1 MOST BEAUTIFUL

Voted by millions—"America's most beautiful car!" A low build to the basic for modern beauty, and the New Hudson, with "step-down" design, is lowest of all—yet there's full road clearance. Its stunning lines flow naturally, even to the graceful curves of its Full-View windshield.

3 MOST ROAD-WORTHY

Not just "more", but most road-worthy! Only Hudson, with exclusive "step-down" design and recessed floor, achieves a new, lower center of gravity—lowest in any stocker. Result: safest, steadier ride ever known! To all this, Hudson adds the advantages of unit body-and-frame construction.

4 MOST ALL-ROUND PERFORMANCE

Your choice of the high-compression Hudson Super-Six engine, America's most powerful Six, or the even more powerful Super-Eight, Center-Point Steering for easiest handling, Triple-Safe Brakes for utmost safety. And many more high-performance, low-up-keep features.

Caution And Thought Must Be Carefully Used Here

The sentencing of a 14-year-old boy to the reform school in Rowan County Court indicates the shooting of his companion, 14-year-old Delmer Riggs, was not exactly an accident.

It appears that the Jones boy failed to give authorities accurate details and officers found much that was contradictory. However, it should be considered that the boy was under emotional strain and a coherent recital of the slaying of his playmate was impossible.

One phase of the investigation discloses that the Jones boy had previously told the Riggs youth: "I'm going to kill you." We are of the opinion, though, that this is not too damning evidence for how many times have you heard a boy say the same thing when they were incensed over something a playmate did.

The life of a 14-year-old young man has been lost and the grief must be great to his parents but, by the sentence in Rowan County Court a boy that is only eleven has been sentenced to the reform school until he is 21.
There is a near certainty that his life has been ruined and that he may become a bitter criminal as he grows older and believes that the world has been bitterly with him.

The sentence is harsh but probably not out of line for a boy of this age. The reform school is the Circuit Court should be carefully studied by Judge Winn. We suggest that the court talk with the boy privately and friendly, that the parents of the accused and the friends of the boy be personally seen in surroundings other than the courtroom. In short, we urge the court to be careful in dealing with the future of one so young.

This Proposed Road Must Not Be Lost In The Shuffle

Steps toward a concentrated effort by Rowan and Greenup counties for the completion of the Morehead-Vineburg road were taken Monday evening by the Board of Trade.
They plan a meeting with the Vanceburg Kiwanis Club and other interested citizens of our neighboring county with the aim of presents to the state a cooperative request and detailed plans of the necessity of this road.

The Rowan County News has repeatedly set out that it is a shame that two counties like Rowan and Lewis, bordering each other, are actually isolated. Highway travel between the county seats is possible only by a long round-about route.

Actually the road should mean more to Lewis County than it does to Rowan County.
The strip in Rowan County is already year-around except for a short stretch which will be finished this year. The people residing in the Lewis County part are isolated during winter months as that part is all dirt.

It appears likely that the Morehead-Vineburg road can be advertised for construction next year under the emergency program by which the state receives most of the funds from the Federal Government. Rowan and Lewis counties, however, should be certain if this project is kept before the Highway Department because there is general clamoring from all Kentucky counties for this emergency money and there is always the possibility that the proposal can be lost in the shuffle.

The Nation Faces A Real Problem With Its Mentally Ill

The necessity for some emphasis upon mental health is readily recognized when it is told that 8,000,000 persons in the United States are in need of psychiatric help of some type, that nearly half of all hospital beds are occupied by mental patients and that each year 150,000 persons are admitted to mental hospitals.

Dr. Howard A. Rusk says that from thirty to fifty percent of all patients consulting doctors have complaints due in part to emotional disorders; that one-third of the disabling accidents occurring each year are due to personal factors and that mental health undoubtedly plays a predominant role in the 1,700,000 crimes committed yearly in the United States.

In addition, the doctor suggests that the problems of 250,000 to 400,000 children under 16, who are sent to juvenile courts each year, those of 500,000 cases of chronic alcoholism and those of those who are granted divorces and who are sent to prison.

The predominant role that mental health plays in these statistics.

Rowan Farms Can Profitably Use Contouring

A news story in this issue says that 42 Rowan County farmers have recently staked out contour guide lines on 330 acres.

This is not a striking number, but it does indicate that our farmers are fast realizing their greatest enemy is the water that washes away the fertility of the soil. The agricultural land in Rowan County is particularly susceptible to erosion. The topography of our land is such that we doubt if there is a farmer in the county that could not profitably use contour planning and ditching.

The United States Cannot Permanently Feed Them

The directors of the International Children's Emergency Fund, sponsored by the United Nations, estimate that there are 100-000,000 children in Europe, in the Near East and in the Far East, who are in desperate need of supplementary food, clothing and medical care.

The fund, which has been operating for some time, does not seek to reach all of these children but attempts to do something for about 5,000,000 children. It has been supported by contributions from a number of nations.

The 80th Congress appropriated $75,000,000 for the fund with the condition that the money would be made available if other governments made contributions on the basis of 28 cents per every 72 cents from this country.
This seems to be a fair share for the United States but some $21,000,000 of the fund was not matched.

A committee, representing the Children's Fund, plans to survey the country's largest national groups and clubs to ascertain if they are prepared to raise contributions. They realize that the State Department does not plan any active fund-raising campaign and has placed responsibility for the fund upon the committee, which, heretofore, has functioned only as an advisory body.

While we regret the fact that there are millions of children in Europe, in the Near East and the Far East, who are in need of food, clothing and medical care, we do not see how anyone can reasonably expect the United States Government to make a permanent annual appropriation for the benefit of these children.

Obviously, there are children in the United States who need supplementary food, clothing and medical care but the government of this country cannot undertake to guarantee that everyone of the boys and girls of the nation will receive what the experts say they need.

No Time To Let Up On North Atlantic Pact

There should be no delay in approving the North Atlantic pact. The appearance of a communicatory Russian attitude, based on the lifting of the blockade, is not sufficient evidence of any changed Soviet intentions.

The essential fact in Europe is that the Red Army of Russia is able to overrun the continent. Until the democracies regain their strength, with sufficient power to balance the military situation, there is need for determined and concerted action on the part of the democratic countries of the world.

The military position in Europe is greater progress toward readiness for war. Great Britain and other nations are making extensive efforts to be prepared. All these factors point to a growing strength but it would be a mistake to stop the present efforts more convincing evidence of Communist intentions becomes available.

Russia did everything possible to prevent the development of the Marshall plan, moving vigorously to organize eastern Europe against it to stop the Marshall plan from becoming a fact. So far, the Marshall plan has made progress. What has been the effect of the Russian plan in the Soviet satellite areas?
Nobody knows but there are reasons to believe that eastern Europe needs western Europe, from an economic view, much more than the west, now being helped by the United States, needs eastern Europe.

One of the finer things about a small town is that all the talk of strikes comes from the baseball diamond.

Tight shoes are one of the greatest blessings on this earth. They make you forget so many of your other troubles.

There isn't much to worry about if a rival tries to imitate you. As long as he follows in your tracks he can't get ahead of you.

Thought—When one barber cuts another barber's hair, which one does the talking?

If you're worrying about those extra pounds at the waistline—get out in the garden.
Your tracks he can't get ahead of you.

Here's a tip to you golf widows: If you really want him to give up the game—go along with him for a few days.

The gent with plenty of push doesn't have to worry about pull. That will take care of itself.

Now that spring is here, a lot of lost loads, burning with love, should be careful they don't make fools of themselves.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

The Disciples Were Admonished For Their Selfish Dissension At The Lord's Supper; Jesus Likely Told John Of Judas' Betrayal

International Sunday School
Lesson for May 22, 1948

MEMORY SELECTION "This my body which is broken for you. Do this in remembrance of me." — 1 Corinthians 11:24

Lesson Text: Mark 14:12-25.
We came now to the last 24 hours of the earthly life of Jesus.
Earlier he had sent Peter and John away to make arrangements for Jesus' last supper. Jesus was plotting with his disciples, eventually facing death without denying his Master.

When the disciples gathered there was again a disagreement among them as to who should have the seats of honor. Jesus rebuked by assuming the task of a servant and washing the dust and dirt from their feet.

Eating and drinking with them he established the precedent for the Lord's Supper, which is observed by his followers today in memory of his life and sacrifice.

While at this meal, Jesus assured the disciples that he would return to them. He told them that one of them would betray him. In dismay each inquired if it could possibly be him. Apparently to John alone did Jesus indicate who his betrayer was, and shortly afterwards in a quiet tone, instructed Judas to proceed with his plan.

It may seem strange that the disciples did not inquire as to the possibility of guilt. It reveals, at least, that none of them up to this time had suspected the insincerity of Judas.

There are two viewpoints on Judas. One holds him up to be the arch traitor in the world's history. The other explains him constantly with a very good reason. He was a man who had returned neither sympathy nor loyalty, without coming in time to the end of an almost desperate struggle.

It is impossible to go on receiving love and playing the hypocrite and remain indifferent. Thus, in the last year of his life, Judas' love for Jesus changed slowly to distaste and dislike, and at last a kind of hatred. He was "impulsively" and would deny him.
His bubble had burst.

On the other hand, the New Outlook finds Judas' love to be more understandable. "A growing distrust of the methods by which Jesus was seeking to bring in his Kingdom and a growing conviction that his plan for refusing to admit other men was impractical and rational."

We have no reason to think that the disciples of Jesus were a mockery from the beginning. It probably had quite as much influence as any of the other disciples. But he had come to the place where Jesus' way of patient goodness and love seemed futile and foolishness. He determined to try as a Jew's son.

It doesn't look as if Judas' sin was a terribly unique one after all; what he was doing was the same as many of us do when he says that he will follow Jesus and then goes back and does something which is the opposite of what he said.

Jesus has a way of dealing with
us. He doesn't let us off easily.
He doesn't let us off easily.
He doesn't let us off easily.
He doesn't let us off easily.

Judas having gone, Jesus sent forth the twelve. They were to be with him for the last time. They were to be with him for the last time. They were to be with him for the last time. They were to be with him for the last time.

Jesus had a way of dealing with
us. He doesn't let us off easily.
He doesn't let us off easily.
He doesn't let us off easily.
He doesn't let us off easily.

the picking of over 100 tulips

Boulevard. Another one reported was the removal of the screws from the seats of a new bus.

If you observe anyone doing such things as these, report them to the police. They will be doing a service to your community.

He Makes The
Kiss Look Easy

"Here comes the giant."
We heard this expression from a group of youngsters at breakfast. Training school last week.

The giant proved to be Long John Thomas of Russell who will be competing for a berth next year on the Morehead College basketball team. He is 6 feet, 11 inches long and looks like a giant.

And, kids, we've seen him in the school basketball games. He isn't really a giant. He's just taller than most of us. He's just because of an injury, but he can return to his normal form yet he's hearing a lot more from
"The Giant."

Ky. On March--

In Kentucky. In the last three or four years I have visited villages, towns and cities from the West Virginia line to the Mississippi River, from Mayville to the Tennessee border, and outside the larger cities I haven't found more than half a dozen good places to eat. In some of the good sized cities all I can say for their best restaurants is that they are so-so.
The so-so eateries make money because they have no superior competition. The low grade places survive for the same reason. People have got to eat somewhere.
I haven't seen Duncan Hines' list of good Kentucky eating houses, but I'll bet you it is nothing to brag about. If every Kentucky town of over 2,500 population had a restaurant on the lines the State would be a far more popular place for strangers to come to.
What's more, one good eating place in every town would not only prosper, but would force all other restaurants and quick-lunch-rooms to raise their standards. The result would be healthier, happier Kentuckians capable of doing more and better work, making more money for themselves and taking a livelier interest in public affairs.

If I were 20 years younger I would start a restaurant myself. And, of course, I'd begin by hiring good cooks, not by promoting dishwashers or bus boys because I could get them cheap.

Rayburn Says Term Of Congress Will Be Long

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted today that Congress will work overtime this summer and will probably investigate lobbyists.
So far, the Democratic-controlled 81st Congress has passed only one major phase of President Truman's domestic program. Rent control. The regular adjournment date is July 31.
Rayburn, emerging from a White House conference with other top Democratic leaders, told newsmen:
"We expect to stay in session three or four months yet, in all probability. We will adjourn when we get through with our work."
Rayburn said the House is "ahead of the game" in acting on Mr. Truman's program, but he added: "I don't think anybody thinks we can pass all of that program in one session."

"Looks Like I'll Have To Fight" — Bates

The Senate Appropriations Committee disregarded House action and recommended the appropriation of $50,000 for further plans and study of the proposed Falmouth Dam. The House Committee removed the dam completely from the list of projects.

When informed of the Senate action, Congressman Joe B. Bates, staunch fighter for the rights of his constituents stated: "Well, it looks like I've got to put up a fight."

Meanwhile Army Engineers are continuing a study of previous surveys despite the House action. The final report on this survey is not expected before next January.

'Mystery Man' Who Forgot His Name For 126 Days Identified; Reunited Sunday With Family

Was Taken From Box Car At Russell On January 6

A 30-year old Navy veteran who couldn't recall his own name for 126 days, was reunited with members of his family at Greenup Sunday.

Russell Daniels instantly recognized his brother, T. L. Daniels, and brother-in-law, W. A. Horton, who had driven to Greenup from their homes in Raleigh, N. C.

The reunion took place in the Greenup County jail, from which Russell was released immediately.

"He wants to go home with us," said T. L. Daniels, "instead of back to the veterans' hospital and home it will be."

Russell Daniels had been taken from a boxcar at nearby Russell Jan. 6, and had remained completely silent until 3 days ago. Then he uttered his name and the story of the first words he had spoken came to the attention of his father, Bertram D. Daniels, a postal worker in Raleigh, who telephoned jailer William Logan and verified the identification.

His family had thought he was in a veterans' hospital at Roanoke, Va., until books they sent him shortly after his disappearance from the hospital were returned to them early in January. Since then they had received no word of him until the elder Daniels read his story in a Raleigh newspaper Friday morning.

Meanwhile, the missing son had become the "mystery man" of Greenup County. Hundreds of persons saw him at the Greenup jail, where he was held for safekeeping and later at the Greenup County Infirmary, but none could identify him.

T. L. Daniels said his brother had been an aerographer aboard the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Saratoga and had been reported missing for a time after she was sunk.

He also said that Greenup County would be reimbursed in full for the medical and other expenses incurred on behalf of Russell in the more than four months he spent there.

School Aid To Stay High Clements Says

States Present Level Won't Be Cut If Extra Help Raised

Gov. Earle Clements pledged his efforts Friday to keep regular school aid high, if more money is granted the poorer school districts.

He said that if the people vote in November to make the ceiling on extra aid to poorer schools 25 per cent of total school funds, he will ask the 1950 General Assembly to keep the regular aid at its present level. The maximum for the poorer districts is now 10 per cent of the common-school appropriation.

Leaders in some of the larger and wealthier school districts oppose the proposed constitutional amendment. They fear that more for the poor districts will mean less for those who do not share the equalization fund.

Present state aid to public schools is $21,500,000 a year. Ten per cent of that, or $2,150,000 goes as extra aid to poorer schools. The balance, $19,350,000 is distributed equally among all districts on a per capita basis. It amounts this year to $26.35 for each pupil and is granted solely to help pay teachers.

Equalization money can be used for salaries and general school purposes.

Clements Named Kentucky Colonel By Wetherby

There's another new Kentucky Colonel. But it isn't Gov. Earle Clements' fault this time. He was resting up at Hot Springs, Ark., after the special legislative session. Lt. Governor Lawrence Wetherby was the acting Chief Executive.

So Wetherby up and appointed Earle Clements a Colonel. The Governor returned home and received his commission. He didn't tell anybody about it, nor did Wetherby. But the news finally leaked out Thursday.

Olive Hill May Eliminate One-Way Traffic

Steps toward eliminating one-way parking in Olive Hill which will permit U. S. 60 traffic going east to avoid the circuitous route, were taken last week by the City Council.

The councilmen voted to turn Main Street over to the State Highway Department for maintenance and to eliminate one-way traffic when and if the State accepts it.

48 Will Graduate At Morehead High Next Week

Commencement week begins at Morehead High School on Sunday with the baccalaureate sermon which will be delivered by Rev. Elmore Ryle at the Christian Church, at 7:30 p. m. His subject will be "Anchors for Life."

Commencement will be in the Morehead College auditorium on Thursday, May 26, with Morehead College president Wm. Jesse Baird as principal speaker.

Air Force Now Offers 35 Type Careers

More than 35 types of careers in aviation are open to young men and women who volunteer and are accepted for the United States Air Force. Sgt. Martin said today a young person can become highly skilled in technical fields such as aircraft maintenance, electronics, explained Sgt. Martin. He may qualify for administrative fields such as management, personnel, or air transport.

Under a new vocational guidance program, the Air Force is striving to place every one of its members in the type of job for which he is best fitted. No decisions are made as to an individual's assignment until he has taken aptitude tests and discussed his abilities and preference with a skilled vocational guidance counselor.

A young man or woman accepted by the U. S. Air Force receives this vocational guidance during his first 13 weeks of indoctrination training. On the basis of the aptitude tests and interviews, the young airman begins his career. The Air Force, Sgt. Martin added, plans to place vocational guidance counselors at all bases. It is their responsibility to see that recruits reporting to their base are given appropriate assignment in their career field.

The entire career program, the Sergeant said, is carefully planned so as to encourage and train each individual for better jobs and for promotions. For further information on the Regular Army and Air Force stop in at the local Recruiting Office located in the Martindale Building, Main Street, Morehead or see your Recruiting Sergeant when he visits your city on his scheduled days.

These prices feature "Extras" that aren't!

If you're price-conscious these days as you shop for new cars, you've probably made a big discovery.

It's important to find out what the price includes—particularly in the normal "spread" between list and delivered prices.

Take these Buick prices given here. All of them, as the panel tells you, cover such universally wanted accessories as radio and antenna, heater and defroster, windshield washers and built-in back-up lights.

These are individually itemized on your bill of sale. Not itemized, but still included in your Buick when you get it, are many things that classify as extra-cost items on many other cars.

For instance, Foamtex seat cushions are an extra value on Buick SUPERS and ROADMASTERS that cost you nothing extra. You get direction signals, rear wheel shields, a flexible steering wheel, an air cleaner, an oil filter, a clock—all included in the basic list price. On all ROADMASTERS, these prices even cover Dynaflo Drive as standard equipment, not an extra-cost item.

Included also, of course, are such Buick extra values as Fireball power, which you get nowhere else—all-coil springing, almost an exclusive—the widest rims in the industry—and that very special and desirable solid Buick feel.

So—check the "extras" when you price today's cars. Check the "deal" too, and make sure it's as fair and aboveboard as the Buick sales policy.

We're pretty sure what your conclusion will be when you see what stepped-up production is doing to deliveries. You'll decide "Buick's the buy!"—and get your order in.

Experiment Tends To Show Walnuts Poison Tomatoes

That the black walnut tree produces a substance toxic to tomatoes, causing the latter to wilt is a matter of controversy among the experts, but cases observed seem to lead to no other conclusion, according to plant disease specialists at the Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y.

In one tomato field hedged by trees of several species, tomatoes grew normally except in a radius around the base of a black walnut tree. The area of wilting seemed to coincide with the area above the root system of the walnut. The fact that there was not wilting near the bases of other species of trees in the same area discounted the theory of competition for water and nutrients.

Another case of similar wilt was reported in an area where there were no black walnuts in evidence. Characteristic symptoms of this trouble, however, led to a closer study of the field and it was soon found that a bordering black walnut tree had been cut down the previous spring. Further scrutiny revealed nuts on the ground and small plants rising in the area. The tomato wilting was confined to the old walnut root area in the soil.

A chemical, named "juglone," has been extracted from the bark, hulls and roots of the black walnut, and when injected into the stems of tomato and alfalfa has proved exceedingly toxic. A common theory contends that this "juglone" is exuded by the roots of the walnut and when absorbed by the roots of certain other plants produces the wilting effect.

Other plants reported to be stunted or killed by the black walnut include alfalfa, apples, cabbage and rhododendron. Nursery stocks of quince, Mazzard cherry seedlings and western hard cherry seedlings have also been affected.

1948 Burley Crop Only Six Percent Under '47

A revised estimate of 1948-1949 burley crop puts it within 15 percent of the 1947 record figure, the Department of Agriculture, reported this week.

The new estimate is about 4.5 percent higher than the preliminary report last December and about 6 percent under the 1947 production.

The report said most of the increase came about in the burley crop, which weighed out much heavier than had been indicated.

A "phenomenal" yield, per acre was described as the most outstanding feature of the 1948 crop. The average harvest of 1,273 pounds per acre compares with 1,130 pounds in 1947, and a previous record high of 1,182 pounds in 1946.

Record yields were obtained for flue-cured and burley, the chief tobacco used in cigarettes. The value of 1948 production of all tobacco was placed at $80,500,000 or 48 cents a pound. This is the highest price per pound for any crop on record beginning in 1886. The 1947 figure was 43.5 cents a pound.

The total value was exceeded only by the $1,046,422,000 returned in 1947.

The report said the gross value for all tobacco in 1948 was placed in an acre compared with $486 an acre in 1947.

Burley production included: (1948 figure first, 1947 figure second) Kentucky, 410,565,000 and 323,730,000.

The report said the gross value for all tobacco in 1948 was placed in an acre compared with $486 an acre in 1947.

Farmers Turn To Conservation

42 More Complete Plans For 330 Acres Contour Guide Lines

By John D. Alexander

The Rowan County Soil Conservation District has recently assisted 42 cooperators by staking out contour guide lines on 330 acres. Contour cultivation is simply cultivating on the level and results in a saving of soil as well as helping conserve moisture. This not only conserves soil but helps increase crop yields. Several cooperators have stated that they would not plant corn until contour guide lines had been staked out. They have found that by cultivating on the contour they can greatly decrease the amount of erosion that they normally get before practicing contour cultivation.

Odel Estep, a cooperator on the North Fork of Triplet, has completed 800 feet of open ditch drainage. This open ditch was installed to drain a low area in the field where the water was trapped. The open ditch will remove the excess surface water and will result in increased crop yields.

Complete Soil and Water Conservation plans have recently been completed with the following farmers: Jack Carpenter, Burrum, Holbrook, Clayton Coldwater, Ora Clark and Rufus Flannery.

CONSERVATION FARMING in Rowan County such as that pictured above has boosted corn yields as much as 40 percent. Farmers may get complete plans worked out for them by the Rowan County Soil Conservation District which has offices in Morehead.

Reeves said he expected final corporation computations this year to be about even with those of last year.

He said undoubtedly there were some wage-earners who should have filed but didn't. Deadline was April 15.

Reeves said a limited budget prevented the department from launching a vigorous drive against tax evaders.

He said the department is hearing from us, he said.

And sometimes the taxpayers hear good news. Individuals and corporations get refunds of about $12,000 a month from the State because of overpayments, he said.

It is never too late to start driving carefully—as long as you are able to drive, anyway.

Increase Is Recorded In Tax Payments

33 Percent More Kentuckians Paid State Income Taxes Last Year

A 33 per cent increase in the number of persons filing State income tax returns this year was noted today by Revenue Commissioner Clyde Reeves.

Records show that to date 200,000 persons filed reports on their 1948 earnings, compared to 150,000 at the same time last year.

About 130,000 persons filing this time owed some tax—the average is $55. The other 70,000 reported their earnings but their gross or net earnings was large enough to establish liability.

Total collections on individual returns this year stand at $7,150,000, compared to $6,000,000 a year ago.

Reeves said the success of the educational program to make Kentuckians aware of their State income tax responsibilities was attributed to the theater operators of Kentucky, the cooperation of the Federal Government and a helpful radio and press.

The movie operators exhibited without charge, a one-reeler showing which is liable for State income taxes and how and where to pay them.

Corporation income taxes are lagging behind last year's pace. So far, $500 of 4,500 companies reporting have been liable for average payments of $1,100 totaling, $500,000. Last year 3,700 of 4,500 firms were liable for average payments of $1,165 for $4,300,000.

Reeves said the success of the educational program to make Kentuckians aware of their State income tax responsibilities was attributed to the theater operators of Kentucky, the cooperation of the Federal Government and a helpful radio and press.

The movie operators exhibited without charge, a one-reeler showing which is liable for State income taxes and how and where to pay them.

Corporation income taxes are lagging behind last year's pace. So far, $500 of 4,500 companies reporting have been liable for average payments of $1,100 totaling, $500,000. Last year 3,700 of 4,500 firms were liable for average payments of $1,165 for $4,300,000.

VA Itinerant Service Stops In Kentucky

Veterans Administration itinerant contact service will be discontinued throughout Kentucky as of May 31, it was announced here today by Morgan G. Steele, VA Contact Representative.

However, since business requires that Mr. Steele remain in the Mayville office during the week of May 23, the last visit to Morehead was made on May 17.

After May 17 all VA matters other than education and training should be handled by mail with the VA Regional Office, 1406 West Broadway, Louisville or in person at one of the regular VA offices. The nearest one at Mayville is open from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. (EST) Monday through Friday except national holidays.

VA said that curtailment of contact service was necessary because of reduction in personnel.
