Steak Prices For Coffee... Rowan Residents Still Buying The 'Liquid Gold'

By LESLIE MURRAY

Americans have "black gold" to fill up their cars and keep them running, and now we have "liquid gold" to refuel us and get us ready for the hard day's work ahead.

With coffee reaching steak prices, Americans are starting to seriously consider giving up their morning pick-me-up.

Here in Morehead, Ray's Super Valu, a local grocery store, recently put up a sign telling its customers "Don't buy our coffee, it's too high."

According to Nick Lytle, of Ray's, the price of one pound of Maxwell House ground coffee was $1.52 in January, $2.09 in April and now is $2.68. Three pounds of Maxwell House last year at this time was $4.50 and now is $8.24.

"We're losing money selling coffee at the Super Valu's suggested price, we'd make more money if people would buy orange juice and other beverages," commented Lytle. He continued, "We get prices twice a week and every time the price on coffee is up."

When asked how many people were still buying coffee or were they paying attention to the sign, Vernon May, floor manager at Ray's, said, "I have more trouble keeping coffee on the shelves now when the price is high than when it was lower, if people would stop buying, the price would go down."

According to IGA's warehouse, coffee sales are up 4 per cent due to panic buying. When asked if he thought people would boycott coffee, Bob Allen, of Allen's IGA, commented, "No, they may cut down, but not significantly; people will buy regardless of the price." He continued, "There may be a coffee shortage, but not that much to cause this much of a price increase. We have no trouble getting coffee."

Grocers are not the only one's affected by sky-rocketing coffee prices. According to Terry McKenzie, manager of Quality Vending Service of Kentucky, although they haven't raised prices yet, he anticipates a price increase in the next two months to six a cup.

With the prices of coffee going up, what will restaurants do? Bill Davis of The Eagles Nest, anticipates a price hike from 25c a cup to 35c with all the refills desired. However, with meals, coffee will probably cost 25c.

Even with slight price increases in a cup of coffee, restaurants are still losing money. None of the restaurant managers and owners contacted, plan on limiting refills. "Jerry's will never change its policy on the 'bottomless cup,'" declared Gary Bishop, owner. "There will probably be a price increase, but people will be able to get all the coffee they want," added Bishop.

Ray Griffith, of Kentucky Fried Chicken, plans on lowering the price of tea and soft drinks, in an effort to persuade people to switch; however Griffith thinks people will not stop buying coffee, but that they will just pay the price.

Just how are coffee prices affecting the average consumer and will people stop purchasing coffee? When asked Mrs. Mary Daley, a Holiday Park Road housewife, who buys 3 jars of instant coffee a week, she said she would continue buying coffee until the price reached $4 a jar. She also didn't think there was a coffee shortage.

Both Mrs. George Morrison, Oakdale subdivision, and Mrs. Janie Holbrook will continue buying coffee, because "I have to have my coffee."

However, there are a few Rowan county residents that have already stopped buying coffee. Mrs. James W. Day, Christy Creek, doesn't plan on buying any more coffee after she sees what she already has. Mrs. Leona Wilson, Route 3, has already switched to tea.

Even with the national attention coffee prices are getting, most people in the Rowan County area will continue to drink "that liquid gold."

The apparent reason for the high coffee costs goes back to a 1975 freeze in Brazil which destroyed much of the crop. Brazil is the world's largest producer of coffee and supplies about 80 per cent of U.S. green bean imports. Brazilian officials are saying they would like the prices to get down, but the shortage due to the freeze has pushed the prices up.

Meanwhile, consumer wrath is not lessened by reports that Brazilian coffee growers earned record profits last year or that Brazil and Columbia are cashing in on the coffee shortage by raising export taxes.

Jim Caudill President Of Peoples Bank

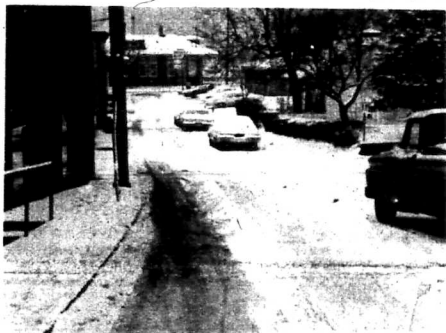

Four of the area's leading businessmen have been elected to the Board of Directors of the Peoples Bank of Morehead, according to an announcement today by James R. Caudill Jr., the bank's chief executive officer.

Elected by the bank shareholders were Hubert Allen, Morehead; C. Roger Lewis, Morehead; N. Stone Sharpburg; and H. D. Peet, Winchester.

Directors reelected at the meeting were James R. Caudill Jr., Theresa Caudill, Don Caudill, Agnes Williams and Larry Fannin.

The directors elected Jim Caudill to succeed Roy C. Caudill as president of the Bank. Roy Caudill announced his retirement last week.

Other officers elected were Thelma L. Elam, senior vice president; Theresa Caudill, vice president; Don Caudill, junior vice president; Ruth Moore Gilkinson, cashier; and Christy Perry, installment loan officer.

CAREY STREET as it appeared last Wednesday morning about 9:30. Schools were closed Tuesday through Friday last week and are closed this week. For more snow pictures, see Page 4, Section 2.

Snow, Snow, Snow... When Will It End?

Younger residents of Rowan County are saying this is the worst winter storm they can remember, and the old-timers are referring to it as the worst in many years.

Schools in the county system, and at others throughout the area, have been shut down for a week, and it appears it will be some time before classes resume.

Blizzard conditions have hit the area for a week, the worst perhaps coming late Sunday night and into the morning Monday when freezing rain fell on top of an already estimated eight inches of snow.

More snow followed the sleet early Monday morning and continued throughout most of the day.

Many state offices were closed Friday and Monday as the result of the inclement conditions.

Locally, the Rowan County Courthouse offices were closed Friday afternoon and again Monday. Morehead Cowden plant also was closed Monday.

Most secondary roads in the area have been reported by State Police as impassable, and many of the interstates

Morehead Utility Plant Board To Act On Natural Gas Proposals

Morehead Utility Plant Board discussed the feasibility of its plan for management of available natural gas supplies last Thursday night, but will not vote to formally accept the plan until Thursday.

The delay came because some members, particularly Marvin Moore, saw the board's $1,200,000 plan should have a chance to react to the proposed plan first.

The plan, which calls for curtailment of gas used by Morehead businesses, was developed by a plant board committee as an act of good faith to Tennessee Gas Transmission (TGT). That firm levied a $30,000 penalty for October gas overrun, and according to Chairman Clayton Perkins, the board stands to incur an additional $250,000 penalty if Morehead used too much gas for the first three months of 1977.

About seven representatives of local business concerns showed up for the meeting, mostly hoping to find out how much they're going to get in coming years and how much they will have to pay for it.

One of the problems in the plan will be determining how much gas these businesses use for heating, and how much they actually use for their livelihood, reason being that each will be curtailed differently.

Plant board employes have already begun these initial calculations, so that the plan can get into full swing when accepted in some form next week.

The board also voted to get into a voluntary program for home gas conservation, which will mainly involve advertising. Perkins and member Gary Bishop said persons would be needed to develop the campaign, and that interested persons can contact the Plant Board office at 784-3538.

Following is the plan submitted at last week's meeting, to be voted upon depending on public reaction at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday at the board's office, 109 Bishop Ave. Included after each section are the comments and explanations of board members.

APPLICABILITY

In the event of an emergency which necessitates curtailment of natural gas service, the Morehead Utility Plant Board (MUPB) shall curtail gas service to its customers in the manner set forth herein.

DEFINITIONS

1. Special Gas Service Contract Customers: A customer who purchases gas from the MUPB under a Special Gas Service Contract, which contract specifies that the availability of such natural gas may be terminated at any time at the discretion of MUPB.
2. Domestic customers: customers who use gas in homes, boarding houses, apartments, mobile homes, dormitories, hotel and motel sleeping rooms, and other customers having end use for gas of a strictly residential nature. This category shall include hospitals, physicians' offices, medical clinics, and places of a like kind where the element of human welfare is the predominant requirement, including sewerage treatment plant facilities.
3. Non-Domestic Processing Gas customers: Gas used by non-domestic customers for purposes other than space heating purposes, which processing purposes shall include gas used for the production of a service or product which it is necessary for the economic well-being of said customers.
4. Mixed Domestic and Non-Domestic Customers: Customers who use gas for domestic and non-domestic purposes, supplied through a single gas meter.
5. Mixed Domestic and Non-Domestic Customers: Customers who use gas for domestic and non-domestic purposes, supplied through a single gas meter.
6. Non-Essential Gas Use Customers: Customers who use gas for the purpose of operating gas lights and for gas heated swimming pools.

(This group would be the first to experience a natural gas cutback.)

PRIORITIES OF CURTAILMENT

The MUPB may curtail or discontinue natural gas service in whole or in part on a daily, monthly or seasonal basis (or on the basis of any other period for which the MUPB is allotted gas by its natural gas suppliers) to its customers in accordance with the following priorities, starting with the last priority herein listed and proceeding in descending numerical order:

(These are in order from last to first to be cut off or curtailed, in phases, which board members indicate will become operable April 1 of this year.)

1. Domestic Customers and domestic use of gas by mixed Domestic and Non-Domestic customers; as said domestic use of gas is determined by the MUPB.
2. Non-Domestic Processing Gas customers and gas used by mixed Non-Domestic Processing Gas customers and Non-Processing Gas customers for processing gas use afloat, as said processing gas use is determined by the MUPB.
3. Non-Domestic Non-Processing Gas customers.
4. Non-Essential Gas Use Customers.
5. Special Gas Service Contract customers.

Joe Mauk Candidate For Rowan Co. Judge

Joe Mauk, who retired from the U.S. Forest Service on July 30, 1975, after working over 39 years with the U.S. Government, the last 36 of which were with the Daniel Boone National Forest within this area, announced today that he is a candidate for County Judge on the Democratic ticket in the May 24, 1977, Primary.

Mauk, who resides at 850 West Main Street, Morehead, is married to the former Bernice Stamper and they have three children - a son, S. G. (Jerry) who is a District Forest Ranger on the Angeles National Forest in California; a daughter, Karen, dining room hostess at the Morehead Holiday Inn, and Michael Joe ("Mike") who is personnel manager for Simpson Manufacturing Company in Pompano Beach, Fla.

Mauk had the following comments regarding his qualifications for the office of County Judge:

"During most of the 36 years I spent with the U.S. Forest Service, the various positions in which I worked involved supervisory and administrative work. With the new court system which will go into effect in 1978, the County Judge will no longer serve as a trial judge. These duties will be taken over by the District Courts. The duties of County Judge will be primarily that of administrator of the county's fiscal affairs, chairman of the Fiscal Court."

Mauk is a World War II veteran, serving with the 147th N.C.B. (Seabees) in the Pacific. He has been a member of the American Legion, serving two terms as post commander. He served as chaplain in the V.F.W. and has been an active member of the Morehead Lions Club since it was chartered in 1948. Mauk was a member of the Morehead Volunteer Fire Department for 34 years. In addition to working on various other community projects, he has served several years on a volunteer basis as a member of the Advisory Committee for State Vocational Education Teacher Exchange Program.

He also has contributed his time as instructor at Kentucky State Fire School held at the University of Kentucky each year in June for fire department personnel over the state of Kentucky.

throughout the state in the day, dipping to from five below zero to 10 above during the night. Heavy wind gusts have added to the already bitter cold.

Registration began Monday at Morehead State University, however, the University of Kentucky moved its registration ahead one day (to Tuesday).

Sleds are not to be found in Morehead stores. Merchants are having many requests for sleds, but are unable to fill those requests. One merchant said, "We just never have a demand for them, so we haven't stocked sleds, but we could have sold as many as we could get our hands on if we had them."

Tire chains for vehicles weren't too plentiful in Rowan County either. Prices for chains seem to range from $20 to $50 or more, depending on the size tire. And weather forecasters were predicting another six inches of snow by today (Wednesday).

Tommy Fouch Announces Candidacy For Coroner

Tommy Fouch, today formally announced his candidacy for the office of coroner of Rowan County on the Democratic ticket in the May 24, 1977, Primary.

Since 1964 I have served the people of Rowan County in the capacity of assistant funeral director and have always made a special effort to serve the people in an honest, courteous and efficient manner. I am currently employed by the Northcutt & Son Home for Funerals Inc.

I am the son of the late Orville and Gertrude Hamilton Fouch. I have lived in Rowan County all my life. I am married to the former Margie Collins and we reside on Morgan Fork in Clearfield.

Your help and support of my candidacy for the office of Coroner of Rowan County are and will be deeply appreciated. (Paid political advertisement paid for by the candidate, Tommy Fouch.)

Luck Easterling Announces Candidacy For Sheriff

"I am formally announcing my candidacy for the office of Sheriff of Rowan County on the Democratic Ticket in the May 24, 1977, Primary Election."

"I am a life-long resident of Rowan County, have been married to the former Louise Gee for 27 years and reside in Clearfield."

"When elected, I will work diligently for better law enforcement, pledging you a courteous and efficient 24 hours a day Sheriff's Department."

"Your vote and support of my candidacy will be greatly appreciated." (Paid political advertisement paid for by the candidate, Luster (Luck) Easterling.)

John Cox Is Candidate For Rowan Co. Attorney

John Cox, a Morehead attorney, of Rowan County Attorney. He will run on the Democratic ticket in the May 24 primary election.

John and his wife, the former Jennie Leech of Glasgow, Ky., have resided in Rowan County for three years. John is a graduate of Campbellsville, Ky., and a graduate of Campbellsville High School, Western Kentucky University and the University of Louisville School of Law.

Association, American Bar Association and Kentucky Trial Lawyers Association. John is presently serving as Morehead City Attorney.

A veteran of the Vietnam War, and an infantry officer for three years, John is a member of the Corbie, Ellington American Legion Post of Morehead.

He and his wife, Jennie, live on Rt 2, Park Luck Road, and have one daughter, Harper, age two. (Paid political advertisement paid for by the candidate, John Cox.)

Herman Mabry Seeking Election As Magistrate

Herman Mabry, a native and lifelong resident of Rowan County, today announced his candidacy for magistrate of District 3, comprised of precincts 4, Elliottville, 9, Clearfield, 18, Dry-Creek; and 13, City Hall.

In making his political announcement, Mabry said: "I am a taxpayer who has labored all my life, therefore, I know the value of a dollar and will be against any increase in our county taxes in every respect."

"I promise I will, to the best of my ability, look after our county roads and bridges and also keep roads that lead to cemeteries and churches in good repair, which I believe is of interest to all people."

The above statements are part of the platform of the Democrat candidate for the magistratical seat in District 3.

In announcing he continued: "I assure you, the citizens of this county, that I will to the best of my ability, see that every dollar of your tax money is used wisely to do the most good for the most people."

"I earnestly request your vote and influence and will do my very best to see each of you before this Primary Election in May."

Mabry, his wife and daughter reside at Elliottville and have lived their entire lives in this part of Rowan County. He is the son of the present magistrate, Arthur Mabry. (Paid political advertisement paid for by the candidate - Herman Mabry.)

Lemuel Black Jr. Is Magisterial Candidate

Lemuel Black Jr., a native Rowan Countyman, is announcing his candidacy for Rowan County Magistrate in the May 24 Primary. He is seeking election on the Democrat ticket in District 3, comprised of precincts 4, Elliottville, 9, Clearfield, 18, Dry-Creek; and 13, City Hall.

Black was born and has spent his lifetime in Rowan County and is a member of the Slab Camp Christian Church. He is married to Phyllis Black who is secretary at Monarch Hardware. They have a daughter, Angie, age 9, who is a student at Clearfield School.

Black is a farmer and a contractor and has lived at Clearfield all of his lifetime. He is announcing his candidacy for Magistrate, Black stated -

"I would like to see our roads in better shape. Our county has the money, but why our roads are not fixed, I can't understand."

"I think there are too many promises made and not enough action. As the part of the magistratical seat is the very reason I would like to serve you as magistrate."

"Any help and votes to elect me as magistrate will be appreciated." (Paid political advertisement paid for by the candidate, Lemuel Black Jr.)

Morehead Among Towns With Power Shortages

Power shortages in a number of areas served by Kentucky Utilities, including Morehead, were reported Tuesday afternoon by KU officials.

Jerry Hish, a KU spokesman, advised The Morehead News that the power company is experiencing a shortage of about 300 megawatts of generating capacity.

Hish said the power shortage is widespread, noting that the entire United States is experiencing shortages of coal. Another reason given by Hish was the long up of coal at the E. W. Brown Power Plant in Danville which has resulted in partial loss of generating capacity, thus slowing down the whole process of generating electricity for the areas served by the E. W. Brown Plant.

The KU spokesman said all customers serviced by the company in the Morehead area are affected. This area also includes Owingsville, Mt. Sterling, Winchester and Lexington.

Hish said, "We have no reports of 'brown outs' at this time and we can take care of the problem within the next day or so if the public will cooperate."

Hish noted that the power plant has been overloaded during the extremely cold weather. His recommendations to the customers of Kentucky Utilities included:

the customers of Kentucky Utilities included:

- Industries cut back thermostats to 65 degrees
- reduce lighting and horsepower production wherever possible

- Commercial customers should eliminate lighting during the day and reduce during the night, as well as lowering thermostats to 65 degrees
- Residential customers should observe the same conservation program as commercial users, plus reducing cooking, laundering and any other project that uses electricity that is not absolutely necessary.

Hish said that a large commercial KU customer were being contacted Tuesday (yesterday) in an effort to get them to cooperate in reducing electric usage and possibly eliminating the third or night shifts.

Heart Attack Fatal To Mrs. C.E. Bishop

Mrs. C. E. Bishop, 94 co-founder and co-owner of C. E. Bishop Drug Company, Morehead's oldest retail establishment, died Saturday at her residence, 410 East University Blvd., following an apparent heart attack about 12:45 p.m.

Mrs. Bishop and her late husband, C. E. Bishop, founded the drug company in 1896. Mr. Bishop died in 1930. Mrs. Bishop and her son, Robert Bishop, were partners in the drug company at the time of her death.

A native of Clinton County, Mrs. Bishop was born April 21, 1882, daughter of the late L. P. Hudleston and Mary Elder Hudleston.

She had been a teacher at the old Bracken Academy in Morehead and was a charter member of the Morehead Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Bishop also was a member of the Rowan County Women's Club.

Survivors, in addition to her son, Robert of Morehead, is another son, Edward Bishop of Glenshaw, Pa.; a daughter, Mrs. Roberta Razzor of Morehead; a sister, Mrs. John Dalton of Nashville, Tenn.; three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p.m. Tuesday at Northcutt & Son Home Funerals, Chapel by the Revs. Kenneth Cole and R. D. Baker. Burial was in Lee Cemetery.

Palbearers were Dr. Morris Neff, Roy Smith, Clyde Smith, William Whitaker Jr., Glennis Fraley, Oscar Patrick and Clifford Cassidy.

Car Theft Suspects

An automobile, stolen from a Newark, Ohio car sales lot, was recovered by Morehead Police around 11:30 p.m. Monday.

The occupants of the car, Kimberly Taylor, 19, and her husband, Aaron Taylor, 21, Newark, were apprehended in Morehead while attempting to siphon gas from a vehicle at the Northcutt Funeral Home.

Both suspects have been detained in the Bath County Jail, pending extradition to Ohio.

Utility Plant Board To Act On Natural Gas Proposals

for boilers with gun-type gas burners located in geographical locations where propane fuel storage is permissible, will be curtailed before Non-Domestic Non-Processing Gas customers, and the gas used for said boilers may be curtailed 100 per cent upon three hours notice to said customers from the MUPB.

(Blair said he is not sure there are any such customers on the system. "This was something common in the plans we used as our forms. It apparently is fairly simple to convert this type," he said.)

PHASE III

Non-Efficient, Non-Domestic Non-Processing heat space heat).

The MUPB may notify any Non-Domestic customer that, based on "normal space heat requirements" per square foot of floor space heated with natural gas in the building(s) of said customer, his usage of natural gas for space heating purposes in said building(s) is excessive in that it exceeds "normal space heat requirements." Normal space heat requirements shall be determined by the MUPB by using an average per square foot space heating requirement for representative commercial buildings served by the MUPB, which commercial buildings have a customer or traffic flow in and out of said building similar to that of the customers so notified. Said written notification to said customers shall include suggested methods in which said customer may reduce his use of gas for space heat in order that his building shall be more efficient in the use of natural gas. Six months after the date of said written notification to said customer by the MUPB, the "base space heat load" to said customer will be reduced to said "normal space heat requirements."

(In other words, "If the Citizen's Bank is using more gas than the People's Bank, and we can assume the door opens about the same number of times a day, we notify Citizens that they aren't well enough insulated. In six months we notify them that they have been cut to the same per square foot basis as the People's Bank," Blair explained with a hypothetical example.)

LIMITS OF CURTAILMENT

The "Base Period Volume" as hereinafter defined of Non-Domestic Non-Processing Gas Customers shall not be reduced by more than 45 per cent until Processing Gas has been curtailed.

NON-DOMESTIC PROCESSING GAS

Within ten days after the publication or circulation of this plan, all customers of the MUPB's gas system who feel they qualify for an allocation of "Non-Domestic Processing Gas," shall notify the MUPB in writing of their application for said allocation and of the amount of Non-Domestic Processing Gas, to which said customers feel they are entitled. The MUPB may adjust said allotment of Non-Domestic Processing Gas to any of said customers by determining average or normal space heat requirements per square foot of building and water heat usage for representative commercial businesses within the city of Morehead, applying this average or normal space heat requirement to the square feet of building and water heat used by the customer applying for Non-Domestic Non-Processing Gas, and deducting this average space heat and water heat usage from the prior usage of said customer, using Processing Gas for space heat, in order to determine the amount of Processing Gas to which said customers applying for Processing Gas are entitled.

For this purpose, the gas usage of said customers applying for Processing Gas during the calendar year 1976 (see amendments) shall be used for determining the total amount of gas from which average space heat and water use gas shall be deducted in order to determine the amount of Processing Gas for which said customer is entitled. In this alternative, the MUPB may allot to said Processing Gas Use Customer his average total gas usage during the months of June, July and August, 1976, as his allotment of Processing Gas, if that allotment will result in a greater amount of Processing Gas.

(Bishop anticipated some problems with this clause. "Morehead is unique because we have so many service oriented businesses, and pretty soon all of them are going to end up in the non-curtailable category." The Plant Board accepted an amendment to this part of the plan which said that the calendar years 1974, 1975 and 1976 shall be used in determining how much non-domestic Non-Processing gas some can get, instead of using the aforementioned 1976 alone.)

Some observers claim that about 80 per cent of the county has water that is "hard." The solution? Perhaps a water softener that softens the water before it enters the piping system. Softened water might mean cleaner looking dishes, a brighter wash and shiner hair after a shampoo.

BASE PERIOD VOLUMES

The MUPB may assign base period volumes to each of its natural gas customers in any or all curtailment priority categories. These volumes shall be determined by the customer's consumption of natural gas and shall be the highest natural gas consumption by said customer for the applicable curtailment period during the years 1974, 1975 and 1976, subject to adjustment by the MUPB, upon written application to the Plant Board by said customer, for customers who have enlarged their buildings or increased their use of natural gas by installation of additional natural gas appliances, or customers who have constructed new buildings heated by natural gas, during the years 1974, 1975 or 1976.

(This applies to space heating gas, and allows for a fixed base resulting from gas usage in 1974, 1975 or 1976.)

CURTAILMENT OF BASE PERIOD VOLUMES

The MUPB may, during any curtailment period, notify all the customers in any curtailment category that said customers' base period volume of natural gas for said curtailment period, shall be reduced by the same percentage as all other customers in said curtailment category. (See amendment.) Said notification shall be given as early as possible under the circumstances, and shall be in writing if reasonable and possible under the circumstances. However, in the event of emergency, the MUPB may notify said curtailment category customers of said reduction in base period volume by telephone, radio announcement, newspaper advertisement or other available means. Said reduced base period volume is designated as "adjusted base period volume."

Members decided that at some point the board will have gone as far as possible with base cutting, or otherwise pipes will freeze up. An amendment was accepted which said that the biggest base cut would be 45 per cent, before some cutting would have to be done on processing gas. Bishop said it would be unlikely that the board would find itself in such a position, but the clause is needed "just in case."

PENALTY CHARGES

Any customer subject to interruption or curtailment under this Plan, who uses any quantity of gas in excess of his "adjusted base period volume" during a curtailment period, shall be subject to a penalty charge applicable to such unauthorized use of gas at the rate of $10.00 per 1,000 cubic feet of gas used in excess of said "adjusted base period volume." In the event that the penalty exceeds the amount of the Plant Board's estimate of such customer's excessive use of gas for said curtailment period, the Plant Board may require said customer to pay in advance a deposit in the amount of the Plant Board's estimate of such customer's excessive use of gas for said curtailment period. In the event of unusually cold weather emergencies, acts of God or other occurrences which may cause a given customer to exceed his "adjusted base period volume" of natural gas, the Morehead Utility Plant Board may waive or refund all or any portion of said penalty.

GAS FLOW METER measures fairly accurately the amount of gas used by Morehead businesses and residences. The speedometer type window changes numbers each time 100 cubic feet of gas is used. Plant Board Manager Herman Brown said Tennessee Gas Transmission authorities have indicated to him that they might apply some excess gas from December to a $93,000 penalty for overuse in October.

Plant Board's customers. Such penalty shall be in addition to the established rate and charge for natural gas by the Morehead Utility Plant Board. The payment of penalty charges for use of natural gas in excess of a customer's "adjusted base period volume" shall not be considered as giving any customer the right to use said unauthorized volumes of gas, nor shall such penalty charges be considered as a substitute for any other remedy available to the Morehead Utility Plant Board at such time as it becomes apparent to the Morehead Utility Plant Board that any customer may incur such penalty for the curtailment period. The Plant Board may require said customer to pay in advance a deposit in the amount of the Plant Board's estimate of such customer's excessive use of gas for said curtailment period.

In the event of unusually cold weather emergencies, acts of God or other occurrences which may cause a given customer to exceed his "adjusted base period volume" of natural gas, the Morehead Utility Plant Board may waive or refund all or any portion of said penalty. In the event that a customer exceeds his "adjusted base period volume" of natural gas for a curtailment period, and the Morehead Utility Plant Board is not subject to any penalty from its suppliers for said curtailment period, because the total amount of gas purchased by the Morehead Utility Plant Board from its gas suppliers does not exceed the Plant Board's allotment from its suppliers for said curtailment period, or because said penalty assessed by said suppliers is waived, the Morehead Utility Plant Board may waive or refund to any customer who exceeds his "adjusted base period volume" upon the following conditions:

- 1) If said "adjusted base period volume" has not been exceeded by more than 10 per cent, the Morehead Utility Plant Board may waive or refund the entire penalty on said excess.
- 2) If said "adjusted base period volume" has not been exceeded by more than 15 per cent, the Morehead Utility Plant Board may waive or refund the entire penalty on the first 10 per cent of excess and 50 per cent of the penalty on the last five per cent of said excess.
- 3) If said "adjusted base period volume" has been exceeded by more than 15 per cent, the MUPB may waive or refund the entire penalty on the next five per cent of said excess usage.

In the event that the MUPB is required to pay its gas suppliers any penalty for any curtailment period, because of gas use by the MUPB in excess of the gas allocated for said curtailment period, all penalties paid by customers exceeding their "adjusted base period volume" for said curtailment period shall be deducted from the total amount of said penalty required to be paid by the MUPB and the remainder of said penalty shall be charged to all gas customers of the MUPB including those customers who have already been billed for or have paid a penalty for use in excess of their "adjusted base period volume" during said period in proportion to the usage gas by each customer of the MUPB during said period for which said penalty was incurred by the MUPB.

Board members informally agreed to an amendment which would make it possible for a business going over its allocation in the first month of the three month allocation period, to make this up by effective conservation during the remainder of the period. Members noted this would work as long as TWG keeps the allotments in three month periods, but a letter received by MUPB last week specifies that the allocation periods could be changed from tri-monthly to monthly, weekly or even daily, at any time.)

EMERGENCY CURTAILMENT

The above rules are designed to provide for curtailment or interruption made necessary by a continuing deficiency in gas supplied to the MUPB and not to provide for unforeseen emergency circumstances. In the event of such emergencies, the MUPB shall have the right to direct all "Non-Domestic customers" to further curtail or interrupt service to the extent it deems necessary in order that service may continue to be supplied to and for "Domestic customers" to the maximum extent deemed practical by the MUPB.

DISCONTINUATION OF SERVICE

If any customer subject to interruption or curtailment under these rules fails to limit use of gas as provided for herein, the MUPB shall have the right, after reasonable notice to said customer, to immediately and permanently disconnect all gas supplied to such customer.

The Plant Board discussed forming an appeals board to which customers could find recourse to decisions made by the board concerning their curtailment or discontinuation. Further action on this is expected to be taken Thursday.)

Fire Damages Brock Home
Fire extensively damaged the kitchen at the residence of Rowan County School Superintendent John Brock on Sunday afternoon. There were also extensive smoke and heat damage to the remainder of the four bedroom, split level, brick Forest Hills home.
The Morehead Fire Department was called to the Brock residence at 1:46 p.m. Sunday after Mr. and Mrs. Brock smelled smoke. The fire resulted from a frying pan of grease left unattended on a stove.
Seventeen volunteer firemen, Chief Glen Terrell, and three pumper trucks responded to the alarm. The fire completely engulfed the kitchen, but was soon brought under control by the Morehead Fire Department.
There were no injuries. The Brock children were in Mt. Sterling at the time of the fire and Mr. and Mrs. Brock left the home unharmed.
The family is temporarily staying at the Holiday Inn. They do not expect to return home for several weeks inasmuch as considerable renovating must be done.
Some of the floor, ceilings, and walls were blistered by the heat. Much of the house will need rewiring, and the walls will have to be stripped down.
The house was covered by fire insurance, however, no cost estimate is available at this time.
Besides damage to the interior of the house, most of the furniture was ruined by heat and smoke. Most of the family's clothes were also damaged by smoke.
The Brocks had lived in the house for six months. Brock assumed his duties as Superintendent of Rowan County Schools on July 1, 1976.
In another call, the Morehead Volunteer Fire Department, upon authorization of Mayor C. B. Cornett, assisted the Olive Hill Fire Department at a fire at the Staggs home, U.S. 80 East, at 6:40 p.m. Monday, Jan. 10.
The home was completely destroyed by a fire. Although the cause is unknown, a faulty fuse is suspected.

Open House Sunday At Morehead Clinic

The Morehead Clinic, located beside St. Claire Medical Center, will hold open house Sunday, Jan. 16, from 1 to 3 p.m. for which occasion Congressman Carl D. Perkins and Terry M-Brayer, Kentucky Commissioner of Commerce, will be present.

The recently completed three-floor clinic building contains 28,000 square feet of floor space in which 16 medical doctors and two dentists now practice. Their fields are family practice, internal medicine, pediatrics, general surgery, ear, nose and throat surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, ophthalmology, oral surgery, neurology and orthodontics.

Two midwives and three physician assistants also practice in the clinic. The building can accommodate five more doctors and can be enlarged when the need exists.

Congressman Perkins has long been active in promoting increased health facilities in this area. He will speak at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the Morehead Clinic following a review of the expansion plans of St. Claire Medical Center.

The recently completed Cave Run Clinic and St. Claire Medical Center with its impending expansion are additional examples of the modern health care facilities located in Morehead.

The public is invited to the open house Sunday afternoon at Morehead Clinic.

Dear Readers: I am happy to repeat this column at the request of readers from Phoenix, Montgomery, New Orleans, Springfield and Nassau.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF HOW TO GET ALONG WITH PEOPLE:

1. Keep kid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Cultivate a low, persuasive voice. How you say it often counts more than what you say.
2. Make promises sparingly and keep them faithfully, no matter what it costs.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging word to or about somebody. Praise good work, regardless of who did it. If criticism is needed, criticize helpfully, never spitefully.
4. Be interested in others; their pursuits, their work, their homes and families. Make merry with those who rejoice, with those who weep, mourn. Let everyone you meet, however humble, feel that you regard him as a person of importance.
5. Be cheerful. Don't burden or depress those around you by dwelling on your minor aches and pains and small disappointments. Remember, everyone is carrying some kind of a load.
6. Keep an open mind. Discuss but don't argue. It is a mark of a superior mind to be able to disagree without being disagreeable.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for themselves. Discourage gossip. It is a waste of valuable time and can be extremely destructive.
8. Be careful of another's feelings. Wit and humor at the other person's expense are rarely worth it and may hurt when least expected.
9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Remember, the person who carried the message may not be the most accurate reporter in the world. Simply live so that nobody will believe them. Disordered nerves and bad digestion are a common cause of back-biting.

10. Don't be too anxious about the credit due you. Do your best and be patient. Forget about yourself and let others "remember." Success is much sweeter that way.

Dear Ann: I could kiss you for your advice to "Mother Of Two Pluses and One Minus."

I am a middle child. My older sister (according to my parents) was "brilliant, sensitive and creative." My younger sister was "honest, sweet, kind and good." I was "moody, belligerent, willful and unmanageable." Mother called me "stupid" so often I thought it was my given name. My school work and social life were a disaster because of the emotional turmoil at home.

We are all grown now and here's the picture: My younger sister weighs nearly 300 pounds. My older sister dislikes my parents so intensely that when they come to visit, I'm the only one who will meet them at the plane and give them a place to stay. Neither of my sisters will have them over for a meal. Do I like my parents? No. Do I forgive them? Yes. But it took many years of costly therapy. It's obvious who the losers are. And also quite sad — The Middle One.

Dear One: Many psychologists are coming to the conclusion that children who have had to cope with unhappiness develop into more resilient, productive adults than those who had a comfortable, carefree childhood. Your letter supports that theory.

Oops! Watch That Sidewalk

By LESLYE MURRAY Staff Writer

If you have been to downtown Morehead during the last week, and noticed yourself slipping and sliding on some of the sidewalks, you might have wondered who is responsible for snow and ice removal, and who would be liable in case of an injury.

According to City Attorney John Cox, there is no city ordinance that requires the City of Morehead to be responsible for snow and ice removal. Under Kentucky Case law, cities do not have the responsibility of clearing sidewalks of snow and ice, notwithstanding an ordinance to the contrary. Morehead does not have any such ordinance.

If however, any citizens or city personnel take it upon themselves to clean the sidewalks (in other words, assume the duty), then they must exercise good and reasonable care. If responsible care is not used, and an injury results, then whoever took over the duty of clearing the sidewalk could be held liable, according to Cox.

However, all this should be proved. Essentially, no one is legally liable for the sidewalks of downtown Morehead. So a word of caution, wear boots and walk very carefully.

U.S.S.R. IMPORTS MEAT

MOSCOW — Soviet imports of meat products reached 500,000 tons in 1975, about 15,000 tons under the record level of 1974. That brought 1975 imports to 1.5 million tons, triple the amount imported during the previous five years.

5,300 TANKERS IN WORLD FLEET

MOSCOW — The world tanker fleet exceeds 5,300 vessels, comprising more than 302 million deadweight tons. In the last 20 years the world's merchant fleet has increased by 50 per cent to more than 15,400 vessels.

The American farmer deserves a lot of credit.

Our 80th anniversary is an appropriate time to salute the greatest producer of food and fiber in the world — American farmers.

Sixty years ago, the Land Bank was established to help the farmer by providing dependable, long-term financing.

We've changed a lot over those years, but our purpose has remained the same... to provide farmers with the credit to produce that food and fiber.

Morehead Wins On New Track

Morehead State University inaugurated its new indoor track last weekend with a 76-30 win over Rio Grande.

The Eagles won 11 of 13 events and eclipsed three school records en route to the season-opening win.

Senior Mike Marksbury broke his own mark in the shot put with a heave of 53 feet, 8 inches. He bettered his old mark by seven inches. Junior Bobby Jones eclipsed the long jump record with a leap of 24 feet, 5 1/2 inches, more than a foot better than his previous mark.

Junior Kelvin Kelley set a new MSU record in the mile run with a clocking of 4:08.5. Kelley bettered John Baxter's school record by seven seconds.

In addition, the Eagles also tied two marks. Freshman Jeff Washington tied the standard in the 60-yard dash at 6.1 seconds. The freshman from Dayton, Ohio, qualified for the NCAA Indoor Track Championships with that effort.

Freshman Dave Farmley tied the school record in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet, 9 inches. Steve Schertzer was second at 6-6.

Other MSU winners were Oscar Jones, 60-yard hurdles; Rick Ferguson, 100-yard run; Vaughn Thomas, 200-yard run; Bobby Jones, Triple Jump; and David Bowman, two-mile run.

The Eagles return to action Saturday in a noon triangular meet with Eastern Kentucky and Cumberland College.

CHEERLEADER of the week this week at University Breckridge School is Robin Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. (Buck) Dawson of Lakeview Heights. Robin, who is an honor student at Breck, is captain of the varsity cheerleaders and a member of the Beta Club and Pep Club. She is also a Key Club sweetheart and has been a Breck cheerleader for three years. Robin is active in the Clearfield Church of God.

Breck Registers Two Victories

By Nathan Huang

The Breck Eaglets raised their record to 2-5 with two wins last week, both at home. The Ashland Holy Family Irish was the opponent on Tuesday, Jan. 4, for the Eaglet's first outing since the Christmas break.

Breck looked a little bit rusty, as they started slowly; the game being tied at 11 after one quarter. The Eaglets warmed up somewhat in the second period, as Mike Gillum and Danny Dailey each scored 8 points. The 22 point quarter helped Breck to a 33-25 halftime lead. Holy Family managed to outscore the Eaglets 16-14 in period three but still trailed 47-41 after 24 minutes of play. The Irish could get no closer than 6 points the rest of the way, and the final score was Breck, 62, Holy Family, 53. Leading Breck was Steve Gilley with a game high 20 points. Mike Gillum scored 16 points and hauled in 11 rebounds. Danny Dailey added 16 points and Kevin Harris scored 4 points. Tim Hughes scored 3 points. Tony Pence had 2 and Nathan Huang 1 point. The Eaglets shot a poor 39 per cent from the field, but held a 44-37 rebounding edge. Roy Stewart led Holy Family with 17 points.

Breck's next scheduled game, at home against East Carter, was postponed due to snow. Fleming-Neon visited Wetherby Gym Saturday, Jan. 8 for a preliminary to the MSU-Murray game. The Eaglets wasted no time in jumping to an early lead. After the first quarter, Breck led 18-11.

Both teams played an even second period, scoring 18 points each, as the Eaglets led at the intermission 36-29. After the half, the Eaglets came out sizzling. Steve Gilley and Mike Gillum had 10 points each to trigger a 30 point third quarter and Breck's lead stood at 21 points, 66-45, entering the final period.

The Eaglets repeatedly scored layups on Fleming-Neon. Gilley scoring 10 points before Coach Dennis cleared his bench, all players seeing action. Fleming-Neon made a brief comeback on Breck's reserve, and cut a 24 points deficit to the final margin of 69-70.

Steve Gilley once again led Breck with 30 points and 12 rebounds. Mike Gillum had a strong performance with 24 points and 13 caroms. Kevin Harris hit 5 of 7 shots for 10 points and pulled off 12 boards. Danny Dailey scored 12 points and passed out 8 assists. Tim Hughes scored 10 points, and Nathan Huang, Tony Pence, Tim Beck and Joe Dawson each scored 2 points.

Breck shot a good 54 per cent from the field and completely dominated the rebounding battle 59-29. Bryan Gooch scored 18 points for Fleming-Neon.

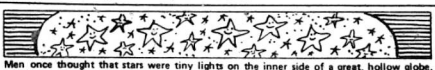

KILLER KELLEY... Senior guard Mike Kelley drives for the basket during Morehead State's 64-40 win over Austin Peay Monday night. Kelley, a senior from Cincinnati, Pa., sparked the Eagles with 14 points. MSU, now 4-4 overall and 2-0 in the OVC, will attempt to protect a share of the conference lead when it travels to Western Kentucky and Middle Tennessee this weekend.

Tri-Star B-Ball Contest Held

The annual Tri-Star Basketball skills contest, sponsored by the Morehead Optimist Club, was held on Tuesday, Jan. 4, in the participants' Laughlin Health Building.

The Tri-Star (same number as last year) competed in six different age groups, from ages eight through 13, against kids of their own age and sex. Contestants were evaluated on their passing, dribbling and shooting skills.

The 29 different winners were each given a trophy, and may compete in one and district competition.

High School B-Ball Tourney

The 1977 State High School Boys' and Girls' Basketball Tournaments will be held at Freedom Hall, Louisville, on March 16-19, and Eastern Kentucky University, Richmond, on March 23-26, respectively. The first session of the tournament is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. There are two sessions for each of the days, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Breck Girls Down Ashland Holy Family

The Breck Girls team ran its record to 8-2 with a 46-29 win over Ashland Holy Family Jan. 4 at Wetherby Gym.

The girl Eaglets got off to a slow start and were leading just 4-3 after the first quarter. Both teams warmed up a bit in the second period and Breck stretched its lead to 15-7 at the half.

The third quarter proved to be a nightmare for Holy Family, as the Eaglets outscored them 17-2 to take a commanding 32-9 lead into the final period.

Coach Sadler cleared her bench in the fourth quarter, and 7 of the 9 players dressed hit the scoring column. These substitutions enabled Holy Family to outscore Breck 20-14 and make the final margin Breck 46 Holy Family 29.

Leading the way for Breck was Lora Tucker with 13 points. Troy Walls was also in double figures with 10. Jan White added 9 points and Jana Outley scored 8. Alesia Reynolds, Susie Tucker and Leigh Clough each had two points to close the scoring. Mary Hamm had 13 points for Holy Family.

Eagles 2-0 In OVC Play

Following a successful opening weekend of Ohio Valley Conference play, Morehead State University's men's basketball squad faces its first conference road trip of the year.

MSU, now 6-4 overall and 2-0 in the OVC, visits Western Kentucky on Saturday and Middle Tennessee on Monday. Both games begin at 8:30 p.m. EST.

The Eagles opened conference play with a 79-71 win over Murray State on Saturday and a 64-60 triumph over Austin Peay on Monday.

"We played good basketball in spots," said Eagle Head Coach Jack Schallow. "But there also were times when we did not play like we're capable of."

The Eagles shot better than 50 per cent in both games and used the scoring of Ted Hundley and Herbie Stamper to sweep the weekend homestand. Hundley scored 30 points and grabbed 12 rebounds in the win over Murray State and Stamper had 20 points and 12 assists in the victory over AFPU.

"It was important for us to win these two conference home games," said Schallow. "To be in the race in the OVC you must win your home games and at least split on the road."

MSU tangles with Western Kentucky for the 87th time Saturday. The Hilltoppers hold a 60-26 advantage in the series which began in 1935-36. WKU is 0-2 in the OVC.

Middle Tennessee and Morehead State will be meeting for the 51st time with the Eagles leading the series 37-13. Following the two-game trip, the Eagles return home to face Tennessee Tech on Jan. 22.

THE BICYCLE LAW

Bicycle Law

Bicycling downhill on a narrow street, Greg sped a truck parked at the rear of him. Greg, confident that he could swing around the truck, he continued pedaling at full speed.

But at the last moment, a car loomed up from the opposite direction. Unable to turn out, Greg slammed into the truck and suffered painful injuries.

As it happened, the truck had been standing in a "NO PARKING" zone. Accordingly, Greg filed a damage claim against the trucking company. But the court ruled against him, pointing out that he himself is guilty of negligence.

"A bicycle rider," said the court, "has the same duty as any other vehicle operator—to keep it under such control that he can stop or turn to avoid collisions."

Each community has its own set of regulations about the use of bicycles. But everywhere the law insists on this basic rule of safety. A similar standard of due care applies to the motorist who encounters a bicyclist on the street. For example:

A motorist on a highway could see that the bicycle rider ahead of him was having navigational problems. Carrying a rake in one hand, the rider was barely keeping his balance. And just as the car caught up, the bicycle lurched into its path.

Here, the motorist was held liable for the accident. The court said that since he had plenty of time to recognize the danger, he should have given the bicyclist a wider berth.

One case involved a five-year-old boy who sailed forth on his bicycle after dark. An impatient driver, he ran into a pedestrian on the sidewalk and knocked him down.

Under these circumstances a court made the boy's parents pay damages. The court said they had no business allowing their child to become a public menace.

Our Fragile Earth

By Jerry Howell
Director of Environmental Studies
Morehead State University

Air and water pollution, pesticides, herbicides and radionuclides are not the only forms of environmental deterioration. There is one form which may be even more permanently damaging than any of the well-known forms of pollution. That form is improper land use, including changes in the landscape resulting from erosion, flooding, solid waste accumulation, and urban and rural blight.

The world, in 1977, has slightly more than four billion people and will probably have about eight billion by 2010. We now have about 85 people for every square mile of inhabitable land space. This tremendous strain on the land has taken, and will continue to take, its toll.

Present land use patterns are interesting. There are nearly two billion acres of land in the U.S. Approximately 62 per cent is modified for agricultural use as cropland or grazing land, 25 per cent is forested, nearly three per cent is used for urban and transportation development, four per cent is reserved for recreation and wildlife protection, and five per cent is utilized for miscellaneous purposes. These figures mean that at least 75 per cent of the land is committed to intensive economic use in agriculture, industry, commerce and housing. Two hundred years ago, when the nation was founded, probably less than five per cent of the land was so committed.

Intensive utilization is not necessarily environmentally detrimental, but a shift of more and more land from productive to non-productive uses will certainly be ecologically damaging in the long run. Each day in the U.S. over 4000 acres are converted from agricultural and biological production to urban, suburban and commercial development. We can afford to continue this; many other countries have recently found that excessive land conversion can be very detrimental to ecosystems and human life.

Many of the desert areas in the midwest and in northern Africa were formerly grasslands and forests. These lands were converted several thousand years ago to agricultural lands, through a later pattern of excessive use and poor management, they became deserts. Most of the forested land in India has been gradually converted to cropland in an effort to help feed a hungry nation. Many experts are now saying that this may cause more problems in the long run than it helps solve because the culture depends heavily upon firewood and there is virtually none left.

We should be learning from the Error Rate In Welfare Payments Lowered In Ky.

Kentucky has reduced its error rate in welfare payments by 38.8 per cent for the six months which ended last June. Gov. Julian M. Carroll received the news from the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) Atlanta office.

Frank J. Groschelle, regional director of HEW's Social and Rehabilitative Service noted, "This is in contract to the reduction of payment errors in Region IV from 14.7 per cent to 9.8 per cent, a net decline of 33.3 per cent." (Kentucky is one of eight southeastern states in Region IV.)

Gov. Carroll said, "I am very pleased that Kentucky remains a leader among states in this part of the country in the effort to cut down on as much as is humanly possible, the error rate in payments of Aid to Families with Dependent Children. An underlying theme of this administration has been to place a premium on the most efficient uses of state and federal tax dollars in all areas of state government."

According to HEW figures, Kentucky has reduced its error rate from 14.7 per cent to 11 per cent. Current error rates are 6.3 per cent ineligible and 11.9 per cent overpaid. The HEW notification described the improvements in the overpaid cases as "a significant decline... from 29.4 to 11.9 is a net reduction of 59.5 per cent."

In this letter to the Governor, Groschelle said, "We do congratulate Kentucky on the progress it has made thus far."

The Governor noted, "I am aware of the difficulty in monitoring and maintaining quality control in these welfare program areas and I congratulate those in the Department for Human Resources who are responsible for improving our good record."

The Aid to Families with Dependent Children program is administered through the Bureau for Social Insurance in Human Resources. Gail S. Hoecker is commissioner of the bureau.

COFFEE Facts & Figures

THE STORY OF COFFEE

The origins of coffee are lost in time, but experts say the coffee tree is native to Ethiopia.

Legend adds that mountain shepherds from an ancient Ethiopian village of Kafa discovered the exhilarating effects of the coffee bean about 600 A.D. But whether this is true or not, Arab traders had learned to boil the bean in water by the mid-1500's.

The beverage was introduced by the Arabs to Turkey and from there spread its way to Europe in the seventeenth century. Since then the cultivation of coffee has spread to many lands, and it has become a welcome part of the daily diet for millions throughout the world.

In the United States, where it is a particular favorite, coffee is produced with modern technology in a variety of forms — ground and instant, regular or decaffeinated — and in a number of blends to satisfy different tastes.

There have been many improvements in the art of making coffee, and a greater selection is now available to the coffee-drinking public. Nonetheless, the price of coffee remains surprisingly low. The National Coffee Association reports that a cup of coffee served in the home costs only about 3 cents.

In these inflationary times, it could explain why coffee continues to rank as the nation's favorite beverage.

McBrayer Says... Future Of Economic Development Bright

W. Terry McBrayer, who officially became Kentucky Commerce Commissioner Jan. 1, is laying the groundwork aimed at meeting economic development goals outlined by Gov. Julian Carroll. "I consider it a real challenge to help Gov. Carroll accomplish his goals—the creation of as many jobs as possible and coordinated efforts in the areas of agriculture, tourism, finance, energy and industrial development."

The Lexington lawyer, a longtime advisor to Gov. Carroll, already is meeting with commerce department personnel and representatives of other agencies in planning programs to boost Kentucky's economic development efforts.

"The future of Kentucky's economic development is bright," McBrayer said. But he said efforts must be stepped up to bring new industry to Kentucky to provide more jobs and to bring a balanced and quality growth to the Commonwealth.

PSC Gives Approval Of Stock Sale
The Kentucky Public Service Commission (PSC) has approved Kanab Services Inc.'s application to acquire all the capital stock of three Middleboro utilities.

The companies, Gas Service Co., Cumberland Valley Pipeline Co. and Laurel Valley Pipeline Co. are wholly owned subsidiaries of the Graham-Michaelis Corp., of Wichita, Kan.

Public hearing was held on the request in the commission's Frankfort office Dec. 15. The case was uncontested. The PSC ruled in its Dec. 29 order that the sale will not impair the utilities' service to their customers and should be approved.

Quantity Of Carpet Seized

The U.S. Consumer Product, Safety Commission (CPSC) today announced the seizure of 4,500 square yards of carpeting manufactured by Imperial Carpet Mills, Inc., Cartersville, Ga. The Commission alleges that the carpet does not comply with Federal flammability regulations based upon raising flammability test results.

Final determination by the courts will decide whether all of the seized carpet or any portion of it is, or is not, in compliance with Federal flammability requirements.

Traffic Fatalities Down In State

Fewer people died in traffic accidents on Kentucky roads during 1976 than in 1975, despite one of the worst holiday death tolls in memory. But 1977 is off to the worst start state police can remember, according to Lt. Ernest Bivens, director of safety education.

Traffic deaths on Kentucky roads totalled 968 in 1976, down from 982 in 1975. Eighteen persons were killed on Kentucky roads during the recent holidays.

Bivens said only four traffic deaths were recorded in the first two days of 1977, contrasting with 14 deaths in the first two days of 1977. "But they come in spurts," he said, "and hopefully we will make it up later in the year" with fewer deaths.

Bivens said recent snows which fell across the Commonwealth will stop the highway death toll for awhile. "I've always said, the best way to save lives on the road is to put two feet of snow on Kentucky highways. People drive more carefully then," he said.

Bivens said last year's death toll could still rise a little, depending on the recovery of some accident victims and pending the outcome of a detailed study of the highway death figures. The study could take several months, he said.

Residents Well Insured

Residents of Rowan County are more heavily insured today than they have ever been, the latest figures indicate. Although, thanks to Social Security and private pension plans, they have better financial safeguards than they once had, they have been increasing their overall insurance protection, especially life insurance, in the last few years.

The trend is attributed, in part, to the fact that people are more concerned than usual about the economy and about their future and want to bolster their financial security.

For the same reason, they have been reducing their debt load and have been putting more money aside as savings. As life insurance coverage, it has reached an all-time high in Rowan County. The total amount in force is now approximately $93,284,000.

The basic statistics, for the nation as a whole and for each of the states, come from the Department of Commerce and the American Council of Life Insurance.

They show that the bulk of that Americans have built for themselves in the form of life insurance has grown to an enormous $2,140 billion.

Of this amount, some $26.5 billion is on the lives of State of Kentucky residents. In 1970, by way of comparison, it was $17 billion.

And this, it is noted, is exclusive of some insurance provided by the Federal government for veterans and others.

Just how much does this boil down to at the individual family level? The findings are that the average family in the state carries an amount of insurance that is equal to 21.8 months of its net earnings, after taxes.

In Rowan County, based upon this yardstick and upon the average net income per family locally, the amount of life insurance in force in the area is close to $22,210 per family.

Currently, the reports show, more than two out of every three people in the country have some form of insurance. Ordinary life insurance is the type most widely held. Group insurance, which is usually job-connected, is in second place.

A hospitable, friendly and beautiful country, with a climate that's quite comfortable all year round, the Ukraine attracts many travelers from around the world.

Kiev, the capital of the Ukraine is Odessa, a port on the warm Black Sea, where the sea breezes and the air of the steppes, the beaches and the medicinal muds make it an excellent health resort. From Odessa, ships sail to 78 countries on all continents.

In addition to its world-famous Opera House, with its repertoire of operas and ballets by classical and contemporary Soviet composers. Odessa has a philharmonic, a special circus, a special Pushkin museum, a planetarium, several sports stadiums and museums of archeology, history and local lore and western and oriental art.

The Ukraine has many other fascinating cities to visit such as Kharkov, a city called the second capital of the Ukraine because of its importance and industry. There are many theaters, concert halls, libraries and museums in the city and many parks and gardens.

One of the oldest Ukrainian cities is Poltava, first mentioned in historical records in the 1100s, the site of a decisive defeat in 1709 of an invading Swedish army by Russian troops led by Peter the Great. It has a botanical garden, a museum of natural history, a scientific research center, two theaters, a philharmonic society, many amateur art companies, several

The Opera House in Odessa, one of the world's most beautiful theatre buildings, today has on its repertoire operas and ballets by classical and contemporary Soviet composers. Visitors to the Ukraine will enjoy performances there as well as the city's beautiful climate which has made Odessa famous as a resort.

BRUCELLOSIS

There are reports that there is an increase in Brucellosis, with Kentucky being third in the nation in number of cases with infection. I wrote Dr. Maddox, State Veterinarian to see how many cases there were on record in Rowan County, and I have a letter from him saying so far as they know, there is no infection in herds in Rowan County. Let's keep it this way.

BULLETINS

During the winter, while you have time to read, why not pick up some of the informational bulletins on the subject you like? To name a few: Home Lawns in Kentucky, Lawn Fertilization in Kentucky, Home Gardens, Vegetable Disease Control, Chemical Control of Weeds in Farm Crops, Making Compost and Blueberry Growing.

PESTICIDES

Yes Gregory, Agricultural Entomologist at the University of Kentucky, sent us another list of 33 pesticides in the restricted use class for which farmers will have to show that they have been to certification training meetings before they can purchase them.

These will probably change before the deadline Oct. 1, 1977, but we will keep you informed.

Also, special dealer training and certification meetings will be held during February to certify dealers to sell restricted pesticides. The one for the Morehead area will be at the Holiday Inn, Feb. 24, at 5 p.m. All dealers who expect to sell restricted pesticides are urged to attend.

BEEF PRODUCTION UP

Beef production totaled nearly 2.1 million pounds, six per cent above November last year and seven per cent more than November 1974. Cattle kill totaled 3,490,800 head, one per cent above last year and six per cent over November 1974. Live weight per head averaged 1,022 pounds, 37 pounds more than November 1974 and 13 pounds above November 1975.

R.N.s care for mothers and babies "at risk"

COLETTE KERLIN, associate professor of maternal/child nursing and program director, trains educators as well as practitioners.

MASTER'S STUDENT Pamela Lemon, R.N., explains a breast pump to Judy Wideman whose premature daughter is in the nursery.

Caring is the byword of the maternal/infant care staff at the University of Colorado's Medical Center in Denver. But it takes more than caring to insure a healthy outcome for mothers and infants who are at risk. It calls for skill on the part of all perinatal team members: doctors, nurses, and other health professionals. Within a master's degree program at the University, nurses can acquire the knowledge and experience needed for intensive perinatal care. The comprehensive program, which is funded by the March of Dimes, prepares nurse clinicians to provide expert care to women with pregnancy complications and sick infants, as well as to educate more nurse clinicians in this very important health care field.

ALTHOUGH IT'S A HANDRAIL at times, student Betty Johnson, R.N., knows also is helping expand the intensive perinatal care field.

DUKING THE COURSE, students gain experience with mothers and infants, and share theories on a specialty. Ann Johnson's is infant.

Middle School Teachers May Be Certified Soon

A final report on the possibility of certifying middle school and junior high school teachers is due Jan. 13 and 14 at the regular meeting of the Kentucky Council on Teacher Education and Certification.

... Votes on two separate occasions have supported the concept of certifying middle school teachers, but the final proposal is still forthcoming. Presently, two levels of certification are approved. A teacher issued an elementary certificate is qualified to teach grades one through eight. A secondary certificate permits a teacher to teach grades seven through 12.

In a plan opposed by the council's Committee on Middle School/Junior High School Certification there would be three levels of certification. Elementary teachers would be certified to teach grades one through six; middle school teachers, five through nine; and secondary schools, nine through 12.

They cited insufficient training in learning theories, insufficient opportunities for interaction with the age group in student teaching experiences and insufficient preparation for dealing with reading problems.

Dr. Sidney Simandle, director of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification, emphasized that if a certification program for middle school teachers is implemented, it would have no effect on teachers already certified at one of the two existing levels.

Understanding Commodity Options

By Brian Neufeld

More investors than ever before have been asking about commodity options, which are an outgrowth of the increasingly popular trading in commodity futures.

To best understand what options are and their place in the market, it is necessary to first have a basic knowledge of futures trading. A commodity futures contract is an agreement to make or deliver a specified commodity in a future month, termed the delivery date. For the users and producers of commodities, future contracts assure them of an acceptable selling or buying price. Thousands have been attracted by the volatile state of the commodity futures market which provides the opportunity for substantial profits or losses over a relatively short period of time.

However, commodity futures contracts entail tremendous risks. While a volatile market may provide handsome profits, by the same token, a sudden unfavorable price swing subjects the investor to a margin

FREE OFFER - A guide to commodity options is available to investors at no cost. Therefore, once the investor has purchased the option, he is subject to no further assessment. The result is absolute certainty of minimum risk. The investor is assured that he cannot possibly lose more than the cost of the option—a one-time flat fee known as a premium. Yet he has sacrificed the advantages of high leverage and profit potential offered by the commodities market.

There is a guide to commodity options available free by writing to Brian Neufeld, London Options, Ltd., 300 E. 46th Street, New York, N.Y. 10016.

Part Of State's Coal Tax Money Comes To Rowan

Industrial sites, rural garbage systems, community centers, airports, sanitation districts and water districts are among the 336 projects approved during the two year existence of the Kentucky Coal Producing County Development Fund.

The largest portion of the funding—more than $13 million—has gone for construction and improvement of roads and bridges.

Another $3 million-plus has been used to acquire or develop industrial sites. Industrial site projects have been approved in Breathitt, Clay, Davies, Harlan, Hopkins, Knott, Letcher, McCreary and Muhlenberg counties.

The requests ranged from initial acquisition of land for industrial development to completing access roads, utilities or excavation of sites. The site work requested has been completed in Breathitt, Davies, Knox and Muhlenberg counties.

Return of a portion of the coal severance tax to the coal producing counties began with the imposition of the tax in 1974. Since the first project were approved two years ago, the counties have allocated $32,906,242.74 with more than $3 million still remaining to be earmarked.

Money is apportioned to each county based on percentages of the severance tax receipts from that county. The fiscal court then decides what projects it wishes funded with this money. Project applications are processed through the Department for Local Government, considered by a legislative committee and final approval is given by the secretary of the Executive Department for Finance and Administration.

Payments are made to the party or parties for construction, acquisition or supplies through a system in which the county is responsible for distribution to the vendor of the state treasury. All money to be allocated is invested to draw interest continuously until disbursed.

Recreation is the second-largest expenditure in the 45 coal producing counties. More than $9 million has been allocated to 184 recreational projects.

Industrial-related projects have utilized $7,257,440.22 from the fund. Any project that improves the industrial and commercial development capability of a county is eligible under this category. Funded projects include development or expansion of water and sanitation districts, rural housing, airports, municipal and county buildings construction or repairs.

The 45 participating counties are: Bell, Boyd, Breathitt, Butler, Carter, Christian, Clay, Davies, Edmonson, Elliott, Floyd, Hancock, Harlan, Henderson, Hopkins, Johnson, Knott, Knox, Laurel, Lawrence, Lee, Leslie, Letcher, McCreary, McClain, Magoffin, Martin, Morgan, Muhlenberg, Ohio, Owsen, Perry, Pike, Pulaski, Rockcastle, Union, Wayne, Webster, Whitley, and for the last year only, Grayson, Greenup, Jackson, Menifee, Rowan and Wolfe.

For the State Capital Agree Or Not

I say What I Think by S. C. Van Curen

Some county officials throughout the state are questioning the constitutionality for not complying with the 1974 law requiring that financial reports be made to the state local finance officer quarterly.

The 1974 law, which became effective Jan. 1, 1975, requires that the county officials use the uniform accounting system established in the law. The law also requires that each county official be audited every year. The audit may be conducted by the State Auditor's office, or the county can request from the state that it be permitted to hire a local certified public accountant to make the audit. In either event, the county has to pay for the audit.

Commissioner Ralph Ed Graves of the Office of Local Government said in an interview that most of the problem stems from late quarterly reports from the officials throughout the state.

The law provides a penalty of $100 to $500 for each county official who fails to file a report from office in case of conviction.

Graves says as far as he knows there is only one county official in the state who has failed to comply with the law so far.

Bob Purdum, state local finance officer, said about 80 per cent of elected county officials are complying and about 20 per cent are not, his complaint being that they are late with their reports.

State Auditor George Atkins said not all county officials are using the uniform accounting records furnished the local officials by the state. However, Purdum said the required quarterly reports are designed to follow the uniform accounting records. A quarterly report shows the income and expenses of the county office.

Purdum said 115 counties follow about as simplified a system as could be designed. The other five counties, with population over 75,000, have a more elaborate accounting system and report. In the 115 counties are 690 major local officials; in the five counties, Purdum and Graves both said they are trying to give the officials a chance to comply before taking any legal action.

However, Graves said in one case he has been conferring with attorneys as to what procedure to take against one official who has never reported and doesn't seem inclined to report.

Purdum and Graves both said training sessions had been conducted for the county officials in all sections of the state to teach them how to keep the records and make the report. "It's a very simple system that most any person can follow," Purdum said.

The law requires a minimum of an annual financial report to the state, but gives the Office of Local Government here regulatory powers and Graves said the quarterly report is required under regulations.

Graves said, "We are looking for better compliance each filing period. The quarterly reports are cumulative and when the local official reports the last quarter of the fiscal year he is making his annual report as well."

"We're finding that more fees are showing up in the reports as the program progresses," Graves said. Auditor Atkins said that every county office in the state will be audited in 1977. While he doesn't have sufficient staff to do the job, he said he expects to get some private certified accounting firms across the state to do some of the audits.

Graves said his office will send help to any county official who does not understand the uniform accounting system and how to make the reports.

Contracts For Eastern Ky. Road Projects Awarded

Three contracts involving Appalachian highway (APD) projects in Eastern Kentucky have been awarded by the Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts.

The contracts stem from a bid letting held here Dec. 16 and 30, for over 22 million contracts that have been awarded. Roberts said the largest APD contract amounted to $4,897,717 and was awarded to Burns and Baker, Inc. of Memphis, Tenn. The contract calls for reconstruction of about five miles of KY 55 in the Burkeville-Monticello-Burridge Road in Wayne County.

The project begins at the Clinton County line and extends easterly to about 1.5 miles north of Sledge.

The remaining two APD contracts provide for reconstruction of KY 90 (the bypass-London Road) in Laurel County. The projects begin at a point two miles west of Bernstadt and extend easterly over five miles to about one and a half miles west of I-75.

Contracts were awarded to G & C Kentucky Construction Company and G & C Coal and Energy Corporation, both of London, in a joint venture, and amounted to $1,900,094 and $1,622,839.

Two major highway contracts were also awarded for Breathitt County. One involves grade and drainage improvements and gravel surfacing on bridges and approaches spanning the Kentucky River along the Wolf Coal-

Talbert Road (KY 1933). The low bid was submitted by William Robinson Construction Company of London in the amount of $38,871.

The second contract calls for safety improvements along the Hazard-Jackson-Campton Road (KY 15) in N.H. Stone, Inc. of Sharpesburg was awarded to contract on a low bid of $242,213.

Other contracts awarded for Eastern Kentucky included:

- Reconstruction of a culvert and its approaches at Cane Run Creek on the Argillite-Honeywell Road (KY 207) in Greenup County, $59,903. The low bid was submitted by Dixie Bridge Company of Lexington.
- Repairs to the bridge across the Licking River on the KY 772-KY 519 Connector Road (KY 772) in Morgan County. The $39,644 contract was awarded to Cee, Inc. of Lexington.
- Repairs to the structure spanning the North Fork of the Kentucky River on the Hazard-Jackson Road (KY 15) in Perry County. The low bid was submitted by Titan Seal Repair, Inc. of Frankfort in the amount of $16,905.
- Cleaning and painting the bridge across Run Creek on the Sandy Hook-Big Stone-Run Road (KY 556) in Elliott County. The $4,670 contract was awarded to the Olympic Painting and Sheeting Co. of Youngstown, Ohio.

AREA TELEPHONE SERVICE RESTORED WITHIN HOUR

Residents of Hillsboro, Flemingsburg, Ewing, Vanceburg, Tolleboro, and Garrison were unable to make or receive long distance calls for about an hour Thursday evening when a main fuse failed in General Telephone's Hillsboro office at 4:15 p.m.

Repairs had service restored completely in all six communities by 5:30. General Telephone technicians are still working to determine the cause of the long distance service outage.

Want more than an orchid corsage at retirement time? An IRA may help...

The chances of an American woman being head of her own household and responsible for its finances are growing every day. Census Bureau figures show more women are staying single and more are getting divorced than ever before. And on average, women outlive their husbands by about eight years.

Yet millions of working women, despite steady earnings - have not yet begun to prepare financially for retirement.

WORKING TODAY, but has she made financial plans for tomorrow?

Never too soon. Whether she's single or married now the sooner she starts making plans the better off she is likely to be. After all, a working woman deserves more than a farewell party and an orchid corsage at retirement time.

If you're a working woman and employed by a firm that does not sponsor a retirement program, you can do something for yourself about retirement by opening an Individual Retirement Account (IRA).

This program, authorized under Federal law, lets you prepare financially for your later years while reducing your current Federal taxes.

Every year, you can set aside 15 percent of annual earnings, up to $1,500, in an IRA. These contributions are tax-deductible by December 31st of any year. Of course, you needn't put in $1,500 or the same amount every year. It can be as little as a few hundred dollars annually. The important thing is to make these contributions a regular habit.

First of all, you'll need a plan. Banks, mutual funds, and life insurance companies all sponsor IRA plans. The financial objectives of these investments can vary, just like yours do.

First decide what your own financial aims are and then select an investment that most closely matches these goals. How much do you value the safety of your investment? Or, its potential for growth? How much risk are you willing to run to aim for a higher income later on?

You may prefer to consider a type of investment such as mutual funds that could offer either end of the investment spectrum. Mutual funds pool the money of many investors and invest this money in a range of securities to spread the risk. There are hundreds of different funds and they all have varying financial goals, so you can aim for whatever combination of safety, income and growth you wish.

Consider carefully. It's important that you carefully consider what each type of investment offers because you usually can't transfer your IRA retirement contributions from one investment to another at intervals of less than three years.

One of the exceptions if you invest in a mutual fund that is part of a "family" of funds is a company that has several different mutual funds; you can switch at any time and without penalty to another fund within the same family that more closely matches your present goals. For instance, right now you may want an investment that is looking for growth of principal later you may want to trade some of that growth for greater security.

Young Farmers Confab Slated In Louisville

Young farmers - those age 20 and under - will hold the spotlight during a Young Farmers Conference in Louisville later this month.

The conference is being sponsored by Kentucky Farm Bureau, and more than 200 participants from around the state will attend the four-day event held at the Breckinridge Inn, Jan. 28-30.

An additional highlight of the meeting will be a 25th anniversary banquet for the Farm Bureau Scholarship Foundation. The foundation, begun in 1954, has distributed more than $100,000 in scholarship grants to college students who graduated from Kentucky high schools.

Currently, the foundation awards $2,000 annually to winning high school seniors. A typical year finds from 75 to 100 applicants for the five scholarships available.

Other young farmer conference activities will include tours of two Louisville-area facilities, an address by U.S. Agriculture Secretary Dean Charles Bricker, and seminars on farm financing and tax laws affecting farmers.

Lexington Woman Named Women's Club Secretary

Mrs. W. Ed (Jewel) Hamilton of Lexington has been appointed Executive Secretary of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Harry Wagner, Jr., GFWC president. Mrs. Hamilton has already assumed her duties at the Federation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Hamilton is a graduate of Baylor University with a B.A. degree in Education, and she received her M.A. degree in Education at the University of Houston. She has a long record of distinguished service in Education and Public Affairs management. She has served GFWC as County Chairman and Chairman and Safety County Education Officer.

As president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs 1964-66, Mrs. Hamilton initiated a statewide project for the establishment of a treatment center for delinquent girls. It was dedicated in 1968 and named Jewel Manor in her honor. It is now operated by the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare.

She was Administrative Assistant to Governor Louie Nunn for HEW 1968-71, where she led the drive with the State Legislature for progress for educational reform and exceptional children. Mrs. Hamilton was chairman and coordinator of the Governor's Innovation Education Awards Program.

From 1967 to 1971 she was the only woman member of the Kentucky Law Enforcement and Crime Commission and was Chairman of the Kentucky Commission on Children and Youth.

Mrs. Hamilton is past Chairman of the National Advisory Council for Developmentally Disabled, and former chairman of the Committee on Technical Assistance to the States for Developmentally Disabled.

An active member of the Southern Baptist Church, Mrs. Hamilton was one of the first women appointed to the Kentucky Baptist Board of Committees.

Rowan Resource Conservation

Thomas C. Marcur
 District Conservationist
 U.S.D.A. Soil Conservation Service

Competing demands for land in Rowan County are becoming a matter of public concern. Big other counties across the nation, Rowan has initiated land-use planning for future orderly development and growth.

Reasons for such planning are: (1) Space is needed for homes, factories, roads, power plants and other essential uses. But these uses are taking land that must produce more food and fiber today than ever before.

Rowan County Conservation District has supplied the Morehead-Nevada County Planning Commission with soil information which will help nearby residents in deciding which land is best suited for agriculture.

Many other conservation districts in the Rowan County District are aiding land-use planning commissions by supplying them with resource information based on soil characteristics. By using the capability classification system, planning commissions have identified areas best suited for cropland, subdivisions, and other land uses. An example of how this classification system can help in land use planning, Rowan County has 123,000 acres of Classes VI and VII land. These are suited for pasture, woodland, or wildlife. Because this land lacks physical characteristics that make it suitable for development, demand for this land won't be great for years.

On the other hand, 34,710 acres or 22 per cent of Rowan County's land is suited to crop production. Classes I and II, or 100,000 acres in other words, is deep or well soil development potential moderate. The greatest demand, however, will be for the remaining 100,000 acres of Class III land. This is soil that will be used and changed to cropland, pasture, or relatively level, hilly and well drained.

Because of the District's and Planning Commission cooperation, the land-use planning process will be possible to complete when the time comes to finalize planning and zoning of

The Citizens Bank of Morehead is a community owned Bank. We have forty stockholders, who are interested in the growth of our community and our Bank.

Shortly we will be Morehead's TWENTY-FOUR HOURS - SEVEN DAYS A WEEK Bank. Our "GOLD MACHINE" will do everything for you, except smile. The Citizens Bank is known as Morehead's friendliest bank. We play no favorites. We pay the same interest on Savings Accounts and Certificates of Deposits to all people. We charge the same interest rate to all.

Morehead is fortunate to have two good Banks and a Savings and Loan. So why go out of town to do your banking? BANK AT HOME - WITH HOME TOWN PEOPLE. Money placed in another community's bank, helps that community grow, not OUR community. Invest your money in Morehead and Rowan County's Growth.

If you, our friends and customers, will give us your thoughts on service, we will give you better service.
