Youth's Condition Good Following Fall At Pool

A seven-year-old Morehead boy is reported in good condition at St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington where he was admitted Monday afternoon following a freak accident at the swimming pool in Morehead Recreation Park. Mike Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Michael Price of 630 Knapp Avenue, sustained a fractured skull and a cut on an arm when he fell from the high dive at the pool about 3:35 p.m. Monday. He remained in the intensive care unit at St. Joseph Hospital until early Tuesday. Pool Director Mike Miller said the youth was on the diving board when the fall occurred. He said the child apparently lost his balance when looking back prior to attempting to go off the board. Director Miller reported the youth, after losing his balance, went through the rail and hit the concrete deck around the pool. Miller explained that the Red Cross trained personnel at the swimming pool applied compresses to stop the bleeding through the rail and hit the concrete deck around the pool. He was taken to St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead where he was treated and then transferred to the Lexington hospital. According to Pool Director Miller, young Price remained conscious while at the pool. Miller said, "I talked with Mike on the phone Tuesday afternoon from his hospital bed." The Pool Director said he called the youth from Morehead. A complete recovery is anticipated for young Price, according to Miller. He said the youth sustained no broken bones and the only cut was on an arm. The youth is a student at University Bridge School.

Meeting Of Plant Board Set Tonight

The Morehead Utility Plant Board will meet in special session tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 at the Plant Board Office at 109 Bishop Avenue. The meeting was called by Plant Board Chairman C.M. Perkins for the purposes of: - Discussing and acting on wages and salaries for employees of the Utility Plant Board. - Opening bids for purchase of pipe and materials for extension of water main service under Kentucky High No. 32, said bids having been advertised to be opened on July 8, 1976. - Such other business as may come before the meeting. All meetings of the Plant Board are open to the public.

Council To Review Sewage Controversy

Morehead Mayor C.B. Cornett was obviously pleased today that the federal government, through the Environmental Protective Agency (EPA) has approved a $339,095 grant for planning and design (engineering) a sewerage system and treatment plant for the city. But, the Mayor said he, and some members of Council, are "extremely disappointed" with the proposal of the Utility Plant Board, subsidiary of city government, and with the work, policies and delay of the consulting engineers, Howard K. Bell Company of Lexington. Notice of approval of the $339,095 planning grant came in the form of a telephone call Thursday to the Mayor from 7th district congressman Carl D. Perkins. The Mayor said, "Bell Engineers have had over two years, and insofar as I can determine they've accomplished little toward preparing the blueprint specifications etc. for the sewerage system." Mayor Cornett said it was his understanding that the utility plant board paid the Bell Company around $80,000 last year, and are paying them $200 a month this year. The utility plant board, headed by Chairman Clark Perkins, entered into an agreement in early 1975 for engineering and design. Bell's remuneration was to be around 1.56 per cent of the cost of the project. The utility plant board lacks the final authority to approve such contracts as this must be done under law, by Council, in May. Last month the Council meeting three weeks ago Mayor Cornett resigned and left the meeting. Council later told the Morehead News: "I'm going to fight this thing to the finish because I know I am right." He stressed, as have Morehead News editorials, that the future growth and progress of the Morehead community depends on solving the sewerage problem. Cornett's primary objection has been, "the utility plant board keeps on paying the Bell company, but the Bell company has been dragging its feet for over two years, with the possible danger that the city will be left out of any EPA construction grants." EPA is authorized to approve a grant for up to 75 per cent of the cost, exclusive of rights-of-way and some other costs. The city has employed Attorney George I. Cline to secure options for rights-of-way for main lines along the north fork and the south fork of Triplett, leading to a large treatment plant near Bluestone. At Monday's Council meeting, a motion was made by Keith Kappes and seconded by Randall Wells that the city file a test case in the Rowan Circuit Court as to the validity of the May, 1974 contract with Bell Engineers. City Attorney Budd B. Salyer pointed out that such a civil action might result in several months delay and endanger the entire project. Kappes then withdrew his motion. Perusing the complicated and voluminous controversy, the Morehead News came up with the following policy facets: 1. Is the May, 1974 contract with Bell Engineers legal in view of EPA's ruling that such agreements must be on a dollar and cents basis instead of a percentage of the overall cost? And, in this connection if the City ruled the Bell contract void that delay would result that could endanger the EPA grant application? Further, other engineering companies would be reluctant to negotiate in the future if the law suit by Bell Cornett said, "Qualified (water) engineering firms have advised me they can complete the plans in 90 days. But Bell has done little in over two years." 2. Bell Engineers advised Council that all planning and design they had done is "their property" and did not belong to the city. This statement obviously infuriated the Mayor who said, "The utility plant board paid for them and own 'whatever Bell has done.'" 3. The change in planning. Originally, the city planned that the sewerage system cover all of the property within the present city limits, and also the entire north and south forks of Triplett. On Monday the proposal was to provide sewerage, disposal and treatment to the east city limits, about two miles east of the Holiday Inn, and on the south fork from near the Big Perry Road. Also included in the initial planning was the entire watershed, including Clearfield, Morgan Fork, and many out-of-town subdivisions such as Green Valley Acres, Lakeview, Hill 'N Dale etc. The Bell Company claimed EPA would not approve connectors etc. for these areas outside the city limits. The Mayor maintains that EPA can and will make such a grant. 4. Did the Howard K. Bell Company try to re-negotiate the contract in good faith? Cornett obviously thinks they did not, and added, "We could get plans that are fully acceptable within 90 days from another qualified company." The Mayor said the Bell company "keeps stalling and collecting our money." 5. Lack of communication between the Mayor and Council, and the Utility Plant Board. Throughout the procedures there is a decided and definite pattern that the utility board deals with Bell, and perhaps others, and Council is not informed of such agreements or discussions. (Under Kentucky statutes, the Utility Plant Board members are recommended by the Mayor, and approved by Council. The utility board operates the natural gas, water and sewerage system, but policy procedures must be approved by Council such as rate changes, loans, grant applications and the like.) Boiled down, Cornett and members of

Fouch Files Suit Seeking $700,000

Morehead City Councilman Hezia McDaniel, his wife and parents were named in a civil suit filed Monday in Rowan Circuit Court by Kenneth Ray Fouch and his wife, Rhonda Fouch. The suit stems from a shooting incident on April 6 in Morehead's Tolliver Addition when Fouch sustained a gunshot wound to the chest. Hezia Fouch was indicted by the Rowan grand jury May 17 on two counts of assault in the first degree in connection with the shooting, is scheduled for trial in Rowan Circuit Court on his occupation, operating charges. The charges stem from the shooting incident April 6. Fouch is seeking a judgment against Hezia McDaniel in the amount of $700,000, and for judgment against Flossie McDaniel for the present market value of Lots No. 38 and 37 in Tolliver Addition and 15 feet of lot No. 39 in Tolliver Addition, as well as the fair rental value of said properties, up to date of trial, judgment, and satisfaction of judgments. Plaintiff Rhonda Fouch seeks judgment against Hezia McDaniel for $100,000, and for judgment against Flossie McDaniel on the basis that she joined the association, companionship and consortium of her husband, Kenneth Fouch, following his injury. The civil action filed by the Fouch couple stated that Kenneth Ray Fouch required 81 days of hospitalization, "causing great mental and physical pain and suffering, complete inability to carry on his occupation, personal life, and normal bodily functions, causing to date medical and hospital bills in the amount of $30,000, and causing permanent injury and loss of capacity to earn money." The suit contends that Hezia McDaniel and his wife, Letha McDaniel, on or about May 24 conveyed properties located in the Tolliver Addition to his parents, Jesse McDaniel and Flossie McDaniel, and that the conveyances "were and are fraudulent as to the rights of the plaintiffs and were made in an effort to defeat the rights of the plaintiffs and to said properties." The plaintiffs request judgment should the plaintiffs receive judgment against the defendant Hezia McDaniel. The plaintiffs, Kenneth Ray and Rhonda Fouch request in the suit that the property transfers be set aside.

Agenda For City Council Released

A special called session of Morehead City Council will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 19, at 200 Heritage Place. Items to be considered at the meeting are: - Engineering proposal for sewer project. - Limit of new debt city may incur. - Opening street paving bids. - Amendment to occupational and business net profits tax ordinance. - Personnel matters.

CATCHES RATTLER... Raymond Johnson is pictured with an Eastern diamond back rattler snake which he caught early this week on Presty Ridge in the Clack Mountain area of Rowan County. The 36-year-old biologist operator catches snakes as a hobby. The serpent above is over five feet long and as large around as a man's arm. Johnson intends to have it stuffed and mounted if he can find someone to do it. A friend, Marcia Brown, was with Johnson when the snake was caught. It has six rattlers on it, but some were torn off as he dragged it through bushes, according to Johnson. He caught two other rattler snakes and a copperhead during the past week.

Carroll Appoints Moreheadians To Coal Aid Board

Paul Blair, a Morehead attorney, and Sherman Arnett, with the Department of Financial Aid at Morehead State University, have been appointed by Gov. Julian Carroll to Kentucky's Coal Severance Economic Aid Board. The Moreheadians will serve as appointees to the board from Rowan County. Gov. Carroll named appointees to each of the 45 Coal Severance Economic Aid Boards in the state's coal-producing counties. The terms of the board members will expire Jan. 1, 1980. In addition to the board members appointed by Gov. Carroll, other board members are the county judge, the mayor of each county's largest city and a member selected by the school board or boards in each county. Eugene White was selected Saturday as the member from the Rowan County school board. The 1976-77 state budget, recommended by the governor and approved by the Kentucky General Assembly, allotted $5 million to the fund which is administered by a five-member board in each of the 45 coal producing counties. This two-year, $10 million fund goes only to the coal counties. The Coal Severance Economic Aid Boards will determine the uses of the money. The formula that governs the distribution of this direct "flow through" money is: Each county

Library Has Documents Of Local Interest

Morehead State University Johnson Camden Library has received a series of documents of interest to history buffs in the Morehead area.

The materials relate to the establishment and operation of a Civilian Conservation Corps Camp (CCC) in Rowan County area during the Depression years. The Camp which offered public employment to young men first was located on private land in Clearfield and later moved to an area in the Daniel Boone National Forest, east of Morehead, where it continued operation through 1941.

The documents include information about persons assigned to the camp and the projects in which they were involved.

Another series of documents traces the history of the mural in the main lobby of the Morehead Post Office.

The painting which adorns the lobby wall is not the original which was done in 1939. The first was installed with a faulty adhesive and later fell from the wall. Damaged beyond repair, it had to be discarded.

After efforts over a period of nearly two years, Morehead postmaster W. E. Crutcher arranged to have another mural prepared and installed. Frank Long of Berea, an artist of national reputation, did both murals for which he was paid a total of $760.

In the 30th presidential elections held from 1852 to 1968, the Republican candidate won 17 times and the Democratic 13 times.

Council —

Council, attributed the existing controversy mostly over this lack of communication.

The Mayor says that if Morehead corrected the "horrendous" sewage problem within the city limits "we would still be surrounded by bubbly cess pools, mostly created by septic tanks and the health problem would not be alleviated." He says that is the reason he has stuck by "the full area" plan, which covers the watersheds of the two forks of Triplett creek.

Bell Engineers have said they can complete the plans and designs by the first of the year if the city re-negotiates the contract as they (Bell) propose.

The news media has been served notice that a special session of Council will be held next Monday (July 19) at 7:30 p.m. at Heritage Place for the sole purpose of re-reviewing the Bell contract.

Cornett said he would fight to the last ditch for "the full area plan" even though the Bell Company has recommended that it be modified to serve only homes and businesses within the Morehead city limits.

Members of Council, all elected to serve until January, 1978, are: Keith Kappes, Randall Wells, Roy Anderson, Marvin Moore, Hezia McDaniel and Lee Casper. (Casper accepts a job on the Alaska Pipeline and has not attended recent Council sessions).

Members of the Morehead Utility Plant Board, all recommended by Council, are: Clayton Perkins, chairman, Gary Bishop, Warren Cooper, James R. Caudill, and Marvin Moore. The Bell Company's representative, The Bell Company has estimated the cost of the "entire area plan" at around $17 million, and the "serving in-city residents only" at $11 million. In either event the treatment plant near Bluestone is recommended.

receives an amount equal to no more than the total of the severance tax returned from that county, up to a maximum of $10,000. 80 per cent of the remainder shall be distributed to each county by an allocation based on the percentage of the total severance tax paid. The county's poverty level as indicated by per capita income will determine the distribution of the remaining 20 per cent.

A total of $47 million that returns to the counties from the severance tax was produced in Gov. Carroll's current budget.

Each county board is required to hold meetings open to the general public for the purpose of taking recommendations for projects financed out of the Coal Severance Economic Aid Fund.

STEAK ON EYE NO HELP LONDON—Putting beefsteak on a black eye is useless, the British Medical Association says. Any success from the practice comes from the fact that the steak acts as a wet compress.

Sticker Law Repealed; Dorans Recognized

Morehead's city sticker ordinance was repealed Monday night by City Council after it was determined that the City could operate within the confines of its budget without the estimated $31,000 revenue produced annually from the sticker sales.

The sticker ordinance was adopted by Council on July 2, 1969. During those seven years, many citizens have complained that the sticker was not a fair means of taxation because of lack of enforcement.

Stickers would have expired Aug. 31. The cost was $10 per vehicle.

With the new one per cent payroll and net profits tax enacted by the City, which became effective July 1, an additional $250,000 in revenue is anticipated by the municipal governing body.

Also during its meeting Monday night, Council adopted a resolution in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Adron Doran naming them honorary Mayor and Honorary First Lady of the City of Morehead, respectively.

The document honoring the retiring Morehead State University President and First Lady expressed gratitude to the Dorans for their significant contributions to the educational, cultural, social and spiritual growth of the Morehead area.

The resolution explained that the Dorans have brought regional, state, national and international recognition to the City of Morehead as the home of Morehead State University through their personal and professional accomplishments during the past 22 years as President and First Lady of the University.

Council also took action pertaining to public use of the old city dump property on Flemingsburg Road (Ky. 32) connector. An ordinance was passed to close the site and the ordinance states that persons who go upon, uses, or trespass upon the property shall be guilty of trespass and fined not less than $10 nor more than $100.

Danny Blevins, Director of Public Works, has been directed to erect "no trespassing" signs around the boundaries of the old dump property in conspicuous locations, as well as a chain or other appropriate barrier to prevent the entry of motor vehicles onto the property.

No bids were received on the advertisement for bids for a 1976 pickup truck. Council voted to accept sealed bids on a 1977 model pickup through close of business July 23. Specifications may be obtained from the City. Bids should be submitted to Don Evans, city administrator.

Blanchard Thomas was employed to the new position of city mechanic. Brenda Plets was hired as secretary to the new director of finance, Phillip Tackett. Hired as patrolmen in the Police Department were Lloyd Oakley, Fred Barnsdale and Charles Adams. They were employed on a six-month probation period.

Council voted to appropriate $3,500 for operating and equipment costs for the Morehead-Rowan County Civil Defense Unit. The governing board also decided to request Morehead State University for state assistance in buying a $50,000 pumper truck for the city fire department.

The city's ordinance pertaining to the regulating and controlling of weeds and other vegetation in the city was discussed. Council went on record as stating the ordinance will be strictly enforced. Persons desiring to read the ordinance may do so in the office of City Clerk Corene Castle during the regular business hours at City Hall.

Our Fragile Earth

By Dr. Jerry Howell
 Director of Environmental Studies
 Morehead State University

The last article discussed the plight of our largest mammal, the blue whale. Another example, closer to home, of an animal in trouble is the Bald Eagle.

There are no more than 500 Bald Eagles in the mainland U.S. Our national symbol is in grave danger, although it has maintained and even increased its population in certain areas. Its decline seems to be the result of several factors and the animal seems doomed to extinction, despite massive efforts to educate the public and to provide suitable habitats and conditions for it to thrive.

The major factor in the Bald Eagle's decline seems to be DDT, the insecticide recently banned for most use in the U.S. and other countries, but still in widespread use in others. DDT and the other man-made chemicals known as chlorinated hydrocarbons have been shown to concentrate in animals at the top of the food chain. Man, birds of prey and major predators, such as foxes and mountain lions, concentrate these chemicals in high quantities. This phenomenon is called "biological magnification." The high levels of DDT found in the fatty tissues of birds of prey inhibit certain enzymes responsible for calcium formation. Although high levels of calcium, the birds produce thin eggshells which are weaker than normal and easily broken.

Another factor involved in the Bald Eagle's decline is the loss of nesting sites from October through February, perfering longleaf pine, mangrove and bald cypress trees. Most individuals of the smaller southern subspecies (the northern form is found in Alaska and Canada) nest in Florida, a state not known for preserving its near-water areas with preferred nesting trees.

The U.S. Forest Service does inventories for nesting habitats. It is obvious because of the nest size, in national forests in Florida and other southern states and protects them from encroachment and cutting. The Bald Eagle has been protected since 1960 but there is nothing to prevent a private landowner from cutting or bulldozing a nesting tree in the way of a subdivision, fishing pier or penny arcade.

The Bald Eagle once nested throughout the U.S. and, eries—the huge typical nests, dotted the countryside. It is now only found in the mid-southern and northern states as an occasional visitor. They are still frequently sighted at the Land Between the Lakes, a near-natural area between Kentucky and Barkley Lake, in western Kentucky and Tennessee and occasionally at other points in the state, but there has not been a documented nesting in Kentucky since the 1950's.

The young Bald Eagle is very similar to the golden eagle because it takes about four years for the white head and tail to develop. This development period is unfortunate because many subadult eagles have been mistakenly shot by hunters unaware of this characteristic. A few adults eagles are also killed each year by people with a disregard for anything that is not manmade.

Rowan County's Cost Of Living Rate Rises

Chip Allen, a recent graduate of Morehead State University has completed a four-month study of the "cost of living" in Rowan County.

Between the middle of the fourth quarter of 1975 and end of the first quarter of 1976 the cost of living in Rowan County rose only 1.24 per cent or at an annual rate of 3.71 per cent, based on the four-month study period. This is slightly below the national rate of inflation.

The Consumer Price Index for Rowan County is composed of 100 items from the broad categories of: food, housing, utilities, transportation, health and recreation and other. The rates of inflation for each category, shown at annual rates, for the four-month study period were: a drop of 23 per cent for food, a rise of 22 per cent for housing, a rise of 7.2 per cent for utilities, a drop of 10.7 per cent for transportation, a drop of 1 per cent for health and recreation and a rise of 9.3 per cent for other goods.

Obviously, the drop in food costs and the increase in housing costs were the most significant items. The overall effect of declines in three categories and increases in three categories resulted in the overall small change in the price level.

The macroeconomics classes at MSU for the past school year participated in the data gathering part of the project. It is currently planned that the cost-of-living project will be continued to inform Rowan Counties of the effect of price changes locally. Dr. Joe Copeland of the Department of Economics will direct the project for the 1976-77 school year.

A special food price index is calculated each month. Using December, 1975, as a base, food prices fell to 93.9 per cent of that level in January, 1976, to 88.6 per cent by March, and rose back to 91.1 per cent of the December level by April. A special survey in March revealed that food prices in Ashland were 8 per cent above the Rowan County level.

U.S. CONSUMES A THIRD WASHINGTON—The United States consumes nearly one-third of all the world's non-food materials. The U.S. per capita consumption rate has increased 400 per cent since 1900, and the nation now imports more than 70 per cent of its aluminum, chromium, manganese, nickel and tin.

CHICAGO ROAD BUSIEST CHICAGO—Chicago's Dan Ryan Expressway is the busiest stretch of U.S. interstate highway. The Illinois Department of Transportation reports. The half-mile stretch between 43rd and 47th Streets had an average daily traffic volume of 54,700 vehicles, 1973 data showed.

Unchipped enamelware and stainless steel saucepans or kettles are probably the best choice for heating pickling liquid. Don't use copper, galvanized brass or iron utensils. These metals may react with salts or acids and cause color changes or form undesirable compounds. Good brining containers are a crock, stone jar, unchipped enamelware, a large glass jar, bowl or casserole. Don't use plastic can liners.

WASH FRUITS & VEGETABLES

Before pickling, wash fruits and vegetables thoroughly in several changes of cold water. Use a vegetable brush to remove soil that clings to cucumbers. Lift fruits and vegetables out of the water each time to keep soil from draining back over them. Handle gently to prevent bruising.

Be sure to remove the blossom end of cucumbers. Otherwise, these could be a source of enzymes responsible for making cucumbers soft during the fermentation process.

DON'T USE OPEN-KETTLE

Many old-time pickle recipes call for open-kettle canning. This means heating the pickles in an open kettle, then filling and sealing the jars without further processing. However, since spoilage organisms could enter the jars when you transfer the food, this method of canning is not considered safe. Don't do it!

PROCESS ALL PICKLED PRODUCTS

For safe keeping and safe eating, process all your pickled foods in a boiling-water-bath canner. This is the only sure way to keep them from spoiling or losing quality. Check your recipe for processing time.

COOLING, SEALING & STORING

After you have allowed the jars of processed pickles or relishes to cool and have checked the seal, store them in a cool, dark, dry place. You need to protect them from light to retain their color and quality. Be sure to store them in a place where there is no danger of freezing. Try to use them up within a year, although they will actually keep much longer than this.

NEW PICKLE PUBLICATION

Stop by the Extension Office at the courthouse for a free copy of our publication on "Making Pickles and Relishes." This old favorite has just been completely revised and brought up to date by UK Extension foods specialists Sue Burrier and Dr. Fudeko Maruyama.

TOP-QUALITY PICKLES

Pickled fruits should be plump, firm but tender, with a spicy sweet-tart taste. Pickled vegetables should be young, tender, crisp and tasty.

Cucumber pickles should be firm, solid, dark olive green and have a translucent, even color.

City, County Federal Revenue Sharing Received

Rep. Carl D. Perkins has announced the amount of federal revenue sharing funds that the City of Morehead and County of Rowan received in the April-May-June quarter of fiscal year 1976. Rowan County received $35,208 this quarter, for a total of $772,280 received by the county since the program began in 1972.

The City received $36,550 this quarter, for a total of $633,955 since the program began.

This quarter's payment is the 16th regular payment of shared funds since the Revenue Sharing Program was started. The U. S. Treasury Department's Office of Revenue Sharing has paid $2.7 billion dollars directly to local government throughout the country since 1972 for projects decided to be high priority on the local level.

The state of Kentucky received a total of $26,746,433 this quarter, for a grand total of $435,754,441 since 1972. A community or county gets funds based on its population, income of the people in the area, and taxes paid by local citizens.

The current revenue sharing law will expire at the end of this year, Rep. Perkins said, but Congress is working on a measure which would renew the program. The House of Representatives has already passed a new bill, and the Senate is expected to start work on its bill soon.

crisp texture, and have the colors of the original vegetables.

Mixed pickles and relishes should be firm, crisp and bright-colored.

USE TESTED RECIPES

To get these kinds of results, use reliable recipes and follow them to the letter. Pickle only fresh, good-quality young fruits and vegetables. Use fresh whole spices and a good standard vinegar, free from sediment.

Use granulated white sugar, unless the recipe calls for brown sugar. Use only coarse pickling salt and soft water for brining.

School Board Meetings Changed To Tuesdays

The regular monthly board meetings of the Rowan County Board of Education have been moved from the second Saturday of each month to the third Monday of each month at 7 p.m. in the Morehead Elementary cafeteria.

Meetings have been at 9 a.m. on the second Saturday for about two years. Prior to then, they were held on the first Saturday. The change was approved by unanimous vote of the board during regular session Saturday.

A special board meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 28, at 7 p.m. at Morehead Elementary cafeteria.

New school Superintendent John Brock was authorized by the Board to confer with Morehead State University personnel and University Breckinridge personnel to determine if legal arrangements can be worked out whereby the Rowan County School system can continue to provide transportation for some of the Breckinridge pupils.

It has been a practice of the county school system to provide bus transportation for some Breck pupils and the legality of the practice was questioned recently by Rowan Education Board members. A recent opinion from the State Attorney General's office stated that no expenditure could constitutionally or statutorily be made by the Rowan County Education Board in connection with transporting Breck pupils. Former Superintendent Bill Francis suggested last month the possibility of an "in-kind" payment from Breck in return for the transportation of the estimated 85 students.

Assistant Rowan Superintendent Kenneth Bland has stated that the Rowan School system does not go out of its way to haul Breck students in from the few blocks between Rowan County High and Breck.

In other action Saturday, the Education Board decided that the duties and responsibilities of the Secretary to the Board be in accordance with current Kentucky Revised Statutes and any additional responsibilities be determined by the Board.

Accepted the resignation of Thurman Blaine Kissick as a maintenance helper.

Accepted the milk bid submitted by Spring Grove Dairy for the 1976-77 school year. Spring Grove was the only firm submitting a bid on milk.

Accepted the Kentucky Educational Television funds on a 90-40 basis with 40 per cent being local funds.

Voted favorably of approving a contract with the State Department of Human Resources for providing services to the Morehead Treatment Center.

Authorized Superintendent Brock to advertise for bids on any items necessary to begin the school year, with the Board reserving the right to reject any and all bids.

Agreed that the Rowan Board of Education will provide local telephone service to all schools, but that each school reimburse the Board of Education for any long distance telephone calls.

Authorized the superintendent to expand up to $1,000 on repair of band instruments.

The Board voted to employ Mrs. Greta B. Latber as a learning disability teacher, providing her certification in Learning Disability is approved by the State Department of Education.

Virgie Littleton was hired as a Paraprofessional, providing her salary is fully reimbursable by the State Department of Education.

Susan Brock, wife of the new school superintendent, was employed as a guidance counselor, pending approval of the Title IV-B and Title VI-B EHA funds.

The three aforementioned persons were employed for the 1976-77 school year with salaries, duties and responsibilities commensurate with other personnel in similar positions.

Charlie Crum was employed as a full-time custodian at Morehead Elementary School, effective July 26.

The board granted Superintendent Brock the authority to determine when or not a Math-Science teacher is needed at the high school and if so to fill the position as soon as possible.

The Board voted that the Director of Pupil Personnel salary be based upon 12 months employment as recommended by the State Department of Education with an additional $500 being paid from local sources.

Prior to conclusion of the meeting Saturday, the Board agreed that a band director be employed at a salary not to exceed the equivalent sum of 12 months employment.

NEWS OF STAMPS

Q. I've been saving trading stamps for about 10 years now and I've always been curious about one thing. Do poorer families save stamps more than the well-to-do?

A. No. Studies show that stamp savers are found about equally in all economic groups. A 1974 study clearly indicates the popularity of stamps among all types of people.

Perhaps the most striking result of this survey is that the public continues to have positive attitudes toward stamps even though they're harder to come by these days. Sixty-seven per cent of all people, the survey found, said they like stamps. Sixty-three per cent of all households save stamps, and this is 54 per cent of all households. The situation now is that more people like stamps than save them. S&H Green Stamps were the most popular, saved by 25 million households.

Crothwait Resigns Policy State Post

Ted L. Crothwait, 63, native of Morehead, has resigned the important policy position as Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Teachers Retirement System.

The resignation becomes effective Sept. 30.

Pat N. Miller, who has been serving as deputy commissioner, was appointed by the Board of Trustees to fill the vacancy.

Crothwait has served as Executive Secretary since Aug. 1, 1970. He resigned the Superintendent's position of Bardtown schools to accept the teacher retirement system post.

Following the resignation and employment of Miller, the Board of Trustees, meeting in Frankfort, requested that Mr. Crothwait continue with the system as manager of the Investment Portfolio on a contract basis. He agreed to remain during a transition period sufficient to develop an investment staff for the System. This could require the rest of this year.

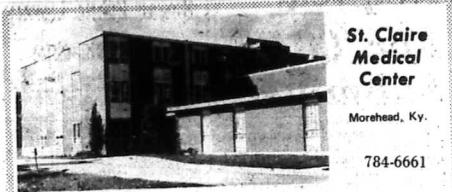

Crothwait, a graduate of Morehead State University and former President of the MSU Alumni Association, was Supt. of Rowan County schools before accepting the number two policy post in the Louisville school system. He moved from that to the Bardstown position.

During the six years of Mr. Crothwait's tenure as Executive Secretary of the Retirement System, the financial assets of the System grew from approximately $272 million to more than $520 million, the number of retirees more than doubled, the average benefit increased by about 60 per cent, and the administrative operations were streamlined and made more efficient. Perhaps the most significant achievement in the area of actuarial funding of the System was the resumption of payments by the State toward the prior service obligation and the recognition of their responsibility to fund post-retirement benefits at the time they are legislated.

Request For '007' Submitted

It was bound to happen. When the Kentucky Department of Transportation began accepting applications via county clerks last June for personalized license plates, many officials suspected it was only a matter of time before someone asked for "007."

And they were right. The request was among the first batch of applications received.

With the state now allowing vehicle owners up to six spaces on next year's license plate for their own choice of letters or numbers, the consensus here is that we've got some pretty imaginative drivers out there.

One fellow, obviously a supporter of the University of Kentucky Wildcats, has asked that his plate be imprinted to read "UKCATS." Or if that combination has been reserved by someone else, he wrote, "KYCATS," "GOCATS" or "GOBLUE" would do just as well.

It has also been easy to guess what the applicants for "8-IRON," "3-WOOD" and "7-11" like to do in their spare time. "JUDGE" and "X-FLUZZ" seemed to offer some pretty clear clues about their owner's backgrounds.

But it was anyone's guess what "SANTA," "HOTDOG," "BOGEY" or "A FLOP" might mean.

According to O. B. Arnold, commissioner of the Bureau of Vehicle Registration, the 400-plus applications received thus far reflect an amazing variety of ideas.

And surprisingly enough, he added, few duplications have occurred. In the case of duplicate requests, Arnold explained, the earlier dated application takes priority. And because of that, each application provides for

Arnold said that the application process is going smoothly although his office has been forwarded a few applications from pick-up truck owners even though the law limits the personalized plates to passenger cars only.

The $25 fee which must accompany each application is not always arriving in the proper form, he said. The only acceptable forms of payment are by certified check, cashier's check or U.S. Postal money order.

Pension Checks In Rowan County Hit $3.9 Million

How much do Rowan County residents stand to gain from the boost in Social Security payments, which has just gone into effect?

What will be the average size of retirement checks to local beneficiaries under the new schedule?

Based upon the latest figures from the Social Security Administration, which show the number of recipients in the area and the amount they have been getting, their benefits during the remainder of this year will be approximately $120,000 greater than they were in the last half of 1975.

The total gain locally over the next 12 months, will amount to $240,000 under the new rates.

The increase represents a 6.4 per cent

hike for those getting Social Security benefits as well as for most of the people receiving Supplementary Security payments, which aid the aged, the blind and the disabled in those states that participate in the supplemental program.

The added benefits, which affect 37 million people in the two programs, will cost $5.3 billion over the year, according to the Social Security Administration.

The increase was mandated by a change in the law, which became effective last year, under which any future increases in benefits are to be tied to increases in the cost of living.

The determining factor is the Labor Department's Consumer Price Index and the amount it goes up between the first quarter of one year and the first quarter of the next.

Under the new scale, the annual payment for a retired worker rises from an average of $2,440 to $2,616 and for the average couple, where both are receiving benefits, from $4,176 to $4,462.

The maximum, for men currently retiring at age 65, goes from $4,368 to $4,658. The new minimum will be $1,295 as against $1,216 previously.

What it adds up to, for Rowan County as a whole, is that pension payments to local residents will amount to approximately $3,984,000 in the current fiscal year, as compared with $3,744,000 last year.

As for Social Security taxes, they remain the same. The only adjustment this year has been to levy taxes on the first $15,300 of income instead of on $14,100.

School Bus Drivers To Receive Training

The Kentucky Department of Education has scheduled a bus driver training school to be held at Carter High School in Grayson at 9 a.m. (ET) on August 12-13. More than 2,500 of the state's 6,000 bus drivers are expected to participate.

The school will serve bus drivers from the Boyd Co., Carter Co., Elliott Co., Greenup Co., Lawrence Co., Lewis Co., Rowan Co., Ashland Independent, Fairview Independent, Raceland Independent, and Russell Independent school systems.

According to Paul Jones, director of the division of pupil transportation, the training schools have been conducted annually for the past eleven years. Jones said federal regulations require the state Department of Education to hold the schools.

Jones said the training program will include instruction from the state police concerning Kentucky's traffic laws, as well as from officials of the Education Department.

Topics include "Pupil Discipline," "Defensive Driving," "Emergency and First Aid Procedure," "Public Relations," "Loading and Unloading Procedures," "Pupil Management," "Kentucky Administrative Regulations," and "Preventive Maintenance."

In a memorandum to state school board superintendents and transportation supervisors, Jones noted that "over 450,000 school children are transported each year" in state school buses. He attributed the safety of those children to "the attitudes and skills" of the bus drivers, calling the bus driver "the single most important person in school bus safety."

Jones said that while Kentucky's bus drivers "have achieved a commendable safety record over the years," it is important that they be made aware of state laws and regulations, means of controlling students, and emergency measures. He emphasized the importance of loading and unloading school children, calling that procedure the most dangerous of a bus driver's duties.

CHARCOAL AN ANTIPODE
MINNEAPOLIS - Activated-charcoal powder is recommended as an emergency antidote for poisoning in a study by Army doctors. The charcoal should be mixed with water, shaken well and as much as possible drunk within 30 minutes after the poisoning.

The charcoal works by slowing absorption of the poison into the digestive tract.

BOOKWURST 76 PCT. MEAT
WASHINGTON - Bookwurst, an uncured sausage-like product, coming in a casing or link form. Either cooked or uncooked, it is traditionally made from meat, vegetables, eggs and seasonings. Federal regulations now require bookwurst to contain at least 70 per cent (or more) meat.

July 18, IN MEMORY OF OUR 34th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

When we stood side by side, you took my hand in yours we made the vows, till death do us part.
 Now that you are gone, the nights are so long, and the days so sad they seem like years to me.
 Four months have come and gone since you left me here alone, if I could only sit at the table with you as we used to do. It would mean so much to me just to feel the touch of your hand on my arm, as you would always tell me that was your love pats. I think I appreciated you more each day as the years went by, I was always there at your bedside, when you needed me the most, as you would often take my hand and say "lets you go home, and hope someday I can meet you in Heaven, never to part no more. Sadly missed and always thinking of you.

IN MEMORY OF CROW THOMPSON. OUR HOME - We once had a home happy and gay, when all little children together we played. We have all grown up and gone our way and with the Lord we've been taught to pray. We still love a home not so happy and gay, for there's a chair in the home that's empty today. Daughter: Diane Bowling. c-29

IN MEMORIAM - MY MEMORIES OF DADDY, CROW THOMPSON. Daddy and I loved the home and four generations before him had grown. He talked to not often needless to say, we knew that he loved us in his own way. He grew weaker and weaker day by day and knew soon before him would come the day. He talked not to often of death and its way, but we knew with the Lord he always had prayed. He called each one to his bed-side to say, Lord help my children to find the way. The Lord hath called him to fight on his side, Some day we shall meet him on the other side. Mothers, and brothers and sisters, we pray will sing around God throne with Daddy someday. ## Burley Growers Will Vote This September

Burley growers in Rowan and all other Kentucky counties will vote, probably in September, whether they favor a program of compulsory deductions from sale of their tobacco with the money being used in promotional programs.

The balloting was authorized by a law enacted by the last General Assembly. Although no definite date has been set for the vote, informed Frankfort sources said that it will likely be held on Tuesday, Sept. 21.

If growers approve the plan by a simple majority, one-tenth of one percent would be deducted from sale of their leaf. The minimum deduction would be 50 cents with a maximum of $10 per grower.

Based on last season's sales the fund would come to $355,000 a year.

This money would be relegated to the Council for Burley Tobacco Under a pre-arranged agreement 40 percent of the money would go to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Cooperation Association to help pay for existing promotional programs.

John Logan, Bowling Green, the Council President, said the money "will be used to conduct a program of research, market development and education to increase the domestic and foreign consumption, use, sale and markets for burley tobacco products."

Under the law passed by the 1976 Legislature, even if the deductions are approved by the growers, each farmer can receive a full refund if he makes application in writing within 30 days after his tobacco is sold.

A similar fund, which drew $2 from each grower on a voluntary basis, wasn't successful because many warehouses refused to collect the money.

Although no details for the vote have been finalized the balloting is expected to be conducted at the agriculture extension offices throughout the state. Every burley grower with a poundage quota is eligible to vote.

Cave Run Group Hears Tlempton Express Views

The Cave Run Development Association Board of Directors heard Jim Tlempton, executive director of Gateway Area Development District, explain the advantages to the association of joining the newly formed National Lakes and Rivers Association at the board meeting of the group.

The National Lakes and Rivers Association was organized last April, primarily by the five state and local associations, like Cave Run Development Association, a stronger voice in dealing with such large organizations as the Corps of Engineers and the U.S. Forest Service.

Also during the meeting, Judge Bailey of Bath county was elected to the board of directors of the national organization, representing seven midwestern and southern states.

Tlempton also reported on Gateway's efforts to set up the first Small Business Investment Corporation in Kentucky. An SBIC in the Gateway area would finance the establishment of private business around Cave Run Lake, according to Tlempton.

At the meeting the Board also approved the appointment of three new board members - Russ Metz and Bob Frizzel of Bath County, and Carl Burton of Morgan County.

The Cave Run Development Association is currently open to membership applications. Business membership dues are $25 and individual memberships are $5. Subscriptions are being taken at the Ken, Fin. Fur & feather LARRY's Marine Sale and East Kentucky Printing.

Government Definition
Supervision. Keeping two or more clerks busy enough to look as if they were working.

Great Support
A Senator seeking reelection votes spoke from the back of the truck. He was in the middle of his speech when a heckler bellowed: "I'd rather vote for the devil." "Suppose your friend does not run?" queried the Senator. "May I count on your support?"

Tax Speeches
One good way to raise revenues and still benefit the people would be to tax every political speech made during an election year.

POINTERS FOR PARENTS' MOTHERS' HELPER

If you're a parent of any of the approximately 18 million preschool children in America today, you'll probably be happy to have all the help you can get. Over 200 suggestions from Hedstrom's "Pointers for Parents" booklet could come in mighty handy for bringing up baby. For example:

1. Hold a paper cup under your child's chin when giving medicine by the spoonful. The cup will catch spills, which can be mixed with water and drunk to save expensive medicine.

2. A pair of tight rubber gloves with corrugated fingers are a great help in handling slippery baby in his bath.

3. A salad fork is easier than a dinner fork for a small child to eat with. It's shorter, wider, and easier to handle.

4. Gumdrops or miniature marshmallows make pretty holders for candles on a child's birthday cake and protect the frosting from melted wax.

5. A harmless paint for kids to play with can be made by adding food coloring to canned milk.

6. More than 200 additional sound sensible ideas and safety suggestions plus other helpful information to minimize the common problems of child-raising are available from some of the world's best child care experts: hundreds of mothers and the Children's Bureau, Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. For your copy of "Priceless Pointers" send 35 cents to Hedstrom, Dept. N.P., Bedford, PA 15222. Be sure to include your complete mailing address.

14-15 Year Old Babe Ruth All-Stars Post Victories

Morehead's 14-15 year old Babe Ruth All-star team got off to a good start last week by winning its first two games in the District Babe Ruth Tournament.

Last Saturday Morehead was out hit by Boyd County 11 to six but came out on the long end of the score 5-2. Eugene Ferguson went the distance allowing only one run. Morehead fell behind 1-0 in the top of the first but picked up two runs in the bottom of that inning on Joey May single. Morehead picked another 3-2 lead going into the sixth inning. Morehead soon found its lead in jeopardy with runners on first and second with only one out. Then substitute Tim Back made a diving catch at second base and doubled the runner off first to end the threat.

Then Back iced the game in the bottom of the inning with a two-run double. Last Sunday Morehead came from behind to defeat Flatwoods-Russell 6-4. After being victimized by perfect pitching for four innings Morehead exploded for all six of its runs in the final three frames. # CANAL OPENING JINKED

PORT SAID, Egypt—The opening of the Suez Canal Nov. 17, 1869, was spectacular. Magnesium flares lighted the Pyramids, and 500 cooks and 1,000 servants were imported from Europe to cater to visiting royalty.

But fireworks went off prematurely and nearly blew up Port Said. The opera, "Aida," commissioned for the event, couldn't be produced until two years later. And a frigate stuck in the canal, and it took a thousand seamen to pry the ship loose.

Foster Cast To Present Hello Dolly

Cast members of "The Stephen Foster Story" will present performances of the smash hit musical "Hello, Dolly!" on Mondays, Aug. 2, 9 and 16 in the Talbot Amphitheatre at Bardstown.

The show, which was first performed on the Talbot stage in 1972, is being brought back by popular demand. Duane Mahy, who played that lovable matchmaker Dolly Levi in '72, will again be featured in the title role.

Miss Mahy, a vocal music instructor at the University of Nebraska, plays Jeanie-in-the "Foster Story" and was the female lead in "The Music Man" and "My Fair Lady" when they were presented by the "Foster" cast.

"Hello, Dolly!" opened on Broadway in 1964 and was called "a musical comedy dream" by critics. Written by Michael Stewart and Jerry Herman, the show is based on Thornton Wilder's "The Matchmaker" and includes such will-know songs as "Put on Your Sunday Clothes," "It Only Takes a Moment," and, of course, the title song "Hello, Dolly!"

"Tickets for 'Hello, Dolly!' or for 'The Stephen Foster Story,' which will continue to play nightly, except Mondays, through Sept. 5, are $4 for adults and $2 for children 12 and under. NEWS OF YOUTH DRINKING

Are their best friends their worst enemies? Pressure from peers can be a prime cause of drinking problems among some adolescents. And as my teacher knows, it can be one of the most difficult to combat. One way to discourage irresponsibility among adolescents is to encourage responsibility among adults. For parents of teen-agers, it is especially important to follow this principle: If you choose to drink, drink responsibly.

License Plate Production To Cease At Reformatory

Justice Secretary John L. Smith announced today that Kentucky Correctional Industries will end license plate production by the end of this year. Smith said Correctional Industries is working with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles to ensure all commercial and supplemental tags for 1977 will be produced by the end of the year at the state reformatory tag plant at LaGrange. Instead of manufacturing license plates, Smith said, the men at the reformatory will work in already existing prison industries which will be expanded and new industries which will be implemented by Jan. 1, 1978. Director of Correctional Industries David E. Lampkin said the implementation of multi-year license tags in Kentucky has made it unfeasible to continue production. He said approximately $150,000 would be necessary to continue tag production, assuming the design remained the same. Kentucky Correctional Industries is a self-supporting agency which receives no tax dollars. Their support comes from profits they realize from their products. "For that reason, we have to look at programs which will benefit us in years to come and which will keep our facilities busy every year," Lampkin said. Their first project will be the expansion of their metal furniture division, Lampkin said. Metal frames are produced at the reformatory, then sold to the furniture plant at the state penitentiary near Eddyville where they are made into office furniture. Lampkin said he also plans to sell the frames to other states and to expand their production into schoolroom furniture and library shelving. He said the initial cost of the expansion would be $5,000 for the purchase of a steel blinder. Correctional Industries has received tentative confirmations for approximately $750,000 in annual sales once production is implemented, Lampkin said. The one-time expenditure for the production of library shelving would be $85,000 for additional machinery and dies, he said, with an estimated $250,000 in annual sales. Another proposal under consideration, Lampkin said, is establishment of a graphic printing plant. An annual sales projection is currently being developed. Lampkin said the estimated completion date for the new projects is Jan. 1, 1978.

Federally-Aided Education Programs Will Be Funded

Kentucky's federally-aided education programs need not worry about funding in July when the fiscal year transition period, according to Frank Vittevo the state's liaison with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW). Vittevo, director of Kentucky's Office of State-Federal Relations, said President Ford has signed into law the Second Supplemental Appropriations Act of 1976, which includes $26.5 million for the HEW Office of Education for use during the transition quarter. State education leaders had expressed concern last fall when the president announced his intention to alter the federal government's fiscal year from July 1 through June 30, to October 1 through September 30. The state leaders were unsure of how the change would affect federal spending. Vittevo said the new fiscal year would have no negative effects on the state's education programs, since Congress made the supplemental appropriation. He said the state would receive the same proportion of the $26.5 million as it had in the previous fiscal year schedule. "Our (Kentucky's) Title I has advance funding," Vittevo said. "Our Title IV, which includes seven or eight programs, are advance-funded." Title I of the 1966 Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) provides federal aid to local school districts to support compensatory education for educationally-deprived children in areas with a high incidence of poverty. ESEA, Title IV, consolidates several diverse federal programs, from funds for library resources, textbooks, and guidance counseling, to funds for strengthening leadership in state and local agencies, innovative exemplary education programs, drop-out prevention, and health and nutrition programs. Vittevo said that federal legislation

Q. My zany neighbor is in the habit of leaving notes in her mailbox to her teenage son, such as "Benji, I'm at the movies. Will be home at 8. The key is under the mat. If her house is robbed while she's out sighing over Cary Grant, is her insurance company liable?"

A. If she has a homeowners policy, yes. But you might remind your neighbor that carelessness like that only tends to drive insurance rates up. That note her teenage son might be an invitation to a burglar. The chances of a burglar visiting your home will be minimized if you practice a few common sense precautions.

• Keep all doors and windows locked.

• Don't leave your house key under a doormat or on a door. On rare occasions, when you feel you must leave a note don't tell someone where to find the key.

• Don't leave ladders around your property. There's no reason why you should make the housebreaker's job easier.

• When you go out in the evening, leave a few lights on.

Accounting Deficiencies Cited By State Auditor

In an effort to provide greater protection of public funds, State Auditor of Public Accounts George L. Atkins has identified several areas where taxpayers' dollars are not properly accounted for and controlled.

"The problem areas we have pinpointed have developed over the years as a result of laws that have not clearly defined the duties and responsibilities of state and local officials in the management of the financial affairs of their offices," Atkins said.

The State Auditor's office has determined that the law does not provide for a uniform accounting system for the county Property Valuation Administrators. Most significantly, the PVAs presently, even though required by law, are not having their records audited.

As a result, thousands of dollars of public funds are unaccounted for, along with the absence of a required accounting system, indicates that these dollars are not properly controlled and accounted for.

In seeking a solution to this problem, Atkins recently met with PVAs and state officials from the Department of Revenue and the Office for Local Government. At this meeting it was decided that the State Auditor would establish a recommended accounting system for PVAs and would further assist in its implementation.

Atkins also indicated that in the future, the Auditor's office would conduct random audits to determine whether the recommended system was adopted.

Another area of deficiency is the "non-fee" revenue most county officials receive.

"In the past," Atkins said, "Audits of some county fee officials have concentrated only on deducting the "fee income" of the officials plus related expenses allowable by statute to determine the "excess fee" due the county. As a result, many dollars have gone unaccounted since each fee official receives revenue from "non-fee" sources.

"A related problem is that old accounting and reporting systems used by Fee officials have allowed and perhaps encouraged these officials to pay "excess fees" resulting from the prior year's business with revenue generated in the current year."

Atkins explained that most frequently these inadequate accounting and auditing systems have resulted from the failure to detect routine shortages and overages that normally result whenever large amounts of money are received through literally thousands of transactions.

In an effort to detect and better control such routine shortages and overages, the State Auditor has directed all revenue of fee officials be audited each year. Improved audit procedures have been developed to determine whether fee officials have sufficient funds in their bank accounts at the end of each year to pay that year's excess fees to the county.

"Because of these findings, we have directed all counties in the Commonwealth be subjected to additional audit procedures," Atkins said.

"All accounting systems will be reviewed to insure any future overages and shortages be reflected in the accounting records. It is our intent to help the county officials be accountable, as well as insure the most efficient, effective and honest use of the taxpayers' money."

The people of Kentucky may have lost a round this week in the continuing effort to assert their right to know what and how their government here is doing.

On the surface, at least, it appears to be an issue of little magnitude. The executive director of the Kentucky Heritage Commission received an opinion from the Attorney General's Office that records relating to the commission's survey of historic sites and its listings on the National Register of Historic Places can be closed to public inspection.

While an opinion of the Attorney General has no legal standing, Assistant Attorney General Carl Miller agreed with Heritage Commission Executive Director Eldred Melton that the agency's records to public inspection, Miller said in his opinion, would be acceptable protection against invasion of privacy under the state's open records statute.

In recent years, the Heritage Commission has performed an admirable and needed job of seeking out and attempting to protect historic buildings and sites across the Commonwealth. The majority of buildings on the state survey and on the National Register are privately owned residences, and the Attorney General's opinion would seem to be an appropriate protection of the privacy of citizens and property owners.

However, there are two very important reasons why Heritage Commission records, like the vast majority of other government records, must be available for citizen inspection.

The single most important reason is that privately-owned buildings on the National Register of Historic Places are eligible for grants of state and federal funds for renovation and restoration.

Although the restoration grants administered by the Heritage Commission have rigid criteria that must be met and maintained for property owner to receive tax money, the all-important fact remains that an agency of state government is handing out public money to private individuals for work on private homes. And, that agency is now seeking to maintain its records on those homes in secret.

For obvious reasons, that must not be permitted to happen. Secondly, sealing the commission's records from the public eye successfully prohibits the public from judging whether the agency is adequately performing its job.

On this issue of the public's right to know its government, there is little difference between a 200-year-old historic house in Bardstown and a 200-acre strip-mine site in Bell County. Both are privately owned property; both have come under the aegis of state government.

The strip-mine site is regulated and protected by a number of state

Youth Dies, Four Injured In Wreck At Carter Caves

An Ohio youth was killed and four other teen-agers injured in a one-car accident at Carter Caves State Park last Tuesday night.

Police reported that David B. Potts, 16, Portsmouth, Ohio, was killed in the accident.

State Police said Potts lost control of his vehicle after what it broke through a guard rail and plunged over a 350-foot cliff and rolled over several times before stopping in a stream beside the park.

Four girls, Lauri Kees, 15, Sharon Kees, 12, Beth Irwin, 12 and Roberta Gore, 13, all of Portsmouth, were treated and released from a Portsmouth hospital.

JAPANESE LANDED IN 1610

ACapulco, Mexico - The earliest recorded Japanese contact with North America was in 1610 when a Japanese vessel landed two noblemen and 23 merchants at Acapulco.

Three years later a second ship, carrying a larger group of Japanese, visited Mexico, and when it returned to Japan a few of its passengers stayed behind to become the first Japanese immigrants to the New World.

environmental agencies. The Bardstown house on the National Register of Historic Places, in addition to being eligible for restoration grants, receives a certain amount of government protection from alteration or destruction.

Whether voluntarily or not, the owners of both kinds of private property have come under the umbrella of state government, and certainly no one would seriously argue that strip-mine permit files in the state Division of Reclamation should be closed to the public because of a possible invasion of property owners' privacy.

Historic buildings and homes often contain valuable furnishings and fixtures, and Mrs. Melton has a valid concern that thieves and vandals could conceivably use her agency's records as a "shopping list." By that same argument, however, city and county property tax assessments should be closed to public inspection on the possibility thieves could go to the lists, copy down the addresses of homes valued over $75,000 and proceed on a similar kind of shopping spree.

The right of the people of Kentucky to know how their tax money is being spent, to learn how their tax-supported government agencies are being operated, outweighs Mrs. Melton's fears. The Heritage Commission has a responsibility to all Kentuckians, not merely to the owners of historic property, and its records must be open to reasonable inspection by the public and press.

If not, then some taxpayer should challenge both the action and the Attorney General's opinion in the courts. However minor it may seem, any loss of the people's right to know is a major loss of freedom.

Publisher's Pen

Day-by-day jot-downs, and editorial observations of the publisher of this newspaper.

The Board of Regents of Morehead State University will meet Thursday, July 29 to further discuss procedures for employing a new President to replace Dr. Adron Doran whose retirement is effective in January 1.

The meeting is open to the media, and we have a fair idea that applications received so far will not be released or discussed. The deadline for applicants is August 1.

We keep hearing one name after another as the probable next President, but reiterate that, in our opinion, the Regents have no more of an idea about whom they'll select than this Publisher does. . . . and certainly we haven't the faintest indication.

Selection committee chairman Lloyd Cassidy and the other nine members of the Board deserve red roses for the orderly manner in which they have proceeded. . . . and there is not a doubt in our mind but that the Regents will select who they firmly believe is the best person for MSU.

Residents of Morehead and this area have a "big stake" in this decision because MSU is the educational, cultural and economic foundation of our community. When the decision is made by this capable Board of Regents one thing is certain - the new President will have full support of the Morehead News.

MOST EVERYTHING travels in cycles, but it seems that Morehead has had more gall bladder hospital cases than we can remember. We do remember reading something years ago that people in this part of the nation are more susceptible to gall bladder problems.

WHEN You pass the Church of God on Hargis Avenue note the beautiful exterior floral arrangements, adjacent to the entrance. The flowers are lovely and colorfully arranged.

SUMMER is apparently here. When the late John Howard Payne was president of Morehead State University much promotional material from the institution recited the cool nights Morehead has during summer. And, it was the truth.

Maybe it's because we've grown with many more buildings and those cool breezes don't flow from Oxley Branch and the other hollows like they used to. Once we wrote a story, quoting temperature readings at Lexington and ones taken by the late Prof. Henry Haggan at Morehead. It was 10 degrees cooler on summer nights in Morehead than at Lexington. That is probably not true.

Downward temperatures at this time of the year are considerably higher than in rural Rowan county.

METHINKS that the Cincinnati Reds might be in trouble if that pitching staff isn't rejuvenated.

While on baseball - Steve Hamilton has grants in aid signed by several star high school baseball players. We also predicted that MSU will soon dominate the Ohio Valley Conference in this sport, and Morehead could become the springboard for several future major leaguers.

SEVERAL of our "television addict" friends complain that almost all good programs have been cancelled this week because of the national democratic convention. We remind them that the government of the U.S.A. controls almost everything they do from the time they arise until retiring, and even while sleeping. Government has become so big that all of us are little more than pawns.

During most of our life the excitement of party national conventions has been with the democrats. Usually, the republicans have had cut and dried conventions with little controversy.

It's different in 1976. Jimmy Carter is the certain democratic nominee, and the remaining question as to this is written concerns his running mate.

Our political and analytical prediction is that the republicans will be unable to select a nominee on the first ballot.

The New York Times credits President Ford with 1,066 delegates to 1,026 for Ronald Reagan. A total of 1,130 delegate votes is needed for nomination.

Ford has many "built-in" advantages over Reagan, by virtue of the office he holds; and there seems to be a mounting feeling that if the President can't show any more convention strength than he has, then he couldn't win in November. Ford is also beset by that pardon he granted Nixon.

Our "cautious" prediction today is that Reagan will be the G.O.P. nominee. Three months back we thought Gerald Ford was a shoo-in for the nomination.

Also, three months ago we believed that Jimmy Carter's chances for the democratic nomination were minimal.

About the only thing we do know for certain is that whoever is elected as our next President will age 20 years during his four year term if he isn't assassinated.

MOREHEAD'S MAYOR C.B. Cornett resigned three weeks ago over the sewerage system procedures; but Council refused the resignation and Cornett remains head of city government.

A running battle has been going on for months between Grayson Mayor Ralph McClave and Council Chief Frank Frieze.

Last Tuesday Chief Frieze submitted his resignation with the stated position that "nothing in Grayson is going to progress as long as Ralph McClave is Mayor."

Council refused Chief Frieze's resignation. This infuriated the Mayor and he resigned and adjourned the meeting. Council also refused the Mayor's resignation, but he quit regardless.

Grayson is a placid, beautiful county seat. . . . and the whole town's talking about the running feud between the Mayor and Police Chief.

IT WAS Mark Twain who wrote: "I don't like to commit myself about heaven and hell, you see I have friends in both places."

TEEN-AGERS are forbidden by law to duel with water pistols on Sunday in Massachusetts. A girl can't take a bite from her date's hamburger in Oklahoma.

These are a couple of samples of outdated "blue laws", still on the books, in the United States pertaining solely to teenagers, according to Keynote, a publication of Kiwanis' teen branch, Key-Cut International.

There are many other such laws. For instance, teen-agers cannot spin yo-yos in Memphis, Tenn., on a Sunday. In Massachusetts, youngsters cannot eat peanuts in church.

One cannot pretend to "smoke" candy cigarettes in any school within the limits of Miriam, S. Dakota.

Also, don't tease skunks in Minneapolis or guide a goose down a

MacDonald, Ohio, street. In Lexington, Ky. it's against the law to carry an ice cream cone in your pocket. You can stand for slurping your soup in public in New Jersey. If you throw a paper napkin on the floor of an Alabama restaurant you can be penalized with a dose of castor oil.

FOREIGN Service officers are regularly assigned to universities for specialized courses. They are then asked to evaluate the course and the professor for future students.

Harry Odell, Deputy Chief of Mission at the U.S. Embassy in Bern, Switzerland was going through some personal files recently, and found his assessment of a course he took in 1957.

"(The instructor) is not sanguine about American ability to cope with the political world of today, partly because of our peculiar institutions, but also because we have in his view no ideological, or 'conceptual' framework within which to operate. . . . (the instructor) is not too strong on discipline, and a few of the sessions tended to get out of hand."

The school was Harvard. The course "Principles of International Politics." The instructor was Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, now Odell's boss as Secretary of State.

WALT GORIN of the Greensburg Record-Herald, says that our body is the most efficient machine in existence. Here are some of the facts - Blinking causes your eyes to be closed half an hour a day.

In normal breathing the body takes in about 14 pints of air a minute. The body perspires constantly, between one and two pints a day.

The fingertips have 2,000 pores per square inch. Blood journeys endlessly through 60,000 miles of vessels, going out from the heart and back to it in less than a minute.

ANONYMOUS letters never get to the desk of the Publisher or Editor, but are relegated to the waste basket. But this one, obviously in feminine handwriting, was on our desk.

"This is the truest thing you ever wrote." Attached was a clipping from a 10 year old copy of the Morehead News. It

"If all the skeletons that the people of Morehead think have hidden in their closets were released we'd have a pile of scandal bones higher than Clark Mountain."

THE SILVER LINING is easier to find in someone else's cloud. A GOOD listener is usually talking about something else.

THE FIGURE sounds amazing, but the most recent survey is that employees in the United States total $40 million a year from their employers.

TAX FREE bonds, mostly municipal, have been popular and sell at a lower interest rate. During the past five years, almost every governmental unit, from small villages to New York City, borrowed so heavily that bankers are being warned against many of the latest issues. Schools have also extensively used this method for new buildings etc.

Nobody has the total, but it would be interesting, perhaps disheartening, to learn how many trillions of dollars indebtedness we are leaving to the next generation.

THE CHAIRMAN of American Telephone and Telegraph has predicted that the cost for making a pay station telephone call will rise from a dime to 25 cents, and South Central Bell has petitioned for a charge of 20 cents.

The time may be closer than you think when a $2 bill won't buy a hamburger or hot dog.

The delegates to the democratic convention in New York this week will bring "some real inflation" when they dine and wine at the America Hotel. They'll also find bullet-proof glass between taxicab drivers and passengers; and if they stray on the streets after dark the odds are 1 to 5 they'll be mugged.

THE FEMALE who started the equal rights movement for women did the greatest injustice in history to her sex. Most women today would like to help tar and feather her. Today, men have all the advantages in this land of the free and home of the brave.

THE STATE Department of Human Resources says that Kentucky's unemployment is down to 5.6 per cent. Maybe they're including the food stampers and welfare recipients among the gainfully employed.

OUR long-time newspaper friend, Larry Stone of Central City, an admitted dev. republican, pointing to the Congressman Wayne Hays sex scandal, says "Democrat congressmen have forgotten how to get on the bandwagon. They're too busy getting on the catwagon." Larry also observes, "Let's legislate legal prostitution before Yankee congressmen corner the market."

IF YOU'RE planning to cross the Ohio River bridge at Maysville, allow extra time. Work has started on repairing the structure, but one lane is open. IF WE had a CB (Citizens Band Radio) handle it would be Beaver Pleaser. A ROOKIE officer was asked, "How would you disperse a crowd?" "Take up an offering," he answered. "That does it every time."

A TEEN-AGE girl who makes her spending money by babysitting, took off from home with a sign, "Well, off to the old rattle race!" THE LATE Emerson Beauchamp often told us: "You ain't nothin'" 'til you spoon into a Kentucky blackberry cobbler when you picked the wild berries yourself."

HOT ZIGGETY - The time is here for home grown tomatoes, cantaloupes and watermelons. As a senior in high school we saved the biggest and best watermelon from the garden and invited a girl we had our eyes set on to eat it with us on the bank of the Big Sandy river. A couple years ago we passed that place on the river and told our driver friend we might erect a statue in remembrance of that monumental watermelon eatin' and subsequent pleasurable developments.

Consumer Comments

This column is written by Robert P. Stephens, Attorney General of Kentucky. Any reader having questions (or complaints) should write to Mr. Stephens at Frankfort, Ky. A Kentucky consumer bought a new refrigerator and signed a time-payment contract arranged by the seller. After a few months, the refrigerator broke down and the dealer refused to repair or replace it. When the consumer tried to stop payment on the contract, he was often paid for products or services that do not work.

This type of consumer complaint arises from a legal situation involving a "holder-in-due-course." By having and holding the contract, the financial institution is the holder-in-due-course and can collect on the contract. The consumer, however, has practically no defenses in this kind of situation and must often pay for products or services that do not work.

On May 14, 1976 the Federal Trade Commission issued a regulation which abolished the doctrine of holder-in-due-course. Kentucky's General Assembly followed suit during their 1976 session. Under the new law, an installment contract arranged by the seller and signed by the consumer must contain language which states that the financial institution holding the contract is subject to all claims and defenses which the consumer could assert against the original seller. This gives the consumer some protection and leverage with respect to getting what he or she paid for, as well as not having to pay for defective products or poorly performed services.

These laws will not hurt the lines of credit of established and reputable businesses. Financial institutions are likely to think twice, however, about doing business with people or companies that indulge in questionable practices. Consumers should do likewise.

If you have a consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, Room 34, The Capitol, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. The office has found that it can most effectively deal with written complaints and encourages you to write when you have a complaint. However, if you have an emergency situation, call the consumer hotline. The number is 1-800-372-2860.

Dr. Doran Will Deliver Commencement Address

Morehead State University President Adron Doran will deliver the principal address at MSU's summer commencement on Thursday, July 29. The 10 a.m. ceremony at Weatherby Gymnasium will mark Dr. Doran's final official appearance at an academic event. He is on leave and will retire Jan. 1, 1977.

Dean of Kentucky's public university chief executives, Dr. Doran has served more than 22 years as president of MSU, three times longer than any of his six predecessors.

Acting Interim President Morris L. Norfleet will confer degrees on more than 500 persons. If the graduating class totals 523 or more, MSU will award its 20,000th degree. As of July 1, the institution had produced 19,477 graduates. More than 90 per cent received degrees under Dr. Doran's administration.

Five persons will receive honorary doctoral degrees, including Dr. Wade M. Robinson, president of Central Midwestern Regional Educational Laboratory, Inc.; Wendell F. Butler, secretary of the Kentucky Education and Arts Cabinet; Basil Overton, vice president of International Bible College; Dr. Troy R. Eslinger, president of Lees Junior College; and Mrs. Mignon Doran, founder and director of MSU's Personal Development Institute.

Cable Television Workshop Will Be Open To Public

Nash Cox, director of the Kentucky Arts Commission, announced the receipt of a Kentucky Humanities Council grant to be used for a Cable Television Workshop, schedule for early November.

KAC Director of Public Media Jon Dunn said the main purpose of the workshop will be to educate the public in the many possibilities of cable television.

Cable television was initially designed to provide television service to areas where reception was difficult or impossible because of distance or topography but many other uses have been found. Many areas have discovered new uses after they had seemingly developed the use of cable to its fullest extent.

"The use of cable in Kentucky is only the tip of the iceberg with public policy issues barely exposed. It is intended to bring viewers back to life after the long sleep of acceptance of whatever programs are offered, to the realization that they control (or can) what is seen,"

Dunn said. Participation in the workshop will lend awareness of the possibilities available to communities by involving others who have experienced or shared in the development of cable television in their areas.

Programs tentatively scheduled for the fall workshop are: Cable and the Political Life of a Community; Cable and the Social Life of the Community; Cable and the Cultural and Educational Life of the Community and Cable and the Health of the Community.

The workshop will be open to the public. Information may be obtained by contacting Jon Dunn, 100 W. Main St. Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

CRIMES JOLT RETAILERS

WASHINGTON-Retailers' losses from such crimes as shoplifting and theft may reach $6.5 billion in 1976, the U.S. Department of Commerce estimates. Losses in 1974 were estimated at $6.8 billion, up 11 per cent from 1973.

The group became eligible by taking training either on an area basis or county level. Approximately 400 participants from over the state took part in the contest at the University of Kentucky.

Ann Landers

Copyright - Field Enterprises, Inc.

Dear Ann Landers: These days, when one hears so much about cheating and lying and crooks in high places, will you please rerun a column that appeared ten years ago? It had to do with a boy named Johnny and the example his elders had set for him from the early days of his life. I believe it might help a great many parents understand why their kids "went wrong." I've carried that column since 1966, and I'll bet you've added a lot of readers since then. Thanks, Ann. - St. Petersburg Friend.

Dear Friend: I know precisely the column you want and here it is, with my thanks for asking.

"IT'S O.K., SON, EVERYBODY DOES IT"

When Johnny was six years old, he was with his father when they were caught speeding. His father handed the officer a five-dollar bill along with his driver's license. "It's O.K., son," his father said as they drove off. "Everybody does it."

the upper ten per cent of his class, but he couldn't play right guard. Johnny made it but his buddy didn't. "It's O.K.," he told himself. "Everybody does it."

When Johnny was 19, he was approached by an upperclassman who offered him the answers to an exam for ten dollars. "It's O.K.," he told himself. "Everybody does it."

Johnny was caught and sent home in disgrace. "How could you do this to your mother and me?" his father said. "You never learned anything like that at home." His aunt and uncle were also shocked.

If there's one thing the adult world can't stand it's a kid who cheats... CONFIDENTIAL To Want to Tell All But Should I? No. Telling "all" is not necessarily a sign of honesty. It could be a sign of stupidity. Discretion is the better part of valor.

Bus For Medical Transportation Now In Service

Under the sponsorship of Gateway Community Services Organization, a new Liberty Title III funds of the Older Americans Act have been used to purchase a "mini" bus for Medical Transportation.

The bus, centrally located at Frenchburg is available through the week for "out of area" medical transportation. The prime objective of the program is to aid the elderly and poor of Rowan, Morgan, Manifee, Montgomery and Bath Counties in getting to needed medical services.

The vehicle is an important addition to the Senior Citizen Transportation already available in each county. No fees will be charged to individuals as the bus is being provided as a public service by Gateway Community Services.

Persons desiring additional information about the program should call their local Gateway office. The Rowan office can be reached by calling 784-7735.

State To Have Office In Brussels, Belgium

Brussels, Belgium, has been selected as the site of the Commonwealth of Kentucky's International Office, to be opened Sept. 9 by Gov. Julian Carroll.

Meantime, John L. Novotny, a former European account executive and agency manager for the J. Walter Thompson Co., has been retained by the Kentucky Department of Commerce to be director of the Kentucky Office of Economic Development in Brussels. His appointment was effective Monday, July 12.

Novotny, who will leave for Europe next month, will be responsible for promotion of Kentucky products for export and for development of foreign direct investment within Kentucky.

The choice of Brussels as the base of operations for both economic development and tourism was made jointly by the Department of Commerce and the Department of Public Information based on four key criteria:

- + Its central location and proximity to other European markets;
- + The relative cost of doing business, comparing favorably with the other locations considered;
- + Availability of necessary services;
- + The diplomatic neutrality of Belgium.

The choice, several months in the making, had narrowed in recent weeks to Brussels and Dusseldorf, West Germany.

Commerce Commissioner Larry Townsend says the hiring of Novotny is a major coup for Kentucky.

"Based on all of the people with whom we discussed this — not only the applicants but people from whom we were getting the names of prospects — John Novotny fits this role and brings to us more talent and capability than anyone I've talked to in the field, including personnel now in Europe.

"He brings to the job not only a good attitude, but experience in international business along with the ability to market. He possesses a number of contacts and relationships with companies with whom he will be able to deal on a favorable basis," Townsend said.

Novotny, 41, was with the J. Walter Thompson Co. for more than 13 years, including three years as managing director in Stockholm, 20 months as account director in London, and three and one-half years as account supervisor in Amsterdam. During his career with the agency, recognized as the world's largest advertising firm, Novotny was responsible for multi-million-dollar advertising accounts for major American and European firms marketing a broad range of products from earth-moving equipment to health aids to airlines and banks.

"One must develop a particular sensitivity to the needs and problems of European clients," says Townsend, "and I have found Novotny's management and marketing experience to mesh with that philosophy."

Novotny holds a bachelor of foreign trade degree from the American Graduate School of International Management and a Bachelor of Science degree in economics from the University of Wisconsin. He has language capabilities in French and German. He is married, has two children, and lives in Hastings-on-Hudson, N.Y.

For the next month, Novotny will be in Kentucky, traveling throughout the Commonwealth, orienting himself both to Kentucky's needs and to what Kentucky can offer potential foreign investors. His salary will be $29,000 annually.

As had previously been announced, Jamison Denny will be the other key man for Kentucky in Europe. Denny will manage promotion of tourism in Kentucky by European visitors to the United States.

While Brussels has been selected as the base of operations for Kentucky's office in Europe, the actual leasing of office space and establishing of services has not been completed.

Personnel from Commerce and Public Information are in Europe now negotiating a contract for office space and contracting for such services as telephone and Telex.

While many details are yet to be worked out, the following dates have been fixed for receptions for national and local government leaders, leading industrialists, tour brokers, travel writers, airline representatives and members of the press in the various countries:

- + Sept. 6, Paris, France.
- + Sept. 8, Frankfurt, West Germany.
- + Sept. 9, Brussels.
- + Sept. 10, London.

The opening of the Kentucky international office in Brussels will also occur on Sept. 9.

State employees now in Europe will be concerned with, in addition to leasing office space and services, seeking accommodations for the tour, scheduling the receptions and seeing to it that technical requirements for Kentucky-produced multi-media presentations are available. Importantly, they are also doing advance work for anticipated private meetings between top European officials.

Organized Film Industry To Be Developed In Ky.

Gov. Julian Carroll has created a new state agency, the Kentucky Film Commission, to develop the film industry in the Commonwealth.

"There is a need for an organized and staffed governmental program in order for the state to capitalize on our opportunity to realize economic benefits through the development of programs to encourage movie, television and advertising production companies to select Kentucky as a site for their location and filming," he said in issuing the executive order creating the commission.

The commission, composed of 20 members appointed by the governor, will serve the state in an advisory capacity in the planning and implementation of programs dealing with the film industry.

Development Cabinet Secretary William L. Short, Louisville, will serve as chairman of the commission's executive committee, consisting of seven commission members selected by the governor.

Public Information Commissioner Jim Vernon, Frankfort, will also be a member of the executive committee and an ex-officio member of the commission.

Other executive committee members include: Hank Lindsey, Frankfort, vice-chairman; Peter Conn, Louisville; Carolyn Richardson, Cadiz; Leonard Smith, Louisville; and Alexander Spears, Louisville.

Members of the commission, receiving no compensation for their services, will serve one-year terms.

Other members are: Ned Beatty, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Christine Bennett, Lexington; Bill Conklin, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Nash Cox, Frankfort; Eben Henson, Danville; Victor Jory, Santa Monica, Calif.; Tom Kehret, Louisville; Pat Kelly, Louisville; Irving Long, Louisville; Faith Lyles, Louisville; Lee Majors, Los Angeles, Calif.; Jennifer McCabe, Ashland, and Warren Oates, Los Angeles, Calif.

The commission will be placed under the office of the secretary of the development cabinet for administrative and budgetary purposes.

Full Speed Ahead To What?

Electric power generating stations are facing intense pressure to install "scrubbing" equipment to remove sulfur gas from the coal burning process. But the only scrubbers available today are incredibly expensive and create monstrous solid waste problems. And the equipment has not met the test of continuous use.

Now it develops that our nation's Environmental Protection Agency is worried about the air standards it has set. Agency officials admit that recent testing fails to confirm its earlier report. In fact, EPA now admits that its earlier findings were adjusted to demand more rigid requirements than the information justified.

The easiest course for a utility is move full steam ahead, and pass the costs along to consumers. But that makes no sense to Kentucky's electric cooperatives. To throw money away for unproved or unneeded equipment doesn't help our environment. It simply gouges our members' pocketbooks. And we oppose that.

Rowan Counties Attend Community Development Meet

Mrs. Geneva Humphries, Mrs. Eva Owens, Mrs. Vivian Walls, Leland Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Crall, Mrs. Lola Bell Blair, and Adrian Razor, County Extension Agent for Agriculture, attended the annual meeting of the Northeast Kentucky Rural Community Development Association at the Ashland Community College last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Blair was recognized and given a certificate for the outstanding service performed during her term as president of the organization in 1976-77.

More than 300 persons from 97 Eastern-Kentucky Communities were present for the awards meeting.

Following the Guatemala earthquake early in 1976, geologists traced ground torn for some 150 miles, with single cracks as much as 32 feet long and 4 inches wide.

News Report From... Rowan County Extension Office

Adrian M. Razor, Karen Hill, Paul W. Mills, County Extension Agents

WARNING
Jim Herron, Extension Weed Specialist, tells us that Round Up, a spray material for weed control, should not be mixed or stored in galvanized steel or unlined steel containers or spray tanks. Round Up or Round-up spray solutions react in such containers and tanks to produce hydrogen gas which may form a highly combustible mixture. If ignited by an open flame this gas could explode and cause serious injury.

CUCUMBERS
Cucumber station is now open, having opened for the first market Saturday. The station will be open Tuesdays and Saturdays from 12 noon to 9 p.m.

PEPPERS
Pepper growers report several peppers on their plants. I saw bacterial leaf spot on two fields last week. If you have pepper plants that have leaves that develop spots on them and fall off, there is a good chance you have bacterial leaf spot. The treatment is to use 2-3 pounds per acre 100 gallons of water or 23 teaspoons per gallon of water. Spray every 7 days and after every rain. The hot weather and high humidity cause rapid development of this disease.

NEKRCDA MEETING
Our congratulations to Mrs. Lola Bell Blair, third president of the North East Kentucky Rural Community Development Association, who received a certificate and praise for the excellent job she did during her term of office. Mrs. Blair is very active in various organizations in Morehead. Also, congratulations to the Cranston Community for being rated a blue ribbon community which carried with the honor a certificate and a cash award. These were given to Leland Hall, Community Secretary who represented them at the meeting Saturday evening.

SOIL TEST
We have gotten a few soil tests from folks who plan to do pasture work this fall. But, I feel quite sure there must be others who plan to do some pasture work. If you want to test your soil, this is a good time to take your samples. Bring in one now so we can get the results

KET Honored By American Bar Association

The American Bar Association (ABA), through its Standing Committee on Gavel Awards, announced Monday that two Certificates of Merit have been awarded to Kentucky Educational Television (KET).

The awards were presented for "Sentencing," from The Penal Code Series, explaining the Kentucky Penal Code and "The Judicial Article," informing voters how the state constitutional amendment would change the Kentucky court system. The amendment was passed in November, 1975, one month after the program was aired.

The KET programs received the awards "in recognition of a distinguished contribution to public understanding of the American system of law and justice, (and) as an outstanding example of public service responsibility meriting the recognition of the legal profession."

One of the award-winning shows, "Sentencing," will be aired Monday, July 19, at 10 p.m. (ET, 9 p.m. (CT)). The show follows the trial of three people who rob a liquor store. They are arraigned, tried, convicted and sentenced.

"We produced The Penal Code series to show what the new laws mean to all of us," said producer Lawrence Holden. "It's rewarding to do something worthwhile. And, it's neater yet to have the American Bar Association recognize what we're doing in Kentucky."

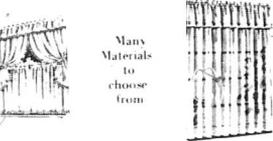

The Penal Code series and "The Judicial Article" were produced by Kentucky Educational Television for the Kentucky Department of Justice under a grant from the U.S. Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

The United Nations charter was signed in the San Francisco Opera House, June 26, 1945.

Report On Coal Mining In Forest Is Released

The Daniel Boone National Forest released today a detailed list of the environmental actions in progress regarding coal mining in the national forest. According to the U.S. Forest Service tally, six environmental analysis reports (EAR) are being written and one was recently completed. An environmental impact statement (EIS) is being prepared based on the completed study.

The EAR's are technical reports to determine the effects of the operations on the environment, if they meet the terms of the deeds and applicable federal regulations, and if the proposals are controversial. If the operations would be controversial or have serious effects on the environment, an EIS is prepared to allow public discussion of the issues.

As of July 9, 1976, the Forest had the following on-going environmental reports:

- An EIS was being prepared and is scheduled to be filed in February 1977, concerning prospecting to determine the extent of minerals in the Beaver Creek Wilderness. The Forest Service completed the EAR June 2, based on plans submitted by Greenwood Land and Mining Company to use direct air core drilling equipment to determine the extent of company mineral holdings beneath the 5,000-acre wilderness. Because the operation would disturb some seven surface acres, plus intrude with motorized equipment in a declared wilderness, Forest Supervisor Richard H. Wengert determined an EIS would be necessary.
- An EAR was completed March 10, approving Greenwood Land and Mining Company's operating plan to prospect outside the Wilderness Area, but within the surrounding Beaver Creek Wildlife Management Area. The plan was accepted based on measures to revegetate the disturbed areas, and reduce soil movement and stream pollution.
- An EAR will be done on Greenwood Land and Mining Company's plan to open a deep mine on Big Swag ridge, which is north of KY. 90 in the Beaver Creek Wildlife Management Area. The company also submitted July 7 a plan to surface mine in the same area and the Forest Service has not yet determined when it will begin an EAR on the latest plan.
- An EAR is presently being prepared on operating plans submitted by Greenwood Land and Mining Company to surface mine 117 acres on national forest land near Greenwood, Kentucky. The company submitted the plan January 23, 1976, and the forest is in the process of compiling the EAR. The forest supervisor will determine from the completed report if an EIS is necessary.

+ An environmental analysis team was designated to evaluate a deep mine operating plan submitted in May by the Mt. Victory Coal Company. This evaluation has not been completed yet. The deep mine opening would be on national forest land along route 122 in McCree County.

+ An EAR is in progress on an extension of 700 acres of federally-owned coal to an existing BLM lease on Ryan's Creek drainage in McCree County. The West Coal Company has also applied to mine an additional 7,000 acres of federally-owned coal, which would be under lease from the Bureau of Land Management of the Department of Interior.

Greenwood is also in the process of opening a deep mine, designated Deep Mine No. 2, in McCree County, south of KY 90 and 2 1/2 miles east of Parkers Lake. The operation will extract privately owned coal with its opening on national forest land. Beside Greenwood's Deep Mine No. 2 and West Coal Company's mine in McCree County, there are two other deep mines in operation on national forest land operating federally-owned minerals.

The Shamrock Mining Company is working a deep mine on outstanding mineral rights in Leslie County and has its opening and facilities on national forest land.

The Lesco Coal Company is operating a deep mine for primarily private coal rights with their opening on private land. They are, however, mining 300 acres of federally-owned coal which lies between private tracts.

FEDERAL GRANT TO AID KAC IN PUBLIC AWARENESS

Nash Cox, director of the Kentucky Arts Commission, announced receipt of a federal grant of $15,410 for the support of a Director of Public Media.

Ms. Cox stated, "The funds will be used to increase public awareness of the services of the Arts Commission for all Kentuckians." The grant was made through the National Endowment for the Arts.

One of the projects planned involves a repeat of the successful 1975 program of film workshops, programs and video tapes.

Summer's sunshine is wonderful, but what it does to the temperature in an uninsulated home shouldn't happen to an air conditioner! It runs and runs and runs and runs and runs to help you keep your cool.

Proper insulation can cut those runs by a third, and that can mean a third less electricity and a third less cost for maintaining the same indoor temperature.

And more, that insulation will work just as hard next winter to keep you warm. The savings then are even greater.
