,000,000 in 1946. Total is now $672,000,000 on thousands of policyholders from coast to coast.

BENEFITS PAID

$7,400,000 paid to policyholders and beneficiaries in 1946, bringing the total since organization in 1907 to $159,000,000.

LARGEST INCREASE IN NEW BUSINESS

$114,000,000 life insurance was purchased by new and old policyholders in 1946—an average of $2,000,000 per week—a 64% increase over 1945.

If It Has a Bustle, it's absolutely New

Not REALLY a bustle! But the pert, sharp flip of the fashist! peplum gives the effect. The cutaway front is important, too, and the tiny golden buttons fastening the jacket snugly to the throat.

YOU'LL FIND SUPERLATIVE WORKMANSHIP and AUTHENTIC DESIGN in MARY-LANE and JUNIOR-LANE COATS and SUITS famed for STYLE - FIT - FINISH

We're proud of our collection of Mary-Lane and Junior-Lane coats and suits, because we feel it is an unusually beautiful assortment of new Spring fashions.

If you like to be the first to wear what's new, you'll probably want a cutaway, a bustle back or a fishtail flare. You can have all three in one of the new Mary-Lanes. If fine materials and beautiful tailoring mean more to you than anything else in fashion, and you lean just a bit to the conservative side, the beautiful workmanship, much of it completely invisible to the eye, will delight you. But whatever your taste—whatever your purse—it's a wonderful year to buy new clothes, especially coats and suits.
