

City's Natural Gas Controversy Flares Into Prominence

Council Questions Sincerity Of The L. C. Young Company

Morehead's natural gas controversy was brought to the limelight again Monday evening when the City Council announced that "we are demanding a showdown."

Mayor William H. Layne and the Council announced last month that the annual winter gas shortage had been eliminated through a three-way agreement between the L. C. Young Company, which holds the utility contract here, the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. and the city.

Under the most recent proposal the L. C. Young Company was to purchase the natural gas from Tennessee Gas Transmission Company and sell it, in turn, to the city. The Mayor announced at that time that Young planned to discontinue the use of several manufacturing plants in the North Fork of Triplett Valley which had proved inadequate.

Mayor Layne said that the Council was advised last week that TGT had crossed the L. C. Young lines on North Fork with a plan to place a line at that spot.

Mayor Layne set out that subsequent investigation by the city was the tap-out at Morehead. The Council then was advised by TGT that they are willing to sell gas to the city.

The Council then contacted the Federal Power Commission at Washington, D. C., and the plan was read at Monday's Council meeting stating that the Commission was not in a position to make application to the FPC for the permit.

Outspoken opposition to the Young Company was voiced by the Council which instructed the George I. Cline, to ascertain what steps should be taken to secure the approval of the Federal Power Commission.

"If no application has been made to the Federal Power Commission, the Young Company has grossly misrepresented its position to the city," Mayor Layne declared.

Representatives of TGT said today that although no tap had been made at that spot, the line where it crosses the line supplying the city, this could still be made. Gas is already flowing through the new TGT line in Rowan County.

Beautiful Snow Proves Pain In Neck To Highway Dept.

By Charles M. Upham

Snow, snow, beautiful snow! This fleecy white mantle of winter may be a sight to behold to schoolboys and Christmas card artists, but it's a pain in the neck to the maintenance men of both urban and rural highways of the 36 states in the snow belt.

Firemen To Hold Open House Saturday

The Morehead Volunteer Fire Department will have an all-day open house Saturday. The event will mark the completion of the new fire department headquarters at the City Hall. An addition has been constructed to the building.

"The members of the Fire Department want every citizen to come and visit with us this Saturday," Fire Chief Boyd McCullough said. The method of operating the department, its past record and other matters relative to the Fire Department will be explained to visitors.

Public Must Cooperate For Park Sites

Shannon Asks Civic Groups To Cooperate In Attracting Tourists

Kentucky must depend heavily on the cooperation of her civic groups and individual citizens in the establishment of sufficient land to establish a system of state parks along the state highway system, J. P. Shannon, State Road and Improvement engineer, said today.

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Garden Club of Kentucky, Shannon said, "The state is not planning to buy the land for roadside parks. It is the civic minded individuals or by such groups as Garden Clubs, Women's Clubs, Chambers of Commerce or similar organizations," Shannon pointed out that in system as a service both to local and tourist travel, the State must have control of the area surrounding all park sites either by a long-term lease or title to the land.

"One way that you can help in this project is by checking your vicinity for possible roadside park sites, especially on the main-traveled highways. Then you could check with the owner of the land as to whether he might be interested in leasing or donating the land to the State for a roadside park. Or, if you feel that the owner would sell or give the land to your club group or other civic organization, you can turn groups and then you can turn group lease or donate the land to the State for park purposes," Shannon said the average park is one or two acres in size and should include straight level stretch of highway.

The Highway Department's overall roadside improvement program involves 10,000 miles of state highways. "When you figure that there are around five acres of roadside park per mile of road, the resulting acreage amounts to more than 50,000 acres to look after," Shannon said.

In addition to establishment of sufficient parks complete with safe parking areas, toilet facilities, drinking water and picnic tables, Shannon said an extensive control program is also in the making.

"This work has a real dollar value along with probably doing more than anything else to improve the appearance of the state highway system," Shannon added. "As you know, this erosion problem is state wide, and planning a system of erosion control treatment for the shoulders, ditches and back slopes of our highways so as to secure a vegetable cover where needed."

Acknowledging the interest of Kentucky Garden Clubs in roadside improvement, Shannon said, "We welcome the cooperation of all civic minded individuals and other similar organizations in our roadside improvement program. We are planning to hold a series of meetings and your criticism, we will work together to bring out the natural beauty of our state to visitors and to the home folks too."

Cline Named City Attorney By Council

Powers Resigns Post; Curt Caullin Elected To Membership

The Morehead City Council, in special session Monday evening named George I. Cline as City Attorney, replacing Harlan Powers, who resigned because of ill health.

Curt Caullin was elected to membership on the Council in place of Harlan Blair, who tendered his resignation.

Action on the proposed Second Street and Fleming Avenue paving was postponed until Friday. The Council urged that all citizens residing on these streets who are interested in these projects, express their views, pro or con, at Friday's meeting.

The Council ordered the new City Attorney to make a survey of all ordinances in order that they may be properly compiled and revised.

Two new proposed tax raising measures—an occupational tax and a sales tax—were discussed. No action was taken on either.

The Council member who said that he was opposed to the parking meters predicted, however, that the measure would pass when brought to a vote.

A Mr. Lambert representing the Chester Engineering Company of Pennsylvania, appeared before the Council in connection with the investigation of Morehead's water supply and sewerage disposal problems. He said that he would submit a proposal for a water supply and sewerage system of these two municipal utilities.

Morehead College Case Is Discussed By Gov. Clements

American Association Representatives Confer With Chief Executive

Pursuing his announced purpose of "leaving nothing undone" to secure the full re-accrediting of Morehead State College, Governor Earle C. Clements Monday conferred at length with two representatives of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

The conference was held at the Executive Mansion at Frankfort, and was granted by the Governor although he is in bed with his leg in a cast.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Rowell B. Hodgkin said no indication was given of the associations attitude. It will meet in St. Louis in February.

Association representatives at Frankfort Monday were Dr. Walter B. Morgan, Macomb, Ill., of Western State College of Ill., and Dr. Ralph N. Tiery, Terre Haute, Ind., of Indiana State College. Chairman of the association's accrediting committee.

Morehead was discredited by the teacher-college association and by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools after charges of political maneuvering two years ago. The Southern Association group re-accrediting Morehead. The Morehead case will be taken up at the Southern Association annual meeting in December.

State educators believe that full accrediting in the American Association will follow favorable action from the Southern group.

Governor Clements has made the Morehead case a sort of "personal matter" and said that "everything will be done that is in the power of the state." The pointment of regent members has met unanimous approval from Kentucky educators, and Arrangements are now being made for a special exhibition of trap shooting.

Officers of the Rod and Gun Club are: J. C. Wells, president; George L. Leno, secretary; and Ed Hall, treasurer.

Legion Plans 'Feed'

A "feed" for all members of the Corbie Ellington Post of the American Legion and their wives will be held Saturday evening, November 13 at the High School gymnasium, starting at 8 o'clock. The host officers in announcing the "feed," said there will be no long speeches "...just a good, old-fashioned time for all Legion members and their wives."

MHS Pie Supper Scheduled Friday

The Senior Class of the Morehead High School will have a pie supper in the gymnasium tomorrow (Friday) evening, starting at 8 o'clock.

Intermission in the pie sale there will be games, contests, square dancing and special Mexican dances.

November 2 Election Was Closely Contested

The November 2 election was the most closely fought national election since 1918.

It was a contest between Charles Evans Hughes, the GOP nominee, went to bed believing himself elected, only to awaken the following morning to learn that he had been defeated by Woodrow Wilson's second term, bid 277 electoral votes to 230. California's vote swung the victory to Wilson at the last moment.

During the war there were those who said it was punishment for the nation's sins; who explain what we are going through now that we have peace?

Truman Believed In Himself; People Believed Truman

It was a vital point. It has been axiomatic for a long time in the minds of the people. I will try to tell you. It is a matter of the chances of the Democratic party.

High prices, high rents, the housing shortage—all of which Mr. Truman emphasized strongly in connection with his assaults on the "second worst" 80th congress-aided in turning the people away from a Republican administration.

Organized labor concentrated on getting its members out to vote for Mr. Truman. Dewey brought the President a list of who had supported the Taft-Hartley law, and that circumstantially reduced to the President's benefit.

Last Lun Drive

Mr. Truman's slugging, earthy drive during the last three weeks before Nov. 2, and conversely Dewey's insistence upon maintaining the bland, high-level tone of his campaign, brought the President a list of who had supported the Taft-Hartley law, and that circumstantially reduced to the President's benefit.

He fought and won.

President Truman?

Foreign Policy Stays

U. S. foreign policy will remain basically unchanged, keeping in its main part the European Recovery Program. As a matter of fact, it would have remained the same under a Republican administration too. But in any event it is reasonable to assume that most American voters cast their ballots not so much on the basis of foreign policy as on domestic issues.

Cooper Urges State Farmers To Take Stock Of Finances

By Thomas P. Cooper, Dean and Director, College Of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky

Kentucky farmers have never had greater need than now to take stock of their financial program and bring their fixed-liquid investments into good balance to meet the uncertain days to come. Farming is a hazardous business at best, subject to unexpected losses from flood, drought and pestilence, but overshadowing these natural hazards just now is the great inflation through which we are passing. Inflation creates more uncertainty in property values, income, and prices than Kentucky farmers have previously faced.

Success of farm families in arranging their finances now will greatly affect their farming and the well-being of the family in the years ahead. Fortunately, farmers are now in good position to take the protective steps needed. Markets for all classes of farm property are active and income and profits from farming are the largest in modern times.

In bringing their financial program into good balance, farmers may consider not only their fixed investments (in land, improvements, equipment, and livestock), but their liquid investments also—those which can readily be turned into cash to meet some unexpected emergency. For this purpose, U. S. Savings Bonds are unexcelled—a safe and highly liquid investment providing a reasonable interest return. The owner of U. S. Savings Bonds has a ready and unending source of funds when emergency arises. Farmers need liquid assets in bonds, savings and insurance to protect their fixed investments in property and operating capital and to enable the farm family to meet adversities without the need of having to sacrifice essential items in family living.

No simple formula for farm investments can be offered that will apply equally to all farms. The variations in farming and family responsibilities are too great. The variety of Government Bonds is such, however, that they offer safe investments suited to the needs of various situations. The amount of U. S. Savings Bonds that any farm family should purchase depends on its individual circumstances.

In addition to providing cushion against disaster, U. S. Savings Bonds also provide other valuable investment opportunities for farmers. They offer a convenient and sound means of systematic saving for investment and income, for meeting an obligation, or for accumulating savings for other specific purposes. During recent years when many items for farm and family use were scarce, U. S. Savings Bonds provided an excellent type of investment of savings until the scarce articles were available. Although this particular need is now passing, the wide variety of Bonds with different terms of purchase and maturity offer many investment opportunities which appeal to thrifty farm people.

There are no "dry" spots in KENTUCKY

There are no deserts in Kentucky. Alcoholic beverages are bought throughout the state—either legally or illegally.

The difference is important to you and your family. Bootleggers infest the so-called prohibition areas. But in legal sale areas, beverages are bought and sold under regulations and laws which carry out the people's wishes.

Kentucky's legal alcoholic beverage industry joins hands with you and all other right-thinking Kentuckians, in the effort to eliminate bootlegging and the other uncontrolled, unregulated conditions of "prohibition."

Landscaper Faces Problems In Proper Beautification Practice

Members of the Morehead Beautification Council were impressed with the results on College Boulevard of the college's "Clean-up Day" previous to Homecoming. It seemed to prove the old adage that "many hands make light work," when all the student body and the faculty worked together to do in a few hours what it would have taken the regular buildings and grounds force many days to do. Leaves were raked and carried away and all the papers and trash disposed of. Students who took part in the clean-up were less likely to drop papers about, in the days that followed. The same might be applied to a larger area. People mentioned the fact that if this type of clean-up were extended to the whole of Morehead we might see astonishing and rewarding results which could hardly be accomplished without the help of a large body of helpers.

At this same college clean-up day, students interested in gardening worked at planting bulbs for next year and clearing out the dead stalks from the college flower gardens. The members of the Council are interested in seeing how many people in and around Morehead are also preparing for the spring blooms. If the articles written by Mr. Hagan are helpful in suggesting ways to beautify your home, and thereby by your town, the Council would like to know this. These might be clipped from this paper and passed on to friends who might not have access to other articles.

As pointed out in previous articles, the landscaper must keep many things in mind in sketching a good plan that bring out the best there is in beautifying a piece of property. The shrubs should match the architectural lines of the house, conform to the space where they are to be planted, whether the area is more restricted and cannot take large shrubs but must use evergreen vine like plants. Whether there are already existing large trees on the property and whether these are shallow or deep rooted. Then he must notice the kind of soil and classify it to acid, neutral, or alkaline. Another important item is the amount of sun or shade to which the plant must be exposed. One problem in Morehead is the large trees so close together that must grow in shade throughout the day. This article will offer suggestions to the home owner who has this problem. It may be the north side of the house and large trees so close together that the sun never penetrates. It is often unwise to prune the trees and mar their appearance. If plants can be selected to grow in the shade.

The Japanese Yew, whether upright, spreading, or the dwarf, can be used successfully in many places. As pointed out previously, these are slow growing, not bothered by many insects or diseases, and will last a long time if properly handled. Mahonia (mahonia aquifolium) is often called Oregon Grape Holly. It has thick, glossy leaves and while it may look like holly, it is not one. It grows vigorously here and can easily be held to any height with moderate pruning. It does best where it is in a somewhat sheltered place near the foundation.

Rhododendron and Azalea are good plants for shady places but the soil must be acid for their best growth. If the soil is neutral to alkaline, it can be made acid by a small amount of aluminum sulphate in the holes. Canadiana Hemlock (Tsuga Canadensis) grows best in the shade or partial shade. It can be used for corners, filling in or rounding off a specimen tree, or if planted close together a beautiful hedge can be had. This type of planting can be observed on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Batten.

Englishman Spruce is a good shade loving plant. It is tall, dense and grows in pyramidal form. Colorado Spruce likes the sun more, as well as the Koster Blue Spruce.

Inkberry (Ilex glabra) make a good shrub to use where too much height is not desired. It does best in half shade.

Boxwood (Buxus sempervirens) is a good shrub to use in total shade. It has a fine textured leaf. If not in a good protected place it may be injured slightly by too low temperature during the winter.

The following is a list of well known plants that are adaptable to shade: Common Witchhazel, many of the Dogwoods, Chokecherry, Spicebush, American Arborvitae, Flowering Abelia, Five-leaf Aralia, Red Chokeberry, Redbud, Cornelian Cherry, Flowering Quince, Forsythia of the weeping type, Chinese Witchhazel, Snowball Hydrangea, Tartarian Honeysuckle, Sweet Mock Orange, Jesselbush, Snowberry, Nannyberry and many others.

It is not too late to plant any of the above named plants. For further information consult the County Agent, the teacher of Vocational Agriculture, the Department of Agriculture at the college, or the nurseries.

No government can permanently exist unless it is dedicated to principles that are eternal.

Miss Gladys Evans Weds Frank Howard McCartney

The marriage of Miss Gladys Evelyn Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Evans of Morehead, and Mr. Frank Howard McCartney, son of F. H. McCartney of Flemingsburg, was solemnized at 6 p. m. Saturday, Oct. 30, in the Methodist Church at Morehead. The Rev. Homer Moore, Mayeville, officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly ivory lace over satin, made with a short train. Her veil of illusion was of finger-tip length, and she carried Joanne Hill roses. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Sidney Evans Hinton was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Amye McCartney Johnson of Louisville, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Ardith Louise Saxbe of Mechanicsburg, Ohio. They were gowned in ice-blue satin and carried white carnations. Misses Lynn Schyler Evans and Mary Drew Evans, nieces of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. They were dressed in yellow net with ice-blue satin sashes. Mr. I. Holton Kendall served as best man, and the ushers included Messrs. Claude Clayton, Marshall F. Hart, Eldon T. Evans and Allan R. Vogeler. Candlelighters were Tommie Hinton, nephew of the bride, and James Smith of Flemingsburg, cousin of the groom. Presiding at the ceremony, Rev. Buell Kaeze, pastor of the Baptist Church, sang "Oh, Promise Me" and "At Dawning." Mrs. M. E. George, who accompanied Rev. Kaeze at the organ, played appropriate music during the ceremony.

Decorations in the church were confined to green and white, with gladioli and chrysanthemums in white baskets entwined with southern smilax. The lighted tapers in candlelavra added to the beauty of the scene.

Mrs. Evans, mother of the bride, wore a dress of black lace. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of pink camellias. Mrs. McCartney, mother of the groom, wore a dress of light blue crepe with a corsage of American Beauty roses. Following the marriage ceremony a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents for the wedding party, relatives and invited guests. Mrs. Eldon Evans, sister-in-law of the bride, cut and served the wedding cake. She was assisted by Miss Lynn Thompson, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Lee Owens, Miss Ilee Smith and Mrs. H. C. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. McCartney left after the reception for a wedding trip through the south. On their return, they will make their home in Flemingsburg. Mr. McCartney serves as City Attorney. The bride chose as her bridesmaid, a suit of dark brown broadened satin with corresponding accessories.

THE NEW JEEPSTER is Willys-Overland's latest—a distinctive sports phaeton with fleet performance that makes each trip a driving thrill. The Jeepster weighs less than any other standard-size car . . . rolls up record-breaking gas mileage . . . rides with road-bugging smoothness.

WILLYS-OVERLAND BLAZES THE TRAIL WITH SEVEN PIONEERING CARS AND TRUCKS

THE 'JEEP' STATION SEDAN is a perfect family car, with the luxury and comfort of a sedan plus the spaciousness of its all-steel station-wagon body.

THE 'JEEP' PANEL DELIVERY offers smart appearance together with low operating costs, thanks to low weight and the 'Jeep' Engine.

'JEEP' TRUCKS (both 2- and 4-wheel drive, cut hauling costs through long service and low operating and maintenance costs.

The first station wagon with all-steel body and top—the 'Jeep' Station Wagon—showed the way to wider practical usefulness and greater safety.

The 4-wheel-drive 'Jeep' Truck is the first volume-produced vehicle of its kind—designed for off-road duty, for rough grades and bad roads.

The Universal 'Jeep' is the first all-purpose farm vehicle built for use both in tractor work and for hauling or towing at highway speeds.

The new Jeepster is America's lowest-weight standard-size car—distinctive in appearance, far ahead in economy.

The 'Jeep' Station Sedan is an entirely new type of car, combining sedan/comfort with station-wagon spaciousness.

This pioneering by Willys-Overland—fitting cars and trucks to actual needs—has brought world-wide success to these more useful, more economical vehicles. We invite you to see how fully Willys-Overland's postwar products meet your transportation and hauling needs.

4-WHEEL-DRIVE 'JEEP' TRUCKS outperform conventional trucks on cross-country hauling, extreme grades, through mud, sand and snow.

THE 'JEEP' STATION WAGON, with all-steel body and top, is dual-purpose—a smooth-riding passenger car and a practical vehicle for hauling.

THE UNIVERSAL 'JEEP' is America's most versatile vehicle for farm and industry, serving as tractor, mobile power unit and for hauling.

Ashland Oil Produces Its Own Anti-Freeze

Its own brand of methanol anti-freeze will be placed on the market by the Ashland Oil and Marketing Co. for distribution throughout its sales territory.

Known as "Ashland Anti-Freeze," it is being sold through Ashland stations and jobber customers. The attractive 54-gallon drum has red heads and green sides, carrying out the Ashland colors, and bears the Ashland octagon on the side, in which the brand name, in characteristic red lettering, appears against a white background.

"Ashland Anti-Freeze" is a methanol type "S" product containing additives for prevention of corrosion and evaporation. It is compounded at the company's refinery near Catlettsburg.

The initial marketing of this product is the beginning of a long-range program for "Ashland Anti-Freeze," with plans for carrying out sales on an even larger scale next year. Future plans call for packaging in one-gallon containers, and for wholesaling in transport and tank car quantities. First shipments leaving the company's Catlettsburg refinery began in early October.

NO TIME FOR HASTE

A problem complicating the practice of pharmacy is presented by the patient who, arbitrarily, demands haste in the preparation of a prescription.

As much as twenty-four hours, or more, occasionally may be necessary to fill a prescription properly. It is possible that a complicated process is involved, or that a rare, hard-to-get drug is called for. Minutes may turn into hours as your pharmacist meticulously transforms the written word of your physician's prescription into a healing remedial agent.

Don't hurry your pharmacist. Give him precious time necessary to compound into exacting balance the drugs your doctor's prescription demands. Your pharmacist wants to serve you, but he must have time to place in your hands a preparation carefully compounded especially for you. Your pharmacist is aware of his serious responsibility. He is vitally interested in guarding your health.—Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company, Detroit 32, Michigan.
