

Boyd County Court To Be Continuous

Validity Of New Redistricting Act Upheld By Arbery
Franklin Circuit Judge William E. Arbery has upheld constitutionality of a 1948 legislative act making Boyd County a separate judicial district and creating a new district comprised of Breathitt, Wolfe and Powell counties.

Attorneys for John Chris Cornett, Mallie Nott, commercial attorneys in the present 31st district, said they would take Judge Arbery's decision to the Court of Appeals for a final ruling.
The act would re-arrange five eastern Kentucky judicial districts and create one new one: 24th district—Johnson and Lawrence, instead of Johnson and Martin counties; 25th district—Clark, Jessamine and Madison, instead of Clark, Jessamine, Madison and Powell; 31st district—Floyd and Mar-

Maybe you have been wondering why in the two years and nine months you have been getting my weekly papers, I haven't written much about Henderson, my home town. Well, I've been waiting for the community to do something big enough at least to lead off with—one major achievement to which I could hang a general story.
Now I have it. Toward the end of the last war the Federal Government built a $600,000 hospital in Atkinson Park. The hospital was supposed to be for military use, perhaps because it was only 20 miles from Camp Breckinridge. But, whether the Government had a good reason for spending $600,000 for a hospital in Henderson is neither here nor there.
For two years the hospital was leased to the county and city jointly. Under political management it ran rather poorly in the red, and it was up to the Government to dispose of it and up to the community to acquire it. Recently the city and county did what they could to help financially, and the Methodist Church proposed to take over the hospital and operate it if the public would raise $38,000 to put the institution into the clear. The climax of the story is that the people went down into their pockets and raised $58,000 and 12 thousand more.

Henderson's fine Health Center, also built with Government money, will be owned and operated by the county and city jointly.
The Henderson Lions Club furnishes free eye examinations and free glasses for every underprivileged child in the city and county, regardless of race or religion. The money for this work is raised mainly by selling right soiled once a year.
The Junior Chamber of Commerce bought equipment for a free dental clinic and operates in conjunction with the Health Department. This clinic serves all underprivileged children in the city and county. Much of the money for this project is raised with an annual Turtle Derby held in the high school stadium. The deputies of Henderson serve the clinic free of charge.
The Junior Chamber also equipped a large playground known as Goodfellow Field for softball and other sports, which led to the establishment of other playgrounds in the city.
Allen Thoms, district governor of the Lions, and active member of the Jaycees, tells of many other projects, educational and recreational, that the two service clubs have sponsored, but there is not space enough for all of them in this article.

Entry List Heavy For State Fair

Exhibits For Livestock And Farm Machinery May Top All Records

With each year bringing big better exhibits of livestock in the Kentucky State Fair this year's exhibit, Sept. 12-18, promises to be the best, according to officials.
Harry F. Walters, Commissioner of Agriculture, extended to 311 livestock and purebred breeders of his State an invitation to show their stock and the response has been excellent. Entries for the State Fair cattle 300 best calves, 250 swine, 200 sheep and 100 or more entries in each of the other livestock classes.
"The management of the State Fair," Walters says, "is expending every effort to make this the most instructive and educational agricultural exhibit ever held at any State Fair in Kentucky."
Prizes for beef cattle, $5,500 for dairy cattle, $3,000 for swine, and $2,200 for sheep.
The number of Farm implements and Machinery exhibits at the 1947 State Fair was the greatest in the Kentucky Fair's history, but entries for this year have already broken the 1947 record, both in the size and number of exhibits, according to Walters. In addition to exhibits by all the major tractor manufacturing companies and smaller farm implement manufacturers, special soil conservation machinery capable of remodeling a farm in one day will be displayed.

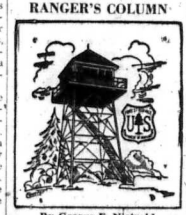

This year for the first time the State Fair will offer a huge exhibit of home made farm equipment and labor saving devices.
This exhibit comes under a new department sponsored by the Kentucky Farmer market and will offer $300 in cash prizes. Entries will be accepted as late as Sept. 11, one day before the Fair opens.
In two special Alumni-Drome supplied by the Reynolds Metals Co., Kentucky's Future Farmers of America will hold their livestock and poultry exhibits and, for the first time, an educational exhibit.

at exhibit, according to W. C. Montgomery, Assistant Supp. of the Department. The Alumni-Dromes are 38 feet wide and 72 feet long. The Alumni-Drome in such numbers that one Alumni-Drome was filled immediately and half the space taken up in the second one. WAYNE will use the other half for a special television show and exhibit.
With 50,000 people working to make the 1948 Kentucky State Fair a success, the Fair Board is confident of having the biggest and best Fair in the State's history.

Itinerant Service Discontinued In Carter, Elliott

Salm L. Gatrell, manager of the Bureau of Employment Service office at Ashland, announces that itinerant Unemployment Insurance and Employment Service has been discontinued in Elliott and Carter counties. This action was caused by a reduction in the budget for the period between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1948. If the budget is increased this service will be resumed after Jan. 1, 1949.
Citizens of Carter and Elliott counties who are interested in applying for unemployment or unemployment insurance are requested to report to the Ashland office Monday through Friday, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. for those who live near Morehead are requested to report at the Courtroom at Morehead, Thursday, August 26 or Sept. 8 on a bi-weekly basis, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

By George E. Nields
I am indeed happy to announce that our new Assistant District Ranger, John H. Noyes, arrived August 14. John is stationed in Morehead. He received his Bachelor's degree in Forestry from the University of Conn. and his Master's degree at Yale. He is a veteran of the first war and spent a considerable part of his Army life in the Southwest Pacific. His experience in forestry work dates back to 1917.
Henry Sipe, Assistant Supervisor of the Cumberland National Forest, spent the last two weeks on the district on a general inspection. In his travels over the district, Mr. Sipe took pictures of various activities and points of interest with the intention of compiling a collection of colored slides. This collection will be made available for showing to interested groups in this locality.

RANGER'S COLUMN

Although timber still remains an important crop in the county, the emphasis at this time of the year is on tobacco. This is "priming" and cutting season for that crop. More and more growers are priming to save the high grade leaves while waiting for the tobacco ripen. Many farmers contacted during the tour through the county, state that "priming" is a good business. Among these are Adkins and Mr. Walt of Cranston, Herbert Bowman of East Clark, Baldwin, McKee and Filmore Jones of Cogswell and others.
The week of August 30 will see us busy showing educational and fire-prevention movies to rural schools in Rowan and Logan counties. Wilbur Rose of Slade is showing this week at the school in Rowan and Lee counties. For Rowan, the schedule will include Holly Fork School on August 30, Dry Creek and Stubbins on August 31, and McKenzie on Sept. 2. Fire Wardens in the various communities participate in the presenting this program. The movies are free and everybody welcome.

The Rowan County News contained in last week's issue, information received from the Supervisor of the Forest on the report receipts for fiscal year 1948. Rowan County's share of the 25 per cent mentioned amounts to about $2,312.00, and Menifee's share about $2,073.00.
John Noyes and I spent August 23, shooting trouble on our telephone line to Slade. A large tree fell across the line in Menifee County. This is one of the jobs that Joe Mauk specializes in, but since he is still in the hospital, we have to substitute. By the way, Joe says he's getting

Death Accident Rate Declines During July

July's highway accident record lists 23 killed and 235 injured in a total of 402 reported accidents, D. E. Smith, Director of the Division of Safety, Kentucky Department of Highways, said today. The report for the same period in 1947 reported 28 deaths and 123 injured out of 422 accidents. Property damage reported for July, 1948, totaled $1,217,717.
"Improved methods of reporting devised during the past month may account for an increase in future reports," Mr. Smith said. Each accident is being ing studied with extra care, cause, location, condition of the highway and other important factors. Reports are made designed to bring about a possible correction of the condition or factors which may have caused the accident.

With the boys and girls of our community going out to college in a week or so, why, and give them a subscription to THE NEWS? It's their information home.

C & O WINNERS RIDE LOCOMOTIVE CAB

The five top winners in the $5,000 Can-Do club railroad essay contest sponsored by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway experienced their first ride in a cab of a locomotive recently at Huntington, W. Va. where they were guests of the railroad. Above looking ahead to the tracks from a C & O locomotive are (left to right) Martin Shubert, 15, of Brooklyn, N. Y., winner of $100; Rachel Meier, 12, of Bronx, N. Y., winner of $50; Geraldine Ashour, 14, of Kansas City, Mo., winner of $50; Margaret Pierce, 17, of Oneida, N. Y., winner of $750; Nancy Colston, 14, of Temple, Ariz., winner of $1,000. In addition to the cab ride, the winners made a tour of the C. & O. railroad shops, the company's Central Reservation bureau, and watched coal hoppers come off an assembly line at Huntington. Highlight of the event was the honorary positions the young people assumed for the day. In the lower left photo, Nancy Colston smiles as she receives her check from C. & O. Vice President Harry P. Hershaw while Executive Vice President A. T. Lowmaster watches. At the right, Mr. Lowmaster takes an "order" from Margaret Pierce, second winner and honorary operating vice president for the day.

$2,600 Prizes Offered In Soil Contest

Prizes totaling $2,600 are offered in the 1948 Soil Conservation Essay Contest open to girls and boys regularly enrolled in grade and high schools in Kentucky. This is the fifth year of the conservation incentive program sponsored by The Courier-Journal, The Louisville Times and WHAS in cooperation with the Kentucky Association of Soil Conservation Supervisors.

The announcement was made by A. Throckmold, Association president and Barry Bingham, president of the two newspapers and radio station. Three state awards include a $100 bond, first prize, a $50 bond, second prize, and a $25 dollar bond, third prize. Ninety-seven district prizes of $25 bonds are offered to winner in qualifying soil conservation districts where at least five essays have been submitted.

Complete information in booklet form is being mailed for distribution in Kentucky schools. The subject for the essay is: "Soil Conservation—For Better Soil and Better Health—And What is My School's Part in the Soil Conservation District Program." The essay is not to exceed 1,000 words. The contest closes Jan. 1, 1949. Further information can be obtained by writing to The Times, The Courier-Journal and WHAS promotion department.

Soviet Imports Shipments of goods to the Soviet Union during the first half of 1948 were at an annual rate of $50,000,000, about one-third the volume in 1947. This figure was in marked contrast with exports totaling $3,300,000,000 in 1944—the peak of Lend-Lease aid.

Charge Some Tobacco Is Being Slighted

Probe Started At Washington Into ERP Shipments

Fear that some types of tobacco are not getting a fair deal in European recovery shipments was expressed today by Representative Virgil Chapman of Kentucky.

He said there should be larger exports of burley, dark air-cured and dark fire-cured that have been scheduled under the Marshall Plan.

Chapman said he called tobacco leaders of Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina to a conference because he was "apprehensive" that those growers were not fairly participating in shipments to European countries as contemplated by the Barkley amendment (concerning surplus crops) to the Economic Cooperation Act.

Yesterday these and other tobacco men met with the Government tobacco leaders to suggest a schedule for determining the tobacco surplus and tentative exports of the 1948-49 crop.

Government officials reported that tobacco valued at $25,000,000 has been scheduled for export under E. C. A. through the middle of August. The total percentage, they said is 31,104,000.

At another conference Senator Albert W. Barkley, Kentucky Democratic vice presidential nominee, assured the tobacco representatives of his interest in their export problems. He said he would discuss these problems with Secretary of State Marshall and with W. Averell Harriman, proving ambassador for E. C. A. in Paris later this week. Barkley plans to fly to Europe today.

In Washington for the tobacco conferences were:

State Senator C. W. Maloney, president, Stemming District Association, Madisonville; L. L. Veal, manager, Western Dark Tobacco Association, Murray; E. J. O'Brien, Louisville, tobacco dealer; R. H. Proctor, representative of the Ky. Farm Bureau; Lorenzo K. Wood, of the Burley and Dark Leaf Dealers Association; Albert C. Clay, president of the Burley Auction Warehousemen Association, Mt. Sterling; John W. Jones, president of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association and of the Burley and Dark Leaf Export Association, North Middletown and J. M. Berry and W. L. Station, vice president and secretary of the Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association, Lexington.

J. F. Porter, president of the Tennessee Burley Tobacco Growers Co-operative, Tenn.; Paul Rudolph, general manager, Eastern Dark Fired Tobacco Association, Springfield, Tenn.; and H. W. Love, president, Farmers' Federation Co-operative, Asheville, N. C.

THE ABC'S THAT FEW PEOPLE KNOW

There's a new set of ABC's since you went to school. It's a shorter alphabet, but it is far more difficult to master than the one you learned in first grade. Instead of "A for Apple, B for Boy, and C for Cat," it goes "A for preventing certain eye disorders, B for certain types of loss of appetite, and nervous fatigue; C for certain diseases affecting the teeth and gums; and D for safeguarding against weak bones."

This is the start of the Vitamins Alphabet. With it you can spell better health for yourself and your family (if you know what letters to use. It isn't easy, however. The infant, adolescent, the adult, the convalescent, and the woman expecting a baby have different vitamin needs and no one product fits them all.

Few adults know their vitamin ABC's well enough to use them properly... and so they depend upon their physician to advise and their pharmacist to supply them with exactly the product they need. Such products can't be bought as you would buy butter and eggs. In vitamins, as in all matters affecting your health and well-being, there is no substitute for professional guidance.

Crop Yield In Kentucky Shows Increase

Corn Acreage Down One-Third But Production Jumps 20

By Adrian M. Kozar, Rowan County Agent

How crop production has increased in Kentucky since 1930 is revealed in the annual report of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

The increased production has come largely through higher yields. The barley acreage, which was in 1934, started high in 1943 and now is larger than it was in the early 30's. Yield per acre is up 50 per cent.

The average yield of corn is down nearly a third. But yields are up 20 per cent. Nearly 30 per cent more land is being devoted to hay production. Also average hay production per acre is twice that of the early 30's. The alfalfa acreage has doubled since 1930, and now is nearly a fourth of the total of hay acreage. There has been little change in small grain sowing.

Gate numbers have been gradually increasing in the past 18 years, and now are about 50 per cent higher than in 1930. Sheep remained fairly constant until 1944, and then decreased about 30 per cent from the early 30's. The number of hogs and chickens is about the same.

Some increase in the size of farms was noted. In 1946 about 27 per cent of the farms were 21 to 70 acres; 34 per cent were 71 to 120 acres and 30 per cent were 121 to 200 acres. A large proportion of the small farms were in the rough, hilly sections.

Farm Fish Ponds

May Mean Profits

H. H. Thompson, College of Agriculture, thinks the most profitable acre on the farm may be a fish pond, since meat prices are so high according to Mr. Thompson an acre pond properly made and maintained, should produce from 400 to 800 pounds of fish a year, at small cost.

Properly fertilized, an acre pond will support 100 bass and 1,000 to 1,500 blue gills. However, fish need to be fed to be productive. They live largely on insects which grow on plants called algae.

Scattering fertilizer in ponds stimulates the growth of algae, making the feed for the fish. About 800 to 1,200 pounds of fertilizer a year, is suggested for an acre pond, applied at the rate of 100 to 150 pounds a week. Analyses recommended are 8-8-4, 10-10-5 and 20-20-10.

Butter Fat Test Done?

If the butter fat test is done, and at the same time milk production is dropping off, don't blame the milk plant or the cow. Test. Hot weather and flies are more likely to be the cause. Shows spend less time grazing during the day in hot weather, so it is important to have good pasture or else feed hay or silage. Adequate fly protection, salt, shade, and water should be provided.

Daymen who will need to buy hay should make their purchases now. Buying directly from the haley, saves cost of handling and storage.

Facts

Here are some figures released by the Production and Marketing Administration.

United States food consumption has increased substantially. The average each person eats 1,650 pounds of food in a year—17 per cent more than before the war.

The population of the United States has increased 13 million since 1940.

Only about 350 million acres of cropland are harvested in the United States each year, or about 2 1/2 acres per person.

We lose one-half million acres of cropland a year, which is equal to the 2 1/2 acre share of 200 famandum people.

New Baras

Two barn raisings have been held recently, in two separate communities, in the county. Leonard Segal, of the Tar Flat section, received the help of his neighbors in putting up his barn while Otis Cooper, of the Crans section was aided by his neighbors in starting his new barn. He is a member of the Crans section and has plenty of land in both places and everyone enjoyed it.

Poultry Houses

In case flock owners have not thought about it yet, laying houses should be cleaned out and ready for this year's crop. Providing a clean, disinfected, laying-house goes a long way in assuring the flock owner of a good profit of his eggs. Dropping pits should be cleaned out, and old litter should be replaced with clean, fresh litter.

Inflation?

If you want an idea about inflation, look at China's present economic condition. The ordinary budget for the last half of this year totals $23,621,500,000 Chinese dollars, or about $28,000,000 in US currency.

Farmers Are Invited On KFB Tour

Kentucky Farm Bureau Plans Trip To Atlantic City And Washington

Farmers have worked long hard hours almost without cease since the beginning of World War II. Many of them have not had a vacation or a day off since Pearl Harbor. This is one of the major reasons the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation and its publication "KFB News" are sending a "KFB Tour" to Washington, Atlantic City and New York City in December, announces J. E. Stanford, Louisville, Federation executive secretary.

"Another major reason for the tour is to enable some of our members and leaders to see and take part in some of the workings of their national organization, the American Farm Bureau Federation," declared Stanford.

The tour includes four days of the annual convention of the national organization Dec. 12-16.

"The entertaining, educational and inspirational sightseeing tour," says Stanford, "will give our members an opportunity to take a brief vacation that will be valuable as well as restful. One day will be spent on a lecture-guided tour of the seat of our national government—Washington. Our members making the trip also will have two days to look over the nation's greatest city and seaport, New York."

Mr. Stanford says the hotel and train accommodations will limit the tour to 300 members. One of the group rates secured, the tour—excluding the sightseeing trips—will cost little more than a round trip to the convention," he asserted. It's an all-expense tour with the exception of meals in Atlantic City and New York City.

Reservations can be made or details obtained by contacting Joe Betts, Kentucky Farm Bureau News Editor, 2717 Lexington Rd., Louisville 7, Kentucky.

The Fleming Gazette, one of Kentucky's oldest weekly newspapers, moved last Friday to its new building on West Water Street, Flemingsburg, Ky.

The new building, which was started in April, is now nearing completion and what little remains to be done will be finished after the Gazette moves into the building.

The structure of the concrete block and brick construction, with a concrete floor, and is practically fireproof. The heating system will be the hot water type with the heat being circulated by fans.

The Gazette has been located here since 1931 when it was moved across the street from the second floor of what is now the Hill Building. It had been in that location for many years.

The Government needs a million new soldiers and military supply workers by June, 1949, according to an estimate by Robert C. Goodwin, top employment specialist. The impact falls on an already tight labor market, in which 61,000,000 persons are employed.

15,000 Kentucky GI's To Attend Farm School Classes

More than 15,000 young men, all ex-GI's will go to school next month to take courses designed to help make them intelligent, prosperous farmers.

Watson Armstrong, State Director of vocational education, said today 15,700 young farmers already have received some special training in technical agriculture. These will be joined by approximately 2,000 more in September. Another 2,000 will be added to the rolls in January, he said.

The chief obstacle to the program's success—shortage of qualified teachers—is being rapidly overcome.

"The veterans' farm training program has had 501 qualified teachers. About 75 newly qualified instructors will join the teaching force next month. By Sept. 1949, a total of about 670 qualified teachers will be available, Armstrong said. That number should lick the teacher shortage problem, he added.

Only veterans who have farms or help on or operate one are eligible for the special training offered in public high schools having departments of vocational agriculture.

Veterans who were in service 90 days or less are entitled to one year of schooling. For every month of military service over 90 days, the veteran is entitled to another month of schooling, but not to exceed four years.

During the training, he is paid by the VA—$67.50 a month if single and a maximum of $97.50 if married.

Each farmer-veteran must take 200 hours of classroom instruction a year. When classroom work is finished, the veteran attend field demonstrations and special meetings during the year. Their pay is continuous as long as they are in the school program.
