Boy Guides Airplane To Safe Landing With 2-Cell Flashlight

Schoolmates and friends of George "Dutch" Ennor, 15-year-old Montgomery County youth, are hailing him as a hero after his feat of guiding an airplane to a safe forced landing with the aid of a small flashlight after dark last Monday night.

The action took place on the farm of Mrs. Winona Marshall on the Calverne Pike about 5 miles from Mt. Sterling around 6:15 Monday night. The plane was slightly damaged and was able to get under way again Tuesday morning with its two occupants.

"Dutch" said that he heard the plane circling around low near his home and thinking that it might be in distress, but his two-cell flashlight and ran out to a 4-acre alfalfa field and pointed the light at the plane until he attracted the pilot's attention. Then he ran up and down the field indicating with the light where he wanted the plane to land, and after several attempts the plane came in for a safe landing.

Oren H. Layman, Hillsboro, Ohio, pilot of the plane, said that he and his passenger, Hyman Collins, also of Hillsboro, were returning home from a southern trip when they encountered the snow and in the clouds near Mt. Sterling, causing the windshield of the four-place plane to ice up and reducing visibility to zero. Layman said that he brought his plane down close to the ground looking for a place to land and to melt the ice on the plane and had about given up hope of finding a suitable place when the rays from Ennor's flashlight struck him in the eyes. He finally understood the boy's signals and was able to land safely with the aid of his landing lights. The plane struck the top strand of a wire on a fence at one end of the field, but continued to safety. A short time before while looking for a place to set down, Layman had struck an electric line on the farm of John T. Murphy, Jr.

"As his Ennor's have no car," "Dutch" had only his pocket flashlight to aid the pilot and it had not been for his quick thinking the plane might have crashed and killed or critically injured both people in the plane.

Ennor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ennor and a freshman at Camargo High School.

Fire Chief Asks Elimination Of Yule Hazards

Morehead Fire Chief C. B. McCullough warned today that flammable Christmas decorations introduce a needless fire hazard during the current holiday season, and asked local citizens to avoid the possibility of turning the cheerful Yuletide period into a time of grief and tragedy.

"Many of the tragic holiday fires of the past were caused by the use of flammable decorations," he said. "A few years ago 99 people were killed at a Christmas party in St. Johns, Newfoundland, as a result of this dangerous practice."

Non-flammable decorations of glass or metal are available, and "fireproof" snow should be used around the Christmas tree. It is dangerous to use paper or cotton in decorating a tree.

Decorations should never be used near chairs or other places where people may smoke, and plenty of ash trays should be placed around the house during the holiday season, as always. It is preferable to put decorations up near the ceiling, well above the head of anyone standing up.

Candles should not be used as part of the Yuletide decorations. Curtains and other flammable materials should be pulled back at least six inches from any electric light.

The Fire Chief emphasized that these simple precautions would help prevent the tragedies which have marred previous holiday seasons.

"An institution of learning, at this time of the year, is a place where football scores are more important than scholastic grades. Speaking of universal language, we doubt if anything will ever come into such general use as the wink."

'Given Myself To Lord,' Says Condemned Man

Columbus Webb, who said he has "lived his 42 years for the devil," was sentenced yesterday at Inez to be electrocuted for the slaying of Lige Davis.

Circuit Judge Edward P. Hill of Prestonsburg imposed the penalty after the gaunt, former West Virginia convict told him: "I'm ready—to go. I've been praying and I have no fear."

Judge Hill, who never before had sentenced a man to death, set March 8, 1949, as the date of execution in the State Penitentiary at Eddyville.

Webb was flanked by the Rev. Pete Williams, 2nd deputy sheriff, and Jailer Wallace Moore of Inez. He became pale as he heard the court's decision, but, aside from clenching his hands, he showed no other emotion.

Then he was led away, turning aside only to say to an acquaintance in the courtroom: "For as long as I live, the rest of my life will be for the Lord."

Webb was convicted two days ago of shooting Davis, a farmer of Buck Hollow and "beating his head with a pistol until the butt broke."

Webb was captured in Kermit, W. Va., and some $400 stolen from Davis was recovered two days after his death.

Reinstatement—

Dr. Baird also presented Dr. Warren C. Lappin who worked unceasingly for the college's reinstatement. "I would not trade Dr. Lappin for any Dean in the South," the Morehead President said.

A brief talk was given by E. H. Price of Wheelwright, representing the Board of Regents. Setting out that the Regents had done everything possible to bring about this day of thanksgiving, Mr.

Price continued: "And, we shall continue to use our best judgment and our time to insure Morehead's future growth."

The college president commended the students for "sticking to the college when you felt insecure. You kept faith in our time of adversity and now that Dr. Lappin for any Dean in the South," the Morehead President said.

The faculty and the staff came in for a large measure of praise from their top executive, too.

Morehead Suffered But Its Humiliation Resulted In A Greater State College

Courier-Journal Points Out Improvements Made At Institution

By Hugh Morris
Louisville Courier-Journal

Despite the loss of its accredited standing for the last two years, Morehead State College has emerged from its bitter experience a better-equipped and more progressive school.

Morehead was restored to accredited standing Thursday by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education is expected to follow suit at its annual meeting in January.

The school was discredited by the Southern Association in 1946 after the then Governor Simon Willis used his powers under the Outer Act and reshuffled the Morehead Board of Regents. The new board fired President William H. Vaughan and hired Dr. William Jesse Baird, Georgia educator and native of Kentucky.

Investigation Asked
Dr. Vaughan asked the Southern Association to investigate. It did, and Morehead lost its accreditation.

The new president, Dr. Baird, was a prime mover in steps leading to re-accreditation. He helped persuade Governor Earle C. Clements to get through the Legislature an amendment to the Outer Act which stripped the Governor of power to remove the college regents at will. It was adopted in January, 1948.

On June 10, 1948—just a week before his power to remove regents without cause expired—Governor Clements installed a new Board of Regents for Morehead. He had asked one member of the old board to resign, and ousted another when he refused to quit. The term of the other two had expired.

Clements named James T. Norris, Ashland Democrat and a newspaper editor; Enory R. Price, Wheelwright dentist and city operator; W. W. Ball, Mayville Republican banker and Wesleyan College treasurer; and M. K. Eiken, Hazard Republican lawyer.

Clements notified the Southern Association on June 12 that the new regents had been appointed "with the very definite view of speeding, if possible, the readmission and re-accreditation of Morehead College." Clements also called attention to the revised Outer Law, which became effective June 17.

On June 12, L. H. Hubbard, chairman of the executive council of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education, named the following committee to conduct a special study of Morehead State College:

Dr. R. B. Draughon, acting president of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, chairman; president C. C. Sherrard, East Tennessee State College; president David A. Lockmiller, University of Chattanooga; and M. C. Huntley, executive secretary of the commission.

After meeting with the new Board of Regents on June 18, the committee wrote in its report:

"This session, lasting more than two hours, gave the committee excellent opportunity to

Require Water System, Student Union Building

President William Jesse Baird said this morning that it had been impossible to comply with two recommendations of the Southern Association but the Board of Regents had these as the principal agenda of business.

These were: (1) Construction of a new student union building, and (2) Proper steps be taken to insure an adequate water supply during drought periods.

The Board of Regents has already made request to Governor Clements for the funds to construct the student union building, while they have been conferring with the City Council of Morehead to solve the City's controversial water supply question.

Form judgments of the quality and character of the men now responsible to the Commonwealth of Kentucky for this public college. The committee is of the opinion that Governor Clements has exercised excellent judgment in his appointments."

The committee outlined the Southern Association's 21 standards "and the extent to which Morehead is meeting them."

It found that within constitutional and statutory limitations "remedies have been applied to these conditions leading to the dropping of Morehead from membership in the Southern Association."

1. The enactment of a law exempting the board of regents of State colleges from the executive prerogative of the Governor to remove officials without cause.

2. The resignation or removal of all former members of the Board of Regents.

3. The appointment of an entirely new Board of Regents on the basis of sound criteria, free from political considerations.

The committee also found that:

1. The action of the Board of Regents, at its first meeting, adopting tenure regulations guaranteeing the faculty, including the president, shall not be removed except for cause, after due presentation of charges and a hearing, constitutes a further step in keeping with the intent of the association in its action dropping the college.
2. The Board of Regents is excellent, and it has the respect and support if the staff, faculty, students and patrons of the college.
3. President Baird has the full and expressed confidence and support of the Board of Regents, and the respect, confidence and support of faculty and students.

Library Improves
Nevertheless, the committee's examination showed "additional steps that should be taken." It asked Dr. Baird to report progress on these before the December meeting. The steps, and Dr. Baird's report on them, were:

1. That all vacant professorships and headships of departments be filled by the opening of the 1948 term, and that the number of doctors of philosophy on the faculty be substantially increased.

Dr. Baird's report: 31 per cent of teachers hold doctorates, two others have completed doctorates except for dissertations. This percentage is higher than for any other senior college in Kentucky except Centre, which reports 50 per cent.

2. That since the college is primarily a teacher-training institution, more volume in the field of education be purchased and placed in the library, to meet standards of both American and Southern Associations.

Dr. Baird said circulation and use of library has been more than doubled in the last year. The library has been reorganized, dead material eliminated and a "good deal" of live material added. More than $12,000, or $23 a student, will be spent for books and periodicals during 1948-49. Regents allotted an extra $5,000 to the library for additional book purchases in the field of education. Holdings have been increased from about 35,000 to 40,000 books.

3. That organization of the student body be encouraged, and a dean of students be appointed to supervise student affairs.

New Office Created
Dr. Baird said the office of dean of students has been created. Dr. George Wells took over the new post on Sept. 1. Regents, at the same time, dropped titles of "dean of men" and "assistant dean of men." Dr. Wells has organized a student council and set up a student government for all student activities.

4. That the college check on the success of its alumni who have entered graduate or professional schools within the last five years.

Dr. Baird submitted a list of Morehead graduates for 1943-47 who have continued in graduate or professional schools. Analysis shows Morehead graduates are continuing their work to a considerable degree and, with few exceptions, are making satisfactory records. During this period, Morehead graduated 268 students, and 56 continued work at graduate level.

5. That a more modern and comprehensive system of records be maintained in the office of registrar.

Dr. Baird said Morehead has inaugurated a new system of permanent records. Machine-posted ledgers in fireproof containers have been installed. Permanent record cards are used. Transcripts are photostated, college records are microfilmed and stored in another building. Calculators have been purchased for the registrar. A master code has been devised for determining the standing of all students. A service window has been installed for the registrar, and the public is excluded from his office.

Score Increased
6. That the college exercise greater discrimination than has been evident in the past with reference to the admission and retention of students of doubtful ability.

Dr. Baird said the administration examinations passing score has been increased from G. E. D. 35 to 45. The job of public relations has been divorced from the job of director of admissions. Admission standards are those approved by Kentucky and Southern Associations of Colleges and Secondary Schools and the State Department of Education.

This gives some indication of the amount of work which had to be accomplished and quickly, if Morehead was to be reaccepted in December, 1948. Through the ceaseless work of Dr. Baird and the Regents, the effort was successful. The Southern Association restored Morehead's standing and made it retroactive to September, 1947. This meant no credits or degrees issued during the discredited period were impaired.

The committee re-investigating Morehead also made some other

SOIL ERUPTION . . . On the 60 acre farm of Henry Huppenthal near Cedar Lake, Ind., two hills of rich black soil are growing in an area of clay-ban farmland. One hill covering 2,500 square yards, has erupted to a height of 30 feet in the past 35 years. The other has risen 15 feet in 10 years. Huppenthal says he raised more than 110 bushels of corn to the acre on the new soil, and that the yield of oats was so heavy that stems of the plants collapsed under the weight of the heads of grain.

interesting and pointed observations. It studied the report on Morehead prepared some years earlier by Griffithhagen and Associates, whom Governor Willis had employed to survey higher education in Kentucky.

Concerning Griffithhagen's recommendations for Morehead, the committee said it found this:

1. That there is a systematic and businesslike procedure for operating and maintaining the physical plant.

2. There is good co-ordination between offices of president, dean, business manager and Associates, whom Governor Willis had employed to survey higher education in Kentucky.

3. Records in the superintendent's office now seem to be adequate to most Griffithhagen's recommendations.

4. A reasonable portion of the budget is set aside for maintenance and operation for the physical plant. A total of $80,274 was spent on this during 1947-48 and $102,673 has been budgeted for 1948-49.

From the committee's findings it can be seen that although its loss of accredited standing was a blow to Morehead's prestige and morale, it brought about many changes for the better.

Despite the loss of its accredited standing for the last two years, Morehead State College has emerged from its bitter experience a better-equipped and more progressive school.

Witness Quotes Pennington As 'I'm A Mean Man'

Alley (Buster) Pennington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Odel Pennington of Ordinary, was re-manded to the Morgan County Jail on a willful murder charge last week following an examining trial at West Liberty where he allegedly shot and killed a companion, James Simmons of Newfoundland.

Ronald Miles, the principal

Commonwealth witness at the hearing said that he was walking up the Main Street of Sandy Hook with Simmons when they met the defendant, Pennington. Miles said that Pennington leveled a gun at Simmons and said, "I'm a mean man." The shooting then started, according to Miles' evidence.

Pennington did not testify or introduce any evidence at the hearing.

W. K. Rouse Speaks To Ag. Club

F.B.A. Explained By Local Official

William K. Rouse, in charge of the local office of the Farm, Home Administration of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, was the guest speaker of the Agriculture Club of Morehead College, Monday evening, Nov. 22. Mr. Rouse explained the objective of the work of the Farm, Home Administration in assisting families who are unable to obtain satisfactory credit from other sources. He mentioned that most of the work at the beginning is with families whose health standards are low, they live on land usually badly eroded, poor farm practices are used, housing is bad, the livestock are few and of poor quality, they have inadequate capital to properly farm and provide a better standard of living.

Mr. Rouse explained the different kinds of loans made to farm families. He mentioned that production loans are of two kinds. Annual loans are usually for seed and fertilizer. The farmer usually takes the loan at the first of the year and pays it off at the close of the year. No supervision is made during the life of this loan. The second kind is an adjustment loan—to adjust situations on the farm which may be with a tenant or the owner himself. It may bring about a complete change in the system of farming. The owner or operator applies for a loan. This goes before a county committee made up of three outstanding farmers. If it is approved—Mr. Rouse inspects the farm, talks the program over with the family. An inventory is taken of all that is on the farm plus the debts. Gardening and a live at home program is emphasized. It is determined how many head of livestock of various kinds can be handled and feed grown for them. All possible sources of income is reviewed and costs determined. The difference leaves what the family can pay on the loan and apply to their standard of living. If this is good, the loan is made.

A Farm Development Loan is made to one who is deeply in debt and this program is developed under supervision.

A Farm Enlargement Loan is made to one who has a small farm not large enough to provide adequate income to the family but with the purchase of additional land can make it a going concern. It is to develop a suitable family size unit farm.

With imports up 22 per cent over last year, to a current annual rate of $7,000,000,000, the excess of exports over imports has dropped from $11,500,000,000 for 1947 to an annual rate of about $740,000,000 now.

a year after his death in order to take full advantage of the law pertaining to death benefits, the Veterans Administration officials advise today.

Although application for death compensation or pension may be filed at any time after a veteran's death, benefits are retroactive to the date following the date of death only if the claim is filed within one year from that date.

VA claims officials point out that if a claim for death compensation or pension is filed after the expiration of the one-year period, benefits are payable from the date the claim is received in a VA office, providing sufficient supporting evidence is submitted within a year after the claim is made.

Veterans may authorize the VA to deduct National Service Life Insurance premiums from their disability pension, compensation or other benefits which are paid by VA.

However, VA explained, deductions cannot be made from subsistence allowances. Veterans desiring to take advantage of the insurance payment plan should contact their nearest VA office.

VA today reminded World War II veterans taking on-job training under the G. I. Bill and their employers that the individual monthly reports of progress must be submitted to the VA or the veteran will lose his subsistence allowance.

VA said on-job training reports for the month of November were due Dec. 1. Subsidy payments will be suspended in all cases where these reports are not received by Dec. 10.

Veterans who have been dropped from subsistence rolls when their monthly reports of progress failed to reach VA in time, will be restored to the rolls rapidly, as the reports are received, or by writing to the personnel office within the required time limit, VA announced.

The progress reports must be received by VA within 60 days of the first delinquency. In cases where reports are received after 60 days, veterans will receive assistance for the delinquent period.

Reports of progress on VA Form 7-198C are required for veterans enrolled under the G. I. Bill in job-training establishments and certain types of vocational schools. The veteran is required to prepare his own report of progress each month. He submits it to the training supervisor for approval and certification. The supervisor, in turn, transmits the report to the appropriate VA regional office. Reports are not required from veteran-students in colleges, other institutions of higher learning, institutional on-farm courses and correspondence courses.

Only 10 Percent Of Women Can Boast "Perfect" Figure

Enough has been said by the fashion magazines and movie press agents about the "perfect" figure—the 36-inch bust, 26-inch waist, 35-inch hips. Probably only ten per cent of the women in this country can boast similar measurements, but a much higher percentage of us fall short of this "ideal" are still attractive and well-dressed in larger sizes. Nevertheless, many a woman with an adult figure begins to get an inferiority complex after hearing all this baloney, and hoping to pick up a bit of comfort for her I took a trip up to the Metropolitan Museum of Art to investigate the proportions of the most perfect woman of all times—Venus de Milo. The lady, I found, has extremely voluptuous measurements—much larger than the 20th Century formula. If Venus came back for a visit today, where on earth would she get clothes to fit her universally-renowned figure? I think that it wouldn't take her long to find out that Young Viewpoint Fashions has designed half-size clothes for just her kind of adult figure—the more "founded" figure with a shorter waist. She might point out, in her Olympian wisdom, that today's "perfect" figure may be considered monstrous tomorrow, and that a woman makes of what she has is the important thing. Wearing adulthood becomingly and slipping gracefully into the Y sizes designed for her by the imaginative creators of Young Viewpoint Fashions spells more glamour than Hollywood statistics.

At Venus came back for a variety of fields including airplane maintenance, aviation specialties, etc. For further information contact your local U. S. Air Force and U. S. Army recruiters here in Morehead or on his weekly scheduled trip to your area.

Psychological Testing Is Adopted

Dr. McShea Has Charge Of Project
Initiated Here

Psychological testing in the Training School has been initiated and are being carried out by Frank Gallenstein, George Thompson, William Robinson and Chester Kelly. Each of the named members of the Testing Bureau have become interested in some specific phase of testing and are doing field work in the Training School.

Under the direction of Dr. McShea projects have been initiated and are being carried out by Frank Gallenstein, George Thompson, William Robinson and Chester Kelly. Each of the named members of the Testing Bureau have become interested in some specific phase of testing and are doing field work in the Training School.

Frank Gallenstein has given intelligence tests to the 7th and 8th grades. After being scored the results were tabulated to show the number of students in each IQ group. Secondly, Mr. Gallenstein has tested the high school students of the Training School with a battery of tests which will show the intellectual development of each student as well as interests, scholastic achievement, reading ability, study habits and personality traits. He has also given tests to high school students called differential aptitude. It will show the verbal ability, reasoning ability, both abstract and numerical, space relations ability, mechanical and clerical aptitudes, as well as the spelling and sentence usage of the student. The outcome of all these tests is being filed at the Training School for use in future testing, placing and other work.

William Robinson has taken profiles of the high school students. After these tests are completed he plans to give another battery of tests to see if the results will change the interests of the students.

Chester Kelly has tested the grades 8 to 4 with the Bett's Telemicural Test of Vision. It tests the students for simultaneous vision of both eyes, vertical imbalance, lateral imbalance, binocular visual efficiency, left eye visual efficiency, right eye visual efficiency and stereopsis.

When the testing of eyes was completed, Mr. Kelly gave reading tests to the students and will make a study of the effects on reading performance of eye visual deficiency.

George Thompson has tested grades 1 to 4 with the Macco Audimeter. He found that there were few cases of hearing deficiency in these grades. The few cases that he found were referred to proper authorities. He reports that the children in lower grades are more attentive than the college students while taking this test. This is a significance since most authorities report that the attention of the younger child is no as good as the adult.

Some of those who discuss public affairs are so warped by hatred of things they dislike that the wonder is that they don't bite themselves.

Here today—
and a long tomorrow!

Buying your next new car "For keeps"?
Here's a durability story you shouldn't miss!

If you're a value-minded, long-range buyer—here are some quick facts you'll want to keep in mind . . .

1. Of all the Packards built—since 1899—over 50% are still in service.
2. It's commonplace for Packards (many of them in tough, round-the-clock commercial service) to roll up more than 400,000 miles apiece before being retired.
3. Today's new Packards are more durable than ever. Proof: Periodic service records, submitted by all Packard dealers, show that service needs of the new Packard Eights are the lowest in Packard's 49 years of precision manufacturing!

That's just part of the value story behind this sleek new Packard.

So if you're buying your next new car "for keeps," you'll want to hear this Packard story in every exciting detail. Come in!

Sunday School Lesson

LETTERS IN THE BIBLE

International Sunday School Lesson for December 12, 1948

MEMORY SELECTION:

"I write this to you who believe in the name of the Son of God, that you may know that you have eternal life."—1 John 5: 13.

Lesson Text: Philippians 1: 1-11; 4: 8-9.

The discovery of the letters written by Paul to the churches is always accompanied by great excitement and interest, for the personal letters of a person reveal the innermost traits of character which are often hidden from public view. Not so long ago, the letters of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt appeared in public print and were read with great interest as a revelation of the development of Mr. Roosevelt from a very small boy to a man ready to assume the responsibilities of the highest office in the power of a people to give—the Presidency of the United States.

So, for this week, we are to consider some very old letters, preserved for us in the pages of the Bible that we know as the New Testament. Of course, some letters were written during the Old Testament times, but they are not as familiar to the average Bible student as those we refer to as the "Epistles."

In all, there are twenty-one letters in the New Testament, thirteen of which were written by the Apostle Paul. Four of these letters—Galatians, Ephesians, Colossians, and Philippians—were written from the prison in Rome where Paul spent the last years of his earthly life. The letter to the Hebrews is anonymous, no one being sure who wrote it. Two letters were written by Peter, three by John, one by James and one by Jude. The letters were written to churches and to individuals for the purpose of giving instruction, of offering praise or censure, and it is only through the providence of God and the devotion of the church that they have been preserved for us today.

Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed, in his book, "How to Read the Bible," says: "Personal letters are, if it is generally agreed, the most trustworthy kind of historical source in these New Testament times." In fact, Christian literature began with such letters, and their writers, as all friendly letters, were more than one-fifth of the New Testament. They throw a flood of light upon the life and the problems of the Early Church in the middle of the first century, A. D. 50 to 62. It is here that they take the roofs of the Early Christian meeting places and let us look inside, and this is true. Both for what they contain and for what they have accomplished, they deserve the name of "Letters."

serve to be called the greatest letters ever written."

Of the letters in the New Testament written by others than Paul Dr. Goodspeed has this to say: "Hebrews. The writer has put his message in the form of a letter, but it reads more like a great oration and, of course, was intended to be read aloud to a meeting of the church at Rome. It is rhetorically the most eloquent book in the New Testament."

"James, the sermon or homily that we know as the Epistle of James really belongs among the orations. It was made to serve as an epistle by being published to the whole Christian brotherhood."

"First Peter. This epistle calls on the Christian brotherhood to obey the state, respect the emperor, and love even enemies. This was the true attitude for the church to assume in the face of persecution."

"Second Peter. The last book of the New Testament to be written—it is concerned with the vexing matter of the return of Christ to the world in a Second Coming."

"First, Second and Third John. Third John is addressed to a Christian named Gaius, while Second John is written to a church to which Gaius belonged, but they are little more than covering letters for First John which is for all the churches the missionary may reach, and carries the message that the Christian belongs to a great spiritual fellowship in which the bond is love. This is the lesson the Children of God must love one another, for God is love."

Jude. Read the Epistle of Jude for a glimpse of the dangers that threatened the Christian movement toward the middle of the second century. The little tract is written with great vigor denouncing false teachings and doings."

Straight From Washington

Crow Banquet
"Polling experts are eating crow, and farm analysts are hastily revising their forecasts as a result of Mr. Truman's unexpected victory."

This victory holds several important implications for agriculture. For one thing, Democratic control of both houses of Congress will result in many committee changes.

It is expected that chairmanship of Senate Agriculture will go to Senator Thomas (D. Okla.) Senator Alben will probably become ranking minority member of the group. Members who will not return include Republican Senators Brooks of Ill., Ball of Minnesota, and Dworshak of Idaho, all defeated at the polls. Senator Overton (D. La.) died recently. On the House side, Representative Cooley (D. N. C.) will probably head the Agriculture Committee. Representative Cannon (D. Mo.) chairman of House Appropriations during the Roosevelt Administration, is expected to return to this post. He will replace Representative Taber (R. N. Y.).

Legislative Effects
What effect will Mr. Truman's victory have on farm issues in the next Congress? Washington farm writers are seeking an answer to this question. Here are some of the trends of thought.

Measures designed to increase U. S. participation in world affairs—such as the International Trade Organization Charter and extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program (both supported by AFBF)—will stand much better chance of getting Congressional O. K.

This belief arises from the fact that several congressmen unfavorable to such measures were severely trounced at the polls. One newspaper predicts that an attempt will be made in the next session to scrap the 60-to-40 per cent flexible provisions of the recently-passed Aiken Bill, in favor of mandatory 90 per cent support.

However, most writers regard it as extremely unlikely that such an attempt could succeed. They emphasize that President Truman and the Democratic party are pledged to the permanent support program backed by AFBF. Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan has consistently favored this program. So has his predecessor, Clinton Anderson of New Mexico, who will return to the Senate next January.

One leading columnist regards as "certain" congressional amendment of the Commodity Credit Corporation charter, to enable that agency to obtain extra storage space for grain acquired under price-support loans. CCC law passed by the 80th Congress forbids this, despite earlier protests by AFBF.

Other Measures
Some writers have predicted that advocates of oleo tax repeal still have gained enough strength to push through a tax-repeal measure next session.

Looking at the broader issues, newspapers seem to regard repeal or drastic revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act (supported in part by AFBF) as a virtual certainty. Labor's new strength in the government will lead to higher wages and other similar benefits for labor, they believe.

Passage of a federal aid to education bill, a report on the debt (this principle) is forecast by some. Others stress that President Truman favors a rural school system of Kentucky just the people like an earthenware program along the lines of the late Taft-Ellender-Wagner measure, and compulsory health insurance.

Several papers agree that any attempt to give the states ownership of the rich oil-bearing coastal tidelands probably will now fail.

These are only predictions. They pose interesting possibilities. However, few Washington observers have any faith left in prediction. From now on, they prefer to wait and see what actually happens.

You may recall that, three years ago, a report on the deplorable condition of the public school systems of Kentucky just the people like an earthenware program along the lines of the late Taft-Ellender-Wagner measure, and compulsory health insurance.

At that time we were just drifting along—no, we were slipping backward—rapidly—with teachers paid less than domestic servants. That report, for the Committee for Kentucky, was made by Dr. Maurice F. Seay, Dean of the University of Kentucky.

Lately Dr. Seay has been checking up on progress made by our public schools since the original report was published by the Committee for Kentucky. The gains are heartening indeed. Enrollment of children of the school age in the 1946-47 term showed 85 per cent as compared with 78 per cent in 1941-42. Fifteen per cent under a perfect score is still too big a margin. In the last three years' attendance has increased 5 per cent.

In the last four years the average length of the school term in Kentucky has moved up from 159 to 176 days. Since 1945 the number of teachers employed has increased from 17,710 to 18,500 with a decrease in emergency certificates of 367.

The average pay of teachers and principals has gone from $942 to $1,650.

Home economics enrollments increased 2,271 in five years. In three years ending with the 1947 term, bus transportation was provided for 11,255 additional rural pupils.

In four years the amount spent per pupil increased from $59 to $83.94.

The foregoing gains are encouraging, even though they have not kept pace with rising costs of practically everything else the people pay for. But certainly education in Kentucky is making who some gains. Dr. Seay's only remuneration is the public's gratitude plus pleasure in a big job well done.

Why Hudson Beauty is more than "skin-deep"

The modern design for '49

The New Hudson—the first and only car you step down into—achieves true streamlining and today's lowest all-houset as the natural result of a basically new design principle available in no other type of automobile!

Every time your eyes linger on a New Hudson, you are admiring beauty as genuine as nature at her glorious best! For this stunning streamliner has fresh styling that begins deep inside the car with a recessed floor which is the key to the "step-down" design—the exciting idea that opens up new opportunities for genuinely beautiful lines. Yes, for years it has been widely known that the lower a car can be built, the more beautiful it will be, the better it will ride and handle.

But whenever men have sought to create the ideal in low-built motor cars, without lowering the interior floor, they've had to keep top lines high to preserve inside head room, or reduce inside roominess to get top lines down—an unsatisfactory compromise in either case.

And even with compromises, no car has ever matched the gloriously low silhouette Hudson brings you today!

This is because Hudson—and Hudson alone—has a recessed floor in an exclusive, all steel Monobloc body-and-frame which makes it possible to build the lowest car on the highway—just five feet from ground to top—but with more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

The exciting, more than skin-deep beauty of the New Hudson is the natural result of this basic "step-down" construction, which is so right it frays the designer of the need for make-shifts in styling.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson. You'll quickly sense that this car is a far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

*Trade-mark and patents pending.

**The many advantages in Hudson's "step-down" design are explained in a booklet available at all Hudson dealers.

Insurance Payments In State Heavy

Over $12 Millions Paid To Families In Kentucky

Kentucky families received $12,266,000 in life insurance payments in the first 9 months of this year, compared with $13,543,000 in the corresponding period of last year, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today. The number of policies becoming claims in the 9 months was 15,453 which compares with 15,303 in the corresponding period of 1945.

"Some measure of the greatly increased bulk of protection owned by American families is shown in a comparison of those current payments with death benefit payments prior to the war," said Helger J. Johnson, president of the Institute, in announcing the figures. "For the country as a whole, death benefits paid show an increase of nearly 45 per cent in the first 9 months of this year as compared with 1945. This is a reflection of the growing spread of life insurance ownership rather than of an increase in death rate among policy holders. As a matter of fact, the health record this year has been very good. Death benefit payments in this state in the first three quarters of this year compared with $10,135,000 in the corresponding period of 1945.

Of this year's nine month aggregate payments in this state, $8,225,000 was under 3,517 ordinary policies; $1,087,000 was under 370 group life insurance policies; and $2,947,000 was under 11,066 industrial insurance policies.

For the nation as a whole, $1,086,183,000 was paid as death claims under 1,005,304 policies in the first nine months of the year, compared with $1,002,756,000 under 951,069 policies in the corresponding period of last year. Of this year's payments, $757,500,000 was under 25,009 ordinary policies; $173,975,000 was under 85,331 group policies; and $155,702,000 was under 634,904 industrial policies.

Classification Of Positions Being Made

Gov. Gayle C. Clement's Personnel Classification Committee announced today that the Position Classification Study was making satisfactory progress and should be completed about Jan.

20, 1949. The purpose of the study is to provide the Committee and the Division of Personnel with correct job descriptions and the salary range for each position. In June of this year, Governor Clements appointed the Committee composed of Commissioner of Finance, Dr. John W. Manning, Chairman; Commissioner of Revenue, H. Clyde Reeves; and Director of Legislative Research, Dr. A. Y. Lloyd.

The Committee obtained the services of Mr. A. Graefenst, Industrial Consultant of Louisville, who is on leave from the Department of Economic Security to conduct the program. Due to the peculiar nature of this study, the Committee secured through the Navy Department in Washington, D. C. the services of Mr. Russell Cox to give professional assistance and coordinate the work with all State Government Departments.

Analysis have visited numerous State Institutions to gain first hand knowledge of the conditions under which employees work, as well as to study the administrative organization. Questionnaires have been distributed to approximately 10,000 monthly salaried employees and numerous desk audits have been made. Upon completion of the program recommendations will be made to the Committee for presentation to the Governor. Results of the study will be made a permanent part of the employee personnel records.

Dr. Hatcher Is O. S. U. Vice President

Was Graduate Of Old "Normal School" Here

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher

Dr. Harlan H. Hatcher on Sept. 16, became Ohio State's president in charge of faculty and instruction. His appointment by the university's board of trustees was announced July 12.

Widely known as an outstanding teacher, administrator, author and lecturer and now serving as Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Hatcher succeeded Dr. Harvey H. Davis, who resigned to assume two deanships at the University of Iowa, Sept. 1. Dr. Hatcher has been a member of the university faculty since 1922, when he joined the English Department as an instructor. He was promoted to assistant professor in 1927 and to a full professorship in 1932.

At the beginning of World War II, he became coordinator of the university's accelerated war-time program of instruction and in 1942 entered the service as a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve. He served until 1944, when the university requested his release in order that he might assume the deanship.

A native of Ironton, Ohio, Dr. Hatcher attended Morehead Normal School in Kentucky. (At the time he lived at Ashland). He holds the bachelor's master's and doctor of philosophy degrees from Ohio State and has done other graduate work at the University of Chicago and in Europe.

From 1937 to 1939 he was state director of the Federal Writers' Project in Ohio and editor of "The Ohio Guide." Dr. Hatcher is the author of numerous professional articles, essays, stories and several books. Among his best known books are "Tunnel Hill," "Patterns of Wolfpen," "Central Standard Time," "Creating the Modern American Novel," "The Buckeye Country," "Modern Continental, English and American Drama," "The Great Lakes," and "Lake Erie."

He was elected vice chairman of the American Association of Academic Deans early in 1948 and was to succeed to the presidency of that national organization in 1949.

Dr. Hatcher was the commencement ment speaker here in 1943, on the 25th anniversary of his graduation from the old school.

The United States Navy cruiser, Des Moines, rated as the world's most powerful, received its last testing and was commissioned on Nov. 16th. The vessel has a speed "in excess of 20 knots."

State Tobacco Market Slumps, But Most Of Decline Gradual; All Sales Continue Very Heavy

Mt. Sterling Sales For Wednesday Average $49.30

The decline in burley prices on Kentucky floors which set in Monday continued through Wednesday.

The declines mostly yesterday were around $1 a hundred pounds. Sales continued heavy. Almost 12 million pounds were sold Wednesday.

Wednesday's averages from some of the principal markets were: Lexington $45.68; Shelbyville $47.44; Glasgow $46.66; Louisville $42.75; Mt. Sterling $40.30; Cynthiana $44.72; Richmond $47.14; Winchester $43.95. The latest report from Marysville had not been released but that market was around $46 the previous day.

Averages on Kentucky burley markets climbed sensation Monday at opening of the second week of sales of the 1948 crop.

Reports compiled by the Kentucky Department of Agriculture indicated the state-wide average approximately had recovered its entire loss of last week which totaled $2.52 a hundred pounds. The average at the end of the first day's sales last Monday stood at $40.40. The average Friday, last day of sales week, was $46.97.

Increases of $2 a hundred pounds or more in the market averages were common. Increases ranged up from $6.71 at Covington. Other exceptionally big increases were $5.14 at Cynthiana, $5.01 at Mt. Sterling, $4.65 at Danville, $3.73 at Shelbyville, $3.34 at Glasgow and $3.50 at Bowling Green.

Seven of the first 16 markets to report had averages in excess of $50 a hundred pounds. Highest in the state was Mt. Sterling with an average of $52.28. Lexington had an average of $51.34 and London sold at $51.10. Others above $50 were Carrollton, Danville, Cynthiana and Springfield.

Lexington's average crossed $50 with a rise of $2.47 that jumped it to $51.34 a hundred pounds. Sales were extremely heavy following 2,527,898 pounds for $11,397,763.12.

The average at Carrollton shot up to $50.40.

up to $2.01 to $50.02. Growers were paid $335,677.26 for the 671,052 pounds auctioned.

Mt. Sterling's return to leadership with an average of $52.28 came with a rise of $5.01 a hundred pounds. The market sold 101,422 pounds for $210,244.26.

By far the highest average of the season at Cynthiana, $50.28, was made on sale of $26,746 pounds for $264,756.02. The average was $5.13 above Friday's.

Glasgow's average jumped $3.54 to $40.40, growers receiving $366,415.34 for the 620,250 pounds sold. The near-by market at Horse Cave turned in an average of $48.06, a loss of 12 cents. It sold 299,164 pounds for $143,407.40.

The Harrodsburg market turned in an average of $49.15, up $1.52. It sold 402,444 pounds for $197,794.18.

The near-by Danville market turned in an unusually sharp increase of $4.65 that raised its average to $50.56. Growers received $268,737.74 for the 486,137 pounds sold.

A jump of $2.49 raised the Louisville average of $44.51. The sales totaled 217,158 pounds for $96,664.24.

The average at Bowling Green shot up to $50.40 to $48.52. A total of 236,116 pounds were sold for $114,908.29.

Homemakers At Smile Surprised By Their Hostess

The Homemakers Club in the Smile community met Wednesday with Mrs. Sinclair, Home Agent, as the principal speaker. The members studied the making of pot-holders woven on frames.

This meeting was at the home of Mrs. Rosa Boyd. "Selection of Clothing to Suit the Individual" was also discussed by the group. They also talked about appropriate hand-made Christmas gifts.

A surprise dinner of baked chicken, dressing, baked sweet potatoes, cottage cheese, cake and coffee was served by the hostess, Mrs. Boyd.

There are people in other lands glad to believe that the U. S. purse will continue to pour money overseas.

Scientific sampling of public opinion was not recognized at the polls.

Churches To Seek Better Attendance

Religious Indifference Will Be Confronted In Concentrated Effort

Leaders of three Morehead churches met Monday night, December 6, to consider suggestions for concerted action on the part of these organizations to break down what one of the leaders called "the accumulated spiritual and religious indifference of the community."

The meeting was called at the request of Elmore Ryle, David Sager and Marvin Tate, respective ministers of the Christian, Methodist and First Church of God. Included among the representative local leaders who participated in the discussion were: Dr. Wm. Jesse Baird, Dr. W. C. Lappin, Glenn W. Lane, William H. Layne, N. H. Kennard, Monroe Wicker, Harlan Powers, Walter Price and some twenty other key community leaders.

The program is toward a unified evangelistic, social and community emphasis were discussed. The possibility is developing that community preaching will be conducted in the early spring in which the college, local churches and schools would cooperate around an outside speaker of national reputation.

The program is being designed to include an intensive publicity campaign, a religious census, house to house visitation and concerted efforts to reach inactive church members and unchurched persons throughout Morehead. The campaigners will be seeking total commitments for Christian living on the part of the citizenry of the entire community.

A continuing committee to direct the setting-up of this program is now being appointed. Chosen to represent the Christian Church were George Cline, Hartley Batson and Andre Bowne. The Methodist Church will be represented by Glenn W. Lane, Alpha Hutchinson and John Palmer. In addition to the ministers of the three churches, Dr. Wm. Jesse Baird will also be included on this committee. Representatives from the First Church of God will be announced within the next few days. Others interested churches and groups are urged and invited to participate.

Dividend Is Declared By Federal Bank

The Federal Land Bank of Louisville has declared a dividend of $320,000, announces M. S. Kennedy, Jr., president.

It will be paid to the bank's stockholders—the 114 national farm loan associations in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee—on stock of record on November 30, 1948. This brings to more than $5,500,000 the amount of dividends paid by the bank since it began paying dividends in 1919.

The dividend just declared, explained Kennedy, is paid out to the national farm loan associations at this time so it will be a part of their 1948 income. The associations can in turn declare dividends and pass on to their members. Most of the associations distribute dividend checks to their members at annual meetings held from Jan. 15 to April 15 each year.

Two Mountain Quints Favored In Tourney

Kiwanis Invitational Event Opens Friday In College Gymnasium

Two mountain powerhousees were established as co-favorites this week to top the championship of the Morehead Invitational Tournament which opens at Morehead College Friday afternoon. Carr Creek and Hindman, perennially top Kentucky schoolboy basketball fives were regarded as the teams to survive preliminary play and emerge to battle for the title in Saturday night's final game.

Breckinridge and Ashland Holy Family will initiate play at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and will be followed at 3 o'clock by the Hindman-Camargo contest.

In the lower bracket Morehead High School and Owingsville will battle for a semi-finalist's berth starting at 7 o'clock and an hour later Carr Creek and Salt Lick will play for the other lower bracket position in the semi's.

Semi-final play will begin at 2 o'clock with the upper bracket winners contesting while the lower bracket survivors will clash at 3 o'clock.

The final game will be played at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Breckinridge and Holy Family is rated a top-up since the two crews have split in a pair of games this season. Breckinridge edged the Eagles 43-37 while Holy Family edged the Eagles 34-32 at Ashland two weeks ago.

Hindman is solid favorite over Camargo, despite the surprising showing of the Montgomery County team in the first round. A majority of its games thus far.

Another loss up is the Owingsville-Breathitt clash. Owingsville-Breathitt Telford Gevedon's Green and White-clad lads at Owingsville last week 38-26.

Advantage of their home fold should serve to make the Vikings an even choice against the Len Sinner-coached crew.

Carr Creek's Indians, semi-finalists in the State Tournament last season, should dispose of Salt Lick handsily since the Creekers are reportedly state tournament bound.

Trophies will be presented to the winner and the runner-up as well as to outstanding individual players in the tourney. In addition, an individual sportsmanship trophy will be awarded.

Tickets for the meet, sponsored by the Morehead High School for the benefit of the Kiwanis Underprivileged Children Fund are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Makes Cleared Land Yield $100 An Acre

An example of good land use in Owsley County was described by Farm Agent M. M. Williams when he told of the work done by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilson of their 15-year-old son, Welton.

In 1940, the Wilsons started grubbing out part of their 76-acre farm. Now they have 28 acres cleared and fenced, 23 acres tile drained, and they have built their 6-room house, a combination tobacco barn and stock barn and small poultry and brooder houses. A storage cellar built in the side hill protects their winter food supply.

Through intensive farming, the Wilsons have an average annual income of $100 per acre from the cleared land. Fifty-two acres, too steep to farm, have been left for a wood supply, posts and building lumber.

Following the live-at-home program is important to this farm family. From a large garden Mrs. Wilson can grow 800 to 800 quarts of food every year. They have a laying flock of around 100 pullets and they keep from four to five head of cattle. Three to four acres of corn have averaged about 80 bushels to the acre. They also have an acre tobacco base.

Welton, a 4-H Club Member, was recently named the best 4-H'er in the county and as such was awarded by a Beattyville bank a registered cow. His corn derby acre produced 90 bushels of corn, and he sold his county prize-winning beef heifer for $214. He is enrolled in the Owsley County High School.

Airlines

The 16 domestic trunk airlines had an indicated net income from operations of $3,262,637 during the second quarter of this year, according to the Civil Aeronautics Board. This compared with net operating income of $2,754,724 in the similar period of 1947. However, during the year ending June 30, 1947, they showed a net operating loss of $15,494,310, compared with a loss of $22,435,489, the previous year.

IT'S A ROUGH GAME... Broken sticks and skulls are all part of the fun in hockey. After this little act before the Boston Bruins' goal the score read as follows: pucks in cage—6; players in cage—6, all of which adds up to the fact that this furious assault failed and the Bruins beat their opponent Canadians 2-2.

Economic Security Dept. To Have Field Investigation Unit

Formation of a field investigation unit in the Department of Economic Security was announced today by V. E. Barnes, commissioner. The unit established with approval of federal Social Security Administration authorities will provide constant check on irregularities and fraud in the Unemployment Insurance, Public Assistance and Child Welfare programs administered by the Economic Security Department, Barnes explained.

Under direction of Paul M. Thomas, Frankfort, recently returned to the Department after serving a year on the Governor's staff, the unit will be a "watch-dog" of payments made to Kentucky beneficiaries under state and federal laws. Thomas has worked in the Unemployment Insurance administrative office for 11 years.

Commissioner Barnes pointed out that the Department annually disburses more than 36 million dollars to Kentuckians. Of this, there have been field representatives assigned to fraud detection, Barnes said. The Child Welfare and Public Assistance divisions which came under administration of the Economic Security Department in July had no such unit but depended upon regular supervisors and federal investigators to uncover irregularities.

22 million dollars will go to persons qualified under public assistance program and the balance to unemployed persons covered by the State's Unemployment Insurance law. "We propose through the special investigating unit to keep a close check on all benefit payments; correct any irregularities and prosecute all fraud," Barnes said.

The public is entitled to know whether these public funds are properly expended and the department through this special unit will tighten its administration of funds.

Since inception of unemployment compensation in Kentucky, there have been field representatives assigned to fraud detection, Barnes said. The Child Welfare and Public Assistance divisions which came under administration of the Economic Security Department in July had no such unit but depended upon regular supervisors and federal investigators to uncover irregularities.

Farmers 4-H Club Enrolls 12 New Members

At the November meeting of the Farmers 4-H Club, a play on "Table Manners" was presented at the school. Those in the play were: Martha Ward, Lloyd Stumper, Milbourn Purvis and Catherine Jones.

Talks on food were also given by several members of the club. The devotionals conducted by Catherine Jones, was on the theme of Thanksgiving. Mrs. Carl Sinclair conducted a "Manners" contest, boys vs. girls, with the girls scoring highest.

Some club handwork was displayed and all members received their project books.

Twelve new members joined the club, making the total enrollment 53. The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 17, at 10 a. m.

Dairymen Adopt Plan Of Promotion

Particular Emphasis Being Placed On Cream Products, Butter

Dairy farmers of this state and throughout the nation are launching an expanded promotion campaign for fall dairy foods, with intensified emphasis on butter. This is the report of Ben Allen, Thomas, president, who represented Kentucky at the recent executive and advisory committee meeting of the American Dairy Association held in Madison, Wisconsin, with delegates representing 46 states in attendance. In explaining the move to recapture the butter market, Mr. Thomas said, "As goes butter so goes the dairy industry. Butter is the very foundation upon which a prosperous agricultural economy is built and upon which the nation's standard of living depends."

Spreading the new promotion schedule for butter will be newspaper advertising in key metropolitan markets across the nation. The campaign will get underway early in January. He pointed out the great losses that dairy farmers of the nation are taking today. $10,000,000 on butter markets alone in the past months. In time, if this trend continues, it will "undermine the nation's source of milk supply." The dairy farm side of life cannot continue to provide the demands of the nation's food market if the prices for milk, butter, cheese, evaporated milk, dry milk and other dairy foods are not on the same level with the national hourly wage income.

Machine Bought To Write Public Assistance Checks

Taking a $10,000 piece of modern check-writing equipment out of a moth-balled storage is a current project of the Department of Economic Security, Commissioner Vogo E. Barnes said today.

The machinery, custom built job for writing public assistance checks, "was located during an internal audit of the department's assets," Barnes said. Although purchased in 1945 and delivered to the state in Dec. 1946, the equipment was not put into operation and still lies idle, Barnes added. Peck, bickering among state agencies heads together with refusal of the state treasurer to 1946 to stop more efficient and economical methods of operation, relegated the machinery to a storage room in the State Office Building, he said.

"When we located the equipment, we made a thorough investigation as to where it was what we found," Barnes explained. The advertisement check-writing machine was purchased for use in writing public assistance checks. By agreement between the state treasurer, T. W. Vinson, the Division of Public Assistance, then under the State Department of Welfare, and federal authorities administering the grant-in-aid program, the purchase was made with the understanding that public assistance checks would be written by the division. Upon delivery of the check writer, Treasurer Vinson withdrew his commitment, refused the division permission to utilize the machine, and insisted that checks be written by his office.

"The Unemployment Insurance Division writes all job insurance checks on its own machines. The state treasurer is represented in the UI office by a deputy. This satisfactory arrangement represents savings in money and time," Barnes explained, adding that the same would be true if the machine was put to work in the Public Assistance Division.

"Not only did we locate the idle machine but we found a stock pile of check paper purchased at $17.50 a thousand less than present cost. There is adequate stock available to meet the check needs of the division for approximately two years."

"Additional company would be realized in preparing and processing checks, Barnes pointed out. The public assistance program, which includes aid to dependent children, aid to the needy blind as well as old age assistance, requires expenditures of about 22 million dollars a year in Kentucky and is only logical that a method utilized in place of unemployment insurance checks would be equally applicable in the public assistance division," he said.

"We are willing to this end and hope to have the equipment in operation immediately after working out details with the state treasurer," Barnes concluded.

Highways Have A Fascination -- Each Has Its Own Personality

By Ruth Taylor

Roads have a peculiar fascination for me. They mind their own business so admirably—just keeping on going, skirting obstacles when they conveniently can, but not hesitating to go through them if it is necessary. They have as many different personalities as people, and in some cases, the same faults.

However you think upon roads—whether as a means of getting somewhere fast, or as a way that leads to a new place and a new start, or as a tie that binds people closer together, or as a pulsing artery of a nation's life—you will find a lesson in them. Probably that is what the analogy of roads to life has been made so often. I've done it myself.

But there are two thoughts I would like to pass on. One is the tale of the wife who asked her husband why he was stopping the automobile. "The road book says to turn north and follow the trolley. We'll have to wait until one comes along," he replied.

Stupid? Of course. But, how often have you waited for the trolley to come along so you could follow it? For the other fellow to get up and offer an idea? For someone else to act first? Yes, I know. You followed once the way was shown. You didn't know the road? So what? For someone else to act first? Yes, I know. You followed once the way was shown. You didn't know the road? So what? For someone else to act first? Yes, I know. You followed once the way was shown. You didn't know the road? So what?

The other idea came in a letter. "It isn't the bends in the road that worry us, but the crossroads." You know, there is a lot of meat in that sentence. We are used to maneuvering around situations, to taking changes as they come—but when the need for a decision arrives—that is another matter. That is when we have to stop and think. And don't we hate that. (I said we with intention. I am guilty, too.)

There is one thing we can do when we come to a crossroad. We can look upon it as an opportunity as an ordeal. We know where we are going—and what we want to do is to take the road that leads there, not be led astray by any attractive detour. If the road we are on is wrong, the crossroad means we can get off it. If it is right, then the crossroad is just a mark on the day's journey. All we have to do is to pick the place we are going and keep on until we get there.

And this is the end of this road.

Wardens May Investigate On Private Lands

Farm Owners Do Not Have Right To Bar Conservation Officers

"A Conservation Officer of the Division of Game and Fish has a legal right to enter upon the farm or property of any person to call for and inspect the license of hunters," Earl Wallace, Director of the Division, declared today. His announcement was made in answer to questions by those who inquired whether Conservation Officers have legal right to enter upon or trespass on private property.

Mr. Wallace declared that the powers of a Conservation Officer were similar to those of a sheriff or his deputies in entering property to fulfill his sworn duties, and further pointed out that a Conservation Officer is vested with the power to deputize help in the carrying out of his law enforcement regulations.

The director cited subsection 2 of chapter 150.090 of Kentucky Revised Statutes, which states: "Conservation Officers and other officers charged with the enforcement of this chapter (Game and Fish laws) shall have the authority to call for and inspect the license or badge of any person engaged in any activity where a license is required under this Chapter."

This makes it clear, the director declared, "that a Conservation Officer may call on a hunter at any place to produce his license."

In referring to recent intimations of officers by hunters Mr. Wallace cited subsection 3, 150.090, of the Statutes which says: "No person shall resist or obstruct, interfere with, threaten or attempt to intimidate or in any other manner interfere with any officer in the discharge of his duties under provision of this chapter."

Penalty for the violation of this subsection is set out in Section 3 of 150.090 KRS which states: "Any person who violates any of the provisions of subsection 3 of 150.090 shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $200 or imprisoned for not more than six months or both."

Mr. Wallace pointed out that a farm owner or members of his family who live on the farm or a resident lessee of the farm may hunt on that property without a hunting license, but that they are at all times subject to questions by Conservation Officers who seek to determine their identity. The owner of a farm in Kentucky who has resided in another state for more than one year and is not a legal resident of Kentucky, is required to have a non-resident hunting license before he may hunt on his property, the director explained, while the owner of property who lives in Kentucky but not on his farm may legally hunt on his land without a license. However, in all of the above instances, Mr. Wallace said, the hunters must comply with the regulations of the Game and Fish Statutes and must not hunt out of season.

The director stated that Conservation Officers have been instructed to be courteous in carrying out their duties and in return expect like treatment from the hunters. He stated that the officers receive cooperation from 90 per cent of the hunters, but it is the other 10 per cent who persist in threatening and intimidating the Conservation Officers or their deputies. Mr. Wallace declared that unless interference by this 10 per cent is built the Conservation Officers will be instructed to use force in making inspections of licenses and arrests.

Comedy Is First Presentation Of Theatre Guild

"George Washington Slept Here" is the title of the season's first play of the Morehead Campus Theatre Guild. It will be given in the college auditorium on Wednesday evening, December 15, starting at 8 o'clock. The performance has a comical, fast-moving plot centering around the tribulations that followed the purchase of a country home by a husband against his wife's "better judgment."

Many new Morehead College students, new members of the Guild, have parts in the production.

Path Toward Reinstatement Was Not Easy

But All Education In Kentucky Became The Beneficiaries

The path that Morehead College was forced to follow to regain its status in the Southern Association was a difficult one.

Although the College was dropped for "political interference," the changing of the Board of Regents—although the foremost—was only one of the requirements for re-instatement.

To insure against another change in presidents or personnel the Southern Association and the American Association demanded that a "tenure act" be adopted at Morehead.

This was done at the first meeting of the new board on June 18. It provides that after three years satisfactory service no president, dean, professor or associate professor can be removed except for certain specific causes.

In the case of the dean, professor or associate professor charges must be made in writing by the president of the college at least 10 days before they are acted upon. The dean, professor or associate professor has the right of a hearing and can appeal to the accrediting groups.

Morehead's new tenure law sets out that no president can be discharged except for cause, and the charge against him preferred in writing by the Chairman of the Board of Regents at least 10 days before the hearing. He has the same right of appeal.

The present dean and many of the college personnel now have life-time contracts, and President Baird will have the same if he completes three years of satisfactory service which will be in August of next year.

If this law had been in effect in 1948 the "Vaughan case" would likely have never developed. Dr. Vaughan demanded that the Board of Regents submit him a list of charges and that he be given the right to defend himself.

The tenure act, however, is not all the Association demanded. They asked that the offices of Public Relations and Director of Admissions be separated, which was done.

The staff came under consideration, but the Association found that Morehead had the highest percentages of Ph.D.'s of any college in Kentucky, except one.

Micro-film records and a considerable amount of burglar-proof and fire-proof equipment for the registrar's office was recommended. This was installed. Micro-film records are now kept in two separate buildings so they cannot be destroyed by fire. Now a picture of each student is taken upon entrance and attached to his permanent records. Photostat equipment has also been installed.

Salary schedules had to be raised. Many small details were attended to at the association committee's request.

In fact, Morehead has to do a lot of things to regain its standing that the educators who made the investigation didn't have in their own colleges. Very few colleges in the south have the tenure law, and none in Kentucky have adopted it except Morehead and the University of Kentucky.

An unintentional error may be absurd but it is not as silly as some of the snoring that often follows it.

Pacifics do not object to enjoying the security and freedom that other men uphold with their blood.
