

Expect Over 5,000 To Be At Horse Show

Entries Received From Leading Stables For Morehead Show

More than 5,000 people are expected to attend the annual Morehead Horse Show to be sponsored at Jayne Memorial Stadium next Thursday and Friday, June 26, 27, Chairman C. Z. Bruce said.

"Our show this year will be much bigger, and will have more outstanding riders and horses than last year," Mr. Bruce declared. He said that entries had been received from many of the leading stables in the county and more are expected before the show.

W. H. Rice, who is in charge of the lighting, announced that due to a tie-up in delivery of 75-foot poles that the permanent lighting system at the Stadium would not be installed in time for the horse show. However, he pointed out, temporary lighting will be put in which will be much better than the stadium had last year.

Profits from the horse show will go toward paying for a lighting system donated by the Board of Trade to Morehead College. Although most of large money awards will be given Friday night, most of the same stake horses will be seen in action Thursday, as they must show in qualifying classes to be eligible for the major prizes.

"In order to give every one an opportunity to see this fine show we decided to scale admission prices down to 75 cents and 50 cents," Mr. Bruce said.

Waterfield Scores Special Interests In Opening Speech

Harry Lee Waterfield, publisher-candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, opened his primary campaign at Murray, Saturday, with a pledge that his "services will not be hindered by political consideration nor strangled by unbecoming ambition for personal advantage."

"The primary issue of this campaign is the people of Kentucky as opposed to the interest of the special few," Waterfield told upwards of 7,000 persons who gathered to wish him well. "My record of public service will show that I have always opposed special privileges for any individual, group, or interest."

"The primary issue of this campaign, more specifically, is the Calloway County-born candidate said, 'is TVA and REA versus the Kentucky Utilities Company.'"

"I am for rural electrification expansion and cheap TVA power. I have always been for it without qualification. TVA and REA in Kentucky cannot continue to live by a narrow margin. The time has come in Kentucky for the private utilities-TVA power is to be settled."

"As a voter, you can only accurately judge what a man's future course will be by his actions in the past. The record I before you I urge you to vote for government in the interest of all the people of Kentucky, not in the interest of the power trust and privileged minority."

Other highlights of Waterfield's opening statements follow: "Education: 'The educational issue in this campaign is not what the teachers' salaries were last year or this year. The issue is: what will the salaries be in 1934, and thereafter... The time has come when education must obtain support for a long-range program of action. "I believe the state should look forward to making an appropriation great enough to provide a minimum salary of $2,400 for every teacher who holds a certificate issued upon graduation from a standard four-year college."

"Taxation—"I favor a tax on pari-mutuels in fair and equitable measure and in just proportion to the tax burden... A tax of not less than five per cent on pari-mutuels should be enacted. As your Governor, I shall recommend to the General Assembly the passage of a pari-mutuel tax measure."

"I shall advocate a drastic reduction of the intangible tax. By greatly reducing the intangible tax, we will be able to attract new investment capital and new industry in Kentucky as well as create an incentive for our present industry to expand and thereby provide new opportunity for labor."

Roads—"I propose and shall foster a comprehensive system of roads and highways in Kentucky. I shall sponsor a balanced program for primary and rural roads of the special few."

"I shall sponsor and provide leadership for an appropriation of $10,000,000 a year for country roads... I propose to give active and vigorous leadership to a vast extension of rural road building and maintenance for rural Kentuckians in every county in this state."

Public Assistance—"I shall work and seek the help of the legislature in providing adequate appropriations for public assistance... I shall consider child welfare a keystone of our public welfare program."

Labor—"I shall advocate a fair labor policy in Kentucky. I shall work toward the elimination of intolerance... Kentucky labor has proven to be one of the great assets of this state. It should continue to be a vital, forceful factor in the development of our state. I see no need for any punitive labor legislation."

Local Option—"I shall favor, as I have always favored, a fair and equitable local option election."

McKinney's To Discontinue Dept. Store

One of Rowan County's oldest retail mercantile establishments—the A. B. McKinney Department Store—today announced they were discontinuing business. The McKinney Department Store will be succeeded by an exclusive men's shop to be operated by Mr. McKinney's son-in-law, William H. Layne. Mr. McKinney has been in failing health for several months, and plans to retire from all active business.

He is constructing one of the most modern business buildings in the city. The old McKinney store building has been razed and the merchandise moved into the portion of the new structure that has been completed.

In connection with his announced plan of quitting business, the entire stock of the department store is to be offered to the public at a sale which gets underway Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. McKinney said it was the plan of the store to sell everything, including fixtures, at reduced prices.

Search For Orville Brown Continues

Charged In Warrant With Double Slaying On Christy Creek

The search for Orville Brown, 24, charged with the masked slaying of two people at a Christy Creek store last week, is being pushed in two states and the assistance of the FBI is being sought in an effort to locate him, it was learned today.

Meanwhile, officers have contacted his wife, who was reported missing after the shooting. She was located at the home of relatives in Elliott County, where she had been working at the time of the slaying.

Brown is charged with slaying Eddie Johnson, 52, and Robert Roe last Wednesday morning. It is alleged that he entered Johnson's store with his head covered by a paper sack with holes cut out for eyes.

According to witnesses he spoke but five words. The first three were: "Don't nobody move."

Sixteen year old Roe, whose parents live in the neighborhood, evidently thought it all a joke and said: "What are you trying to do, kid somebody?" The slayer turned the double barreled shotgun toward Roe and fired a blast point blank which almost cut the youth in two.

Turning to Johnson he uttered the fourth and fifth words: "Come here."

Johnson started to dive behind the counter and was cut down by a blast which entered his heart. The man then fled.

Local officials did not divulge the evidence they had against Brown but they issued a warrant for his arrest. The next day Brown had been working at St.

locate him there, while searching parties have been scouring the Christy Creek section and Elliott County.

Dr. Baird's Plan Praised

Dr. William Jesse Baird's plan to carry to the December meeting of the Southern Association written commitments from State Senators, Representatives and the Governor-elect that they will vote for a change in the law governing appointment of regents to the state colleges and the university has met with almost universal approval and support from the press, the legislators and the educators of the commonwealth.

Perhaps, even more important, it is focusing the attention of a school-minded public on the danger that the institutions of higher learning are in.

The Louisville Courier-Journal quoted the statement that Senator Allie W. Young of Morehead, made when the ouster act became law: "No honest Governor wants this power and no dishonest Governor should have it." This newspaper, and practically all others in the state, have editorially commended Dr. Baird for his efforts to have Morehead re-instated.

There is a chance that Governor Willis might call a special session and include the subject in the call, which will make Dr. Baird's task before the Southern Association in December easier. But, the Morehead president is rightly taking no chances and intends to appear before the accreditation body with excellent evidence that the law will be changed by the next legislative session, if it is not previously done by special session call.

The String Is Running Out

The Greenup Fiscal Court last week classified their telephone service as deplorable and "the worst in Kentucky."

In a page-one column the Lexington Leader Monday set out that their long distance service was very poor, and that operators in other cities were advising patrons that it "is harder to get Lexington than it is to get New York."

Olive Hill citizens complained of their service last year to the Public Service Commission, and Ashland users have been up in the air for months. The company has been under fire in Morehead since two years.

All of these complaints are operated by the Lexington Telephone Company, they having bought the Ashland Home Telephone Company properties to add to their already inadequate system.

We hope that the officials of the Lexington Home Telephone Company are not ignoring the indignation of the public. As a public utility they owe it to their subscribers to furnish service that is comparable to that found in other places. They have continually claimed that the war overtaxed their lines and that materials have been and are still scarce. The rest of the United States has war, too, and their business comparably increased, but the service they are giving the public is much better than the Lexington Telephone System offers.

The Public Service Commission is failing in its duty if it does not require the Lexington Company to adequately serve the communities in which it has franchises.

The string is beginning to run out for this utility company. The people want results rather than carefully-worded apologies.

Two Worthy Events

Morehead will be the scene of two events within the next three weeks that should bring thousands of people to our community.

The first is the annual Board of Trade Horse Show to be staged at Jayne Stadium next Thursday and Friday. The latter is the July 4th celebration sponsored by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The Horse Show should be much better than last year's very successful affair. The committee is assured of competition from outstanding stables in Kentucky, Ohio, Tennessee, Alabama and other states, and the attendance should be capacity.

Veterans are putting together a commendable all-day program for the Fourth of July which will be entertaining. In addition, the day will furnish an opportunity for many old-fashioned get-togethers between friends.

The Board of Trade plans an open house with a buffet lunch at the Midland Trail Hotel Friday evening for exhibitors, cash sponsors and neighbors and friends from other counties and states. This is a worthy undertaking that should cement many friendships for Morehead.

A Good Choice

The selection of Charles Hughes of Morehead by the vocational agricultural teachers of Kentucky as president was a wise choice.

Mr. Hughes has been a leader in the promotion of agriculture in this community. Enjoying the vigor of youth and the fine trait of doing every job well, he has spear-headed agricultural advancement in this county, both in the schools and on the farm.

It matters little where I was born,
Whether my parents were rich or poor;
Whether they shirked at the proud world's scorn
Or walked in the pride of wealth secure.
But whether I live or whether I die,
And hold my integrity firm in my clutch,
I tell you, brother, plain as I am,
It matters much. —Selected.

'We Are Rich'; Others Starve

General Dwight D. Eisenhower, who commanded our soldiers in Europe, says that the second World War and the price this country paid was the penalty for years of indifference when we stripped ourselves of the strength necessary to have security and take the leadership for peace.

The general points out that "without American aid, guidance and leadership, there is immediate danger of social, political and economic chaos among hundreds of millions" of people. As the Chief of Staff puts it: "We are rich in foodstuffs; one day distant by plane are millions who starve. We are wealthy in finance; nations, sound at the core, are imperilled by bankruptcy. We are possessed of economic skills and industrial know-how; whole continents await developments."

Almost every American will agree with the statements of the general and even applaud his assertion that this country intend to continue the firm championship of those who seek to lead their own lives in peace. However, it will take more than lip service to implement the program outlined by the general and it is not yet clearly established that the people of the United States are ready to make any short-range sacrifice in order to acquire a long-range benefit.

In other words, the United States, in its own behalf, must assist a struggling world to get rid of the effects of the war. The short-range sacrifice is to spare some of our extra cash and extra goods. The long range benefit that will accrue, in the opinion of most experts, is a well-ordered world, in which people can gradually raise their standards of living and live in peace.

Town Meetings Vs. Pressure Groups

The fundamental weakness of Democracy is its vulnerability to pressure groups. Demanding special concessions or special protection for their own interests. Time and again we have seen the devastating effect of these groups upon our political and economic structure, for pressure groups breed intolerance both from without and within.

What we need are fewer pressure groups and more town meetings. It is hard for a pressure group to thrive in its own community, if discussion is open. There is nothing so fog-borne as the steady state of those who know you. And there is nothing more deflating to the ego than a common sense barb in a neighbor's homely phrase.

In a democracy no one class or group should ever aim to be in control for the American form of government was designed to do away with such a possibility. The best defense of America is a strong, educated, informed citizenry. And the best way to keep them informed is through the town meeting.

The town meeting gives the opportunity for men and women to hear authoritative statements, to join in open discussion. This is an American way of life, as opposed to the pressure group which is the perversion of the democratic ideal. This is the way to unity, not to rifts within the house of the nation. The Government may be the pilot, but it is the people who run the ship.

The town meeting is the ideal of democracy for in it the people can talk out their many problems, with all sides presented so that men may make their own conclusions and learn something of their neighbor's views. If men are free to talk, they can clearly crystallize their own thoughts. They can learn to see their case as others see it, and there is time for compromise and change before the heat of combat.

A true democracy is an expression of identity of interests of all the people. The ideal of a democracy is not people merely tolerant of one another, but of people working together without regard to class, race, creed or color. Keep this ideal before the people there is no better way than the town meeting. This is the American way.

Veterans And Their Families

The Veterans Administration estimates that war veterans and their families will make up forty-three per cent of the country's population by 1952. Population experts believe that the veterans and their families, now numbering 46,000,000, will grow to 62,000,000 by 1952.

While the Veterans Administration estimates are used as the basis for its program during the next ten years, the public is interested in the inevitable conclusion that the veteran and his family will exert key influence on the national scene in five years' time.

Those who think wild life is disappearing should have seen the kids the last day of school.

Too often the trouble with the average man is that he thinks he isn't.

A lot of our troubles today are caused by small people raising big problems.

'Tis a sad state of affairs. A used car ten years old, with more miles on the speedometer than a slot machine, has less than fifty finds a buyer with more money than brains.

A friend of ours is in a hospital for observation. He wants to get a better look at the nurses.

Russia now boasts that she won the war. We can see red, and it ain't in a Soviet uniform.

Because of the abnormal rains of this spring many farmers are planting and praying. But you can be thankful you don't live along a rampaging river where farmers are only praying.

Among other things of note, summer begins in June, although we wouldn't bet a wooden nickel on it.

(WNU Staff)

I sometimes wonder if any of us realize the progress that Morehead has made in the last 10 years.

Take Billy Bishop, for instance. Now, Billy is from over on Craney Creek. I can remember that he used to park his car in Clearfield and walk into town because he was afraid of the traffic. Now, he has a modern grocery store in town.

Another example is Claude Brown. I can remember the time when Claude did not have a pair of shoes and wore a pair of patched moccasins with a nail holding the strap on. Now, Claude has a prosperous farm, stocked with show horses, and a private truck to work them out on. Of course, he made his money by being a smart automobile trader, but he has it and possession is nine points of the law.

Take Allen's Grocery. I used to be that they didn't give you a nickel's worth of cheese and crackers and a bottle of soda pop and throw in a piece of brown sugar for free. Now, they have progressed so much that you have to go in one door and out the other. I always try to go in the wrong door and come out by the same door that I went in by. Jack Helwig's Hardware Store used to be a Lum and Abner proposition. Now you can purchase anything there that you will find in the best store in Chicago.

Even Ray Perry has dressed up his place of business so much that I take off my hat every time I pass it.

Then there is Mrs. James Brannum who makes a living for her husband. She has one of the nicest stores in town. It hasn't been so long ago that A. E. McKinnon picked black berries for spending money and his address was Licking Union. Now, he is building a store like Mammoth.

Across the street Harry Goldberg enlarged his pantie and overall business to include a complete department store and a men's haberdashery that carries everything from plastic suspenders to tuxedos.

Yipes, perhaps have noticed that Ray Lytle has been advertising his self-service grocery. The truth of the matter is that he adopted this plan because he is too lazy to wait on anybody.

The above are signs of progress. At a later date I intend to expound on some other business improvement, omitting, of course, that city permitted box cars to be moved on Main Street to be set up as business places.

I can't get over how my garden is coming along. My potatoes are growing so fast they keep me awake at night burning out of the ground. One day I hoed my beans in by B.V.D.'s and like to have burned up. The next day I hoed the corn in on an overcast and almost froze to death.

California claims you can get a complete change of climate there by traveling a few miles. We can best prove this for we get the same thing by going to place.

I saw Bill Sample up the street and he said he was cold as sweat just.

Personally I think this weather is caused by the Democrats who are trying to freeze us Republicans out.

The politicians are beginning to claim they have done everything right and never did anything wrong in their lives. Mark my words Harry Lee Waterfield (candidate for Governor and I must say he is the people's choice) can't claim to be responsible for the bumper crop of strawberries in McCracken County. It's no wonder they had a million dollar crop. It used to be that they sold strawberries in the stores by the quart . . . now it is so much each!

Yes sir, anything that is done you can always expect the Democrats to claim it in the primary to say "I done it" and in the final election, "We done it."

Why, the Democrats will have you believe they are responsible for making cream sour so that you can make buttermilk. They claim the sun shines brightest in Kentucky because there are more Democrats than Republicans and that burley tobacco wouldn't bring enough to pay for the fertilizer if it wasn't for them. They claim they're responsible for trees growing up and the water running down; for the fishes in the streams and the fowl in the air.

Why, you can offer one of them a drink of moonshine and if it is good and brings an immediate ting to the toes you'll hear him say: "Some good Democrat made that." But if it tastes like a mixture of coal oil and water they'll come out with: "These d--- Republicans don't even know how to make good whiskey."

Kentucky just naturally has the claim of being the home of any place in the country. They set big and talk big but the worst part about it is that they vote big because there's just more of 'em.

These Singing Old Hills

Residents on Bays Avenue and Second Street in that vicinity, report they are periodically awakened at 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning by a girl singing. She has a nice voice, but at that hour of the morning it takes on sad and eerie quality. Her repertoire includes religious and popular numbers.

They don't object to the young lady singing, but all agree that she picks an unusual hour for her concerts.

Parking Tickets
One of the first tickets for overtime parking on Main Street was handed to our good friend Gus Johnson. The two-hour parking regulation went into effect this week, and police report that "violations" have been the rule rather than the exception.

Improvement

J. C. Barber says he will have the most up-to-date sandwich shop in Eastern Kentucky when he finishes with the Burger Bar improvements. The building is being enlarged and all new equipment is to be installed.

May Have Veterinarian

Although we haven't had an opportunity to talk to him about it, we learn that there is a possibility that Allie Holbrook, one of the most popular young men that Morehead has ever produced, may hang out his veterinary shingle here, and be recently graduated at Texas A. & M.

If he should decide to ply his profession in Morehead it would be a great help to the farmers of Rowan and neighboring counties, and would probably go far toward increasing the registered and pure-bred stock on the farms in this vicinity.

Plans Practice Here

Dr. Hilaire Hurt, another Morehead native, will open offices in the McKinney building in July. Dr. Hurt, who is known to most Moreheadians, is a chiropractor.

Will Open Offices

And, while we're on the subject of doctors, we learn that Dr. Sam Reynolds plans to open his new offices on East Main Street, as near as the McKinney building, on which construction has started, is completed. He has recently been connected with Dr. E. D. Blair.

Week's Best Story

Knowing that the stock was scheduled to shortly visit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Jones, we asked Mr. Jones Sunday morning if the momentous event had taken place. "Oh, yes," he replied. "Mrs. Jones gave birth to twin boys last night."

Bill Lane happened along a few minutes later and we imparted this information to him. Later in the day Bill went to Lexington, purchased a dozen roses and went to the St. Joseph Hospital to visit the mother and twins. He was advised that Mrs. Jones was not a patient. He talked over to the Good Samaritan and was told that the fact was not in that hospital.

The truth is that the blessed event hasn't happened yet (at least not at this writing) but Papa Jones, wanting to appear as a "big shot" told several people that he was the father of twin boys.

We made a mental bet with ourselves that it will be one girl.

Our project for renewing the red paint of the National Forest boundary continues at a good rate. The Fleming-Mason REA unit, in the person of its likeable right-of-way representative, Mr. Stout of Flemingsburg, has applied for permission to cross Government land on Clear Fork and Rock Fork with a power line to supply electrical current to families in those two localities.

Messrs. Stegner and Murray of the Tennessee Gas and Transportation Commission

It is always encouraging to encounter new readers of this column. Last week while I was inspecting the current rural work in the vicinity of Lewis Pond I met a man building a new home. He was Charlie Hooks and was a well-known resident of Morehead. He told me that he had a picture in the paper and what you write about the "farmers" and how they are about to leave, he mentioned that I didn't favor the picture, much, thought I was a larger man, so I had to pull the crew in and I was probably that had him fooled. Also ran across a westernmost copy of the column tucked up to a tree at the head of Slabcamp. Court Scores Telephone System

Say Service Most Backward Of Any In Kentucky

The Lexington Home Telephone Company was described as giving Greenup County "the worst service in the state of Kentucky," by the Greenup Fiscal Court in session June 3.

The court petitioned the telephone company to extend their service to the rural areas.

The court's resolution read as follows:

"We, the members of the Fiscal Court of Greenup County, Kentucky, fully realizing, that Greenup County is among the most progressive counties of the State of Kentucky, having an abundance of railroad and steel industries, and many other industrial businesses, and being one of the outstanding agricultural counties of eastern Kentucky and having increased in population approximately 20 per cent in the last five years, and further realizing that the telephone service of Greenup County is the most backward of any section of the State of Kentucky, and perhaps of the United States.

"Be It Resolved, that we deplore the fact that large areas that are closely populated in Greenup County are completely without telephone service, and that many citizens living two miles from the county seat can not call the county seat without paying a long distance charge, and further realizing that the long distance service to all points of the county is so poor that a person can travel the distance that he is calling much more quickly in most instances than he can obtain telephone communication.

"Now Be It Resolved, that we request the telephone companies serving Greenup County to extend their service to the rural areas of Greenup County, and that the service from all points of the county be made more available to other parts of the county without long distance charges being added thereto.

"Be It Further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Lexington Home Telephone Company and a copy to the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company.

"All members present voting, yes."

FOREIGN RESIDENTS

One out of four foreign residents in the United States lives in New York State, according to Prof. W. A. Anderson, of Cornell University.

In FASHION now

Sheet prints are the perfect answer for hot days unless you have a good laundress who can keep you fresh in cottons.

Little jackets are wonderful with the bare dresses. They make street clothes out of play frocks and keep that tan from getting too deep.

EARNINGS

While the average hourly earnings of workers in both durable and nondurable goods industries continued to rise during April, workers in some branches of industry, for the first time since 1942, averaged fewer than forty hours. The averages for April in all manufacturing were: $47.44 weekly, 40 weekly hours, 118.6 cents hourly earnings.

CLEAN SHOWING AT SAN JUAN

The last hurdle before Puerto Rico liberty, Captain's Inspection, on the USS Macdon, one of the several ships assigned in the expanding training program for veterans and non-veterans of the Naval Reserve. The Macdon's complement of Reservists on the two-week cruises are made up of civilians from all walks of life—business men, students, carpenters, welders. After the inspection these Reservists spread from the old Spanish fortress of El Morro to the University of Puerto Rico on the tiny island of San Juan. (Official Navy Photograph)

IN THE LAST 12 YEARS WE HAVE PAID

$20,457,092.61 IN TAXES

FEDERAL TAXES: $11,412,090.85—CITY-COUNTY-SCHOOLS: $6,607,143.87—STATE: $2,437,857.89

BUT THAT'S NOT ALL.... DURING THE SAME PERIOD—

We have paid $25,294,322 in salaries and wages to our employees. Most of this they spent locally.

We have purchased 2,979,320 tons of Kentucky coal: These 59,587 carloads of coal insured a year's work for 2,383 miners, and thousands of man-days of employment for railroad workers.

We have spent $15,986,095 for new construction in Kentucky, not including the payroll.

We have paid $14,216,021 to our stockholders. Of this, $11,253,882 was paid to our preferred stockholders, 5,731 of whom live in Kentucky.

We have paid $1,341,720 in employee retirement funds and insurance. These are voluntary contributions to employee welfare.

These figures show the value of a single industry—one of Kentucky's largest—to our Commonwealth. They add further proof that our public officials should protect and encourage the growth of tax-paying, job-providing, business-managed industries, because such industries spell prosperity for Kentucky.

Cozy Is Here!
Cozy is short for coxidiolosis, the chick killer. It's likely to start around water fountains. Chickens pick it up and spread it, and you have an epidemic in the brooder house. In rainy weather, or when litter is damp, it spreads faster.
Control is the Dr. Hess treatment for cozy. Used in time, Coxidiol will help keep coxidiolosis from getting started. If the disease gets a foothold, Coxidiol will help reduce losses.
Add Coxidiol to the feed—3 lbs. to 100 lbs. of mash. Costs 1/2¢ to 1¢ a chick. Keep it on hand.

IN MEMORIAM

A precious memory of my beloved brother, Henry C. Trumbo, who departed this life February 22, 1947:

A precious memory is all that is left for us. One cold and snowy day our flower faded away. He was so heavenly I know that he will always be. Henry, so sweet and dear to us—our precious memory. Darling, when I saw you there I could hardly speak. I knew then that the angels had come to take you away. My heart skipped a beat for I knew that you had answered them. I knew you had lingered long for those golden wings that carried you to the heavenly blue where there is no more pain and sorrow for you. A voice we love is now stilled. A vacant place in our home which can never be filled.

A loving brother and uncle so sweet and kind—how we miss him no one will ever know. God needed another star to shine. A brighter one he could never find. And, oh God there was never a sadder day. When we laid his darling body away. And now all there is left to say is dear God please keep green the grass that grows upon his darling grave.

Yes, you can now buy all popular sizes of the tire that outwears prewar tires at actually less than prewar prices! And despite higher manufacturing costs too. One of the things that makes possible this huge price reduction is the tremendous demand for the new Silvertown—greater than for any tire B. F. Goodrich ever produced. In fact, more miles have been driven on this new tire than any other tire introduced since the war.

Sarah Anne's COOKING CLASS

Far up the Hudson River at the very beginning of the Catskill mountains there is a smoke-house from which comes the most delicious smoked hams and smoked turkeys. These hams are ready to eat, all you have to do is slice and serve. However, if you prefer, use your favorite ham recipe and bake about five minutes to the pound.

Smoked Ham Hors d'oeuvres
Smoked ham cut in 1/2 inch cubes

Prepared mustard
1 egg beaten and diluted with 1 tablespoon water.

Dry bread crumbs
Spread the ham cubes with the mustard. Roll in the beaten egg. Dip in the bread crumbs. Fry in shallow fat until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Spear with colored toothpicks and serve.

Club Sandwiches
For each sandwich allow 3 slices of bread toasted. Softened butter or margarine

Letting
Smoked turkey slices
Smoked ham slices
Tomato slices
Mayonnaise
Sweet pickles
Spread each slice of toast with the butter or margarine. Arrange lettuce and smoked turkey slices on one toast slice; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Slowly saute thick slices of smoked ham until thoroughly heated. Spread second slice of toast with mayonnaise, place on ham slices. Cover with tomato slices and crisp lettuce. Top with the third slice. Cut in triangles and garnish with sweet pickles.

Hot Ham Sandwiches
Smoked ham, thinly sliced
8 slices bread
1/2 cup butter or margarine
Prepared mustard
1 egg beaten
2-3 cup milk
Slowly saute ham until thoroughly heated and lightly browned. Spread slices of bread with mustard. Place ham between 2 slices of bread. Add milk to beaten egg; dip sandwiches in egg and milk mixture. Brown on both sides in butter or margarine. Serve immediately.

Ham and Egg Scramble
8 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper
1/2 cup milk
4 popovers
1 cup diced smoked ham
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Beat eggs slightly, add salt and pepper, add milk, mix well. Add ham—melt butter or margarine in skillet; add ham mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring gently. Split popovers, fill with ham and egg mixture.

Ham Slices in Cider Raisin Sauce
8 to 10 thin slices smoked ham
1/2 cup finely packed brown sugar
1 cup cider
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Senator J. J. Thomas Announces Candidacy

SENATOR J. J. THOMAS

In submitting my candidacy to the voters of the 27th District, I am proud to represent the office of State Senator of the 27th District, composed of the counties of Bath, Fleming, Macon, Menifee, Rowan and Wolfe, in the Primary Election to be held on Saturday, August 2, 1947. I first wish to express the deep appreciation I hold by all the voters within the District for their past support in honoring and electing me to this office and I hope the record made in the previous sessions of the General Assembly has met with the approval of my constituency and upon that record I am asking your support in the coming election.

Farming
My District being in the farming section of the state I have always voted for such legislation as I felt was to the best interest of the farmers. As a member of the House of Representatives in 1936 I voted for the first R.E.A. Bill passed in Kentucky and as a member of the Senate in 1942 I voted for the original T.V.A. Enabling Act which I believed would allow the people in my District to obtain cheap electric power. I voted to reduce the tax on real estate to five cents on each one hundred dollars, to reduce automobile licenses to five dollars per year, to allow gasoline used by farmers for farm equipment to be tax free, and if re-nominated and re-elected I pledge to the farmers that I shall continue to support all bills that will be to their interest.

Education
I have always been a friend of the schools and the teachers of this state and have voted for all the appropriations for school purposes in both regular and special sessions. I wrote Governor Simeon S. Willis a letter in February, 1947, requesting that he call a special session of the legislature so that we might make an emergency appropriation to increase the salaries of the school teachers, which would give them a livable salary until the legislative session in 1948, at which time the legislature should study the needs for school purposes and make an adequate appropriation for that purpose. I voted for the Teachers Tenure Law, the Teachers Retirement Act and other bills which I felt were for the betterment of the school system of Kentucky. The people of my district, and especially the citizens of Rowan County should be deeply interested in the Morehead State Teachers College. To this college I have given my whole-hearted support at all times and have had to fight at sessions of legislature to prevent the appropriation from being taken away and I will continue to fight for the interests of this college. I believe that the institutions of higher learning in Kentucky should be taken out of politics, as far as possible, and I will vote to give members of the Board of Regents tenure.

Roads
The State of Kentucky is now in better financial position than ever before to build better roads and highways. I feel that the rural highways leading from the farms to the markets should have first consideration. I voted for the first Rural Highway Appropriation that was ever made in Kentucky and in the 1946 session I voted to raise this appropriation to five million dollars, and feel that this should be increased to eight or ten million at the next session of the legislature. The state roads and roads leading from county seat to county seat should be maintained in the best way, assuring safety in driving.

Public Assistance
I have always voted to give assistance to the old people, dependent children and needy blind. In fact, I voted for the first Old Age Pension Bill ever passed in this state and have supported every increased appropriation for that purpose. I shall continue to support increased amounts for the old people, dependent children and the needy blind.

Industry
I shall support a bill to reduce the intangible tax, feeling that if this is done we will be able to attract new industries into Kentucky, and it will allow our present industries to expand, thereby giving more work for the people of our state. I shall vote for greater exemptions in our inheritance tax law.

Veterans
Having served in the Army in World War I and having two sons who are veterans of World War II, anything of interest to the veterans is of deep interest to me. I have been a member of the Veterans Committee in all sessions that I have served in the legislature and at the 1946 session of the Senate I was chairman of this committee. If re-nominated and re-elected, I will be a member of the Veterans Committee in the 1948 session of the Senate. I assure you that I will work for and support any measure that is of interest to veterans of all wars.

Looking River Dam
At the 1946 session of the General Assembly, I introduced and secured passage in the State Senate, a joint resolution, asking the members of Congress to vote against any appropriation for the building of the Falmouth Dam which would inundate and destroy thousands of acres of land in my district.

In conclusion, I trust that the Democrats of this District will go to the polls on August 2nd and re-nominate me as your State Senator. Never before has the State of Kentucky needed experienced representation so much and on my past record and experience, I feel that I am entitled to ask your support.

Faithfully yours,
J. J. THOMAS.

Home Ec Group Contributes To Personal, Home Living

Girls studying Home Economics in the high schools today select and carry out activities in their homes during the summer months. These activities are supervised by the Home Economics teacher through guidance in selecting activities that meet the girl's ability and needs and by visiting each of their homes throughout the summer months to give help when needed.

The records kept by the girls of these activities is evidence that they have made some contribution to home and family living. If the girl is a member of Future Homemakers of America Chapter this evidence enables her to earn her degrees. To date 70 girls have earned their Junior Homemaker degree in the Morehead High chapter. Several thousand girls have earned degrees in Kentucky and other states in the nation.

The activities the Morehead High School girls are carrying out this summer will enable them to qualify for the Chapter Homemaker Degree. At the end of the summer, the five best activities will be written up for publication at the best one sent to the State Department of Vocational Education at Frankfort.

Listed below are the activities selected by each girl in the Home Economics classes this summer:

COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW

By a vote of twenty-one to twenty-nine, the Senate rejected a proposal to permit husbands and wives in all States to have their combined income for Federal tax purposes and thus take advantage of lower rates. Ten states in the nation already have community property laws which gives married couples the privilege of splitting their incomes.

Suddenly it's young again

PROBABLY that faithful Buick of yours still can show a clean pair of heels to other cars on the road—probably still rides and runs like a charm. It makes you realize how wise you were to have picked a Buick in the first place.

Even though time always takes a toll, Buicks do carry their years well. They can keep their eagerness to go, their light-hearted gait and gentle comfort particularly when they are rewarded with the considerate care that Buick dealers know how to provide. It's care that brings out your car's youthful spirit—care that lets you feel that suddenly it's young again.

Buick car care is something far different from what's regularly called service. It's something that only a Buick man can give. Because he is trained in all the needs and preferences of Buicks. The tools he uses are the right Buick tools. And any replacement part your car may need is a Buick-engineered part.

So it's easy to see why your car is so ready to give you its best when it receives regular Buick car care—care by men who know Buicks through and through and love them heart and soul.

BUICK CARE
KEEPS BUICKS BEST

BROWN MOTOR COMPANY

Morehead, Kentucky

THIS WORM TURNS A BIG CAR

A Buick steers with a finger touch. Part of the secret is a stream of 60 steel balls that circle the worm on the steering column. With these balls there is no little friction that makes steering a fight—so the worm steers as lightly as a feather. Over 100,000 Buicks have been driven without frequent take-ups.

Your Buick dealer indicates this gear with just the lightest Buick touch. Anything heavier would make steering stiff in winter—anything lighter fails to give full protection against wear.

It's another instance of how Buick knows Buicks best. And the same holds true in whatever your car needs—like job, take-ups, major or minor repairs.

With This Ring I Thee Wed

Marriage, symbolized by the wedding ring, is a tie which binds hearts and hands in a union which forms the basis of human society. Its purpose is to improve human relations, provide for the continuity of the race, and enrich human lives with the blessings of companionship and love.

A wedding is rightly an occasion of great joy; but it is also an event which marks the assumption of solemn responsibilities. It is a pledge of fidelity and wholehearted devotion which forecasts the establishment of a home and the rearing of children.

To meet these responsibilities and make marriage a success, men and women need divine guidance and the strength and inspiration which come from religion. A home without these lacks one of the first essentials to successful living and true happiness.

A church connection should be one of the first considerations of the young couple who leave the altar as man and wife. A home founded upon faith in God and the precepts of religion will stand unshaken in all the vicissitudes of life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend and support the church of his choice. They are: (1) For his own sake of his children's sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church on Sunday and read your Bible daily.
