

131 Rowan Citizens Get S. S. Benefits

Over $2,000 Paid Monthly Here To Persons Qualifying

Payments under Federal old-age and survivors insurance totaling approximately $59,600.00 a month are now in force for 1,349 residents of the Ashland local office area. Godbey, manager of the Social Security Administration office reported yesterday.

These figures compare with $57,735.56 monthly benefits in force for 3,798 men, women and children three months ago.

The monthly benefits in the area are distributed as follows: 871 retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving $20,595.85 a month; 248 retired workers' wives, age 65 or over, receiving $30,110.39 a month; 502 young widows with children under 18, receiving $8,960.03 a month; 2,210 children of retired or deceased workers receiving $25,015.13 a month; 102 widows, 65 or over, of insured workers, receiving $1,917.47 a month; and 10 dependent parents of deceased workers, receiving $194.19 a month.

In addition, more than $4,900.00 in lump sums have been paid in the last few months on the wage records of insured workers who died leaving no one immediately eligible for monthly benefit payments. Monthly payments to 131 Rowan County residents amount to $2,099.60 a month.

Mr. Godbey is manager of the office that serves the area including Boyd, Greenup, Carter, Elkhart, Floyd, Magoffin, Morgan, Lewis and Rowan counties.

He said that although every effort is made to inform people working under the Social Security Act, benefit payments are lost by those otherwise eligible because they delay or fail to apply for benefits.

"It is necessary that application be made for these insurance payments," he said. "They do not come automatically to otherwise eligible persons."

Application is required to receive payments made quarterly for them, and the place to do that is the local office of the Social Security Administration in the Second National Bank building, in Ashland.

"There is no charge whatsoever for the services performed by the Social Security office. People desiring information or advice on social security matters should go to the local office and claim the benefits under the Federal old-age and survivors insurance system are urged to get in touch with the local office."

"When a worker has reached age 65, he should visit or write to the nearest Social Security office, whether or not he is presently working. He can learn when it is of greatest advantage to him to apply for benefits."

"When a worker dies, a member of the family should write to the Social Security office on file of one."

News Readers Contribute Over 100 Pairs of Glasses; Palmer Starts On Second 100

A few weeks ago John Palmer, sales manager at the Lee-Cay Products Company, read of the great charitable work being done by Julia Lawrence to provide glasses for those whose sight was impaired and were unable to have the proper optometrist and fitting.

So, Mr. Palmer started out on a one-man campaign in this section to help Mrs. Lawrence. The Rowan County News carried a feature story about his efforts, pointing out that Mrs. Lawrence's work was financed through spectacles contributed by people who had discarded them.

This week Mr. Palmer mailed 100 pairs of glasses to Mrs. Lawrence and he has 10 more pairs on his second hundred. "My efforts in this respect have not through," Mr. Palmer said. "Anyone who has a pair of glasses they do not need can send them to me and I will see that they go to this worthy cause."

Among the contributors so far, and the numbers of pairs they have given are: Mrs. Hartley

Rowan Group Will Attend District Meet

A district Homemakers meeting will be held in Memorial Hall, University of Kentucky campus Saturday, April 19. The theme for the all-day meeting will be "Today's Home Building for Tomorrow's World." A group of Rowan County women will attend the meeting with Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair, home demonstration agent for the county, who is invited to the meeting from the North Bluegrass district of which Rowan County homemakers are members.

Mrs. Myrtle Labbert, women's radio editor of Detroit, Mich., will be the principal speaker. Her project will be "High Adventure."

Cub Scout Carnival Scheduled Tonight

The annual Morehead Cub Scout Carnival will be held on Thursday night in the auxiliary gymnasium at the college at 7 o'clock. Admission will be 10 cents which entitles each person to enough paper money to visit all of the unique attractions which will include a fast pond, golf course, bingo stand, fortune teller, and many other attractions. All boys, girls, teachers and interested adults are urged to attend.

Ironton May Halt Sunday Beer Sales

The city law department at Ironton is pondering the legality of an ordinance proposed by the Lawrence County Tavern Keepers Association which would prohibit the sale of even 32 beer on Sunday.

Representatives of the association, in presenting the proposed ordinance at council meeting last week, said that it was a county-wide issue. It was a county-wide issue, they said, because a councilman asked a minister present if the ordinance would have any effect on the proposed election, the clergyman replied: "The ordinance is entirely independent of any proposed election."

Boosters Club To Meet Tuesday

The Morehead Boosters Club, an organization created primarily to assist the athletic program at Morehead College, will meet Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Ironton Hotel, it has been announced by President G. S. Collins.

All college faculty members and administrative officers have been invited to this meeting.

SHERIFF ISSUES WARNING TO DOG OWNERS

Sheriff Sam Green issued a warning today that the law requires him to kill all dogs not properly licensed. Dog tags are on sale at the sheriff's office.

The sheriff pointed out that since a dog has been lagging, and that most owners were disregarding the law.

Don't Throw That Old Pair of Glasses Away

It's spring house-cleaning time, and we know there'll be a pair of discarded spectacles in the attic, a drawer or some corner of the house.

Don't throw them away!

They will help some person see better. Send them to John Palmer, care Lee-Cay Products Company, Clearfield, Ky., if you live in Rowan County. Palmer will pick them up at your home or business if you telephone him.

One-hundred and fifty members of 9 of the 13 chapters in the Ashland District of the Future Homemakers of America were guests of Morehead State Teachers College, Saturday, April 5 for their second annual spring meeting. The new chapter organized this year at the Prestonsburg High School was extended a welcome by Virginia Ellington, District President, Morehead Chapter.

The theme of the meeting this year was "F. H. M. A. Year to Year." Mr. H. R. Giles, Director in Kentucky of the Division of Recreation, Department of Conservation, Frankfort, Ky., was the speaker at the morning session. Chapter members, as well as interested civic groups, church groups heard Mr. Giles discuss surveying, organizing, financing and leading recreation. Following this discussion, an open forum is required to community, school and chapter recreation. Another event of the morning session was an oral report from each chapter of an outstanding recreational activity.

Twelve Needy Children Assisted By Group

The child welfare committee of the Corbie Ellington Post of the American Legion Auxiliary has asked every organization in Morehead to cooperate in Child Welfare Week being observed during the month of April throughout the nation.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Lindsay Caudill, Mrs. Creed Patrick and Mrs. W. W. Ward. Already 12 needy children have been assisted. They urge that anyone knowing of a needy child report to them and possible help the child himself.

Sallie Day Christian, 79, Dies At Home

Sallie Day Christian, 79, widow of the late Andrew Christian, died Saturday at her home on U. S. 60, two miles east of Morehead.

Surviving are the following children: Herbert Christian, Besie Bowling and Hattie Christian, all of Morehead and Ethel Stinson and Ths Adkins of Haldeman. Two children, presently in death. She also leaves 23 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

State Patrol Constructs 300 Feet Radio Tower

The Morehead radio tower of the communications division of the Kentucky Department of Highways is nearing completion and the station which will serve practically all of northeastern Kentucky will be on the air in a few days.

The tower, which is 300 feet high, located on the hill back of the Morehead State Teachers College.

The Morehead station is one of ten that the State Patrol will have throughout Kentucky.

Basketball Teams Will Be Feted

Board Of Trade Banquet For Morehead Clubs Set For Monday

The basketball teams of Morehead College, Morehead High and Breckinridge Training school will be feted at a banquet to be given Monday evening in the college cafeteria by the Board of Trade.

An outstanding speaker will deliver the principal address. Coaches' principals, cheerleaders and Dr. William Jesse Bair, Morehead College president, will also be guests.

Individual athletic awards will be made at this time.

"Since Morehead is interested in the success of all of these teams," it was decided to hold one banquet for all three at the same time." Board of Trade President G. S. Collins said.

The chapters present at the meeting were: Morgan County, Salyersville, Wurtland, Betsy Lane, Sandy Hook, Breckinridge and Morehead.

The chapters present at the meeting were: Morgan County, Salyersville, Wurtland, Betsy Lane, Sandy Hook, Breckinridge and Morehead.

CLEARFIELD 4-H CLUB TO MEET

April 24, at 2 o'clock, a 4-H Club will be organized in Clearfield community. All boys and girls are urged to attend the meeting.

SAVINGS

Individual savings of residents of the United States during 1946 were $15,800,000,000, the lowest since 1941 and half of the amount saved during 1945.

Coverage That Is Complete

"You've probably read about 'Old Scrap-Iron,' the desperate search for the remains of Triplett Creek near Farmers, evading all efforts to catch him despite a reward on his head. This feature article 'Scrap-Iron' has appeared in many newspapers, but it was printed first in the Rowan County News. This feature article just one of many that the Rowan County News, your newspaper, carries.

Let it happen in Rowan County or in any other county and the chances are you'll find it in the Rowan County News.

The publishers of the News do not aim at the big county-wide headlines. Rather these columns are dedicated to you and your neighbors and friends in your city and county and the well-being and progress of this community. That is the reason that 95 per cent of all homes in Rowan County are paid-up subscribers to this newspaper.

As an advertising medium in this section of Kentucky it offers complete coverage... and its circulation that counts."

City Being Baited In War On Rats

Merchants Contribute To Drive Sponsored By Kiwanis Club

Morehead's drive on rats will be climaxed Friday and Saturday as the Kiwanis Club, under the supervision of two experts from the Department of Interior, will put out a thousand pounds of poisoned bait.

A mixture of fish, oatmeal and red squill comprises the bait. The red squill is the killing property of the bait. It is not fatal to cats, dogs or other pets, although it might make them ill.

Harry Goldberg is in charge of the crew that will bait the city. Bait will be placed heavily in the business section and places where the rat population is heaviest.

Business houses contributing financially to the drive include:

- Goldes Department Store, Monarch Supply, Hones Byrd Ferry, Wholesale Feeds, Bishop Drug Company, Midland Tire Garage, Midland Baking Company, R. F. Fry, Edam Grocery Company, T. Johnson & Sons, Western Auto Store, Bruce's 5c, 10c & 15c Store, Peoples Bank of Morehead, Cut Bay Hardware, Clyde's Restaurant, Dixie Grill, I. C. A. Store, Midland Tire Hotel, Union Grocery, Big Store Furniture Store, Frank's Hardware, Lane Funeral Home, East End Grocery, Carr Lumber Company, A. B. McKinney Store, H. J. Cleaners, Model Laundry, Greyhound Restaurant, Regal Store, Allen's Meat Market, Eagles Nest Cafe, Citizens Bank, Collins Motor Company.

A Wartime Tour Of France

By Everett E. Parker, Morehead College Student

My tour of France was singularly different from those advertised in leading travel magazines. I do not intend to advocate entrance by assault boats crossing mountains on all-fours, or traveling through basements. They also tearing down doors and throwing high explosives into a town before entering; but these were an important part of my tour.

I entered France at the port under cover of darkness and hiked eight miles through any-thing (which later meant anything less than a downpour) to a thoroughly saturated puddle. This was to be my home for the next ten days. My bed was of the very softest pine boughs obtainable in southern France. This was sheltered from the elements by a spacious four by six tent. It was from this location that I had my first glimpse of picturesque France.

I traveled luxuriously from this place to Dijon and back by open truck which afforded an excellent view of the shell torn terrain. This truck, however, carried me and other men along with all equipment. We had ample room to turn our heads in at least two directions, providing all homes in Rowan County are paid-up subscribers to this newspaper.

 Father and Son Banquet Well Attended

Eighty-one persons attended the annual Father and Son banquet held at the Morehead high school gymnasium last Thursday evening. This is the largest number to attend this banquet in recent years.

Walter Price, Morehead high principal, gave the welcome address. Charles and Harold Caudill, both seniors, gave interesting talks on appropriate subjects. Officers for the coming year were elected.

Green Hand and Chapter Farmer pins were awarded. A plaque was presented Harold Caudill for scholastic achievements and one was presented Harold Dean for farming achievement. Gale McGuire, winner of the pest eradication contest, was given $10, donated by the C. E. Bishop Drug Company. James Crawford, second place winner in the contest, was presented $7.50, donated by the Monarch Supply Store, while Chennault James, third place winner, was presented $5, donated by the Rowan County F.F.A. Chapter.

This banquet was sponsored by the Rowan County F.F.A. Chapter and the meal was prepared and served by the Morehead high school F.H.A. girls.

Southern States HYBRID CORN

... Leads the way to Greater Yields

The use of hybrids has increased corn yields by as much as 5 bushels per acre in the past few years. Southern States Cooperative has taken leadership in developing high yielding hybrid seed adapted to this territory.

Southern States Hybrids incorporate the finer qualities of the chosen varieties from which they are developed. Higher germination and closer grading make them go farther in your planter and result in even, weather-resisting stands.

Southern States Hybrids pay off at harvest time with high yields and the uniform stalks and ears that make harvesting easier. Talk over your silage and grain corn plans with us and we will help you choose the hybrid best suited for top yields on your farm.

Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

Few foods have as dainty a flavor as rice; it blends perfectly with most vegetables, cheese, eggs, fruit and milk. Many of the rice recipes depend on boiled or steamed rice as their foundation. One of the first things to master is the art of cooking it so that each grain stands out dry and fluffy.

Boiled Rice
Wash the rice in cold water several times. Have ready boiling water—3 times as much water as rice—adding 1 teaspoon salt for each amount of water. Add the rice slowly to the water taking care not to let the water stop boiling. Let cook undisturbed for 25 minutes or until rice is tender. When done, empty the rice in a colander and pour hot water through it until the grains separate. Drain, place the colander in a saucepan. Cover with a clean cloth and let stand on the back of stove 5 to 10 minutes.

Steamed Rice
2 cups raw rice
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
Wash rice and add to the salted water in the top of a rice steamer. Place over the underpart of the steamer which contains boiling water. Steam for 1 hour or until kernels are soft and dry.

New Mexico Rice
1 large onion chopped
1 tablespoon bacon grease
2 cups cooked rice
2 green peppers chopped
2 tablespoons grated cheese
2 tablespoons butter
1 small can tomatoes
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Salt, pepper, paprika.
Fry the onion in the bacon fat, add rice, pepper, cheese, butter, tomatoes, Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and paprika. Stir well and simmer on top of stove for one half hour.

Curry of Veal
1 1/4 pounds veal
1 large onion sliced thin
2 cups tomato juice
1 1/2 teaspoons curry powder
Scute the onion slices in 2 tablespoons margarine, add the meat which has been well floured and cover the skillet for 10 minutes. Add 1 tablespoon of onion juice, curry powder and tomato juice. Simmer covered until the meat is well cooked and seasoned to taste. If necessary thicken the gravy slightly. Serve with cooked rice.

Fried Rice
Pack boiled rice firmly into a loaf pan and chill. Slice, fry in butter or margarine. Serve under creamed chicken or creamed chipped beef.

Rice Delight
1 lb. pork sausage
2 cups cooked rice
1 can tomato juice
1 small onion grated
1/2 cup melted cheese
Fry the sausage until done, add the cooked rice and mix well. Grease baking dish and put in a layer of sausage mixture. Cover with a layer of grated onion and another layer of sausage mixture. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Pour cream and tomato sauce. Bake in a moderate oven for 1 hour.

Turkish Delight
2-3 cup rice
1 cup bnter
1 can tomato soup
1 cup whole cooked shrimp
Cayenne
1-4 cup mayonnaise
Cook the rice. Melt the butter in frying pan, add the rice and cook three minutes. Add the tomato soup, shrimp and cayenne. Fold in the mayonnaise just before serving. Serve hot.

Cheese and Rice Croquets
1 pound soft cheese
2 cups cold boiled rice
tablespoons melted butter
1 egg, salt and pepper
Add egg, butter, salt and pepper to rice and mix well. Form cheese into small balls. Cover these with rice mixture. Flatten sides. Dip in fine crumbs, beaten egg and again in crumbs. Fry in hot deep fat. Serve with cheese sauce.

Wage conservation is one of the interests of the Committee for Kentucky, which is one of many reasons why the Committee reserves your financial as well as moral support.

Most chamber of commerce managers probably will tell you that the apert had them in mind when he wrote "He travels fastest who travels alone." Certainly there are few in the factory snarling profession in Kentucky who have not had their best plans gummed up by boards of directors composed of businessmen or industrialists with narrow minds or axes to grind.

The most successful secretary I know about accepted his job only on condition that he be given authority to act alone, free from interference by individual members of the organization. After completing negotiations with a manufacturing concern to locate in his city, he would go back to the organization with a request for whatever cash he needed to clinch the deal.

What happens when there are too many persons in authority is illustrated by this story:
A farmer dropped in at a small city bank to get a check cashed. The cashier, an old friend who knew him to be solvent and trustworthy, asked the farmer if he raised many cattle.

"Not many," the farmer replied. "I sell most of my feed."
"How much grazing land have you?"
"Oh, a couple of hundred acres, I guess."
"You have a good set-up for beef cattle raising. Why don't you let us lend you ten thousand dollars to buy cattle? Marketing your farm stock on the hoof is better than hauling it to grain elevators."

The farmer pondered the idea for a few days and came back to the bank with ten thousand dollars, half the sum the cashier wanted to lend him. The banker said the board of directors would meet later in the day and he would submit the request to them.
The farmer knew the bank's directors, and devoted the interim to calling on them and explaining his proposed dip into the livestock raising business. Every one of them congratulated him. The idea was fine.

But when they got together the directors were dubious. One or two of them wondered out

BY EDWIN SALLOWAY

Back in 1933, after an absence of thirteen years from the state, I was driving through some backward villages and run-down farming districts with Sherman Melton, high ranking engineer in the coal mining world and practical philosopher. On a tour of half a dozen of his company's mines in Union and Hopkins counties, I had an opportunity to see conditions that had changed little since Melton and I were school kids together at Dixie village.

"Why," I asked him, "doesn't Kentucky keep abreast of the more progressive states?"
"Too few Kentuckians want better things and are willing to work hard to get them."

If you can give me a better answer in one sentence, I'll gladly use it in this weekly column.
In recent articles about motor vehicle registration, I've looked one important provision of the penal code affecting court fees in traffic violation cases. Justices of the peace get a percentage of fines collected in their courts. So, when a motorist is arrested for a traffic offense and taken before a justice of the peace, he feels that the third strike is already in the catcher's mitt. This does not mean that any particular magistrate does not try to be fair in all cases. But I know that if the legislature that enacted the law had had a keen sense of fairness and respect for sound court procedure, it never would have made justices of the peace profit financially by their decisions.

Friends of the Land, a national organization with headquarters at 1508 North High Street, Columbus, Ohio, gives us these interesting paragraphs on water conservation:

"Businessmen and industrialists are beginning to realize that water is not only essential to agriculture; it is perhaps even more essential to industry. In many large areas of the country the water table is sinking and even disappearing. As a rule, the water table means the level at which abundant water is found for industrial as well as domestic use. Failure to catch and hold the water that falls on the fields, forests and plains through lack of proper agricultural practices is the cause of this condition which is endangering many industries in widespread areas throughout the land."
"In the great Mill Creek industrial area in Cincinnati, the underground water table has dropped, just as much as 123 feet in some places in the last 25 years. In the state of Ohio the water table has dropped an average of one foot a year for 25 years. This condition is not a special

Letters To The Editor

topographical maps of areas of considerable development. The planners will aided material, too, by Government aerial maps that have been ordered and instruments we are attempting to secure with which to read those maps more thoroughly.

In view of all these things and conditions, I do not now see how we can complete any vacation facilities in time to use this summer, or develop any extensive new intensive day-use areas; though our staff will give all the time they possibly can to planning them so as to get them under construction at the earliest possible moment.

In the meanwhile we will do some work about the caves, such as is required or desirable for picnicking in that area, and conducive to the comfort and pleasure of visitors.

As I believe is quite generally understood, available money will be sufficient only for a limited number of vacation cabins. We hope to build small, though modern, tent and trailer camping grounds; but any hotels will have to await further Legislative appropriation or the issuance of revenue bonds. There was a movement on foot to issue joint bonds covering hotel and other facilities in some six State Parks, including Carter Caves. It finally developed that such method of joint bond issue is not permitted under the law that specifically states that a bond issue can be for one park only and that proceeds from that bond issue cannot be spent in any other park. Personally, I believe that this is a question that a modern lodge in Carter Caves State Park will be profitable investment for the State and that such an issue on Carter Caves alone will bring a good price and a low rate of interest. As soon as development plans for the entire area have been decided upon, I believe that an effort might well be made to erect a lodge there through issuance of revenue bonds; but not before.

The ever increasing cost of building, unless there is a change in the trend, will limit the amount of construction we can do. The very tight position of iron and steel pipe and most every item that enters into the construction of water works may delay still further than we now expect the development of vacation facilities.

We will, however, immediately take steps to provide additional and improved temporary picnicking facilities in immediate cave area, and do some landscaping there to make it all more attractive.

I regret exceedingly that I cannot at this time make a better report than this. State Park Planning is, frankly, a much bigger undertaking and requires more time than I thought when I made the first estimates of what we might accomplish this year. There are many and varied details that require exacting inquiry and much thought and consideration, and first considerations do not always bring satisfactory conclusions. To change the plan is of small consequence, but when carried to the construction stage the change will be costly and could be easily too costly for the park to overcome in years. We are determined to avoid as far as possible any such planning delays at Carter Caves or any other Kentucky State Park so long as we are connected with them. We propose to make no permanent commitments until we know it will fit into the final plans of the whole; we will submit plans as they approach the final stage to the Nature Park Service for review and suggestions by their experienced State Park planners, and where there is any doubt in our minds other authorities will be consulted. Only in this way can we be assured of having State Parks that will meet most fully the needs of our people.

We are, indeed, quite anxious to build Carter Caves State Park; but we are more anxious that its development be the best possible whether we or our successors do the building. We are determined that our planning be as perfect as possible, and believe that better planning will justify any delay it may cause. We are committed that the State and the Parks will get full dollar value for every dollar we spend. Money will not be spent for the sake of spending money.

We are just little concerned

over the reservations retained in one of the old deeds to the Laurel Cave property. Though we believe the Courts will uphold the State's contention that the reservation is no longer operative, because for so many years the cave has been operated by owners of the land without objections by the persons making the reservations or their heirs; never the less we believe the title should be cleared of every cloud before any major developments are undertaken. However, this has not caused any delay whatever in our planning.

Because questions have been raised regarding our efforts at Carter Caves, as might well have been expected, I have made these statements as complete and as frankly as I know how. I invite suggestions from you and your associates, as well as from anyone else interested in Carter Caves, at any time. I appreciate quite thoroughly the assistance your Board has been to me already, and thank you most sincerely. I think I have never worked with any group of men more deeply interested in a project than you have been in Carter Caves, and our associations have been most pleasant and enjoyable. I shall attempt to keep you informed from time to time on the progress we are making, which I trust will be increasingly more satisfactory. With kind regards, I am

Very sincerely

In FASHION now

Collars are getting away from the neck on evening and some day dresses. Good boning and fine dressmaking keep strapless bodices up. Butterfly sleeves are right and overskirts balloon over slim skirts to give a harem or tulip effect.

Designers are pushing the ankle-length evening frock. Although waistlines are lowered in some of the new dresses, the dresses fit into the natural waistline.

Interest is still seen in the back of skirts and jackets. Shoulders are more natural and not so padded or square.

Busher President Truman has signed legislation extending Government controls over the use and production of rubber until March 31, 1948. The measure, however, ended Government purchasing natural rubber at midnight, Standard Time, April 1, 1947.

BABY WITH TEETH . . . Chesley Paul Strecker, 18 months, has 16 normal and shiny ivories. His Dad, Henry, a Chicago barber, says Paul now tips the scale at 25 pounds, a gain of 18 pounds.

Beads and rhinestones are used on evening jackets and on some of the evening frocks.

Miss Flannery Becomes Bride of Mr. Haney

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Flannery of Morehead announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean, to James William Haney, son of Mrs. Dorothy Haney of Smith, which took place at 4 o'clock on Easter Sunday afternoon at the Morehead Baptist Church, with Rev. Buell H. Kazez officiating. Spring flowers, fern and white tapers in candelabra decorated the church. Miss Sue Woods and Janet Patrick presented a program of organ music. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a wedding gown of white silk with a fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder length veil fell from a halo covered with white silk like the material of her dress. She carried a white prayer book, topped with a gardenia from which fell white satin streamers entwined with lovely knots. Miss Lucretia Flannery, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink silk dress and pink hat with a shoulder length veil matching that of the bride. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Bennie Haney served as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Flannery wore for her daughter's wedding, a navy dress and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Haney, mother of the groom, wore navy and a corsage of pink roses. The bride and groom left for a short wedding trip to Cincinnati and other parts of Ohio, and will make their home in Rowan County. Mrs. Haney has been recently employed as clerical assistant in the Extension office in Morehead, and the groom farms in Rowan County. Weds Nebraska Girl Easter lilies and pussy-willows, pedestals, baskets, and lighted candles in seven-branched candelabra formed the background for the marriage of Miss Margaret Frances Sluiter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sluiter, Lincoln, Nebraska, to Glennis R. Porter, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Porter, Morehead, which solemnized at 3:00 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon, March 30 at the Elm Park Methodist Church in Lincoln. The Rev. Albert W. Laphorne read the lines in the presence of two hundred and fifty guests.

Preceding the ceremony, Max O. McCamley sang "Because" and "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Miss Hilda Chovins who also played the wedding music. Miss Maxine V. Porter, Morehead, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor. Miss Porter was frocked in pink marquisette styled with a V neck and short puffed sleeves, in a fitted bodice and full skirt. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. The bridesmaid, Miss Anna Greta Sorenson wore a frock of blue marquisette, also fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt, heartshaped neckline and puffed sleeves. Miss Sorenson carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Elmo Strickler served as Mr. Porter's best man and the ushers were Edmond Chum, Meyer Utsoka and D. E. Rosmusson. The bride, given in marriage by her father, appeared in a gown of white brocaded Japanese silk, sent from Japan by the bridegroom. Designed with a closely fitted bodice, the gown had a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which ended in points over the hands. Her veil of bridal illusion was fingertip length ornamented with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of orchids sent from Hawaii by a friend of the family. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. Mrs. Porter is a former student of the University of Nebraska. Mr. Porter graduated from Morehead High School and attended Morehead College. He served in the Army Air Corps three years. Since his discharge he has been attending Lincoln Aviation Institute. Mr. and Mrs. Porter will reside in Superior, Nebraska.

The secretary, Joyce Kiseck called the roll, each one answering by telling his favorite vegetable. The group in songs. After the 4-H meeting a style show was held in the gym. In Mrs. Mae Calvert's group, Norman Arthur Fielding, Joyce Kiseck, second, and Phyllis Stampfer, third. Clayton, Holtzclaw Are Members of Pershing Rifles Members of the University of Kentucky Pershing Rifles, military organization, including two from Morehead, participated in the recent ground-breaking ceremony for the University's new $200,000 Memorial Auditorium Field House. Local students who took part in the ceremony are James W. Clayton Jr. and Harold W. Holtzclaw. The program was preceded by a parade featuring the Pershing Rifles, crack drill unit of the University's ROTC, and the marching band. Hintons Arrive in England After Strenuous Trip According to word received by friends here, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Hinton and children, Wanda and Ned, who sailed for England on March 26, arrived at the home of their parents in Wellingsborough after an 11-day trip. Storms the entire time made it a very engine trip. At one time the engine on the ship broke down and they were forced to wait a day for it to be repaired, without heat, lights or food, except bread and cheese. Mr. Hinton is working in a garage owned by Mrs. Hinton's uncle. Later he will drive truck, delivering merchandise.

Mrs. Tolliver improving From Recent Attack

Mrs. H. B. Tolliver, who became seriously ill while en route to Miami, Fla., was taken to a hospital in Orlando, Fla. She was believed to be suffering from a heart attack but X-rays proved it to be gallstones. She is improving, according to latest reports. Mrs. Tolliver was accompanied by Mr. Tolliver and Dr. and Mrs. John Clay. Former Morehead Residents Celebrate at Lexington, Ohio Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson, Lexington, Ohio, celebrated their 31st wedding anniversary Sunday at the home of their son, Edward Wilson, also of Lexington. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer White and children, Wanda Lou and John Paul, Mr. Healthy, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Phillips and daughter, Patty, Dayton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilson, Mansfield, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. E. Wilson and children, Joe and Gerry, Lexington, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Conn and daughter, Betty Lillian, Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Corinne Wilson, Lexington, and W. D. Christian, Morehead. Sunday marked the first get-together of the Wilson family in six years. A lovely dinner was served and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson received many nice gifts. The afternoon was spent making pictures. Mr. Wilson and son, Edward, turned music on the bandjo and guitar. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson moved from Morehead to Lexington two years ago. Pfc. Levi Sparks Serving With Airborne Division Pfc. Levi Sparks Jr. of Morehead was now serving with the 457th Parachute Field Artillery Battalion of the 11th Airborne Division Artillery. His unit is located in the city of Honolulu on the island of Honahu, Japan. Sparks enlisted in the Army in June of 1946, and received his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky. While at Fort Knox he volunteered for the paratroopers and was sent to Fort Benning, Ga., where after a strenuous course he qualified as a paratrooper. Upon arrival overseas in March he was assigned to the 457th. Prior to entry in the service, Sparks worked on a meat packing house but when discharged, he plans to start farming. His father, Pfc. Sparks, lives on Route 2, Morehead. Attend Dinner At Ashland Among the Morehead people who attended the Jefferson Day dinner Friday at the Henry Clay Hotel in Ashland were O. M. Lyoh, Glenn W. ## FHA Works To Improve School Lunches

The Morehead High chapter of the Future Homemakers of America has been working to improve lunch habits of the children in the elementary grades. This project is a continuation of the work started last year to work with lunch habits of the children in Rowan County.

Exhibits and illustrated talks were given to all of the children in the first seven grades of the Morehead Consolidated school. These illustrated the effect on health of eating balanced lunches and developing good food habits. Children in the first and third grades were given parties as a reward for improving their lunch habits. One of these was a "Mexican Christmas Party," given in December and the other an Easter Egg Hunt given last Friday. Children winning prizes for eating the best lunches for a definite length of time were: First grade: Lois DeHart, first; Junior Proffitt and Clydia Carter, second; Gerald Marshall, third. Second grade: Faye Palfrey, first; Marcella Flannery, second; Lois Ann Dean, third, and Harold Tackett, fourth.

Members of the F.H.A. chapter who carried out these activities were Virginia Flannery, Evelyn Brewer, Judith Caskey, Betty Stewart, Bernice Palfrey, Lois Bailey, Martha Alice Curtis, LeReda Hardin and Hazel Johnson.

Thompson Hall Men Give Bicycle to Janitor Hamilton

This is the finest present I ever received, Jim Hamilton, holding handlebars told Dean Jesse Mays and Thompson Hall men when they presented him with a new bicycle.

Jim Hamilton, 54 year old janitor at Thompson Hall dormitory for men at the Morehead State Teachers College, is just about the happiest man in the world today.

Hamilton has been walking two miles to and from his home each day for three years to Thompson Hall, and he has never been late on the job. The 150 men who reside in the hall wanting to show their appreciation for the many small favors and considerations that "Jim" had always shown them, made up a jack-pot and presented him with a brand new bicycle. "Jim" was so overcome when the presentation was made that he could not stop the big tears from streaming down his face.

"At first all he could say was 'Thank all you boys.' Later he made them a 'little speech' in which he urged them 'to make good use of the opportunity they have in college.'"

"Get your education while you are young," he said. "You have a wonderful opportunity now, so don't let it pass you by."

Jim said that the bicycle was the best present he had ever received. His wife has been ill for some time and Jim said that he could ride back and forth now, and have more time to be with her.

Jim is something more than a janitor at Thompson Hall. He knows just about the class schedule of every man that lives in the dormitory, and if one over-sleeps Jim can generally be found at his door in time to awaken him. Or, if they need extra help in cleaning their room, or any one of a hundred other favors that they generally need, Jim is always ready to lend his assistance, and every Thompson Hall man's trouble is Jim's concern, whether it be a love affair or scholastic difficulties.

Every boy that lives in the dormitory has received Jim's advice to "not get married until you've got your degree."

HOUSEWIVES BE SAVING WITH YOUR SUGAR

Mrs. Evelyn Sinclair, Home Demonstration Agent, would like to urge homemakers to begin saving sugar for canning now.

In the past OPA issued stamps at intervals for regular uses and at canning time, issued canning sugar stamps. Under the new system, 10 pounds are allowed under one stamp instead of the previous 4 or 5 pounds. But the 10-pound stamp includes the ration for both household and canning sugar. One such stamp becomes available April 1. It has to last until July 1. Another will be available July 1 and is good until Oct. 1. Provided supplies permit continuation on the present basis, the stamp for the last quarter of the year will also be for 10 pounds. If no special canning sugar stamps will be issued. Last year the total per-person sugar ration was 25 pounds. This year it is 35 pounds. Considerable newspaper publicity was given to this. It is felt that unless consumers are cautioned that the 10-pound stamp is for both home and canning sugar, many will use up their supply for ordinary household purposes and find themselves short when the time comes to do some home canning.

Jim Hamilton, who is something more than a janitor at Thompson Hall, is shown here with his new bicycle, the present of the men who reside in the dormitory.

Tiddbits Of Kentucky Folklore

Today, in teaching a Sunday School class of men, I used an illustration of finicky rules the infinite variety of rules that we used to have in country schools. I mentioned, too, the apparent feeling that a switching was good for nearly everything that ailed growing youngsters. One of my listeners, a student of mine, over, challenged a group of us near his age by saying that he would almost bet he was the only one that had never had a whipping in a country school. I took him up. I too, failed to make just that distinction, though I must have stayed after school or stood in a corner many times, now gladly forgotten. We talked about why this distinction failed to materialize for us. My friend felt that the certainty of a repetition of the school whipping after he got home with interest, greatly deterred him from running amok. I feel that the spectacle of the other fellows getting lickings had a deep moral effect on me. I know now that many of the boys who took their medicine so calmly really were heroes to themselves and to the rest of us. In my childhood I fancied that they were totally wicked and might have to sizzle in the hereafter as well as smart in the here for breaking the school rules. The bad boys whom we thought, in the past, were heroes, I have done pretty well as citizens, only a few of them have kept up their irresponsibility and are today, though middle-aged, just the same spoiled brats that they were in the G. N. Nineties. As a teacher who has lived through many waves of fads, I often find myself wondering at the philosophy of the old-time school. We expected rigidity and usually got it. The parents were sold to the idea of discipline (pronounced on the second syllable always). Most of us were told, rather cold-bloodedly, that if we got a licking at school, we would get another one at home. And most of us, through fear of our parents or fear of the hereafter, behaved quite well. The dare-devils who broke all the rules really had some poetry about them, for they were not satisfied with a static world where everything regulated. To take a licking at the hands of the teacher and to show the marks she made on you was one of the few chances some of my schoolmates ever had to be in the limelight. Just how bad we were, and how much good did the constant emphasis on discipline accomplish, I cannot say, but I incline to believe that most of the discipline was a temper in the pot. Some of the teachers I had were practically modern, in that they never tried to scare us, but practiced common sense in dealing with youngsters, and sometimes actually ignored what brats did to attract attention and maybe punishment. Some of the patrons were afraid that these teachers had gone crazy and that the school would walk away with them, but again I must tell the truth and say that these were modern teachers were the best I had, the ones I love to remember forty or fifty years later. It is not easy for the people to get out of their heads that humanity is hard to drive. Reformers, at Fidelity and elsewhere, often felt that getting a law on a statute book would solve most of our human ills. Many a man boasted in other years of his hair he had reared his children to fear the hickory, some of them scolded grown children that were in no sense a credit to that or any other parental philosophy. About the worst offender in a community way, if you think of his irregular morals, always aired out his philosophy as a parent, sometimes while he was too drunk to ride his mule back to his shack. It would not be fair for me to sit in the corner's seat and say that I was about as old-time emphasis on regulating everything. In my schools in 1907, 1900, and 1909 I held a tight hand and fairly sailed into of founders was painfully old in those days for a fellow who had never voted. I wanted to be known as much older than I was and also wished to be praised for the strict way in which I ran my schools. I know now that I failed miserably and have regretted to forget some of the offenses against common sense that I perpetrated almost daily. And yet, I was praised by my patrons for my discipline (still accentuated on the second syllable).
