

Basie & Herman Head Homecoming Activities

Woody Herman and Count Basie will be featured in the biggest weekend of the year, October 18-19, as the University holds its annual Homecoming.

"Soaring to Greater Heights" is the theme of this year's celebration. University alumni will begin arriving Friday afternoon in time for the candlelight dinner from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Doran Student House.

Alumni who have not visited the University since last Homecoming will view for the first time the Graduate Education Building, the Claypool-Young Art Building, additions to Baird Music Hall and Lippin Science Building, construction underway on the Doran Student House, and a new men's and a new women's dormitory as the University's vast construction program continues to expand.

At 8:30 p.m. on Friday, Count Basie and his orchestra will perform in concert in Laughlin Fieldhouse. Basie is well-known in the world of jazz for his simple, swinging, elliptical piano style backed up by a driving rhythm section. This style has kept him near the top in jazz polls for over 30 years. Basie last appeared on campus in 1963.

Saturday will be filled with activities, accompanied by the usual traffic jam on campus as alumni and friends return to view the University. Registration will be from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m.

The dormitories will again display decorations with $50 being awarded to the outstanding female and male dormitory.

At 10 a.m., the new Claypool-Young Art Building will be dedicated. The $1.2 million structure, which was first opened to classes this summer, is named for Mrs. Naomi Claypool, now retired, who was head of the University's art department for 40 years, and Tom Young, who died of a heart attack several years ago and was an art instructor at the University for 28 years.

The dedication will be followed by an open house in the building, and will feature an art display in its showroom.

A smorgasbord luncheon will be held in the Laughlin Health Building from 11 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

Kickoff time for the football game with Youngstown is 2:30 p.m. with pre-game activities beginning at 2 p.m. Included in the pre-game activities will be a recognition by the

Count Basie

Campus Club of Jesse Mays, who died last March and served as the club's advisor for 21 years. The club will unmask a portrait of Mays to be hung in Mays Hall, a male dormitory renamed in honor of Mays last spring, having been called Men's Hall for over 35 years.

The field will be surrounded by stationary floats constructed by the campus social clubs. Fifty dollars will be awarded to the club whose float is judged the best.

After the game, various campus clubs will hold receptions in places which will be announced during the game.

Woody Herman and Band will provide the music for the annual Homecoming Dance beginning at 8:30 p.m. in Laughlin Fieldhouse. This dance will include the presentation of the queen and her court.

Herman's fame goes back to the big band era of the 1940's, but he still packs the houses at many concerts and recently appeared once again on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Herman says that although he plays some songs from the past, he likes to play the contemporaries best. "We're not going to bring back the bands. We're selling excitement, not nostalgia."

Representatives To Be Elected On Oct. 24, 31

Election of town, commuter, and married student representatives, and of the Freshman Steering Committee to the Student Council will be held October 24, and election of class representatives will be held October 31.

Any student on academic or social probation may not run for the Council.

According to the definition of the Student Council, anyone who is a year round resident of Morehead may run for town representative. Anyone who is living in University married student housing may run for married student representative. A student who is not living in campus housing and is not a year-around resident of Morehead may run as commuter representative.

Five members of the freshman class will be elected to the Freshman Steering Committee. The Council looked into the possibility of disbanding this committee this year because in the past it has had no active function. It was decided to keep it going this year with hopes of defining its duties.

Sign-ups for commuter, town and married student candidates and Freshman Steering Committee candidates are being held October 21 and 22 in the basement of Allie Young where The Trail Blazer office used to be located.

A male and female representative to the Council will be elected from each class. Sign-ups for these offices will be October 28 and 29.

Suggestion Of Reforms Get Council Approval

Student Council unanimously accepted proposals by the Reform Committee which will require election of dormitory presidents and will give the Interfraternity Council (IFC) and the Intersorority Council (ISC) non-voting representatives on the Council at its meeting October 9.

The action, requiring dormitory presidents be elected, came as a result of several dormitories sending monitors to represent them on the Council in the past. Council President Bill Bradford may now take immediate action to insure dormitory elections.

The IFC and the ISC had requested representatives on the Council, and the Council decided to give them each a non-voting representative with the plan to give them a voting member when a new constitution goes into effect.

The Council also accepted the Reform Committee's proposal to improve public relations by having the Council reporter and a representative from the Trail Blazer work closely together on council reports, by releasing an agenda of an upcoming meeting at least two days before the meeting, and by publishing periodically in The Trail Blazer a record of the representatives attendance at Council meetings.

The Reform Committee was appointed by Bradford last spring to study the Council and offer suggestions to improve it. The Committee is co-chaired by Bill Rosenberg and Roger Hayes and includes Bob Durham, Brenda McFall, and Kirby Wright.

In other action, the Council accepted the appointments by Bradford of students to serve on the Student Life Committee. They were Ned Fricke, Ted Miller, Rita Hamilton, Susie Meade, John Sparks, and Bradford, who automatically serves on the committee.

The Student Life Committee acts on all phases of student activity including official recognition of new clubs and is made up of students, faculty, and administrators. In the past, Council members made up the student representatives, but Bradford said he thought Council members were too busy to sufficiently serve on this committee.

The Council also temporarily accepted the guidelines for the Entertainment Committee's operation, waiting until the full Council is elected for final approval. The entire guidelines are found on page two.

In its meeting October 1, the Council selected Darrell Carter to work parttime for the Council at $1.15 an hour.

Annual Festival Attended By 26 Bands

Twenty-six marching bands participated in the fourth Kentucky Music Educators Association Band Festival on Saturday, October 12 in Breathitt Sports Center Stadium.

Morehead's festival was one of three K.M.E.A. band festivals to be held this month. The other two were to be held at Murray State University and Western Kentucky University.

Bands participating in the Morehead festival came from a 67-county region in Kentucky, representing the largest geographical area of the three festivals. Morehead served as host to the group for the fourth consecutive year.

The bands competed in nine categories arranged according to total student enrollment. Each band was rated by a panel of judges selected by the K.M.E.A. and received a framed

Not everyone is as careful a voter as Jean Houser as he looks up the candidates for Homecoming Court in the 1968 Raconteur to see who are the prettiest.

Debate Team Places First In 24 Team Tournament

The University debate team placed first in a 24 team debate at Bellarmine-Usuline College in Louisville, Oct. 5.

Don Egbers, a freshman from Fort Thomas, was selected as the top novice debater in the tournament. Both the team and Egbers received trophies.

The teams argued the resolution: "Resolved: That Executive Control of the United States Foreign Policy Should Be Significantly Curtailed." According to the format of the tournament each school had an affirmative and negative pair consisting of one experienced and one inexperienced debater. Craig Martin, a sophomore from Campbellsville, and Egbers were from the University's affirmative team, and Don Cetrla, a sophomore from Fort Thomas, and Mike Greene, a freshman from Georgetown, composed the negative team.

Participating schools in the tournament, besides the University, included: Purdue, University of Kentucky, Western Illinois, Bellarmine-Usuline, Tennessee Tech, Kenyon, Southwest Georgia, and others.

Mrs. G.C. Webb is coach of the Morehead team.

Meanwhile Craig Martin, sophomore from Campbellsville, and Don Cetrla, a sophomore from Ft. Thomas, participated in a debate at the Optimist Club in Morehead on October 8 as guests of Dr. Fred Voigt.

Usually the twoboys are colleagues, but they were opponents in this Lincoln-Douglas type debate. Their subject was: "Proposition: Resolved: That Executive Control of Foreign Policy Should Be Significantly Curtailed."

Tom Hauger, Don Cetrla, Craig Martin, Linda Phelps, Don Egbers, and Mike Greene attended the Forensics Section on college debate topics sponsored by the Speech Educators Conference, held in Lexington on September 28. While there, these students became affiliated with the Kentucky Students Speech Association, an auxiliary of the Kentucky Speech Association.

Members of the squad are involved in intra-squad debate and in researching items on the 18 page bibliography compiled by John Sharp, a member of the debate team.

Reflections Of The Year As Lydia's Reign Ends

By Janet Vaughan

Lydia Lewis, the 1967 Homecoming Queen at the University, will end her reign when she turns her title over to another girl at this year's Homecoming festivities. Although her reign is officially over, she and the student body will long remember her part in making last year's Homecoming the big event on campus. Lydia has many memories concerning her reign as Queen. She says that being spotlighted at the Homecoming festivities was "The thrill of it all."

She was first presented to the student body at a convocation the week of Homecoming. On Friday night, she reigned at the candlelight dinner and concert. Saturday she sang at the smorgasbord luncheon, and the queen and her court were featured at the halftime activities of the football game. That evening at the Homecoming dance, she was officially crowned as Morehead State University Homecoming Queen for 1967.

As queen, she was entered in the annual Homecoming Queen Festival at Pineville. It was here that she won the coveted title of Miss Congeniality. She also placed as first runner up to the queen.

ner up to the queen.

Recently, she represented the University at the Cincinnati Bengal football game when the University band presented the halftime show.

Lydia says, "There are several additions that I think could make the Homecoming Queen a more integral part of student activities. I think an annual Homecoming Parade would add to the festivities. Also, more appearances at University sponsored functions would help the Queen know more of the student body. This would also lead to the honor of her title."

Nine-Year U. S. Army, Veteran Wants To Return As An Officer

After nine years in the Army, few men would probably want to return to it after receiving a college education. Cadet Major Claude E. Meade of the University ROTC unit does however.

Meade joined the Army in September, 1957 and rose to the rank of platoon sergeant before retiring in 1966.

He first served with the 19th Engineers at Fort Meade in Maryland as a truck driver from October 1957 to January 1958. He then served with the military police detachment in Fort Ritchie, Maryland, until November 1958.

He served as machine gun-fire leader with the 24th Infantry in Germany until March, 1961. He then served as an instructor at Fort Benning, Georgia, until February 1965. The next 11 months he spent as a platoon sergeant with the 1st Battalion in Hawaii.

He was a volunteer helicopter machine gunner in Vietnam from May to September in 1966, and he served as a platoon sergeant in Vietnam until December 1966.

He has received the Combat Infantry Badge, Bronze Service Medal, Good Conduct Medal, Air Medal with Five Oakleaf Clusters, National Defense Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal, and Vietnam Campaign Medal.

After all these years in the service, Meade wants to return to the Army as an officer after graduation in 1970. He is presently commander of the 1st Battalion at the University and is in charge of about 200 cadets.

A political science major, Meade is president of the Veteran's Club.

The Yatesville covered bridge is in use after 89 years of service. Built in 1879, it is 132 feet long, well maintained and carrying considerable traffic. It is located in Lawrence on Ky. 3 and spans Blaine Creek.

Operating Rules Of The Entertainment Committee

Editor's Note: The following is the temporary operating rules of the Student Council Entertainment Committee passed by the Student Council October 8. Final ratification will not come until a full Council is elected.

It shall be the purpose of the Morehead State University Student Council Entertainment Committee to further a social and cultural enrichment program of professional entertainment on the Morehead State University campus.

After careful study and comparative analysis of the entertainment available, it shall be the responsibility of this committee to advise and encourage the Student Council entertainment tax. It shall be the committee's policy to promote a variety of activities, so as to encompass the cultural tastes of a cosmopolitan studentry.

With the aforementioned statement of policy in mind, the guidelines have been devised so that this committee may most effectively function within University policy:

All appointments to the committee shall be made by the president of the Student Council. It is recommended that these appointments be made immediately following the president's election to office; however, they shall be made by no later than the fall Student Council elections.

Final approval of the Entertainment Committee will be after the fall Student Council elections, requiring a majority vote of the Student Council.

Inasmuch as the Entertainment Committee may elect its ratification; it is understood that the committee is to abide by all rules and regulations set forth by the University and the Student Council.

If the case of a vacancy occurs in the committee, the president of the Student Council may fill the vacancy at his discretion. The replacement is subject to a majority approval of the Council. If the president of the Student Council does not desire to fill the vacancy, a Student Council member may place a name in nomination. The nominee must have a majority approval of the Council and the approval of the Student Council President.

Membership of the Entertainment Committee shall be for one year. Each committee's booking powers may extend through the fall semester of the following year.

In the predicting and contracting of any program sponsored by the Student Council Entertainment Tax, the students shall assume all the responsibilities within the framework of the University's policy. The University's position shall be that of providing guidelines to ensure the success of all activities covered by the Student Council Entertainment Tax.

All production arrangements shall be handled by the Student Council Entertainment Committee. The Entertainment Committee shall make no appeal to all students for their assistance in the producing of any such programs that may be sponsored by the Entertainment Tax.

The contracting of any program covered by the entertainment tax is to be handled solely by the Student Council. Therefore, the final contract is subject to a two-thirds plurality vote by the Student Council.

It is felt by the Student Council that the entertainment program is of such social and cultural importance that, as a public service, the Student Council may adopt a policy of limited admissions for the public. Tickets will be made available at a donation price of not less than $1.00. The Student Council will decide the quantity of seats to be made available and the amount of each donation.

Since the limited admissions policy is in the nature of being a public service, it is believed by the Student Council that any donations received from the limited admission sales shall be made available for campus improvements in a manner to be prescribed by the Student Council. There shall be a direct relationship between the scheduling of activities covered by the entertainment tax and the semester for which the student is taxed.

The Student Council will make every endeavor to schedule programs covered by the entertainment tax at a time that is most convenient to the greatest number of students.

For the growth and success of the Student Council entertainment program, the Entertainment Committee encourages a systematic procedure to be adopted for future use. It recommends that when student support is in favor of expanding the program, that a majority of the Student Council members may bring forth a referendum. The referendum will be presented to the voters at the next Student Council election. If those in favor account for the voters the President of the Student Council shall take the question to the administration.

Upon the presentation to secretary of the Student Council of a petition bearing 2,000 signatures of a public referendum, a recall ballot will be made available to the voters during the next student council election. If a majority of the voters are opposed to the entertainment tax, the President of the Student Council shall take the question to the administration.

Sorority Rush For 1968 Takes On A Formal Look

Social rush took on a formal look this year. Each girl wanting to pledge a social club was required to register for rush.

Pledge parties were divided into three phases: open house, second parties, and preference parties.

All rushees were invited to attend the first party of open house. The purpose of this party was to enable the rushees to get acquainted with each club.

After the first phase, rushees were asked to fill out acceptance cards choosing four parties they wanted to attend in the second phase. The acceptance of a second invitation binds the rushee to attend. The second parties, lasting 1 1/2 hours, allowed active and rushees to get better acquainted.

Silence between social club activities and rush began after the conclusion of the second party. The period of silence, which lasts until the rushee states her preference, gives the rushee a chance to make up her own mind about individual social clubs without outside influence.

The third phase is the preference parties. By this time the rushee knows which club she wants to pledge.

She attends three preferential parties. The acceptance of an invitation to a preferential party binds the rushee to attend the party and indicates to the social club that the rushee is interested in pledging that particular club.

The girl must now fill out a preference card, listing in order of preference the four clubs she wants to pledge.

The preferential bidding system is a method of matching the rushee's social club choices with the rush lists of the social clubs.

Open rush continues during the remainder of the fall semester. During this open rush, social clubs may issue verbal or written invitations to prospective pledges. The acceptance of pledge ribbons or the signing of a preference card binds a rushee for a period of one calendar year to that particular club.

Absentee Application Deadline Is 17th

The most important date in Kentucky from a suffrage viewpoint between now and presidential election day, probably, is Thursday, Oct. 17, the deadline, or last day, for making application for an absentee ballot.

Applications for these ballots on forms provided by the County Clerk may be obtained and voted by those who will be away from their home county on election day, November 5.

The applications must be notarized. Marked with one's preference of candidates, the ballot itself also must be notarized and returned by mail to the County Clerk so he will receive it before the polls close at 6 p.m., local time, on election day.

Besides voting for president and vice president, Kentuckians this year will vote for United States Senator, seven U.S. Congressmen, one judge of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, three Circuit Court Judges, four Commonwealth's Attorneys, and Board of Education members in three independent school districts.

There are four presidential tickets, with the first person named the candidate for President, and the second the candidate for Vice President, as follows:

Republican -- Richard M. Nixon, New York, and Spiro T. Agnew, Annapolis, Md.; Democrat -- Hubert H. Humphrey, Waverly, Minn., and Edmund S. Muskie, Waterville, Maine; American Party -- George C. Wallace, Montgomery, Ala., and Marvin Griffin, Bainbridge, Ga., who acted as a stand-in and was expected to be replaced on the Wallace ticket by another candidate for vice president; Socialist Workers Party, Fred Halstead, New York, N.Y., and Paul Boutelle, Newark, N.J.

The U.S. Senate Contest is for the seat now held by Republican Thurston B. Morton, who decided not to run again. The three candidates are: Republican, Marlow W. Cook, Jefferson County; Democrat, Katherine Peden, Hopkinsville; and Independent, Duane F. Olson, Louisville, whose symbol is a flaming torch.

In his instructions to County Clerks on preparation of ballots to be used in their respective counties, Secretary of State Elmer Bogley also certifies the names of candidates for the seven congressional seats to be filled in November. All incumbents are candidates for reelection. By districts, the candidates are:

First District -- Frank A. Stubblefield, Murray, Democrat incumbent, is unopposed.

Second District -- Republican, Robert D. Simmonds, Bowling Green; and Democrat, William H. Natcher, Bowling Green, incumbent.

Third District -- Republican, William O. Cowger, Louisville, incumbent; and Democrat, Tom Ray, Louisville.

Fourth District -- Republican, M.G. "Gene" Snyder, Jeffersonton, incumbent; and Democrat, Gus Sheehan, Jr., Covington.

Fifth District -- Republican, Dr. Tim Lee Carter, Tompkinsville, in-

KEA Sponsors Speech Workshop In Combs, Oct. 26

An in-service workshop for teachers in the area of communications will be held in the Combs Building, October 26, under the sponsorship of the Kentucky Speech Association.

The initial workshop of its type at Morehead, its purpose is to hold seminar sessions to discuss concerns of speech teachers in curricular and extra-curricular programs on the secondary level.

Director of the workshop is Dr. Jack Wilson, assistant professor of speech.

Other faculty members who will participate are: Don Holloway, chairman of the workshop and an associate professor of radio-TV; James Quisenberry, assistant professor of speech, speaking on public address; James Uzler, instructor of radio-TV, whose topic is radio-TV; Dr. Jackson Barefield, assistant professor of speech, speaking on interpretation; and Marvin Phillips, assistant professor of dramatic arts, on theatre.

Dr. Gifford Blyton, director of forensics at the University of Kentucky, will discuss public address.

Bradford, Flatt Talk Law, Order And Leisure Time

"How Much Law and Order Does America Want?" On the other hand, "What Is the Proper Use of Leisure Time?"

These were topics for discussion on a two panel forum held in Louisville over radio station WHAS on September 23 in a program entitled "Campus Viewpoints."

The panels, moderated by Don Flatt, assistant professor of history, consisted of students from the University of Kentucky, Indiana University branch, and Morehead State University. Representing Morehead on both panels was Bill Bradford, president of the Student Council.

The program was taped and will be presented on either the 23rd or 30th of this month at 8 p.m. over WKMY-FM.

Standards Set By Women Says Mignon Doran

"Women always set the standard of behavior," said Mrs. Adron Doran, as she addressed Delta Omega Xi sorority October 3 at their kick-off banquet. After her talk she was made an honorary member of the sorority.

"Facets of Femininity" was the topic of Mrs. Doran's talk in which she told the Omegas that a woman's age-old duty is to be attractive, interesting and of value to others. Mrs. Doran, in speaking of celebrities with whom she has been acquainted, said that the bigger persons are always simple and down to earth. "They don't have their heads and feet in the clouds," she said.

"Your public personality begins in private," she reminded the girls. "The surface is an indication of inner beauty, and your appearance sells your ideas."

"The feminine woman never goes out of style," Mrs. Doran said. "High fashions change, but the real essence of femininity never changes."

She said that beauty is an over-rated endorsement. If it isn't with other endowments, it can be "cold and down right boring."

"We must develop orderly minds to have orderly habits," she said. "Be a thinker now and all your life. Associate with people of ideas."

In closing, Mrs. Doran asked the girls to put "quality in every thought, word and deed" to be the most successful sort of women.

Birch Birlfield, president of Delta Omega Xi, presented Mrs. Doran with a certificate of honorary membership in the sorority and a charm engraved with the Greek letters of the organization.

Full-Time M.D. Needed On Campus

One of the growing pains being suffered by the University is the pain that students suffer when ill. Unless itself is not a new problem to Morehead, nor to any other place. As enrollment increases, so does the number of students needing medical attention.

The University has for many years maintained an infirmary. However, the nurses on duty are limited to treating small maladies and giving bed confinement for those needing it. The treatment given by the nurses has been specified and proper dosage of medication has been prescribed in a typewritten notebook signed by two local physicians.

Wilma Caudill, a registered nurse who has worked for 10 years at the infirmary, felt for some time that the campus needed a doctor. She reported that from September 1, 1967, to September 1, 1968, there had been 901 students as bed patients in the infirmary.

During that period the nurses handled 6,158 cases of student illness. This figure only represents the number of times students were treated. It does not include the 237 other admissions that were not students, but rather staff employees and visitors on campus.

Exact figures for students treated by the five general practitioners working in the Morehead area are not available, due to the difficulty of separating the students from others in the enormous case load handled by the local physicians.

Often it is impossible to get an appointment for several days to see a Morehead doctor except in emergencies. Obviously there is a case for a doctor on the Morehead campus.

Roger L. Wilson, vice-president for student affairs at Morehead, agreed that there was a need for a resident physician. But he pointed out that among the drawbacks are: the financial problem, the consideration that married students' families would be omitted, and that this is the day and age when specialists are outmoding the coverage of the general practitioner.

Dr. Adron Doran, said that Morehead is caught in the same dilemma facing many universities, and quite a few communities in the United States. There is a shortage of doctors. He pointed out that Morehead had a doctor during the 63-64 school year. Dr. James Kurfrees was campus physician, and was also an associate professor of biology.

Before leaving, he told Dr. Doran that it was his opinion that the school did not need a full-time physician. After he left to go into private practice, the University tried in vain to induce a physician to work for the school, despite high hopes for one prospect.

Because of the workload of the town's physicians, the suggestion that each work for several hours on one day a week at the University, is beyond consideration.

Several other state universities have alleviated their problem when, doctors, with close ties to the school, helped with the medical problem with only token pay or none at all.

When Dr. Doran says, "We believe we are providing the best care possible without a resident physician," he is not disavowing the need for a doctor. Instead, in face of what appears to be an insurmountable problem, he feels they are providing the next best possible solution.

When the present hospital is expanded, the possibility that the extended opportunities for a doctor in the community would provide the incentive for another general practitioner to come to Morehead.

These factors all serve to further the claim that there is a lack of somebody to take the responsibility of getting a doctor. Dr. Doran said the University would accept the responsibility if someone could present an answer to the questions of financial considerations and the shortage of doctors.

Blasts Yearbook

Dear Sirs:

As a member of the M.S.U. marching band and various other musical performing organizations, One falls to the attention of the Raconteur staff the lack of recognition given to the School of Humanities in the 1968 Raconteur. The year 1968 brought to the School of Humanities many advancements which should have been noted by the Raconteur.

There is notably an absence of any group pictures of campus musical performing organizations. One falls to find any formal recognition of the art department save for faculty pictures.

I feel compelled to congratulate the Raconteur staff on the informal snapshots of a few activities within the School of Humanities.

As a music student, I am very disappointed in the 1968 Raconteur. I have hopes that the 1969 Raconteur will reflect the important position of the School of Humanities in our campus life.

Praises Students

Letter To The Editor:

In this era of so much rebellion by minority groups, and unfavorable publicity from the campuses of many of the nation's colleges and universities, I was proudly, humbly and gratefully proud Saturday evening at the football game between Morehead State University and our sister school, Murray State University.

I saw a clean perfectly behaved, exuberant students of Morehead State University, I observed in my thoughts that "here is the real future of a great United States of America! and in such hands, minds and bodies our future is bright." The people of this nation should see on television students as I saw Saturday in Breathright Sports Center. The students of the hippies, the malcontents at the Chicago Convention and the minority groups that received so much publicity at Berkeley, Columbia, etc.

Further, the Morehead State University band was the finest I have ever seen. Did you notice that "All American" look on the faces of the band members and the majorettes? We lost a hard but clean fought football game because of some bad breaks. But, in defeat I was so proud of the conduct of the MSU student body and everybody connected with the University that I felt I should write you this letter.

Very truly yours,
William H. Layne
Mayor

National Primary Is Way To Nominate Candidates

"Consent of the governed" seems a little out of place when you consider our present system of nominating presidential candidates. Our country has advanced greatly since its birth, yet we are still using an outmoded system to select the man who will run our nation.

The party convention was rightly considered to be the best possible method when our country was just beginning. At that time the population wasn't over the 200 million mark that it is now. Also there weren't the instruments of mass media that we have today. With the invention of television and advanced news media, the majority of citizens can know about all possible candidates.

Yet we still cling to having each party hold a nominating convention. At these conventions the man is selected by party delegates who usually are picked at the county level by those in power. Therefore these conventions have most always decided beforehand who the nominee will be.

The delegates represent not the people but those backers of the political party in power.

A good example of this was our conventions this year. At neither was the feeling prevalent that the nominees were the choices of the majority of the people.

Whether there is a workable solution to this problem cannot be answered completely. One solution would be to have a nationwide primary in May as we do in other elections. Some states already have presidential primaries where the people decide how their delegates would vote. It's true a nationwide primary would cost the voters a lot more time and money, and for this reason, this solution possibly may not be workable.

However, we must find some better way to let the voice of the people be heard. If we don't, we might find our 62 per cent average door slammed out changed to a massive sit-in at home.

Welcome Alumni To Growing MSU

October 19th will be an important day for the University. The new art building will be dedicated, the Homecoming football game will be played, and the University alumni will return.

An alumnus may return to the campus more than once a year, but the majority visit it only during Homecoming. This year the alumni will be faced with an amazing array of buildings, old, new, and on the way up, separated by newly landscaped turf, connected by mass of new or widened sidewalks and populated by an assortment of strange students.

If the alumni are confused and slightly bewildered at the rapidly changing campus they have come to be. But although some buildings and students may be new, we hope the alumni will find that in spirit, Morehead is as the same friendly old school they left.

Welcome to Homecoming.

The hand is faster than the eye, but only the nose runs.

National Fraternities Asset To University

by Gene Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The Board of Regents has recently approved the recommendation "to organize fraternities and sororities on the campus of Morehead State University and that authority be granted to duly organized fraternities and sororities to colonize and affiliate with national associations under rules and regulations of procedures and conduct prescribed by the Commission on Student Life and approved by the Administrative Council."

After notification of this approval, Gene Clark, journalism student and president of Alpha Theta Epsilon, has written for the Trail Blazer a guest editorial.

National Fraternities Are Assets To The University and Individuals

The making of a university is not all brick and mortar but the integral relationship between the students and university itself. One of the trends at Morehead State University for the past ten years has been rapid construction to meet the needs of the faculty, students and administration. Recently another trend has been recognized—that of the 15 social organizations affiliating with national fraternities.

One of the major questions asked of some students now affiliated with local social organizations is: Should our local social clubs affiliate with national fraternities? In a recent publication by the National Interfraternity Conference six basic reasons were listed for "going national."

Fraternities encourage superior scholarship, increase chances of graduating, inspire high standards of conduct, develop leadership ability and instill spirit of good citizenship. Fraternities add members in their social life while at college, develop leadership abilities and provide knowledge and experiences in social activities which will benefit members upon graduation.

In one area, though, there are conflicting viewpoints as to whether fraternity membership is a benefit. Can fraternities aid the scholastic abilities of their individual members?

Dr. W. Clarke Wescoe, chancellor, University of Kansas, says, "Fraternities have had a tremendous influence in improving scholarship. Indeed, many parents want their sons to join a fraternity because they appreciate this emphasis and insistence on good scholarship."

Scholarship trophies are given to each chapter of some national fraternities, this providing an incentive for better grades, not only as an individual but as one of "a team." A fraternity pledge must have a satisfactory average to be eligible for initiation. This supplies inducement to good scholarship.

According to a U.S. Government study [HEW Bulletin No. 1958-1], a student's chance of graduation was definitely increased if he joined a national fraternity. Fraternities encourage their pledges to form proper study habits early in their college career and continue to push for good grades among their upper-classmen as well.

Members of fraternities form a bond of friendship, become interested in campus and chapter activities, get a feeling of growth and achievement—all of which factors help keep them interested in continuing their education.

Fraternity men are expected to set an example on the campus in matters of behavior. The new pledges receive careful instruction from the pledge trainer as to what is expected of them in appearance and actions.

The Code of Responsibilities of the College Fraternity Secretaries Association contains this significant statement: "To the college administration and the public, the moral conduct and personal behavior of each member affects the total chapter image. This make it imperative for the individual to act at all times according to the highest standards of integrity, propriety and good taste."

Norman Vincent Peale, noted author and religious leader, says: "The ritual of fraternities is based on biblical background and the highest idealism, and is taught to the brothers under circumstances of greatest susceptibility. Fraternities have much deeper purpose than mere socializing."

Leadership conferences are held each year at the National Conclave. Leadership is a challenge, not a reward. Fraternity men must learn to accept responsibility, to make decisions and to carry out worthwhile programs with careful planning and learn to work as a team.

The man who gains self-confidence by directing the affairs of a small group can go on to broader administrative opportunities with assurance. Fraternities provide leadership training and practical application to competitive situations similar to those in the business world.

Another major question being asked is: what does a fraternity's membership cost? Fraternity membership might be expected to cost a great deal, but actually it represents less than 2 percent of an average college man's expenses. A report of the United States Office of Education revealed that a nation-wide study, that undergraduate members' national and chapter dues amounted to 1.9 percent of an individual student's expenses at tax-supported state institutions.

In most constitutions and by-laws of national fraternities specific guidelines are outlined regarding the pledge period. The use of paddles are forbidden, as is public hazing. Pledging is the time following acceptance into the chapter, but prior to the formal initiation. During this time he is taught all the aspects of the national operation and organization, as well as the history of the fraternity system.

Many undergraduate chapters of national fraternities have alumni associations, consisting of all alumni of their chapter, thus providing continued association with the national organization. These associations usually meet yearly—at homecoming or in the spring—and for the purpose of aid the undergraduate chapter. Alumni chapters usually aid the national fraternity by providing members for the various boards and committees of the fraternity, as well as for the grand councils.

Faron Young

Faron Young Heads Cast Here 25th

Direct from the Grand Old Opry in Nashville, Tennessee, the Lions Club of Morehead is introducing for the first time in this area, Faron Young, the Stoneman Family, and the team of Joe and Rose Lee Maphis. Faron Young, known to "Nashville Sound" fans for his recording of "Hello Walls," "Country Girl," and many others, will headline a show on Friday, Oct. 25 at 8 p.m. in the Laughlin Field House.

Along with Young on the show will be the versatile Stoneman Family who have entertained audiences on the Danny Thomas Show, the Steve Allen Show, the Tonight Show, and other national television programs.

Backing these headliners will be the team of Joe and Rose Lee Maphis. Reserve tickets at the door will be $3, advanced reserved tickets $2.50, and general admission $2, with all proceeds going to the Lions Club Eyeblind Fund.

Faculty Increased

University Vice President Lappin announced that there is an increase of 31 faculty members this semester.

He said there is a need for more instructors and professors generally, and more specifically in the areas of sociology, guidance and counseling, and psychology.

Interview Reveals True Candidates

I used to be very jealous of Kentucky students who, being over 18, could vote for president, and I, being under 21 and from Ohio, could not. But that was before the candidates were selected. Now I'm glad I can't vote because my conscience wouldn't allow me to vote for any of the three contenders. I'd probably write in my own name.

Unfortunately because of their busy schedule (and probably fear of my bounding questions), none of the candidates will consent to let me interview them. [I must admit Eldridge Cleaver may have, but I wouldn't consent to interview him.]

Therefore, I must use my imagination.

Just imagine an interview with the major candidates that would reveal their true sides.

First of all, Wally George.

INTERVIEWER: Mr. George, is it true you advocate the use of atomic weapons?

GEORGE: Yes, I think if I were president, I would use them strategically.

INTERVIEWER: Well, where in Vietnam would you use them to consider strategically?

GEORGE: Oh, I wouldn't use them in Vietnam.

INTERVIEWER: Where, then would you use them?

GEORGE: Watts, Harlem, Berkeley, Columbia and other places controlled by the blacks.

INTERVIEWER: But why would you do it in those places?

GEORGE: So there would be law and order, and the streets would be safe for good people to walk down.

INTERVIEWER: Good people? Who are the good people?

GEORGE: My kind of people. The people who think like me.

INTERVIEWER: How about the rest of the people.

GEORGE: They're anarchists.

INTERVIEWER: Mr. George, what do you think is the most important point on your platform?

GEORGE: Any person blocking the way to the public.

INTERVIEWER: Without exception?

GEORGE: Well, there is one little one. If he is blocking the way of a person trying to enter a University.

Now, Mr. DICKY.

INTERVIEWER: What is your position on Vietnam?

DICKY: [no reply]

INTERVIEWER: What is your position on the civil rights movement?

DICKY: [no reply]

INTERVIEWER: What is your position on taxes?

DICKY: [no reply]

INTERVIEWER: How come you aren't saying anything?

DICKY: Because everytime I open my mouth, I bite my toe. I got a bad, man, do you want me to blow it off?

Now, Mr. HUBEY.

INTERVIEWER: How's it going Hube?

HUBEY: Oh, I'm so happy, so happy to be here today, so happy to live in this great land. So happy, happy, happy.

INTERVIEWER: Why are you here, Hube?

HUBEY: My fellow Americans, I come here tonight . . . I mean . . .

Don't get me wrong, I'm my own man.

My own man.

INTERVIEWER: What is your position on Vietnam?

HUBEY: I don't know, ask Lyndon.

Tussey's Easy First Aid Course

by Roy Tussey

Coming up this weekend is the big game. As in the case of most homecoming games the crowds will be tremendous. This large crowd is fine for school spirit but what about after the game?

Following that last-second attempt for points the majority of the crowd goes berserk and rushes the exits in an attempt to get through Morehead before the traffic jam becomes too bad.

As a result many people, especially young, fragile, female freshmen, are pushed aside and may even be injured. Should this happen to someone near you, please remember to become your duty to render first aid.

In the event that your first aid is not up to date, please let me instruct you on the latest techniques of helping your fellow man.

In most emergency cases after a football game, the victim is usually a young coed, who under the strain of the game and from lack of companionship, has merely fainted. Generally a strong stimulant is needed to revive a fainted person, but in the event you have forgotten smelling salts, the overpowering odor of your Oriental cologne will do just fine.

If the victim still does not respond you must apply mouth to mouth resuscitation and massage her hands and feet to stimulate blood circulation.

[Hers, not yours.]

After awhile the victim will be aroused from her faint long enough for you to escort her back to the dorm and arrange for a further examination later in the evening.

So far I have discussed fragile and delicate young victims. But quite often a person may become injured who is neither delicate, fragile, or who even has no recent practitioners. In other words, one of the old Alumni.

In the event he is an unwilling victim, you may have to subdue him before administering aid. Generally a friendly tap from your foot to the back of the victim's head, will quiet him temporarily.

Since the victim may be larger than you, it stands to reason you can't put out enough air for you and him both; therefore you must find him a steady source of forced air, possibly a nearby car exhaust.

If the victim does not respond to treatment you have one last resort, sing "Morehead Alma Mater." In the event he does not arise to his feet, you must accept the fact that he is gone. Immediately call Officer Kirk and tell him to bring his ambulance.

You may then proceed off your way, secure in the knowledge that in the absence of a more competent expert—they have YOU.

1984 is just around the corner.

And in Chicago, you get the feeling it might be the next corner.

For now we've reached the point where we answer dissent with a billyclub and mace and tear gas.

For God's sake, for America's sake, when are we going to realize that you can't destroy someone else's freedom without damaging your own?

For God's sake, for America's sake, when are we going to realize that the greatness of America is the ability to accomodate dissent—not brutally extinguish it?

For God's sake, for America's sake, when are we going to realize that the kids (be they immature, impractical, intemperate, idealistic, even antagonistic) are our last, best hope for a better tomorrow?

If we don't we're well on our way toward a society in which the honorable mayor of Chicago will be replaced by a nameless, soulless dictator called Big Brother. (Or has it already happened?).

To be sure, it's only 1968.

But unless someone becomes concerned, tomorrow might be 1984.

Job As Council President Keeps Bradford Running

Bill Bradford with Brenda Powell

By Claris Chullum

William Alan Bradford, a junior from Russell, once said that the Student Council does have power but "is not using the power it has." This statement became one of the major platforms upon which Bradford placed his candidacy for the Student Council presidential election last spring.

Bradford won the election by a margin of better than 2-1 over Charles Lee, who was the leader of the University's first political party. Today, Bradford has carried out his intentions by using the power of his office to help Morehead State University students.

Bradford is taking a survey on the need for pencil sharpeners in classrooms, and is trying to acquire street lights around construction areas on campus for the students' safety.

Since taking office, Bradford has helped write constitutions for several newly organized social clubs and is in the process of organizing the Young Democrats Club on campus. He is also checking into the possibility of having Committee and last year was treasurer of the Student Council.

would give students an opportunity to visit the library when they return from home on Sunday evenings.

Responsibilities of being Council president include being a non-voting member of the Board of Regents, directing Homecoming activities, and all general elections.

Bradford will be especially busy during Homecoming. He is in charge of the Homecoming queen elections and dance decorations, as well as activities of the queen and her court during Homecoming weekend.

With all his responsibilities, Bradford still finds time for study and to attend all ball games and most dances.

Bradford is the son of Mrs. Lona E. Bradford of Russell. In 1966, he graduated from Russell High School, where he was president of his junior and senior classes, and a member of the Student Council all four years.

At the University, Bradford is majoring in political science. He is a member of the Circle-K, was chairman of his freshman class Steering Committee and last year was treasurer of the Student Council.

Fitting

For the past three weeks Staff Sergeant Donald Cannon, the Military Science Department Supply Sergeant, as well as other Military Science instructor personnel, have been working to outfit over 750 cadets and cadet officers with the ROTC Uniform. Here Cadet Captain Charles W. Green is getting his waist measurements for the trousers. Sergeant Cannon is making certain that the uniform will fit. According to Lieutenant Colonel Thomas A. Harris, Professor of Military Science, if plans go as scheduled, all cadets should be in uniform by October 21.

B.D.M.O.C.? Button-down moccasins, maybe? Well, that makes as much sense as natural shoulder slacks! Actually, B.D.M.O.C. stands for Best Dressed Man on Campus. And each Fall, certain select stores throughout the country run a contest to pick the best dressed college man in their area. That's where we come in. From this group of winners, we select a panel to make up our...

COLLEGE ADVISORY BOARD, which is brought to New York in the Spring—all expenses paid—for a whirlwind week of fashion seminars, business sessions...and some exciting extracurricular activities. (The last group had a night in Greenwich Village at a swinging new club—Salvation—complete with New York fashion models for dates.)

WITH ACCUSTOMED ESQUIRE STYLE, the men were booked into Delmonico's on Park Avenue—one of New York's poshest hotels—and awaiting their arrival was a wardrobe of clothes, especially selected by our fashion staff. Before going any farther, perhaps we should introduce this year's panel:

DAVID WILLIAMS is a junior attending the University of Arizona on an acting scholarship, and JAMES O'CONNOR is a psychology major at Columbia who plays varsity football. TOM SHIELDS is a 20-year-old International Relations major who is chairman of Harvard's Undergraduate Council. At Grambling College, DAVID TOLLIVER takes time out from the debating team to teach off-campus, and mathematics major KENNETH JACKER—in the Honor Program at San Jose State College—managed to maintain a 4.0 grade point average last semester while working on several campus committees and serving as treasurer of his fraternity.

STEPHEN SERBE was president of his class last year at Georgetown University, and RICK EVANS has held a number of offices in his fraternity (SAE) at Northwestern. Other fraternities were represented by JEFFREY MONT from DePaul University (Beta) and WILLIAM STRONG from San Diego State (Kappa Sig). EDWARD ENGLISH from St. Thomas College is active in the Young Democrats, and JOHN WALSH—a strapping 6'2" freshman at Boston College last year—is very sports minded.

PENDLETON, Burlington, Yardley, DuPont, Bostonian, Alligator...these are just a few of the leading toiletry and apparel manufacturers participating in the fashion sessions. Some brought prototype samples...shirts with matching ties, shaped suits, bold plaid jackets, square-toed shoes...for first-hand appraisal. The panel offered their candid opinions on all types of apparel and the results were sometimes surprising, always informative. Next month we'll give details on the fashions they picked as most-likely-to-succeed.

TOPPING IT OFF, the panel was preserved for posterity in a group photograph which appears in color in our September "Back-To-College" issue. We hope you've already seen it. If not, just look for the magazine with the Beautiful People on the cover...Tiny Tim & Friends. And I ask you now—who could be more beautiful!

Now In Last Place

Eagles' Mistakes Cause 3rd Loss

The Morehead Eagles have made it three in a row -- losses that is. Jake Hallum's team dropped a 27-18 decision to Middle Tennessee, a 28-21 decision last week to Murray and then gave a win to Austin Peay on Saturday by a score of 17-16.

After four games the Eagles have been unable to mark up a win. Against Murray they played exceptionally well yet lost. The same was true against Middle Tennessee. But the story at Austin Peay was a little bit different.

Going into Saturday's game at Clarksville both the Governors and the Eagles were winless, and both held last place positions in the OVC. In a sense it was a showdown; who would take over last place? Well, the Eagles succeeded.

Eagles Take Early Lead

After taking an early lead on a safety the Eagles exchanged several punts with the Governors. There was not much action until Austin Peay quarterback Dennis Dyer hooked up with Church Field for a 10 yard scoring pass.

With under 50 seconds to go in the first half freshman Maurice Hollingsworth sped 78 yards on a kickoff return that put the sluggish Eagles into the first half lead. Clark added the extra point making the score 9-7.

LOUIS ROGAN, Eagle tailback, received special praise for his extraordinary performance against Murray. Rogan gained an even 200 yards in 33 attempts. Bill Ferguson, Murray coach said of Rogan, "He's as good a back as I've seen around here. He's got good balance. He's just a honey." Rogan broke the Breathitt Sports Center record for the most yards rushing in one game.

The second half looked like it would be more of the same. Almost 13 minutes had gone by before quarterback Bill Marston tossed a 51-yard scoring "bomb" to John High with 2:36 left in the third period.

Punt Return Nullified

At this point it looked as though the Eagles may have been able to pull out a victory. With only about 10 minutes left in the game Hollingsworth once again turned on his speed and took a Austin Peay punt back 54 yards for another Morehead score. But flags were dropped back downfield and they could have meant only one thing -- clipping. The ball, Hollingsworth, and the touchdown were all brought back and Morehead was forced to take possession of the ball deep in their own territory.

Two straight penalties followed and before Coach Hallum knew it the Governors had the ball and were in scoring position. Rodney Collins narrowed the Eagle margin to six when he kicked a 22-yard field goal with 8 minutes and 4 seconds to play.

Extra Point Decides

The last eight minutes were touch and go but a late rally by the stubborn Governors was the final doom for the Eagles. Ronnie Hackney plunged for a two yard Austin Peay score for the tying touchdown, capping a nine-play, 51-yard drive. The crucial extra point was added by Collins giving the Governors their first win.

Numerous penalties were the main cause of the Eagles' failure at Austin Peay. Morehead was penalized for 100 yards compared to 21 for Austin Peay. This is where the Eagles gave away a victory and succeeded in holding onto last place in the conference.

Next Saturday is Homecoming and the unfortunate Eagles with their new yet winless coach, Jake Hallum, will face a big and always tough Youngstown, Ohio. Any play similar to that at Austin Peay will never be enough to defeat powerful Youngstown.

Cardinals Lose Series; But Look Out In '69

The World Series is over. Being a Cardinals fan, I was disappointed and groaned like all good Redbird followers do when Gusie Busch's team loses. But my mourning period was hardy in its forty-eight hour when I learned that the wise Cardinal management had once again pulled off another one of those ingenious trades.

With the retirement of Roger Maris it looked as though the Cardinals would be forced to play weak hitting Bob Tolan full time. While Maris was playing it was really no problem for the Redbirds. Maris played against right handed pitchers and Tolan against left handed ones.

When Maris left, some good hitting substitute was desperately needed if the Cardinals were to repeat as the National League champions. Well, it didn't take that super-management in St. Louis long to figure out a solution. They must have reasoned that the only place they could go and pick up a good ballplayer at a cheap price was Cincinnati.

The Cincinnati Reds have been known in the past for their blunders at the trading block so this year's deal comes as no real surprise. In case you're wondering who the Reds gave away this time, it was center-felder Vada Pinson.

Pinson was sacrificed for two of the Cardinal bench jockeys -- the afore mentioned outfielder, Bob Tolan and pitcher Wayne Granger.

Considering a few statistics on the three players involved in the trade it appears that the Reds have once again destined themselves to a typical fourth place finish.

Pinson is one of Cincinnati's all-time record holders. He holds the Reds' records for games played [1,565], at-bats [6,335], hits [1,881] and doubles [342]. In 11 seasons with the Reds Pinson hit .299. After a leg injury which forced him to miss several games last season Pinson still hit a respectable .271.

On the other hand, platoon outfielder Tolan hit only .230. Granger at 24 is still untied. Last season he had a 4-2 won lost record with a 2.25 earned run average.

Although both Tolan [22] and Granger [24] are younger than the 30 year old Pinson it appears that Pinson's abilities will certainly be good for at least three or four more years. The Cardinals will now have probably the best outfield in baseball. If it is not the best outfield it is surely the fastest.

This first significant trade of the off season has assured the Cardinals of another National League Pennant. As for what the Reds have gained from the trade, well, they got Bob Tolan and Wayne Granger.

Regional High Schools Attend Speech Clinic

Students and teachers from Junior and senior high schools in the Morehead region participated in the Kentucky High School Speech League Clinic held on the University campus October 11.

Registration started at 9:30 a.m. in the Combs Building. Instruction and critiquing were planned in the morning.

In the afternoon, the entire clinic met in Button Auditorium to view the best of the morning's events. The purpose of the clinic was to prepare area junior and senior high students for the Morehead Speech Festival, to be held in March, and ultimately for the State Meet, April 19 at the University of Kentucky.

Events and people providing instruction at the October 11 clinic were: analysis of the debate topic, Mrs. G.C. Webb, assistant professor of speech; oral interpretation [poetry and prose], Dr. Jackson Barefield, assistant professor of speech; news analysis of speech, Dr. Frederick assistant professor of journalism; duet acting, Marvin Phillips, assistant professor of dramatic arts; original oratory, James E. Quisenberry, assistant professor of speech; declamation, Quisenberry; [broadcast announcing, Don Holloway, associate professor of radio-TV; and extemporaneous speaking, Dr. Frederick Voigt, chairman of the Division of Communications. All are Morehead faculty members.

Intramurals Underway: Flag Football Begins

Another season of intramural flag football is underway. The RCH's, starting a new season in defense of their two year reign as champions of flag football, defeated the Drason's 14-0.

Mike Punko scored on a 12 yard run in the first half for the first RCH score while Bruce Gentry scampered around right end for a twenty yard score in the second half.

Aquila Club Victors

On a rain and mud soaked field the Aquila Club passed their way to a 14-0 victory over the Good Bad and Ugly.

Quarterback Frank Collasano threw touchdown passes to Mike Eckle and Ron McEwen. Collasano also scored both the Aquila Club extra points.

Campus Club Skunks Nads

The Campus Club completely outdistanced the Nads to achieve a 12-0 victory in their first game of the season. They scored early in the first half on a 65 yard pass play from quarterback Wayne Tullis to end Danny Dohn.

In the second half the Campus Club accumulated another score on substitute quarterback Joe Wolfe's 45 yard pass to Dohn.

Campus Club Also Defeats Diving Eagles

The Campus Club once again used a strong offense and a tight defense to pull out a victory. They overran the inexperienced Eagles defense for three touchdowns and a 20-0 victory.

Ky. Colonels Edge Barbarians

A half safety by the Ky. Colonels proved to be the winning margin in their 10-8 win over the Barbarians.

The Barbarians took the early lead with a safety in the opening minutes. Later in the first half the Ky. Colonels got on the scoreboard with a 65 yard pass play from quarterback Buck Donley to end Bruce Evermen.

A Freshman 'Sugar Bear' Playing With The Eagles

By Dick Wells

Sports Editor
Harry Lyles is a sugar bear. Common knowledge tells us that a sugar bear is a soft gentle animal with an affection for crunch and sweet little sugar crystals. Well, Harry Lyles may not particularly care for sugar crystals but just the same he is a meek and quite harmless 210 pound "sugar bear" -- except on the football field. The gridiron is Harry's hunting grounds. His prey includes such notable players as Dickie Moore, Western; Jim Guice, Eastern; Harold Roberts, Austin Peay; and Larry Tillman, Murray. Their pain is the sweet sugar bear food on which Harry thrives.

Typical Freshman

Although his stocky 5'9" torso can easily be spotted roaming around the Eagle secondary, his appearance around campus is like that of any other confused and frustrated freshman. Harry trudges back and forth on the campus sidewalks with books disarrayed under his burly arm and the traditional beanie propped sideways on his head with its gold bill turned upwards proudly displaying in bold letters the name L.Y.L.E.S.

Having been born in the greenery of the West Virginia mountains should make it quite easy for Harry to become accustomed to his present surroundings. Morehead's "sugar bear" was born in the insignificant little Appalachian town of Glen White on the 23rd day of January in 1950. His father, Phillip Lyles, later moved the family to Charleston where his son started an affectionate relationship with the pigskin.

Scored 22 TD's in High School
Amidst the unsavory odors of Charleston's chemical factories the always sweet "sugar bear" ground out yardage at fullback for four years at Stonewall Jackson High School. His ability to hit a hole in the line reminds one of a bowling ball scattering bits and pieces of unfortunate pins. Such power enabled Harry to strike for 22 touchdowns in his senior year.

Perhaps Harry's greatest pleasure was beating his own college coach -- Jake Hallum. Hallum had the opportunity to watch the "sugar bear" in action during the 1967 season. Of course it wasn't a dream situation; the "sugar bear" and his Stonewall Jackson team upset Hallum's Ashland Tomcats for their only loss of the season.

It's not all that had anymore, for Hallum has the "sugar bear" on his side now.

Great Future in OVC

The Eagle's record may not look too impressive at this stage in the season but an 18 year old freshman art major by the name of Harry Lyles is certainly making the best of it. With his performance to date and with just a conservative projection into the future I am sure this meek and harmless "sugar bear" will leave quite an impression of the Ohio Valley Conference.

Phil Hardin Once Again Finishes First

Phil Hardin of Morehead finished first in the Ashland College Invitational Cross Country Meet at Ashland, Ohio, Saturday, Oct. 7. His time for the four-mile course was 20:50.

Morehead's team finished third in the ten-team meet behind Baldwin-Wallace College and Mount Union College. This made three consecutive third place finishes for Coach Marshall Bank's team.

Other top finishers for Morehead were Jack White, who finished seventh in the meet with 21:28 and Dan Price, who finished eight with a time of 21:55.

Hardin, a junior who attended Rowan County High School, won first place in a quadrangular meet at the University of Cincinnati September 28.

Morehead's next home meet is scheduled for October 22 at 4:00 p.m. at the University Golf Course against Kentucky State.

Coach Banks said that he was pleased with most of the team's efforts at Ashland, and he predicted that the team will run very well against Kentucky State.

My Neighbors

"Don't get pushy—I'm watching my tax dollars at work..."

A DEADLY TACKLER at line-backer, Lyles, shown here against Murray's Gerald Young, has provided a main-stay in the Eagle defensive unit.

A Look Into The Past

Adron Doran Named President To Succeed Charles R. Spain

Morehead President Baird Dies After Long Illness

April 20, 1954

The Morehead State College Board of Regents, in a called meeting on the campus last week, swore in two new members, accepted the resignation of the school's president and elected his successor.

Adron Doran, director of the Division of Teacher Education and Certification at Frankfort, is to succeed Charles R. Spain, who resigned to become dean of the College of Education, University of New Mexico.

Doran, 44, and a native of Graves County, is a former president of the Kentucky Education Association. He served four terms in the Kentucky House of Representatives. In 1950 he was elected Speaker of the House. He served on the Legislative Research Commission which in 1951 made a study of higher education in Kentucky.

Having experience in public schools as well as colleges, Doran served as a high school teacher, coach and principal and as professor of educational administration at the University of Georgia. In addition to the duties of his present position he serves as secretary to the Council on Public Higher Education in Kentucky.

He holds the bachelor's and master's degree from Murray State College and a doctor of education degree from the University of Kentucky.

Dr. Doran married Mignon McClain in 1931. They have no children.

The Board of Regents, in accepting Dr. Spain's resignation, expressed regret and deep appreciation for his contribution to the welfare of the institution during his administration. His resignation is effective July 1.

Two members were attending their first board meeting, having been appointed April 1 by Governor Wetherby. They were Dr. Elwood Esham, Vanzburg physician, and Dr. Lowell Gearhart, crayson dentist. They were sworn in at the beginning of the meeting. Both are former Morehead students.

Football Team Ends 31 Game Losing Streak

Oct. 2, 1956

All was joy on the Eagle campus when word was flashed that Morehead had broken its 31-game losing streak by outstanding Maryville, Tenn. there. The score was 18-13.

Morehead had come close to victory several times, but the Eagles had not won a football game since they beat East Tennessee in September, 1952 piling up the unenviable record of one of the longest losing streaks in college football.

The Eagles carried their new coach from the field after the game. The victory touched off a celebration on the Morehead campus and downtown that lasted well after midnight.

Fire trucks and a caravan of cars, cheerleaders and supporters met Adams and his victorious proteges at the city line Sunday evening and escorted them to Jayne Stadium for an enthusiastic pep rally. Maryville is not supposed to have much this year, but the calibre of the foe meant little because Blue and Gold followers have had to swallow defeat for four long years. They wanted a victory and an end to unfavorable nation-wide publicity.

Editor's Note: There has been an institution of higher learning in Morehead for 50 years. Through these years the college has had many great moments. This is the 20th year in which the Trail Blazer has been published. Since this is the Homecoming issue and a lot of Alumni will be returning to the campus, we have selected a few stories from old Trail Blazers which we think either depict significant events in Morehead's history or reveal campus life as it was in the past.

Campus Rules For 1917

1. To Girls—Except upon permission granted for good reason, no girl shall leave the campus unless accompanied by a chaperon.

2. Girls will not be permitted to visit their homes or the homes of any other girls or of their friends without a written request from their parents to the Dean.

3. No student shall, except for special reasons, spend the night in the town away from school.

4. Absolute promptness to all duties is required. A student must be punctual at every recitation and meal unless excused for illness.

5. Borrowing or lending is prohibited, being bad practice and bad taste.

6. A student while on the way to and from school is under the regulations of the school.

7. Any pupil who is a party to a secret correspondence is liable to be expelled.

8. Any student whose conduct and influence is deemed detrimental to the school may be expelled.

9. No student shall open an account at any store in town unless special arrangements have been made between parents and merchants. The school will be in no way responsible for any accounts thus made.

10. It is desired that all students from a distance live in the dormitories.

11. On Saturday after school or on Monday morning the young ladies are permitted to do shopping downtown. They will be accompanied by a chaperon.

Death Monday claimed the man who had guided Morehead State College through the most tumultuous period in its history.

He was Dr. William Jesse Baird, Morehead's fourth president.

Baird died in Deaconess Hospital, Cincinnati, where he had been admitted Dec. 12 for the treatment of a heart ailment.

He had been under an oxygen tent much of the past three weeks, and only recently, physicians reported some improvement, although his condition remained critical.

President of Morehead State College since Aug. 6, 1946, he was 60 years old.

Baird was born at Artemus, Ky., Apr. 12, 1890. He was a graduate of the Berea Foundation School and Berea College. He was awarded a Masters Degree from Cornell University and did graduate work at Columbia University, University of Kentucky and the University of Wisconsin.

His alma mater, Berea, awarded Baird an honorary LL.D degree in 1944.

He taught four years in the public schools of Kentucky, and in 1925 became Director of the Department of Agriculture at Berea. In 1925 he was named dean of the Foundation School, a post which he held until 1944, in addition to being director of teachers training at Berea from 1939-1944.

In 1944 he became president of Berry Schools, Mt. Berry, Ga. In 1946 he became president at Morehead.

Baird was a trustee of the Female Orphan School at Midway, a member of the Conference of Southern Mountain Workers and a member of the Union Church at Berea.

In 1929, he traveled widely in Europe, helping to obtain funds for Berea.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the Morehead College auditorium, where the body had lain in state.

Rev. G.C. Banks officiated at the services, assisted by Rev. Elmore Ryle.

Survivors are his wife, Agnes Taylor Baird, a son, David Baird, West Hartford, Conn., and a stepmother, Mrs. T.C. Duke of Somerset, Ky. Burial was in Berea cemetery, following memorial services held at the Union Church of Berea at 3 p.m. Wednesday.

You have to give him credit for never being late

A Brief History of MSU

Howdy-Doody Is Favorite As TV Comes To Morehead

By James Owens

Howdy-Doody and the major sports contests of the day are fast becoming everyday occurrences on the campus through the medium of TV. The new television set, which has been on display in the bookstore previous to Christmas vacation, was installed in the new student lounge during the latter part of vacation, and put into operation upon the re-opening of school.

The viewing of television is fast becoming a popular pastime of the students and the more rabid fans are already developing favorites among the programs offered. Student reaction indicates the comedies, musicals, and sportscasts are among the more popular programs.

The selection of programs is at present restricted to one channel, that of WSAZ-TV, Huntington, W. Va. However the type of programs available is varied due to the fact that WSAZ has a hook-up with both CBS and NBC. With the construction of future television stations closer to Morehead, the selection of stations will become more varied.

Among the programs of the present selection which rank highest among the students are Gary Moore, Kate Smith, Howdy Doody and the Saturday afternoon sports events. Among the programs viewed with some humor are programs, such as Gabby Hayes and the Lone Ranger, which planned primarily for children. "Bride and Groom," a televised wedding is viewed with much curiosity.

In addition to programs designed for entertainment only, many educational programs are available. Televised newscasts, scientific demonstrations and panel discussions by experts in various fields may be enjoyed by those interested at various hours throughout the day. Intimate glimpses into the happenings of the United Nations and history in the making are popular among both the intellectual and the curious.

A large block of program time is devoted to the televising of services of various religious faiths each Sunday.

Students are not the only TV fans on the campus. One may find himself enjoying a televised western while sitting between a college prof and a five-year-old cowboy.

PORTRAYAL OF DISAPPOINTMENT—This picture of Eastern President Martin was taken with telescopic lens three or four minutes before the end of the Eagles-Eastern game Saturday, Nov. 10, with Morehead leading 20-12. A minute after the photographer shot this Dr. Martin left the stadium and failed to formally present the "Hawg Rifle," the custom for the past 27 years, to the Morehead president, Dr. Adron Doran.

The End Of The 'Hawg Rifle' - 1961 Special Assembly Called Monday To Celebrate Football Victory

Classes were dismissed at 9:45 Monday, Sept. 17 for a special assembly to honor the first Morehead State College football team to win a game after a four year losing streak. Morehead downed Maryville, Tennessee by a score of 18-13.

President Adron Doran presided over the assembly and made the comment, "We now know what a good rain means to a dry country after a lengthy drought."

Mrs. Paul Adams and Mrs. Silas Prewitt, wives of the coaches were asked to stand and be recognized for the part they play in the life of the football team.

Dr. Doran introduced a song he had composed to the tune of "Old Time Religion." Each verse paid homage to certain members of the team, the first for our coaches, Paul Adams and "Si" Prewitt and the second for our captains, Harold Rose and "Bear" Adams. The remaining team members were introduced by the class of which they were members.

As the assembly drew to a close, both Coach Adams and Coach Prewitt made a few comments.

Trailing The Blaze With Bill Tussey

Friends, Romans, Countrymen—lend me your beers—I drink mine.

The above sentence was just to get your attention—I don't drink mfk. I saw a fine movie the other night; it was about a contortionist who could twist himself into any letter in the alphabet—"Oliver Twist"—he finally made an "S" of himself.

Ah, I'll bet you think I'm dumb—you're wrong—there are some things I know all about; for instance, mathematics. I really know all about math—long division, short division and television.

I bet you won't believe this, but I'm very happy. I get a lot of kicks out of life. I'm not married—still I get a lot of kicks.

I remember my childhood. I was a poor and hungry child. Later, of course, it got a little better—we finally had three square meals a week. Dad was a good sport though. Whenever I told him I wanted something real nice to drink he'd get a glass, fill it up from the sink, shake it several times, and what do you know—homogenized water.

I've been having a lot of trouble with my car lately. Can't seem to keep water in the radiator. I know it's not the radiator's fault, though. I bought a good one in a jewelry store—it's called Boliviah.

Enough of my troubles, let's talk about some of my friends. I have a friend who married a glamour girl—her hair was yellow-matched the color of her teeth—both of them.

I have another friend who's getting a divorce from his wife—it's not his fault she can't make him a decent living.

You know, the average girl's ambition is to find a man she can make a good husband.

I wish I knew some gossip to write about in this column, but I just don't know any. I used to know quite a lot, though—I always had my ear to the ground—but I gave it up to many grasshoppers clung to my lobes.

Did your parents ever tell you about the birds and the bees?

I think it's a bad thing to undertake. Once had a friend who knew so much about the birds and bees that she couldn't get him interested in girls. You know, I'm the only one in my family who uses glasses—everyone else drinks from a bottle.

Speaking of girls, you know my girl looks good enough to eat—and does she! The check came to $6.30 last week.

I would like to leave you with this thought—I don't want you to believe everything I have said in this column.

Especially about girls—I don't know too much about girls—just what I pick up.

Same Town And Same Name But They're Not The Same

When is a twin not a twin? Answer--when she is Patricia Ann Justice from Elkhorn City.

Enrolled at the University this fall are two girls by the same name, from the same city and who graduated from the same high school. However, they are not related.

There has been no real confusion due to the identical names other than messages for one reaching the other, they said. Sometimes Elkhorn City mail reaches the wrong Patricia Justice, which is easily remedied by understanding postmen.

To add to the jumble, there was another Patricia Justice in Elkhorn City during the girls' high school days.

munity College. Her major is elementary education.

The other, a brunette, is a freshman with an area of concentration in social science.

Wish I'd Said THAT

Guidance People Attempt To Find Hidden Talent

Guidance counselors from a 21-county area of Eastern Kentucky attended a two-day Operation Talent Search conference September 30 and October 1 on the University campus to learn how to discover undiscovered talents in their students.

Speakers at the conference included: Emmitt Burken, director of Talent Search at Western Kentucky University; Lola Doane, counselor at Bellfry High School, Pike County; and Samuel Robinson, principal of The Lincoln School.

Financed by a $50,754 federal grant, Operation Talent Search at Morehead has the purpose of identifying, encouraging, and motivating young people of exceptional ability but lacking the financial resources to continue their education above the high school level.

Campus offices on the fifth floor of the new Education Building will serve as a clearing house in identifying students and contacting various college financial officers about the capabilities of the student, said Frank Sandage, Director of Operation Talent Search on campus.

Talent, defined by Operation Talent Search personnel, is not only intellectual, but also includes social leadership potential and physical ability in music, art, sports, or creative ability.

Campus workers supplement work of guidance counselors by providing a super-structure in an effort to discover students who don't realize they have special talents.

It is hoped that 40 per cent of the student body at each high school will be termed "talented" and will go on for a post-secondary education in a vocational school or college.

Counselors who attended the conference are to administer questionnaires to high school juniors and seniors in each of the 70 high schools in the area. Teachers are asked to evaluate the students. The permanent record of each student is checked for grade average, achievement scores, and IQ evaluation. This information is placed on data processing cards and a computer selects the top 40 per cent of the students.

Students chosen are then encouraged to stay in high school and seek post-secondary education by films and programs designed especially for their situation.

In the future, Operation Talent Search workers hope to have pilot projects in model schools for the use of talented students in such areas as music, art, and creative writing. Educational television will be used to reach the student and his parents at home.

Operation Talent Search works cooperatively with Project Upward Bound and ALPS [an Accelerated Learning Program for college students] in the total development of the potential of their discovered talent.

Kentucky counties involved in the Morehead Operation Talent Search are: Bath, Boyd, Breathitt, Carter, Elliott, Fleming, Floyd, Greenup, Johnson, Knott, Lawrence, Lewis, Magoffin, Martin, Mason, Menifee, Montgomery, Morgan, Pike, Rowan, and Wolfe.

Persons interested in knowing more about the program should contact Frank Sandage, 503 Graduate Studies Building, Morehead State University.

PE Department Gives Swim Test To Discover What Percent Swims

Many students who are taking physical education courses as a requirement were in for a surprise last week. Instead of having their regular P.E. class, these students were taken to the pool for a swimming test.

Immediately a rumor spread over the campus that anyone who failed the test would be made to take a swimming class later on.

"There's no truth to that rumor," said Dr. Earl Bentley, chairman of the department of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation.

"Beginning swimming is required only for majors and areas in P.E. We do encourage students who can't swim to take beginning swimming, but it is not mandatory."

According to Dr. Bentley the only reason that students were taken to the pool was to find out how many students can swim. "That, he said, 'is all there was to it.'"

Peaceful Uses Of Nuclear Energy Demonstrated By Travelling Van

A lecture-demonstration program designed to present the peaceful uses of nuclear energy to high school students will be conducted by Morehead State University and the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The University will work with the Oak Ridge Associated Universities, Oak Ridge, Tenn. in presenting the exhibit, called "This Atomic World". About 100 high schools in Kentucky are expected to participate this school term, said Dr. William C. Simpson, dean of the school of sciences and mathematics at Morehead.

Charles Mays, a 1968 Morehead graduate with a bachelor of science degree in physics and chemistry, will be in charge of the exhibit, which will be presented at 40-minute assembly programs at the high schools.

Mays, who took eight weeks of intensified training in atomic energy and the presentation of the exhibit at Oak Ridge, will be available at each school for special counseling with interested students and guidance counselors.

"The assembly program is designed to interest all students. It will cover in student terms such basic nuclear physics highlights as radioactivity, chain reaction, reactors and their uses, transmutation, and the application of radioisotopes in medicine, industry and agriculture," said Dr. Charles A. Payne, chairman of the Division of Physical Sciences at Morehead.

The Kentucky exhibit of "This Atomic World" is one of 14 such units visiting the nation's high schools. The Morehead State-operated unit will be available to all schools in Kentucky during the next two school years. Mays will visit schools in the eastern portion of the state this year and visit the schools west of Louisville next year.

"We think this is a tremendous opportunity for high school principals to bring a vitally important and meaningful program to their students and teachers," Dr. Payne said.

New Baptist Student Union Director Sets Goal On Christian Maturation

"To see young people mature in Christian thinking," says the Rev. Don Blaylock, new director of the Baptist Student Union, "is one of my main objectives as I work on the campus of Morehead."

Blaylock came to Morehead in September to fill the vacancy left by the Rev. Emory Smith who took a position with the Kentucky Baptist Convention in June.

Recently serving as minister of music and youth at Buechel Park Baptist Church in Louisville, Blaylock says working with college students has specialized his outlook.

"The students here are down-to-earth, courteous and some of them are very spiritually-minded," he adds.

Last spring Blaylock directed Kentucky BSU choir in a Christian folk musical, "Good News" in Owensboro and Richmond. He also served as a consultant on the writing and producing of this musical.

He will be in charge of the music at the BSU Convention, being held October 18-20 in Lexington.

Blaylock, who is from Bristol, Va., graduated from Carson Newman College and received his Master of Divinity degree from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in August.

He has served five years with the recreation department of the Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention on the faculty of Ridgecrest and Glorieta Baptist assemblies.

A new BSU center, which is proposed to be finished in late 1969, will certainly add to the outreach of the Baptist student of this campus," says Blaylock.

SELECT Makes Transfer Choice Easier By Computer

Special To Trail Blazer
University students wishing to transfer next fall will find their task easier this time than when they were high school seniors attempting to choose four or five prospective colleges.

Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., has introduced a computer system to aid students in the selection of colleges and universities. The program, SELECT, was created by two seniors at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The program, which is aimed at high school seniors and college students wishing to transfer, determines

College Folk, Jazz, Pop Groups May Compete For Scholarships

During the past two years collegiate jazz groups have had an opportunity to compete for scholarships and national recognition at the TWA and Budweiser sponsored Intercollegiate Music Festival.

Now, pop and folk groups will have the same opportunity as the Festival widens its competition to include categories for pop, folk and jazz musicians and vocalists.

The national finals of the 1969 Intercollegiate Music Festival will be held in Kiel Opera House in St. Louis on May 22 - 24, 1969. Regional competitions get under way in March and April at the Mobile, Villanova University, Cerritos College, Midwest, Little Rock University and

Soaring

"SOARING TO GREATER HEIGHTS" is the theme of this year's Homecoming at Morehead State University. This banner [Homecoming '68] which measures 20 ft. by 4 ft., is attached to a 160-ft. construction crane on the campus. The two-day event will begin Friday, Oct. 18, with a candlelight dinner and a concert by Count Basie and his orchestra. Youngstown State University will provide the football competition in a 2:30 p.m. contest Saturday, Oct. 19.

Bach Collegium Give Concert In First 'MSU Presents'

On its first American tour, the Bach Collegium, an ensemble of 70 musicians, appeared on the University campus October 10 at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium. This was the first of five concerts in the series entitled "Morehead State University Presents."

Included in the program was a chamber orchestra, choir, and outstanding soloists. Programs to be offered by this unique ensemble will include the Bach St. John Passion, a varied all-Bach program, the Mozart "Coronation" Mass and Requiem, and a diversified program of works by Webern, Penderetzki, and Monteverdi. The Collegium appeared at Morehead en route to the Olympics in Mexico City.

Other programs in the "Morehead State University Presents" series are: November 11, The Lenox String Quartet; February 10, Ballet American; February 21, Adelaide Woodwind Quintet; and a May concert to be announced. All performances begin at 8 p.m. in Button Auditorium.

Students are admitted free to all "Morehead State University Presents" programs by showing their ID cards. Faculty and other adults may purchase season tickets for $5. Students without ID cards are charged $2.50 for a season ticket.

6,261 Enroll For Term; Up Slightly

Agriculture Club
The Agriculture Club held its first meeting of the year on Oct. 3, presided over by President Kenneth Masters.

Many prospective members were present. They were requested to get membership forms in Room 425 of the new addition of Lappin Hall and become active members. Those applications must be completed and returned to the agriculture office by Oct. 17.

In other events, a hayride was held last Saturday with the Home Ec Club. Miss Roberta Ratliff was selected as the Ag Club representative for Homecoming Queen.

The Agriculture Club will have open house activities for Alumni this Sat. Visitors will view the new facilities of the agriculture department on the fourth floor of Lappin Hall, at noon, and later Ag Club members will meet at Laughlin Gymnasium for lunch. Final plans for Homecoming activities will be discussed at the regular meeting Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in room 224 of the new addition of Lappin Hall.

Iota Beta Sigma
Last week Iota Beta Sigma, professional broadcasting fraternity, elected charter officers. They are: President, Larry Gooding; Vice President, Louie Parrott; Secretary, Julia Applegate; Treasurer, Don Rooks; and Historian, Mark Jordan. Don Holloway was elected the club's advisor.

Iota Beta Sigma was approved by the Student Life Committee and is currently applying for a national charter. The fraternity's first project was a dance last Friday night featuring "The Students of Soul."

CHI PHI DELTA
Chi Phi Delta has been awarded the scholarship trophy for the second consecutive semester. Mary Ann Buddick placed in the top ten at the Miss Kentucky Pageant in Louisville this summer. Paula Risner represented Chi Phi Delta in a recent style show on campus. Chi Phi has three finalists in the Homecoming Queen elections; Janet Vaughan, Mary Ann Buddick, and Paula Risner.

A surprise birthday party, October 8, was given for one of the sponsors, Mrs. Moore.

Judy Winters, Brenda Hedges, Janet Vaughan, and Carleen Tignor are bowling for Chi Phi Delta on the intramural team.

Rita Miller was recently elected chaplain of Chi Phi Delta.

Judy Winters was elected treasurer of Mignon Tower.

CAPA Tridents
The CAPA Tridents social club announces its officers for the coming year. They are: president, Madge Walters; vice president, Lyra Hantz; secretary, Rita Spears; treasurer, Bobbi Ratliff; parliamentarian, Sheila Rose; historians, Kathy Hamilton and Dianne Potter; publicity chairman, Carol Crager.

CAPAS donated a white rose bud flower arrangement to the Daniel Boone Convalescent Home and an arrangement to the St. Claire Medical Center.

The nominees for Homecoming Queen from Alpha Sigma Rho are Linda Campbell and Dianne Potter. The CAPAS are in the process of planning their final rush parties.

SIGMA CHI ALPHA
Sigma Chi has three brothers returning this year who have been elected officers of three organizations on campus. They are: Ed Cornett, president of Phi Beta Lambda; Stu Flate, officer of Blue Key National Honor Fraternity; and Bob Williams who was recently elected vice president of the I.F.C.

Besides being active in intramurals with two bowling teams and one football team, Sigma Chi Alpha has also been active in service functions for the Morehead area. On Saturday, October 5, 1968, the brothers converted a storage room into a classroom for the Pine Crest Children's Home. This project consisted of painting and constructing bookshelves and tables.

To help relieve the parking problem at home football games, Sigma Chi will be operating three privately owned parking lots adjacent to Breathitt Park. Gear for the convenience of Eagle fans.

Delta Omega Xi
The Omega Xi held its first formal banquet, Thursday October 3, in the Alumni Towers formal dining room. Mrs. Adron Doran was guest speaker. At the close of the evening Mrs. Doran accepted a certificate of honorary membership and a charm engraved with the Delta Omega Xi Greek letters.

Delta Omega Xi officers for the 1968-69 school year are: Paula Birchfield, president; Helen Walker, vice president; Faye Walker, recording secretary; Mereda Collins, corresponding secretary; Carolyn Dorton, treasurer; Brenda Powell, parliamentarian; Madama Davis, sergeant at arms; and Joann Stapleton, chaplain.

Sigma Gamma Sigma
Twenty-five members of Sigma Gamma Sigma returned to Morehead for the fall semester. The Campus Club has started the year active in the new inter - Fraternity Council rush procedures.

Brothers active on the campus this year include: R.O.T.C. Cadet Major Craig Kincade, and Cadet Captain James Finch; Chuck Lee, drum major for the University marching band; Paul Hicks and Bill Marston, co-captains of the varsity football team; and William S. Rogers, head football manager. Finch is also president of Open Forum and vice president of the Agriculture Club.

Brother Nelson Gullet won the recent Fall Intramural Golf Tournament. The Campus Club intramural football team is currently undefeated and unscored on in two games.

Plans for Homecoming are in progress. The men of Sigma Gamma Sigma will hold a reception before the game at Mays Hall, recently renamed for Jesse T. Mays, Campus Club sponsor for 31 years, now deceased, and an alumni reception after the game at 443 Union Ave.

Campus Club alumni on the campus at present include: Dean Buford Crager, dean of students; Larry Stephenson, director of housing; Dr. Madison Pryor, chairman of the Biology Department; Rex Chaney, Marshall Banker, and Steve Hamilton of the Physical Education Department.

Officers for the 1968-69 school year are: James Markwood, president; John Sewell, vice president; Frank Baumann, secretary; William S. Rogers, treasurer; Dennis Cahall, chaplain; Tom Dominzine, athletic director; Edward L. Pass, historian; Robert Goldie, alumni director; Paul Hicks, sergeant at arms; and Charles Lee, reporter and I.F.C. representative.

THETA SIGMA TAU
Several of the sisters of Theta Sigma Tau were elected as officers of East Mignon Hall. The thetas and their offices are: Sandy Sprinkle, vice president; Janet Risner, secretary; Mary Ann Schuster, treasurer; and Diana Stuempel, publicity chairman.

All Theta preferential parties will be held from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in room 405 of the Combs Building on October 13, 15, and 17.

Theta Homecoming queen nominees were Janet Risner and Mary Ann Cline. Phyllis Day, another Theta, represented the Home Ec Club.

GAMMA THETA LAMBDA
Recently the Aquila Club raised 11 pints of blood to be given to John Bokely who is critically ill in a Dayton, Ky. hospital.

S.I.S.P.
Bill Birchfield will perform a magic act to members and interested public at the October 24 meeting of the Society for the Investigation of Supernatural Phenomena. The club, which investigates all forms of supernatural happenings is still open for new membership.

ZETA ALPHA PHI
Zeta Alpha Phi will initiate two new awards this year which will be the fraternity's effort to acknowledge excellence in Greek life. The first award will be presented to the Greek woman of the year. Such characteristics as scholarship, service, and achievement will be the major criteria for this award. The brothers are also starting a revolving trophy which will recognize the fraternity on campus with the highest academic standing. Both awards will be presented in May.

Jack Webb, director of Upward Bound and Alumni Tower, has been elected the new faculty advisor. Jack was recognized and presented a Zeta Alpha Phi blazer at an informal meeting at Alumni Tower.

Zeta Alpha Phi has as their guest T.J. Schmitz, a national field representative of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity. At this meeting the possibility of affiliation was discussed. Final action was delayed until procedures have been set up by the University.

Zeta Alpha Phi's new mascot, a goat "Teke" will make its appearance at the Homecoming game.

Mary Ann Buddick and Janet Vaughan, Zeta Alpha Phi's homecoming candidates were elected to the court.

A total of 6,261 students have enrolled at the University this fall.

This includes 1,952 freshmen, 1,356 sophomores, 1,243 juniors, 1,234 seniors, and 476 graduate students and represents the largest enrollment in the institution's history.

There is a slight decrease from last year in the number of freshmen and sophomores, which can be attributed to the establishment of community colleges in Mayfield, Louisville and Hazard, in addition to growth of junior colleges already in existence at Ashland, Prestonsburg, and Cumberland.

On the other hand, the number of juniors and seniors has increased almost 20 per cent over last year. This increase is attributed to the graduates from junior colleges in the region coming to the Morehead campus. Morehead accepted 427 transfers for students this fall, a 11.78 per cent increase over last fall.

"There is a definite trend in advanced-standing students continuing their education through graduation. This is due to a greater attempt to keep the students in school once they are here," said Bill Pierce, acting director of admissions.

The graduate enrollment shows an increase of 54 students or almost 13 per cent over last year's figures.

Pierce pointed out that the number of students in the lower division has decreased slightly because of the University's concerted effort to be more selective in admission of out-of-state students. The percentage of out-of-state students has decreased 2.69 per cent from last year. Twenty-seven per cent of the enrollment is from out of state.

Of the transfer students, 19 per cent were from out of state, and 21 per cent of the beginning freshmen were from out of state. Fifty-three per cent of the beginning freshmen are males, and 47 per cent are females.

The 1967 fall enrollment was 6,148 and 5,484 were enrolled for the 1966 fall term.

Nearby Carter Caves Park To Be Open Year-Round

Special to The Trail Blazer

Gov. Louie B. Nunn has announced Carter Caves State Park will remain open on a year-round basis this year. The park was to close Nov. 15.

Gov. Nunn said recently-announced off-season plans of the Parks Department had received enthusiastic response from the news media, travel agents, representatives of travel bureaus, the citizens of Kentucky, and other guests, and this response greatly influenced the decision to keep an additional park open during the winter.

Carter Caves State Park near Olive Hill, is the only State resort park that will be open this winter in North-eastern Kentucky. The other six parks staying open are: Kentucky Dam Village, Gilbertsville; Lake Cumberland, at Jamestown; Cumberland Falls, between Corbin and Whiteley City; Natural Bridge, Slade; Jenny Wiley, Prestonsburg; and General Butler, Carrollton.

Five Students Named Colonels By Louie Nunn

Anthony V. Butler, Frank L. Cunningham, Emmett Langley, Oscar Meadows and Barry L. Phillips recently completed Frankfort Semester training at Kentucky's capital. They were representatives of the University in the work and study program where the four state regional universities and Kentucky State College cooperate to orient and train selected undergraduate students in state government.

The students were called "Frankfort Semester Interns" and each worked in a different state agency. The agencies where Morehead students worked were Economic Security, T.B. Hospital Commission, Corrections, Finance and Health.

At the completion of their Frankfort Semester study, each intern met Gov. Louie B. Nunn, and was awarded a Kentucky Colonel's commission. The goal of the Frankfort Semester Program is to offer an academic and practical internship for students of the social sciences at Western Kentucky University, Eastern Kentucky University, Morehead State University, Murray State University, and Kentucky State College.

A total of sixteen semester hours of credit is scheduled in the classroom at Kentucky State College. Daily work assignments in agencies of Kentucky state government are scheduled along with course work so the internship has a practical as well as an academic foundation.

A stipend of $250 is paid monthly to each intern during the seven months study and work program. Students at the participating schools may make application to enter the program through Frankfort Semester representatives at each school. Morehead's representative is Dr. Jack Bizzel, a member of the Division of Social Sciences.

Flying lessons. Apply here:

That's right. You, too, can be a pilot. Join the United States Air Force and qualify for pilot training. Become a leader with executive responsibility.

Well, what else? A pilot is the officer in charge of a million dollars worth of high flying, sophisticated supersonic equipment, isn't he? Yes, and you'll wear a snappy blue officer's uniform, enjoy officer's pay and privileges. You'll probably travel to exotic foreign lands, and have a secure future in the biggest scientific and research organization. World's biggest.

You'll be where all the exciting Space Age breakthroughs are. Where it's happening. Now. Today. Right now. This. The Air Force is the "now" place to be.

If you yearn to fly and don't try the Aerospace team, you'll miss your big chance... Let that be a lesson!

Intermountain Festivals.

Regional winners in all categories will be flown to St. Louis to go after the national titles. The 1968 national champions, selected from among entries from 750 colleges and universities, were the University of Illinois Jazz Band, the Jac Murphy Trio from Southern Methodist University and the Burgundy Street Singers from Kansas State University.

Henry Mancini, Stan Kenton, Maynard Ferguson, Neal Hefti, Tom Scott, Gerald Wilson, Clark Terry and Thad Jones have helped select regional and national champions during the past two years.

Applications from collegiate musicians and vocalists are now being accepted by the Intercollegiate Music Festival, P.O. Box 1275, Leesburg, Florida 32748. All students at America's colleges and universities are eligible to compete.

the 10 to 15 schools in the country which best match a student's interests, aptitudes, and financial requirements. The student's specifications are compared with over two million data entries on approximately 3,000 colleges and universities in the United States.

The SELECT questionnaire seeks such academic information as college entrance test scores, school rank, and course interests. Such areas as social activity, sports, and reasons for attending college, and career intentions are also considered in selecting the best possibilities for the student.

SELECT questionnaires are available to university students from guidance counselors at all Madison high schools, and can be obtained by writing to SELECT, Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., 757 Third Avenue, New York, New York 10017. The cost to applicants is $15. The names of the 10 to 15 institutions which best suit his individual needs are sent in a personalized computer letter within two weeks after filing the questionnaire.
